COUNTY TO SUE SHERIFF MURPHY ON FEE ISSUES

Seeks to Test Question Of Operating Cars On Office fund.

ATTORNEY RETAINED

Refund Is Also Sought In Claim Made Aganist Ex-Tax Collector.

A controversy between the county commissioners and Sheriff W. W. Murphy over the legality of paying automobile expenses out of fees of office is to be carried to the courts for a decision, it was decided yesterday when the county retained H. F. Weldon as attorney to represent it. A suit will be filed against the sheriff in a short time, it was announced. Mr. Murphy has stated that he was ready to fight the thing out before the bar.

Involves $2,000.

The trouble involves about $2,000 which the county claims should have been paid it, but which the sheriff maintains he has been entitled to spend for gasoline, oil and repair bills on automobiles used by his department in its official duties. In his reports to the auditor, the sheriff has set forth items amounting to approximately $2,000 which have been charged up as office expense.

A contention has been made all along by county officials that the law does not provide for such expenses and that if the sheriff contracts for such he must meet them personally. Mr. Murphy has refused to recognize the claim and has announced his intention of going to court.

Seek Tax Refund.

It was also learned yesterday that a claim of about $7,000 which the county alleges is due it as a refund from M. L. Tittle, former tax collector, is to be pressed at once with the retaining of Luther Hoffman, local attorney, to represent the county.

The case is not a suit, County Judge Sartin pointed out yesterday, but is more in the nature of an investigation into a situation which appears to be a misconstruction of the law regarding paying in of fees of office to the county by the tax collector.

Collector Four Years.

Mr. Tittle was collector for the county for four years, 1918 to 1922, and a check of his records has brought to light items which the county believes should have been turned into it. There is some question as to these, however, which has resulted in the investigation being started.

The matter is simply one in which a point at law is involved and in no way does it raise any question as to illegality on the handling of the office's funds. It is expected that a settlement will be reached out of court.

A Bill For 54 Cents.

Then There's Another One Against County of $9,607 Road Work.

The historic "first of the month" which lands with devastating effect on the family's bank roll is no respector of the county treasury.

This, at least, was the sentiment of the county commissioners Monday when a total of 363 bills were presented for payment. The smallest was for 54 cents, which is to be paid to Mrs. Alma Y. Miller, county clerk, for recording a deed, and the largest was $9,607, made as payment on some road construction work here.

The total was swollen to these unusual figures by the allowing of 172 election bills that pay judges and clerks for their services last Tuesday. These ranged all the way from $3 to $12.

Armistice Observance Brings City to Rest For Short Time Today

Wichita Falls pauses today to pay its annual tribute to those who, both living and dead, rendered whatever service was demanded and price exacted by the world war.

In unison with the nation at large this city lays aside for a brief period the cares of business to observe armistice day. Six years ago today the allied armies brought to a successful conclusion their campaign against Germany's militaristic horde and since then the world has set aside Nov. 11 in commemoration of that event.

The services here will be unpretentious. Closing of all retail stores for a twenty minute period this morning, a patriotic program at the Palace theater and a dinner and program by the American legion tonight will make up the principal features here. Addresses and music will be included on the Palace session while other talks will be given at the Legion banquet.

All county offices will be closed throughout the day but at the city hall work will be suspended for only two hours this morning. Retail stores and other offices will remain open for the day with the exception of 20 minutes, from 10:50 to 11:10—the hour on which hostilities ceased in France in 1918.

Electric power in the down town section will be turned off for three minutes, from 11 until 11:03, and all machines will thus be stopped.

Quiet Restored In Kentucky As Troops Arrive

No More Trouble Expected At Dix River Dam, Officers Say.

NEGROES DRIVEN OUT

Construction Workers at Big Power Plant Battle Whites.

HARRODSBURG, Ky., Nov. 10.—After a night of disorder, quiet had been restored tonight in the construction camps that flank the site of the Dix river dam, a huge hydro-electric project under construction on Dix river near here. Arrival of detachments of Kentucky national guardsmen brought to an end clashes between the white construction workers and farmers on one side and negro workers at the dam which followed the slaying of Edward Winkle, 21, white worker by a negro laborer Sunday night.

Sheriff W. Kennedy, of Mercer county tonight said the situation no longer was tense and further trouble was not expected.

Clashes Come Rapidly.

Clashes followed rapidly Sunday night and early today resulting in a general exodus of negroes from the labor camps.

Squadrons of national guardsmen arrived in motor trucks and assumed charge of the situation.

Nearly 300 of the 700 negroes employed on the dam driven from the camp, returned after the arrival of the troops.

All showed effects of exposure. Many were without shoes, none were fully dressed and a number were without trousers.

General Protection.

About 250 of the negroes, following their flight were corraled by authorities at Burgin, where they spent the night under the protection of deputy sheriffs and citizens of the village.

The negroes were harbored in an abandoned rock quarry where they huddled around a bon fire. Deputy sheriffs stationed around the quarry permitted none to leave.

W. were loaded into six automobile trucks near Concrete, Wash., today by Sheriff Conn of Skagit county and a force of deputies, taken to the Snohomish county line, unloaded there and told to keep going, said a dispatch from Concrete to the Seattle Times.

Obstructed Traffic.

The dispatch said Sheriff Conn and 22 deputies marched upon a bridge over the Baker river leading from Concrete to a hydro-electric plant where a strike was called about three weeks ago and seized 150 of the men. The men are accused of having obstructed traffic by stopping all persons crossing the bridge who were suspected of being enroute to the hydro-electric plant.

Two Remain.

Two of the men, the report said, were allowed to remain on the bridge as pickets on condition they do not interfere with traffic. The others were marched to a field about a mile away and placed under guard to await arrival of trucks to remove them from the county. Meanwhile about 75 more men were rounded up at pool halls and lodging houses in Concrete and marched to the field to join the men taken into custody at the bridge.

WHAT MAKES A PERSON DRUNK? LAWYERS ASK

GOVERNMENT RESTS

John Phillip Hill Faces Booze Charges In Federal Court.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 10.—After placing only two witnesses on the stand, the government late this afternoon closed its case against Representative John Philip Hill and defense testimony was begun in the congressman's trial in federal district court, on indictments charging violation of the Volstead act through the manufacture and possession of wine and cider of more than one half of one per cent alcholic content.

George F. Beyer, Richard Ryan, government chemists, testified for the prosecution. Beyer said that he was sent to Mr. Hill's home here in September 1923 to take samples of the congressman's home made grape juice for analysis. The question "was certain liquor in a five gallon keg at Mr. Hill's home wine?" put to the witness by District Attorney Amos W. Woodcock, was objected to by defense counsel. Mr. Beyer then testified that the beverage he tested contained "around 11 per cent" of alcohol by volume.

Ryan testified that the cider made this fall by Mr. Hill contained 2.75 per cent alcohol. The defense opened its case by putting Dr. John J. McGinity, a pharmacist on the witness stand. Dr. McGinity was asked if he had attended the "party" given recently by Mr. Hill, at which the congressman furnished his cider to several hundred guests. The doctor replied that he had.

Didn't Get Drunk

"Did anybody get drunk?" asked defense counsel.

District Attorney Woodcock objected to the question, which he said was irrelevant. "The question," he said, "is one of the alcoholic content of the cider."

Judge Morris A. Soper, presiding then asked Mr. Woodcock if it was his understanding of the law "that any beverage containing one half of one per cent is forbidden."

The district attorney replied that it was, the defense took issue with him, and the jury was dismissed until tomorrow morning, while the point was argued.

Court adjourned until tomorrow with opposing attorneys still arguing the exact meaning of the word "intoxicating," as used in the Volstead act.

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES

Date	Inds.	Rails
Monday	103.27	95.87
Saturday	104.57	96.27
Week ago	102.73	91.45
High 1924	105.27	96.27
Low 1924	90.27	81.00

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.(AP) Stock prices bounded upward today under the greatest week-end accumulation of buying orders in recent stock history, but encountered a tremendous volume of profit taking on the part of professional traders. This selling temporarily checked the advance in many issues but not until after fifty shares had soared to new peak prices for the year. Trading was on a slightly smaller scale than last Friday, the day's sales approaching 2,275,000 shares, but the number of individual shares dealt in—527—was the largest on record, exceeding by ten the previous record established on December 28, 1923.

Rails Are Predominant

Railroad shares, the heavy accumulation of which inaugurated the current advance, more the brunt of the selling. Early gains of 1 to 3 1-2 points in that group were materially reduced or cancelled, but good buying support was in evidence and there were no breaks of any consequence. During the initial outburst of buying, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, the three Rock Island issues, Southern railway, Louisville and Nashville, and Frisco common, "Katy" common and many others bettered the previous 1924 high prices.

More speculative attention was paid today to the industrials, the general price average of which attained a new peak price for the year. United States Steel common was the bell wether in this group, touching 113 1-2, the highest price in five years, but reacting a point from the top on realizing sales.

Oils, Coppers Show Life

Oils and coppers which have been lagging behind the general list because of unfavorable trade conditions this summer, suddenly leaped into prominence on the speculative theory that they would be among the first to benefit by the general revival of trade which the current upward movement is believed to be discounting. American Smelting, Chile and Kennecot sold at new maximum prices, the net gains ranging from 1 1-4 to 2 points. Oils are still well below the year's tops although good gains in that group were registered today by Standard Oil of California and New Jersey and the Pan-American issues and Tide Water.

Commodity markets, which have been moving upward in sympathy with the spirited advance in securities, also felt the force of profit taking but closed generally higher.

Cotton futures showed net gains of 68 to 80 points, buying being based on the theory that an improvement in business is bound to be reflected in an increased demand for cotton goods. The rise of 44 to 77 points in coffee was traceable to the light offerings from Brazil and the relative scarcity of the product in this country. Sugar prices, which have been adversly affected recently by the reports of surplus crops abroad, rallied slightly.

The bull movement in the stock market has materially increased the value of seats on the New York Stock Exchange. The membership of Harold S. Frankenheim today was transferred to Morin S. Hare for a consideration of $90,000 or $10,000 above the previous sale.

Seat Value Increases

Wheat prices gained 2 to 3 cents a bushel for the active month, brokers reporting a good export demand.

Practically all the leading foreign exchanges pointed upward. Demand sterling was run up over 3 cents to $4.63, the highest quotation in more than a year and within 25 cents of parity, but it sold off nearly a cent at the close. French francs ruled above 5 1-4 c. Most of the other European rates showed slight gains.

FLOUR PRICES ARE UP

New York Local Market Witnesses Increase of From 25 to 50 Cts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The advancing tendencies in commodity prices since the election have increased the price of flour 25 to 50 cents a barrel in the local market, where standard shipping patents are now selling at $8 to $8.25 and fancy family flour at $9.25 to $10.00 per barrel.

Many buyers, it is said, have been holding off in expectation of a post election slump and have been forced to come into the market at the advance to replenish depleted stock.

SIMPLE FUNERAL FOR LODGE

Friends of College and Senate Days to Attend

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who, in life was a figure apart from the mass of the nation's legislators among whom he moved with distinction, will have funeral services in which old associations will be maintained to the end and in which his simplicity of tastes will be preserved. The services at Christ church, Cambridge, on Wednesday, at noon, with Bishop Lawrence, his school mate and college class mate officiating, will be more nearly those of the man for whom friends of a lifetime mourn than of the United States senator who passed after a notable career.

Decrease in output—216 barrels.

Storage crude in the Panhandle (on leases) increased about 9,000 barrels during the past week from 107,000 to 116,000 barrels, over two weeks before with pipeline runs over the Pan-Tex line approximating 4,000 barrels.

Some excitement was occassioned in the Panhandle during the past week with humors of the Wilson-Archer-Gresham well, No. 1, Whittenburg, T&TCRR block 46, section 75, northwest of the regular Hutchinson county production, making several flows after bridging over and breaking again. The well is actually spraying about 20 barrels of oil a day with about two million cubic feet of gas from sand at 2,902-2,905 feet. This well has only lately resumed drilling after being shut down for three of four months on account of the Whitterburg litigation.

In Carson county the American Refining company's No. 2, S. B. Burnett, section 115, block 5, is making close to 20 barrels an hour while flowing and actually putting between 275 and 300 barrels into storage a day with about one million cubic feet of gas. This is coming from the first sand of 2,920-2,928 feet. The American Refining company is having trouble pumping its No. 1, while No. 3, block 5, section 113, is rigging up with cable tools to hit the lime encountered at 1,827 feet.

Marland Oil company of Texas, No. 1, S. B. Burnett, section 107, block 5 is drilling at 2,060 feet after getting a show of gas at 2,030 feet and the top of the lime at 1,980 feet.

