Tax Struggle
Centers On Five Senators

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—The legislative tax struggle centered today on five senators.

They are the subcommittee appointed by Sen. Wardlaw Lane to study the House-passed tax bill (HB 20) and report it back to the full Senate State Affairs Committee — probably with drastic changes.

"I'm referring it to the same subcommittee (as in the regular session) for them to bring back as early as possible," Lane said at the close of the committee's second full afternoon of hearings.

Along with the bill the subcommittee was given a proposed substitute embodying the governor's tax program.

As when the House sent over its tax bills of the regular session, Lane named himself and Sens. Dorsey Hardeman, Bruce Reagan, Tom Creighton and Jop Fuller as his tax writing subcommittee.

The bill is not expected to look anywhere near the same when it comes back to the full committee. Many legislators believe Lane will propose, and the Senate pass, roughly the same tax bill as senators approved in the regular session. This the House rejected by a 72-7 tie vote.

The House tax committee was expected to approve today three bills enacting economy measures to make up the difference between proposed new spending and the new money needed to finance it.

As originally drawn by Rep. Charles Ballman, the bills would make about $97 million available for spending in the next two years. He said the measures probably would be pared down by the committee.

Ballman said the aim of the tax committee is to save about $50 million through economy measures that can be passed quickly to the Senate to fill the tax bill gap.

House State Affairs Committee action placed on the House calendar a controversial bill aimed at tighter restrictions on lobbying.

The measure (HB 21) requires lobbyists to make monthly spending reports during sessions of the Legislature and twice yearly reports when the lawmakers are out of session. The reports would include detailed accounts of items of $25 or more. Legislators receiving retainers also would have to report the names of persons and groups paying the retainers.

The House Education Committee favorably reported for debate a bill changing the law on creating kindergartens in public schools. Present law requires a petition of 25 persons with children under school age. The bill approved Thursday (HB 56) would authorize a school board, upon petition of 5 per cent of the qualified voters in a school district to call an election to determine whether a kindergarten should be established.

The tax bill before the Senate sub-group is estimated to produce from $254 million to $328 million, mostly from a 2 per cent sales tax on construction materials, utility sales, power and motor driven objects, restaurant meals and items of $5 or more.

A long line of witnesses blasted the bill in testimony before the Senate State Affairs Committee. Most of the opposition was aimed at two articles of the bill: The tax on dedicated gas reserves and the sales tax.

E. H. Foster, attorney for Phillips Petroleum Co., said he believed the gas tax provision unconstitutional, "and therefore won't raise a single cent for the state."

A Sears Roebuck Co. representative, Allan Griswood of Dallas, said the 5% exemption in the sales tax would make it hard for department stores to collect.

David Lack of Victoria, representing Lack Stores, said the 5% exemption would not save consumers any money because stores would have to increase the price of goods to cover costs of collecting the tax.

First Lady
Is 32 Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy plans to fly to Hyannis Port, Mass., today in time to help his wife celebrate her 32nd birthday.

The First Lady will have a late afternoon private celebration with her family.

Mrs. Kennedy has scheduled afternoon festivities, including a birthday cake, so that her daughter, Caroline, 3½, and young Kennedy cousins can share in the event.

But, according to word from the White House, the candles on the cake won't be lighted until the President arrives.

Mrs. Kennedy's birthday celebration will be at the Kennedy's traditional Cape Cod gathering place.

There has been no word on what the President will give the First Lady as a birthday gift. Last year, he reported it was "just a watch."

Asian, African Bloc
Backs Tunisia's Plea

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A bloc of 36 Asian and African nations pressed the U.N. Security Council today to back Tunisia's demand that France pull all her troops out of Tunisia and give up her huge naval and air base at Bizerte.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld was expected to open the emergency council session with a report on his disappointing peace mission to Tunisia. U.N. sources said he would criticize the French, who refused to confer with him.

Yugoslavia joined 36 of the 46 Asian-African nations in the U.N. in a letter to the council president, Leopoldo Benites of Ecuador, demanding that France, as a first step, obey the council's call to withdraw her troops to the positions they held before last week's fighting.

The council was urged further to acknowledge Tunisia's right "not to tolerate the presence of foreign forces or foreign military bases" and to call for quick negotiations.

Hammarskjöld returned Tuesday night from a flying visit to Tunisia that Tunisian officials said had little to bring a solution to the explosive crisis.

French military authorities in Tunisia refused to even see the secretary-general and the French government declined to invite him.

South Texas
Cloudy Again

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

South Texas had cloudy skies again Friday after another day of scattered thundershowers and a small tornado.

The twister hit Farris Schlinke's farm 6 miles north of Cuero and ripped apart outbuildings and uprooted trees. No one was injured.

Cuero itself was raked by a thunderstorm.

