SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By WACIL McNAIR

Two explosions, traffic mishaps, more rain and progress on community projects highlighted the news here during the past week.

The city experienced two explosions, both causing property damage and one personal injuries, within a space of five days. The office at the Redwood Courts on Avenue S was wrecked and one person was injured in a blast Sunday morning. Thursday afternoon, another explosion caused damage at the city's sewage disposal plant.

There were several traffic mishaps, but the most serious was the one Thursday afternoon three miles west of town which claimed the life of Mrs. Nell Darby.

The National Guard Armory Board apparently wasn't fooling several months ago when it announced that the Snyder armory construction would get underway by summer. Bids were opened Tuesday, and the low figure was submitted by a Snyder contractor, Jay Tate.

Despite the prolonged rainy spell, Lake J. B. Thomas caught a little less than a foot of water, but heavy clouds brought prospects for more. Actually, the small amount of runoff was good news, because it meant that most of the welcome moisture went into the ground where it was needed most. Rains were lighter on most of the Lake Thomas watershed than in other area, but the runoff was exceptionally small even where the heavy downpours fell.

The Snyder Civic Music Association was lined up for another season. For a time it appeared apathy would keep the organization from signing enough members to operate. However, a last-minute surge brought the membership roster up to the level of the past season. Signing of the Houston Symphony for an appearance here probably helped create new interest in the CMA.

Speaking of Lake J. B. Thomas, Scurry County still has a chance for a park site there. The Colorado River Municipal Water District offered another site immediately after the option expired on one that had been offered previously. The county has six months to start development on the site.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Cargile of our town, watch Alice Lon on the Lawrence Welk show with personal interest. They knew her when she was a school girl near Henderson in East Texas and heard her sing on programs for service clubs, etc., long before she started singing professionally. Incidentally, her family name is Wyche.

AMONG student projects to be displayed here Thursday night in an industrial edcuation open house and to be entered in contes s is a sports car now being comp...ea by Royce Clanton, high school junior. Clanton, who has been working on the car all this school year, is shown here discussing the car with Frank Miller, standing, industrial arts teacher. Clanton used an English Ford four-cylinder motor and various parts from Nash, Studebaker, DeSoto and other cars for the car. The body was constructed of wood and fiberglass. Clanton did his own designing. He figures the total cost at about $300. (Lee Watson photograph)

AT HIGH SCHOOL

Projects To Be Displayed

The industrial education department of the Snyder schools will stage an open house at 7 p.m. Thursday to show projects of students for this year.

The open house will be held in the high school shop building. Projects from the high school and adult classes will be on dispaly.

All the areas of the industrial arts and vocational education program will be represented. The exhibit of projects will involve about 275 high school students and about 34 adults.

Student projects which show outstanding workmanship will be entered in contests held at Abilene Christian College Friday and Saturday.

Winners from the ACC contest will be entered in a statewide contest to be held in Dallas later.

The student projects will include various wood, metal, and plastic items, including everything from a shop-made automobile to boats to household furniture.

One Injured In Accident

One man was slightly injured and is hospitalized for observation as the result of a two vehicle accident at Thirty-seventh Street and Avenue S early Friday afternoon.

He is Godfrey E. Pavalas, driver of a 1952 GMC pickup truck owned by Pete J. Nachlinger, 2812 Avenue H.

His injuries are believed only to be minor, but he had received a broken neck in a previous automobile accident and was kept in the hospital for observation.

Driver of a 1954 Ford involved was Odell N. Cox, 2707 Avenue U. He was not injured, but both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Local Meat Judging Team Places Fifth

The Snyder High School Future Farmers of America meat judging team won fifth place in the state contest yesterday at Texas A & M College, College Station.

Richard Miller, a member of the team, was high man in the entire state contest in the judging of carcasses, and was seventh high individual in judging and identification in the entire overall meats contests. He placed only seven points below the top winner in the contest.

The Snyder team, instructed and accompanied by Billy Bob McMullen, Snyder Vocational Agriculture teacher, was the top team in area No. 1 and area No. 2 in West Texas. Members of the team are Miller, Pat Maddox, and Benny Rinehart.

The team competed in judging carcasses of pork. beef, lamb, and in pork hams and beef ribs.

Placing of the top 10 teams in the contest were in this order: Wylie, Fredericksburg, Stephenville, Menard, Snyder, Mason, Van Fleck, Pittsburgh, Pasadena, and Hillsboro.

Oil Well Fire Is Put Out Quickly

Firemen quickly put out flames of a fire which had broken out at an oil well inside the city limits here last night.

The fire broke out from unknown source at about 8 p. m. at the bottom of a treater at an oil well near the intersection of Avenue T and Seventeenth Street.

The fire caused little damage. It was about two blocks north of a well which caught fire several weeks ago.

28 Crewmen Are Rescued

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Twenty-eight crewmen were rescued today from the sinking Finnish freighter Bornholm 1,200 miles east southeast of New York. Within eight minutes after the crew boarded the Coast Guard cutter Duane, the freighter sank.

The 3,200-ton freighter, en route from Spain to Wilmington, Del., with a cargo of flour, sent out a distress message at 9 a.m. yesterday. The Duane, on weather patrol 100 miles south, reached the stricken Bornholm at 9:45 last night and stood by until rescue could be made in daylight. The crew boarded the Duane at 10:03 a.m. The Bornholm sank at 10:11.

What caused the Bornholm to sink was not known. In her distress message the Bornholm said she was leaking badly, her holds were flooded and she could not stand heavy weather.

Monument Unveiled

EAST FORTUNE, Scotland, May 4 (AP)—The Duke of Hamilton today unveiled a monument commemorating the first two-way air crossing of the Atlantic, by the British airship R34 in 1919. East Fortune was the site of the take-off.

Investment Theme Stressed In Drive

Emphasizing that participation is "An Investment, Not A Donation," workers in the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee and Jaycees are preparing to accelerate their drive for the Scurry County Industrial Foundation.

The drive, already off to an encouraging start, is expected to put the foundation into full operation by June 1. By that date, the workers feel that they will have sufficient funds subscribed for the foundation to offer assistance to industries, as prescribed in the organization's by-laws.

The Jaycees and chamber committee men doing contact work in the drive said they were anxious for all citizens to familiarize themselves with the foundation profram, its plan of operation and its objectives.

The objective is simply to make it easier and more desirable for new industries to move into Snyder and Scurry County. All foundation funds would be used to fulfill that objective, and there would be no subsidies. The foundation would be in a position to acquire property, construct buildings, etc., which might be required by specific industries. These, in turn, would be made available to the industries involved on a rental, lease, or lease-purchase arrangement.

No foundation funds would be used for general promotion, or advertising. General promotion work would be handled through the Chamber of Commerce and its industrial committee.

The plan has been accepted widely by highly successful business concerns, especially retailers and financial concerns, as a method of strengthening community ecomomy.

The foundation here has been patterned after similar organizations that have met with spectacular success during recent years. Memberships are being sold in the form of stock certificates, at $1 per share, and contact workers hope all local citizens, as well as business firms, will become members.

Students Kick Ball For Church Charity

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP) — Two tired Princeton University students arrived at the Biltmore Hotel today after 20 hours and 50 miles of kicking a soccer ball to help a church charity.

They kicked a deflated ball the last eight hours of their trek over highways from Princeton. A truck ran over the ball near Linden, N.J.

The 19-year-old youths, Robert Mendenhall and Victor Regan Jr., plan to rest until 8 p.m. when they will start back with a new ball.

If they make the 100-mile round trip in less than 60 hours fellow students have promised to contribute more than $500 to a Protestant Episcopal mission for Negroes, St. Vincent's House, Galveston, Tex.

Johnson Attacks Ike's Budget

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) has launched a sharpshooting attack on President Eisenhower's budget that promises to make governmental economy a major issue in next year's election campaign for control of Congress.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, is frankly out to slice Eisenhower's money requests on a selective basis. If the cuts he helps engineer fall heaviest on executive departments—and not on such widely popular items as flood control dams and power projects—none of his colleagues will be greatly surprised.

Unlike his opposite number, Republican Leader Knowland of California, Johnson is making no predictions on how much Congress will be able to cut in Eisenhower's proposed $71,800,000,000 spending program.

Knowland has called for a three billion dollar slice in actual spending. To reach such a goal, Congress would have to cut about five billion dollars off the more than 73 billion dollars in new money Eisenhower seeks.

Some of these appropriations are proposed for the future and won't actually be spent in the fiscal year beginning July 1. Eisenhower has a backlog of spending authority granted by previous Congresses and the current session's control of actual spending thus is limited.

The indications are that Johnson has in mind no such definite figure as that picked by Knowland. It is not part of the Democratic leadership's strategy to enforce economy at the expense of housing, health services, farm benefits and power projects.

These are issues which the Democrats generally agree helped them keep control of both Houses of Congress last year while Eisenhower was sweeping to a landslide victory.

In his somewhat new role as an economy advocate, Johnson is backed by what he regards as solid support from the voters of Texas for a reduction in spending. He believes this sentiment is duplicated in all sections in the country.

Rivers Carry New Threats Of Floods

The Snyder area recorded a small amount of additional moisture with unseasonably cool temperatures, as brisk north breezes kept thick clouds moving through the region at the end of the week.

Saturday's moisture was only a fine mist, but .12 of an inch was recorded on the official gauge by David Strayhorn during the 24-hour period ending at 7:30 a. m. Saturday. Most of that amount fell during light showers Friday, and it made a total of .17 of an inch for a two-day period.

Thermometers dipped to 50 degrees here Friday night, and the mercury still hovered on that mark Saturday morning.

By The Associated Press

Texas rivers, aroused again, swept more floodwaters Saturday toward cities and areas which still hadn't recovered from earlier damaging high water.

The critical points were at Wichita Falls, a stretch of the Brazos River in Central Texas and an area on the lower Trinity. Heavy rains, some of cloudburst intensity, fell in these areas Friday and overnight.

Far to the east, on the Louisiana border, the Sabine was lapping at Deweyville but the river had steadied there. Water was within two feet of the highway between Deweyville and Evangeline, La.

The state estimated the 17 days of floods had caused five million dollars damage to government facilities alone. President Eisenhower allocated a million dollars for repair of public property, such as roads, public buildings and sewer lines.

The Red Cross estimated 9,000 persons have fled homes because of high water, and that 2,000 homes have been destroyed or damaged. Loss of crops and livestock has been heavy but no estimate was possible.

Some 51 families who evacuated their homes in Wichita Falls started moving back in Saturday night. A total of 77 families living on Holliday Creek in the center of the city of 125,000 in North Central Texas had been warned to move out but 26 elected to remain.

Civil defense officials said they thought the biggest danger was past. They said water actually got up into only two homes.

The peak of the flood at Wichita Falls was some 15 to 18 inches lower than the one in 1955, which The river's maximum elevation was 18.77 feet.

The Highway Department was reported to have closed and condemned a million dollar, 2,000-foot concrete bridge at Kimball Bend across the Brazos in Central Texas. Engineers expected the bridge to be washed out Sunday by two rises coming down the Brazos.

The danger was disputed by a spokesman for Col. Harry Fischer of the Army Engineers. He said the lake must rise another 10 feet before it will affect the crossing, and that some flooding of the bridge for a limited time was expected in the planning. He said the bridge was designed to withstand flooding.

Book Planned By McCarthy

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — Friends and associates of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) disclosed today that he was completing work on a book dealing with congressional investigations when he was stricken with a fatal illness.

McCarthy, who died Thursday, also had collected a vast amount of material for another book, they said, which was to have dealt with policy."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a long time friend, and Ray Kiermas, McCarthy's administrative assistant, said the senator's book on congressional investigations is planned for early publication.

Mrs. Patrick Miller, a lawyer and researcher who had been helping McCarthy with the book, told a reporter it is "about ready for publishing after a little editing."

"It deals with the constitutional authority for congressional investigations, the power of subpoena, and the part of such investigations play as the watchdog over the executive branch of the government," she said.

It was Mrs. Miller who reported that McCarthy was planning a later book on communism and subversion of policy.

Hundreds of persons filed past McCarthy's bier at a Pennsylvania Avenue funeral home, not from the White House, as preparations were completed for services in the Senate chamber Monday morning. Burial will be in Appleton, Wis. Tuesday.

A delegation of 21 senators and the 10 Wisconsin House members is leaving for Appleton by Air Force plane Tuesday for the services there. The Senate group will be headed by Republican Leader Knowland of California and Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

McCarthy entered Bethesda Naval Medical Hospital last Sunday. He was thought at first to be suffering from a possible inflammation of the nerves, but his illness was diagnosed as acute hepatitis. Hospital authorities attributed his death to "acute hepatic failure," a breakdown of the liver functioning.

Hepatitis is an inflammation of the liver. It is a weakening disease and is usually treated with bed rest, controlled diet and vitamin dosages.

Council Has Big Agenda

A lenghty agenda for the city council meeting tomorrow night includes the request of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to appear before the council to discuss the possibilities of obtaining a telephone rate increase here.

The telephone company requested a rate increase last year, and after several months of consideration and discussion by the city council, was denied the rate increase.

A new operating statement of the company has been prepared and will be presented to the council.

Carter Johnston of the investment firm of Rouscher, Pierce & Co., which has purchased city bonds, has requested to appear before the council and ask the city to recall $87,000 of long term bonds recently sold, and exchange them for short term bonds at a slight interest saving to the city. He was refused a similar request last year.

Nuclear Weapons Plan Is Mapped

BONN, Germany, May 4 (AP) — The 15 North Atlantic Allies tonight were reported weighing a plan to make nuclear weapons and guided missiles available at once, wherever needed, for the defense of Europe from the Arctic to the Aegean.

The United States, as a leader in both fields, would be expected to supply these weapons for stockpiling.

A ranking Western statesman explained the plan is to designate the Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces in Europe as the holding agent for the armaments in peacetime. The commander always has been an American. Gen. Lauris Norstad holds the post now.

