SEPERATE BOARD TO HANDLE CASE IS CONSIDERED

SUCH A CHANGE NEEDED TO CURB DIVERSION OF ALCOHOL IS CLAIM

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5. (AP)—Congress took up in earnest today the question of re-organizing the prohibition enforcement activities of the government when the ways and means committee of the house began consideration of a bill to create a separate prohibition bureau in the treasury department.

The measure drafted by Representative Cramton, Republican, Michigan, has been favored by Secretary Mellon and assistant secretary Andrews, in charge of the prohibition unit.

Change Needed, Claim
Such a change is needed to curb diversion of alcohol and make federal enforcement more effective, Mr. Cramton told the committee. Responsibility for individual law violation, he said, must be taken over in greater measure by state and local authorities.

Assistant Secretary Andrews, who followed Mr. Cramton on the stand, declared creation of a separate bureau was an essential step in the enforcement plan. Customs and coast guard activities, he said, should have similar bureau status, because the present task of coordinating the three units as organized is "too big for any one man."

Raps Present Organization
So long as the present organization is allowed to stand, he declared, there can be no "hope of efficient administration."

The proposed bureau should take enough from bootleggers in assessments to pay all its expenses in six months, General Andrews said. "When will it go beyond that?" asked Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas.

"Probably soon after that," he replied, indicating a belief that enforcement will soon become a profitable business.

RAIN GREAT HELP TO HIGHWAYS

With the highways over the county drenched by a rainfall of between one-fourth and one half of an inch the forces of Division Highway Engineer George A. Field are busily engaged in grading the roads and according to a statement by Mr. Field this morning unless the sun pops out unexpectedly the highways will be in fine condition within the next few days.

Between sixteen and twenty men are working on the roads at the present time, Mr. Field reports. A heavy grader is on duty on the Brownfield road, the Shallowater highway has light and heavy graders busy, two heavy grading outfits are working on the Plainview road while one heavy and two light outfits are putting the Tahoka highway into shape. Each one of the heavy grading outfits are equivalent to six men and drags of the old team-drawn variety, the engineer said.

Work on the Idalou road was completed yesterday and two heavy grading outfits were taken from it this morning. Mr. Field and B. K. Garrett, resident engineer, embarked this morning for a general inspection of the improvement work.

CANYON WINS IN STATE TOURNEY

Takes First Game From Stephenville, One Of Strongest in Tournament

AUSTIN, Mar. 5. (AP)—Spectacular basket shooting by Jones and Curtis Brown, speedy forwards, enabled Canyon today to defeat Stephenville 24-11. It was the first contest of the state high school championship tournament.

The purple Eagles of San Antonio Brackenridge, favorites to win the title were not forced to extend themselves to defeat Nacogdoches, 22-9. Coach Bobby Cannon used his second stringers much of the game.

Beaumont, defending champion swept Throckmorton, and Pilot Point today takes on Austin in other first round engagements.

Second round frays of today which will reduce the number of contesting teams to four, will throw Brownwood against Canyon, San Antonio against Canton, the victor of the Throckmorton-Beaumont match against the winner of the Pilot Point-Austin game.

The Canyon high school entered the state meet as representative of the Panhandle-Plains section of Texas following their easy win at Plainview recently over the Lorenzo Wildcats, champion of this district, in the bid-district contest.

And if state deponents are not wrong in their estimates of the strength of competing teams at the state meet, the Eagles now have an excellent chance of going on through to a win in the state, for Stephenville was slayed by sport writers as one of the strongest teams present in the tournament. Canyon, however, must win three more games for the state title, according to the schedule of the tournament.

FOUR PETITIONS TO ENTAIL COST OF $162,760.00

COWAN, WILLIAMS AND J. A. RIX CIRCULATE NEW REQUESTS

Additional paving contracts in the extent of $162,760 will be let in Lubbock soon if four petitions, now being circulated, are fully signed and passed upon by the City Commission, Harry N. Roberts, paving engineer, told the Daily Journal this afternoon, in announcing the cost of the projects.

The largest petition, being circulated by Ted A. Rix, calls for an expenditure of $92,500 on Nineteenth street, where paving is being requested from Avenue L, west to Avenue Y. With the city paying one-tenth of the cost the cost the paving will cost each property owner on the street to be surfaced the sum of $6.55 a front foot. A concrete base for the brick is provided for at this cost.

Cowan Circulates One
Hollis Cowan is circulating a petition on Sixteenth street, asking for paving between Avenue Q and the Tech college. A natural base under the surface on this street will make the front footage cost $4.85 to the taxpayer, and a total expenditure of $45,500.

Tenth street, from Avenue K to Avenue L, embraces a total expenditure of $10,760 and $3.75 per front foot. A concrete base and a 55 foot street, in the cause of the additional price to the property owner, R. D. Williams is circulating the petition.

Downtown Petition Sought
W. L. Beatty, laundryman, is circulating the fourth petition, asking for the paving of Avenue F and Tenth streets, a total of two blocks. Fourteen thousand dollars will be necessary for the payment of the work, which will total $12 per front foot, with a concrete base, a 55 foot street and a wide intersection at Tenth street and Avenue F.

Reports reaching Mr. Roberts office indicate that the petitions will be well supported. Mr. Cowan reports that he has not yet talked to a taxpayer who did not favor the paving of Sixteenth street from Avenue Q to the college.

HOUSE NUMBERING ERROR NEARLY SERIOUS IN FIRE IN NEW HOUSE

Two Wrong Numbers Turned Into Fire Department As Fire New Home Of Attorney G. E. Lockhart, 1611 Broadway Is Threatened By Flames; Damage Is Light

Laxity in house numbering nearly took a heavy toll shortly after one-thirty this afternoon when the beautiful residence of Attorney G. E. Lockhart, 1611 Broadway, caught fire and two erroneous numbers were given the firemen before they reached the scene of the conflagration. The fire itself did little actual harm but smoke and water damage is estimated at $2,500. Contract price on the house is said to have been in the neighborhood of $16,000.