Heavy rain fell again in areas of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, delaying the cotton harvest. West-lago gauged 2 inches Thursday afternoon to bring a 24-hour fall to 6 inches. Mercedes, which had 3 inches Wednesday, got 1.50 inches. Some low lying streets in both places were flooded.

Joe Rothe, associate Hidalgo County agent, said the cotton crop in his area hasn't been hurt by the rain but it has delayed harvest operations.

Thundershowers dotted the Texas coast Thursday. Far West Texas also had showers.

No rain fell early Friday except for South Texas, where generally clear. Early morning temperatures ranged from 64 at Dallas to 78 at Galveston.

Forecast called for fair to partly cloudy skies and widely scattered thundershowers through Saturday. Little change in temperatures was expected.

to Paris for talks. Hammarskjöld made his trip on the invitation of Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, and the French treated it as a private mission.

The United States supported the council resolution last Saturday calling for a cease-fire in Tunisia and for both sides to withdraw to pre-battle positions. The Tunisians complained because the French gave up the Bizerte base immediately. And France's cold shoulder to Hammarskjöld embarrassed the Americans further in view of their long record of support for the secretary-general as a peacemaker and mediator.

Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, chief U.S. delegate to the U.N., already has scheduled talks in Paris this weekend with President Charles de Gaulle and other French officials. An American source said they were not originally set up to deal with the Tunisian situation but that dispute now appears certain to be discussed.

The French agreed to the cease-fire after seizing the city of Bizerte, three miles beyond the sprawling Bizerte naval-air base, but clung to their gains in defiance of the council's pullback order. The French are demanding assurances their lines of communication to the base—particularly the water channel which runs through the city of Bizerte—be guaranteed before they pull their troops back into the base.

Blonde Is Worried
About Solar Wind

By GAYLE MOX

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Guess who's worried about solar winds? A blonde named Marcia, that's who.

"Ranger 1—an unmanned space explorer—is poised to blast off from Cape Canaveral.

One of the instrument assemblies aboard is called an electrostatic analyzer. One of its jobs is to probe solar winds.

That's where Marcia Neugebauer comes in.

"I'm a co-experimenter with the electrostatic analyzer," says Marcia, 28. She looks like a well-scrubbed, freckle-faced college freshman. But she's a senior scientist who is among the key personnel responsible for Ranger's complex machinery.

Marcia works at the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory here. She is in charge of coordinating the various experiments being performed by instruments on Ranger.

"I'm the only one that worries about the scientific aspects all together," she said.

She said it's up to her division—the division of the space sciences at JPL—to determine where the scientific instruments are placed in the spacecraft and how often a reading is taken from each.

Marcia received a bachelor of arts degree in physics from the University of Illinois in 1954 and a master of science degree, also in physics, from the University of Illinois two years later.

She is married to Dr. Gerry Neugebauer, 28, JPL project scientist for Ranger B, a proposed 1964 unmanned expedition to Mars. The couple, who met at Cornell and have been married for five years, live in Altadena.

Marcia said she and her husband do not work on the same projects.

"They try to keep us separate; it's a matter of policy," she said.

There are only seven other women scientists or engineers working among the 852 men at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

West Seeks Initiative

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration was reported today to be holding in reserve a wide range of military and diplomatic actions which may be taken by the United States and its European allies as the Berlin crisis develops.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk will try in Paris next week to get firm agreements with allied foreign ministers on a succession of steps designed in part, at least, to give the Western powers some initiative in dealing with the Soviet Union on the Berlin problem.

The foreign ministers meeting involving the United States, Britain, France and West Germany begins Aug. 5. It may lead to a Western summit conference.

President Kennedy, French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Ultimately if East-West negotiations over Berlin produce any progress toward ending the crisis, diplomatic exchanges could lead to a summit conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev. At the present, however, that is more a possibility in the background of long-range planning.

Administration informants said Kennedy's Berlin action program laid before the nation Tuesday night is only a starter. They said that what Kennedy and Rusk contemplate is a series of steps which will be put into effect as the maneuvering between the Western powers and the Soviet Union over the future of Berlin takes its shape in coming months.

Possible future moves on the military side include sending reinforcements to NATO defenses in Europe and speeding up the mobilization of U.S. strength if circumstances seem to require.

On the diplomatic side, concern in the State Department and the White House now is centered on the development of specific proposals which the Western powers can make to the Soviet Union for a way out of the Berlin crisis.

Rusk refused at a news conference Thursday to give any indication of what form these proposals might take. But in reply to a series of questions he would not rule out any possibility. The questions raised such matters as removing "irritants" to the Soviet Union in the operations of the Western powers in West Berlin.

Rusk declined to specify even what "irritants" the West might be willing to negotiate with the Soviet Union. In the past, however, the Western powers have expressed willingness to curtail propaganda activities in Berlin, to put a ceiling on Western troop strength in West Berlin (it is around 11,000 men) and to give assurance that the troops would not be provided with atomic weapons. The Soviet Union has shown little interest in such proposed concessions.

