Continental Is Given Airline Permit Here

LUBBOCK will be included on an extension of the Continental airline from Hobbs, N. M., to Tulsa, according to authorization given by the Civil Aeronautics board Friday.

Announcement of the permit, giving Lubbock assurance of further links to transcontinental service, was sent in a telegram to Lubbock Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon from Congressman George Mahon.

The telegram stated that Tom Wren, examiner for the CAB, had advised Congressman Mahon that the "Civil Aeronautics board has authorized an extension of Continental airline from Hobbs, N. M., to Tulsa, Okla., by way of Lubbock and Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City" and said details would be sent later.

Joint Efforts Cited

In a telegram from Denver headquarters of Continental to the chamber of commerce last night, Robert F. Six, president of Continental said "We join with you in celebrating the certification of new air service to your city and want you to know that the successful culmination of Continental's application was possible only through our joint efforts and mutual assistance. We anticipate inaugurating service just as soon as conditions permit."

Just when "conditions will permit" Six did not indicate, but it was surmised here that this would be based largely on availability of planes.

A chamber of commerce official, telephoning a representative of Continental at Denver earlier in the day, was assured the line would begin operating through Lubbock just as soon as equipment is available.

Three Permits Held

Three airlines, Continental, Braniff and Essair, Inc., now have permits to operate through Lubbock and when all of them begin service, Lubbock will have "virtually all essential air connections that could be asked for," said a spokesman of the chamber of commerce, which long has been seeking extensive air service for the city.

An Associated Press announcement from Washington stated that an application of American airlines, inc., to include Wichita Falls and Lubbock on its recently authorized route between Oklahoma City and El Paso was denied. Lubbock also has been seeking to be including on an American airlines route.

In January of last year, the Civil Aeronautics board held a hearing on applications of American and Continental airlines. A permit was granted Nov. 13, 1944, to American airlines for a route

JAP CRUISER — In a bold strike in the narrow Malacca strait, a force of British destroyers and an aircraft carrier sank a 10,000-ton Jap cruiser Wednesday, Britain has announced. Planes from the escort carrier Shah scored a bomb hit, and the Jap cruiser, which had a destroyer escort, was finished off in a night torpedo attack. One British destroyer suffered casualties.

Trap Closed On Japanese

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Saturday, May 19. — Forty-third division Yanks and guerrillas captured the vital Ipo dam, source of one-third of Manila's water, and closed a trap on several thousand Japanese troops late yesterday.

In the southern Philippines, on Mindanao, the 31st Infantry division captured Valencia and its two adjacent airfields, which already were being but to American use.

Dam Taken Intact

Ipo dam, strangely enough, was taken intact although the Japanese had the opportunity and the demolitions sufficient to destroy it.

A guerrilla force under Col. Marcus Augustin closed the northern jaw of a pincers against light opposition but Maj. Gen. Leonard F. Wing's 43rd met harder fighting in slugging the southern jaw shut.

The action trapped a large Japanese force but the enemy still was fighting hard and appeared well supplied.

The final assault on the dam was preceded by one of the most intense aerial firebomb raids in this theater. More than 375 Thunderbolts and Lightnings of the Fifth Air force gave the area a severe two-day blasting.

Capture of the dam does not bring Ipo water to Manila immediately. The Japanese still hold part of the aqueduct route.

Maj. Gen. Clarence Martin's 31st division moved north six miles in central Mindanao to capture Valencia and the two adjacent airdromes, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced.

On Strategic Tarakan

On strategic Tarakan island, off northeast Borneo, Australian troops reached the eastern coast after driving Japanese remnants into the central hills. Allied planes supported the ground forces and attacked targets on Borneo and the East Indies.

Aussie troops on north New Guinea punched two miles inland from captured Wewak to within a mile of the Boram air field.

A daring British naval strike into narrow Malacca strait, waterway leading to Singapore, was announced by the Admiralty in London. An aircraft carrier and destroyers pushed into the strait. After carrier planes had scored a bomb hit on a 10,000-ton Nati class Japanese cruiser the speeding destroyers sent the warship down with a night torpedo attack.

Soviet Hints At Pacific Attitude

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, May 18 — Moscow newspapers today prominently displayed a letter to Premier Stalin asserting that the northern, Soviet half of the Russian-Japanese Pacific island of Sakhalin was "immemorably Russian land."

The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star meanwhile reported a training meeting of Red Army commanders in Far Eastern Siberia facing Japanese-occupied Manchuria.

Much Space Used

The letter from the people of northern Sakhalin took up a third of a page of every Moscow morning newspaper and was sent on the 20th aniversary of "liberation from Japanese occupationists" which its signers said coincided with victory over Hitlerite Germany.

Sakhalin long has been an irritating question in Japanese-Russian relations. Oil-bearing Sakhalin lies just north of the Japanese home island of Kokkaido. The northern half of the 559-mile long, 124-mile-wide island is Russian, the southern part is Japanese.

The letter, from "the toiling masses of Sakhalin," said they had dedicated themselves to the principle of "not for one minute lessening our efforts in the cause of further strengthening the defensive growth of the military might of our homeland and strengthening the defensive power of Sakhalin."

Commanders Meet

A dispatch from a correspondent of Red Star datelined "Trans-Baikal Front"—that part of Far Eastern Siberia between Lake Baikal and Manchuria — meanwhile reported a successful 20-day meeting of company commanders of "(apparently censored)" formation. The meeting was held to acquaint officers with new military techniques and methods of training.

The dispatch said that officers had given lectures on tactics, signals and engineering.

Fritz Kuhn Ordered Deported To Germany

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP) — An order deporting Fritz Kuhn, former German-American Bund leader, back to now-conquered Germany, was announced today by the Justice department.

For the 49-year-old Kuhn, the order opened no prospect for renewing his activities. He has been under detention in this country as a "trouble maker" and officials said that on his arrival in Germany he will be dealt with as the U. S. Army sees fit.

The ouster was ordered by the board of immigration appeals who classified him as an undesirable alien. It was the result of a series of legal proceedings involving his conviction in 1939 of larceny of Bund funds and a denaturalization action taken by the government in 1942.

Ship's Cook Finds Nugget In Chicken

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18. (AP) Melvin O. Hogenson, Long Beach, Calif., a maritime service cook, cut open a chicken today and found a gold nugget in its gizzard. For 30 years an unsuccessful prospector, Hogenson valued the nugget at $2.50.

"I've panned for gold in many a Montana stream, Hogenson admitted, "but I never thought I'd find it aboard a ship."

Russia Given Three Days On Fusion Views

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18. — American delegates decided tonight to give Russia three more days to decide whether to support the fusing of an inter-American and a world security plan in the United Nations conference.

Some Latin American nations were teaming up to prevent conference action on some big issues until they know what the Soviets are going to do.

Prefer Waiting Game

But the American delegation decided it was better to play a waiting game than to risk another row with Russia.

The delegation drafted last week a formula which would let the Pan-American republics band together to resist attack on any of their number and at the same time would not jeopardize the over-all peace-keeping authority of a new world organization. The formula was relayed to Moscow last Saturday. No answer has come back yet.

Some American delegates were all for shoving the regional security issue into the conference without waiting for Soviet reaction. Others favored the more conciliatory process of holding off until Monday, and that view prevailed.

Independence Objective

On another conference problem involving Russia, the United States, through Secretary of State Stettinius, formally declared today that independence of dependent peoples is an American objective.

For areas to be protected by mandates and trusteeships, American delegates are backing a proposal for "progressive development toward self-government in forms appropriate to the varying circumstances of each territory."

But Secretary of State Stettinius said in a statement:

"It is our understanding that this clearly includes the attainment of independence of the people of a trusteeship area when they so desire and are prepared and able to assume the responsibility of independence."

One U. S. Objective

Seeking to answer criticism from various sources and to clarify the American stand, Stettinius asserted that "attainment of independence is one of the United United States' objectives in any government of dependent peoples."

The "self-government" clause is part of a paper submitted to a conference trusteeship committee so it could have something to work on. It was offered on behalf of the Big Five — China, France, Britain, Russia and the United States.

Russia has proposed that independence be named an objective. China has suggested that both self-government and independence be included.

British Oppose Plan

The British, perhaps concerned over possible reaction in their colonial empire, have argued against writing in "independence." And Stettinius said the unanimous position of the American delegation was to support the Big Five working paper without change. He added that this document leaves the door open for attainment of independence.

Failure of Russia to take a stand on another issue—a plan for letting the Pan-American mutual defense system operate within the framework of the world organization—was stirring up a double dose of trouble for the conference.

Nine influential Latin American statesmen decided to try to stall off action on a formula that would give the Big Five power to veto forcible measures to prevent war until they learn the Soviet view on regional defense.

They Might Balk

They indicated they would balk at endorsing veto authority for Russia or any other great power unless the Soviets come through with support for inter-American peace machinery.

Andrei Gromyko, chief Soviet delegate, saw Stettinious late today but brought no word from Moscow on regional arrangements.

