Menus for the Family

Breakfast—Cereal cooked with dates, thin cream, scrambled eggs with spinach, crisp braised steak, milk coffee. Luncheon—Baked chicken, bran bread, cornstarch prune pudding, milk tea.

Dinner—Chicken loaf, candied sweet potatoes, creamed onions, stuffed celery, vanilla ice cream with maple sauce, sponge cake, whole wheat rolls, milk coffee.

This time of year fowls are prone to be somewhat tough so to be on the safe side it's just as well to serve them some other way than "au naturel." This chicken loaf is delicious and very little work to prepare.

Clean and disjoint chicken. Cook in boiling water in tender but not falling from bones. When tender remove from broth and pick meat from bones. Carefully discard all skin and bits of gristle. Cut large pieces of meat large. Pull the bread into coarse crumbs into meat cubes not more than inch. Put a layer of crumbs into a well-buttered baking dish. Dot liberally with butter and cover with a layer of chicken. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and parsley. Continue layer for layer of crumbs and chicken until all is used, making the last layer of crumbs. Pour over chicken broth and bake 45 minutes in a hot oven.

HIGH SCHOOL R. O. T. C. WORK TO BE STRESSED AS OF BENEFIT TO SCHOLARSHIP OFFICIALS STATE

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 31. (AP)—Recommendation that military science and tactics officers in charge of Reserve Officers' Training Corps work in high schools and colleges stress the effects of military training as the biggest factor in raising scholarship, over any other activity in the school's curriculum, is made in a report to Major General Ernest Hinds, commander of the Eight Corps Area. The report is signed by 12 reserve officers from all five states of this corps area who were called to Fort Sam Houston recently to familiarize themselves with the headquarters organization and to make suggestions for the development of the Reserve Project. It is recommended also that the girls' sponsor system, based on scholarship superiority for each of the cadet corps units, be inaugurated in all the R. O. T. C. units and that each of the latter also be sponsored by some civic club.

Recognizing the existence of "dead-wood" in the Reserve Corps, the officers believe a revival of interest should be stimulated in every way possible. "We suggest a check of all officers of the Organized Reserves in this corps area as to their activities since being commissioned." Nevertheless, they do not feel that the process of elimination of inactive members should be considered. Vacancies should not govern appointments or their promotions, in the officers' opinion, and they expressed their sentiments on this question as follows: "The goal of the Organized Reserves is the selection of qualified persons who are ready to meet any emergency. If appointments are closed, many desirable applicants will be lost because the incentive to hold a Reserve commission will disappear if they must wait for the vacancy to occur. If promotions likewise are restricted, the industrious will be discouraged. So long as an officer realizes that he will be promoted if qualified, he will increase the efficiency of the Reserve Corps."

Another Attack Scheduled KANSAS CITY, Mar. 31. (AP)—A breathing spell came to the Southwest today, winter bound by a March storm since Monday, but it was only the lull before another attack scheduled to usher in April with snow and cold. Hit hard by the heavy snowfall, the greatest of the passing winter in most sections, the Southwest was glad of the opportunity to dig out today and possibly tomorrow before standing fast for the second offensive of a dry winter. Already the pressure area that resulted in the passing storm is gathering for the next drive, the weather bureau here reported, and with the snow or rain that it will bring will be even lower temperatures, due to the snow covered earth. The newly cloudy weather and slightly warmer temperatures due tomorrow will be only an April fool joke, it was said at the weather bureau, for the second phase of winter's final offensive will strike Friday.

Relief Promised Oklahoma OKLAHOMA CITY, Mar. 31. (AP)—Held in the icy grip of winter for three days, relief was promised Oklahoma today by the weather bureau. Fair, with rising temperature, was the forecaster's verdict—and it was the most welcome weather prediction of the year. The immediate task facing the state is to dig itself out of the worst snow storm of the 1925-26 season. All sections were covered by the downfall yesterday, ranging from twelve inches in the extreme Northwest to a fraction of an inch in the East. Dirt roads were made impassable and two railroads were reported snowbound—one on the Rock Island near Lubbock in Garfield county and the other the Midland Valley near Fowler in Ogea county. Snow drifted so badly in railroads running East and West in the North half of the state that snow plows will have to be used in several counties before traffic can be resumed.

Around The Lot In Major Leagues Training Camps In South And West

(By Associated Press.)
King Winter momentarily holds the attention of diamond fans both in the North and South but the frosty whistled ruler has not routed the knights of optimism in the baseball training camps.

Exactly sixteen teams comprise the two major leagues, and most of them are going to win league champion pennants this year, judging from the managerial admissions which have been circulated since the spring training period began. The bright prospects are qualified, however, with "if" and in the end there will be only one pennant won in each league.

Managers Satisfied.
But the athletes are reaching satisfaction and both trainers and managers are about ready to exhibit the results of their work before their home city fans.

Joe McCarthy, pilot of the Chicago Cubs, who are training in California, at last has given his general opinion of the club. "Pick 'em as cellar champions and get badly fooled," he said. With that the Bruin boss explained that his players were young, that they were just reaching the desired condition and that they would show the league a thing or two about hitting. After an idle day, the Cubs will play the Los Angeles outfit today.

In Birmingham, Ala., where it was too wet yesterday for another Brooklyn-New York Yankee battle, Manager Huggins of the Yanks let it be known he is pleased with the defensive work of his infield.

Cards Very Ambitious.
Hornaby, manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, is leading a club filled almost to overflowing with ambition this year. The Cards, who will practice at Dallas today, and tomorrow, promise big things. Unsettled weather made the Cardinal-Chicago White Sox game impossible yesterday and the Sox returned to Shreveport to study port-side slugging, their weakness.

Philadelphia's nationals deserted precedent yesterday by winning the first victory of their training season, downing Buffalo, Harper, a holdout, is to join the Phillies this week. Two other games were played yesterday, the New York Giants outwitting and outscoring the Washington Senators at Tampa, and the Philadelphia Athletics losing to the Baltimore Orioles. The Athletics started home today.

Boston Teams Held Idle.
The weather governed the two Boston teams yesterday, the Red Sox idling while the sky dripped at Mobile and the Braves being hampered in practice at St. Petersburg because of wet grounds. Coach Rudolph of the Braves declares he never saw major leaguers in better condition, itsburgh lrares may miss their exhibition games at Wichita, Kans., today and tomorrow, the grounds being covered with snow.

