DEMOS WIN SENATE AND HOUSE CONTROL

Dr. Sutton Is Guest Of School Board

The Snyder school board last night had as its special guest Dr. Willis Sutton of Atlanta, Ga., retired school superintendent who is in the Snyder schools this week working with students.

The board discussed various problems of schools with Dr. Sutton.

During the meeting the board had as its audience a few members of the high school student council, Joe Overton, Paula Dupree, and Joel Hamlett, who with their sponsor, Miss Virginia Grove, told of a recent trip to Tulsa to attend the annual convention of the Southern Association of Student Councils.

After their meeting with the board, Dr. Sutton, founder of student councils, discussed reasons they were started in the Atlanta schools. He said that in the late 1800s, the American high school was unpopular both with students and taxpayers, that the students were not becoming as good citizens as some thought they should. Student councils were taught to teach the students good citizenship. The student council was used to get students to participate in spirit in the school program and to teach them responsibility.

During his talk with the board, Dr. Sutton commended board members for their work in providing the best in education for Snyder students. As far as he knew, he said, the Snyder schools were the only ones attempting to provide special projects for gifted students to keep them learning, as is done in the high school science department and as is being studied for all levels of education here.

During the meeting the board voted to accept funds totaling $9,550 from the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education for a special staff utilization project in the high school.

The board will meet next week with Fred Buford of Dallas, architect for the schools on the high school addition to Lincoln School, and discuss with him plans for the high school building there.

THE PRESIDENT AND MAMIE VOTE—Smiling broadly, President and Mrs. Eisenhower cast their ballots in an old-fashioned ballot box as they voted in the tiny voting place in Gettysburg, Pa., a few miles from their battlefield-fringe farm.

County Supports Adlai Stevenson

Scurry County went back into the Democratic column in Tuesday's election, giving Adlai E. Stevenson 2,693 votes to 2,250 for President Eisenhower, according to complete, unofficial returns.

In 1952 Scurry County had supported Eisenhower by 2,619 to 2,480. Thus, the total vote in the general election this year in Scurry County was slightly less than in 1952.

Stevenson led in 17 of Scurry County's 20 voting boxes to pile up his margin. Eisenhower carried three voting boxes and led in the absentee vote.

In the governor's race, Price Daniel, Democratic nominee, polled 3,490 votes, while W. Lee O'Daniel, a write-in candidate, received 880, and William Bryant, the Republican candidate, received 349 votes.

Adlai Gets Borden Vote

GAIL — Borden County remained in the Democratic column in Tuesday's general election. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic candidate for president, received 240 votes, while President Eisenhower had 127 votes in complete, unofficial returns. Stevenson had carried Borden County by a narrow margin in 1952.

In the governor's race, Price Daniel, the Democratic nominee, had 291 votes, W. Lee O'Daniel, a write-in candidate, 56 votes, and William Bryant, Republican candidate, 12 votes.

All eight of the proposed state constitutional amendments were approved by a wide margin by Borden County voters.

Ike Wins By Big Margin

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Democratic Sen. Alan Bible was re-elected to the Senate from Nevada today, giving the Democrats control of the Senate.

By The Associated Press

President Eisenhower won re-election with a thunderous personal endorsement from the American people in yesterday's balloting. But he lost his coveted goal of a Republican Congress.

Fighting off the tide that gave Eisenhower a victory margin of nearly nine million votes over Adlai Stevenson, Democrats won control of the House. They appeared to be winning the Senate also.

Eisenhower racked up 41 states with 457 electoral votes and had rolled to an 8,647,000 popular vote margin over Stevenson in returns at 1 p.m.

But despite this greatest popular vote bulge in any presidential race since 1936, Democrats elected the 219 members they needed to keep control of the House. Republicans had elected 197. Democrats were leading in 14 of the undecided races and Republicans in 5. One Democratic victor, from a normally Democratic area, died today. A special election will be called to fill the vacancy.

In the Senate, the Democrats were assued of 48 seats, just one shy of the 49 needed for control. Republicans had 45 assured seats.

The undecided Senate races involved the re-election bids of Sens. Francis Case (R-SD), Earle Clements (D-Ky), and Alan Bible (D-Nev), In each instance, the incumbents were leading on incomplete returns.

In the wake of the election, Eisenhower was moving to weld bipartisan backing for administration policy in dealing with the Suez crisis and the Eastern European situation.

He asked both Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to a White House conference on Friday.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty, asked whether the President planned to call a special session of Congress, replied that the President had no such plans "at the present time."

Report Of Shooting Disturbs Cease-Fire

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptian army headquarters announced that British and French forces were still attacking Egyptian forces and the population today in Port Said despite the cease-fire order.

A British-French statement in Cyprus said there had been no fighting in Port Said since the cease-fire became operative at 2 a.m. Egyptian time but "there has been a case of looting by Egyptians this morning."

LONDON (AP)—Reports of continuing shooting shadowed a shaky cease-fire in the Middle East today.

Prime Minister Eden told the House of Commons there had been "some shooting" during the day at Port Said in the Suez Canal area. He said Britain had no official confirmation that Egypt accepted a U.N. cease-fire order.

The Cairo radio, in a broadcast reported from Beirut, charged that British-French forces were continuing attacks "in defiance of the U.N. call for a cease-fire."

Threats of Communist intervention, and a declaration by Premier David Ben-Gurion of Israel indicating he will refuse to pull back troops from the Gaza Strip and Sinai Peninsula further threatened the hair-triggered peace, only hours old.

Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov, in a Bolshevik revolution anniversary speech in Moscow, declared Russia was ready to send military forces to throw British, French and Israeli troops out of Egypt—if the United Nations approves.

Two of Russia's satellites, Romania and Czechoslovakia, offered in New York to contribute troops to the United Nations as part of an international police force in the Middle East.

An Egyptian diplomat in Hong Kong said 250,000 Red Chinese have volunteered for "Egypt's struggle against aggression." Soviet reserve officers were reported by another Egyptian diplomat in Moscow to be volunteering.

Eden said he did not wish to emphasize the shooting at Port Said.

He declared Britain and France had not the "slightest intention" of moving ahead of their present positions, or pushing in additional forces aside from administrative and security elements.

In Jerusalem, Premier David Ben-Gurion declared the 1949 armistice with Egypt is a dead letter. He said Israel will not agree to any foreign forces "no matter under what name" being stationed on Israeli soil or territory she occupies. The occupied territory includes Sinai and the Gaza Strip.

The Ben-Gurion statement appeared to rule out any Israeli withdrawal, even for a U.N. police force to move in.

The crux of the situation facing the U.N. General Assembly was what to do about these forces already in Egypt. The Security Council already has refused to take up a Soviet plan for United States and Russian intervention.

The Egyptian Embassy in Moscow said Soviet reserve officers had volunteered for service in Egypt.

The Egyptian ambassador to Red China reported in Hong Kong that 250,000 Chinese Communists had volunteered to join "Egypt's struggle against aggression."

British and French forces which seized the northern end of the Suez Canal zone in an invasion launched Monday were under orders to hold their fire unless attacked.

The government-controlled Cairo radio told Egyptians there was a cease-fire, but ordered them to resume fighting "if the enemy shoots or advances one inch."

Military headquarters on both sides were silent.

Might Quit Party

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY, newly re-elected Negro congressman, says he might quit the Democratic party. He supported President Eisenhower for re-election.

Amendments Are Okayed By County

Campaigning by school personnel evidently paid off in Scurry County as well as in others when they urged citizens to vote for Amendment No. 4 in the several proposals voted upon yesterday during the general election.

In Scurry County, voters approved No. 4, the teacher retirement amendment, 3,453 to 539, the biggest majority given in this county to any of the eight proposals voted upon yesterday.

All eight of the proposals carried in Scurry County, as well as in the state. Next was proposal No. 1, which was the amendment authorizing the Legislature to award payment to persons sentenced for crimes and later found innocent. That one carried here by 3,191 to 524.

The closest of all in Scurry County voting was on No. 2, that proposing authorization of commissioners court to reallocate tax funds, carrying here by 2,202 to 1,313.

Other amendments and the votes cast here for them:

No. 3, on college fund, 2,548 for, 823 against.

No. 5, veterans land fund, 2,657 for, 939 against.

No. 6, change in the oath of office, 2,592 for, 550 against.

No. 7, jury trial waiver for sanity trials, 2913 for, 573 against.

No. 8, denial of bail, 2,557 for, 899 against.

Demos Winning Congress Races

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats clinched control of both branches of Congress today despite the avalanche of votes that swept President Eisenhower back into office in yesterday's election.

At 1:23 p.m. today they elected their 49th senator to give them a numerical edge. Earlier, at 12:50 p.m. they elected their 219th representative to assure a majority in that branch.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Democrats elected enough House members for numerical control at 11:50 a.m. (CST) today but one of their winners died shortly after his re-election in a normally Democratic district. The vacancy must be filled in a special election, with a Democratic successor taken for granted.

The member-elect who died was Antonio Fernandez of New Mexico, a veteran of 14 years.

Democrats had elected 18 senators and Republicans 15, with Democrats ahead in undecided contests in Kentucky and Nevada and Republicans leading in South Dakota. Democrats have 31 holdovers for an assured 48 seats, one short of a majority, while Republicans have 30 holdovers for a minimum of 45 seats.

Republican Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, one of Eisenhower's earliest supporters, went down to defeat at the hands of Democrat Joseph S. Clark Jr., 55-year old former mayor of Philadelphia.

The Democrats beat Sen. Herman Welker, in Idaho; Sen. George H. Bender in Ohio.

The Republicans picked up three seats from the Democrats, so the net effect there was a stand-off. The Republican gains were made in New York, Kentucky and West Virginia.

In the battle for control of both the House and the Senate in the new 85th Congress that will assemble Jan. 3, Republican candidates generally lagged far behind Eisenhower.

In Pennsylvania for example, Duff trailed Clark by nearly 35,000 votes which Eisenhower was sweeping to victory in the state by better than half a million votes.

In the first 30 Senate races to be decided, each party won 15.

Bids To Be Considered

The commissioners court is to meet here at 2 p.m. tomorrow to consider alternate bids on the county library project.

The meeting was originally scheduled for today, but it was postponed until tomorrow because of the crowded schedule of M. C. Butler of Lubbock, architect on the project.

Bids were taken on the project last week, with nine contractors submitting proposals. The two low bidders were later asked by the commissioners to turn in alternate bids after a few revisions were made in plans, cutting costs some.

The low bidders were A. J. Allen of Levelland with $89,458 and T. E. Shelburne & Son of Snyder with $90,200.

Cable For Traffic Lights Arrive Here

Cable for innerconnecting traffic signal lights for synchronization here has arrived and installation will begin soon, Roy Dunlap, city manager, said.

City employes will install the cable and light controls, he said.

Classes May Be Offered

A new series of first aid classes will be started Monday in a meeting to be held here under direction of the Civil Defense organization.

All persons interested in the course have been urged to attend the meeting, according to Roy Dunlap, county civil defense director, and Mrs. Homer Ray, who have both been helping in arranging the classes.

The meeting will be at 9 a.m. Monday on the second floor of the main fire station. Durward Porter, fire chief, and Joe Middleton have been conducting the first aid courses here.

The new class will take 18 hours of instruction. The first class will last for two and one-half hours, and those enrolling will determine how often the group will meet.

One day class of first aid instruction has been completed except for examinations, which will be held tomorrow night, and a night class is now underway on Monday and Tuesday nights.

