11th Jr. Rodeo Is Good Show

11th annual Junior Rodeo ran on schedule all three nights last weekend, without a bobble. Producers of the show were unable to take care of late filing contestants, but all that filed before deadline were handled.

The affair opened Thursday afternoon with street parade which started the air of festivity. Good sized crowds attended each performance and were given a good fast show with excellent rodeo stock, giving contestants plenty of action. The crowd was well entertained. Contestants did a good job, and president Rudolph Middleton and other members of the Posse handled the entire show in most efficient manner. The show is sponsored by Fisher County Sheriff Posse each June.

Haskell took first place in riding clubs in parade, and at press time Wednesday, contestant winners were not available. These will be published next week.

Each performance ran about 2 hours, after which several hours action was on hand while the overflow of contestants vied for place, causing the sponsors and producers to burn considerable midnight oil.

It was a good show and the Posse and all concerned deserve congratulations on bringing such to Rotan.

Cotton Insect Report No. 1

This is the first issue of the 1967 "Rolling Plains Cotton Insect Report." This report will be released on Tuesday each week for the purpose of reporting cotton insect situation in the Rolling Plains Area. This report will be compiled from field data gather-Plains Cotton Insect Survey ed by the two Rolling Plains Cotton Insect Survey Teams, County Agricultural Agents, and other individuals.

Situation At a Glance

Most of the cotton is planted, although producers continue to plant and replant dryland cotton in several Rolling Plains counties. Unfavorable weather conditions have been the major factor in the crop getting off to a late start.

This report will contain information on insect populations in Wilbarger, Foard, Wichita, Jones, Mitchell, Nolan, Scurry ,and Fisher counties.

THRIPS—

Thrips population age generally light with medium infestations being reported in Hardeman County.

APHIDS—

Aphid infestations ranged from light to medium in the counties from which reports were received. Medium infestations were reported from several fields in Wilbarger County with some of these fields having heavy aphid infestations in spots.

FLEAHOPPERS—

At this time, fleahoppers have not been found in the fields in damaging numbers, but as cotton plants begin to fruit, fleahoppers will begin to move into the cotton fields. The first three weeks of fruiting are most important in setting a crop of high quality cotton. Producers should inspect their fields regularly to detect fleahopper populations before they do their damage to the bottom crop.

BOLL WEEVILS—

During the last week, overwintered boll weevils were found in several fields in Wilbarger County and one field in Foard County. These boll weevil populations ranged between 65 to 131 boll weevils per acre.

Generally overwintered boll weevil populations are light for this time of year. Overwintered boll weevils should continue to move into cotton fields during the next several weeks. Producers should make regular inspections for this pest to determine if control is needed.

OTHER INSECTS—

Yellow striped armyworms and garden webworms were

C'MON PLAY BALL

Larry is in seventh heaven. He got his baseball suit yesterday, and is finally a full-fledged member of the neighborhood team.

He is the youngest one in the lot, and certainly the smallest. But he packs a great deal of leadership ability in that half-pint frame. We had not lived in our neighborhood one month, before he was bat boy and unofficial mascot. In just a few short weeks, morale improved. Two of the boys nicknamed, "Loudmouth" and "Fatso" became "Speed" and "Lefty." The boys began to cooperate and play better as a team. They moved steadily upward in the league.

You can imagine what this did to our spirits. How proud we were, and yet humble too, for we knew we could not take complete credit for his sense of fair play. You see, he has been brought up in the Church as well as in our home. It's a wonderful feeling to realize that in such a few short years our son has shown the influence of Christian training.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

As It Looks From Here

Washington, D.C. — "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum" — the subject of a Broadway theartical a few years ago — based on certain facets of Roman political life.

A funny thing happened last week in the House of Representatives when legislation to again raise the National Debt Limit was defeated by 13 votes. The peculiar aspect was the fact that some of the most liberal and the most conservative voted together, but for different reasons.

