McGee Is Given Death Sentence

Conference Of Ministers In Paris Planned

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 29.—Russia and the three western powers reached "agreement in principle" tonight on a reciprocal lifting of the Berlin blockade and a subsequent Paris meeting of the council of foreign ministers on the whole German problem.

The time-table of these steps will be worked out in further consultation after each of the four governments involved has studied reports on tonight's conference in New York.

The "agreement in principle," it was learned authoritatively, was reached at a two and a half hour closed door conference between U.S. Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup and Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik.

Program Reported

Jessup acted as spokesman for Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain and France's Jean Chauvel. The meeting took place in the offices of the Soviet United Nations delegation on Park avenue. Immediately afterwards, Jessup met Cadogan and Chauvel to give both a complete fill-in.

United States delegation spokesman Porter McKeever described the latest of the Jessup-Malik talks as having made "satisfactory progress."

Official spokesmen continued to emphasize that the talks remain in the "informal and exploratory" stage. But a high-level source indicated that Russia agreed fully to the previous western stipulations that the reciprocal blockade lifting in the war-battered former Hitler capital must proceed "without strings."

Tentative Date Set

The same source said that the Soviet government places no objection in the path of continued preparations by the three western governments for establishment of a federal West German state.

On the other hand, according to this informant, the West agrees to accept discussion of all German problems for the forthcoming meeting of the council of foreign ministers.

It is authoritatively understood that Malik offered a tentative time-table which envisaged the lifting of the Soviet blockade and western powers' counter-blockade after further consultations have taken place, but within a matter of some days.

Present signs point to a probable meeting of the four-power council in Paris beginning the last week in May.

Jessup left New York for Washington tonight to present his report of the Malik conversation to Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Cadogan, Chauvel and Malik are forwarding their reports to the three governments.

More Talks Possible

In refusing at this time to release a full report on the Malik-Jessup talk, U.S. spokesman McKeever stressed that these negotiations are still "in the informal and exploratory" stage and that

British Winners In Barge Dispute

BERLIN, April 29 (AP) — Soviet headquarters notified the British today that Russian officers who tried to seize control of barge traffic in British sector canals had acted without authority.

British and Soviet transportation chiefs arranged for a conference tomorrow on the question of barge traffic. That seemed to end a blockade-within-a-blockade controversy which flared unexpectedly Wednesday.

The British had won their point. Freight carriers moved normally through all western sector canals, links in a great waterway system over which the Russians claim general control under four-power rules.

Political Freedom Urged

Efforts to negotiate an end to the Soviet blockade of Berlin and the Allied counter-blockade drew expressions from two German political leaders.

Fritz Ebert, the Communist-backed mayor of Eastern Berlin, told a news conference that his regime will "support efforts for peace."

Kurt Schumacher, chairman of the strong and well organized Social Democratic party of Western Germany, demanded that any Big Four agreement on the unification of Germany provide for political freedom in the Soviet zone. He said non-Communists should be protected against what he called large armed police forces created by the Communists in the East.

Demo Leaders Put Off Vote On Labor Bill

By MAX HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 29 — A confident coalition of House Republicans and southern Democrats, driving for passage of the Wood labor bill, won a series of skirmishes today. Worried administration leaders finally put off the decisive vote until Tuesday.

When the House adjourned after a long day of wrangling and voting, the GOP-Dixie group put through three amendments to its Wood bill.

They were "easing" amendments—a little less restriction on unions—but they were opposed by President Truman's forces. The Truman Democrats still hope to defeat the Wood bill and pass their own Lesinski bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley act and revive the New Deal Wagner act with modifications. Therefore they resisted all efforts to make the Wood bill more acceptable to the House when the showdown comes.

Final Outcome Doubtful

The Wood bill likewise would "repeal" Taft-Hartley but would also re-enact most of its provisions.

The final outcome remained highly doubtful. Both sides still claimed a margin. Republicans voted almost solidly together today and were joined by about 40 southerners. It was anybody's guess, however, whether this alignment would hold on Tuesday. Another known factor was the attitude of some 80 members who were not on the floor today.

The most one-sided vote of the day came early in the afternoon. The opposing sides joined hands to smash down a proposal to repeal the Taft-Hartley act and revive the 1935 Wagner act in its original form without any change. The vote was 275-37.

Shortly thereafter, the coalition scored its first point.

The House adopted, 202 to 158, an amendment by Rep. Ford (R-Mich) which would permit strikers to vote in plant elections up to six months after being replaced in their jobs.

Originally the Wood bill said strikers could vote up to three months after being replaced. The Taft-Hartley act doesn't permit replaced strikers to vote at all.

Republicans voted almost solidly for the amendment, and were joined by about 40 Democrats, most of them from the South.

The vote gave much encouragement to the combination of Republicans and southerners.

Showers Seen For South Plains Today

Sunshine hungry South Plains residents probably will get their suntan this weekend in small doses, the Lubbock Weather station indicated Friday night.

Thundershowers will move across the area today, the station said, as a cool front from the west drives in. Forecasters said the showers probably "would not be too widely scattered," and that prospects for precipitation were "good."

Strong southerly winds will precede the arrival of the front late this afternoon, it was indicated, with velocities ranging around the 20-mile an hour mark. Cooler temperatures are seen for Saturday night.

Sunday will be partly cloudy and mild.

Temperatures Friday ranged from a minimum of 49 degrees to 73 degrees, little change in maximum readings is expected for today and Sunday.

Reds 'Delay' All-Out Push

By TOM LAMBERT
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, Saturday, April 30 — Nationalist troops have withdrawn from a town only 25 miles northwest of Hangchow, a key city 121 rail miles southwest of Shanghai.

This was announced today by the Shanghai garrison in a communique. It said the town was Wukang, famed resort spot.

(The main action, however, appeared to be farther northwest of Hangchow. There, about 80 miles south of Nanking, the major part of seven government armies were trapped and were being annihilated the Communist radio said. It asserted more than 40,000 Nationalist soldiers already had been captured.

Reds Close Trap

(Chinese Communist forces evidently were concentrating tonight on an effort to trap Nationalist armies south-east of Nanking rather than aiming directly at nervous Shanghai.

(The Communist radio, heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, asserted that the "major part" of seven Nationalist armies already had been trapped roughly 80 miles south of Nanking and was being "annihilated." It said more than 40,000 government soldiers already had been captured. (Seven armies would be 140,000 or more men.

(All dispatches from Shanghai repeated that the scanty communiques of the Nationalist garrison were the only official and permissible source of war news.)

Red Armies Spotted

The Shanghai garrison's latest announcement conceded that Communists had taken Wuhing, which is 36 miles east of Kashing and 40 miles north of Hangchow. Kashing is the key to the Shanghai-Hangchow railway.

It said the Communists were about 35 miles west of Shanghai in the vicinity of Kunshan, but that this appeared to be only a flank-protecting operation for the main drive farther south.

The garrison said about 10,000

MILAM HOME TO BE PAINTED

Lubbock Clean-Up Paint-Up Campaign Gets Underway Today

A BROOM brigade from the Junior Chamber of Commerce gave the finishing touches during the wee hours this morning to preparations for the start today of the 19th annual Lubbock Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up campaign—the most ambitious since the pre-war years.

With the preparatory work out of the way, the start promises to be a spectacular one when, at 10 o'clock this morning, more than 100 union painters expect to paint the Milam Home for Children on South Avenue H, in 30 to 50 minutes.

In order to complete the preparations, the Jaycees met at the city hall at 11:30 last night and spent several hours stencilling the signs which appear at the intersections of Broadway and Texas Avenue in the business district this morning.

Each of the signs reads, "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up, April 30-May 14."

Ernest St. Clair, jr., general chairman of the drive, extended an invitation to everyone interested to be present at the Milam home for the paint blitz this morn-

Need For Public Improvements Is Cited

Possibility Of City Bond Election Seen

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE possibility of calling a city bond election to finance urgently needed public improvements was discussed at a recessed meeting of the City commission Friday afternoon.

City Manager Steve Matthews was directed to investigate in detail the financial needs of the city and the amount of bonds Lubbock could issue and sell, provided the voters of the community approve.

Neither the city manager nor members of the commission would speculate on the size of the issue which might be proposed. The best present guess appears to be around $1,500,000.

Would Hike Bonded Debt

Municipal financial records indicated such an amount could be issued and sold without requiring the payment of an excessive interest rate.

But it would mean another indefinite postponement of prospects for a market for the $500,000 public library issue voted in May, 1947, and the $1,750,000 auditorium-coliseum bonds approved by the citizenship in 1945.

A $1,500,000 issue would increase the city's bonded debt to be paid out of taxation to approximately $6,500,000. Assessed valuations approximate $65,000,000—an increase of about $5,000,000 since last year.

It is a rule of practice that a city, county or other political unit should not bond itself for more than 10 per cent of its assessed valuations. However, they are not forbidden by law to go over 10 per cent.

But those which do go over it almost invariably have to pay a higher interest rate on the bonds they sell. A difference of 1 per cent in the rate of a $1,500,000 issue would amount to $300,000

NEW PIPELINE OKAYED

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — The Power commission tonight authorized the Trunkline Gas Supply Co. to construct a 711-mile natural gas pipeline from Edge, Texas to Palmyra, Neb. Estimated cost is $84,340,300.

Airlines Hearing Set For August

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics board said tonight that a hearing tentatively has been set for August 1 on a proposal to change operations of several airlines serving Texas.

The date was agreed to at a pre-hearing conference in which representatives of various lines affected by the CAB order met informally with CAB examiner James Werner.

One change proposed by the CAB, and under discussion at today's meeting calls for suspension of American Airline's stop at Midland.

Braniff To Fight Extension

Pioneer Airlines would be authorized to expand its services, including an extension of service from Temple to Austin.

During the conference Hubert A. Schneider, attorney for Braniff Airways, said that his company would oppose at the August hearing the proposed five-year extension of Pioneer's authority to operate feeder line service in Texas.

(The CAB recently ordered suspension of service by Braniff to Waco and Lubbock. However, no final decision has been made on this order and both Braniff and city officials of Lubbock have said the proposal would be opposed.)

Robert Smith, president of Pioneer, said his company was "neutral" in regard to the proposed suspension of American's service into Midland.

Settlement Reached In Six-Day Wichita Falls Transit Strike

WICHITA FALLS, April 29 (AP) — Wichita Falls' bus strike ended today

Some citizens apparently were caught unaware. First buses to roll at 6 a.m. had fewer than usual load of passengers. Apparently some residents had not abandoned the share-the-ride plans worked out during the six-day strike.

J. S. Perusse of Mississippi bought the lines from the Wichita Transit company. He promptly put into effect higher wages for union drivers. He also won city council approval for higher fares and union approval of working conditions more favorable to the bus lines.

23 Are Facing Charges After Liquor Raids

By R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche Staff Writer

COUNTY court officials late Friday continued their preparations for charging 94 liquor law violation offenses to 23 defendants.

County Attorney Waggoner Carr and W G Poplin, deputy supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control board, said late in the day that 53 bonds ranging from $500 to $800 each had been posted and that "others of the 94 cases not yet filed are being readied."

Sales Are Alleged

Bonds were set by C. E. Lynn, justice of the peace, in absence of County Judge Walter Davies. Judge Davies left Thursday morning for a three-day convention in Brownwood of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners association. No pleas were asked by Lynn, whose role merely was that of a magistrate before whom those charged were taken to ask bail.

Only four of those charged had not been arrested, it was announced. One of those was in a hospital.

Almost all the charges accused defendants with having sold alcoholic beverages. Five charges will list transportation counts, six charges will allege counts of possession for purpose of sale.

Ask Enhanced Penalty

In addition, it was announced:

1. The enhanced penalty will be asked where it legally is applicable.

2. "Jail time" will be requested of juries that may try some of the cases.

3. At least two automobiles, one of them an expensive high-powered heavy 1949 model, will figure in separate suits asking their forfeiture to the state for engaging in alleged illegal transportation of spiritous liquors.

4. District court procedure will be invoked to enjoin defendants, or some of them, from trafficking

Delegates to the Southwestern Journalism Congress being held at Texas Technological college heard four more outstanding speakers from the field of professional journalism Friday afternoon.

The 275 student and faculty members who are attending the two-day session listened to John L. Mortimer, public relations director for US Steel from Houston, Dr. Ralph Casey, head of the University of Minnesota school of journalism, R. B. McAlister, manager of Station KICA of Clovis, N. M., and Don Hinga, foving editor of The Houston Chronicle.

Last night, delegates attended a banquet and dance at the Lubbock Country club. Lynn Landrum of The Dallas Morning News was the principal speaker at the banquet.

Jury Returns Quick Decision In Trial

Defendant Appears Stunned By Jury's Verdict; Appeal In Case Is Likely

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche Staff Writer

RICHARD W. McGEE, 24, faces death in the electric chair for the July 7, 1948, slaying of R. L. Allston, 42, Lubbock grocery executive.

That was the sentence handed down by a 72nd District Court jury at 8:25 p.m, Friday. A crowd of several hundred persons heard Judge Dan Blair read the jury's verdict in the tense courtroom. The verdict was:

"We the jury find the defendant Richard W. McGee sane at the time of the offense and sane at the time of the trial; and find him guilty of murder with malice as charged in the indictment and assess his punishment as death."

Notified Of Decision

McGee had pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity.

A penalty of death in Texas automatically means death in the electric chair if the sentence is carried out.

The defense made no immediate announcement but it is expected that they will ask for a new trial and make an appeal to the court of criminal appeals if a new trial is denied.

The jury members returned the verdict after two hours and 22 minutes of deliberation. They were given the case at 5:33 p.m. and at 7:55 p.m. they signified that they had reached a decision. Deputy Sheriff Frank Mitchell notified Judge Blair and the defendant was ordered brought to the courtroom.

It required a half-hour to round up the counsel for both sides and members of the defendant's family. Members of the Allston family had been waiting from the time the jury had retired. Mrs. H. H. Stull, mother of the defendant, her husband, and Richard's two sisters were present when the verdict was rendered. They received the news stoically and wept silently as their son and brother was led from the court room by three guards.

Large Crowd Present

McGee wore an old purple sweater with a large letter "H" on the front of it. He was handcuffed, as he has been at every courtroom appearance since last Friday afternoon when he made a wild outbreak.

As he was being taken back to his cell in the Lubbock county jail his steps were faltering and he was considerably paler than he was before the verdict was rendered.

Although some of the large crowd that has been in daily attendance had drifted away there were more than 400 people present when the jury came back in. When the verdict was read there was an absolute silence while the full impact and meaning of the decision registered.

A hush filled the jammed courtroom as Judge Blair leafed through the jury ballots. The swish of paper was clearly audible in the hall outside the room where a part of the crowd stood with a number of special officers.

McGee sat tense at the counsel tables with his attorneys as the judge read the verdict and then checked with the jury for affirmation of their verdict.

The crowd remained silent except for the muffled crying of a small child in the hall.

As the judge thanked and dismissed the jury a slight rustle stirred the spectators, and several officers changed to more advantageous positions but McGee continued to sit stiffly and pale at his table.

As the bailiff arose to hold back the crowd, McGee lifted himself stiffly to his feet, stepped between his guarding officers, and walked, partly assisted across the courtroom and hall, to the elevator. His face was twisted as though he had suffered severe shock or was in acute pain.

Deputy Sheriff John Barnett and Lem Pounds, jailer, continued to assist the convicted man the entire hundred yards to the county jail from the courthouse entrance.

Some Surprises Shown

Spectators generally appeared surprised at the short time the jury required to reach a verdict and many expressed surprise at the penalty.

As an added precaution eight city police officers, four deputy sheriffs and two state highway patrolmen were added to the courtroom detail last night.

McGee is the third white man to be given the death penalty in Lubbock county, according to available records. The first man to be meted such a sentence was a Paul Mitchell in 1933. The last such penalty was given a Virgil Stalcup, transferred from Dick-

Death Toll Rises To 12 In Flood

(By The Associated Press)

Two Mission farmers drowned Friday when a rowboat capsized, bringing to 12 the death toll of flood waters surging toward the Gulf in the lower Rio Grande.

They were Holly Lankford, 59, and J. C. Copeland, 45, who had gone to inspect cotton lands.

A possible new flood threat appeared—it was too early to tell exactly—to Alice and San Diego, washed by overflow earlier in the week from San Diego creek.

Near Cloudburst Hits

A near cloudburst dumped an unofficially estimated five to seven inches of rain early Friday on the area at Seven Sisters, Duval county—about 40 miles from Alice.

There is a split watershed in that section — draining into San Diego creek and San Jose creek. Waters from San Jose creek crossed highway 173 between Pilden and Freer Friday and the road was closed most of the day.

Sheriff Dan Garcia said Friday night at San Diego there had yet been no rise in San Diego creek there.

Meanwhile danger of additional damage from the Rio Grande flood appeared almost over. As the waters moved Gulfward they left in their wake several thousand acres of lowland crops inside levees and within floodways, wiped out.

Bodies Found In River

Across the river from Brownsville, Matamoros, Mex., police patrolled the river front. They had taken five unidentified bodies from the river this week. Two

U. S. MAY TAKE LOSS ON WHEAT

USDA Estimates Over $2 Billions Tied Up In Farm Price Supports

WASHINGTON, April 29. (U.P.)—Agriculture officials estimated today that the government had more than $2,500,000,000 tied up in supporting farm prices on April 1.

The new estimate was made on the basis of an Agriculture department survey showing the farmers put another 85,000,000 bushels of corn under price support loans and purchase agreements during March.

The government's total price support commitment includes loans made to farmers on farm-stored commodities, money set aside to carry out purchase commitments and some $325,000,000 invested in commodities bought up to support prices.

Officials said that, as of today, the government has spent $1,000,000 in stockpiling butter at 59 cents a pound to support farm prices of butterfat. This includes purchase of 288,000 pounds in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa during the last four days.

The government's total commitment for price support may begin dropping off a bit next Monday—until the new harvest comes in. Next week the government will start asking farmers to deliver the $720,000,000 worth of 1948-crop wheat which was placed under price support before the Dec. 31 deadline.

They estimate the government will have to take no more than $600,000,000 worth. Farmers are believed to have sold the rest on the open market. The price support commitment will drop further as wheat collected under this program is sold abroad. However, on some of it the government may have to take a loss.

The department report showed that 295,913,497 bushels of corn, or more than one-fifth of the nation's total stocks were under price support on March 31. In Iowa, farmers had placed 30 per cent of their farm-stored stocks under the support programs.

In most areas, farmers still can put corn under loan or purchase agreement until June 30.

Business Club Plans For Annual Rodeo

Members of the American Business club started preparations for their annual Boys' Club rodeo June 8-11, in their luncheon program at the Hilton hotel Friday noon with chairmen of various committees reporting on their progress.

Harry Van Horn, general rodeo chairman; Bill Pittman, program chairman, and Bob Rose, last year's program chairman, made talks.

Prior to the business meeting, Ira Dunlap spoke briefly on the clean-up, paint-up campaign opening Saturday, and Arnold Maeker, drive chairman, called for volunteers for trucks to be used in the campaign.

Sam Ribble and Gene Gauntt, Levelland; Paul Arensman, Chicago, and Norvel Washburn, Amarillo, were out-of-town guests at the luncheon.

Joan Crawford To Play New Type Role As Prison Warden In 'Women Without Men'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, April 29—Joan Crawford, who can't stand to be idle, is reading the script of "Women Without Men," which Warners sent her. She told me a few days ago that she will probably do the women's prison story before "The Victim," announced as her next.

She plays the superintendent of the prison—a different type of role for Joan who usually goes glamorous somewhere along her movie stories.

Film May Be Dropped

I asked George Stevens how he is progressing with Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy," in which Montgomery Clift will star. George said it is indefinite whether it will be brought to the screen, but he is working on it.

"I feel there is a definite lesson for all young people in the plight of the boy, after he betrays the girl. But unless we can bring it to the screen and show it this way, it's useless to attempt it. I want to offset the ugliness by showing a beautiful love story between the other girl and the boy. Today is no time for too much gloom," George said.

Willie Wyler is also working on Dreiser's "Sister Carrie."

