U. S. Senate Ratifies Peace Treaty

EIGHT MORE THAN NEEDED MAJORITY VOTE RATIFICATION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The senate tonight ratified the treaty of peace with Germany with the reservations reported by the foreign relations committee.

The vote was 66 for ratification to 20 against, or eight more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

Fourteen democratic senators voted in favor of ratification and two republicans, Borah, of Idaho, and La Follette, of Wilconsin, voted against it. A third republican senator, Norris, of Nebraska, who was absent on account of sickness, was paired against the treaty.

Soon afterwards the senate ratified the peace treaty with Austria by the same vote.

Another and similar peace treaty with Hungary also was ratified, completing the administration's immediate peace program with the former central powers.

The fourteen democratic supporters of the treaty were: Ashurst, Broussard, Dial, Fletcher, Gerry, Kendrick, Myers, Owen, Pomerence, Ransdell, Shields, Trammell, Underwood, Walsh (Massachusetts.) Two other democrats, Smith of South Carolina and Hitchcock of Nebraska, were paired in favor of ratification. Other republicans were paired for ratification and other democrats against.

HITCHCOCK'S REASONS FOR DESIRING TREATY STATED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Re-establisment of peace with Germany is necessary for American and world rehabilitation was the fundamental reason given in the senate today by Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, ranking democratic member of the foreign relations committee, for favoring ratification of the peace treaty with Germany.

"The question before us now," said Senator Hitchcock, "is not a choice between the Versailles treaty and the pending treaty, but between the pending treaty and a protracted uncertainty without any treaty."

Senator Hitchcock said that the pending treaty protected American interests as much as the Versailles covenant and that it would not change the American attitude toward the league of nations.

"After this treaty is ratified," he declared, "we can enter the league just as easily as we can now and this treaty does not raise the slightest obstacle against such action."

"I have been asked sometimes," Senator Hitchcock continued, "how I, as a democrat, would vote for a separate peace with Germany when the democratic platform of last year declared against a separate peace with Germany. The answer is that that was one of the issues of the last campaign and was settled by the last campaign. It was settled against the democrats."

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Mr. Lloyd-George, the premier, stated in the house of commons upon the assembling of that body today, that he hoped to go to the Washington conference on the limitation of armaments and Far Eastern problems as soon as the parliamentary and general situation rendered it possible.

The other members of the British Empire delegation, the premier said, would be A. J. Balfour and Lord Lee of Fareham, first lord of the admiralty, Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador at Washington, would act as a delegates, Mr. Lloyd-George added, in the absence of the premier or any other delegates.

Lord Cavan, in charge of British army operations in Italy in the last year of the war, would be the principal military expert, and Air Marshal Higgins would be the aviation expert, the premier stated, while the secretary of the delegation would be Sir Maurice Hankey, secretary of the cabinet since 1919.

CLAY COUNTY ROAD BONDS ARE DEFEATED

Large Land Owners' Opposition Succeeds in Sweeping South Part of County Against the Issue.

Already Plan to Form Good Roads Districts in Northern Part of County to Build Modern Highways.

Special to the Record News

HENRIETTA, Oct. 18.—With partial returns from all sections of the county available leaders of the county good road improvement committee here late tonight conceded that the $2,000,000 bond issue for county roads had been defeated. Although the returns were far from being complete those favoring the bond issue conceded that it probably had not received the support of a majority of the voters of the country although a two-thirds majority would have been necessary to have secured its passage.

With the defeat assured those who were instrumental in bringing about the vote on county bond issue announced that already tentative plans had been completed whereby the improved roads would be brought to the county by voting as road districts. By this method it is hoped that a concrete highway can be built from the Wichita county line to Ringgold through Henrietta. Another road proposed through the district plan is from this city to Petrolia.

This city, Petrolia, and several other points voted strongly in favor of the $2,000,000, while Byers and the entire south part of the county voted almost solidly against it. This city voted between two and three to one in favor with Petrolia casting 97 votes for and 23 against. Bellevue cast 107 votes for and 103 against.

Byers showed a majority of 4 to 1 against the issue. Reports from Shannon, Blue Grove, Joy, Bashti, Buffalo Spring and Bear Creek showed that the south section of the county had voted overwhelmingly against the bond issue. The opposition which was led by a large landowner and a member of the county commissioner's court from that section claimed that they would derive no benefit from the bond issue.

Much interest was taken in the campaign and it is believed that between 2,000 and 2,500 votes were cast.

Rep. Blanton Clashes With Congressman

By Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The house was thrown into an uproar today during heated debate on the railroad situation when Representative Burke, republican, Pennsylvania, a former railroad man, called Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, who had just concluded a bitter attack on the railroad brotherhoods, "a damned liar."

Mr. Burke charged that Mr. Blanton during his remarks had made false statements. The Texas member leaped to his feet and denying he had stated a falsehood, shouted: "You're a liar." This brought the retort: "You're a damned liar."

The two representatives moved toward each other as members rushed up to restrain them. During the confusion Mr. Burke shouted at Mr. Blanton, "You're a dirty dog."

Both representatives asked to have their remarks expunged from the record and order was restored.

PASSING SHOW POTSHOTTED FOR PUBLIC

Invisible Empire of the Imperial Wizard Is Given a Merciless Pounding by Representative Texans.

Men Who Are in Limelight and Men Who Are Clutching for Fringe of the Spot Where Light Shines.

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

DALLAS, Oct. 18.—All classes and conditions of men come to the State Fair of Texas and as Governor Pat Neff says, they come regardless of "creed, cult or color." Governor Neff did not open the Fair this year. This is the first time that a Governor of Texas has failed to start the machinery of this institution, association or exposition.

Governor Neff was watching the King trail at Gatesville; he had a date to address the State Funeral Directors in convention assembled in the city of San Antonio and he was watching and waiting for the Ku Klux Klan opinion to be handed down by the attorney-general.

All the returns are in. More than half over is the State Fair of Texas. Gone are the funeral directors to their coffin symposiums and cemeterial pursuits and the attorney general handed out an opinion that hit the Imperial Wizard between the eyes and branded masked regulators who mete out punishment of tar and feathers to their fellows as violators of the law and paraders against the peace and the dignity of the commonwealth.

Texas is said to have a greater number of Ku Klux Klaners than any state in the union. Many of these Klansmen are good natured and easy going citizens who love the spectacular and felt the need of recreation during the dull summer months. They are said to be deserting the Invisible Empire like rats desert a sinking ship.

Martin Fired First Shot

District Judge P. A. Martin of Wichita Falls started the fireworks last July when he denounced mob law as anarchy or something worse and mobocrats as outlaws and a menace to the commonwealth. Many district judges followed in his footsteps.

Then came the Lorena affair where Sheriff Buchanan was stabbed and shot and Louis Crow, a splendid citizen, lost his life. Buchanan ordered masked paraders to disperse. A riot followed and ten men received wounds. Crow died from his injuries and Buchanan hovered for a time close to the brink of the grave.

Then came a congressional investigation which appears to be something of a fiasco, after the Imperial Wizard had a severe case of tonsilitis and the chief publicity agents, Clark and

The accident occurred at what is called "Death Crossing," where the pike crosses the railroad and interurban tracks.

LOW MARKS CAUSE RUN BY FOREIGNERS ON GERMAN STORES

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—The accelerated slump in the price of German marks has caused a run on stores in Germany by foreign buyers who, notwithstanding the enhanced prices of most manufactured articles are still able to purchase advantageously.

The Swiss frontier, according to the Vorwaerts today has been closed for a cross-the-border trading in textiles, as Swiss buyers have completely stripped the frontier towns of articles of apparel.

MONSTER GASSER HOLDS INTEREST IN PANHANDLE

Interest in the Amarillo gas field and the wild-cat activities, more or less dormant for some time, was brought back to life the first of this week by the Panhandle Refining Company's No. 1 Terry Thompson, which is now a gasser running wild, flowing estimated from 80,000,000 to 100,000,000 cubic feet, with the derrick torn down, when the tools were blown out through the top of the derrick by the force of the gas flow. The well, shut down on a gas sand which had a production of 50,000,000 cubic feet at 2741 feet for several weeks, was opened up and work started last week. The gas sand was drilled into ten feet further on Sunday, when the sudden great increase in the flow came. The tools were blown into the top of the derrick and the rig almost completely wrecked.

According to information received from the local office of the Panhandle, work has already started on repairing the rig, but the plans of future operation were somewhat indefinite. The well as it stands is one of the largest gassers ever drilled in the history of the United States. It is evidencing more pressure than the famous Masterson gasser, drilled about two years ago, this gasser, with its 107,000,000 cubic foot flow, not causing the damage to the rig reported from the Panhandle gasser. This Masterson gasser, which is about eight miles from the new gasser, is credited with being the largest ever drilled in the United States. The Panhandle well is 37 miles north of Amarillo.

SYSTEM FOR TRAINING VETS IS DENOUNCED

Disabled Ex-Service Men Are Placed Under Conditions Relating to Slavery, Charges Forbes.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Placement of disabled service men "under conditions that are criminal and relating to salvery" was charged by Director Forbes of the veterans bureau in an address today at the first meeting of the bureau's district managers.

Colonel Forbes criticized in detail the system by which service men had been placed in training and in the course of his address and later through a formal statement, announced the disapproval of contracts held by thirty-three schools and individuals for training those disabled in the world war. In this connection he told the district managers that in a number of cases they had been derelict in their duty.

"You men had no records of the training history of the men," he asserted. "You should have had this information, but I had to dig it out for myself at an additional expense.

"The word has also gone around that certain districts have their own little political machines here in Washington to run the affairs of that district. I want to warn those men who may have such an idea, that I'm going to wreck all political machines and before I am through with this exposition this bureau is going to be operated on sound, modern business principles and every phase of it is going to be clean and above board.

"I have nothing to apologize for in my statements that men have been placed in training under conditions that are criminal and relating to slavery."

The soldier rehabilitation division of the federal board for vocational training was blamed by Director Forbes for some of the difficulties encountered and a project in southern California was mentioned by him as a place where "the men had no more chance than a snowball in hades of being trained."

BILL CREATING FOREIGN LOAN BODY FAVORED

Proposed Plan Provides for Commission to Act in Conjunction With Mellon on Negotiations.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Favorable report authorizing the creation of a commission to arrange for funding and refunding of th eforeign debt was ordered today by the house ways and means committee. The measure is a substitute for the administration bill which would have given the secretary of the treasury blanket authority over foreign debt negotiations.

A provision was added to the bill today to make impossible the reduction of the debt of any country other than by payment in gold without consent of congress.

Another section provides that payment of interest by countries in existence before the war cannot be deferred without congressional authority more than two years after the funding agreement is concluded. The bill also provides that bonds of one debtor nation cannot be accepted in payment of the debt of another.

The commission to conduct the funding negotiations would consist of five members, one of them the secretary of the treasury.

CULBERSON GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Senator Charles A. Culberson, of Texas, once democratic senate leader, went down to defeat Tuesday, but he went down fighting.

The veteran Texas solon, oldest in point of service of democratic senators, has been expressing vigorous opposition to the treaty with Germany and had hoped that enough democratic votes could be mustered against it to bring about its defeat but the votes failed to materialize.

Culberson remained in the chamber and saw the forces against ratification thrown back time and again in test votes. When Culberson's name was reached on final ratification, he rose dramatically, shouted defiant "no" and left the chamber.

When Senator Sheppard's name was reached on the list he also voted against ratification.

HOUSE VOTES EXTENSION OF TARIFF LAW

Bill Prolonging Life of Emergency Law From February 1 to November 1 Now Goes to Senate.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A bill to extend the life of the emergency tariff law to February 1 was passed late today by the house, 197 to 74. The measure now goes to the senate.