The proposal has two purposes:

1. To avoid the need to equip national Allied armies with live nuclear weapons in peacetime.

2. To sidestep U. S. laws that prevent the handover of American nuclear arms and secrets to foreign powers.

Suggestions that nuclear equipment be given to some NATO countries in Europe have touched off political arguments in West Germany and elsewhere. Russia has warned West Germany, Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands, Greece and Turkey against accepting A-weapons.

Word of the new plan leaked out 24 hours after the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers had spelled out a resolve to use "all available means," including nuclear weapons, to meet any aggression. The ministers dispersed today.

Secretary of State Dulles flew to Paris to meet a group of American ambassadors after holding a three-hour conference with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. The Dulles-Adenauer discussion dwelt especially on ways of bolstering West German resistance to Russian diplomatic pressures.

Truman Says Ike Failed In Leadership, Hits At Budget

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — Harry S. Truman accused President Eisenhower tonight of a failure of leadership and said he has "played political bunk with budget."

And the former President told fellow Democrats that what he called the "tight money" policy and high interest rates "can bring on a depression."

"This," he said, "is a reversion to the trickle-down theory that has guided the Republican party from the time of its inception. It is a means of transferring income from the poor who need it to the rich who don't. The results are increasing maladjustments in our economy, with danger signals rising higher on every hand."

Truman's remarks, given out in advance in excerpt form, were prepared for a Democratic dinner at the National Guard Armory starring himself and Adlai E. STevenson in oratorical roles.

The $100-a-plate affair, to help fill the party's more than empty coffers, was the climactic event of a three-day party rally in which Democratic leaders from over the country tuned up for next year's congressional and gubernatorial elections.

They did it with predictions of budget and tax cuts—and perhaps unemployment—and with swats at Eisenhower and the administration's financial policies.

And at tonight's dinner, party spokesmen went on the kind of blasting binge at the GOP which is customary for one of these political affairs.

Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, House Democratic leader John McCormack of Massachusetts and others took turns hooting at the Republicans as a party in collapse, split, leaderless, incapable of governing.

On the spending question, Williams stood somewhat apart from some Democrats in Congress. If the Democrats keep faith with party pledges to meet new challenges with new methods and ideas, he said, "we will not cooperate with the Republican reactionaries to meat-ax the Eisenhower budget."

Truman said he foresees "a great showdown" coming in the next few years on the most critical domestic issues—the budget, fiscal management, high interest rates, economic growth, the exploitation of resources, the spread of monopoly.

Youths Unhurt As Auto Overturns

Four Snyder youths escaped serious injury Friday night when the car in which they were riding overturned about six miles southwest of Snyder on State Highway 350.

The accident occurred at about 11:25 p.m. Friday. The car, a 1955 Studebaker coach, was driven by Joe Monroe Bunt, 16, 2701 Avenue B. Passengers in the car were three other teen-age boys.

Jim Kinser, highway patrolman, said the car, headed toward Snyder, overturned when it got off the pavement. The car was totally damaged.

Investigating were Highway Patrolmen Kinser and Arthur Dyson and Sheriff Earl Abercrombie.

Boys Caught In Abduction

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 4 (AP) — Shivering cold and hungry, two teen-agers sought for car theft and the unintended abduction of a small boy were caught early today.

They had eluded scores of officers and farmers all night after abandoning both the automobile they took in Kansas City, Kan., yesterday afternoon and the 2½-year-old boy who was asleep on the rear seat.

The child, recovered unharmed later from a second car where he had been placed, was Jimmy Doe Draves, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Draves.

Sgt. W. E. Wilson of the Missouri Highway Patrol said the boys identified themselves as Anthony Wayne Steinmetz, 14, and Barry Allen Dugan, 15, both of Kansas City, Kan.

Building Decreases

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—The Bureau of Business Research said today Texas construction authorizations had decreased 10 per cent in March below February of this year. Total construction authorizations decreased 10 per cent in March below February of this year.

AT EIGHT MONTHS

Keeble Dog Shows Up Well

A young Dachshund owned by Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Keeble, SACROC 2 Camp, started her show career at the age of eight months.

That was at Phoenix, Ariz., on March 8, at the Dachshund Club Specialty Show, judged by Herman Cox. The Dachshund, Jed Locket Nita Louise, won the open class, winners bitch, best of winners, and best of variety of breed, opposite sex, for a five-point win, no small accomplishment for such a young dog.

Later, at the Kern County Kennel Club Show at Bakersfield, Cal., under Judge Anna M. Young, Nita Louise repeated the same win, all the way to best of opposite sex for one point.

At the Santa Ana Valley Kennel Club Show, she again repeated for three more points.

Nita Louise now has nine points, both her required major win, and she needs only six more points for her American Kennel Club championship.

At the Bakersfield and Anaheim shows, the Keebles entered their champion, Dandy Dachs Dorothy, a Dachshund black and tan bitch, in the "specials only," and Dorothy made best of variety of breed, opposite sex, at Bakersfield, and best of breed, opposite sex, at Anaheim.

The Keeble Dachshunds are handled exclusively by Mr. and Mrs. Woodie Dorward of Northridge, Cal.

Nita Louise is the daughter of international champion Tubac's Abner W., owned by Mr. and Mrs. Neville Stephens of Tucson, Ariz.

Battle Between High And Low Pressure Areas Set Off Rain

NEW ORLEANS, May 4 (AP)—A "remarkable" set of circumstances in the old Western battle between high and low pressure areas caused the recent heavy rains over parched Texas and much of the Southeast.

R. H. Kraft of the Weather Bureau said today it was a case of the weather trying to be winter at high levels and summer at low levels.

The Bermuda high, which got its name from dwelling during much of summertime over the south Atlantic, was a blockade against air movement in the western United States.

It locked horns with a somewhat continual series of relatively low pressure areas over the southern Rocky Mountains.

Between the two, moisture laden tropical air was forced from the Caribbean Sea area into a swing over Texas and northern Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and onward to the South Atlantic states.

Unusually heavy rain fell onto these areas when the cold high winds squeezed moisture from the moving warm air masses.

One result was high water and flooding in a large portion of Texas last week and brimfull rivers streams in most of Louisiana this weekend.

Kraft said, "It is remarkable through this period how the pressures continued relatively high out over the Southeastern states and sort of continued low over the southern Rockies."

During the week beginning April 15, Kraft said, the high stabilized over the Middle Atlantic states with the high already sitting over the Rockies.

The situation remained the same until about April 20. The lows broke through April 23 and swept out over the western part of Texas.

The Bermuda high broke down to some extent over the eastern portion of Texas around May 1, Kraft said, and since there has been a relatively low pressure area over the Gulf of Mexico and a high inland.

This resulted in an eastern flow of air over the northern portion of states from Texas eastward, and to an extent, the stalemate still exists.

Kraft said the Weather Bureau is not predicting when the stalemate will ease up. Possibly to agitate the situation, he said, a large high is moving off the Great Lakes and Canada, and there is a chance it will move into position and re-establish the Bermuda high's strength.

No break in the showery weather over the effect strip is foreseen for a few days, he said.

HIGH SPEEDS were gained in reading by many members of the class in speed reading and visual training which just ended here. Instructors were Dr. Clyde Dawson, Dr. Jack Nesbit, and Dr. John Blum, Snyder optometrists. One student, Dr. DWane Collins, shown being timed at reading material projected on a wall by Dawson, reached the rapid rate of 2,700 words per minute with 80 per cent comprehension at one time, a feat few attain. He started the class with 320 words at 64 per cent. His average is 1,041 at 67 per cent. High school students, as well as adults, have been interested in the course, and in the bottom picture two who took the recent class, from left, Ted Lamb and Jerry Roe, are timed by Nesbit. Lamb, who started the class reading 199 words per minute at 45 per cent comprehension, reached a high speed of 910 with 70 per cent and had an average of 543 with 62 per cent. Roe, starting a t120 reached 744 words at 81 per cent and averaged 439 at 55 per cent. Another speed reading class will begin the first week in June here. (Lee Watson photograph)

Radioactive Material May Be Regulated

HOUSTON, May 4 (AP)—Mayor Oscar Holcombe indicated today the long delay in reporting a laboratory accident in which four men were contaminated may lead to local regulations on use of radioactive materials.

Holcombe said the M. W. Kellog Co. laboratory, where the March 13 disentegration of iridium-192 pellets was not disclosed until Thursday, is one of 20 civilian firms using radioactive materials here.

The mayor said city officials knew nothing of the accident until they read about it in newspapers.

"It seems to me that anything possibly dangerous to health, life and property should be reported to the city," Holcombe said. The mayor said he will talk with city atty. George Neal "to see what we can do in cases such as this."

Holcombe said he could not understand why officials of the Kellog firm, a New York City company specializing in building oil processing facilities, did not report the March 13 accident to the atomic energy commission until April 19.

Commercial firms use the materials in testing tools and materials, in oil well logging, and research projects. Research programs also are under way at the Rice Institute and the University of Houston. Several hospitals, including the University of Texas Anderson Hospital, one of the nation's largest cancer research centers, also use radioactive materials.

The Houston Chronicle said two men received severe radiation burns at the Kellogg laboratory over two years ago while working with radioactive cobalt. The Chronicle said J. C. Williams and Jim Martin required skin grafts.

The four men exposed to the iridium-192 March 13 were H. E. Northway, then Kellogg branch manager, Jackson McVey, Marvin Yoder, and Jack Hawkins.

Northway said the "hot cell" for storing the radioactive substances was shut down immediately but that the rest of the laboratory and adjoining office were used until April 11.

Deferred Grazing Is Needed On Rangeland

Moisture penetration on rangeland here, even with the big rains which fell in the area recently, still falls far short of the need.

Only about 40 per cent of the moisture which fell in the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District of Scurry and Borden Counties during the past several days soaked in, according to technicians of the Soil Conservation Service.

Average penetration on rangeland, at lesat average for the majority of rangeland here, is about 12 to 14 inches, or between one-third and one-half the desired penetration for the amount of rain which fell.

There will, of course, be more penetration later with more rains as the ranges begin to gain cover.

As range grasses are making their comeback here after the many drought years, which may or may not have ended, there are several things which are desirable in giving pastures a boost.

Principally, these are:

1. Deferred grazing and proper use.

2. Mechanical practices.

Generally, ranges are in poor condition in this area, SCS technicians say. Now is a good time to consider deferred grazing as a means of letting grassess recover. Through deferred grazing, the stockman can allow one part of the pasture to grow grasses while another part is in use.

Many are already practicing deferred grazing, and they have in the past month been utilizing winter vegetation. This is about the time many will be moving stock off some of the pastures, where they have been feeding, onto other parts, where they will continue grazing through the summer.

During that time, grasses will have a chance to recover and make seed for reproduction on that part of the range which is deferred, gaining such grasses as bluestem, buffalo, and sideoats, blue, and black grama.

Stockmen can also use supplemental grazing on sudan, perennial grasses, etc., during the summer while native pastures are given a chance to rest.

Mechanical practices may be used on rangeland where cover is adequate and seed production is limited.

Pitting is a temporary mechanical measure used to help reduce runoff, and it is recommended that grass seeding be done in the same operation. Chiseling on the level generally will hold more water but will also leave more hole in the land than will pitting. Their purposes are the same.

There are many other measures a stockman must consider for his range, and SCS technicians, working in cooperation with the soil conservation district, will aid them in selecting the best plans for their particular operations.

(*)—NONE ()—TRACE

Rainfall in 1957 is setting new records.

Actually, records are not being set, but they are for recent years.

Three out of four months so far this year have seen more rainfall in Snyder than those months had for many years.

So far, the total for Snyder in the official gauge of David Strayhorn weather observer, for the first four months of the year was 6.9 inches.

That is the most rain Snyder has had in the first four months of the year since 1941 — 16 years ago. The year 1949 came close with a total of 6.22 inches, but of all the other years only one, 1956, had more than four inches in the first four months. There was a total of 4.27 inches here by the end of April last year.

Actually, the total of 6.9 inches is not a true picture for this area. Some parts of the county have had less, while other parts have had more than 10 inches so far this year, with more than seven in the last two weeks.

All in all, Scurry County has good prospects so far for crops this year. Most farmers will be getting equipment into their fields just as soon as the weather clears up and the soil is not too muddy. Most will be planting.

Just in Snyder, here's what 1957 moisture has been so far:

January — .53 of an inch, more than Snyder had had since 1949.

February — 2.80, the most for that month since 1938.

March — .16, a low month but still more than last year, when none fell during March.

April — 3.61, the most for April since 1941.

May got a good start, with .17 of an inch measured by Saturday morning. And if May continues the usual way, there will be much more. Even during the drought, May has been a good rainfall month, with 2.5 falling last year, 6.21 the year before. There has been only one May in the past 20 years which has had less than an inch of rain.

Results Of Flood Control Dams Cited

TEMPLE, May 4 —The Soil Conservation Service said today its 173 floodwater retarding dams in Texas have materially eased the state's flood situation by holding about 170,000 acre feet of runoff water and feeding it slowly into streams.

Paul Walser, acting state conservationist, said the creek watershed projects are doing their job of cutting down damage in bottomland areas.

The big upper Trinity project started 10 years ago contains most of the SCS flood prevention work in Texas. A total of 128 floodwater retarding dams, out of about 800 the SCS says are needed, have been built. They hold 107,000 acre feet of flood-producing runoff, Walser reported.

The 800 dams in the upper Trinity plan when completed will detain about a million acre feet of runoff waters, Walser said.

"That's enough to eliminate all the small floods in the watershed and to take the sting out of the big ones such as the present one," he predicted. "It will insure much longer usefulness for big reservoirs by protecting them from heavy sediment loads."

Other projects in Texas include the middle Colorado, where much work has been done in Brady and Deep creeks, and 4 of the nation's 62 pilot watershed—Green's Creek near Dublin, Cow Bayou near Waco, Escondido Creek near Kenedy and Calaveros Creek near San Antonio.

Walser said many large reservoirs have become virtually useless for storage because of silt.

He said the new lake near Weatherford is an example of the kind of protection needed. Th lake acre capacity. Twenty-three SCS floodwater dams above the lake, out of 33 proposed in the Clear Fork project, are easing streams of relatively sediment-free water into the lake.