The big powers were confronted with a possibility that some disgruntled smaller nations may tack on reservations when they sign the projected world charter.

Baby Arrives Just In Time For Daddy

CAMP HOOD, Tex., May 18 (AP) T/4 Henry R. Solis of the tank destroyer replacement training center, Camp Hood, found that he had 75 points, 10 short of the amount needed to qualify for a discharge under the Army's new point system.

Solis' wife in San Antonio was expecting a baby but if the child were not born before May 12 the sergeant would not receive the prescribed point credit. The baby was born May 10, giving Solis a total of 87 points, two more than he needed.

Bond Buyers To Get Buffalo Sandwiches

RENO, Nev., May 18. (AP) — Buffalo meat will be the Sunday dinner fare of those who purchased bonds in the 7th War loan drive here.

Reno's city council, finding the buffalo herd in Idlewild park expanding too rapidly for its feed budget, donated two buffaloes for conversion into barbecued sandwiches by the local Lions club. Bond buyers will be the recipients.

The OPA approved because buffalo meat is not mentioned in ration order 16.

Tokyo's Jitters Heightened By U. S. Fleet Movements

SURVIVORS OF STRICKEN CARRIER FRANKLIN—Exhausted by the shock of explosions and their efforts to extinguish fires aboard their ship, survivors of the USS Franklin, rest on the deck of the cruiser Santa Fe. The Franklin, hit by a Jap divebomber during a U. S. fleet attack on Jap shipping in the inland sea March 19, was saved from complete destruction through efforts of a courageous crew in one of the most epochal naval actions of the Pacific war. The Franklin is now in a New York port for repairs.

People Warned To "Watch Rigidly"; Small Gains Made On Tough Okinawa

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18. — A "powerful enemy fleet" is maneuvering in waters south of Japan, the Tokyo radio reported without confirmation today, warning the homeland that activities required a "rigid watch."

The broadcast said the enemy fleet steamed out of the Marianas islands early this week. It added:

"Although it is not definitely known whether it is directed toward the Okinawas, its activities require a rigid watch."

There For Long Time

(Powerful American and British fleets have been operating around Okinawa and other islands in the Ryukyus for nearly two months in support of the American invasion of Okinawa, which is only 325 miles south of Japan.)

The Japanese government created a new communications board under general cabinet supervision today, radio Tokyo announced in an effort to ease the empire's mounting transportation crisis.

The new agency, said the Japanese information board announcement, will "devote its entire effort to the accomplishment of transportation efficiency," which "greatly influences the war."

The change was made necessary, it was explained, by the "prevailing war situation"—probably an admission of the success of the air and sea blockade slowly tightening about Japan and of the effects of the American air raids.

Naoto Kohiyama, minister of transportation and communications in the Suzuki cabinet, will head the new board. He is considered one of Japan's leading transportation experts.

JAPS PULLING OUT?

CHUNGKING, May 18 (AP)—There were persistent reports here tonight that the Japanese are preparing to evacuate several pockets along the China coast between Hangchow bay and Hong Kong, all of which might become death traps if any sizeable American forces landed nearby.

The points reported affected included Swatow, Amoy, Foochow and possibly Wenchow.

the entire operation' as the 10th Army smashed at the strongly fortified "Little Siegfried" line stretching across Okinawa from Naha on the west coast to Yonabaru on the east.

Two Battalions Destroyed

He estimated that Maj. Lemuel C. Shepherd, jr's Sixth division Leathernecks destroyed two battalions of fiercely defending and counterattacking Nipponese troops in their advance from the Asa to the Asato rivers guarding Naha. This advance represented about one mile and required nearly a week, so bitterly did the Japanese fight back. The Leathernecks repulsed a number of small but savage counterattacks in this push.

A few enemy planes appeared over the Okinawa area late Thursday and in the early hours of Friday. Nimitz did not say whether they were able to reach their targets, or whether any were shot down.

He reported for the first time that Army fighters supported the ground action, along with escort carrier and Okinawa-based Marine planes and warships. The Army fighter group was identified as the 318th.

Yesterday presumably was a comparatively quiet day in the

Cattle Ceilings Are Pegged And Subsidy Is Set Up For Feeders

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP) — The government gave cattle producers a guarantee tonight against ceiling price cuts, and at the same time set up a brand-new subsidy to feeders, in a general attack on the meat shortage.

Subsidies to packers of both beef and pork also were boosted.

The order, from Fred M. Vinson, war mobilization director, provided for a bookkeeping record on cattle from the range to the butcher's block, to beat the black market.

Follows Great Clamor

Announcement of the program follows a clamor on capitol hill and elsewhere against existing regulations which critics contended were fostering maldistribution and illicit dealings in meats.

President Truman was reported to have ordered Vinson to step in and straighten things out. Investigating committees of both houses of Congress have complained of the current administrative policies. The Senate group has urged appointment of a food "czar" to take over the whole matter, after an extensive inquiry which centered on meat.

Principal emphasis in the new program was laid on the problems of the feeder—the man who takes range cattle and grain-feeds them to higher weight and grade. Cattlemen have complained that he is the "forgotten man" of the meat program, squeezed between the cost of range stock and what the packers can pay.

Notice On Price Change

The price guarantee—assurance that there will be no cuts in ceilings on stabilization ranges without six months notice—and a special new subsidy of 50 cents a hundredweight directly to him, were Vinson's answer.

The program also covered plans for more equitable distribution of meat over the country, possibly extending to requirements that more or less meat, as the situation demands, be sent to certain areas and certain outlets.

The plan provides:

1. No downward revision in "over-riding ceiling prices" or in the maximum of the stabilization ranges for beef cattle, except bulls, without at least 6 months advanced notice to producers.

2. Effective May 19, 1945, the Commodity Credit corporation will pay a subsidy of 50 cents per hundred pounds to the seller of AA and A grade cattle marketed for slaughter (sold for $14.25 or more per hundred pounds, Chicago basis) weighing 800 pounds or more, which have been owned by the seller 30 days or more.

Captured Aide Recounts Hitler's Final Desperate Blow At Allies

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Staff Writer

Adolf Hitler made a final desperate effort to split the Allies by planting a story that the Russians were arming 200,000 Germans to fight England, the fuehrer's former secretary, now a prisoner in southern Germany, told American newsmen yesterday.

Although the plot fizzled, the secretary said Hitler as well as Joseph Goebbels remained confident almost to the end that Russia and the Western Allies would fall out in time to save Germany from defeat. It was not until April 22, he said, that Hitler finally admitted the cause was lost and declared he would die in the Reichs chancellery.

Never Used Double

From mid-February on, the secretary said, it was apparent that Hitler, trying to direct the battle, was without adequate communications either east or west and often did not even know where his own or the Allied lines were. He insisted Hitler never used a double.

In London Lt. Gen. Tadeusz Komorowski, better known as "General Bor," who led the ill-fated rising of Polish patriots in Warsaw before the Soviets retook that ruined capital, declared that thousands of his former soldiers "are now filling Soviet prisons and concentration camps."

He described the 16 Polish leaders arrested recently by the Russians as "Polish patriots, good democrats and genuine contributors to the fight against Germany."

Arrested After Helping

Komorowski repeated his government's charges that local Polish underground commanders cooperated with the Russians in clearing the Germans out of their territory, only to be arrested after the task was completed.

In the British occupation zone of Germany Allied officers found a complete set of Gestapo files which will prove invaluable assistance in

Some Japs Slain In "Sepulchral" White

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

GUAM, Saturday, May 19.— American troops penetrated sectors of the fiercely-contested southern Okinawa front, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz reported today, but failed to make appreciable progress toward either Naha or Shuri, their prime objectives.

Nimitz's communique surprisingly reported on ground action only through Thursday. Normally, his reports are only several hours behind the fighting. Illustrating intensity of battling which won small local gains, he cited these instances:

A regiment of the 77th Infantry division captured one hill position three times but was driven off each time, finally yielding to strong Japanese artillery and mortar fire.

Nine Assaults On Hill

Elements of the Sixth Marine division assaulted Sugar Loaf hill nine times in one week before securing it. The last three assaults carried them to the crest, but they were forced to yield the crest twice under fanatical counterattacks.

There is evidence that some Japanese commanders realize their eventual defeat is certain and that they characteristically are preparing for a ceremonious death.

Maj. Gen. Jedro A. Del Valle's First division Marines found Japanese officers dressed in ceremonial white in a command post they

B-29s Batter Tokyo In Daylight Attack

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP) — Superfortresses numbering perhaps as many as 150 struck at Tokyo today (May 19 Japanese time) in a daylight raid with demolition bombs.

The bombing attack today on the Japanese capital was in contrast to the incendiary strikes made during the past week on Nagoya, key industrial city of the enemy's aircraft industry.

The 20th Airforce headquarters said the attack was aimed at industrial targets in the western outskirts of Tokyo. The announcement said a very large task force took off just before dawn from bases of Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay's 21st Bomber command in the Marianas.

Headquarters said further details would be announced after reports are delivered by returning crews.