Star Borrows Tuxedo

David Brian telephoned me a few minutes before the "Flamingo Road" premier to tell me his troubles. His trunk, with his tuxedo in it, was left in Oxford, Mississippi, where he had been with the "Intruders In The Dust" company.

"Here was the big night of my life," he said, (David makes his debut as Joan Crawford's leading man) "and I had nothing to wear. Warners lent me Mike Mazurki's suit and Errol Flynn's shoes."

Newspaper Group To Make Annual Soil Conservation Awards

FORT WORTH, April 29. (U.P.)—The Atascosa County Soil Conservation district in South Texas was announced today as top winner in the 1949 "save the soil and save Texas" conservation awards program.

The board of supervisors of the district will be presented a $1,000 check at the 1949 awards dinner here tomorrow night, when winners of $13,000 in conservation awards will be announced.

The awards program, largest in the country and now in its fourth year, is staged by The Fort Worth Press with the co-operation of the other Scripts-Howard papers in Texas—The Houston Press and El Paso Herald-Post.

Farmer To Get Award

The second $1,000 award will go to the Salt Branch Conservation group in the Brown-Mills soil conservation district, as the outstanding conservation community in the state during the past year.

W. O. Dawson of Abilene, route 5, will be crowned the state conservation farmer and receive a $500 cash award. A similar award goes to Ed Bartz, Bartlett, for the most outstanding job of restoring a worn out farm to productivity through conservation methods.

For most unselfish service in the field of conservation during the year by a non-farmer, Clarence M. Malone, vice-chairman of the board of the Second National bank at Houston, will receive a bronze plaque.

Student Wins Prize

Harold Hedtke, Runge High school student, won an all-expense trip to Colorado for the best essay in Texas out of 10,000 submitted on "How Soil Conservation Pays." Eighty other youths will split $500 in prize money.

Two new awards are being made this year, both in the field of water conservation. The Trinity Improvement association will receive a bronze plaque for contributing the most effective and successful leadership in the field during 1948. Governor Beauford Jester wins a plaque as the individual who has rendered the greatest unselfish service in water conservation and provided the most effective leadership.

Newspaper Awards Planned

The Nacogdoches Sentinel, for daily papers, and The Rusk Cherokeean, for weeklies, will receive cash awards for the best editorials in support of the work of soil conservation districts. Another cash award for the best newspaper advertisement on conservation will be divided between The Paris News, for dailies, and The Bowie News, for weeklies.

Paul McWhorter and Todd McWhorter of Douglassville, in northeast Texas, were adjudged the best farmers in forestry conservation.

In addition to state champions, winners of one of the five state regions also will be crowned in Fort Worth Saturday night, with $1,200 in awards going to them.

Later regional meetings for similar presentations will be held at Jacksonville, Corpus Christi, Sonora and Amarillo.

March Sees Plan To Destroy Local Government In Texas

BROWNWOOD, April 29 (AP)—Caso March of Waco, making his third try as candidate for governor, charged here today that "an aggressive and well planned attempt" is underway to destroy local self government in Texas."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the West Texas County Judges and County Commissioners association, March said efforts are being directed to centralize control of local governments in the state government.

Passage of the Gilmer-Aikin education bills brought this dramatically to the attention of the people, he said.

The new setup, he said, would empower an appointive commissioner of education to dictate educational standards throughout Texas, to levy taxes, make assessments, and equalize taxes in every independent and common school district in Texas on real property to support the education program.

Panhandle-Plains Floral Group To Hold School Here Sunday

Approximately 300 florists, members of the Texas State Florists association, from the Panhandle-Plains area, will gather here Sunday in a regional design school of the association.

The school will be conducted at the Hilton hotel from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. Artists who are to lecture in the school include: Ruth Harmon, Houston; Ted Williams, San Antonio; Al Meyers, Harlingen; Bob Galloway, Bellaire; Jimmy Parsons, Fort Worth; Buddy Benz, Houston; and Harold Kayton, San Antonio, president of the association.

Besides Kayton, other officials of the association coming will include Tom Maben, Fort Worth, third vice-president; and Wise Adkisson, Greenville, executive secretary.

V. T. McMullen of Lubbock is general chairman of the school.

HER FORMULA SIMPLE

MALDEN, Mass., (U.P.) — Live right and look on the bright side of life. That's the way to become a centenarian, says Mrs. Hannah Holt, 103, who was born in a log cabin in Maine the same spring that the United States declared war on Mexico.

Texan Named To High Federal Post Under Defense Secretary

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 29—A Texan has just been named director of personnel of the office of secretary of defense under the dynamic Louis A. Johnson. He is John Mayfield, son of former U.S. Senator and Mrs. Earle B. Mayfield of Tyler. He was born in Meridian, grew up in Austin and Washington and often has visited the Bosque county ranch of his parents.

In this job, Mayfield will head up all the civilian employes of the U.S. military establishment throughout the world. That means the civilians—and there are many of them—in Europe, Japan, and the islands.

To 'Unify' Civilians

He realizes fully that his first problem will be to get these civilians unified just as it is Secretary Johnson's job to get all the various branches of the military and civilian employes to think alike.

"They need to be brought together and to be taught to forget their differences, too," Mayfield said. "What's more, they need to receive a new course of instruction in the entire national defense system."

He will be directly responsible, the table of organization shows, to the secretary of defense.

Mayfield has been in government service since 1935. He is what is known as a government career man in Washington. He began in personnel work at the General accounting office. When war came, he left to go into the Navy and served in the South Pacific four years. He was a lieutenant-Commander when discharged in 1946. Then he went to the War Assets corporation while it was still a part of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. He performed liaison tasks for veterans division on Capitol Hill, and then was assigned to the disposition of surplus property. Later he was made deputy administrator of personnel for WAA. Then he was assistant deputy administrator for the office of management of WAA. But that agency is now in process of liquidation.

Mayfield graduated at the University of Texas in 1930, received his master's degree from Southern Methodist university in 1932 at Dallas and then attended the graduate school of Columbia university. Off duty, he has written some books and essays about poetry and people. He has quite a reputation in Washington as a collector of rare books. His collection of the works of Swinburne, Sidney Lanier and other writers is notable. Many Texas rare editions are on his book shelves.

Frogs (a term which also includes toads) vary in size from a Cuban type which measures three-quarters of an inch long to a West African giant which has a two-foot leg spread.

Sunray Oil Company Runs Tests On New Scurry County Producer

Sunray Oil Corporation has completed its No. 1 Brown for good flowing production from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian three miles south of the North Snyder field in north-central Scurry county.

On a potential test, the well flowed 10 hours through a one-half-inch choke, producing 432 barrels of 44.2-gravity oil in that time. This would make a 24-hour initial production of approximately 1,036 barrels of oil.

There was no water. Gas-oil ratio was 1,000-1. Production was natural from the open hole section at 6,535-6,644 feet.

This pay opener is 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 8, section 20, J. P. Smith survey, about six miles north of the town of Snyder.

Error Is Made

A report Wednesday that this well flowed 132 barrels of oil in 32 hours was in error.

Lipscomb & DeLange of San Antonio are starting by May 1 on a west outpost the Sunray No. 1 Brown Canyon discovery in north-central Scurry county as their No. 1 A. L. Wren, et al.

The drillsite is 467 feet from north and east lines of Dallas Trust & Savings Bank subdivision of section 20, block 11, J. P. Smith survey.

Projected depth is 7,000 feet. Drilling will be with rotary equipment.

Producer Is Completed

A small Devonian producer has been completed in the undeveloped area in north-central Andrews county, eight miles north and three miles west of the town of Andrews.

It is McAlester Fuel company of Magnolia, Ark., No. 1 M. M. Fisher, 660 feet from south and west lines of the lease in section 4, block A-36, psl survey. Elevation is 3,163 feet.

The well was finished on a gas lift for 5.41 barrels of oil per day. Gravity was 29 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was not measured. Total fluid recovered had a shakeout of 40 per cent water.

Total depth was 11,297 feet. Top of pay was 11,005 feet. The venture was plugged back to 11,184 feet. The Devonian pay zone had been acidized with 5,000 gallons preceding the test.

Pipe Is Set

Magnolia Petroleum company has set pipe and was preparing to start tests at its No. 1 Eicke, Canyon-Pennsylvanian prospect in central Scurry county, four miles west of Snyder.

Following a recovery of clean oil on a drillstem test to 6,778 feet, total depth, operator cemented seven-inch casing on bottom with 125 sacks. The project was waiting on cement to cure before drilling plug and testing.

It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 209, block 97, H&TC survey.

Permian Basin Residents Are Invited To Attend Odessa Rodeo

ODESSA, April 29 (Special)—All Permian basin residents are being invited to attend the RCA-approved rodeo, sponsored by the Odessa Lions club, at the old Wranglers' club arena here May 12-15.

Purpose of the rodeo is to raise funds to aid in sending the Odessa High school band to New York this summer. The band has been named the official band to represent Texas at the Lions international convention this summer.

Cities in this area have been asked to send high school bands to compete for trophies to be awarded the top three in the opening day parade at 4:30 p.m. May 12. Prizes also will be given the three parade floats judged best. The Odessa band will lead the parade but it is not eligible to compete for the trophies.

Purses totaling $3,000 will be offered to professional rodeo performers who are expected from all parts of the nation.

Stanolind Oil Firm Announces Shifts In Engineer Personnel

G. L. Maciula, Stanolind Pipe Line company engineer, will replace Hobart G. Mariner as the company's engineer in the West Texas division, C. E. Wilson, superintendent, announced Friday. Mariner was promoted to assistant superintendent of the Wyoming division and will assume his new post May 1.

The resignation of H. M. Hill, former superintendent of the Wyoming division, to accept a position as manager of the pipe line department of the Utah Oil Refining Co. resulted in a chain of Stanolind Pipe Line company promotions. Hill was succeeded by Ray R. Strand, former district foreman at Casper, and Mariner was appointed his assistant, Wilson said.

Native Of Oklahoma

Maciula, a native of Bartlesville, Okla., is a graduate of Oklahoma A and M college where he took a BS in mechanical engineering in 1940. During the war he served as a civilian with the navy, specializing in the production of torpedoes.

On leaving the government post he joined Cities Service Oil company pipe line department at Ponca City, Okla. He was promoted to maintenance foreman before joining Stanolind Pipe Line company as an engineer in 1946. Advanced to mechanical engineer in 1947, Maciula recently was assigned the post or research and development engineer.

In 1942, Maciula married Miss Betty Irwin of Bartlesville. The couple has two children, John David, 4, and Judy, nine months old. Maciula plans to bring his family to Lubbock.

Mariner moved to Lubbock from Brownfield when area headquarters were established here in December, 1948. An engineering graduate of Kansas State College, he served in the civil engineering corps of the Navy during the war and was in command of a construction battalion in the South Pacific. Before joining Stanolind, he was employed by the Phillips Petroleum company and the Lago Oil Corp., working for the latter company in South America. He was head of the hydraulics section of the Tulsa engineering department before becoming area engineer for West Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Mariner have one child. They will move from Lubbock to Casper to establish a home.

Stanolind Pipe Line company operates more than 380 miles of trunk line system in West Texas, gathering crude oil in several fields and transporting it to refineries in the midwest. The division is divided into three districts—Hendrick, Denver City and Slaughter.

Military Moves To Stop 'Leaks'

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Spurred by a sharp order from Capitol Hill, the armed forces have issued mandates to all their military and civilian personnel to guard against "leaking" secret information to the public.

The formal instructions have been issued separately at different times during recent weeks by the Air Force, Navy and Army.

The most recent, an Army circular, appeared today.

Vinson Statement Cited

Signed by Gen. Omar Bradley, Army chief of staff, it directed that the statement of Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee "be brought to the attention of all military and civilian personnel." It then carried the text of Vinson's statement.

In the statement, Vinson noted that on March 12 he initiated an inquiry "into allegations that the department of the Air Force was intentionally 'leaking' highly classified military information to the press on the B-36 bomber and other matters." A report was submitted to the committee, said Vinson, which showed the leaks "have not been officially inspired by the Air department." But he continued:

Additional Leaks Feared

"It seems evident that so long as great controversy continues over the aircraft used by the air force, additional leaks are likely despite the best efforts of the national military establishment.

"One additional point seems to be evident. Persons within the national military establishment, on the government payrolls, are endangering the national security through their efforts to sell the public their own particular views regarding air power.

"The armed services committee wants it clearly understood that if persons in the armed services or in their employ continue to pass statements to the press which are calculated to depreciate the activities of a sister service and which at the same time jeopardize the national security the committee will step in with a full scale investigation. We will not tolerate the continuance of this practice."

Dallas Watchman Terrorizes Employes At Vinegar Plant

DALLAS, April 29 (AP)—A 44-year-old nightwatchman early today terrorized three employes for almost an hour in a sprawling northwest Dallas vinegar plant.

He injured one of the three seriously and fired at the others before two policemen subdued him after he fell and broke his leg in the midst of a gun battle.

E. P. Parris, 48, Dallas, wounded by the nightwatchman, was taken to a hospital with eight bullet wounds. The nightwatchman also was hospitalized, suffering from bullet wounds in the left hip and left leg as well as the broken leg.

Parrish and Donald Stricklin, Paris, Tex., had stayed overnight in sleeping quarters provided at the plant for truck drivers.

The third target for the nightwatchman's shots was plant foreman A. L. Smith. Smith said Parrish and the nightwatchman were arguing when he arrived and that shortly afterward both he and Parrish were under fire. Stricklin, who had gone out for breakfast, returned and was accosted by the nightwatchman, who made Stricklin "walk all over the place" until they found the wounded Parrish in a bathroom. "I'm going to shoot you both," Stricklin quoted the nightwatchman. Stricklin dissuaded the man.

Then patrolman W. C. Grinnell and H. C. Babbs arrived. Smith warned them that the man had a gun. At the same time the nightwatchman opened fire on the officers, who jumped behind large packing cases. They fired nine shots at the man.

Services Set In Lorenzo Today For Mrs. Martha A. DeVore

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha A. DeVore, 89, of Lorenzo, will be held this afternoon at 2 p.m. in Lorenzo First Methodist church.

Rev. George Bryant, pastor will officiate, assisted by Rev. J. T. Clinton, retired Lubbock minister.

Burial will be in Lorenzo cemetery under the direction of Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral home. Grandsons will be pallbearers.

Mrs. DeVore died at 12:35 a.m. Friday in her home at Lorenzo, where she had lived the last four years.

She left 128 survivors, who are direct descendants, including four daughters, Mrs. C. P. Chastain of Midland, Mrs. E. C. Kent of Idalou, Mrs. W. R. Byres of Morton, and Miss Mary DeVore of Lorenzo; four sons, A A. DeVore of Slaton, and T. D., W E. and J. P. DeVore, all Lorenzo; a sister, Mrs. T. T. Koonce of Lorenzo; 113 grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren, and seven great-great-great-grandchildren.

BOYHOOD BELL REGAINED

WORCESTER, Mass., (U.P.)—The bell which called the Rev. Carl O. Bostrom to worship when he was a boy will be installed in his new church, Holden Lutheran Church, being constructed here. The Portland, Conn., Lutheran parish, which replaced the 63-year-old bell several years ago, gave the bell to their former member.

Cotton Shippers Told To 'Swap' In Europe

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 29 (U.P.)—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) proposed today that American cotton shippers barter with foreign nations in an effort to avert heavy cotton surpluses.

The former secretary of agriculture said many nations want to buy U. S. cotton but haven't the money to pay for it.

"The problem," he said, "comes right down to a question of dollar shortages in the countries that want and could use our cotton."

"My recipe is simple: let's swap," Anderson said.

Large Carryover Feared

He made the proposal in a talk prepared for delivery before a meeting of the American Cotton Shippers association. Anderson told the shippers that the Agriculture department estimates the cotton carryover on Aug. 1 will be about 5,500,000 bales, "considerably more than what we generally think of as a 'desirable' carryover."

"Unless we ship more cotton," he said, "the United States carryover will be still bigger next year."

At the same time, he said, cotton is in "relatively short supply" on a nationwide basis.

"The problem," said Anderson, "is to find the way to pry open this potential market — to sell our cotton instead of hoarding here at home."

Funeral Services Held For Former Texas Representative

CONROE, Tex., April 29. (U.P.)—Funeral services were held here today for Robert A. Powell, 70, long-time political leader and Montgomery county Democratic chairman.

Powell, a former state representative, died at his home yesterday. He served in the legislature in the 1930s, and was former Montgomery county school superintendent.

Survivors include his wife, daughter and son.

City To Refund Fines In Parking 'Mixup'

Refund checks will be mailed early next week to 62 persons who have paid $1 fines for all-night parking on residence streets Monday night, City Manager Steve Matthews said Friday.

They were among more than 500 persons whose cars were tagged during an unannounced drive by police. Many protests resulted.

An accompanying letter with the checks will explain the sudden activity apparently resulted from "well-intentioned misunderstanding" of instruction to police, the city manager said.

It will give further assurance, he added, that if enforcement of the all-night residential street parking ban should become practical and advisable, ample advance notice will be given.

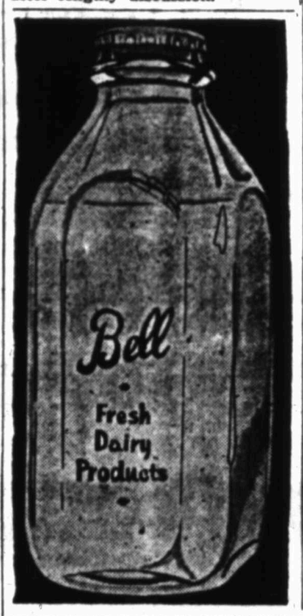

The city manager also said he has begun an intensive search for some practical method of eliminating necessity for such parking without imposing unreasonable hardships upon those who lack any other place to leave cars.

McGRATH PRAISES TEXAS DEMO

Rumor Of Diplomatic Post For Morrow Given Official Backing

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 29 — Chairman J. Howard McGrath of the Democratic National committee said tonight that Texas national Committeeman Wright Morrow of Houston is under consideration for appointment to a diplomatic post.

Assignment of Morrow to such a position could clear the way for ending a row in Texas Democratic ranks over representation on the national committee.

Here during the past week for conferences with President Truman, McGrath and Texas members of Congress, Morrow himself declined to comment on the situation.

Morrow Remains Silent

"That is a matter I don't feel free to discuss," he told a reporter. He gave the impression however, that he is seriously considering accepting such a job.

McGrath, asked about the situation, replied:

"I've been talking with him about it in a very general way. The committee would be very glad to recommend him to the State department and the President."

The Rhode Island senator then added that Morrow was a man of "substance and general ability" suited for a diplomatic post. He added that he is awaiting more specific word from Morrow on the subject.

Ambassadorship Hinted

Late in the day, after the House adjourned, Morrow conferred with Speaker Rayburn in the latter's office. Rayburn waved off questions about their conference, and Morrow said he likewise had nothing to say.

Morrow expressed interest in McGrath's comment, but still declined to discuss the situation. He said he planned to leave by plane at noon tomorrow for Houston.

Should the Houston man be named to an ambassadorship—the post in Belgium is among those reported under consideration, although McGrath said no specific places had been mentioned—he would resign his spot on the Democratic National committee.

Party Strife Cited

The way then would be open for possible appointment of Byron Skelton of Temple as his successor.

Texas Democrats in their state convention and through their executive committee have voted to have Morrow removed and his position filled by Skelton.

Morrow has declined to step out, however, pointing out that he was elected at the Philadelphia national convention last summer for a four-year period.

Only the national committee has the power to remove its members, and then only for such causes as their failure to support the party's candidate for president and vice-president.

Morrow says he supported both President Truman and Vice-President Barkley.

Railway Strike Possible In May

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP) — A strike on May 11 by some 25,000 railroad engineers against 15 western carriers appeared possible today.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers paved the way for the walkout yesterday by rejecting a presidential fact finding board's recommendation. The board on April 11 denied the union's demand for a second engineer on multiple unit diesel locomotives.

Can Strike May 11

Under terms of the national railway act the engineers can strike on May 11, although a union official said "a strike is not the only alternative." He indicated the union might be agreeable to further negotiations with the railroads.

