CISD releases TAAS scores

The Texas Assessment of Academic Skills results are in for Colorado-Independent School District students, and they appear somewhat lower, as a whole, than last years scores on the TEAMS, assessments of minimum skills.

For example, only 59 percent of fifth graders who took the 1990-91 TAAS test mastered the math portion, compared with an 86 percent mastery rate among fifth graders on the 1989-90 TEAMS test.

The news is not as bad as it may appear, however, according to Sam Huffman, counselor at Colorado High School.

For one thing, Huffman says, the percentage of economically disadvantaged students in this area is higher than that percentage statewide.

Huffman also points out the fact that the TAAS assesses academic skills, whereas the TEAMS assessed only minimum skills. The TAAS, therefore, is a considerably more difficult test.

The format of the TAAS is different from that of TEAMS, Huffman explained. Much of the content of the math portion, for example, is formatted as word problems.

Not only do many students seem to dislike math word problems, but also many students have very little experience with them.

The reading passages of the TAAS, Huffman said, are considerably longer than those in TEAMS, and require higher order thinking skills.

Huffman said that teachers in CISD plan to ensure that their students have experience with the types of problems TAAS presents in the future, as well as plenty of experience with writing composition, which was another area the TAAS scores showed to be weak.

CISD teachers will use the TAAS tests as tests of that sort are meant to be used - as indications of problem areas to be dealt with and improved, and Huffman is certain that CISD students will do much better on the TAAS next year, and in years to come.

Permanent operation fund possible for museum

The Colorado City Historical Museum Board met on Wednesday afternoon at the City Hall, and learned that Mr. Preston C. Burchard is considering seriously the possibility of establishing a fund to assist in the permanent operation of the museum.

Along with his sister Alice B. Goodridge, Burchard has already pledged matching funds of $5,000 for use by the museum in moving from its present location to the Kiker-Seale property, formerly the home of P.C. Coleman, grandfather of Burchard and Ms. Goodridge.

Burchard plans to visit Colorado City in February, to meet with the Board and to determine whether the people of Mitchell County and Colorado City have enough interest to help in creating and supporting the foundation, should he decide to establish it.

In other business, the Board discussed the possibility of increasing the number of its members, decided to have regular quarterly meetings, and to call additional meetings as necessary.

Members discussed costs for museum membership, and for memorial plaques for the museum, noting that any decision made must be approved by the City Council.

L. B. Elliott, museum chairman said that he would draw up a set of by-laws for the Board's approval, and submit them at the next regular meeting.

Patriotic program honors servicemen and veterans

In a warm show of community spirit and support, the city of Westbrook honored its servicemen and veterans, living and dead, in a patriotic program on Thursday night at the school auditorium.

The program was arranged and presented by teachers and members of the drama class, the Future Homemakers of America, the senior government class, and the Westbrook band. It was attended by almost the entire Westbrook community, including the veterans who still reside there, as well as several veterans, originally from Westbrook, who live now in other cities.

Names of Westbrook veterans from World War II, the Korean Conflict, and Vietnam were compiled with the help of Helen Oglesby and Wilma Jean McKinney, and then the veterans were called and invited to the program. According to Judy Chitsey, Westbrook drama teacher who helped plan the program, almost all veterans who were called were able to attend.

The program consisted of readings from such documents as John F. Kennedy's "Ask not what your country can do for you..." inauguration speech; Martin Luther King's "I have a dream..." speech; Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg Address; the Mayflower Compact and the American Constitution and Declaration of Independence.

Students read the names of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. They read biblical excerpts from Ecclesiastes, and they read the 23rd Psalm in honor of the fact that the "Bay Psalm Book" was the first book published in the new world.

The Westbrook band played several patriotic songs, to include the Marine and Army marches, which played as the flags of Texas and the United States were carried down the aisle to the stage; "America the Beautiful"; the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," featuring a saxophone solo by Scott Schlee, 15, a sophomore; and "This Land is Your Land" by Woody Guthrie, which the band played as everyone present sang along.

At one point during the ceremonies, all of the veterans present were asked to stand, one by one, in the audience, and be introduced. When they had all been introduced, the rest of those present gave them a standing ovation.

According to Ms. Chitsey, the program was a very emotional experience for all present. Especially moving, she said, were the moments when the students on stage sang "My Father Lies Over the Ocean," to the tune of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean," and when the list of names of those killed in battle was read while Bob Newman, band director, played "Taps."

In addition to the program itself, there were decorations and displays

State support sought for industry

A delegation representing the interests of Colorado City and Mitchell County travelled to Austin on Monday, January 21, to discuss enlisting the support of the State for the location here of a new industry.