Much Of Nagoya Left In Ruins

GUAM, Saturday, May 19 (AP)— B-29s have destroyed or damaged 11.3-square miles—nearly one-fourth — of Nagoya, Japan's third largest city and key center of the empire's aircraft industry, Maj. Gen. Curtis LeMay announced today.

New areas burned out or damaged in two 500-Superfortress fire bomb raids Monday and Thursday total 5.9 square miles, complete photo reconnaissance study disclosed.

Three Plants Wrecked

In this week's raids by more than 1,000 B-29s dropping 2,000,000 six-pound incendiaries, three important Nagoya plants were virtually destroyed.

These were Mizuho branch of Aichi Aircraft works, Osaka machinery and Nagoya No. 3 plant of Tokai Electrode Co.

More than five square miles of Nagoya was damaged in Superfort raids March 12 and 19.

Study of photos shows the damaged area totals about 22 per cent of the entire city.

Nagoya's 11.3 square mile damage brings to 59.58 the total area destroyed or damaged in six Japanese cities by B-29 incendiary attacks.

In this week's raids, the ancient Nagoya castle fortress, in the heart of the city, was damaged and several buildings in the castle were destroyed or damaged.

Manless Germany Grave Problem

WIESBADEN, Germany, May 18 (AP)—American officers coming to grips with the task of governing Germany are somewhat startled today by the realization they have on their hands a nation which is largely feminine.

Preliminary surveys show that at the moment there are five women for every two German men in the adult productive years and this was expected to weigh heavily in the postwar behavior of the country, involving psychological considerations with which veteran officers admit they are unfamiliar.

Even the return of German prisoners in the undetermined future will not balance the situation until today's children grow up. As a consequence hundreds of thousands of maturing German women face the prospect of a husbandless life if the nation is going to stick to monogamy.

The Nazi slave labor system released an extraordinarily high proportion of German men for the fronts where they became casualties or prisoners. Now the burdens of reconstruction and reparations sacrifices are sure to fall most heavily on women and if, in addition, it is to be a loveless life, it may lead in the opinion of some officers to a spiritual smash-up which could have repercussions far beyond the German frontiers.

Lt. U. C. Biel of New York City, military government officer making a study of this factor said if even one frustrated woman was unpredictable the mass of feminine frustration which seems in store for Germany was completely outside the bounds of calculation and could bring strange unprecedented slants to the postwar mentality.

By and large German women were charmed by the personality of Hitler and had considerable influence in bringing him to power. Now, grubbing around in ruined cities and doing double duty on farms, the women generally admit their flier into politics was a disaster and are turning their thoughts from public affairs. Their deepest yearning is for security and a home, and millions cannot have either of these.

The officers are taking up gingerly the spiritual aspects of defeated Germany, and how to cope with them. For instance, organizations like the Hitler youth movement have been abolished, but Germans remain romantic, want to hike and dream in forests and to have organized gymnastics and athletics. Many observers are recommending there be supervised organizations.

Meanwhile just the task of reestablishing the German educational system appeared so great it looked like a long occupation.

Friday, May 18.

DEAR ——

At long last it appears Lubbock will be on an airline service. Temporary lease agreement for use of the former municipal airport at South Plains Army Air field by Essair, Inc., was signed by members of the City commission in a special meeting Wednesday afternoon at City hall. H. N. Sweeney of Dallas, traffic manager, representing Essair in the negotiations, said the company now has four planes available for airlines service and that inaugural and proving flights were expected to be started the latter part of May.

Two flights daily are planned through Lubbock. The line will operate from Houston to Amarillo, via Austin, San Angelo, Abilene and Lubbock. Lockheed-Electra planes carrying a two-man crew and nine passengers will be flown.

The highly desirable 5-acre Central Ward school property of the Lubbock Independent school district, still bears a "for sale" sign and the price remains at $250,000. A prospective buyer described only as "a large, nation-wide mercantile concern" did not continue its option on the property.

Kiwanis club in its weekly luncheon meeting at Lubbock hotel recognized KFYO's part in radio's general contribution to the war effort. A framed testimonial of appreciation was awarded by James O. Cade, speaker, to DeWitt Landis, KFYO manager, on behalf of the president of Kiwanis International and of W. C. Wood, Lubbock president.

Weather played a mean prank Tuesday, sending rain, hail and snow and causing shivering residents of the South Plains to don overcoats again. The heavy clouds that hung over the city, however, failed to deliver much needed moisture.

Chester C. Hinsley, former corporal in the U. S. Army, was Lubbock's first veteran to be given an honorable discharge under the new point system and arrived home Sunday night after being mustered out of the army at San Antonio Friday.

Cliff Dean has gone to San Antonio where he will enter the track show to try for a place on the Texas team in the National AAUW meet as a pole vaulter. Dean topped 12 feet levels six times this season in regular meets and at the state meet he went 12 feet, 6 inches, winning first place. This was two feet better than first place in the Southwest conference meet.

A Lubbock man, Lt. A. P. Couch, ship's service officer on the USS Franklin, was aboard the carrier when it was bombed by the Japanese March 19 but he was not injured. Lt. Couch is a graduate of Tech college, where he majored in business administration, was president of Alpha Chi national honor fraternity, and of Wrangler fraternity.

Don B. Burger, former manager of the Hilton hotel here, has been named vice-president of the Hilton hotel corporation, C. N. Hilton, president, has announced. Burger recently was discharged after serving as a lieutenant in the Navy. He is a former manager of the Savoy Plaza in New York and owner of the Villa Riviera in Long Beach.

Arthur Griffith has been named manager of the Lubbock Hilton hotel to succeed Al Finnell who resigned and who has gone to Cowles, N. M., to manage the Mountain View ranch.

A new City electric plant to cost approximately $375,000 has been authorized for construction by the City commission. The unit will be located on land owned by the City on the Plainview highway northeast of Lubbock where it is eventually planned for the entire municipal electric plant to be located.

Two of the highest awards made to American fighting men, one from the Navy and one from the Marines, will be posthumously presented to the families of two West Texas heroes who died in action against the Japanese. The Navy Cross will go to Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Gravitt of Levelland for exceptional gallantry shown by their son, Lt. John C. Gravitt, on Peleliu island. The Bronze Star of the Marines goes to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Witt, the parents of Pfc. Everett J. Witt, killed June 15 on Saipan.

Capt. Harold Fulghum and Capt. Vernon Turner have cabeled their wives to assure them of their safety after being liberated from German prison camp. It is thought both men were in Moosburg camp.

Lt. (jg) Ernest Winter, who was shot down over Jap-held territory and returned safely to his base has been visiting here, accompanied by his wife, the former Genevieve Decker. Lt. Winter undoubtedly could tell one of the most unusual stories of the war but military security forbids telling of it at present.

Death this week claimed an old-timer, Eastin Wolffarth, former cowboy, cattleman and former sheriff of Lubbock county. He died Tuesday of a heart attack in West Texas hospital.

Goodbye for this week.

Cupid Finally Gets Through Red Tape With Aid Of Yank

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MAYEN, Germany, May 15. (Delayed) — A crippled German youth and a sweet faced Ukrainian girl whose love defied the Nazi theory of the super race have been granted permission by an officer of the American military government to marry.

Antonius Kaes, 22, was clearing rubble from a Mayen freight yards and Maria Bilezko, 23, was planting potatoes in a country garden when Capt. Melben W. Nitz of Ripon, Wis., set a precedent for the AMG.

"I made use of law No. 6 in our MG regulations by which I can authorize the German municipal administration 'to do or omit any act'," Nitz explained. "The burgomeister had referred the marriage application to me. It wasn't a hard decision. I'm married too and my baby son was born in Wisconsin about the time I was going into combat and Anzio with a regiment of the 82nd Airborne division."

In a tiny apartment looking over the bomb-shattered rooftops of Mayen, neat, white-haired Frau Christina Kaes tended a seven-month-old granddaughter as she told of the difficulties encountered by Antonius and Maria since they first met in a Rhineland meat factory two years ago.

"Maria's home was in Poltava and she was taken away from there to work in the German armaments industry," she said. "My son, who has been crippled since an injury to his leg in childhood, worked beside her. Within a few months he applied for a marriage license. It was refused on the grounds that Maria Bilezko was not of German blood. The secret police then arrested Antonius and held him for four months while they investigated his 'relations with enemy aliens.'

"When Maria learned she would have a baby I obtained permission to have her live in our home. The baby, Christel, was born last November. Isn't my granddaughter bright-eyed and dear?"

Frau Kaes picked up a sheaf of old letters with United States stamps on the envelopes.

"This isn't the first international marriage in our family," she smiled. "My sister married an American soldier in the army of occupation in 1922."

Meeting of the Roaring Springs club has been postponed from today until May 26. Members and families are to meet at the barbecue pit at Mackenzie park at 8 p. m. and are to bring basket luncheon.

'Queens' Playing Major War Role

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press News Analyst

Now that the war in Europe is over the battle of the Atlantic ending in surrender of the Nazi U-boat fleet, now-it-can-be-told tales are flooding the news pages. Among them have come the first partial glimpses of the part played by Britain's two gigantic liners, the Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary.