"When the flow has stopped Weatherford Lake will have another 9,500 acre feet of high-quality water and a brimming lake," Walser said.

Meat Crop Decreases In Texas

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—The Crop reporting board of the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimated today that 90,265,000 pounds of meat were commercially produced in Texas during March.

This is slightly below the 91,449,000 pounds produced during February and 3 per cent below the March, 1956, figure. The estimates include beef, veal, pork, mutton and lamb.

The March kill of cattle and calves were up 6 and 11 per cent over last year. Slaughter of sheep and lambs declined 32 per cent and hogs were off 24.

The average liveweight of cattle slaughtered during March at 795 a month earlier. Calves averaged 459 pounds, or 5 pounds heavier. Sheep and lambs average 87 pounds, off 2 pounds and hogs at 231 pounds were unchanged from a month earlier.

During the first three months of 1957 an estimated 415,000 head of cattle were slaughtered, 11 per cent below 1956. The 230,000 head of calves slaughtered are up 8 per cent from last year. Sheep and lambs killed totaled 156,000 head or 22 per cent below a year earlier.

Farm Goods Prices Are Up In Texas

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—The U. S. epatment of Agriculture said today the irdex of prices received by Texas farmers for all farm products increased 2 per cent during the month ending April 15, and 6 per cent over a year ago.

The department said an increase of 5 per cent in meat animal prices brought the all livestock and livestock products index to 278 per cent of the 1910-14 base. The all crops index today at 254 showed no change from March 15 but is about 7 per cent above mid-April 1956.

Prices of all meat animals except sheep registered gains for the second consecutive month, reflecting the improved moisture situation over the state. Increase from a month ago were 30 cent per hundredweight for hogs, 70 cents for beef cattle, $1 for calves and $1.50 for lambs.

Wool prices advanced to 54 cents per pound, or the highest since November, 1954.

These gains were partially offset by lower prices received for dairy products and poultry and eggs. Milk sold at wholesale dropped 35 cents per hundredweight and retail prices declined 1 cent per quart. Moderately lower prices for chickens, eggs and turkeys combined to lower the poultry and egg index 5 per cent.

All grain prices were slightly below those of March 15. Hay prices broke $3.70 a ton to average $29.90 at mid-April.

Cotton was off 20 points during the month. Gains of 11 cents per ton for oranges and 14 cents for grapefruit raised the fruit index nine points, which approached the level of a year earlier. Sweet potatoes prices moved seasonally higher as marketing of the 1956 production neared completion.

Drivers Are Killed In Two-Car Crash

GREENVILLE, May 4 (AP)—Two cars collided headon 2 miles west of here on Highway 67 early today and both drivers were killed.

Highway Patrolman Bill Caffee said James Montgomery of Caddo Mills apparently dozed and his car veered into the opposite lane. He and Billy Connally of Dallas were believed to have died at once.

Drought In Southwest Is Staggered By Downpours

By ROBERT E. FORD

DALLAS, May 4 —April downpours have staggered the great drought of the Southwest and Great Plains.

More moisture could erase the last scars by restoring sub-soil moisture and filling some still-low reservoirs, a survey the The Associated Press showed today.

In most of Texas and parts of Oklahoma, too much rain has fallen. It has washed out some crops and kept farmers idle at a critical time.

But in much of the area seared by the great drought of the 1950s enough rain has fallen to give farmers some of the brightest harvest prospects since dry weather began about 1949.

Some trouble spots remain, but even these have more rain than in recent years.

Authorities generally give this test of a drought breaker: Subsoil moisture restored, lakes with adequate water, and grass growing again on rangeland.

Areas where more moisture is needed now or soon include far West Texas beyond the Pecos River, most of Airzona and New Mexico, Prowers County in southeast Colorado, and western Kansas. Most of these areas have adequate moisture for the moment.

In much of Texas, fields are flooded or are too wet to be worked. But after seven or more years of drought, not many farmers complained.

G. G. Gibson, director of the Texas Extension Service, said:

"It's too early to tell how much damage has been caused to washed and flooded fields and pastures, but acros sthe state, the prospects are bright."

As an example of how the April rains helped occurred at the Texas Research Foundation farms near Dallas. At the end of March the soil had only 3 inches of moisture. At the end of April, moisture extended down 36 inches.

Some farmers said the rains had increased crop destroying insects, and fields were too wet to use insectivide application.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John White said, "fourth-fifths of the state has an adequate supply of sub-soil moisture for the time being. A lot of farmers would have liked to bank some of that rain for another day."

Rains have halted, at least temporarily, the great clouds of dust which often sweep the Southwest in the spring, although some local dust storms have occurred.

Here is the situation in Southwest-Great Plains states other than Texas:

Oklahoma: Rains damaged crops in the eastern part and caused extensive soil erosion on uplands and flooding on lowlands there. Spring planting has been delayed. Moisture varies from excessive in the east to generally adequate in the west. The western wheat crop is expected to be good if weather continues favorable.

Colorado: Except for Prowers County, crop prospects are the best in several years. Range and pastures have been revived. Some wheat land, placed in the soil bank last fall when the drought was severe, now is showing signs of producing a crop which must be plowed under. A good snow pack will provide irrigation water.

New Mexico: Moisture is better than last year but there is no subsoil moisture and more rain is needed. Considerable wheat seeding was lost by dry fall weather, and it's too early to tell about cotton prospects. About 31 counties remain in the drought relief program. Most cattle still must be fed.

Drought Is Gone, For Awhile

COLLEGE STATION, May 4 (AP)—Torrential downpours have washed Texas' drought into the Gulf of Mexico, but only for the time being, the Texas Extension Service said today.

"The final appraisal on this two weeks of rain must away harvest season before evaluation," Director G. G. Gibson said. "It's too early to tell how much damage has been caused to washed and flooded fields and pastures, but across the state prospects are bright."

Further postponement of planting and replanting will be required in most of the eastern half of the state. Conditions in the Panhandle and most of West Texas now appear ideal for crops and ranges.

"North Plains wheat producers should harvest their best crop since 1949 as moisture conditions are equal or above normal, and said to be 50 per cent above normal in Donley and Wheeler counties," Knox Parr reported at Amarillo. "However, much fall-sown wheat suffered during winter months from drouth and resulted in poor stands. Weed trouble is anticipated. There's some greenbug damage reported in wheat in Castro, Deaf Smith and Parmer counties. Grass is short but green and growing fast. Cattle are gaining strength fast and feeding is about over."

In the Gulf Coast area, excess rain and floods caused much damage. Small grain suffered from rust, wind and water and hay crops have been caught on the ground. Much corn and cotton will require replanting. Cattle also were moved from bottom pastures as all rivers and large creeks flooded.

More than 500 head of cattle were reported lost in deep East Texas in the Trinity River and other flooded streams. Farm work is halted and crops will be 30 days late or more. Some fields have washed badly and some crops are deteriorating. Pastures and cattle are in excellent condition.

Far West Texas is on the upgrade even though more moisture is needed in the extreme western part. Moisture conditions are excellent in Val Verde, Edwards, Kinney, Sutton and Crockett counties. Stock ponds are full and grass is growing. Further west it's dry and feeding of livestock continues.

Eastward in the Edwards Plateau, V. G. Young at San Angelo said good rains throughout promoted range growth, especially weeds. Livestock is improving, but that there is little grass. Very little moisture has penetrated bare pasture land and submoisture still is inadequate. Some grain sorghum is being replanted, and very little cotton has been planted.

"Further damage and delay has been caused to northeast Texas," said John Surovik at Mt. Pleasant. "All field work is at least three weeks behind schedule and indications now are that tomato and vegetable acreage will be smaller than anticipated. Some 25 to 40 per cent of tomato plants in the field were lost, lots of cotton and corn must be replanted and mud means harvest problems to strawberry growers. Oats and other small grain have been damaged and insect problems are mounting. Several pond and lakes have been lost as dams broke. Pastures and hay meadows are making excellent growth and cattle are in good condition and bringing good market prices.

Destruction of about 150,000 bushels of wheat was reported in the Chillicothe area of the Rolling Plains when high wind, rain and hail invaded fields. A tornado damaged about 500 acres of wheat and killed several head of livestock in Cottle County. Prospects are very good for an average or better grain crop and ranges and pastures are improving. Grain sorghum and cotton planting starts when fields are dry.

Plenty of moisture is in Central Texas. Torrential rains caused floods and considerable damage. Oats are heading out and should produce a good harvest. Some corn was planted earlier and planting grain sorghum and cotton, now two weeks late, will begin when fields are dry. Cool season grasses and weeds are making excellent growth for livestock grazing.

South Texas, which suffered heavily in the drought, now has ample moisture, Joe Glover said at Gonzales. Further planting of cotton and grain sorghum is being held up and some must be replanted. Perennial grasses on ranges are thin due to drouth, but annual weeds and grass are more plentiful and livestock is in good condition.

Ted Martin at Denton summed up conditions this way:

"Farmers are anxious to get into their fields, but even though damage continues it isn't as bad as the dry land and grass fires a year ago. Livestock may be tramping in mud, but at least they have something to graze. Weather continues to cost farmers and ranchers money."

Dies Of Injuries

GAINESVILLE, May 4 (AP)—James Myers, 54, and Wallace Johnson, 28, both of Tioga, died of injuries received in a three-car accident east of here last night.

George Parr Arrested On Assault Count

SAN DIEGO, Tex., May 4 (AP)—Politician George Parr was released from the jail today after being imprisoned eight hours and 40 minutes, awaiting bond on an assault and battery charge.

He was freed after San Diego lawyer O.P. Carillo and Benavides merchant Jesus Olivera posted $1500 bond.

Parr was arrested at 1245 a.m. today at an Alice drive-in theatre by Ranger Walter Russell and Highway Patrolman Don Fishel on a complaint signed by Ramon Ganguma, 18, an honor student at San Diego High School.

County Atty. Walter Purcell said the student was with a group of boys in midtown San Diego last night when Parr passed them in his car, flashed a light on the boys, parked his car and returned to the group.

Purcell said Parr held a pistol on Ganguma and struck him with his fist. No reason was given.

After Ganguma signed a complaint, Russell was given a warrant for the political leader's arrest. Russell said he waited at the Parr residence here until he got a tip that Parr and Mrs. Parr was watching a movie in Alice.

Purcell said the case against Parr would be refiled in Duval County Court Monday.

20 Disaster Areas Listed

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—Twenty Texas counties are now disaster areas, Gov. Price Daniel said yesterday. Twelve more were placed on the disaster list by the Small Business Administration. Eight had originally been listed.

Owners of homes or businesses which were damaged in the counties may apply for aid from the administration to repair their property, Daniel said.

The 12 new counties were Limestone, Milam, Robertson, Burleson Brazos, Victoria, Taylor, Hamilton, Wood, Wharton and Matagorda.

Original counties were Dallas, Tarrant, Bell, Coryell, Williamson, McLennan, Smith and Gregg.

Owners of damaged buildings in those counties should contact the SBA office in San Antonio.

Local Man Arrested On Ballinger Warrant

Willie Miles, 34-year-old Snyder man, was arrested here Friday night on a Ballinger warrant by officers of the sheriff's department.

Miles, of 2405 Avenue M, is charged with burglary in Ballinger. Officers from there were to pick him up yesterday.

IN MEMORY—Dr. Charles Stewart, dean of the University of Houston College of Optometry, presents Mrs. H. G. Towle with a replica of a plaque in commemoration of the late Dr. Towle in ceremonies dedicating examining equipment to Dr. Towle. Dr. Towle, a former mayor of Snyder, practiced optometry for 45 years.

Late Dr. Towle Receives Honor

HOUSTON, May 4 — A room of examining equipment in the University of Houston College of Optometry has been dedicated to the late Dr. H. G. Towle of Snyder.

Dr. Towle, who practiced optometry for 45 years, helped organize the Texas Optometric Association and took an active part in securing the Optometric Practices Act and in amending other optometric laws. Dr. Towle's widow has been a benefactor of the University College of Optometry.

Born in 1881 in Menasha, Wis., Dr. Towle graduated from Bradley Polytechnic College in 1902 and the Northern Illinois College of Optometry. He was awarded the DOS degree from the Northern Illinois College.

Dr. Towle and his wife, the former Mary Ruddick, moved to Snyder in 1905 and were poineers in the development of the city. Dr. Towle helped organize the volunteer fire department and served as chief for 14 years. He served on the city council and was mayor of Snyder for 20 years, from 1926-46.

The optometrist served on the State Board for Optometry for 20 years and was president of the board for 12 years. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Plaque for Outstanding Meritorious and Unselfish Service for the Advancement of the Profession of Optometry in 1939. Dr. Towle died in 1950.

Mrs. Towle and several optometrists from over the state were present for the dedication ceremonies at the University. The dean of the University College of Optometry, Dr. Charles Stewart, presented Mrs. Towle with a replica of the bronze plaque to be placed in the examining room commemorating Dr. Towle.

Dr. Towle's daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. John Blum, also lived in Snyder. Dr. Blum engaged in practice with Dr. Towle.

He Has Marital Problem

SEATTLE (AP) — Somewhere, some time, prior to Sept., 1955, "James John Kelly" fears he may have acquired a wife and children. The same fear haunts his wife, Patricia.

Both have decided the question must be resolved; the fear allayed — or proven.