The Cleveland Indians are going to devote a day or two to studying inside baseball when they land at New Orleans, Manager Speaker believing elimination of the lively ball calls for a display of the finer points of the game.

The Reds of Cincinnati land in aim Bach today to play an interclub game in which Donohue and Mays will go the full route. George Sisler sent his St. Louis Browns through a stiff workout at Tarpon Springs yesterday but took out enough time to state his team is coming in good shape.

Cobb tried a new one, asking for volunteers to practice at Augusta, Ga. Despite the steadily falling rain every Detroit Tiger dashed forth, maintaining the club's perfect training record.

TRAILING THE BIG LEAGUERS

Brooklyn Dodgers Face Problem Of Plugging Holes At Third and Short

BY BILLY EVANS
An unsettled infield condition was troubling Manager Wilbert Robinson when I gave his Brooklyn club the once over.

He was hopeful that it would be straightened out before the opening of the season.

As a matter of fact, a conference with Jack Dunn was on the fire relative to the purchase of Shortstop Boley, of the Baltimore Orioles.

Boley, according to the scouts, has been big league timber for six years but Dunn, realizing his value, always made the salary big enough to satisfy Boley and make him content with his minor league berth.

If able to land Boley, it is planned to use him at short, shifting Rabbit Maranville to second. Maranville prefers second. That would make a good combination around the keystone sack.

Milton Stock, who was doing his annual holiday stuff, will, of course, be seen at third if salary matters are cleared up before the season opens.

PITCHING IS O. K.
Manager Robinson believes an infield made up of Stock, Boley, Maranville and Fournier would make his club a first division possibility.

"My pitching is more than satisfactory," says Robbie in discussing his club. "It compares favorably with any other staff in the National League."

The outfield, made up of Wheat, Witt and Cox, will hold its own and the catching is competent.

"The status of the club, therefore, goes right back to the infield situation. If it is a mere makeshift affair, then we are due for a stormy season. If able to bring it up to the major league standard, the Dodgers will make trouble."

"The pitching should carry the club over a lot of handicaps, provided our defense is at all adequate."

It was apparent that Manager Robinson is decidedly worried over the infield situation and will be need be. No club can hope to get anywhere without a tight infield.

The veteran Maranville is playing a bang-up game at short. He would rather play second, however, and Robinson would prefer having him cover the keystone sack.

HAS PATTING PUNCH
A youngster by the name of Standart was being used at second. He comes from Springfield in the Eastern League. Playing out of position and lacking experience, it is far too much to ask him to hold up his end of the infield problem.

The Dodgers look like a real ball club everywhere except in the infield. However, with good pitching and plenty of batting punch can be thrown to the winds if the infield fails to properly function.

Plugging up holes at short and third is Robinson's problem. The acquisition of Boley from Baltimore and the signing of Stock would relieve the situation.

Unless these things happen there is hardly a chance for the Dodgers to land in the first division, despite the fact that the club is otherwise very capable.

Foreign Tracks Take Many German Horses
BERLIN, Mar. 31. (AP)—While preparations for a big horse racing season are under way, turf fans find that foreign stables have taken away many promising German thoroughbreds.

Economic depression has forced owners to trim the size of their stables. At the recent Hoppe garden auction in Berlin, Frigga, a promising three-year-old, brought only $25. More than 100 horses changed hands at the sale. The top price paid was $40.

Baseball Enjoys Great Season at Honolulu
HONOLULU, Mar. 31. (AP)—Baseball is having its most successful season in Honolulu. More than 100 teams are contesting here in about two dozen leagues in which more than 2,000 players are enrolled. Many nationalities are represented including Portuguese, Hawaiian, Japanese, Chinese, Porto Rican, Filipino and Korean.

MANY SPORT KINGS OF TODAY OVER 30 YEARS OLD

NEW YORK, Mar. 31. (AP)—Most of the champions in sports today are beyond the age of thirty, William T. Tilden has asserted, and a study of the records gives substantial backing to the national tennis king's view.

It reveals that many of the top-notchers in athletics are closer to the forty mark, with age and experience more than holding its own against the challenges of youthful ambition.

College sports and golf were excepted by Tilden but while champions in the former sphere of activity average around twenty, the facts on the royal and ancient game show age again largely triumphant.

Bobby Jones, the amateur golf king, is in his early twenties, but Willie MacFarlane, Walter Hagen, Jim Barnes and Mac Smith, holders of most of the open or professional crowns, average well beyond thirty.

Tilden himself gained the national tennis title six years ago but at thirty-two now he still rules the roost and is likely to be a favorite to hold his crown in spite of increasingly formidable challenges.

Helen Wills, who lifted the tennis championship at nineteen and Glenna Collett, young champion among women golfers, are exceptions to the general rule but Mrs. Molla Mallory in tennis, Mrs. Dorothy Hard in golf and Miss Mary K. Browne, star in both sports, are able representatives of the older group of feminine stars.

Baseball's luminaries resist the onslaughts of time perhaps to a greater extent than any other pastime. Rogers Hornsby, champion batter of the National League, will not be thirty until April, but such stars as Cobb, speaker, Collins, Johnson, Wheat, Carey, Heilmann, Ruth and Coveleskie all are beyond thirty, most of them closer to forty. At forty-three, Speaker is still among the game's greatest batsmen.

Washington has won the American League pennant for the last two years with a club whose members averaged over the thirty mark altogether.

In boxing, Jack Dempsey is thirty and Harry Greb, middleweight champion until his recent defeat at the hands of Tiger Flowers, is thirty-one. Rock Kansas won the lightweight title at thirty.

Most of the track and field champions are comparatively youths, because of the emphasis provided by college competition, but there are many exceptions. Most of the distance runners improve with age. Timmeos of Finland was close to forty when he won the Olympic marathon. Matt McGrath and Pat McDonald, also around forty, have been at the top in weightlifting events for many years. McGrath has been on four Olympic teams.