During the last 13 years the debt limit has been raised 19 times, but this is the first time for defeat.

The more conservative of the congress have usually voted against the increase in the Debt Limit by reason of the inner satisfaction that they were not responsible for the necessity of raising the Debt Ceiling. If expenditures had been kept within the bounds as voted for by those who felt we should live reasonable within our means, the Government would not have to continue to borrow huge sums for its operation.

The more liberal element has voted against the increase in the Debt Limit — not consistently but recently — because they say it enables our Government to borrow money to finance its national defense and the Viet Nam War.

From standpoint of fiscal responsibility, both theories are somewhat short of being on solid ground.

This is one issue on which some of us have been on both sides over the years, but for good and sufficient reasons. As mentioned, when one feels he is not responsible for ecessity of giving the Government greater borrowing power, there is personal satisfaction in oppising raising the ceiling on what the Government can borrow. William Randolph Hurst, II wrote a number of years ago, "I always feel that it is not as important to be consistent as it is to be correct. A man who is completely consistent never learns anything. Conditions change and he does not."

We are at war, and not to have governmental authority to finance what it may take to win could be calamitous. For the Government not to be able to manage its Public Debt could, on down the line, cause chaotic conditions at a time when it could ill afford to do so.

The debt ceiling is simply the limit to which the Treasruy can borrow money to meet the Government's obligations. It comes down to the simple fact that when the Government's obligations reach a point where shortly they total more than the Debt Ceiling, Congress must give a latitude for the issuance of more Government securities.

On every occasion when the Congress has had this issue under debate, some very fine economy speeches are made by just about everyone. Those who support raising the Debt Limit talk about fiscal responsibility and, of course ,they are correct. They usually urge that the authority be granted "this time" and it will not be necessary in the future. Usually, they say that we must watch our actions in authorizations and appropriations in order that future raises will not be necessary.

The place and time to practice economy and fiscal responsibility is when each appropiation bill is first considered. Once appropriations are made the obligation must be met, and, of course, that is what causes the Debt — spending money beyond and above our income.

It is too late to practice economy when the necessity arises for raising the Debt Limit. In fact, raising the limit has nothing to do with economy at all.

Unless the congress puts first things first, we will be going through this exercise time and time again.

Raising the limit on government borrowing authority is something like the line in the Farmer's Almanack of 1797 — "If you want the time to pass quickly, just give your note for 90 days."

Water Works Training Course

College Station — An advanced training course for water works employees in the Snyder area is set July 10-14 and 17-21 at Snyder under director of Texas A&M University's Engineering Extension Service.

Leon Holbert, TEES' water utilities training chief, said topics will include sanitation, chemistry, bacteriology, mathematics, safety and hydrology.

Holbert noted the course is part of a series of water and sewage works schools conducted by TEES for water and sewage works operators, superintendents, engineers, counties and other agencies.

Those who successfully complete the course will receive 20 hours credit toward certification by the Texas Department of Health, Holbert added. He said a TDH representative will give examinations to those qualified for certification.

FHA Has Loan Money

The Farmers Home Administration has been authorized to insure an additional $148 million of rural loans according to word received by Mr. L. J. Cappleman, Farmers Home Administration Texas State Director.

This action, announced in Washington by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, will enable USDA's Farmers Home Administration to commit an additional $30 million in Farm Ownership loans and $118 million in Rural Housing loans to low and moderate income families.

Prevoius allocations of funds for Farm Ownership loans were exhausted in February. There are some 20,000 applications and unfunded loan dockets currently being held by the Farmers Home Administration.

Funds for Rural Housing loans to low and moderate income families were exhausted in April. The Farmers Home Administration is now holding some 42,000 applications and unfunded loan dockets for Rural Housing loans.

Both the funds for Farm Ownership and Rural Housing loans are being made available immediately.