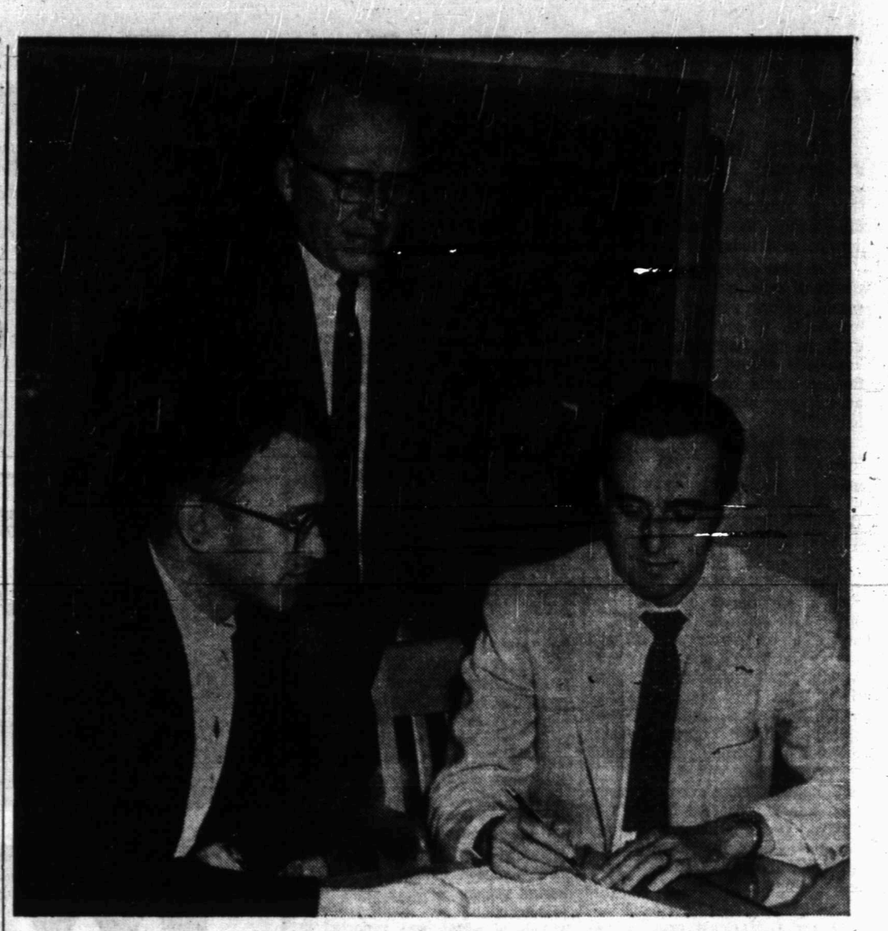

With that in mind, the young Seattle couple appealed to police yesterday. They said they want help in penetrating the fog which obscures all but the last 20 months of the railroad timekeeper's life.

This much they said they know: "Kelly," who is about 25, was roused from unconsiiousness in a railroad boxcar at a Seattle siding in Sept., 1955. He was battered, bruised and sore — like a man who had been badly beaten.

On his wrist was a watch with the initials "J. J. K." on the back. On his left forearm the tattooed letters "J.K."

The husky, well-built man got a job as a railroad timekeeper, met Patricia in March of last year and in October they were married.

"Mrs. Kelly" is expecting a child in October. She has three by a previous marriage.

A triple meeting was held during the event, with the National Association meeting with the American Pharmaceutical Association and the National Association of Colleges of Pharmacy.

Approximately 4,000 persons, representing every state in the United States, Alaska and Hawaii, attended the event.

The Stinsons returned to Dallas by plane Thursday, and then came on back to Snyder.

COLUMBUS, Tex., May 4 (AP)—Stephen Loessin, 6, drowned in a stock pond on the farm of his grandfather near here yesterday, police reported. The child slipped on the muddy edge of the tank.

Allowable Drops Off

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—The Railroad Commission reported today a decrease of 81,889 barrels in the total average calendar day oil allowable.

The average allowable was 3,496,323 barrels today, compared to 3,578,220 a week ago.

A total 342 oil wells were completed during the week bringing the year mark to 5,663 as compared to 5,799 for last year. There were 39 gas well completions, upping the year total 624 compared to 619.

Dry holes totaled 153, and 2,818 for the year compared to 2,754.

In unproven territory, 10 oil and no gas wells were completed. There were 105 wildcats which turned out dry.

A total 222 wells were plugged, raising the year record to 4,132 as compared to 3,838.

Phillips Announces Hike In Base Pay

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., May 4 (AP)—Increases of five per cent in base pay rates of most employes not represented by bargaining agents were made today by Phillips Petroleum Co.

K. S. Adams, chairman, and Paul Endacott, president, said the increases would be retroactive to April 1. The company said four weeks vacation would be provided for employes of 20 years.

Smith Will Be Quizzed

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—Former Insurance Commissioner Garland A. Smith and his son-in-law, Max Rychlik, will be questioned again Tuesday by a Travis County grand jury looking into the collapse of ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas.

Both were in for about an hour yesterday before the 12-person secret investigating group. Then as they walked out, a deputy sheriff handed them subpoenas to appear again Tuesday.

ICT promoter BenJack Cage had taken Smith on airplane rides to Havana, Las Vegas and other places. Smith told a House committee he did no wrong in taking the trips.

The House committee turned over the investigation to the grand jury. Rychlik told the committee he had received $700 a month, a total of $18,200, for doing nothing, although Cage had told him he planned to set up a public relations firm in Austin.

Polish City Hall Is Sold To Twenty

WARSAW, May 4 (AP)—Remember the character who sold the Brooklyn Bridge? Stanislaw Witczakow faces trial this month on a charge of selling the City Hall at Wroclaw to more than 20 customers.

Police said Witcczakow's sales pitch was that the City Hall was to be demolished and he had a concession for resale of the bricks. Bricks are scarce in Poland. People want them for do-it-yourself housebuilding. Just how much the 20 forked over was not disclosed.

Pasadena, Stamford, Weimar Win Track Crowns

Triple Winner Leads Champs

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—Bert Coan, Pasadena's sensational triple winner, powered the Eagles to the Class AA championship today of the state schoolboy track and field meet.

Coan, a cat quick starter, streaked to comfortable wins in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and pulled Pasadena's 440 yard relay team from fifth to first on the final lap. Only yesterday he set a new state broad jump record that had stood for 26 years.

The long striding Coan was just too much for Baytown's more balanced squad to overcome. Pasadena finished with 46 points, including 34 by Coan, and the Ganders were second with 26 3-5 points.

About 4,500 fans watched the 47th annual meet at Memorial Stadium, after a drizzling rain during the morning and early afternoon left the track too damp for any outstanding times. The temperature was 61 degrees, with seven mile an hour wind.

Only one record was broken today. Junior Dale Byerly, of Coleman, set a new Class A mark of 4:32.9 in the one mile run, wiping out the 4:34.5 he chalked up last year as a sophomore.

Footballer Mike McClellan, a double winner whose blazing last lap also gave his team the 440 yard relay, brought Stamford to victory in the Class A competition. Weimar took the Class B title as dozens of little schools got into the scoring column.

McClellan and Sidney Garton, who pulled New Boston from sixth to second, were timed in an unofficial nine seconds from the running start on the final quarter of the 440 yard relay. McClellan had 32 points for the meet, including wins in the broad jump, 100 yard dash, second in the 220 yard dash behind Garton, and a share in the 440 yard relay.

The Class AA meet again was a runaway for the Houston area clubs as Houston Lamar, defending champion, finished third with 28 points. Abilene and San Angelo had 25 and Houston Bellaire 23 points.

Wharton was second to Stamford's 44 points. Following Wharton's 36 point total, were Refugio and New Boston with 32 each. Trailing Weimar's 30 points were Hawley and Richland Springs with 22 each.

Pasadena had lost eight of nine meets beteen Baylor and Lamar before today. The last event of the day could have stopped the Eagles from winning the title as Baytown had 30 3-5ths points and a victory in the mile relay was good for 16 points. Ace half miler John Russell was thrown in as a substitute on the last lap but the Ganders could pick up only six points with a third place finish.

Calvin Cooley scored all the points for little Hawley as the blond bullet racked up a three-yard margin to take the 120 yard high hurdles and won the 180 yard lows by a spread of six yards. He also scored two points in the broad jump.

Bill Polk of Whitewright, was the only other double winner, winning the Class B 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Most of the times in the finals were above the generally slow times in yesterday's preliminaries. Inside lanes were considerably soggy.

The long striding Coan was clocked in 10 flat in the 100 and 22.1 in the 220 yard dash. His spurt on the 440 yard was over the soft inside lane and brought the Eagles' time to 43.3 in one of the features of the day. Amarillo was second, Baytown third and Lubbock fourth.

Late yesterday, Coan jumped 24 feet, 4 inches, to break the mark of 24 feet, ½ inch, set in 1931, the oldest on the books.

Garton and McClellan put on the best individual duels of the day. In addition to their effort in the 440 relay, McClellan nipped Garton in the 100 yard dash after getting off to a jet like start and Garton later edged McClellan in the 220. McClellan was defending champion in both events.

Graham's talented Bobby Bernard took the Class AA 120-yard high hurdles as expected. He failed to qualify for the lows when he stumbled on the next to last hurdle yesterday.

Weimar stepped into the Class B title mainly on the efforts of its 440 yard relay team that finished first although its winning time of 44.4 seconds was slower than both Clifton and Sonora which won the heats in the preliims.

Jack Burney, of Houston Reagan, pulled a mild surprise in winning the half mile run in 1:59.7. Don Dishong, Odessa, was second and Russell was third.

Byerly was a good 10 yards in front of Pete Bond of Raymondville when he set the division record for the mile.

Bob Cunningham, of Littlefield, upset defending champion Carlos Gonzalez, El Paso, in the Class AA mile, winning in 4:26.5, just a shade over the state record.

Lamar's Jim Allison won the Class AA shot with a fine toss of 58 feet, 7 inches. He was second in the discus.

RECOVERING FROM HEART ATTACK—Bill Sarni, New York Giants catcher, is shown with his family at their home in St. Louis where he is recovering from a heart attack suffered during spring training. With Sarni and his wife, Bette; seven-month-old daughter, Kim and two and one-half-year-old son, Jeffrey. Doctors have told Sarni that he will never be able to play again, nevertheless he refuses to call himself out and said he hopes to return to th team as a coach before the end of season.

Wall Takes Lead In Colonial Meet

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 4 (AP)—Art Wall pulled from impending disaster with six straight pars and a great birdie today to take the 36-hole lead in the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Shooting a two-over-par 72 in the wind, cold and rain, the tall man from Pocono Manor, Pa., whose major fame has been 34 amazing holes-in-one, grabbed the lead at the halfway point with 140.

Wall broke out of a tie with Gene Littler of Singing Hill, Calif, they had started the round with 68s but Littler soared to a 74.

The laconic Pennsylvanian held a two-stroke lead over Littler, who fell into second place at 142. Tied for third were amateur Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco, Mike Souchak of Grossinger N.Y., Dick Mayer of La Jolla, Calif., E. J. Harrison of St. Louis and Ed Furgol of St. Andrews, Il., each with 143.

The final 36 holes of the tournament will be played tomorrow.

The second round of the rain-plagued $25,000 tournament, wiped out yesterday by a downpour with none of the field of 48 having finished 18 holes, went on today, but it was under most trying conditions—a capricious wind that did things with the ball, mud that clung like glue and temperatures of 58 degrees—mighty cold for May in Texas.

Wall said it was a most difficult round and that he thought his 72 was very good under the circumstances. He got the idea that he was going to make it, he said, when he managed to par the tough par five, 459-yard fifth hole. "I said if I make this it'll do me some good," Wall declared. "I did and it gave me the confidence I needed."

His drive struck a tree and he had to use his driver again to get to the green. He landed 15 feet in front of it, chipped within four feet and got his par. His troubles were'nt over, however.

He had bogeyed the second, third and fourth holes with some 3-putting. He lipped the cup at 7 for another bogey. Then he managed a 2 and a 3 on the next two holes for birdies, to go through nine 2 over par. He parred 10 but bogeyed 11 where he 3 - putted from 40 feet.

North Texas Junior Takes Links Crown

ATHENS, Ga., May 4 —Dick Whetzle, 24, North Texas State junior from Dallas, completed the Eagles' sweep of Southern intercollegiate golf titles today with a 72-69-72-71—284 for the individual crown.

Whetzle, Texas public links champion and Dallas city titleholder, previously led the North Texans from Denton to the team championship yesterday.

University of Florida sophomore Tommy Aaron from Gainesville, Ga., finished second with 71-73-72-71—287. Since the Southeastern Conference championships run concurrently with the Southern meet, Aaron becomes the new SEC ruler, succeeding Florida's Dave Ragan who won both the Southern Intercollegiate and SEC titles a year ago.

Ragan had another year of eligibility at Florida but quit school and turned professional.

Third place went to Jim Hiskey of the University of Houston, who toured the par-72 Athens Country Club Course in 68-73-75-72—288. The University of Miami's Bob Brue, who began today's final two rounds one stroke in front of Hiskey and Whetzle, placed fourth with 70-70-76-75—291.

Next was another North Texas ace, Jimmy Powell, with 74-70-73-75—292. Tommy Bates, Atlanta City champion who plays for Vanderbilt, finished sixth with 73-74-76-70—293, and was SEC runner-up.

Whetzle, runne - up last year, matched par on the morning round despite adverse weather conditions which sent most scores soaring well above par. Nobody beat par and only two others matched it in the cold winds.

Birimingham of the Southern Assn. has switched its allegiance from the New York Yankees to the Detroit Tigers in the form of a working agreement.

The original 1876 baseball was the same size as the major league ball used today, with a circumference of 9 to 9¼ inches.

12 Athletes Sign At Tech

LUBBOCK, May 4 (AP)—Coach DeWitt Weaver said today 12 more athletes have accepted Texas Tech football scholarships.

One is Bobby Galbreath, 185-pound halfback from Goodletsville, Tenn., who formerly played at Victoria Junior College. He was a teammate there of Floyd Dellinger, another star back who enrolled here at midterm.

The others are high school graduates this spring, and they bring to 18 the number receiving scholarships.

Among them are Norman Morgan, 235-pound tackle, and Jerry Gee, 195-pound guard, both from Burkburnett; Jimmy Mason, 185, quarterback, and Gerald Neely, 185, halfback, from Dallas Wilson; Allan Tolbert, 226, tackle, Vega; Mike Nichols, 206, tackle, LeFors; Frank Jones, 195, end, Kermit; Jim Tiner, 160, halfback, Dumas; Mike Seay, 185, end, Andrews; Kelly Gilbert, 220, tackle, Oklahoma City, and Earl Earnest, 200, center, Borger.