NEW YORK—Broadway's opinion of "Ashes" is the same as Washington's and London's. It is through here and Lady Cathcart says she knows it is bad, because she has had little experience in play writing and any-how it was written too much. LOS ANGELES—Lland L. ## VON TUNGLN, FORMER OKLAHOMA U. STAR, NAMED SUCCESSOR TO DAVIS AS ATHLETIC DIRECTOR LUBBOCK HI

L. J. Von Tungen, who during this term of school has been instructor in the Central Ward building, will be successor to J. Davis, athletic director of the Lubbock high school, the latter of whom resigned recently to accept a position with a local construction firm. It was announced late Tuesday by Supt. M. H. Duncan, of the school system.

Von Tungen came to Lubbock from Oklahoma, where he has been connected with high school athletics since the war. He taught at Quapaw, Oklahoma last year, and is recognized as one of the most efficient coaches and referees in the southwest. He gained an enviable reputation for himself here this year by officiating in both high school and college basketball.

Starred At Oklahoma U.
He attended college at Oklahoma University, and was regular fullback on the Sooner State grid crew that beat out the Texas University Longhorns in 1916. The previous year he played guard on the "Flash" squad. During his college career he was looked upon by able critics as the hardest hitting backfield man ever produced at Oklahoma U., and played against the hard Kansas Jayhawkers with two or three broken ribs and his entire upper body a solid bandage.

At Quapaw he introduced football in the high school, and first year won three out of seven games. The following year he produced a team that lost only one contest out of ten, and this was lost by a field goal in the last two minutes of play by a count of 10 to 7.

In 1924 he sent his eager team to the finals in the invitation tournament of the Northeast State Teachers College, being champion in his district.

Coached Navy Team
In 1917 he answered the call of his country, joining the navy, where his athletic ability was immediately recognized and he was placed in charge of the football team at Goat Island, off San Francisco, a naval training school, but here he was dogged by hard luck, for flu hit the camp about the time his team was rounding into shape, and the entire camp was quarantined for several weeks.

He is also recognized as a good baseball man, and will assume charge of the high school team at once. He has called the boys into session this afternoon for a general understanding between himself and the boys as to habits and conduct on and off the field, and will engage in a little skull practice. Tomorrow, he will put the boys through the regular field drill if weather permits. In baseball he will continue to have the able assistance of Skipper Sled Allen.

No better man could have been secured to take over the athletic hopefuls of Lubbock high. In the opinion of many of Von's friends here, who have seen him in action and have followed his performances throughout his career. He is about 27 or 28 years old, of medium build, but his physique is extremely attractive. In addition to his duties on the athletic field, he will be among the regular instructors in the high school, and will assume his new faculty position about April 10.

Wisconsin's Sport Program Aided By Natural Sources

MADISON, Wis., Mar. 31. (AP)—Taking advantage of the gifts with which Madison has been endowed by Nature, the University of Wisconsin is developing a diversified program of intramural athletics.

The Wisconsin campus extends to the shores of Lake Mendota, which with three other lakes, provides opportunity for both summer and winter activities.

Darkness has been overcome through the use of arc lights to illuminate the football field and hockey rinks. Wisconsin had 450 men playing football last year. Touch football, differing from the orthodox style only in that blocking and tackling are prohibited, proved a great conditioner for all the men.

When the regular football season was in full swing, there were fourteen fraternity teams in action at Wisconsin, in addition to the varsity and freshmen football squads.

The institution has two hockey rinks, under arc lights, and many others for use during the day. Spirited rivalry exists among the fraternities for the school championship.

Skating is another winter sport which has proven popular, and both skating and skating has been made a part of the athletic instruction. Baseball, track, tennis, and cross country are most popular in the summer time.

Ruth Not Included In Heavy Stick Swingers

NEW YORK, Mar. 31. (AP)—Four players share the distinction of swinging the heaviest bats in the major leagues. Babe Ruth, king of sluggers, is not one of them—as a matter of fact, his budgeon is four ounces lighter than the forty-six ounce clubs wielded by Eddie Roush of the Cincinnati Reds, Ken Williams of the St. Louis Browns, Hank Severed of the Washington Senators and Frank Snyder of the New York Giants.

This quartet has succeeded to the place once occupied by Hack Miller, who had the reputation of being the strongest man in baseball, while a member of the Chicago Cubs. Miller toted a wagon-tongue weighing fifty ounces.

Jacques Fournier and George Kelly, first baseman of the Dodgers and Giants, swing forty ounce sticks, but the bat of Rogers Hornsby, champion hitter of the National League and successor to Ruth last year as home run king, weighs only thirty-six ounces.

THE NEXT WAR

Japan builds a bombing plane that is no larger than a freight car to transport it from the factory to the flying field. However, we must remember that the Japanese freight car is probably modeled on the well known '40 and 5' of France.

When we are told that the new plane mounts five machine guns and has room for one and a half tons of explosive and bombs, we are entitled to sit up and take notice. It is built entirely of metal.

There are those in this country and in other countries who see the next war as a contest for control of the Pacific, with Japan and the United States in the leading roles. These observers are not necessarily jingoists; there is a possibility of war between the two countries in the not distant future.

In any event, Uncle Sam cannot afford to neglect the development of the airplane as a weapon of war. He should at least be on a par with Japan in the matter of airplanes. We are told that Uncle Sam is behind Japan in that respect and it is a condition that should not be allowed to exist.

The next war will be a spectacular affair, with airplanes, poison gas and other modern destructive agencies occupying the center of the stage. As always, men will carry the chief burden and give all the blood and treasure.

A WISE MOVE

Authorities at Princeton university have requested fathers of students not to allow their sons to have automobiles while at the university. The use of autos by students, it is charged, harms the student's moral, physical and intellectual well being.

Naturally, many of the student's protested. Yet the university authorities are exactly right. No youth of college age ought to have an automobile for his own use, much less if he is supposedly getting an education.

There are too many irresponsible young "wise guys" driving cars for the good of the country. Princeton is acting wisely.

HOW TO STOP CITY GROWTH

Wichita Falls finds it has outgrown its municipal clothes, and must begin preparations to vote new bond issues. Half a million dollars for public school purposes is one of the proposals.

It is either build the municipal plant up to take care of the growth, or stop growing. No progressive Texas city would deliberately refuse to grow, yet it is a comparatively simple process to stop growth. All that is necessary is to fall or refuse to provide facilities, such as water supply, paved streets, adequate school buildings and other needs.

