Day at Belmont Addition

House at the new Belmont addition, in the part of town, will be set Saturday and Sunday, October 28 and 29, it has been announced. The 14 new homes will be open for public inspection these two days.

These were built by the North Plains Builders and Developers, with H. E. Borger heading up the project. Dean McCutcheon is the agent for the homes.

The homes are situated on a 140 foot lot, and they have two and three bedroom homes, come with complete kitchen and bathroom, side porches, shrubbery and lawns.

The homes will be furnished with open house, with North Plains Furniture Co. having the furniture.

New Leads Burglaries
Two Farms

Ray Phagan said that no new leads had been found in the two burglaries in Ochiltree county farm last week and Friday.

Wooster home, about northwest of Perryton, was broken into Thursday afternoon between 2 and 5 p.m. while the family was out. The family was taken, also money and jewelry.

Yates reported that he had his home, about south of Perryton, some time in the afternoon while he was in town. He reported a loss of $80, and had been left in a dresser had been stolen, also a western suit, a No. 3, Page 8

Shoot a Gun

Lad Wants a Ranch Job

The "big Boss" of "any Texas" have a job for a 6-year-old Irish lad who shoot a gun?

Heard received a letter from young Peter Bingham, Newcastle, Down, Northern Ireland, about employment.

He was simply addressed to the Boss, Any Ranch in Texas and found its way to the postmaster Irvin Hergert.

Peter says: "Dear Boss, Have you any room in the ranch. Would there be enough room in it for me. My name is Peter Holmes. I am 6 years old. I can shoot a gun.

Love, Peter"

As far as we can find out, there isn't much demand for a 6-year-old cowpoke around the local ranches, even an Irishman who can shoot a gun. Maybe Peter will have to wait a few more years.

Five-State Trap
Shoot Planned
Here November 6

Trap shooters from a five-state area will be guests of the Wolf Creek Sportsman's Club November 6 at a registered shoot at the local trap range at the county fair grounds, Dean Blank of the local club has announced.

The day's program will include 100 16-yard targets and 100 handicap targets at 17 to 25 yards.

The 5-State League trophy will be awarded the handicap winner. Scores will be registered with the national Amateur Trapshooters Association.

Represented in the 5-State League are Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Texas.

Luncheon will be served by the Wolf Creek Sportsman's Club at the trap range. The complete program and arrangements for the shoot will be announced this week, Blank said.

Voting Places
For Election
Are Announced

Voting places will be maintained at all precincts except one in the November 8 constitutional amendment election, county judge Dave Shanks has announced.

The voting place that will not be open is precinct 7, at Black, where it was impossible to find anyone to hold the election, Judge Shanks stated. Voters from the Black precinct will cast their ballots at the McMillen school, in precinct 6.

Other voting places, and presiding judges are: Court house, R. H. Daley; Huntoon, Bernard Hurter; Alfalfa, T. Parnell; Ridge, Ralph Hale; Taz, Travis Flowers; McMillen, Fred Tarbox; Farnsworth, Herman Hargrove; Waka, H. N. Elledge; Perryton school, J. S. Slaughter.

ACA Nominating Committees Are

Basketball Meet
Set November 2

A meeting of all team managers of the NPAA Basketball League will be held on Wednesday, November 2, in the Cactus Recreation Hall, J. W. Standifer, league chairman, has announced.

Lindsay McWilliams and Irvin Hergert of the Perryton team plan to attend.

New league officers will be elected, a discussion of rules changes will be held, and the league schedule will be drawn up at this meeting.

The league season will start January 2 this year.

Fire Nearly Destroys Nance
Home Wednesday Afternoon

Fire nearly destroyed the five room home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nance, 514 S. Colgate shortly after 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The flames gutted the frame structure before being brought under control by the Perryton firemen.

Mrs. Nance stated that no one was home at the time the fire broke out and cause of the blaze has not been determined.

'Pent House Jail' Is A Big Mystery To Us

Many local residents were amused by a story in the Amarillo News which came out Tuesday describing the jail fire which happened Sunday. The Amarillo story had the fire taking place in the "jail block on the top floor of the court house."

Needless to say, there is no jail block in the court house, the local hoosegow being located two blocks north. The News-Globe is building for their new home. We hope they accomplish this venture as easily as they added this "pent house" to our Ochiltree county court house.

Juniors, B Team
To Play Today

The junior high school football team will go to Phillips Thursday afternoon to meet the Phillips juniors in a return engagement at 1:30 p. m.

Phillips plastered the Perryton juniors, 54-6, in their previous meeting.

The B team will go to Dumas Thursday afternoon to meet the Dumas B team at 2:30 p. m. The B team has played only one game this year, losing to Hereford B team last week by a 19-0 score.

Third Annual Lions Club Halloween Carnival
To be Held Monday Night at County Barn

The third annual Halloween Carnival of the Perryton Lions Club is all set to open Monday night at 7 o'clock in the county warehouse, with carnival attractions and entertainment for all ages. There will be at least 18 different games and contests, with plenty of merchandise prizes.

All proceeds from the carnival will be given to the Veterans Memorial Building Fund. The Lions voted unanimously at their Tuesday luncheon to give the money made this year to the new building.

There will be weight guessing, bingo, penny pitching, horse races, bottle and ball games, cigarette pitch, paddle wheel, fortune telling, ball rolling, toy car, bowling, a shooting gallery, dart board, duck dip, glass pitch, a witch, and other attractions.

Designed primarily for the entertainment of the youngsters, adults have enjoyed the carnivals as much as the younger set, and this year's event is aimed at entertaining all ages.

Lion committees have secured all the prizes, the booths are being built, and everything will be set up for the opening Halloween night. Everyone is invited to attend.