James P. Shields, assistant grand engineer of the BLE, said a report on the rejection of the board's recommendations by the union's general chairman was sent to President Truman. He added that if Mr. Truman recommended further negotiations it would not be mandatory, "but such a recommendation would have some influence."

"It would hardly be proper to state what we plan to do until after the expiration of the 30-day limit May 11," Shields said.

Walkout Was Delayed

The union had authorized a strike against the 15 western carriers and set Jan. 31 for the walkout. However, naming of the fact finding board by President Truman delayed the strike. The railway labor act also provides a "cooling off" period of 30 days after the board's report to the President before a strike can start.

Shields said about 116 railroads are affected by the decision of the general chairman but only the 15 western carriers have taken a strike vote.

The union had claimed a second engineer is necessary on multiple-unit diesel electric locomotives for safety and efficiency. The present crew is an engineer and a fireman. The carriers claimed an extra engineer would be unnecessary and would be "made work."

Fight Claimed Raging In Philippine Jungle

MANILA, April 29 (AP) — Philippine constabulary were reported engaged in battle tonight with the ambush slayers of Mrs. Aurora Quezon in the jungle-clad mountains 90 miles northeast of Manila.

Mrs. Quezon, widow of the Philippines' first president, her older daughter, and her son-in-law were among 12 members of her motor party killed in the ambush Thursday morning on the road to Baler on the East coast.

Information on the punitive battle was scanty due to remoteness of the scene, but the Red Cross reported it had been alerted to supply blood plasma.

Manila papers continued to speculate that President Elpidio Quirino, who had been invited on the trip but could not go, was the intended victim.

Air Force Orders Postponement Of Assault Trial On Guam

GUAM, April 29. (INS)—The trial of two American negro brothers for the rape-murder of Ruth Farnsworth on Guam was postponed again today to allow time for important witnesses to arrive from the United States.

The new date for the trial before a U.S. Air Force court martial board was set for May 9th. The delay was asked by defense counsel.

Charged with the savage assault that resulted in the death of the beautiful U.S. Navy civilian employe last December are Privates Calvin Dennis of Frederick, Md., and Herman P. Dennis, jr., of Calvert, Tex. A third defendant, Staff Sgt. Robert W. Burns of Spokane, Wash., is to be tried separately at a later date.

Rites Set For Former Lubbock Resident Claimed In Dallas

Funeral services for T. R. McCreary, 58, of Dallas, will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Church of Christ at Memphis.

McCreary, who resided in Lubbock from 1930 until 1934, died Thursday night in Dallas, three weeks after suffering a stroke.

Brief services were held Friday afternoon in Dallas, after which the body was taken to Memphis.

Burial is to be in Memphis cemetery.

Several survivors reside in the Lubbock area. They include a daughter, Mrs. Alene Gear, of near Lubbock; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Will McCreary of 1650 Ninth; a niece, Mrs. Jake Sodd of 1650 Ninth; and a nephew, Jack McCreary of 2417 Twenty-seventh. All will attend Sunday's services in Memphis.

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—Fred Schilplin, 81, editor and publisher of the St. Cloud, Minn., Daily Times, died unexpectedly here last night. He had been attending the American Newspaper Publishers association convention.

VA To Refund Overpayments

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Thousands of World War II veterans have been receiving government checks in recent weeks for overpaying on their GI life insurance.

The surprise "bonuses," totaling many thousands of dollars, are an unexpected by-product of the Veterans administration's efforts to start insurance dividend checks rolling by the end of 1949.

"As a matter of fact, many recipients of the overpayment checks have confused them with dividend payments," a VA spokesman told a reporter.

Some Have Complained

"Some have complained that they expected a larger divident.

"We have had to reassure them that this is 'gravy'—that they are being reimbursed for having paid out too much on past premiums, and that they will get their dividends later.

"Furthermore, the checks now going out will have no bearing on the size of the dividends the recipients eventually will receive."

The overpayments have shown up by the thousands in connection with the audit of accounts that has been under way for many months in preparation for the declaration of dividend.

Adjustments are made as soon as excess payments are discovered, and checks are sent out immediately.

Underpayments are being discovered, also. No attempt is being made to collect these amounts due, but they later will be assessed against the dividends.

Statistics on the amount and number of the overpayments are not available. In most cases the overpayments resulted from readjustment of premiums.

An estimated 16,000,000 veterans may share in the dividend, to be declared from an insurance fund surplus estimated at more than $2,000,000,000.

Rites Set In Hughes Springs Today For Victor E. Nichols

Funeral rites for Victor Eugene Nichols, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nichols of Forty-fourth street, will be at 2 p.m. today in Hughes Springs.

JURY WILL GET CASE TODAY

Testimony Is Closed In Trial Of Youth For Dean's Slaying

CLEBURNE, April 29 (AP) — Both state and defense closed their cases today in the murder trial of Arthur Clayton Hester, admitted slayer of his guardian, Dr. John Lord.

Judge Penn Jackson said he would read his charge to the jury at 8 a.m. tomorrow. Attorneys will follow with their arguments. District Attorney John A. James, jr., has announced that he will ask the death penalty for the 18-year-old defendant.

Hester is charged with fatally bludgeoning the 70-year-old Texas Christian university dean March 8 at Dr. Lord's secluded farm home near Burleson, Tex. Lord's bloodstained body was found March 10 and Hester was arrested two days later at Los Angeles.

Youth Placed On Stand

A few moments prior to the windup of proceedings in mid-afternoon, defense attorney Al Clyde of Fort Worth placed the youthful, handsome, defendant on the stand.

"Face the jury, Arthur," said Clyde.

Hester faced the jury.

"Arthur, are you sorry?" the attorney asked.

The state objected quickly. The objection was overruled.

Hester replied to the question in a firm voice: "Yes sir, I am."

Clyde went on: "If this jury sees fit to give you another chance will you promise never to give any more trouble and to be a law-abiding citizen?"

Was Sensational Trial

Hester never had a chance to answer that one. Judge Jackson sustained the state's lightning objection.

But then Clyde shouted dramatically—shouted so loudly his voice carried clear out to the courthouse lawn: "Did you intend to kill Dr. Lord on March 8, 1949?"

And Hester yelled his reply: "No sir, I did not."

"The defense rests," said Clyde, and the testimony was over.

It had been a sensational, sordid trial, colored with a theme of homosexuality. Hester testified that Lord the man who gave him a home after he fled in 1945 from the state orphanage at Corsicana, was a homosexualist. He said he submitted to Lord's improper advances. He said he battered the elderly educator during an angry quarrel;

"He promised to let me use the car if I would submit to an unnatural act. I did. I hit him because I was mad."

Victim Claimed Robbed

But the state pictured a far different end for Lord, a distinguished authority on constitutional government. It accused Hester of hiding in a bedroom closet of the secluded farm home, lying in wait for Dr. Lord. It charged that he sprang from the closet and struck his victim from behind. It accused Hester of robbing Lord of his money and ring and his automobile. Hester, in his flight to the West Coast left the car near Big Spring.

The defense was never successful in giving the jury corroboration of Hester's allegations that Lord was a homosexualist.

It's latest attempt fell through this afternoon.

Raymond Nevahaur, Fort Worth shoe salesman and former TCU student, was called to the stand by defense attorney Clyde. Just as he started to testify, the state objected.

The jury was ordered to withdraw. Then Nevahaur began his testimony which went into the court records.

When he was a student at TCU, Nevahaur said, Lord once gave him a ride to town. During the ride, he said, the graduate school dean placed his hand on Nevahaur's leg. Lord also offered him a job of carpentry work at his home, which Nevahaur accepted, according to the testimony. The shoe salesman said that he went to the Lord house and did the carpentry work, the educator again placed his hand on Nevahaur's leg. Nothing further transpired and he left, he added.

A state's witness testified today that Hester once referred to policemen as "just dumb suckers."

She was Mrs. F. M. Jenkins, sister-in-law of Dr. Lord, who said she and her husband visited in Lord's home from December to February in 1948.

Lie Detector Clears Chicago Woman In Mother's Death

CHICAGO, April 29 (INS)—Chicago police announced Thursday that a lie detector test cleared Alice Grinde, 27, of any connection with the fatal stabbing of her mother, and then officials said the victim might have committed suicide.

Miss Grinde discovered the body of her widowed mother, 56-year-old Hazel Grinde, in the bathroom of their apartment Tuesday night.

A high-ranking police officer conferred for more than two hours today with Dr. Thomas A. Carter, coroner's physician, who said Mrs. Grinde might have inflicted the fatal stab wounds herself.

One angle which tended to further the suicide theory was that Mrs. Grinde often expressed the fear to her daughter that she might be a cancer victim

Previously authorities theorized Mrs. Grinde might have been stabbed to death over a bridge debt by someone she knew.

Police said Mrs. Grinde, widow of a commercial banker, was an avid bridge player and authorities prepared to question women friends who played cards with the slain woman.

Pastor Held In Wife's Death Reported Seen Near Crime Site

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 29. (AP)—A mystery witness claims he saw the Rev. George Hetenyi at the Genesee river early on the day his wife's body was fished out, the district attorney's office has disclosed.

Assistant District Attorney Clarence J. Henry said the witness had identified the suburban Buffalo clergyman as the man he had talked to on a river bridge here last Saturday morning.

The bullet-torn body of Hetenyi's wife, the former Jean Gareis, 25, of Ooakland, Calif., was taken from the stream late Saturday.

The 40-year-old, Hungarian-born clergyman is being held on a charge of first degree murder. He steadfastly claims he is innocent.

Authorities, meanwhile, were checking another clue, a tooled leather holster found about 20 feet from the spot where Mrs. Hetenyi's body was discovered.

The assistant prosecutor also reported that markings on the holster indicated it had been made in Texas. Hetenyi spent some time in Texas before coming to Buffalo to serve as a supply pastor in western New York Episcopal churches.

Five Firemen Hurt In Blast Near Orange

ORANGE, April 29 (AP)—The explosion of a 55,000-barrel oil tank early today critically injured five firemen.

The tank, was in the Orange field Oil field, 10 miles west of Orange, the naval station and the nearby DuPont plant fought the flames.

At midnight the fire seemed out. Firemen climbed atop to investigate. While they were clambering over the tank, the blast occurred.

The injured are E. L. Barker, Orange fire marshal; George R. Vallery, civil service fireman at the Naval station; Jack Methner of the DuPont plant; and A. G. Mott and Lewis York, Orange, volunteer firemen.

Only York had regained consciousness late in the day.

Ingrid Bergman's Husband Lands In Italy Amid Divorce Rumors

ROME, Italy, April 29 (AP)—Ingrid Bergman's husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom ,arrived here today by plane amid rumors that the Swedish star planned to divorce him and marry Italian film director Roberto Rossellini.

An unidentified American woman met Lindstrom at Ciampino airfield, according to the Italian news agency Astra. They drove to some undisclosed destination in Rome. Leading hotels here said they had no Peter Lindstrom registered.

Italian newspapers continued their almost daily stories of a romance between Miss Bergman and Rossellini, who are making a film on the barren volcanic island of Stromboli near Sicily. Both have refused to confirm or deny reports that they intend to divorce their respective spouses.

Ex-Actor, Held By Police, Boasts Of Safe-Cracking Skill

COLUMBUS, O., April 29 (INS)—A handsome ex-movie actor who now bills himself America's "second best safe cracker" regaled police today with secrets of his nefarious trade and an admission of nearly 100 "jobs" in Columbus and Los Angeles.

The former actor, Kenneth L. Scott, 29, was picked up in a tourist camp near the Ohio capital with his "apprentice," Thomas N. Reilly, 28, of Upper Darby, Pa., who was learning from Scott the intricacies of safe cracking.

Scott, who termed himself "the second best safe man in the country," said his only peer was a man named "McLarnin," now serving a term in Sing Sing.

Appeared In 'B' Films

Detectives agreed with the rating and added that he was the best safe man who ever showed up in Columbus. They said his wave of burglaries netted him $250,000.

Scott told officers he wrote scripts for 26 films, five of which starred Humphrey Bogart. He said he also appeared in several films, specializing in gambler and Nazis-officer type roles.

(In Hollywood, records showed Scott played in two "B" pictures, "Her Father's Daughter," and "Her First Romance."

(The screen actors guild said his legal name is Edgar Scott Flohr.)

Took 'Job' Seriously

The sleepy-eyed former actor said he finally became a "technical director" for Warner brothers. He refused to say how he shifted from the movie industry to safe-cracking, but commented:

"Once in, let me tell you it's hard to get out."

Scott was arrested after months of routine investigation. Police said he took his safe-cracking "seriously."

The filmland "Jimmy Valentine" was wanted for a wave of West Coast burglaries in which approximately $65,000 was reported stolen. The Columbus warrant charged him with 11 crimes.

Police described Scott as a master thief who "knows everything about safes there is to know." They said he purposely made his work look like an amateur's in some cases to throw them off the track.

Scott said he jumped a $1,500 appeal bond in Los Angeles after being charged with almost 70 safe crackings on the West Coast.

He said he had planned to turn himself over to police there in August because two of his former associates would be "gunning" for him when they were released from San Quentin in July.

Scott, who said he had a journalism degree from the University of Pennsylvania freely discussed his writing and acting talents. Of one recent script he said:

"Right now a studio has one of my scripts about a safe-cracker. We're holding out for $50,000.

Scott will appear in court tomorrow to face charges of grand larceny.

Texas House Blasts Policy Toward China

AUSTIN, April 29 (AP) — The House of Representatives applied to the federal government today to stop the Communist threat and to take immediate steps to prevent Stalin from controlling China.

Furthermore, the government should fire men in the State department and foreign services who have helped bring on the present peril, a resolution said, "by following the policy of treating the Soviet union as 'a peace-loving Democracy and the Chinese Communists as mere agrarian reformers who have no connection with Moscow.'"

The resolution was adopted unanimously by the House. It now must go to the Senate for concurrence.

One Of Victims Injured In Explosion At Temple Dies

TEMPLE, Tex., April 29 (AP)—John S. Davis, burned in an explosion at the McCloskey Veterans administration hospital cold storage plant, died today.

Two others were less seriously burned in yesterday's blast. They were M. L. Harper, chief of special services at the hospital, and Samuel Gage, negro employe.

MORE CLINICS NEEDED

WASHINGTON, (U.P.) — The American Cancer Society lists New Hampshire as the leading state in cancer treatment, with one clinic for every 45,000 persons in the state. The 400 clincs in the country would have to be increased to 2,400 to extend comparable clinic service to the rest of the nation, the society said.

Dukes Club Hubbers, 25-9

Fuhrmann Leads Duke Hit Parade

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 29 (AP) — Albuquerque batters slammed out 21 hits over Lubbock tonight in the West Texas-New Mexico league, winning 25 to 9.

Second baseman Babe Fuhrmann lead the hitting parade with two singles, a double and a triple and batted in four runs.

Despite a seven-run second inning for Lubbock, the Albuquerque bats couldn't miss. The Dukes took eight runs in the first inning off five singles a double and three walks.

Dave Steger, Albuquerque leftfielder, scored with a grand slam single. His one-base hit brought in three runs. At another point Dick Dawson, center fielder, smacked out a double and brought in three runs.

Ferrarese Tough

Southpaw rookie Donn Ferrarese, who took over the pitching chores when Lubbock exploded for seven runs in the second inning, couldn't be touched.

The 19-year-old curve baller yielded three hits in the last seven innings, struck out eight and walked seven. He tried in the last three frames.

The Dukes went to work early on starter Bill Grafton. The locals scored four runs in the first inning with one out before Herbie Pitts took over. Pitts gave up two singles including a grand-slam single to Dave Steger before the side was retired.

Lubbock fired right back in the second to score seven runs. The Dukes committed all their four errors in that frame and they used three pitchers to quell the uprising. Manager Jackie Sullivan's triple and a double by catcher Mike Dooley were the biggest blows for Lubbock, although the Hubbers nicked seven of their 10 safeties in that inning.

After that, the Dukes kept firing away. A walk, a double by Hershel Martin and a triple by Fuhrmann gave them two runs in the second. Another walk, another double by Martin, two singles and an outfield fly gave them three in the fourth.

Two errors, a walk and two singles made the score 16 to 7 in the fifth and they added another tally in the next inning on a single and a double by Dave Steger.

Lubbock used three walks, a hit batsman and a single by Chick Fowler to score twice in the seventh. Then the Dukes went at it again to score eight more runs. A grand slam double by Dawson in his second time up that inning capped the drive. Lubbock couldn't solve Ferrarese the last seven frames.