A defective flue in the basement, directly under the bathroom of the downstairs floor, caused the fire, which for a time threatened to seriously damage the residence, which has lately been completed and into which the family moved a little more than a week ago. The seat of the flames was so peculiarly located, the Fire Chief said, that it was hard to get to and while firemen, in smoke masks, searched the house, volumes of yellow smoke traversed the entire building. As soon as the flames were reached it was only a matter of a few moments to extinguish them.

The first call received at the fire station summoned the men to 716 Broadway. A hurried run revealed no fire and in checking back the number was given as 1116 Broadway. The fire was located in the 1600 block on Broadway and the numbers on the house read 116. The correct number of the house is 1611, Chief Twitty says. The Lockhart family moved here several months ago from Tahoka, where Mr. Lockhart was for many years prominent in the practice of law.

Mr. Citizen, Have You Lost Your Goat?

Does it give you a pain to hear national leaders and would-be leaders declaiming about what the country wants, done, if any thing, about the prohibition law—when you yourself have not had a chance to tell them how you feel about it? Of course it does. Nobody likes to hear "the people want this" and "the people want that" when he himself hasn't been asked for his opinion.

The Daily Journal will give you your chance.

Watch for the issue of Monday, March 8.

OIL MEN CONTINUE RATE BARRAGE

DALLAS, Mar. 5. (AP)—North Texas refiners today continued their attack on existing freight rates to Texas Gulf ports in the Interstate Commerce Commission differential rate hearing.

Texas coastal and Shreveport refiners have an advantage that stands them in good stead in the present keen competition in the oil business, according to W. J. Davis, of Wichita Falls, vice-president and acting head of the Orient Petroleum Company.

"When competition is so keen that profit is represented by one-eighth of a cent, the Shreveport and coastal refiners can grab off the apple and we lose," he said.

He stated the rate from North Texas to Galveston should be reduced, letting the rate to New Orleans stand at 12¢. If the Galveston rate was reduced this would aid them in meeting Shreveport and coastal refiners' prices.

APPOINTEE TO BE NAMED TO FILL HIS PLACE TODAY

BIDS OPENED ON 416 MILES OF CONSTRUCTION WORK BY COMMISSION

AUSTIN, Mar. 5. (AP)—L. W. Kemper, acting state highway engineer, is slated to be removed late today by the state highway commission. Kemper has been acting highway engineer since R. J. Hank was asked to resign. The new appointee will be announced 2:30 o'clock and he is believed to be A. C. Love of Beaumont, a graduate of Texas A. & M. College and an engineer in the highway department.

Bids Are Opened
AUSTIN, Mar. 5. (AP)—Following the opening of bids on about 416 miles of one course highway surfacing in three sections, formerly held by the American Road Company, Frank P. Larkin, former chairman of the highway committee, said that Attorney General Moody's settlement with the road company cost the state about $100,000 according to the bids made today.

The brief open session of the commission in which twelve bids, each accompanied by checks aggregating $250,000 was featured by letters written by Frank Larkin, a bidder, and L. A. Sherman, of the firm of Sherman and Youmans, of Houston, Sherman said, if he was successful as a bidder, that he wanted to increase his bid 35 percent to cover lawyers fees and other expenses. He referred to the Moody letter addressed to Hal Mossey, chairman of the commission, charging that the commission was advertising the American Road Company contract of 36 cents per square yard, which Larkin contended and the court upheld, was for a one course treatment.

Larkin's letter said that in submitting a bid for resurfacing of highways in Texas, he did so with the full knowledge of the letter "addressed to you by one Daniel Moody, Attorney General."

RAINFALL IS AID TO FARMERS

Moisture, which has been intermittently falling over the South Plains for a better part of the past three days, is estimated to be from one-fourth to one-half of an inch by Lubbock County Farm Agent D. F. Eaton. According to Mr. Eaton, who has been traveling about the county, the southeast portion has received the greatest amount of good as a result of the rainfall.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Eaton made a trip to the Section, Etacado and Center communities, in the vicinity of which wheat is an important product. He reports that the wheat has been greatly aided by the moisture at this time.

Approximately 30,000 bales of cotton have been ginned in the county thus far, Mr. Eaton says, and there is yet to be ginned several hundred bales. Farmers are busily engaged in preparing the ground for next year's crop and about sixty percent of the land is broken. Acuff community is practically all broken at this time, County Agent Eaton states.

Bandits Take Payroll Of Harvest Company

CHICAGO, Mar. 5. (AP)—Ten robbers invaded International Harvester Company's tractor plant at 200 West Madison street at noon today, fought a revolver battle with a watchman and escaped with a payroll estimated at between $50,000 and 100,000.

None of the shots took effect and the robbers fled in automobiles.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Stewed prunes with lemon, cereal, thin cream, baked French toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon—Potato soup with cheese, croquettes, egg and lettuce sandwiches, canned cherries, cookies, milk, tea.
Dinner—Stuffed pork tenderloin, baked sweet potatoes and apples, stewed tomatoes, molded fruit salad, sponge cake pudding, bran bread, milk, coffee.

The potato soup suggested in the luncheon menu is of course made with milk. The addition of cheese makes a rich, nourishing dish precluding the use of meat. By serving egg and lettuce sandwiches the hearty meal of the day for juniors under school age falls at noon time making it possible to indulge in pork for the adult members of the family for their dinner.

Baked French toast is rather out of the ordinary but very good.
Baked French Toast
Six slices bread cut 3/4 inch thick, 1 1/4 cups milk, 2 eggs, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Beat eggs with milk. Add salt. Dip each slice of bread into mixture and arrange in a well-buttered baking dish. The bread must not be placed in layers but arranged flat on the bottom of the dish. Pour over any of the milk mixture not absorbed by dipping the bread. Dot with bits of butter and bake in a moderately hot oven until brown.

Senate To Vote On Shoals Bill Monday

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5. (AP)—The Senate today agreed to bring voting on the Muscle Shoals resolution and amendment at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Unanimous consent was obtained on motion of Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, after he had failed to obtain consent at any time earlier than Monday.

Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, then began a speech in opposition to the resolution, which would authorize a joint congressional committee to negotiate a private lease for Muscle Shoals.

HILL HEADS ANTI VOLSTEAD BOARD

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5. (AP)—With Representative Hill, Republican, Maryland, unanimously re-elected chairman, the unofficial house committee for modification of the Volstead Act will hold its own open hearings on March 31 preliminary to drafting a bill to revise the prohibition law.