Johnson Is Called To Special Meeting

AUSTIN (AP)—A source close to Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Senate majority leader, said today Johnson had been called by the White House to a special bi-partisan meeting Friday.

The meeting was called to consider the international crisis. The call to Johnson was one of the first acts since President Eisenhower's re-election yesterday.

Russians Attack Hungarian Town

VIENNA (AP) — The shelling of Budapest by Soviet troops reached its highest point last night, and food in some areas of the city was running out.

Trustworthy information on the besieged city, received today, gave this picture:

Soviet forces have been systematically trying to wipe out pockets of resistance. Hospitals and clinics were among the targets. At a time yesterday when Moscow was broadcasting that all resistance had been liquidated, shelling of the city was increasing.

A score of Russian tanks were reported destroyed in one engagement between Russians and Hungarians near the French legation. This and other legations have been damaged. The dining room of the Duna Hotel was knocked out.

About 700 Hungarians continued to resist in the rubbled Killian barracks. In some cases women were manning the guns.

Today Hungarian Communist stations went off the air abruptly.

In London, a British minister told the House of Commons the Communists had imposed a strict curfew in Budapest and were shooting any violators on sight.

A rebel broadcast said Dunapentele, an anti-Red stronghold in the Danube valley south of Budapest, was under Soviet attack and Russian planes were bombing the town. This report came in a broadcast by Radio Rakoczy monitored in Munich by Radio Free Europe.

Then Radio Rakoczy, presumably a portable transmitter, announced that it was ceasing transmission indefinitely.

Hours before, the Russian-controlled Radio Budapest and stations at Pecs, in southern Hungary and at Szombathely, near the Austrian frontier, had mysteriously fallen silent.

Lord John Hope, British undersecretary of state for foreign affairs, told the Commons reports to London indicated fighting was still going on in Budapest late last night despite repeated Russian demand for surrender of the rebels' arms.

"Some sections of the town were in flames," he said.

"According to a Red Cross report, civilian casualties from Russian firing have become very heavy. There is a complete curfew and anyone seen on the streets is liable to be shot by Soviet troops."

Hope said the Communists had abandoned pretense that Hungarians are fighting side by side with the Russians.

New Mexico Solon Dies

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Rep. Antonio Fernandez, 54, (D-NM), re-elected yesterday to an eighth term in Congress, died today.

He had been in a coma following a stroke suffered while he was making a campaign talk Oct. 25. He suffered a second stroke Sunday night.

The lawmaker's death, under New Mexico law, means his position is vacant and it will be necessary to call a special election to elect another New Mexico congressman at large.

Rep. John J. Dempsey, also a Democrat, won re-election also in yesterday's election. The Republican losers were Forrest Atchley and Dudley Cornell.

Two Peddlers Are Arrested In Snyder

Police arrested two peddlers here yesterday and later released them on bonds of $25 each, Travis L. Steele, police chief, said.

The two men were soliciting orders in the residential area for bronze plating of baby shoes, Steele said.

They were E. T. Tucker, 20, and Joe Liberty, 19, both employes of a shoe bronzing firm in Odessa.

A Snyder city ordinance prohibits door-to-door soliciting in residential areas of Snyder.

683 Ballots Are Seized

HOUSTON (AP)—U.S. Atty. Malcolm Wilkey and his staff hesitated 24 hours before impounding 683 absentee ballots cast in Zapata County.

The federal officials, who have claimed that some ballots may be fraudulent, didn't seize them until election officials in the Texas border county started to tabulate the votes.

The seizure was made about 9 p.m. last night by U.S. Deputy Marshall Joe Davis of Laredo.

Twenty four hours before a deputy marshall from Houston had been in Zapata County and decided not to impound the ballots because state District Judge R. D. Wright had already signed an order impounding them.

Roosevelt Wins

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Democratic Rep. James Roosevelt, son of the late president, won a second term in Congress. Roosevelt got 12,076 votes to 5,076 for Republican Edward Gibbons.

Ike Gets Texas Electoral Votes

By The Associated Press

Dwight D. Eisenhower, born in a railroader's humble house in Denison, pocketed Texas' 24 electoral votes Wednesday in the most smashing Republican victory in state history.

For the second straight time, Texas' native son crushed rock-hard Democratic political tradition and swept the state to defeat Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

The way he did it in Tuesday's general election brought jubilation to the Republican party and shock to the Democrats.

He out-distanced his own surprising victory in 1952 and made Herbert Hoover's 1928 upset of Al Smith in the state—by 26,004 votes—pale in comparison.

It was the fourth time in Texas history for the Democrats to lose a major race in Texas. The venerated Sam Houston was the first to beat the Democrats. He did it in 1859 with insurgent Democrats and the Know Nothing Party helping. His opponent for governor was Hardin Runnels.

That it was an Eisenhower personal victory could be seen in the fact that only one other Republican won a major office—a congressman from Dallas County.

Otherwise the Democrats swept the field where Republicans and Constitution party canddates were entered. Few opponents of the Democrats put up real campaign fights.

Price Daniel won his race for governor with no effort.

Eight state constitutional amendment proposals won by comfortable margins.

Texas Election Bureau figures, issued at 10:30 a.m., showed Eisenhower had 55.67 per cent of the Texas vote.

This figure, considered remarkable in political circles, outstripped his 1952 victory percentage of 53.22 per cent.

The vote was Eisenhower 879,236, Stevenson 690,237 and Coleman Andrews, Constitution party, 9,974.

Sen. Price Daniel defeated Republican William Bryant and W. Lee O'Daniel, an active write-in candidate. The latest vote gave 1,042,310 for Daniel, Bryant 217,760 and O'Daniel 84,438.

Russians Offer Troops To Halt Middle East Dispute

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov called on the United Nations today to end what he termed the "armed aggression" of Britain, France and Israel against Egypt and offered Russian troops to help do the job.

Zhukov addressed the gigantic Red Square celebration of the Bolshevik Revolution's 39th anniversary.

Diplomats of the United States, Britain, France and all other members of the Atlantic Alliance except Iceland and Denmark stayed away in protest against the Soviet intervention in Hungary. Asian and African diplomats were solidly in attendance.

Several hundred thousand civilians shoulted "Glory to the Soviet Union" as they marched almost endlessly through Red Square.

Civilian marchers carried banners demanding "Hands off Egypt" and "Out of Egypt, imperialist aggressors." Other banners praised the Hungarian workers for "defeating fascism."

Zhukov's statement was made several hours after Britain and France had announced conditional acceptance of a U. N. cease-fire order. The Soviet marshal made no reference to the cease-fire.

Speaking at a Red Square celebration of the 39th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, Zhukov said in a speech broadcast by Moscow radio:

"The Soviet Union calls upon the United Nations resolutely to stop the armed aggression of Britain, France and Israel against Egypt and actively to support the Arab peoples in their struggle for freedom and independence.

"As regards the Soviet Union, she is prepared, in accordance with a U. N. decision, to take a real part with her armed forces in the liquidation of this aggression."

Zhukov also defended Russia's military intervention in the Hungarian rebellion and declared "reaction and fascism" had been put down in that country. He described the revolt in Hungary as "actions of the counterrevolutionary forces aimed at liquidation of the popular democratic regime and the restoration of fascism in that country."

The U. N. Security Council on Monday refused to take up a Soviet proposal that the council order Russian and U.S. forces to go into Egypt. The United States termed the proposal "unthinkable."

It appeared unlikely that the Russians could muster a two-thirds backing in the Assembly for the proposal.

There has been widespread speculation, however, that the Soviets might send "volunteer" forces to Egypt, just as Communist China poured "volunteer" into the Korean War.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Reef Discovery Seen In Fisher

Flowing discovery from Canyon reef lime has been indicated in Ada Oil Co. No. 1 Swann, Southeast Fisher County wildcat.

The oil developed on a drillstem test from 4,419 to 4,435 feet. Open 20 minutes, the test surfaced gas in one minute, mud in seven and oil in 11, with no estimate on rate of flow.

Recovery was 310 feet of oil.

Another test was scheduled at total depth of 4,460 feet.

Location is ⅝-mile southeast of the Eskota (multipay) field, 1,614 feet from south and 1,007 feet from east lines of northwest corner of Robert Spires survey No. 283, and six miles northeast of Eskota.

Drilling is to start in the near future at two wildcats in Howard County.

Cosden Petroleum Corp. of Big Spring No. 1 Garrett is to be a 7,000-foot Spraberry prospector in the northwest part of the county.

It is seven miles north of Big Spring and 1,980 feet from south and 2,010 feet from east lines of section 48, block 33, T-2-N, T&P survey. The drillsite is three miles southeast of the Bond (Spraberry and Canyon) pools.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corp. No. 1 Waters, West Terry County wildcat, eight miles southwest of Gomez has recovered some new oil from Spraberry perforations at 8,330-71 feet.

That zone was treated with 5,000 gallons. It then swabbed and flowed 63.62 barrels of fluid in three hours. Then in the next 24 hours it swabbed 148.86 barrels of fluid. There was no breakdown on that fluid.

That was followed by the swabbing of 157 barrels of load oil, 55.48 barrels of new oil, plus 31 per cent water in an unreported length of time. Then 139.33 barrels of undescribed fluid was swabbed out in 20 hours. Testing continues.

The prospect is eight miles southwest of Gomez and 1,750 feet from north and 990 feet from west lines of section 118, block D-11, C&M survey.

This wildcat has shown possibilities of discovery production in the Devonian. That formation will be evaluated after testing in the Spraberry is completed.

One mile west and slightly south of production in the Nena Lucia (Odom lime) field of Southwest Nolan County, Union Oil Co. of California No. 1-87 Compton flowed gas and recovered oil.

Test from 6,803 to 7,052 feet, in the unidentified formation, open three hours, surfaced gas in 42 minutes and recovered 150 feet of heavily gas-cut mud and 270 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

Operator set 5½-inch casing at 7,006 feet and was waiting for cement to cure on last report.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 87, block 1-A, H&TC survey, 20 miles southeast of Colorado City.

It was 11 miles southwest of Maryneal and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 84, block 1-A, H&TC survey.

Stocks Jump On News Of Re-Election

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market responded to President Eisenhower's re-election today with a spirited advance that sent key issues up as much as $2 a share.

Activity was brisk from the start, and the upward trend was apparent moments after the opening gong.

The day after Eisenhower's first election victory four years ago, the market reacted with an initial surge that sent prices of key stocks sharply higher.

That was the story Nov. 5, 1952. Four years later, at the start of trading today, the Associated Press average stood at $181.90, for a net gain of $75.70 since the 1952 election.

American Telephone opened up ⅞ at 170⅞ today and Sears Roebuck is up ⅛ at 31⅞.

Republic Steel was up ⅜ at 56, Standard Oil (New Jersey) up at 59 and International Nickel up 1⅛ at 104½.

The advance swept all divisions. The ticker tape fell behind 2 minutes.

State Demo Solons Win In Election

By The Associated Press

Democrats appeared to have swept all their contests for the Texas Legislature Tuesday.

Five areas had opponents for the Democrats, but returns indicated a Democratic sweep.

Hubert Hudson of Brownsville, Democratic nominee for the state Senate, defeated Republican C. W. Davis of McAllen better than a 2-1 margin. Hudson led 13,754 to 5,336.

Henry Gonzales of San Antonio defeated Republican Jesse Oppenheimer. With 136 boxes of 148 complete, the Democratic nominee for the state Senate held a commanding 11,918-vote lead.