The city that makes no effort to keep abreast of its own growth won't have to worry long about the consequences. Growth will stop when it reaches a certain point just beyond the water supply and other facilities. Then it will recede.

Al Smith's impassioned plea for lower taxes and economy sounds more like a campaign speech than an annual message, but, perhaps, he figures he can use it again—Buffalo Express.

THESE WOMEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
After supper at a night club with a beautiful girl called NONA, who is jealous of his friendship with other women, HARRY MORTON, middle-aged, rich, attractive, returns to his city apartment, to find his adopted daughter, AUDREY, awaiting him at two in the morning. She says she wishes she were not wealthy, so she could enjoy more of his company.

Morton looked at the number, on the little slip of paper, and frowned. "Something carrying you, daddy?" asked Audrey.

"What went wrong?" Morton wanted to know. The detective bit reflectively at the end of a cigar. "I haven't even gotten started," he said. "It appears this fellow of yours showed up at your home, about the time you were in my office. He went up to the back door and banged on it. Your hired girl saw him, and I guess she recognized him. Andrew, she telephoned to the police, and an officer went around and arrested him. They've got him in a cell here now."

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

SENATOR NYE INTENDS TO GET ACTION ON SOME SERIOUS MATTERS

By CHARLES P. STEWART NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON. — Seriousness is United States Senator Gerald P. Nye's most obvious characteristic, at first glance.

A baby senator—he's a year or two older than "Young Bob" La Follette, but any senator of considerably under 35 belongs in the baby class—and a relative of the late Bill Nye to boot, it wouldn't be unusual to expect to find a bit of frolicsomeness in his makeup.

There doesn't appear to be any of it there. There's no pomposity, either, but the senator distinctly lent of the mirthful type.

Nye is a young man who thinks for himself. You don't talk to him long before getting that idea of him, too.

He doesn't appear to be a senator for the mere sake of being a senator, like some. He's a senator because there are things he wants to accomplish and he can accomplish them best, if at all, in Congress—the senate or the lower house.

They're serious things and he has them on his mind, which doubtless is why he's serious himself.

As everybody will recall, there was a fight in the Senate over the question of seating Nye. He came from North Dakota as a republican appointee of Governor Sorlie, to sit until next November's election, in place of the late Senator Ladd, who died in office. He came, mind, as a republican. Senator Neely, a democrat, led the fight to seat him. Senator Goff, a republican, led the fight to keep him out.

It just goes to show what little the old party labels, "Republican" and "Democrat," mean these times.

That is why intellectual prodigies are often so disappointing.

Texas Farmers Make Remarkable Record Even In Times Of Stress In Paying Loans Against Places

HOUSTON, Tex., Mar. 31. (AP)—Texas farmers have made a most remarkable record in paying their interest and the smallest amortization payments to the Houston Federal Farm Loan Bank, even in times of stress. E. B. Reid of Washington, D. C., representative of the 12 Federal Land Banks, told the Associated Press. This had been accomplished, he said, even though the Houston bank had passed through several trying years.

"I doubt if there ever was a banking system devised that could match the results of the local national farm loan associations of Texas in promptly repaying to the Houston bank," he said. "Of course that is what the law requires, but when the number of persons borrowing is so great their prompt payment is a testimonial to the integrity of the farmers as well as to their business ability." The last annual statement of the Houston bank shows that only one-twentieth of one per cent of the annual installments were delinquent.

Saving On Loans

Moreover, he said, Texas farmers who have borrowed at the Houston bank through the 359 local national farm loan associations are saving more than $100 a year on the average compared with the rates which used to prevail and the average of the rates charged in Texas at the time the 1910 census was taken.

"Not only have they made that saving," Mr. Reid said, "but on the stock they hold, which sells at par, they have been paid a total of 73 1/2 per cent in dividends in the last eight years."

One of the principal reasons, he said, for the good record of both the Texas borrowers and the consequent good showing of the Houston bank lies in the fact that the farmer is not required to renew his mortgage every three to five years, as under the old system, and in addition pay a high interest rate, commission and bonus. The interest rate is the lowest charged in Texas, 3 1/2 per cent, and, except in are elected by the more than 1,200 members, so you see it is a democratic organization, squarely in the hands of the publishers themselves.

"There is no charge for the report of The Associated Press to be published, and the reason for this is plain: More than 120 members, each with status of sharp-eyed editors, faithfully are watching the report for errors and possible misstatements, and when they appear their main office hours of the day, without delay, corrections are made immediately."

"It is exciting to the vast amount of news there is expended more than seven million dollars annually."

"Finally the news of The Associated Press is solely for publication in the papers whose owners meet the great test of production. When you make time to pay for news, there is a five-cent charge for each copy of news you will receive; glad to give it to you, but to receive our output, a subscription is made, however. ### TAXES ON AGRICULTURAL LAND IN STATE RAISED 120 PER CENT SINCE 1924; PRICES ON PRODUCTS NOT EQUAL

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Mar. 31. (AP)—Taxes on agricultural land in Texas have increased 120 per cent since 1924.

The tax on rural land in 108 counties increased from $6,000,000 in 1924 to over $13,000,000 in 1925.

"No corresponding increase in the price of farm products has occurred," the study shows. The rural tax burden has become almost unbearable.

These facts are revealed in a pamphlet on rural taxation written by F. A. Buechel and just published at Texas A. and M. college. The pamphlet is one of a series by the same author written to aid the formulation of policies for improvement of the tax system of the state.

In 1923 the state took 35 per cent of the farmer's tax dollar, the county slightly more than 24 per cent and the district slightly more than 28 per cent. In 1924 these three governmental divisions divided the farmer's tax dollar as follows: State 33.7 per cent, county 42 per cent, district 24.3 per cent. This shows that the state tax has increased while the county and district tax has decreased in the period studied.

The upward swing of taxes did not pinch the farmer between 1914 and 1919 because the increase was accompanied by a corresponding rise in the purchasing power of the farmer's products, but since 1919 the taxation has continued to rise while the purchasing power has fallen.

"The decline in the price of farm products was especially noteworthy in the case of animal products and cereals, including rice," said the pamphlet. "In the sections of the state where these products constitute the main source of income the rural tax burden has become almost unbearable."

