Teachers In Area Going To Convention

Pupils in area schools will get a holiday from the classroom Friday while their teachers go to Midlnd to attend a district convention.

The 31st annual convention of the West Texas Teachers Association (District IV TSTA) will get underway Friday morning at Midland. Some teachers will go to Midland this evening to attend the House of Delegates banquet at which time the district business session will be held and the voting delegates will elect officers.

Principal speaker at the general session Friday will be Dr. Frank O. McIntyre, director of public relations for the California Teachers Association. Dr. McIntyre will be introduced by Barbara Bigham of Snyder, vice president of the West Texas Teachers Association. Paul Kantz of Midland, president of the association, will preside. Also scheduled to attend the convention is Harriet Griffin of Fort Worth, president of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Several Snyder teachers and administrators will have active roles on the convention program. Dorothy Rosson of Snyder High School is chairman of the English Section and Carolyn Payne of Snyder High is chairman of the Journalism - Publications Section. Dr. Robert Clinton, Snyder Superintendent, will be the principal speaker for the meeting of the Principals' Section. Elwanda Nall of Stanfield Elementary School, is on the district public relations committee.

Virginia Grove, president of the Scurry County unit of TSTA, will head the Scurry voting delegates who will attend the House of Delegates banquet tonight.

Other voting delegates of the Scurry TSTA are Maydelle Burns, Francene Allen, LaNell Rambin, June McGlaun, Georgene Galloway, Vestal Manor, Margie McNair, Roy Carter, Fred Beard and Jerry Pickens.

McNamara Defends Buildup In Viet Nam

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told worried senators today that he expects the enemy troop buildup to reach its height in Viet Nam at the end of this year.

Basing his assessment largely on estimates of how big a force the Communists can keep supplied in the face of U.S. air opposition, McNamara used it as a major factor for this conclusion:

"I do not believe that we are facing in Viet Nam an unlimited, open-ended commitment to a major land war in Asia."

McNamara appeared at a closed session to answer questions of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee whose probe of administration Southeast Asian policy has been the storm center of debate.

McNamara addressed himself to some of the questions that have been raised in the committee's previous public hearings—such as whether the Vietnamese conflict could spread into a war with China.

McNamara told the committee the United States has done everything possible militarily and diplomatically "to make it unmistakably clear that there is no justificiation for Communist China to involve itself in the war in Viet Nam."

But he said that given the history of militant actions by Communist China "it would be irresponsible for me to say that we run no risk of war with China arising from our efforts to defend South Viet Nam from aggression."

One task facing McNamara was a defense of his own announcement Wednesday of a new 20,000-man increase in U.S. fighting forces in Viet Nam.

McNamara's prepared statement for the closed session of the committee stressed this view with respect to the possibility of a widening war:

"The risk is not created by our operations in South Viet Nam; it was created by our treaty commitments. All of us must recognize that the United States did not assume this risk yesterday."

McNamara said he could not say how long the war will last or specifically how many more American troops will be needed.

But, basing his view on estimates of the number of combat troops North Viet Nam can infiltrate monthly and the number the Viet Cong can recruit, McNamara said 'there could be in South Viet Nam by the end of 1966 some 155 VC and North Vietnamese battalions, approximately 50 per cent above the Dec. 31, 1965, level.

"At that point and at the level of combat anticipated for the end of 1966, the enemy forces would require about 150 tons of supplies per day, and we believe our improved air interdiction efforts would prevent them from receiving much more than [illegible] amount."

McNamara argued it will be necessary to counter the enemy buildup this year with an increase in South Vietnamese, American and other free world forces.

McNamara estimated that some 70,000 Vietnamese troops will be added by the end of 1966, for a total of 670,000.

Past Methods Imperfect, --McNamara

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara acknowledges that some concepts and methods forged by him and his experts have failed to meet the test of the Viet Nam war.

This is a rare admission by the Pentagon chief who normally wears an air of total self assurance.

"We have to develop new methods to meet problems for which we had old answers," McNamara told a news conference Wednesday. "Old answers were not applying.

"These new methods do require changes in procedures, changes in policies, changes in habits and thought."

The defense secretary did not specify what problem areas he was dealing with.

However, some of his associates said that the concept of using Reservists in crises had undergone a drastic change.

It was apparent that the current intention to deal with the rising manpower demands of the Viet Nam war without calling up Reservists stemmed from a desire to avoid creating turbulence in U.S. civilian life and the economy, as well as from the growth of the regular forces available and planned.

McNamara's news conference was called to put to rest any idea that the United States has overextended itself in Southeast Asia and has left itself vulnerable in other areas of the world.

McNamara showed unusual irritation in a couple of instances.

He tangled with reporter Clark Mollenhoff when Mollenhoff persisted in quizzing him about the critical views of Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss.

In a bitter exchange, Mollenhoff accused NcNamara of dodging and the defense secretary snapped "I unfortunately haven't been able to dodge all the rocks you have thrown at me for five years."

Mollenhoff, of the Cowles Publications, has written articles questioning, among other things, McNamara's actions in the matter of the TFX fighter plane contract.

Mollenhoff wasn't the only reporter to draw McNamara's irritation.

A German newsman triggered a sharp response from the defense secretary when he suggested that "the best - trained, best-equipped and most-mobile American units have been absorbed by the Viet Nam crisis."

Ammo Consumed At Speedy Rate

BOSTON (AP)—U.S. forces in Viet Nam are using ammunition at the rate of $210 million a month and are being supplied with bombs 2½ times faster than during the Korean War, a Defense Department official said today.

And, he said, the department is "budgeting for a consumption rate considerably higher."

Asst. Secretary of Defense Paul R. Ignatius included the figures in a briefing for New England business and industry leaders.

Registration Begins Under FBI Scrutiny

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—Sparked by a federal court order outlawing Texas' poll tax, the state begins a 15-day free voter registration drive today.

Some estimates point toward a gain of maybe 500,000 new voters before the emergency registration period ends March 17.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents—on orders of U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and much to the discomfort of state officials—will be watching registrars closely.

"Completely unjustified and unwarranted," said Gov. John Connally, who called the recent special legislative session that wrote a free voter annual registration bill to replace Texas' 64-year-old $1.75 poll tax voting requirement.

'Requesting the FBI to monitor the registration of voters in Texas does a great disservice to the people of Texas...a gratuious insult to the public officials of the state," Connally said.

"No citizen of Texas, any more than any citizen of any other proud state, would cower under such misuse of authority," said state Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, a Democratic candidate for U.S. senator, "If you have any complaint against Texas, state it in court—don't threaten with the FBI."

Carr said Katzenbach's office also asked for a direct accounting of the registration drive to Washington.

"I know of no court order which requires me...to report to you for anything Texas does," Carr told Katzenbach in a letter. ...our reports will be made to the federal courts having jurisdiction over this matter and to no one else unless the court directs us to do it."

In Washington Katzenbach said he was astonished by Carr's remarks.

"I made it perfectly clear to him that the FBI is not maintaining surveillance over the Texas government and he has in no sense been threatened," he said.

Katzenback said he talked with Carr by phone Wednesday and "as I explained to him, the FBI has been assigned merely to gather facts regarding actual registration in sample counties. The pertinance of this information is explicity evident from the order issued Saturday by the three-judge federal court sitting in the pending poll tax proceeding."

Over Katzenbach's protests, the federal court delayed enforcement of the no-poll tax order until March 26 to include the emergency registration and in order not to endanger the validity of some March municipal bond elections.

The state appealed the poll tax decision to the U.S. Supreme Court Wednesday.

The last minute developments Wednesday were expected to boost the flow of free registrants, plus a re-interpretation of the act to open the gate for all persons over 60 in cities of 10,000 or more.

Showers Dot North Texas

By The Associated Press

Showers developed in North and Central Texas while colder air surged into the Panhandle today.

Winds which filled the air with dust Wednesday over West Texas still blew strongly over much of that area, but most of the silt settled during the night.

There was even a trace of snow mixed with dust about midnight in the El Paso vicinity.

Shower activity and occasional thunderstorms moved eastward in early morning from an 80-mile wide strip centered on a line linking Wichita Falls, Fort Worth and Waco.

Temperatures near dawn ranged down to 31 at Amarillo and Dalhart. It was up to 30 degrees warmer near the coast and in extreme South Texas.

Scattered snow flurries were predicted for the Panhandle by evening along with overnight readings down to 14 degrees above zero.

In other areas the outlook was for marks as low as 27 in North Central Texas and 30 in Southwest Texas by early Friday, with lows elsewhere from the middle 30s up.

Showers were expected to die down in the north central and northeast sections of the state by early tonight. No moisture was forecast for other sections of Texas.

Oil Demand Growth Seen

HOUSTON (AP) — A Railroad commissioner said today the adequacy of the nation's oil supply is of paramount importance because of expected increases in demand for petroleum.

"Today, when our energy needs are greater than ever and still growing, it is even more imperative we in the major oil and gas producing states strive for the optimum in conservation of these natural resources," Byron Tunnell said.

He spoke at a district meeting of the division of production of the American Petroleum Institute.

Tunnell said the maximum economic development of the nation's oil resources should be encouraged.

He said forecasts of demand for petroleum indicate billions of barrels reserves will have to be discovered by 1980.

SPAIN BREAKS SILENCE

Secrecy Wraps Off Lost Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today diplomatic courtesy kept the United States silent on the biggest nonsecret in years — the loss of a hydrogen bomb over Spain.