Rusk told his news conference: "We expect that negotiations will fit fact at some stage take place and that we and our allies will try on our side to find opportunities for a peaceful adjustment of the situation which could be very dangerous."

If the Soviets are concerned about the rearmament of Western Germany, he said, the fact is that this rearmament has taken place in Germany as a part of the Western community. And the attitude of the Western community and of Western Germany "is not to provoke a war over matters which can be settled by peaceful means."

Rusk said he was "very much encouraged" by the response that has been received from allied governments since Kennedy's program was put before them.

He added: "We believe that NATO can and will act with unity and with increased strength in this situation."

Legion Backs
JFK's Stand

HOUSTON (AP)—The state commander of Texas American Legionnaires said today the Legion supports President Kennedy's speech on the Berlin crisis.

Pete Turner, a Midland lawyer, said the three-day state Legion convention which opened this afternoon definitely will take a stand in support of the speech.

"The things he advocated are consistent with what we have advocated for quite some time," Turner said.

Reply From Cuba Is Expected Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk expects a reply from Cuba today or Saturday to the U.S. request for return of the Eastern Air Lines plane which was hijacked and flown to Havana with its passengers and crew last Monday.

All aboard the aircraft have been returned to the United States except the hijacker. He took refuge with the Castro government.

Rusk told a news conference Thursday that the request for return of the plane had been made to the government at Havana through the Swiss Embassy, Switzerland being the nation which has represented U.S. interests in Cuba since this country broke relations last January.

Rusk said he was aware of news dispatches from Cuba quoting Prime Minister Fidel Castro as saying that he would return the stolen aircraft only if the U.S. government "promises from now on to return every plane hijacked from Cuba."

To this Rusk replied that in the United States the executive branch of the government cannot interfere with judicial procedures.

What the State Department can do, however, is notify the court in which a case is pending of a claim made by Cuba that the aircraft in dispute comes under "sovereign immunity" because it is owned by the Cuban government.

In such a case the court may rule that the airplane is not subject to sale for settlement of any debt.

Rusk said that 25 Cuban aircraft have been involved in such cases since 1959. He said that 18 of those were hijacked and seven others were seized by the authorities here under court order.

Of the 25, he said, 14 have been returned to Cuba while some others have been sold under orders of the court.

Wage Earners In Britain Are Angry

LONDON (AP)—The British government's new austerity program cleared the hurdle of parliamentary approval Thursday as expected but still faced the rising anger of wage earners today.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan won an overwhelming vote of confidence in the House of Commons while groups of school teachers, miners, engineers and telephone operators made plans to press for pay raises despite government pleas to hold the line.

Macmillan told Commons that the tax increases and other cuts on spending—felt in nearly every household in the land—are vital for the nation's prosperity.

Opposition Laborites shouted for his resignation. But the Conservative majority held together, beat down a censure motion and voted 346-236 to approve the government program.

In London, Bristol, Hertfordshire and other centers, 300 teachers at nine schools staged one-day strikes to protest government cancellation of a promised pay boost. The National Association of Schoolmasters, representing 25,000 teachers threatened to pull out hundreds of faculties when school resumes next fall if the government doesn't yield.

Miners assailed the government's plans and decided to press their claims for more pay and shorter hours.

Death Claims Abilene Editor Frank Grimes

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Frank Grimes, 69, editor of the Abilene Reporter-News since 1919, died at 4:30 a.m. today at Hendrick Memorial Hospital. Death was from pneumonia.

He had been associated with the Abilene Reporter-News since Dec. 14, 1914, when he came to Abilene to be city editor. He continued his position on the newspaper until death, but for almost a year he had been away from his desk.

The scholarly Grimes was in McKnight State Sanatorium near San Angelo from Aug. 12, 1960, until this June for treatment of tuberculosis.

The fight against TB he won. His case was arrested and he and Mrs. Grimes were able to return to their home. For a month he was up and about town and was able to resume part of his writing. Then he was stricken with bronchitis and he entered the hospital for treatment July 20. His condition steadily worsened.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at St. Paul Methodist Church here with Dr. E. D. Landreth of Lamesa officiating. Burial will be in Elmwood Memorial Park by the grave of his son, Capt. Rudyard K. Grimes, a hero of Bataan in World War II.

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Edith Love; a son, Robby; two daughters, Mary Xantha Grimes, a member of the staff of the University of Denver where she is working on her doctorate, and Mrs. Robert Barnhart of San Antonio; a sister, Mrs. Ole Kidd of Martha, Okla.; and three stepchildren, Maj. Gen. William O. Senter of Beaumont, and Mrs. Milton Gips of Kawaihine Island.