"The situation has been less serious in the cotton, wool and mohair districts of the state, since the purchasing power of these products has more nearly kept pace with the rise in taxes."

The cause of much of the high taxation, according to Professor Buechel, is "a high overhead expense in the form of high local bonded indebtedness on the one hand and a tremendous contraction of farm receipts on the other."

A boom in agricultural prices shortly after the opening of the World War forced rural districts to assume obligations requiring many years for the liquidation and imposing a considerable immediate addition to the farmer's tax burden, the author explains.

"Under this heavy tax spirit, he goes on, many enterprises, such as school and rural high schools and irrigation and drainage projects were undertaken largely on the basis of borrowed money. These enterprises, he said, were undertaken on the assumption that with prices would rise for many years. Coupled with this situation, he states, are certain inequities in the general property tax distribution.

Professor Buechel warns that while the Texas farmer must pay more than double the tax he paid in 1914, this does not mean that the cost of maintaining state, county and local government has doubled.

"The increase in public expenditure," he said, "has been almost completely accounted for by a consideration of two facts: first, the higher price level which prevails for all materials, labor, and services for which the tax dollar is expended. The general price level of all goods is 50 per cent greater now than it was in 1914. Secondly, the various political jurisdictions have during and since the war undertaken far more ambitious programs of public improvements than in pre-war times."

everywhere. A severe drought hits a section, there is too much rainfall, and when the crop, the soil, the water, the sun, the wind, the frost, the hail, the insects, the diseases, the farmer would hardly get on his feet again before the mortgage fell due under the old conditions.

Interest Charge Small

With a Federal Land Bank loan on his farm, the farmer or ranchman can meet the low rate of interest and continue to pay on the farm without the fear of foreclosure, because the charge is so small that he can pay it, even during years of adverse conditions. In other words, it takes the hills and valleys out of the mortgage payments and funds the indebtedness over a series of years. Nobody has ever expected the railroads to pay for their fixed capital out of the annual earnings of a few years; yet, before the advent of these banks, it was the idea that agriculture could do it from returns of the farm.

"One of the aids to borrowers not given by other agencies is the recent agreement to accept title insurance so that the borrower does not have to spend a large sum having the title searched over a long period. An abstract covering the last eleven years prior to the date of application, or, if the borrower has possessed the land longer than eleven years, back to the time he had received title, is accepted on each $100 borrowed, and a deduction from the amount of the loan is made to cover the small charge."

"Since a good many loans are made in Texas, as elsewhere, for relatively small amounts, it is the goal to the bank of making out the papers, inspection, etc., in one day so that the farmer will pay for some years to offset this cost, the bank is required by law to carry all mortgages at least five years. However, when a farm carrying one of these long term mortgages, a good every day is afforded for the owner to transfer the mortgage, together with his stock to the association, to the bank with the minimum of trouble and expense."

ASSOCIATED PRESS HISTORY GIVEN OVER RADIO

DALLAS, Mar. 30. (AP)—The story of how the world's news is delivered to more than 6,000,000 readers of newspapers of 1,200 cities through the medium of The Associated Press was told Monday night in a radio address by Ray Baumgardner, correspondent of The Associated Press in Dallas. The talk was given from station WFAA. The Dallas News holds one of a series telling the history of the Associated Press and how it works.

The address follows:

"When The Associated Press developed from the first national cooperative effort of news gathering, publishers everywhere spoke of it as a great achievement, indeed one of the great forward steps in the history of our country. It was the first step in that long path of the states of our being and gave to America the privilege of having the first through equipped machine with which to exchange the happenings of this big part of world neighbors."

Open Roadway Across Country

"It really was more than a mere agreement of a large number of business enterprises to work for a common purpose, for instance as a string of stores. It opened a roadway across the country for one thing, which as Thomas A. Edison said, gave our government an artery of the utmost value in times of stress. This was proved during the big war when the great newspaper's bent all their efforts that we might do our part in the most important of all conflicts."

"As said previously, the publishers who made up The Associated Press early determined that news should be news at its source, for can you think of anything more destructive to the welfare of our country than that its citizens should have published before them in their daily newspapers false news about politics, religion, business and social life? It would create the greatest chaos and work an eternal wrong, especially among the unthinking, the man and woman whose only book is the newspaper."

"Members of The Associated Press might be Protestant or Catholic, they might be Jew or Gentile, Spanish or Japanese, English or French, it made no difference so long as they were in agreement upon the general purpose of handling news from a purely news standpoint. Each publisher could have his own editorial opinions and air them, but the general news source was not to be polluted."

"The report of The Associated Press goes to newspapers over telephone, sometimes on circuits with as many as six towns in a group; on coast wires, manned by the association's own telegraph operators; or by wireless or cable, if the papers lie beyond the states in the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippines, Alaska, Mexico, Central or South America."

Radio Occasionally Used

"At times when storms have wrecked the wires the radio has been used. The radio also is used to get the news from parts of the world not touched by wires."

"There are upwards of 1,200 members of The Associated Press and they are served in this country through 100,000 miles of leased wires that touch every state and almost every important city in the United States. There are 115 different sectional circuits. At strategic points along the lines of these circuits are numerous bureaus, 75 in number, that serve the direct needs of the papers in their territories and collect news both of state interest and that of value throughout the country."

"Briefly, there are 1,800 salaried operators and editors employed in collecting, editing and dispatching the daily budget which has totalled as high as 120,000 words each 24 hours. The foreign news included in that volume is developed by 100 men, mostly trained in the United States, who are located at the various capitals and important cities of other countries. In addition exchange relations exist with 33 foreign news agencies."

Is Democratic Organization

"The heart of the organization consists of 15 publishers of newspapers, coming from various parts of the country, so it is a representative body. They

MERCHANTS SEEK TO AID FARMER IN PROGRAM

DALLAS, Mar. 29. (AP)—Dry goods and farming are to be linked at the seventh annual convention of the Texas Retail Druggists' association here, April 12-14.

One of the principal topics of the convention will be methods by which the dry-goods merchants can aid the farmer in diversified farming, according to the announcement published by F. E. Morris, secretary, the association desires to assist the farmer, "not by telling him how to farm, but by aiding him to see the necessity for putting the same business methods into his farming that the business man puts into his business."