Simpson

Even briefly sketched it is such as to draw the comment from Brig. Gen. Horace S. Sewell, British official war commentator in Washington, that "without the two 'Queens' the whole course of the war (in the Atlantic) might have been different." To that he might have added that without the "Queens" the course of the war in the Pacific might also be different. One way or another those two huge craft are certain to help solve the gigantic logistical problem of bringing the full weight of British and American armed power to bear on Japan.

Ferry Many Troops

Sewell credits the "Queen's with having ferried to the United Kingdom in the year between July 31, 1943, and the same data in 1944 more than a third of the 865,000 "uniformed Americans" transported over the Atlantic in that time in preparation for D-day in Normandy.

Obviously ships of that capacity and speed could be of major service in British-American redeployment from Europe to the Pacific and Indian ocean war theaters. But just where the "Queens" are to be employed is not disclosed. Their giant proportions deny them use of many of the ports so far available, so there are many Japances war jobs they cannot do despite their speed and carrying capacity.

Not until Japan also succumbs will the full story of the war mission of these greatest sea carriers be available but even as partially revealed it is a thrilling narrative.

E. D. Blakeley, or Elbert Blakeley—charges were filed both ways "but it was the same man"—got into a mare's nest of misdemeanor charges Friday morning after being overhauled on the Lubbock-Ropesville road when driving his truck more than 45 miles an hour, officials said. He was fined $5 and costs on each of two charges accusing him of exceeding gross weight for which his truck-tractor and his semi-trailer were registered and for which license fees had been paid, and $1 and costs for speeding. He was advised by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, and Jack Reaves and A. B. Barton, Department of Public Safety officials, to take off part of his load. However, he was arrested later in the day on the Lubbock-Idalou road, allegedly with the same excessive load, and fined $5 and costs in two other cases, one for the load on the truck-tractor and the other for that on the truck-trailer. Blakeley, of Odessa, drives for an oil well drilling company. He paid a total of $66.

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.
This simple creed will work wonders.

Stephens Homers With Bags Choked To Defeat Yankees

ST. LOUIS, May 18 (AP)—Vern Stephens' home run with the bases loaded in the third inning gave the American League Champion St. Louis Browns a 4 to 1 victory over the New York Yankees and handed Hank Borowy his first defeat of the season tonight. Borowy had won five.

The Browns got only four hits, but made them count. Stephens collected two of these four bingles, while the others were off the bats of Gray and Schulte. Gray, Schulte and Kreevich were the three on base when Stephens belted out his grand slam homer.

Kramer went the route for the Browns, and hung up his fourth win of the season, as compared with one loss. He was touched for nine hits, all of them singles, but he kept them well scattered, while striking out six and walking only one.

The Yankees stay in first place was short lived, taking over the lead in the afternoon, when the Chisox stumbled before the Red Sox, but in tonight's game, the Yankees again dropped back into the runnerup position.

Texas Longhorns Nose By Texas Aggies, 4-3

COLLEGE STATION, May 18. (AP)—The Texas Longhorns won the first of a two-game baseball series here today by a score of 4 to 3 over the Texas Aggies.

Both teams had bad innings, but the Steers pounded out 10 hits and erred only twice, while the Aggies made four costly bobbles afield and were able to get only five safeties off Philley.

The Aggies did all their scoring in the last half of the initial inning, counting three times on an error, three walks in succession and a hit by Strange.

McKeever Unworried Over Army, Navy—Yet

CHICAGO, May 18. (AP) — Ed McKeever, who left his job as acting head football coach at Notre Dame to take over as head grid tutor at Cornell, says the Army and Navy will have the two best backfields of next season—but he isn't worrying.

"We don't play Army or Navy," smiled McKeever who recalled the trimmings the service elevens handed the Irish team last fall. "After last fall I can afford to miss 'em for a year." Cornell, however, plays Army in 1946, Navy in 1947 and both teams in 1948, McKeever said.

CHICAGO, May 18. (AP)—Tony Cuccinello, veteran Chicago White Sox infielder who is currently leading the American league in hitting, now enjoys another distinction. With Paul Waner's release by the New York Yankees, Cuccinello is the only member of the National League's first All-Star team of 1933 still active in the major leagues.

Dodgers Outslug Chicago, 15-12

BROOKLYN, May 18. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers hammered out a 15 to 12 victory over the Chicago Cubs in a slugfest tonight before a gathering of 28,273 cash customers, the biggest Ebbets Field crowd of the season.

The crowd learned early what kind of a night they had before them, and both clubs started the ball game with four runs in the first inning. The Cubs added two more in the second, and held the lead until the fifth when the Dodgers exploded with another four-run spree. The Cubs tied it again in the sixth, but the Dodgers came right back to go ahead, and hold the lead the rest of the way.

The Cubs rallied in the ninth, but the rally fell short. There were five home runs in the ball game. Cubs getting two and Dodgers three. Nicholson, Cub slugger drove in five runs for the most potent performance of the night, while his team mate, Stan Hack paced the hitting with a double and three singles.

LAAF Leaves To Battle Pampans

Lubbock Army Air Field's Fliers leave early this morning for Pampa and a two-day diamond series with Pampa Army Air Field's up and coming baseball team.

The Fliers, showing considerable hep and hustle in workouts this week after last week-end's double win over Goodfellow Field's Skyhawks of San Angelo, will be out to make it four games in a row by taking the Pampa series.

Davis, Bodde To Hurl

Little is known of the Pampa club, although a few days ago a powerful "B" team from Amarillo Army Air Field eked out two close decisions over the oil city nine.

LAAF's squad, sixteen strong, leaves at 7:30 o'clock this morning, plays one game this afternoon, probably at 3 o'clock and the other Sunday afternoon, probably at 1:30 o'clock. The club will be in charge of Lieut. Paul Hunsicker, an athletic instructor at LAAF.

Staff Sgt. Sam West, coach and manager of the Fliers, said that he likely would start last week's winning combination in the series, Paul Bodde, who pitched a steady game last Sunday in winning an 18 to 5 decision over Goodfellow, and Johnny Davis who scattered eight hits over the route in last Saturday's opener which LAAF won, 10 to 5.

Play Amarillo Next

Also expected to be in the lineup are such batting standbys as Frank Vecchio, Curtis Elwood, Os Wilhite and others, who have been showing the way at the plate for the Fliers.

Next week-end, the Fliers play host to one of the strongest service teams in the state—Amarillo Army Air Field's Sky Giants, sparked by several professional performers who have been slamming opposition all over the lot in recent tussles.

Champ Arrives For Tri-State Tourney

AMARILLO, May 18. (AP)—Red Gober of Austin, Tri-State senior golf champion, arrived today in time for a practice round of golf at the Amarillo Country club, scene of the eleventh annual tournament May 22-25.

Gober appeared to be at the peak of his game. He shot a 73, three over par. That is one stroke lower than he shot last year for co-medalist honors.

Other favorites include Harrison Smith and Roy Allen of Oklahoma City, both former champions; Morley Jennings, Texas Tech athletic director; Don Bothwell of Tulsa; and Dude Gentry of Amarillo.

C. S. Johnson of Borger paid his entry fee yesterday to become number one entry.

There were 136 entered last year and officials say they expect at least 150 this year. They say it will be the world's largest senior tournament.

Since 1927 Navy rifle teams have shot 144 shoulder-to-shoulder matches, winning 127. The Middies have lost less than 12 per cent of these matches.

Thousands View Rodeo, "Circus"

With big Bud "Super-Dare-devil" Decker, ex-Marine, setting the audience on its collective ear with spine-chilling invitations to death, the West Texas Rodeo and Hollywood Thrill circus Friday night presented its first performance of a three-day run in Lubbock before approximately 4,500 persons at the fairgrounds.

A matinee show will be presented at 3 o'clock this afternoon and another will be given at 8 o'clock tonight. Another show is set for 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Joe Evans of Sweetwater copped bronc riding honors for the night. Winners of second and third places were, respectively, Hood Abercrombie of Lubbock and Buck McDougal of Throckmorton.

Dug Northcutt of Amarillo manned his twisting Brahma bull in a fashion which brought him top place in this division. Slim Mateer of Clovis took second and Gail Willis of Tucson, Ariz., took third.

Calf ropers had difficulty finding their calves against a strong east wind and in a dusty arena, the best time being 20 seconds—that turned in by Frank Gillespie of Quitaque. Placing in succession were Red Whately of Crosbyton with 22 seconds and Jack Thomas of Lubbock with 23.

Carrol Johnson of Fort Worth bulldogged his steer in 43 seconds in the "winner-take-all" bulldogging division.

Decker made a night of it. He crashed through a flaming wall on a motorcycle. He lay on the ground and let a car run over him. He ran one side of his car up a "ski jump" and sent it rolling down the arena. Then came up the top thrill of the night. Hitting a sharply-inclined ramp at 50 miles an hour, his automobile roared over the bed of a truck and two cars, landing on a third car. His vehicle turned end-over-end, landed on its top and flipped over on its side.