Grimes was a long lean man whose interests stretched across Abilene, all West Texas and to the governments in Washington and Austin.

The editorials which he presented daily to readers of the Abilene Reporter-News informed, chided, amused and guided.

He was a wry, whimsical writer who could clear out the undergrowth of complex problems to get to the truth.

Grimes was the product of three generations of Methodist preachers and more generations of Americans. He was a member of St. Paul Methodist Church and a member of Sons of the American Revolution.

A native of Texas, he was born Oct. 13, 1891, in Bell County. His father was one of Bedford Ford's cavalrymen. As a boy, Grimes lived at Copper Cove and briefly in Pinkney, Tenn.

As a young man, he had what he once described as "assorted and fleeting" experiences. He started work as a printer's devil in 1905 at Bolton. He worked on the Asperment Star in 1912 with the late Col. Dick McCarty, who later published the Albany News.

He was city editor of the Temple Telegram in 1913-14 and editor of the Breckenridge Banner in 1914 before coming to Abilene.

As a gangling 25-year-old, he ambled into the cubbyhole office of the old Abilene Daily Reporter on a winter day in 1914 to join the newspaper and the town.

Grimes' life was a strange story of contrast. He had little formal education—he quit school in the eighth grade because he "was bored." His magnificent education was acquired in decades of reading and studying. He was a master of history, of literature, of the mechanics of language.

McMurry College in 1946 recognized his superior learning by bestowing on him the doctorate of laws degree, giving also "this definite influence upon not only this territory but upon the character and thought of its entire population."

During his years as a newspaperman, Grimes served the community in many capacities. He was president of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce in 1943. He was appointed to as many boards, commissions and study groups—local, area and state—as he would allow himself to be.

He was long listed in Who's Who in America.

Abilene stopped to pay tribute to his service to the community with a special Frank Grimes Day on April 19, 1960, during the city's celebration of its 75th birthday.

Many honors came to Grimes because of his writings. He won a couple of Associated Press state awards. One was for a beautiful essay-type remembrance of "Christmas at Copper Cove."

The other was for an editorial

Conservative Group Is In Session Here

A group of Snyder area conservatives were told last night that they should tie themselves to a philosophy of government, rather than a man.

J. Rich Anderson of Borden County and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Finley of Lubbock spoke at the meeting held in the Harrell Building here.

Anderson told of the work of conservative groups and of the Constitution Party in West Texas. Anderson was a candidate for Congress on the Constitution Party ticket from the 19th district in 1960.

"The mistake of conservatives in the past is that they have been tied to a man rather than a philosophy of government," Dr. Finley said.

He said the Socialist party has never won an election in America, yet the Socialist party platform of 1948 and the Democratic party platform of 1960 are virtually identical.

"We conservatives must convince the national political parties that a conservative candidate is needed in 1964 and that we will back only a conservative candidate," Dr. Finley declared.

Plans were made for a second meeting of the Snyder-Scurry County conservative group on Tuesday, Aug. 29. Other conservatives have been urged to watch for an announcement of the meeting site and to make plans to attend. De facto organization of a conservative group will be made at that time.

And sure enough, the next June 17, devilfish started getting him out of bed as the clock started striking midnight.

Night Club Is Destroyed

EDISON TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP)—An explosion and fire destroyed a night-club on Route 1 early today. Authorities termed the blast of suspicious origin.

The club, which featured live entertainment, was closed for the night and there were no patrons inside.

The club is owned by a corporation and police did not know how large an interest Braselle had in it.

Critically burned in the fire was Joseph Famularo, 43, of Brooklyn, N.Y. He was taken to a hospital with first- and second-degree burns on 30 per cent of his body.

"How are Jim and Joe?" Famularo asked a hospital attendant, which led police to believe that two men may have been trapped or injured in the fire.

Police at Keyport, notified Edison Township officials that a man with first- and second-degree burns on 90 per cent of his body was picked up in Keansburg and taken to a hospital in Red Bank in critical condition.

The man picked up in Keansburg—about 20 miles from here—was identified as Herbert Buckman, 42, of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Uruguay's entrant, Monica Moor-Davie, 22, was voted the title of Miss Friendship.

Outside Directors Assume Control Of Chrysler Corp.

By BEN PHILGAR

DETROIT (AP)—Outside directors—men who hold no management positions with the company—have taken control of the Chrysler Corp. for the first time since the late Walter Chrysler founded the auto firm in 1925.

Following a meeting in New York Thursday the corporation announced the resignation of L. L. "Tex" Colbert as chairman, president, chief executive officer, chief operating officer and director.

The directors installed Lynn A. Townsend as president and abolished the rest of Colbert's jobs, even reducing the number of board members by one—to 17.