"We couldn't say anything officially until Spain made a move,' one authority said.

Spain made a move Tuesday, announcing that 2,000 persons had been exposed to a slight danger of radiation after a U.S. B52 bomber and KC135 tanker crashed after colliding in flight Jan. 17 near Palomares, Spain.

The United States followed up Wednesday with the first official acknowledgement four thermonuclear weapons were aboard the B52 when it crashed near the Mediterranean Coast.

A Defense Department spokesman described the weapons as thermonuclear and a reporter asked if that meant hydrogen bombs. The answer was yes."

The conventional explosives surrounding the critical core of the hydrogen devices blew apart two of the bombs upon impact with the earth, a Defense Department spokesman said. There was no nuclear chain reaction.

A third bomb was found apparently virtually intact.

The fourth remains missing — the object of an intensive search by 20 U.S. Navy ships, thousands of U.S. and Spanish military and civilian personnel and harried officials at the Pentagon and State Department.

One of the guesses is that the bomb is sunk in the muck of the Mediterranean, perhaps 1,000 feet deep. Radioactivity- gauging devices can penetrate only a few inches of the mud.

While there was no thermonuclear blast, the megatonnage was felt in international circles.

Long-Delayed Swing Right Seen In Ghana's Poliitics

By KENNETH L. WHITING

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — The political pendulum has begun a swift swing to the right in Ghana after years on the far left under Kwame Nkrumah.

Diplomatic sources in Accra say they do not expect the new military government to break completely with Moscow and Peking, however. Lt. Gen. J. A. Ankrah, the head of the new military regime, said on Monday that Ghana would return to a true nonaligned policy.

"As you all know, mere lip service was paid to this policy of nonalignment by the now-deposed tyrant and dictator,' 'Ankrah said in a nationwide broadcast.

The new government ordered Soviet and Red Chinese technicians and advisers—estimated to number about 1,200—out of the country. Hundreds leave daily.

At least 11 Soviets were among the estimated 30 persons killed in the revolution that overthrew Nkrumah last week. Most were security advisers who helped train the elite presidential guard.

Two high officials under Nkrumah went to the Soviet Embassy following the coup. Police later seized them, and the embassy declined to comment on the matter.

Ankrah was angry with the Soviet government Aeroflot Airline for flying Nkrumah from Peking to Moscow and canceled Aeroflot's landing rights in Accra.

Nkrumah before he was overthrown denied Western charges that he was allied with the Communist bloc. Ghana, he claimed, was a nonaligned socialist state following the precepts of Nkrumahism."

Despite this, Nkrumah's steady criticism of "colonialism, neocolonialism and imperialism" was a sweeping attack on almost all Western institutions.

America's foreign policy, economic practices, educational system and cultural life were described in the blackest possible terms by the government-controlled press and radio.

Ghana's 7.3 million people probably received more U.S. aid per-capita than those of any other African state, many of which were pro-Western. Some African governments were puzzled and irritated by this.

Soap Drive Building Up

A "Soap-For-Viet Nam" campaign has spread to a virtually county-wide effort here as receptacles throughout the city are steadily filling up.

The event is scheduled to come to a close on Saturday when the fruits of the campaign will be turned over to the Dyess Air Force Base which has promised to see that the soap collected here is delivered to South Vietnamese people.

Started as a brief theater promotion at the outset, the campaign now has been labeled a Scurry County Youth project and the soap collected here will be designated as a gift from Scurry County youth to the South Vietnames people.

The contributions of soap have not been limited to youth, however, Many adults are joining in the drive, and contributions so far have been noted from persons ranging from 5 to 85 years of age. School children and several organized groups are participating.

Viet Cong Forces Tanker Aground

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Using ambush tactics on water and land, the Viet Cong shot up a small oil tanker near Saigon today and killed at least 11 Vietnamese policemen in the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone.

In a vacant lot on Saigon's outskirts, authorities found the bodies of three young government employes executed by the Viet Cong. Their hands were tied behind their backs and they had been shot.

U.S. officials reported that air operations against North Viet Nam and in the South cost three American planes in the past three days. An A4 Skyhawk and an F4 Phantom jet, both from the 7th Fleet carrier Ranger, disappeared in heavy overcast over the North on Tuesday and their three crewmen were listed as missing.

A light spotter plane crashed in the South Wednesday 40 miles northwest of Qui Nhon on a reconnaissance flight for the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division. Two Americans aboard were killed.

On the ground, U.S. forces combed the jungles and rice paddies for the Communists but stirred up little action. The 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade killed six Viet Cong in operations around Tuy Hoa, a coastal town 240 miles northeast of Saigon. The paratroopers came upon two Viet Cong dispensaries, a loudspeaker system and a bird, which they proudly identified as the first enemy carrier pigeon captured in the war.

A reinforced South Vietnamese battalion, including rangers, brushed with the Viet Cong seven miles northeast of Quang Ngai, a provincial capital near the coast 340 miles northeast of Saigon. By nightfall, 22 Communists were reported killed against light government losses.

Other Reds were said to have inflicted moderate casualties on a Vietnamese-regional - force platoon 10 miles southeast of Quang Tri City, in the northernmost province.

Communist gunners hidden in mangrove swamps on the west bank of a ship channel 15 miles southeast of Saigon raked the self-propelled oil barge Paloma with a barrage from recoilless rifles and 50-caliber machine guns in the second unsuccessful attempt in five day's to block the inland capital's main link to the sea.

Ten crewmen were reported wounded. At least one Vietnamese sailor was said to have been hit in a brisk gunfight between the guerrillas and government minesweepers. Government troops went into the area to hunt down the attackers.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last August two of our daughters were married at a double wedding. At the reception when everyone was feeling good, a relative who is in the furniture business promised each of the brides a colored TV for wedding gifts. They were planning on the sets, so neither bought one. Several months passed and no sets, so I took the bull by the horns and asked this relative about the promised sets. (Apologetically and tactfully, of course.) He said it had slipped his mind and he would "get after it" right away. He also thanked me for reminding him. Seven months later, and no trace of the sets. He is well to do, loved by all of us and is really a peach of a guy. We know he has a lot on his mind, but SEVEN months! Should I remind him once more or, forget about it?

WONDERING.

DEAR WONDERING: Your "peach" of a guy either has a very fuzzy memory or he must have been stoned at the reception when he made the offer. You've already jogged his memory once without results. I think by now your daughters should have gotten "The picture" without TV sets.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: A friend asked me if I wanted to go out with a 'southern gentleman" from Memphis, so I said sure. I am in my middle forties and he's in his middle fifties, and we are both divorced.

The minute this 'gentleman" walked in he started giving me all this jazz bout how everything from the weather to the women was better in the south. Then he threw in a few digs about how 'loud" and "aggressive" the yankee gals are. He said he was more accustomed to the soft-spoken, lady-like refined southern woman. Well, I was born and raised in the Bronx and I'm proud of it. And I don't talk with "dees, dems and doses" either. Should I have said, "Drop dead, you all!" How would you have handled it?

FROM THE BRONX.

DEAR FROM: I would have thanked him for the "lovely" evening. And made it a short one.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My husband has an aunt in her eighties. She lives alone and we invite her over quite often. We'd invite her more often because she is very lonely, but she is the world's worst bore. She never stops talking. She talks about death, fire, rape, murder, etc. Her voice is loud and she won't let anyone get a word in.

Don't tell me it's her age. She's always been this way. My husband brings her here, dumps her off on me, and then he goes and hides in the yard or at a neighbor's. If she weren't wealthy she'd have been locked up long ago. What can we do? Can we tell her we would have her here more if she'd be quite once in a while.

ANONYMOUS, NATURALLY.

DEAR ANONYMOUS: Out of respect for her age, even tho age is not the reason for her obnoxious conduct, be tolerant. But don't try to revamp Auntie's personality at this age of her life because it can't be done.

bers, including chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., have been impressed by the enclave theory proposed by retired Gen. James M. Gavin and former diplomat George Kennan in testimony before the committee. In general, these former cold-war strategists asserted the United States should not build up its forces in Viet Nam any further but should take defensive positions in areas where most of South Viet Nam's population is centered.

But McNamara said, "should the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong deploy added forces, as they are in the process of doing, it simply would not be prudent for us to stand idly by while their strength rose. Our existing forces would increasingly be placed in jeopardy. Our logistics and support areas would be exposed to greater hazards; our ability to come to the assistance of hard-pressed South Vietnamese forces would be gradually weakened.

"In short, the entire allied effort and South Vietnamese basic strategy of staying ahead of the anticipated enemy force buildup would be undermined."

Another issue that the administration's critics have stressed is whether the Viet Nam conflict is likely to engulf other Southeastern Asian countries and turn into a major Asian land war.

McNamara told the committee his answer is that 'I do not believe that we are facing in South Viet Nam an unlimited, open-ended commitment to a major land war in Asia if we keep our objectives limited and persistently make clear to all concerned—friend, foe and neutral alike — that our objectives are limited."

SWC Chips Are Down

By The Associated Press

It's the last go-round in Southwest Conference basketball tonight for at least six teams.

If Texas A&M and Southern Methodist tie for the championship, there will be two left.

Anyway, the title goes on the line tonight at Dallas, where Southern Methodist plays Texas Tech, and at Fayetteville, where Texas A&M meets an Arkansas team that has lost only one game on the home court all season.

The Aggies and Methodists have 10-3 records and are two games ahead of Texas Tech, which has no chance of figuring in the title but can have a big say in where it is to go.

