Eligible For Drouth Feed

Collingsworth County has been redesignated for the Emergency Feed program, N. A. Cleveland, county FHA supervisor, has been notified by Walter T. McKay, FHA state director. The prior program ended February 15.

Applications will be taken in the FHA office on the third floor of the courthouse until midnight, April 29, Mr. Cleveland said. Eligibility will be determined by the local county FHA committee including Roy Thomason, Sam H. Manuel and A. S. Whitson.

The amount of feed grain approved will be based on the same amount per animal as used in previous applications. Anyone in need of additional feed should make applications at once, he said. Any feed on hand will be deducted and the difference will be approved to meet needs through May 15.

"These designation announcements are in line with the United States Department of Agriculture's policy of continuing drought measures where necessary. In addition to the feed grain program, Mr. McKay, announces that the over all drought emergency plan in (Continued on page 12)

His Preceptorship

Mr. and Mrs. Ansel McDowell Jr., and small daughter, Marian, of Canyon, were here last week visiting relatives.

McDowell, who will receive his degree in June from the University of Texas School of Medicine, Galveston, is doing a two-months preceptorship at the Neblitt Clinic and Hospital in Canyon.

Vumore Company Owner, Tyler Operator

Permit for Community
TV Antenna Requested

An application for a permit to operate a community television antenna in Wellington to boost TV reception here was made before the City Council in its meeting Monday night, April 18, City Manager Bura Handley reported.

The request was made by Larry Boggs of Ardmore, Oklahoma, who operates as the Vumore Company.

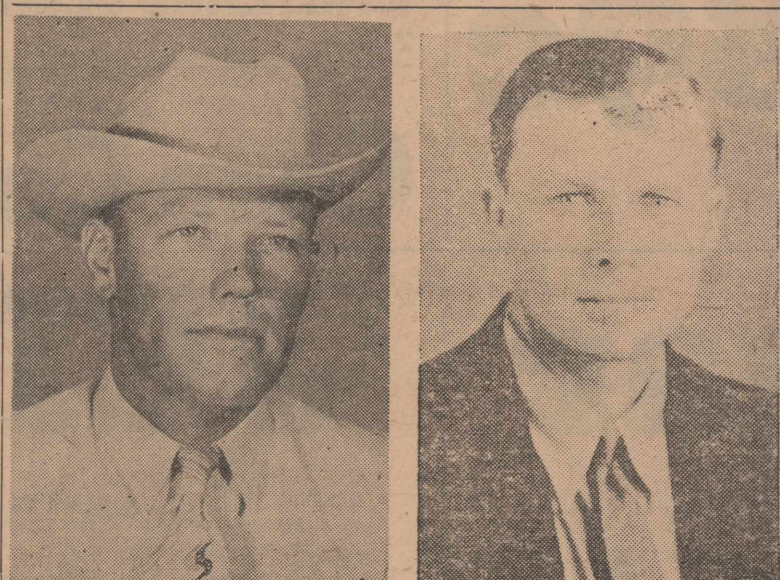

This was the first piece of business to come before the Council upon its organization for the new term, with J. B. Castleberry taking office as mayor, and Jack Brisbin and Doc Barjenbruch taking office for second terms. Luther Sullivan was re-elected mayor pro-tem.

The request for permit was another step in the move to give Wellington better television reception started here by Hershel Tyler of Tyler Electric.

Mr. Tyler announced that he has sold the community antenna system as it is to the Vumore Company and in turn he has taken a contract to manage and operate it for them here. He will continue to operate Tyler Electric.

The Vumore Company is preparing to erect a complete new tower 400 feet in height, which will be almost twice as high as the one now standing near Ellison Park. Mr. Boggs told the City Council. He was accompanied in his appearance before the group by Mr. Tyler and by his lawyer, Reece Evans of Ardmore. Mr. Boggs is an experienced operator of community TV antenna systems.

Mr. Tyler said they expect to have the tower erected by May 15. They are negotiating a contract with the West Texas Utilities Company for joint poll line construction to carry the necessary cable, which should be installed in

Polio Vaccine Program
Begun Here Wed.

Thirteen boys and girls in the first and second grades at Dodson were the first Collingsworth County children to receive the Salk Polio Vaccine, Dr. Carter Holcomb, county health officer, reported.

The vaccine was given Wednesday morning, April 20. Mrs. Cal Sugg, school nurse, helped with the work, as she will at Samnorwood and Quail.

The schedule for the children in the first and second grades in the remainder of the schools is:

Quail, Thursday, April 21. Samnorwood, Friday, April 22. Washington School, Monday, April 25.