If the extension is not granted, the emergency law will expire November 27.

Democrats with only a few exceptions opposed the proposed extension, while republicans practically unanimously supported Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee, who held that the temporary law should be kept in effect until the permanent tariff schedules could be made operative.

An amendment by Representative Newton, republican, Minnesota, to exempt from the extension the duty on flax seed was rejected, 44 to 96.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The case of five soldiers serving life sentence in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., for alleged murder of Captain George Lancefield of the British army in Rhens, Germany in June, 1920, was revived and taken under advisement today by Secretary Weeks.

O'Dell, Sergeant Roy O. Youngblood, Corporal George Van Gilder and Privates Carl J. Bryan and Jim B. Richardson.

READY FOR EMERGENCY IS TO BE ARMY'S POLICY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The canvass ordered among military commanders in connection with the threatened railroad strike is understood to have been ordered by officers of the general staff, in line with the general policy of always being prepared to act at a moment's notice if an emergency develops and also to be in a position to give information as to resources quickly should administration officials desire it.

Although no officials would comment tonight upon the orders issued at San Antonio, it is understood that Secretary Weeks has taken no such action and that the canvass has been ordered as a matter of routine by officers. All departments of the government, it was announced, yesterday, had begun a survey of the situation in order to be in a position to act intelligently should it be necessary. It was made clear, however, that the situation was so nebulous as to make it practical to await developments before taking any action.

PUBLIC GROUPS LAUNCH EFFORTS TO AVERT STRIKE

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Efforts to avert the nation-wide rail strike scheduled for October 30 tonight found governmental agencies, representatives of the public and some railway labor unions taking action simultaneously, which all three hope would prevent a tieup of the country's transportation system through a walkout of nearly 2,000,000 employes in protest of wage cuts.

Foremost among the moves being made by the different groups was a meeting between the United States Railroad Labor Board and the heads of the five unions which have already authorized their men to strike, called for Thursday by the board and at the request of President Harding, it was said by board members.

Ask Rate Cut.

The first move on the part of a public organization to avert a strike came when the American farm bureau federation, representing 1,250,000 farmers, sent petitions to the Interstate Commerce Commission asking for an immediate 10 to 20 per cent reduction in freight rates on necessities and announced that it also would appeal to the labor board not to grant a new 10 per cent wage reduction which the roads have announced they will seek, but rather to generally revise wages in accordance with the cost of living in various sections. Concurrence in these requests should avert the strike, the federation said in its announcement, and volunteered to meet with union and rail representatives as mediator.

A series of meetings to last all week will be started tomorrow by the eleven rail unions which have not yet issued strike calls, although most of them have voted for a strike. Leaders of several of these unions announced that at these meetings they will oppose a strike call in the hope that a split between them and the five unions already outhorizing a walkout may avert the threatened strike.

Leaders Called.

The union leaders called in by the labor board were W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen; Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors and C. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

The conference was called for the avowed purpose of preventing a strike, according to Ben Hooper, former governor of Tennessee and vice chairman of the labor board. Mr Hooper returned tonight from Washington where he and the other members of the public group conferred with President Harding. He immediately called other members of the board into conference.

"It is the desire of all elements of the board to do everything possible to prevent a strike," Mr. Hooper said, after a conference with the board members. "What the procedure will be on Thursday, I cannot say. It is safe to assume that every possibility of averting a walkout will be taken up and it is our hope that the two parties can be brought together on some basis looking toward a settlement."

May Be Hearing.

Mr. Hooper refused to say whether the board regarded the conference summons as an investigation of a threatened violation of the board's orders. Under the transportation act the board is empowered to fix hearings in the case of railroad or railroad employes who it has reason to believe have violated a decision of the board. It was pointed out, however, that there has been no violation of the board's July first wage reduction order until the men actually walk out.

By coincidence the first hearing at which any party has been cited to appear because the board believed it has violated a decision is set for the same day as the conference Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The Pennsylvania has been ordered to appear at that time because it has not held an election of shopmen's representatives as directed by the board.

Explaining further the statement issued by the public group in Washington Sunday, Mr. Hooper said that the board recognized that there was "a universal demand for the reduction of freight rates."

THREATENED STRIKE IS TEST OF LABOR BOARD

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The threatened railroad strike was recognized in high official circles today as having developed into the first real test of the practicability of the railroad labor board. The outcome of the negotiations now in progress, it was declared, would determine whether an "entirely futile" agency has been created.

Prominent in the defense put forward by labor leaders in every controversy in the past, it was pointed out, was the plea that there was no legally constituted body before which they could lay their grievances, or to whose impartial judgment they could submit petitions for relief. With the labor board expressly created to fill this gap, assurance was given today that it would be permitted to have a free hand in its efforts to meet the initial test provided by he disagreement of he railroads and their employes ovr wage schedules and working conditions.

Stand By Guns

With practically every active effort toward averting the walkout scheduled to begin October 30, centered in Chicago, the government today had completed its defensive plans and was watching developments. The cabinet gave only "passive" attention to the subject at its regular meeting and there was no official statement on any phase of the strike forthcoming from any branch of the government.

While authoritative information still was lacking as to the basis upon which the labor board was proceeding, the impression was given that it involved some features, at least, of the suggestion put forward by the public members of the board Sunday as "one feasible plan" for preventing the tieup.

The probability that official sanction would be given to the proposal that the July wage reduction be offset immediately by proportionate rate decreases was discussed in high official circles. In case this was adopted as the government's compromise plan, the test of the railroad board's authority would arise immediately, it was pointed out, in the question of its acceptance by either or both parties to the controversy.

May Revise Rates

Entirely apart from the suggestion of the public group, official intimation was given that a freight rate reduction was being considered. There was no indication as to the factors upon which such a rate revision would be formulated or how soon a decision by the proper governmental agencies could be expected.

It was indicated that the entire support of the government would be given to the labor board in its effort to reach a settlement of the controversy and that other government agencies would be instructed to cooperative activity. In case the settlement involves modification of the present rate schedules, the procedure would include a petition from the labor board to the interstate commerce commission which has jurisdiction for the necessary rate changes.

With respect to his conference with the public group members here yesterday, Attorney General Daugherty said today that he had gone over with them every angle of the law under which the board operates and had examined legal arguments and court decisions covering various conspiracy cases in the past. Whether that reference had anything to do with the possible use of the injunction, Mr. Daugherty declined to say. He declared, however, that the department of justice expected to maintain silence on phases of the strike until called upon for action, adding that if that time should come the government's legal branch would be ready.

Considering Public

The department is concerned with the rights of the public to the transportation facilities, Mr. Daugherty said, adding that the claims of each side to the controversy would and should be given consideration. He held, however, that keeping open the traffic lines was paramount.

White House officials again declined to discuss the possibility of the brotherhood chiefs being called to Washington by the president. The president was understood to feel that the labor board should go ahead on whatever plan had been worked out for its negotiations and that he would deal with the question of talking with the union heads personally when developments should make it apparent that such a move was necessary or advisable.

UNION CHIEFS OF 15,000,000 MEET TO DECIDE COURSE

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Executive officials and general chairmen of a dozen unions of railroad employes representing 1,500,000 workers began arriving today for conferences beginning tomorrow to determine whether they shall follow the leadership of the big five railroad brotherhoods in issuing a strike call.

A joint conference at the end of the week is in prospect. A spirited controversy over the attitude of the big five brotherhoods is indicated in the statements of the leaders outside the big five group.

The train despatchers have announced they will not go out at this time, the telegraphers and clerks have announced their decision was still unformed and others have indicated the question was still open, although some of the unions, notably the shopmen and maintenance of way employes, have authorized a strike call by a referendum vote.

B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employes department of the railway employes department of the American Federation of Labor, declared today he was still hopeful that a strike could be averted.

The Brotherhood of Railway Clerks Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employes was the latest to issue summons for a strike conference. Twenty-two grand officers and 200 general chairmen were called to meet here Sunday by President E. H. Fitzgerald.

HARDING TO CONFER WITH UNION CHIEFS, REPORTED

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—President Harding was in position today to lay before his cabinet an analysis of the railroad strike situation and an outline of the government's position in the controversy and suggestions as to defensive measures to protect federal functions if and when the tie-up becomes actual.

That President Harding does not yet view the strike as having passed beyond the "possibility" stage was one interpretation placed upon the announcement that he plas to leave Washigto tnight for Yorktown and Williamsburg, Va., where he will make addresses tomorrow.

The presidential party is not expected to return before Thursday.

Speculation as to what might be the government's next effort to find a solution for the immediae railroad controversy centered principally upon entirely unconfirmed reports that the railroad brotherhood chiefs would be summoned to the White House in order that they might be informed at first hand of the findings of the joint conferences.

No Court Action

It was said with authority that no consideration was being given at this time to the move to enlist the aid of the courts in preventing the strike, and Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee was positive that congress would not take any action at this stage of the situation.

The action of the railroad labor board in summoning railroad union chiefs to Chicago for conference was described in high official circles here today as a first step to determine whether the railway board is to be regarded as an efficient government agency or a feature.

The impression was given in administration quarters today that a freight rate reduction was under consideration. There was no statement to indicate how soon a decision on the question might be reached, but high administration officials vouchsafed the information that an announcement concerning the rate readjustmet might come with a few days.

Rates Cut Considered

It was made plain that the consideration being given to the rate question was independent of the preset labor wage tagle and the threatened walkout of th railroad employes.

Groud for the assumption that the rate question had been discussed between the president and the public group of the railroad labor board yesterday was given in several quarters. But official silence was maintained throughout the government as to the nature of the discussion and as to what lines a rate readjustment would follow should it be definitely decided upon by the government agencies having to do with the question.

The first move of the day bearing on the strike situation was a conference at the White House between the president and Secretary Davis.

Attorney General Daugherty on entering the cabinet meeting today, said "I think it improper for the department of justice to discuss any phase of the railroad strike situation at this time. If any action is required by the department, of course there will be action."

The postoffice department was said today to have completed plans to meet any eventuality. No action is contemplated by the department, however, it was said, unless interference with the mails developed as a result of the strike.

Action in congress both on the railroad debt funding bill and hearing of railroad brotherhood representatives in the general railroad investication are to be suspended, it was said today, until the strike situation becomes settled.

OIL SUPPLY AMPLE FOR USE OF COUNTRY IS BELIEF

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Representatives of the Standard Oil companies in New York and other large oil producers and refiners expressed the belief today that there were ample supplies of gasoline to meet any possible lack of railroad freight movements in the event of a protracted strike.

The Atlantic seaboard has ample gasoline for its needs, it was said, and the middle west would obtain its supplies from the Chicago district. The Pacific coast, it was said, could draw on the California district for almost unlimited supplies and the south and the southwest would receive gasoline from northern and southern Texas points as well as Oklahoma fields.

NEFF RETICENT REGARDING THREATENED RAIL STRIKE.

AUSTIN, Oct. 18.—Governor Neff said today that he has nothing to say as to the threatened railroad strike and tie-up of railroads operating in Texas. He said that at present he was not ready to discuss the matter and the probability of his action in event of a strike and tieing up Texas railroads.

Asked whether the open port bill passed by the thirty-sixth legislature would apply in event of a strike, the governor said that he had not looked into the law to find out its exact provisions. This law was passed primarily to prevent tie-

ALLEGED VIOLATION OF BOARD RULE TO BE PROBED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Complaint that the railroads have violated rulings of the railroad labor board was made today to Chairman Cummins, of the senate interstate commerce committee, by Vice-President Doak, of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, and Herman E. Willis, Washington representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Senator Cummins, whose committee is investigating the railroad situation, is understood to have promised to have the committee take up the complaint.