If the Aggies and Mustangs both win tonight, they will then be declared co-champions but will have to play at Waco Monday night to decide the league's representative in the NCAA playoffs.

Texas and Baylor meet at Waco and Texas Christian and Rice battle at Houston in other closing games tonight.

Asks Catch-Up Classes For Southern Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is pushing a new remedy for old patterns of racial segregation in Southern schools: Catch-up classes for Negroes.

The goal is to ease the transition of Negro children into previously white public schools.

The Department of Justice asked federal courts last month to order school officials in three counties to go beyond mere desegregation orders and set up remedial classes for Negroes integrating the school systems.

The Justice Department sought to force the school boards of St. Helena Parish, La., and Sharkey and Issaquena counties, Miss., to institute such classes "to correct the effects of past inferior educational opportunities afforded Negroes because of their race."

"It was really getting painful," one Justice Department spokesman said, "to see some of these Negro kids trying to make the grade in white schools after they'd been getting barebones education in some rural shanty.

"Some of them were nearly illiterate," the spokesman added. 'They badly needed remedial reading, for example. Right now, most of these newly integrated Negroes — especially in the rural areas—just can't keep up."

The idea of remedial classes, Justice Department officials assert, sprang up as "a compelled response on our part to the effects of dual school systems and unequal educational facilities."

Its legal footing, they say, is this: Where constitutional wrongs have been committed—such as the denial of equal protection under law through inferior education of Negroes—complete relief can be granted only by undoing the effects of past discrimination.

The government is empowered by the 1964 Civil Rights Act to take part in school desegregation suits, but it took a more recent law to provide the leverage for seeking such positive educational tools as remedial classes.

Cheyney Is No. 1 Unit

By The Associated Press

Unbeaten for two straight years in 49 consecutive regular season games, the Cheyney, Pa., State Wolves have been named the No. 1 small-college basketball team for 1966 in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

The suburban Philadelphia team easily won the honor Wednesday with a total of 156 points to runner-up North Dakota's 116 from The AP's Nationwide panel of 17 sports writers and broadcasters.

Southern Illinois, the No. 1 team for seven straight weeks until the next to last poll, finished third with 108 on the basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

Rounding out the final Top Ten were, in order, Grambling, Northern Michigan, Indiana State, Tennessee State, Evansville, Seattle Pacific and Valparaiso.

Cheyney, coached by Hal Blitman, beat Shippensburg 93-47 at home last Saturday to finish its regular season at 26-0.

President Signs Cold War Bill

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law today the 'cold war GI bill," but remarked that its cost goes further than he was willing to recommend.

Johnson signed the measure in a ceremony in the White House East Room in which he noted that both houses of Congress passed it unanimously.

"I am going to resolve the doubt in favor of Congress,' he said. "It just could be that the President was wrong."

The measure sets up a permanent program of educational benefits, housing loans and limited medical treatment for honorably discharged veterans with more than 180 days of active military service since Jan. 31, 1955, when the Korean GI bill of rights expired.

Johnson said the cost of the bill will be $245 million more than he had recommended for the first year and $1.8 billion more over the next five years.

The measure is estimated to cost $350 million the first year and $500 million annually by the fifth year.

Johnson wanted benefits limited to veterans of combat areas. This would cost about $150 million a year.

An individual can receive $100 a month in education payments for each month's service—with a 36-month limit. If he has a wife, he can get $125 a month, two or more dependents $150 monthly.

Education benefits begin June 1, but other parts of the program are effective at once.

Education payments can be used for high school, as well as college classes, for correspondence courses and by persons on active duty if their military assignments permit.

There is no provision for retroactive payments for veterans who have completed college, but the payments may be used for graduate work.

Veterans attending school part-time will receive scaled-down payments.

Veterans must complete their training within eight years after discharge. For those covered retroactively to 1955, the eight years start June 1.

The bill also guarantees up to $7,500 on home loans made by a private lender. Direct housing loans of up to $17,500 are provided in remote areas where private financing cannot be obtained.

Prayer Offered In Legislators' Lingo

WASHINGTON (AP)—A chaplain showed some of the nation's lawmakers how to pray in the language of the legislator.

Addressing himself Wednesday to "The Supreme Legislator," the Rev. Elmo L. Romagosa offered these comments at the start of a session in the House:

"Make them consistently vote yea in the cloakroom of conscience so that at the expiration of life's term they may feel no need to revise and extend.

"When the congress of life is adjourned and they answer the final quorum call, may the eternal committee report out a clean bill on their lives," he said.

YEARS AGO creating a cake required a great deal of time and sometimes daring on the part of the inexperienced cook. It might have meant beating eggs on a huge platter, measuring ingredients with a coffee cup, testing the temperature of the oven with your hand — and then, hoping for the best.

Butter Brickle Puddin' Cake

Raggedy Ann brings fond memories of childhood pleasure to many, and her infectious smile and "huggable" body are now giving joy to a whole new generation of little girls. Most of these little girls (and their brothers, too) like cake! And what could be more pleasing than Puddin' Cake? This inviting, nutritious combination is made of new Butter Brickle Cake Mix and Frosting Mix and a pudding mix. The cake, a rich tender one of golden-hue, is baked and the layers split, torte style. They are filled with creamy butterscotch pudding and whole cake is frosted with Butter Brickle Frosting Mix combined with sour cream. The frosting contains crunchy bits of real Butter Brickle that make it "oh so good"!

All of Raggedy Ann's friends, large or small, will enjoy Butter Brickle Puddin' Cake so do try it soon! Here is the recipe.

BUTTER BRICKLE PUDDIN' CAKE

In small mixer bowl chill 1 package Butter Brickle frosting mix (dry mix) and 2-3 cup dairy sour cream. Bake Butter Brickle cake mix in 8- or 9-inch round layers as directed on package. Cool. Cook 1 package (about 3½ ounces) butterscotch or caramel nut pudding and pie filling as directed on package. Split layers to make 4 layers. Fill with pudding. Blend ¼ cup soft butter into sour cream mixture. Beat on low speed 1 minute. Do not overbeat (overbeating will thin frosting). Frost sides and top of cake. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

Presbyterian Ladies Meet With Mrs. Hill

Mrs. Edith Roberson read from the Yearbook of Prayer for Missions and led the prayer for our missionaries in the Fields.

Mrs. Giles Bowers led the study on Jonah, "The Reluctant Missionary."

Mrs. Harry Redwine read the devotional and prayer for "The Least Coin" offering.

The following members were present: Mrs. Edith Roberson, Mrs. Giles Bowers, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. Ed Dickerson, Mrs. S. G. Philp, Mrs. Jno. R. Covey, Sr., Mrs. Harry Redwine, and Mrs. Douglas Hill.

Spinach Turnovers

1 pound spinach
1-3 cup olive oil
½ cup minced onions
½ cup pine nuts or walnuts
¼ cup chopped raisins
Salt, pepper, cinnamon and lemon juice
Yeast Dough

Wash spinach thoroughly and chop finely. Mix with olive oil and onions, cover, and cook over low heat for 10 minutes, or until spinach is wilted and onions are partially cooked. Stir in nuts and raisins, salt and pepper and cinnamon to taste. Flavor with lemon juice to make the filling quite tangy. Roll out Yeast Dough thinly on floured board and cut into rounds with a floured biscuit cutter. Put a spoonful of spinach filling in center of each pastry round and fold in half, making crescents. Press edges firmly together. Place on oiled baking sheet and bake in preheated 425 degrees oven for 12 minutes or until golden.

Yeast Dough: Soften 2 teaspoons dry yeast in 1 tablespoon tepid water. Add ¼ cup olive oil, 3 cups bread flour mixed with ¾ teaspoon salt, and enough cold water to make a stiff dough. Knead and beat dough until smooth. Cover and let stand for 30 minutes.

Program On Social Security

The Tri Community Home Demonstration Club met Monday at 9:30 a.m. in the West Texas State Bank community room for their regular meeting.

Mrs. Charles McArthur, president, presided over the business session. Mrs. Joneil Smallwood gave the council report. Roll call was answered with "A shut-in we could send cards to."

The program on Social Security for wives, was brought by Mr. Fisher and Mrs. Nelson, social security representatives from the Big Spring office. After a film on the history of social security there was a question and answer session, which was very informative.

The next meeting will be March 14th at 10:30 a.m. with a salad luncheon. Any homemaker in the area is invited to visit the club meetings, and is asked to call HI 3-3282 for more information.

The hostess, Mrs. G. J. Nunley Jr. served refreshments of punch and cookies to Mrs. Smallwood, Mrs. Hal Holladay, Mrs. LeRoy Lindsey, Mrs. McArthur, and visitors, Mr. Fisher, Mrs. Nelson, Miss Ruby Butts and four children.

Jellied Wine Mold

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup each cold water and boiling water
1-3 cup sugar
1-3 cup pineapple syrup (from canned pineapple)
¼ cup lemon juice
2¼ cups medium - sweet red wine

In a bowl, sprinkle genatin over cold water to soften; add boiling water and stir to dissolve gelatin. Add remaining ingredients; stir to dissolve sugar. Turn into eight ½-cup molds; set in a large pan; chill until set; cover pan. At serving time, unmold. Garnish with canned pineapple, if you like. Makes 8 servings.

Tower Asks Study Include W. Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., has submitted an amendment to the Kuchel-Murphy bill that would include West Texas in any study of water transfer into the Southwest from northern river basins.