Busters Win 8-4 Victory In Donkey Baseball At Lockney

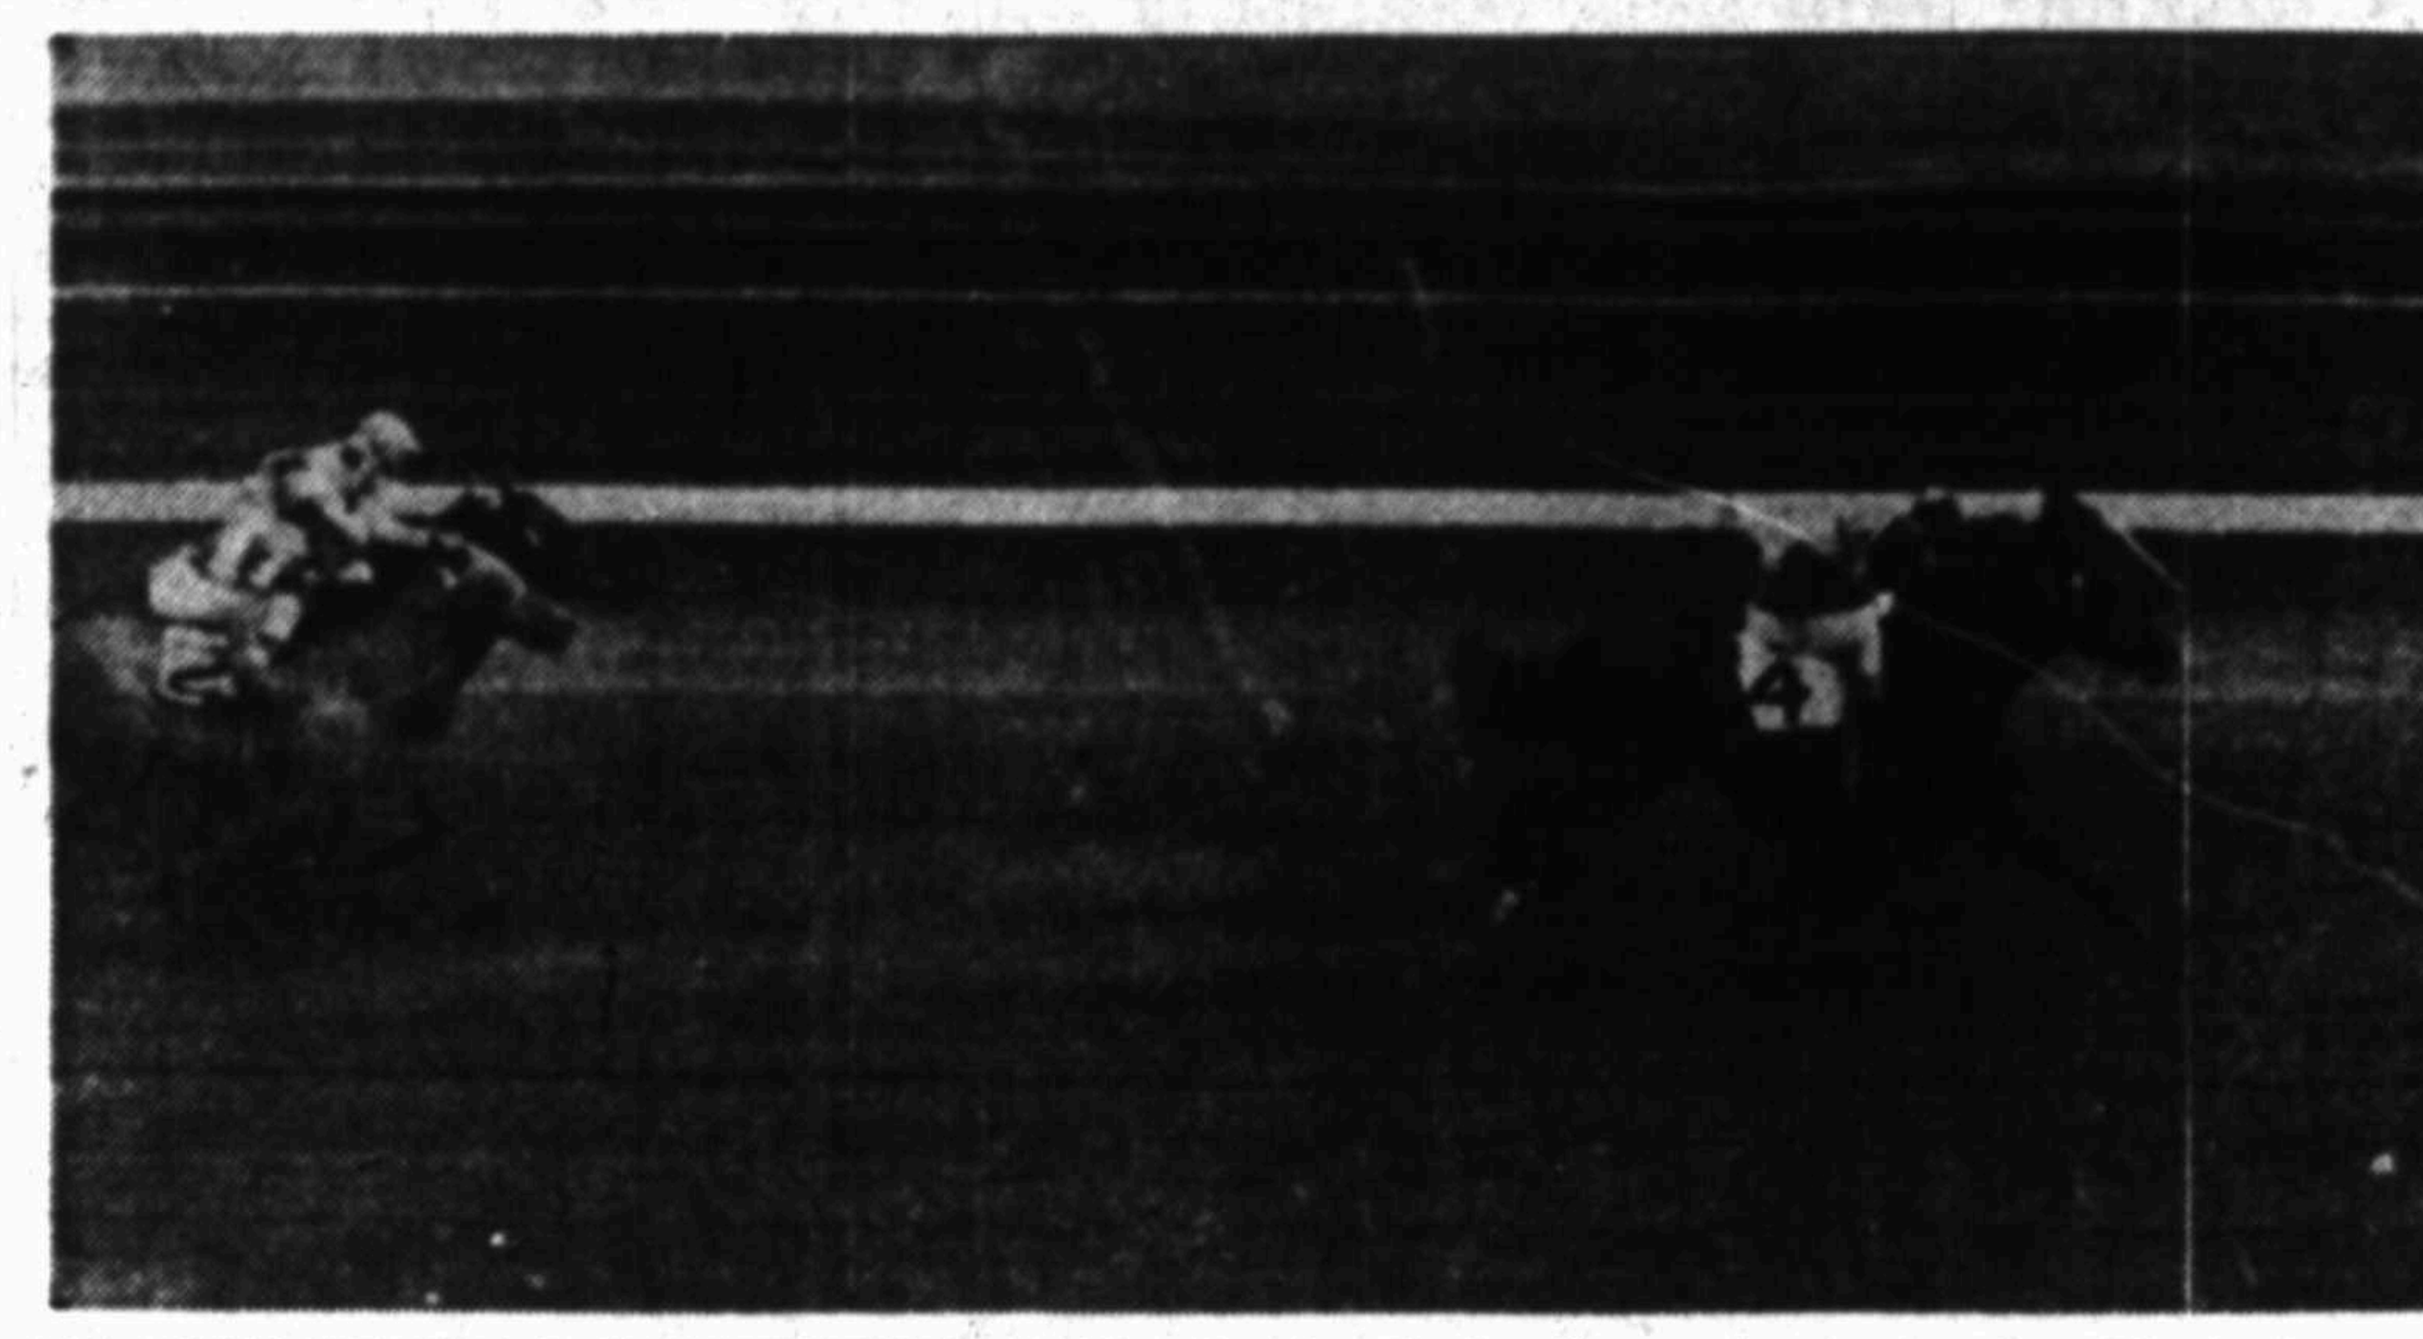

LOCKNEY, April 29. (Special) An overflow crowd of 500 persons witnessed a donkey basketball game here tonight in the high school gym. Curtis Kelly's Donkey Busters defeated Bob Miller's Drug Store Cowboys, 8-4, in the basketball rodeo.

Lots of bucking and pitching kept the crowd interested in the tussle which was sponsored by the senior class of the high school. Brownie McDow was the star of the night for the men on the floor, and he and Fred Hall were outstanding for the Cowboys. Lloyd Reedhamer led the Donkey Busters.

AN INCH MAKES A DIFFERENCE—Battle Creek, first place winner in the First Annual Big Spring Sheriff's Posse Futurity on April 24, won $2,700 by having a long nose. Hank H. Jr., (No. 4) made a desperate stretch bid, but lost by the slight distance of an inch. Battle Creek's victory brought Owner Beale Queen $5,400, just twice what Hank H. Jr. won. Bo-Jet, owned by A. L. Holcomb of Odessa, was third and Badger's Boy (No. 2) barely was nosed for fourth. The Futurity winner ran the quarter-mile in 22.8. (Official Finish-line Photo).

Gene Bearden Hurls Cleveland To 4-1 Win Over Detroit Club

Pitchers Duel For Eight Long Innings

DETROIT, April 29. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians staged a three-run uprising in the ninth inning today to beat the Detroit Tigers 4-1 and give lefthander Gene Bearden his second win of the season over the Detroiters.

Bearden duelled for eight innings with the Tigers' Freddie Hutchinson before the Indians broke up the 1-1 deadlock.

Mickey Vernon opened the Indians' ninth by singling. He moved to second as Vic Wertz let the ball get away.

Ken Keltner singled, sending Vernon to third. Johnny Groth got an error when his throw-in was wild, letting Keltner take second. Bob Kennedy was walked purposely.

Hal Peck, pinchhitting for catcher Jim Hegan, hit a long fly to center and Vernon scored after the catch to make it 2-1.

Bearden slashed a single, scoring Keltner to make it 3-1. Hutchinson was taken out and Marlin Stuart came in to pitch for the Tigers.

Bearden took too long a lead off first and both he and Kennedy were trapped between bases. Kennedy finally was tagged out by George Kell as he tried to make it to third, Bearden going to second.

Dale Mitchell tripled to deep center, scoring Bearden to make it 4-1.

Saddler's Manager Rejects Fight Offer

NEW YORK, April 29 (INS)—Charley Johnston, manager of Sandy Saddler, said today he has rejected an offer of $25,000 for Saddler to meet champion Willie Pep for the featherweight title.

"Jim Norris made the offer for Joe Louis' International Boxing Club," said Johnston, "and he wanted to stage the fight either in New York or Chicago June 29. But I told him I wasn't interested in fighting Pep unless we could make some real money.

"I'm going to take Saddler to Europe in June for some fights in London and Paris."

Saddler won the title from Pep and then lost it back to him.

K. Carter Softball Teams Win Games From McWhorter Nines

Borger Gains 12-11 Win Over Blue Sox

BORGER, April 29 (AP)—First Baseman Jimmy Littlejohn's second home run of the night, coming in the bottom half of the ninth inning, broke up a free-scoring game here tonight to give the Borger Gassers a 12 to 11 victory over the Abilene Blue Sox.

Littlejohn's blow over the leftfield fence, scoring Bob Ferguson ahead of him, was in traditional story-book form. It handed the Gassers a sweep of the two-game series.

Borger had taken an early lead, but Abilene kept whittling away at it, cutting the margin from 8-1 until they fashioed an 11-10 lead in the top of the ninth.

Marion Grant, Borger relief hurler, relieved Jim Cain in the ninth to emerge the winner. Grant came in with two men on base, two runs in and no one out to put out the fire.

Borger goes to Amarillo tomorrow to open a two-game set.

Tech Netters Defeat Lobos

Texas Tech tennis players had little trouble winning a team match from University of New Mexico netmen yesterday afternoon at Texas Tech's tennis courts, sweeping all four singles and both doubles matches for a 6-0 victory.

The Lobos were able to take only one set during the afternoon's play, the Red Raider netmen winning every other match in straight sets. Only 28 of the 102 points scored in the six matches went to the visitors.

Broyles Wins Match

Jake Broyles, Tech's No. 1 man, won his match from Johnny Allen, the Lobo ace, with the loss of only four games; Carl Schmidt, playing No. 2, won his match from Carl Webb, Lobo No. 2, with the loss of five games; Glenn Ivy, Tech No. 3, easily romped over Bob Kayne, Lobo No. 3 man, with the loss of only one game; and Earl Scudday, Tech No. 4, beat David Ong, only recently returned from an illness, with a loss of 12 games.

Broyles and Ivy teamed to turn back Allen and Webb with the loss of only three games and Scudday Schmidt trimmed Kayne-Ong with the loss of only four games.

Scudday Rallies

Scudday was the only Techsan in danger at any time, but he rallied quickly to turn the tide his direction. The Raider netman dropped his first set to Ong 2-6, but returned to break Ong's service and win going away 6-3 and 6-3.

Ivy had the easiest time of any Raider, beating Kayne in straight sets 6-1 and 6-0.

The matches scheduled against Texas Mines (now Western Texas college) today were cancelled yesterday. The El Paso net squad refused to come here when they learned that the track meet scheduled for today had been cancelled.

The complete scores:

Singles: Broyles, Tech, defeated Allen, 6-2, 6-1; Schmidt, Tech defeated Webb, 6-3, 6-2; Ivy, Tech, defeated Kayne, 6-1, 6-0; and Scudday, Tech, defeated Ong, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Doubles: Broyles and Ivy, Tech, defeated Allen and Webb, 6-3, 6-0; and Scudday and Schmidt, Tech, defeated Kayne and Ong, 6-2, 6-2.

Local Keglers Bowl Tonight

Seven Lubbock Teams After Prizes In West Texas-New Mexico Tourney

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

Seven local bowling teams will be among those shooting for prize money tonight as activity in the second week of the fifth annual West Texas-New Mexico Bowling tournament gets underway.

The 24 teams scheduled to participate will be divided into three eight-team shifts, and the shifts are to take to the alleys at 5, 7:30, and 10 p.m.

The annual business meeting and breakfast of the bowling association will be held at 8 a.m. Sunday in the Navajo Room at the Hilton hotel. New officers will be elected and the site of the tourney next year will be chosen.

Records May Be Set

Scores made last week are likely to be topped by the field of keglers this week. In Class A Herring hotel of Amarillo is first with the 2,738 pins. Santa Fe Rangers, Amarillo top Class B with 2,457, and Pabst Blue Ribbon posted a score of 2,611 which will be hard to beat in Class C team play.

Class B doubles has Ray Hooten and J. A Peel of Lubbock in the top place with 1,100, and C. D. Wickson and Allen Simmons of Lubbock lead Class C doubles with 1,018. Topping Class A double teams are Jack West and Fred Grimes, Amarillo, with a total of 1,154 pins.

Another local kegler, Wickson, holds the lead in Class C singles with 597. Amarilloans are tops in the other two divisions with Charles Lyle holding first in Class A with 623 and B. Helms topping Class B with 595.

Eight Class A teams are entered this week, and the strongest entry seems to be Arthur Lay of Lubbock, boasting the highest average among the entrants. Yellow Cab is another top local team, bowling on the first shift tonight while Arthur Lay is on the second round.

Of the 14 Class B teams the local Plamor Lanes quintet is the best entered.

Doubles Favorites

Doubles teams to watch are R. Talley and O. D Busby of San Angelo; Jim Fletcher and Vic Langley, Amarillo; and J. J. Hilton and Griephan, Las Vegas, N. M., in Class A. A Santa Fe, N. M., doubles team in Class B composed of Watson and Jaramillo will be hard to beat.

Local bowlers likely to make high scores are Bill Nelms, Jay O'Keefe, Ben Brown, E. A. Christensen, Sam Carter, Ray Peebles, Glenn Hennington, and Marvin Struve, to name a few. Nearly all the Class A local bowlers will compete this week.

Sponsor of the tournament is The Avalanche-Journal, and team, doubles and singles trophies will be awarded to the winners in each class by the newspaper. A tenth trophy will go to the all-events winner.

Teams entered on the first shift are Jim Williams Grocer, Class B, Monahans Freeman Flowers, Class A, Amarillo; Press Bulls, Class B, Lubbock Yellow Cab, Class A, Lubbock; Plamor Lanes, Class B, Lubbock; Mission Orange, Class A, Lubbock; Walton's Men store, Class A, Lubbock; and Lubbock Bowling club, Class B, Lubbock.

The second shift is composed of Towle Contractors, Class B, Hobbs, N.M.; Hilton Motors, Class A, Las Vegas, N.M. Johnson Automotive, Class B, Las Vegas; Allison's Jewelry, Class B, Hobbs; Lester's Jewelers, Class B, Lubbock; Arthur Lay, Class A, Lubbock, Chaplin Alley, Class B, Albuquerque, N. M.; and Barry Hardware, Class B, Clovis, N. M.

On the last shifts are Tourist Tavern, Class A, Santa Fe, N. M.; Goodfellow Shyhawks, Class B, San Angelo; Findlaters, Class B, San Angelo; Jack Holts, Class B, Clovis; Bowling Center, Class A, San Angelo; Troy Laundry, Class B, San Angelo; Shirley Flowers, Class C, San Angelo; and American Legion, Class C, Clovis.

Lamesa's Lobos Down Amarillo

AMARILLO, April 29. (AP)—Lamesa's good and Amarillo's bad fielding helped the Lobos to a 7-3 win over the Gold Sox here tonight, Jay Haney's hustling club thus halving the two-game series.

Three double plays helped Stan Grzywacz, Lamesa righthander, over the rough spots, and so did two brilliant one-handed catches by Dan Pinto, Lobo fielder. Meanwhile the visitors scored four unearned runs and three legitimate ones off Bob Glass, R. H. Templeton and Darwin Dobbs, the latter coming back in relief after having beaten the Lobos 8-2 the night before.

The Sox reached Grzywacz for 10 hits, but of these seven were by Ed McKay and Doug Lewis and only one, Lewis' triple in Amarillo's two-run seventh, was for extra bases.

Frank Calo's double scored Hank Melillo in the second to give the Lobos a lead they never relinquished.

In the fifth they grouped singles by manager Jay Haney and Eddie Melillo with two Amarillo errors and a sacrifice for two more. Jess Landrums catch of Walt Buckels liner for a double play stopping them there.

Singles by Haney and Buckel, two bases on balls issued by Templeton and a sacrifice fly gave them a pair in the seventh.

Leo Rheingans single, catcher Ted Clawitters two base wild throw on an attempted steal and Haneys third hit accounted for the seventh Lamesa mark in the eighth inning.

Lubbock Tilt Is Postponed

The Westerner baseball team will have to wait until Monday to make its bid for the clinching game for the south half District 1-AA championship.

According to word received from Plainview yesterday by Coach Fred Taylor, the field is too water-logged to permit play in the scheduled game between Lubbock and the Plainview Bulldogs. The game was reset for Monday in Plainview.

This is the second district game postponed this year because of rain. The first, with Brownfield, was washed out and the game set the next day, but it too was washed out and the game set the next day, but it too was washed out.

But in the doubleheader played April 22 the Westerners defeated the Cubs, 19-3 and 12-1. In the other two district tilts Lubbock bested Plainview, 11-6, at Chapman field and went to Brownfield last Wednesday to take the Cubs, 10-1, and close out the season with Brownfield.

By winning either of the two Plainview games remaining, Lubbock High can earn the right to compete against the north half winner for the district title. Teams in the top half are Borger, Amarillo, and Pampa.

The Sandies lead the race at present with three wins and one loss. Borger dropped its second game to Pampa Friday to fall behind with two wins and two defeats, and Pampa trails with one victory and three losses.

Borger Protests 9-4 Loss To Pampa Nine

BORGER, April 29. (Special)—Borger lost a District 1-AA baseball game here today with Pampa, 4-9, but the game was played under protest.

J. C. Knowles, principal of the Borger school, charged that Pampa violated the Texas Interscholastic league amateur ruling by allowing Derrall Davis to play in the game. According to the protest Davis accepted meals while visiting several Southwest conference colleges recently. This will be the first test of the rule.

The protest will be treated one of two ways. Pampa may accept the protest and forfeit the game, or the protest may be brought before a district committee composed of superintendents of the schools in the district. The two sides of the case would then be presented, and the committee's vote would decide the outcome of the protest.

Borger threatened to protest a game earlier with Pampa, but the Bulldogs won the game and the threat never materialized. The outcome of the game today had a great effect on the district standing since Amarillo and Borger had only lost one game each until Pampa won today's contest.

Borger opened the scoring in the third inning when Kenneth Clapp singled to score Lemoin Patrick. Pampa came back in the fourth and scored in every inning. The Harvesters made three double plays in the first five innings.

Hoot Lewis set Pampa down without any runs in three frames, but he could not hold the Harvesters and suffered the loss. He aided the Pampa cause by allowing the first three runs on wild pitches. Howard Wells was the winning pitcher.

PAMPA'S OILERS DEFEAT CLOVIS NINE, 11 TO 4

CLOVIS, April 29 (AP) — Some effective pitching by righthander Merlin Hubbard and two home run blasts by rightfielder Dave Teyema was the spark which carried the Pampa Oilers to victory over the Clovis Pioneers here tonight. The score was 11 to 4.

Teyema clouted his first four master in the third with Romer Matney on second to overcome a Clovis lead of 4-1 and then again in the sixth with no one on the base paths to increase the Oiler margin. His first came off Mel Kramer, the second off Raymond Drake.