BIG FIVE CHIEFS ACCEPT INVITATION OF BOARD

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 18—The scene of action in the threatened nation-wide progressive railroad strike to begin October 30 shifted back to Chicago today with the announcement that the three local members of the "big five" railroad brotherhoods had accepted a request from the railroad labor board that the five chief executives confer with the board in Chicago Thursday afternoon.

The telegrams requesting the conference were sent to Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, all with headquarters in this city. After a telephone conference, Mr. Stone announced tonight that the three chief executives had accepted the invitation and would leave for Chicago Wednesday night. Similar requests, Mr. Stone said, were sent to L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors and T. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America, with headquarters in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Buffalo, respectively.

It is understood that Mr. Cashen will be here tomorrow morning for a conference with the three local executives and E. P. Curtis of Texas, a grand officer of the Order of Railway Conductors, who will represent President Sheppard at the meeting. Mr. Stone said President Cashen would accompany the three local executives to Chicago where they will be met by Mr. Sheppard.

Union Heads Silent.

The local executives had but little comment to make on the request for the conference with the labor board, announcing that the purpose of the meeting was no specified.

Referring to the call for the Chicago conference, President Lee said: "Of course, I shall attend the conference. I shall attend any conference at any time or place that holds out the possibility of an open door to settle this matter. I have in mind the homes of 750,000 men in my organization and realize what this means to this. I shall do my utmost at all times to reach an amicable settlement."

President Stone tonight issued a signed statement in reply to statements made by Joseph H. Defrees, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States in Washington yesterday, denouncing the threatened railroad strike as a "most cruel and unjustifiable attack upon the people and government of the United States."

"The statement is so manifestly unfair and misleading it has been deemed advisable to make a few corrections," Mr. Stone's statement said. His statement follows:

Stone's Statement.

"In the beginning it would naturally be assumed that Mr. Defrees, speaking for the chamber of commerce of the United States, would b voicing the opinion of all American citizens, but in view of the one sided statement, it is the judgment of the railway workers that he is simply speaking for the millionaire element created by the miseries of the late war and now posing as great and patriotic citizens without regard to the many crippled and unemployed who at this time appreciate—to them—the war is not over.

"Mr. Defrees states that the anticipated withdrawal from the services contemplated a most cruel and unjustifiable attack upon the citizens and government of the United States. This creates the impression that the railroad workers are not loyal citizens and is an unwarranted and undeserved accusation upon a body of men who have proved their loyalty. We point with pride to the number of railroad employes who volunteered their services in the great war.

Tyler, resigned from the Invisible Empire, after Mrs. Tyler announced to the world that an unknown assassin had fired five shots at her through her bedroom window.

If Mrs. Tyler had the correct dope then the unuknown assassin was a rotten marksman as well as cold-blooded avenger of the night. She was unable to state whether "e w masked or unmasked as he flitted away like a shade in a cemetery after having exhausted the contents of his automatic gun.

Last week was a lively week in Dallas for the chieftains of the Invisible Empire as well as those who believed in the governments of the fathers and the supremacy of the written law.

Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson, the son of a Ku Klux Klan leader of the late 60's, denounced the twentieth century klansmen as a menace to liberty, life and property and called for a special session of the legislature to enact laws to stamp them out.

Cullinan and His Career.

Then came the Texas chamber of commerce. Its President J. S. Cullinan sent two sons and three nephews overseas. He was a dollar a year man in the city of Washington and directed the energies of the vast army interested in the petroleum industry. General Sir Douglas Haig, has said that the allies floated to victory on a sea of oil. Well, Cullinan was one of the chief floaters.

He asked the Texas chamber of commerce to condemn "the unlawful activities" of Invisible Empire leaders. George N. Armstrong of Fort Worth took issue with him. Georgs wants the Federal Reserve bank boards and practices walloped and he is positive that these bankers and their practices are more than a menace to society—that they are damnable and should be sent to the electric chair.

By a vote of fifty to four the scathing resolution offered by Cullinan was adopted by this powerful business organization. Then something else happened. Andrew L. Randall grand master of the Masons of Texas let loose a scorching interview which speaks for itself, and is a superb appeal for the vindication as well as the supremacy of the written law wherever the star-y flag floats.

Hon. Cone Johnston of Tyler, did not come to Dallas to let the people know his senatorial aspirations or intentions. His friends here said he was coming; they expected him to come but he did not gratify their curiosity or their expectations. Politicians say that Cone would like to make the race but is having a devil of a time making up his mind. He is very close to Charles A. Culberson and Culberson is holding off his announcement until January 1, 1922 when he will slip to the Texas public the announcement that he is in the hands of his friends just as he has been during the twenty-eight years of his office holding career.

National Committeeman Thomas B. Love jumped the fences without delay. He is exhibiting pedigreed bulls and boars at the State Fair Grounds and this isn't political bull. Love is going to practice law and attend to his section of the livestock industry.

Two Star Orators.

Cullen F. Thomas and Earle B. Mayfield made speeches at the annual banquet given by the oil and gas men of Texas and Louisiana. Thomas dwelt in glittering platitudes and patriotic word-phrasing while Mayfield shot seven columns of figures at the heads of his admiring fellow citizens. These gentlemen implored the American people to return to the state rights dogmas of the fathers, else they said, the country would go to hell in the near future.

Of course, democratic senators from the South snuffed out the light of the dogmas of the fathers when the eighteenth and nineteenth amendment were submitted. Thomas and Mayfield were cheer leaders in those days. Now they insist that the mangled and lifeless body of state rights shall be resurrected and restored to its former place in the Pantheon of Liberty.

How the devil do they expect men who are now on earth to invade the cemetery and exhume a corpse that had been given a Christian burial by Southern senators who are officia leaders of the democratic party.

Col. Louis J. Wortham was the toastmaster. He was one of the local pall bearers in Tarrant county when Mr. John Barleycorn was decently interned and the stiletto ballot was placed in the hands of women. He hasn't been the same gay and debonair Don Luis since the tallow dips were snuffed out.

Regardless of this, it was a wonderful function and Mayor Walter D. Cline, the most pungent, as well as the most forceful of all the spell binders.

It may interest democrats of Texas to know that J. A. Thompson of Corsicana is lying at the point of death at Saint Paul's Sanitarium. Thompson is one of the progressive bankers and builders of Texas, and self-made man, ever loyal and ever generous. He attended the San Francisco convention as a delegate and was a prominent figure in the memorable campaigns of last year.

There is another of the old guard. Railroad Commissioner Allison Mayfield who is in frail health and his condition has excited the alarm of his family and friends. He was placed in office by Charles A. Culberson when Culberson was governor of Texas and he has never been defeated by the democratic voters of the commonwealth. Allison Mayfield is one of the old guard chieftains and ever a lieutenant of the senior senator in all his campaigns.

Edward Crane For Parrish.

General M. M. Crane may or may not enter the senatorial race. He is waiting for the Johnson announcement and Johnson is waiting for the Culberson announcement. Edward Crane, eldest son of the general, knows where to find his hat. Edward Crane is one of the really able young lawyers of Texas, prominent and active in democratic politics as well as in American Legion councils. He did not hesitate to say, as Nick Carter would express it, "right off the bat," that he was for Lucian W. Perrisl first and last and all the time and intended to do all in his power to put Parrish over in the primary next year.

Sterling P. Strong is here and Sterling is of the opinion that he is as big as any of the other candidates and intends to run the race through until the votes have been counted.

Judge Barry Miller will lead the Culberson forces. He predicts that Culberson and Thomas will be the leaders in the run-off and that Culberson will defeat Thomas by about two hundred and fifty thousand majority. Miller is a rank partisan. He believes in the transmigration of political souls and that the souls of Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Grover Cleveland, Jefferson Davis and John H. Reagan have taken possession of the mortal tenament of Culberson and will continue to dwell therein. Of course this is a free country and it is the privilege of every democrat to create his own idols. Miller found his political god in early youth and for him there is only one shrine.

Really the people are not mad about the senatorial succession or the men who have invaded the arena. They are busy paying taxes; they are busy getting bread and meat for their families; they are watching the advances in the prices of oil and cotton; they know that President Harding's disarmament conference will be a rank disappointment to all men who hope for peace in future.

A Wonderful Fair.

This is a wonderful Fair. It shows the bigness and the greatness of Texas which reminds the writer that Porter A. Whaley's West Texas chamber of commerce has done excellent work for West Texas dur the Fair and banqueted itself at the Hotel Jefferson last Saturday night as a mark of appreciation of the work already accomplished as well as the work marked out for the future.

West Texas is reminded that there will be a congressman-at-large elected next year; that Judge Barry Miller expects to make the race on a "damn-the-Ku-Klux platform"; that Col. Alvin M. Owsley will not make the race for governor against Pat Morris Neff but that one Milton Farrier of somewhere in East Texas is going to hit the trail and do his level best to break into the executive mansion at Austin.

Against the Incumbent.

Lynch Davidson has been urged to make the race but his judgment tells him that 1924 will be an auspicious time to make his appeal to the people to elect him their governor and should Editor W. A. Johnson of Hall county interfere with his program then it will be up to this well known scion of the House of Davidson to hand the gentleman from Hall county another wallop—perhaps.

All the wise ones say that petroleum is a more interesting and better paying game than the game of politics; that there will be two dollar oil before the end of the year and that Prosperity and Plutocracy are more potential peace and plenty bringers than "the peanut politicians and pestilential poverty loaded upon the people as the chief aftermath of the bloody and the costly world war."

15 YEAR OLD CAN NEITHER READ, WRITE

A fifteen year old girl who can neither read nor write is the problem that is confronting Mrs. Clara Ousley, secretary of the Welfare Council and R. L. Yates, county juvenile officer. The girl is at present attending kindergarten school while officials are endeavoring to find some method of handling her case.

The girl who apparently is as bright as the average girl her age and who has expressed a desire to secure an education, came into the hands of the Welfare Council after her father was taken from here for treatment of a serious disease. Her mother has been dead and until recently the girl has spent all her time caring for her father, with no opportunity to attend school.

She cannot be sent to a state school for girls as she had done nothing for which she can be adjudged a delinquent in juvenile court. According to officials, if she is to be educated, it will be necessary to send her to some school paying special attention to those of like educationally opportunities.

The problem confronting the officials is to secure enough funds to pay the cost of the training.

MUSIC BOOKS ARE GIVEN TO SCHOOLS

Appreciation for a number of books given to the city school by the McConnell Brothers furniture store for use in the music department was voiced Tuesday by Miss Henrietta Pyle, director of music in city schools.

A text book for study of music appreciation was given by the concern to each of the ward schools and the high school. A work on music analysis was given the Junior high school and book on stories of the opera to the Senior High students.

LEGION MEN WILL TAKE CHANCES ON RIDING HOME

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 18.—Delegates to the national convention of the American Legion to be held in Kansas City, Mo., October 31-November 1 and 2, will go to the convention city before the general railroad strike is scheduled to go into effect and "will abide by the fortunes of war when it comes to getting back," according to a statement issued at headquarters of the legion here today.

N. J. ROAD ADVERTISES FOR EMERGENCY WORKERS

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Oct. 18.—Newspapers in many cities in New Jersey today carried advertisements from the Central Railroad of New Jersey announcing that permanent positions would be guaranteed successful applicants for employment as locomotive engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and yardmen to fill "vacancies as they occur," or vacancies caused by "such men as may leave the service."

ARMISTICE TEA PLANS DISCUSSED

Plans for an Armistice Tea were discussed at the regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the American Legion held at the Legion headquarters Tuesday afternoon, the exact date and place to be announced later.