Gov. John Connally of Texas noted the study bills pending in Congress didn't include Texas and suggested in a letter that it should be.

The feasibility of transferring water from the Columbia River and other water surplus basins into the West and Southwest where irrigation water is needed is being considered in the proposed study.

cies within two years after the secretary of commerce has suggested them. the secretary then could prescribe mandatory standards which would take effect two years later.

Binds Developing In US Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The better that times get the more businessmen and stock traders worry. And this week they've been worrying about how all this obvious prosperity is going to pay off — and for whom.

Currently it's paying off fine for a majority of businessmen, for most workmen, for a large percentage of all Americans. But some binds are developing, too, and more seem to be in the making.

Tighter money is beginning to pinch here and there. Monetary experts warn that there's likely to be less funds available for borrowing than industry will want if it goes through with all its plans for expanding its plant and buying new equipment.

And the intentions of industrial firms to expand go right on expanding, too. They want to spend much more this year than last. But accountants warn that annual reports show that many corporations have less available cash assets to draw upon than a year ago, despite their record profits.

The corporate cash bind will hurt also in the current buildup in inventories. Many corporations must borrow to order these stocks and to carry them. Factory inventories stood at $82.4 billion at the end of January, up $400 million in the month. New factory orders rose to $44.3 billion, with unfilled orders increasing by $1.3 billion in the month to $97.3 billion.

Both the inventory rise and the steadily increasing backlog of unfilled orders are cited by those who worry about the economy overheating as it starts its sixth year of upturn.

Profits are at a record high. Most companies are predicting still higher net income after taxes this year. But an increasing number of observers are saying the gain won't be as much as last year. And a few are warning that production costs may be rising faster than prices, so that profit margins will be clipped and the big profit boom brought to an end.

All these worries can be based on interpretations of available figures and projected trends. But businessmen, and especially stock traders, have other uncertainties, nebulous now because they're mixed in with politics.

One disturbing fear is that before 1968 is over taxes will go up again, reversing the 1964 and 1965 course. Higher corporate income taxes would bite into profits, into enthusiasm for business expansion, and into stock prices.

Along with this is the fear that if inflation becomes an acknowledged fact, the government may turn voluntary wage and price restraints into something much closer to actual government controls. Neither business, nor labor, nor the stock market would like that.

Trans-Texas Gets Air Service Route

WASHINGTON (AP)— Trans-Texas Airways has been authorized to replace Eastern Air Lines on the local service route between Houston, Tex., and New Orleans, effective May 1.

The Civil Aeronautics Board decision Wednesday did not affect Eastern's nonstop authority between Houston and New Orleans.

Trans-Texas will make the flight via stops at Beaumont-Port Arthur, Tex., and Lake Charles, Lafayette and Baton Rouge, La.

Casey Named To Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bob Casey, Houston Democrat, has been chosen by fellow Texans in the House of Representatives to succeed the late Rep. Albert Thomas on the powerful House Appropriations Committee.

Thomas also was a Democrat from Houston.

The Texas congressional delegation met behind closed doors Wednesday to make the selection. Rep. Wright Patman, dean of the delegation, said the Texans decided on Casey on a voice vote.

The House leadership would have to approve before Casey was named to the appropriations committee.

Casey is now a member of the Science and Astronautics and Merchant Marine and Fisheries committees. He would leave both of these if appointed to appropriations.

Auto Top Brass Oks Safety Plan

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry leaders breathed a sigh of relief today after getting their first look at President Johnson's long-awaited traffic safety program.

"This is a reasonable proposal and we can live with it," said one industry source. He, along with others in the industry who discussed the program, declined use of his name.

The President's 17-page proposal sent to Congress Wednesday called for a $700-million, six-year program to arrest what he called "carnage on the highways."

Top brass from all four major U.S. automakers attended a Washington briefing session held by John T. Conner, secretary of commerce, Wednesday in advance of public announcement of the Johnson message.

Among them were James Roche, president of General Motors; Lynn A. Townsend, president of Chrysler; Richard E. Cross, chairman of American Motors and John A. Bugas, vice president of Ford Motor Co.

The auto industry had known for several months that President Johnson, concerned over the nation's 49,000 traffic fatalities last year, was going to add his voice to the cause of auto safety.

Some industry leaders had expressed fears federal intervention in the safety program would result in government controls of the auto business.

GM President Roche, for example, said recently: "Regulation would have a severe and adverse effect on our business. It would substitute rigidity for flexibility, bureaucratic approval for public approval."

After a first look at the Johnson proposals, however, the industry indicated it found nothing major on which it would disagree with the President.

One official commented: "It looks like the body of the proposal is reasonable and one which the industry would be hard put to defeat or defy. I would assume it would be difficult for us to oppose the legislation as I understand it."

In brief, the Johnson message called for:

—An authorization, but not a requirement, to the secretary of commerce to determine safety criteria for all vehicles.

—An increase in federal grants to states for highway safety projects.

—An expansion of the federal government's highway safety research efforts, including a national highway safety research and test center.

Industry sources, who had repeatedly expressed hopes that they would be allowed to work out safety problems without federal interference, were cheered by the timetable set up in the Johnson message.

This provided that if the industry does not adopt voluntary safety standards for motor vehi-

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

AGUA BLANCA, Mexico — From the dry and jagged hills above, you drop down a narrow cobblestone road into this modern Garden of Eden. It lies in a deep canyon beside a little river with a foaming white waterfall.

The hotel is adequate and has a Tarascan Indian atmosphere. The grounds look like a country club. Banana trees and bougainvilla wave gently in the breeze.

In the spring the jacaranda trees are a mass of purple flowers. And coffee trees grow up the sloping hills turning out breakfast flavor for the guests.

"We are completely self contained," said Mr. Francisco Vazquez de Mercado, the owner. He is known to everyone as Don Pancho.

Don Pancho not only raises his own coffee; he toasts and grinds it. Right there on the hotel properly. You get it served to you for breakfast with ham and eggs or eggs a la Mexicana.

Nobody knows how old the thermal springs of Agua Blanca are. It is general knowledge, however, that this once wrs the health center for the Tarascan Indian Empire.

Legend and history attributes miraculous cures and powers to these springs. Centuries ago the number one fountain was reserved for use of the royal Tarascan household.

The emperor and his relatives lounged about in the 86 degree waters and kept healthy and young.

After the conquest of Mexico, the Franciscan Fathers and other missionaries checked in to test the waters for themselves. Fray Juan de San Miguel wrote, "These waters cure many ailments and even seem to prolong life."

It is reported that the Agua Blanca waters were the real Fountain of Youth sought by Ponce de Leon. But the Indians handed Ponce a story that sent him bounding over to Florida to scour the real estate there.

Chemists who have analyzed the waters report the radioactivity is one of the world's greatest. Photographic films go black if washed in it.

And after a few minutes in the pool where the big fountain gushes constantly, you feel a tingling sensation all over your body. After an hour of swimming around I refused to eat my cereal for breakfast and was threatened with a spanking.

There are eleven thermal springs in all with a capacity of some two million gallons per twenty four hours. It has been going on for centuries and nobody can see the end in sight.

Days at Agua Blanca are warm and spring-like in fact winter. The evenings are crisp and drop to sweater temperature. The rest of the year Agua Blanca is tropical. Warm but not sweaty.

And let us not forget the ladies. They dig into the radioactive mud and pat it on their faces. Let it dry half an hour and then wash it off.

"See?" they say. "Just as smooth as my young daughter's. Like on the TV commercials up home.

But infinitely more interesting and they don't break into a good shooting scene between the marshal and the rustlers. This alone makes it a worthwhile enterprise. With some - grown coffee for breakfast.

Permian, Carver Are Favorites In Canyon Reef

Permain will be favored to take the AAAA division and Amarillo Carver the AAA division of the annual Canyon Reef Relays. Both teams are strong in their class.

A coach who saw the Carver team run last week went away with the opinion it would win every running event here this week. Carver is an Negro school with a reputation for fine sprinters.

Of course, they'll have plenty of competition—what with Fort Stockton, Dumas, Hirschi and others in the running. Lake View's Rocky Woods has the potential to break the oldest record on the books—the 6-4 standard in the high jump. It was set by Aspermont's Thornton in 1956.

Littlefield usually is strong in running events. The 'Cats have Larry Schovajsa returning. He probably will be entered in the sprints and also run a leg in their relays teams.

The biggest surprise this early in the season for Coach Dutch Stanley's host Tiger team has been the showing of the 440 relay team. The Bengals captured third place at the Comanche Relays in Ft. Stockton last weekend from among a top field. Upholding the Snyder honors were Ronnie Hardwick, Jackie Rice, Teddy Brown and Curtis Clay.

Leon Riggins is an alternate on the relay team. A fine runner, he may surprise a few people in the 180 low hurdles. He took second place at Ft. Stockton. Teddy Brown also came in second—in the 440 yard dash.

Other boys who made the trip to Ft. Stockton are Rob Golden, Steve McMahan, Rudy Benitez, Kent Noble, Tom Page. M. C. Powell, Joe Breeden, Jerry Simons, and Roy Taylor, Manager is (Bull) Durham.

The Bengals were supposed to be stronger in field events than the relays events. So, perhaps the fieldmen may come up with a few points Saturday.

Riggins, Noble, Clay and Brown run the mile relay with M. C. Powell as an alternate for Brown.

Rice, of course, has gone over 13-0 in the pole vault, and could capture a few points there. Steve McMahan cleared 5-11 in the high jump during practice and could do it again.