Farm Ownership loans are made to buy land, construct or repair buildings, improve land and refinance debts. They are repayable over 40 years and bear 5 percent interest.

Rural Housing loans are made to farmers and other rural residents in open country and small communities with populations of not more than 5,500. Loans are made to construct and repair needed homes and essential farm buildings, purchase homes or buy sites on which to build homes. The maximum term is 33 years. The interest rate on loans to families with low and moderate incomes is 5 percent.

Farmers Home Administration services are made available through more than 1,600 county offices serving the 3,000 rural counties in the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

The county office for Fisher County is located at Rotan.

SS Claims May Be Appealed

(Ed. Note: This is the 1st of a series of 6 articles, telling of safeguards against wrong decisions in the social security program, prepared for Rotan Advance by R. R. Tuley, Jr., Social Security district manager.)

When an occasional social security claim for retirement survivor, or disability benefits is denied, is that always the final word? No, for the claimant who feels such action was wrong certainly doesn't have to just sit back and fuss to himself and his friends about how bad an error was made.

Decisions made by one group of persons about another person may not always be completely correct. For that reason, Congress wisely provided ways for the disappointed claimant to pursue his claim further than the initial decision.

If a claimant feels that any part of the decision made on his claim is in error, he may request formal recognition within six months of the date on his denial letter. He may present new evidence, or he may just ask for a closer look at the evidence alredy submitted. This reconsideration action is taken by an entirely different group of people than the ones who made the first decision. Next week's article will show how further action may be taken by the claimant.

Intelligent optimism is based on a long-range viewpoint and pessimism is usually generated by a short-range view.

Showtime

by Oscar Dietz

As the old wives tale goes, third time is a charm, or something like that. Anyway, I hope I'm doing better. Well I guess I'm going to become a member of the Lions Club. They said they enjoyed having me as a guest but just couldn't afford to feed me. Gosh, fellows, I didn't eat much. Why one hour later I was hungry again.

Say do you like jungle pictures? We have a good one in "Valley of Mystery" with a plane crash in the jungle full of head hunters and stuff like that. And on the same program, "TEXAS ACROSS THE RIVER." This is the picture where Dean Martin gets shot with an arrow and then has to stand-up to ride his horse. These two pictures play Thursday thru Saturday, with Sat. late show "ALFIE". Beginning Sunday for four days is "HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS WITHOUT REALLY TRYING" starring Robert Morse. Do you remember him from "OH DAD, POOR DAD——", how come you recon he's alway starring in pictures with such long titles? Plus "ALFIE", with Micahel Caine. This is the one Margaret Allen said she would not like. The character 'Alfie' has morals just slightly above an alley tomcat.

You know we sell a lot of popcorn, and some people say we make the best. If you don't believe so, just ask Alton Harp. I think he should be declared the Popcorn Expert of Rotan. Why don't you try some next time your over this way.

See you all now., Oscar

Snake Lore

Austin — Nobody, not even a possible harmless snake, dares trespass on a widow's garden, as was evidenced by a postal card received by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

An 87-year-old widow asked in long hand for the Department's "snake bulletin." It was promptly dispatched to help solve an obvious dilemma.

"Some said it was a cottonmouth," she wrote. "Others said it might be a spreading adder — It had a blunt tail, about 5½ foot, dark with white specks." Handicapped for lack of a closeup inspection, a Department staffer said the size of the snake indicated that it probably was one of several species of harmless snakes, variously known to the layman as chicken snakes, rat snakes, milk snakes, black snakes, etc.

Visiting Bill yRay Ashton at Ft. Bliss, El Paso last weekend were Mrs. Billy Ray Ashton, Mr. and Mrs. Willie A. Martin and Mrs. Ray Ashton. He is now at Fort Huachuca, Arizona completing his 6 months National Guard training.

Disposers Not Disposal 'All'

Disposers are replacing the garbage pail in many kitchens, but they can't be used as "dumps," reminds Joy Arrington, Extension Home Management specialists at Texas A&M University.