Other business before the meeting were reports made by the flance committee of the money made at the recent food sale, which totaled about $63 and by Ma Burdick who gave a report of her recent trip to Houston where she represented the Auxiliar at the state convention held at Houston.

REOPENING OF SCHOOL PROBE RECOMMENDED

Affidavits Charging Gatesville Instructor With More Alleged Cruelites Held by State Senator.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 18.—Senator Hertzberg of Bexar today telegraphed Adam Johnson of Austin, member of the Gatesville training school board of control, a suggestion that the board meet in San Antonio or Austin to hear testimony of Bexar county boys who charge cruelties at the institution.

"I have received affidavits," Senator Hertzberg telegraphed. "of two boys formerly in Gatesville school, one regarding the death of a boy named Harvey, the other as to unusual cruelties. Both bear every earmark of truth and were made last June and both refer especially to Twyman. Do not think you ought to make findings without hearing this testimony. Three boys now here ready to testify. Would suggest hearing by you at San Antonio or Austin. Charges sufficiently grave to warrant your taking further evidence."

Lieut.-Gov. Lynch Davidson, who is here today, said that if the affidavits held by Senator Hertzberg bear out press accounts he will favor a reopening of the hearings on conditions at the school.

OHIO STREET PAVING AGAIN FACES DELAY

Another halt in the plan to pave the north end of Ohio avenue was met Tuesday by the city council, when representatives of the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad declared their company unwilling to pay their assessment on the Fifth street intersection. The railroad was represented by Attorney J. H. Barwise Jr., of Fort Worth who reviewed the various controversies between the road and the city of Wichita Falls and indicated his company willing to comply with all requirements save paying the cash on the Fifth street intersection.

J. L. Jackson and D. M. Hardy property owners who have made considerable efforts to get the north end of Ohio avenue paved, declared to the council that the railroad has been much more liberally dealt with than other property holders along the street.

Following considerable discussion as to what payment was expected from the road, City Engineer Julius Montgomery announced that their part would amount to only about $4,800.

Mayor Cline and Commissioners Curlee and Fitts showed an inclination to hold the railroad company to a payment of their full share of the costs of the paving.

An ordinance was proposed for drafting to be presented for first reading at the next meeting prohibiting the use of curb filling station. It was declared by backers of the proposed ordinance that the use of filling pumps at the curb causes much room to be used that should be left available for parking. Should the ordinance be passed, all gasoline filling stations will be required to provide driveways and set their filling pumps back of the curbing, according to City Attorney E. M. Mann.

Former Ruler Of Bavaria Is Reported Dead

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Vienna today states that a report has been received of the death of Ludwig II, former king of Bavaria, at Sarvar Castle in Hungary. Owing to the Burgenland trouble in Hungary, telegraphing is virtually suspended from that country and it is difficult to obtain authoritative information of the events occurring there.

Ludwig III a picturesque figure in Europe for three quarters of a century, renounced his throne as king of Bavaria on November 16, 1916, having held it a scant three years. Disaster broke heavily on the venerable ruler as his wife, Maria Theresa, who was Princess Royal of Hungary and Bohemia, died on the same day.

After his abdication Ludwig fled to Switzerland and later to the Austria Tyrol with other royal members of his household. At one time he was reported to be living at the Castle of Vadus under a fictitious name and also to have been driven to the Alps by Sparticides. In March, 1919, he received permission of Swiss government to reside at Zizeru and thither he went a few days later to take up his residence. He remained nearly a year in Switzerland, where life's vicissitudes in virtual exile and in financial distress is said to have threatened his sanity. He wa severely ill for several months and was once erroneously reported dead.

On December 22, 1920, Ludwig returned to Wildenwart, southern Bavaria, where he has remained most of the time since. Bavarian royalists held a monster demonstration on the occasion of the seventy-sixth anniversary of his birth last January.

BUTLER ADVISES BURNING OF COTTON STALKS

Edward S. Butler is president of the Dallas Cotton Exchange. Boll weevils everywhere in evidence in the cotton belt. These destructive invaders have played havoc with the co... industry. Since they crossed the Rio Grande river not many years ago, the pests have inflicted a financial loss upon the farmers of the South of more than a billion dollars.

Following is the text of a letter written by President Butler to President Cleaver which should be given wide circulation wherever the fleecy staple is grown:

"It has been suggested that a campaign should be inaugurated throughout the South embracing every region effected by the boll weevil urging and insisting that farmers immediately on gathering burn or turn under the cotton stalks. This should be done without delay as we understand that if the stalks remain in the fields until frost, the weevils will have ample food.

"It is hardly necessary to impress upon you the importance of some action that will minimize if not totally destroy this frightful menace to Southern cotton culture. Will you not take this matter up with your members and get them to write and if necessary to wire every bank and merchant with whom they do business and every farmer from whom they receive cotton, insisting that cotton stalks be cut and burnt or turned under.

"It goes without saying that if the weevil menace continues to spread as it has done, it is only a matter of time when our supremacy among the world's cotton growers will end. Something must be done, and that without delay. It is hoped and believed that the course suggested will contribute materially towards relief.

Because many of them were spending too much on dress, according to official explanation, the 600 women employed in the Detroit postoffice, are now required to wear uniforms while at work.

More than 100 women serve in national parliaments throughout the world.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE OF BOTH LEWIS AND OLGA WORTH CALLED FOR IN CONTRACT FOR ENTIRE ENGAGEMENT IN WICHITA FALLS

IRENE DANIEL.

It has been rumored that Gene Lewis, will send a second company to the Wichita Theater when the Lewis-Worth Stock Company opens their stock season on next Monday. Manager Ford wishes to announce that he has a contract calling for the appearance of both these popular players in each production and that he has the same company that played Dallas all this summer. Both Gene Lewis and Miss Olga Worth will appear in each play. For the past six years these two popular players have won the hearts of the theater-goers of Dallas until now it is impossible to get a seat in their beautiful summer theater unless it is engaged a week in advance. Mr. Ford personally visited this company one night during the past season and as he did not get out to the park until late he was forced to stand to see the performance.

The company will close in Beaumont on Saturday and leave early Sunday morning arriving in Wichita Falls Monday morning. The stage crew are already in the city making the stage at the Wichita theater ready for their opening. Mr. Lewis has given instructions to move every thing in the way of scenery out of the theater as he carries two seventy-foot cars loaded with scenery, electrical effects and the like. During the entire engagement the audience will never see the same set of scenery. The crew required to handle the stage productions and mechanics of this company is equal in number almost to the entire acting cast of the ordinary stock company and a peep behind the scenes of this hive in action would convince more than anything that could be set into type, the magnitude of this organization and the care with which the most trifling detail is looked after.

"Civilian Clothes" has been selected for the opening play—the play that delighted all Broadway for more than a year and the production for the Wichita theater has been built from photographs of the original New York showing.

The seat sale for the first week of the Gene Lewis-Olga Worth will open this morning at the box office of the Wichita theater.

In the company supporting Mr. Lewis and Miss Worth, will be found many well known stock players including Miss Lee Smith, Miss Pauline LeRoy, Miss Irene Daniel, Miss Margaret Dow, Klock Ryder, Joseph Remington, Jack Doty, Jack Emmerson Charles Lammers, Edward Beach Ted Brackett, Aaron Laukin, William Barrows, Robert Bell and Dave Hellman. The above are declared the highest salaried people ever seen in one stock organization.

LEADING BANK IN CLEBURNE CLOSES DOORS

By Associated Press.

CLEBURNE, Texas, Oct. 18.—The National Bank of Cleburne, one of the oldest financial institutions here, failed to open its doors this morning. A statement, signed by four officials of the bank, said suspension was due "to heavy withdrawals of county funds and very poor collections, coupled with withdrawals of depositors."

The statement said, "We are glad that there is not another bank in Cleburne that has any of the county funds on hand and will not be called upon as we have been."

"A hasty investigation inspires the hope that plenty of assets are in the bank to pay each and every depositor," the statement concluded, "and we hope to reorganize soon on a much stronger financial basis than we have ever been."

Harding Looks For Harmony At Arms Meet

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Belief that the British and American representatives at the armament conference will work together with the other nations to reduce "the burden of armaments through diminishing possible causes of war," was expressed by President Harding today in a cablegram to King George of England.

The president's cablegram was in reply to one received from King George yesterday in which the British ruler expressed his appreciation of the bestowal of the American medal of honor on England's "unknown warrior."

An upward jolt experienced by an aviator as if running over an obstacle, is described as a "bump," and air containing such irregularities, due chiefly to rising currents, is said to be "bumpy."

EDITORIAL REVIEW OF EVENTS

B. C. Forbes says the best investment any man can make is to own his own home, and furthermore, he says money and credit are plentiful and funds are available. B. C. Forbes is a very wise man. He gives excellent advice. He is certainly an optimist. He has made the discovery that money and credit are plentiful and funds available. Yet he doesn't say a word about buying an automobile and many wise men say that an automobile is a combination home and speed machine. America needs millions of additional houses to supply the demand of a surplus population. Wouldn't it be great if Economist Forbes would get in touch with the houseless ones and direct them to the right road? He insists that anywhere from a million to two million new homes are needed without delay. There are thousands of idle carpenters and bricklayers and plumbers and plasterers and paperhangers. Why isn't this the time to build homes?

Representatives of building and loan associations in Texas held a meeting in the city of Dallas during the State Fair and planned a state organization. There are fifty-six associations in the state and Wichita Falls was well represented at the Dallas meeting. The Texas Chamber of Commerce endorsed the movement as being the one recognized means for promoting home ownership and ultimately bringing about a relief for the housing shortage that has been troubling the people during the last few years. It is announced that the purpose of the state organization will be to promote the interests of the building and loan associations and to place their operations and plans on such a sound basis that the business men, merchants and bankers, will recognize them as valuable institutions that are fostering a spirit of thrift and encouraging home ownership in those communities they serve. Acting together it is said that the building loan associations will be in a position to obtain more satisfactory results than would be had should each institution act independently. Every man should own his own home. Wichita Falls is a city of homes, but in coming years Wichita Falls is destined to become a city of one hundred or a hundred and fifty thousand and the wise wage earner or bread winner should plan today for a home in the future. Land is cheap; building materials are hitting the prewar levels. Napoleon was right when he said that a man would fight for a patch of ground or a cottage of his own when he would not fight to protect the possessions of another man or a boarding house. Napoleon did not use these words, but what he said covered all the ground.

Petroleum is the greatest game in the world and the petroleum industry is climbing to the top of the world. There are men who say that the petroleum fields will be exhausted in less than ten years.

These men are lacking in vision.

Proven fields haven't been scratched and for a thousand years to come scouts will be hunting petroleum and wild-catters will be bringing in wells.

Militarists and old men are directing the destinies of European and Asiatic nations. They believe in the right of conquest, the power of the sword, the rule of the few and plenty of human fodder for the cannon whenever they have a program of spoilation to put over.

They call themselves Christian citizens of Christian lands, but they retain all the implements or devices of our savage forebears who, believing that might made right, seized that which they desired and held it against all comers by the weight of the sword.

If the rulers of so-called Christian lands, the inhabitants of so-called Christian lands, sincerely believed in the message of Christ and the Gospel of the Lord, there would be no bristling navies and mighty armies necessary for the arbitrament of the disputes of nations or kings or potentates.

Greed has been uppermost since time began; greed is uppermost today. If the golden rule was the guide of civilized man, then universal disarmament would be ushered in without delay.

