Change In Air Raid Targets Is Revealed

Rail-Industrial Center Blasted; 16 Planes Lost

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 11 — British bombers dropped more than 1,500 tons of bombs (more than 1,680 American tons) last night on Nuernberg, important railway and industrial center in southern Germany and a Nazi party rallying point, the Air ministry announced today.

At the same time, the ministry of economic warfare explained the RAF bomber command was switching its offensive to attacking industries turning out finished products, now that the Ruhr's heavy industry was crippled seriously.

Sixteen bombers were lost in the raid, the second successive night attack on Germany, a communique said. Three enemy fighters were reported shot down.

Ironically it was just four years ago today that Reichsmarshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering boasted to the German public that not a single enemy bomb would be permitted to fall upon Germany.

Six Previous Raids

Nuernberg had been raided six times previously, the last time on March 8. It is 525 miles from Britain by airline and just 75 miles short of Berlin.

The city is the junction of two great trunk railway lines—one running from the Ruhr to southeast Germany and the other from Berlin and central Germany to Munich and Italy.

There have been many recent reports that Italy is being reinforced with German troops and munitions, and if this is the case probably much of these reinforcements are flowing through Nuernberg.

Site Of Large Factories

The city is the site of large factories engaged in the manufacture of Diesel engines for submarines and producing tanks, aircrafts parts and motors.

The communique announcing the raid said that the city had been "very heavily bombed" but gave no other details. Residents on the British southeast coast, however, said the force apparently was one of the biggest to leave Britain in some time.

The raid followed by 24 hours

FSA Is Under Committee Fire

Collective Farms Said Big Expense

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11 — A four-man congressional committee named to investigate the Farm Security administration declares it has found thousands of collective farms have been established in various states.

The committee chairman, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-N. C.) asserted in an interview that these farms, established by the FSA, were modeled after similar farms in Russia and that they are costing taxpayers millions of dollars.

The purpose of the committee's investigation, he said, is to recommend legislation for the elimination of objectional FSA projects.

Rainbow Said Designed

"Someone had a dream back in 1935, and designed a rainbow," Rep. Cooley said in an interview with The Examiner. "We are trying to find its end, but it's so complicated I doubt if we ever will."

The "rainbow," said Cooley, was created when Rexford G. Tugwell, now governor of Puerto Rico, was Farm Security administrator. Formed as a relief program, the F. S. A. to date has spent more than a billion dollars, he stated.

(In hearings in Washington, the Farm Bureau Federation through President Edward A. O'Neal, charged the FSA with startling and shocking conditions of waste, extravagance and indefensible practices which O'Neal termed "a national disgrace." O'Neal urged abolition of the FSA and transfer of its esential functions to other farm agencies.

Land Socialization Charged

(C. B. Baldwin, administrator of FSA, told the Cooley subcommittee of the House agriculture committee that the farm bureau "has been busily and vigorously engaged in trying to prove for the past two years that the FSA believes in land socialization and is

Twin Drives Of Soviets Rolling On Unchecked

Retreating Nazi Forces Suffering Heavy Casualties

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Aug. 11 — The Red army is rolling on unchecked in its twin drives toward the Ukrainian city of Kharkov and Bryansk to the north, capturing village after village and inflicting heavy losses on the retreating Germans, the Russians declared today.

With Kharkov pocketed on three sides by a five-pronged drive, another Russian column has bitten deep into the rich Russian grain territory and is only 14 miles from Sumy and 190 miles east of the capital city of Kiev, a Soviet communique disclosed.

Sumy, an important railroad point, is located some 90 miles northwest of Kharkov on the line linking the steel center with the German base at Bryansk.

Railway Town Taken

The Russians announced that their forces advancing toward Bryansk along the railway from Orel had captured a railway town 45 miles east of the city.

Seventy towns and villages were reported captured by the Russians in the Kharkov sector and 30 more in the Bryansk area as the Red army marked up important gains in a general advance along the entire active front almost 300 miles in length.

One of the five Russian columns threatening Kharkov has captured Slatino, 12 miles north. A second was reported 30 miles due west and a third 45 miles northwest. Another force has stormed across the upper Donets river and is within 20 miles of the city on the east, while a fifth is 25 miles due east, the Russian communique declared.

Nazis Resist Stubbornly

The Russian advance was made in the face of stubborn German resistance. Large numbers of Germans were killed in the struggle, the Soviet war bulletin said, and

Hopes Stirred For New Blows At Nazi Europe

Grand Offensive Believed Likely After Conference

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 11 — Prime Minister Churchill's journey across the Atlantic for his sixth wartime meeting with President Roosevelt stirred spontaneous and optimistic talk in London today of a "victory-this-year" assault on Europe.

Virtually unanimous agreement was expressed on all sides that the Allied chieftains were getting together to lay final plans for the grand offensive in theaters of war other than the Mediterranean where overwhelming Allied military might has already asserted itself.

The presence of Britain's top-flight military men with Churchill in Quebec led to one conclusion—that United States, British and Dominion forces would soon be storming the European continent from many directions in fulfillment of Churchill's own prediction of a combined action before winter.

Stalin's Absence Noted

The absence of Premier Joseph Stalin was noted by most commentators.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's newspaper, The Yorkshire Post, said, however, it was understood that he had been invited but was unable to attend. The Post added that Stalin was being informed of developments "almost hourly."

Declaring that the problems facing Churchill and Roosevelt are more than just military, The Post asserted, "the hour is at hand when it will be imperative for the United Nations to pursue a united course not only with regard to military operations but equally with regard to the politics of Europe.

"It could hardly be expected

Naples Shipyard, Other Mainland Areas Blasted

British Within Sight Of Italy Following Seven-Mile Advance On East Sicilian Coast; Allied Forces Capture Guardia

BY DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 11.—The British Eighth army in Sicily advanced to within sight of the Italian mainland while British warships bombarded Italian shipyards in the bay of Naples, 130 miles south of Rome, and other mainland military targets, Allied headquarters announced today.

British forces advanced seven miles along the east coast of Sicily under the shadow of Mt. Etna to capture the town of Guardia, 16 miles south of Taormina and 40 miles from Messina, the bulletin announced. British Tommies on the east slopes of Mt. Etna thus gained their first view of the Italian mainland.

The inshore bombardment of the construction and repair yards at Castellammare at the southern edge of the Bay of Naples took place Monday night, with British destroyers and cruisers moving in close to the target to pour round after round into the yards which were capable of handling ships up to 500 feet in length.

At the same time other units of the fleet attacked Cape Vaticano on the instep of the Italian boot about 25 miles north of San Giovanni where the main Italian railroad lines operate close to the shore of the Tyrrhenian sea.

Railroad Bridges Blasted

The communique said railway bridges were bombarded in the naval attack at Cape Vaticano at the same time that the daring seamen shoved their warships between Naples and the romantic isle of Capri and let loose their salvos almost in the shadow of Mt. Vesuvius.

The British seven-mile advance from Acireale along the east Sicilian coast placed Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's veterans barely 30 miles from Italy and put increasing pressure on Taormina, to the rear of the enemy's central sector at Randazzo.

The American Seventh army on the north coast consolidated its positions at the mouth of the Rosmarino river, three miles east of San Agata where amphibious troops plunged ashore from small boats Sunday night, and pressed

FDR Talks With Pacific Council

Plans Laid For Strategy Parley

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—President Roosevelt discussed future strategy with the Pacific war council today in preparation for his new and important conference with Prime Minister Winston Churchill in the near future.

Netherlands Ambassador A. Loudon, who acted as spokesman for members of the council, told reporters that the White House meeting was "very short—for obvious reasons," and that there was little that could be said about it except that future strategy was discussed.

Presumably Loudon meant that the session was short because Mr. Roosevelt did not have much to talk to them about today, but would have more to tell them after the conference with Churchill.

Pacific In Spotlight

Recent and forthcoming events in the Pacific are expected to loom large on the list of strategic subjects the two leaders will discuss.

Others who attended the conference were Sir Ronald I. Campbell, British minister, representing Lord Halifax, British ambassador who arrived in England today; Canadian Minister Leighton McCarthy, and Australian Minister Sir Roland Dixon.

The Chinese, who are represented on the council, did not have anybody at today's meeting.

Loudon, who has just returned from London, made a "courtesy call" on Mr. Roosevelt a few minutes before the council convened to present Johannes van Den Broek, Netherlands minister of finance.

Detailed Survey Seen

It was believed that the fast-changing war scene in Europe and the Far East will be surveyed in greater detail than ever before at the scheduled sixth conference be-

Jap Forces Are Backed To Sea

(By The Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN The Southwest Pacific, Aug. 11—Japanese forces with their backs to the sea in the Bairoko area of New Georgia island are confronted with a "Bataan in reverse," front line dispatches said today.

American Army and Marine forces completed encirclement of the enemy Sunday in this last remaining point of organized resistance on the island. Since then U. S. forces have tightened the jaws of a steel trap along a six-mile front.

Progress Is Slow

A Navy spokesman at headquarters of Admiral William Halsey, jr., commander of south Pacific forces, said the encirclement was perfected when the American right flank reached Bairoko river at a point two miles southeast of Bairoko harbor. There it joined an advanced patrol of Army and Marine units which had fought its way northward in the Enogai inlet area. Other Army forces were advancing from conquered Munda airdrome, eight airline miles away, but progress was described as slow due to difficult jungle terrain. Some resistance was met, but overcome.

With American forces advancing along a semi-circular front, Halsey's spokesman said the only remaining chance for the Japanese at Bairdo to escape annihilation was by means of a night withdrawal to Kolombangara island,

Investigation Asked Of Kidnap Suspect

Woman Said Hurt At Pearl Harbor

ALBANY, Ore., Aug. 11 (AP) — Police asked federal officials today to investigate the Pearl Harbor background of Mrs. Catherine Wright, the 26-year-old Army wife they accuse of abducting baby Judith Gurney from a hospital crib last week.

Mrs. Wright, charged with child-stealing, is held under $5000 bond in the Linn county jail. Her husband, Sgt. Jesse Wright of Camp Adair, Ore., is held as a material witness.

Police asked federal authorities specifically to check Mrs. Wright's story that she suffered numerous injuries, including three shrapnel wounds in the head, in the Pearl Harbor raid. She said she was working in an Army administration building at the time.

Lost Child In Birth

District Attorney Harlow Weinrick said the woman had lost a child in a birth a number of years ago, and, longing for a baby, has posed as an expectant mother for months before she abducted the two-day-old Gurney girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Gurney.

A physical examination proved she had not borne a child recently, the district attorney said.

Kidnaper May Be In Houston

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (U.P.)—Police believed today that Natalie Palmer, suspected of kidnaping two-year-old Howard Freeman, had fled with the baby to Texas.

Authorities at Houston were asked to locate Miss Palmer's sister, Naomi, who is reported to have written the accused kidnaper recently and invited her to visit her there.

ADOPTED BROTHER SAID LIVING IN LUBBOCK

HOUSTON, Aug. 11. (U.P.) — Gladys Naomi Palmer, 22-year-old sister of Natalie Palmer, suspected of kidnaping and fleeing from Chicago to Texas with two-year-old Howard Freeman, said today she would refuse to hide her sister if she came to Houston seeking refuge.

The baby and Natalie have been missing since last Friday. The last time either of them were seen was when Natalie appeared at the home of a friend in Chicago as a brunet. Police said 24 hours before she had been a blond.

Sister Is "Confused"

After saying she wouldn't shield her sister, Gladys, a waitress at a a sandwich shop, added:

"Of course, she's my sister. But I don't mean I would shield her . . . I'm just confused, that's all."

It was understood that in addition to relatives at Houston and Mesquite, the Chicago girl also had a brother by adoption at Lubbock.

German Troops Said Killed

LONDON, Aug. 11 (U.P.)—French underground reports said today that German troops in France were being killed at the rate of a dozen a day and a news dispatch reported that 50 Italian soldiers had been killed in a fight with Greek guerrillas.

The clanderstine newspaper "Defense de La France" called for French patriots to stand by for an Allied landing on their shores, "which may come any day now."

Officers Said Killed

Clashes between German troops and Frenchmen were said to have occurred in at least six French towns during the last 72 hours, with 93 Germans, including two generals and a colonel, being killed.

Announcements of the organized French underground movement said railway sabotage and attacks on German barracks and headquarters had caused the occupation army to strengthen its patrols day and night.

Bridges Destroyed

The Hellenic news service reported from Cairo that the Italian troops had been killed in a pitched battle with the Greeks that lasted several hours on the night of July 4. The fighting resulted from the destruction of two bridges by the patriots.

French reports said that 20 Germans were killed and 18 wounded when a bomb was tossed into a German detachment on a Paris street. Another 24 were killed or wounded in fighting on the boulevard Jean Jaures in Paris. At Versailles, 20 locomotives used by the Germans were destroyed.

Report Says Berlin Schools Being Moved

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 11 (AP) — German dispatches said today that Berlin's entire school system is being moved to undisclosed points in Brandenburg, East Prussia and Warthegau before the capital becomes "another Hamburg."

The dispatches said the city's president announced that all instruction has stopped, although the children still have not yet been removed.

City-wide digging of slit trenches, construction of new air raid shelters, reinforcement of old ones and the building of water reservoirs, started two weeks ago, were reported continuing.

CADET KILLED

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 11 (AP) —Aviation Cadet Warren G. Krueger, 22, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Krueger of Clear Lake, Iowa, was killed when his training plane crashed 21 miles from the Naval Air Training center yesterday, Navy authorities announced today.

Oil Workers Union Pledges FDR Support

FORT WORTH, Aug. 11 (AP)—Renewal of the no strike pledge for the war's duration and full support of President Roosevelt's administration and conduct of the war has been voted by the oil workers international union (CIO) in convention here.

Role of labor unions in the war and the tactics of John L. Lewis were discussed at the Tuesday session by R. Thomas of Detroit, CIO vice president and president of the United Automobile workers, who also demanded a rollback of prices.

Thomas told delegates he favored a fourth term for Roosevelt if the president wanted it.

Jane Froman Plans Comeback In Musical

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — Jane Froman, 32-year-old radio and night club singer who was injured critically in the Lisbon clipper crash on February 22, plans a comeback.

Although unable to walk, she will appear, in "Artists and Models," scheduled to open on Broadway on Oct. 26, her husband, Don Ross, said today.

"Jane is improved and we believe that thec ast can be removed from her right arm in about three weeks," said Ross who will be co-producer with Lou Walters and general manager of the show. "When the show opens, her right leg will still be confined to a cast and at present we're working out stage effects to get her on and off for her numbers without having to resort to the use of a wheelchair."

Fire Damages Radio Station At Juarez

EL PASO, Aug. 11. (AP)—A fire originating in the motion picture projection room caused damages estimated at $30,000 to the building and equipment of radio station XEJ in Juarez, Mexico, neighboring community across the Rio Grande

Pedro Meneses, jr., owner of the building who estimated the loss, said a short circuit started the blaze while 400 persons were watching a moving picture in the XEJ auditorium last night. The crowd filed out in an orderly manner and none was injured, he said.

Flying Officer And Cadet Die In Crash

WACO, Aug. 11 (AP) — Flying Officer Angus B. Eades, 21, senior officer of the Royal Air Force and an instructor at Waco Army Air field, and Aviation Cadet Marvin F. Lamphier, of Lake Orion, Mich., a lower class man, were killed yesterday in the crash of their basic training plane nine miles east of here at Hallsburg.

Lamphier was killed instantly and Eades died at the field hospital two hours after the crash.

U. S. Agencies Top Gas Users In Texas

HOUSTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—The Gulf Coast Refiners association said today that government agencies consume about 50 per cent of all gasoline used in Texas.

In a statement reportedly based upon state comptroller's figures, the association said that tax-free government agencies consumer 89,686 barrels of gasoline a day during June or 48.5 per cent of total consumption.

Tax-free gasolines amounted to 19.6 per cent of the state's production, the association said.

Navy Boosts Score Against Jap Planes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — The Navy boosted by 52 planes today the number of Japanese aircraft destroyed during the first 10 days of the present offensive in the central Solomon islands. The aggregate was raised from 147 to 199 Japanese planes shot down by United States air forces and anti-aircraft units.

The American fliers lost 34 planes but 16 pilots were rescued and the ratio of losses stood at approximately 6 to 1.

"That the attrition inflicted on the Japanese must have surprised them was indicated by the reduced intensity of the enemy air effort after the first four or five days of the offensive and the appearance in the air battles of enemy aircraft types which were decidedly inferior to the war planes theretofore encountered by the American pilots," the Navy report said.

Heart Of Paris Said Made Into Fortress

BERN, Switzerland, Aug. 11 (AP) —The Tribune de Geneve reported today that the Marine Ministry building and several streets in the heart of Paris have been converted into a fortress with numerous cement blockhouses and connecting tunnels.

Many streets have been completely forbidden to civilians, the newspaper said. Many houses have been evacuated. It added that Kleber avenue is a network of fortifications.

An entire quarter of the city was said to have been made a defense line, including a four-story underground tunnel.