Cal Ermer is the dean of Southern Assn. managers. This year marks his sixth season as pilot of the Chattanooga Lookouts, No. 1 farm team of the Washington Senators.

Baytown Has Clean Sweep In Net Meet

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—Baytown today made a clean sweep in Conference AA tennis, winning state championships in the boy's singles and doubles.

Paul Como of Baytown was hard pressed to defeat Mac White of Corpus Christi, 11-9, 2-6, 6-2, but the Ganders' doubles team of Stanley Ament and Douglas Bashrum stroked to victory in straight sets.

Nancy Pennies of El Paso took the girl's singles conference AA crown with a 6-4, 6-2, win over Lilian Carroll of Houston Lamar. Sue Zigenbein and Kay Watson of Dallas Woodrow Wilson won the AA doubles title, defeating El Paso's Martha Estrada and Esther Provencio, 6-2, 7-9.

The Ganders' duet defeated El Paso's Harold Turley and Steve Steen, 6-4, 6-4, on damp courts where play was stopped from time to time because of rain.

Karnes City's Billy Carpenter and H. O. Muecke copped the Conference A doubles title, while Holliday's Van Hubbard and James Vandergriff stroked to a Conference B win.

Jim Hassman of San Antonio Sam Houston won his second Conference A title, defeating John Heath of Deer Park for the singles crown, 3-6, 9-7, 6-4, 6-2.

Hugh Tucker of Clyde won over Biron Dahse of Weimar in the Conference B finals, 6-3, 6-3.

Four members of the University of North Carolina's football coaching staff have served as college athletic directors — Jim Tatum at Maryland, Pat Preston at Wake Forest, Eddie Teague at Guilford and Jim Hickey at Hampden-Sydney.

Farm Team Drill Slated

American Little League farm teams will hold workouts Monday at 4 p.m., it was announced Saturday. The workouts will be held on the lot west of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church.

The farm team organization program was interrupted when rain caused a delay in workouts last week.

There is room on rosters of the farm teams for a substantial number of boys. Those who wish to participate and who have not yet signed up may do so at the Monday afternoon session.

The farm teams are being orgainzed to help train youngsters who are not quite old enough, or experienced enough to play on the regular Little League teams.

Texas Heavy Favorite In Loop Meet

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP)—Texas is a prohibitive favorite to win the Southwest Conference track meet here Friday and Saturday.

At least four records should fall and several more are in danger.

Texas figures in all the marks that appear in danger—its 440-yard relay team, miler Joe Villarreal, hurdler Eddie Southern and broad jumper Pat Seymore.

Texas holds the world record in the 440-yard relay with 39.9 seconds—a mark set at the Kansas Relays several weeks ago. To show Texas is capable of cracking the record of 40.8 without too much trouble, the Longhorn four ran the relay in 40.5 this week.

Villarreal sped the mile in 4:08.8. That's 8.4 seconds under the conference record of 4:17.2.

Southern has done the high hurdles in 13.9, which equals the conference record.

McGuire has broad jumped 24 feet, 9¾ inches, same as the conference mark.

Bobby Whilden, Texas sprinter, also is back aiming at his own records. He did 9.2 in the 100-yard dash last spring to hang up a mark and he tied the record in the 220 with 20.4. He hasn't had such fast times this season as yet.

Don Stewart of SMU might endanger the high jump record of 6 feet, 10½ inches. Stewart leaped over 6 feet, 10, as a freshman.

Defending champions returning are Ed Morton of Arkansas in the mile, Whilden in the 100 and 220, Bill Curtis of TCU in the high hurdles (but he has been hampered by injuries all season), Walter McNew of Texas in the 2-mile, Roy Thompson of Rice in the 220-yard low hurdles, Ed Keasler of Rice in the javelin, Clarence Miller of SMU in the high jump and the tri-champions of the pole vault—Winton Thomas and James Clark of Texas A&M and John Novey of Texas.

Finals will be held at night for the first time.

Betsy Rawls Holds Lead

SPARTANBURG, S.C., May 4 (AP) — Defending champion Betsy Rawls scrambled to a two-over-par 73 today for a one-stroke lead at the end of 36 holes in the fifth annual Peach Blossom-Betsy Rawls Open Women's Golf Tournament here.

Shooting before a hometown gallery, Miss Rawls birdied two of the last four holes. She had 140 after the second round of the 54-hole event, one stroke better than Betty Dodd of San Antonio, Tex., whose 71 today gave her a 141.

Today's best round over the par-71, 6-316-yard Spartanburg Country Club course was a 70 fired by Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga.

We read somewhere the other day that if the average driver would think of nothing but his driving while he's behind the wheel of his automobile, accidents and deaths resulting from automobiles would greatly diminish. We believe that if everyone would just remember and practice this simple precaution, and not let other occupants of the car or roadside scenery distract them that there would be far fewer accidents. We are going to keep our mind on our driving from now on. How about you, too? Also keep in mind that we sell complete automobile insurance for your protection. Dodgers Nip Cards, 4-2 With Homer

BROOKLYN, May 4 —Charlie Neal hit a two-run homer with one out in the ninth inning today after Roy Campanella doubled to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 4-2 edge over St. Louis. It was Neal's first homer at Ebbets Field.

Campanella opened the winning surge against Lindy McDaniel with a line double off the left field wall to start the last of the ninth. After Don Drysdale came in to run for Campanella, Don Zimmer moved him along with a sacrifice bunt.

Then Neal lashed his home run into the centerfield stands to break up the ball game.

Roger Craig was riding along with a 2-0 lead after five innings but the Cards got to him for a run in the sixth on Eddie Kasko's triple following a walk to Don Blasingame. McDaniel tied the score with his first major league home run into the stands in left center with nobody on and two out in the seventh.

Pondicherry, a 2-year-old colt working out at Hialeah, is named for a city in India. The colt cost $31,000 at the 1956 summer yearling sales.

Morgan Nudges Abilene's King

By BUCK FRANCIS

AUSTIN, May 4 — Bud Morgan breezed in ahead of the field in the 180 yard low hurdles to give the Tigers their lone first place in the 46th annual state track and field meet at Memorial Stadium here today.

Morgan's first place accounted for 10 of the 14 points the Tigers collected in the meet. Rex Wilson got the other four points by placing fifth in each of the two hurdle races.

Bobby Pollard, the Tigers' third finalist in the state meet, failed to place in the 100 yard dash. Pollard turned in a good effort despite a badly swollen knee.

The 14 points scored by the Tigers was good for a 10th place tie in the conference AA team standings. A total of 46 teams dented the scoring column.

Morgan led all the way in the low hurdles finals as he nipped Abilene's Iran King at the tape. Although Morgan's time was 20.5, it was considered good due to the slow track that was left soft by an all-morning rain.

Morgan and King ran neck and neck all the way. Morgan thus broke the jinx that King had held over him before today's running. It was the first time Morgan had beaten King in a finals race in four outings.

Hermleigh's Cardinals, with Morris Light scoring all the points, placed fourth in conference B. Light won second in both hurdles and tied for third in the high jump, accounting for 21 points.

Light pressed Hawley's Calvin Cooley in both hurdles races. Cooley won the highs in 14.8 and the lows in 19.7.

Light picked up five points by tieing for first in the high jump with a leap of 5'11½.

George Gantt gave Hobbs eight points by tieing with two others for first place in the conference B pole vault. Gantt, Hershel Force of O'Brien and Nell Smith of Ba... each vaulted 12 feet to share first place in the pole vault.

The top 20 teams in conference AA were Pasadena, 46; Baytown, 36 3-5; Lamar Houston, 28; Abilene and San Angelo, 25 each; Bellaire Houston 23; Gladewater, 21; Amarillo, 19; Mineral Wells, 17; Snyder and Littlefield, 14 each; Graham, 12; Andrews and Reagan Houston, 10; El Paso High, 9; Kingsville, 8 3-5; Sunset Dallas, Vernon and Arlington Heights Ft. Worth, 8 each.

Pirates Shut Out Milwaukee By 1-0

PITTSBURGH, May 4 (AP)—Vernon Law of the Pittsburgh Pirates shut out the Milwaukee Braves 1-0 today on two hits and became the first right handed pitcher to defeat the Braves this season.

Law found himself locked in a pitching duel with Juan Pizarro, a 19-year-old Puerto Rican, until Gene Freese rapped out the third hit of the seventh inning to score Bill Virdon.

Pizarro, a strikeout artist in the minor leagues last season, held the Pirates to four hits until the seventh. He struck out six batters before he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

AUSTIN, May 4 — The 46th running of the Texas High School Track and Field Meet here proved through the qualifying rounds that it is among the best ever held here.

There probably never has been as many heralded cinder stars coming to this big meet than the delegation that is here for the 57 show.

Almost every race in the Friday preliminaries had at least one or two well known stars that the fans were keeping a close eye on. And these athletes almost to the man turned in top-notch performances.

You just couldn't ask for a better performance by the Tigers through the prelims. All three Tigers competing here didn't come down here just for the ride.

We're kinda putting ourselves on the spot at this point since we don't know what they'll do in the finals. This is being written before the finals. We're not worried about the finals, though, because we know they'll be trying just as hard then as they did Friday.

Then if they don't place in any events we still would be justly proud of the Bengal Trio as they have already brought much recognition to our fine school and city.

Pollard Shows Courage In Race

Few of the onlookers were aware of the conditions which one of the Tigers, Bobby Pollard, ran under. Pollard was in pain because of a knee injury but he ran just the same.

Pollard perhaps surprised all but himself in qualifying for the 100 yard dash finals. Knowing his condition we really didn't expect Pollard to Qualify and his coach, Jim Stehley, didn't carry much hope, either.

Pollard nearly withdrew from the 220 yard dash but the trainer here said it would help him if he did, as plenty of running was what he needed to get his knee in shape.

Pollard proceeded to run in the 220 prelims and did right well for the first 175 yards or so and since he couldn't "kick" in the final few yards he finished out of the money.

If a "most courgaeous athlete" award had been awarded here, Pollard certainly would have been high in the running for such an award.

Sadness struck the state cinder show here even before it began when one of the competitors to be was killed in a car wreck on the eve of the meet. As you probably have learned by now, one of the McAllen runners was the victim of the hiway accident. Three other McAllen athletes and the coach were injured in the wreck.

College Coaches Seek 'Letters'

College coaches, not only track but other coaches as well, are here in droves. The show annually draws in the cinder coaches of course, but where the other coaches' interest comes mainly is the "letter of intent" they would like to get the stars to sign.

High school athletes can't sign the "letter of intent" to go to certain colleges as long as they're competing in high school sports.

The track meet here will wind up schoolboy careers for most of the entries and these boys will be free to sign the letters. Many of the track stars also are outstanding football and basketball players.

During the coming week there is sure to be a lot of "signing" by the schoolboy athletes.

Misfortune hit the Tigers in the prelims when Rex Wilson wasn't allowed to compete in the high jump. Wilson reported. The high jump official told Wilson to wait for the second call before reporting. In the meantime, though, the call was made for the low hurdles of which Wilson was an entry.

Wilson then reported for the lows and was down there. I guess, when the second call was made for the high jump. Wilson didn't hear the second call.

Since they had several heats in each division in the hurdles. It was quite a spell before Wilson competed in the lows from the time the first call was made. Wilson, thinking he could high jump after the hurdles, waited for his hurdle time before reporting back to the high jump pit.

However, after Wilson ran in the lows, he reported back to the high jump pit only to find out that the high jump prelims had already been completed. So Wilson didn't get to make a single jump.

It's highly probable that Wilson would have made the high jump finals since 5-11 was the qualifying figure.

ANOTHER WILT?—Warnell Jones, 17-year-old basketball star on the Booker T. Washington High School team at Conroe, Tex., shows Coach James Barnhill how he drops the ball into the basket while standing flat-footed on the floor. The six foot eleven inch senior scored 628 points in 20 games for an average of 31.4 last season. Jones, a straight A student is being sought by no less than 14 colleges and universities, but hasn't made a decision as yet.

Four Golfers Are Put On Probation

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 4 (AP)—Four tournament golfers given months suspensions for a poor effort in the Kentucky Derby Open had their sentences alleviated with a probation of 90 days and a $200 fine today.

Ed Carter, PGA Tournament Bureau manager, said the players—George Bayer, Doug Higgins, Don January and Ernie Vossler—had admitted their guilt and expressed regrets for their actions.

In consideration of this fact and "a desire to cooperate with" the sponsors of the Hot Springs, Ark., and Kansas City tournaments, Carter said he was removing the 30-day suspensions assessed the the players by Harvey Raynor, tournament supervisor, and substituting the probationary periods and cash fines.

Carter stressed that he did not consider this a mitigation of the previously announced "get-tough" policy of the PGA, which has brought fines totaling $1,300 this year. He did say that he felt in the future that penalties would lean more toward fines than suspensions because the latter were harmful to tournament sponsors in depriving them of the players.

He also said that the players faced stiffer penalties if they violate their probation.

Bayer, January, Vossler and Higgins all were allowed to play in the Colonial National Invitation Tournament now going on here because it was not a PGA co-sponsored event and was not bound by the rules of the PGA. But Carter said next year he thought a rule would be passed that would prohibit players under suspension from playing in any tournament.

The players, in addition to their probation and fines, will be "docked" 25 points each in the system now being used by the PGA to insure the appearance of players in the tournaments. Under this system, players are given points for appearance, conduct and ability, and receive a bonus for it.

The four players were suspended for making a travesty of the game in protest against failure to receive permission to withdraw from the third round because they were then out of contention for the money and didn't want to have the expense of playing further.

Babe Ruth hit 60 home runs in 1927. In 1928 the Yankee slugger blasted 54 homers. He hit 54 in 1926 and in 1921 he blasted 59.

Softball Pilots, Sponsors Sought

A call has gone out for players, and managers and sponsors for teams in the Girsl Softball league, which now is in the process of organization here.