ERA OF BLOODSHED

Still bloodshed is the modern fad, my protests don't avail; in almost every little grad some slayers are in jail. All kinds of folks behind the bars are locked, for gory deeds; famed clergymen and movie stars, and dames in window's weeds. The furies, free and running loose, urge crime with every breath, and any frivolous excuse will do for sudden death. When all the naitons were at strife, and gents slew scores of gents, men learned to think that human life is not worth fifteen cents. They carried back this grim belief from scenes of death and gore; and this delusion, fraught with grief, has spread from shore to shore. And so we hear the crack of guns throughout this country wide and every day we're planting tons of delegates who died. The husband shoots his loving wife because she wears punk lids, and grandma takes the butcher knife when she'd correct the kids. The wires are burdened with the news of murders and of brawls, not in the alleys and the mews, but in the stately halls. And men of standing go to jail, and queenly dames are there; and all my protests don't avail—explaining my despair We're wasting force on little things, denouncing minor flaws, while yet the armed assassin springs, and laughs to scorn our laws.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

PRESCIENCE.

So they means death? Well, why should it mean for?
Death may, I think, but set the spirit free
From the gross bondage of morality.
Not death—what life can do; that cuts more near.
Yet there are moments when the soul wings clear,
Out of the senses' web of wizardry,
Ranging through time up to eternity,
Where count worlds sit ripening sphere by sphere.
Why, even death seems nowise new to me;
Still come the sound and vision as of yore.
I hear, as from some vast primeval shore
Th' immeasurable mourning of the sea;
And I embark, with myriad souls beside,
Upon swart ships that sail a sunless tide. —Percy A. Child.

Three Musketeers Draws Crowd in Face Competition

Despite powerful competition in the shape of two church meetings, the Shrine show and a circus, Douglas Fairbanks' presentation of the screen version of the Three Musketeers at the Palace drew a well filled house at the second evening performance.

Fairbanks in the role of the D'Artagnan made the intrepid Gascon live again before the eyes of his audience. The presentation of the hero's three friends, the ascetic Athos, the elephant and rather free-and-easy Arumis, and the bulky Porthos proved harly less creditable, while the presentation of France's Great Cardinal Richelieu was as good, if not better, than D'Artanan himself.

No expense is spared in the settings of this production, as is readily apparent to any one who has seen the recreation of the glittering court of France of the period with which Duma's great novel deals.

The adaptation does not, of course, run literally with the novel. In fact it is likely that did not public taste prevent a literal presentation of some D'Artagnan's adventures, that the police would. But the adaptation gives a good picture of the high lights of the novel, and is woven into a thrilling and interesting story.

WASHINGTON HAS NO CIVIC CONSCIENCE IS VERDICT OF LEDOUX

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—"A city without a civic conscience" was the appellation bestowed upon the national capital today by Urbain Ledoux, self-elected shepherd for a group of unemployed. The population of Washington, he declared, was composed principally of "leaders who come to take rather than give."

Having failed to find a collective conscience here, Ledoux said he would continue his efforts to locate on some one of the broad avenues, "an individual conscience which would recognize its duty." His latest blow, he explained, was the refusal of the local authorities to renew a permit for a public meeting held by a charitable organization, through which he had hoped to obtain funds to cover food and lodging for the fifty men under his charge.

Ledoux said that as a last resort only, he intended to repeat in Washington the auction of unemployed, which he recently staged on Boston common.

SUIT TO ESTABLISH THE RIGHTS OF GUY STILLMAN IN COURT

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—John E. Mack, guardian for Guy Stillman, yesterday brought legal proceeding to establish the child's right to share in the trust funds totaling $37,393,000 established by his grandfather for his five children. This action was taken in connection with the divorce suit brought by James A. Stillman, millionaire banker, against his wife in which the child's legitimacy is questioned.

Mr. Mack obtained an order for the executors or trustees of the Spillman estate to show cause why they should not be joined in the divorce action. Mr. Mack told the court that Guy has an interest in each one of the trust funds and that the order, if sustained, will eliminate the possibility of litigation over Guy's rights in the future.

"Oh Joy" Makes Any Guy Want to Worship At Such a Shrine-Nick

Calls Off Batting Practice to See Masons, and He and Fellow "Acktors" Much Taken With Beauties and Song Sharks.

By "NICK" CARTER.

Well, me and my fellow acktors what is in "Springtime" had called off batting practise which we didn't need no more rehearsals anyway being letter perfeckt as the poet says and we was planning to go en masse so as to speak to see the opening of "Oh, Joy," when the Big Boss comes to me and says:

"Nick, how would you like to see the show what the Masons is putting on and write the paper a review of it you being an acktor now and a keen critick?" and so I was surprised b cause I didn't know that the brickmasons was putting on no show and I asked him:

"What is this show?" and he says it is the "Oh, Joy" show what is the Shrine show and the Masons' show both the same and I am pleased and delighted and says sure I'll review the show which I did and this is what I think about the "Oh, Joy" show:

It is one swell show and it is got some swell dolls in it and a lot of guys what sure make the welking ring as you might say many of them being friends of mine what is Masons which give me a big surprise me not knowing that any of my friends ever had learned the trade excepting maybe some of my roughneck friends like Monte Staniforth which is in the brick business. But anyways to stick to my subjeck which is the Shrine "Oh, Joy" show, I would say that they is few shows that is better and as for the Shrine I would worship at any shrine myself what had girls like them girls in a show and I ain't kidding even my wife when I say that either. And I would also like to be in that "Oh, Joy" myself because Ben Neal is the comedian in it, and I figure me and Ben would be a scream, me being clever also like Ben is.

Reminder of Past

They start off this "Oh, Joy" show with an evening at the Maskat Band and Patrol Club which is a pretty long name for a club to have and reminds me of a gambling club which I belonged to which was called the Dry Climate Social Club only they is both different and in this scene in the show Doc Fletcher has a part where he is the hero and goes to sleep which is what many's the hero has done in the past and he has a dream where a girl steps out of a picture frame and asks him to lead her to a little high life in the big city which he gets his silk kelley and takes her by the arm and does so.

First, they ramble into Sing Lo's opium den which Bill Cook is this Sing Lo and he is some Chink and is so good that Bert Bean was reminded of thirty-five years ago when he and Sam Loolie built Wichita Falls and asked Judge Huff to come and live in it. And there is four other Chinks in the den what is all hopped up from hitting the pipe and they come down front and sing and if I didn't have a program and couldn't read I would not have knowed the four Chinks was Paul Von Allmen, the best third baseman in this city, Vaughn Ray, Grover Bullington and Ivan Murchison.

Gets Big Laugh

And then there is a street scene where a policeman which is J. T. Yeargin tells a feller to get to hell outta there and park his car right and it give me a big laugh and then Doc takes his girl to the Mephisto cafe which is run by Frank Reid who is also a prominent author like what I am only he writes articles about the value of water in dry counties whilst I never had so much use for water. And you should hear Miss Martha Roper and Cullen Massie sing "Kiss-a-Miss" and ackt noble and I didn't have the heart to blame Cull when he walks off the stage rubbing his tongue gently over his fevered lips. And then Miss Frances Scott sings "All By Myself," which the same she wouldn't have to be if she should send out any invitations which might get in my mail box. But I felt like a peace-time aviator when Shino Cullum trots out the chorus for his "O-Hi-O" song which is a regular Heinz chorus there being some sweet PICKLES in it!

Could Do Better

But I have to criticize the roller-skating of Jim Barnard which if I do say it I could do better myself, him falling down five times whilst I have tried that once and fell down only four.

The scenes is shifted again and they is a vaudeville ollio with Miss Bernice Jackson shaking a luscious fiddle for a tarter and I don't know much about fiddling but I will say there will be sweet music in Jouette Bonner's home one of these days. Then Mrs. W. S. Robertson who is dressed in a pink kimona that is sure got made in Japan writ all over it comes down front and sings some extracts from "Madame Butterfly" which I don't know the madame but she has a lilting harmonious life I guess because Mrs. Robertson sure breathes forth vocal strains of pure-dee gold.

Here's Real Laugh

And after that I gets the real laugh because they is a minstrel show and Ben Neal and Walter Robbins is end men and Ben puts on a crap-shooting scene which folks thought was great ackting but I seen him do it before only he was sweating blood and was in earnest when I seen him and it meant real jack. But anyways it is a big number and my old pal Ben gets a big hand and a bouquet of wild flowers which he deserves him being a little wild on occasions. And there is so many good songs in this minstrel show that I can't remember them all but R. E. Shepherd and Ivan Murchison and Vaughn Ray and I don't know how many more sings and sings and sings and I don't care if they never stop.

Then Ben Neal does a monologue which is also good and George Jehle and Miss Hazelle Deen puts on a song and dance ackt telling how they is ashamed of themselves for having got married which is a surprise to me not having heard of the affair before—and then the scene goes back again to where Doc Fletcher wakes up, which it was about time because they was closing the club on him and I guess anyways Mike Walker musta been looking for him to come and do a little work by then.

I like that "Oh, Joy" show and if I can get me a coupla more complimentary tickets I shall go again tonight. You should do the same, and then if you got any money left you should save it for next Friday and Saturday nights and come to the Wichita theatre and see "Springtime" which is the show I am acktng in and I am still arguing that I am a good acktor.

TIMELY VIEWS NOT IN THE NEWS

CHAOS IN EUROPE VIEWED BY BANKER AS LEAGUE FAILURE.

That the present chaos in Europe should serve as a warning to the United States to keep out of the league of nations, is the belief of James Speyer, New York banker who has just returned after three months spent abroad. On his recent arrival in New York he said:

"Europe is still in a very unsettled political and economic condition. There are four little wars being carried on now, with a prospect of one or two more. A large part of Russia remains cut off.

"Many are beginning to realize now the dangers of political and economic strife due to the creation of so many small heterogenous states, which were supposed to be able peacefully to govern themselves. We ought to be very grateful, indeed, that we are not a member of the so-called league of nations, and the spectacle that Europe presents ought to strengthen our resolve not to be drawn into this complicated political cauldron and not to assume any guarantees whatsoever for protecting or maintaining any foreign boundaries.

"In Great Britain and other countries the policy that France is pursuing toward Germany is not considered a wise one. It is not calculated to allay animosities or to help restore normal conditions in Germany and economic equilibrium in Europe. To this might be added that nothing has been done to correct the Versailles Treaty which ignored the economic interdependence of large sections so essential to the welfare of their peoples."

As to the financial outlook, Mr. Speyer said:

"People are beginning to realize what Keynes and other calm observers stated two years ago, that the reparation payments imposed on impoverished and diminished countries are beyond their capacity to meet, and that the efforts are asked to make to comply therewith are largely responsible for their depreciated currencies.

"As the great creditor nation of the world, we have now a very direct and substantial interest in the economic affairs of Europe. It is rather curious to hear Frenchmen claim that they cannot even pay us the interest on what they owe us when at the same time they declare that Germany is able to pay about ten times the amount of the principal of their debt.

"Of course we are bound to be affected unfavorably by the depreciation of foreign currencies. Their decreased purchasing power naturally must curtail our export of raw material. This is particularly true of the decline in the value of the mark. Germany having been one of our best customers. This has the further disadvantage for us that Germany, paying her workmen's wages in the low priced marks, can and must undersell in the markets of the world, our manufacturers, who pay higher wages in dollars.

"Great Britain is already feeling the effect of the low mark, and the great number of her unemployed is largely due to this cause.

"While the unfavorable export situation exists for us, we should do everything possible further to improve and stimulate our home trade. No doubt lower prices for food and other necessities will in due course bring lower wages, and that will help. But lower cost of living should always precede lower wages. One sure way of stimulating home activity will be to settle accounts between the government and the railroads and thus enable them to give larger orders for equipment and improvements.