Wellington Elementary, Tuesday, April 26.

Mrs. Holcomb will assist in giving the vaccine in the Wellington schools. The work will begin about 9 a. m. in each school.

The children will receive second doses of the vaccine in two weeks from the time of the first shots. Booster doses will be given in 7 months, but these will have to be paid for, Dr. Holcomb said.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is paying for the first two shots.

"The county health officer estimated that as far as is known now, the cost of the booster shots will probably be $4.00.

The thirteen Dodson children were pretty happy about receiving the vaccine, Dr. Holcomb reported, and parents and teachers have observed that these six, seven and eight year old children have a surprising amount of information about the vaccine.

Dr. Holcomb said that he did not know when the vaccine will be available commercially here, although it has been ordered. The government has stopped all shipments for commercial purposes temporarily, but it will be available later.

Court Seeks To Protect FM Roads

90 days from the time work starts, he added.

Mr. Tyler said cable service will be installed first to the approximate area lying south of the MKT railway, between Haskell Street and Highway 83, the Cooke Addition and East Avenue.

Mr. Handley said the company did not ask for an exclusive permit. Mr. Boggs told them that he expected to get good reception on three channels and if he could not bring satisfactory reception to Wellington, he would withdraw from the field.

Individual council members were reported to be in favor of the permit but asked that they be allowed a little time to examine the wording.

Meeting Saturday Night in Sheriff's Office

Rainey Heads Sheriff's Posse, Uniforms Planned

Sheriff John Rainey was elected president of the Sheriff's Posse in the organization meeting Monday night, April 18. This new organization, planned as a riding group to represent Wellington in civic events and at out-of-town occasions, had 17 charter members and opened membership to women, boys and girls of the community, as well as the men.

Constable Bruce Hite was elected vice-president and Richard Bailey secretary-treasurer.

A committee to select riding uniforms was named, including Cameron Beam, Guy Bell and Polly O'Neil. A yearly membership fee of $5.00 was set.

Another meeting will be held Saturday night, April 23, at 7:30 in the office of Sheriff John Rainey, when a report from the uniforms committee will be made. Plans are also being considered for the group to ride in the Santa Rosa Roundup at Vernon.

Paying dues Monday night were Pat Pebley, Fleet Pruden, Creed Hill, Bill Lowe, Jennings Wells, Betty Patton, David Robinson, Guy Bell, J. W. Cook, Bruce Hite, Polly O'Neil, John Rainey, Richard Bailey, M. L. Burks, Denzil Lacy, D. C. Lacy and Cameron Beam.

Two meetings to discuss with farmers such phases of irrigation as water application, fertilization, crop varieties and culture practices as they effect yields has been called by County Agent J. W. Thomas.

The first of these will be held at the Samnorwood School Monday night, April 25, at 8:00 p. m.

The other will be in the county court room at Wellington Thursday, April 28.

Ernest Thaxton, irrigation engineer with the Lubbock Experiment Station, will be here to lead the discussion and give information. Mr. Thomas will preside at the meeting.

"All interested farmers and business men are cordially invited to attend and participate in the discussion", the county agent said.

In giving the farmers a notion of the nature of this meeting, Mr. Thomas pointed out that such things as when the water is applied and how much can have a bearing on the yield. Also different crops have different times of critical need for moisture.

A plant gets 40 per cent of its water supply from roughly the first foot of soil; thirty per cent from the second foot; twenty per cent from the third foot and ten per cent from the fourth foot, Mr. Thomas explained. Cotton, he pointed out, begins high usage of water in the fruiting stage.

Farmers will be told that commercial fertilizer is practical on only certain types of land. They will be advised that some varieties of crops that are best producers for dry — land farming may not be best for irrigation farming. Placing of the seed and the rate of seeding will be discussed.

Mrs. H. L. Pierce

Mrs. H. L. Pierce, long-time county resident now making her home at Irving, is in Methodist Hospital, Dallas, suffering from a broken hip received Tuesday, April 12, when she fell.

Her daughter, Mrs. Marvin Garrett, wrote Mrs. Jewel Childers, a relative, that she underwent surgery Thursday morning, and pins were placed in the hip bones to hold it. Friday doctors had her in a wheel chair, and she was described as doing fine.

Mrs. Pierce has been with Mr. and Mrs. Garrett at Irving since last fall. She would like to hear from her friends, and cards and letters may be sent to her at room 207, Methodist Hospital, Dallas.