Among specialties are the antics of "Tinhorn" Hank Keenan, veteran rodeo clown, and trick riding and roping by Dorothy Keenan, his daughter, and Jimmy Allen.

AAU Tryouts Offer State's Top Show

SAN ANTONIO, May 18. (AP)—The mile relay and squad competition involving San Antonio, Austin, Texas A. and M. and service league, feature the AAU track and field meet here tomorrow afternoon and night. Preliminaries will be run in the afternoon and finals will start at 8:15 p. m.

Texas will send its 13 men, aided by Austin High's Desmond Kidd, under the banner of Austin A. C., and San Antonio schools will operate under the colors of San Antonio A. C.

This will allow Kidd, a fancy quarter miler, to race on the Austin mile relay team, in opposition to Jefferson's state high school champs. Jeff ran 3:23.7 in the recent Army meet here. Texas won the conference mile relay and the Aggies were second. Local service league will also enter a team.

Austin, with the Texas stars, is favored to win the team title but San Antonio's group will include stars from Brackenridge and Jefferson, who ran one, two in the state high school meet, combining to gain 55 points. They will be aided by Ted Haese, crack individual star from Fort Sam Houston.

Pole vaulters will stand out with Cliff Dean of Lubbock, who won the state title at 12 feet, six and other school boys who have reached 12 feet. They will have their troubles however, since the Kingsville Navy has entered their stars, Moore and Winters, who have cleared 13 feet six and 14 feet respectively.

FIRPO HAS PROTEGE

BUENOS AIRES, May 18. (AP)—Luis Angel Firpo, who fought Jack Dempsey two decades ago, is enthusiastic about his protege—226-pound Abel Cestac, whom the former Wild Bull of the Pampas said last night is about due in New York aboard the Argentine merchantman Rio Parana.

Demaret Retains Texas PGA Lead

SAN ANTONIO, May 18. (AP)—Jimmy Demaret of Corpus Christi Naval Air Training Station shot a two-under par 70 over the rolling Fort Sam Houston course today to protect his lead in the closed championship division of the Texas P. G. A. golf circus.

Demaret now has a 54-hole total of 212, a three-stroke margin over Sammy Schneider of Corpus Christi. In third place is Tod Menefee of San Antonio with 220 in the championship class.

Demaret's score also led the servicemen's and open championship divisions. In second place in the servicemen's class is Cpl. Ashley Loafea of Fort Sam Houston, with 219, while Jimmy Gauntt, ineligible 1944 champion of the affair, has 216.

Mrs. Betty Mims White of Dallas continued to lead the women's division, despite an 87 today. She has a 54-hole total of 247, while Mrs. Joan Barr Tracy, also of Dallas, is second with 249. Jo Henson, local city women's champion had the low score today, an 81. Her total is 255.

The tournament ends Saturday with the final 18-holes in all divisions. The 20 low amateurs and 10 low pros will meet in the Texas Cup matches Sunday to end the week-long meet sponsored by the Army for the rehabilitation of returned war veterans.

The six qualifiers for the National P.G.A. Tourney, Demaret, Schneider, Menefee, Raymond Gafford of Fort Worth, Todd Houck of Longview and W. A. "Lefty" Stackhouse, maintained their positions through 54-holes. Gafford had a 148-73 for a 221 total and fourth place. Houck soared to a 79 today for a 228 total and Stackhouse had a 75 for a 224 count.

Cardinal Boss Hard Hit With Bad Luck

ST. LOUIS, May 18 (AP) — The old adage about "when it rains it pours," seems an apt descriptive of the woes that have befallen Manager Billy Southworth and his world champion St. Louis Cardinals the past few weeks.

About all the hard luck that could come to a manager over a whole season has dropped into Southworth's lap in rapid succession.

"There comes a time," he moaned, "when your pitching staff is in such shape that you haven't anybody to spare in relief, come hell or high batting averages. That's the fix we're in right now."

While desertion from the club last Wednesday by Mort Cooper, ace righthander, was admittedly a solid jolt to the team, it was only one in a sequence.

Southworth's answer to Cooper was an indefinite suspension and a $500 fine. Meanwhile, Billy must deal with a patched up infield and outfield and an overworked pitching staff until he can get help back from his now lengthy and sore-arm list.

Military industions are a matter of course, so the loss of catcher Walker Cooper to the Navy and the departure today of southpaw pitcher Max Lanier for an Army physical examination are not in Southworth's hard luck category. But these are:

Of the mound corps, George Dockins came home from Boston for treatment of a strained left shoulder; Harry Brecheen is St. Louis-bound for treatment of a sore arm; Ted Wilks still is with the club but also nursing a sore arm.

Shortly after Walker Cooper left for the Navy, shortstop Marty Marion sprained an ankle and was out of the lineup more than two weeks. Al (Red) Schoendienst, Marion's substitute, dived for a grounder a few days later and dislocated his right shoulder. He still is out of the lineup.

In the first game after Morton Cooper's desertion, Augie Bergamo injured a tendon in a slide into third game and has been on the injury list since.

Now reserve inielder George Fallon has been notified to report for pre-induction examination.

Test Of Strength Seen

Officialdom Faces Tax Problem

UNLESS the portents are misleading, President Truman's relations with Congress will soon be subjected to considerable strain over the question of when and how to reduce the heavy wartime tax burden. The issue has already produced sharply divergent opinions from the President, War Mobilization and Reconversion Director Vinson and Senator George, chairman of the Senate Finance committee.

It may soon be brought to a head in Congress as a result of the "five point" tax plan formulated by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and some Congressional leaders, and just made public.

Judge Vinson, in his report entitled "The War: Phase Two," has recommended that "no general reduction in taxes be made until after Japan is defeated." Mr. Truman sides with Vinson. But Senator George has issued a statement insisting that substantial reductions must be effected in corporate and individual income taxes at the earliest possible date, regardless of the status of the war with Japan.

To make his position even more emphatic, Senator George declared that Congress should start the work of revision at once in order to have a bill ready this fall or, at the latest, at the beginning of next year. He added that reductions should be effective on 1946 income and some should apply even to 1945 income. Now that Germany has been defeated, he said, there must be a new viewpoint toward taxation.

It will be generally agreed that business must be encouraged to push ahead if the American economy is to be preserved. But worthwhile reductions in taxes must be accompanied by drastic cuts in government spending.

Tribute Paid To Patriots

FOR the complete details of what underground forces in various German-occupied countries contributed to the Allied war effort, the world will have to wait. For the present, all it knows is that, in the words of General Eisenhower, the contribution was "inestimable."

To all resistance forces in France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Denmark and Norway, the Allies' supreme commander has broadcast a message of thanks for their "service to the Allied cause and to the future of all freedom-loving people." The message said in part:

"Inadequately armed and in the midst of a savage and ruthless enemy, you have fought on, month after month, year after year, regardless of the disappointments you suffered and of the danger you have undergone. For most of you, your sole reward has been the knowledge that you have by your efforts, helped to rid your homeland of the hated enemy."

To the true patriot, that reward is doubtless sufficient. To that the Allied world adds its homage—accompanied by a desire for as much of the resistance story as can be told. Many of the heroic acts of these patriots, some of which have not yet been revealed to the world, will occupy prominent and permanent niches in history.

Certainly, our underground aides deserve all the credit, all the honor and all the thanks we are able to bestow upon them.

Other Sacrifices Coming

NOW that the nation has had an opportunity to study and digest the War department's plans for shifting our fighting forces from Europe to the Pacific; and its general decisions regarding furloughs and discharges, relatives of mililons of fighting men know about what is in store for them and their loved ones in uniform.

The war that is still to be won in the Pacific means, as the War department's announcement shows, that this nation must solve the greatest and most complicated military problem in history before Japan is completely defeated. It will not be solved at the lowest possible cost in human life unless every American assumes his share of it.

There are really two problems. One is a matter of logistics. The other is a matter of morale. Not only must the greater part of several armies of almost 4,000,000 men be withdrawn from Europe and transported halfway around the globe to the Far East with their weapons, equipment and supplies. They also must be set down on new battlefields ready to fight the Japanese with the same high and steadfast will to victory that made them the conquerors of Germany.

There will be new sacrifices, new and greater Iwo Jimas and Okinawas. But America dares not falter. For the sake of the dead and the living, it must press forward with all its strength.

The One Minute Sermon

If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil, lay thine hand upon thy mouth.

Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood: so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.—Proverbs 30:32-33.

THE STORY: Nick queries Mr. Hudson about Eric Woolf but gets no satisfaction. Brenda Temple and her father are forced to remain overnight at The Ledges when their car refuses to start.

THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT

XII

There is no more arresting sound than an unexpected knock on a door at night.

"What's that?" asked Charley.

"It's someone knocking at the front door," said Mr. Hudson, "but I wonder who it can be?"

The caller had waited for a few moments, then attacked the knocker with renewed vigor.

"He's impatient," murmured Brenda.

"I'll go," I said quickly and I went through the dining room.