Profits From Money Exchange Go In Fund

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 11 (AP)—Two-dollar bills and silver coins are the only kind of American money which may be taken into or out of Mexico and profits from money exchanges here are being donated to a cigaret fund for service men. Restaurants and other public places make a small charge for providing visitors to Mexico with the necessary two-dollar bills. These fees go into the cigaret fund.

Movement of currency is restricted to two-dollar bills to prevent Axis agents in Mexico from disposing of American currency which may have been seized in conquered countries.

Houses For Officers Wanted In Ft. Worth

FORT WORTH, Aug. 11 (U.P.)—Houses have been found for less than a sixth of the Army Air Forces officers being transferred to the training command headquarters here.

One third of the officers have arrived so far and Capt. Ellis Ryan, special services officer, predicts the housing problem will become more acute unless houses are offered for rent at a much faster rate than at present.

Twins Born To Young Girl Die Last Night

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 11 (AP) —Tiny twin boys, born to a 13-year-old Louisville girl, lived for a day, but died last night after they earlier had been reported "doing well."

The mother, Mrs. Mabel James Hughes, wife of Mitchell Hughes, 21, Cordage mill employe, was reported in "good condition."

One of the babies weighed three pounds, the other two and one-half pounds. They were born slightly more than a month prematurely, doctors said.

McGee Funeral Is Held Today

Funeral services were read at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the First Christian church for John R. McGee, 90, former Lubbock county official, pioneer South Plains attorney, and ex-Texas Ranger who died about 8 o'clock Tuesday night in West Texas hospital.

Rev. H. G. Gantz, church pastor, and Rev. Walter P. Jennings, former pastor who also lives in Lubbock, were asked to read final services. Burial was in Lubbock cemetery, with elders of the church acting as bearers.

The body lay in state at the church from 12:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Came Here About 1901

McGee came to Lubbock about 1901 from Brady, where he had been county judge, and became associated with the late George Beatty, also a former Brady county judge, in law practice.

For years, the firm was the most prominent here. There were few attorneys, and the partnership of Beatty & McGee, as it was known, represented prominent cattlemen and the larger landholders.

As recalled by George R. Bean, retired attorney who was admitted to practice of law through the offices of a district court com-

Use Of Coal And Shale Strata As Fuel Source Investigated

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Aug. 11 (AP) —Gasoline for post-war vacation jaunts may come, not from spouting western oil wells, but from vast coal and shale deposits underlying the western beef and mutton country.

A senate sub-committee opened a hearing here today to investigate the possibility of drawing synthetic fuels from coal and shale strata in Wyoming, Montana and North Dakota.

Governors Give Facts

Governors Sam C. Ford of Montana and John Moses of North Dakota gave the committee facts and figures on the size and possible productiveness of the oil and shale deposits in their states, and J. L. Morrill, president of Wyoming university, stated Wyoming's case.

The committe was told in Salt Lake City Monday that Utah could produce 30 to 70 gallons of oil per ton from 200 billion tons of coal still under the surface, and a minimum of 35 gallons per ton from additional billions of tons of unworked oil shale. Colorado, the committee was advised, could yield 47 billion barrels of oil from its

Allied Toll Of Axis Planes In Sicilian Campaign Totals 1,421

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Aug. 11. (U.P.) — The Allies have destroyed or captured 1,421 Axis planes during the Sicilian campaign, authorities revealed today.

Captured on Sicilian air fields were 999 enemy aircraft, including 234 German Messerschmitt 109's, an official announcement disclosed.

"A surprisingly large number still were serviceable," the announcement said.

Aside from Axis planes wrecked or damaged aground, 422 were destroyed as against Allied losses of 181 in the Sicilian campaign.

Lack of opposition has enabled the Allies to perfect zero-level bombing and strafing, first developed in the African desert and improved in Tunisia.

For this kind of fighting, the Allies have been using two familiar P-40 types of attack plane—the American Warhawk and its British counterpart, the Kittyhawk. Recently a new American creation, the A-36 Invader, a variation of the P-51 Mustang, has been used.

These small, swift planes are

Noted Elevator 'Pilot' Dies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP) — Professor Benjamin H. Good, 58, of Austin, A. B., M. A., and Ph. D. from the University of Texas, a veteran elevator pilot in the southwest corner of the old House office building, is dead.

His death came Monday evening after a lifetime which included teaching history and duties as a government archivist.

Six years he had been at the job, and in that time he carried up and down the five floors of the building nearly every congressman and many of the senators who served during the past three congresses.

Former School Teacher

Dr. Good was aware of the surprise that came to most people when they found he held three degrees and operated an elevator.

Born July 20, 1885, in Union City, Tenn., he taught school from 1906 to about 1920 in Tennessee, when only a certificate was necessary to teach. He got an A. B. in education from the West Tennessee State Teachers college in 1921, and while there became acquainted with Dr. C. P. Patterson, later head of the department of government at the University of Texas.

Good went to the University of Texas to continue his studies, obtaining an A. B. in history in 1923, and an M. A. in 1924. He was head of the history department of Austin High school from 1924 to 1929, when he resumed studies at the university. He got his Ph. D. in 1932.

Had Patronage Position

His connection with the government began in 1935, after he had taught English history for a little over two years in the university. He came to Washington in a patronage position at the federal archives building.

His job there was to scan official documents and papers which had grown musty in various federal departmental buildings to see which had sufficient, lasting historical value to justify their being filed in the archives building.

When Rep. James P. Buchanan of Brenham died in 1937 Good lost out at the archives building. Then he obtained his job as elevator pilot.

engaged in a whole series of nefarious activities respecting land tenure arrangements for low income families." Baldwin testified that "with the exception of the few cooperative farms every single land tenure activity of the FSA has always been directed toward aiding individual farm families to become owner-operatives of their farms or to have equitable, fair and secure leases on family type farms. We have made loans to cooperative associations of farmers with which to lease large tracts of land."

(Baldwin also testified that 92 per cent of loans made by FSA has been repaid. After a fight over FSA appropriations for the 1944 fiscal years, Congress agreed to $20,000,001 for administrative purposes and $60,000,000 in borrowing authority for making new rehabilitation loans.)

Lack Authority Of Law

The congressman declared that the collective farms almost without exception lack authority of law, and that the committee has found the "rainbow" is honeycombed with all kinds of corporate schemes and is a maze of astounding land purchasing, land settlement and land leasing projects."

He implied that for some beneficiaries the "rainbow" was not without its pot of gold.

"We found families making up to $250 a month living in FSA houses rent-free, and some families making $400 a month paying the government $1.75 or $2 a week rent, with all medical attendance and utilities included," Cooley declared.

In Texas, the chairman went on, a project was established as a self-perpetuating "charity" corporation with three FSA men on the payroll as officials.

"This corporation, which had no provisions for the payment of dividends to the tenant farmers, acquired 26,000 acres of rich farm land, and as a consequence was enabled to borrow huge sums," Cooley said.

known deposits of oil shale.

Senator Sponsors Bill

Senator J. C. O'Mahoney, chairman of the war minerals subcommittee o fthe Senate committee on public lands and surveys, is sponsor of a bill for government construction and operation of plants to demonstrate extraction of synthetic fuels from coal and shale.

The senator contended the nation has consumed its petroleum supply faster than new sources can be discovered, and declared his bill would not only pioneer the way for use of synthetic fuels but lead to a major war and post-war industry.

large quantities of mechanized equipment, food and ammunition fell into Russian hands as the Nazis, cracking under the sledge hammer blows of the Red army, fell back.

The drive on Bryansk was still in its early stages. As yet there were no indications of the development of an encircling movement such as marked the capture of Orel from which the advance was launched a week ago. Nevertheless, the Red army was making rapid progress, having covered more than half the distance from Orel.

Activity on other fronts was limited largely to reconnaissance, the Soviet war bulletin said.

BUYING CONTROLS MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — Buying continued to control the stock market's trend today, a considerable number of leaders adding moderately to Tuesday's gains.

Advances ranged from fractions to a point or more in such groups as motors, farm equipments, merchandising shares, rail equipments, utilities, oils and industrials specialties. Some rails were a trifle higher.

It was a quiet upturn with volume at the low mark of recent sessions. There was some backdown from best levels in the closing hours. Dealings totaled about 600,000 shares.

Issues giving a good account of themselves included General Motors, Chrysler, White Motors, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Public Service of N. J., Westinghouse, General Electric, Philip Morris, Owens-Illinois, American Locomotive and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Rail loans had a further comeback in the bond market.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP) — Resumption of liquidation by houses with eastern connections broke rye prices in late trading today, imparting a weak undertone to other grains. Wheat dropped below the previous close and oats, which had been higher most of the session, lost part of early gains.

Purchases of more than 2,000,000 bushels of corn on a "to-arrive" basis, following 3,500,000 bushels bought yesterday, unsettled rye as it was felt some of the corn would be diverted to commercial feed manufacturers. Support of rye had been based upon the prospect of increased use of the grain for feeding because of a corn shortage.

At the close rye was down 1-1¾, September 88-88¼, wheat was ¼-⅝ lower, September $1.43⅜-½, and oats were ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, September 69.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — Cotton futures moved in a narrow range today. Traders awaited a resumption of mill buying of spot cotton.

A less favorable weekly weather report rallied prices slightly but hedge selling later cancelled some gains. Trade price fixing accounted for most of the buying.

Futures closed (old contracts) unchanged to 10 cents a bale, lower.

thundering RAF attacks on the twin cities of Mannheim and Ludwigshafen in the Rhineland.

German air raiders retaliated by making their first attack on Britain this month last night, dropping a few bombs over east Anglia.

The Air ministry disclosed, meanwhile, that RAF bombers have dropped 136,100 tons of bombs on Germany since the war began, more than half of which were unloaded since last Jan. 1. It was estimated that the Germans had dropped 71,000 tons of bombs on Britain since the beginning of the war, but only 2,000 tons during 1943.

Final Brief Filed In Freight Equality Move

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (AP) — The steering committee representing Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas and Louisiana has filed a final brief with the Interstate Commerce commission in behalf of equalized freght rates for the southwest.

The 319-page document presents arguments based on testmony from numerous I.C.C. hearings dealing with class rates and consolidated freight rates.

Texans who assisted in preparing it were A. J. Scrivner of the Railroad commission rate division, E. R. Tanner of the El Paso freight rate bureau and Cecil C. Commanck, assistant attorney general.

Riot Causes In Detroit Cleared

DETROIT, Aug. 11 (AP) — Detroit's race riots of last June 21 were not planned or premeditated, nor were they inspired by subversive enemy influence, a fact-finding committee appointed by Gov. Harry F. Kelly to investigate the disturbances reported today.

The committee blamed the outbreak of violence on racial tension which "was inflamed as a result of several disconnected incidents provoked by a group of negroes."

The report was prepared by a group consisting of Prosecuting Attorney William E. Dowling, Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton, Detroit Police Commissioner John E. Witherspoon and State Police Commissioner Oscar Olander.

False Rumor Blamed

"The looting and accompanying rioting followed the spreading of a false rumor by Leo Tipton, negro, to the effect that whites had killed a colored woman and her child at Belle Isle," it stated.

"Irresponsible white and negro youths were responsible for most of the casualties and the damage resulting. The ordinary law enforcement and judicial agencies have thus far adequately and properly dealt with the law violators."

Asserting that stabbings, stonings and looting by roving gangs followed quickly in the wake of Tipton's statement, the report declared that negro rioting in the east side negro area began shortly after midnight Sunday (June 20) but that whites did not retaliate until 4 a. m. Monday.

Government Appeals To Top Contractors

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — In an attempt to break a growing manpower shortage, the government appealed to nearly 1,000 top contractors today to spread their work through sub-contractors to less critical labor areas.

The Army, Navy, War Production board and the Maritime commission sent a joint letter to contractors who have backlogs of $5,000,000 or more each telling them it is "vital to the war effort" that they shift part of their work to sections of the country which have an adequate labor supply.

The request was general and went to prime contractors throughout the nation.

The contractors were requested to "avoid as far as possible" the placing of sub-contracts in 55 areas classified as now having acute labor shortages. Sub-contracts should be placed in these areas only if special facilities exist there, if delivery cannot be made with the necessary speed in other areas, of if it is otherwise impracticable to have the work done elsewhere.

Beaumont was the only Texas city included in the 55 areas.

Forest Fire Raging In Wyoming Forest

BUFFALO, Wyo., Aug. 11. (AP)— Nearly 400 men, half of them soldiers, retreated today before a raging fire in Big Horn national forest and began a back fire which Forest Supervisor J. F. Conner hopes will check the stubborn blaze, now 10 days old.

Conner was hopeful that the crown fire sweeping through the forest approximately 25 miles southwest of here might be checked by tonight.

"It's the worst thing I ever saw, and we lost a lot of country yesterday," Conner said, estimating that about 7,000 acres had been covered by the fire.

Dallas Boards Cannot Give Additional Gas

DALLAS, Aug. 11 (AP)—Dallas county ration boards have received instructions not to issue supplemental gasoline for evacuating children from the local infantile paralysis area, T. E. Jackson, general chairman of the Dallas county war price and ration board, said today.

Jackson said the instructions were embodied in letters signed by Gus W. Thomasson, district director of the Office of Price administration and mailed out today to all the boards, stating that city health authorities have taken the position that Dallas may be a safer place for children than rural areas where unsanitary conditions may prevail.

Wild Animals May Be Sent To Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 11 (AP) — W. A. King anticipates a movement of wild animals into Brownsville this winter but it's nothing to be alarmed about.

The meat shortage in the winter quarter territory of America's circuses will force show owners to send their big cats and other meat eaters here where all the horse and burro meat needed can be obtained, King said.

"In the usual winter quarter areas of Florida, Kentucky and California, beef is as rare as a twenty-pound chunk of platinum and there aren't enough horses to go around," he explained.

AFL Council Studies Application Of UMW

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (AP)—The American Federation of Labor executive council weighed the application of the United Mine workers for a charter today against the protest and promise of an AFL affiliate to "fight bitterly for our rights."

A decision on UMW President John L. Lewis' application was expected late today.

The council yesterday heard a committee report on application and a protest by officers of the Progressive Mine workers of America.

Silence On U. S. North Pacific Activity Raises Speculation On Imminent Invasion Of Kisku

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—Prolonged silence on American military activity in the North Pacific raised new speculation today over the imminence of an invasion of Japanese-held Kiska island.

The last reported action at Kiska was 12 days ago, on July 30, when a naval force shelled defense positions for the eighth time of the month. The day before, a single Army Flying Fortress made the 61st air raid of the month on the island.

May Be Gathering Forces

One explanation discussed unofficially is that the American commanders in the Aleutians have been gathering their forces for a final campaign to reconquer Kiska. Another is that any operations which might now be in progress preliminary to such a campaign are not being disclosed for strategical reasons.

Reconquest of the island has been a subject of speculation ever since the Japanese occupied it early in June, 1942. The prospects of an amphibious attack were greatly heightened after American troops took Attu in May.

About a month and a half to two months of fairly good campaigning weather remain in the western Aleutians. Thus if the fight is to be made before winter begins closing in it will have to begin soon.

that Marshal Stalin would be able to travel to Montreal or Washington at the present time; but it is nonetheless important that all steps be taken to secure a far-reaching agreement with Soviet Russia on these wider problems of war-winning and peace-making."

Military Moves Seen

The attention given to the political aspects of the situation was overshadowed, however, by a feeling that Allied military operations will soon be forthcoming to provide the relief for which the Russians have been calling.

The possibility that Germany may be defeated this year is being discussed — even though cautiously — in all quarters, and the fact that Premier Joseph Stalin has committed large armies to his present summer offensive underscores this hope.

Indications that Britain may be the scene of major military operations are:

1. Reports that large areas of Britain's coastline will be barred to visitors in the near future.

New Troops In Britain

2. Arrival in Britain of substantial reinforcements of fully-trained American and Canadian troops together with a great increase in the number of available air bases.

3. A noticeable influx of high-ranking Allied officers from other war theaters, together with a heavy increase in railway traffic throughout Great Britain.

Those who anticipate an attack against the European mainland from Great Britain pointed to increased sabotage reported by Belgian guerrillas and the fact that Lord Leathers, minister of transport, was a member of the Churchill party. The presence of Leathers in any parleys on war strategy they said, emphasized the importance of the shipping question, which is vital in any offensive operations against Europe.

"Family Man" Thinks After First Few It Makes No Difference

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11 (AP)— William H. Proctor, 63, lifted the hot iron from a fancy figured tablecloth to comment of his week old child, 17th for him, that "after the first four or five it doesn't make much difference."

Proctor, one time jockey and lightweight fighter, has been married three times. His first wife bore one son. She died. His second bore eight sons. His present wife, who was 34 yesterday, has borne eight children, one a girl.

He said he was part Indian which "makes me more than half real American, and part Irish." He didn't cut a big figure as a fighter or jockey, he said, so he decided to settle down and become a family man.

Fifteen Men Killed In 2 Plane Crashes

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 11 (AP) — Fifteen of 16 men aboard two four-engined bombers from the Walla Walla Army Air field were killed in separate crashes into desolate sectors of eastern Washington and eastern Oregon yesterday, base officials announced late last night.

Three men of a crew of ten parachuted to safety when their plane crashed near Paterson in Benton county, Wash., and seven were killed.