"To make it easier on the farmer, the merchant, the jobber, and the banker," said the announcement, "the farmer must be shown that planting just one crop he has but one customer. If the crop fails, he falls, and if the customer is not in the market for that crop, he falls again."

"A program of diversification is to be advocated and assisted in every manner possible to the end that the farmer will at least feed himself, his family and his livestock."

"Colonel Clarence Ousley, director of the Texas Safe Farming association has been obtained to address the retailer on how to get the correct message to the farmer. Colonel Ousley, who is a former assistant secretary of agriculture in the Wilson cabinet, former director of the agricultural extension department of Texas A. and M. college, and is head both of the Texas and the Southwide safe farming movement, knows every farm in the South."

"The business men and bankers of Texas, realizing that the business structure is built on the foundation of agricultural interests, have combined to carry on an intensive campaign to bring a valuable message and assistance to the Texas farmer."

Another feature of the program will be an address by Mrs. L. W. Prince of Boston, an authority on education for store service. Six short talks on "How to Spend Your Advertising Dollars" will be given by advertising

WALL STREET TRADING

NEW YORK, Mar. 31. (AP)—Strong buying support was provided at the opening of today's stock market and prices bounded upward in all sections of the list. General Electric and Coca Cola quickly advanced over four points and initial gains of two points or more were recorded by New York Central, General Alpha, General Motors and United Drug. There were a few remaining soft spots, Atchafalaya and Southern Railway showing initial losses of about a point.

Trading continued at a terrific pace during the first half hour, quotations in some of the active issues running in strings ranging from 2,000 to nearly twelve thousand shares. Among the score or so issues to register early gains of four to nearly six points were Mack Trucks, Bear-ROBuck, Woodworth, R. H. Macy, Hudson Motors, Dupont, Allied Chemical and General Petroleum. General Motors and White each extended their initial gains to three points and American Smelting and U. S. Steel common sold over two points higher. #### RALLY SENDS PRICES UP

NEW YORK, Mar. 31. (AP)—A sensational rally in prices took place on the New York Stock Exchange today when the execution of an enormous volume of buying orders sent popular industrial shares 2 to 5 points, and rails 1 to nearly 4 points. Giant blocks of stocks changed hands as bear traders, who had been hammering the market for a month, scrambled to cover their commitments.

PRICE FIGHT RENEWED

NEW YORK, Mar. 31. (AP)—The force of the storm which has swept over the stock market for several days and sent prices crashing to new low levels for the year, subsided temporarily today, only to be followed by a renewed onslaught against the rail-way equipment shares which left Wall Street still nervous and apprehensive. After a sharp rally in all classes of stocks in the early trading liquidation of the equipments began to pour out in heavy volume around noon. American Locomotive and Baldwin plunged down about six points each and American Car and Foundry, Westinghouse Air Brake, General Railway Signal, Pullman and Lima Locomotive one to three 1/2 points to all new low levels for the year.

Cotton Markets

NEW YORK TRADING

NEW YORK, Mar. 31. (AP)—The cotton market opened barely steady at a decline of 7 to 11 points under continued realising which made its appearance after the advance to the 18 cent level for October contracts yesterday.

The proximity of the three day adjournment from the close tomorrow until next Monday morning, probably increased the disposition to make sure of existing profits and there may have been some selling for a reaction on the disappointing Liverpool cables and forecast for clearing weather in the Southwest. May declined to 18 1/2c and October to 17 1/2c, active months generally showing net losses of about 15 to 18 points at the end of the first hour. The weekly report of the weather bureau said very little additional cotton planting had been possible during the week, but apparently read less favorably than expected.

The decline extended to 18 1/2c for May and 17 1/2c for October during the forenoon, net losses of about 20 to 25 points. The volume of offerings subsided at these figures, however, and while prices were within a point or two of the lowest the market was quiet at midday.

The early afternoon market was comparatively narrow. At two o'clock May was selling around 18 1/2c and October 17 1/2c or 18 1/2c points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS TRADING

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 31. (AP)—The cotton market opened easy partly on realizing induced by better weather in the Western portion of the belt and the desire to liquidate in advance of the Easter holidays. First trades showed losses of 2 to 3 points and later prices eased further to 18 1/2c for May, 17 1/2c for July and 17 1/2c for October, or 15 to 18 points below yesterday's close. The weekly weather report was considered bullish near the end of the first half hour after the first pressure of selling had subsided. The market quiet during most of the day and prices gradually eased off on realizing and some short selling due to the better weather in the West. May traded down to 18 1/2c; July to 17 1/2c and October to 17 1/2c or 20 to 25 points under the close of yesterday. Sentiment appeared to be bearish although selling was held in check by map indications of probably more unsettled weather later in the week. Near noon prices were a shade lower but a few points up from the lows.

The market fluctuated nervously during the afternoon and after making no shows at 18 1/2c for May and 17 1/2c for October, or 21 to 22 points below the previous close, rallied six to seven points on moderate short covering. The slight recovery brought out fresh selling and prices eased off again.

CHICAGO TRADING

CHICAGO, Mar. 31. (AP)—Stimulated by pronounced strength in wheat at Liverpool and in New York stock market quotations, wheat scored a quick early advance here today. Corn and oats sympathized with wheat. After opening 1/2 to 3/4c higher, May 41 to 41 1/2c, corn continued up grade.

ROTARIANS GIVEN KEYNOTE OF ENDEAVOR

Forgetting for a brief hour the trials and tribulations of the business world and giving thought to the spirit of religion and to the days of long ago members of the Lubbock Rotary club met in regular luncheon session today with Dr. John C. Granbery, head of the department of history at Texas Technological college, in charge of the program.

Rev. Milo B. Atkinson, of Wichita Falls, who is conducting revival services here in conjunction with Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor of the Christian church; and Rev. H. W. Burwell, D. D., of Dallas, who is aiding Rev. Jack M. Lewis in similar services at the First Presbyterian church, made a few remarks each. Both men presented the use of religion in every day life and brought to them thoughts of the power which underlies all human endeavor.