Danciger Brothers No. 1, S. B. Burnett, is preparing to drill ahead with three-inch drill stem after getting through the big lime, section 129, block 5. A string of 8 1-4 inch casing has been set at 2,927 feet.

Culberson Brothers No. 1, V. B. Armstrong, T&T block 2, section 30, is putting a string of 8-inch casing at a total depth of 2,965 feet.

Olson Oil company No. 1, S. B. Burnett, section 107, block 5, is fishing for a hundred feet of drill stem after gettin about 600 out of the hole.

P&R Oil company's B-2, fee, Bivins, section 90, block 46 Hutchinson county, is drilling at 2,305 feet with 20 million gas, top of lime at 1,830 feet.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persisten colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflammed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Ceomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Ceomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Adv.

Wildcat Test Near Justiceburg Showing Oil; Several Acreage Deals.

The Phelps-Maxwell-Blackwell test in the southeast corner of Garza county, northwest of the Mitchell county producing area, is attracting some attention among Wichita Falls operators now as a result of two successive showings, obtained below 2,000 feet within the past three weeks.

After passing up a sand which showed a little oil at about 2,100 feet this test last week encountered a sandy lime at 2,417 feet, and penetrated it to 2,451 feet. Friday the well was given a shot, of 1600 quarts and cleaned itself, filling up with oil afterwards for about 500 feet in two hours.

The well is located in section 136, H. & G. N. R. R. block 5, about the center of the south line of the northwest forty acres of the northwest quarter of the section, about three and one-half miles southeast of Justiceburg. The operators have made another tenative location to the north in section 7.

Among the acreage deals reported during the week were the purchase of 320 acres in two pieces by Marland, north and south of the well, the acquisition of 400 acres in a "L" shape, east and north of the well by Simms Oil company, and an 80 acres to the east by Kentucky Oil Corporation, a Wichita Falls concern.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nauseless Calomel tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomel, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price 10c for the vestpocket size; 35c for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—Adv.

Sustains Broken Arm in Accident, Collects Promptly

His arm broken at 1:30 p. m., set in splints at 2:30, and his $200 accident insurance benefit collected by 3 o'clock—this was the experience of John A. Smith yesterday.

Mr. Smith, who lives at 1310 North Second street, and who is employed at the American Refinery, met with an accident at 1:30, both bones in the lower left arm being fractured. He was taken to the office of Dr. A. L. Lane, Staley building, where the break was set. At 3 o'clock he called at the office of the Wichita Home Insurance company and was paid $200, being the amount due him as benefit, under Class "D."

It is believed that this constitutes a record for prompt payment by an insurance company. However, the Wichita Home insurance company can cite numerous instances where its policy holders were paid with almost equal promptness.—Adv.

Secretary Work Hears First Of Red River Tales

Hearings of Wichita Falls Producer Claimants Not Until December 1.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Hearing on applications of hundreds of corporations and individuals for permits and leases involving millions of dollars in the south half of the Red river oil field opened today before Secretary Work and Solicitor John H. Edwards of the interior department. After a brief session the hearing was adjourned until Wednesday.

Briefs were filed in behalf of claimants for undeveloped parts of the field whose cases will be heard first. December 1 was set for the beginning of arguments concerning the heart of the area where 36 producing wells are situated.

The permits and leases in dispute originally were awarded by the states of Oklahoma and Texas. The United States government, however, later declared the territory public land and took possession and has been operating it since under a receivership.

Gulf, Nichols

The Gulf Production company has encountered a sand and is setting casing on their No. 5, A. P. Nichols, northwest corner of lot 2, block 37, north Archer county, south offset to the Atlantic Oil Producing company's No. 5 Parrish. Depth of the sand was given as 1,563 feet.

PINKS CLING TO HOPES

Party Will Be Perpetuated Says California Leader.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Plans for a state-wide convention in January for the purpose of effecting a permanent independent political organization in California were announced today in a statement issued by the La Follette state campaign committee congratulating "the progressive citizens of California" upon the showing made during the recent presidential campaign.

The statement said the progressive movement has attained the position of the second political party in California."

Ten million people have heard political speeches over the radio this year, according to estimates of experts.

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or tetter needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may—permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

INGROWN NAIL

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgo" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgo" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.—Adv.

Democrats Will Avoid Radicals In New Congress

Avoidance of LaFollette Bloc Uppermost in Leaders' Minds.

TO CHANGE RULES

Alliance With LaFollette and His Adherents Definitely Severed.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Record News Staff.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—One of the first acts of the sixty-ninth congress will be to change the rules of the house of representatives, brought about in the present congress by an alliance between the democrats and the LaFollette bloc.

The present rules, republican leaders say, makes party government impossible and are designed to promote bloc government.

Another report current here is that Congressman John M. Nelson, Wisconsin, is to lose his place on the rules committee. Nelson was given this place in the last congress as the price of the LaFollette bloc's acquiescence in the election of Speaker Gillett.

Before the agreement was reached the LaFollette bloc, by voting for Representative Cooper for speaker and held up organization of the house.

May Add G. O. P. Members.

Responsible republican leaders said today that in the event Nelson was not displaced on the rules committee it is probable that two additional republican members will be added. At present there are eight republicans and four democrats on the rules committee. Under the new law there would be ten republicans and four democrats. The rules committee is the committee which decides what legislation shall and what shall not be considered by the house of representatives.

Under the plans for rules revision Representative Bertrand H. Snell, New York, chairman of the rules committee, will become more powerful than any single individual has been in the house since the days of Cannon.

Democratic house leaders hastening back to Washington today were united in declaring that the democrats must steer clear of any alliance with the small LaFollette bloc left in the house of representatives. Democrats attribute their overwhelming defeat largely to the working alliance between the democrats and the LaFollette group in senate and house in recent session of congress.

Accept Election Verdict.

Democratic leaders point out that an alliance with the LaFollette men could not give them control of congress and that they can best promote a return to active and responsible party government by accepting the verdict of the election, which was that Mr. Coolidge should have the authority to take the full responsibility for the conduct of affairs.

The democrats feel, these leaders say, that they should actively assume the role of the opposition and then go into the 1926 congressional elections on the record made. On the other hand a union with the LaFollette forces would make them only the major unit in a minority bloc, rather than the opposition party.

A "BROKEN OUT" FACE HOLDS YOU BACK

Many men and women of middle age feel that they have never had a chance to make anything out of themselves. But the main reason for it usually is that they let such things as pimples, rash, "breaking out," eczema, tetter, etc., on their face, neck, hands or arms, make them feel that they are not wanted around and they keep to themselves too much.

You can get just as much out of life as anyone. All you need is confidence in yourself, which you get naturally when you rid yourself of those skin troubles, if you just use Black and White Ointment and Soap. They are economically priced in generous packages. All dealers have them both. The 50c size of the Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.—Adv.

Editorial Views On Results of Election

REGISTER, Des Moines, (Ind. Rep.):

It is quite possible Coolidge may be the first of our presidents to serve more than eight years in the White House. The question of his re-election in 1928 is certain to come up, unless things go entirely wrong for him. He probably will have a congress largely in opposition to him, and so the responsibility for legislation will not rest entirely on his shoulders.

If Mr. Coolidge gets the republican nomination in 1928, which Roosevelt did not have in 1912, he will have greater strength than the strenuous one. Mr. Coolidge would serve only nine years if he fills two terms in his own right. It is entirely possible.

HERALD-TRIBUNE, New York (Rep.):

There are verdicts at the polls which leave no room for debate. The vote of yesterday silences every voice in opposition. Never in the history of American politics has there been a tribute so complete, so overwhelming, as that in approval and support of Calvin Coolidge.

The nation has spoken without regard to party or bloc or section. The American people have risen in their might and chosen their leader for the coming four years. They have chosen him against the voice of slander, against the machinations of blocs, against every selfish group. Mr. Coolidge stands today president in his own right by virtue of one of the greatest popular uprisings our system of popular elections has recorded.

This stupendous victory is in one aspect a triumph for a man. It declares a nation's faith in a great citizen, a great American, who, by simplicity, by honor, by courage has gained the affection and admiration of his countrymen.

FREE PRESS, Detroit (Rep.):

The significance of the immense popular vote Mr. Coolidge received is quite unlike the significance of the immense popular vote Mr. Harding received. Four years ago the landslide was a protest against the policies and record of the Wilson administration; Tuesday the landslide was an expression of heartfelt, grateful approval of the Coolidge administration. It was more than this. It was a monumental vote of confidence. It was a nation-wide reaction to the instinct for self-preservation which in a very definite way conveys to the president an appeal and a mandate to take charge of the country.

The rebuke hits and warns the lukewarm republicans, who, in the last session of congress, because of envy and spinelessness, played into the hands of those who were trying to block the efforts of the president to put through a program of remedial, constructive legislation.

HERALD, Boston (Ind.):

Elected by an overwhelming majority to stay in the office to which 15 months ago he suddenly was elevated, Calvin Coolidge has achieved one of the greatest personal triumphs and has led his party to one of the greatest victories in the history of the United States.

He has saved his party from defeat. No other man could have done what he has done. He has hesitated not an instant to avow his conservatism in a day when all the currents seemed to be setting in the opposite direction—or were they rather surface eddies than powerful currents of opinion? He has resolutely kept to the furrow into which he directed his plow at the time of his succession. He has not hesitated to do things which proved unpopular and which he must have known would be unpopular. But criticisms directed at other men, eminent and able, have stuck, while nothing of the kind has stuck to the simple, quiet, modest, industrious, honest man in the White House. The people like him, they believe in him, they trust him.

POST, Washington (Ind.-Rep.):

Mr. Coolidge's text throughout the campaign was common sense. So far as he was concerned, that was the issue and this it remained to the end. There has never been a campaign quite like it.

With two other serious rivals in the field the country has given him unmistakable indorsement. He has been elected, not on the record of his party, not on the strength of prosperity, but on his own merits, simply and solely. Facts, not politics, have determined his judgment while filling the place of another; by facts will he be judged four years hence when his own term is finished.

The future is always uncertain. But so long as Mr. Coolidge remains president of the United States this much remains sure:

Common sense will rule.

TIMES, Denver (Ind. Rep.):

It was not merely a personal recognition but a repudiation of radicalism. The national landslide of votes buried LaFolletteism so deeply that it has been definitely and, we hope, permanently effaced as a menace to the public life of America. It demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that the heart of the United States is sound to the core. It should sound the death knell of demagogy and the "bloc" system in congress.

EVENING DISPATCH, St. Paul (Ind. Rep.):

Senator LaFollette turned about and retraced his steps eastward when he reached Omaha. It was a waste of energy to carry coals to New Castle. The west, he said, was aflame. All that remained was to clean up a few doubtful states in the east.

Well, the west was not very much aflame, and it appears that most of the winning was done by Mr. Coolidge. The west remains pretty much in the republican column. It was not attracted by LaFollette's ambiguities, and it was definitely hostile to such ideas as he did have.

It will be necessary for the republican party to adopt to a somewhat greater extent the point of view of the west. There has been a tendency for leadership of the party to gravitate into the hands of men who see with the eyes of eastern industrialism. If the west is to be held, it will be necessary to restore the balance within the party between east and west and to reestablish the national character of its leadership.

Evening News, Albany (Ind. Rep.):

The Coolidge landslide is significant. It shows approval of Coolidge policies and it is a splendid tribute to him. The people believe in him. They believe in his honesty and sincerity. They like his policies of economy and common sense. They know that he is safe. They approve his foreign policy and they wanted the election settled.

News and Observer, Raleigh (Dem.):

The issue of common honesty undoubtedly received the approval of the American people. They felt outraged at the scandals that had shamed the republic. But Coolidge and his managers seem to have been able to charge all the corruption to the Harding people and Harding appointees to those who see righteous indignation flamed high at the corruption. The result is disappointing and disheartening.

Advertiser, Montgomery (Dem.):

The defeat was not humiliating nor disgraceful. The democratic party still lives. But it should not again put on the disguise of western radicalism. La Follette did that and was disgracefully beaten. The defeat was only an unpleasant incident in the long life of the democratic party.

John W. Davis emerges from the battle as one of the proper leaders of the party. The democrats need leaders badly at this time and they cannot escape honoring a democrat who manifested such elements of magnificent leadership as John W. Davis did in this campaign. His real political career is just beginning.