For Colbert they created a new post—chairman of the board of Chrysler of Canada, Ltd. This will enable him to keep his stock (15,000 shares at $52.49 a share, slightly above the present market price) and to remain eligible for his Chrysler pension ($92,250 a year when he retires nine years hence).

The action came exactly one year after Chrysler disclosed he had fired his previous president, William C. Newberg, because he owned half interests in two companies whose sole business was making parts for Chrysler.

Newberg had been Colbert's personal choice and close friend. Newberg was dismissed June 30, 1960, but it was not until July 29 that the corporation spelled out the reason.

After Newberg, Chrysler tried without success to lure top men from other auto companies as president with Colbert to remain as board chairman.

Meanwhile lawsuits against Colbert and the directors by dissident stockholders complaining of the management began to pile up. Last fall a committee of the outside directors set out to find a new man, Townsend, a financial expert who only joined the company in 1967, was told early this week he was their choice.

Townsend's elevation came concurrently with the company's announcement it had made a $6.2 million profit in the second quarter of 1961. Chrysler lost $21.9 million in the first quarter.

Townsend, 42, who became administrative vice president last December, has been the chief architect of a drastic cost-cutting program at Chrysler.

Both Colbert and Townsend refused to elaborate on the meeting in New York. So did George H. Love of Pittsburgh, who became chairman of the new executive committee of the corporation. In addition to Love its members are R. E. McNeill of New York, Neil McCulloch of Cincinnati, L. F. McCollum of Houston and Townsend.

When the Chrysler board meets Love will preside. He said he will resign as chairman of M. A. Hannah Co. and as director of National Steel Corp. to devote more time to Chrysler.

From its inception until the past April, Chrysler's board has been dominated by company employees and controlled by the president or board chairman who has the power to fire such employees.

In April the board offered a revised slate of directors to the annual meeting which for the first time put the balance of power with directors not working for Chrysler.

ATTENDING CONVENTION—These four women left Snyder Thursday morning for Houston to attend the American Legion Auxiliary Convention. They are mem-

Hope Ahead For The Homebound

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Their lives are circumscribed by four walls. They have never been inside a school. And their dreams, the kind all children have, must be carefully conditioned for a bleak future.

These are the thousands of handicapped youngsters in the nation who are homebound, destined to a lifetime of dependence on others — family, friends, perhaps strangers later.

Up until now, if the pattern varied it was only in degree. But a five-year pilot project by the Federation of the Handicapped holds promise of help.

The prevocational evaluation study was launched in 1959 to determine whether or not homebound adolescents, when properly trained, could hope to become independent and self-supporting adults.

At the end of the second year, Jean Bloom, rehired coordinator, says cautiously:

"I'm optimistic. Some cases won't be successful, but we now see some areas where these youngsters can be employed."

The figures are encouraging: Of 47 enrolled in the project this year, 25 have been judged capable of working, either at home, in a sheltered workshop or in industry. They will go on to college and business or trade schools, or be trained by Federation supervisors far earning at home, or enter the Federation's instrument repair work division on a learn-and-earn training basis.

Of the 22 remaining, 13 will go back in the fall for the second year of evaluation. Only 9 were dropped from the program as unable to be considered for work.

The New York program, financed by city, state and federal funds, is an expensive operation loaded with psychiatrists, psychologists, therapists and training instructors.

A small community couldn't afford it. But what the group learns from its five years of study will be put into a manual that a small community could modify for its own needs.

What's a typical day in the project?

In the morning the teen-agers discuss general areas of occupation: job personality (you can't tell the boss off, for example) and how to write application letters. Employment interviews, which almost everyone is afraid of, are acted out.

In the afternoon the youngsters are given projects to complete, and their work is evaluated. The jobs include pasting, sobecting colored wires for electrical projects, and various tasks to show dexterity and possible aptitude for metal and jewelry lathe work, radio repair, mechanical drawing and clerical work — inserting, collating, typing, switchboard.

"Many have emotional problems as a result of their handicaps," says Miss Bloom. "We offer therapy to get over feelings to helplessness and depression and to encourage them to use their talents."

Some 17 year olds couldn't leave their mothers, who had to come with them every time. After seeing psychologists for awhile, they became weaned, and made the trip by themselves in special buses.

"Mothers have had to take to so much care of them, unless they're encouraged to be independent. The teen-agers often act more like babies."

Psychiatric counseling is given mothers, sometimes fathers on a limited basis.

Occasionally families won't accept the fact THEIR child is retarded or disabled.

At the other extreme is the parent who neglects the child. One lad in a wheelchair tells fantastic stories of how his father takes him out fishing just like a pal. Actually, the father rejects him and the submissive mother offers no protest.

Keeping your legs well-groomed consists mostly of scrubbing. There's just no skin-softer ever invented that's better than a soap-suds scrubbing—using a body brush or even a nail brush.