The modifications instructed Mr. Hill, who led them in congress for some years, to appoint a "temperance board" of five to consider questions on that subject and outline a program. The committee hopes then to be able to whip opinions and suggestions into a bill for presentation in the house. First Supreme Court Records. The subject of prohibition not only was brought up in the house yesterday, but it entered the records of the supreme court, where John W. Davis and Assistant Attorney General Wilbrandt, debated a legal question arising from the provision of the law under which permits to sell distilled spirits are issued. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the anti-saloon league, added a statement to the day's discussion, declaring the suggestion of Senator Edwards, Democrat, New Jersey, for a national referendum on prohibition to be illegal and impracticable.

The anti-saloon league, in turn, was attacked again as a "hypocritical, unlawful, Un-American nest" by Representative Hytten, Republican, Illinois, who in a statement said he had been assured by Chairman Shell of the house rules committee that any prohibition investigation undertaken at this session undoubtedly would include the activities of the league.

On the house floor, Representative Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts, declared churches and other religious bodies were seeking political power by assisting propaganda for "unpopular prohibition laws." His speech was not without interruptions from the DRY forces, but these were met by counter taunts that the wets were not given a chance to present a case.

Around The Lot In Major Leagues Training Camps In South And West

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, Mar. 5.—The Cleveland Indians had their batting practice at their training camp at Lakeland yesterday. Manager Spangler sent pitchers Uhl and Shaute into the box for a twenty minute period. Neither hurler exerted himself, however.

McCrea, a recruit and Luke Sewell did the catching.
Pipp Absent From Red Camp
CINCINNATI, Ohio, Mar. 5.—Continued absence of Wally Pipp, veteran first baseman, obtained from the New York Yankees, was brought to the attention of President August Herrmann on his arrival at the Cincinnati Red camp yesterday. Pipp's reported demand for half of the purchase of $20,000 was discussed by Herrmann in a telephone conversation with Miller Huggins, Yankee manager. The latter said he was awaiting the arrival at St. Petersburg of President Jake Ruppert to learn what the colonel wanted about the demand.

Herrmann is awaiting a reply from Pipp, whom he had wired to report at Orlando at once.
Cold Weather Hurts Tigers
DETROIT, Mar. 5.—Cold, windy weather continued to hamper the Detroit Tigers in their practice at their Augusta training camp. The pitchers and catchers, who have preceded the rest of the squad into training, continue to take light workouts and Geo. McBridge, acting in the absence of Ty Cobb, continues to place great emphasis on the light part of the practice session. Cobb, who recently was admitted to an eye operation at Baltimore, is expected to arrive in Augusta early next week.

Cubs and White Sox
CHICAGO, Mar. 5.—The world at large may not be watching the three game series opening today at Los Angeles between the Chicago Cubs and the Los Angeles club, but the Bruins of individual are much concerned. The showing of several prospective Bruins will govern their stay in the big time.

A three frame 8 to 1 practice game, was the bill offered yesterday by the Chicago White Sox at Shreveport. Wallace Carney, Oklahoma manager, recruited, delighted, Manager Collins by allowing only one hit in three innings.

Browns Open Exhibitions
ST. LOUIS, Mar. 5.—Routine work of the Browns camp at Tarpon Springs, will be broken today when the squad will be split into rival teams for the first of series of practice games. These skirmishes are to be daily features until the club meets the Brooklyn Dodgers at the Brown camp next Wednesday in the first exhibition game of the season. Rain prevented activity at Cardinal training quarters at San Antonio yesterday. Following practice, a squad of about 25 will leave for St. Louis at 10 o'clock.

Jack Wright Features
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 5.—Connie Mack has been impressed with the work of Wright, a rookie shortstop. Wright's work helped the rookie team beat the Athletics regularly by 2 to 1 at Fort Myers yesterday. Wright's Philadelphia players have not yet arrived at Bradenton to warrent any intra-team games as yet. The Athletics play Baltimore today and tomorrow.

Senators Find Rookie Catcher
WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—While pitcher Muddy Ruel and President Griffith debate the salary clause of Ruel's contract at the Senators' Tampa camp, Griffith and Manager Harris are casting hopeful glances at a rookie catcher trying out with the squad.
He is Alphonso Lopez, who has been playing with the Tampa club. He is 19, described as very nimble, and having a neat pose to second in addition to being a natural foul fly trap.
Rookie pitchers also draw the attention of Harris. He likes the way Lefty Thomas, Ray Joyce and Irving Hadley, the latter a former Brown University player handle the shots and they will pitch the Saturday exhibition with the Boston Braves.

Boston Pirates Arrive
PITTSBURGH, Mar. 5.—The full Pirate crew held its first practice session at the Paso Robles training camp today. The second squad having arrived in the little state town last night. The battery men, who had been playing "one o'cat" for a week, warmly welcomed the balance of the "outs" and the chances to indulge in a little real baseball.

All the world champions, with the exception of Max Carey, and George Grantham, are now in camp. Carey is recovering from a severe cold in a St. Louis hospital, while Grantham stopped off in Los Angeles yesterday to have a specialist to treat muscle pains in his right shoulder.
Braves Lose Exhibition
BOSTON, Mar. 5.—The Yarnigans beat the Boston Braves first team 9 to 2 in St. Petersburg yesterday. Kent Kibbie and Bill Cronin rookies led in hitting. Kibbie had out two homers.

In New Orleans double-headers have been ordered for the Red Sox already. The reason is that rain interrupted a five inning game yesterday.
Giants and Yankees
NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—Something like a regular line up has appeared in the Giants camp at Sarasota, Fla., with Tyson in centerfield and Lindstrom at third base. The veteran Heints Gron is giving the youngster a fight for the regular berth.
Lawson's Wound has appeared at the Yarnigans camp, where the only absentee is Bob Meusel, recovering from illness

In California, Ward has found plenty of competition with Lazzerre and Koenig battling for infield posts.
At last report Dazzy Vance had not returned to the Brooklyn camp in Clearwater and Jacques Fourrier, although present, was busy on real estate deals.