Oregonian, Portland (Independent Republican):

The people have refused to credit the preposterous charge that exposure of a few corrupt officials proves the entire republican party to be corrupt. Half the American people are not corrupt. The people believe in the integrity of their own government. They have rejected schemes to subvert our system of government by making the constitution changeable as the mood of congress changes. They have refused to put the government in business on a huge scale and thus to make experiments which other nations have made to their sorrow. They have voted to travel the firm, hard high way.

Journal, Providence (Ind.):

The election of President Coolidge means much more than a personal victory for him. The tribute to his rugged honesty and remarkable common sense in the administration of the nation's affairs is notable indeed. But beyond the personal indorsement is the fact that the citizens of the United States are tired of the incessant efforts of malcontents to keep the country in a state of turmoil. They have become convinced that genuine progress can best be achieved by following the sound, substantial program that the president has so plainly mapped out in his messages and pleas to his fellow-Americans regardless of parties.

Globe-Democrat, St. Louis (Ind. Rep.):

It was not the republican party that won the election, but Calvin Coolidge personally and alone. The people did not vote for a party; they voted for a man. And this expression of confidence is all the more striking in view of the high character and exceptional ability of the candidate opposed to him by the democratic party. Nothing could be said against the integrity and fitness of Mr. Davis. Indeed nothing was said. His qualities were universally conceded. His defeat is not his public condemnation or rejection. It is due, it seems clear to us, to a popular conviction that Coolidge has proved, that he is of the right stuff, that he is to be trusted and that he is entitled to a fair chance, which he has not yet had, to show what he can do.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send 10c to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

In home building particularly it is a great satisfaction to know that the lumber used is of the best. Whether a home keeps its original soundness and appearance twenty years, or falls apart in ten years, is largely a matter of good lumber and carpentry.

AMONG THE PROPHETS.

Judge Elbert H. Gary: "Never before in the history of the world has any country had such an opportunity for advancement."

G. W. Davidson, New York financier: "The election has removed uncertainty, stimulated confidence and left the way clear for business to go ahead on sound lines."

Earl Bapst, president of the American Sugar Refining company: "The election clears the atmosphere; the country is entitled to a fine reward."

S. R. Guggenhein of the Guggenhein family: "It means great industrial prosperity and progress in all our affairs, national and international."

H. T. Parson of Woolworth & Co.: "We can now look ahead to four years of good business without hesitancy."

Williams Wrigley of Chicago: "There will be business for everyone; the new prosperity will be reflected all along the line."

Charles H. Markham, railroad magnate of Chicago: "I can see good times ahead."

Frank L. Carey, president of the Chicago board of trade: "The general results of the election will improve business all over the country and new ventures will now be launched."

Richard B. Grant of Cleveland, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States: "The year 1925 will be a year of very high volume in industry and commerce."

Judge Elbert H. Gary of the house of steel made this additional comment or prediction: "I look for great future prosperity."

Following the election was more active on Wall Street than for three years.

And the financiers of the country are positive that the country has been saved again and productive enterprise will be in flower before the coming of the Ides of March in the year 1925. All these prophets of prosperity were enrolled as republicans this year.

"Get out the vote" was the slogan of big business for months and months before the coming of November 4. Well, in the upper country from Sandy Hook to the Golden Gate they got out the vote and see what happened to the donkey. He walked on three legs after the 1920 election; now he is hopping along on two legs. It must be true that the docile animal is built for endurance and not for speed.

BIG DEMAND FOR COTTON.

On the first day of November more cotton was shipped out of United States ports than on any previous day in the history of the cotton trade. According to correspondents the total from all ports from which cotton is shipped, including New York, Savannah, New Orleans, and Galveston as the principal ones, aggregated 220,000 bales, valued in round figures at $25,000,000.

Acording to the same advices these cotton exports were divided about half and half between England and continental countries. Germany and France are big buyers of cotton at the present time but the trade paper says the bulk of the export cotton is going to England.

Moreover the foreign spinners are said to be getting the pick of the new crop cotton. British spinners since the increase of the working hours in American material mills from 26 to 32 1-2 hours per week have been particularly heavy buyers in the American market.

It may interest readers of this newspaper to be told that on the big shipment of 220,000 bales to foreign nations Galveston shipped out 120,000 bales and Houston 74,000. Cotton is gold this year and there is a lot of cotton in Texas.

OWES HIS SUCCESS TO WORK.

Colonel William M. Butler says Calvin Coolidge owes his remarkable success to work; he knows the business of government and knowledge is power. Think of it. This man who has been swept into office by a tremendous popular vote has been city councilman, mayor, state legislator, senator, president of the senate, lieutenant governor, governor, vice-president, and president. He has been a candidate for office 14 times and never a single defeat. In addition to this he has never owned an automobile.

A QUOTATION THAT WILL HELP YOU.

"The habit of constant useful occupation is as essential for the happiness and well-being of woman as of man. Without it, women are apt to sink into a state of listless ennui and uselessness, accompanied by sick headache and attacks of "nerves."

Caroline Perthes carefully warned her married daughter Louisa to beware of giving way to listlessness. "I myself," she said, "when the children go out for a half-holiday, sometimes feel as stupid and dull as an owl by daylight; but one must not yield to this, which happens more or less to all young wives.

"The best relief is work, engaged in with interest and diligence."

"Work then, constantly and diligently, at something or other, for idleness is the devil's snare for small and great, as your grandfather says, and he says true."

"Constant useful occupation is thus wholesome, not only for the body, but for the mind. Any ordinary drudgery is better than idleness."

Thousands can bear testimony to the truth of the saying of Greuze, the French painter, that work—employment, is one of the great secrets of happiness.

"No man could be more sensible of the practical importance of industry than Sir Walter Scott; who was himself one of the most laborious and indefatigable of men."—Samuel Smiles.

More Truth Than Poetry

THE CHICKADEE

I see the frost upon the hill,
I watch the leaden clouds drift by,
The air grows keen, the wind blows chill—
As Autumn breathes her last good bye.
And then, from yonder leafless tree
That shivers in the dying day,
I hear you blithely call to me:
"Cheer up! for winter's on the way!"

Full well you know what winter means,
For you must shield your fragile form
Behind the willow that careens
Before the roaring Arctic storm.
You know how hungry you must go,
When bent are flower and shrub and weed
Beneath the drifts of frozen snow—
With all their hoarded store of seed.

And yet, while colder blows the gale,
When white prophetic snow flakes fall.
And leaves, like little shallops sail
To shelter by the garden wall;
Amid the trees, all brown and sere,
You dart about, on fluttering wing—
And sing a song as full of cheer,
As though you heralded the Spring!

When falls the last remaining bloom
Beneath the morning's silver rime,
My coward's soul is filled with gloom
To think of coming winter time.
And then I hear your cheery call
Across the sharp November air,
And think, perhaps that after all
There is no reason to despair!

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE CASE

I have received a very interesting letter from a gentleman who does not wish his name published, who states the other side of the case from which I outlined sometime ago in regard to sailing vessels and conditions of life upon them.

As this man seems to be a sailor and to know what he is talking about it may be interesting to get his point of view and the best way to do it would probably be to republish certain portions of his letter. They are as follows:

"After reading the enclosed article I decided to take the liberty to make a few comments in defense of the seafaring man.

"I feel confident that the deplorable conditions that Admiral Summerville describes are very rare on merchant ships.

"I will admit that there are no luxurious baths for the crew of a ship, but any sailor can take a thoroughly cleansing bath from one bucket of water and, when this bath is taken twice a day with a change of clothing, the bather is always clean.

"I have never seen a man do his four-hour watch on deck, to say nothing of the stoke holes, and turn in without a sponge bath, and I have never sailed with any but the common run of sailors of the Northwest. I have worked on the fruit ranches of California and the cotton fields of the South, and I am convinced that, on the whole, the quarters of a sailor aboard an American merchant ship are cleaner than the homes of any group of workers ashore.

"I have eaten in boarding houses and workingmen's restaurants the country over and I would rather eat the food on the worst ship I was ever aboard than the food of a la boarding house.

"I have been a sailor for the past five years and during this time I have been aboard of or sailed on many ships of all nations and never once have I witnessed conditions or actions such as the Admiral describes. This being the first article of this kind I have seen in the public press I would like to contradict it to some extent and so will try to give you a description of my findings.

"On most American ships an investigator would find clean sheets and beds in every bunk on the forecastle, and there are bathrooms with sewers in the floor where a man can take a salt water shower or a fresh water sponge if he chooses, so all in all we do not fare so bad and an interested person would be bound to notice the prevailing cleanliness.

"I sincerely hope that sometime in the future you will go into the conditions aboard ship more thoroughly, and do us the justice to publish your true findings so that the American people will know that American ships are manned by men rather than by beasts, living under conditions that would cause a slave-holder in the dark ages to have pity for his slaves were they as bad off as sailors are supposed to be."

What Today Means to You

SCORPIO.

The principal aspect operating throughout today is an adverse one from Neptune. It is not of malefic or violent aspect, but of a subtle character, which lends the misunderstanding, deception, and underhand methods. Be very cautious today about accepting any propositions that you may receive, and do not accept any, no matter how flattering they may appear, without careful analysis and long deliberation. Do not, if you can avoid it, sign any agreements or contracts. Be guarded about promises made or undertakings given, and exercise more than ordinary care in correspondence.

A child born today will be sickly during infancy, but its ailments need cause no anxiety, provided that its nutrition be carefully supervised, and its environment be wholesome. It promises to develop into healthy and vigorous maturity. Its character will be volatile; its disposition, rather peevish, its mentality, rather below than above the average. This child, no matter what its inclination may be, should be compelled to live as much as possible in the "great outdoors," and made to participate in the games and sports of childhood. Thereby, many of the sharp angles of its character will be toned down, and its inherent peevishness mitigated. Its best vocation will be along manual, and not mental, lines.

If today is your birthday, you are shrewd, determined and combative. You sometimes, to your own material detriment, allow your natural shrewdness to override your conscientious scruples. The determination of your character is a valuable quality, when the object you have in view is a worthy one. Less determination, however, would be desirable in those cases where your innermost self tells you your purpose is not worth while.

Your combativeness impels you to always stand up for what you consider your rights, and you never allow yourself to be pushed aside without a vigorous protest.

You do not like to, and cannot, be driven, but for love and affection "you will go the limit." Any act that savors of coercion or force, arouses within you a resentful obstinacy that nothing can overcome.

You are generally light-hearted and entertaining, although, by no manner of means, either irresponsible or indifferent.

You have many valued close friendships, and intimate associations.

Already Beginning to Make Up to the Widow

The Man With The Broken Nose Or The Strange Adventure of a Rolls-Royce

By MICHAEL ARLEN.

"What is the matter with your car?" asked Mr. Wagstaffe gently.

"There's so damn little the matter with it," snapped Tarlyon, "that it's probably half way down the Doyer road by now."

"Ah," said Mr. Wagstaffe wearily. "I see. Cars have an irresistible fascination for Michael, I see. I am sorry. Was it a good car?"

"Pity," said Mr. Wagstaffe. "A great pity. He may of course return it. He may. You cannot, of course compel him to, for it would be difficult for you, in your position, to put the police on him. But he may return it on his own. Michael is not a bad boy, really. He will, I am sure, communicate with me as to what I will offer for the return of my coins. I will then give him the cheque you have so kindly promised to post to me tonight, and perhaps he will soften also as regards your car and return it to you. Naturally he will expect your cheque to approximate to the value of your car—say, half its value. Michael is something of an expert about the value of cars. That's why I said it was a pity, sir, a pity that your car was not a cheap car. But I am sure you will have no difficulty in finding a taxicab home. They are so abundant in Grosvenor Square that my sleep is often disturbed by them."

The rest of the story is not at all interesting. George Tarlyon's car was finally returned, and George Tarlyon is sorry that Mr. Michael Wagstaffe's nose is already broken.

CATTLE ARE COMING BACK

Texas Concern Said to Have Purchased Land in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Mexico is coming back as a cattle country. It is reported that a large Texas concern has purchased nearly half a million acres of land in the southern part of the state of Durango, Mexico, for the purpose of stocking with cattle from New Mexico, says consul David J. D. Myers, Durango, Mexico, in a report to the department of commerce. Trade opinion is that the importation of cattle will begin as soon as the concession in the railway rates can be secured. Through an arrangement made by the consulate at Durango with local land owners for a period of free pasturage it is probable that 14,000 American cattle will soon be placed on the cut-over lands around Llano Grande and near El Salto on the Durango Mazatlin railway.

BOOZE BILLED "LUMBER"

Christmas Cheer Fails to Reach its Destination.