Dior Line Salute To String Bean

By NADEANE WALKER
PARIS (AP) — The new Dior line is a salute to the string bean. Marc Bohan's creations, shown this morning, not only fit—they cling like a glove. With the audience, it was the big hit of the season.

Named "Charm 62," Bohan's latest line hugs the figure to the knee, where the hemline stops in a tiny flare. The waist, instead of being nipped, is widely hugged by a corset band or belt.

It is the first full-hearted return to a tight fitting silhouette. Audience applause and comments were enthusiastic for the first time in a rather bohemian season.

As second string to his bow, Bohan also made skirts that flared jauntily from the hip. There were some bell and gathered evening skirts, but far more sinuous sheaths.

Many hemlines showed a sliver of knee, ranking among the shortest of the season, and scotching the rumor that the designer might drop his skirts this time.

Hats are tiny head-hugging helmets that frame the brow and all the hair.

Jacqueline Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, sat in the main salon in a black sheath and pearls, jotting notes. Mrs. Bohan, the designer's wife, occupied a place among the working press.

In a sleeveless red linen dress with pleated skirt, she soon took off dark harem glasses to gaze with unconcealed enthusiasm at her husband's models. She found nearly everything "tres jolie" (very pretty), and clapped heartily for many minutes.

Churches who are active members of United Church Women of Snyder are the Episcopal, Lutheran, First Christian, First Methodist, Trinity Methodist, Union Methodist, Presbyterian, Fluvanna, Dunn and Buford Methodist.

A nursery will be available at the church for the convenience of those who need it. Every church woman and minister is asked to attend the meeting.

The Coolest A Summer Sandwich

Summer's best meal, the coolest, no-fattening idea for hot weather, is the sandwich meal. On summer's worst days serve sandwiches made interesting with variety spreads and variety breads. For example, we suggest you try the new Horis loaf containing a cup of wheat germ which gives a rich, nutty flavor yet a tender texture to the bread.

Put out different kinds of bread, and let the family fix their own sandwiches with a variety of these fillings:

Cream Cheese with: Cranberry jelly, chopped pecans, cucumber, pimiento, figs, dates, raisins, olives, green pepper, marmalade, crushed pineapple or ripe olives.

Pimiento Cheese with: Raisins, chives, watercress, chopped olives, or chopped nuts.

Chicken or Tuna Fish with: Celery, currant jelly, dill pickles, chopped egg, chopped ham, tongue, liver, cucumbers, tomatoes, lettuce, chopped almonds.

Hard-Cooked Egg with: Lobster, pimiento, minced bacon, raw spinach, mustard pickles, chili sauce, celery, devilled ham.

Peanut Butter: Jelly, pineapple, raisins, dates, figs, bananas, prunes, honey.

Dunn 4-H Girls Hold Meeting

The Dunn 4-H Club met Tuesday at 5 p. m. with eight members and one leader present.

During the social hour the girls made drop biscuits.

Local Women Attend TWU Workshop

Two Snyder women were in Denton July 24-28 to attend a special Texas Woman's University workshop on the Bishop method of rapid clothing construction.

They are Mrs. James H. Amos, 2309 Forty-second Street and Mrs. Ted E. Zock, 3007 Forty-first Street.

The workshop, sponsored by TWU's College of Household Arts and Sciences, was attended by more than 130 women from all parts of the United States. The Bishop method adapts industrial shortcuts to home sewing methods, making construction of garments both easier and faster.

Both women teach in the Snyder School system.

HUNTER, JONES BLAST HOMERS

Snyder Nationals Eliminated, 5-3

The Snyder National Little Leaguers made a valiant last-ditch stand in the late innings here last night after falling by 5-3, but were felled by 5-3 by the Sweetwater Nationals to be eliminated from the playoff picture.

By virtue of the victory, Sweetwater gained entrance into the District 5 finals of tonight in Abilene against Abilene Dixie, as the Dixie stars nipped Snyder by 5-2 in eight innings in other action of the same evening. That game will be played beginning at 8 p. m. on the Western Little League diamond.

Southpaw Jerome Hall, a curveball specialist who had things completely in hand for the first four innings, chunked the four-hit victory for Sweetwater. He managed to scatter the four safeties given up, with three being one collected in each of the final four frames for Snyder.

Two of those hits, however, were "big ones." Robert Jones led off the fifth by poling the first pitch—a high-and-insider—over the left field fence to break the scoring ice for Snyder.

Then the following inning, after Murray Bowden had gotten on base by error, Snyder shortstop Roy Hunter strode to the plate, and with 0-2 the count against him proceeded to blast another out of the park, this one to right field to cap off the scoring fireworks for the local nine. Hall settled down at that point to force Don Jones to fly out to center, Steve Moffett to strike out, and Robert Jones to line out to second to end the game.