A Dainty Animal With an Explosive Name

Rummel Jersey Takes Third Show Grand Championship

It was a dainty, young fawn-colored Jersey cow that answers to the explosive name "Shotgun", that won Don Rummel the grand championship of the Youth Project Show for the third time in a row.

Young Rummel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilroy Rummel, is taking part in the last project show of his high school vocational agriculture career, for he is one of this year's graduating seniors.

Rummel not only won the championship, but also told Panhandle listeners about it in a recent radio program.

He calls his cow "Shotgun", he explained to The Wellington Leader, because her mother, owned by Mr. Rummel, is called "Pistol". They got the cow and calf nearly three years ago from Don's brother-in-law, Fred Cox Jr., when Shotgun was a small calf.

Rummel said that during his first year in vocational ag work, he had a Hereford cow and one calf as projects. The second year he bought Shotgun. Last year his projects included the Hereford cow, the Jersey and two black Angus calves. This year, it's the same two cows, plus the Jersey's young bull calf. The cow is not registered but subject to registration. She was bred to a registered bull owned by Arthur Hudson.

"She's awfully friendly and likes to play. And sometimes she scares folks by trying to hook them when she's playing," the proud young owner explained. "She has an exceptionally beautiful head and that is what has placed her in all the shows. Both she and her mother are small animals."

Pistol's mother was bought by

Cox as a FFA project while he was in high school, and when Pistol was a small calf, the mother cow swallowed some barbed wire and didn't survive it. Pistol became a bottle baby!

His projects have won Rummel the Lone Star Farmer degree, highest offered in state FFA work. He thinks he may seek the American Farmer Degree, for which he will be eligible after he has been out of high school a year.

In the meantime, he plans to keep Shotgun and any heifer calves she may have, leave them with his family and enroll in Texas A & M College next year.

M. L. Burks, Wellington vocational agriculture instructor, has been Don's advisor through his four years of vocational ag work.

Editorial Comment — The Wellington Leader

Home Shopping Plug Miffs Some

Last week's editorial opinion that Stantonites, as well as residents of other small communities, would do well to support their local businessmen rather than those of neighboring larger towns brought varied comment.

Some businessmen were insulted. They read it to mean we thought they want additional business.

Some others were gratified. They felt it gave the public a message that cannot be repeated too often nor too strongly.

Some non-business people were miffed. They feel it's their business where they buy and not for a crackpot editorialist to tell them what they should or shouldn't do.

Some local residents, God bless 'em, were pleased by the article because they long ago realized the importance of local shopping and are themselves peeved at local people who go elsewhere to make purchases.

In a sense, each separate segment is right.

Some of our business houses would do more business if they improved the appearance of their stores.

Some businessmen are right in that this message cannot be preached too often or too strongly.

Some non-business people are right, too—it's none of our business. But we have the feeling that those of us who have invested our funds in a business designed to augment a community have a right to the support of that community, at least to the extent that we be given an opportunity to serve them to the best of our ability. If that isn't good enough, then these folks should be sent on their way to other towns with our blessing.

Some local residents are to be commended for their "shop at home" spirit. It's because there are such folks that we've been able to hang together in business here and have hopes for a better future based upon continued patronage from that segment of people.

Said one businessman, however: How can you expect people to buy at home when many of our business people don't do it themselves? It's about as weak a front as that of the restaurant owner who tacked a sign on his locked door: "Out to Lunch".

Amen. No further comment necessary.

Good Towns are Built

Our town will be made better by men who will work to make it better. They will be harassed by those who scoff, those who find it easier to criticize than to work, those whose memories are never linked with good things accomplished. These men who work will no doubt find many pitfalls in their path, and the going will be tough. But good things never come easily. If they did we'd not appreciate them.

Who are the men who will work to make our town better?

The Case of the Private 'I'

A workman labored atop the court house roof yesterday. Hundreds of strolling citizens stopped and stared upward. The elevated toiler was the center of all eyes. And that is a reminder of something. The higher place we occupy the more conspicuous we are going to be.

People will be looking at us and will see whatever there is to see.

Some folks can stand that kind of inspection serenely. But whatever faults they may have—if any—will stand out just the same. There is one considerable advantage to lowly estate. Nobody pays much attention to us. Some of us are happier that way.

Dear Editor:

I see where a reporter who covers some of the higher levels of the U. S. social order says that since this famous Jelke trial has been going on up in New York, with trade secrets and customer lists being made public, there have been some prominent firesides busted up.