ATLANTA, Nov. 10.—Police last night seized a carload of expensive liquors, billed as "lumber", in the local Louisville & Nashville railroad freight yards. The Atlanta Constitution says that city officers leading the seizure squad estimated that 24,000 quarts of various liquors were in the car and the consignment reckoned at bootleg prices is worth around $225,000. Officers are of the opinion that the cargo was sent from some syndicate of the South Atlantic coast to be distributed as "Christmas" goods.

FATHER AND SON WEEK

Childress Plans Observance; Cotton Crop is a Large One.

CHILDRESS, Nov. 10.—Father and son week will be observed in Childress this year beginning with the special service at 7:30 at the Presbyterian church, Sunday. On Thursday Nov. 13 a banquet will be given at the Baptist church. J. E. Lewis, state secretary of Boys' work for the Y. M. C. A. will be the chief speaker.

The flower show put on by the Parent-Teacher association was a success. The P. T. association had given each school child some chrysanthemum plants in the spring and they were to care for these and enter them in the show to be held in the fall. Elliott Westmoreland won first prize.

A visit to the country between Childress and Hollis, Okla., shows the wonderful cotton crop being harvested this year. The Hollis gins are so overrun that some of the cotton is being brought to Childress to gin. One farmer who has 125 bales open in the field found he could bring his cotton here and save time. He has already brought 20 bales and expects to continue.

Sheet music sold in this country in the last year brought $15,000,000.

Pantomime —By J. H. Striebel

Dorothy Dix

Shall he Remarry a Woman of His Own Age or Select a Young Girl? —Should We Wear Mourning in Defiance of Our Loved One's Wishes?—Why is it That the Black Sheep is Treated Better Than the White?

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am a widower, sixty years old, with no children. I have a good business, a nice home, and car, but my health is poor.

There are two women I am considering as prospective wives. One is a widow with two children, both of whom live in other cities. She is well off financially, jolly, good company, good cook, fine looking and near my age. The other woman is a young girl, and I lean toward the young one. Which would you advise me to decide upon? JOHN.

Answer: My dear Mr. John, if you don't take the widow you will give another and convincing proof of the old adage that there is no fool like an old fool.

Your common sense, as well as your observation, must tell you that youth and age have nothing in common. Have the courage to face the facts, and ask yourself what any young girl could find to interest her in a man of sixty, or why she would want to give up the pleasures of her time of life to nurse an elderly dyspeptic?

Why, man, you would bore her to death with your reminiscences! She thinks that your ideals are simply moss grown antiquities. Her idea of spending a pleasant evening would not be to sit at home, and hear you discuss your symptoms, but to go out to some place where they have good jazz music and dance with boys young enough to be your grandsons.

And she would bore you just as much as you would bore her. She would get on your nerves just as much as you would get on hers, for you would soon get tired of gazing upon her pretty young face, and you would want her to be something more than a living picture.

You would want her to be a good cook and a thrifty housekeeper and a fireside companion. And because she was none of these you would be in a continual wrangle with her. You would be in a perpetual argument with her over the money she wasted and the way she spent her time. You would get peeved with her because she was always gadding around and there would be no peace nor comfort in your home.

You would be more green-eyed than your poor old liver makes you now, because in your soul you would know that she had simply married you for what you could give her and not for yourself, and that she was looking cheerfully forward to the day when she would be a rich young widow.

On the other hand, the widow has nothing to gain by marrying you except companionship. She would be interested in the same things in which you are interested. She would enjoy talking over old times. She would have the same tastes and habits that you have because you belong to the same generation. And she would know how to take care of you and pamper you, and make your last days your happiest ones.

Marry the widow. Widows are always preferred matrimonial risk.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—My son died recently. He was one of the best who ever lived, and he left an ache in my heart which has never ceased to throb, but he did not wish me to put on mourning, and I have not done so. What do you think about wearing mourning?

A BROKEN-HEARTED MOTHER.

Answer: Personally, I am very much opposed to it. I am opposed to it for many reasons. First, because of the depressing effect it has upon the bereaved and all who come in contact with them.

When those we love die, we are face to face with a tragedy we must endure as best we can. No tears, no agony of grief, will bring them back to us. We must take up our lives and go on. But this is harder to do if we keep the insignia of sorrow continually before our eyes. The woman who swathes herself in black cannot forget her bereavement even for a moment, nor can any cheer come into a household full of black-robed women. God sends sunshine after rain, and He means us to smile after our tears, and so I think we help along this healing process if we do not dress our broken hearts in somber colors.

Every woman in mourning reopens the wound of an old grief in the soul of every human being who sees her, because she brings back to them the memory of the hour when they, too, first donned the livery of woe.

I object to the wearing of mourning because the custom works a great hardship on the poor. People of small means cannot afford to throw away their ordinary clothes, and buy an entirely new outfit of black, and I have known many families who absolutely had to starve themselves for a year afterward to pay for the mourning garments that they thought custom demanded of them.

We are coming to look at this matter very much more sensible. During the war few people put on black when they lost their loved ones because of the effect it would have on the morale of the general public, and since then it has become a matter of individual inclination. It is no longer thought to show disrespect to the dead for members of a family to refrain from wearing black, and you never see the "weepers" under which women used to stagger about.

We are all getting wise enough to realize that mourning is a matter of the heart and not of clothes, and that we do not need to advertise our sorrows by decking ourselves out in black.

DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—Why do parents show so little respect for their children who are good and kind to them, and who treat them beautifully? Why is the black sheep nearly always treated better and with more affection than is the faithful son or daughter who has put forth every effort to help and comfort his father and mother? In almost every family there is some lazy, shiftless ne'er-do-well whom the parents feel that the industrious sisters and brothers should support, and to whom the mother gives the money which the other children make. And if there is property, it is nearly always the prodigal one who gets the lion's share. Why is this?

ETHEL.

Answer: I don't know, Ethel. Perhaps it is some divine pity that makes parents more tender to the erring son or daughter than they are to the righteous ones. Perhaps to them the sons and daughters who are weak in character and who lack the gift to fight the world are always like little children they feel they must shelter and care for, while they know that their efficient, strong children can look out for themselves.

Perhaps the boy who will not work and who goes off vacationing, and the girl who is pretty and lazy and pleasure-loving, represents some secret desire that their father and mother had, and that they were never able to gratify. And that is why the parents have a sympathy with the wastrels that they never had with their sane, commonplace good children.

But however it is, the story of the prodigal son is eternally true. It is always the bad children, for whom parents slay the fatted calf, while there is never a veal chop for the children who stay at home, do their duty, and comfort and take care of the old people. DOROTHY DIX.

HOW IT STARTED

Long Trousers.

Have you wondered why when the boy becomes the man he should change from knickerbockers which end at the knee to long trousers. Not for reasons of modesty, to be sure, as the growing girl lengthens her skirts, for in the realm of sports the knickers are still derigeur.

The long trouser is not very old, as history goes. For many centuries gentlemen wore knee breeches. Indeed very recently the American ambassador to Great Britain supplied food for the home cartoonists by appearing at the British court in such costume.

Long trousers owe their existence to that famous fop and favorite of George IV, Beau Brummell. The "Beau" lived from 1178 to 1840 and during his heyday was regarded by court society as the "glass of fashion and the mold of form. And one of the innovations with which at various times he startled London's smart set was a "shocking costume" which included tight-fitting long black trousers.

Knee breeches did not permit themselves to be superseded without a struggle, however. Indeed we learn that the Duke of Waterloo once was refused admission to a ball because he appeared in long trousers. But Beau Brummell's innovation survived.

DOMESTIC DUEL TO DEATH

Man And Wife In Death Grip Plunge Through Railing.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Clinched in a death grip with their hands on each other's throat, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zajaic broke through a railing on the rear porch of their flat and plunged three stories to a cement sidewalk here yesterday. The man died almost instantly from a broken neck and fractured skull, while his wife was removed to a hospital, her neck also broken and her skull fractured. Their two sons, 9 and 14, watched the struggle.

FEED THE SOLDIERS CHEAP

It Only Cost The United States 10 Cents Each, Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—It cost the United States slightly more than 10 cents a meal for its soldiers during the fiscal year ended last June 30. The daily cost of feeding the soldiers, it was disclosed in the annual report of the quartermaster general made public today amounted to only 31.65 cents for each man.

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

TREATING CHILDREN AS TOYS

Too many parents feel about as much responsibility for their children as they do for a new automobile or a radio set.

The car and the radio set give them pleasure. They live to keep the one nicely polished and running well. They like to have the other so nicely adjusted that through it they can hear what is going on for a radius of a thousand miles or so.

It is pleasant to tell a friend how far you went in your car without a mishap, and at such an astounding low gas consumption.

It affords great satisfaction to announce that you got Cuba on the radio last night and heard a Havana band as plainly as you could hear the one in your own town.

It is also pleasing to show off clean and beautifully dressed children, and to tell how soon they got their first teeth and what wonderful things they say now they have learned to talk.

But it must be remembered that even the best car or the best radio set will wear out in time, while the children will be around probably much longer than their parents.

Furthermore, nothing that the parents can do is likely to harm very much the car or the radio, and certainly cannot possibly improve them.

But the children can be practically ruined if they are not given the right kind of care and treatment, and can be made far more useful to themselves and the community if sufficient pains are taken with their upbringing and education.

Just because children amuse and delight their parents more than any other possession is not a reason for treating them as toys.

The mother, who does little for her little girl beside dressing her in beautiful clothes and teaching her manners that will enable her to do credit to her family in any company, is not contributing anything at all toward the little girl's future happiness.

And the father, who plays with his boy for a half hour when he comes home for dinner, and wants him out of the way on Sunday because he interferes with reading or card playing, is no more good to the boy than would be a nice tail wagging dog.

The responsibility of parents is a serious responsibility. Yet greatly as most of them love their children, and gladly as they would risk their own lives to save them from harm, comparatively few of them think how important to the children themselves are their care and rearing, and how useful to them will be good examples in the parents whom they naturally adore.

The father who wants the baby around only when it is clean and good-natured, is not fit to be a parent.

Nor is the mother fit to be a mother who dresses her baby only to show off, and lets it play in the dirt when there is no one to see.

There should be no shelves in the home upon which which children are paced when parents are tired of playing with them. Treat them as toys, and they will soon be as little use in the world as are the dolls that the ragman picks up on his dismal rounds. Treat them as budding human beings and they will richly repay the trouble it costs.

CAN'T SPECIFY THE MAKE

Attorney General Rules on Competition for Automobiles.

AUSTIN, Nov. 10.—An opinion from the attorney general to the state board of control holds that state departments, are not permitted to specify the make of articles in asking for supplies. A certain make of automobile or typewriter, for instance should not be designated as this would have the effect of eliminating competition, the opinion said. It has been the custom for the department to call on the board of control for the article by brand or name. The highway department, for example, has been asking for certain automobiles.

TO CLEAR TAX MUDDLE

Congress Will Be Asked About Publication of Income Returns.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Congress will be asked by the treasury in the forthcoming short session either to repeal or to make clear provisions of the tax laws relating to publication of income tax returns.

Although the publicity provisions in the present law are to be left by Attorney General Stone for judicial interpretation, the treasury, it was said today, feels that the reaction since the recent publication of returns have been of such a character as to show conclusively that the country is opposed to such publication.

IDENTIFY 237 BODIES

U. S. Authorities Investigate Bodies of War Casualties.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Identification work by army experts during the last fiscal year was successful in the case of 237 men of the American expeditionary forces who are buried in France, according to the annual report of Major General William H. Hart, quartermaster general, covering the fical year which ended June 30 last. Many of the bodies identified, the report said, were recovered during the year from isolated graves along the old battle fronts.

WILL ATTEND U. D. C. MEETING

Mesdames W. P. Bolling, president, S. M. Gose and G. Clint Wood will go to Houston as delegates to the state convention of the U. D. C. early in December, and Miss Lillian Fain will attend as a page as a result of an election at the Saturday afternoon meeting of the local chapter.

The home of Mrs. B. L. Fain was beautifully decorated for the meeting, and Mesdames J. M. Bell, Marvin Smith, Ellis Brothers, and Fain were hostesses.

An important act of the meeting was the request that a committee invest $50 to the book fund of the local high school for the purpose of furnishing authentic southern history for the school.

In the student hour, roll call was answered by giving the name of a southern university and a short sketch of its history. Two poems by Bill Smart, a southern poet were read: "The Southern Soldier," and "The Transfiguration," and Mrs. O. W. Wilson discussed southern histories.

Little Misses Rosemary Catter and Laura Costley danced an enjoyable solo, after which Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Bolding's mother, told of great men who were products of university life, and gave sketches of their history.