Maggie Compton of Colorado City has proposed to create the new industry, Texas Yarns and Fibers, Inc., which she intends to locate in Mitchell County and which would provide employment for approximately 80 people.

Ms. Compton made the trip to Austin along with Industrial Team president Gary Parker, manager of Lone Star Gas, and Team members Earl Plagens, publisher of the Colorado City Record; Bobby Lemons, vice president of City National Bank; Elmer Martin, former mayor and state representative; Ben Lancaster, manager of TU Electric; and Tandy Curlee, of First National Bank.

Other members of the delegation were Larry Compton, Mitchell County cotton producer, and Dan Jernigan of Energy Management Consultants.

Ms. Compton says that she feels the trip was very successful, and that she feels optimistic about

County Attorney issues press release

County Attorney Clay Strange has issued a press release regarding the outcome of a grievance which was filed against him with the State Bar of Texas in December, 1990, by Melburn Jaco of Colorado City.

Strange also made available to the Colorado City Record two letters bearing on the case.

In a letter dated January 10, 1991 from Frank J. Douthitt, General Counsel of the State Bar of Texas to Rod E. Wetsel, chairman of the District 16C Grievance Committee, Douthitt states that he has reviewed Mr. Jaco's complaint and is "...unable to find that the complained of conduct constitutes a violation of the Disciplinary Rules."

Douthitt goes on to say, "I agree with you that the grievance process is not the proper forum for this type of complaint. The complained of conduct appears to fall within the province of prosecutorial discretion, which as you know is quite broad."

Indeed, Strange himself, in a December, 1990 statement which he gave to the Record in response to Jaco's original filing of the grievance, said that a prosecutor has tremendous discretion in any case.

In a letter from Wetsel to Jaco, dated January 22, 1991, and made available to the Record by Strange, Wetsel informs Jaco that "...it has been determined that the District 16C Grievance Committee of the State Bar of Texas does not have jurisdiction to hear the complaint which you have brought against Clay Strange, attorney of Colorado City, Texas."

He also assures Jaco that Strange "...recused himself and took no part in this inquiry."

Wetsel then informs Jaco that, should he desire to appeal the determination, he, (Jaco), has thirty days from the date of the letter to inform the General Counsel of the State Bar of Texas, in writing, of that desire.

Strange's press release reads as follows:

"I am pleased but not surprised to hear that it has been ruled that there was no merit to Melburn Jaco's malicious, libelous accusations against me. I have been distressed by this matter because in my seventeen and one-half years of law practice I had never had a complaint filed against me with any Bar Grievance Committee. Because of this ruling my record still stands -- I have never had a grievance filed against me with a State Bar Grievance Committee."

"Despite the favorable ruling, I am still curious as to why Mr. Jaco never expressed any displeasure to me personally about the manner in which I conduct my office. I only wish he would have been polite enough to at least talk to me. My door was always open, literally, and will remain open to him or anyone else."

Record a week or so ago that the Colorado City Council had asked its City Attorney, Mr. Tom Rees, about any implications for Colorado City as a result of Reserve Officer Jaco's filing of the grievance complaint against me. I can answer that question. The First Amendment to the Constitution of our great country guarantees all its citizens, including Mr. Jaco, the right of free speech and the right to fair comment on the activities of their public officials. The Supreme Court has said, in New York Times v. Sullivan, 1964, that this right to comment is protected even if the comments are false, but they have also said, in that same opinion, that if those comments and accusations are made when the speaker knows they are false and are made maliciously and in bad faith, then those false accusations can be grounds for a successful libel suit.

Jaco, reached for comment by the Record, said that the grievance was filed based on court records alone, and was not done out of malicious or false accusations.

He said that he does intend to appeal the decision, both in writing and by telephone.

Garden Club meets

The Colorado City Garden Club held its January meeting in the Hesperian Room of the Mitchell County Library on Wednesday, January 16. Hostesses were Peggy Ratliff and Betsy Aycock.

County Extension Agent Brian Limmer presented a program on watering and safe pest control in West Texas. He said that water accounts for 30% of the cost of landscape management, and mentioned several ways to make water use more effective.

Limmer said that planting drought-resistant grasses, using the proper amount and mix of fertilizer, and fertilizing at the proper time are some of those ways. He added that watering should be done in the early morning, and that watering should be done by spraying uniformly.

He said that compost was also an excellent way to conserve water, and that composting benefits both clay and sandy soils.

On the subject of pesticides,

Limmer said that the dangerous ones require a license to purchase, and are only used by commercial growers. Pesticides purchased for gardens he said, are safe to use.

Limmer provided each club member with informative pamphlets on these subjects.