Heintzelman Halts Dodgers To Give Phillies 5 To 2 Victory

New York Giants Nose Braves, 10-9

BROOKLYN, April 29. (AP)—Southpaw Ken Heintzelman of the last-place Philadelphia Phillies couldn't stop Roy Campanella, but he held the rest of the Brooklyn Dodgers at bay to hurl the Phillies to a 5-2 victory today.

Campanella slugged the offerings of Heintzelman for two home runs, one in the fourth and another in the ninth while the Phillie hurler was coasting along on a four-run margin.

Willie (Puddin' Head) Jones smacked a round-tripper for the Phillies and it accounted for their fourth and fifth runs. The damage that was done in the first inning after Hatten had gotten the first two Phils on outfield flies, was enough to sew up the game.

The triumph was Heintzelman's third without a setback.

NEW YORK GIANTS GAIN 10-9 WIN OVER BRAVES

BOSTON, April 29. (AP)—The New York Giants set off an 18 hit attack that included three homers and Bill Rigney's game winning double, to gain a 10-inning 10-9 victory over the Boston Braves tonight before a 22,245 crowd.

While taking over the temporary managership of the Giants, the veteran Frankie Frisch was provided with two circuit wallops by Sid Gordon and another by Walker Cooper.

Leo Durocher Is Suspended Again

CINCINNATI, April 29. (AP)—Leo Durocher, the bad boy of baseball, was suspended again today—this time indefinitely.

Commissioner A. B. Chandler dropped the bomb on Leo as a result of a purported altercation with a fan yesterday at the Polo Grounds. He ordered the New York Giants' manager to come to Cincinnati next Tuesday and tell his story.

"The commissioner is making a complete investigation of the case," Walter Mulbry, secretary of baseball, said in announcing the suspension.

Durocher told a news conference in Boston, where the Giants play tonight, that the affair was "ridiculous."

Then he announced that coach Frankie Frisch, a man after his own style, would handle the club, and that he would return to New York.

After announcing that Frisch would take over, Durocher said, "From now on Mr. Stoneham (Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants) does all the talking."

Reports vary as to just what happened to Fred Boysen, 22, a Brooklyn fan, after the Bums walloped the Giants, 15 to 2.

Boysen, who was released from a hospital today, said Durocher approached him from behind as he crossed the playing field, knocked him down and kicked him in the stomach.

The Lip, however, said he is innocent. Some one snatched at his cap, he grabbed it back, and kept on walking with other members of his team, he told newsmen.

Boysen was released from the hospital after doctors said they found no bruises and all X-ray reports negative. He said earlier he intended bringing assault charges against Durocher.

Durocher was suspended for the 1947 season by Chandler for conduct held to be detrimental to the national pastime. At that time, he was manager of the Brooklyn club.

Gehrmann Winner In Drake Relays Event

DES MOINES, April 29 (AP) — Don Gehrmann twice came from behind with brilliant sprints today to win a double victory for Wisconsin in the opening day of the 40th annual Drake relays.

The slender, long striding king of college milers first cut down Harold Tarrant of Oklahoma A. and M. and Jack Dianetti of Michigan State to win the sprint medley relay in 3:24. He was clocked for his half mile in 1:51.

Three quarters of an hour later he took the baton as anchor man in the distance medley 25 yards behind Bill Mack of Michigan State and nipped him by one foot at the tape to give Wisconsin a winning time of 10:13.7. He did the mile in 4:13.1.

Gehrmann's brilliant racing vied for top honors with the single collegiate record breaking performance of the day—Byrl Thompson's discus toss of 170 feet 3 inches. This erased the mark of 165 feet 5 inches set last year by night to give Pittsburgh a 7 to 3 beating in the first night game of the season here.

Baylor Wallops Texas, 11 To 5

WACO, April 29 (AP)—The Baylor Bears handed the Texas Longhorns their first Southwest Conference defeat of the season, 11-5, today behind the fine hurling of Adrian Burk, who knocked in three runs to aid his own cause.

Burk gave up 10 hits, while the Bruins nicked four Texas pitchers, Lefty Gorin, Jim Erhler, Frankie Womack and Milt Deason, for nine blows. Gorin started the game, but was replaced in the second frame.

The Bruins got two runs in the first after outfielder Joe Szenkely singled, scoring Hal Harris and Chuck Devereaux.

Tom Hamilton got the first of two home runs in the first, but then Burk retired the side. The Bruins scored one more in the second and then Texas tied the game on outfielder Ed Kneuper's single which scored Jim Shamblin and Al Hunt.

In the sixth, Baylor went ahead and stayed. Hogo Pearson's single scored Chad Sneed who had singled to start the inning. Then Burk drove in Schroeder and Pearson with a single.

In the eighth, Baylor exploded for five runs to ice the game. Frankie Womack went in for Texas and promptly loaded the bases. Milt Deason went to the mound. He walked Burk and Harris to force in two runs, then Chuck Devereaux got a double, scoring three more.

Texas came back in the ninth for two runs on Hamilton's second homer.

Tech Independents Gain 9-6 Victory Over Boys Club Nine

Tech Independents baseball team scored a 9 to 6 win over the Lubbock Boys Club nine at the Boys Club diamond Friday afternoon.

Khleder Van Zant was the winning pitcher and Carroll Walker the loser.

Jerald Hise of Boys Club got two hits in three times at bat, one of which was a two-run homer. G. Don Washington snared two hits in two times at bat. Both were singles.

For the Independents, Will Hall singled and doubled in two times at the plate and Van Zant banged out two singles in three times up.

Fortune Gordien, like Thompson from Minnesota.

J. D. Hampton of Texas A. and M. won the first final event, the two mile run, in 9:25.6. Jerome Biffle of Denver took the broad jump with 23 feet 11½ inches, and Compton Junior college captured the college half mile relay in 1:27.

Softball Loop Opens Tonight

Lid-blasting, something that occurs at the start of every sport season, will be engaged in tonight at 8:15 at Jumbo Webster Field, when the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamer Laundry nine meets the Maurice Shop of San Angelo in a doubleheader to open the Texas Softball league.

BUTLER

Warren "Stringbean" Pope and G. W. Warden, a pair of veterans, will do the hurling for the Lubbock nine, while opposing them will be Bert Hester and Boyd Reese, another trace of familiar faces.

Hester and Warden are Texas Tech students and a large group of Raider fans are expected to be on hand. Interest in the duel is running high on the college campus.

Tickets for the game can be obtained at both the Bluebonnet and Sunbeam Laundries, the College Avenue Drug store, Texas Tech dormitories and at the gate tonight. Adults will be admitted for 50 cents each, college and high school students for 25 cents and children under 12 will be admitted free.

Veterans Return

The San Angelo nine is almost exactly the same that last year represented Ragsdale, although they have lost several of the stars from last year. At the same time, the Lubbock team also has undergone changes.

Returning to spark San Angelo will be such familiar men as R. W. Bowman at third base; David Bledsoe at first base; J. C. Gotcher in the outfield; and Barnell Malish behind the plate.

Bluebonnet - Sunbeamers will have such 1948 stars as Jimmy Joe Reiger, Earl Ince, Slim Norvell, Robert Bagwell, Jiggs Jackson, Roy Butler, Willis James, Dub Kuykendall, Bryan Clark, Wally Fowler and Claude Spears.

Ralph Earhart, who led the league in batting last year, no longer is with the Lubbock team, putting a lot of the load at the plate on Roy Butler. Butler batted .293 last season and promises to be a better hitter this year. He topped Willis James, Lubbock catcher, by only two points, James hitting .291.

BIG THREE OF INDIAN STAFF—Gene Bearden, Bob Lemon and Bob Feller, in the usual order, are the mainstays of the Cleveland Indians, who last year won the American league pennant and went on to win the World Series. But hard times have fallen on the Indian mound staff. Bearden and Lemon are still winners, but Feller failed to last in his first attempt. In addition, he injured a muscle and will be out of action for a while. That still hasn't kept the Indians from taking over second place in the American league.

Lamesa's Tornadoes Drop Midland, 5-3

LAMESA, April 29. (Special)—Lamesa High school's Golden Tornadoes stretched their winning streak to seven in a row here this afternoon at Lobo field, beating the Midland Bulldogs, 5-3, to take a strangle hold on first place in the District 3-AA baseball race.

The Tornadoes counted all their runs in the third frame to overcome a 3-0 Midland lead. Lamesa bunched five hits, three walks, two sacrifices and a hit batsman for five tallies.

Bill Hart struck out four and allowed only one hit in five innings of relief hurling for the Tornadoes who have lost only one game, to Odessa, in eight district contests. Hart gained his third win of the season after replacing Southpaw Royce King. King gave up three hits and all Midland's runs in the first two frames.

Lamesa plays Sweetwater Mustangs here next Tuesday.

Shallowater, Frenship Win In 7-B Track, Literary Events

SHALLOWATER, April 29 (Special) — Shallowater Grade school won the track events and Frenship Grade school won the literary events in the annual District 7-B Grade school track and literary field meet held here today.

Shallowater romped home with 19 points in the track meet to edge Frenship by six points. Other scores turned in were New Deal 11, Idalou and Wilson 10 each, Roosevelt 2 and Cooper 1.

In the literary meet, Frenship scored 17½ points. Wilson was second with 13 points, New Deal had 9, Idalou had 7 and Shallowater had 5.

Penn Relays Get Underway

PHILADELPHIA, April 29 (AP) — Reggie Pearman of New York university, who makes a habit of outrunning talented speedsters from the midwest in the Penn Relays, did it again today in the opening session of the 55th annual stick-passing carnival at Franklin Field.

Pearman beat off the challenge of Ohio State's Olympic 800 meter champion, Mal Whitfield, to anchor his violet quartet to victory in the sprint medley relay in 3:24.9, only six-tenths of a second off the meet record that has stood since 1938.

Midwestern athletes, who usually give a good account of themselves at this eastern meet, were saved from a shutout today when Wayne university of Detroit won the 440-yard relay in 41.7 seconds.

McGee Given Death Sentence For Slaying Of Lubbock Resident

ins county in 1935, according to Judge Dan Blair.

Subject Of Wide Hunt

McGee had been charged by indictment with the murder of R. L. Allston, 42-year-old manager of the South Plains Associated Grocers, July 7, 1948. The shooting followed an altercation with the Allstons over his attention to 18-year-old Betty Jane Allston.

After the crime McGee was the subject of a man-hunt which lasted 30 hours and ended on a city bus in Austin. Since that time McGee has been held in Lubbock county jail without bail.

The jury's verdict, which came with dramatic suddeness, wrote another chapter in the case.

Thus one of the longest murder trials in Lubbock county history came to a close just 11 days after it began. More than 500,000 words of testimony and deposition were entered in the record. More than 2,000 typewritten pages were used to record the words of testimony that alone required seven days. All the testimony was taken in shorthand by court reporter John Edmisson.

Mother Talked With Counsel

After the spectators had drifted away, the defendant's mother sat at the counsel table and conferred with defense attorney Col. Simpson. The two sisters remained in the background and comforted each other in silence. All three of them smiled bravely at the boy who had just been given the death penalty as he was led away.

The jury consisted of A. Weir, Box 300, Route 2, Slaton, foreman; A. G. Richardson, Route 6; M. P. Marchbanks, Route 1; Douglas A. Carlisle, 1516 Twenty-seventh; Albert Ellis, Route 6; Wade W. Hash, Route 5; H. H. Murray, Route 1; Jack Bennett, 1508 Twenty-eighth; H. D. Stanley, 2107 Sixteenth; H. L. Powell, Route 3; H. E. Pope, Lubbock; and George Brassell, jr., Slaton.

Trial Lasts Eleven Days

The fate of McGee was placed in the hands of the jury just eleven days after the trial began.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin finished his summation at that time and urged that the jury carefully weigh the evidence and inflict the death penalty on McGee.

In his closing remarks Croslin told the jury:

"You have been very patient gentlemen and I hope you will bear with me as we come into this final hour."

"I cannot match my experience against that of the defense counsel Col. E. A. Simpson and Burton S. Burks or that of my able colleague, George Dupree. I stand before you as an employe of the State of Texas interested only in a just and fair trial," Croslin continued.

"Just consider the facts in Judge Dan Blair's charge to you and especially paragraph 13," Croslin said.

"The case is in your hands."

Possible Verdicts Given

The six possible verdicts in the case were:

1. Not guilty because he was insane at the time of the offense and sane at the time of the trial;
2. Not guilty because he was insane at the time of the offense and insane at the time of trial;
3. Find defendant insane at the time of trial; (Postpones trial);
4. Sane at the time of offense and insane at the time of the trial;
5. Sane at the time of the offense and sane at the time of the trial and guilty of murder without malice and assess a penalty of not less than two nor more than five years;
6. The verdict that was returned.

Impressive Plea Made

Col. Simpson closed his appeal with an impressive insistence that the defense did not want to have the defendant turned free.

"We don't want this boy loose where he can do any harm."

The summation followed three hours of carefully prepared and tensely dramatic defense argument by Simpson and Burks. Both men reviewed the circumstances in McGee's life that led up to the fatal offense with which he is charged.

"The court does not say that you men of jury must say what kind of insanity this boy suffers," Burks said. "It only says that if there is a preponderance of evidence then you must consider him insane and say that he is not guilty of murder."

"Have you ever seen anyone who has been in so many mental hospitals who could tell the difference between right and wrong?" Burks asked rhetorically.

Defense In Tearful Appeal

Col. Simpson tearfully summed up his argument with a resume of the experiences his own son underwent during the last war. He told the jury that he thought for a long time he had lost that son in battle. When Burks took the final hour of argument, he too sobbed on several occasions as he related events in the life of the defendant.

Croslin stressed a remark made by McGee on the night of July 5, 1948, when he told Betty Jane Allston, daughter of the slain man, that "I will come back and kill your whole damn family."

"You'll never get away with it, Richard," Betty Jane replied to him according to the testimony.

Conversation Is Quoted

"I'll get away with it all right. I have been a mental patient. I've done it before and I can do it again," McGee is alleged to have said.

Croslin pointed out that McGee had always operated on the premise that he could get away with anything because he could fall back on his excuse, "I've been a mental patient."

"However, you heard Sheriff Jack Gary, San Marcos, tell you that this boy 'puts on a pretty good act,'" Croslin stated.

"Remember, too," Croslin urged the jury, "R. L. Allston didn't have any trial on the day he was killed. This defendant was the judge, the jury and the executioner all in one."

Not Asked To Free Youth

"Just remember the last words of R. L. Allston to his daughter Betty Jane. 'Don't worry, honey, your Daddy will take care of you'."

"Allston isn't here now to look after his daughter. It is left up to you to see that justice is done and apply the law."

When the main argument by Col. Simpson was completed at 3:15 McGee appeared unmoved. He did not seem to be concerned that within a few hours he could face the death penalty or a possible prison term.

As he faced the jury, Col. Simpson said:

"I am not asking you men to free this boy. I cannot defend him as a murderer. I want you to render a verdict that will confine him to an institution where he can receive treatment."

State Closed At Noon

"If that treatment should ever render him sane again," the Colonel continued, "then he can be brought back and tried again in this county."

"Under no circumstances should this boy be turned loose on the public. He is dangerous and we don't want to see a repetition of the crime he has committed," Col. Simpson appealed.

With actual tears in his eyes Simpson concluded his case for Richard McGee.

"The fate of this poor lunatic is in your hands. Render such a verdict that you can say to your Creator, 'I have done my best.'"

The state closed its argument in the case against Richard McGee at 12:00 p. m. Friday.

The close came after a dramatic appeal by special prosecutor George Dupree. Dupree tearfully related the last words of the shooting victim, R. L. Allston.

"The defense would have you believe that the acts of Richard McGee, the defendant were those of an insane man," Dupree shouted.

Branded As Murderer

"I tell you that the act was that of a cold-blooded murderer who knew what he was doing."

In summing up the testimony that had been offered in the case Dupree picked up the death weapon, a .38 calibre revolver, and waved it before the jury.

Dupree told the jury that in his argument he only wanted to help them arrive at a just and fair conclusion. He singled out the testimony of the "expert psychiatrists" which he tore into with vigor.

"Remember you must weigh this case on the preponderance of credible evidence," Dupree stated and he emphasized the word credible.

Not Acts Of Insane Man

"According to these experts," Dupree continued, "the defendant never had a lucid moment in his life. The facts of his life, especially while in school, do not point to the acts of an insane man."

The state began the argument of their case at 10:11 after Judge Dan Blair read the charge to the 72nd District court jury. The charge contained 35 paragraphs and six possible verdicts that the jury can return.

The charge included an intricate explanation of the acceptance and meaning, under law, of the term insanity and the way in which the jury can arrive at a conclusion of insanity.

The court convened at 9:50 after some delay was experienced in checking and cross-checking the charge. After attorneys for both sides made their objections and the alterations were completed the judge started the reading.

"Case number 3379, the state of Texas versus Richard W. McGee," the charge read. McGee is charged with murder with malice aforethought to which he has entered the plea of not guilty by reason of insanity.

The shooting was the culmination of a college love affair between McGee and Betty Jane Allston, 18, daughter of the slain man. McGee and Betty Jane met at North Texas State Teachers College, Denton, in March of 1948 and began going "steady."

Argument Is Recounted

The two young people were together most of the time after they met. They had many parties and picnics, which included the families of each, they attended church together and visited in the homes of their parents.

Two nights before the shooting the girl's father advised the boy and girl that they should not consider plans for an early marriage but should wait until they had completed their schooling. Allston also told Richard that he had learned that a guardian had been appointed to administer his financial affairs.

"Anyone who is not competent to handle his own affairs can hardly take proper care of my daughter," Allston is reported to have told the boy.

This remark prompted McGee to anger and he shook his finger at Allston and said that "he didn't know so much about the matter." "Betty Janes and I are in love and are going to get married," McGee said, according to the testimony in the trial.

Two days later, while the Allston family was having lunch, McGee returned to their apartment at 2020 Fifth (Colonial Apartment). After a brief conversation in which Allston said he didn't care to talk to the boy, the fatal shot was fired.

Journalism Meet

hon.. a, Miss Malvina Stephenson, Washington, D. C., correspondent and Ernest Kirschten, chief editorial writer for The St. Louis Post-Dispatch spoke to the assembly.

The congress which was founded in 1927 at Baylor has as its purpose presenting outstanding speakers from the professional ranks of journalism to faculty and student members alike. Member schools include Oklahoma university, Oklahoma A&M, Texas university, Texas A&M, Baylor university, Hardin-Simmons university, Mary Hardin-Baylor, Louisiana State university, Tulane, Texas Christian university, Southern Methodist university, Texas State College for Women and Texas Tech.

Paul Thompson, head of the school of journalism at Texas university, presided over the Friday afternoon session. Mortimer, the first speaker, told his audience of the "Theatre of Public Relations." He said sometime the public is least informed on the subject about which they think they know the most about.

Study Of Papers Urged

"Public relations is pioneering in the field of letting the public know just what is going on in the field of industry today," he declared. In closing Mortimer urged students to give a great deal of thought to the world problems of today because tomorrow they would be a part of it.

Following his address Thompson introduced Dr. Casey. The noted educator told his listeners that through skill and objective research a student could become a better working journalist when he entered the field.

He urged journalism professors to use their skill and ingenuity to prepare students before they went into the field of working journalism. He spoke briefly about groups that applied so called "pressure" to newspapers and told of some cases where the pressure actually was for the best.

"One should not judge the press as a whole but rather they should take each paper and journalist into consideration before passing judgment," was the statement with which Dr. Casey closed his address.

Former Lubbock Man Talks

Following his talk the meeting adjourned for an hour. During the intermission free ice cream was served by the dairy manufacturing department students to the delegates.

The first speaker folowing the intermission was McAlister. The jovial radio man, a former Lubbock resident, spoke about the field of radio as an attraction to journalism students. McAlister, who is a Tech graduate, said he honestly believed any student who was willing to work and try to get ahead could within 10 years make a good place for himself in radio.

"There is always room for a good man coming into the business, but as in any other field a beginner can not start at the top. He must work his way to that position," was the statement with which he greeted his audience. He said radio was definitely a showman's business and if students would remember that, and try to be simple and direct in their approach to the public they would be much better off.

Houston Man On Program

The final speaker on the afternoon program was Don Hinga, who has been roving editor of The Houston Chronicle for several years. He has been a successful magazine contributor for some time. Hinga told delegates nothing could beat the sheer art of being simple in writing.