Bill Greif hurried for Snyder, giving up six singles over the span. He experienced trouble in the second and fourth innings which led to his downfall, as the visitors bunched all their runs in those two innings.

Three of those runs were tallied in the second. Kinney Bonner singled through the box to lead off, while follow-up hitter Charley Perkins popped out to second. Joe Birmingham walked to advance Bonner to second, and then Bill Jones went down swinging for the second out. Dale Critz walked to load the bases, and Randy Reed singled past first to platter Bonner with the ice breaker. Hall beat out an infield single to short—the second of three hits he collected for the night—to score Birmingham, and then David Guthrie slapped a grounder toward Tommy Sinclair which got through him to allow Critz to score the final run of the inning as Snyder right fielder Tommy Bullard rifled home to nip Reed attempting to score all the way from second.

In the fifth, Birmingham struck out to start the inning. Bill Jones walked and eventually made it to second by error. Critz struck out, but Reed kept things alive by singling past short, advancing Jones to third and taking second himself on the throw to the plate. A wild pitch allowed Jones to score standing up, then Hall dropped a Texas League single into short left to bring in Reed with the final Sweetwater run of the game.

Oddly enough, all five Sweetwater runs were scored after two were out, while the three Snyder runs were collected with none a way.

Hunter, who had singled in the fourth prior to his two-run circuit smash in the sixth, led the Snyder batsmen at the plate.

The game was played before a capacity overflow crowd under clear and windless conditions.

Wall, who laughed agreement when someone suggested his 67 was probably his best played round since his sizzling last day 66 in the 1959 Masters, finished late in the day and wrested the first-round lead from defending champion Jay Hebert of Lafayette, La., and chunky Ernie Vossler of Oklahoma City. They had 66's.

Little Jerry Barber and former champion Doug Ford were at 69 with Bill Heinlein, 50, club pro from Carmel, Ind., playing in his 11th PGA. Yanks Win; Now Full Game Ahead

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Luis Arroyo probably won't get a vote when they pick the most valuable player in the American League but where would the New York Yankees be without him?

The senior from Puerto Rico was not at his best Thursday night when he made his 40th appearance in 96 games (including one tie) but he finally got the job done.

Ralph Terry, making his first start since July 15 after a bout with shoulder trouble, had the Chicago club eating out of his hand with a three-hit shutout and "one out in the ninth. Two hits in a row prompted Manager Ralph Houk to call for Arroyo. Luis walked in one run and let two more score on Gamble Carson's single before he got pinch hitter Sherm Lollar to bounce into a game-ending double play for a 4-3 victory.

As a result of this decision, the Yanks opened a full game lead on the idle Detroit Tigers. Baltimore completed a four-game series sweep over Boston with a 6-5 decision behind Chuck Estrada. The Orioles blasted loose with six runs in the seventh inning, rapping three Boston pitchers for four doubles and a single and collecting three walks, to overcome a 5-2 deficit.

Harmon Killebrew's 31st home run put Minnesota out front to stay on route to a 5-2 victory over Washington. Don Lee made the lead stick with a neat four-hitter. Bobby Del Greco earned his keep in Kansas City with an eighth-inning home run that beat Cleveland's Mucedat Grant. 2-1. Reliever Jerry Staley was the winner.

In the National League, Cincinnati held tight to first place by one game over Los Angeles. The Reds jouled a game loose from Milwaukee 2-1 and Los Angeles thumped Philadelphia 11-4. San Francisco blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 and Chicago edged St. Louis 3-2.

The Yanks' Roger Maris, who leads the majors with 40 homers, and catcher Elston Howard, hitting .362, were injured. Maris aggravated a pulled leg muscle while sliding out a double. Howard was cut on the side of the head when hit by the backlash of Floyd Robinson's bat. Both think they will be able to play tonight against Baltimore.

Harlin Oiler Nine Nipped

ABILENE — The Shamrock Oilers greased Snyder's Harlin Oilers here last night in the featured contest of the District 11 Amateur Softball Association Tournament, 3-1.

The loss, though a definite setback, was not the final chapter, as it was the initial loss in the double elimination journey for the Harlin nine. Wednesday action had seen them downing the Key City Fencers of Abilene in their tourney opener.

Activity of tonight will see Harlin and the Brownwood Dr. Pepper crew tangling at 6:30 at Key City Park in a battle for survival. The loser, of course, will be ousted from contention, while the winner will take on the Ericksdahl Swedes in an 8 o'clock follow-up game. The Swedes were swamped in other Thursday play by Athletic Supply, 11-2, while the Sweetwater Hawks eliminated Key City by 7-0 on a no-hitter by Chick Epperson.

In the Shamrock-Harlin clash, Shamrock inched out to a 1-0 lead in the first, but Harlin came storming back in the fourth to knot things when James Weson doubled and eventually traipsed home on a

Junior Editors Quiz on PLANTS

QUESTION: When a seed sprouts, why does it grow upward?