Four teams are definitely assured, two more are listed as tentative entries, and still more may be organized before the league gets its schedule underway. There are hopes that enough teams can be organized to provide additional recreation for a large number of girls. Those from junior high age on up are invited to try out for the teams.

Prospective manager, sponsors and players are being urged to meet at 5:30 p.m. Monday at the practice field. Those who are interested, but cannot attend the meeting, have been asked to call 3-3993.

A pressing need for managers, which may be either women or men, and sponsors for additional teams in the league already has been felt.

Indians Win Fourth Straight By 5 To 4

CLEVELAND, May 4 —The Cleveland Indians won their fourth straight game and the Boston Red Sox lost their fourth in a row today as the Indians, behind the 5-hit pitching of Early Wynn, scoured four runs in the sixth inning off starter Dean Stone to win, 5-4.

Wynn helped his own cause when he hit a bases-loaded single in the sixth to score two runs. The Tribe got only four hits, all singles, and two were by Chico Carrasquel.

Cincy Whips Giants, 5-2

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Cincinnati knocked out Johnny Antonelli and scored five runs in the eighth inning today for their third straight come-from-behind victory over the New York Giants 5-2. Until the big uprising Antonelli was pitching a three-hit shutout.

Antonelli, gunning for his second successive shutout, ran into his first serious trouble when Bob Thurman delivered a pinch double opening the eighth. Successive singles by Johnny Temple and Wally Post drove in the first run.

After Pete Whisenant, hero of last night's Cincinnati triumph, popped up a bunt, Frank Robinson singled to score Temple with the tying run.

Manager Billy Rigney replaced Antonelli with Marv Grissom who gave up a two-run double to Art Schult. Don Hoak's single brought home pinch runner Bobby Henrich with the fifth run as the Redlegs won their fifth straight on their first Eastern trip.

Derby Won By Calumet Colt

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (AP)—Iron Liege, the almost-forgotten colt in the Calumet barn after the favored Gen. Duke was withdrawn due to an injury, won the $152,050 Kentucky Derby today by a scant nose decision over the Irish invader Gallant Man.

The photo finish showed Iron Liege, an 8-1 shot, the winner in the closest Derby finish in 24 years. Round Table was third.

In one of the most exciting Derbies of all time, which had a chilled throng of some 100,000 jumping with excitement, Iron Liege just managed to hold off the final charge of Gallant Man in a pulsating battle in the final few yards. It was the superb riding of Willie Hartack, the nation's top rider for the last two years who guided Iron Liege to his great triumph.

Bold Ruler, the Wheatley Stable colt who had been established the public choice at 6-5 after Gen. Duke was withdrawn earlier today, challenged early in the race, then dropped back to finish a disappointing fourth as Round Table eased into the third money spot.

Not since 1933 when Don Meade aboard Brokers Tip nosed out Head Play with Herb Fisher up in their famous slashing duel down the stretch has old Churchill Downs seen such a tight finish on the wire. In that race, both jockeys slashed with their whips and pulled at each other's saddle cloths.

There were no such shennanigans today, and Hartack just used his fine riding ability to haul off the "roses" and a purse of $107,950 for the famed Calumet Farm of Mrs. Gene Markey, Lexington, Ky. It was the third richest purse in Derby history.

It was the first Derby win for Hartack, who had only appeared once before in America's most colorful horse race, but it was a terrific triumph after the Calumet hopes had sunk so low in the cold 32-degree weather around 9 a.m. that was when trainer Jimmy Jones reluctantly and almost tearfully said Gen. Duke would not be able to start. A hoof injury, aggravated when Gen. Duke finished second to Federal Hill in the Derby Trial stakes on Tuesday, failed to respond to treatment.

It was the sixth Derby victory for Calumet.

Willie Shoemaker rode Gallant Man, and almost brought home what would have been the second foreign-bred colt to win the Derby since the classic was inaugurated in 1875. English-bred Omar Khayyam won it in 1917.

It also was a great day for Jimmy Jones, who was saddling his first Derby winner. His famous dad, Plain Ben Jones of Missouri, had been the trainer of record for the other five Calumet Derby heroes. Jimmy got a second place with Fabius a year ago, with Hartack riding in his first Derby.

Shoemaker seeking his second Derby triumph in six attempts said later that he had misjudged the finish, and stood up in the saddle a second before going under the wire. The stewards later ruled it an error in judgment.

The Chicago Bears and Green Bay Packers have played 74 football games with the Bears winning 43, losing 25 and tieing 6.

PONY MEETING IS RESET

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the office of Forrest Beavers in the courthouse.

At the meeting, the group will elect officers for the year, arrange the league schedule, and schedule tryouts for boys. Beavers said about three days of workouts will be scheduled before boys are chosen for teams.

Beavers urged that all men interested in working in the Pony League be at the Monday night meeting.

CAREY HOMERS
Yanks End Sox Winning Streak

CHICAGO, May 4 (AP)—The league-leading Chicago White Sox, making hay against second division clubs, today were mowed down 3-2 by the New York Yankees to end a five-game winning string.

The Sox were throttled on four hits by Art Ditmar who replaced the ailing Whitey Ford after two outs in the second inning. Supporting the former Kansas City righthander's first decision of the season as the second-place Yankees cut the Sox lead to 1½ games, was Andy Carey's two-run homer in the fifth.

Carey's blast into the upper left field deck of Comiskey Park—his first homer of the campaign—came after Billy Martin's single into short left barely escaped the leaping, stabbing try of shortstop Luis Aparicio.

Up to this time, Jim Wilson had permitted only one hit, a grounder to left by Bill Skowron in the second. Wilson retired batters in order in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings before he was kayoed on successive doubles by Tony Kubek and Gil McDougald in the ninth.

He was replaced after intentionally passing Mickey Mantle, hitless for the day, by Paul LaPalme. The knuckleballer got the side out but Kubek scored an unearned run, which proved to be the decisive one, when Skowron's hopper down the third baseline was dropped by Bubba Phillips.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 8, NO. 4 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, MAY 5, 1957 SECTION B

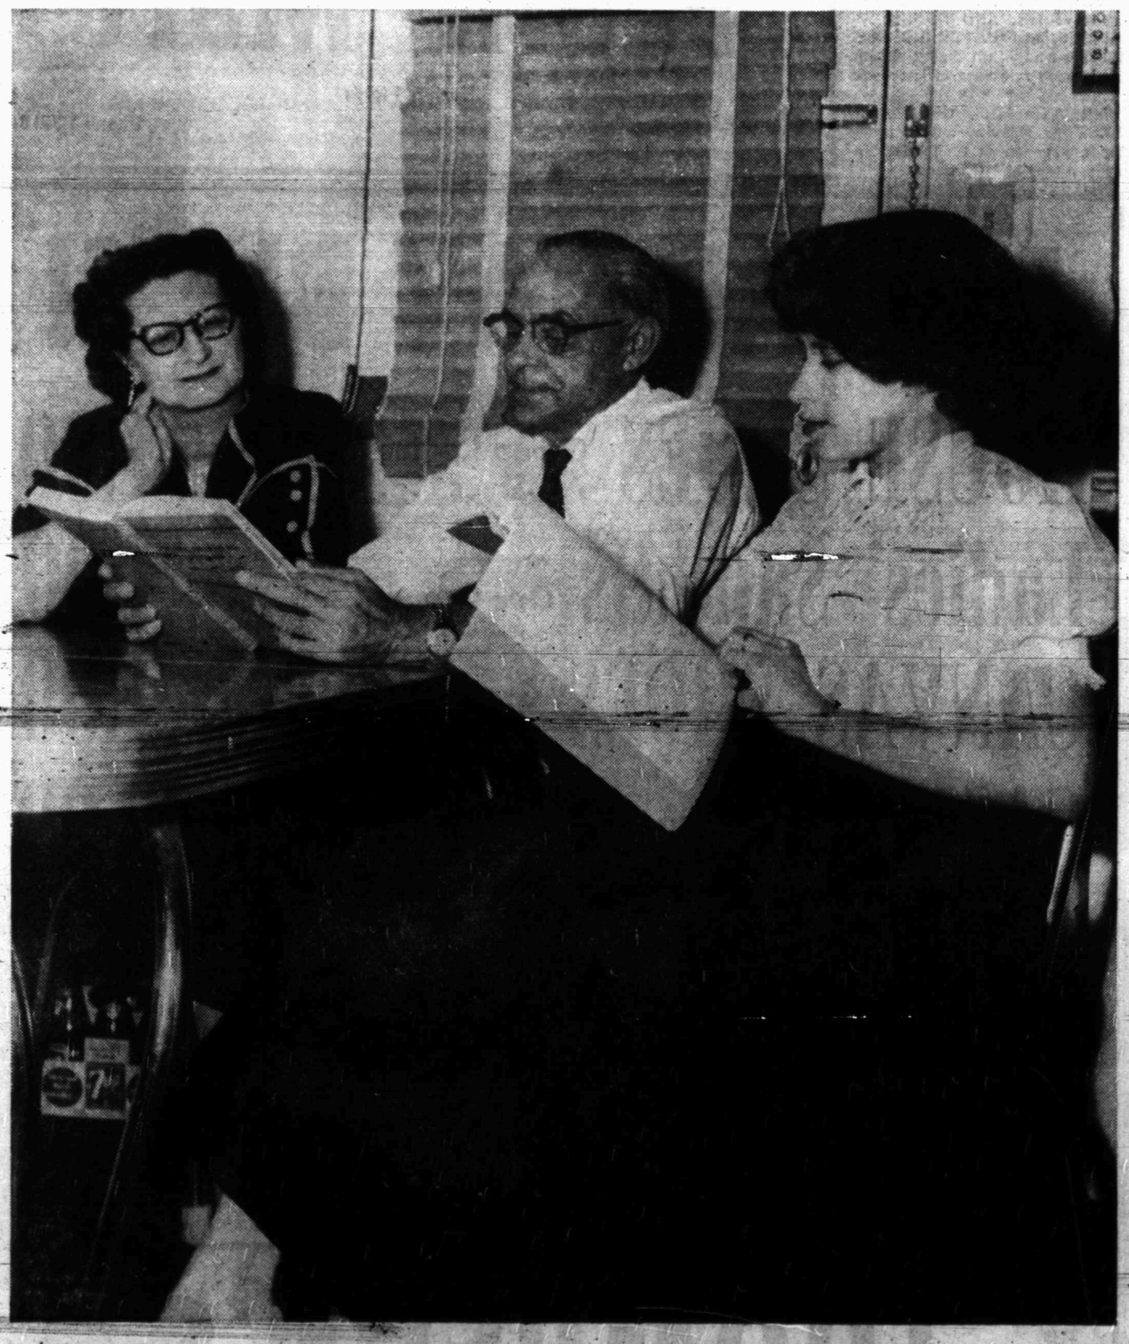

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Williams, look at certificates of citizenship which make them some of the newest Americans in Snyder. They gained citizenship in Federal District Court in Lubbock April 22. Their granddaughter, Ruby Buchanan, two, is a native of Snyder, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy James Buchanan. (Lee Watson photographs)