BEAUMONT BOSSES BUY WEALTH OF MATERIAL

The Beaumont Exporters fail to battle consistently in 1926 for a first division berth in the Texas League, the failure will not be due to "penny-pinching" tactics of the new club owners. Since taking charge of the club last fall, Mr. Plumly and Mr. Stewart have expended around $20,000 for ball players of proven ability. Since Beaumont finished in the cellar in 1925, it is apparent the Exporter bosses are willing to take a big gamble in putting out a winning combination.

Wise baseball observers are saying, however, that "Bad News" Jim Galloway will put on the diamond a real ball club. Galloway is a hustler and fighter and his play at the initial sack and heavy sweating will do much to inspire his mates.
Sam Ross Acquired
Sam Ross, southpaw twirler formerly with the champion Fort Worth Cats, and one of the two wrong-handers now on the roster, was bought from the Western League. Ross is expected to win at least three-fifths of his starts for "Bad News" outfit.

Among the other players purchased are: Claude (Ug) Robertson, who caught in 1921 for Dallas, bought from Indianapolis of the American Association; Yank Davis, an outfielder who swings from the left side of the platter from Nashville; Joe Robinson, an Indian outfielder from Omaha; Bill McCabe, an outfielder from Seattle; Manager Galloway, slugging first-sacker from Waco; Pitchers "Wheeler" Dell, from Atlanta; and Hal Diviney from Houston; Ed Handley, third sacker from Denver in the Western League, and Paddy Reagan, second baseman from Evansville of the Three-I league.

Potential Strength Good
Potential strength of the hurling corps gratifies loyal Exporter fans. From the 19 right-handers and two southpaws on the roster, Manager Galloway should be able to assemble a pitching staff of merit.

Besides Ross, Dell, and Diviney, the following moundmen will report around March 5: "Kid" Emmons, a young looper; Dan Eberhardt, Dana Fillingim, and Bert Lewis, with the club at the close of last season; Ed Hancock, from San Francisco in the Pacific Coast League; Logan Drake who worked for Wichita Falls in 1924; Jasper Smith, a promising youngster from Sweetwater, Texas; R. Hamilton, who hails from Jersey City, N. J., and Clyde Nance. With exception of Ross and Emmons, all the men named are right-handers.

While "Ug" Robertson is expected to serve as first string man, the former Texas Leaguer, will have to work for the job. George Boelzer, bought from Danville in the Three-I League, is reputed to be a backstop of ability, as is Russell Ennis from Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League. Escar Ward from Silsbee, Texas, is the rookie of the catching staff. The four aspirants for the back of the bat job all are from the right side of the plate.

Inner Defense Prospects Fair
Prospects for a strong inner defense are fair. Manager Galloway will direct his men from first base; Reagan is slated for the keystone bag; Andy Woelher, who managed the club late last season, and Handley will fight it out to see who holds down the hot corner, while Bernie DeVivore, who went to New Orleans of the Southern League late last season, is expected to perform in the short field.

Le Beau, a product of Beaumont High School, is a candidate for first base, and E. Kirk is another youngster of ability who will try for a berth in the infield.
Six left-hand hitting outfielders are available. "Red" Orman is the only outfielder with the club last year who seeks a job in the outer gardens in 1926. Orman should have a great year this campaign. Other outfielders are, Davis, Robinson, McCabe; Guy Dunning, bought from the Western League; and W. J. Anderson, a youngster who learned the game on Pasadena sandlots.
From these six applicants, Galloway should form a line with a better than .300 swatting average.

STECHEER BEATS BROWNING

DALLAS, Mar. 5 (AP)—Joe Stecher, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling title, topped Big Jim Browning to the mat two straight falls and made the veteran extend himself to win here last night. Stecher won the first fall in one hour and ten minutes and the second in fourteen minutes, using body hook scissors and body scissors, respectively.

Billy Evans Says

Referee in Basketball Can Spoil Good Game by Being Too Technical

Basketball is a great game, but it can be spoiled by too much officiating. The thrill in basketball is provided by the intensive play that features the sport until the referee's whistle suspends action.

With the blowing of the whistle the crowd relaxes with the players and it takes some snappy work to get them back to the high pitch they were in prior to the sounding of the whistle.

It is an easy matter to let the players get too strenuous if the official is too lax. In the heat of action rough-house play may also creep into the game if the officials do not have the players under control.

On the other hand I have witnessed any number of games that have been slowed up badly by the officials being too technical.

There is a happy medium that preserves action yet doesn't give the players too much leeway. Such a condition calls for the application of common sense to many situations that arise rather than being too technical.

I have seen several games in the American Basketball League this year, which is regarded as the best.

On the whole the officiating has been excellent, yet if a criticism is possible, I would say the officials have not acted too closely to the rules, aside from umpiring baseball.

I have in the early days of my career done considerable basketball work, also served at hockey, roller polo and football.

In all branches of sport in which I have officiated, my prime object was to retain the action of the game to the limit. Preserve action and eliminate delays, has been my motto.

In baseball, I put a player out of the game only as a last resort. If I can get around the argument and keep the player in the game without being lax as to discipline, I always seek to do it.

In a recent basketball game played at Cleveland between Washington and Cleveland, two of the leaders, something like 49 fouls were called 27 points being scored that way. It was a great game, but it would have been much better if a few less fouls had

13 HIGH SCHOOLS ENTER IN STATE CAGE PLAY

AUSTIN, Texas, Mar. 5.—Thirteen high school basketball quintets, survivors of several hundred combinations which two months ago entered the chase, Friday will enter the state championship tourney here, San Antonio Brackenridge High School, coached by Bobby Cannon and Dewey Smalley, former Texas University athletes, is the favorite to win the title, because the Alamo City school has lost the aggregation which in 1925 lost the title to Beaumont in the final game, Coach L.H. Dimmitt's team defeating San Antonio 14-1.
Every category of the state will be represented at the big court tournament, conducted under the sponsorship of the Texas University Inter-scholastic league. In addition to San Antonio Brackenridge, other outstanding teams are: Beaumont, defending champion; Corsicana, Stephenville, Brownwood, Corsicana and Sanderson drew byes and will not be forced to play in the first round. The schedule of the first round contests follows: Canton vs. Taft; Throckmorton vs. Beaumont; and Pilot Point vs. Austin. In the second round, Brownwood will meet the winner of the Stephenville-Canyon battle; while Corsicana and Sanderson will play in the second round, the survivor going into the semi-finals.