With Prof. William Richard Wagborne, head of the department of music at the Tech college, at the piano Edward Shelton, baritone, gave three vocal selections. They were "When You and I Were Young, Maggie"; "When I'm With You," and "The Little Gray Home in the West." Mr. Shelton and Prof. Wagborne were loudly applauded.

COTTON BELT HEAD FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

OPPOSES RAIL EXTENSION

BEAUMONT, Mar. 31. (P)—In its effort to squelch the proposed Waco, Beaumont, Trinity and Sabine, the Kansas City Southern called in an allied road this morning, placing on the stand Daniel Uphergrove, president of the Cotton Belt, and once, according to Colonel Duff, friendly to the new project. In the Interstate Commerce Commission hearing under way here, the Cotton Belt executive testified against the sought-for extension from Weldon to Waco, stating that in his opinion it would be an un-sound improvement.

On "cross-examination by Colonel Duff, president of the W. B. T. & S. Uphergrove was asked to recall conversations he had with Duff prior to the purchase of the Cotton Belt by the Kansas City Southern. It appears the Cotton Belt then was friendly to the proposed Duff line as it would represent a feeder to its own system.

"Since passing under the control of the Kansas City Southern, however, this friendliness has disappeared. In support of the Kansas City Southern which seeks not only to block the Southern extension as proposed from Beaumont to Port Arthur, but to kill the road outright, Uphergrove testified that in his opinion the existing Duff line reaching Livingston, Colmesneil and Weldon, "should be abandoned."

He gave as his reason that the present line is being operated at a loss. "Isn't it true that the Cotton Belt has a line operated at a loss?" Uphergrove was asked.

"Yes."

"Do you believe the Cotton Belt should be abandoned?"

"No, I can't say that I do. We have sound financial backing and can weather the storm."

The Cotton Belt executive plainly indicated that were the Duff line continued as proposed it would not receive the support of his line. It is believed the Kansas City Southern will also call upon the Katy system for support in the hearing. The Katy passed into control of the Kansas City Southern along with the Cotton Belt and like that line also had been friendly toward the W. B. T. & S., according to Colonel Duff.

Quit Playing Santa Claus, Senator Pleads

WASHINGTON, Mar. 31. (P)—The time has come for America to "abdicate the part of Santa Claus to Europe" Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, told the Senate today in opposing ratification of the Italian debt settlement.

Every debt agreement recommended thus far by the American debt commission, he said, provides for cancellation of the principal. In addition to cancelling the principal of $2,150,000,000 owed to Italy he contended that agreement imposes on the American people an annual deficit in interest of $67,047,000, representing the difference between the 1.1 percent to be paid by Italy and 4.25 percent rate authorized by Congress, and paid on Liberty bonds.

ARGUMENTS OVER HIS ISSUANCE OF PERMITS STARTS

Others are waiting to be shown just how pleasant it is to take in beverage quantities.

Despite the opinion of James E. Jones, director of prohibition, that there are no state laws that would prohibit sale of the "health booster," a number of state law officers in the West and South especially, share the skepticism expressed by Andrew J. Volstead, father of the federal prohibition act, and now legal adviser in the district enforcement offices at St. Paul, Minn.

Frank Nash, Assistant Attorney General of North Carolina, went further than most of the state officials asserting that the "sale of medicinal beer," so far as North Carolina is concerned, is illegal, and new drug store underwriters to sell it will be violating the state law. A less definite attitude but one of watchful waiting, was taken by the law officers of Washington, Oregon, and Oklahoma, while wholesale druggists in Utah and Colorado want ruling from their state attorneys general before making any commitments, and those in Wisconsin have sought the opinion of the state prohibition director.

Some druggists, at least, are not enthusiastic over the action of Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury in permitting manufacture and sale of the malt tonic. In the opinion of Theodore D. Watterstrom, secretary of the Ohio Pharmaceutical association, it will threaten the professional standing of stores dispensing it and their healthful regulations governing the sale of tonics generally.

The views of prohibition advocates differ, but most of them appear to be against the order. Dr. E. J. Moore, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, expressed the opinion that the sale of a malt tonic would not violate the spirit or letter of the Volstead law. The opinion of Dr. H. H. Hamaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, is that "you might as well open up the corner saloon," and predicted that "this will mark the end of Andrews."

The brewers granted permits to manufacture and sell the new tonic, and are going ahead with their plans, although August A. Busch, president of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Company, Inc., of St. Louis, said his concern would not be ready to distribute it until June 1. Mr. Busch described it as a "non-intoxicating beverage," since "it contains 25 percent of malt solids and this tends to make it unpalatable, in large quantities."

MARCH REFUTES WEATHER ADAGE

them, turning over oil derricks and tearing down telegraph wires in its path. At Liberty, Jack Kelly and A. Brown, all filed workers were killed; at Crosby, Mrs. Agnes Slavovick was crushed to death, and at Beaumont, Mary Lee Bourden, a negro, was killed.

The wind hit with most severity along a hundred mile strip between Sealy and Beaumont. Nine oil well derricks were wrecked at Orange, bringing the total of demolished derricks from storms in the month to 147. Property damage at Beaumont was estimated at $500,000 and at Houston $250,000.

Four Killed in Wisconsin
Four persons were killed near Itasca, Wis., when the driver of an automobile, blinded by a snow storm, ran into a train; four met death in Chicago street accidents; casualties at Detroit numbered two during a sleet storm, and a plantation overseer at St. Francisville, La., died of injuries when his home was demolished.

About forty persons were injured in Chicago when two elevated trains collided after one had slowed down because of the storm and a number of other persons were injured in other parts of the storm territory.

Oklahoma Train Snowbound
A passenger train was snowbound at Foraker, Okla., necessitating the sending of two relief trains.

Air mail service throughout the middle-West was suspended. The heavy snowfall broke March records in many localities. At some points in Texas, the fall was ten inches, with the mark at Kansas City nearly a foot.

Agriculturists interpreted the storm both as favorable and unfavorable. Winter wheat was benefited, but with wide areas covered with snow there was protest of a small spring wheat acreage.