Democrat Wilson Foreman smashed to a strong lead over GOP candidate Robert Fagg at Austin, 8,254 to 2,733.

Six Harris (Houston) County Democrats took commanding leads. Included were four incumbents, Bill Elliott, Robert Baker, Ed Winfree and Cris Cole. Newcomers apparently elected were Frank Mann and Paul Pressler.

Jean Hosey, incumbent at Galveston, took 3-1 margin over Republican Ralph Owens Jr. and held it all night.

The first Australian television transmission channels are now in experimental use, the circuits being used by companies the tallest of its type in the world. Estimated age is between 350 and 400 years.

Wagner had aspired to follow in the footsteps of his father, the late Sen. Robert F. Wagner, sponsor of the Wagner Labor Relations Act and other New Deal legislation.

The mayor carriedNkC ew Yo

The mayor carried New York City by almost 450,000 votes, but could not cope with the upstate outpouring of Republican ballots.

In contrast with Wagner's run in the city, Stevenson carried the traditionally Democratic stronghold by only 62,904 votes. The count was: Stevenson 1,614,825; Eisenhower 1,551,921.

And upstate, Eisenhower took city after city and district after district by larger margins than he did four years ago.

Unofficial returns indicated the voters approved a 500-million-dollar bond issue for highway construction but had defeated a 100-million-dollar bond issue to encourage private construction of middle-income housing.

Eisenhower's plurality in New York State in 1952 was 848,000 votes.

High Court Upholds Law

AUSTIN (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today a new law giving school trustees the power to levy and collect annual maintenance taxes and issue bonds.

The law, by the last Legislature, was tested on a direct appeal from Hamilton County by C. H. King, sueing the Carlton School District.

Under the new law, the annual maintenance tax may not exceed the maximum established by a majority vote of the resident qualified taxpaying voters.

The suit was brought to restrain the Carlton trustees from levying the tax or issuing the bonds authorized by an election. The trial court denied the injunction and upheld constitutionality of the act. The Supreme Court's decision affirmed this.

Ballots Run Out Tuesday In Hardin

SILSBEE (AP)—An estimated 389 Hardin County residents couldn't vote yesterday because ballots were lacking.

Election judges at five boxes said they ran out of ballots and could get no more.

Hardin County's voting strength exceeds 6,000 and only 5,000 ballots were ordered printed by County Judge Fletcher Richardson. He said he ordered the ballots printed on the basis of the 4,100 persons who voted two years ago.

L. D. Self, election judge at Silsbee, said he had only 1,818 ballots for a potential vote of 2,700. He said he turned 200 voters away.

At Sour Lake Frank Mitchell said he turned 75 voters away. W. A. Tanner said he turned 60 away at the Loeb Box. C. E. Reed, of the Chance box, said he turned 50 away and at the Thicket Box, Eddie Lofton turned 4 away.

Democrat Adlai Stevenson carried the county 2,319 votes to President Eisenhower's 2,182.

The bodies and wreckage were found scattered over a three-quarter mile area. The plane crashed and exploded.

The flaming wreckage destroyed a barn. Several homes and buildings were just west of the crash scene. There were no reports of other damage or injuries.

Home Sewing Puts On Airs

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The sewing machine has made a "clothing constructor" of the latter-day seamstress, says Mrs. Edna Bryte Bishop, fashion consultant and educator.

Mrs. Bishop says "pins and basting" are now taboo in garment preparation. Instead it's "stitch and press."

The garment is "constructed" by cutting, fitting, sewing and pressing, she advised, adding:

"Constant fitting eliminates many mistakes and directional pressing and stitching are musts."

Mrs. Bishop, who calls McDonald, Pa., home, was here to conduct one of the many classes in sewing she teaches over the nation.

YOU AND YOUR TEEN-AGER

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Is your teen-ager a snob? Some high schoolers are, and there is a need for parents to recognize the symptoms when they exist and take steps to stamp out snobbery.

The unfortunate effects of snobbery are not limited to those teen-agers who are ostracized from "the elite group" and made to feel as outcasts. Being scorned, ridiculed, or laughed at or purposely ignored is never pleasant and the snubbed teens may spend many lonely, unhappy hours, but their situation is really no worse than that of those who are doing the snubbing.

Snobbery can be a dronic disease. It eats into the personality making it sick, and spreads like a cancer. It attacks character and warps it. The person who feels he must point his nose to the sky is really not convincing anyone — save a few hurt classmates who lack understanding — of his superiority, but in fact is advertising his sick personality and need for better adjustment.

What makes a snob a snob? Most of us have the makings. We all want to stand out from the crowd and be admired. Not all of us have the "what with" to do it. Some who do can accept praise gratefully and in turn admire others who have qualities of merit.

The snob not only has the "what with" to gain attention, he has an abnormal need for it and depends upon his reputation of superiority as a lame man does his crutch. Without it he is a heap of crushed humanity.

Oftimes the snob acutally thinks he is superior. And he may have been endowed by nature or fortune with generous blessings. However subconsciously, like the braggart, he feels inferior and constantly called upon to prove his value.

A snob may be led into snobbery by others whose personalities are worse off than his own. To be accepted by a certain group he may find he must join them in making fast the chain of a closed circle and persecuting those outside it.

The friends of a snob are few and superficial. The life he leads is an empty one.

As your teen-ager cannot be both a snob and a Christian, as a parent you must step in, deciding which your child will be and influencing him accordingly.

By long talks and, if necessary, stern action, you can do it. In later years you'll be very glad you took the time and care to rear so wonderful a son or daughter.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Reef Discovery Seen In Fisher

Flowing discovery from Canyon reef lime has been indicated in Ada Oil Co. No. 1 Swann, Southeast Fisher County wildcat.

The oil developed on a drillstem test from 4,419 to 4,435 feet. Open 20 minutes, the test surfaced gas in one minute, mud in seven and oil in 11, with no estimate on rate of flow.

Recovery was 310 feet of oil.

Another test was scheduled at total depth of 4,460 feet.

Location is ½-mile southeast of the Eskota (multipay) field, 1,614 feet from south and 1,007 feet from east lines of northwest corner of Robert Spires survey No. 283, and six miles northeast of Eskota.

Drilling is to start in the near future at two wildcats in Howard County.

Cosden Petroleum Corp. of Big Spring No. 1 Garrett is to be a 7,000-foot Spraberry prospector in the northwest part of the county.

It is seven miles north of Big Spring and 1,980 feet from south and 2,010 feet from east lines of section 48, block 33, T-2-N, T&P survey. The drillsite is three miles southeast of the Bond (Spraberry and Canyon) pools.

C. W. Guthrie of Big Spring No. 1 Anna Bowden is to be a 3,500-foot wildcat in Southeast Howard, 10 miles southeast of Coahoma.

The location is 330 feet from south and east lines of section 64, block 29, W&NW survey.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corp. No. 1 Waters, West Terry County wildcat, eight miles southwest of Gomez has recovered some new oil from Spraberry perforations at 8,330-71 feet.

That zone was treated with 5,000 gallons. It then swabbed and flowed 63.62 barrels of fluid in three hours. Then in the next 24 hours it swabbed 148.86 barrels of fluid. There was no breakdown on that fluid.

That was followed by the swabbing of 157 barrels of load oil, 55.48 barrels of new oil, plus 31 per cent water in an unreported length of time. Then 139.33 barrels of undescribed fluid was swabbed out in 20 hours. Testing continues.

The prospect is eight miles southwest of Gomez and 1,750 feet from north and 990 feet from west lines of section 118, block D-11, C&M survey.

This wildcat has shown possibilities of discovery production in the Devonian. That formation will be evaluated after testing in the Spraberry is completed.

One mile west and slightly south of production in the Nena Lucia (Odom lime) field of Southwest Nolan County, Union Oil Co. of California No. 1-87 Compton flowed gas and recovered oil.

Test from 6,803 to 7,052 feet, in the unidentified formation, open three hours, surfaced gas in 42 minutes and recovered 150 feet of heavily gas-cut mud and 270 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

Operator set 5½-inch casing at 7,006 feet and was waiting for cement to cure on last report.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 87, block 1-A, H&TC survey, 20 miles southeast of Colorado City.

It was 11 miles southwest of Maryneal and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 84, block 1-A, H&TC survey.

Stocks Jump On News Of Re-Election

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market responded to President Eisenhower's re-election today with a spirited advance that sent key issues up as much as $2 a share.

Activity was brisk from the start, and the upward trend was apparent moments after the opening gong.

Big blocks changing hands at the opening included Royal Dutch up $1 at $106.75, Boeing ahead $1 at $57.50, Kaiser Aluminum up $1.65 at $57.62 and General Electric up 25 cents at 62.25.

The day after Eisenhower's first election victory four years ago, the market reacted with an initial surge that sent prices of key stocks sharply higher.

That was the story Nov. 5, 1952. Four years later, at the start of trading today, the Associated Press average stood at $181.90, for a net gain of $75.70 since the 1952 election.

American Telephone opened up ⅞ at 170⅞ today and Sears Roebuck is up ⅜ at 31⅞.

Republic Steel was up ⅝ at 56, Standard Oil (New Jersey) up at 59 and International Nickel up 1⅛ at 104½.

The advance swept all divisions. The ticker tape fell behind 2 minutes.

State Demo Solons Win In Election

By The Associated Press

Democrats appeared to have swept all their contests for the Texas Legislature Tuesday.

Five areas had opponents for the Democrats, but returns indicated a Democratic sweep.

Hubert Hudson of Brownsville, Democratic nominee for the state Senate, defeated Republican C. W. Davis of McAllen better than a 2-1 margin. Hudson led 13,754 to 5,336.

Henry Gonzales of San Antonio defeated Republican Jesse Oppenheimer. With 136 boxes of 148 complete, the Democratic nominee for the state Senate held a commanding 11,918-vote lead.

Democrat Wilson Foreman smashed to a strong lead over GOP candidate Robert Fagg at Austin, 8,254 to 2,733.

Six Harris (Houston) County Democrats took commanding leads. Included were four incumbents, Bill Elliott, Robert Baker, Ed Winfree and Cris Cole. Newcomers apparently elected were Frank Mann and Paul Pressler.

Jean Hosey, incumbent at Galveston, took 3-1 margin over Republican Ralph Owens Jr. and held it all night.

The first Australian television transmission channels are now in experimental use, the circuits being used by companies the tallest of its type in the world. Estimated age is between 350 and 400 years.

Eisenhower Gets Large Vote In NY

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower piled up a plurality of approximately 1,500,000 votes over Adlai Stevenson in winning New York's 45 electoral votes.

The Republicans also gained a seat in the U.S. Senate as Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits defeated Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, Democratic-Liberal candidate, by some 50,000.

Returns Wednesday from 11,071 of the state's 11,132 election districts, with traditionally Democratic New York City complete, gave:

For president — Eisenhower 4,286,301; Stevenson 2,731,562.

For the Senate—Javits 3,679,150; Wagner 3,240,392.

Javits will succeed retiring Democratic Sen. Herbert H. Lehman.

Wagner had aspired to follow in the footsteps of his father, the late Sen. Robert F. Wagner, sponsor of the Wagner Labor Relations Act and other New Deal legislation.

The mayor carriedNkC ew Yo

The mayor carried New York City by almost 450,000 votes, but could not cope with the upstate outpouring of Republican ballots.