I opened the door cautiously and peered out into the darkness.

"Who is it?"

"Oh, is that you, Mr. Trent? It's Cass Hapes. I saw your lights and thought I'd investigate."

"Come in, Cass." I threw open the door with relief.

Hapes had assumed his peaked police hat as a mark of authority, but the rest of him was unreconstructed Northshoreman. His red rubber boots were glistening with moisture, and the soft mud on their tips told of reconnoitering on the grounds. Mr. Hudson had followed me and now he came forward through the hall.

"Why, Cass," he said, "what's wrong?"

"I just saw the cars and your lights, Mr. Hudson, and thought I'd look in."

Hapes whacked the moisture off the crown of his hat.

"Well I'm glad to see that the Sandy Point police are on the job."

"Minot," corrected Hapes mildly.

"Well, Minot or Sandy Point, you'd better have a little something to ward off cold."

"No." Hapes shook his head and there was a serious glint in his eyes. "I'm on duty, Mr. Hudson."

Mr. Hudson put back his head and eyed Hapes shrewdly.

"What's on your mind, Cass?"

The policeman put his finger on a bubble of moisture on his hat and rubbed the finger against his thumb.

"Well, Mr. Hudson, there's been some prowling going on in Sandy Point—especially here at The Ledges, and I thought you ought to be on the watch."

Mr. Hudson smiled.

"There always is, Cass. It's probably just a few curious 'townies who want to see what the summer colony lives in."

Hapes flushed.

"It's not townies, Mr. Hudson." The policeman held up his hat and I saw a clean hole through the peak.

"Great heavens, man, that's not a bullet hole?"

"It ain't termites," replied Hapes, "and it's damned good shooting."

"What happened, Cass?" I asked.

"It was last night. I was driving down to Cap Hutchins' and it had just fallen dark. As I came past The Ledges, I saw a bug light over by the garage. It went out the minute I spotted it. Somehow I didn't like the look of it, so I pulled up by the gate and climbed the wall. I hadn't got any more than halfway to the garage when I spotted the light again. I yelled and—got this for an answer." Hapes gestured with his hat. "I dropped like I was hit and waited for another shot so I could fire at the flash. But whoever it was, he was cagey. No shot came and he got away."

"Nicholas." Phineas Hudson took my arm gently. "Don't say anything of this to the girls."

"Several people have reported seeing lights here," went on Hapes. "At first, I thought you might be coming down from Boston, but no one had seen you so I got suspicious."

"Naturally." Mr. Hudson shook his head in perplexity. "But I can't understand what anybody would want here. Nothing's been taken and there's little of value in the house."

Hapes said:

"Whoever it was had no business here, Mr. Hudson, and it's my job to find him."

"Of course," said Mr. Hudson. "I appreciate that and I'm very grateful. But I don't think there's much danger of your marauder turning up tonight, now that we're here."

Hapes looked very much as if he wanted to say something. But he closed his lips stubbornly.

"All right, Mr. Hudson." He pulled on his cap. "I just wanted to make sure everything was in order. But remember that the fellow who was here last night is a killer and he's not particular who he shoots at."

* * *

When we got back to the library, Bruce Temple turned his head and I remember thinking that he looked unpleasantly arrogant.

"Wasn't that Hapes?" he asked.

"Yes," replied Mr. Hudson. "He saw our lights and thought he'd investigate to make sure everything was all right."

Charley came through the door with a pot of coffee which he set down on the table. He sat down beside me. "Who was at the door, Nick?"

"Cass Hapes."

"What did he want?"

"Just checking up to see who was here."

Charley's eyes rested on mine for a full five seconds. Then he said:

"Nick, he knew who was here. I saw him in the square this afternoon and told him all about it."

"There is a very large fly in somebody's ointment," I said.

"Coffee, Nick?" Brenda Temple passed me a cup and saucer. Her eyes were bright and knowing. "You may be glad of it later."

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

ACCORDING to an item in a New York newspaper, the furnishings from the home of the late Governor Alfred E. Smith will be sold at auction in a few days.

The catalogue issued for the sale lists glassware, china, linens and laces, prints, silver and silver-plate, paintings, oriental rugs, a crystal table service and books.

BRANDEIS

Alfred E. Smith was born in an Oliver street tenement, near the Brooklyn Bridge—not far from the Bowery. He died on Fifth Avenue, surrounded by millionaires' mansions and fine apartment houses.

It is strange to associate him with Oriental rugs and crystal ware and books. And, having known Al Smith, I think he never had much use for those things.

Because in all his days Al never lost the simplicity of Oliver street nor was his heart ever far away from the people of the Bowery.

If he could sit at that auction sale, he'd probably say "baloney," because to Al everything that wasn't real and fu was "baloney."

I wonder whether many a successful man who lives in a mansion or a penthouse doesn't feel just about the way Al felt about all those artificial things that accumulate on the way up.

Maybe that's why Franklin Roosevelt built himself that simple little cottage on his Hyde park estate—the one for show the other for living.

Maybe that's why Joe Connolly, one of the country's most successful and highest paid newspapermen, who died a few weeks ago, liked to leave his apartment in a leading New York hotel and come out to my simple place here in Connecticut for weekends and wear his oldest clothes and putter around in the barn and in the kitchen.

Maybe that's why so many big business men are buying farms and cottages in the country just to be again the kind of guys they were before the dreams came true.

I HAVE interviewed many successful men during my newspaper career.

And I have learned that to most of them the success achieved isn't at all the kind of success for which they worked and slaved and got heart trouble and nervous breakdowns and arthritis.

I've always had a different idea of success. To me it is to be able to live the way you want to live, to do what you want to do and to be able to sleep nights, to pay your bills and to look forward to tomorrow not with fear and worry but with pleasant anticipation.

Success, to me at least, certainly isn't the knowledge that when you die your auction catalogue is going to have more pages than the other fellow's.

U. S. Pays The Freight

Lend-Lease To Be Mostly "Give"

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRELIMINARY surveys of surplus property assets here and abroad indicate that Uncle Sam will be lucky if he recovers 10 cents on the dollar. It is estimated that the final postwar total will amount to about 100 billion dollars, which means that only about 10 billion will be recouped.

Foreign installations comprise around 30 per cent of the disposable goods, and they will bring only a small percentage of the money invested in them. For purely military purposes the United States has built railroads, airfields, docks, plants and barracks in almost every section of the globe. It would be an economic waste to dismantle and transport them to this country. They must be sold for whatever local interests will offer.

TUCKER

War weapons, including planes, trucks and ships, have taken a terrific beating. Few transportation vehicles of any kind can give satisfactory service in any peacetime capacity. Their engines may be useful when shifted to other purposes, such as for use in machine shops or small factories. But in general they will have to be sold as scrap and at scrap values. In fact, the RFC calculates that about 50 per cent of the billion and a half dollars it invested in surplus airplanes will have to be wiped off the books.

Giant factories such as Willow Run, where Henry Ford made big bombers, present a different problem. This plant cost approximately 100 million dollars. It is doubtful whether it can be integrated into our postwar economy. At any rate no manufacturer has yet offered a bid. Shortly before his retirement, Jesse Jones said that he would be glad to take a check for five million for this single piece of real estate.

FEAR: John W. Snyder, Jesse Jones's successor as Federal Loan administrator and actual head of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, has served notice that he will dispose of these valuable surplus properties on a businesslike basis. He will not try to use the power inherent in possession of this economic weapon to advance New Deal reforms or leftest ideology.

It was a deep fear as to Henry Wallace's intentions along these lines which led the Senate to refuse to confirm him as Secretary of Commerce until the lending powers were divorced from that department.

Snyder will not favor such New Deal interests as the Kaiser, Reynolds and Higgins over the Mellons, the Pews, U. S. Steel and established shipyards. He will leave to Congress or some other authority the question of who shall own what, especially in fields like magnesium and aluminum manufacture, where retention of all the war-built factories would result in a peacetime glut in some commodities.

BUSINESS: Snyder will not set up government-owned plants as "yardsticks" — as the TVA has been used in the realm of public utilities.

Despite the criticism which the sale of economically useless property at bargain prices may provoke from government-ownership advocates, he will not try to use his power to make Uncle Sam a competitor of private industry on a large scale.

The surplus prpperty situation at the moment is a complete mess. Almost a score of agencies are in charge of the job of liquidation. The SPB, headed by former Sen. Guy Gillette of Iowa, has been in office almost six months and has not yet promulgated a set of regulations. Gillette, although partially responsible for the delay, is so disgusted that he wants to resign. But RFC has jurisdiction over the sale of all capital investment, and its policies will have the greatest effect on American business and industry.

DISINTEGRATING: The Roosevelt-Farley-Hopkins official family, which was built up in Washington through 12 years of a heavily personalized form of government, is disintegrating faster and more completely than the public realizes. New faces and influences from Missouri are supplanting those of the Hyde Park hierarchy.