The hostesses served ice cream and individual cakes to Mesdames E. T. Huff, H. O. Newton, J. E. Dillard, G. D. Adderson, Leonard Grayson, J. G. Fain, C. V. Lemen, C. C. Hageman, Annie W. Baker, Bolding, G. D. Hall, O. W. Wilson, John Pruitt, W. E. Timblin, Dave Shepherd, Nancy Holliday, H. B. Patterson, Arch Collins, C. R. Eyssen, John Kay, Charles Pogenpohl, M. G. Catter, S. M. Gose, C. D. Shamberger, Bell, Fred Barron, Southern, Fain, Marvin Smith and Brothers and Miss Lillian Fain.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS PLACE BAN ON SLANG.

Thirty cents, so far, has been deposited in the treasury of the Ikiya Camp Fire group as a penalty for slang words used by members during meetings. This self-imposed tax, of a penny for every slang word used, is highly successful, members declare, both in ridding them of the habit, and of swelling the treasury funds.

Candy Sale a Success.

All members donated candy, and the following girls in neat uniforms sold their wares in shifts: Dolores Graves, Fannie Blank, Jean Fisk, Natalie Coffman, Mildred Robertson, Thelma Bridges, Florence Angell, Viola Chewning and Mrs. Walton.

Guardian Improving.

Miss Nell Smith, guardian of Ikiya Camp Fire, is in Fort Worth recuperating from recent operations. Her girls write to her in rotation so that she receives a letter or a card every day. She writes that she soon will be well enough to return and resume the leadership of her group which is now under Mrs. Walton.

Scene From "Meet the Wife"

For the first time in this city, Lynn Starling's new three-act comedy "Meet the Wife," with Mabel Brownell in the star part will be presented at the Palace theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 17 and 18, and a special popular price matinee on Tuesday.

Jules Hurtig, who gave a notable production to "Just Married" last season, has surpassed it in the artistic settings of "Meet the wife." The cast includes names familiar to Broadway. The play was staged by Bert French last October, and while 24 plays had their openings in that month, it remained for "Meet the Wife" with its fast movement and wholesome comedy to outlast all of them and not bring its run to an end until late in August. The action takes place in a very beautiful interior designated "Liberty Hall," which was designed by a real live Gertrude Lennox for her stage namesake in "Meet the Wife," and contributes much to the unmistakable success of the play and players.

BRIDGES' BRUINS RANK DECIDED FAVORITES IN COMING MOLESKIN SQUABBLE WITH MUSTANG TEAM

But Dallas Scribe Declares S. M. U. Will Need Adding Machine to Tabulate Its Touchdowns

Baylor and Southern Methodist universities have the two greatest offensive teams in the Southwest conference, even though the Mustangs have run up no astounding high scores during the current scramble. Nevertheless, you can look for a fairly low score Saturday when these two brilliant machines clash in Dallas.

On the attack to date, the Bears have shown something more than the Mustangs despite the fact that S. M. U. is declared the greatest passing machine in the conference. The Mustangs have displayed a more polished attack and coherent defense. The Bruins have run, plunged, and fought their way to the goal, and have battled stubbornly on defense.

The Bears have four great and shifty backs in Pittman, Coffey, Strickland and Collier, the latter named an alternated quarterback. This quartet of athletes combines a terrific plunging attack with a sweet open field game.

In Reisor, Stollenwerck, Wallin and Bedford at end the Mustangs present a formidable running attack coupled with superb aerial play.

The Mustangs have speed, strategy and wonderful passing ability, Baylor has strength, kicking ability, and a strategy which doubtless is superior to that of the Morrison and Freeland aggregation.

On form the Bear line seems the better and stronger of the two. In Walker at center, Sisco at one guard, Nash on an end, and Coates at tackle, the Baylor forward wall boasts a quarette stronger possibly than any other four linemen picked at random from any one conference team. King at center of the Mustang line possibly is the most sterling performer but he will meet a man just as good if not far superior in Bear Walker.

* * * * * * * * *

So we have two strong offensive clubs pitted against each other, and in offensive is the secret of a good defense. Baylor, the favorite should win, but by no overwhelming score.

Fumbled Punts Spell Disaster.

We have only a very unreliable memory to back us, but we'd wager that close to 50% of the breaks in football are produced by fumbled punts.

It's a perfectly safe bet. How is any one going to prove we are wrong? What's more, how are we going to prove we're right? Looks as if no one is going to be hurt financially..

The coach who has a clever catcher in his safety man has one heavy burden lifted from his many worries. It is much more soothing to the nerves to know a punt is going to fall into erroriess arms than to live through that brief second of uncertainty when the ball is dropping toward "butter-fingers."

Many a game has been lost because a punt has been misjudged or fumbled. It is far more important to concentrate on the catching of the ball than to look beyond to the possibilities of a run-back.

It is no minor detail, this punt catching. A twisting pigskin tossed by the wind and sometimes falling "out of the sun" is no easy thing to grasp and hold. It takes a "ball-hawk" to get under it and two capable arms to encircle it at the right moment.

Besides the obstacles of wind and sun, opponets are charging down the gridiron from all directions, breaking through the interference and making ready for the tackle.

As soon as the catch is made the ball must be encased by a strong arm. There is no time for shifting to a safer position. The acts of catching and headlocking the ball must be instantaneous.

If a quarterback fumbles, the odds for recovery are against him. Usually there are at least two opponents close to him. They have the advantage of a flying start in the direction of a bouncing ball.

* * * * * * * * *

Recovery by the kicking team invariably means a scoring position. It was a fumbled punt that gave S. M. U. the touchdown which saved the Mustangs from a tie game with T. C. U., and a tie there would have given the Dallas school three fifty-fifty contests so far and but one victory.

* * * * * * * * *

Dallas Scribe Loses Mind.

Charles Dixon, Dallas scribe, arises in childish glee to shout that the Baylor Bears, conquerors of Arkansas, Texas A. & M. and Texas university, are in for the licking of a lifetime in the coming Bear-Mustang tilt. Amusing to say the least, but we shall see what we shall see.

The cocksure Dallas typewriter mistreater's yarn follows:

"Well, at last it is a proven fact. Early-season dopesters said Baylor and S. M. U. ought to play for the championship. They might have thought otherwise as the season progressed, but it's now a fact. Saturday at the Fair park stadium at 3 bells the undefeated S. M. U. Ponies are going to meet the undefeated Baylor Bears, and it looks like the history of 1923 is going to be repeated with the Mustangs loping off with the title.

"The Methodist coaches have always contended that if they could just get to the Baylor game undefeated they would come through. They have arrived at that station in the race. The Dallas team got all its bad football out of its system against Arkansas Saturday. They ought to play their best game of the year Saturday, and they will do so. Baylor's poor defense against a passing attack is going to cost the Bears the title by a decisive count, but even if the cocksure Waconas break up S. M. U.'s passes, the Ponies will win with its runs. S. M. U. could have defeated Baylor last year without using a pass. Baylor can't win unless a score is made, and the Bears have no plays which will prove successful against S. M. U. unless Coach Bridges has a number of new ones he has not tried, and that is not likely. He probably used everything he had to outluck A. & M. and to defeat Texas. S. M. U. only tied A. & M. but the Mustangs outplayed the Aggies in a more thorough fashion than did Baylor, and the Aggies played a much better game against S. M. U. than they did against the Bears.

"These wierd stores the sport editors concock about psychology, to our mind is strictly the bunk. Baylor may have psychology on its side, whatever that may be, but when Logan Stollenwerck throws one of his unerring passes the Bears had better have somebody besides psychology in front of Gene Bedford or Henry. If S. M. U. can get as many men loose on passes against Baylor as did A. & M., then the Mustangs are going to be forced to use an adding machine to keep up with their total.

"Baylor just isn't there when it comes to breaking up passes and when S. M. U. meets a team weak in that department, it can take its two ends, Reisnor and Stollenwerck and put a bunch of uniforms in the other positions and pass its way to victory. We offered the prediction prior to the Aggie game that the Farmers would be passed into complete submission, and they were. The Aggies got a draw, but in doing so they got more breaks than all the teams in the conference have gotten in the last year. Baylor, however, is not as strong defensively as the Aggies, and the Bears could hardly hope for victory even if they got the breaks that the A. & M. club did.

"The best the Baylor team can hope for if the breaks are given no consideration, is a tie. If the Bears can completely smear S. M. U.'s passes and unexpectedly stop the off-tackle plays, end runs and plunges of the greatest backfield the conference has ever seen, then they may get a tie, but without the best of fortune in the breaks of the game, we cannot see how Baylor is going to score. Here in Dallas it seems that a scoreless tie is Baylor's only hope.

"The beter team, however, wins in football four times out of five, and when both teams are primed for the game the better eleven wins nine times out of 10. S. M. U. with a 20% bitter club than Baylor will be primed for this game, and the Mustangs ought to win. S. M. U. has the better backfield, the line from tackle to tackle is at least the equal of Baylor's. S. M. U. has better ends on the sidelines than Baylor has on the field, and in action S. M. U. will have two All-conference wings. The Baylor coaches are full of tricks. The Methodist coaches are full of sound football. Baylor throws the ball around sometime. The Waco team has no one that can pass. S. M. U. has the best passer in the south in Stollenwerck, the best receiver in the south in Bedford, and next to Stollenwerck Reisor is the best passer in the conference. S. M. U. has a better defense than that of Baylor. The Bears excel in only one department, Pittman being recognized as the best punter in the conference, but perhaps he will not do so well when rushed. We remember when punting against S. M. U. last year, he was rushed and his work was pitiful, averaging about 28 yards. He will be rushed Saturday, but even if he has improved Stollenwerck will be able to run the kicks back so much better than the Baylor safety men that the Mustangs will even have an advantage here.

"Perhaps in this day it is not customary to predict a victory for your favored team. The coaches say it has a tendency to hurt the chances of the team, but we have been predicting victories for S. M. U. since the beginning of last season, and those Ponies have not lost a game yet. They will be stronger Saturday than they have ever been in the history of the school, and while we predict an S. M. U. victory by a score of 14 to 0, we would not be surprised should the total go over 28.

Princeton's Tiger and Yale's Bulldog Clash Coming Week-End

Students of natural history as well as followers of football will be interested in the headliner on the grid schedule for Saturday, November 15.

For the answer to the question: "Which is the master, the Tiger or the Bulldog?" will be thrashed out once more on the cleat chewed field at Princeton, N. J.

The bulldog that is Yale's and the Tiger that is Princeton's will be turned loose at each other that day.

Apart from establishing for a year at least the answer to the aforesaid question the game will also indicate how much a Tiger can take and come back for more.

The Bulldog sank his teeth into the Tiger 27 times last fall while the Tiger went begging for a bite. Has the jungle beast recovered his strength? And how are his jaws?

Only twice before in the fifty years the teams have met had the New Haven animal treated the Tiger so rudely. Back in 1890 Yale licked the Princeton eleven 32 to 0. Ten years later the Blue again handed the Tiger a terrific beating, 29 to 5. The Tiger has been on the pleasant end of such a feast but twice. In 1896 Princeton trounced Yale 24 to 6. Four years ago the Bulldog went down 20 to 0.

A glance at the year by year record of the teams shows that the Tiger has missed a lot of chances for large and luscious meals because he lacked the hind legs and the molars.

Is he in shape to take the Bulldog's measure, number and meatiest parts this year?

That 34 to 0 victory by Princeton over Harvard the past week-end would indicate that Yale's Bulldog is in for real rough treatment.

The gridiron contest between the Yale and Princeton elevens this year is the forty-eighth in a series which dates from the year 1873. The Tigers won the initial game by 3 goals to 0. There were no meetings in 1874 and 1875, but in the next year Yale defeated Princeton, 2 goals to 0. From this time until 4916 there was a game every year.

The continuous record of a game every year for 41 years was broken by the world war, but in 1919 the series was resumed and has not been interrupted since. In the total number of victories the Blue leads the Tigers by a wide margin. Two of the games which ended in ties were caused by suspended contests and were officially listed as scoreless ties. In both cases—1884 and 1886—Yale was leading when the play was stopped.

Following is a complete list of games played by the Yale and Princeton football teams:

Semi-Pro Elevens Battle in Burk

One of the most important semi-pro football games of the season will be played at Burkburnett this afternoon between the Denison Boosters and the Burk All-Stars. Two weeks ago these same teams played a scoreless tie and each team is confident of winning today's game. The Denison Boosters will come here with a much improved lineup, both Higginbottom boys and Cecil Griggs will be with the Denison squad and with this trio of stars Denison stands a good chance of winning the game.