In contrast with Wagner's run in the city, Stevenson carried the traditionally Democratic strongold by only 62,904 votes. The count was: Stevenson 1,614,825; Eisenhower 1,551,921.

And upstate, Eisenhower took city after city and district after district by larger margins than he did four years ago.

Unofficial returns indicated the voters approved a 500-million-dollar bond issue for highway construction but had defeated a 100-million-dollar bond issue to encourage private construction of middle-income housing.

Eisenhower's plurality in New York State in 1952 was 848,000 votes.

High Court Upholds Law

AUSTIN (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today a new law giving school trustees the power to levy and collect annual maintenance taxes and issue bonds.

The law, by the last Legislature, was tested on a direct appeal from Hamilton County by C. H. King, sueing the Carlton School District.

Under the new law, the annual maintenance tax may not exceed the maximum established by a majority vote of the resident qualified taxpaying voters.

The suit was brought to restrain the Carlton trustees from levying the tax or issuing the bonds authorized by an election. The trial court denied the injunction and upheld constitutionality of the act. The Supreme Court's decision affirmed this.

Ballots Run Out Tuesday In Hardin

SILSBEE (AP)—An estimated 389 Hardin County residents couldn't vote yesterday because ballots were lacking.

Election judges at five boxes said they ran out of ballots and could get no more.

Hardin County's voting strength exceeds 6,000 and only 5,000 ballots were ordered printed by County Judge Fletcher Richardson. He said he ordered the ballots printed on the basis of the 4,100 persons who voted two years ago.

L. D. Self, election judge at Silsbee, said he had only 1,818 ballots for a potential vote of 2,700. He said he turned 200 voters away.

At Sour Lake Frank Mitchell said he turned 75 voters away. W. A. Tanner said he turned 60 away at the Loeb Box. C. E. Reed, of the Chance box, said he turned 50 away and at the Thicket Box, Eddie Lofton turned 4 away.

Democrat Adlai Stevenson carried the county 2,319 votes to President Eisenhower's 2,182.

The victims were Capt. Francis Bouchard, pilot; Maj. Joseph Wilford; and Capt. Lee Ellis Jr., all living at the Altus base with their families. The home town of fourth officer, Lt. Andrew Toalson, was Bartlesville, Okla.

The bodies and wreckage were found scattered over a three-quarter mile area. The plane crashed and exploded.

The flaming wreckage destroyed a barn. Several homes and buildings were just west of the crash scene. There were no reports of other damage or injuries.

Home Sewing Puts On Airs

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The sewing machine has made a "clothing constructor" of the latter-day seamstress, says Mrs. Edna Bryte Bishop, fashion consultant and educator.

Mrs. Bishop says "pins and basting" are now taboo in garment preparation. Instead it's "stitch and press."

The garment is "constructed" by cutting, fitting, sewing and pressing, she advised, adding:

"Constant fitting eliminates many mistakes and directional pressing and stitching are musts."

Mrs. Bishop, who calls McDonald, Pa., home, was here to conduct one of the many classes in sewing she teaches over the nation.

Shoulder Pads

It's best to wash foam rubber shoulder pads in thick soap or detergent suds. Rinse and press out excess moisture. Let them dry before sewing them back into place.

YOU AND YOUR TEEN-AGER

By BEVERLY BRANDOW

Is your teen-ager a snob? Some high schoolers are, and there is a need for parents to recognize the symptoms when they exist and take steps to stamp out snobbery.

The unfortunate effects of snobbery are not limited to those teen-agers who are ostracized from "the elite group" and made to feel as outcasts. Being scorned, ridiculed, or laughed at or purposely ignored is never pleasant and the snubbed teens may spend many lonely, unhappy hours, but their situation is really no worse than that of those who are doing the snubbing.

Snobbery can be a dronic disease. It eats into the personality making it sick, and spreads like a cancer. It attacks character and warps it. The person who feels he must point his nose to the sky is really not convincing anyone — save a few hurt classmates who lack understanding — of his superiority, but in fact is advertising his sick personality and need for better adjustment.

What makes a snob a snob? Most of us have the makings. We all want to stand out from the crowd and be admired. Not all of us have the "what with" to do it. Some who do can accept praise gratefully and in turn admire others who have qualities of merit.

The snob not only has the "what with" to gain attention, he has an abnormal need for it and depends upon his reputation of superiority as a lame man does his crutch. Without it he is a heap of crushed humanity.

Oftimes the snob acutally thinks he is superior. And he may have been endowed by nature or fortune with generous blessings. However subconsciously, like the braggart, he feels inferior and constantly called upon to prove his value.

A snob may be led into snobbery by others whose personalities are worse off than his own. To be accepted by a certain group he may find he must join them in making fast the chain of a closed circle and persecuting those outside it.

The friends of a snob are few and superficial. The life he leads is an empty one.

As your teen-ager cannot be both a snob and a Christian, as a parent you must step in, deciding which your child will be and influencing him accordingly.

By long talks and, if necessary, stern action, you can do it. In later years you'll be very glad you took the time and care to rear so wonderful a son or daughter.

Our Good Neighbors

A study of U.S. exports and their destination just released by the United States Chamber of Commerce reveals that our best customer is not Europe, with its 335 million people, or Latin America, with 170 million, or the rest of the world with more than a billion people, but our next-door neighbor, Canada, with 16 million.

That's right: Canada. In 1955 our neighbor to the north absorbed 22 percent of all U.S. exports. Take Chicago, for example, with its unique water connections with Canada. In 1955 Illinois sold more stuff—$111 million dollars worth—to Canada than many nations did, including West Germany. Several American industrial areas, including Brooklyn, sell more to Canada than some entire nations. Even Texas made a pretty good showing, since Canada took $31 million worth of our products last year.

All told, Canada absorbed $3.4 billion worth of U.S. goods last year, out of a world total of $15 billion.

Since the end of the great war, the U.S. sold $5.5 billion more to Canada than we bought from her.

If Europe should from decadence or Communist conquest be lost to the U.S. as a market for our surpluses it would indeed be a severe blow, but not necessarily a fatal one.

In Canada we deal with a special people, pretty much like our own. In the rest of the Western Hemisphere, called Latin America, live other peoples not as closely related to us by blood, culture and political philosophy, yet not too far different as to foreclose the closest kind of understanding and cooperation.

We are selling so much to Canada because Canada is developing very rapidly. In Latin America the field of development is as wide as the sky. The same opportunity to develop Latin America as we are helping to develop Canada—at a profit, to put it cold-bloodedly—exists down South of the Border.

That will take time, a better understanding of our neighbors to the south, all-out cooperation with them, and endless patience and ingenuity.

But the opportunity is there—magnificent opportunity. If the markets of Europe and Asia are lost to us, as seems not too remote a possibility, our energies should be turned to helping our Latin neighbors develop as Canada is developing. By raising their living standards they will become better customers of ours, so the enterprise is not entirely altruistic.

In any such development of the future Texas stands to gain more than any state in the Union. Our ports are the jumping-off place for short-route commerce with Latin America from Nuevo Laredo to Patagonia.

Circumstance may compel us to stop looking east, and cast our eyes to the north and the south.

Break In The Drought?

These scattered thundershowers, light as they are, begin to add up. Almost every section of Texas has been visited by them, and a few have received rains of major proportions. The long-range October 15-November 15 forecast of the U.S. Weather Bureau for above-normal rainfall over Texas is being borne out, and if continued to mid-month it will do a world of good.

It has already done a lot of good where rain fell in quantity. Dry-planted small grains are booming, and the makings of a winter season have been established, in many localities.

The long drouth has been with West Texas almost seven years, but in the last year or two it has settled down on most of the better-watered areas of Texas, including those with a relatively high rainfall. The effect has been devastating in many areas where even a short drouth can cause trouble.

We still have a long way to go before the great dry spell has been broken, but these fall rains give promise of better days ahead.

If the USWB forecast, well on the way to being justified, means good winter rains everywhere in the Southwest our people will have received a tremendous lift in their spirits and in their regional economy.

One good crop year at fair prices would do more for West Texas in particular than for any part of the United States, agricultural or industrial.

Just This Once—

It Is Clear That Russians Are Either Bluffing, Or Moving On Close To War

By JAMES MARLOWE
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russians are either bluffing or moving the world close to war. They may be bluffing to divert attention from the barbarism of their attacks on Hungary.

Their language was not precise, but they seemed to have warned the British and French yesterday to get out of Egypt, which those two American allies attacked last week.

The White House issued a statement which in turn seemed to warn the Russians not to attack the French and British. But the White House statement wasn't precise either.

Three things make the Russian warning to the British and French like a bluff:

1. They made it just after their own troops opened fire on the Hungarians for revolting against their Communist masters.

2. They proposed the United States join Russia in attacking the American allies in Egypt. If the United States did that, it would have no big allies and Russia would dominate the world. As could be expected, the White House said this was "unthinkable."

3. The Russians made their proposal in a way they knew couldn't work. They said the United States and Russia should act together, "backed by the United Nations," and they took their proposal to the U.N. Security Council. They knew before hand it would be vetoed there, if not by the United States, then by Britain and France. The council wouldn't even consider it last night.

The White House statement was issued last night through press secretary James C. Hagerty, but not signed by President Eisenhower.

It said in part "The introduction of new forces (into Egypt) would violate the U. N. Charter and it would be the duty of all United Nations members, including the United States, to oppose any such effort."

What wasn't clear in this statement was the use of the word "oppose." How would the United States "oppose" a Russian attack on the French and British? By attacking Russia or by making a speech in the U. N.? Eisenhower promised American forces would not be used in "these present hostilities" in Egypt.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) —Someone said the ideal time in history to have lived would be the Victorian era "with penicillin." But Arch Oboler believes the best time to live would be 10,000 years hence "because you wouldn't have to add any 'with' to it."

Oboler, you may remember, was one of the first and most talented of radio script writers to explore the mysteries of space and future eons. He has examined it in more than 800 radio dramas —but not yet on television.

The first Oboler work to be visible on the home screen is slated for the Jackie Gleason show (CBS-TV) next Saturday — 8 p.m. EST.) Not a drama, though nevertheless dramatic, it is entitled "A Prayer For the Atomic Age."

Meanwhile, his first Broadway play will open in Washington Nov. 12. Entitled "Night of the Auk," it stars Claude Rains, Wendell Corey and Christopher Plummer. It is concerned with a time after some tomorrow when space ships are a reality.

"It will be a wonderful time in which to live," said Oboler. "Individuals will participate in life much more than they do today when so many are merely spectators, suffering from 'sitis.' Then humans will move freely in space, transmitted as easily wherever they want to go as television images are transmitted today."

Oboler said he thought about "Night of the Auk" for five years and then spent two years writing it. His interest now is primarily in the theater, he said. Television drama?

"It's an exciting medium," he said. "The only trouble with it is that a writer meets with so much interference. In television everybody becomes a genius. A man who once saw a play puts on a Madison Avenue suit and suddenly becomes an expert in drama. It's only accidental when a television play comes out the way the writer wrote it."

Dayton Woman Presents Plan To Help Children

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Practical ways of helping America's young clubwomen create a better life for their children and the children of others was discussed by Mrs. K. R. Breidenbach, of Dayton, Ohio, at a meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs here.

Young Mrs. Breidenbach, junior chairman of the federation's international affairs department, outlined what she calls a "program plan practical" as a guide for the nation's 100,000 junior clubwomen the coming year.