"Good magazine and newspaper writing is done in simple, straight forward language," Hinga declared.

The program for this morning will get underway at 9:30 a. m. in the Aggie auditorium at the college. Prof. Clark Schooley of the Tech journalism faculty will preside. First scheduled speaker for the last day of the congress will be Noland Norgaard, chief of the Oklahoma City Associated Press bureau, Norgaard was the top AP correspondent in Europe during World War II.

He landed with the Allied armies in North Africa and also covered the Nuremburg war crimes trials after hostilities ceased. Nogaard will speak on "The Writer, Backbone of The Newspaper."

His lecture will be followed at 10:10 a. m. by Ward C. Mayborn, publisher of The Sherman Democrat. Mayborn served for 29 years on the Scripps-Howard and Hearst newspaper chains.

A highlight of the congress will take place at 10:50 a. m. when a panel discussion in which students may ask questions from the floor will be held. Members of the panel include: Keen Rafferty, head of the school of journalism at New Mexico university, moderator; Robert W. Whipkey managing editor of The Big Spring Daily Herald; Forrest Weimhold, publisher of The Hockley County Herald; William Donnell, city editor of The Wichita Falls Times and Dwight Allison, managing editor of The San Antonio Light.

After the panel discusion delegates will adjourn to the Aggie Pavilion at the college where the Honorary Aggie club and the Tech Chamber of Commerce will act as host for a barbecue. The final session will begin at 1:30 p. m. this afternoon with faculty and students separating.

The student group will listen to Paul White, editor of The Ford News from Dallas, and to Dwight Allison, managing editor of The San Antonio Light. The former will tell of "Industrial Publications," while Allison has chosen "Doing Youth Newspaper Job," as his topic.

The faculty group will hold a round table on teaching problems. Dr. Casey will act as co-ordinator for the discussion. Both students and faculty will elect officers for the coming year. They will also decide where the Congress will meet next year.

Throughout the congress the Tech chapter of Kappa Alpha Mu, national honorary fraternity for photo-journalists, has held a photography salon in the Tech recreation hall.

Clean-Up Drive

ing.

The home is at 3800 Avenue H and can be reached most easily by driving south on that street, which leads into Highway 87—more commonly known as the Tahoka higl way.

The home is a brick structure about 400 feet west of the highway and can be recognized by the scaffolding which has been erected and upon which the painters will work.

W. R. Dean, chairman of arrangements for the blitz, said he expects about 100 painters, all members of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers local 342, to participate and to finish the entire job in 30 to 50 minutes. Supplies have been donated by member firms of Lubbock chapter of the Painting and Decorating Contractors of America and Associated Dealers.

Ceremonies Scheduled

Ceremonies preceding the start of the blitz are scheduled to begin at 9:45 and everyone, especially the painters, has been requested to be present by that time. St. Clair and City Manager Steve Matthews will speak briefly. Dean then will take charge and, at 10 a. m., will give the signal for the start of work.

The 25th anniversary of the founding of the Milam home will be observed next September. It has been in its present location 12 years. Care now is provided there for 29 children, ranging in ages from 1 to 15 years.

Mrs. Milam said it probably will be impractical, for at least two reasons, to permit visitors to inspect the home during or after the blitz. One of the reasons is the expected confusion. The other is that several of the children have measles.

But she said that plans are being made for an open house when present decorations are completed. The date is tentative, but probably will be Sunday, May 15—the day following the close of the cleanup campaign.

Students of K. Carter school conducted a clean-up campaign in advance of the city-wide drive Friday morning when they worked by grades to remove all trash from school grounds and to smooth rough places.

The students picked up sticks, paper and rocks and filled in holes with dirt which had been hauled in. They left the school grounds smooth and clean, said R. D. Ford, principal. Teachers of the various grades supervised the work, with each grade being assigned to a portion of the grounds.

Gulf Refining Company Cuts Prices In Mississippi Field

HOUSTON, April 29 (AP)—A reduction of 50 cents a barrel for oil it purchases in the Baxterville field, Mississippi, was announced today by the Gulf Refining company.

The new posted price is $1.45 a barrel and becomes effective at 7 a. m. Sunday.

The company said the Baxterville oil is of extremely low gravity, averaging 16 degrees. In contrast to other nearby Mississippi fields where the oil is of substantially higher gravity. The company said the Baxterville oil yields almost nothing but fuel oil.

"The price of heavy oil since last fall has declined by about $1.20 a barrel," the company said. "The 50 cents a barrel reduction represents only partial compensation for the drastic reductions in fuel oil prices."

DALLAS NEWSMAN SPEAKS AT JOURNALISM BANQUET

Delegates to the Southwestern Journalism Congress being held at Tech took time from professional discussions to attend a banquet at the Lubbock Country club Friday night.

Lynn Landrum, columnist for The Dallas Morning News, and a speaker at the congress, spoke on the mechanics of writing a column, and on 'peace pacts' throughout history.

Noting that the world is "already sick and tottering," Landrum said:

"The United States is the only force economically—and in principle—able to do anything about the world today."

Toastmaster Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal, also introduced Dr. Ralph Casey, head of the journalism college at the University of Minnesota, who spoke for 10 minutes on noted personalities he had known.

The banquet was followed by a floor show under the direction of Mrs. Dub Moore, and dancing with music by Ted Crager's Orchestra.

Envoy Urges Arms For Atlantic Nations

WASHINGTON, April 29. (AP)—Marshall plan Ambassador W. Averill Harriman said today, "We are moving away from war," but he declared America must help rearm Atlantic pact nations to maintain that peace momentum.

"In Western Europe today there is a growing wave of confidence," he reported, "confidence instilled by the concept of the North Atlantic treaty that free men will stand together in common defense of their liberty and freedom."

But, Harriman said, if the United States should "turn aside at this moment, I doubt whether we can ever again recapture that spirit."

His testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations committee wound up the first week's hearings on the 12-nation Atlantic treaty which, if ratified by the Senate, will bind the United States and Canada to a 20-year mutual-aid alliance with 10 countries of Western Europe.

Laymen Urged For Water Study Group

AUSTIN, April 29 (AP)—Directors of the Texas Water Conservation association recommended today that laymen be included on a between-session committee to study state water problems.

"We unanimously endorse the principles of the committee," Guy C. Jackson of Anahuac, TWCA president said, "but we feel that it can accomplish more if it is composed of a substantial number of legislators and some laymen who would volunteer their services."

The Senate passed a resolution setting up the water study committee of 22 members, including 12 laymen, of which six would be appointed by the governor. However, the House amended the measure to provide for an 18-man committee composed entirely of legislators. None would be named by the governor. The Senate has not acted on the House amendment.

Flood Toll Rises

other bodies had been taken from the river in the area earlier.

The flooding Guadalupe river—another South Texas stream—also was out of lowlands. It had reached 27.4 feet at Victoria—more than six feet above flood stage. Oren Edington, San Antonio Weather bureau observer, said a crest of 28.5 feet was due early Saturday.

He reported the Guadalupe falling at Cuero and the Nueces river falling. Lowland crop damage was the chief loss from the Guadalupe. Livestock had been moved from lowlands.

Generally thunderstorms slacked off in Texas Friday, but the outlook was for more thundershowers today.

Light rain fell Friday at Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Galveston, Guadalupe Pass, Texarkana, and Gladewater. Heavy showers struck Houston.

Presidio was the warmest spot in the state with a 91. Other temperatures ranged downward from that reading to a 68 at Dalhart.

week when they went swimming included two small brothers, drowned at Los Garzos earlier in the week when they went swimming ni flood waters.

In West Texas Friday, Kermit and Big Lake appraised damage from hail storms. The storms struck Wednesday night and Thursday—in each case the most severe in local history.

Chinese Reds

Reds were west of Shanghai, that the Red 23rd army (normally 20,000 men) was in the region of Lake Tai, some 50 miles southwest of Shanghai, and that three Red armies were in southern Anhwei province.

(Southern Anhwei is the same area where the Communists contend they have trapped the seven government armies.)

The Reds appeared more anxious to reach Hangchow, 121 miles by rail southwest of Shanghai, than to occupy Shanghai itself.

This would seal off Shanghai by land, and could mean that direct attack on Shanghai would be delayed several days—or even longer.

Barge Dispute Ends

Eastern and Western Berlin.

Several hundred young Germans engaged in a swirling fist fight near the U.S.-Soviet border today. Communist youths said they were holding a pre-May Day rally and anti-Communists attacked to break it up. Scores were bloodied, but none was seriously hurt.

Soviets Increase Jamming Of 'Voice Of America' Broadcasts

NEW YORK, April 29. (INS)—Every available transmitter was thrown into a round-the-clock "battle of the airlanes" by the Voice of America today in an effort to break through an unprecedented Russian jamming of United States news broadcasts to the Moscow area.

Charles W. Thayer, chief of the State department's International Broadcasting division, said American engineers "have not yet been able to break through" the "aerial blockade."

He said the Soviet jamming of the "voice" frequencies was the "strongest" ever encountered. It began Sunday when the official Soviet news agency Tass reported the beginning of east-west negotiations to end the Berlin blockade.

Thayer said the normal hour and one-half program beamed at the Moscow area is being recorded and transmitted continuously in an effort to reach the "target zone."

Possible Bond Election Talked

in 20 years—the usual maturity time of city bonds.

The bond issue possibility was disclosed by the commission in the absence of Mayor W. H. Rodgers, who went to Shreveporot, La., for further discussion of plans for the reactivation of Lubbock Air Force base. But all other members of the commission attended. They are Commissioners W. B. Price, who is vice mayor, and John Spikes, Clarence Whiteside and E. K. Hufstedler.

All apparently concurred in Commissioner Hufstedler's view that the bond issue appears to be the most feasible route, if not the only one, to provide the improvements of many kinds to sustain Lubbock's remarkable growth. Without them, he declared, growth is likely to be retarded, if not brought to a standstill. He mentioned also that some of the improvements are necessary safeguards to community health.

He said, further, that some method of financing must be provided immediately if city limits are to be extended as they should and if utility services are to be provided not only in the new additions but for hundreds of residents now inside the city.

Needs Are Discussed

Some of the needs mentioned were:

R. L. Oldham, new director of public works, said a minimum of $500,000 is needed to carry on the street paving program. He estimated that more than 400 blocks of new paving—approximately 35 miles—are in various stages of processing. Some of it is under construction, base is being prepared for other portions and the preliminary paper work is in progress for the remainder. Oldham said further that requests for new paving are coming in at the rate of two to three miles a month.

Water and sewage extensions for which there is no financing are needed both in the city and for suburban areas the commission would like to annex before the 1950 federal census is taken. Members of the commission pointed out that the lack of sanitary sewers in many suburbs is a grave community health hazard, with present uneasiness concerned chiefly with polio.

Also in the health hazard category, officials said, are needs for enlargements of the sewage disposal plant both to control a potential source of disease and offensive odors. The plant is in process of expansion now, but members of the commission frankly acknowledge they don't know where they are going to get the money to finish the job. The work was ordered, despite financial uncertainties, rather than take the risk of epidemics which always is present when sewage is inadequately treated.

Storm Sewers Needed

Urgently needed also are numerous storm sewers, particularly in Northwest Lubbock, where a moderate rain produces flood-like conditions and results in large areas of slush and mud because there is practically no drainage for the accumulated water.

The city manager said he would prepare a summary of needs which properly could be financed by bond issue. There also will be considerable sampling of public opinion on the bond proposal by members of the commission during the next few days. The results also are likely to go far in determining whether a bond election is called. The next regular meeting of the city commission, on May 12, may tell the story.

Meanwhile, the city manager also is to make an investigation of the need for a re-appraisal of assessed valuations in order to bring them closer to actual values. But this, he said, can't be done in time to relieve immediate needs. Assessed valuation increases could not be put into effect before next year.

In theory, officials explained, property is carried on the city tax rolls at two-thirds of its reasonable market value. Thus, a $10,000 house and lot should be assessed at a value of $6,667.

Valuation Claimed Low

But a cross-section checkup a few months ago showed that the average assessed value is only 29 per cent of the reasonable market appraisal, and this figure was described as extremely conservative.

Many extreme cases of undervaluation for taxation have been reported. The city was asked recently to pay $200,000 for a tract of land which has a tax role value of only $12,000. The commission has been asked $2,800 for a nine-foot strip of land needed for an alley from a piece of vacant business real estate which, at that ratio would be worth $42,000. The owner pays city taxes on a valuation of $3,500. Numerous instances were reported of assessed valuations upon business property which do not equal one month's rent. Numerous vacant lots for which owners are asking $10,000 to $50,000 appear on the tax rolls at valuations of $200 to $500.

According to conservative estimates, the assessment of property in Lubbock at 50 per cent of the reasonable market value would raise assessed valuations to more than $100,000,000.

Routine Business Handled

Such a figure would improve the city's credit rating, which has fallen sharply in financial centers during recent years, and would make possible the issuance and sale without further delay of the bonds voted long ago for the library, auditorium and coliseum.

Considerable routine business was transacted at the meeting.

The city manager was authorized to try to work out some plan to provide safe loading and unloading places at entrances to churches on Sunday mornings. The most practical plan, Matthews said, probably would require parallel instead of angle parking on the church sides of the affected streets. Members of the commission expressed particular concern for the safety of Sunday school children.

An ordinance was passed on first reading allowing the Santa Fe railroad to build an industry track parallel to and 81 feet east of Avenue K from North Second to Second streets. The track would cross Edna and First streets and two alleys.

City Attorney Vaughn Wilson reported a "good response" to letters notifying persons who owe delinquent personal property taxes that suits will be filed unless they pay.

Another ordinance approved will require parallel parking on Seventeenth street between Texas avenue and Avenue M.

The commission employed an armored service company to handle collections and deposits from parking meters for $21 a month. The city manager said this work now costs the city about $29 monthly.

A payment of $100.70 in settlement of property damage and personal injuries suffered by W. B. Kitts, jr., in a collision with a police patrol car April 3 at Twenty-first street and Avenue S was approved. Patrolman John H. Schenk drove the police car.

Liquor Raids

in alcoholics in the future.

5. District court action will be resorted to in efforts to forfeit to the state all liquor seized in the raids.

6. And federal officials have indicated they will "have a man come here to determine whether charges should be filed by the government that no federal retail license to sell alcoholics is possessed by any of the defendants under state charge.

Officials announced they had arrested the following who had been charged early Thursday night:

Ernest Devreaur, 37, Slaton negro; Ruth Issac, 20, Slaton negro woman; P. D. Reid, 40, Slaton; Ernest Devreaur, jr., 22, Slaton negro; S. M. McCann, 44, Slaton; O. R. Reeves, 22, Lubbock; G. Foce, 30, Lubbock; C. Biggs, 41, Lubbock; Harry Hodges, 34, Lubbock, route 5; Nettie Bowles, 38, Lubbock; Mary Rossum, 25, Lubbock negro; Jim Thomas, 50, of near Lubbock (not the Jim Thomas of about the same age who is charged with murder in connection with the slaying several years ago of Dr. Roy Hunt in Littlefield); Alfred Wall, 27, Lubbock; W. C. Crecelius, 29, Lubbock; Nathan Brown, Lubbock negro; Junior McCaskle, 25, Lubbock; Roy Small, 38, a Lubbock negro; Arthur Hart, 58, a Lubbock negro; Ollie McCoy, 37, a Lubbock negro.

Others To Be Filed

Officials said they had filed or would file, the following number of cases against these defendants:

Hodges, seven cases; Miss Bowles, nine; Crecelius, seven; Wall, two; Reeves, six; Biggs, seven; McCaskle, five; Devreaur, jr., seven; Devreaur, sr., one; Brown, one; Issac, one; Thomas, one; Foce, six; McCann, four; Reid, five; Small, three; Hart, four; McCoy one.

The cases make a total of 109 filed in the month between March 26, when Poplin and three inspectors were sent here to succeed Charlie Fuller and three inspectors who had been transferred, through Thursday.

One hundred of the cases are pending. The nine disposed of brought $2,650 in fines and $213 in court costs, a year in jail for one defendant and a 90-day jail sentence for another, liquor board officials said.

Poplin told newsmen that, "We can seriously dent bootlegging activities here and in this 23-county district if the public will cooperate by giving us what information it has as to bootleggers and their operations — and if court juries will stay with us and vote punishment in keeping with the enormity of offenses."

Airline Hearing Set

However, his line now serves Midland and would expect to gain business if the city is dropped from American's schedule, he added.

American served notice that it proposes to offer witnesses and evidence at the hearing in opposition to the proposed suspension.

CAB has proposed American discontinue Midland service as an economy move. The board says American could operate more efficiently non-stop from Fort Worth-Dallas to El Paso, leaving short haul business to Pioneer, a feeder airline.

Smith, said that since American discontinued service to Abilene his line had "gained as much as 50 per cent at Abilene," and "it is inevitable" that a suspension of American's service would increase Pioneer's Midland operations.

Name Change For Texas College Of Mines Is Approved

EL PASO, April 29 (AP)—University of Texas regents today approved Texas Western college as the new name of the university branch school here.

The change from Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy, as the El Paso institution now is known, was ted unanimously.

"We think it is a good name," said A. G. Swenson, chairman of a regents' committee. "I think the name is what people want out here."

Lawmakers Must Okay

The school's new name is still subject to final action by the Texas legislature, which is considering a bill to the same effect.

The board of regents, headed by Judge D. K. Woodard of Dallas, opened a three-day meeting here this morning, Dr. T. S. Painter, president of the University at Austin, and Carroll Simmons, vice president, attended.

These board decisions on university matters were announced:

1. Approval for preliminary plans to erect a new $1,247,633 pharmacy building at the university.

2. Permission granted the city of Austin to construct a 36-inch sewer line across the university campus.

3. Acceptance of $700 from the Austin chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity, to be used for scholarships for women journalism students at the university.

4. Approval for acquisition of a magnesium plant north of Austin, to be used for research purposes.

5. Non-resident student fees at the university were reset at the present rates.

Dr. Painter announced the American Cancer society has allotted $25,000 to be used at Anderson hospital in Houston for additional research on protein metabolism in cancer patients.

Demo Leaders Delay

cratic platform promised outright Taft-Hartley repeal and restoration of the Wagner act.

Civil Rights Plan Rejected

Rep. Biemiller (D-Wis) said the administration's bill, which was introduced by Chairman Lesinski (D-Mich) of the labor committee, is in line with the Democratic platform. It would repeal the T-H law and restore the Wagner act with certain "improvements" proposed by President Truman. It has been endorsed by the CIO and AFL.

Rumors, charges and denials were again heard concerning a purported intention of administration leaders to compromise by accepting certain amendments to the Lesinski bill.

The GOP-Dixie coalition's drive to amend its bill by Rep. Wood (D-Ga) was interrupted by a thumping rejection of a civil rights amendment.

Wood Bill Eased

This was offered by Rep. Cavalcante (D-Pa). It would have changed the Wood bill to prohibit both employers and unions from discriminating against workers on grounds of race, creed, or color.

The House then adopted another Republican-sponsored amendment easing the Wood bill. This one, offered by Rep. Morton (R-Ky), would permit workers to refuse to handle work that has been farmed out to their company by another company whose employes are on strike.

Such a refusal is one type of "secondary boycott."

Before agreeing to postpone further debate until Tuesday, the House adopted another amendment which would ease the Wood bill's provision on injunctions in unfair labor practice cases. It was introduced by Rep. Bentsen (D-Tex), and carried 166 to 117.

Could Seek Injunction

Under this amendment, the general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board could seek a temporary injunction against a union or employer only after making an investigation and issuing a formal complaint (as in the Taft-Hartley act). Also he would have to show that the public interest requires the injunction and that "irreparable damage" would other-wise result.

Prior to the amendment the Wood bill permitted the general counsel to seek an injunction as soon as he received any charge of an unfair practice. The Lesinski bill would abolish such injunctions and even abolish the position of general counsel.

The administration sought in vain to set a time limit on debate which would have assured a vote during the afternoon. Such a proposal was beaten down, 201 to 119.

Blockade Talks Held

care must be taken not to jeopardize them by premature disclosures.