The Burk eleven has the distinction of never being beaten by a Texas team, for three years they have played some of the best teams that could be found and during this time they have been defeated just twice and both of these defeats were administered by Oklahoma elevens and both games were by the close score of 9-7. So far this year Burk has played four games and three of these games have been won and one was tied.

Burk's team today will be strengthened somewhat by the addition of Westner, local high school coach and Heath, former Breckenridge and Weatherford college player. The winner of the game will be matched with the winner of the Breckenridge-Mineral Wells game which is also being played at Mineral Wells today. Rotan and Stamford are also in the race for the semi-pro championship of Texas.

Winsor says that Fuente will make 175 pounds at 2 o'clock the afternoon of February 22. His normal fighting weight is 183 pounds. Is an upright swing more easily controlled than a flat swing? Why or why not? Which swing is best for a player of average build?

Answered
By BILL STRACHAN
Wichita Falls Country Club Golf Professional

The swing that suits the player of average build is the upright swing. It is easier to get the ball up and most of the distance obtained is in the flight. At flat swing gives the ball too much run, which, with irons, is not desirable. It is also muc heasier to get a ball out of traps and rough with an upright swing. A flat swing is apt to sweep along the ground too much before coming in contact with the ball out of the rough.

An upright swing produces the steadiest players, owing to having more freedom at the top of the swing. A flat swing tends to a cramped position at the top of the swing, which is apt to bring the body in too soon. All flat swingers, as a rule, use their bodies a great deal mroe than upright swingers, which is the main reason why our best players all use the upright swing.

CHICAGO PLANS WORLD'S GEATEST RIDING CLUB

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Chicago is soon to have the largest and finest building in the world devoted exclusively to equestrain sports—the new million dollar home of the Riding Club of Chicago.

A group of Chicago's wealthiest and most representative citizens who are interested in promoting better horsemanship is sponsoring the project. They have outlined a plan of operation which is expected to become a material factor in advancing the breeding of light horses. It is increasingly recognized that this type of mount is an immensely important factor in sport and recreation and indispensable to national defense in time of war.

Dean of Football Disciples Is Stagg Who Forsook Ministry To Enter Grid Coaching Game

Chicago, Inspired to Heights of Superman Ability by Venerable Mentor, Fought Illinois to Tie

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—That surprising 21-21 tie game fought out Saturday by Chicago and Illinois proved one of the greatest upsets of the season. The Maroons were not rated a chance to stave off defeat by the fast flying Grangemen, but sterling fight, and the fact that Chicago's eleven played far over its head nearly swept the Illini from their feet. To Alonzo Stagg, gray-haired Maroon mentor, goes the credit. Chicago was inspired to the very heights of superhuman ability by the veteran coach, and no team in the world could have stopped the Maroons that day.

Back in 1889 Alonzo Stagg gave up his plans for a career in the ministry because he feared he lacked the rhetorical ability and convincing manner he believed necessary to a successful career in the pulpit.

Today—as dean of all football couches in America—he stands out as one of the greatest figures of the grid game because of his ability to drive home the principles of the game and make his players see and live the sport, as he does.

And the men who have hurled themselves about a sod-torn field, inspired by his leadership—the men who have heard him plead with them from his heart between halves to play the game for themselves and the glory of Chicago—wonder if the church lost one of its greatest disciples when he altered his plans back there in 1889.

Stagg's life, from his college days on, has been a sermon for youth.

Long Runs With Trays

Hen entered Yale in the fall of 1884. Money was scarce. He helped defray his expenses by waiting on table and writing for the Yale News. He took the regular four-year course at college and then, despite the crying need for money, took a post graduate course of one year and a year at the divinity school.

He first drew attention in athletics by his pitching. And his baseball ability almost prevented him from playing football, the game that came to be his life's work.

Stagg won fame as a pitcher his first year in school. For five seasons he pitched the Blue to the intercollegiate title. The final game in his fourth year was a lesson in courage that those who know him will say is typical of the man. Yale met Harvard on Saturday, June 23, 1888. Yale needed to win to tie Harvard for the title. Yale did win. Stagg pitched his heart and arm out and shut out the Crimson team. Yale scored eight runs.

The deciding game was played the following Tuesday. Stagg's arm was "numb" when the day arrived. It was impossible for him to throw a ball overhand. He tossed every one underhand. Seventeen Harvard men drove the ball high in the air for outs. Yale won.

Heard Call of Grid

All the while he played baseball Stagg hankered to try the grid game. Athletic officials pleaded with him to stay off the grid, fearing that he would injure his arm. He did play the last two years, however, and his final season found him mentioned as All-American end.

When, after the year in the divinity school, he decided to forsake the ministry he went to the Springfield, Mass., training school of the Y. M. C. A. It was while he was there that Dr. W. R. Harper of Yale, president of Chicago U., asked him to accept the coaching job there as part of comprehensive plans being developed for enlarging the university and its activities.

Stagg accepted—after the officials had raised the salaryq offered from $1,500 to $2,500.

Football material was scarce his first year and officials of the conference allowed him to play halfback on the team.

Before the year ended Stagg had made his presence felt in the Big Ten.

A Wonder Tactician

He now ranks as one of the greatest all-around coaches. He is well along in years now, as athletics go, but dons his uniform almost every day in the early fall weeks to let his men "try it out on the coach" while perfecting their tackling. When they "hit him hard" he holds them until he points out the errors in their tackle.

He has produced some great teams for the Maroon school. He probably would call those of 1889 and 1905 among his best—if not his greatest. In '09 Chicago won 17 to 0. His '05 tenm beat Michigan 2 to 0 in a game that still lives in the minds of the older Big Ten grads, whether or not they be of Michigan or Chicago.

Simpson in Good Shape For Go With Tucker

Brasier Real Punishment Glutton, Declares Durbin.

Johnny Simpson will be in far better condition for his bout with Frankie Tucker on the legion card Thursday night than was the case the past week in the Simpson-Smith fracas. Simpson roundly trounced the roughhouse lad from Oklahoma City, but Harry Durbin, the San Antonio face frescoer's manager, declares that he will be far more fit in his next bout.

Simpson has been hitting the road early every morning and training hard of afternoons. Durbin believes that Tucker will have to be a mighty good boy, which he is, to down Johnny. Simpson displayed a stubborn willingness to mix it in his first bout here last Thursday with Smith, and also indicated that he packs a vicious punch. It is his hopes to slap Tucker for a row of ash cans, and then take on the popular Duke Trammel of Fort Worth.

If Simpson can eliminate Frankie he will accomplish more than Duke could do here midway during the summer, and he certainly will be in line for the bout with Trammel. Such a card should draw heavily.

Soldier Brasier of San Antonio, also under Durbin's wing, is expected to do more than hold his own with Russ Beckwith of Oklahoma. The army middleweight is on hand now and working hard. He's tough and can stand all kinds of punishment, declares Durbin.

In one bout down at the Alamo City, Brasier took on a heavyweight, was floored 14 times, and then came back and stopped his opponent with a blow to the solar plexus, declares Durbin.

M'CALLUM LAYS PLANS FOR 1925 TITLE GRID PLAY

This Afternoon's Conflict First Step in Building Process.

TOUGH HOEING AHEAD

Stars On Casualty List Is Proving Sore Handicap.

Coach Bud McCallum's Coyotes, eliminated from this year's state championship grid race, are now laying plans for a successful foray in the 1925 scramble. As one stop toward developing an eleven of championship caliber for next season, McCallum will send his proteges against Gainesville high school this afternoon at Gainesville.

The Gainesville eleven, although out out of the titular running also, is a class A team, and should prove strong opposition for the coyotes. With exception of the Vernon contest which Wichita Falls lost 20 to 0, this afternoon's conflict is expected to be one of the stiffest if not the hardest of the year for the Maroon and Black.

Too Many Hurt.

In his building process toward a championship contender for the 1925 race Coach McCallum is sorely handicapped at present by the absence of several stars through injuries. Buck Steed, possibly the best pigskin packer of the lot, has not recuperated from the broken arm, casualty received in the Vernon tilt, and probably will not the remainder of the current season. With Steed out, McCallum is finding the going tough in developing a speedy and fighting offensive club.

Lawson, the Coyotes' next best bet in the backfield, although able to don the moleskins, is not in the most pleasing of condition. This lad is still handicapped with an injured hip hurt early in the season.

Shaw, sterling little wingman, has been out of the game for a lengthy period, and seems gone for the remainder of the season. This player doubtless is one of the best ends in Texas high school football.

And now Stacy Jenkins, alternate quarter and a fighter upon whom McCallum had placed much hopes, is unable to play because of blood poisoning in a foot.

Deems, crippled to an extent, is still able to enter the game, however.

18 Make Trip.

So it begins to appear that Coach Bud in his efforts to prepare for the next try for Texas grid honors is destined to be sorely handicapped.

Eighteen men will entrain this morning for Gainesville, and this group is in fairly good condition, but is not representative of the true strength of the Coyote squad were there no injuries at all.

McCallum has shifted Deems from the backfield to right end.

The probable starting lineup will be Mount at left end; Wainscott, left tackle; Doke, left guard; Hobbs, center; Copeland, right guard; Pierce, right tackle; Deems, right end; Lawson, quarterback; Curtain and Woodson at halfbacks; Powell, fullback; Neel and Howle, ends; Rugeley, back; Story and Onstatt, centers, and Downing and Ray, guards; compose the remainder of the squad which will invade Gainesville.

The Coyotes will leave shortly after the game tonight on the return voyage, and are expected in Wichita Falls at about 10:30.

"Betty, I'm going to my grandmother's after school today," said Mildred at recess; "she has some old costumes in her attic that she said I might be able to use for the book week play. Want to come along?"

"Of course I'll come," cried Betty.

That afternoon Betty and Mildred walked over to Grandmother Rollins' house. In her attic they found old chairs and cabinets galore. Finally Grandmother unearthed several large boxes, dusty with age. "These are some of the dresses I wore when I went to parties years ago," she said. "Just take anything you need, and we can make it smaller, if necessary."

Mildred found a lovely ruffled lace skirt and a long jacket to match which she could use to be Cinderella-at-the-ball.

Tennessee Prisoners Sentenced Under Old Statute

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., 10.—Al Jones and Bill Burch pleaded guilty in the criminal court today to violating the old Ku Klux law of 1868 and were given 15 years each. These men entered a residence while armed and stole some money and a pistol and then later held up four people on the street, assaulting two of them and firing several shots at the party as they ran away. This is the first case ever tried in the courts here under the Ku Klux law.

LEGAL NOTICES

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.
THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the sheriff or any constable of Wichita county, greeting:
You are hereby commanded to summon H. Pope Stearns by making publication of this citation once each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the 30th district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the court house thereof in Wichita Falls, on the 3rd Monday in December A. D. 1924, the same being the 15th day of December A. D. 1924. Then and there to answer an amended petition filed in said court on the 8th day of October A. D. 1924 in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 16220-A wherein Opal Stearns is plaintiff and H. Pope Stearns is defendant, and said petition alleging, that plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married on or about February 26th, 1921, at Grandfield, Oklahoma, and continued to live together June 15th, 1924. That on or about the 15th of June 1924, and immediately prior to their separation the defendant cursed and abused plaintiff and called her vile and improper names and struck her in the face with his fist and bruised, maltreated and hurt her. That said defendant on many occasions cursed and abused plaintiff applying the vilest and most opprobrious epithets without cause or provocation. That he often gambled far into the night and squandered all the money he made and refused to support plaintiff and their child. That there was born of said marriage a boy now about one year of age, named Clifford. That the defendant has since the birth of said child, shown a dislike for it, has not given it fatherly affection and for this reason and the further reason that the said defendant is a gambler and would not support said child, and is immoral, said defendant is not a proper custodian for said child, but said plaintiff is the proper custodian for said child. Wherefore plaintiff prays for absolute divorce and for the custody and control of said child, Clifford, and the costs of suit, etc.
Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon showing how you have executed the same.
Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 10th day of November A. D. 1924.
A. F. KERR, Clerk.
District Court, Wichita County, Tex.

Cotton

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—The cotton market was decidedly active and strong today advancing in sympathy with financial and commodity markets. At the highest, January was 97 points over Saturday's close, or $7 a bale above the prices ruling prior to the recent government report. Such reactions as developed during the day were due to profit taking and were short lived.

At the start Liverpool was lower than due, owing to a break in the price of Egyptian cotton and a rise in exchange. The market opened firmer and prices advanced 19 to 32 on the opening call. Prices continued to gain on the execution of an accumulation of over Sunday buying orders until the active months were 53 to 59 points above Saturday's close, before a resting place was reached. It became strong in the afternoon on active speculative and trade buying assisted by reports of heavy sales of cloths, it being reported that the sales of print cloths amounted to 3,000,000 yards for the day.