That is one of the drawbacks to living in a big city. A wife is liable to have to wait around for one of these scarce and expensive court trials to be held before she finds out what the old man has been up to. COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY CHECKERBOARD NEWS

BY CHARLES LITTLE JR.

Singley Mill & Elevator

Here's why it pays to control flies

Whether you're a dairyman, stock farm operator, or general farmer, you make more money by using a good fly control program. This is above and beyond help to health and well-being of animals and humans by spraying.

Make More Beef

Extensive tests indicate that beef cattle protected from horn flies gained 15 to 30 pounds more than unprotected cattle during the grazing season. An extra income of $3 to $6 per head, at least, for a spray cost of about 10c. Purina Stock Spray will do the job.

Make More Milk

Experiments also showed that cows in sprayed herds averaged over 3 lbs. a day more milk than cows in unsprayed herds. That's 200 extra pounds of milk per cow in a 60-day fly period. Order Purina Dairy Spray for cows and Purina Building Spray for your buildings.

Come in. Let's talk over your fly control problems. We have a complete line of Purina Fly Sprays including the wonderful new dry bait that you just sprinkle on the floor. It draws flies and kills them within minutes.

Les White was telling me that last week he sold his last litter of top hogs from his sow. These hogs were almost six months old and weighed an average of 240 pounds. Yes there is still money to be made in hogs provided you follow a sound program.

Mrs. Ray Clubb has her baby chicks in the brooder now and they are getting Purina Micro-Mixed Chick Startena. They are really growing and doing good. More poultry men and women feed more Purina Chick Startena than any other starting feed on the market in America today. It's got to be good or so many folks wouldn't use it. Why not try it on your baby chicks this year and see the difference Purina makes.

How do you rate as a hog man?

The average hog man weans only about 6.47 pigs per litter, but the Purina Research Farm weans 9.15 pigs per litter under average farm conditions with regular farm equipment. It takes 5 pigs to break even.

It is estimated that the average weaning weight for a litter is only 193.2 lbs. Purina Farm litters average 386.9 lbs. . . . just twice the average.

We suggest you visit us today, if you're interested in beating average figures. Start your pigs fast on Purina's new taste treat, Baby Pig Chow, followed by famous Purina Pig Startena and watch them go.

Worm Pigs At Weaning

Roundworms slow growth, rob pigs of food. It's easy to worm pigs at weaning with Purina's new Pig Wormer. Simply feed it for 3 days. Costs only 4c to 6c per head above regular feed costs. Pig Wormer's active ingredient is cadmium oxide, and our store is the only place you can get this proven worm killer already mixed at just the right level.

HEALTH HINT

Fly control in the home is easy with Purina's two wonderful products. . . Aero Home Spray, and Home Spray. They kill flies, mosquitoes, gnats, roaches, ants, spiders, silverfish and many other pests. Economical, too. Ask about them next time you drop in.

WE START SHOWING THEM YOUNG IN COLLINGSWORTH

Five-year-old Tim White, managed his equally youthful white face calf with all the ease of a veteran of the show ring at the recent Annual Youth Project Show. Tim, due to lead the calf into the ring when it was entered by his brother, Tony, was out of pocket when that event came up. Appearing later, his disappointment was so keen that Show officials brought Tim and the calf in for a "one-man exhibit." Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chub White.

Social Security Rulings Discussed

Everyone receiving Social Security payments has been notified concerning the new rules as to how much earnings a person may have and still be eligible to receive these payments. John R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, says that most people now realize that they can have earnings of as much as $1200 per year, starting in 1955, without loss of any Social Security payments. It appears that most people realize, also, that there is no longer any restriction as to the amount of earnings a person may have after he is 72 years of age without the loss of his Social Security payments.

"It appears, however, that many people do not realize that starting in 1955 the earnings restriction applies against all earnings from self-employment or wages, regardless of whether such earnings are covered by the Social Security Act," Sanderson says. Before 1955, he pointed out, only covered earnings were considered in applying the work deductions in the law. Starting in 1955, all earnings count. Thus the earnings of a school teacher, although not covered by the Social Security Act, are included in the $1200 work limitation if the teacher is receiving Social Security payments.

Persons under age 72 who are receiving Social Security payments are urged to contact the Amarillo Social Security Office if they expect their earnings from all sources in 1955 to be more than $1200. Such action will prevent over-payments which would have to be refunded at the end of the year.

A representative from the Amarillo office of the Social Security Administration will be in Wellington on Tuesday, April 26, at 2:00 p. m. at the Court House.