With luck and everyone in top condition, the Bengals will give a good account of themselves. But those supposedly in "The know" say Carver has the AAA division all sewed up.

Plenty of fans are gonna be on hand at Tiger stadium Saturday to see what happens.

SPORTSCUTTLE

There were plenty of exciting basketball tilts at the regional tournament in Lubbock over the weekend.

It wouldn't surprise us if three of the teams that won in Lubbock go on to capture state championships. Gruver in Class A, Crane, in Class AA, and Lubbock Monterey in AAAA, all have the potential to go all the way.

We think Andrews was lucky to get by Coleman. The Mustangs probably will not survive their first round tilt against San Antonio Marshal at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Crane has plenty of height and is one of the best hustling clubs in the state.

Cage Coaches Get Out Crying Towel

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP) — To hear a coach tell it, his team's opponent at the state schoolboy basketball tournament is the best in Texas.

They say they're so scared they may not show up for the tournament.

But they will—for three days of basketball which will decide state champions in five conferences—B, A, AA, AAA and AAAA.

It all starts today at 8:45 a.m. with Deweyville, runner-up last year in B, and Kopperl meeting in the first game. Championship games are scheduled for Saturday.

Despite coach-talk the 22-team field looks well-balanced, with 13 schools making the trip to the state tournament for the first time.

There are two defending champions, Snook in B and Lake Worth of Fort Worth in AA.

A sample of pre-tournament coaches' comments looks like this:

"Everybody I've talked to says we'll be lucky to stay within 20 points of them, but we're going to show up," said Austin McCallum Coach Frank Rundell of his team's first-round opponent, Dallas Samuell, in AAAA.

Countered Samuell Coach J. W. Black: "How about that? We draw Austin McCallum first on Friday and we know the least about it...They have the credentials to be tough—good height, good shooters and a fine record (22-7).

Told his team was a favorite in the big school conference, Black said, "We feel honored in a way, but any of the others certainly rated as well."

The other AAAA schools are Lubbock Monterey and Houston Memorial.

In Class AAA, boasting four strong teams—Kilgore, San Antonio Marshall, Andrews and Clear Creek—the coaches are looking at each other's teams with a wary eye.

Clear Creek's Bill Krueger said he had a sinking feeling when he found out his squad would open up against Kilgore Thursday night. And Marshall's Ted Dockery says he doesn't see how any team could be tougher than Andrews, his first-round foe.

Duane Vincent, coach of the AA Rockdale Tigers, looked at his team's opponent, Lake Worth, and said, "I've heard from some sources that they're better than they were last year (when they won the title)...We haven't played any team which approaches them physically."

The other semifinal game in AA is between Crane and Rockport.

First-round pairings in B after the Deweyville-Kopperl opener are Snook-Bronte with Channing and Alba-Golden drawing byes.

Brave Owners Are Hustlers?

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The prosecution in Wisconsin's anti-trust suit against baseball has adopted a strategy of painting the owners of the Braves as a group of men forced into moving the club to Atlanta because "they had to make money fast."

Willard Stafford, special counsel for the state and the legal team's chief prosecutor, continued Wednesday to try and link the "compelling financial personal problems" of the Braves' owners with their decision to transfer the franchise.

Stafford said as much in his opening statement when he remarked that "the Braves moved because the new owners wanted to pay off indebtedness of $3 million which they had created."

And he proceeded with that line as he called his first witnesses — Ralph Delforge, former secretary-treasurer of the Braves, and Gordon Volz, a certified public accountant from Madison, Wis.

Delforge testified that the club showed cash profits in 1963 and 1964 — part of the period in which the team's owners contend they lost $3.5 million.

Volz, made some projections on Delforge's figures. They were highly technical. They also were highly objectionable to the defense.

Bowie Kuhn, National League attorney, asked that a standing objection to all questions on the subject be noted by the court.

"The basic issue in the case," said Stafford, "is what caused them to leave. We say borrowing led to the move. We say they left because they had thin equity and had to make money fast.

"We want to show what the compelling financial personal problems were so you can see the compelling reason they had to move."

Circuit Judge Elmer Roller, who eventually will rule in the case that tests the structure of baseball, allowed Stafford to continue.

Before Stafford began probing witnesses, Kuhn made an opening statement and laid out the defense that likely will be used by the National League and its 10 teams as the trial progresses.

Dealing individually with demands made in the suit by the state, Kuhn contended:

1. Return of the Braves to Milwaukee "would destroy them financially."

2. Such a return has been prohibited by a state court in Georgia and a federal court in Texas.

3. Expansion of the National League is not only impossible but prohibited" by the Texas order.

4. The state is being used as a tool of a private group ... as part of a scheme to harass baseball into submission."

Moose Sharp As Ever

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The Moose is 46 years old today and not thinking of slowing down on his golf pace.

"I may win a couple of more Opens," Julius Boros drawled, more in seriousness than in jest as he prepared to tee off in the first round of the $65,000 Pensacola Open Tournament.

"The only trouble with getting old is that you lose your enthusiasm. It's harder to get up in the morning and you're more susceptible to aches and pains.

"As for me, I figure I can hit the ball and score as well as I ever did, maybe better. I just don't work as hard."

The husky, dark-complexioned New Englander, adopted by North Carolina and now employed in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., is one of the phenomenons of the game.

He won his first National Open in 1952, cracking Ben Hogan's reign, and came back 11 years later to take the title again at the Country Club in Brookline, Mass.

Last year, he played in 22 tournaments and won $39,486. He is fourth in the all-time money-winning list, led by Arnold Palmer, with $399,000 for 15 years on the tour.

Big Jules, of Hungarian descent, plans to play in the $100,000 Doral and Orlando opens, then skip Jacksonville before going to Greensboro the week before the Masters.

Boros' best showing in the Masters was in 1963 when he finished a stroke back of Jack Nicklaus. That year — at the age of 43 — he also won the Open, collected $77,356 and was named PGA Golfer of the Year.

Doug Sanders of Qjai, Calif., is defending champion in the tournament here, which is without the Big Three of Palmer, Nicklaus and Gary Player. Other leading contenders include PGA champion Dave Marr, former British Open king Bob Charles and Australia's Bruce Devlin and Bruce Crampton.

Youth Collapses On SMU Field

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Tom White, who collapsed on the football field at Southern Methodist University, died early today in a Dallas hospital from a cardiac arrest.

White, 19, from Cochituate, Mass., was a candidate for the SMU team now holding spring training. He had been working on defense and collapsed while awaiting his turn Wednesday afternoon.

All-District Team Named

Co-champions Levelland and Lamesa shared honors with also-rans, Sweetwater and Lake View in the All-District 3-AAA basketball team named at a meeting of the district committee here Wednesday.

Each of the top four teams in the district race placed two men on the 10-man all-district team. The other two positions went to Snyder and Brownfield.

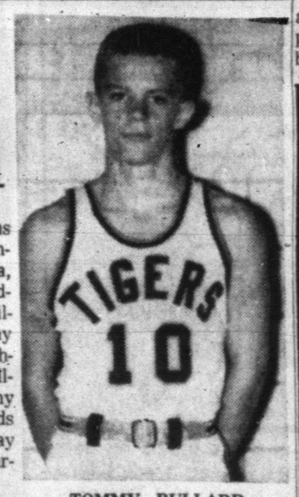

Actually, the fourth place Sweetwater Mustangs topped the voting, with two players earning unanimous approval.

The six unanimous selections were Buzz Timmons of Brownfield, Pat Fees of Lamesa, Randall Causey and Doyle Bradbury of Sweetwater, Jim Hamilton of Lake View and Clay Kreuger of Levelland. The other four making the 10-man all-district team included Tommy Bullard of Snyder, Rocky Woods of Lake View, Arthur Callaway of Lamesa and Obezonia Garrett of Levelland.

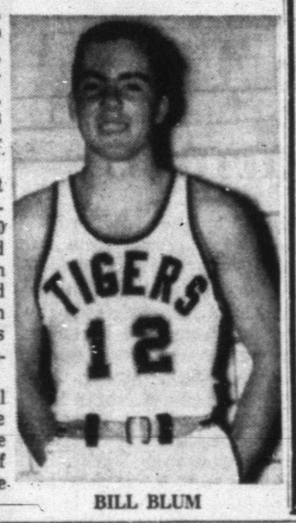

Honorable mention went to Larry Samsom of Brownfield, Bill Blum of Snyder, Joe Tubb and Gary Reed of Levelland, Phillip Pace, Steve Lewis, Randy Hudson and Fred Koontz, all of Littlefield, Don Williams of Lake View and Gene Everheart of Lamesa.

The coaches of the district balloted on the all-district selections. Each coach named 10 players on his ballot, but could not name any from his own team. The top 10 were declared members of the all-district team and all others receiving votes were listed for honorable mention.

The 1965-67 district basketball schedule was adopted at the committee session. The schedule will be the same as that of the past season, except that the sites will be reversed.

How The Action Was

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Ronnie Waldo's triple and home run accounted for two runs as Rice beat Houston Baptist College 3-0 Wednesday. It was Rice's second straight shutout triumph.

Bill Eiland worked the first four innings and got credit for the victory.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Joe Staples' two-run homer featured Texas A&M's 11-1 baseball victory over St. Mary's Wednesday.

Chuck Malitz pounded three hits as the Aggies blasted three St. Mary's pitchers for 13 safeties.