The upward swing was also helped by the advancing stocks and grain markets, by a good spot demand and by a reported higher spot basis in the interior after a slight reaction right at the end the market closed at a net gain for the day of 81 to 93 points.

The New Orleans exchange will be closed tomorrow Armistice day.

New York Cotton

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Continuation of the buying movement which started shortly after the publican of the government's report on Saturday was responsible for an advance of approximately a cent a pound in the cotton market today. January contracts sold up to 24.52 in the late trading, or 99 points net higher and 162 points above the low level of Saturday morning. They closed at 24.33, the general market closing steady at net advances of 68 to 80 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 11 to 22 points on over-Sunday buying orders which had been brought in by the strength of prices late last week. Realizing caused moderate set backs after the opening but the market soon firmed up again and another flurry of profit taking was absorbed on equally slight reactions during the early afternoon. On each of these recessions trade buying seemed to come in, while there were evidence of a broadening commission house demand as well as covering of shorts on the advances.

The best prices of the day were reached in the late trading when December sold at 24.35 and March at 24.82, making net advances of 94 to 101 points. The strength of sterling exchange and reports of a good tone in the stock market were among the factors on the advance. There was also bullish comment on reports of more active business in the cotton goods market and the comparatively light selling for southern account, until after the close, when a little more hedging was noted. Last prices were 17 to 23 points off from the best under these offerings and realizing.

Exports today 31,357 bales, making 2,274,564 so far this season. Port receipts 59,799, U. S. port stocks 1,349,867.

Spot News

With very little for sale, spot men were bidding up to 23.40 for spot cotton in Wichita Falls and vicinity Monday afternoon, following the advance of almost 200 points in futures since the government report Saturday. This is the best price for spot cotton in over five weeks.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—Spot cotton firm, 80 points up. Sales on the spot 1209; to arrive 2439. Low middling 22.25; middlnig 24.25; good middling 24.75; receipts 13,303; stock 304,872.

DALLAS, Nov. 10.—Basis continues firm but trading light. I do not think basis can decline more than few points from present levels as long as December New York continues to sell about same as December New Orleans. On the other hand there is quite a short interest in spots for November and December sailings, a good portion of which must be covered in near future. I therefore think strong to higher basis will continue to prevail for some time.

New York Cotton Letter

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Heavy speculative and trade buying this morning following the action of the market Saturday was sufficient to overcome lower cables and force prices up 40 to 60 points from which prices reacted but they rallied again to new highs in the early afternoon.

The bulk of the buying looks to be for large professional interests, mostly local, while the selling was scattered. Contracts here scarce most of the day. The basis for the buying and bulling of the market was election optimism as reflected in other markets and a belief in some circles that the consequent prosperity would be felt by cotton mills to the extent that they will need all of our supply of cotton that is not exported. The general public as apparently reflected by commission orders today are not ready to agree with the foregoing but may come in later and higher if the market demonstrates the correctness of the basis for today's purchases.
Fenner and Beane to Flowerree and Co.

New Orleans Cotton Letter

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10.—Public and trade demand increased considerably today and the cotton market responded with an advance of 100 points for some positions. There was very little hedging in evidence and shorts were dependents largely upon longs realizing for their supply of contracts with which to cover. Firmness of spots, increasing activity in the dry goods market at advancing prices, advance of grain and stocks; and increasing belief that the crop may prove inadequate in the end, owing to the growing needs of the world. Exception that English spinners will soon adopt full time, though they voted not to change this month probably played an important part in the day's advance as full time in these mills means greatly increased consumption.

Agreement of the Morgan interests to float a $150,000,000 loan for France was also hopeful.

The trade was apparently accepted the government's crop estimate as indicating the maximum probable yield and is turning more and more to evidences of trade expansion and increasing demand for our cotton to shape the course of prices. We expect developments to favor the buyer of contracts and holders of the actual for some time.
Fenner and Beane to Flowerree and Co.

Grain

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Smashing of a high price records for the season took place in the wheat market today as a result of buying rushes due largely to a sharp advance in Liverpool quotations and to continued adverse crop reports from Argentina and Australia. Closing prices here on wheat were strong at 1⅛ to 3⅝c net gain, December 1.53⅝ to 1.53¾ and May 1.60 to 1.60⅛ with corn ⅝ to 1⅜c up, oats showing ⅛ to ⅜ advance, and provisions ranging from 20c decline to an equal upturn.

Corn and oats appeared to derive their strength from wheat. The government corn crop report issued after the market here had closed gave a somewhat larger forecast of yield than most traders were looking for, but the farm stock and estimate of quality was lower than generally expected.

Provisions were irregular, affected on the one hand by the grain bulge and on the other by a decline in hog values.

Chicago Grain Letter

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Wheat: Wheat trade very long, and market strong, with consistent buying. There was a tremendous amount of profit taking that filled requirements and prevented more drastic upturns. News extremely bullish. Australian wheat prospects being endangered by excessive rains and hail storms. Argentine weak. Dry and unfavorable. Big export business was reported with early estimate 1,500 bushels.

Liverpool closed 4¼ to 4½ up.

Corn: Mixed trade with profit taking by longs meeting with good commission house buying. Market firm. Cash basis relatively ⅛ to ⅝ cent easier. U. S. Visible decreased 620,000 bushels for the week. Weather generally favorable.

Oats: Cash houses sold early and commission houses had selling orders to execute later. There appeared to be a considerable short interest to be covered, however, and prices responded to the strength of other grains.

Financial

STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Heavy profit taking sales late today stemmed the swiftly rising tide of stock prices after approximately 50 issues had soared to new peak prices for the year. Considering their enormous volume, the offerings were well absorbed, closing prices showing a curious mixture of gains and losses, with no breaks of any consequence. The day's trading embraced 527 individual issues a new high record for all time, with total sales approximating 2,275,000 shares.

Railroad shares, the heavy accumulation of which inaugurated the current advance, bore the brunt of the selling. However, new peak prices in this group were established by more than a score of issues, including Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, Southern Railway, Louisville and Nashville, Frisco common, "Katy" common and the Rock Island issues. Lehigh Valley sold at the highest price since the segregation of the coal properties.

A reaction in the rails today was regarded as inevitable after the spirited advance recorded by those issues in the closing days of last week which carried the general level of prices to the highest point in seven years. Bullish enthusiasm was maintained, however, in the industrials, the general price average of which today recorded a new peak for the year.

Exceptionally good buying took place in the oils and coppers, which have been lagging behind the rest of the list and in which trade conditions recently have shown marked improvement. American Smelting, Kennecott and Chino all broke through their previous 1924 maximum prices on net gains ranging from 1¼ to 2 points.

While most of the oils are still well below the year's tops, substantial progress was made today by Standard oils of California and New Jersey, the Pan-American issues, General Asphalt, Atlantic Refining and Tidewater, the gains running as high as three points.

U. S. Steel common was run up to 113½, the highest price in five years, and then fell back a point, closing unchanged on the day. Other industrials to better their previous top prices for the year were U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, Corn Products, H. R. Mallinson, Savage Arms, United Drug, American Tobacco "A" and "B," Wells Fargo Express, Adams Express and Consolidated Gas.

Some of the motors and sugars developed pronounced reactionary tendencies, Chandler breaking to another 1924 low at 26⅞ and then rallying a point, while losses of a point or more took place in Cuba Cane Sugar preferred and Cuban-Dominican Sugar preferred.

Unfilled tonnage of the U. S. Steel corporation on October 31, showing a gain of slightly more than 50,000 tons for the month, was somewhat smaller than expected. Steel trade circles report, however, that the republican victory last Tuesday had released in the tonnage statement next month.

Call money held steady at 2½ per cent all day. Time money showed a somewhat firmer tone, 60 to 90 days maturities being definitely established on a 3¼ per cent basis with loans from four to six months ruling at 3½ per cent.

A brisk demand developed for the leading exchange, demand sterling standing out with a three cent advance to $4.63, the highest price in over a year but reacting 1¼c from the top late in the day. French francs rallied above 5¼c and most of the other rates showed nominal gains.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Covering the Investment of Money in Advertising.

Do you know the five functions of advertising? They are listed below.

The five functions of every advertisement are:
1. To command attention; the ad must be seen. Recent ads of the Bradley Knitting Mills are good examples of this.
2. To create interest; the ad must be read. The ads for Mennen's Shaving Soap fulfill this requirement very well.
3. To establish conviction; the ad must be believed. Ads for Packard automobiles are good examples of this.
4. To impress the memory; the ad should be remembered. Almost every one remembers the Washburn-Crosby Milling Company's "Eventually—Why Not Now?" advertising.

Spectre of Murder In Pursuit 22 Years Is Found To Be a Ghost

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 10.—(CP)—Oliver Cameron, 51, is happy today behind the bars of the Alabama state penitentiary. He has not been happy for 22 years, during which he has fled the spectre of a friend he thought he had killed.

In 1902, he quarreled with William J. Gray here.

Cameron then was a young man, twenty-nine years old, violently in love with his landlady. At that time the woman was engaged in a business transaction with William E. Gay. Cameron, jealous, disapproved of the deal.

So wrought up did he become that he arose one morning and met Gay near a small stream to discuss the affair. The argument further enraged Cameron and he drew a revolver and shot Gay three times.

Gay dropped to the ground and Cameron fled.

Believing that Gay was dead Cameron sought distant climes. He lived for several years in Central and South America and finally drifted to the Pacific coast. Always, his conscience harassed him. Remorse was his bedfellow and terror of capture stalked him by day and by night.

A few months ago, he attempted to commit suicide by drowning at Portland, Ore. He was rescued, and in the police station told how he had killed a man in Alabama 22 years before. He asked to be taken back.

And so, he was brought back here, where he had not been since the night he shot Gay, prematurely aged, a wreck of a man.

And they told him that Gay was not dead, that he had recovered from the bullet wound and was still living at the age of 81 years, in Georgia.

Cameron had expected to face a charge or murder. Instead he pleaded guilty to assault and was sentenced to a term of two to five years in the penitentiary. Gay returned to face his assailant of two decades ago. He was the only witness.

Twenty-two wears of repentance over a murder that did not occur; two years of imprisonment—that's the price Oliver Cameron is paying for a quarrel with a friend.

MEETS PECULIAR ACCIDENT

7 Year Old Quanah Boy Falls From Kitchen Cabinet.

QUANAH, Nov. 10.—"Sonny" Harper, 7 year old son of Ben Harper, County Assessor elect, suffered a peculiar accident Sunday afternoon. He had climbed upon the kitchen cabinet, and in jumping down backwards landed on the partly opened lower door, cutting a deep gash in his groin. He bled profusely before physician arrived to close the wound. Unless complications set in the boy will be up and about in a few days, according to attending physician.

Armistice Day program given Sunday by the Club Women of Quanah was attended by nearly one hundred ex-Service men. Open House at the Elk's club rooms, a banquet at the Quanah Hotel, followed by musical program at the Texas Theatre was the entertainment afforded. On Tuesday, Armistice Day proper, under the auspices of the Elks, there will be given a rodeo, as the entertainment program for the boys.

Clifford Bell, 17, of Waverly, Tennessee, was held by local authorities upon advice from his father that the young man had run away with a circus some three months ago. The circus was in Quanah Saturday, and the young man taken in charge by the officers. The father wired that the boy's mother was very low from worry, and the boy promised to return home. A ticket was purchased and he was placed on the train, headed for home and mother.

Imbrie Penalty Money May Aid Persian Youth

Suggested That Reparations Be Used For Education.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Reparations due to the United States from Persia as a result of the murder of American Consul Imbrie would be devoted to education of Persian students in this country under a proposal advanced by the state department.

The department today made public a note delivered yesterday to the Persian government proposing that the $110,000 which Persia has agreed to pay to meet expenses of the trip of an American man-o'war for the return of the body to the United States, be devoted to "the establishment of a trust fund to be utilized for the education of Persian students at institutions of higher learing in the United States."

This would tend, the note said, to "promote the friendly relations between the two countries."

The American note acknowledged payment of $60,000 to Imbrie's widow.

Fine of $500 Is Also Tacked On to Eldorado Sentence.

TEXARKANT, Ark., Nov. 10.—Thomas J. Ryan, Eldorado, Ark., oil operator, found guilty September 20 of fraudulent use of the mails, was sentenced to serve five years in federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., and was fined $500 in federal court here today.

Ryan was the promulgator of the Grison Refining company of Eldorado, originators of a "superior process," according to the advertising, by which crude oil could be refined for less than 2 cents a barrel.