State junior chairmen are urged to start off with stressing "daily prayers for world peace and understanding" as "our most important project in the field of international relations." She suggested at least one international program for the year, as well as a brief report on what clubs in other countries are doing at each meeting.

Mrs. Breidenbach urged that the 2,000 juniors who now have "pen friends" double their numbers, each member and her family writing to a clubwoman abroad regularly. They can get names and addresses of affiliated foreign club members, she said, by contacting Mrs. T. C. Carroll, chairman, council of international clubs, Shepherdsville, Ky.

Juniors were also urged to contribute, through the CARE organization, the "food, tools and hope" so desperately needed by the millions of refugees who today are still crowded in camps and hovels throughout the world." Also to "remember the Americas with a Pan-American Day," and to study and better understand the UN.

Another suggestion for junior clubs was to base an occasional program on the food and food habits of foreign countries. Mrs. Breidenbach cited as an example a recipe for a sweet called "Karethopeta" which she took from a little folder, "Recipes of S. S. Queen Frederica," proceeds from the sale of which benefit the needy children of Greece.

Exotic fare is offered in the UN cookbook, "Favorite Recipes from the United Nations, obtainable for $1.50 at the U.S. Committee for the UN, 816 21st St., N. W., Washington 6, D.C.

"If you have a pet foreign recipe of your own," Mrs. Breidenbach suggests, "please share it with the rest of our gals."

Two Uncertainties Which Plagued Our Business Are Removed Simultaneously

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the major uncertainties plaguing business in recent months have been removed today.

1. Business now knows which party will be in the White House for the next four years and the make up of the Congress for the next two years. Uncertainty over that sent tremors through the stock market a number of times this year.

2. The gullible who were wondering if the Russians had changed their spots now know they haven't. Events in Hungary show that the Russians still behave like Russians. Presumably our foreign policy and business planning can now be tailored to fit the confirmation of that knowledge.

With the election over, the open season for soothsaying gets under way. From now until Christmas industrial leaders, economists and about everyone else will predict what's in store for business, for the employed and the unemployed.

Unhatched statistics will be counted all over the place.

The trouble with the announced statistics, as far as the soothsayer is concerned, is that they show where we have been.

What those addicted to predicting the future of business need are statistics showing where we are now and where we are going.

Many economists arrive at these by projecting the past statistics into the future — a process about on par for accuracy with long range weather forecasting.

Not all of the uncertainties have been removed today by any means. There is the big question whether they will just be opening the door for increased Russian penetration of the Middle East and even of the Far East.

There is the uncertainty as to how long the Russians will get by with their occupation of Eastern Europe — even tanks and planes may not be able to hold a subjected people against its will for ever.

At home there is the uncertainty still as to how the consumer will react to the slowly but steadily rising prices on many items that he would like to but but could live without.

And undoubtedly uncertainties as yet unborn will come forth. American business has lived so long with one crisis after another as to expect new ones to arrive almost as regularly as the seasons.

Economists United Today In Predicting Prosperity

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen and economists — with only a handful of exceptions — are united today in predicting more of what one bank dubs "exuberant prosperity."

They are doing so for the most part without much hedging on such hazards as the outcome of the national election, the upheaval in Eastern Europe and the strife in the Middle East.

They appear to see the momentum of good times overriding national and international political turmoil.

"The outlook is bright" is the phrase that keeps popping up when industrialists — steel, autos, oil, machinery, rail equipment, even some textile executives — report on what has happened in their companies over the last nine months and what they foresee ahead. In many cases they are including the first part of 1957 as well as the remaining two months of 1956.

"Prosperity today is our biggest problem," says David F. Austin, executive vice president of U.S. Steel. The booming economy is taxing the steel industry's ability to keep up, let alone expand.

"a straining economy" is what the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York calls it today in its November survey. It sees "demand straining hard against supply in most basic lines and inflationary pressures threatening to gain the ascendancy."

But it finds present conditions mainly favorable, citing a new record for September in total civilian employment, a significant drop in the number of unemployed, a rise in the average factory worker's hourly wage rate, increasing industrial production, and a fairly satisfactory volume of retail trade.

"These trends in production, trade and employment add up to a condition of exuberant prosperity," the bank's economists report.

"Momentum from these forces alone would seem a strong indication that business will still be booming at the year's end."

Noting that businessmen "seem to be very hopeful that activity will be sustained well into 1957, at least," the bank finds it "difficult to quarrel with this view."

But true to their calling, the bankers then add some notes of caution.

Foremost they put "the rather unsatisfactory trend of corporate profits."

If the trend persists, the bankers see the possibility "that plant and equipment spending — now such a conspicuous feature of the boom — might be arrested."

The other uncertainty that the bank cites is "today's restrictive credit policy." It concedes the chance that tight money could slow down the boom in time.

Strange Kind Of Leopard Star Intrigues Scientists

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

PASADENA, Calif., Nov 7 (AP) — Astronomers are intrigued by a strange kind of leopard star—it appears to have chemical spots.

These spots or patches are quite different from the sunsports which appear on our own sun or star.

The leopard star is a naked-eye star in the constellation Virgo. It is about three times the size and double the mass of our sun. It shines with constant brightness, as does our sun, but is 100 times brighter.

But when astronomers analyzed the colors of its light through the spectrograph, a mystery appeared.

The spectrum or color lines of any star show particular vertical lines. Each line represents the presense of some specific chemical element existing in the star.

But with this star, the spectrum lines keep changing, quite unlike the spectrum lines from our sun.

One night the star shows strong lines representing elements like iron or europium. On another night, these lines become weak, and the lines for other chemicals, such as chromium and strontium, become strong.

Several theories are being explored to account for this leopard or spotted appearance, explains Dr. Armin J. Deutsch of the Mt. Wilson and Palomar observatories, operated by the California Institute of Technology and the Carnegie Institution of Washington.

One possibility is that powerful magnetic fields have concentrated chemical elements in certain areas of the stellar atmosphere, and these are seen consecutively.

Another is that the star could be pulsating, contracting and expanding at regular intervals, and thus giving weaker of strong spectrum lines from chemical components.

Eddie Constantine Proves Talent Scouts Were Wrong

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

PARIS, Nov. 7 (AP)—Back in the United States, talent scouts and movie producers told Eddie Constantine he couldn't make the grade as a singer.

Today, nine years later, the former California boy is one of the most popular — and best paid — entertainers in France.

His success in about 15 films, sales of his records and bookings at the Olympia Music Hall here where he appears in a variety show are undisputed. There remains a question as to the quality of his voice — a somewhat pleasant bass.

"He is the top singer in France," shout expatriate Americans gathered around his table at the fashionable Elysee-Matignon Restaurang after the show.

"He's done more for United States popularity here than the Marshall Plan and all the visiting senators."

"No Frenchman can sing so beautifully," whispers his wife, Helen, a Chicago-born former ballerina of the Ballet Russe.

But there are other Americans in this city who cannot explain Eddie's popularity. The only talent they credit him with is his facalty to acquire languages.

"He's the only American here who speaks French like a native," they say. "as far as his voice is concerned, he couldn't even rate in Podunk, U. S. A."

Making the grade back home is something Eddie doesn't like to talk about. It reminds him of countless hungry days, he says, of fruitless auditions and interviews, of cheap radio commercials and bit roles in some offbeat musicals.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

MY CONFESSION. By Sam Chamberlain. Harper.

Not many best-selling books, such as this one should be, have to wait 100 years for publication.

The waiting probably was a good thing for "My Confession" because have had to say about Sam Chamberlain's vivid, vain-glorious story of his Mexican War fights, duels, love affairs and other adventures can best be conjectured.

Sam was a Sunday school boy who grew in Boston to be a 6-foot-2 yellow-curled giant while still in his teens and who joined joyfully in the Mexican embroglio. After fighting and roistering through Mexico he deserted the army and got in on the California gold rush.

For most readers, I imagine, this will be the first time that the Mexican War really comes alive. In spite of Sam's extravagant and doubtless exaggerated amours, attacks and encounters, he makes real people out of his fellow GIs and out of Mexicans.

After returning to Boston, Sam married, started a large fmily, and began this book, which probably wasn't intended for publication. An artist of untutored but vigorous skill, he illustrated his manuscript with a hundred colorful drawings. Fifty are reproduced.

Sam became a decorated Civil War general and a government official. The manuscript, treasured for years in his family, finally fell into the possession of Life magazine, which published part of it last summer. The present book contains five times as much as Life, but still not much more than half the original.

Burial Site For Heroes Of Alamo Still In Dispute

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The exact burial spot for the heroes of the Alamo is still one of the unanswered questions in Texas history, 120 years after the historic battle.

An exact burial site never has been definitely established, although it is generally accepted that the bodies of the Texans were cremated by Santa Anna's Mexican forces after the Alamo fell March 6, 1836.

Historian John Brown, who first visited the Alamo in August, 1837, listed the final burial place as a peach orchard, then northeast of the Alamo. This is backed up by the accounts of several other historians.

Another version comes from a man who said he saw the bodies buried. Juan Seguin wrote that he gathered the remains of the Alamo dead, placed them in an urn and buried them near an altar in San Fernando Cathedral.

In Brown's account, he said the burial plot was enclosed by a white fence, upon which hung a plaque with the inscription: "Here were interred the remains of the Alamo garrison." Other accounts seemingly support this version.

John Sutherland, physician and historian who served as an Alamo courier, wrote this about the disposition of the remains:

"The pile (for cremation) being completed about 5 o'clock in the evening, March 6, it was lighted—this burned for two days.

"....Such of the bones as remained lay for nearly a year upon the ground, the ashes scatered by passing wind...until February, 1837, when they were collected in a crude coffin and interred with military honors in what was then a peach orchard, near the scene of the last struggle."

Eight Amendments To State Constitution Are Approved

By MARSHALL COMERER
The Associated Press

Texans tacked eight amendments to their ancient Constitution Tuesday.

The 40,000-word Constitution, adopted in 1876, has now been amended 129 times.

A ninth amendment, to give the Legislature power to provide aid to needy individuals permanently and totally disabled, will be voted on in a special election next Tuesday because of an oversight by the Legislature in setting the election date.

The amendment to improve teacher retirement benefits won by the widest margin, about 7 to 1.

Amendments which added 100 million dollars more to the veterans' land program and gave counties power to reallocate their tax funds were adopted by the smallest margins, about 2 to 1.

Latest returns from the Texas Election Bureau gave this vote for approval on the amendments:

1. Compensation for false imprisonment, 811,466 to 133,043.
2. Tax re-allocation, 580,427 to 293,111.
3. College fund, 676,513 to 195,815.
4. Teach retirement improvement, 927,039 to 121,669.
5. Veterans' land fund, 666,000 to 278,899.
6. Oath of office change, 681,716 to 138,198.
7. Lunacy trial waiver, 740,006 to 146,697.
8. Denial of bail, 687,327 to 184,614.