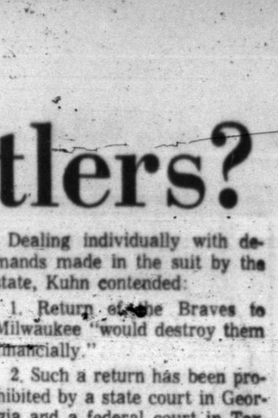

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—Tyler and Wharton will clash here Monday night in the opening of a 3-game series to decide a place in the national junior college basketball tournament at Hutchison, Kans.

Tyler won the North Zone of Region 14 by beating Kilgore 83 - 82 at Kilgore Wednesday night. Wharton was nailing down the South Zone with a 110-82 triumph over Temple at Wharton.

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Howard Payne and East Texas Baptist will decide a place in the NAIA basketball tournament at Kansas City in the final of a 3-game series here tonight.

Howard Payne beat East Texas Baptist 83-66 in the opening game at Brownwood Monday night. Wednesday night East Texas Baptist squared the series with an 84-65 decision here.

TIGER, STEER NINES CLASH HERE FRIDAY

Play ball!

That'll be the word at the Snyder High School practice field Friday when the Tigers and Big Spring's Steers inaugurate the 1966 season with a doubleheader.

The first game will begin at 1:30 p.m. and the second one at 4 p.m.

Coach Speedy Moffett is in his 14th year at the Snyder helm and he has a host of lettermen returning from the 1965 club that finished fourth in the state.

So, things should be pretty hot for the Steers and Coach Roy Beard. However, the Class AAAA school defeated Snyder last season in a tournament at Eunice. With Yogi Anderson, one of the best-hitting catchers in the area, returning the Steers won't be any pushovers.

Snyder has won or tied for the District 3-AAA title every year except twice under Moffett's reign. The boys had a brisk workout in the wind and sand Wednesday after holding a practice game Monday.

In that tilt, the varsity topped the junior varsity, 6-1, behind the pitching of Roy Hunter, Freddie Benitez and Tony Suttle, each of whom appeared for three innings of work.

Bobby Clardy worked the first five frames of the nine-inning tilt for the JV's. Lane McMillan took over in relief in the 6th and went the route.

It hasn't been decided yet which contest will be held first, but Coach Moffett listed tentative starting lineups for both the varsity and junior varsity.

Bobby Clardy, a junior who won two games last year, has received the starting assignment with senior Roy Kizer behind the plate. The only other seniors are Ray Kizer in right field, Mack Gallyean at second, and David Holt at third.

Terry Holt will open at short with either Robert Hobbs or Bob Ray at first. Rounding out the outfield are centerfield David Cadena and either Lloyd Potts or Delbert Foree in left. The varsity manager is Carlos Mijares.

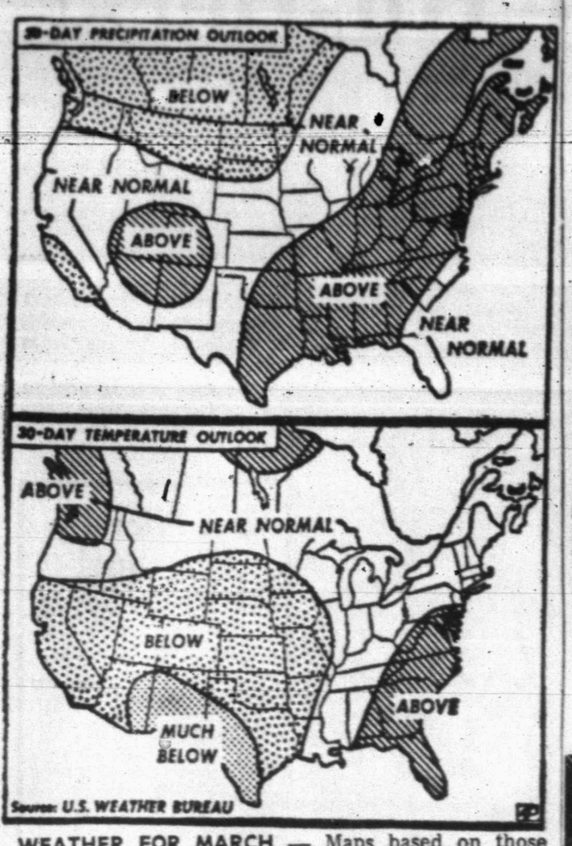

The batting order would be Galyean, Hobbs or Ray, Cadena, Roy Kizer, Ray Kizer, David Holt, Potts or Foree, Terry Holt and Clardy.

Powell, Callaway and McMillan are the only juniors in the alignment as the remainder are sophomores.

Snyder will collide with Coronado in Hodges Park in Lubbock in a doubleheader slated for 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. Saturday. Probable starting pitchers for the Tigers are Freddie Benitez in the first contest and Roy Hunter in the second one.

Computer To Aid Cotton Farmers

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is offering a new analytical tool to the state's cotton producers — electronic computer programming.

Purpose of the project, according to Extension Director John E. Hutchison, is to aid farmers in making decisions regarding the 1966 federal cotton program. Because of the many alternatives under the current program, days of figuring by a mathematician would be required to give a farmer all the answers.

Not only does the farmer have to decide whether or not to participate in the program, but at what level if the answer is yes to participation. Decision making doesn't end here, explains Hutchison. There are any number of row patterns or combinations which may be selected and yields and income must be considered, he adds.

The farmer can, by supplying certain basic information, get help from the electronic computer in his decision making. He will have to supply data on such things as the kind and amount of land, cotton allotment, production costs and returns for each of the row patterns considered.

A form has been developed for farmer use in submitting the needed data, according to Cecil Parker, Extension farm management specialist who heads up the new activity. The fee covers the programming of one ASCS contract. The farmer will receive from the analysis the income available from each level of participation, and the row pattern or combination selected. After a study of the four solutions programmed, the farmer can select the one best suited to his farm.

Parker says all county agricultural agents have the details on the new project, including the fee to be charged, and will be glad to discuss them with any interested cotton producer.

Electronic equipment in Texas A&M University's Data Processing Center will be utilized in the project, Parker said.

Billy Roach, County Agricultural Agent of Scurry County, announced that a meeting has been scheduled to discuss this program in Snyder. The meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, March 17, in the Community Room of the Snyder Savings & Loan Building. Producers interested in the program should contact the Agent and attend this meeting.

Scurry Countians On ACC Honor Roll

ABILENE — Two students from Scurry County are among 267 on the dean's honor roll for the fall semester at Abilene Christian College.

To make the honor roll, students are required to make a grade point average of 3.5 while taking a minimum of 12 semester hours of work.

Those from Scurry County on the honor roll are Wanda Hudgins, a junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hudgins of Hermleigh, and Jeanie Minton, freshman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Minton of Snyder.

Respiratory Ailments Strike In Mexico

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP)—Authorities say that 42 persons have died within the past 15 days of respiratory ailments brought on by the flu.

Officials said Wednesday that the flu has reached epidemic proportions and that hospitals are treating about 2,000 persons daily.

Most of the deaths were said to have been caused by pneumonia.

Brownsville Hijacker Sentenced

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A Texas high school honor student who tried to hijack a jet airliner over the Gulf of Mexico and divert it to Cuba has been sentenced to an indefinite jail term.

Thomas Robinson, 16, of Brownsville, Tex., pleaded guilty Wednesday before U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert W. Christenberry. He was sentenced under the Federal Youth Corrections Act.

The youth, son of a junior college mathematics instructor, entered a guilty plea to a charge of trying to intimidate the pilot of the National Airlines jet.

With a pistol in each hand, Robinson tried to take over the jet shortly after it left New Orleans last Nov. 17 on a flight to Melbourne and Miami, Fla.

Among the 91 persons aboard were Christopher Kraft, director of U.S. space flights, and Paul Haney, NASA's 'Voice of Gemini."

Kraft, Haney and another passenger subdued the youth and the plane returned safely to New Orleans Robinson said at the time he had wanted to go to Cuba to aid anti-Castro political prisoners. Before being subdued, he fired several shots into the cabin floor.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Ernest Morial said a more serious charge of piracy would be dismissed, along with a complaint charging Robinson with threatening the stewardess.

The government elected to try Robinson as a juvenile offender although he was declared fit to stand trial as an adult on the three charges.

The piracy charge would have carried a maximum penalty of death on conviction, the other two maximums of life in prison.

Judge Christenberry recommended that Robinson be confined to the federal youth camp at Tucson, Ariz. Under the sentence, he will remain in federal custody until authorities feel he should be released.

Students Prepare Rollicking Comedy

Child-raising made not only easy but uproariously funny, is one of the aspects of "Auntie Mame," the rollicking New York comedy hit that is being presented by the Snyder High School Drama Department at 8 p.m. March 11 and 12 in the auditorium.

This comedy relates the riotous adventures of a worldly, irreverent and unconventional woman, living in the center of New York's elegant Bohemia of successful literary people, when a 10-year-old tyke of a nephew, suddenly orphaned, is put into her care.

When the shy boy arrives on her doorstep in the midst of one of her celebrity-strewn cocktail parties, his aunt plunges him right into the conversation about the Oedipus complex, Elinor Wylie's poetry, and that latest expressionistic play.

The plot is less concerned with the effect of this sudden immersion of the boy than with following the madcap life of the aunt over the next 20 years. Wealthy when she inherits the youngster, she is soon wiped out in the stock market crash of 1929, and the action follows her inept attempts to earn a meagre bread and champagne for nephew and herself as a telephone operator, as an actress, as a salesgirl in a department store.