Louis S. Grimm, Ryan's co-defendant in two other oil suits was acquitted simultaneously with Ryan's conviction.

Ryan's sentence was the opening of the regular November term of court. He immediately gave notice of appeal and bond was fixed at $10,000.

THE TEXACO STAR

Published by The Texas Company, Port Arthur, "illustrating real conservation, we send a photograph showing the type of steel gunbarrel tank in use on some of our leases in the North Texas Division.

"The tank is so constructed that from one inch to three inches vacuum is maintained. Vacuums regulator is also shown. We have seven of these tanks in operation, from which we conserve 200,000 cubic feet of gas daily, not conserved previously, which is taken to our Electra gasoline plant.

"This tank and others of like construction pay us good dividends. On the present price of gasoline and residue gas sales, we figure that each three or four months these tanks have earned their investment. Also, they greatly reduce fire hazard on our producing properties."

The above tanks are manufactured by the Panhandle Refining Company's Boiler Shop Department. For particulars call the following numbers: Day Phone 7125. Night, 2850 or 2225.

Scribes of City Guests of Kemp; Bingham Speaks

Dinner Given Monday By Joe Huckins to News Staffs Here.

PLENTY OF HUMOR

Noted Writer, An Old Head Himself, Tells His Stories.

Newspaper folk of Wichita Falls were guests of Joseph Huckins, III, at a cozy dinner party in the main dining room of the Kemp Hotel last night when George Bingham, noted paragrapher and newspaper man, entertained fellow scribblers with his witticisms.

Reminiscences of his former days on the old time newspaper and the printing presses of other days were told by the speaker, and the guests laughed heartily at his story of the ill fated black office cat that "went to press."

Need Both, He Says

"Good hotels and good newspapers are necessary to make a town successful," Mr. Bingham stated, and he expressed the opinion that Wichita Falls was a success, having noteworthy examples of both.

J. A. Kemp and C. W. Snider told something of the origin of the Kemp Hotel and its value to Wichita Falls. They pointed out that civic minded men had generously financed the hotel to fulfill a great need to the city. Each spoke of the hearty cooperation of the newspapers of the city, both working for the upbuilding of the city, giving both sides of a question, and standing for the things the city needs.

Allison Speaks

J. H. Allison, speaking for the Times Publishing Company, expressed appreciation for the courtesy extended by Mr. Huckins and the Kemp Hotel, assuring the good fellowship and cooperation of the newspaper.

D. M. Bernard on behalf of the Record News staff echoed Mr. Allison's sentiments, and thanked Mr. Huckins for the evening.

"This dinner is to express to you newspaper men of Wichita Falls the appreciation of the Kemp Hotel for your continual recognition of the service this institution gives in civic and social life of the city," Mr. Huckins said in welcoming his guests.

WRITES FUNNY THINGS

George Bingham, Humorist, Spends Day in Wichita Falls.

"I am pleased to be here, I am pleased to stay here so long, I came here yesterday, and I have not been run over yet, possibly, because I am so slim, and it takes a good driver to run over a slim man," George Bingham, humorist, and widely known paragrapher, author of Punkinville and Dog Hill Paragraphs, said in a characteristic monologue before the Kiwanis club Monday at noon.

Reared in Kentucky.

"I was reared in Kentucky," the speaker announced. "I went to school where they taught the round and flat system; that is, you know about the world. The teacher would ask the trustees which they wanted, the flat or round system taught, and that's what we studied. Some drink coffee by the round system, that is, out of the cup, and others use the flat."

Distinctly humorous was the discourse Mr. Bingham gave on looking pice, on courtship, and the stories characteristic of Mississippi, Missouri, Arkansas, Kentucky and Texas.

Clifton Clay, high school student, asked the co-operation of the Kiwanis club in helping promote the father and sons banquet following the week ending November 16.

Committees Named.

Rev. Fred T. Datson, president, appointed nominating committees to report to the club by November 24, prior to the election of officers for the coming year to be held December 8. 75 CRIMINAL CASES

That Many to Be Filed Here When Federal Court Opens.

Between 75 and 80 new criminal cases, most of them charging violations of the federal prohibition laws, will be filed in U. S. district court when the November term of the Wichita Falls division, northern district of Texas, is opened here next Monday by Judge William H. Atwell of Dallas. The exact number will not be known until representatives from the U. S. district attorney's office arrive to take up the work.

On the docket 46 old cases that were postponed for various reasons from the last term of court. It is now expected, however, that more than a dozen of these will be tried.

The Old Home Town

All Wichita county offices will be closed throughout the day Tuesday in observance of Armistice day, it was announced Monday by the various department heads. Any business which the public may wish to transact must be delayed until Wednesday.

City hall offices today will be closed for two hours, from 10 a. m. until noon in observance of Armistice day. They will be open as usual from 8 o'clock until 10 and will then reopen in the afternoon for the usual evening work.

Dr. A. H. Douglas, director of the city health department and Dr. J. W. Whitworth, city physician, returned Sunday night from Houston where for the past week they had been attending a state conference of public health officials and physicians. The two drove through. Both reported a profitable convention which brought out a number of instructive points on public health matters.

The city police ecurt gunners cleared the decks for action Monday morning and came out ahead in an important skirmish with a crew of 10 that was docketed on charges of having imbibed too freely. This represented the number that limped into port Saturday night and Sunday, under escort of an arm of the law which picked each one up on the public lanes. Fines were parceled out to each and the cops averred when it was all over that it was one of the heaviest days—from an anti-Volstead standpoint, they had had in weeks. The other cases of the day were drunks, vags and traffic violators.

A bond of $2,500, submitted by R. M. Mowry, recently appointed public weigher of precinct 1, was approved yesterday by the county commissioners court and filed.

Al Ellis, W. W. Gardner and Chas. Fetherstone left Monday for Spur on a short business trip. They drove through.

Carl Sampson left yesterday for Fort Worth on a short business trip.

A sentence of a year and a day in the state penitentiary was assessed yesterday against George Floyd, negro, when he was found guilty of charges of sale of intoxicating liquor. The case was tried before a jury and Judge Guy Rogers in the 78th district court. Floyd, formerly a porter at a local hotel, was arrested June 11 after he is alleged to have disposed of a quart of corn whiskey to a guest.

Two settings of civil cases for trial in the county court at law were made yesterday by Judge C. M. McFarland. Forty-three cases in all are included.

Dr. J. A. Heyman has gone to Rochester, Minn., for several weeks to take up special work at Mayo Bros. clinic.

Murrell Hooper is in San Antonio this week on business.

The monthly banquet of the men's Bible class of the First Christian church will be held at the church at 7:30 o'clock. More than 100 men are members of the class, and each is to bring his wife to the banquet. William Baldridge is teacher.

Dr. V. E. Wratten has gone to Nacogdoches where he was called by the death of his grandmother. On his return, he will stop in Dallas where he will spend a week at the national dental convention being held in that city.

Bids for improvements and additions to the county jail will be opened by the county commissioners court next Friday. Specifications were prepared about two weeks when the court decided that more adequate jail facilities were needed here. No specific amount has been set on the figure to be expended.

Wichita Falls Sunday schools moved up another notch in attendance records Sunday when a total of 5,730 were listed in classes at 17 churches here. This was an increase of 169 over the preceding Sunday. The First Baptist led with 1,202, followed by the First Methodist with 1,170.

Dudley Goolding left Monday afternoon for Houston, called there by a message that his father was seriously ill in that city.

Carl Blakwell, an oil operator of Tulsa, is in the city for a few days on business.

Numerous state newspapers with flaring headlines, issued under the date of Nov. 11, 1918, are on exhibit in the Perkins-Timberlake store windows. The papers have been preserved and are shown each year as a reminder of the Armistice day celebration staged here.

A number of Wichita Falls dentists are in Dallas attending the annual convention of the American Dental Society, now being held there. About 15 dentists here are members of the national organization.

J. C. Sikes of Sulpher Bluff, Texas, and J. R. Hardy of Kingham, Kan., will speak at services to be held at the Lutheran church, Bluff and Fourteenth streets, Wednesday and Thursday nights. The "old school Baptist" doctrine will be expounded.

Through an error, a story carried Monday morning in the Record News concerning the annual fall ceremonial of Maskat Temple stated that the event would be staged next Friday. The date should have read Friday, Nov. 21.

Father of Judge Carrigan Dies In Hope, Ark.

Distinguished Confederate Veteran Passes Away at Age of 95.

Alfred Holt Carrigan, father of A. H. Carrigan of this city, the oldest surviving alumnus of the University of North Carolina, last surviving member of a secession convention in the south, a colonel in the confederate army and one of the distinguished figures of the south in the reconstruction period died at 2 o'clock Monday morning in his home at Hope, Ark., according to word received here. Judge Carrigan was at his father's bedside when the end came and Mrs. Carrigan and her son, Joe, left Monday for Hope to attend the funeral.

Graduated In 1850

Col. Carrigan graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1850 in which state he was born, and moved shortly thereafter to Hempstead county, Arkansas, where he had since remained.

He served with distinction throughout the civil war as a lieutenant-colonel of the 20th Arkansas infantry, C. S. A. and with the close of hostilities became active in the political life of his community. He was county judge for two terms and served in both the house and senate of Arkansas general assembly.

Col. Carrigan had visited in Wichita Falls a number of times and was well known to many Wichitans.

He was 95 years of age.

M'BROOM ALL DOLLED UP

City Clerks Collects a Hat and Tie From Luckless Scribes

City Clerk W. E. McBroom blossoms out in a flock of new haberdashery as two newspaper reporters dug deep and settled an obligation devolving on them as a result of a recent realignment in municipal financial affairs. The scribes guessed wrong on the proposition, backed their judgment to the extent of a John B. Stetson and were called on to make good or else—.

Chief of Police George Hodgins went along to superintend operations and after Mr. McBroom had selected his new lid the chief suggested that he pick out a tie and charge it up as interest. He did and it cost some more hard earned nickels.

Now the papers are laying for the chief.

City Council In Ft. Worth to Look At Sewage Plant

Mayor Collier and All Commissioners Out of Town Monday.

An inspection of the huge new sewage disposal system recently completed by Fort Worth was made yesterday by Mayor Frank Collier, all the city commissioners and City Engineer Rugely who were in the Tarrant county seat to look over the municipal affairs there. Due to the absence of all the officials, the regular weekly council meeting scheduled for Monday night was put off. It may possibly be held later in the week.

Whole Council Goes

Mayor Collier, Finance Commissioner R. E. Shepherd, Street Commissioner N. M. Clifford, Utilities Commissioner P. B. Curd, Police Commissioner J. T. Young and Health and Park Commissioner J. H. Patton left Sunday night and spent the day in Fort Worth. Mayor Collier was one of the guests of the Fort Worth Kiwanis club at "mayor's day," an event which brought Texas executives from all over the state to a dinner and celebration yesterday noon. Later in the day the mayor, the commissioners and Mr. Rugely were taken on a tour of inspection as guests of Fort Worth officials.

May Build Here

Inasmuch as Wichita Falls is faced with the need of a new sewage disposal plant of some description, it was thought advisable that the officials here gain some first hand information on the workings, cost and other features of such a system. Fort Worth has just completed one of the most modern and up-to-date type.

ROTARY KIDS ON EXHIBIT

Father and Son Meeting to Be a Feature Thursday.

Rotarians who have sons are planning to show 'em off, and those who haven't any are planning to borrow some, for Thursday.

The occasion is the annual father and son meeting of the club, at which every member is required to bring a boy of some age, sort, kind, manner, variety and description. The president of the club is bringing his own son, though if the meeting had been held a few weeks ago, he would have had to borrow one.

The principal speaker will be Judge Joe S. Dickey of Henrietta.

Choral Club In Fine Program As Season Opener

With an array of talent and a program of artistic musical presentation that did credit to a city much larger than Wichita Falls the Woman's Choral Club assisted by four soloists of note, appeared in the opening concert of the winter season at the First Baptist Church Monday evening to a crowded house.

The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Luella B. Thompson, was accompanied by Mrs. E. H. Gipson, and showed remarkable ability in ensemble singing in Curran's "Rain", a brilliant descriptive number, and in "The Rosary," an "a capella" selection which depended solely on the harmonic combinations of the unaccompanied voices for its beautiful effect.

Mrs. F. R. Collard, organist, William E. Young, baritone; Mrs. Jouette Bonner, violinist; Miss Adele Ray soprano, and Mrs. O. B. Kiel, accompanist, artists of outstanding ability in local musical circles added a group of finely finished interpretations to the evening's program.