As each school will bring an average of 10 basketeers, at least 130 athletes will be assembled here for the meet. They will be housed in Texas University fraternity houses.
Three games will be played Friday afternoon, four Friday night, two Saturday morning, and the final contest Saturday night. Because of the byes in the draw, it will be possible for a team—either Brownwood, Corsicana, or Sanderson—to win the championship by winning three games. Any other team entered must win four battles to cop the championship.

Some of the coaches whose teams have won their way to the big tournament are: "Dutch" Woodward (Brownwood); J. C. Dykes (Stephenville); W. Mitchell Jones (Canyon); Bobby Cannon (San Antonio Brackenridge); H. H. Riley (Canton); B. C. Davis (Taft); L. Z. Timmons (Throckmorton); Riley HAGERTOWN, Md., Mar. 5 (AP)—The main building of St. James School historic Episcopal institution at St. James, six miles from Hagertown, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin this morning.

Nearly 100 students were driven, thirty clad, into near zero weather. James Fowler, student of Philadelphia, was slightly injured.
St. James school was established as a preparatory institution in 1844. The burned building was originally the home of General James Ringgold.

VALLEY WATCHING DEVELOPMENT ON LAND GRANT

(Special To The Journal) COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Mar. 4.—The people of all the Rio Grande Valley are watching with keenest interest the development of the tract of land which was awarded last year to C. D. Whitman, graduate of the A. & M. College of Texas in 1922, by the American Rio Grande Land and Irrigation Company. Twenty acres were given Mr. Whitman as the award which was offered a graduate of agriculture from the College by the Company in order to demonstrate to the farmers of that district the possibilities of the land when farmed by experts, using scientific methods of agriculture. The land was selected by a committee of A. & M. College officials, from the finest holdings of the Company, in the vicinity of Mercedes. Carrying out the conditions of the grant, Mr. Whitman will live on the land and develop it personally for a period of five years, engaging particularly in the production of vegetables, poultry and citrus fruits. When Mr. Whitman took possession of the land, it had been cleared by the Company and prepared for irrigation, and was ready for cultivation. The amount of work and improvement that has been accomplished in the short space of a year is remarkable according to Dean B. L. Kyle of the A. & M. College of Texas, who recently visited the farm. The development of this project will be of tremendous importance to the rapidly developing Valley region, said Dean Kyle on his return after a tour of the Valley to select the tract of land which will be awarded by the same Company to an agricultural graduate of the College this year. "No doubt the practices and methods of this one trained farmer will be imitated by hundreds of other farmers who are looking for more profits from agriculture."

SERIOUS TURN SEEN IN MILL STRIKE

PASSAIC, N. Y., Mar. 5. (AP)—The strike of 7,000 workers in the woolen mill district here, quiet for most of its six weeks duration, today assumed serious proportions. Within the past two days police have dispersed strikers by force twice, last night resorting to the use of night sticks to scatter 5,000 workers on the boundary line between Clifton and this city. Strike leaders denounced the use of force and announced they would continue picketing the mills. Newspaper reporters and photographers were the chief sufferers when police bore down on the gathering with night clubs. Ten still and motion picture cameras valued at $4,000 were smashed when photographers tried to get pictures of the riot. One woman reporter's notes were seized and torn up. The riot was the sequel to another the day before in which strikers were dispersed with water from fire hose after gas bombs proved ineffective in a high wind. Albert Weiland, union organizer, threatened to picket the Botany Waxed Mill and other mills with women, children and babies in carriages as the result of the first riot. Because of cold weather, only one baby carriage appeared but many women and children joined a gathering at the line dividing the Clifton and Passaic. Police of both cities were present. One man wore a gas mask and another wore a steel trench helmet which police removed.

FORT WORTH, Mar. 5. (AP)—P. M. Miskell, Tulsa, general manager of the Empire Refineries, Inc., was elected president of the Western Petroleum Refiners Association without opposition at the association's convention here yesterday. Roy D. Jones, Wichita Falls, president of the Panhandle Refining Company, and George L. Locke, Chicago, vice-president of the Bardale Refining Company, were re-elected presidents and C. L. Henderson, Wichita, Kans., vice-president of the Vicker Petroleum Company, was elected a new vice-president of the association. Henderson's election created a vacancy on the board of directors which was filled by the appointment of E. H. Edleman, Wichita Falls, vice-president of the Tex-homa Oil and Refining Company.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5. (AP)—After a visit to the White House today Chairman Morris of the house military committee indicated that President Coolidge would approve legislation carrying out the five year air craft program submitted by the War Department. Mr. Morris reported to the President the action of his committee yesterday in rejecting a bill providing for a department of national defense and other proposals designed to create the operation of the army air service. He said he would prepare for introduction a bill to carry out the aviation program, which in addition would provide for reestablishment of the council of national defense which functioned during the World War.

ZEPPELIN RAIDS ON LONDON TOLD BY ENGLISH GIRL NOW RESIDING IN AUSTIN WITH YANK HUSBAND

(By The Associated Press) AUSTIN, Texas, Mar. 5. (AP)—It is a long way from the hectic nerve-strained days of the World War, when London, seat of government and culture of all the British Empire, was continually harassed by Zeppelins and quiet Taubes of the Germans, to the quiet capital of Texas. But the memories of those four years of disaster and bleeding misery remain with Mrs. Harvey Sylvester Kullenburg of Austin, an English girl who married an American sailor in a post-war romance.

Mrs. Kullenburg, who was Miss Mary Morris of 115 Skidmore street, Mile End, London, recalls vividly the first time a giant enemy aircraft floated in solemn silence over the English capital casting a sinister shadow before its path. She describes, in her London town accent, the terror of the death vessels of the air caused in the hearts of her countrymen, as they cast messages of destruction in high explosive bombs.