All eight men in a bomber which crashed and burned fiercely near Heppner, Ore., were killed.

All bodies have been found. Earlier it was reported an opened parachute was found a half mile from the Oregon wreck site but its ownership was not identified.

The three men who parachuted before the Paterson vicinity crash were reported as injured only slightly.

Both bombers were on routine flights.

China, though it will not be represented at the Roosevelt-Churchill conference, is a leading member of the Pacific war council here. Other members include the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia, the Netherlands, and New Zealand.

Mr. Roosevelt also scheduled meetings with Netherlands Ambassador Alexander Loudon and Netherlands Financial Minister Johannes van Den Broeck.

U. S. Recognition Of French Unit Delayed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles indicated that the State department is not ready to announce recognition of the French committee of national liberation.

Asked about reports from Algiers that the United States and Great Britain had agreed to recognize the committee as the trustee of French interests until its armies landed in France, Welles said there was nothing new on that matter.

A Monroe Doctrine for Asia is being applied by the Japanese, thinks Thomas F. Wiesen, professor of economics at Texas Technological college, who spoke today at the Rotary club, Hilton hotel. The speaker said the war in the Pacific evidently reveals as plainly as anything could the Japanese interpretation of our own Monroe Doctrine, as we have applied it to the Americas.

Persons in 1600-block Seventh street called police about 3 o'clock this morning, saying a man was beating his wife and for police to hurry there and investigate. Nearby, three nights before, a man had beaten his former wife so savagely her jaw was broken officials had been informed. The police hurried, but two patrol cars, answering the alarm from different parts of the city, were in collision at Ninth street and Avenue O. M. L. Burrus, about 48, suffered a cut that required emergency first aid at a hospital, and J. A. Wright, 58, was bruised. J. M. Blackwell, riding with Wright, escaped without injury. One of the cars was smashed. Another car, summoned by radio from the Flats district, completed the call to the Seventh street address.

ideal for twisted Sicilian roads hacked out of the mountainside and positions which are almost impossible to attack from high altitude. Fighter bombers can follow the curving roads through valleys and canyons, peppering them with machine gun and cannon fire. They are good for "pinpointing" a difficult target.

British Wellingtons were the only heavy bombers in action over Sicily during the last 24 hours. They dropped block busters on the beaches and the narrow straits of Messina for the sixth successive night.

Tech Curricula About Normal

Texas Technological college will offer practically the same curricula during the 1943-44 sessions as during normal years despite the problems of war, according to the new catalog now available in the office of W. P. Clement, registrar.

In regard to the session, President Clifford B. Jones said Tuesday, "While we are anxious to make available our facilities toward the war effort and are doing a very great deal in that respect, we feel the need and responsibility to maintain the integrity and identity of the college as such and to that end will be offering our normal courses to our regular college students."

Registration for the fall semester is to be conducted Sept. 15 and 16, with classes opening Sept. 17. The spring semester will open Jan. 19 and will end May 15, approximately two weeks earlier than usual.

Only Few Changes

The catalog lists the curricula in all divisions, with only a few changes from the curricula of last year.

List of faculty members, committees, descriptive material concerning the college, and varied other information are contained in the 302-page catalog. Between 4,000 and 5,000 copies have been distributed.

Color Is Changed

For the first time in several years, the catalog appears in colors other than scarlet and black. Because of inability to obtain the binding in the usual colors, the catalog committee chose pale green.

Chairman of the catalog committee is A. H. Leidigh, dean of agriculture. Other members are Dean O. V. Adams, Dean Margaret W. Weeks, Dean James M. Gordon, Dean R. C. Goodwin, Registrar W. P. Clement, Miss Ella Mae Lyle, Miss Annah Jo Pendleton and Dean J. O. Ellsworth.

Credit Groups Close Two-Day Clinic Here

Closing session of a two-day annual clinic of employes of four Panhandle and South Plains Production credit associations was held Tuesday in Hilton hotel, according to Lee F. York, secretary-treasurer of the Lubbock unit.

Policies and procedures of the associations were discussed. Others who led in discussions are L. Roy Prescott, treasurer, and C. H. Matthews, secretary, of the PCC, Houston, Virgil P. Lee, president of the Houston corporation, was one of the visiting speakers on the program Tuesday of the district meeting of the farm cooperatives federation.

Attending the clinic Monday and Tuesday were Glenn Burnett and R. L. Combs, Amarillo; Mrs. Wilma Davis of Tahoka and Mrs. J. W. Luker of Levelland, representing the Lubbock office of PCC; Mrs. Willie Isham, Mrs. Louise Fisher, Mrs. Naylor of Quanah, Miss Bobbie Amick, Mrs. Harper of Wellington, and Mrs. Flynt, all representing the Memphis PCC; and Miss Hartmann of Floydada, representing the Plainview PCC.

Output Lag Inspires Question If Production Goals Too High

BY JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE
Associated Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 — Are 1943 war production goals too high — as they were in 1942 — and will they have to be revised downward?

Officials, concerned with war output but not wishing to be quoted by name, say July production "probably will be disappointing."

That would mean that for three months in a row production lagged behind schedule.

Such a pace could not continue much longer without seriously affecting the 1943 program for munitions which include war weapons like guns, tanks, ships and planes but exclude construction jobs like war plants.

Output Must Increase

But at the War Production board (WPB) it is explained that output for the last six months of 1943—which includes July—must increase by at least 5 per cent per month to fulfill this year's program.

WPB Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson said this week "we have reached the stratosphere of production and the additional gains are bound to come harder and harder."

Many factors are involved in the present production lag but for weeks some top officials — including Wilson and Lt. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell in command of the Army service forces — have stressed in statements to Americans that "complacency" and "over-optimism" were hurting output.

"Complacency" Not Explained

So far no detailed explanation of "complacency" has been given whether it is a national or local condition which might bob up in a plant in New York, slowing production there, while workers in nearby Jersey City plant, although exposed to the same kind of good war news, show no signs of it and exceed their production quotas.

WPB Chief Donald Nelson said the common-sense of Americans precluded a complacent feeling in the midst of war. He bore down hard on absenteeism in some plants as a potent factor in the present production picture.

Actually, available figures show absenteeism decreased in the very month, May, when production flattened out.

Took In All Causes

The bureau's percentages took in all absenteeism causes, including illness and accidents. A WPB official said they were based on a large sampling of important war industries.

Men on the WPB firing line, trying to explain the present situation, list these factors as the ones they consider most important in causing production to fall behind schedules:

Design changes: because of battle experience, the armed services may order changes in any weapon from a tank to a plane. When this happens production suffers till the change is completed and work is under way.

Cutbacks: the armed services may discover that henceforth they will need less of one weapon, more of another, order the first stopped, the second increased. This may mean shutdown of a number of plants for the duration or until they convert to some other war weapon. Again output suffers while the conversion is occurring.

Labor turnover: all officials agree—including labor representatives on WPB — that this is the "biggest human handicap" in boosting production.

Induction Personnel Given Promotions

Promotions for 11 members of the personnel of West Texas Army Recruiting and Induction center here were announced Tuesday afternoon by Lt. Col. Marvin B. Durrette, commanding officer.

Cpls. Wm. W. Gammill, Henry M. Baker, jr., and Jim Wright were made sergeants.

T/5 Theron G. Webb, T/5 Roy B. Ezell, jr., and T/5 John R. Myers, and Pfcs. Charles R. Gollihar, jr., Jacob M. Housozier, James O. Southard, Daniel F. Largent, jr., and Wm. A. Strickler were made corporals.

The promotions are effective as of last Saturday, Aug. 7.

Col. Durrette also announced the promotions of six women of the WAC as follows:

Della F. Coleman, Janie Obregon, and Virginia F. Miller, each with the grade of T/4, ranking the same as a sergeant; and Esther R. Sisson, junior leader, ranking as a corporal, were elevated to the rank of leader, or equal to second lieutenants.

Leader Lucille L. Neyer was promoted to the rank of staff leader, and Pauline Edwards. T/5, was made a junior leader.

The last named above promotions were made effective as of Aug. 4.

Coffee Gone, Draft Dodger Gives Up

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Aug. 11 (AP)—Because he couldn't stand to go without coffee, V. O. Harris, 38, of Houston, surrendered to draft evasion charges at Oroville.

He told Federal Judge Louis B. Gooman, who ordered him returned to Houston to face draft charges, that he had lived in the wilds near Oroville, killing rabbits as his only meat supply.

When he ran out of coffee, Harris said, he gave up.

AAA Office Force Is Cut To Three Here

Clerical personnel of Lubbock district office of the AAA has been reduced from a normal force of nine to 12 to three full time employes according to Walter Y. Wells, administrative officer. Reduced appropriations are responsible.

Farmers, Wells said, will have to call at the office for conservation checks, as the office no longer will be able to mail them. Crop insurance has been discontinued, but since much of it is effective this year already, Wells said no reduction in office work here will be noticed for several months. Other curtailments will be felt, but the office was gloomily wondering yesterday just how they would handle almost the same amount of volume of clerical work with a staff only one-third as large as usual.

Spaghetti Is In New Role As War Worker

BLOOMFIELD, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP) — Spaghetti — used plenty nowadays to help fill the food gap — has also become a war worker.

Uncooked, it has been put to work to speed the manufacture of electronic tubes used for war communications, said the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co. lamp division today.

"A stick of spaghetti placed inside a tiny wire coil supports the coil while it is being welded, said the company." "A piece of steel formerly was used as the support but it was difficult to remove. Spaghetti can be burned out in a flash."

The substitute cuts by 75 per cent time required to assemble certain tube filaments and reduces the need for critical steel.

Hitch-Hiking Rattler Killed On Pavement

EL PASO, Aug. 11 (AP)—"Snake! Get back in that car!" shouted Deputy State Labor Commissioner Sam Cohen.

A woman, alighting from a Biggs Field worker's car, hastily stepped back inside as an eight-button hitchhiking rattlesnake slithered to the pavement in front of the courthouse.

Cohen called the fire department.

Capt. H. J. Muskopf pinned the snake with a ceiling hook and Fireman W. F. Hogge beheaded it with a fire ax.

Prize Was A Sham; Sentence Was Real

DETROIT, Aug. 11 (AP)—The defendant denied that he broke the plate glass window in the meat market, but he admitted grabbing the big ham that was on display in it. Police said they found him hiding behind a counter, the ham fondly clasped in his arms. He drew a three to five year sentence for entering without breaking.

But the man's real punishment came earlier when police switched on the lights in the store and he got a good look at his prize. It was simply a display ham, made of sawdust and glue.

There'll always be a U. S. A.

and places you long to drive to!

Just as sure as Victory comes you'll long to ease this war strain by going places... wondrous Yellowstone again... sea-swept Cape Cod... the vivid Southwest... even Alaska perhaps. Your boy... your hero out of Africa or Iceland—or cloudland—can take spells at the wheel with you. The mileage your car is kept from making now, it can make then—but not if today's restricted mileage and speed sacrifice your engine to acid!

Acid that's greedy for metal is left over after combustion ceases in any engine. When you used to start often, and make long runs, thoroughly heating the engine, the acid mostly took leave. It wasn't the steady danger that it is today, with car usage restricted. But you can tame rampant acid by OIL-PLATING your little-used engine with Conoco Nth motor oil. Patented Conoco Nth brings your engine this oil's "magnet-like" effect—created synthetically. That's how OIL-PLATING is held closely attached to steepest inner engine surfaces, much like any good anti-corrosive plating... not all promptly draining down to the crankcase... not leaving fine surfaces all unfortified... hence not allowing free play to acid.

New engine parts—new cars, too—would still be scarce if the Axis folded this minute. Do your best to assure today's vital trips as well as tomorrow's richly-earned tour, by OIL-PLATING your engine now. Get Conoco Nth at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

Homemaking Teachers Hear Address By Capt. Irvin

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

Do you ever wish, George, that you could understand the little woman?

Well, women are getting themselves understood these days. Not at home, to be sure, but in the factories where they work.

For instance, the director of industrial relations for the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation, says his company has discovered these things about women—since it found itself with almost as many women employees as men:

Women are slow at making decisions. Having to stop in the course of a routine job to make a decision upsets them enough to slow down their work. (So when the little woman says, "What do you think I ought to do, George?" help her out. Don't just mumble "Whatever you think is best, Dear" into the evening paper.)

Emotionally, women are less stable than men. (So never mind her tears, George. Just be sympathetic and as patient as you can.)

Women dislike open competition. (Your lesson is obvious there, George. Don't give the little woman any cause to feel that she is in open competition with another woman for your affection, admiration, or attention.)

FLATTER 'EM

Women are especially appreciative of praise, and work better under commendation than criticism. (You can't pile the praise on too thick, George.)

Women are less self-assertive than men. (That is why, George, you are the head of the house. And a lucky thing, for you, too. If the little woman ever decided to assert herself — you wouldn't have a chance.)

Women resist monotony well. (Let's not make that one personal, George. After all, you do take the little woman out to the movies once a week, which shows you mean well).

Drastic changes are coming in education, which will be required "to do a good solid job based on essential things, these essential things depending upon the outcome of the war," Capt. W. B. Irvin of Dallas, superintendent of Lubbock public schools who is on leave for Army service, told approximately 100 homemaking teachers this morning at Texas Technological college.

Dr. Irvin spoke in the engineering auditorium in the opening session of a three-day conference being conducted by the homemaking division of the state board for vocational education in cooperation with the college.

Speaking on "The Contributions of Education to Wartime Living and Postwar Planning," he said, "We cannot disengage wartime living and postwar planning. We must plan as we live in wartime."

Postwar planning "will take more than we have ever done before," he said. It will require "hard work, conscientious labor on things that are hard." Educational institutions will have a responsibility "to develop and cause to be developed in individuals the ability to rightly use" postwar plans which are made.

His address followed welcome speeches by James G. Allen, dean of men, and Miss Martye Poindexter, acting dean of home economics.

Miss Esther Sorensen, district supervisor of homemaking education, with headquarters at the college, presided. Singing was led by two students from the music department, Misses Beth Floyd and Marian Chandler.

Miss Ruth Huey, state director of homemaking education, of Austin, is to arrive this afternoon and will speak Thursday afternoon. Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, also is to speak Thursday afternoon. Miss Huey originally was scheduled to speak today.

Sessions on adult education and child care are being conducted this afternoon. Mrs. Florrie B. Franklin, homemaking teacher at Childress, was to preside in the adult education program, and Miss Johne Bowles, assistant professor of home economics education, was to be the leader. In the child care program, Miss Sannie Callan, head of the department of child development and family relations, was to be the leader.

Lenave Lynch Marries W. G. (Buck) Freeland

Announcement was made Tuesday afternoon of the marriage of Miss Lenave Lynch, daughter of of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Lynch of Morton, and W. G. (Buck) Freeland, also of Morton, which took place last Saturday evening at 10 o'clock with Rev. J. W. Watson officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Lynch were attendants.

Mrs. Freeland is a graduate of Texas Technological college and for the past year was employed in the Morton Public schools.

Guests included Mrs. John Freeland, mother of the bridegroom: Mrs. Watson; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Waller; Misses Bess Williamson, Clemmie Lynch and Anna Maude Lynch and Mr. John Williamson.

LEAVE FOR COAST

Mrs. Eugene Wilson and daughter, Sarah Janin, of Houston were to leave today for Seattle, Wash., to visit their husband and father, Lt. Eugene Wilson, who is serving with the United States Navy. They have spent several days with Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. L. G. H. Williams, 2211-B Seventeenth street. Mrs. Williams also has as her guest another, daughter, Miss Margaret Williams of Tucson, Ariz. They also are visiting a sister, Mrs. Jack Randal, 2207 Seventeenth street.

Payne-Agnew Wedding Is Read At Bride's Home

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Lee Agnew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Agnew, 4001 Twenty-first street, and Cpl. O. R. Payne of Portland, Ohio, took place Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 3, at the home of the bride's parents.

Rev. Jeff D. Welch of the Central Baptist church officiated. Mrs. Payne attended Lubbock High school and Texas Technological college where she majored in home economics. Cpl. Payne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Payne of Portland. The newlyweds will make their home in Dalhart where the bridegroom is stationed at the air base.

Moores Are Visiting In Lubbock With Friends

Do Away With Vacation Daze And Build Health, Beauty

By BETTY CLARKE
Associated Press Beauty Editor

Why not pamper yourself this vacation—give yourself some beauty baths?

Most girls work like busy little bees preparing for good old vacation time. Then they leave town in a state of exhaustion—and return the same way. The vacation playground is the Waterloo where they practically kill themselves trying to take advantage of all the recreation offered.

A typical day includes a workout on the tennis court at the crack of dawn, a dash to the beach, and then a few fast sets of croquet or ping-pong as a warm-up for an afternoon golf game. On the theory that one shouldn't sleep on vacation, they dance all night.

Exercise taken in moderate doses is healthful, but a sudden change of pace can be a shock.

This year it should be simpler to relax and take life easy on a stay-at-home holiday. With vacation time on your hands, those hop-skip-and-jump baths that are a habit all year can be replaced by the luke-warm bath-and-snooze road to beauty. It will help relax tense muscles.