Possibility that the foreign ministers meeting might take place late in May arose after Malik, at a session of the United Nations Steering committee this morning suddenly urged that the General Assembly sessions be terminated by May 18.

In addition, it was learned that Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is planning tentatively to leave New York May 19 for Paris.

Western sources concluded that Moscow apparently is favoring a meeting of the council of foreign ministers in Paris during the last week in May.

'Whistle Stop' Fate Feared By Group

Eight Small Towns Protest Streamliner Schedule Change

AUSTIN, April 29 (AP)—Representatives from eight small towns along the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad appeared before the railroad commission today and said they did not want their home towns to become "whistle stops" on May 1.

After listening to several hours of testimony and argument from the towns and the railroad management, the commission took the matter under consideration.

Several Towns Affected

Both sides indicated they did not think the commission would act before the railroad puts in effect its plan of having its fast streamliner, the Zephyr, make only "conditional stops" at the towns.

The towns affected by the new schedule will be Electra, Decatur, Bowie, Henrietta, Chillicothe, Clarendon, Claude and Channing.

The railroad still plans to stop its fast streamliner if long-haul passengers want to get on the train. However, railroad spokesmen indicated today that passengers making short trips will have to either wait for a slower train or take some other means of travel.

The railroad said the line could not make money and maintain its fast schedule from Dallas to Denver if the streamliner continues to stop at all of the towns.

"Bad Faith" Charged

Seth Barwise of Fort Worth, railroad attorney, contended that the commission did not have the authority to prevent the railroad from putting its schedule into effect.

John McKelvey, Electra city attorney, charged the line with "acting in bad faith" because it had not fulfilled an agreement he said was made last November to continue to regular stops along the line. He asked the commission either to order the trains to stop at all the towns or suspend the proposed new stop schedule until there is time for a rehearing.

Schedule Defended

Cecil Nottingham, general auditor for the railroad, said the road had operated at a loss during the first quarter of 1949. He said there was a constant drop in train passenger revenue and that the trend showed the drop would continue.

Robert Hoyt, general passenger agent, testified that the trend of railroad passenger business was to long-haul business. He said the new system of stops was necessary in order to maintain connections with other main lines trains at Dallas and Denver terminals. He said he believed the new plan would "attract the greatest number of passengers."

Leon Rogers, manager of the Electra Chamber of Commerce, said that Electra was a thriving community in the midst of prosperous oil, livestock and agricultural industries.

Electra Mayor T. Leo Moore protested the schedule change. Mayor Joe F. Jones of Clarendon complained that the new plan would mean a delay in mail and would lose the road good will.

Others speaking against the change were Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe and Loys Barbour of Iowa Park.

Culberson Speaks To Club Members

LAMESA, April 29 (Special) — Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson, speaking here today before members of the local Lions, Rotary, and Kiwanis clubs, compared the spread of Communism in America with that of Johnson grass on a Texas farm.

Culberson urged parents to instill in their children a knowledge of and love for the American way of government. He termed the threat of Communism in this country today a cause for grave concern.

He said that surveys show that the general public is woefully uninformed about governmental affairs, and urged that people familiarize themselves with the way their government works.

Voting is a solemn duty and every citizen should shoulder an active interest in political affairs, Culberson said. He suggested that parents spend at least 15 minutes a week talking to their children about the American way of life.

Culberson's address here today was made at the regular luncheon meeting of the Rotary club, held in the Mesa room of Liddell's restaurant. Members of the Lions and Kiwanis clubs were guests of the Rotary club.

Ed DuBose, former employe of the Railroad commission during Culberson's tenure, introduced the speaker. M. C. Lindsey, Rotary program chairman, introduced DuBose.

West Texas Group Hears Appeal For Better Roads In Rural Areas

BROWNWOOD, April 29 (AP)—An appeal for better farm to market roads marked opening today of the annual convention of the West Texas county judges and commissioners association.

The appeal was made by Runnels County Judge E. C. Grindstaff of Ballinger, past association president. He made the keynote address of the two-day meeting.

Non-resident owners of our great exhaustible resource (oil) have the strongest lobby in Austin that the capital city has ever known," Grindstaff said.

Bills relating to farm to market roads, he said, are "being kicked around from one place to another." He said "it is up to us to work with the legislators to see that they are not hoodwinked into doing the wrong thing."

Grindstaff said the Stennis-Young bill now in Congress would give Texas $6,703,390, "which would be some three or four miles of paved road per county."

NEWS BRIEFS

Thirty-three members of the Lubbock Credit Granters club attended a luncheon Friday noon in Hilton hotel, discussing bad checks, delinquent accounts and repossessions.

Last rites for B. T. Davis, 74, of Lorenzo, were held at 3 p. m. Friday in the chapel of Rix Funeral home. Rev. George Bryant, pastor of Lorenzo First Methodist church, officiated. Rix Funeral home directed burial in Lubbock Memorial Park cemetery. Davis died early Thursday in Lubbock Memorial hospital, after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Walter Samuel Scheef, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. H. C. Leon, of 2605 Twenty-ninth, is one of the seniors scheduled for graduation May 30 at the annual commencement exercises of Southwestern university at Georgetown. She will graduate cum laude, receiving a bachelor of fine arts in music degree with a major in piano. Speaker at the exercises will be Rev. William Harrison Baker, pastor of Oak Cliff Methodist church in Dallas.

Mrs. J. Ray Dickey, of 2007 Sixteenth, is recovering from surgery performed this week in Harris Memorial hospital in Fort Worth. Mr. Dickey, who accompanied her to Fort Worth, has returned home.

M. D. Fanning, manager of San Angelo Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Fanning arrived Friday to spend the weekend visiting friends here. Fanning formerly was assistant manager of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Foreign Diplomats Banned From Areas In Romania

BUCHAREST, Romania, April 29 (AP)—Foreign diplomats were ordered today to stay out of about two-thirds of Romania's territory, including a belt 30 miles wide around the frontiers.

The order was issued amid rumors that the Romanian government is about to be streamlined on the Communist formula adopted in Soviet Russia, Poland and Bulgaria.

Slaton Gets 1950 Parents-Teachers Meet

Delegates Close Session In City

The 1950 conference of 14th district, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be conducted in Slaton, delegates voted Friday noon as the 1949 conference ended in O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium.

Supt. P. L. Vardy, jr., of Slaton read the invitation on behalf of Slaton Chamber of Commerce, the City of Slaton, two units of the Parent-Teachers association and the Slaton public schools.

Date Is Not Set

Date of the conference will be set by the state board of the organization, said Mrs. E. S. Smith of Lorenzo, district president. This year's officers will hold office another year.

Muleshoe delegates received a tribute Friday morning for large representation. Twenty-six persons from Muleshoe attended Thursday's sessions and 20 attended Friday.

Final compilation of registration figures showed 375 persons had registered in the two days and of that number 305 paid fees as delegates. In addition, visitors attended who did not register.

Awards Announced

Conference awards were announced Friday morning as follows:

Typed yearbook—Spring Lake, first.

Mimeographed yearbooks—Seth Ward P-TA, Plainview, first; Cottage school P-TA, Lubbock, second; McWhorter school P-TA, Lubbock, third; East Ward unit of Spur, honorable mention.

New State Boards Get House Approval

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 29—Creation of a state youth development council and of a state eleemosynary board were approved by the House this morning.

The bills were two of 10 passed to the Senate before adjournment for the weekend. Senators quit work at noon yesterday.

The problem of how much it is going to cost—where are we going to get the money—ran through most of the House debate.

Tax Bill Offered

Yesterday, while disposing of the last of the Gilmer-Aikin school bills, members decided they'd rather give priority on money to roads instead of schools.

Today the House passed a measure appropriating $6,000,000 to build two new state office buildings. Immediately, backers of a natural gas tax bill by Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake sought to get the bill set for special order this afternoon, but failed.

"In the shape we're in now, we've got to get some kind of tax bill through here," said Rep. Jim Norton of Nacogdoches.

Other bills passed by the House this morning included these:

Allowing partition of Community property by husband and wife, carrying out a constitutional amendment adopted last summer, by Rep. Eugene Williams of San Antonio.

Reorganizing the administrative set-up of levying and collecting franchise taxes, by Rep. Joe Fleming of Henderson.

The state youth development council would have control of the state's three training schools for delinquent children It also would be authorized to set up a state diagnostic center to study juvenile delinquents before sending them to a training school. These provisions were recommended by a state youth development commission set-up by the legislature.

The state board for eleemosynary institutions would be similar to that for the state prison system. It would be composed of nine members appointed by the governor. The institutions now are under the board of control.

Rep. Bill Daniel of Liberty said that two new state buildings provided in his bill would pay for themselves in 14 years in savings to the state.

"The state now is spending in excess of $176,000 rent each year for old broken-down two story houses for state agencies, and departments," Daniel said. "They're scattered all over Austin."

The buildings would be the state office building, which would include offices for representatives, and the state courts and records building housing the state courts and archives. They would be built immediately south of the capitol grounds across the street from each other.

Minor Thefts Are Investigated Here

A series of minor thefts were the only law violations of any consequence reported to law enforcement agencies Friday, as a week of relative quiet in law enforcement circles drew near a close.

Four cases of soft drinks were stolen from a truck at 2515 North Fourth street over a period of two nights, Grady Boyd informed local police. The bottled drinks were valued at $6, he said.

A bell captain at a local hotel said that an overnight suitcase belonging to a hotel guest who was out of town had been stolen there.

An $18 sun visor was taken from the car of Floyd A. Johnson of 3113 Thirty-sixth, and J. R. Peterson of 3822 Ellwood said a fender skirt had been stolen from his car parked in 1000-block Ave. J.

James Lee Wilson, 21-year-old Lubbock negro, pleaded innocent Friday in corporation court of a charge of stealing a razor from a local barbershop. He posted $100 bond conditioning his appearance for trial at a later date.

A fine of $75 and court costs were paid Friday on a drunk driving charge naming D. T. Hutson, 35, of Lubbock, county court officials said.

Banquet Is Held By Aggie Club

By W. C. BRIGHT
Avalanche Staff Writer

Farmers must cooperate, or lose their economic freedom to government bureaus, Dr. V. P. Lee, Texas Production Credit corporation president, told 350 Aggie club members and guests Friday night at a banquet in the Hilton hotel.

Dr. Lee urged that farmers maintain their individualism, and said that the answer to many problems lay in forming more co-ops.

"Hicks used to live in the country," Dr. Lee said, "but now they have all moved to the cities. It takes intelligence and sound business judgment to succeed at farming today."

Eugene F. Southall, vice-president of the club, presented the Honorary Aggie Club award to Fred Igo, outstanding freshman agriculture student of the year.

Presentation of a picture of the graduating class to the agriculture division of the college was made by Frank Hayes. Dean W. L. Stangel of the agriculture division accepted the gift.

Toastmaster Earl W. Sears, agriculture teacher at Lamesa, was introduced by Edd C. McLeroy, president of the club. Introduction of guests was made by Dr. F. G. Harbaugh. Bill Reid, and associate professor Archie Leonard. Invocation was by Dr. J. J. Willingham.

The banquet was the closing social event of the year for the Aggie club and was the twelfth such annual event.

Musical entertainment was by the "Flat Notes," a comic vocal trio, who gained uproarious applause with their satirical treatment of traditional folk ballads.

Texas Tech Cowboy Leads Rodeo Performers At Hardin-Simmons

ABILENE, April 29 (AP)—Leon Jones, a Texas Tech cowboy, turned in the outstanding performance of the first day of the annual Hardin-Simmons university intercolegiate rodeo. He had a time of 10.2 seconds in the steer bulldogging, to win the first go round tonight.

An entry list of well over 100 collegiate cowboys from Texas, New Mexico, Wyoming and Oklahoma forced rodeo officials to schedule roping events between shows today, as well as Saturday morning.

Reburial Service Set For Pfc. T. H. Kemp

The body of Pfc. Thomas H. Kemp, son of Mrs Ida Williams of 2710 Maple street, who was killed in France Dec. 18, 1945, arrived in Lubbock Friday morning from the Fort Worth distribution center of the American Graves Registration service.

Funeral services are to be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Walnut Street Church of Christ, with B. B. Harding, minister, named to officiate. The local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct military graveside rites in Tech Memorial Park cemetery. Plains Funeral home will direct burial.

Survivors in addition to the mother include the wife, Mrs. Anna Mae Kemp of Anderson, Indiana; a brother, Odell Kemp of Eunice, N. M.; and a sister, Mrs. Charles Yates of Hobbs, N. M.

Grand Jury Criticizes Houston Health Department Methods

HOUSTON, April 29 (AP) — The county grand jury today reported that because of inefficiency within the city health department, Houston may lose financial assistance from the State Health department.

In its February term report, the jury criticized the local health department for its methods of handling investigation of alleged sales of horse meat for human consumption.

Last year grand juries returned more than 50 indictments for such sales and city officials had placed numerous cases before the jury which made its report today.

READER SUGGESTIONS IMPORTANT

St. Louis Newsman Says Papers Must Keep Public's Confidence

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Staff Writer

Newspapers should heed the criticisms of their readers, in the opinion of Ernest C. Kirschten, St. Louis Post-Dispatch editorial writer.

Kirschten, in Lubbock as a guest speaker at the Southwestern Journalism Congress currently underway at Texas Tech, said in an interview Friday that he thought some editors do not give such criticisms proper consideration.

Says Readers 'Get Wise'

"If a reader comes up with a good criticism, the newspaperman should listen to him," said Kirschten, whose editorials played a prominent part in winning two Pulitzer Prizes for The Post-Dispatch. "Readers are not as dumb as some editors and publishers seem to think. Readers 'get wise' to a bad newspaper, and the worse it is, the sooner they 'catch on.' We, as newspapermen, should listen to them when they suggest something worthwhile."

"Furthermore," Kirchsten continued, "readers have a perfect right to criticize newspapers. They buy newspapers, and thus make possible its publication. After all, editorial writers have no compunction whatsoever about criticizing—well, for example, school teachers. And we're not school teachers. So why should we argue that readers have no right to criticize newspapers because they are not newspapermen?"

Kirschten explained that by "criticism," he referred primarily to comment on a paper's editorial policy, not its mechanical makeup. He conceded that many complaints come from "crack-pots" and must be disregarded.

"But," he added, "a good many criticisms are entirely justified.

BRANNAN'S PLAN

Let's Have Figures

SECRETARY of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan is too realistic to permit the supposition that he hopes, or expects that Congress will approve his recently proposed farm program without definite knowledge of its probable costs and without setting a limit upon expenditures for this purpose.

Mr. Brannan's refusal thus far to speculate on possible cost figures may reflect the frankness and courage to say, in effect, "I don't know." He could have pulled some meaningless estimates out of a hat—as many others in federal positions have done—in an effort to obtain support for his program by making the cost appear reasonably low. Usually when a man like Mr. Brannan does present figures, reliance can be placed in them.

But the omission of cost estimates undoubtedly has prejudiced further the already doubtful possibility of approval of the program under which the government would guarantee high prices for farm products and low prices to consumers. The outlook was not helped when Secretary Brannan described one cost guess of $6,000,000,000 as "reckless," and then went on to say the estimate apparently "assumed a severe depression and low farm income." This looked like an acknowledgement that the program might cost $6,000,000,000 a year at a time when taxpayers could least afford to pay it.

Mr. Brannan is to be commended if he has withheld probable cost figures until he feels sure he can supply estimates worthy of reliance. But the sooner he can supply something bearing upon actual costs, the sooner Congress —and public opinion—can make up their minds whether the program is within their capacity to pay.

Nobody Hurt

MANY people are so constituted they cannot read or hear descriptions of symptoms of a disease without imagining they might be victims of it. It has been inevitable, therefore, that recent campaigns would arouse fears among many healthy people that they might be victims of heart disease, polio, cancer, tuberculosis and/or various other ailments.

It is not surprising that in a few extreme cases, as reported in Chicago the other day, persons have become so terrified by the conviction they suffered from deadly diseases they have required psychiatric treatment.

They, of course, are unfortunate. But they also are pathetic, but emphatic, proof of the effectiveness of campaigns which focus attention upon diseases which usually can be cured, or treated, effectively if discovered in time, but invariably are fatal if neglected too long. Heart disease, cancer and tuberculosis are the deadliest among these.

It is safe to assume that many lives have been prolonged, and agonies averted, because some sufferers from such ailments have discovered their condition through personal uneasiness aroused by educational and solicitations campaigns of the types mentioned.

Those who have discovered their fears were unfounded haven't been hurt by the physical checkup that nearly all persons are inclined to neglect. Even those who have become psychiatric patients because of fear, in most cases, probably have received treatment sooner for a condition which almost certainly would have required attention eventually, possibly too late to do much good.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche of April 30, 1929.)

At a special called session of the city commission, held Monday afternoon, that body ordered the purchase of block number 16, South Side addition, for the purpose of establishing a city park, Mayor Harley D. Woods announced.

The block of land includes 22 lots, 20 of which are 40 feet in length and two of them 30 feet by 270 feet wide. Price paid for the property was stated as being $4,000. The site is located between Avenues K and L, and Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth streets. It will make the fifth city park to be owned by the city and is a part of a program of park extension started early this year by the commission.

TRIM smiled but his mouth was stiff and his instructions panted through it. "It's your turn, Mr. Barselou. Face the wall."

Dumbly, the big man obeyed.

"Put your hands up just like the others." Trim stepped catlike across the deck and shoved the mouth of his pistol into the small of Barselou's back. "Now just hold still."

John Henry felt the perspiration beading his palms. He held his breath back and waited for the moment, the only possible moment. A muscle twitched where Barselou's shirt was tight across his huge shoulders.

John Henry lashed out with his foot at Trim's kneecap. The little man danced back, howling, and stumbled on the uneven timbers.

Over Sin's high shreik came the blanketing roar of colossal rage. With out motion, Barselou jerked a rusty chain loose from its mooring and whipped it ferociously at the cocked hat. The hat spun away crazily. Trim sank to one knee in the center of the gun deck, blood streaming from his bald head. He raised the revolver.

John Henry fought to escape the gyves. He got one hand free of the loose cuff of iron. But Barselou had leaped. With another reverberating roar, he sprang from the gun platform for the crouched figure. The pistol exploded against his chest and in the narrow bowels of the galleon it was like a cannon blast.

Barselou's huge body enveloped the little man, his knees and fists battering, pummeling, mauling. Trim howled and his revolver blasted again.

The deafening noise joined the echoes of the first explosion. They bounded against rocky walls up and down the canyon, doubling and redoubling, until the wooden ship was a trembling fury.

The Reina groaned, shuddered. Then she began to move.

"—collapsing!" Trim yelled in a piercing voice and tried to claw his way from beneath Barselou's flailing bulk. John Henry threw his free arm around Sin's waist and pulled her close.

A subdued rumble was born among the dying echoes. It grew louder and louder. Then the deck tilted.

CONOVER braced his feet as the gun platform shivered. The deck tilted more and the thrashing bodies before his hypnotized gaze rolled toward the stern. Old timbers cracked agonizingly and sand poured from above. Two of the great overhead planks parted. The stubby root of a mainmast fell through.

A convulsion seized the Reina as the roar of bursting seams soughed in the narrow canyon slot. Trim scrambled from Barselou's grasp and hugged the shifting deck. A hairy hand fastened around one pirate boot and pulled him back. Trim screamed.

John Henry pushed Sin's face harder against his body.

With a climactic ripping of wood, the decks of the Queen collapsed and plunged through the ancient keel for the canyon floor. Trim's final maniacal shriek spun a thread of terror as the two struggling men dropped from sight with the downpour of wreckage. The thin noise was drowned by the crash of timbers grinding into the earth below.

The sound faded away, dividing itself among other canyons until there was nothing left.

Dust swirled in the silent air.

Sin opened her eyes. Fearfully, she lifted her face from her husband's shoulder and looked around. She began to cry.

Below them yawned the emptiness of the gorge with its churning column of brown dust. They still stood on the gun platform far above the earth. The reverberations of the echoing gunshots and the violent struggles of the two men had caused most of the hull and rotten decking of the galleon to give way. But the stout curving timbers of the Reina's sides had remained, an empty oval between the canyon walls. The curb on which the Conovers huddled had been part of the funnel through which the ruins of the hulk had poured. And the beam to which three of their four wrists were gyved had stayed up as part of the plank spider web holding the hollow shell of the ship in mid-air.