"Bob" Hannegan new controls both the national committee and the Postoffice, and Farley aides in the department are quitting. Another Missourian, Ed McKim, has become administrative assistant at the White House. FDR's secretariat has been disbanded save for "Bill" Hassett, who will probably continue as researcher and ghost writer, supplanting Dramatist Robert Sherwood. A distinguished St. Louis correspondent, Charles Ross, takes over the jobs held by "Steve" Early and Jonathan Daniels. Personal friends have become naval and military aides to the new Chief Executive.

John Snyder bosses the RFC, and "Al" Schindler of Missouri will be the real head of the Department of Commerce. Malcolm Kerlin and William H. McReynolds, career men in the Departments of Commerce and Treasury, respectively, have quit. Isidor Lubin, a Roosevelt favorite, has been ousted in favor of Ed Pauley, National committee treasurer, as American member of the Reparations commission. Former Sen. Bennett Clark is understood to be under consideration as head of Veterans administration, to succeed Maj. Gen. Frank T. Hines, a perennial holdover in that post.

Despite his pledge to advance his predecessor's general domestic and foreign program, Harry S. Truman means to be the big boss — and also to run for re-election in 1948.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

GENERAL Eisenhower's crackdown on certain subordinates for fraternizing with Goering and other Reichswehr top dogs, which enraged Americans everywhere, should end that dangerous business.

The Allied chief knows that the sudden anti-Nazi pose of enemy brass hats is but a trick to whitewash the Wehrmacht officer corps and leave it free to plot anew.

LEMAN

"German commanders are not to be trusted to keep their word today any more than they were after the last war," warns Brig. Gen. Horace Sewell, ace British military expert now in New York. "Even in the hour of defeat they are trying to build up the myth of the professional supremacy of the German army."

If we fall for the ruse or allow the idea of Prussian invincibility to permeate the gullible Reich, we — with our eyes wide open — will stumble into the same pit that was dug by Ludendorff and the Junkers after the last war.

A brief re-examination of the record will disclose how the Kaiser's crew bamboozled the world.

In 1920 France demanded the surrender of the crown prince, Marshal von Hindenburg and other high ranking officers, including the notorious General Stenger who was accused of ordering his men to massacre all prisoners of war — even the wounded. Other nations compiled lists.

Although in signing the Versailles Treaty the German government obligated itself to deliver the guilty, it broke its pledge and got away with it. Instead of submitting to tribunals of justice the Junkers preached that the army had never been overwhelmed; that it lost solely because the home front double-crossed it. Hitler repeated the lie again and again until all Germany believed it.

Berlin promised to maintain only a small army for policing purposes. In no time the generals secretly organized several training groups affiliated with the token force. The senior officers of today's beaten Reichswehr were taught modern tactics in von Seeckt's undercover outfit. Had the kaiser's marshals been brought to book in the '20s, the world might have been spared World War II.

"I don't count sheep when I have insomnia," said the Office Grouch this morning. "I count people. People bore me more than sheep do."

Russia Losing Good Will In U. S.

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — There has been a significant development touching Soviet Russia which is worthy of serious consideration, not only for ourselves, but for Russia—if she cares.

It is that Russia is losing good will here in government and in Congress among people who hitherto have been sympathetic. They have been guided by the conviction that the two great nations and war Allies must be partners in the postwar world.

This reaction expresses itself voluntarily, which makes it impressive. It is impressive, too, because it comes a middle ground, liberal and progressive stratum which, since the last war, has been separate from the anti-Russian group that never has changed, and from the Communist element that accepts everything Russian blindly, is constantly worshipful and has not changed either.

STOKES

This tolerant middle group is frankly disturbed by successive incidents — Poland and the refusal of the Soviet government to follow out her Yalta commitment by broadening the government there; the arrest of the 16 Poles which broke like a thunderclap over the San Francisco conference; her usurpation in Austria; her closing of the Balkans to outsiders; Tito's encroachment on Trieste. Russia's rough-and-tumble diplomacy at San Francisco also has been difficult to comprehend.

People Are Aroused

Some members of Congress who have been friendly toward Russia are getting mail from constituents demanding an explanation. They are hard put to it to explain.

They want to give Russia a break. They are grateful for her tremendous contribution to victory in Europe. They would like to see her make her contribution to the future peace hand-in-hand with us and Great Britain

At the present time she appears as a grabber, brusquely collecting smaller nations into her orbit.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT made a number of concessions, by no means minor, to get Russia into the San Francisco conference. These have complicated the San Francisco task.

The question is asked whether it is not time to call a halt before the policy develops into appeasement. This is the solution suggested here, now that other means have failed. Policy seems to be moving in that direction, and will be interesting to watch.

There is, of course, a basic difference in the concept of democracy as Great Britain and ourselves see it and as Russia sees it. An incident at San Francisco illustrates this.

Foreign Commissar Molotov explained at a press conference that he had urged that the right to work and the right to education be included in the preamble to the world security organization charter. He said he had not pressed it when there was some question raised.

That was not the full story. When he suggested this inclusion at a meeting, an American representative spoke up approvingly, but suggested also that there be included other rights—freedom of speech, freedom of press, freedom of assembly, freedom of religion. Mr. Molotov dropped his request.

Molotov On "Spot"

It was amusing when a newspaper correspondent, at the same press conference, inquired whether Mr. Molotov would have press conferences when he returned to Russia. He replied that these press conferences were only to explain the position of Russia there at San Francisco.

The Russians made it impossible, beyond these press conferences, to discover their viewpoint on developing issues, by the secrecy they threw constantly about themselves, and the suspicion of American newspaper reporters asking questions in the usual American way.

ONE of the most penetrating observations on Russian diplomacy came from a British newspaper correspondent.

"Russia asks for five things. She wants only one. But you don't know which one that is."

Somehow somebody must build a bridge of understanding by which Russia and ourselves can reach each other.

That is becoming most important.

Cubs And Dads To Go To Camp Post Sunday

Over a campfire Sunday morning more than 100 Cubs and their dads will prepare breakfast, preceding a hike church service in Box canyon at Camp Post. The camp will begin Saturday afternoon.

C. C. Schmidt, Cub commissioner and camp director will be in charge of the events with Cubs from all towns in the South Plains council planning to attend with the exception of Anton, Levelland, Littlefield, Sudan and Lubbock. These packs will attend the next camp May 26-27.

The first meal will be served Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock and a big campfire will follow. Troop 8 of Lubbock of which Frank Runkles is scoutmaster will participate in the campfire program.

ITALIANS HOSTILE

ROME, May 18. (AP)—The Italian press gave a hostile reception today to the reported statement by a French foreign office spokesman that France would seek an adjustment of her frontiers at the future peace conference.

Wealth of the Pharoah of Egypt, Rameses II, has been estimated at $10,000,000,000.

THANKS FARMERS
IN BEHALF of our boys in the armed forces, we wish to thank you for the way you responded to our plea for large clean grade A eggs. Because of your patriotic cooperation, we have been able to get their eggs to them much faster than could have been possible otherwise. We still have many more war department orders to fill, and the government is looking to you to help us meet our increased quotas.
If you haven't heard of the way that you can make more money, and still be helping our soldier boys, ask your neighbor, or we will give you the information. Your large clean grade A eggs are still desperately needed. Thanks again.

IRRIGATION FARM FOR SALE
CLOSE IN AND A BARGAIN
150 acres of fine land, located about 7½ miles out of Lubbock on pavement. A very fine irrigation well, fair improvements. This is a real investment. All mineral rights go. 68 acres produced 92 bales of cotton in 1944, and the feed crop was equally as good. The owner received over $3,000.00 in rents. Considering the distance from town, the possibilities of oil and the fine land, this is a bargain at $140.00 per acre. Mr. Investor, this is your chance to own a close-in farm.

DUPLEX BARGAIN
7-room duplex, in very fine state of repair. Well located for a home or income. The price is only $10,000.00. See us today.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, May 18 (AP)—Mill buying and commission house interest in the new months held the cotton futures market steady today. Gains of as much as 36 cents a bale were pared by profit taking towards the close with final prices 5 to 15 cents a bale higher. July, October and December made new seasonal highs on the early rally but volume was restricted pending clarification of the government cotton program next season.

Tightness in spot supplies and the late start of the new crop were the steadying influence. Mill buying of spot cotton during the past week was light. Shippers continued to buy most of the cotton selling in the southeast Atlanta reports stated.

Rain and cold weather have delayed planting in the northern section of the eastern belt and 25 to 40 per cent of the cotton there will have to be replanted, it was indicated. Except for southern areas, conditions were described as generally satisfactory in the centrel belt.

Cattle Ceilings Ordered Pegged

oration will increase the pork subsidy payment 40 cents per live hundredweight, retroactive to April 1, 1945.

4. Subsidy payments on all grades of cattle will be increased by the Defense Supplies corporation 25 cents per live hundredweight, effective June 4, 1945.

The new subsidy rates will be as follows:

Grade AA $3 per hundredweight; grade A $2.95; grade B $1.90, and all other grades $1.25.

5. Set-aside orders for government purchases of meat will be adjusted by the War Food administration so that a greater proportion of the government requirements will be drawn from those federally-inspected plants which are slaughtering more than their normal proportion of the total slaughter.