The following officers were elected for 1991-1992:

Peggy Ratliff, president; Mary Ellis, vice president; Louise Decovic, secretary; and Frances Myers, treasurer.

Refreshments of cookies, sandwiches, and wassail were served to those present, who included, in addition to those previously mentioned, Genevieve Moore, Marjorie Kolman, Catherine Bell, Jeanine Bodine, Elizabeth Connell and Dawn Shaw.

The club's next meeting will be on February 6 at 3 p.m.

The program will be presented by Dawn Shaw, and will feature tips and shortcuts for weekend gardeners.

Carriker introduces development proposals

(AUSTIN)---Sen. Steve Carriker (D-Roby) this week introduced in the Texas Senate a trio of rural development proposals developed through the year-long Texas Rural Economic Development Commission.

Carriker, a life-long resident and fourth-generation farmer in Fisher County, has proposed a rural economic assistance information clearinghouse, rural development training consortium, and expansion of the linked-deposit program for rural business development. The bills have been referred to the Senate Economic Development Committee, chaired by Sen. Temple Dickson (D-Sweetwater).

"It is time that we marshal our state's resources to revitalize our rural communities," Carriker said. "The state and federal government have created a variety of community and economic development programs in the past, but their missions have become muddled and coordination is weak. We must focus our efforts to get less talk and more action."

The clearinghouse will provide a toll-free phone number that rural residents can call for information about development programs available from universities, state, and federal programs. The staff manning the phone lines will serve as a single point of access for rural citizens for information on such topics as industrial expansion and recruitment, small business assistance, community economic development assistance, travel and tourism, education and training, leadership development, and grant and loan information. This recommendation was adopted by the Rural Economic Development Commission in November 1990.

Carriker's rural development training consortium calls for a three-member board to be appointed by Governor Ann Richards. The board will work with Texas State Technical Institute, Comptroller John Sharp, Texas Employment Commission, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and the Texas Department of Agriculture. The consortium will conduct an inventory of existing programs for small business management and community leadership training, then develop an action plan to coordinate existing training programs and recommend any additional training programs needed by small businesses and community leaders.

Carriker has proposed expansion of the linked deposit program to make all small business development in rural areas eligible for financial assistance under the program. While the program is currently restricted to agricultural business ventures only, the Carriker proposal as developed by the Rural Economic Development Commission will make financing available to a broader range of rural business opportunities.

Gosset will be the guest speaker at the annual Colorado City Football Banquet on January 31 at 7 p.m. which will be held at the Colorado Middle School Cafeteria.

Bulldogs put bite on Plowboys

On January 22, the Lorian Bulldogs kept their winning streak alive as they defeated the Roscoe Plowboys by a score of 58-39 for a spotless record of 5-0 in district.

The Bulldogs offense played pretty consistent scoring between 12-16 points a period. Although not scoring many points, the 'Dog defense played extremely well in not allowing too much penetration.

Anthony Williams was the high-point man with 22 while teammates Ruben Vasquez and David Lopez had 14 and 10 points respectively to aid in the district winning streak.

Plowgirls defeat Lady 'Dogs

The Loraine Lady Bulldogs, who have been struggling as of late, dropped district loss number two against a very worthy adversary, Roscoe, on January 22. The Plowgirls defeated the Lady Bulldogs by a score of 65-53.

The bulk of the deficit came in the opening period as the Plowgirls earned a 20-6 lead. As the half ended, Loraine managed a fine display of courage as they cut the lead to six points, 27-21.

Although only scoring seven points in the second period, Roscoe did not lose their patience as they outscored the Lady Bulldogs in the final two quarters by a score of 38-22 for the final score of 65-53.

High contributors for Loraine were Michi Atkins, 26; and Michelle Garcia, 13.

Nursing program offered

Applications are currently being accepted for the Accelerated Associate Degree of Nursing Program (ADN) at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Through an agreement with Howard College, Cogdell Hospital sponsors the program, whereby licensed vocational nurses who wish to become registered nurses may take all of the RN coursework and obtain most of their clinical experience in Snyder.

The pilot program was started in June of last year. The first class is to graduate in May.

In order to qualify for the ADN program, prospective students must be licensed vocational nurses and have completed 21 hours of required support courses with a final grade of "C" or above.

The college prerequisites include Introduction to Psychology, Human Growth and Development, Human Anatomy and Physiology I & II, Microbiology and Principles of Nutrition.

Applications will continue through March 31 for the program, which is to begin in May. Selection of students to be admitted to the program will be made in April. The class is limited to 12 students.