ANSWER: A sprouting seed does not just go up; it goes both up and down. The root, the part which goes down, starts first. Roots, in some wonderful way, are sensitive to gravity, the force which pulls all things toward the center of the earth. This instinct of the root to go down is called geotropism or earth-turning. The upper part of the plant has another instinct, phototropism or light-turning. Both air and sun are needed if the plant is to survive, and by a marvelous power the fragile little plant feels the light above it and gropes it's way up in the dark.

FOR YOU TO DO: Fill a jar half full of water, float some cotton on it, and place a bean seed on the cotton. It will sprout after while and then you can watch the root go down and the plant go up.

(Kenny Boyer of Beaverdale, Pa., wins $10 for this question. Mail your question on a card to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper. If duplicate questions are received, we will select the winner.)

Nudists Say Their Way 'Wholesome'

SYCAMORE HOLLOW, Kan. (AP)—Paul Arnold and his wife are stopping at Sycamore Hollow on their vacation because they find it comfortable and relaxing to go without clothes and enjoy renewing acquaintances with old friends who do.

"We also think it's a wholesome and healthy way to live for children," said Arnold, 30, a graduate student from Lansing, Mich.

"Since nudism became an organized activity in this country around 1920 or 1930, there hasn't been a case of sexual delinquency among us. The divorce rates are significantly lower, too."

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold and their 2-year-old son are at the annual convention of the Midwest Sunbathing Association. They will be at San Bernardino, Calif., next week for the national convention and plan to visit Berkeley, where he was born and reared.

At Sycamore Hollow they put up a tent, set up a camp stove, stowed groceries in an ice chest and plunged into the business of registering delegates and guests. Mrs. Arnold is secretary-treasurer of the association and he is a director.

About 400 persons are at the convention and at least a third of them were tied up Thursday in business sessions, hearing committee reports and wrestling with the $2,000 budget for next year. Most were nude.

Those not in business sessions attended to camp chores, swam in the new pool, hiked or com-

Change Of Career Leads Man To Fame As Author, Scholar

By FRED GOLDEN

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—At the turn of the century in his native Oregon City, Ore., a serious boy named Kenneth Scott Latourette was planning a career in either banking or law.

Instead, he journeyed to China as a missionary.

Out of this youthful change of direction has grown an extraordinary life of scholarly achievement and Christian dedication.

Now 77, Latourette is an authority on the histories of Christianity and China and has turned out 87 books on the subjects in the last 54 years.

Latourette's books have sold more than a million copies in English alone—an amazing number for works of scholarship. And they have been widely translated.

His monumental work is the seven-volume "The History of the Expansion of Christianity" published from 1937 to 1945. Many clergymen consider his "A History of Christianity" (1953) an essential part of their libraries.

Although he is comfortably past the Biblical age of three score and 10, this remarkably vigorous man declines to slow his pace. He is presently exploring the story of Christianity in the last 160 years in the fourth book of a five-part series, "Christianity in a Revolutionary Age."

Looking back to 1909, Latourette says, "I became a missionary because it seemed the right thing to do at the time."

"Many of us felt that we had a duty to fulfill, both as Christians and Americans. We didn't think we could meet this obligation by slipping into a comfortable profession at home."

"It was a kind of Peace Corps 50 years early."

Latourette was a traveling secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions in 1909-10 and then joined the faculty of Yale in China at Chang-shai, an interior city.

He was forced to cut short his missionary-teaching career in 1912 because of a bad bout with dysentery.

Back in the United States, Latourette joined the history faculty at Reed College. He discovered he had talent for writing while working on his doctoral thesis at Yale, on the early relations between the United States and China.

He is a Baptist—or Evangelical Christian as he prefers to call himself—and was ordained as a Baptist minister in 1913. He was president of the American (Northern) Baptist Convention in 1951 and was a member of the committee that drafted the constitution for the World Council of Churches.

However, Latourette's treatment of the impact of Roman Catholicism is regarded as scrupulously fair. He notes with obvious satisfaction that his works have been placed on file in the Vatican and that the Maryknoll Fathers have read aloud his seven-volume "Expansion."

Because he sees hope for mankind, Latourette belongs to the school of historians best described as optimists.

He believes the Christian faith has not lost its vigor in competition with other worldwide forces and cites as proof the 60,000 missionaries stationed around the world.

Speaking with the detachment of a historian, Latourette says, "The 20th Century was one of the greatest days in the history of Christianity and, if the world was viewed as a whole, never before had Christ been as influential in the affairs of the human race."

Trouble For Nothing

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Burglars who broke into a safe in a food broker's office at Mobile could have saved themselves some trouble if they had just read a sign on the strength.

The sign said, "Notice: There is no money in this safe. Go elsewhere."