Plan to spend a half hour in your tub. Soften the tepid water with some spicy bath salts or perhaps a pine bubble bath. Pin your curls up and lean back against the tub. Work up a good lather with a large rough cloth.

Now take a firm-bristled, long-handled bath brush and scrub your back as vigorously as you can. Follow with a cool rinse in the shower, a brisk rubdown and a 15-minute nap.

Spend your vacation wisely building health and beauty and you can be a belle all year instead of for just two weeks.

PARRISES HAVE SON

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Parris of El Paso are parents of a son born in that city Tuesday. Mrs. Parris is the former Miss Mary Ross Edwards of Lubbock. Her father, Ross Edwards, is visiting in the border city. The Parrises have another son, Porter Ross.

Receive Three In OES Club

Three candidates were initiated Tuesday night at a meeting of Past Matrons of OES with Mrs. Annie Potts, 2222 Eighth street, with Mesdames R. G. Bertram and Mary F. Hinton assistant hostesses. They were Mesdames Ben V. Smith, Carl Stewart and A. J. Harrison.

After the business session, refreshments were served. Martha Ann Hallmark was a guest.

Other members present were Mesdames Maude Bradley, Rafe Nabors, J. P. Middleton, Nannie B. Odom, Grover C. Mitchell, Bode Adams, Quincy Haney, L. D. Montgomery, Paul Hardwick, Charles C. Chambers, N. H McFarland, Willie Brown, Guy Casey, T. H. Barnard, Gussie Gammill and Mary Gulledge.

Director Pleased At Progress On Center

Satisfaction with the progress being made in the remodeling of Soldier's Recreation center, 1211 Thirteenth street, was expressed after an inspection this morning by J. W. Bradner of Fort Worth, regional director of the Federal Works agency.

The regional director paused in Lubbock for conferences with city and chamber of commerce officials, with whom he made the inspection. He and Mrs. Bradner are en route to Northern New Mexico with their two children, Jimmie and Jane Ann, where she and the children plan to spend the remainder of the summer. Santa Fe is their immediate destination.

The agency of which Bradner is regional director has provided $39,000 with which to remodel and furnish recreation centers here for white and negro soldiers. Work on the negro center, 2101 East Avenue C, has not yet been started. The actual remodeling of the buildings is to cost approximately $17,000, of which slightly more than $10,000 is being spent on the white center and slightly less than $7,000 on the negro building.

Bradner is given chief credit among federal officials with having brought about the final approval and the start of work on the local projects after many delays in several other federal agencies.

News Brief

Miss Hattilu C. White of Amarillo has been accepted as an officer candidate in the WAC and will leave soon for training at Des Moines, Iowa, according to report Tuesday by Lt. Col. Marvin B. Durrette, commanding officer of the district Army recruiting and induction center here.

The annual Burleson and Milam county reunion, scheduled for the third Sunday in August at Mackenzie State park, will not be held this year due to war conditions, it was announced today. The reunion, held the past several years, attracted approximately 100 persons from over the area. Mrs. Morgan Dickinson of Lubbock is secretary.

Winners of rotation games contests in Carlisle park Tuesday night and the war stamp prizes awarded them were announced this morning by Miss Effie Lou Keaster, director of the city summer parks recreation project, as follows: Delbert Henry, $1.50; Bobby Young, $1; Billy Waters, 75 cents, and Arden Davis, 50 cents. Similar contests are planned in Booker T. Washington negro park tonight, in Rollie Burns park Thursday night and Mackenzie state park Friday night, each from 7:30 until 10 o'clock.

C. W. Schneider of Ralls North route complained to police today his car use stamp had been stolen. Most of the reports made Tuesday night to police were of "nuisance" origin: boys were prowling in 2200-block Ninth street; there were window peepers in 2400-block Broadway; enclosing a dog in a house in 2400-block Sixth street did not prevent his barking from keeping the neighborhood awake, and a loud radio in 2300-block Thirteenth street was protested by those who preferred to sleep.

L. L. Kelso, 1809 Main street, is reported recovering in West Texas hospital, where he underwent major surgery Monday.

BULGARIANS GET CALL

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 11 (AP)—All Bulgars in Turkey are being called home to take up arms, it was reliably reported here today. These reports added that the Turkish police have taken a large number of undesirable Bulgarian citizens into custody during the past few days.

China has an area of 4,000,000 square miles.

815 BROADWAY DIAL 8821

— The CHIROPRACTOR-and You —

No. 11 of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of Chiropractic.

CASE HISTORY No. 274. A girl of 17 who came to a Chiropractor suffering from severe headaches which she attributed to her eyes. She had worn glasses for five years, changing to a stronger type of lens every six months. However, apalysis revealed that the headaches were caused by nerve pressure at the base of the skull. A series of spinal adjustments released the nerves from pressure and the headaches promptly ceased. Further, eyesight so improved that within a short time she was able to discard her glasses and has not worn them since.

CASE HISTORY No. 742. A severe case of asthma resulting from the drainage of mucous from dis-eased sinuses which had affected the bronchial tubes. This middle-aged man had tried every available means of relief without success. Brought to a Chiropractor "doubting that anything could be done," he was restored to normal health within a few weeks. The cause of his condition was simply nerve pressure between the brain and the sinuses. When this pressure was removed by spinal adjustment the abnormality quickly cleared up.

CASE HISTORY No. 17. A typical case of gastritis. The patient complained of headaches, pain in the stomach, a feeling of fullness and distress, heartburn, and was given to vomiting after food. The condition had existed for seven months, during two of which the patient had been unable to work. Analysis showed a displacement of a segment of the spine which had interfered with the nerve supply to the walls of the stomach. This interference was removed and immediately the patient began to show improvement. In a short time the stomach had normalized itself.

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC? Chiropractic is based on the fact that the brain is the human power house. It creates vital energy. Without brain energy no organ or part of the body can function. Brain energy is transmitted over the body's network of nerves. These nerves radiate from the spine, and it is in the spine that the nerves can be "pinched" by vertebrae, and the flow of energy over them impeded or cut off. When, in this way, the connection is broken between brain and one or more parts of the body, dis-ease is the inevitable result. By skilful analysis and precise spinal adjustments, the Chiropractor is able to locate and release impinged nerves and restore an uninterrupted flow of brain energy to the part affected. Health follows naturally.

Leaders Throw Off Secrecy On Parley

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

For once Messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill are going into conference without employing the customary smoke-screen of secrecy, and as matter of fact haven't even attempted to conceal the approach of what is likely to be one of the most momentous meetings of the war.

The trend of events indicate that there are at least two major problems with which the conference will be concerned, and they are these:

1. The opening up of that much and warmly debated front in western Europe, so as to capitalize to the full the amazing success of the Red offensive.

Post-War Policy Needed

2. The post-war policy which will bring the best cooperation among the United States, Russia and Britain in particular, and the other Allies in general. This contemplates the probability that the Muscovites are likely to emerge from the war as the dominant power both in Europe and the Orient.

These questions would seem to be urgent because of the unexpected speediness of the Allied successes both in Russia and in the Mediterranean theater. Plans which were made at the last meeting of the Allied chief presumably need bringing up to date.

From the military standpoint the question would seem to be what we do when we have finished with Sicily. There has been considerable talk of a quick invasion of the Italian mainland, to take advantage of the patent weakness there. However, the more one contemplates the task of invading and subduing the peninsula as the next major move, the less attractive it appears—a lot of labor for a return of doubtful value. The conquest of Italy has lost much of its fire, what with the deflation of Mussolini and the relegation of Fascism to the ash-can.

Need To Strike Hitler

The Nut we want to crack is Hitler, and we want to get at him the quickest way possible. The Russians again are urgently pointing out that the speedy way to smash the fuehrer is to open up that new front in France, while the Red armies have the Nazis on the run in the east. This would place the boche between two mighty mill-stones.

Invasion of the Balkans next wouldn't bring against Hitler from two sides the quick and heavy pressure which Moscow believes would wind the war up quickly. The alternative seems to be a blow through France, and one would expect this to figure largely in the Roosevelt-Churchill conference.

New Aircraft Sight Developed For Navy

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 11 (AP)—Simple new aircraft training gunsight which duplicates the performance of the regulation Spitfire combat sight used in fighter planes has been developed to train student Navy pilots Ira Mosher, vice-president and general manager of the American Optical company, announced today.

He added that an initial large order already had been delivered to the Navy.

Oil Price Hike Called 'Steal'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — The labor policy committee of the Office of Price administration asserted today that "America's big oil interests are attempting to put over a billion and a quarter dollar 'steal' on consumers" by asking 35 cents a barrel increase in crude oil prices.

"Such an increase has no justification," the committee said in a statement. "It would be a serious blow to the whole economic stabilization program and violate the President's 'hold-the-line' order. It would set in motion a flood tide of other demands for price adjustments, and open wider the gates of inflation."

Ickes Favors Increase

Secretary of Interior Ickes, as petroleum administrator for war has proposed a 35-cent increase in crude prices, saying it would stimulate discovery of new reserves and continued production from "marginal" fields and "stripper" wells.

The OPA labor group suggested that the government offer a premium for production from new wells if a spur is needed for development of new fields.

"Present ceiling prices are not, as contended, holding back output," its statement said. "The truth is that the profits of most oil companies are the highest in years."

Members of the labor group are Julius G. Luhrsen, representing the railroad labor organizations, Boris Shiskin of the American Federation of Labor and J. Raymond Walsh of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Temperature of boiling water is not increased by applying heat under it.

SPAAF Graduation Will Be Thursday

South Plains Army Air field will graduate another class of glider pilots in the post theater at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Presentation of awards to the outstanding soldier and best athlete by Col. Norman B. Olsen, commanding officer at SPAAF, will highlight the ceremony.

Nineteen Texans are included in this class which has representatives from practically every state in the nation.

Major Jack Payne, operations officer, will present the wings to the class. Lt. Harry M. Davis, school secretary, will administer the oath of office. Capt. John F. McKenna, Catholic chaplain, will give the invocation and benediction. The SPAAF band, under the direction of Warrant Officer Harry Dunham, will furnish the music. There will be no principal speaker at the ceremony, it was announced.

The Texans included in this class, all of whom are graduating as flight officers, are Hubert W. Lindsey and Luther H. L. Hokett of Fort Worth, Emmett Jefferson Mock of Hempstead, Sterling A. Randles of Willis, Edwin Connell McQuary of Amarillo, Howard Keith Davis of Wichita Falls, John H. Hampton, Jack Kent, Audrey C. Crow, F. C. Priestly, Thomas McGrath, William A. Moser and Irving W. Queal, jr., all of Dallas, William McCraven Cocke and Lauder B. Shultz of San Antonio, Arthur Harris, jr., of Bay City, and Wright M. Steele, jr., of Nacogdoches.

The United States has more female automobile drivers than any other country in the world.

Domestic Trend Concern Cited

TULSA, Aug. 11 (AP)—Senator E. M. Moore (R-Okla) declared in a nation-wide (CBS) radio address last night that the American people "are more concerned about losing their government at home than they are about winning the war."

"The people now know," the Oklahoma senator asserted, "that Congress has vested too much power in the President and that Congress was remiss in its duties when it allowed the executive branch to become so powerful through the building up of a bureaucracy which has become a substitute for constitutional government."

People Said Aroused

But, he added, the people are aroused and will act when they have an opportunity. This opportunity will come, he said, in congressional elections.

Senator Moore charged that Harold L. Ickes, interior secretary, was responsible for what he termed a threatened oil shortage. Moore said:

"He (Ickes) made a recommendation to Prentiss Brown for an advance in the price of crude oil but he made this recommendation as a gesture and just a day before the President issued his freezing order on prices and wages.

Yanks Help British Farmers In Harvest

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Aug. 11 (AP) — Fifty-eight members of the U. S. Army Air force — the first of a group of 200 who volunteered to help British farmers bring in a bumper crop — went harvesting in England's midlands today and incidentally discovered what the British mean by the word stooking.

The word mystery was cleared up quickly when the boys went onto the 17-acre wheat field of Farmer James Harris and began the task of shocking wheat. They found out quickly that when a British farmer says stooking he means stacking.

Air base officials pointed out that the men responded voluntarily to a county war agriculture committee appeal for harvest workers.

Farm boys in the outfit included Tech. Sgt. Frank R. Bolfe, of Floresville, Tex., a former tractor distributor who worked at an experimental station in San Antonio.

Pvt. Walter B. Renn, of Houston, who used to farm the acreage of his grandmother, Mrs. William A. Renn near Olief, Tex., was in another group composed largely of ground forces.

Game Is Important Training For Battle

BY PAT O'BRIEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—Football is important training for men preparing to go into battle—which is the only reason the Navy has made 100,000 collegiate trainees eligible for varsity gridiron competition this fall.

The Navy has ruled that about 77,000 cadets in its "V-12" program may play football for any of the 212 colleges or universities where they are stationed. The Army has forbidden varsity sports for its trainees, contending they don't have enough time.

To Have Strong Teams

The Navy pre-flight division intends also to have strong teams from each of its five schools for prospective aviators.

Lieutenant Commander Frank H. Wickhorst, head of the pre-flight athletic program, summarized the Navy view this way today:

"Many of the same elements of competition apply to both football and battle combat. Participants in both require bodily strength, mental alertness, expert training and competent leadership."

Stand Made clear

Naval officers made it clear that in permitting sailor-trainees to play collegiate football they were not attempting to provide spectator sports. In the Navy set-up athletics are taught as regular courses in the schooling of fighting men.

The "V-12" trainees will work on the gridiron along with civilian undergraduates. Navy pre-flight students will participate in specially arranged contests with leading collegiate outfits. The "V-12" teams will represent the colleges where they are stationed, but the pre-flights will be classified as Navy aggregations.

Districting Set-up

Navy Secretary Knox said Navy teams (preflight and elevens from naval bases must compete with teams from within the same area, as outlined by the National Collegiate Athletic association's districting system. This rule, Naval athletic officers believe, will have little, if any, effect on schedules, since it doesn't involve "V-12" players.

The secretary's rule that Navy teams are barred from "bowl or similar contests" similarly applies only to pre-flight school and naval base teams, and not to the "V-12" colleges.

The Hambletonian To Be Run Today

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — The largest field since 1930—12 of the nation's top three-year-old harness horses—goes postward at Empire City today in the 17th renewal of the $40,000 Hambletonian, transplanted blue ribbon event of the sulky season, but only three horses stand a hot chance of hitting the jackpot.

A crowd of 20,000 was expected to watch this Kentucky Derby of trotting, shifted because of transportation difficulties from Goshen, N. Y., to the Yonkers, N. Y., track.

Volo Song, owned by William H. Strang of Brooklyn, ruled a 3 to 2 pre-race favorite to cross the line first.

Connie Is Already Planning For '44

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11 (AP) —Connie Mack said today he sees no reason why big league baseball should be discontinued in 1944 and disclosed that he is already planning for next season.

"Ninety-five per cent of the country, and our soldiers and sailors all over the world want the game continued," said the 80-year-old manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, as he prepared to leave for Cleveland on the A's last western trip of the season.

In China, family names precede given names, so that one might be called "Smith John."

Sports World This Week Is Cooking On The Front Burner

BY OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—Shootin' the sports breeze:

The sports world is cooking on the front burner today with just about as busy a mid-week program as you'll find for the duration. Gunder Haegg headlines a track meet at Triborough stadium; the Hambletonian will be run at Empire City; 11 major league ball games are listed; there is flat racing at eight tracks and a horde of fights, featured by the Archibald-Rafferty go at Milwaukee. . . .

TABLES IN REVERSE

It was one year ago today that the St. Louis Cardinals, trailing the Dodgers by nine games, started the drive which carried them to the National league pennant and the world championship. They won 11 of their next 12 from this date . . . P. S.—The Dodgers are 16 games back of the Cards today and have despaired of catching sight of the Redbirds this season . . .

PHILLIES TRADING STOCK

There have been 14 intra-league deals in the National league since the season opened and the Philadelphia Phillies have been involved in nine of them. The seven men who have gone to the Phillies to help pull it out of the cellar have a combined batting average of .218 . . .

WANT CAMILLI DAY

Dodger fans — many of whom booed Dolph Camilli some six weeks ago—now are showering the front-office with letters requesting permission for a Camilli day at Ebbets field . . .

One letter voices the sentiment—"We don't want Dolph to go away feeling that we sold him down the river." . . . The howls which followed Camilli's transfer to the Giants on waivers mostly were directed at Branch Rickey, the erstwhile fox of Sportsman's park. He replied: "Naturally, I am hurt by the criticism of the fans. But I'm trying to force a pennant winner at Brooklyn and to do it I must rebuild." . . .

STORIES ABOUT THE HAIG

Walter Hagen's return to the golfing wars in the Ryder cup matches wasn't too successful from the winning standpoint but it revived stories of the days when The Haig was becoming the greatest figure in golf.

One story concerns the time he was scheduled to tee off at 9 a. m. and finally arrived at the crowded first tee at 9:45—in a taxi and clothed in a full dress suit. Sir Walter smacked his drive down the alley, bowed to the gallery and strode to the locker room to change clothes. . . .

And then there was the time Walter, late again, showed up on the tee and was confronted by a pompous official. "Been practicing a few shots?" the official queried with a sneer. "Nope," said Hagen, "been having a few."