Waste material placed in a disposer is shredded by rotating blades, a grinding ring, and a shredding chamber. For most satisfactory use ,the disposer should not be packed with wastes; the food should simply be dropped in.

Cold water must be flowing any time the waste unit is in use. Cold water keeps vegetables crisp for faster chopping and hardens grease to me chopped and flushed away. Warm water would carry melted grease into the lower waste pipes where is might harden and cause a stoppage.

Most food materials may be ground in the disposer. Some fibrous materials — corn husks, pea pods, celery — should be fed into the unit gradually since they require a longer grindnig time. The grinding mechanism can usually take care of small amounts of chicken bones, corn cobs, and fruit pits. Viscous foods, like cooked oatmeal and raw dough, should be thoroughly mixed with vegetable peelings and dry crusts before being put into the waste cylinder.

A disposer is self-cleaning. Drain-cleaning chemicals should never be used in a grinder, they may corrode the shredding mechanism. If the waste unit should develop an odor, grinding lemon or orange peel will "sweeten" it. Certain materials should never be put into the disposer. These include metal, china, glass, plastics, paper, string, oyster, and clam shells, and filter-tipped cigarettes. In time, these materials mat the cutting teeth, decrease their efficiency, or jam the mechanism completely.

According to Miss Arrington, the general rule for deciding what may be put into the disposer is to draw a line between garbage and trash. Remember that your disposer is a "garbage" grinder.

Health and Safety Tips

About one out of eight Americans snore.

This means something like 25 million snorers, women as often as men.

The comic literature about snoring is endless. Plays, movies, vaudeville skits and comics in general have poked fun at snoring down through the years.

There's a good chance that there's a snorer in your family. If so, says Today's Health the magazine of the American Medical Association, you are well aware that it's not verry funny.

The assorted hisses, gurgles, buzzes, snorts and raspings of the snoring nuisance hold the seeds for the ruination of ostensibly happy marriage. Many married couples find it necessary to set up a schedule wherein one spouse tries to precede the other in sleep. Other couples proceed to separate rooms and possibly even the divorce courts.

For the most part snoring is generated while breathing either in or out during sleep by several structures in the nose and throat. The sounds are due to vibrations in the soft palate and other soft structures of the throat in response to inflowing and outflowing air.

The frequency of the vibrations depends on the size, density and elasticity of the affected tissues and on the force of the air flow.

A number of causes of snoring can be helped and even cured. Most cases of snoring in children are cured by removal of enlarged adenoids and tonsils. A blocked nose may lead to mouth breathing and snoring. Sometimes this can be corrected by minor surgery. If snoring is caused by nasal congestion due to the common cold, sinus trouble or hay fever, nose drops or antihistamines sometimes can bring relief to the sufferer and may stop snoring. Many people snore only when sleeping on the back. Any method that keeps the sleeper on his side or face can help.

There are factors that may effect the tone of the tissue of the throat and result in snoring. These include too much smoking, overwork, fatigue, obesity and general poor health. The largest group of offenders are the elderly, presumably because they lack tissue tone.

If there is a snorer in your family who is disrupting the sleep of others, send him to the family physician. If there is a definite cause-and-effect relationship, possibly something can be done about it. If your doctor cannot help, the listener can wear earplugs when everything else fails.

The individual who does you a kindness is entitled to a kindness from you, some day, in some way.

Why is it that club ladies belong to so many clubs?

Despite the come-on, the business man who tells you he's giving you something for nothing isn't giving you anything.

County Agent News Column

This year there will be only two cotton insect survey teams in the Rolling Plains Area. These teams will be stationed in Vernon and Colorado City.

The team at Colorado City will survey cotton fields in Nolan, Scurry, Mitchell and Fisher counties.

Jack Hoover and Thomas Fuchs will be checking ten fields in Fisher County, once a week, on Tuesday and Wednesday A.M. The team started checking last week.