Miss Mary Swain of Dallas was here last week visiting with Miss Bonnie Willis. Miss Swain is consultant for Scott - Foresman Book Company in Dallas.

Air Force has New Enlistment Plan

The United States Air Force has announced a new re-enlistment program with special inducements, according to Sergeant George Ahern, local Air Force recruiter.

Under the new plan former airmen who are qualified and technically trained in specified specialties, may now enlist in their permanent grade held at the time of separation and be concurrently promoted to any temporary grade held at that time, provided they enlist within six months from the date of their separation.

Under the former plan, airmen were required to re-enlist within 90 days.

The date of grade will serve as the date of enlistment under the plan.

As of this date there are 108 Air Force specialists included in the list of shortages now existing in the United States Air Force.

For further details and a list of the Air Force specialists qualifying men and women for this opportunity, contact Sgt. Ahern at the Sheriff's Office or the Recruiting Station, Childress.

FACTS PROVE IT!

GET THE FACTS ON "ALL 3" LOW-PRICE CARS
AND YOU'LL HAVE PROOF PLYMOUTH IS FIRST:

FIRST IN SIZE—By actual measurement, the 1955 Plymouth is the longest car of the low-price 3. (It's even bigger than some medium-price cars.) Plymouth is truly a big car... 17 feet long!

FIRST IN ROOMINESS—Plymouth is also the biggest car inside, with the greatest hip room and leg room. More comfort for you! And Plymouth's trunk, by far the largest in its field, lets you pack practically everything.

FIRST IN VISIBILITY—Comparison proves that Plymouth's glamorous new Full-View windshield—with cornerposts swept back both top and bottom—gives you the greatest visibility of "all 3."

FIRST IN BEAUTY—Compare styling and see why Charm, a leading fashion magazine, chose Plymouth "Beauty Buy of the Year." Plymouth's long, sleek Forward Look wins over the hand-me-down styling of the "other 2."

FIRST IN ECONOMY—Smoothest and thriftiest engine of all! That's Plymouth's fast-stepping new 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117. Its Chrome-Sealed Action gives you extra thousands of trouble-free miles.

FIRST IN COMFORT—Plymouth offers you the most comfortable ride you ever experienced in a low-price car. Only the biggest car in the lowest-price field can give you true big-car riding comfort.

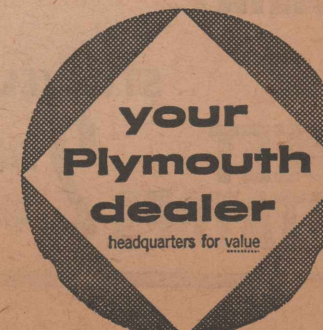

FIRST IN EXTRA VALUE—Plymouth gives you many extra-value features that the "other 2" low-price cars don't have. Come in today and let us show you why Plymouth is first for value!

Why pay up to $500 more for a car smaller than Plymouth?

Don't be fooled by the claims of so-called medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much, much less than medium-price cars, and gives you more car for your money!

Nordyke Book Traces History Of Cattle Group

FORT WORTH — In February, 1877, 40-odd men with a single purpose met in Graham, Texas. That historic meeting marked the inception of an organization that is today one of the most powerful and progressive in the entire country—the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. Lewis Nordyke's magnificent new book, GREAT ROUNDUP, which William Morrow & Co., will publish on March 1, tells the story of that meeting — and the story of the men who controlled and shaped one of them in currents of American industry, that tough, independent breed of men who battled year after year to make the cattle business what it is today.

On that auspicious morning in 1877 when America's first cattlemen gathered, the spirited enterprise that was to become one of the most vital industries in the great Southwest was still in its infancy. But already there were problems—one problem in particular had united these men, a problem that could not be solved by individual action alone. That was cattle rustling. Because there was then no universal system of brand registry, rustling was widespread and virtually incapable of detection. The ranchers' herds were in constant danger of outlaw depredations, but there was little they could do about it unless they caught the rustler red-handed.

There were other challenges that confronted these hardy and intrepid men—the Indian menace was ever present during the early years—and there was drouth, prairie fire, blizzards and disease to contend with. The battle that raged over the dread "Texas Fever" is one of the most violent in the whole history of the industry. Nobody knew why a herd of Texas Longhorns, driven hundreds of miles to the great markets, would leave a path of death and sickness in its wake—but it happened time after time. Soon almost every Western state had thrown up a quarantine around its borders. The Texas cowmen—desperate to get their herds to market—launched a painstaking investigation and eventually eradicated the feared disease.