LVNs interested in becoming registered nurses through this accelerated program may contact Velma Clay, R.N., M.S.N., instructor for the program, at Cogdell Hospital, 573-6374, or Chris Banc, R.N., ADN coordinator at extension 216.

Financial assistance will be available for ADN students at the hospital through an application process with the hospital auxiliary.

There will be an informational meeting for interested students on Wednesday, Feb. 20, from 2-4 p.m. in the board room at the hospital. In addition to Mrs. Clay and Mrs. Banc, Sue Ann Hicks, dean of nursing at Howard College, will be present.

Cardiac Rehabilitation.....

Do you have coronary problems?

Mitchell County Hospital in conjunction with Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, now provides progressive exercise and education for citizens wanting or needing supervised cardiac rehabilitation.

PHASE I is an inpatient approach that incorporates both increasing levels of activity and an educational program. The program lasts until the patient is discharged from the hospital.

PHASE II is an outpatient program from discharge through 12 weeks or 36 sessions.

Phase II begins at discharge. This phase also incorporates increasing levels of activity with education three sessions a week.

The patient is monitored through telephonic telmetry from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. The patients are stress-tested at the beginning, at midway, and at the end of Phase II.

PHASE III is intended to begin to actually affect and improve the cardiovascular endurance time, the patient will not need continuous monitoring, but instead will receive periodic quick looks to observe their cardiac rhythms and rate. The length of this phase is three months for 10 sessions a month.