Tells Of Censorship

In relating the stories of London in the war, the young English woman disclosed the censorship placed by the government on the news of the results of German air raids. Newspapers only casually mentioned the loss of life and destruction of property. She tells of the fright of five millions of people when warnings were sounded that the German air raiders were off the coast of England, the rush of the English people to the sub-way tubes, the crowd and crush, and the valiant battles fought in the heavens over the city. She quivers when describing the battle between a Zeppelin and a darling British aviator, who flew up into the darkness, hid behind a cloud, hovered over the German, alighting, dropped a bomb on it amidstships, where it parted and fell in two burning wrecks of flaming and twisted steel.

Graphically she tells of Silverton's disastrous munitions plant explosion, when the working girls were blown to atoms; when a bomb fell in front of His Majesty's theatre as she was emerging from the showing of Chu Chin Now, and its fragments killing three persons walking in front of her, and how the people knelt in the streets and prayed and cried out, "Please, God save us" during the attack. After the raids, and various buildings in the city were laid waste and the victims were hauled away, the people would kneel again and "thank God for saving them," she said.

Town Turns Yellow

"The whole town turned yellow a few minutes before the Silverton explosion, which rocked the city and shook and broke the glass windows," Mrs. Kullenburg said. "It was thought that a German spy was responsible for the disaster, but it was a mystery never solved."

German air raids were made most often on moonlight nights. During the first part of the war the Zeppelins came over. Once I saw several in the glare of the spotlights from the tower and London Bridge. After our boys learned to fight them to prevent them from coming within the condon of the coast, the Taubes, fast German airplanes, would come over and drop high explosives and powerful bombs. It was remarkable that so few of the famous buildings of London were damaged, while such places as the Black Swan, a pop (public) drinking house for all classes of persons were gutted.

"When the German air raiders were sighted off the coast, warnings would be sent to London and boys on motorcycles would rush through the streets and give the alarm. It required about thirty minutes for the Zeppelins to come from the coast, while the Taubes could make it in 15 minutes.

Populace Terrorized

"During the first part of the war the raids terrified the populace. We could not sleep. We dwelt the horror death without a defense. The slightest noise would cause the women to jump up from their beds hysterically screaming. In our night clothes and in the darkness which shrouded the city—no lights were permitted—we would rush almost nightly to the subway tubes and there remain for hours standing in pushing, maddening and fear-stricken crowds. It was a relief when the calls came, 'All clear,' which meant that Germans had departed. But hear the end of the conflict, we began to seek recreation despite the raids, following the American Marines' philosophy. If they kill you, they kill you, if they don't, they don't. So why worry?"

Morale Weakened

"Of course the Germans meant to weaken our morale and they did. The fear of death continually on the minds of the people caused real tragedies, not only on those living, but those to be born. During this period hundreds of children were born imbeciles, paralyzed and deformed."

"The longer the war lasted, the better our aviators became in coping with the aerial invaders of Germany. In the last stages a gigantic fleet of German aircraft came over and was met by an equally large British fleet. In the most spectacular battle I ever hope to witness. Because of the sustained excitement my memory is hazy and I do not remember the date, but I call it the fight around the moon. Thousands of persons stood in the streets and saw the encounter. Bathed in the brilliance of a bright moon, the planes apparently formed a halo around that strange planet, the circle to be broken now and then when a machine burst into flames and crashed to the earth in a blazing trail of fire, carrying with it, its lifeless and charred passengers."

Retaliation Planned

She met her husband in 1922 when he was on leave from his ship, the S. S. Utah, and joined him in Austin in February 1922, following his discharge from the navy. Mrs. Kullenburg and her husband, a fireman on a railroad, saved enough money from their earnings to bring her grandmother and mother to America. She works as a cashier in a hotel here, and said she likes her work fine; that it is better than working for a pound (about five dollars) a week making coats for wounded soldiers, and that she thinks America is "just grand."

Approximately 1,000 workers are on strike, 4,500 more are out of work and an additional 4,000 would be affected by a shut down. A conference of operators to decide on the advisability of shut down was asked to today, or tomorrow.

Yesterday's parade, following 2 days of rioting, was led by Mrs. Elizabeth Kovach, wheeling her sister's year-old baby in a carriage. In the marching column were scores carrying gas masks or wearing steel helmets.

Five newspapermen and photographers were in an armored motor car that overturned and nearly dropped into the Passaic river. Two of the men were slightly injured. The car had been called into use as a result of police smashing cameras Wednesday.

All Races Are Equal Pope Says In Letter

ROME, Mar. 5. (AP)—The belief that the dark skinned races are inferior to the white is a mistaken one, Pope Pius declares in an encyclical letter published today vigorously urging an increase in the number of native Catholic clergymen in the so-called uncivilized regions of the world. His holiness says that long experience proves that these peoples, erroneously termed inferior can compete with the white race in mental acumen. "In the heart of the barbarous lands," he writes, "there are found men who seem slow to learn, this is explainable by the conditions of their life, of which the restricted needs do not allow to make larger use of their intelligence."

TODAY'S MARKETS

Cotton Markets

NEW YORK TRADING

NEW YORK, Mar. 5. (AP)—The cotton market steady at an advance of 5 to 10 points in response to relatively steady Liverpool cables. The opening advance met some selling, promoted by the statement of the department of agriculture estimating the world's cotton stocks at the end of next July at 10,354,000 bales compared with 11,140,000 last year, and rumors that private returns pointed to a final ginning of 16,062,000 bales for this season. Offerings were well enough absorbed on reactions of six to ten points to give the market a fairly steady undercurrent, however, and trading was quieter at the end of the first hour, active months ruling about two to five points net higher. Considerable southern selling sent prices down to 18.69c for May and 17.34c for October, but the market steadied again on continued covering. Trading was quiet at midday with prices holding firm around 18.77c for May and 17.41c for October, representing net advances of about 3 to 10 points on the active positions. The early afternoon market was quieter. The week end figures failed to create sentiment apparently, and prices held about steady in the neighborhood of 18.70c for May 17.35c for October, or 2 to 3 points net lower at 2 o'clock.