A's LEAD ONE DEPARTMENT

So far this season the Philadelphia Athletics have been shut out in 14 contests. The American league record is 29, unwillingly created by the Washington Senators in 1909. On their present showing, the A's will be fortunate enough to escape the stigma of replacing the Senators in this section of the record book. . . .

Haegg To Be Trying For New Record In The Mile Tonight

BY OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—Predicting that a 3:57 clocking is possible for the mile, Gunder Haegg of Sweden shoots for the mythical four-minute time as he makes his farewell American appearance at Triborough stadium tonight.

The Flying Fireman will face four rivals as he attempts to break the 4:02.6 world record set by Arne Anderson, a fellow countryman, since Haegg reached the United States.

Feels He's Ready

The Swede with the flowing haircut raced to seven world records in Sweden last summer and the mark which he coveted most was his 4:04.6 record for the mile. In a transcontinental tour, the Smorgasbord Special has clipped the tape in two mile runs in 4:05.3—a new American record—and again in 4:05.4. So he feels he is ready to run the "mile of the century" and promises to go all out in an effort to regain that mile standard from Anderson.

His opponents will include Bill Hulse, former NYU star; Gil Dodds, Boston theological student; Rudy Simms of the New York Pioneer club and Al Daily, formerly of Manhattan college.

Handicaps Given Two

Simms and Daily will work with handicaps expected to provide incentive in the late stages. The former, runner up in the national junior 1,500-meter race, has been granted a 95-yard edge while Daily, national junior 800-meter champion, was given a 105-yard handicap.

Hulse and the Flying Parson will work from scratch and attempt to set a pace that will force Haegg in the early stages.

Durst Resigns As San Diego Manager

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 11 (AP) —Cedric Durst resigned Tuesday as manager of the San Diego coast league baseball club.

His resignation followed the club's return from a disastrous road trip, only half a game out of seventh place.

Durst, a native of Austin, Tex., had been with the San Diego club since 1936, and served as manager since 1939. The Padres finished in first division every year except one during Durst's regime.

George Detore, veteran catcher, was named manager for the rest of the season.

Eddie Miller Of Reds Seeking Hitherto Unattainable Marks Of Fielding For Shortstops

BY PAUL SCHEFFELS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 — The Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers collide today at Ebbets field, but important as the series will be to both National league clubs, Eddie Miller — as an individual — will command almost as much attention as the score.

The Reds are trying to overtake the second-place Pirates, and the Dodgers are striving to keep out of the second division, but Miller is pointing for a hitherto unattainable standard of fielding among short-stops.

He's After New Records

Miller — when he transferred from the Braves to the Reds this spring — took along a major defensive mark of .983. This season even that standard is ready to fall before the king of the short-fielders.

In 1942, Miller committed only 13 errors while tackling 748 chances to better the mark of .978 hung up by Johnny Cooney in 1927 for the National league and the .976 chalked up by Deacon Scott for the American in 1918.

This year the 26-year-old native of Pittsburgh has participated in 102 games and while handing out 353 assists and making 217 outputs, he has committed only six errors. He's fumbled only one grounder to compile an average of .990.

Can Better Another Mark

Miller has participated in 78 double plays and in 36 of those he has been the pivot man. With just about two-thirds of the season gone, Eddie can easily better the major league mark of 128 double plays participated in and in addition may lead his team to a new two-ply club record.

Cincinnati holds the major league mark for double plays, 194, and this season has registered 122 to come within firing distance of a new standard.

There were no games scheduled in the National league yesterday and only two in the American—the Browns belting the Yankees, 10-2 and the White Sox tripping the Red Sox, 4-2 in a night game.

Denny Galehouse scattered 11 Yankee blows as George McQuinn and Chet Laabs set the St. Louis slugging pace. McQuinn slapped out his seventh homer of the year in the first inning and Laabs let loose with his 13th in the fourth. Bud Metheny homered for the Yankees.

Ed Smith, making his first home appearance since he was suspended for being out of condition on July 8, stopped the Red Sox with six hits for his seventh success, a triumph that put Chicago into undisputed possession of third place.

A three-run sixth inning in which Rookie George Metkovich's wild throw let in the final run of the frame, put Chicago in front to stay.

Yesterday's star — Ed Smith who held Boston to six hits and pitched the White Sox to a 4-2 triumph.

Rice Letterman Is Called By The Navy

HOUSTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Ted Scruggs, letterman end at Rice in 1941 and 1942, reported for practice with the Owl footballers Tuesday for the first time since the start of summer workouts.

Last night, he received notice from the Navy to report for active duty. Scruggs became a member of the Navy's V-5 program in May. He leaves tomorrow for Dallas where he will take his final examination.

Tech Works On Plan To Use Cotton Burrs

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (U.P.) — Texas Technological college at Lubbock is working on a plan to utilize cotton burrs for war purposes, it was announced here today by the civilian defense council.

The University of Texas is working on a plan to utilize cotton in laminated and reinforced plastics, and A. and M. college is working on methods to increase the production of cottonseed oil.

Other defense items noted today were: A request for local defense organizations to aid a farm labor recruiting drive; intensified collection of tin cans and fats, and direction to stores to ship emptied toothpaste tubes to the tin salvage institute in Newark, N. J.

Extravagant footwear, made of lavish materials, characterized Europe's nobility during the Middle Ages.

That Girl on Broadway says thank goodness we don't have to believe everything we hear—it's bad enough to have to listen to most of it!

It's a great pity things weren't so arranged that an empty head, like an empty stomach, wouldn't let its owner rest until he put something in it!

FROM time to time since the feverish activities of war have glutted various cities of the land, The Plainsman has read in newspapers published in affected cities numerous comments on a generally irritating problem.

That problem has to do with temporary citizens seeking to rent houses and apartments, but who find doors closed against them because they have children.

"No children" has been the frequent watchword of rent property-owners all over the country and the policy has contributed to much dissatisfaction, if not downright hard feeling, in many, many instances.

Although rent property of all sizes and descriptions has been at a premium here for many years — and especially during the past two years, since establishment of Army and other war-born concerns in Lubbock—The Plainsman has not until very recently heard of any "no children" edicts on the part of rent property-owners.

However, in the past 10 days three mothers, all newcomers and all wives of soldiers recently assigned here, have complained to us that they can get no housing accommodations, simply because they have children.

BECAUSE The Plainsman has three very active youngsters of his own, he naturally sympathize with newcomers here who find rental bars against children.

But also because he has three very active youngsters of his own, The Plainsman likewise readily understands why landlords prefer to rent to "adults only."

There is no getting around it, most active children will wear out rugs and furniture more rapidly than adults. And while chubby baby fingers are cute, and nice to write about, when those chubby fingers get hold of a crayon, or a pencil, or some scissors, they can and do play hob with wallpaper and curtains!

On the aesthetic side of the subject, it must be agreed that: (1) we were all children once and where would we be if life in general had been set against us?; (2) children are the hope of the future world and the future nation; (3) having children is a rare privilege and a God-given right; and (4) all of us should do everything we can to make life kinder to and better for the little ones, whether they be ours, or someone else's.

On the practical side of the subject, however, we must remember that little children —and some not so little—are frequently destructive; they will laugh and shout and cry upon occasions and thereby disturb others in adjacent sides of duplexes or in nearby apartments, making the adjacent quarters less desirable.

So the landlord who says "no children" isn't without his side in any fair discussion on the problem. And, in the final analysis, he is not personally responsible for guaranteeing shelter to the youngsters of the other fellow.

TO the ladies who have talked with us about their inability to get living quarters due to having children, we have frankly expressed a doubt that the minds of many landlords can be changed by a newspaper appeal.

We believe the majority of landlords here have not put up bars against children, because we'd have heard more about it if they had. Furthermore, we are personally acquainted with at least a dozen families who have moved here since the housing shortage reached its peak yet who, despite having all the way from one to four children, have secured living quarters as quickly as other new families without children.

We'd like to see everybody in Lubbock — newcomers and old-timers, alike — made and kept happy about everything, all the time. But things just don't work out that way.

To families having difficulty in finding living quarters here due to children, we can't do much more than express sympathy, and best wishes for an improvement in the situation.

However, they make take solace in the fact that they are not alone in their dilemma. The same situation prevails to some extent in every war-crowded city in the country — including their own home towns!

The other day The Plainsman received a very interesting—and highly entertaining letter—from a lady who recounted difficulties with a gopher who has taken abode in her Victory Garden.

It was one of the best letters we've ever received from a reader and the public would have gotten a great kick out of it. But a reporter, who had his mind in Arkansas instead of on his business, lost it while seeking information on gophers and their control.

A thousand pardons to the lady, but will she re-write the letter and send it in? Or, even better, send along a copy if she has one.

The letter is too good to be kept from print.

WELL, whatever else may be said about our government, it certainly is well organized — not only at home, but also abroad. It is so thoroughly organized, in fact, that we have organizations organizing organizations; co-ordinators co-ordinating co-ordinators.

Marshall McNeil, Scripps-Howard newspapers correspondent in Washington, explains—as well as anyone can—just how we are going to administer to the countries we conquer and thereby save the world. Reports he:

"The [illegible] plan OLLA and WSA, as well as OFRRO and OEW, soon will be in the field in Sicily, operating under AMGOT. It will finally be a part of UNRRA, the proposed permanent counterpart of NAEB, which will be subject to the military. OFEC's ADs will have top responsibility for our part in UNRRA's work in ETO and elsewhere.

"This is the new international double-talk, deriving from the alphabetical agencies set up for relief, rehabilitation and military government of liberated territories.

"Translated: OFEC, the Office of Foreign Economic Co-ordination; OLLA, Office of Lend-Lease Administration; WSA, War Shipping Administration; OFRRO, Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation Operations; OEW, Office of Economic Warfare; AMGOT, Allied Military Government of Occupied Territory; UNRRA, United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration; NAEB, North Africa Economic Board, ETO, European Theater of Operations, OFEC's ADs, Office of Foreign Economic Co-ordination's Area Directors."

One Is Beloved

BY LOUISE PLATT HAUCK

(Copyright, 1943, NEA Service, Inc.)

YESTERDAY: Sue wonders why her brother is so worried about her future. Does it mean that he wants to get married? The afternoon following their talk she parks her car on the river bluff, and is enraged when another car crashes into her.

Chapter Three

GIFT OF ROSES

"Don't!" the young man protested feebly, turning his eyes from the drop below. "You can't say anything stronger than I'm saying to myself. The only excuse for me—if it is an excuse!—is that I had a rather upsetting piece of news just as I took over the car—and it made me forget everything else. Also I've always kept everything in such order in this car it never occurred to me any man would return it in such a condition."

He opened the door and climbed out, at once proving himself a true prophet. His knees bent slowly beneath him, and if it hadn't been for Sue's firm little hand at his elbow he would have collapsed ignominiously at her feet.

"Never scratched a fender in all the years I've driven," he muttered. "Never killed even a yellow pup. And now!"

"Sit on one of these rocks," she directed. "No, facing away from the river, idiot! Now get some of this air into your lungs. You'll soon be all right."

"I'm all right now," he insisted. "But you—" suddenly a note of horror crept into his voice — "there's blood on your face! You're hurt! My God, I've killed you after all!"

"Bit my lip," she retorted, and dabbed at it with a scrap of handkerchief. "Get hold of yourself, can't you? I loathe hysterics."

The word jerked him upright as perhaps it had been intended to do. After a moment he said in a controlled tone: "Sorry! Never acted like this before in my life, give you my word! It was only the idea that I couldn't control the car—and you so little, looking like a child with that red scarf on . . . we'll skip it!" he assured her with a wan smile. "Unless you want to have me arrested? I'm in entire agreement with you if you do."

She shook her head absently, her eyes on the jammed cars.

"This is the dickens of a mess," she announced finally. "I can't get out until your car is moved, and I don't seem to care for the idea of your starting it."

"It'll hold in reverse."

"Maybe—and again maybe not. According to your own tale, you don't know much about what it will or will not do. I think we'd better walk down to the nearest telephone and call for a man from a garage. It's beginning to get dark, you see."

"I'll walk, you mean." He stood up again, this time purposefully and strong. "You sit down here—unless you want to get into your car and wait—"

"No, I think I won't do that!"

"Don't blame you! I won't be ten minutes. I think I remember a little store at the foot of the hill. I'll call from there, if you'll give me the name of a good garage. Stranger in your town, you see!"

Tall, Blue-Eyed

She snapped out the information he asked for, and seated herself one one of the great rocks. Lights were beginning to prick through the dusk. She shivered a little, partly from the chill in the air, partly from reaction after her fright. To divert her mind she speculated idly as to the sort of young man this was who had been too greatly occupied with his own thoughts to inspect his car, so terrified by the nearness of a fatal accident that he had wellnigh collapsed, but withal brisk, decisive, even authoritative when confronted by the need for action.

He was tall, broad-shouldered and blue-eyed; that much she remembered. For the rest she had received an imprssion of superlative good clothes worn just to the right degree of shabbiess, thick blond hair uncovered, a pleasant voice.

It lacked only a few minutes of the dinner hour when she let herself quietly into the apartment. She had her own reasons for wishing to escape Allen's notice. She was relieved to have Maggie inform her that her brother had telephoned; he would not be home for dinner and Miss Sue was not to wait for him if he had not returned in time for Barbara Webb's party.

"And I must say," Maggie added reproachfully, "you don't look like you ought to be going out till all hours yourself, Miss Sue! You passed me your word you'd get home in time to lie down for an hour or so before dinner."

"I'm all right," Sue told her shortly. "I'll rest after I've eaten. Loads of time. Don't fuss, old dear!"

Dozens And Dozens

It was a good party, lasting until four, and she slept until nearly noon the next day, oblivious to Allen's tiptoed visit to her door before he left for his office, to Maggie's anxious peeps into the darkened room. She was sitting up in bed, yawning and relaxed, when the servant rapped decisively.

"Well, you have had a good rest and no mistake, Miss Sue! Here's a box just come for you."

"A box! A packing case, don't you mean?" The girl gasped at its proportions. James Kettle was the current donor of floral offerings; and James' flowers invariably appeared in a neat square box, as tidy and conservative as he was himself. Maggie was having some difficulty maneuvering this huge affair through the door in spite of its lack of weight.

In another moment they were both gasping, young mistress and the old woman.

"He must have bought up an entire rose house! Dozens and dozens of 'em, Maggie! Who on earth!"

Her gay evening, the long hours of sound sleep had erased the recollection of yesterday's adventure. Now it returned to her sharply. Something in the extravagant profusion of the gift recalled the man who had so nearly killed her the day before. He was a person to go from one extreme to another, she thought, smiling.

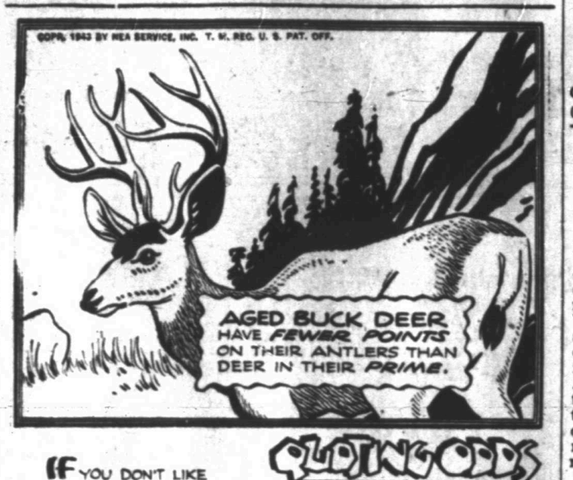

She examined his card with interest. "Mr. Robert Trenton," it read; and below in very black and firm script: "Thank God they're not for your funeral!"

She began to laugh, softly at first and then so whole-heartedly that she laid her cheek down on her bunched knees. What a — what a black and white sort of person this was! No subtleties to him, no shades of meaning! Something rather fine about his absolute acceptance of the seriousness of the affair, Sue liked that.

AN INTELLIGENT POLICY

Agreement will be virtually unanimous, we believe, with two recent actions by officials of Panhandle-South Plains Fair association.

One was the decision to cancel the 1943 fair. Reasons for the cancellation are too obvious for mention.

The other action was the re-affirmation of the policy that the officials would prefer no fair at all to the holding of a bad fair. It is their determination that when Panhandle-South Plains fairs are resumed —and they will be resumed—they will measure fully to the quality of those of the past.

Although many of us may have spoken disparagingly and belittlingly of fairs in the past, if we will be entirely honest we will have to admit that, on the whole, they have been darn good fairs. Certainly there has been room for improvement. There always will be. But, taking everything into consideration, it is doubtful whether there is as good a fair of its approximate size—which means a good many larger ones—in the entire United States as our own Panhandle-South Plains fair uniformly has been.

Our fair is a proven product of very superior quality. Few of us want that quality to suffer. Most of us are anxious that the quality will be improved from fair to fair. Those of us who do have this feeling cannot do other than endorse the action that has been taken in connection with the 1943 exposition.