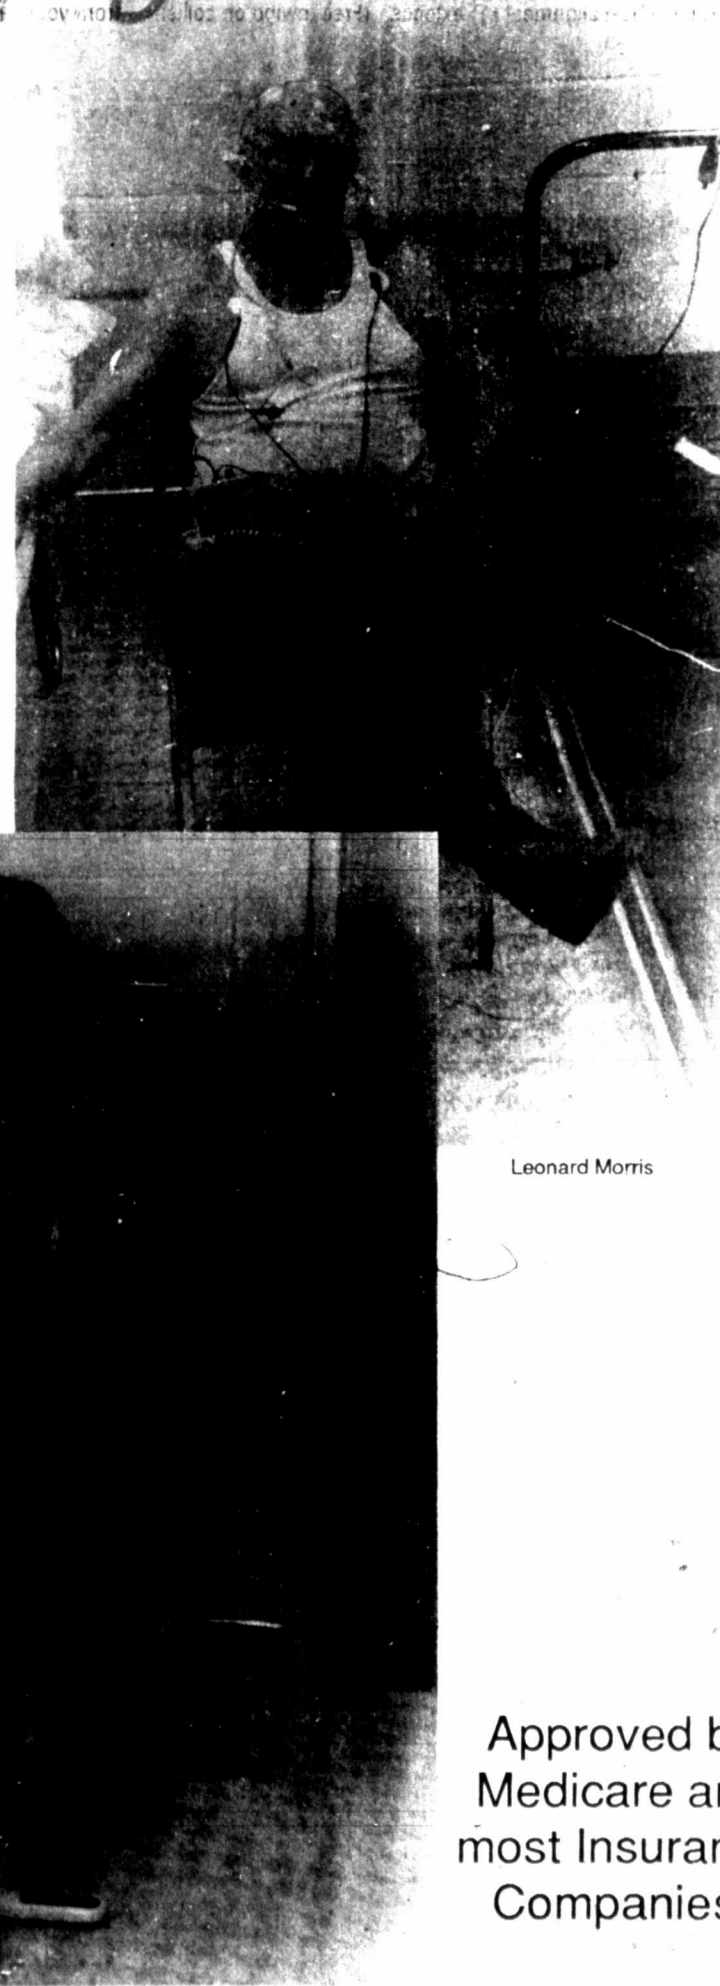

During the exercise sessions in which the patient's heart rhythms are monitored by the Lubbock hospital, the Lubbock staff can talk directly to the staff in Colorado City.

Veterans Land Board offers info on forfeited land

AUSTIN -- Detailed information on 447 tracts of forfeited state land included in a February 26 sale is now available through the Texas Veterans Land Board (VLB).

Located in 113 Texas counties, these tracts are being offered exclusively to eligible Texas veterans and can be purchased with no down payment.

The VLB will finance the entire amount of all winning bids. There is no limit on the amount loaned or on the number of tracts that an individual can bid on. However, eligible Texas veterans are limited to one land purchase in the sale.

"Texas veterans should take advantage of this sale if they are in the market for land to use for recreation or as an investment," said Garry Mauro, who serves as chairman of the Texas Veterans Land Board. "Since these tracts have never been offered for sale by the board, this sale gives Texas veterans an excellent opportunity to buy good land with 100 percent financing."

Mauro noted that setting aside new forfeitures exclusively for bids from Texas veterans is a long-time VLB policy.

"The land program is a Texas way of saying thanks to our veterans," Mauro said. "It's only fair that they should get first shot at these tracts."

Tracts not sold in the February sale will be offered to both veterans and non-veterans through local real estate agents.

Eligible Texas veterans will receive a 7.99 percent interest rate with a 30-year assumable fixed-rate loan. A $25 non-refundable fee for each bid submitted is required.

The sale will be by sealed bid only, with a minimum bid set by the board. All bids must be received by February 26 at 1 p.m. Bidders need not be present at the bid opening.

Details of the sale and a description of each tract and its location can be obtained by calling the VLB toll-free at 1-800-252-VETS.

Children gather around Bambi, a deer who wandered into the yard, the house, and the hearts of the Tim and Julie Atkins family. The children began bottle feeding the fawn, and he became a pet. Recently Bambi found a new home at a ranch where hunting is not allowed. He will live happily ever after. Pictured with Bambi from left are Robbie Atkins, 11; Timmy Atkins, 2; Logan Denson, 3; and Brandon Atkins, 12. Michael Atkins, 10, is standing.

Bubonic plague found in wild animals

Blood samples of wild animals from Mitchell County, tested recently by El Paso offices of Public Health Region 3 of the Texas Department of Health, have shown positive for the presence of bubonic plague.

Orville Starritt, local trapper from Coahoma, and animal damage control official for the Lubbock branch of USDA, reported to County Judge Ray Mayo recently that four coyotes trapped in the northwest portion of the County, samples of whose blood were sent to be tested, had tested positive for the disease.

According to a news release from Texas Department of Health, El Paso, Mitchell County has been one of the 14 counties out of 45 tested which has been positive for plague since 1989, when it was first reported positive.

Primarily a disease of wild rodents, the news release states, plague can be transmitted to humans by direct contact with infected animals or dead animal carcasses, and by the bites of infected fleas.

Cases of plague in humans in Texas are rare, but the disease remains a threat.

Some recommended precautions are: stay away from squirrels, prairie dogs, wild rabbits, other wild animals, and sick or dead wild animals; keep dogs and cats confined to the owner's premises and free from fleas; report any wild animal "die offs" to the Texas Department of Health/Division of Zoonosis Control.