NEW ORLEANS TRADING

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 5. (AP)—The cotton market opened firmer owing to good Liverpool cables and news of the belt. First trades showed gains of four to six points and prices improved further after the call. May trading up to 18.18c, July to 17.65c and October to 16.85c, 8 to 12 points above yesterday's close. The market soon eased off on signs of good weather for the West and all the early gains were lost, prices dropping a point or two below the previous close. The market acted rather nervously during the morning and was largely a weather affair. Prices continued to ease off from the early bulge and May made a new low at 17.38c, July at 17.55c and October at 16.72c, or 15 to 20 points under the previous close. From these low points prices gradually rallied on renewed fears of bad weather in the belt, recovering 6 to 7 points from the lows to about level with the previous close. Hester's pointer for mill takings of the week for 255,000 to 275,000 bales proved about as expected. The market after a moderate rally around noon eased off again during the afternoon due mainly to bearish character of the weekly statistics, particularly the light mill takings and disappointing exports. May traded down to 17.56c and July to 17.49, or 19 to 22 points below the highs and 3 to 10 points under the previous close. March and October did not make new lows but practically duplicated their earlier low points.

WOOL REPORT

BOSTON, Mar. 5. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: The market for wool continues in a very indifferent manner. Manufacturers are buying sparingly and constantly the pressure is for lower prices, although some of the larger mills are understood to have some very decent orders for worsteds. Wools are out of favor for the most part, this season. The season is young, however, and a better demand all round may be expected in the near future. Foreign markets are generally strong and especially so on fine wools. Grocers, some of whom have been handling for bids on their new clip, have been rather disappointed and disturbed over the lack of interest of the Eastern dealers who are refraining from contracting very steadily. Best-Arizonas are being sold now and again at about $1.85, clean basis, landed Boston. Mohair is slow but steady.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Mar. 5. (AP)—Herbert Julius, negro, was hanged here today in the county jail yard. The trap was sprung at 5:43 o'clock and he died six minutes later. County authorities said this would probably be the last hanging here, as the electric chair will be put into use next January and no other prisoner is being held at this time for execution.

THE FABRIC IN THIS SUIT IS A CABER CHECK

Caber checks, we call the fabrics. They're much like a Glenurquhart plaid, in which the romance of olden days in the Highlands of Scotland is revived.

You'll like the lively patterns, the sturdy good looks of these modern tartans, the caber checks.

No man who has seen Scots hurling the caber can wonder at the Highlanders' rugged statures.

Caber hurling is for none but brow men.

Caber men log in Gealic, and the caber of sports is a tree 16 to 20 feet long, as heavy as a stalwart man can lift.

Helpers raise it on one end, then the hurler lifts it by the butt, balancing it in the palm of his hands and against his shoulder. A precarious run, a skillful twist, a mighty heave, and away it goes, end over end.

The hardy Scots of feudal days thought caber hurling the king of sports and even now, at the annual reunion of the Scotch clans at Braemar of the Dee, the game is played.

Throwing the caber is a thing as distinctly Scotch as the kilt of the thistle or as these fabrics, with the clan colorings threaded through them.

MAKING A GOOD RULE WORK BOTH WAYS

"The more a merchant sells, the less he has to charge;" that's an axiom of business.

On the theory that a good rule ought to work both ways, we're turning that axiom around, this way:

"THE LESS A MERCHANT CHARGES THE MORE HE WILL SELL"

In other words we're going to keep prices down in the belief that our business will grow up to them.

PAPER RAPS PLEA OF CHAMBERLAIN

Speech On League Of Nations Characterized As Effort To Save His Face

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Mar. 5.—The Tageliche Rundschau, which often reflects the views of the German foreign office, characterizes Sir Austen Chamberlain's speech regarding the make-up of the League of Nations council as an attempt to save his face and cover a retreat.
It is evident, the paper says, "that he yielded to the pressure of public opinion throughout the world and has given up his attempt to help the Polish-French claims to success."
The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung believes Chancellor Luther's Hamburg speech has had its desired effect. The paper welcomes Sir Austen's declaration that the British government under no circumstances will participate to divide the league council into two camps.
The other papers publish Sir Austen's speech fully but restrict their comment to head lines such as "Chamberlain yields," or "Chamberlain's retreat."
Germany Not Hostile.
GENEVA, Mar. 5.—Germany is not hostile to the entrance of any particular country into the council of the league of nations, but believes that the council, at the moment of Germany's accession to membership, should not be altered from the status obtaining at the time of the Locarno agreement.

This declaration was made today by Count von Bernstorff, ambassador to the United States and president of the German association for the league of nations, who has arrived to participate in a meeting of the executive committee of the league of nations.
To Have Free Hand
LONDON, Mar. 5.—(AP)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, secretary for foreign affairs, is to have free hand when he goes to Geneva for the meeting next Monday of the League of Nations, before which is to be the spread out of the question of new permanent seats in the league council. It is, however, the announced purpose of Sir Austen to do nothing which will militate against Germany becoming a member of the league, application for which she made some time ago as an outgrowth of promises made when the Locarno pact was being formulated. Germany opposes admission of new members other than herself at this time.
Chamberlain's intentions were made clear by discussion in the House of Commons yesterday.
Baldwin in Agreement
Premier Baldwin agreed with his foreign secretary that Great Britain as a single nation could not avoid consideration of the ambitions of other countries. Ramsay MacDonald, David Lloyd George and others of the opposition expressed dissatisfaction with Sir Austen's speech, saying it did not contain any promise to vote against a seat for Poland, Spain and Brazil to seats supported by France, Italy eral of Texas. This letter as carried in public press plainly threatens interference with the operation of the work by the Attorney General's department. Mr. Moody goes so far as to threaten to impound the money of the successful contractor.

"If therefore, the contract is permitted without interference on the part of the Attorney General, with the road building program of your department, I want to reduce price today bid by me by 30 percent.

Wants Expenses Paid
"If on the other hand, the Attorney General makes good the threat contained in his letter of yesterday, it is understood, that should I be the successful bidder, that the state highway department shall pay for me all expense incurred in the way of legal services, interest on the money, individual time, and all other additional expense actually incurred by reasons of the Attorney General's interference."