The amendments do these things:

1. Allow the Legislature to grant aid and compensation to persons who have been fined or imprisoned for offenses for which they were not guilty. The Constitution had permitted only release from prison or remission of fines.
2. Allow commissioners' courts discretion in allocating ad valorum taxes to various county funds. The Constitution had specified how much could be allocated to permanent improvement, jury, road and bridge and general funds.
3. Give 12 state colleges shares in a 5-cent ad valorem tax and removes the University of Texas, Texas A&M and their branches from that tax support. The latter institutions would build from the permanent university fund. The amendment also allows the permanent university fund to be invested partly in blue-chip corporate stocks instead of government bonds only.
4. Change the teacher retirement program so legislatures can improve teacher pensions and add disability and death benefits.
5. Expand the Veterans' land program by adding another 100 million dollars for land loans and creates a new administrative set-up designed to prevent irregularities.
6. Changes the wording of the oath of office for appointive officials.
7. Allow persons charged with insanity to waive a jury trial, except when a criminal offense is charged. Jury trials have been mandatory.
8. Give district judges the right to deny bail to persons twice convicted of felonies.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

ALL SEVEN TEAMS IN THE Southwest Conference, including Texas, are now rated above Notre Dame by football expert Dick Duenkel.

Duenkel's forecasts are published in the News each week.

Duenkel apparently believes Texas, whose record is the same as Notre Dame's, has played a rougher schedule than the Irish. And this despite the fact at Notre Dame has played Oklahoma and Michigan State.

It looks like we aren't the only ones that believes highly in the overall strength of the Southwest Conference.

Critics around the Southwest Conference are saying that if Texas A&M gets by SMU Saturday that it will have a clear path to the conference crown.

But some must have forgotten that the Ags must play Texas in Austin this fall. The Aggies have never beaten the Longhorns in Austin and we hardly believe the 1956 Aggies will be able to do what some of the finest teams in Aggie history have been unable to do.

Texas A&M has gone into Memorial Stadium in Austin distinct favorites a number of times in the past but the Cadets have never succeeded in outscoring the Steers in Austin.

Best Ag Teams Didn't Solve Austin 'Jinx'

We remember two occasions when it appeared almost impossible for Texas to hold off the Aggies any longer in games played at Austin. Those were the 1938 and 1940 seasons.

In 1938, the Longhorns lost every game they played until they met the Aggies in the season finale at Austin. A&M went into the game with a 4-3-1 season record and a heavy favorite to end the Memorial Stadium "jinx."

But it wasn't to be as the Longhorns defeated the Aggies that day, 7-6.

The biggest surprise of the entire series came in the next time they met at Austin—in 1940. Texas A&M went into the Texas game undefeated and was ranked as the No. 1 team in the nation.

An Aggie victory over the Longhorns that day would have meant a ticket into the Rose Bowl as Rose Bowl officials had already gone on record as saying the Ags would be the host team in the Pasedena classic if they won over Texas.

As we recall, fans everywhere were saying "it just can't happen this time" meaning, of course, that A&M would lose to the Longhorns.

SWC All-American Film To Be Shown Here

However, the jinx held as the Longhorns defeated John Kimbrough and Co., 7-0.

Don't believe anyone would argue the point that the 1940 Aggie team was the finest in A&M's history. But the Ags that year couldn't solve that Memorial Stadium jinx.

The jinx is almost bound to come to an end one of these days but until it happens we wouldn't bet on it.

Southwest Conference football fans of the city and area who would like to re-live the performances of its All-Americans since World War II may do so by attending a local theater tomorrow through Saturday.

The football film "All Americans of the Southwest" will be shown at the Palace Theater here this weekend.

Featured in the film are Bobby Layne of the Texas Longhorns, Doak Walker of the Southern Methodist Mustangs, Bob Smith of the Texas Aggies, Larry Isbell of the Baylor Bears, Dicky Moegle of the Rice Owls and Jim Swink of the Texas Christian Horned Frogs.

This information was sent to us in a letter from Warren Ferguson, Film Production manager of Houston.

Ferguson says for an added attraction back-ground music of each school's fight song will be played along with the showing of the grid stars.

The "Old Scotchman" of sports broadcasting, Gordon McClendon, will be calling the action.

Ferguson says he believes this is the first film ever to be shown in theaters in Texas that is devoted exclusively to the Southwest Conerence.

DENSON STILL LEADS

No Change In Tackle Leaders

The Tiger tackle leaders remained intact following last Friday's crucial game with the Sweetwater Mustangs.

Tackle Wiley Denson, who was in on 13 tackles in the Sweetwater game for the Tigers' high mark, continues to lead the Bengals for the season.

Denson, a 197-pounder, has made 55 tackles and assisted on 27 others for a total of 82.

Linebacker Joe Reaves was the second leading tackler in the Sweetwater game with 12 and his performance pulled him into a two-way tie for 4th with a season total of 66. Reaves' total, however, came in six games while the other leaders' totals came in 7. Reaves missed the Dumas game, with exception of booting extra points, because of a back injury.

Guard and linebacker Gary Hill continues as the second leading Tiger tackler for the season, adding nine in the Sweetwater game to boost his season mark to 75.

End Milton Ham is third with 70 and tackle Billy Phillips and Reaves are tied for fourth with 66 each.

Linebacker Bill Fowler is the only other Tiger above the 50-mark. Fowler was in on six tackles in the Sweetwater game, giving him a season total of 55.

Following is the Tiger tackle chart:

Colgate Star Sets Hot Pace

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — When Colgate football coaches say Guy Martin is thinking all the time, they're scarcely exaggerating.

Spectators who saw his great performance Saturday in that dizzy 55-46 loss to Army agreed he is a smart quarterback — one who calls signals with precision and imagination — as well as a ruber-armed passer who seldom misses his mark.

They said the same thing about him at Princeton three weeks ago after Martin turned in another great performance in a losing cause.

He came to that game right after taking a rigorous oral examination for a Rhodes scholarship. During the game he completed 10 of 15 passes for 95 yards and one touchdown, handing of for two others, kicking two of three extra points and saving one Tiger score by pulling down Tom Morris when he was almost free.

There was no exam before the Army game — and not too much Army pass defense — so here are the results: Martin pitched 36 passes and completed 24 for 259 yards. Two passes went for touchdowns and four others were set up by his bull's-eye tosses. He scored one himself, kicked four extra points and, as usual, directed the entire attack.

Apart from the figures, that's the kind of thing Martin has been doing ever since he was in high school in Milwaukee. At Shorewood High, he was cocaptain of the baseball, football and basketball teams, stood second in a class of 201 and was president of the student body.

Logart, Harris In TV Bout Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Isaac Logart, a familiar ring performer to television audiences, tonight will try to block Clarence (Duke) Harris' climb up the welterweight ladder.

Logart, winner of six out of seven starts this year, is a 2-1 choice in the nationally beamed 10-rounder (1 0p.m. EST, ABC) which marks the TV main event debut of the 24-year-old Detroit fighter.

Claassen Says Georgia Tech, Ags Will Win

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Using some of Tuesday's slightly used ballots to pick this weekend's college football winners. Last week's voting brought 38 winners from 46 decisions. That's an average of .826 and hiked the season's figures to 244 right, 71 wrong for .774.

This weeks picks:

Georgia Tech over Tennessee: the season's Dixie masterpiece and it could be as close as last year's 7-7 tie. Georgia Tech's slick senior back field foursome and the home field give the Engineers a slight edge over Johnny Majors and the Volunteers.

Minnesota over Iowa: This is a your TV morsel for Saturday afternoon. Both are in the running for the Big Ten Rose Bowl trip. Bobby Cox to keep the Gophers on the Pasadena path.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: The Sooners had their 1956 scare at Colorado last weekend.

Michigan State over Purdue: Len Dawson, Purdue's famed flinger, no up to par.

Stanford over Oregon State: John Brodie is the decisive factor. The winner of this one becomes No. 1 in Rose Bowl parade.

Clemson over Maryland: What a perfect spot for an upset.

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist: Jack Pardee and his hard hiting mates take another step toward the Southwest Conference flag.

Duke over Navy: It has been a dismal season for the Blue Devils but every cloud has its silver lining.

Syracuse over Holy Cross: Jim Brown and Jim Ridlon make up on one of the country's better halfback combinations.

Ohio State over Indiana: Too many Buckeyes.

Colorado over Missouri: A Colorado victory would insure the team a visit to Miami's Orange Bowl New Year's Day. John (The Beast) Bayuk will see to it that the Buffalos win.

Michigan over Illinois: The Illini have returned to normal.

Pittsburgh over Notre Dame: This is not Notre Dame's year.

Southern California over California: Even though Jon Arnett is gone the Trojans keep rolling along.

Skipping over the others:

Friday night

George Washington over Richmond, Hawai over Southern Oregon.

Saturday:

EAST: Army over William & Mary, Brown over Cornell, Colgate over Bucknell, Dartmouth over Columbia, Delaware over Rutgers, Penn State over Boston University, Princeton over Harvard, Vallanove over the Citadel. Yale over Pennsylvania.

MIDWEST: Detroit over Drake, Kansas over Nebraska, Wisconsin over Northwestern.

SOUTH: Auburn over Mississippi State, Florida over Georgia, Kentucky over Vanderbilt, Oklahoma A&M over LSU, Tulane over Alabama.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Arkansas, Houston over Tulsa, Texas Christian over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: UCLA over Washington, Oregon over Washington State.

PCC Standing Pat On Rule

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Presidents of Pacific Coast Conference schools have shut off hopes of penalized sophomores and junior football players regaining lost eligibility.

In a meeting yesterday, they also opened consideration of modifying the conference round robin grid schedule, now in only its first season of operation.

Such modification would permit schools to schedule more outside teams than the three currently permitted.

"The agenda of the meeting had to do wholly with the future," said President Robert Gordon Sproul of the University of California, "being based on the unanimously accepted premise that all existing obligations of the member institutions as to schedules and penalties should be fulfilled."

Questioned on the penalty issue, he said there will be "no further discussion of any penalties."

UCLA, Southern California, Washington and California were hit by PCC penalties last summer for illegal aid to athletes by alumni and booster clubs.

Players involved who are now sophomores and juniors were assessed loss of a year's eligibility. The ineligibility in the case of seniors was eased to allow them to play five games this fall. UCLA and Southern California were hit hardest.

Snyder Junior High Teams In Final Home Games Tomorrow

Snyder's two junior high football teams will play their last home game tomorrow night at Tiger Stadium with the Baby Tornadoes from Lamesa furnishing the opposition.

The 7th graders of the two schools will get the program underway at 6 p.m. with the 8th graders to follow immediately.

Both Snyder teams already own a win over the Lamesans but the coaches of the two local teams say the wins over Lamesa came only after a hard tussle.

In the first meetings, the Snyder 7th graders won by 20-6 while the local 8th Graders triumphed by 27-14.

Snyder 7th will carry an undefeated record into tomorrow's game, the Blue Devils having won all eight games played this season.

The Snyder 8th Graders have won five, lost one and tied one. The lone loss was a 13-12 decision to South Abilene while the tie came against Sweetwater, 14-14.

After tomorrow's games, the Snyder teams will journey to Big Spring next week to close out their 1956 seasons.

Another Snyder team, the Tiger Freshmen, will also be playing its next to last game of the season tomorrow. Coach J. P. Ward will take his freshmen charges to Stamford tomorrow night.

The Tiger Frosh, with a 4-4 record, will then close out the season here next week against Big Spring.

Following are the probable startin lineups for the Snyder teams in tomorrow's game:

Ags, Bears, Owls, Frogs Are Favored

By The Associated Press

Texas A&M, Baylor, Rice and TCU are favored to win Southwest Conference football games this week.

Oddsmakers gave A&M 7½ points over SMU at Dallas.

Baylor is a 13-point choice over Texas at Waco.

Rice is granted less than a point over Arkansas at Fayetteville.

TCU is a solid 3-touchdown favorite over Texas Tech at Lubbock.