6. As a measure to combat black market operations, the OPA and WFA will "develop a plan by June 15 to show the movement of all livestock through public stockyards and public sales yards, so that information as to the destination of all such livestock will be available."

Feeder Subsidy

The feeder subsidy is expected to cost between $35,000,000 and $40,000,000 a year. It will be paid through local AAA farmer committees on the basis of feeders' sales receipts.

The new meat distribution program may involve increased government control over sales by individual packers and slaughterers. In order to remedy undue shortages in specific cities or individual stores, the government may direct packers to ship supplies to such shortage-affected outlets. At present, the government is exercising no control over sales of the civilian portion of a slaughterer's output.)

Vinson said the program was based on recommendations of the OPA and developed in discussions with representatives of the Office of Economic Stabilization, OPA, WFA, the Army, and the Defense Supplies corporation. Recommendations of Senate and House committees investigating the food situation also were carefully considered, he said.

Not Felt Immediately

"While the new program is expected to improve distribution and to make more meat available in areas of the country where relative shortages have been most pronounced," the Vinson announcement said, "it will take some time for the effects of the program to be felt.

"Consumers should not expect any immediate increase in retail meat supplies as a result of the program."

The price ceiling freeze for six months was made, the statement said, to assure cattle feeders protection against price changes and "should encourage the movement of cattle into feed lots."

Producers, particularly feeders, have complained that changes in ceilings and stabilization prices have left them unable to plan in advance so that they can hold cattle for proper finishing into good grade beef. Feeders also have complained that they are squeezed between prices of range cattle and what the packers can pay.

Pork Subsidy Payments

The 40 cents pork subsidy retroactive to April 1 will be paid only until completion of a more thorough accounting study, after which the payment will be adjusted — not retroactively — and provision will be included for reducing the subsidy as hog prices decline.

The total pork subsidy, effective as of April 1, will be $1.70 per live hundredweight as compared with the previous rate of $1.30.

The 25 cents subsidy on all grades of cattle effective June 4 will be subject to the withdrawal of four cents of the subsidy for each five cents decline in the average drove costs, from the maximum to the minimum of the stabilization range, with a minimum subsidy payment of 25 cents per hundred weight.

This is a packer subsidy, intended to enable the slaughterer to pay stabilization range prices for cattle and sell meat at ceiling prices.

For purposes of the subsidy, minimum prices below which the packer may not buy cattle if he wants the subsidy, and maximums beyond which he may not go, are fixed for the various grades of beef.

Under the new program, for instance, if a packer paid maximum stabilization price of $17.00 per hundredweight for AA beef at Chicago, he would get the full $3.00.

If he paid only $16.00 or $1 below the top, his subsidy would drop to $2.20, or 4 cents for every 5 cents under the stabilization top.

These subsidy rates are applicable to both processing and now processing slaughterers. Effective June 4 the additional subsidy for non processing slaughterers will be 40 cents per hundredweight. It is 80 cents now—a sum slaughterers who do not get extra revenue from by products have complained is already insufficient. The cut was expected to bring protests.

Vicious Dog Pack At Miami Put To Death

MIAMI, Fla., May 18. (AP) — A pack of 26 bull pit terriers, some just two months old, paid with their lives today for the fatal attack by nine of the dogs on Mrs. Doretta Zinke, 39, globe-trotting lecturer, here last Wednesday night.

Constable W. M. Hudson of Dade county said an examination of the stomachs of four of the terriers revealed the presence of "balls of human hair, unquestionably belonging to a woman."

Pieces of leather, identified as parts of a woman's shoe, were found in the stomachs of other dogs in the pack which set upon Mrs. Zinke and terribly mutilated her in a mass attack.

It was not necessary to get a court order to carry out the execution of the entire pack of dogs. Owner Joe Munn, 43, of Hialeah, who cried "Oh, my God!" when he saw what his terriers had done, willingly gave permission.

"They are a bad strain, they must be destroyed," he told police.

Munn remained in the county jail under $5,000 bond on a warrant charging manslaughter. An inquest has been set for Monday.

Okinawa Battle

Ryukyus area outside of the battle-torn southern front on Okinawa. Only other activity reported was the sinking of a small freighter south of Korea and damaging of two freighter-transports and an oiler by search planes of Fleet Airwing One.

Probably the most spectacular action yesterday on the southern Okinawa front was the one-hour grenade duel in which G company finally drove fanatically counterattacking Japanese off the crest of Conical hill, near the east coast. The company then captured the peak.

The 307th regiment of Maj. Gen. Andrew D. Bruce's 77th Infantry division captured a small hill three times but still was unable to hold it. The doughboys seized the hill, north of fortress Shuri, twice on Wednesday afternoon but each time were driven off.

Driven Off Again

Thursday morning they recaptured the ridge but once more were forced to retire under heavy artillery and enemy fire.

Units of Maj. Gen. Pedro A. Del Valle's First Marine division captured a Japanese command post on the crest of a small hill between Dakeshi and Wana town only after overcoming strong opposition from cave-hidden Japanese.

Associated Press correspondent Vern Haugland reported that Japanese in this command post were led by booted, white-gloved officers who apparently were celebrating an earlier Japanese victory in the bloody fighting for that eminence. The earlier attack cost the Marines two platoons decimated and two tanks crippled. Two hundred Japanese were killed in the action. Del Valle's Leathernecks had captured Wana town, northwest of Shuri, the day before.

Had Lost Hill Twice

Elaborating on yesterday's report that Shepherd's Sixth division Marines had captured Sugar Loaf hill, Nimitz today said they lost it twice to heavy counterattacks before finally retaining possession.

Associated Press correspondent Al Dopking reported the Marines had stormed the hill a total of nine times in seven days before capturing it.

Other elements of this division prepared for the costly task of clearing Nipponese sniped positions from the ruins of Naha's main area.

El Paso Street Cars, Buses Moving Again

EL PASO, May 18 (AP)—Street cars and buses resumed normal operation today in El Paso after a two-day work stoppage by 200 employees of the El Paso city lines.

Terms of an agreement reached shortly before midnight by the company and representatives of the local union of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach employes (AFL) were announced as follows:

Restoration by the company of sick leave and injury pay and war bond clauses which had been traded in an agreement last August for higher cash pay and for pay for 20-minutes daily for turn-in and report time.

Pay increases for shop employees from 5 to 10 cents an hour and pay for training students. Common labor receives the major share of the pay increase.

The other two were jabbing at me and I parried them off and clubbed one and knocked one down. I got a slash across my right hand. Then they both backed off down the hill and stayed there until dawn.

Limits To Be Set On Car Repair Charges

FORT WORTH, May 18 (AP) — The OPA moved to the rescue today of Texas motorists whose pre-war automobiles have reached the stage where major repairs are necessary.

F. A. Wilson, district OPA price specialist at Fort Worth, announced that limits are being placed on the number of hours of labor for which auto repair shops may charge their customers.

In all, 57 common repair jobs will be listed and a definite ceiling placed on labor charges which can be made.

Wilson said the time allowances will correspond with the flat rate manuals in use in 1942 but junked since by many shops in favor of a per-hour labor charge which varied with each mechanic.

Airline Permit

from Tulsa and Oklahoma City to El Paso, but not including Lubbock. On Dec. 12, Wichita Falls and Lubbock petitioned for a rehearing, which was conducted January 15 of this year. At that time, American and Continental restated their desire to serve Lubbock and Wichita Falls. Representatives of both cities said they would prefer to be served by American airlines because it is a transcontinental line.

The original application of Continental was for an extension from Hobbs, to Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Lawton, Oklahoma City, Shawnee and Tulsa. At Hobbs connection would be made with the Continental line operating to El Paso and at El Paso connections would be made with American airlines to the west coast. At Oklahoma City and Tulsa, connections are available with American airlines to the north and east and with Braniff to Chicago, and perhaps with others.

Essair Was First

The first of the three permits thus far issued to serve Lubbock was to Essair, Inc., which has been given use of the former municipal airport under temporary lease agreement signed Wednesday by the City commission and which expects to open service within a few weeks, making two flights through Lubbock daily on a Houston-Amarillo route by way of Austin, San Angelo, Abilene and Lubbock.

The second receiving a permit was Braniff, which received its permit last May 9 for a route from Dallas and Fort Worth by way of Lubbock to Amarillo, Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Denver.

He floated a loan — without difficulty.

Federal Pay Raise Bill Goes To House

WASHINGTON, May 18 (AP) — A federal pay raise bill estimated to give $487,800,000 more annually to nearly one and a half million white collar civil service workers went to the House today with Senate approval.

In place of the 15 per cent maximum increase provided under the Little Steel formula, the bill passed by the Senate yesterday calls for graduated boosts in salary averaging about 16 per cent.

The salary increase formula provides for a 20 per cent hike in salaries up to $1,200; 10 per cent additional compensation on earnings between $1,200 and $4,600, and 5 per cent higher on that portion of salaries in excess of $4,600.