"WE'RE all right now, honey," said John Henry comfortingly. Then he found his voice and repeated it out loud. Sin kept on sobbing. "It's okay, Sin."

"I know, Johnny," she whimpered. "That's why I'm crying."

Gingerly, Conover pried at their iron cliffs. Two of the rusty hinges bent open easily. His own gyve broke apart in his hands. He tossed the pieces at the wreckage below.

The dust cloud was thinning and settling now. He could make out the dead campfire and the startled horses neighing and rearing at the new mountain of rubble that had poured from the sky. To the east, the red disk of morning sun had just topped the mountains to beam on the jigsaw cracks of the Badlands.

John Henry took a deep breath. As soon as Sin felt better, they'd climb down the cliff again to the horses. In the daylight, it would be easy to retrace their trail to Walking Skull—and then civilization. It was going to be another hot day.

Sin finally got her sobs under control. They looked down into the depths of the canyon silently. Far below, nothing moved in the heap of broken timbers that had once been the Manila galleon.

"Funny," she said softly. "I feel sorrier for the Queen than I do for anybody."

Her husband put a gentle arm around her waist. To one side of the wreckage, John Henry thought he saw the crushed shape of a three-cornered hat.

"The poor old Queen," he agreed. "It took a long time for the pirates to catch her. But, Sin, she put up a wonderful fight."

THE END

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

SINCE I have so much evidence that my readers are my friends, and since a number of additional newspapers have recently added my column, may I ask you not to consider me presumptuous when I give you a suggestion on how to interpret "Looking at Life."

BRANDEIS

As you all know, I write "piffle."

Some folks have criticized me for it, but I shall continue to do so.

Piffle, in my dictionary, means something that is trivial. And trivial, in Mr. Webster's dictionary, means "something that belongs to the crossroads, hence, that may be found everywhere."

So, instead of talking in big, pompous terms, I try to talk the common language of all of us, and to deal with the subjects "that may be found everywhere" and with problems that meet you "on the crossroads," when you don't know where to turn.

Let me give you an instance.

Everywhere you go you hear parents talk about the terrific problem of bringing up children nowadays.

Juvenile delinquency is an ever-present bugaboo.

Hundreds of books have been written about it, lectures are being delivered about it, scientific researches are being made about it.

I am very much interested in juvenile delinquency.

But I shall deal with it in the language of piffle.

I shall show you how stupidly the problem of juvenile delinquency is being approached.

According to a newspaper report, a former sheriff has put together an exhibit that is going to be shown in a number of towns and that will demonstrate to the visiting children the fate that awaits them if they don't behave.

One of the pieces in the exhibit is an electric chair, an extra replica of the one used at the State prison.

Others are a reproduction of a "bucket-type" jail cell used in most city jails throughout the country, police weapons, and fingerprinting equip ment.

The ex-sheriff himself will take the exhibit around and explain to the youngsters "Why Crime Does Not Pay."

I think that one very sure way of not curing juvenile delinquency is by trying to scare kids into good behavior.

Today's youngsters don't scare very easily.

HERE is another bit of "piffle," which shows how trivial can be powerful illustrations of important facts.

The whole world recently was stirred to pity and sympathy when little Kathy Fiscus fell into an

HST'S ACTION SCORED

FTC Appointment Hit

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Truman has pricked a political hornet's nest on Capitol Hill with his nomination of John Carson to a Republican vacancy on the Federal Trade commission, which polices business and industry. He has needlessly offended both Democrats and Republicans.

Mr. Carson's only claim to Republicanism, according to his critics, is that he was once secretary to the late Senator James O. Couzens of Michigan. Henry Ford's erstwhile partner, however, was never regarded as a member in good standing of the G.O.P.

TUCKER

Mr. Couzens usually trailed along with such rebels as the late George W. Norris of Nebraska, Hiram W. Johnson of California and "Old Bob" La Follette of Wisconsin, who hairshirted both Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover.

NEEDLE: Mr. Carson used to "needle" Senator Couzens into anti-Coolidge and anti-Hoover demonstrations, including the investigation of Andrew W. Mellon's income tax payments. He spent his spare moments in advising Senator Norris in the latter's attack on Coolidge-Hoover power and farm policies.

The FTC nominee was rewarded by Franklin D. Roosevelt with an appointment as consumer counsel to the defunct Bituminous Coal commission, which was created to benefit John L. Lewis when he and F.D.R. were buddies.

In recent years Mr. Carson has headed a national co-operative movement designed to set farmers up in the business of selling and buying—an enterprise which is anathema to private business and industry.

PLAY: There is no question of Mr. Carson's sincerity or ability, nevertheless conservative Democrats and Republicans oppose his confirmation. At the moment it is extremely doubtful whether the Senate will ratify the selection.

It is generally conceded that the nomination was designed to appease Democratic liberals who have resented President Truman's apparent inability to persuade or force Congress to enact Civil Rights legislation and to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act.

From the standpoint of practical politics, there is no other justification for this particular selection. It was a play to aggrieved racial minorities and labor.

WHO? House and Senate Democratic leaders gasped when the White House envelope was opened, and out popped the name of Carson. They ran to the telephone to ask "Who is this man Carson?"

Nobody was more astounded than Representative "Thad" Walter of Pennsylvania, a Truman adviser and chairman of the House Democratic caucus. He had submitted the name of a Key State newspaperman who happened to be a real but a sensible Republican. Pennsylvania has a tremendous interest in FTC personnel because of its industrial importance.

SURPRISED: When Mr. Walter heard the clerk read the name of Carson, he exploded with a "Well, I'll be damned!"

Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath was similarly surprised. As a Rhode Island representative, he had given the White House the name of a comparative conservative, who would not crack down too hard on New England's industries.

But President Truman paid no attention to his top political aide's protege, and did not even notify Mr. McGrath in advance of the Carson nomination.

BITTERNESS: House Speaker Sam Rayburn can hardly control his bitterness over the inept leadership which Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois is giving the Senate in an attempt to enact at least a small part of the Truman legislative program. In off the record conversations Sam charges that the Senate's Democratic contingent will be responsible if Congress goes Republican in next year's elections.

"We are away ahead of schedule on our side," moans Sam. "But every bill we send over to the other body lands in a committee pigeonhole. If we have to stay here all summer, or come back for a special session in the fall, it will be the Senate's fault."

ENDEARED: Despite young and handsome Scott Lucas's likeability, there is basis and justice to Speaker Rayburn's indictmemnt. The Democrats made a strategic blunder when they promoted lovable and astute Alben W. Barkley from the Senate to the vice presidency.

The Kentuckian was no namby-pamby as Senate leader. He frequently pounded his desk, flailed his arms and laid the law down to rebellious colleagues. But he always wound up with a homely anecdote or a Blue Grass lullaby that endeared him to the very men he had scolded.

Mr. Lucas does not have that placating faculty. His sharp words sting. A score of Democratic Senators would vote to depose him, if such a rebuke would not be too detrimental to the party and the Administration.

SMALL-BORE: Republican Leader Kenneth Wherry is also responsible for Senate chaos.

If ever there was a small-bore person in the upper chamber, it is the Nebraska undertaker and promoter. He is an utter reactionary, an intransigent and a champion of lost or forgotten causes. It is amazing that one party should house such contrasting personalities as Senators Taft, Vanderberg, Aiken and Wherry.

Any impartial estimate must say that there is no sane or intelligent leadership on Capitol Hill, especially on the Senate side.

MILLIONAIRES: "How many millionaires are there in the Senate, and how do they divide as between Democrats and Republicans?," asks T. M. of Shreveport, La.

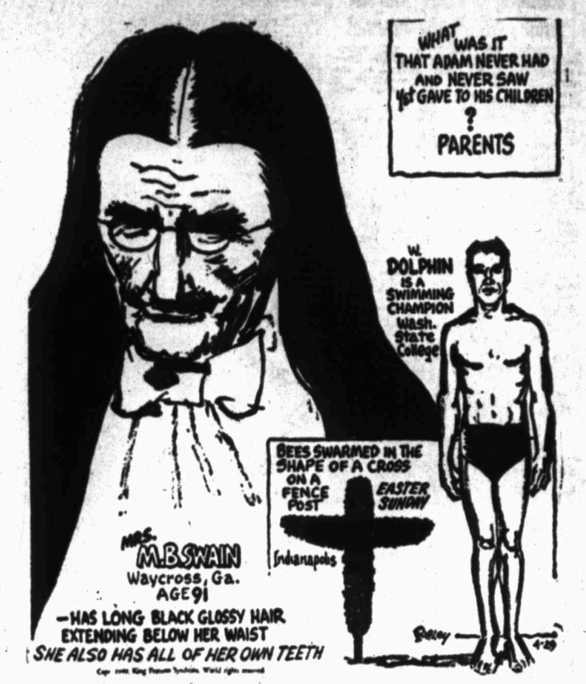

Answer: I have no authentic statistics on this somewhat personal query, and I certainly would not pry into Congressmen's financial status. But it is generally believed that there are at least seven, possibly more, millionaires in the upper chamber. Four are Democrats, three Republicans.

The upper bracketeer consists of Senator Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island (inherited industrial securities); Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia (apples); Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts (inherited shipping, industrial and bank holdings); Senator Arthur H. Vanderberg of Michigan (newspapers originally), Senator Homer E. Capehart of Indiana (jukeboxes); Senator James E. Murray of Montana, (oil, minerals, cattle); Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, (oil).

"Knocked into the sea by a big fish that leaped into his boat, a Massachusetts angler swam to shore." No doubt this fish is now busily engaged in telling his friends about the big man that got away.

The present trend indicates that when the meek inherit the earth they'll have to sell it to a junk dealer in order to pay the inheritance taxes.

U.S.-Soviet Talks Boost Hopes

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—We make progress, if slowly, even with Russia.

Which takes us back to the interview that Kingsbury Smith, general European Manager of International News Service, published in early February with Josef Stalin in which the Soviet prime minister suggested a basis for approaching the differences between Russia and us, including the Berlin empasse.

That newest "peace feeler," as it was called, aroused great hopes among many people admittedly not versed in the niceties of diplomacy who welcomed it as the possible beginning of a break in the stalemate that has kept the entire civilized world in a state of jitters. Some of these urged that it be pursued and were, of course, called naive.

STOKES

Soviets Push Talks

They were drowned out in a tremendous thunder from the all-knowing that it was "just another Russian trick." Our own government gave it the distinctly chilly treatment publicly for reasons of diplomatic strategy which now become apparent. But Russia quietly followed up her approach through Jacob A. Malik, her representative on the United Nations Security Council, who began talks with Dr. Philip C. Jessup, our representative on the UN Security Council, with the result now broadcast to our people and the world that a way finally seems to be open for negotiation of differences.

Russia's overtures still provoke the outcry from some quarters of "a trick." Our government naturally will proceed cautiously. Diplomacy is still, of course, a series of what might narrowly be called "trick" in which all nations engage as they maneuver for position.

But we can't afford to go on looking at all Russian overtures as mere "tricks" in the narrow sense and dismissing them or we'll never get any nearer to an adjusted and peaceful world, and away from the armed truce that is so expensive, emotionally, spiritually—and financially. That is an amateurish attitude. After all we know a few diplomatic tricks ourselves, as what is happening now demonstrates.

Fortunately our government is taking an adult and mature attitude consistent with our leading role in the world, despite the noisy clamor in Congress and elsewhere from those who want no settlement with Russia on any terms.

Prime Minister Stalin was accused of timing his original interview for its effect on the Atlantic Pact, then in the process of negotiation, which undoubtedly was true. Mr. Smith's questions had been before him a long time, and he chose his own time to submit his answers. The latest developments are said to be aimed at both the Atlantic Pact, now pending before the Senate, and the creation of the new Western German state by us, Great Britain and France, which has happened since the interview, which also is probably an acurate diagnosis.

Peace Hopes Boosted

But meanwhile we have been playing our own diplomatic game and Russia was moved to act by our own maneuvers which represents successful diplomacy on our part. Despite Russia's loud and angry complaints the Atlantic Pact was completed, signed and submitted to our Senate and the Western German state was set up in spite of protest about that. Russia's persistence in her negotiations through Mr. Malik indicate that she now is ready to talk business which was the purpose of our moves.

If all this brings us together at the conference table, along with Britain and France and other nations involved in an European settlement, that will be most fortunate and will relieve tension and revive hope all over the world. There we can match our "tricks," if one wishes to use that term, against Russia's and surely we have reached the maturity where we can do that with confidence.

There, perhaps, we can find ways and means of reaching an adjustment that will make Atlantic pacts and armed barriers across Europe unnecessary. It will be a slow process and will require the spirit of compromise.

"Joe" Smith, as we used to know the newspaperman who has gone on from State department correspondent here to General European manager of his news service, may have become the medium for a brighter day for the Joe Smiths of the world and their families.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, April 29. (AP)—The stock market didn't get very far one way or another today.

Only a handful of issues showed changes of more than a fraction. Losses outnumbered gains.

Turnover amounted to 810,000 shares compared with 770,000 yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks remained at 82.9. Gains in the industrial and utility groups were offset by a drop in the rail section.

A total of 976 individual issues changed hands, of which 270 advanced and 453 declined.

Pullman provided one of the few bits of action. The price advanced an extreme of 2¼ points to a new top for the year and closed 1⅜ ahead at 36½.

U. S. Steel was comparatively active but moved only ⅛ higher to 72⅛. Bethlehem Steel gained as much as 30⅛.

Richfield oil took a fairly wide swing with a gain of 1⅜ at 36⅞.

Others higher included National Steel, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, United Corp. Preferred, Cerro De Pasco, Westinghouse Electric, American Tobacco, Southern Pacific, Sinclair Oil, Standard Oil of Ohio, Socony Vacuum, Anaconda Copper, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Glenn Martin, United Corp. Common, American Telephone, Dow Chemical, J. C. Penney, U. S. Gypsum, Santa Fe, Missouri-Kansas-Texas Common and Preferred, Pacific Western Oil, and Twentieth Century-Fox.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, April 29 (AP) — Cotton futures were steady today on trade and local buying. Activity was considerably under that of recent sessions, with the market lacking stimulus of fresh export sales. Evening-up operations in nearby May and switching to later months also slacked.

Traders awaited the announcement of the mid-April cotton parity later today, with generally a lower figure anticipated than the March parity.

Cotton futures rallied into new high ground for the day in a late flurry of trade buying and short covering which found offerings limited.

Futures closed 85 cents to $1.60 a bale higher than the previous close.

St. Louis Newsman

These should be carefully considered, and perhaps published in the 'letters' columns of the newspaper concerned."

Two particularly valuable potential sources of constructive criticism, said Kirschten, are college journalism faculties and newspaper staff members.

"A publisher should always listen to criticism from inside his staff. Often a reporter is the first person to know when a newspaper is at fault. He knows when an attempt is being made to 'slant' a story, or to suppress the truth. As for journalism faculties, I think they should 'crack down' occasionally on a newspaper which gets too far out of line by calling public attention to the paper's conduct."

At this point, Kirschten switched to a discussion of the newspaper's proper place on the American scene.

Many Keep High Ideal

Many newspapers, he said, have adhered faithfully through the years to the high journalistic ideal of accurately reporting news to the public. Others, he said, have made the mistake of placing their private interests ahead of public interests.

"It is the job of the press to see that the public gets the facts," Kirschten stated. "In a democracy, people must be reliably informed. If public opinion is wrong, governmental policy will be wrong."

For this reason, he explained, the Constitution has given the press freedom to comment upon public matters.

But some newspapers, he said, have attempted to use this constitutionally-granted privilege to further private, selfish interests.

"I thought it was a joke when many newspapers opposed the child labor law," he commented. "They didn't oppose it because they thought it would be harmful to the public welfare. They opposed it because they thought it would cost them money. They were afraid they would have to pay higher wages to grown men who would replace their newsboys. When the Wagner act came along, the story was much the same. Many publishers screamed 'Interference with freedom of the press!' Actually, it wasn't. It had nothing whatsoever to do with freedom of the press."

"As a business," he continued, "the press has no special privileges. As a part of the apparatus of Democratic government, it has been granted certain rights by the Constitution. It should exercise this privilege only with objectivity. It was given this privilege so that it might protect the public interest, not its own pocketbook."

"A good newspaper will stand up for the common good, even when to its own immediate disadvantage," Kirschten said. "A paper's first job is to take care of its own back yard—its local politics, city, county and state. And, in today's complicated world, the newspaper also bears the burden of properly presenting news from the national and international fronts.

"The best newspaper is one which gains a reputation as a fighter for the public good. When it has this, it has circulation. And when it has circulation, it need about advertising revenue. On the other hand, if readers hold a newspaper in contempt because of its selfish interests, a 'plug' for a business in that paper is of little value to that business, because the readers have no faith in what they read in that paper."

Returning to his original point, he commented, "The greatest asset any paper can have is public confidence. And a helpful method of gaining that confidence is to listen to, and resopnd to, all justified criticisms."

Kirschten, 47, was born in Chicago and attended public schools there. He later studied law at DePaul university. For the last 15 years he has been with The Post-Dispatch, one of the nation's most respected newspapers.

Two soloists of the band competed in individual events. Wendell Spence, son of Mrs. Vada Spence of 1801 Eighteenth, played a cornet solo. Don Elliott, son of Mrs. Elois Elliott of 2303 Thirteenth, competed in the clarinet division.

Barbara McCune, niece of Mrs. Mamie I. Neal of 2212 Seventh, was piano accompanist for both soloists.

Accompanying the Thompson group were Mr. and Mrs. Herring and Mrs. P. O. Smith, a chaperon.

Eighty-one members of the O. L. Slaton Junior High school band left by bus at noon. The band's performance at Canyon was scheduled for 4 p.m., and the group was to return to Lubbock at 11 p.m. Lannes Hope is director of the Slaton band.

the Lubbock City Council of Parents and Teachers and general chairman of the conference, recognized local committees.

This morning's program opened with a coffee, followed by a workshop directed by Mrs. J. H. Moore of Deport, state president, with Mrs. H. T. Bob Roberts of Plainview as recorder and Mrs. George Berry of Lubbock as timekeeper. A question box program was conducted. Consultants were Mrs. H. G. Stinnett, jr., of Plainview, state first vice president; Mrs. H. F. Godeke of Lubbock, vice president of region 8; Mrs. W. A. Cawthon of Paris, chairman of pre-school service; Mrs. Jack M. Little of Dallas, chairman of Spanish speaking associations; Mrs. J. C. Stewart, of Brenham, state chairman of membership, and several district committee chairmen.

Assembly Singing Held

Assembly singing was directed by Mrs. Earl Tinnin of Ralls.

Presiding for the morning session were Mrs. Smith; Mrs. John W. Thomas of Ralls, district vice president, and Mrs. Hershel Carthel of Lockney, district vice president. Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of St. John's Methodist church, presented invocation.

Supt. H. P. Clemons of Whiteface presided for a panel discussion, "Our Health."

Mrs. Roy Sanford, Lubbock schools health nurse, described the program in Lubbock schools and said, "The keynote of child health is prevention."

Mrs. A. E. Jones, president of West Texas Cerebral Palsy club, discussing "The Exceptional Child" in the panel discussion, said that in the territory covered by the 14th district 1,026 children are registered as exceptional children and that most such children are not registered with any health or welfare organization. She said that classifications of exceptional children in Texas are those with defective vision, defective hearing, orthopedic handicap, low vitality, nervous disorder and speech problem.

Recreation Is Discussed

A. C. Hamilton, superintendent of the Lubbock City Recreation department, discussed recreation, which he defined as "doing what you want to do when you want to do it."

Owen Caskey, instructor in psychology at Texas Technological college, discussed mental hygiene, discussing mental hygiene implications of the school child's actions. A school failure to a child may be as real as a business failure to an adult, he pointed out.

Mrs. O. M. McGinty of Spur presented poems. Mrs. John Hamilton of Matador, district chairman of the endowment fund, discussed that fund.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Moore, the state president, by Mrs. M. E. West, of Lubbock, vice president in the district.

Mrs. Stinnett spoke briefly and gave the benediction.