"But the settlement of these financial problem—how to restore peace and good will among men. American public opinion is especially important at this time when distinguished foreigners are to visit the United States as the delegates to the disarmament conference in Washington."

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

A NEW ATMOSPHERE IN THE RANDALL HOME.

The next day came a long letter from Cherry verifying all that Miss Laura had said and adding that her mother was now out of danger and they had begun to be a bit more cheerful at home. The letter was not particularly affectionate, but Ned excused this on the grounds of her mind being troubled.

She mentioned incidentally that the rest of the family was well and that Jane had been having a glorious time and signed herself "Affectionately, Cherry."

Again a notice appeared in the "Leader" stating the fact that Mrs. Lawrence had been ill with pleurisy but was now on the road to recovery. With this notice ended all the ill-natured speculating that had been in circulation since Cherry's parting.

Arthur Hamlen returned to town the same day as the letter, looking tired, and with his car covered with mire. After going to his family he hurried over to the Randalls and told them all that had happened. Also that Cherry was well and happy though very tired from her strenuous trip.

Ned thanked him in a perfunctory way and showed in his manner that the less he saw of Mr. Hamlen, Jr., the better he would like it. Arthur, however, was serene to the very end.

"I don't think you were very cordial to Arthur," said Mrs. Randall when the door had closed on that young man. "He certainly went to a lot of trouble in helping Cherry out of a difficulty. Besides you must remember, Ned, that the Hamlens are very influential people in town."

"I was as cordial as I felt, mother," answered her son savagely. "I never have liked that cub much, and I don't want to have him hanging round my wife. You know there have always been all sorts of stories floating round about Arthur and his affairs."

"Yes, but Cherry isn't an 'affair,'" corrected his mother. "We have simply got to get that girl back here as soon as possible, so's I can begin to show her and everyone else just how much I do like her. I'm a foolish, jealous, old woman, Ned, dear, and I've been thinking things over the last day or so—and—and—" here her voice broke pitiably.

"Come, come, mother, I understand. And Cherry will, too. She's like that. Best heart in the world. You know how I love her, and if you love me you'll try to love her. Not just like her!" And Ned put his arms round his mother tenderly.

"I feel so sort of guilty about things," she went. "As if I had helped her to feel unhappy here. Yet it wasn't that I din't like her, Neddy. Only something in me that was—was—plain jealous," she finished honestly.

"There, mother, that's half the battle. We can arrange everything now. So don't you worry any more. Cherry'll come back and we'll be happy together again, and when we have our own house—and other things—you'll be the happiest person in our midst. See if you aren't."

SUGGESTIONS

A perfume bag to keep moths away is made as follows: One-half ounce each of cloves, nutmeg, caraway seeds, cinnamon and three ounces of orris root. Have these in a fine powder and place in small bags. These bags placed amid the clothing will impart a pleasant odor and will keep the moths out.

Bedrooms should be well ventilated, and if an open window makes too much of a draft on the bed, fit a board six or eight inches high and just the width of the window below the lower sash. This gives a constant exchange of air between the two sashes, slightly warming the air as it passes in.

MOTHER!

Clean Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

CLOMEL IS A DANGEROUS DRUG

Next Dose May Salivate You, Loosen Teeth or Start Rheumatism.

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't strut your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate. —Adv.

BUSINESS MEN DECLARE FOR UNITED DRIVE

The proposed "united" drive of all charitable and benevolent organizations of the city was given official indorsement by the chamber of commerce Tuesday morning when the board of directors went on record in favor of it. The action was taken after a discussion as to the probable success of a drive, and marked official adoption of an idea approved last spring.

The question as to the attitude to be taken toward organizations that might not desire to raise their funds in that manner, was discussed and, although no vote was taken, it was evident that a majority of the members would not sanction any individual campaigns should a majority of the organizations give it their approval. Opposition by the Y. W. C. A. was the only mentioned at the meeting.

W. D. Cline expressed himself in favor of allowing persons, if they desired, to designate a certain organization to receive the benefit of their subscription or exclude any organization from their subscription if they wished. No vote was taken on the suggestion. C. H. Clark, J. S. Bridwell and J. M. Bland were appointed on a committee to represent the chamber of commerce in any action that might be taken on the proposal.

The board failed to act favoring the disarmament program of President Harding. The directors did not agree with the statement of the San Francisco organization that it was a business question. In connection with the discussion C. W. Reid and W. F. Weeks criticised certain of President Harding's utterances regarding the disarmament program.

The suggestion that the directors sponsor a campaign urging people to do all possible building work in order to relieve the local unemployment situation, also failed to receive the support of the directors. W. F. Weeks said that union scale of wages was still too high, stating that plumbers were still asking $14 a day and electricians $15 a day. F. B. Noble said that open shop workmen could be obtained for $10.

MISS RUSSELL WINS PRIZE IN WOMEN'S CLUB

Miss Lima Mae Russell won the prize offered by the Perkins-Timberlake Company this week for the member of the Business Women's club selling the largest number of tickets to the club play, "Springtime" which will be presented at the Wichita theater Friday and Saturday nights.

Miss Russell sold a total of $125 worth, making her largest deal about twenty minutes before club meeting time, Tuesday evening, when one customer purchased twenty tickets. The prize was a handsome Stone Martin fur neckpiece.

Discussion of business pertaining to the play featured the meeting and it was decided by the members to admit negroes to the performance Saturday night to seats in the gallery at 50 cents each.

About 50 members were present at the meeting.

Bundy Returns to City; Goes With Security Bank

The association of M. A. Bundy, old resident, who recently returned to Wichita Falls with the Security National bank in the capacity of a special representative was announced Tuesday.

Mr. Bundy resided in Wichita Falls about 15 years prior to his departure about a year ago, when he went to Bentonville, Ark. He was for twelve years agent here for the Fort Worth and Denver railroad, resigning in 1919 to enter the oil business. He was the first president of the Texas Petroleum Refining association, was at one time fire and police commissioner here, as well as serving on the city school board.

Belief that Mr. Bundy, who is well known to Wichita Falls people as "Bill" Bundy, will prove a very valuable addition to the personnel of the Security National was expressed by officials Tuesday in making the announcement of his appointment.

DON'T INTEND TO TAKE CARS FROM PROJECT

The car service division, interstate commerce commission, does not at all wish to be in the attitude of favoring the Dallas county road project at the expense of the Wichita county project, according to a message received Tuesday by Frank Kell, following the exchange of telegrams as a result of complaint by Dallas county authorities that they were not getting sufficient cars.

In the second message from the car service division, the specific question was asked Mr. Kell if the Fort Worth and Denver was equalizing with his road on cars of the type used in handling material for the Wichita county project. The reply on his part was that it had not in the past, but conditions in this respect had recently improved, and that the Denver was now co-operating.

In the last message it was positively stated that no orders had been issued for removal of the class of cars used in this work to Colorado for handling coal.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

Federal authorities have announced they intend to "crack down" on hunters who violate the law against shooting ducks from a motor boat, and personally I hope the aforesaid f. a. do so. If ducks are at all plentiful, he is a poor hunter in this day and age who cannot get his full bag without the assistance of a put-put boat. Pump guns and automatics, which have so largely displayed the good old double-barreled shotgun, have made it possible for any fair shooter to bring home at least enough birds for a family dinner nine hunting trips out of ten. When you combine the pump gun or automatic with a motor boat the result is generally slaughter. I know of two men who used a motor boat on Lake Wichita last year, and in one forenoon bagged 60 ducks—and they might have doubled that number had their ammunition lasted.

I remember when the pump gun first came out how the editors of the best field and stream publications in the country cried out against it as a violation of the cardinal principles of the hunting sport. But the pump gun meant a lot financially to gun manufacturers and shell manufacturers, especially to the latter, while the human desire of the shooters themselves to bring home a big bag of birds from every hunting trip soon added to the popularity of the new weapon. However, I have always felt that the arguments against the use of the pump gun and the automatic were good sound, sensible arguments. Only yesterday an experienced local nimrod, who uses an automatic, admitted frankly that he had obtained more real joy out of bird hunting when he was armed with a double-barreled hammerless.

"When I missed with one barrel I could crack down with the other," he said, "and when I missed with both I felt a degree of chargin that made me try just that much harder when my next chance came. I always got a fair share of birds. I always had a grand time and I used about one-third the ammunition I use now. Still, I've got to admit also that I'm mightly sweet on my automatic and I suppose I'll continue to use it."

I'm only discussing the sportsmanship of the story and I don't want any of you fellers to confuse me with R. A. King or any other real marksman. I used to shoot a lot in the Maine woods when I was just a youngster—but today I don't suppose I could hit a bull with a bass fiddle, as Jimmy Maxwell says. It has been Lo these many years since I have put a shotgun to my shoulder. Walter Smith is framing up some kind of a duck shooting party later this month, and has insisted that I come along—but I guess he heard that I was a golf caddy once and he's probably figuring I'll come in handy at marking down and retrieving the ducks he and Homer Sanderford shoot.

Judging by Walter's description, he and Sandy will get the ducks and I'll get pneumonia. His idea is to wait until we have a cold, raw, rainy, vile, rotten night and then go out early the next morning and sit in a swamp all day. However, he did mention something real interesting regarding certain refreshments that might be taken along!

Mike O'Dowd and Mike Gibbons trained for a box fight at Wichita, Kans., Jess Willard arrived to referee it, the promoters advertised it and sold out the house—and then the sheriff stepped in and arrested the two fighters, the referee and the promoters, which indicates that the education of men connected with the prize ring should include at least one year in law school.

Just was hit in the eye by an advertisement that started with the statement that "Kruger Must Raise $150,000." Immediately I was reminded that the business men of Wichita Falls must raise a little pot for football equipment for the local high school eleven. Donations have been few and far between thus far with the Business Women's Club standing out as the only organization in the city to make a definite promise of help. If the Business Women's Club with all its need of money with which to carry on a year's program of work can afford to donate from the proceeds of this week's production of the musical play, "Springtime," surely other civic organizations with less running expense can do something for the high school gridiron battlers. I'm as poor as Job's turkey, as New Englanders say, but if I HAD the price I'd sure be mighty glad to buy a pair of football shoes for any youngster trying to win his letter on the football eleven of MY high school.

Speaking of shoes, I'd hate just now to be in Babe Ruth's shoes. With all the glory that has been his, with all the fame and all the popularity, the Sultan of Swat will find himself small potatoes if he persists in defying Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis who was named high commissioner of baseball because he is capable of enforcing every law of the game. If Judge Landis doesn't pour it on Babe I for one will be mightily surprised.

Japan Is No Menace to U. S. Asserts Bryce

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Americans are apprehensive of Japanese aggression, says Viscount James Bryce, former British ambassador at Washington, in an article printed in today's London Times, in which he reviews the popular attitude of America on the matter of the limitation of armaments, as he viewed it on his recent visit to the United States. He declared the Americans hold the opinion that Anglo-Japanese treaty encourages Japan to take an aggressive attitude.

Viscount Bryce depreeates the fear of the Japanese, and says, among other things, that the Japanese in California are not numberous enough to be a danger although they are clannish and progressive.

The writer says that nine out of ten Americans seem to believe England is the exclusive ally of Japan and that the Anglo-Japanese treaty makes the Tokio government think it has a free hand to adopt policies of aggression upon which it would otherwise fear to embark.

"Explanations do not seem likely to remove this impression from the American mind," he continues, "even when Englishmen point out that their own interests in China are identical of those of Americans and that Japanese ascendancy in Manchuria would be as injurious to Great Britain as to the United States."