FROM OLYMPIC GAMES

5 Nations Have Now Withdrawn

LONDON (AP) — Five teams have withdrawn from the Olympic Games and one other is debating pulling out as the world's biggest sports gathering approaches under the black cloud of increasing international tension.

Latest country to quit the Olympic Games are Communist China, Holland and Spain.

Peiping Radio said today China refused to send a team "because the International Olympic Committee persists in recognizing the Olympic committees of two Chinas and allows Taiwan (Formosa) to send a team to the Olympics."

Egypt withdrew its team Aug. 12. Iraq pulled out Nov. 3 because of the grave Middle Eastern situation.

Switzerland is under pressure to resign from groups protesting against the Russian suppression of the Hungarian freedom movement.

From other countries came news of uncertainty about Olympic Games participation.

The Russian intervention in Hungary nearly stopped Denmark from competing. Finally, after considering protests against Danes competing with the Russians, the Danish Olympic committee decided to send 32 athletes and leave the decision whether to compete to five Olympic officials. They will decide after arrival in Melbourne.

Tech Badly Crippled

LUBBOCK (AP) — Texas Tech comes up to its game with TCU this week in probably its worst condition of the season.

The thin squad has just lost its fifth starter—halfback Ronnie Herr, who had a shoulder separation in Tech's 13-13 tie with Oklahoma A&M last week.

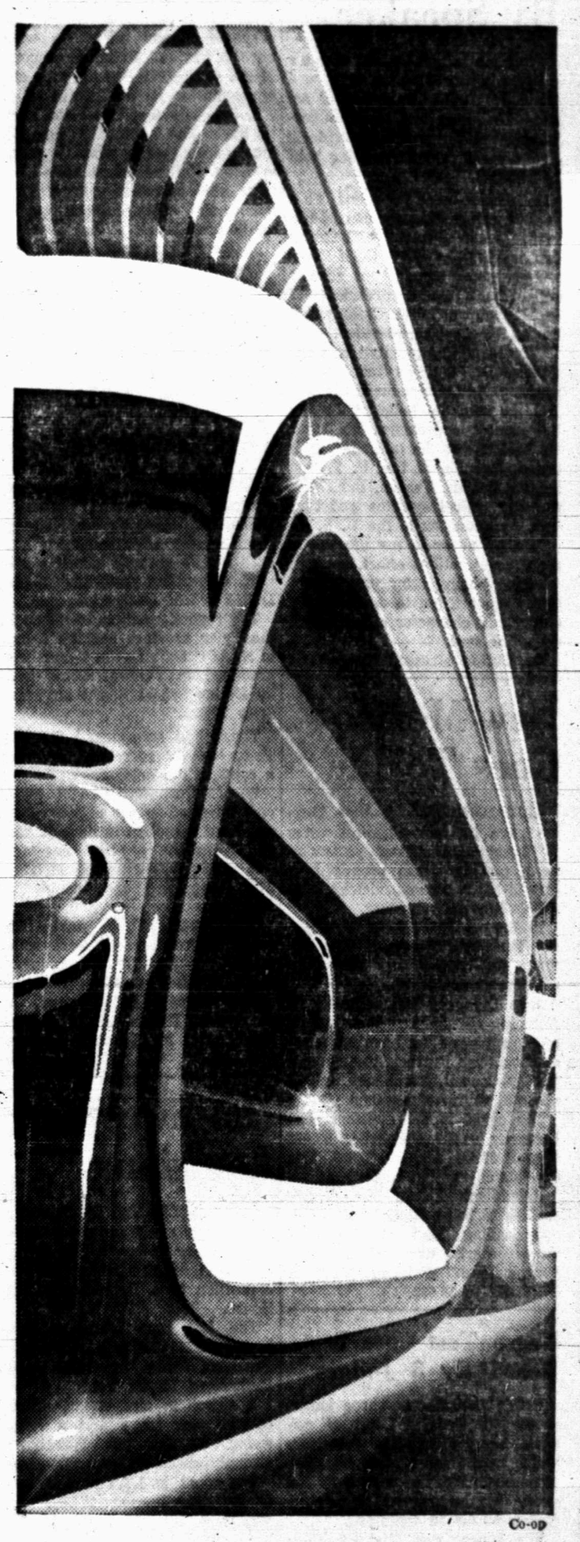

Halfback Milton Vaughn may miss his second game in a row as the result of an ankle sprain.

Quarterback Buddy Hill, who has a knee injury, will be used only as a spot performer.

Two linemen are out. They are tackle Bob Kilcullen with a broken wrist and Barton Massey, center, with a fractured elbow.

Texas Tech's 1956 football squad includes 15 seniors, eight juniors, and 27 sophomores among its 50 varsity candidates.

Arlington State is the only undefeated team left in the Pioneer Conference. The Rebels also lead the conference race with two victories in two starts.

Arlington took over the undisputed lead last week when San Angelo beat Tarleton State 48-28.

Arlington State plays oft-beaten Ranger at Arlington Saturday night. San Angelo is host to Schreiner, also winless in conference play. Tarleton is idle.

Attendance for the 79-day American Bowling Congress tournament at Rochester, N. Y., averaged 1,058 paid admissions per day.

School Here Is Praised By Speaker

"Our job is to pass on to our children a world better than we found it," Dr. Willis Sutton of Atlanta, Ga., long-time school superintendent told members of Snyder's civic clubs at a joint meeting held yesterday.

Dr. Sutton, here to spend the week working with students of the Snyder schools, was introduced at the meeting by Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools here. Chuck Wolfe, president of the Downtown Lions Club, which hosted the meeting, presided.

"My Ideal Community" was the topic of Dr. Sutton's talk at the meeting. As he announced his subject, he said he believes Snyder has almost approached his ideal. He said during the talk that it is heard throughout the U. S. that Snyder and Mt. Vernon, Ind., have the best school systems and the best communities in the U. S.

"I have never in my life saw a more conscientious effort, not only to give you more for your money in the schools, but to develop the ability and character of your children," he said.

Dr. Sutton stressed three basic points of need in the ideal community:

1. One with a sound economic basis. Happiness is based on having the necessities, and Snyder has a sound basis economically, as indicated in the 40 or 50-year reserve of oil and other resources here. It has and needs the economic sub-stratum to provide jobs and opportunities for its youth.

2. One with a spiritual and mental basis. The community, he said, must be enlisted in what its youth is doing. Children must have the right kind of reading, recreation, music, and other cultural opportunities.

3. One with a good family life. "The family is humanity's greatest institution," the educator said.

New Mexico Goes To Ike

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—New Mexico gave its four electoral votes to Dwight Eisenhower yesterday by a margin which promised to exceed his 26,000-vote victory over Adlai Stevenson in 1952.

In 577 of 901 voting divisions, the President's margin was 28,720 votes. Eisenhower had 105,855, Stevenson 76,835.

John Dempsey and critically ill Antonio Fernandez, the state's man, appeared to have won reelection over Forrest Atchley and Dudley Cornell. Fernandez was in a coma, victim of a recent stroke.

The count in 577 divisions was Dempsey 94,995 Fernandez 93,612 Cornell 82,421 Atchley 80,838. The Candidates ran at large.

Republican Edwin Mechem, seeking a third term, built up a commanding lead at the two-thirds mark over Gov. John Simms. In 577 divisions, Mechem led 93,116 to 88,682.

Negro Test Case Is Heard By 3 Judges

FORT WORTH (AP)—Three judges of the 5th Federal Court of Appeals, heard a test case yesterday which might set a statewide pattern involving the right of Negroes to be served in eating places in public buildings.

The appeal was filed by interests serving a privately leased cafeteria in the Houston courthouse. Federal Judge Ben Connally issued in April an order against further segregation in the cafeteria. The injunction was suspended on appeal.

Office Closes Early

DALLAS (AP)—Headquarters for the Stevenson campaign in Dallas County closed up shop last night at 8:30 p.m.—less than two hours after official returns began coming in.

Shivers Regains Prestige In Vote

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers, jubilantly riding the Eisenhower express train, has regained some of the political prestige he lost in the battle for Texas Democratic party control last spring and summer.

There was no doubt that what President Eisenhower last night called "friendly Democrats" did the job for him again in Texas, and Shivers was the real leader of the democratic opposition.

Shivers still holds the key to the senatorial succession to Price Daniel, whose election as governor was firmly nailed down yesterday over GOP and write-in opposition that produced only a smattering of votes.

Daniel does not take office as governor until Jan. 15. He has resigned as senator effective then or earlier—as soon as a successor qualifies.

With control of the Senate still undecided, both parties would welcome another member and the Texas succession therefore grew in national importance.

Shivers has not accepted Daniel's resignation and has promised only to disclose after the election what he plans to do about a special election to fill the post.

Half a dozen candidates or potential candidates—including just one Republican—already are in the running to succeed Daniel. The lone GOP contender is Thad Hutcheson of Houston, but state Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston also likes Ike.

The problem of the Democrats, in a special election, would be to concentrate on one candidate since in such elections the high man wins and there is no runoff.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson, who spearheaded the Democratic presidential campaign in Texas, lost political prestige as Shivers—an open foe—gained. Johnson asserted last night the democratic defeat was primarily because of the tense international situation.

Pre-Trial Deposition Is Stopped

DALLAS (AP)—What was billed as a "confidential report" covering Dallas activities of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People abruptly ended a pre-trial deposition yesterday in the Dallas school integration case.

The report, used as evidence in the Tyler hearings seeking a halt to NAACP activities in Texas, was produced in Federal Court here by Dallas School Board atty. Andrew Thuss.

Thuss had subpoenaed Simpson Tate, NAACP secretary, to bring a copy to the session.

W. J. Durham, NAACP attorney, objected to use of the report and filed a motion to have it banned from the pre-trial hearings.

A ruling was expected Monday. The integration case comes up Nov. 14.

The report, Thuss said, indicated Negro families were solicited by the NAACP to seek enrollment of their children into all-white schools. It indicated, he said, that Dallas should be the "test city" for Texas integration cases.

Wins In Delaware

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — President Eisenhower won Delaware's three electoral votes by double his 1952 majority and helped carry all Republican statewide candidates to victory.

Eisenhower swept even normally Democratic districts to defeat Adlai Stevenson 97,484 to 82,908.

Bookmaking Charge

HOUSTON (AP)—Ed Curry, 50, an insurance man, and G. R. Nail, 31, an accountant, were charged yesterday with felony football bookmaking.

Ike Sweeps Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—President Eisenhower swept toward a 60,000-vote victory today in democratic Louisiana, shattering an 80-year opposition to a Republican White House.

The last time Louisiana gave its electoral vote to a Republican President was in 1876, when Rutherford Hayes won.

A switch in city voting, stirred by the war scare and a Negro swing to Ike put Eisenhower strongly ahead of Adlai Stevenson.

The count in 1,738 of 2,040 precincts: Eisenhower 274,695 and Stevenson 215,617.

With five races not finally decided, Democrats today had wrested four governorships from the Republicans while losing three to the GOP.

Before yesterday's election, Democrats held 27 statehouses, the Republicans 21.

In the 30 states wich chose governors this year, the Democrats captured at least 13 and the Republicans at least 12.

Democrats won governorships from Republicans in Massachusetts, Iowa, Kansas and Washington. Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Maine, Michigan, Missouri, North Carolina and Texas stayed Democratic. Kansas chose its first Democratic governor in more than 20 years.

In New Mexio, Ohio and West Virginia, Republicans took over from Democrats. Delaware, Indiana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont and Wisconsin stayed Republican.