BY DAN PARKER

New York Sports Writer

DISTANCE, which is supposed to lend enchantment, has had quite the opposite effect on my memories of Army life in the first World war. Every day brings me additional proof of the fact that, compared with the modern fighting nephew of Uncle Sam, the American soldier of 1917-18 vintage was a poorly equipped, badly-trained, ill-fed pawn of fate whose only advantage over the 1943 model was that the war was almost over when he got into it.

The soldier of 1943 is a specialist, chosen for his particular line of duty because of special aptitude for that type of work. After he receives his basic training, he is assigned to a camp or specialists' school where he learns all there is to be known about his particular line of work. When he has become an expert in his line, he is sent overseas for further training and seasoning. By this time his morale and physique have been built up until he is a formidable fighting man, not just a transplanted civilian with a uniform.

It would probably shock soldiers of the modern U. S. Army to learn that, as a member of a combat unit, I arrived in France in 1918 without ever having handled a rifle or any other kind of weapon. I was sergeant of a .37 mm. gun platoon in the headquarter's company of an infantry regiment that didn't own a 37 mm. gun even when the armistice was signed.

Typical of the superficial character of the training we received was the gas attack course. One afternoon in France we were marched out to a poison gas school. There, a seedy looking sergeant in a baggy uniform gave us a lecture on the various forms of gas. It was obvious that the sergeant didn't know the meaning of half the words he was mispronouncing. When he got to the word lachrymatory he said "lackamatory" and one of the purists in our company made a vulgar noise by pursing the lips. That ended the lecture and we were hustled back to our company area as much in the dark as ever about poison gas. I've seen the alert, well-informed type of instructor the modern U. S. Army uses and can attest that the improvement is profound.

In France I carried a pistol, but never had a chance to fire even a practice shot from it. While attending a specialists' school at Clamecy I received a one month's course in the handling of the 37 millimeter gun, or one-pound cannon as we called it, and was supposed to go back and pass on my fund of technical knowledge about the weapon to the members of my platoon—but alas, when I returned there wasn't even a wooden cannon on which I could show off my superficial skill as an almost artillery man. At school there hadn't been enough ammunition to allow any of us to acquire more than passing familiarity with the gun. And all this, mind you, after we had been at war for a year and a half!

MY first contact with the inefficiency of the Army of World War No. I came at the draft board where I was accepted for service, although suffering from gastric ulcers. Having been previously rejected when I tried to enlist, I was glad enough to be taken in the draft, though wondering vaguely how I would fare on Army fodder. I found out soon enough. Switching overnight from a light, bland diet to Italian meat balls for breakfast, I lost every meal I ate for two weeks. At first I reported to the infirmary daily, but after being told by the mail-order doctor from the Kentucky mountains who was in charge that I had a sour stomach and should eat sour pickles to counteract it, I decided it would be better to starve in silence. However, when I lost 20 pounds in a few weeks, I returned in desperation to the infirmary, was hustled off to the base hospital and after a month's observation, during which my illness was diagnosed as diabetes, cancer, tumor, gall bladder trouble and a few other ailments which slip the memory, I was operated on. Only then would the learned diagnosticians believe that my trouble was exactly what I had told them it was—good, old-fashioned journalistic ulcers.

Two weeks after the operation, with a still unhealed wound in my abdomen almost a foot long, I was back walking guard—armed with a club in lieu of a rifle.

MY long-range impression of the Army of 1918—at least of the draft divisions—is that there wasn't head or tail to it. We had only the scantiest information as to what was going on in the front lines several hundred miles away. There didn't seem to be any over-all plan that involved us. If the reports that reached us were true, we were to have gone into the lines as a relief division along about December, 1918, but on that hazy November day when the second and correct report of the signing of the armistice reached us, we were still practically as green as when we arrived at the cantonment back in the states as raw recruits. If I had to do it all over again, I'd prefer to approach it the new way. Even though its costing the country infinitely more, I know the new way is the right way.

Ernie Pyle Tells A Simple Story Of A Sailor And His Dog

Most Of Sicilian Campaign Was Easy For Navy

BY ERNIE PYLE

Journal Roving Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN SICILY — (By Wireless. Delayed)—Before closing this series about the Navy, I want to tell you about one member of our ship's crew who didn't make the invasion trip with us. She was the ship's dog, and this is the story of her and her master.

He is a regular Navy man, a chief petty officer of many years' service. He is tattooed, windburned, a bachelor, and quietly profane. His officers say he is an excellent worker. I'm not giving his name because the story concerns his getting drunk.

ERNIE PYLE

It seems that several months ago some sailors from our ship picked up a German shepherd puppy. She belonged to the whole crew, but the puppy took to our friend and he took to it, and sort of by acclamation she became recognized as his dog.

The puppy grew into a beautiful dog, smart, alert and sweet. But when hot weather came along she got the mange. Our friend doctored it with everything he could find, and other sailors helped him with the doctoring, but still the mange got worse. They finally clipped her hair close so they could get medicine to her skin more thoroughly, but nothing did any good.

When they hit the last port before leaving Africa my friend told me he went ashore and searched the country for a French or American Army veterinary, but couldn't find any.

Sea's Tradition Followed

When I came aboard ship this beautiful dog was frisky and alert, but the sailors had given up all hope of curing her. Something had to be done. The other sailors left it up to our friend. Whatever he chose to do had their approval. He told me later that you couldn't just put her ashore, for she had grown up aboard ship and wouldn't know how to take care of herself on land.

So our friend solved it in his own way, the morning after I came aboard. He didn't ask anybody to help him, or tell anybody what he was going to do. He just tied a weight around her neck and let her down into the water. That was her end—in the tradition of the sea.

I HEARD about it a few hours later, and stopped by the rail to tell our friend I was sorry. He couldn't talk about it. He just said "Lets go below and have a cup of coffee."

A few hours after that I saw that he had started having something else.

In the mid-afternoon I saw one of the ship's officers talking to him very seriously. It didn't look too good. Drinking aboard ship just doesn't go. The next day our friend was called before the mast and given a light suspension of privileges.

At lunch the boys were kidding him about it and he said, well hell, he wasn't sore about it, for obviously they had to do something to him.

That evening I happened to be sitting with the officer who had sentenced our friend, and just to make conversation I mentioned that it was sad about the dog being gone. He sat up and said, "What!"

I said yes, the dog was gone.

He said, "My God!" And then he said:

"He's one of the best men on the ship, and I knew something was wrong, but I tried for half an hour to get it out of him and he wouldn't tell me."

The officer sat there looking as though he was sick, and again he said, "So that was it! My God!"

"Peace" Comes Early

By the end of the first week after the Sicilian invasion there was almost no indication of warfare along our beach front. The German radio told us every night that we were getting bombed, but actually a stultifying peace had settled upon us.

Hour by hour we could feel the ship slide back into her normal ways. The watches were dropped down to "Condition Three," which is almost the peacetime regime. The ship's laundry reopened for the first time in weeks. Movies were borrowed and shown after supper. The wearing of white hats became optional once more. The men went swimming over the side, and fished with rod and reel from the forecastle head. The captain had time on his hands and played gin rummy with me when I got worn out with writing. Finally liberty parties were let ashore for sightseeing.

I KNEW then that the war, for our little family in this special phase, was over. So I shouldered my barracks bags and trundled myself ashore in Sicily for good.

These few weeks with the Navy were grand, and I hated to part from the friends I had made. Too, this taste of civilized living had been a strange delight, and yet for some perverse reason I seemed to look forward to going back to the old soldier's way of sleeping on the ground and not washing before breakfast and fighting off fleas. Man is a funny creature.

ODT Bans Special Service To Resorts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — No Supplemental train or sleeping car service, in addition to present schedules, will be authorized for operation next winter to Florida, the gulf coast, Arizona, California, or other winter resort areas, the Office of Defense Transportation said today.

ODT said military and essential civilian traffic would not permit the operation of supplemental service to the winter resort areas.

Under the ruling, service will be limited to that in operation in the week ending September 26, 1942.

Co-Op Meeting Is Held Here

Representatives of farm cooperatives of every kind from about 30 West Texas counties, together with a number of visitors from other sections of the state, gathered here Tuesday to attend, many to become affiliated with, the state federation of cooperatives. The federation, which held one of its seven district meetings here, is a clearing house, L. T. Mayhugh of Edmonson, president, said. Others described the federation as a vehicle by which all cooperatives might join in making their "total effort" felt in Washington, Austin, or anywhere else there is need for legislation.

H. H. Williamson, director of the A. and M. college extension department, said no group has done more than cooperatives—and with so little "fuss and feathers." Williamson said these organizations will play an important role in the post-war farm program.

Urged To Stay In Politics

A. B. Tarwater, head of the Plainview Cooperative, former Hale county representative in the state legislature for 12 years, said farmers should get into politics and stay there, fighting militantly for the rights that industry and business long ago won by tariffs. He said AAA checks have been the only "tariff" the farmer ever had. He said the usefulness of these agencies is passing, with farmers now organized to control their own business, instead of the government. Other speakers strongly implied that co-ops will supplant the AAA and other agencies of "bureaucrats" after the war.

Sterling C. Evans, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston; W. J. McAnelly, president of the Houston Bank for Cooperatives; V. P. Lee, president of the Production Credit Corp., Houston, were on the afternoon program.

"Fed Up" On OPA

Mallones said when farmers were told to reduce their cotton acreage, and that supplies of cottonseed meal then would be used for fertilizers, and with 80 million beef cattle in the country and "we have to eat stale fish," he was "fed up" on OPA and others who didn't know "gee" from "haw," telling farmers what to do.

The importance of preserving farm credit systems when congress reconvenes was pictured as one of the grave problems. Another speaker said the wide margins between West Texas grains that farmers sold for 70 and 80 cents and which later brought $2.50 to $3 a hundred made wide room for more farm cooperatives, even in West Texas, where the groups already are strong.

Evans said the land bank of Houston stood two booms, two depressions, and was the first government encouragement gesture for farm cooperatives; that today it has 10 million dollars capital, all owned by farmers' associations, with 32 millions capital and surplus.

Sugar Hike Seen As Bootlegging Threat

DENVER, Aug. 11 (AP) — Take sugar off the rationing list, add to it the current whisky shortage, mix in America's apparently ever-mounting thirst, and you've got a recipe for bootlegging that may outstrip that of prohobition days.

That's the opinion of the alcohol tax unit of the Treasury department in Denver, from District Supervisor A. V. Anderson on down. They're officers who matched wits with the illicit distillers when the 18th amendment was in effect and will have to do it again if bootlegging flares up anew.

Right now, unlawful distilling is on a small scale, said J. L. White, investigator, and he wants the public's sugar supply somewhat controlled so bootleggers can't get a lot of it for their mash.

"If we allow sugar to be sold in unrestricted quantities, it will be just what the bootleggers are waiting for," he said today. "This doesn't mean we can't double sugar rations for the average consumer without running a risk of bootlegging, though as long as some form of rationing is maintained, we've got a safeguard."

Suit Filed Attacking Loan Law's Validity

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—A suit attacking validity of a new state law regulating loans has been set for hearing Aug. 20 in district court here.

The litigation was filed by Walter Watts of Houston and other plaintiffs from Fort Worth and Dallas. Attorneys for the plaintiffs were former Governor James V. Allred, Everitt L. Looney and Edward Clark of Austin.

The petition asks a temporary injunction against enforcement and a declaratory judgment of plaintiffs legal rights under the law.

DIES IN CRASH

WACO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Aviation Cadet Frederick Larwitz, Chicago, Ill., was killed today when his Waco Air field basic trainer crashed near Mt. Calm, the field's public relations office said.

You can hear corn grow.

PROMISES REDISTRICTING STUDY—Fred Erisman, new president of the District and County Attorneys Association of Texas said the subject of redistricting Texas will receive the association's close attention during the coming year. He is serving his third term as district attorney of Gregg county.

Churchill And King Confer

QUEBEC, Aug. 11 (AP)—Within the ancient battlements of an obsolete fortress, the prime ministers of Britain and Canada surveyed today the heartening successes of Allied stabs at the Axis and the strategy needed to expand them into assaults designed to attain a total victory.

The conferences between Winston Churchill of Britain and W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada and their chiefs of staff were a prelude to later discussions between Churchill and President Roosevelt and British-American military experts.

Bad News For Enemy

The ever-spectacular Churchill again had surmounted the dangers of a wartime crossing of the Atlantic for war talks which appeared certain to be translated into more bad news for enemy forces already reeling back on worldwide battlefronts.

Naturally, there could be no announcement which would disclose to the Axis as well as the United Nations the trend of the momentous conversations taking place

No Russian Representatives

On the word of President Roosevelt in Washington Russia once more was sending no representatives to sit in either on the British-Canadian parleys here or the scheduled British-American meetings.

To avoid giving the Axis any pointers on commanders in specific war theaters brought here for the war deliberations, only the names of the British chiefs of staffs who always accompany Churchill to such meetings were announced.

They were Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound, first sea lord; Air Chief Marshal Sir Charles Portal, chief of air staff; Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the imperial general staff; Vice-Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, who commands the renowned commandos, and Lt. General Sir Hastings Ismay, chief of staff to Churchill in his capacity as minister of defense.

Members Of Party

The prime minister's wife and daughter, Mary, the latter a subaltern in the auxiliary territorial service, also came along with Churchill on his fourth visit to North America since Britain went to war.

Other members of the Churchill party were Lord Leathers, minister of transport; Wing Commander G. P. Gibson, who led the squadron of British planes which breached the vital Moehne and Eder dams in Germany; Lord Moran, president of the royal college of physicians; J. M. Martin, Churchill's chief private secretary; T. L. Rowan, private secretary, and Commander C. R. Thompson, personal assistant to the prime minister.

Congratulations To:

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Townsend of 1518 Eighteenth street on birth of a son weighing 8 pounds 15 ounces at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in Lubbock General hospital. Townsend is employed by Radford Grocery Co.

Corp. and Mrs. Sam S. Green of 2202 Avenue O on birth of a daughter weighing 5 pounds 12 ounces at 7:11 o'clock Tuesday night in West Texas hospital. Corp. Green is stationed at Lubbock Army Air field.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Edwards of Lubbock route 4 on birth of a son weighing 6 pounds 15 ounces at 8:12 o'clock this morning in Lubbock General hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hancock of 2127-B Fourteenth street on birth of a daughter weighing 6 pounds 14 ounces at 12 noon today in Lubbock General hospital.

Juveniles Keep Officers Busy

The youngsters continue to keep juvenile officials on the jump.

Numerous runaway boys and girls have been reported here and in the South Plains in recent weeks. Several stolen cars have been traced to some of them. Several have been investigated in connection with sex charges, among them a 16-year-old girl Tuesday from a nearby county at the father's request.

Two pairs of pliers and a girl figured in one of the most recent investigation. Father of the girl protested two youngsters, 16 and 14, had been coming to see his daughter, and that they had walked off with his pliers. The boys were required to return the pliers—and it was implied their visiting with the daughter would not be welcomed any more.

Boy, 15, Sought

A 15-year-old boy was sought for investigation into a kicked-out concessions stand display window.

Trial of two Amarillo boys, 15 and 16, for theft of a car will be public Aug. 18, since they elected to fight the case and hired an attorney. They took a machine here and were arrested in possession of it several days ago in Lamesa, it is charged. The younger boy had done a "stretch" in a Texas reformatory; the older had been arrested numerous times by Amarillo police and had been befriended and given a job by the owner of the car he allegedly stole.

A 12-year-old negro boy who admitted theft of three biks was paroled to his parents, as was an 11-year-old white boy who said he had taken seven bikes since moving here recently from Quanah.

John W. Wilson is city-county juvenile counsellor, and he investigates most of the cases, which are heard by Juvenile Judge G. V. Pardue.

McGee Funeral

mittee that included McGee, McGee, who was to serve several years each in the capacities of county judge and attorney (some said six years each), bought a strip of land from Bean and kept it throughout his lifetime. The late Jim Nelson, father of Lloyd Nelson, who still lives here, and associates painted a house that was renovated or built on the property.

Became Well Known

About that time, possibly eight or nine years before W. D. Benson, who lives in Lubbock, and Dan W. Burkhalter, who now lives in Borger and was seen here several days ago on a brief visit, established their law firm, McGee became known for what the oldtimers term "gentlemenly qualities of the old school, which meant he never was heard to use a term of vulgarity and which further meant he was always willing to be of service to his fellow man, in all the ramifications that implied in the days when neighborliness had a different meaning from the present."

As county judge, Judge McGee was ex-officio superintendent of schools in Lubbock county. Bean recalls that Judge McGee wrote the bill and shoved it through the legislature that established Lubbock Independent School district.

Was Food Administrator

Other oldtimers recall that, in the first World war, the then former Judge McGee was food administrator here.

In those days the public left its sugar and other ration cards with the merchants, and some of those merchants still have in their possession some of the old cards, never called for when the war was over — all signed with the name of John R. McGee.

Throughout his residence here, Judge McGee was active in church and civic duties. He was a charter member of the First Christian church, in which here and elsewhere he was affiliated 72 years. He was elected a lifetime elder of that denomination several years ago. He was a member of the Masonic order.

Retired In 1933

In 1933, Judge McGee retired from practice of law, after the task of searching the statutes and preparing petitions had for several years begun imposing a physical strain on his tiring body. He remained in his bed since 1939, when he broke a hip that first had been injured in 1930. He entered the hospital last Monday night.