The bids ranged from 12 cents for bituminous surfacing for one course to $1 per square yard for cold limestone rock asphalt, and three kinds of surfacing, bituminous, rock asphalt and emulsite. Section one of 188 miles in Northeast Texas; section two of 117 miles in the vicinity of Waco and number three consisting of 11 miles in between Waco and Ft. Worth.
The bids were being tabulated today and the commission announced awards probably will be made Monday or Tuesday.

RENEW EFFORTS TO RAISE SUB

NEWPORT, R. I., Mar. 5.—(AP)—The naval torpedo station here is preparing to send the ship Falcon for an early resumption of efforts to raise the submarine S-51, which sank off Block Island last September, with a loss of 33 officers and men.
The Falcon is returning from Southern waters where her divers have been undergoing a course in deep sea salvaging. All are expected here as soon as the Falcon returns.

The pontoons which will be used to bring the submarine to the surface are ready. The sunken craft is resting in 129 feet of water and naval authorities do not expect to find the wreck has moved far from the spot where it was sent to the bottom in collision with the steamer City of Rome.
V-1 To Be Submerged
NEW LONDON, Conn., Mar. 5.—(AP)—Off Block Island, not many miles from the grave of the submarine S-51, which was sunk in collision last September, the V-1, largest of Uncle Sam's undersea vessels, today was to be submerged to the 200 foot level.
Three submarine experts are to study her performance during the dive and at that depth where the water pressure is 88.8 pounds per square inch. If the submergible passes the tests satisfactorily she will be accepted for active service with the fleet of first line submarines.
She carries a crew of seven officers and 54 men, is 341 feet long and 27.5 feet wide.

STORY OF HERMIT IS REVEALED

ENID, Okla., Mar. 5.—(AP)—The story of Frank Kisner, "hermit of the black-jacks," who chose a life of squalor and privation although he had the means to live comfortably and even luxuriously, was brought to light here today.
Kisner died several days ago at Drumwright. For 11 years he had lived in a ragged tent among the black-jack trees that fringe the outskirts of the city.
In the meantime relatives, believing him dead, had probated and distributed his estate, consisting of valuable tracts of land in Kingfisher County and the Panhandle of Texas.
R. R. Kisner, brother of the hermit, owns a section of land in the heart of the Covington oil field and has an income of several hundreds a day from royalties.
He found the recluse, who disappeared 15 years ago, as he lay on his deathbed and after his death, took the body to the old family home in Butler, Mo., for burial.
Frank Kisner disappeared in 1911 after telling his brother he was making a trip to Drumwright. R. R. Kisner searched for him and after eight years his estate was probated and divided among the lawful heirs.
In the meantime, the recluse was living in a tent, sleeping on a bed of corn husks and communing with no one except small boys who visited his retreat. He accepted occasional employment as a cotton picker. It was his unenviable acquaintances that he concluded his identity and his brother was notified when he was stricken with his fatal illness.

NEGRO IS HANGED IN KENTUCKY

LEXINGTON, Ky., Mar. 5.—(AP)—Ed Harris, negro, was hanged at the Fayette county jail here at 6:17 a. m. today. He was convicted of attacking Mrs. Margaret Bryant on January 21 after he had slain her husband and two children. The negro was pronounced dead at 6:30 a. m.
The court yard was crowded with people who witnessed the hanging. Two hundred more persons who could not gain entrance viewed the hanging from a nearby garage at 12 a seat.
The negro mounted the scaffold calmly and prepared to address the gathering but his voice faltered.
"Just—just tell them good-bye," was all he said.
The case created unusual interest and after the negro was captured, wardens were called out to protect him. Prisoners on one occasion threatened to mob him. He was carried from the state reformatory at Frankfort to trial here under an armed escort of tanks. Martial law prevailed here during the trial which lasted sixteen minutes.

The First National Bank of Kiefer was closed yesterday, less than 24 hours after the Seminole bank went under. Stigler at one time was an officer of the Kiefer bank but had not been connected with it for some time.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas, God, in His great wisdom, has seen fit to claim the life of Upton Pierce, a most highly respected and honored student and classmate, and
Whereas, in his death we feel sincerely and deeply the loss of a friend to all who knew him, as well as the loss of a valiant, clean, and high-minded gentleman and sportsman, and
Whereas, it is the wish of his classmates in the school of agriculture to express our admiration for our deceased friend, and our deep sympathy for his parents, friends, and loved ones,
Therefore, be it resolved that we furnish a copy of these resolutions to our college paper, the Toreador; to our daily papers of Lubbock, the Lubbock Daily Journal and the Lubbock Avalanche, and to his bereaved family at Santa Anna, Texas.
(Signed: Bob Hayhurst, C. D. McGeebe, Virgil E. Hobby, resolutions committee.)

NEW FARM RELIEF BILL OFFERED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—(AP)—A new plan of farm relief, based on the Dickinson Bill, was presented to the house agricultural committee today by the middle-West delegation appointed at the Des Moines agricultural conference.
Although along the lines of the Dickinson measure, it contains several alternatives. The Dickinson bill would establish a federal farm board and provide for levying against the farmers an equalization fee and place it in a revolving fund which would be used to assure adequate prices for surplus crops. The fee would be collected on the first sale of products from the farm.
The measure submitted today suggests as alternatives a fee to be collected either at the manufacturing or processing point of agricultural products or else on the first sale in commerce.
Marketing would be handled through the farmers cooperative organizations. The bill was said to have the unanimous support of the delegation.

TIME THE REVOLUTIONIST

Within the memory of this generation automobiles were allowed on the streets and country roads only on sufferance. Then, as far as countless centuries before, the horse had first right there. The motorist failed at his peril to take account of equine temperament, and it was the automobile that pulled to the side of the road on encountering a horse.

Time is the consummate revolutionist. In two decades it has completely reversed the relationship between horse and motor. The nation's capital has completed the transformation by forbidding horses to several congested thoroughfares.

In the competition with his mechanical rival the horse must continue to lose ground, but always there will be a task which only he can perform, joys that only he can give.

While "almost human," the horse is some way from being an intellectual giant. He never will get rid of his immortal habit of running first when frightened, and investigating afterward, if ever, but that makes it no less a pity that the animal which has served humanity so long and so well should suffer the humiliation of being excluded from the society of a mere combination of assorted metal, fabrics and rubber.