In Ohio, Republican State Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill defeated Michael V. DiSalle, Democrat who once was federal price control director. Democratic Gov. Frank Lausche ran a sucessful race for the Senate.

Republican former Gov. Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico unseated Democratic Gov. John F. Simms, who was running for a second term.

Democrat Albert D. Rosellini won in Washington over Republican Emmet T. Anderson. Incumbent Republican Gov. Arthur B. Langlie ran for the Senate.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Paul Kelly, 56, who appeared in more than 200 movies and numerous Broadway plays, died yesterday of a heart attack. He served 25 months.

Warning Is Sounded By Cairo Radio

CAIRO (AP)—Cairo radio told the people of Port Said today that a cease-fire became effective at 2 a.m. but warned the Egyptian people and armed forces to resume fighting "if the enemy shoots at anyone or advances one inch."

The broadcast was the first announcement of Egyptian agreement with the cease-fire proclaimed for the British and French forces which seized control of the northern sector of the Suez Canal.

Previously the Egyptian government had made its acceptance of a U.N. cease-fire call conditional on withdrawal of all foreign troops from Egyptian soil.

The broadcast to the people of Port Said said Britain and France had accepted a cease-fire which they previously rejected last Friday. It said Egypt had agreed to a U.N. call for an end to the fighting at that time.

"If it were not for your heroic and stubborn defense of the city, inflicting heavy losses upon the enemy, the enemy would not have accepted the cease-fire," the broad cast declared. "You have defended well the country's honor and have given two so-called big powers a good lesson that free people cannot be subjected.

"The cease-fire means the enemy must stay where they are. They are not to shoot at anyone or advance one inch. Otherwise you—with your armed forces—are free to shoot back and start fighting again."

A Doctor and his telephone

by Don Davis, Telephone News Reporter

Dr. Robert N. Crews, physician and family doctor for more than 60 years. His practice has touched the lives of thousands of friends and neighbors.

His hand is steady, his step is firm, his spirit is brisk. It's as if the passing years were bent on keeping Robert Crews eternally young, so that a life of dedicated service might continue on and on.

For, you see, Robert Crews is a doctor. Still active at 85, he's been healer, advisor and friend to his neighbors since before the turn of the century.

BRINGS BACK BYGONE DAYS

To sit and talk with Dr. Crews is to reminisce of the horse-and-buggy and the Model-T, to picture in your mind a lonely figure in the dead of night on his way to answer a call for help, to feel deeply grateful for such men who ask so little and give so much.

But Dr. Crews neither seeks full credit nor thinks it's due him. Not that he belittles his career. He is quite proud of it. He only insists he had help—and lots of it. Maybe that's why, when the conversation got around to his telephone, he spoke with the warmth of a man talking about an old and valued friend.

"I guess I share more memories with my telephone than with almost anyone or anything," said Dr. Crews. "My telephone's been a part of my life and my work so long we're an inseparable team. Why, taking away my telephone would be like taking away my stethoscope and thermometer!"

TELEPHONE TAKES OVER

To illustrate his dependence on the telephone, Dr. Crews' favorite story concerns a worried mother, a child sick with the croup, and a raging blizzard.

The mother's frantic telephone call came late at night. Could the doctor help her child who seemed to be growing worse every minute? With eight impassable miles of blizzard and deep snow between him and the child, Dr. Crews had to rely on the telephone.

He prescribed and explained treatment for the mother to give—then kept in touch by telephone until he was sure the child was out of danger.

Can you imagine the comfort and peace of mind Dr. Crews and his telephone brought that mother that night?

NO GREATER VALUE

We owe much to men like Dr. Crews. For telephone service to have shared so fully in his accomplishments is a high honor indeed. No service could offer a greater value than that of providing a day-and-night link between you and your doctor.

May Dr. Crews and his telephone be together for many years to come.

Ike Scores Big Victory In Colorado

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower scored a resounding victory in Colorado, his western vacation home, yesterday but he couldn't carry key Republicans to victory.

Returns were unofficial but there seemed no doubt that Democrat John Carroll, 55, former Fair Deal congressman, had won the state's Senate seat in his third try.

Carroll surged well ahead of former Gov. Dan Thornton, golfing friend of President Eisenhower, for the Senate seat being vacated by Republican Sen. Eugene Millikin because of ill health. Thornton is a native Texan.

Democrat Stephen McNichols, 42, was elected governor, and Alva Adams Jr., son of a former senator, apparently unseated Republican Rep. Edgar Chenoweth.

The state's three other congress men won handily, with only small.

The state's three other congressmen won handily, with only small, scattered precincts left to report. They are Democrats Byron Rogers and Wayne Aspinall and Republican William Hill, elected to a ninth term.

McNichols defeated state Sen. Donald Brotzman, Republican making his second bid for governor, and will succeed Democratic Gov. Ed Johnson, who is retiring. The vote:

President: Eisenhower 348,391, Stevenson 232,340.

Senator: Carroll 284,405; Thompson 279,004.

Governor: McNichols 294,716; Brotzman 274,014.

Coloradoans voted 2 to 1 to revise their old age pension system which has brought the highest payments in the nation, currently $112 a month. They will substitute a $100 monthly pension plus a medical and hospital plan. The vote was 321,667 to 162,872.

Farm Issue Fails To Gather Steam

WASHINGTON (AP)—A farm revolt, on which the Democrats had counted, failed to develop enough steam in yesterday's presidential election to give them any major help.

Outside the South, all the farm states except traditionally Democratic Missouri gave their electoral votes to President Eisenhower.

The Democrats had made Eisenhower administration farm policies one of their prime issues. They talked about declines in farm prices and incomes during the past four years and promised early action to boost price supports and to take other steps they said would improve the agriculture economy.

They had accused Eisenhower of going back on 1952 campaign promises in behalf of farmers. The Democrats had looked to Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan and the Dakotas for a revolt of farmers against the GOP.

But their hopes did not materialize.

Incomplete returns indicated that in a number of Midwestern states the Eisenhower vote in some rural areas ran behind that of four years ago, but the shift was far from sufficient.

Farm dissatisfaction appeared to have made its strongest showing in South Dakota congressional races. But Eisenhower carried the state, although his majority was smaller than four years ago.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, himself a controversial figure, had predicted a GOP sweep of the farm states, claiming that most farmers approved administration farm policies.

There is a question as to what extent satisfaction or dissatisfaction with present farm programs influenced farm voting. Political reporters who toured the Midwestern bread basket during the campaign ran into many farmers who said they disliked GOP farm policies but planned to vote for Eisenhower because they credited him with bringing peace.

Recent developments in the Middle East may have had even greater influence than had appeared earlier in putting farm votes in the Eisenhower column.

The Eisenhower administration is expected to stand pat on farm policies it maintains will, over the long run, get the government out of agriculture.

Benson, the architect of those policies, is expected to remain in the Cabinet. He campaigned harder for the party ticket than perhaps any other members of the Cabinet. Eisenhower has repeatedly said he backs Benson's views.

But administration adherence to these farm policies does not mean that the farm issue is a dead one. Democrats in Congress are expected to make new efforts to increase government aid for agriculture, even if they face certain presidential vetoes. That would be one way of keeping the issue alive for the 1958 Congressional elections when Eisenhower will not be running.

The election, significantly enough, saw the defeat for Senate seats of two top-rung farm officials of Democratic New Deal days — former Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard of Indiana and R. M. Evans, onetime agricultural adjustment administrator, of Iowa. Both had sought to unseat Republican incumbents on the farm issue.

Embassies Are Hit By Demonstrators

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Angry crowds of demonstrators today attacked the British and French embassies here in protest against the military action of the two Western countries in Egypt.

The information section of the British Embassy was set on fire but police intervened before flames destroyed the building. The French Embassy was stoned more than 10 minutes. Police fired into the air and used rifle butts to drive the mobs back.

Join the American Legion. - Adv.

TWO ON ONE—A West Berlin policeman swings his club at a demonstrator while another policeman grabs the fellow from behind during a wild sympathy demonstration for Hungary which occurred in West Berlin, Germany. More than 100,000 were involved in sympathy marches in the city. One group besieged the Soviet War Memorial which is in the British sector near Brandenburg Gates—main transit point into Communist East Berlin.

Nations Are Intermingled

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — The pastor of the world's largest white Baptist church, Dr. W. A. Criswell, said yesterday "The American people would spend their blood to the last man to defend the national liberties of Great Britain and France."

The pastor of Dallas' 11,000-member First Baptist Church told the Texas Baptist Brotherhood: "No matter how a man may look on the government of Eden or the sins of France, the lives of our natio2pn.ob5intermingled. or the sins of France, the lives of our nations are intermingled.

"We have a common destiny. And if the time ever comes when the destinies of Great Britain and France are jeopardized by Russia, America will not sit idly by. It would mean the third world war.

"All it would take to start a world-wide conflagration would be for Russian to heed the call of Egypt to send forces to help that country."

The women's Missionary Union reelected Mrs. Clem Hardy of Waco president and Mrs. H. C. Hunt of Gregory, recording secretary.

Adlai Still Has Smile In Defeat

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson took his second crushing defeat at the hands of Dwight D. Eisenhower today with a smile on his face and a quip on his lips.

It wasn't that it didn't hurt—he frankly confessed his disappointment before a nationwide TV audience—but to tell he had known for days how it would all turn out.

But, he told hundreds of disheartened Stevenson volunteers jammed into the big Hotel Conrad Hilton ballroom—and millions who watched on their television sets—our cause will ultimately prevail."

Would he try for the presidency "I'm a candidate for bed," he responded lightly to the reporter's query.

His more formal note was sounded shortly after midnight when he left his suite at the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel and walked across the street to the Conrad Hilton to tell hundreds of mournful followers:

"To you who are disappointed tonight, let me confess that I am too'. But we must not be disheartened, for 'There is radiance and glory in the darkness, could we but see, and to see, we have only to look.' "

A burst of applause welled up over the ballroom. Women wept openly. Men got out their handkerchiefs and blew their noses furiously.

This was a moment such as could only come at the hour of defeat for a presidential candidate whose followers hold him in endearment.

Stevenson, it may be said now, had known for days that he couldn't whip Eisenhower this year, just as he had known in advance the popular general of World War II would overwhelm him in 1952.

But he breathed outward optimism, up until the end, making the toughest fight he could for a man whose scholarly tastes gave him little taste for some of the tough things he felt he had to say.

But, as he confided to reporters and friends after his consession last night, he couldn't have beaten Eisenhower anyway, especially after the war began in the Middle East and the people became convinced they had to keep a general in the White House.

Telegrams of consolation had been pouring into his suit ever since the Eisenhower trend started.

He had just sent a telegram, an important one, to President Eisenhower:

"You have won not only the election, but also an expression of the great confidence of the American people. I send you my warm congratulations.

"Tonight we are not Republicans and Democrats but Americans."

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Harry S. Truman went to bed last night without listening to the election returns, Mrs. Truman said.

Dwight And Richard Doing Nicely Today

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Dwight Eisenhower Heffner and Richard Nixon Heffner were doing nicely in the hospital nursery today, and their parents were relieved.

The twin boys were named nine hours before the polls closed yesterday.

Dwight Eisenhower was born at 11:08 a.m. His brother followed 10 minutes later. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Heffner.

Heffner, an oil well surveying company employe, left the hospital about noon to vote for Eisenhower and Nixon.