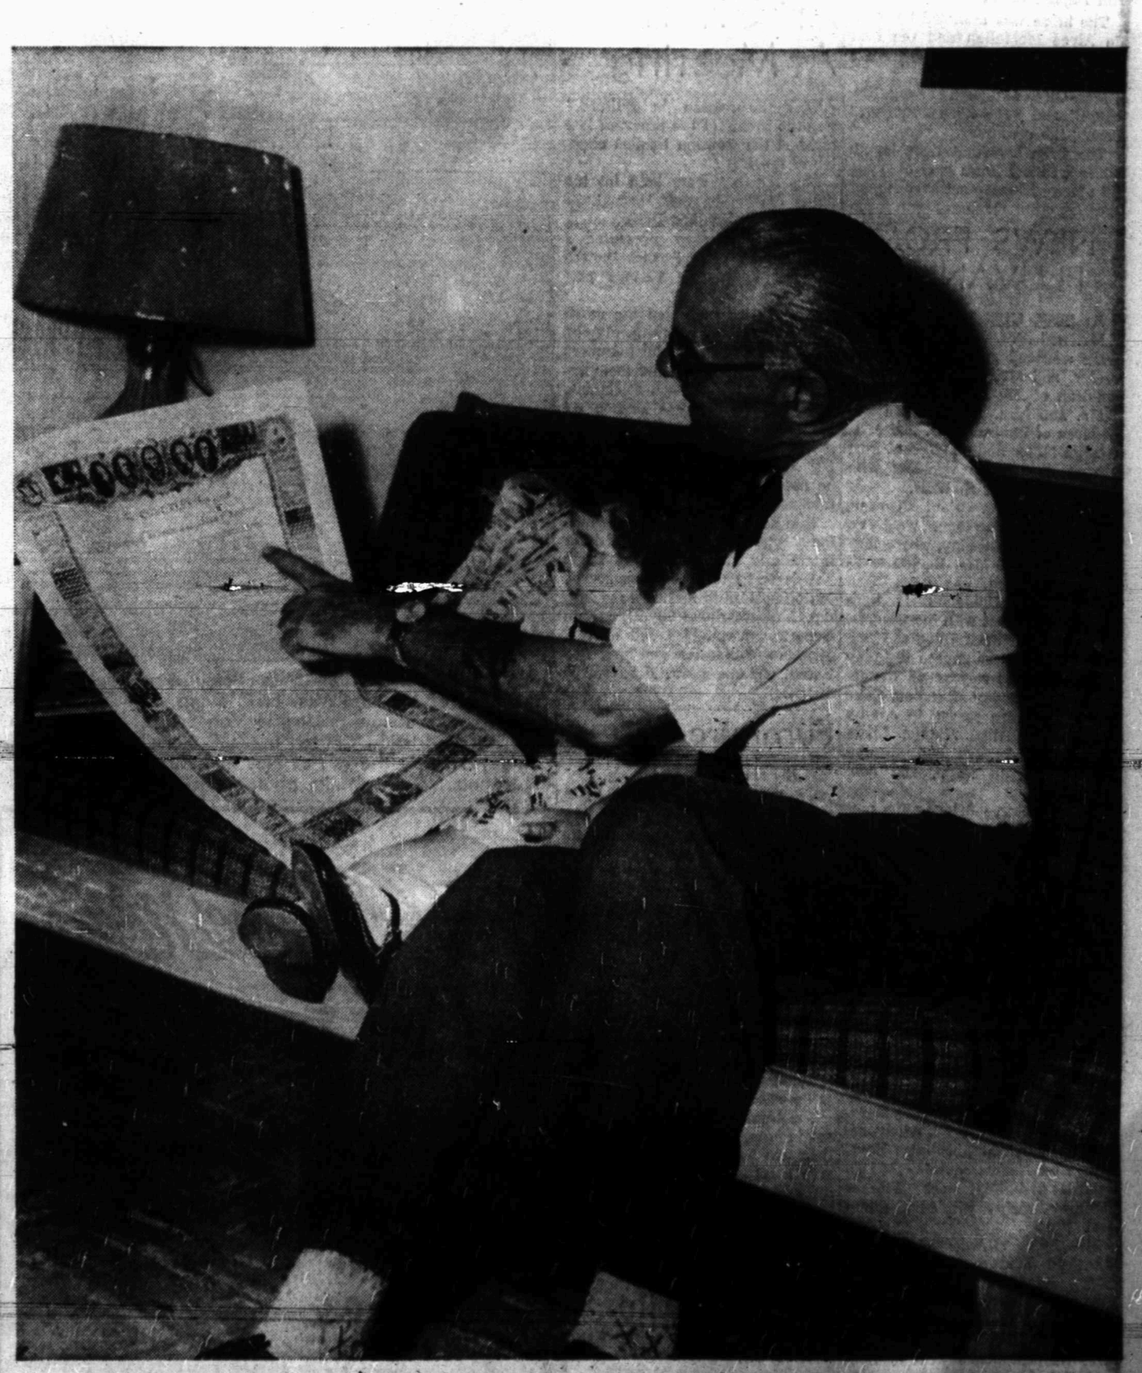

Little Linda Jane Buchanan, above with her sister and parents, was only four days old, but already a citizen of the the United States when her mother and grandparents were naturalized April 22. She is now just over two weeks old. Her mother, Mrs. Billy James Buchanan, is the daughter of Mr .and Mrs. John J. Williams, who operate the Stork Shop located next door to the Snyder Post Office.

Snyder's Newest Americans

One of the requirements of naturalized citizenship is a knowledge of history of this nation. Mr. and Mrs. Williams and their daughter, Mrs. Billy James Buchanan, are shown studying their history above. Certificates of citizenship, a scroll of the Declaration of Independence of the U. S., and small U. S. Flags were presented the new citizens.

The Declaration of Independence of the United States of America is a proud possession of John J. Williams, above, who shows the scroll to his granddaughter, Ruby Buchanan. Williams is a native of South Wales, England, and Mrs. Williams and daughter, Mrs. Buchanan, are natives of Canada. All came to the U. S. six years ago, and to Snyder four years ago.

Furniture Is Coming Off Of The Floor

Today's furniture is proud of its good-looking legs and is not afraid to show them off to the world.

Since the feeling which designers want to achieve in their furniture is a light, airy look, they are bringing the furniture off of the floor and placing it on trim, neat legs.

Sofas, for example, which may have a tendency to look bulky and heavy, are placed on legs to give a lighter appearance. Chests, too, in many cases, are not built flush to the floor but are raised on legs.

The legs are scaled so that they are in proportion to the piece which they are holding up. They do not give a spindly effect but are sturdy and attractive. Whether they be wood or metal, legs are an important part of today's furniture.

'The Scapegoat' Reviewed For Snyder Club Thursday

Mrs. Bill Floyd of Midland was guest speaker for the Snyder Book Review Club when it met Thursday in the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Mrs. Floyd chose for her review, "The Scapegoat," by Daphne du Maurier. She was introduced by Mrs. Oscar Fowler, program chairman.

Although Mrs. Floyd has been reviewing professionally for only two years, she has an excellent background for her work, since she has been an English and speech arts teacher in Fort Worth and Midland schools. Mrs. Floyd also is a free lance writer, doing mostly teenage articles and plays. Some of her writings have been accepted by a research group and are being used in college work.

"The Scapegoat" is a novel of impulse and suspense, written with much detail for color and atmosphere, and dealing with several characters. In the story the life of one man called John is observed for one week. All of his years of study and teaching in France have brought him no closer to the people.

As John reflected upon the dissatisfaction of his life he met a man, Jean du Gue, who resembled himself exactly in looks, but was the complete opposite in thinking. He has a philosophy that "the one human motive force in life is greed, and the thing to do is to minister to it." After much talk and too many drinks in a bar, John awakens to find his clothes gone, and in their place were Jean's clothes and even his identity. He had left everything, as if to say, "your life is empty, take mine."

Jean's chaufeur came and drove John to the palacious chateau where all the glass foundry family lived. John could convince no one of his true identity. So, he led the very interesting and complicated life of Jean de Gue for one week. He came to believe that Jean's life was more of a failure than his own, that he cared nothing for those around him.

The reviewer followed the many characters in a fast moving story in which John made many changes in the families' lives. He had even changed; his failure had turned to love — love of people. Jean de Gue came to realize that he truly loved and missed the chateau and the glass factory, even his family. He returned and again changed lives with John, apparently at the notice of none, except the hunting dog and the mistress.

Mrs. J. E. LeMond poured coffee for approximately 50 members. Mrs. Frank A. Wilson was hostess for the day.

Guide On Summer Theatre Compiled

NEW YORK (AP) — Curiosity made David Dachs write a book—the first cross-country guide for theater fans to summertime show business.

"The popularity of hot-weather theater is growing constantly," explains Dachs, "but no one ever got all the information into one place for fans who like to go traveling on vacation and see shows too."

Dachs has been compiling his data for two years, and in "Straw hat 1957" lists barns, tents, festivals and pageants in 34 states and also Canada, plus where to stay and where to eat.

Brown or white eggs are used interchangeably; their color has no relation to quality, flavor or food value.

Rice On Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — A new kind of theater assignment is being tackled by Elmer Rice, Pulitzer prize dramatist.

Rice has agreed to direct "The Young Strangers," a romantic comedy by Irene Kamp, scheduled to arrive on Broadway this year.

BRIDAL TEA FOR FIVE—One of the largest bridal gift teas ever held in Snyder was held yesterday morning in Martha Ann Women's Club for five teachers of Northeast Elementary School. Hostess for the tea was Mrs. Ed Free. Four of the teachers are to be married this summer, and the fifth is recently married. From left they are: Miss Georgan Gilbreath who will marry Moody Conner, Plainview; Miss Pattsie Andrews who will marry Kieth Haines, Bryan; Miss El Wanda Davies, who will marry Wayne Culvahouse, Snyder; Miss Greta DeShazo, who will marry Nolan Tidwell, Borger; and Mrs. Pat Gilstrap, Snyder, who is the former Miss Venona Hamblett. Panel On Training Children Held By Church Women Here

"Today's Child As Tomorrow's Citizen" was the subject for a panel discussion at a meeting of the United Church Women of Snyder in the First Presbyterian Church here Friday.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by the Rev. Donald Hungerford, and Mrs. Howard Hogue led the devotional for the morning, using the verse, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Mrs. Murray Jackson introduced the following local people who served on the panel: Mrs. Harold Brown, city council P-TA president; E. H. Williamson, member of the board of education; Dr. D-Wane Collins, director of pupil personnel services in the Snyder Schools; Harold Bennett, mayor, and Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools.

Representing the Church Women in presenting questions to the panel were Mrs. Louise Blanchard, Mrs. Lina Harding, Mrs. Lee Pitman, Mrs. Frank Strom and the Rev. Walter Lentz, chairman of the panel.

The informative discussion, principally on the local level, included the following questions: What is the history of education in Snyder? What are personnel qualifications for teachers? What are main weaknesses in our school system? Do you believe youngsters are allowed time for church activity? What is the work of the coordinator? Who chooses textbooks? What can the public do to improve the system without interfering?

The United Church Women were told that their organization has 20 centers in Texas for migrant workers. A collection was taken to aid the 20 centers.

Following a word from Mrs. Helen Clemmer, president of the United Church Women, special music was provided by Sue Taylor and Steve Free, Junior High School soloists. They were accompanied by Mrs. Rogers.

Following the benediction by the Rev. John Reaves, those attending were invited to a covered dish luncheon and hour of fellowship by Mrs. John R. Covey Sr.

Discover Antique Worth With Your Own Research

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

THERE COMES a time in the life of almost every woman when she suspects or hopes that some trinket or china piece in her cupboard, attic, cellar or barn is the real McCoy.

She comes of age in her antique reading or suddenly needs money, and then she conducts a tour of old whatnots that lie around her home.

How does a person discover the worth, if any, of these articles? Should she risk taking them to an appraiser? Will he gyp her? How will she know if her treasured article has real value? Here are some suggestions that may help in your quest for assistance:

1. Make a sketch or take a photograph of the object to the public library. Look it up under its proper heading—pewter, silver, Brittania ware, china, glassware. If you aren't sure, a book in the general category of your object will give you a clue. Be sure that you copy off marks that appear on the piece such as crossed-swords on Meissen ware (many reproductions now dotting the market) or cherubs and hearts on a trivet. The librarian may help you locate the proper book.

2. Once you determine that your piece is of a certain period—perhaps a Georgian piece of silver—you are ready to go to a dealer. Take it to several dealers. Compare offers, and then decide if you want to part with your piece. It may be worth more to you than the cash involved if it is an interesting, old piece, and if it will increase in value.

What to Look For

Articles that may have value include these:

Old glass—glass made after 1830 is not considered antique although much of it, such as Sandwich and pressed glass, often brings good prices, and is prized by collectors. Sparkling cut glassware made during the brilliant period of the late 1800s is popular also, although it is not considered antique. Another type of glass made about the same time is Amberina, now very popular and bringing fancy prices. This glass is identified easily because it runs from a yellow amber shade to a deep ruby. A great deal of collecting of Tiffany glass is under way at the moment. This glass is many-shaded and irridescent, and sometimes may be found with the initials "LCT" or the name "Tiffany" or "Favrile" marked on the base.

Milk glass is flooding antique shops because many pieces reproduced today are made from original molds, confusing collectors. The old and new glass is different in appearance however, and one who has spent a great deal of time collecting this glass should know the difference. Neophytes may be fooled. The milk glass duck patented by Thomas B. Atterbury is so marked with the patent date. Reproductions are not.

Books Available

China is best identified by its marks and some good books are available, although much early china was not marked and is only identified by color, texture and pattern. Ironstone is one kind of china frequently found in old barns. It was made plentifully from the 1800s in England and in America, and was popular with farm families because it held the heat so well. Most ironstone ware collected is plain white—undecorated soup toureens, platters, serving dishes.

Staffordshire is more likely to be found in the home that specialized in fancy table services. The blue willow pattern on white, is easiest to recognize. Mulberry and white is also a great favorite with collectors, but scarcer.

Almost any family has some family silver, Brittania ware, or pewter that may have been passed along for one or more generations. There are many books containing the hallmarks needed to identify these pieces. A magnifying glass may be needed to read the makers so that the piece may be properly identified when you attempt to trace its origin.

Television Has Effect On Homes

Television has become an important part of our lives in the past few years. It has brought entertainment into our homes. And because of this, we spend more time at home — and in our living rooms — watching the television screen.

The influence of television is being felt on home furnishings. Ottomans are getting larger, so that they are more comfortable seating pieces. Pull-up chairs are being designed so that they look good from all angles and can stand alone in a room. Sofas are getting bigger and "sprawlier" for more viewing comfort.

Watching television seems to increase the appetite, too, so that snack tables are becoming more popular. Many of them are small and compact and fold for easy storage when not in use. Tea wagons are handy, too, because they can be loaded with snacks in the kitchen and rolled into the living room with a minimum of effort.

JUNE WEDDING SET—Miss Patsy Ann Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Banks, 4000 Avenue U, will become the bride of David Bruce Stroud, son of Mr and Mrs. J. F. Stroud, 206 Twenty-fifth Street, June 14. Hour of the wedding has not been set, but the ceremony will be held in the First Assembly of God Church here with the Rev. Robert Owens, pastor, officiating. DIAMOND OF THE SOONG FAMILY—Madame Chiang-Kai-Shek, left foreground, helps cut the ribbon to open a sewing workshop on Formosa. The workshop received a gift of 100 sewing machines by an official of an American manufacturing concern, who was impressed with the work of the Chinese Women's Anti-Aggression League. Madame Chiang has been described as the most brilliant of the three powerful Soong sisters of China.

Soong Sisters 'Married A Continent' To Give Their Family Fabulous Power

(Ed. note — Material for the following article was made available to the Snyder Daily News by Mrs. J. T. Hughes, who recently presented a program on "The Soong Sisters Of China" for the Alpha Study Club. Mrs. Hughes did considerable research prior to the program, and included among her material was a personal letter from Madame Chiang Kia-Sheck.

The Soong sisters almost miraculously made the Chinese Republic into what might be called a sorority. They accomplished this by literally "marrying a continent," something that had never been done before in the history of the world, and likely never will be done again.

The origin of the family is obscure, and it is doubtful that the three Soong sisters know the full names of their grandparents. Their father, who called himself Charles Jones (Charlie) Soong, emigrated to the United States in 1879 in his youth. He had friends in America and he succeeded in working his way through school and through Vanderbilt University. He was converted to Christianity and became a devout Methodist.

He went back to China as a teacher and missionary, and later made his living as a Bible manufacturer and salesman. He married a young woman named Nyi-Kivli-Tsing, who also was a highly religious Methodist and of excellent family. They had six children, three daughters and three sons.

All of the Soong children went to missionary school in China before completing their education in the United States. They were associated from the beginning of their lives with an era of revolution and personal politics, which is the usual in China.

Oldest of three sisters in Ai-ling, who also is the most formidable. Her influence on her ex-Prime Minister husband is profound, and her passionate interest is money.