BOARD WANTS TOURIST PARK DISPOSED OF

The tourist park in the southeast part of the city on Jalonick street, should be sold and a part of Scotland Park located in the addition bearing that name, north of the Burnett street bridge should be set aside for a tourist camping ground according to the recommendation made Tuesday afternoon to the city council by the Municipal Park Board.

The recommendation was made after the board had discussed the probable cost of equipment, shrubbery and trees needed to make the park suitable for tourists.

The board also approved the budget of J. E. Dobson, park superintendent which provides for the expenditure of $17,000 for the coming year for added equipment, trees, shrubbery and flowers and $11,000 for labor.

The report of Mr. Dobson, covering the work that has been done in the city parks since March 1 was praised by the board the opinion being expressed that more had been done in the period toward the beautifying of the parks and adding to their amusement value than during any previous time in the city's history.

The report of Mr. Dodson showed that a total of $16,972.86 had been spent on city parks since March 1, the date on which he assumed active charge as superintendent. Since that time his report showed that play ground equipment had been placed in many of the parks, and the appearance of the parks generally improved through the planting of trees, flowers and shrubbery. A large amount of grading has been done.

More of the same kind of work is needed, especially in some of the newly acquired parks of the city and the program for the coming year provides for this as well as added play ground equipment.

The recommendation as to the sale of the park on Jalonick street, is in line with what is known to be the opinion of at least two members of the city council. The park was purchased from J. A. Kemp in the early summer with the intention of immediately preparing it as a camping ground for the hundreds of tourists that stop here during the tourist season. The fact that it is near the negro section of the city and is difficult to reach from tourist roads are other reasons that have been voiced by those who oppose it being made the city's tourist park.

At the meeting of the school board Tuesday night a member of the park board authorized at the meeting Tuesday afternoon, offered its services in beautifying the school grounds and increasing their worth as recreation centers. The offer was also extended to the Mothers' Clubs who have in the past epended considerable time and money in the improvement of the grounds of the city schools.

The board meeting at which R. O. Harvey, chairman presided was well attended.

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT IS VERDICT

Hubert Inman, charged with assault to murder W. W. Montgomery, was found guilty of aggravated assault by a jury in the 30th District court Tuesday afternoon following an all day trial of the case. He was fined $100. The case was the first of several criminal cases to be tried in the 30th District court during the week.

The verdict in the case was in line with the argument to the jury of Sam Holliday, assistant District attorney, representing the state in the trial.

According to the evidence introduced in the case, the defendant sought to avenge an alleged beating that the complaining witness was said to have given his father, Marion Inman. According to the testimony Inman attempted to shoot Montgomery when they met in the road near Sunshine Hill following the latter's assaults on Marian Inman. The evidence was contradictory as to the manner in which the defendant attempted to shoot Montgomery, the former claiming that he only drew his revolver when he thought he was about to strike him. The revolver failed to fire.

Gibbons-O'Dowd Fight in Dutch In Tulsa Also

By Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 18.—Governor J. B. A. Robertson today ordered the sheriff of Tulsa county to take such steps as may be necessary to prevent the Mike Gibbons-Mike O'Dowd boxing contest in Tulsa next Tuesday, warning the promoters it will not be permitted in Oklahoma.

"Both Gibbons and O'Dowd are professional prize fighters and are contenders for championship honors in their class and so regarded by the sporting world," Governor Robertson said. "The affair cannot be construed as a 'boxing contest' in any sense of the word, and will not be permitted in Oklahoma.

"The bout was stopped in Kansas because it was clearly a prize fight and it has been extensively advertised as such and is so regarded by followers of the fighting game.

"As soon as information was received that the fight was scheduled for Tulsa an investigation was begun and with a week yet to elapse until the fight is scheduled there will be no undue hardships worked o the promoters. Such hardships as may have resulted from their plans thus far to hold the fight in Oklahoma could have been avoided by them by a little investigation before announcing the event for Oklahoma. The state law prohibiting prize fights is clear."

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 18.—preparations are being completed rapidly for the Gibbons-O'Dowd middleweight boxing bout here the night of October 25, it was reported today. The bout is easily conceded by sport fans as the most important boxing card ever staged in the state. Gibbons, O'Dowd, their managers and promoters, are scheduled to leave Wichita, Kansas, tonight for Tulsa, the fighters to begin public workouts tomorrow, according to information received here over the telephone. Several hundred Wichita fans have already made arrangements for a special train to bring them to Tulsa for the battle, it was reported.

BUCK WEAVER SUES WHITE SOX FOR $20,000 BACK PAY

EXPECT DECISION ON RUTH'S CASE IN NEXT FEW DAYS

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—A decision in the Babe Ruth post-season case by Judge K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, is expected within a few days and the general impression prevailing here today was that Ruth will be let off with a suspension long enough to keep him out of a few of next season's games without pay.

"What goes up must come down," said Judge Landis. "I noticed Ruth two weeks ago that the rules prohibited this sort of thing."

New York dispatches received here indicated that Ruth would receive no support from the Yankee club owners in his controversy with the judge. Colonels Ruppert and Huston are quoted as saying Judge Landis has no alternative but to meet the situation firmly."

British Solons Have Much Ado About Nothing

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—An incident with a bearing on both the Irish question and parliamentary etiquette occurred in the house of commons this afternoon while Sir John Butcher, unionist member for York, was speaking. Sir John in alluding to Irish affairs referred to the Irish leader as "DeValera" instead of using the customary designation to which Mr. DeValera was held to be entitled as an elected member of parliament, "the honorable member from East Clare and East Mayo."

The speaker immediately called Sir John to order, saying he must refer to Mr. DeValera as the member for his particular constituency. Several points of order were raised as to whether an individual who had not taken the oath of allegiance was a member of the house, but the speaker adhered to his ruling.

Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The financial community was disposed to take a more hopeful view of the railroad strike situation today. This was reflected in the better tone of the stock market, which showed little of yesterday's pressure.

Rails recovered the greater part of yesterday's setback and shares more or less identified with transportations improved in like degree. Exceptions were furnished by several equipments, notably Pullman, which made a net loss of 4¼ points.

Oils were strengthened by short covering, Royal Dutch rallying on denial that the company had sold its holdings in Mexican Eagle. Other foreign, as well as domestic oils rose 1 to 2 points and motors and tobaccos responded to moderate accumulation. Sales amounted to 425,000 shares.

Monetary conditions relaxed, the opening call money rate of 5 per cent dropping to 4 per cent at midday.

In the bond market convertible rails were heavy, the entire domestic division inclining to lower levels. Sales, par value, $16,750,000.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18.—Forenoon trading in the cattle division was confined almost exclusively to the better classes, which were finding outlets at prices that were about steady. Among the notable sales were cows at $4.25 and light calves at $7.00; receipts were above the average, as to numbers, around 3,500 head of cattle and 4,000 calves being available, but general quality was low. COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Weakness in grain and hogs started liquidation which broke cotton seed oil early in the session. Good buying developed at the decline, however, and prices rallied, closing unchanged to 7 points net lower except October, which was 37 points lower. Sales 23,700 barrels. Prime crude 6.85 sales; prime summer yellow spot 8.25; December 8.74; March 8.89; May 9.06, all bid.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The unsettling influence of the railroad transportation uncertainty was very evident in the action of the cotton market again today. An opening decline was followed by sharp rallies on trade buying and covering, but after selling up from 18.25 to 18.75 for December prices weakened under renewed liquidation. That delivery broke to 18.05 in late trading making new low ground for the movement and closed at 18.10 with the general market closing weak at a net decline of 24 to 49 points.

There appeared to be a feeling early in the day that long accounts disturbed by the strike threat had been pretty well liquidated while there was not enough southern selling to indicate a general weakening among spot holders. Thisidea led to a good deal of covering, while there was also a lot of trade buying to fix prices an after opening unchanged to 13 points lower the market soon turned firmer. A rally of about 90 points from early low levels in Liverpool stimulated the local demand and before the advance was checked active months showed recoveries of 35 to 50 points from the low, showing net advances of 20 to 41 points.

Around 18.75 for December and 18.45 for January, however, the demand from shorts appeared to have been pretty well supplied and the market turned easier under a renewal of liquidation, local, Wall street and western selling. January sold off to 17.80 with active months generally showin- declines of 48 to 71 points shofing declines of 48 to 71 points from last night's close. Last prices were at lowest of the day.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19.—Last cotton prices were the lowest of the day, amounting from 3 to 42 points, the December position closing at 17.42 cents a ound. During the greater part of the session, the market stood at net gains which at one time amounted to 41 to 80 points, carrying December up to 18.23. The steadiness was drawn mainly from rumors that the railroad strike was likely to be postponed for an indefinite length of time.

On the opening prices wobbled about considerably strike reports being considered more favorable, but prices being held down by the pessimistic attitude of the Liverpool market, where wide losses were registered and which private cablegrams explained were du to liquidation from th continent and especially from Germany. As the market here began to advance Liverpool follows suit, cabling over that trade interests were absorbing all the contracts offered. The initial losses amounted to 8 to 21 points, December working down to 17.55. The advance was swift following the decline, but the market held a good tone until about noon.

Once the market turned soft it remained soft to the close, which was officially toned easier. The main influence was the rumor that the German cabinet was about to fall.

GRAIN

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Bearish views of the domestic industrial situation and the foreign financial outlook carried the wheat market downward today to the lower price this season. Closing quotations were unsettled at 3 3-3 to 4 3-4 net decline, with December 1.05 1-4 to .05 1-2, and May 1.09 3-4 to 1.10. Corn finished unchanged to 3-8@1-2 lower; oats off 1-4 to 5-8 and provisions unchanged to 25 down.

Except for a brief time at the start, the wheat pit was nearly bare of buying orders, whereas brokers were numerous who had orders to sell. The attention of traders focused on uncertainties of the threatened railway tie-up and talk of a possible financial crash in Germany.

Corn as well as wheat touched a new low record price for the season. Oats paralleled the action of corn.

Provisions went lower with hogs.

'PHONED ORDER TO STORE RESULTS IN NEGRO'S ARREST

The arrest of a negro woman was made by police Tuesday following the telephoning of an order to a local store to send four suits of clothing to the home of a prominent business man for examiation.

According to police the order did not ring true and the department store promptly got in touch with Police Chief Morgan who detailed two plain clothes officers to ride in the closed delivery wagon to the address given. A negro woman signed for the four suits and was immediately arrested and brought to the city hall and a thorough investigation begun. According to police other arrests are expected to follow.

The negro woman protests that she did not have anything to do with using the man's name in ordering the clothes and signed for them thinking her employer had ordered them.

Kissing Game Leads to Death Of Two Persons

By Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 18.—Two men were shot to death in an affray, which it was said, was the outcome of a "kissing game" at a party at the home of John Allen at Curtis Bay, a suburb, early today. The dead are John Allen, fifty-seven, and Robert Reed, thirty-six. William S. Thompson, 38 years, of Lynchburg, Va., is on jail on charges of murder. He claims he shot in self defense.

The shooting is said to have resulted from Thompson's resentment of attentions paid by another man to Allen's sixteen year old granddaughter.

Kerosene Lamp Is Waterloo To Negro

There is one negro prowler in Wichita Falls who will fight shy of kerosene burning lamps the rest of his natural life, for one such lamp proved his undoing Tuesday night.

A north side householder, whose name the police failed to obtain, returning rather early to his home thought he heard a noise in one of the rooms. He, however, paid little heed to the noise thinking that possibly was just "imagination." Pursing his accustomed way into the house though, he started to light a lamp and found the globe warm.

Remembering the supposed noise his suspicion became fully aroused and he lighted up the house and began to search.