The producers fields they will be checking are: Jerry Jeffrey's, in the Lawless Flat area; C. D. Herron's, Northwest of Sylvester; Kiefer Cauble's, Albert Farm East of Busby; Frank Mitchell's Randolph farm; T. C. Justiss's, west of Roby seven miles; Mack Blair's, between Roby and Rotan; Carroll Murphree's, North of Royston; Willie Gruben's East of Rotan and Billy J. Smith's, Southwest of Rotan.

Each week a summary of the report on these fields will be published in this newspaper.

Iron chlorosis has been showing up in many lawns and ornamental plants in Fisher County. Symptoms are gneerally a yellowing of the green foilage due to failure of chlorophyll to develop normally.

The chlorosis occurs in susceptible plants where and when iron is not available to them. This lack of iron may be due to a deficiency or to the iron being unavailable because of alkaline conditions. In either case, iron supplied by ferrous sulfate or iron chelates will be benificial.

Ferrous sulfate can be applied as a foliar spray at the rate of two teaspoons per gallon of water, plus a spreader-sticker. A teaspoon of household detergent can be used as the spreader-sticker. The spray should be applied in the late afternoon to avoid leaf burn and should be repeated in about 10 days if the yellowing persists.

The iron sulfate can also be applied to the soil as a fertilizer. Apply to trees and shrubs in holes made in a circle pust inside the spread of the branches. A five-foot tall shrub requires about a fourth of a pound. A tree should have three-fourths of a pound for each inch of trunk diameter. In the case of highly alkaline soil, the foliar spray is more effective than soil application.

Close growing plants such as grass should receive an application of four pounds per 1,000 square feet. Any soil application should be watered immediately.

A revised edition of range weed control has been released by the Texas &AM University Agricultural Extension Service.

Methods of mechanical biological, and chemical controls are listed, and the various advantages and disadvantages discussed. Precautions on the use of herbicides are suggested and a list of safety rules is provided.

Management following the use of these controls is developed to enable the rangeman to maintain a high level of production. A range management guide is listed to provide guidelines for profitable management.

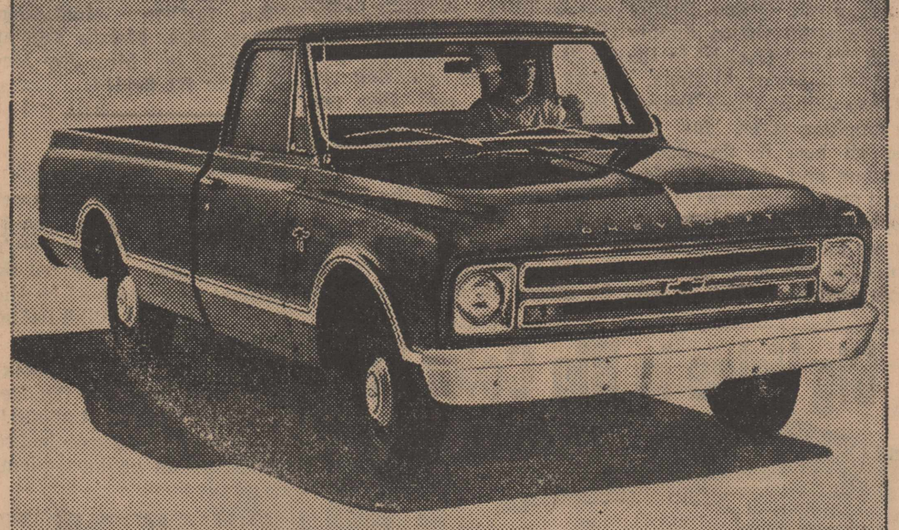

The new publication "Range Weed Control," MP-746, is now available at your county agent's office.

Retirement claims awarded by Social Security in March '67 averaged $88.97 per month.