It chronicles her standing up to the boy's trustee over the unconventionality of the schooling she prefers for him, follows her from poverty to wealth again through marriage to an easy-going Southerner, who eventually falls off the Matterhorn to leave her a blithe and rich widow, and also covers her madcap dealings with a poet and her frowsy secretary when she sets about writing her memoirs.

The production is being directed by Gerald Gafford, speech and drama teacher, who is assisted by Mrs. Sue Parham, drama assistant in set construction. Mrs. Carol Gafford serves as the scenic artist and wardrobe mistress. Powers Boothe serves as the student director and is assisted by Janeen Clements.

Tickets are on sale and can be purchased from any member of the Senior and Junior Classes. Prices are $1 for adults, 50 cents for students, and 25 cents for children under 12. These two classes are sponsoring the play.

Judge Rejects Suit By Negro Group

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge has refused to accept a suit brought by a group of Crenshaw County Negroes and sharply criticized them.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Johnson Jr. declined Wednesday to assume jurisdiction of the Negroes' suit seeking to appeal an injunction from the county court prohibiting demonstrations at the Helicon school.

"The basic fallacy of the petitioners' contentions before this court," he said, "rests upon their assumption that they have constitutional or statutory rights to engage in conduct designed to disrupt or having the effect of disrupting classes."

Johnson noted that on Jan. 17, two days before the injunction was issued, the petitioning Negroes "participated in or encouraged, or otherwise directly or indirectly engaged in demonstrations around the school that reached the point of being nothing more than a hysterical mob."

The judge said considerable property damage resulted from the Jan. 17 demonstration and there was also an assault upon the principal of the school. Such conduct, he said, was illegal and "continued to an extremely aggravated point" before the injunction was issued.

The injunction followed a series of demonstrations at the school, apparently stemming from the dismissal of a teacher and school bus driver.

The injunction barred the Negroes from "conducting, encouraging, or participating in demonstrations, picketing, and boycotting the school," it further forbade marching, parading or protesting the operations of the school.

Johnson held that "there is no constitutional or statutory right, as this court understands the law, that prohibits arrest, prosecution or injunctive proceedings for conduct such as these petitioners were engaging in prior to and at the time they were enjoined."

He ruled that no constitutional rights of demonstrators were violated and that law enforcement officers and court officials were properly carrying out the law.

TIME RUNS SHORT FOR DYING BALADEER

By JEAN HELLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Woody Guthrie is an Oklahoma-born folk singer who tramped out of a dust bowl existence in search of a better life. He never really did find it, and now his time is running out.

He tried to "make it" in California in the early 1930s. He tried again in New York. He wrote at least a thousand songs along the way. Some people listened. Most didn't.

Today he has found a great and eager following in England and is the subject of a strong revival in the United States. But for Woody Guthrie, 53, it is the end rather than the beginning.

For the past 15 years he has been slowly, helplessly, dying of an hereditary disease called Huntington's Chorea, an affliction that progressively destroys coordination and runs its fatal course in about 15 years.

It was coordination of mind and guitar-strumming hands that produced one of his best known songs:

"This land is your land. This land is my land. From California to the New York island, from the Redwood forests to the Gulf Stream waters, this land was made for you and me."

That verse—in some of his songs there are as many as 100 verses—is typical of the Guthrie philosophy.

"I hate a song that makes you think that you're not any good," he said once. "I hate a song that makes you think that you are just born to lose. No good to nobody. No good for nothing.

"I am out to fight those kinds of songs to my very last breath of air and my last drop of blood. I am out to sing the songs that make you take pride in yourself and in your work."

Guthrie felt that way from the very beginning of his career when he was the uplifting voice of the downtrodden of the great depression. He told people through song that things would be better in California.

He sang on a Los Angeles radio station for a dollar a day. He met other folk singers and saw other places, making several restless journeys back and forth across the American continent. He was married and divorced at least twice.

His love for children—his and others—manifest itself in a flood of children's songs that was interrupted only briefly by the crushing death of his own daughter, Kathy Ann.

Guthrie spends all his time now in the Brooklyn State Hospital and is no longer able to talk. His songs have been recorded by Bing Crosby, Harry Belafonte, Frank Sinatra and Peter, Paul and Mary.

His letters, poems, writings and records are being collected and re-released. Baladeer Pete Seeger has predicted great fame for Guthrie's music.

Long-time companion Cisco Houston calls Guthrie the greatest folk poet we've had."

Seeger says, "Woody shocked many people. But he knew what he wanted to do and he did it."

A Guthrie children's trust fund has been formed to provide for the singer's two surviving children, Joady, 16, and Nora, 15.

The fund publishes a newsletter to keep those who care up to date on Guthrie's condition and his work, because he can no longer do that himself.

Viet Critics Offer Opinion But No Unity On Solution

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The past year, particularly the past two months, has been as dizzy and confused a time in American foreign affairs as any since the isolationism of the 1930s left the United States docile, unarmed and ill-prepared for the war that came.

Now the divided opinion on the Vietnamese war may well make the North Vietnamese Communists and the Viet Cong believe the American will to fight is splintered and that by continuing the war they may win what they want.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut Democrat, calls the criticism of the Vietnamese war "the new isolationism." But the criticism is not so clear as that. There is a general unhappiness among the critics but no unity on a solution.

Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, has denounced President Johnson's Viet Nam policy as "immoral and godless." He said Johnson has no constitutional right to send troops into it without a declaration of war. But there is not even a little sign Congress intends to declare war.

Morse called for arbitration of the war by the United Nations. Johnson made a bid to the United Nations for a negotiated settlement. But the U.N. Security Council shows little stomach for getting involved.

Last spring Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, Johnson's constant war critic, and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for a halt to the bombing of North Viet Nam as a way to induce the Communists into a negotiated settlement.

Starting late in December, and for 37 days, Johnson halted the bombings, sent peace emissaries around the world. The North Vietnamese ignored him and Johnson ordered the bombing resumed Jan. 31.

Later Fulbright called for a negotiated settlement with major concessions by both sides, and this week he proposed a settlement by agreement with Red China for neutralization of all Southeast Asia.

But the United States has no regular diplomatic relations with the Chinese, has kept them out of the United Nations. And it is hard to see how China, even if it agreed not to invade its neighbors, could be kept from subverting them, which would have the same effect as invasion.

Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, retired, told Fulbright's committee a large-scale increase of American troops in Viet Nam would involve the risk of war with Red China. Wednesday Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced American combat strength in Viet Nam would be boosted from 215,000 to 235,000 men.

Yet, Gavin insisted American troops should stay in Viet Nam but at the same time said this country should not escalate the war.

And George F. Kennan, one-time head of the State Department's policy planning staff, also had some advice for Fulbright's group: This country should decide what could be securely held in Viet Nam and then dig in and wait for a political solution. But even while he was saying it the Viet Cong held about 75 per cent of South Viet Nam.

Johnson, sensitive to criticism and public opinion and anxious to satisfy as many Americans as possible, has been talking of waging a very restrained kind of war, which may or may not be evidence the critics have tied his hands a bit.

The smaller the creature the more easily it travels by air. Wingless bacteria float in the air for days.

Why Is It Operation Buckskin?

By ROBERT MOOREFIELD

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — "Operation Buckskin, which terminated recently, accounted for 93 Viet Cong killed, 11 captured," and so on.

That was the account that originated in Saigon. Why was that particular mission of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division in Hau Nghia Province called Operation Buckskin? Why not Operation Rover? or Operation Big Shot?

The operation actually could have been called just about anything. Troops afield on a specific mission carry out their operation under a name that sets it apart from other specific missions.

In high channels, it is simply easier to speak of Operation Buckskin than to say that men of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division are engaging the enemy, capturing him and his arms together with tons of rice, and are suffering light casualties, as was the case in adjoining Hau Nghia Province.

The name of an operation is taken from a master list and is chosen at the planning level at senior headquarters well in advance of the actual kickoff.

The master list is made up of names chosen at random but consists of names that can be transmitted with ease and with a minimum chance of misunderstanding by voice, telephone and radio.

It would obviously be courting trouble to have Operation Dolly and Operation Polly being carried out at the same time.

Several operations in the war in Viet Nam have been designated by the names of U.S. presidents — Van Buren, Taylor, Harrison. Others — at random — have been called Starlight, Blue Marlin, Mastiff, Double Eagle, and so on. Some names have been taken from comic strip characters.

Two famous operational names are remembered from World War II: Operation Overlord for the invasion of Europe and Operation Olympia for the invasion of Japan.

Beer Drinker Is Expelled

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — You drink a pint of beer in each of King Street's eight pubs to qualify for the King Street Run Club.

Barbara Marshall, 19, did it — and was expelled from her college.

The club is a tradition among Cambridge University students. Barbara says she is the first girl member. It took her 75 minutes to qualify.

"Now I wish I hadn't done it," she said.

"I wasn't drunk and I haven't done anything to bring the college into disrepute. But now my whole career is ruined."

Barbara was training at the MacKenzie College of Speech and Drama to be a teacher.

"One has to take a stand against this sort of thing," said the principal of the college, Miss Emilie Lewis.

Only in recent years have scientists begun to understand the aurora borealis.

Junior Editors Quiz on MONA LISA

QUESTION: What is the secret of Mona Lisa's smile?