Mrs. McGee died in 1921. A daughter, Mrs. Ethel Earnest, died about 30 years ago, oldtimers estimated. The only survivors are Guy R. McGee, Dalhart druggist, a son, and Mrs. Hattie Collins of Fort Worth, a daughter.

"Judge McGee was a quiet and unassuming man; you could rely on his word; no one seems to have heard even a suspicion of his having uttered a dishonorable word or action ever; he was as good a man as ever lived in this whole section."

That was a composite valedictory of the friends he made — and kept.

Committee Studies State Office Budget

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—A legislative auditing committee today studied a budget for the state auditor's office with the intent of increasing its work to include an audit of all state agencies and departments.

The group yesterday reappointed C. H. Cavness of San Antonio to the office of state auditor.

Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith, committee chairman, said new employes would be added to the auditor's office which received a $50,000 appropriation increase. The salary of the state auditor was raised from $4,600 a year to $7,500.

Ration Board Cites Tire Supply Decline

Figures showing a critically diminishing tire supply in Lubbock were announced by Lubbock county war price and rationing board this morning following a survey of 15 tire dealers in the city.

"We've reached that point we've been approaching since the Japs slapped us," said C. A. Bestwick, chief clerk of the board. Obviously, he said, the present supply cannot last long. "The future depends upon the manufacturers' ability to produce tires in the synthetic program, and that may be in the near future, and it may be six months."

The following figures were obtained by the board from the 15 dealers: 600x16 grade 1 passenger tires, 390; 650x16 grade 1 passenger tires, 241; new passenger tubes, 544; 16-inch grade 3 passenger tires, 402; 17-inch grade 3 passenger tires, 43, 18-inch grade 3 passenger tires, 21; 19-inch grade 3 passenger tires, 27; 20-inch truck tires, 838; 20-inch truck tubes, 819; tractor front tires, none; implement tires, none; a good stock of tractor rear tires; passenger tubes, none, and used truck tubes, 27.

"That is probably the lowest tire stock in Lubbock in the last 25 years," said Bestwick.

Allied Forces Gain In Sicily

forward.

The stiffest fighting, however, raged in the area of Randazzo, north of Mt. Etna, where converging British, American and Canadian troops wrestled with the difficulties of endless minefields and dynamited mountain roads as well as the enemy's determined troops.

Randazzo's domination of communications in the narrowing bridgehead made it another Tunis or Bizerte so far as Sicily is concerned and the Germans were defending it at all costs.

Allied bombers and fighter-bombers slammed at Randazzo in round-the-clock raids for the fourth consecutive day yesterday, while RAF Wellingtons again laid strings of bombs across the Sicilian beaches, shattering Axis barges and scattering troop concentrations.

Four more Axis vessels were sunk and another damaged in continued blastings of the Messina beaches and strait. Randazzo had been transformed into a heap of rubbles by prolonged bombings of that crossing of routes leading to the north and east coasts.

The struggle for this heart of enemy communications rivaled any other in the battle for Sicily. German armored grenadier troops appeared determined to make it their Sicilian Verdun.

Although German war prisoners questioned in the last few days accepted Sicilian defeat as inevitable, Allied spokesmen warned that "no swift advance is anticipated."

Veterinarian Takes Up Duties For City

Dr. Kenneth Bolton, formerly of Albuquerque, N. M., assumed the duties of assistant city veterinarian this morning to complete the personnel of the city meat inspection's department under the reorganization plan approved by the city commission several weeks ago.

Scheduled to report on Aug. 1, Dr. and Mrs. Bolton have been at the bedside of her father, who is seriously ill in Denver. Mrs. Bolton still is with her father but will join her husband later.

Dr. Bolton, a graduate of Colorado State college, formerly was assistant city veterinarian in Albuquerque where he also was engaged in private practice. In Lubbock he is to devote full time to his official duties as assistant to Dr. K. H. Hoyme, new chief city veterinarian.

Salamaua Hit Again

At the other end of the 750-mile battle arc, Salamaua was fast becoming the "Hamburg" of the south Pacific.

Today's communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported that 85 more tons of bombs were dropped Tuesday on that northeastern New Guinea air base of the Japanese, raising to at least 892 the tonnage to fall from Allied planes in that sector since the new offensive opened June 30.

The communique reported a new attack by the Japanese air force on Rendova island, eight miles below the Munda airstrip, which was seized as an artillery position at the outbreak of the offensive. Fifty enemy bombers and fighters attempted a raid Tuesday but were dispersed by 14 American fighter planes. Two of the raiders were added to the more than 350 Japanese planes downed in the central Solomons during the current campaign. One American plane was lost but the pilot was saved.

New Assignment For Welles Being Denied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Secretary of State Hull denied today that Undersecretary Sumner Welles is to receive a roving assignment and be replaced by Norman Armour, United States ambassador to Argentine.

Asked about the published report, Hull said this newest story was a recurrence of similar reports circulated in recent years and on each occasion denied.

Solon Believes South Will Stay Democratic

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Senator Maybank (D-SC), just back from a swing through his home state, today deprecated talk that the Republican party might split the solid south next year.

"In my judgment," he told an interviewer, "the south will stay with the Democratic party, although there's a certain amount of resentment among the people over some bureaucratic restrictions which they think are not helping the war effort."

Reporting that "nobody is being talked of for president except Mr. Roosevelt," Maybank said he had heard some discussion of the possibility of nominating a southern running mate if the chief executive comes out for a fourth term.

"Many of the people feel that the south deserves a place on the national ticket," he said.

Offer Of Farm Help Comes From Africa

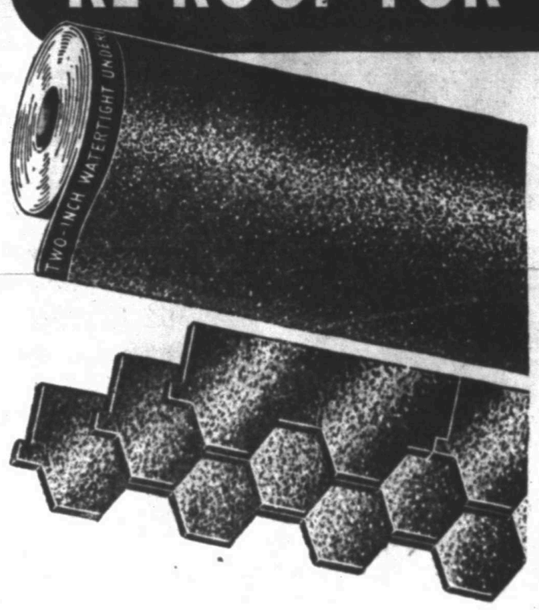

SNYDER, Aug. 11 (Special) — Faced with the problem of getting help to harvest Scurry county crops this fall, Edward S. Hyman, county agricultural agent, today got an offer of help—of from all places—North Africa.

Signed by Sgt. L. B. McCravey, Chesley W. Horsley, Nathan M. Shepherd, "Sonny" Shultz, J. C. Williamson, Kenneth Panter and C. E. Finley of Ohio, all attached to Scurry county's company G of the 142nd Infantry, 36th Division, the message said the boys would be glad to help gather cotton and see it got to the gin "just as soon as our big job over here is finished."

Co-Op Meeting Is Held Here

Representatives of farm cooperatives of every kind from about 30 West Texas counties, together with a number of visitors from other sections of the state, gathered here Tuesday to attend, many to become affiliated with, the state federation of cooperatives. The federation, which held one of its seven district meetings here, is a clearing house, L. T. Mayhugh of Edmonson, president, said. Others described the federation as a vehicle by which all cooperatives might join in making their "total effort" felt in Washington, Austin, or anywhere else there is need for legislation.

H. H. Williamson, director of the A. and M. college extension department, said no group has done more than cooperatives—and with so little "fuss and feathers." Williamson said these organizations will play an important role in the post-war farm program.

Urged To Stay In Politics

A. B. Tarwater, head of the Plainview Cooperative, former Hale county representative in the state legislature for 12 years, said farmers should get into politics and stay there, fighting militantly for the rights that industry and business long ago won by tariffs. He said AAA checks have been the only "tariff" the farmer ever had. He said the usefulness of these agencies is passing, with farmers now organized to control their own business, instead of the government. Other speakers strongly implied that co-ops will supplant the AAA and other agencies of "bureaucrats" after the war.

Sterling C. Evans, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston; W. J. McAnelly, president of the Houston Bank for Cooperatives; V. P. Lee, president of the Production Credit Corp., Houston, were on the afternoon program.

"Fed Up" On OPA

Stallones said when farmers were told to reduce their cotton acreage, and that supplies of cottonseed meal then would be used for fertilizers, and with 80 million beef cattle in the country and "we have to eat stale fish," he was "fed up" on OPA and others who didn't know "gee" from "haw," telling farmers what to do.

The importance of preserving farm credit systems when congress reconvenes was pictured as one of the grave problems. Another speaker said the wide margins between West Texas grains that farmers sold for 70 and 80 cents and which later brought $2.50 to $3 a hundred made wide room for more farm cooperatives, even in West Texas, where the groups already are strong.

Evans said the land bank of Houston stood two booms, two depressions, and was the first government encouragement gesture for farm cooperatives; that today it has 10 million dollars capital, all owned by farmers' associations, with 32 millions capital and surplus.

Sugar Hike Seen As Bootlegging Threat

DENVER, Aug. 11 (AP) — Take sugar off the rationing list, add to it the current whisky shortage, mix in America's apparently ever-mounting thirst, and you've got a recipe for bootlegging that may outstrip that of prohobition days.

That's the opinion of the alcohol tax unit of the Treasury department in Denver, from District Supervisor A. V. Anderson on down. They're officers who matched wits with the illicit distillers when the 18th amendment was in effect and will have to do it again if bootlegging flares up anew.

Right now, unlawful distilling is on a small scale, said J. L. White, investigator, and he wants the public's sugar supply somewhat controlled so bootleggers can't get a lot of it for their mash.

"If we allow sugar to be sold in unrestricted quantities, it will be just what the bootleggers are waiting for," he said today. "This doesn't mean we can't double sugar rations for the average consumer without running a risk of bootlegging, though as long as some form of rationing is maintained, we've got a safeguard."

Suit Filed Attacking Loan Law's Validity

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—A suit attacking validity of a new state law regulating loans has been set for hearing Aug. 20 in district court here.

The litigation was filed by Walter Watts of Houston and other plaintiffs from Fort Worth and Dallas. Attorneys for the plaintiffs were former Governor James V. Allred, Everitt L. Looney and Edward Clark of Austin.

The petition asks a temporary injunction against enforcement and a declaratory judgment of plaintiffs legal rights under the law.

Churchill And King Confer

QUEBEC, Aug. 11 (AP)—Within the ancient battlements of an obsolete fortress, the prime ministers of Britain and Canada surveyed today the heartening successes of Allied stabs at the Axis and the strategy needed to expand them into assaults designed to attain a total victory.

The conferences between Winston Churchill of Britain and W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada and their chiefs of staff were a prelude to later discussions between Churchill and President Roosevelt and British-American military experts.

Bad News For Enemy

The ever-spectacular Churchill again had surmounted the dangers of a wartime crossing of the Atlantic for war talks which appeared certain to be translated into more bad news for enemy forces already reeling back on worldwide battlefronts.

Naturally, there could be no announcement which would disclose to the Axis as well as the United Nations the trend of the momentous conversations taking place

No Russian Representatives

On the word of President Roosevelt in Washington Russia once more was sending no representatives to sit in either on the British-Canadian parleys here or the scheduled British-American meetings.

To avoid giving the Axis any pointers on commanders in specific war theaters brought here for the war deliberations, only the names of the British chiefs of staffs who always accompany Churchill to such meetings were announced.

They were Admiral of the Fleet Sir Dudley Pound, first sea lord; Air Chief Marshal Sir Charles Portal, chief of air staff; Sir Alan Brooke, chief of the imperial general staff; Vice-Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, who commands the renowned commandos, and Lt. General Sir Hastings Ismay, chief of staff to Churchill in his capacity as minister of defense.

Members Of Party

The prime minister's wife and daughter, Mary, the latter a subaltern in the auxiliary territorial service, also came along with Churchill on his fourth visit to North America since Britain went to war.

Other members of the Churchill party were Lord Leathers, minister of transport; Wing Commander G. P. Gibson, who led the squadron of British planes which breached the vital Moehne and Eder dams in Germany; Lord Moran, president of the royal college of physicians; J. M. Martin, Churchill's chief private secretary; T. L. Rowan, private secretary, and Commander C. R. Thompson, personal assistant to the prime minister.

Juveniles Keep Officers Busy

The youngsters continue to keep juvenile officials on the jump.

Numerous runaway boys and girls have been reported here and in the South Plains in recent weeks. Several stolen cars have been traced to some of them. Several have been investigated in connection with sex charges, among them a 16-year-old girl Tuesday from a nearby county at the father's request.

Two pairs of pliers and a girl figured in one of the most recent investigation. Father of the girl protested two youngsters, 16 and 14, had been coming to see his daughter, and that they had walked off with his pliers. The boys were required to return the pliers—and it was implied their visiting with the daughter would not be welcomed any more.

Boy, 15, Sought

A 15-year-old boy was sought for investigation into a kicked-out concessions stand display window.

Trial of two Amarillo boys, 15 and 16, for theft of a car will be public Aug. 18, since they elected to fight the case and hired an attorney. They took a machine here and were arrested in possession of it several days ago in Lamesa, it is charged. The younger boy had done a "stretch" in a Texas reformatory; the older had been arrested numerous times by Amarillo police and had been befriended and given a job by the owner of the car he allegedly stole.

A 12-year-old negro boy who admitted theft of three biks was paroled to his parents, as was an 11-year-old white boy who said he had taken seven bikes since moving here recently from Quanah.

John W. Wilson is city-county juvenile counsellor, and he investigates most of the cases, which are heard by Juvenile Judge G. V. Pardue.

McGee Funeral

mittee that included McGee, McGee, who was to serve several years each in the capacities of county judge and attorney (some said six years each), bought a strip of land from Bean and kept it throughout his lifetime. The late Jim Nelson, father of Lloyd Nelson, who still lives here, and associates painted a house that was renovated or built on the property.

Became Well Known

About that time, possibly eight or nine years before W. D. Benson, who lives in Lubbock, and Dan W. Burkhalter, who now lives in Borger and was seen here several days ago on a brief visit, established their law firm, McGee became known for what the oldtimers term "gentlemenly qualities of the old school, which meant he never was heard to use a term of vulgarity and which further meant he was always willing to be of service to his fellow man, in all the ramifications that implied in the days when neighborliness had a different meaning from the present."

As county judge, Judge McGee was ex-officio superintendent of schools in Lubbock county. Bean recalls that Judge McGee wrote the bill and shoved it through the legislature that established Lubbock Independent School district.

Was Food Administrator

Other oldtimers recall that, in the first World war, the then former Judge McGee was food administrator here.

In those days the public left its sugar and other ration cards with the merchants, and some of those merchants still have in their possession some of the old cards, never called for when the war was over — all signed with the name of John R. McGee.

Throughout his residence here, Judge McGee was active in church and civic duties. He was a charter member of the First Christian church, in which here and elsewhere he was affiliated 72 years. He was elected a lifetime elder of that denomination several years ago. He was a member of the Masonic order.

Retired In 1933

In 1933, Judge McGee retired from practice of law, after the task of searching the statutes and preparing petitions had for several years begun imposing a physical strain on his tiring body. He remained in his bed since 1939, when he broke a hip that first had been injured in 1930. He entered the hospital last Monday night.

Mrs. McGee died in 1921. A daughter, Mrs. Ethel Earnest, died about 30 years ago, oldtimers estimated. The only survivors are Guy R. McGee, Dalhart druggist, a son, and Mrs. Hattie Collins of Fort Worth, a daughter.

"Judge McGee was a quiet and unassuming man; you could rely on his word; no one seems to have heard even a suspicion of his having uttered a dishonorable word or action ever; he was as good a man as ever lived in this whole section."

That was a composite valediction of the friends he made — and kept.

Committee Studies State Office Budget

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—A legislative auditing committee today studied a budget for the state auditor's office with the intent of increasing its work to include an audit of all state agencies and departments.

The group yesterday reappointed C. H. Cavness of San Antonio to the office of state auditor.

Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith, committee chairman, said new employes would be added to the auditor's office which received a $50,000 appropriation increase. The salary of the state auditor was raised from $4,600 a year to $7,500.

Ration Board Cites Tire Supply Decline

Figures showing a critically diminishing tire supply in Lubbock were announced by Lubbock county war price and rationing board this morning following a survey of 15 tire dealers in the city.

"We've reached that point we've been approaching since the Japs slapped us," said C. A. Bestwick, chief clerk of the board. Obviously, he said, the present supply cannot last long. "The future depends upon the manufacturers' ability to produce tires in the synthetic program, and that may be in the near future, and it may be six months."