Mother of Mrs. J. J. Adams Dies Tuesday

Mrs. M. J. Parrish, mother of Mrs. J. J. Adams, of Lubbock, died at the home of her son, Jack Parrish, near Abernathy at noon Tuesday following a stroke of apoplexy at 1:00 o'clock Tuesday morning. Funeral services probably will be held at the Abernathy Methodist Church tomorrow afternoon and burial will be in the Lubbock cemetery. Definite arrangements are pending word from her children.

Mrs. Parrish was 77 years of age at the time of her death. She had been in fairly good health until the time of the stroke and she did not regain consciousness between that time and her death.

She is survived by the following sons and daughters: Tom Parrish, of Ralls; Perle Parrish, Ralls; Mrs. E. P. Earhart, Filmore, Calif.; Jack Parrish, Abernathy; Charlie Parrish, of near Trinidad, Colo.; Mrs. Ward Crim, Monroe; Mrs. L. Shipman, Abernathy, and Mrs. J. J. Adams, Lubbock.

REVIVALS HOLDING INTEREST OF PUBLIC

The revival meetings at the four churches is now well into the second week, and continues with increasing interest at each service. The pastors have been greatly encouraged at the splendid attendance during the most disagreeable weather the South Plains has experienced in years.

There was a large attendance last night and today at the ten o'clock services. Each of the four churches are being greatly strengthened by the soul stirring sermons of the men who are doing the preaching. Dr. Milo Atkinson is leading the forces at the First Christian church. At the First Methodist church, the presiding elder of the Lubbock district, Dr. D. H. Donk is preaching great sermons. The pastor, K. I. Ingram is doing his own preaching at the Cumberland Presbyterian church and his people have discovered that he has marked evangelistic ability. The First Presbyterian church is being stirred by the helpful and spiritual messages of Dr. H. M. Durwell.

These meetings will continue during the present week, closing next Sunday night. On Friday morning at ten o'clock the four churches will unite in a Union service at the First Methodist church. Dr. Milo Atkinson will be the speaker at that service. It is expected that there will be hundreds of attendees. This will afford a great fellowship for the members and friends of the different churches. Many members have already been added to the churches and it is probable that the Easter Sunday services scores of persons will be received into fellowship at each of the four churches.

The general public was used a great welcome at any and all these services.

SPECIALIST HERE FOR CAMPAIGN OF LOCAL FIRM

F. N. Gore, an electric range expert of New Britain, Conn., representing Launders, Fry and Clark, manufacturers of the famous Universal line of electric appliances arrived in Lubbock last Monday with Miss Young, economist, and will personally supervise the electric range campaign that has just been inaugurated by the Texas Utilities company, local representative for Universal products.

Mr. Gore is very enthusiastic over the prospects in Lubbock pointing to the combination of heating, lighting and cooking that makes it possible for all homes to have electric ranges and appliances at a very low cost whereas in many towns in Texas the rate is high, practically making electric ranges prohibitive for the ordinary family due to the cost of operation.

In speaking of the increased use of electric appliances, Mr. Gore stated that the electric range has passed the stage when it was considered a luxury, since the installation of the range gives the consumer the benefit of the combination where all appliances such as lighting, cooking and ironing measured through the same meter give the home a cost of operation within the reach of almost every family.

He took special occasion to bring out the point that the busy man seldom gives a passing thought to the average office and store having every modern appliance for convenience and comfort, but that the man of the house seldom thinks of giving the housewife labor and time saving devices that will eliminate in a large measure the drudgery of housework.

Mr. Gore paid high tribute to the Texas Utilities Company, saying that Lubbock should be indeed proud of such a company, which in addition to having large investments here and being one of the heaviest tax payers in the part of the state, is one of the most progressive firms operating in the Southwest.

He urged that every housewife of the city attend the demonstrations that are being held each afternoon at the office of the company at 16th and Ave K.

ROSCOE WILSON AND DR. I. E. BARR WILL NOT MAKE TRIP TO CAPITAL ON FEDERAL COURT FOR LUBBOCK

Roscoe Wilson and Dr. I. E. Barr, committee from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, working for the location of a federal court at Lubbock, have decided not to make the trip to Washington, D. C., at this time as they were instructed by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce recently, following receipt of a letter from Congressman Marvin Jones who introduced the bill creating the new division of the district, according to Roscoe Wilson.

Following numbers of telegrams and letters from prominent Lubbock, Lubbock county and South Plains men, Jones has been making a strong fight for the passage of the bill at Washington and Wilson and Barr were instructed to make a trip to Washington to assist him in the fight. A letter recently received from Jones however, advised that little can be done at this time, Wilson said Tuesday, and the committee has decided not to make the trip at this time.

An extract from Jones' letter follows:

"It is not simply a matter of going down to the department of Justice and having them make a favorable recommendation. As a matter of fact, the administration, speaking through the floor leader, Mr. Tilson has stated on the floor of the House that no additional legislation, no matter how meritorious, calling for added appropriations, will be passed at this session. He was speaking for the administration and for the budget committee. Before making a recommendation the department submit the matter to the director of the budget, and in order to have any chance there must be no friction. "I am doing and shall do everything I can to secure a favorable report, but it is not so simple a matter as some seem to think."

ANTON SEES GOOD WHEAT CROP, HE STATES HERE

The snows and rains which have recently visited this section of the country are to be of great aid to what is expected to be a bumper wheat crop, J. Fred Anton, superintendent of this division of the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway, said today while transacting business in Lubbock.

According to Mr. Anton the wheat crop throughout his division looks every bit as promising at this time as it did in 1924 when 6,000 carloads of wheat were shipped out of the territory. Conditions for other good crops are equally promising, Mr. Anton said.

The superintendent, who makes his home in Elston, had nothing to say, however, in regard to rail expansion. Conditions at Washington are such that no one can shed very much light on what will be done or what is being done in regard to more rail service in this part of Texas, he indicated.

Building Temporarily Halted By Cold Wave

The cold weather, according to the figures on the city building permit book, has put a temporary stop in construction activities in Lubbock. With the exception of a permit granted Monday to D. E. Meredith for the moving of a home, no construction grants have been made by the city since March 23rd, when J. H. Everhart was given the right to erect a $4,000 home in Overton addition.

With the return of warmer weather, however, construction people in Lubbock forecast a return of activities and the 1926 building boom is expected to be continued. A total of $271,525 in building permits has been issued for this city since the first of this year, city officials said.