Crouched under a bed and as close to the wall as he could get was finally found the source of the noise and the warmed lamp globe, according to police, in the form of a negro, who was hauled forth by the citizen and marched to a nearby grocery store from where a telephone call soon brought members of the police force.

The negro was lodged in jail under a charge of burglary.

Fair Sex Enters Short Change Game

Clerks in down town stores are becoming wise to the tricks of swindlers, thieves and their like even when the "smooth ones" oppear in the person of attractively appearing members of the supposed weaker sex.

As a result of several attempts to work the familiar "change" trick two girls, possessing more than average pulchritude were brought to the county attorney's office late Tuesday afternoon by officers from the constable's office.

The sad part of the story lay in the fact that the trick had failed to work even though tried several places, the clerks in all cases grasping for the first money before making the second "change."

The girls whose only offense lay in the attempt are being held pending further investigation.

BRIAND ASKS SUPPORT OF ARMS POLICY

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—Premier Briand went before the chamber of deputies today and made it clear that his policy must have the support—the strong approval—of the deputies if he was to represent France at the Washingtno conference on limitation of armaments. If France desired a policy of force, the premier declared, the representatives of the country must say so. H would, however, decline to associate himself with such a policy.

The chamber today discussed four of the sixteen interpellations on the government's foreign policy. Premier Briand showed himself ready to argue the points made by the speakers, rising frequently to contradict or correct statements made. In one of these interruptions, he said:

"There are two policies between which a choice must be made. There is a policy of isolation and force, which certain people vaunt and which can be upheld and can be defended; but the representatives of the country must say so. I am to leave for Washington, but I will not leave unless the great majority of this assembly approves my policy; it will also in justice inform the country to what burdens it exposes itself in following a policy of force."

Later the premier again emphasized the same point, saying:

"France is strong. The policy advocated by certain members of the chamber can be followed, but it will be without me, for I judge it to be catastrophic for my country."

Outcome of Ft. Worth kow Undetermined

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 18.—With the completion of the check of the recall petitions, recently presented asking that a new election be held for a mayor and police commissioner, it was officially announced today that the Mayor Cockrell petition is 989 short of the needed numbers of qualified voters' names and Police Commissioner Alderman's petition is 871 short.

The signatures of 4,560 qualified voters are necessary to force an election. This number is one-fifth of the number of voters in Fort Worth, as provided by a clause in the charter of the city.

Only 3,571 names of legal voters of Fort Worth were attached to the Cockrell petition, C. S. Snow, city secretary, stated, while the signatures of 3,689 were on the Alderman petition.

John Baskin, who is one of the leaders in the move for a new election, is planning to make another canvass of the city to obtain the necessary number of signatures to the petition.

DATA ON BERGDOLL PROBE CASE STOLEN FROM REP. JOHNSON

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—A box containing many official papers relating to the congressional investigation of the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the draft dodger, and some private family documents, was stolen last night from the office of Representative Johnson, democrat, Kentucky, located on the main floor of the House office building. Nothing else of value was molested.

The Washington police got a number of excellent finger prints.

PARRISH SELECTS FORT WORTH FOR CAMPAIGN CENTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 18.—Representative Lucian W. Parrish of Texas, announced today his intention of opening headquarters early next spring in Fort Worth, Texas, for his campaign for the seat in the senate now occupied by Senator Culberson. Parrish made his decision on the recommendation of E. S. Shannon, manager of the Fort Worth chamber of commerce, who pointed out the railway and hotel facilities of that city.

In his letter to Shannon, Parrish said he would make a most vigorous campaign of the entire state on a constructive business platform, containing living and vital issues, issues largely economic in their nature but political, "because the progress, prosperity and happiness of our people is involved."

Parrish pointed out that he was not connected with the bitter personal political feuds that have divided Texas in the past.

TO RAISE FUND IN ONE UNITED CAMPAIGN DRIVE

By unanimous action of the representatives of six charitable and benevolent organizations, tentative plans were inaugurated Tuesday night for a city wide combined "drive" to secure maintenance funds for the coming year. The resolution was adopted with the provision that details in connection with the drive were to be agreed upon by the organization effected when presented to them by a central committee.

C. H. Clark, chairman, Mesdames Frank Kell, C. R. Hartsook, and N. H. Martin, Wylie Robertson and J. S. Bridwell were appointed on a central committee which will have general charge of the campaign.

Chairman Clark announced that a meeting of the committee will be held Thursday night at which representatives of all the organizations to enter the campaign will appear to present their budgets for the coming year from which a total figure for the drive will be agreed upon.

Representatives of the Salvation Army, Young Women Christian Association, Welfare Council, Boy Scouts, Day Nursery and the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society were present at the meeting and all will take part in the drive according to present plans.

Every organization must cut their budgets to a minimum when presenting them for the approval to the central committee according to the opinions expressed by several in attendance at the meeting. In this connection it was pointed that the executive board of the Salvation Army had cut their budget to $7,000 after local officials of the army had asked that over $10,000 be raised. The Salvation Army was the only organization present which could give anything but an approximate estimate as to its budget for the coming year. The organization recently completed its budget in expectation of carrying on an individual campaign during the coming month.

The discussion among the various representatives present indicated that there will be some disagreement as to details of the campaign which will have to be agreed upon later. No opposition to the campaign was expressed by any one present.

The meeting was called following the action of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning indorsing the proposed united drive and calling the meeting to which representatives of the several organizations were invited to attend.

The twenty-one men and women attending the meeting at which C. H. Clark presided was as follows: Salvation Army, B. F. Johnson, "Pa" Burdick, Otto Stehlik, N. O. Monroe and Wylie Robinson, Chamber of Commerce, C. H. Clark, J. S. Bridwell, T. B. Noble and Hubert Harrison, Y. W. C. A., Mesdames W. W. Silk, C. R. Hartsook and Misses Margaret Dubose and M. R. Kerr; Day Nursery, Mesdames Frank Kell and R. J. Goodale; Boy Scouts, H. E. Taylor; Texas Children Home and Aid Society, Mrs. K. Henricle and J. C. Hunt.

MISTRIAL IN CASE AGAINST TAXI DRIVER

After being out for approximately one hour, a jury in the city police court Tuesday afternoon reported to Corporation Judge Ogle that they were hopelessly disagreed and could not return a verdict in the case of Joe Mason, who was being tried on a charge of vagrancy.

The prosecution set up that the defendant was not employed, did not regularly work at any employment and was an habitual killer.

The defendant, who was represented by Attorney Hicks, set forth that he was by occupation a service car driver, and that at the time of his arrest was attempting to obtain a license to drive a service car and that he had been refused by police officers, although he had the signatures of 20 reputable business men on a petition which he presented to officers. The defense also set up that the defendant at the time of his arrest had gone to the police station to ask Night Chief McDonald to recommended him for a license, and that he was arrested while there.

The jury, after being out fifteen minutes, returned to the court room and reported to Judge Ogle that they were unable to agree and could not see that they ever would reach an agreement. The jury, with the agreement of City Prosecutor Zeb Nixon and of Attorney Hicks for the defense, told Judge Ogle that the vote stood five to one. They were not permitted to report how the vote stood. They were ordered back for further effort to reach an agreement and at the end of another forty-five minutes returned with a similar report.

Police asserted that the case will be brought to trial again in the near future.

BABSON VIEW DISCUSSED AT VARSITY CLUB

Taking the writings of Roger W. Babson, noted statistician and business authority, whose articles appear exclusively here in the Record News, as his subject, Reverend I. Lem Keevil explained some of the points brought out by Babson in regard to the connection between business and religion, at the regular weekly luncheon of the University club Tuesday noon at the Kemp hotel. The contention made by Babson that religion either directly or indirectly was a vital factor in securing success in the business world was defended by the Rev. Keevil with his own observations from the standpoint of a theologian and bible student as well as from the points developed by the writer on business.

"The sermon on the mount, in which Jesus uttered more sound doctrines than have later been expressed, is a better business guide than all of the works extant on business success," Rev. Keevil declared.

"What the scientists of all ages have been telling us about the laws of natural reaction, what Newton advanced in his laws of motion, can be seen to be only reiterations of the truths told by Jesus," the speaker said.

"Seek and you shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you," he said, "are ways of telling how every action is followed by a reaction."

The statement by Babson that the business of the United States is in the hands of 2 per cent of the population was brought out by the speaker to show how important it was that the few who control the business should apply their religion to business.

Something of a joint debate was developed by the chairman calling on A. E. Murdoch, local cotton buyer, who is leaving the city, to make a short talk. Mr. Murdoch didn't agree with either Babson or Rev. Keevil in regard to religion in business, saying that the so called big business interests are fighting the growth of religion. There was no heat in his remarks, he seemingly being interested mainly in expressing his views on the question.

In reply to Mr. Murdoch, Rev. Keevil repeated the quotation from Babson saying that "Not all successful business men are church men nor Christian, but that their success can be traced either directly or indirectly to theirs or someone else's following religious principles."

A vote of appreciation was tendered Mr. Murdoch for his work for the club in the past and expressing the hope that good fortune would follow him in his new home.

"Superficiality" is the crying evil of the present day, according to Mr. Murdock. People make conclusions without reading or investigating any of the many angles of a proposition, he said.

Entertainment for the program consisted of a piano selection by Mrs. Robert Logan, and a duet by Miss Ruth Chandler and C. H. Angle, accompanied by T. T. McKinney of the cast of "Springtime."

C. F. "Nick" Carter, now a regular "ecktor," made an announcement regarding the presentation of "Springtime," admitting that the cast, especially the comedy role of the play, was well chosen.

REV. M'KISSICK TO ARRIVE WEDNESDAY FOR REVIVAL MEET

Goods crowds and excellent interests are reported from the revival services which were commenced Sunday evening at the First Christian church. The Rev. James T. McKissick of Midland, president of the Midland Christian college and well known evangelist, who was scheduled to arrive in time to take charge of the meeting on Tuesday evening, was delayed by a train wreck on the Texas & Pacific railroad near Van Horn.

According to a telegram received Tuesday evening by the Rev. J. Lem Keevil, pastor of the church, however, Mr. McKissick is expected to arrive in time to take charge of the services on Wednesday evening.

The services are to be held only of evenings. A special feature of the meetings has been announced in the dividing of the city into two sections with automobile service provided to take people to and from the church. F. M. Mashburn is chairman of the automobile committee.

The song services are under the direction of Dr. L. D. Parnell.

LIGHTS ORDERED IN DOWN TOWN ALLEYS

As a further step toward maintaining the low rate of crime now existent in Wichita Falls Police Commissioner Fitts announced Tuesday that in the near future electric lights will be installed in all alleyways in the downtown sections and sheds and other likely hiding places torn out.

The announcement was made following an inspection tour Tuesday night by Commissioner Fitts and Utilities Commissioner W. N. Bonner.

With the alleyways brilliantly lighted by electric lights and hiding places torn away, Commissioner Fitts declared it his belief that robberies of business houses can be practically eliminated since in the past this has seemed to be the means generally used by sneak thieves to force their entrances.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN.

The theft of an automobile belonging to Charles I. Francis from its parking place on Eighth street near the American National Bank building was reported to police Tuesday night.

INSPECTION SHOWS LITTLE TUBERCULAR INFECTION NEAR HERE

Over 216 dairy cows were inspected last week in Wichita county without a single case of tubercular infection being found, according to Dr. Lucy, of the health department.

The cows are being inspected as fast as possible it being considered advisable to complete the yearly tests before cold weather sets in. It is estimated that something like 1,000 dairy cows will be tested in this year's inspection.

Mrs. Minnie G. Scherr, of Charleston, is the first Virginia woman to be named a deputy collector of internal revnue.