During the course of their stormy history the cattlemen were up against the challenge of men and man-made devices as well as nature. The advent of barbed wire and the fencing in or the open range, the homesteaders, the closing off the old trails, the arrival of the railroads—all of these meant a tough fight for the Cattle Raisers Association. But every battle it fought drew the members closer together and made the organization what is it today—the mighty voice of the cattle industry, with a membership drawn from many states and its own resplendent headquarters building in Fort Worth.

No one is better qualified to write this stirring chronicle of a great industry than Lewis Nordyke, who is already known to thousands of readers as the man who wrote an authoritative account of the fabulous XIT ranch—the biggest in the history of the country. Texas born and bred—on a farm near Cottonwood—Nordyke has worked as a newspaperman throughout the state, writing for national magazines on the side. All his life he has been fascinated by Western history—and his special knowledge of the subject comes not only from extensive research but from long personal acquaintance with many of the men who made it.

GREAT ROUNDUP is illustrated with maps, photographs and many line drawings by the renowned Western artist H. D. Bugbee—who has caught the very essence of the legendary excitement that is "the roundup". The frontispiece is a reproduction in full color of one of Charles M. Russell's famous paintings. The book sells for $5.00. The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association has made arrangements to distribute a limited number of a special edition. Those interested may secure additional information by writing that Association at 410 E. Weatherford St., Fort Worth, Texas. The book will be featured and on display at the 78th annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Adolphus Hotel, Dallas, Texas, March 22-23.

Paul Spillman Chairman

AMERICAN LEGION LAND BOARD COMMITTEE FILES REPORT

Paul Spillman, chairman of the Veterans Land Board Committee of the American Legion, has returned from Austin where his committee recommended to the American Legion executive committee that measures be taken to close any fallacies now existing in the program. At the same time it recommended that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the people of Texas for 100 million dollars additional funds to be used by veterans who desire to participate in the Veterans Land Board program.

Members of this committee with Mr. Spillman are Charles C. Curtis, Mark Hodges, R. J. Domatti, and R. L. Tennon.

The committee asked that the amendment be submitted at the next general election, giving time for the current investigations of the Land Board activities to be completed. The amendment was recommended due to the fact that only .6 per cent of all eligible veterans have participated in the land program to date and because approximately 5,000 applications submitted have been denied for lack of funds.

The Legion's Land Board Committee praised the overall program, but urged that any violation of the criminal laws be prosecuted vigorously and violation of civil laws be rectified by legal measures.

The nine specific recommendations made by the committee include:

1. That the Veterans Land Board make an effort to advise veterans of their rights and obligations under the program. Many veterans believe they can buy a farm, and if they don't want it, they can just move off and turn it back to the state without further liability. That the American Legion should use its facilities to advise the veterans of their rights and privileges.

2. That the contracts of purchase and sale contain a sworn statement by the seller as to when he acquired the property, from whom and at what price.

3. That all contracts of sale and purchase list all personal property to be acquired by the veteran purchaser and that personal property to be removed from the land by the seller.

4. That the state make no purchases from persons who have only an option to buy land and are to pay for it with funds received from the state. The committee stated it believed this practice invites fraud.

5. That the Veterans Land Board have available a minimum of 20 appraisers. "We believe the limited number of appraisers and their heavy work load and the apparent inefficiency of some have helped contribute to the present conditions existing in the Veterans Land Board program", the recommendations read. It further recommended that all appraisers working for the land board in the future be bonded in sufficient amount to protect the state and the veterans.

6. That the appraisers be required to sign a sworn statement that he and the purchasing veteran have actually seen the land together and the veteran is fully apprised of his rights and liabilities in buying the land through the program.

7. That a Veterans Advisory Committee be formed to advise with the Land Commissioner from time to time on policy in conformity with the request of the Land Commissioner.

8. The committee recommended, that in view of the vastness of the program, the board may buy lands subject to outstanding mineral leases with all or part of the mineral interest being outstanding provided it was outstanding January 1, 1954. It was further recommended that the requirement of mineral interest to be received by the Board and the veterans from January 1, 1954, remain the same as provided in the original act creating the Veterans Land Board and that the seller be allowed to retain one-half non-participating interest but no participating royalty interest be reserved or severed from the land after January 1, 1954.

9. The committee recommended that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the people asking that the attorney general and governor be removed as members of the Veterans Land Board, and that the General Land Commissioner be retained as chairman of a board with two additional members, to be appointed as chairman of a board with two additional members, to be appointed by the governor and having adequate qualifications.