The illiterate masses of China sometimes say of the Soong sisters, "One loves money," (Ai-ling), "One loves China, (Ching-ling), and "One loves glory," (Mei-ling).

Ai-ling was the first to arrive in America to attend college. She enrolled in Wesleyan College in Macon, Ga. Subsequently, at the age of 16, she rebuked President Theodore Roosevelt because she was detained en route at San Francisco by immigration authorities. The incident occurred when a missionary travelling companion became ill.

After graduation in 1909, she met Dr. H. H. Kung, member of a rich banking family and a descendent of Confucius. Subsequently they were married in Yokahama.

Soong Ching-ling, the second daughter and widow of Dr. Sun-Yat-Sen, lives in virtual retirement now. Madame Sun undoubtedly is the most important person in the Soong family, because basically its power was derived from her. Had she not married the father of the revolution, the others could not have attained such powe.

Like Madame Kung, she finished high school in Shanghi, and then went to Wesleyan in Georgia. Upon her return to China, in the summer of 1913, she became Sun-Yat-Sen's secretary, replacing her older sister who had given up the position to marry.

Despite protests, occasioned by religion and Chinese custom, Ching-ling left her home in 1917 to become the second Madame Sun. For almost a decade she stood at Dr. Sun's side, sometimes manning machine guns, in the long fight for Dr. Sun's "Three People's Principles," nationalism, democracy and a people's livlihood.

Kept out of politics by her husband, she confused methods and tactics with communist ideology after he died. When the Kuomintang, which means the "national people's party," split, she stayed with the left, believing that she thus performed the only possible service to her husband's memory. She joined the Hankow group, separated from her family and went to Moscow when the Hankow government collapsed. She did not return to China for years, although she could have had almost any position for the asking. Her sisters see her occasionally, but they are not close.

Madame Chiang-Kai-Shek, the youngest, is the most brilliant of the three Soong sisters, and the moct conspicuous. She came to America at 14, yet had little difficulty in becoming accustomed to western ways. Madame Chiang (Mei-ling) entered Wesleyan the last winter that Ching-ling was there. The next year she went to Wellesey in Massachusetts to be near her brother, T. V. who had enrolled in Harvard.

She had become a Southerner, however, during her brief stay in Georgia, and objected when a professor asked her to describe Sherman's march through Georgia.

In 1917 when Mei-ling came home and was visiting in the home of her sister and Dr. Sun, she met a young soldier who was already prominent in the revolutionary group. Chiang has said he courted Mei-ling five years without the slightest encouragement.

Yet, despite a lack of common interests, she kept thinking of him. There was one more big obstacle, however. Chiang already had a wife. Finally, he got a divorce, and 10 years after their first meeting, Mei-ling and Chiang-Kai-Shek were married.

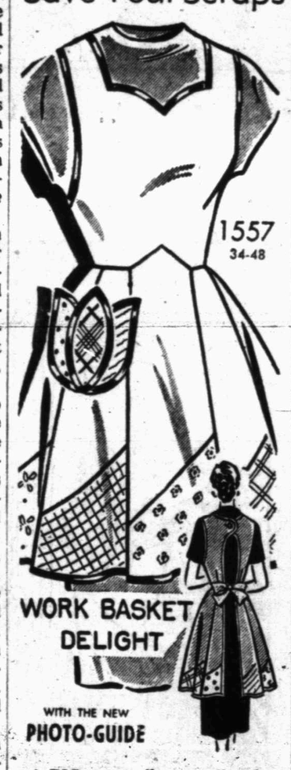

For years she was in the news almost daily, and when she made a triumphal tour of the United States, millions came to see and hear her. She has been described as "The Eleanor Roosevelt of China."

In 1944, ill and exhausted, she retired from public life. However, as Nationalist China faced crisis after crisis, she became active again as China's first lady. At her husband's request, she even came to the United States in 1949 to make personal plea for help. Her plea was refused, and eventually, Chiang was forced to flee to Formosa. She remained in seclusion in the United States, staying with her sister, Ai-ling and her husband, H. H. Kung, who were living in New York.

She joined her husband on Formosa early in 1950.

In a letter to Mrs. Hughes, Madame Chiang expressed confidence that the Chinese on Formosa would return to the mainland. She expressed pride in the fact that the Chinese Women's Anti-Agression League had succeeded in raising a million and a half dollars to build 4,000 homes for dependents of the "lower military echelon.

Columbia Dramatic School Will Close

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University has found more students want to be lawyers than theater writers, designers and directors.

The university has announced discontinuance of the School of Dramatic Arts. Established in 1947, it will wind up activities as currently enrolled scholars complete work.

TVA To Be Featured In Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The vastly independent Elia Kazan must make another film for a major studio before continuing with his own company.

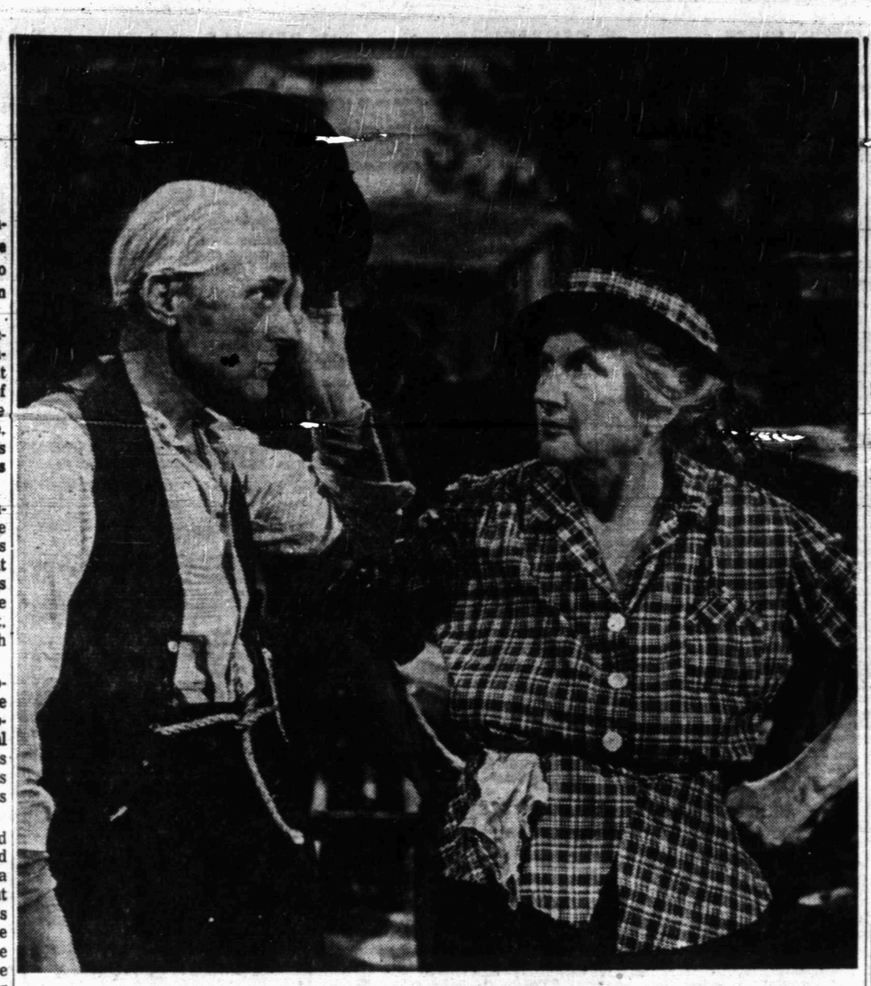

The director has one more picture to make under an old contract to 20th Century-Fox, and it will be a story of the building of TVA. Now called Mud on the Stars," it will get another title. Kazan who will do the picture this year, as yet has no plans for his next project as an independent.

Kazan, who has a film contract with Rip Torn, entered the controversy over the Texas lad's name. "Hasn't he changed it yet?" the director snapped. "It's got to go. Rip Torn sounds like Marlon Brando's tattered T-shirt. It's a satire on all the outlandish names for leading men."

Thought while listening to Dorothy Kirsten's lovely singing at the Jack Benny concert: Why does opera have to be sung in its original tongue? Seems to me opera fans would double or triple if folks could understand what the artists were singing about.

Oscar Hammerstein I aproved with "Carmen Jones" that a good librettist could translate an opera into the American idiom without losing musical values. You say it's illogical for foreign operas to be sung in English? What could be more illogical than a Japanese girl (Madame Butterfly)singing to an American Navy man in Italian?

The new Cocoanut Grove emerged from its $600,000 face lift a handsome, tasteful pleasure palace with decor reminiscent of Chicago's Pump Room.

NEW PA KETTLE—Parker Fennelly, the new Pa Kettle, meets his screen spouse, Ma, played by Marjorie Main, as they work on "The Kettles on Old MacDonald's Farm." Fennelly was formerly associated with Fred Allen on his radio show.

'Gunsmoke' Opens Sixth Year As Teevee Western

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP)—"Gunsmoke," the granddaddy of adult Westerns on radio and television, is embarked on its sixth year — and what a brood it has sired.

No less than 12 new adult Western series will be on TV next season, and it will take some agile channel switching to miss watching neurotic cowboys killing off neurotic gunslingers.

Even Roy Rogers has asked his agent to look for scripts with appeal.

The adult Westerns really came into their own during 1956 and, as a group, emerged the most popular shows on television. Big Jim Arness, the Marshal Matt Dillon of "Gunsmoke" and Hugh (Wyatt Earp) O'Brian, a few years ago just featured players in the movies, suddenly found themselves international names.

"Gunsmoke" is one of the most popular television shows in London, where for some reason or other it is called "Gunlaw."

The series, born on radio, is the brainchild of writer John Meston and producer-director Norman MacDonnell. It started because the two native Westerners became annoyed with the cliche rut in which the traditional Western had become bogged.

"We made a list of every Western cliche and determined to avoid them at any cost — even our jobs," MacDonnell recalls. "For instance, the devotion of a cowboy to his horse. That's a lot of bunk. The two things a real cowboy loves best are his saddle and hat."

MacDonnell said the series also toned down action, previously the main ingredient of the movie Western.

"We never have action for action's sake," he says. "In fact, we have never had a chase on 'Gunsmoke' either on radio or television."

William Conrad was and still is the original Matt Dillon on radio. Network brass picked Arness for the TV version, mostly because of his tremendous 6-foot-8 frame.

Conrad, shorter and heavier, is probably closer to the original concept of Dillon as envisioned by Meston.

Theatre Talk Spreads Through Dallas

By MARSHALL COMERER
The Associated Press

Dallas is a-buzz with theater talk this first weekend in May.

At the top of the list the visit of the Metropolitan Opera Co. next weekend for its first stop on a tour of the Southwest. The Met will also visit Houston and Oklahoma City.

The Dallas engagement opens with "Il Travatore" May 10. "La Boehme" is the May 11 matinee show and "La Traviata" will be heard that night.

The big event is the Sunday matinee performance May 12 of "La Perichole", with Patrice Munsel and Cyril Ritchard.

Charles Laughton, Burgess Meredith and Cornelia Otis Skinner headed a party of theatre folk who visited Dallas during the week to help start a fund-raising campaign for the new Dallas Theater Center. The ultramodern building was designed by Harold Lloyd Wright. It will house both professional and amateur playing groups.

The Margo Jones Theater '57 announced a departure from long-established custom. The theater's directors voted to give Managing Director Ramsey Burch wide latitude in the selection of scripts.

The celebrated arena theater has presented only new plays or revivals of those at least 50 years old. It will now draw on outstanding modern plays also and increase the number of guest actors appearing during a season.

The big "wolf" cry by the Dallas Symphony Orchestra does not appear to have stampeded the customers into a buying spree of season tickets to next year's concerts. The orchestra's directors had asked patrons to buy 2,500 season tickets and to contribute $160,000 or warned that the orchestra would collapse. Thus far some 500 of the past season's 1,000 season's tickets have been renewed.

The Broadway people left Dallas to attend last Sunday's performance of Paul Baker's "Hamlet" at the Baylor Theater in Waco. Laughton and Meredith were in last year's "Hamlet" production.

The Baylor School of Music is presenting May 9-14 its performance of Verdi's opera "Othello." This is the fifth full-scale grand opera to be presented by the school.

Jay Dietzer, conductor of the Beaumont Symphony Orchestra since its founding in 1953, gave his farewell concert Tuesday night. He resigned several months ago and will go to Colorado this summer, where he will accept one of several offers.

MAKING her first American film appearance is Keiko Shima, who had been in numerous Japanese film productions. She stars in "Joe Butterfly" with Audie Murphy, Burgess Meredith, George Nader, and Kennan Wynn.

Cupid Trails Dorothy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This may be the first time that Oscar has given Cupid a boost. In Dorothy Malone's case, it could happen.

The pitch is this: In the past two years, Dorothy has made 10 pictures, with scarcely a breathing spell in between. This naturally forestalled any chance for romance.

"I could go out on the weekend while I was working," she remarked, "but it was impossible to date during the week. I had to study my lines and get up early in the morning."

But now she's the winner of an Academy Award and can afford to slow down her film-making pace. She has four big films finished and unreleased, so she doesn't have to worry about being absent from the nation's screens.

Having predicted the Oscar for her, I peered further in my crystal ball and told her there would be a man in her future.

"I don't know," she sighed, "it seems like a hopeless case."

Hopeless! There's something wrong with the American male if that is true. Dorothy's physical assets are obvious: a lovely face, wavy blonde hair, nifty figure. What's more, she's bright and breezy, a regular gal.

Only once has she come close to marriage. That was after her early film career had begun auspiciously and then fizzled. She went back home to Dallas and fell in love with a local boy.

"We were very fond of each other," she said, "and so were our families. But we decided it just wouldn't work out for us to get married."

She came back to Hollywood and resumed her career, starting out slowly and proving herself in roles that grew in importance. Her latest assignment is opposite Robert Taylor in "Tip on a Dead Jockey."

Ever try sprinkling a bit of nutmeg on boiled rice for flavor accent? Delicious when served with poultry.