The following figures were obtained by the board from the 15 dealers: 600x16 grade 1 passenger tires, 390; 650x16 grade 1 passenger tires, 241; new passenger tubes, 544; 16-inch grade 3 passenger tires, 402; 17-inch grade 3 passenger tires, 43, 18-inch grade 3 passenger tires, 21; 19-inch grade 3 passenger tires, 27; 20-inch truck tires, 838; 20-inch truck tubes, 819; tractor front tires, none; implement tires, none; a good stock of tractor rear tires; passenger tubes, none, and used truck tubes, 27.

"That is probably the lowest tire stock in Lubbock in the last 25 years," said Bestwick.

forward.

The stiffest fighting, however, raged in the area of Randazzo, north of Mt. Etna, where converging British, American and Canadian troops wrestled with the difficulties of endless minefields and dynamited mountain roads as well as the enemy's determined troops.

Randazzo's domination of communications in the narrowing bridgehead made it another Tunis or Bizerte so far as Sicily is concerned and the Germans were defending it at all costs.

Allied bombers and fighter-bombers slammed at Randazzo in round-the-clock raids for the fourth consecutive day yesterday, while RAF Wellingtons again laid strings of bombs across the Sicilian beaches, shattering Axis barges and scattering troop concentrations.

Four more Axis vessels were sunk and another damaged in continued blastings of the Messina beaches and strait. Randazzo had been transformed into a heap of rubbles by prolonged bombings of that crossing of routes leading to the north and east coasts.

The struggle for this heart of enemy communications rivaled any other in the battle for Sicily. German armored grenadier troops appeared determined to make it their Sicilian Verdun.

Although German war prisoners questioned in the last few days accepted Sicilian defeat as inevitable, Allied spokesmen warned that "no swift advance is anticipated."

Veterinarian Takes Up Duties For City

Dr. Kenneth Bolton, formerly of Albuquerque, N. M., assumed the duties of assistant city veterinarian this morning to complete the personnel of the city meat inspection's department under the reorganization plan approved by the city commission several weeks ago.

Scheduled to report on Aug. 1, Dr. and Mrs. Bolton have been at the bedside of her father, who is seriously ill in Denver. Mrs. Bolton still is with her father but will join her husband later.

Dr. Bolton, a graduate of Colorado State college, formerly was assistant city veterinarian in Albuquerque where he also was engaged in private practice. In Lubbock he is to devote full time to his official duties as assistant to Dr. K. H. Hoyme, new chief city veterinarian.

Salamaua Hit Again

At the other end of the 750-mile battle arc, Salamaua was fast becoming the "Hamburg" of the south Pacific.

Today's communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported that 85 more tons of bombs were dropped Tuesday, on that northeastern New Guinea air base of the Japanese, raising to at least 892 the tonnage to fall from Allied planes in that sector since the new offensive opened June 30.

The communique reported a new attack by the Japanese air force on Rendova island, eight miles below the Munda airstrip, which was seized as an artillery position at the outbreak of the offensive. Fifty enemy bombers and fighters attempted a raid Tuesday but were dispersed by 14 American fighter planes. Two of the raiders were added to the more than 350 Japanese planes downed in the central Solomons during the current campaign. One American plane was lost but the pilot was saved.

New Assignment For Welles Being Denied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Secretary of State Hull denied today that Undersecretary Sumner Welles is to receive a roving assignment and be replaced by Norman Armour, United States ambassador to Argentine.

Asked about the published report, Hull said this newest story was a recurrence of similar reports circulated in recent years and on each occasion denied.

Solon Believes South Will Stay Democratic

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Senator Maybank (D-SC), just back from a swing through his home state, today deprecated talk that the Republican party might split the solid south next year.

"In my judgment," he told an interviewer, "the south will stay with the Democratic party, although there's a certain amount of resentment among the people over some bureaucratic restrictions which they think are not helping the war effort."

Reporting that "nobody is being talked of for president except Mr. Roosevelt," Maybank said he had heard some discussion of the possibility of nominating a southern running mate if the chief executive comes out for a fourth term.

"Many of the people feel that the south deserves a place on the national ticket," he said.

Offer Of Farm Help Comes From Africa

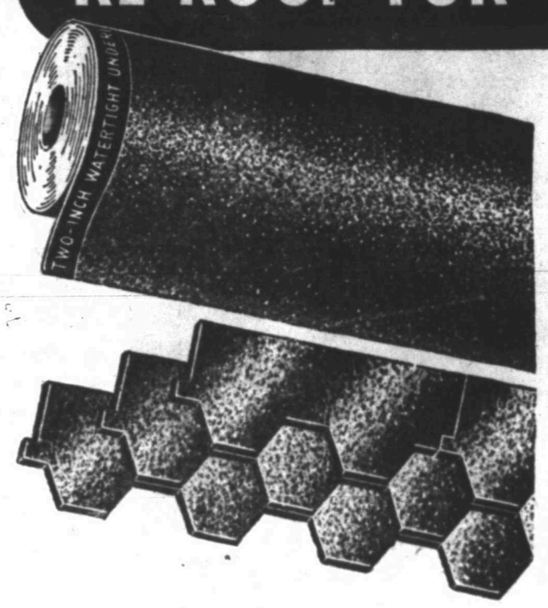

SNYDER, Aug. 11 (Special) — Faced with the problem of getting help to harvest Scurry county crops this fall, Edward S. Hyman, county agricultural agent, today got an offer of help—of from all places—North Africa.

Signed by Sgt. L. B. McCravey, Chesley W. Horsley, Nathan M. Shepherd, "Sonny" Shultz, J. C. Williamson, Kenneth Panter and C. E. Finley of Ohio, all attached to Scurry county's company G of the 142nd Infantry, 36th Division, the message said the boys would be glad to help gather cotton and see it got to the gin "just as soon as our big job over here is finished."

Modification Of Planes Upheld

DALLAS, Aug. 11 (AP)—Senator Harry F. Truman, (D-Mo) chairman of the Senate committee investigating war plants, said here today "it looks as if it is efficient" to have modification plants in connection with aircraft factories.

Truman in an interview said a sub-committee headed by Senator Harley M. Kilgore (D-W. Va.) was inquiring into why it is necessary to maintain modification centers in Birmingham, Fort Worth, Tulsa and other points, where aircraft must go for final changes.

Truman, who described himself as "just a Missouri farmer, trying to help win the war as best I can," said the committee was not prepared to make definite recommendations with respect to modification centers. The subcommittee will report this fall, he indicated.

Flexibility Secret Of Production

Kilgore said "flexibility of a plant is the secret of airplane production.

"You are lucky if you can get 50 planes off the line without a change. You come out with a new craft and pretty soon you discover a weak spot—or, rather, the enemy discovers it for you and you have to make changes."

Truman cited the case of a bomber factory in the Great Lakes area where the Army, as a result of combat experience, ordered 495 changes while the first bomber was under production.

South's Greatest Output

Another member of the Truman committee, Senator Homer Ferguson (R-Mich), said that two aircraft manufacturing plants in the Dallas-Fort Worth area (North American and Consolidated) represented the greatest output, in point of numbers of planes, in the South.

Ferguson thought "we will know more about our airplane production in three or four months—and will the enemy."

Absenteeism in the Southwest, Ferguson said, was comparatively low because high morale among labor which he attributed to housing facilities and working conditions. Air-conditioning of plants, he commented, "make it almost as attractive these days to work inside as to go fishing outside."

Bonus Prices On Hardwood Revoked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — The Office of Price administration (OPA) today revoked special bonus prices allowed southern hardwood lumber men, in an effort to halt what it termed "widespread and flagrant violations," of maximum price regulations.

The order abolished price additions which had permitted southern lumbermen to charge from $1 to $45 per 1,000 board feet above standard maximums for producing hardwood lumber in other than standard widths and lengths.

"Application of the additions resulted in such widespread and flagrant violations of the regulations in the southern hardwood lumber industry," OPA said, "that the only possible way to deal with the violations was to remove additions altogether."

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11 (AP) — Hauled to police headquarters on complaint he frequently said "Heil Hitler," a 22-year-old cook had a ready answer.

It was an oath, he said, which he used when angry. His dislike of Hitler was so strong, he explained, that he considered the phrase the same as swearing.

Police Lieutenant Rex Willis suggested he revert to well established American oaths.

New Plan Developed For Gun Barrels

CANTON, O., Aug. 11 (AP) — A new process is enabling a single production line at the Timken Roller Bearing Co. to turn out more than 6,000 heavy gun barrels a month, company officials announced today.

This rate was first hinted April 17, 1942, when Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, chief of the Army Services forces said:

"We have developed a new way of making gun barrels. With a few weeks, a single American factory using this process will be turning out each month more heavy gun barrels than all the factories of England turned out in the whole war."

In a statement approved by military authorities, Timken said its production of more than 6,000 75 and 40 milimeter gun tubes per month was made possible through use of seamless steel tubing and its own secret process. The guns are mounted on tanks, planes and ships.

Sailor On Blimp Gets Near Miss With Egg

HAMMONTON, N. J., Aug. 11 (AP)—A sailor aboard a U. S. blimp scored a near miss today on Dr. Richard M. Schindler, his wife and daughter.

The Schindlers were driving toward Hammonton when they saw the blimp, sailing along so low they thought it was going to land. They stepped from the car just as a sailor leaned out of the blimp and dropped an egg (barnyard variety.)

"He missed," said Dr. Schindler, "probably wasn't using his bombsight.

County Has 4 Trucks To Haul 14,500 Cattle

SUDAN, Aug. 11 (Special) — Lamb county has only four public cattle trucks available for hauling an estimated 14,500 head of beef cattle to markets and to grass, and to feed lots this fall and winter—and owners need both tires and repair parts.

This is the report sent here by the ODT district office in Lubbock. It is reported here this equipment is ample for handling the large number of cattle to be moved. About one-half of the number are for slaughter and the other are listed as feeders. Forty per cent will go to intermediate markets, the others to Ft. Worth and Kansas City. Eighty-five per cent will move by truck.

An increase of about 12 per cent over last year's cattle population will be marketed this fall and winter, according to estimates, but the movement will be later than last year, depending on feeds and prices the cattle bring.

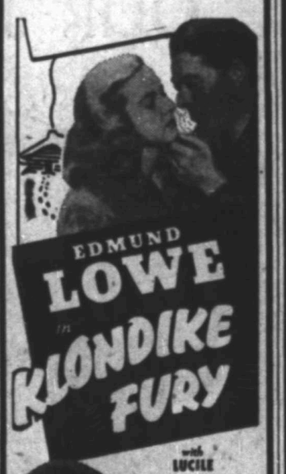

UAW President Says He Favors 4th Term

FORT WORTH, Aug. 11 (AP) — R. J. Thomas of Detroit, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) said today that he favored a fourth term for President Roosevelt, provided the President is interested in another term.

Thomas spoke at the oil workers international union convention.

Post-War Need For Navy Seen

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Aug. 11 (AP)—Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga), chairman of the House naval affairs committee, suggested today that the American fleet be kept intact after the war as a guarantee of world peace.

Predicting that "wars, and rumors of wars," would continue in the future, the veteran Georgia congressman said in an interview it would be his earnest wish that the United States refrain from any post-war commitments which would result in scrapping of any useful naval vessels.

"Nothing contributes to war more than the failure of one government to be prepared for war," he said.

Wants Big Navy

Vinson, long advocate of a big Navy, said he foresaw no prospect of radical changes in over-all naval construction although small-size aircraft carriers and escort vessels have been exceptionally successful in combatting submarines.

Vinson declined to look with optimism toward a short war.

"You can't expect to lick an enemy like Germany overnight," he said. "It's impossible to say you can knock a country out of the war by aerial bombing alone—but there's no harm trying. At the same time you must plan to hit the enemy with all branches of the service.

"And don't ever forget—in carrying the war to Japan, the enemy is 6,000 miles away."

Beef Shortage Blamed On Sales To Cafes

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP) — The national retail meat dealers' association, blaming the shortage of beef for retail sale upon large sales to restaurants, called today for rationing of meat supplies to eating-places similar to that covering meat dealers.

The association also urged that Congress order the OPA to place a ceiling on livestock "high enough in order that the producer, slaughterer and retailer of meats (will) be given an equitable chance for a fair living and thereby properly feed the people of our nation."

Gloomy Picture Of Crime Is Foreseen For America After War By Head Of Texas Police

DETROIT, Aug. 11 (AP) — Col. Homer Garrison of the Texas Department of Public safety today foresaw a gloomy picture for America after the war unless the resistance of millions of individuals is channeled into a gigantic effort to strait-jacket crime.

Here to attend the war conference of the international association of chiefs of police, the director of the Texas association of chiefs of police, the director of Texas state police system predicted in a prepared radio address an unprecedented crime wave and "a nation gone wild" in search of new pleasures and new freedoms after the war ends.

To Undergo Changes

"Our economic and governmental structures may undergo profound changes," he said. "Time-honored customs which have held our families and communities together will be thrown unceremoniously into the discard. This chaos will threaten the very foundations of our civilization."

As a result of the nervous strain and the confusion of war, "the moral standards of our adult population are crashing down. With little or no parental supervision, and with temptation on every side, much of our youth is running wild. Crime is increasing rapidly, youthful gangs have grown so vicious and so bold in some of our larger cities that the police even now can hardly control them.

"We of the police profession believe that our nation is headed for a far bloodier and costlier crime wave than that of the Capone era . . . Your police officers expect strikes and riots . . . involving racial minority groups. . . .

Predictions Are Made

"Crime will be only a part of this twentieth century American revolution . . . We shall see something more startling than companionate marriage, the quick and easy divorce laws, the hip flask, knee-length skirts, and high-speed automobiles which grew out of the last war.

"We shall stand helpless before the tide of radical revolution unless and until the great body of real Americans jerk themselves awake and realize that our way of life is in actual danger of partial or total destruction from within.

"Nothing short of a mighty flood of national resistance, composed of the resistance of millions of individuals, will turn this revolutionary tide into constructive channels.

"Don't expect the sociologist, the policeman and the jurist to do this job for you. Theirs is only part of the job, and they are definitely limited by the support which you give them. Don't expect your schools, churches, social and fraternal organizations, press and radio to bear the burden. They, too, are limited by the support which you give them.

"If this ugly future becomes a reality, it will be because you, the people, either wanted it to be so or negligently failed to prevent its being so.

"The decision is yours to make. If you would become a part of this flood of national resistance to chaos, let this be your challenge: First see that your own house is in order, and then go forth to be your brother's keeper."

Garrison was one of four nationally known authorities who spoke on a panel discussion of "Effects of War on Social Standards."

Need Seen For More Farm Aid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP) — Associates of Food Administrator Marvin Jones said today it may become necessary for the War Food administration (WFA) to buy more commodities to assure farmers ample prices, although they discounted reports that the government planned to buy and resell the entire food supply.

Advancing production costs and the elimination of AAA benefit payments by Congress may make it advisable, these officials said, for the government to raise its price supports or minimum price guarantee on a number of farm products.

Such increases ordinarily would involve corresponding advances in ceiling prices. But the administration has expressed determination to hold the line on food prices and where possible to reduce them.

Loss To Government

Where advanced farmer support prices were out of line with ceiling prices, the government would purchase the commodities and re-sell to distributors at prices in line with ceilings. Such operations would involve losses to the government.

Under this year's program, the government is supporting farm prices of several commodities at levels above ceilings. They include peanuts for processing into vegetable oil, the major canning crops, sugar beets, fluid milk in some cities, and cheese.

Officials said, however, that they believe it will be necessary to support only a portion of the farm commodities at levels which would involve government purchase and resale at a loss. Commodities likely to fall into this category were listed as eggs, poultry, all dairy products, vegetable oil crops, and vegetables for processing.

LAAF Women's Unit Sworn In As WACs

Members of the Women's Army Auxiliary corps stationed at Lubbock Army Air field were sworn in as members of the Women's Army corps in ceremonies this morning in the recreation hall in the WAC area. They are now known as WACs instead of the former name of WAACs.

Major John W. Lancaster, LAAF classification, statistical and recruiting officer, administered the oath. Col. Ralph E. Holmes, LAAF commanding officer, extended a brief welcome and 1st. Lt. Jimmie P. Luttrell, WAC commanding officer, also spoke briefly.

Transformation of the WAACs into WACs give them privileges to special benefits such as life insurance, allotments, etc. They will also bear designations of regular Army ranks and auxiliaries will be known as privates in the future.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have headaches?	☐	☐
Do you lack pep or vigor?	☐	☐
Do you get irritable easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel depressed—nervous?	☐	☐

Everybody knows that poorly digested food often causes a headachy, sluggish condition.

But you may not know that Nature must produce each day about two pints of the vital digestive juice—liver bile—to help digest your food.

If Nature fails—food doesn't digest properly—you may get irregular. And the amount of this vital digestive juice may be still further reduced. Thus, digestive upset and sluggishness can follow each other in a vicious circle that keeps you feeling rotten. Therefore, take Carter's Little Liver Pills because they start bile flowing quickly—often within thirty minutes. When bile flow increases—you may help your digestion. You're on your way to feeling grand all over again. Remember—you can't get these same results from laxatives that fail to stimulate the flow of bile.

If you feel headachy, listless, irritable or depressed, get a 25¢ package of Carter's Little Liver Pills at any drugstore today. Take as directed. Tomorrow see how fit and alive you'll feel!