• • •

ANSWER: The famous picture of Mona Lisa was painted by the great Italian, Leonardo da Vinci, who lived between 1452 and 1519. It is a portrait of the wife of a merchant, Francesco del Gioconda, and is often called La Gioconda. Up to that time pictures had mostly been of events or religious ideas. This was one of the first portraits of a real human being, or special interest because she seems so warm and human; we can almost see her thinking. What is she thinking about? Perhaps this is the secret of La Gioconda's fame—everyone is trying to guess her own secret. The faintest of smiles plays over her lips—but again, what is she smiling about? No one really knows, but everyone has his own idea. Here is our artist's special theory. "Most people in portraits," he says, "give me the feeling they are thinking about themselves. But this wise, lovely lady looks deeply into your eyes and seems to think about you rather than herself. Somehow, she seems to have guessed your secret. And she gives the impression that even if she shares your secret, she will keep it in confidence. She is smiling because she is your friend."

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a color reproduction of Mona Lisa and look deeply into her eyes. See if you agree with our artist. If not, work out your own explanation of that wise but tantalizing smile. 3-3

SAFEWAY (S) BRANDS

What are they? Why do they sell for less?

Our Safeway ad usually includes a lot of brands which are sold in almost every food store. But this week, our biggest specials are on brands you can buy only at Safeway. We call them Safeway (S) Brands and each carries the famous (S) mark right on its label.

It's a family of top quality products. Several of them may be old friends to you: Lucerne, Bel-air, Mrs. Wright's and Town House. And there are many others we want you to meet. (That's the reason for this big sale!)

Some Safeway (S) Brands we manufacture ourselves; others are made for us by the most responsible manufacturers in the country. All are made under rigid quality specifications. All carry Safeway's Money Back Guarantee. We sell them for less because they cost us less. It's as simple as that!

Judges Divided On Tactics Of Officials

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has completed a searching re-examination of its historic Escobedo decision apparently deeply divided on how it should be applied to police investigations across the land.

In one sense at least, Justice Potter Stewart suggested Wednesday as three days of hearings on five Escobedo-type cases drew to a close, the court may be chasing a "will o' the wisp."

The Escobedo ruling in 1964 for the first time extended to a suspect in a police station the right to consult his lawyer — and set off a national debate on police practices. They hang in the balance until the justices hammer out their differences if they can and, perhaps by June, announce their decisions.

Again and again, as lawyers pressed their cases before the court during the exhaustive review, they were asked by the justices to give their own readings of the Escobedo ruling. The answers were diverse.

To California Deputy Atty. Gen. Gordon Ringer, the Escobedo decision does not mean the state is obliged to provide a lawyer to a police suspect before taking his confession.

"It's a question of the facts in each individual case," Ringer said.

But to William A. Norris, a Los Angeles attorney appointed by the high court to represent a man who had been convicted of murder on the basis of a purse-snatching confession, it means suspects not only have the right to a lawyer's assistance during police interrogation, but that the right is not contingent upon request."

What about the justices themselves?

The Escobedo decision threw out, by the narrow 5-4 vote, the Illinois conviction of a man who was prevented by police from seeing his waiting lawyer before confessing a murder.

"We hold only," then-Justice Arthur J. Goldberg said for the majority, "that when the process shifts from the investigatory to accusatory — when its focus is on the accused and its purpose is to elicit a confession. . .the accused must be permitted to consult with his lawyer."

Justice Hugo L. Black, who voted with the majority then and doesn't appear to have retreated from his position since, said during the review he wasn't certain what "accusatory stage" means.

And Stewart, who dissented in the Escobedo case, said that trying to determine when police actually are focusing on a suspect is like "trying to chase a will o' the wisp."

Instead, Stewart suggested each particular case may have to be examined to determine if the rule against coerced confessions was abridged.

Prisoners Isolated For Beating

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)— Four Taylor County jail prisoners remained in an isolation cell and on a bread and water diet today after they were charged Wednesday with beating up two teen-aged jail inmates from Denton.

One Denton youth, Walter Dennis Jost, 17, suffered three broken ribs and was treated in a hospital. The other, Larry Glen Carbill, also 17, was treated in jail by a doctor.

They told Sheriff George Maxwell the four men burned them with cigarettes, beat and kicked them, poured salt down their throats and threatened them with razor blades.

Charges of aggravated assault were filed Wednesday against Clifton Leo Sawyer and Tim Bishop, both 20 and from Abilene; Ray Goff Jr., 18, from San Diego, Calif.; and Robert Constantine, 19, of New Market, Va.

Jost and Carbill, who were arrested at Stanton Sunday in connection with a stolen car, said the beatings took place Monday and Tuesday.

There are 5,500 oil well derricks in the Gulf of Mexico, as far as 60 miles from shore.

Rite Marks Independence Of Texas

WASHINGTON - ON - THE BRAZOS, Tex. (AP) — Secretary of State Crawford Martin says bold decisions have shaped the history of Texas and will shape its future.

He spoke Wednesday on the observance of Texas Independence Day.

"Stretched out before us all in phases of our activities are choices our generation must make, like it or not, to shape the Texas that can best serve this changing civilization," Martin said.

"The tempo of the times urges us to proceed with dispatch, but the enormity of some of the problems facing us warns that we should move with care and wisdom because the determinations we make can affect others, just as past determinations affect us."

The program is held each March 2 by the Washington-on-the-Brazos State Park Association. It commemorates the day Texas' declaration of independence from Mexico was signed by 59 men and the Republic of Texas was born.

The park is on the site where the document was signed March 2, 1836.

Mrs. Jennie Morrow Decker of Houston, a granddaughter of Gen. Sam Houston, was a special guest.

The date had a threefold significance for Mrs. Decker. Besides being Texas Independence Day, Tuesday was her 95th birthday and the birthday of her famous grandfather.

She was presented a large birthday cake by the association. It was decorated with the flag of Texas and 130 candles, one for each year since the Texas republic was formed.

Squatters Find Work, Better Life

MECCA, Calif. (AP) — Home — sweet tumble-down makeshift home — has been abandoned here by a group of squatters who've moved on to new, better and cleaner government housing in nearby Indio.

The squatters, most of them migratory farm workers, were living in old cars and shacks made of discarded junk.

Those seeking jobs and decent places to live have them today. The others — among 300 squatters in dry, barren Box Canyon — just pulled up and left.

One family, Phil and Lola Sigley, moved into a brand new—and strange - looking—government house Wednesday with their two children.

"First time I've ever been inside a new house, leastwise ever staying in one myself," Mrs. Sigley said. "It's the finest place I've ever stayed in."

A grin crossed her 24-year-old husband's face as he, their two children, Larry, 4, and Rebecca, 1, stood outside their new abode.

Inside, Mrs. Sigley, 21, ran her hands over the new stove, inspected the sink with faucets and bounced lightly on one of the four beds. "It's sure one of the oddest looking places I ever did see," she said.

And it was. The spacious one-room structure resembles the bellows section of an accordion or camera, and is made of heavy plastic-coated paper.

It is one of 80 units recently completed under a federal program at the Indio Farm Labor Center. Here, if the Sigleys stay long enough, their son will be enrolled in a pre-school program while they work.

Sigley said a Los Angeles Times story circulated by The Associated Press brought job offers for the squatters from all over the West.

"I talked to a man on the phone. He said he has a place for us to live permanently, and that he will pay me $100 a week steady to be a ranch hand at his place."

He added that a man who owns a Los Angeles box factory hired several of the squatters.

The squatters were urged to get out of Box Canyon by the Riverside County Health Department, which said they would not be permitted to remain in the canyon in their old shacks, caves, cars and cardboard packing cases.

Some, like the Sigleys, moved to the farm labor camp operated by the Riverside County Housing Authority. Adjacent to the new pastel structures stand 146 frame cabins also occupied by farm families.

Nigeria is the most populous country in Africa, but the 56,400,000 Nigerians are split into nearly 250 tribal groups.

City Police Get New Arm Patches

The Snyder Police Department is getting new arm patches that will point up the economic theme of the county: oil, cotton, and cattle.

The new patches are the idea of Chief Chester Simons. He asked Police Captain D. E. McWhirter to design a patch that would be more attractive than the drab patches worn until now.

The old patch had only the black-lettered words "Snyder Police" at the top of the patch and "Department" at the bottom with the inside coloring the same as the uniform.

"We wanted something that would look better and at the same time point ot the distinctive characteristics of the county," explained Chief Simons.

So, Capt. McWhirter went to the drawing board and came up with an idea for the "Oil, cotton and cattle" theme. The new patches, which arrived at the station Tuesday, have a white cotton boll on a tan field or background. Inside the cotton bowl are two black oil derricks and two Whiteface cattle (brown). A green leaf is at the bottom of the cotton boll and green trees appear behind the oil derricks.

At the top of the patch appears "Snyder, Texas" in black letters with the single word "Police" at the bottom of the patch. They are being issued to City Policemen and will be worn at the top of the left sleeve.

"We hope it makes the uniform look sharper—more attractive," said City officials.

Wins Judgment In Paladin Lawsuit

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Victor de Costa of Johnston, R.I., who says he's the original Paladin, has won $150,000 in a suit in which he claimed his idea was appropriated for the television program "Have Gun, Will Travel."

De Costa had asked for $2 million in his suit against the Columbia Broadcasting System.

He said he invented Paladin when he performed at rodeos in 1947, nine years before the debut of the TV series.

A U.S. District Court jury Wednesday ordered CBS to pay $100,000. CBS Films Inc. was assessed $40,000 and Capitol City Broadcasting Co. $10,000.