The city council has designated 6th avenue, from S. Eton street to Main, a through avenue, with right-of-way over the streets crossing it. Stop signs have been placed at intersections along this avenue. Sixth avenue was paved two years ago to give another east-west route to the business district from the west residential area, and has taken much of the traffic off 5th avenue since that time.

Pioneer Resident Dies Saturday at Missouri Home

J. A. "Uncle Jake" Seitz, a pioneer resident of Ochiltree county, died Saturday night, October 22, at his home in Buffalo, Missouri.

He would have been 98 years of age on November 26.

Mr. Seitz was one of the first settlers in the county, living for a number of years on his Wolf Creek ranch. When Ochiltree county was organized and the first officials chosen in February, 1889, he was elected county commissioner for two more terms, in 1897-98 and 1901-02.

He left the county many years ago, before Perryton was founded and made his home in Missouri. Attending the funeral services from Perryton were Mr. and Mrs. George Seitz and A. L. Dutcher.

The Rangers entertain the Dumas Demons Friday night at Ranger Field in the second conference game for both teams, and both teams will be seeking their first conference win.

This game will be practically a toss-up, with the Demons given the edge in pre-game predictions because of their 34-12 victory over Spearman game is the only one Dumas has won, the Rangers have been unable to win a game, a 6-6 tie with Spearman being the closest they've come to winning.

Canyon trimmed the Demons last week, 27-13, although Dumas was ahead at half time. Perryton lost their first conference encounter by a 32-0 score to Hereford.

The game should be a hard one. Dumas has been pointing to this game with the Rangers in an effort to win a conference game, something they haven't done in over two years, when they beat the Dalhart Wolves, 19-0, in October, 1947. The Rangers, determined not to be entirely blanked this season, will be after their first victory. No Ranger team has ever gone through a season without winning at least one game.

Perryton was hard put to eke out a 19-0 victory last year at Dumas.

The Rangers will be in good physical shape for the game, and regular guard Dean Maberry will get into action this week after a month's layoff with a bad knee.

McGibbon Co.
Purchased by Collingsworth

Announcement was made this week of the purchase of the McGibbon Motor Company by Tip Top Collingsworth, former sales manager of that firm, according to Glen McGibbon, owner.

The Dodge Plymouth agency shop and upholstery section are included in the business transaction, Collingsworth reported. McGibbon said that the Phillips 66 wholesale and service station adjoining the motor company were not in the deal and would continue to be operated by himself. He has asked permission to change the oil company name to McGibbon Oil Company.

All personnel of the McGibbon Motor company are staying with the new firm.

The first freeze of the fall moved into the Plains area this week, right on schedule. The temperature dropped down to 30 degrees Tuesday morning and there was a heavy frost. The temperature rose Wednesday. Temperatures at freezing or below were reported at several Panhandle points Tuesday.

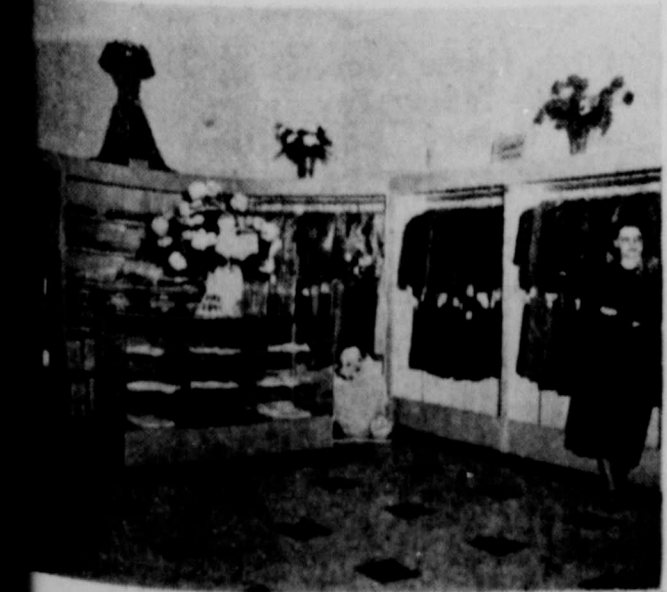

Everybody, including the firemen, had to wait a few minutes until state highway patrolmen Jack Shields and Bob Loving arrived with the keys to the jail.

Inside were H. E. Collins and Ralph Northrup, both of Canadian, in the large cell of the jail, both unconscious from the smoke. In the small cell at the northeast corner of the jail was Junior Walton of Perryton, also unconscious. He was the most seriously injured of the three.

All three men were removed and taken to the Sanford Hospital. Walton suffered head injuries, apparently when he fell against the steel bars of the cell.

The fire was in the mattress in Walton's cell. A pile of charred paper was piled on top of the mattress, which was smoldering.

Blacksmith Went Drilling Instead of Fishing And the Nation's Oil Industry Was Born

This is the story of the fish that didn't get caught and of the beginning of an era of progress. This is the story of how the oil industry was born ninety years ago.

According to the best records of the petroleum industry, a blacksmith and well driller by the name of "Uncle Billy" Smith had planned to go fishing with his sons on a Sunday in August, 1859.

But that morning they found oil when they made a cursory examination of a well they had drilled to a depth of 69 and a half feet. That discovery cancelled Sunday's fishing expedition and marked the beginning of the petroleum industry.

This week, "Oil Progress Week" in communities all over the country, oil men are re-telling the story of how "Uncle Billy" brought in America's, and the world's first oil well.

They tell how it was the dereliction of some other well drillers that placed "Uncle Billy" in the pages of history. Or, they explain, maybe those other well drillers just had no confidence in the idea that petroleum could be found by drilling a well like those which they drilled for salt.

A retired railway conductor, Col. Edwin L. Drake, had been commissioned in 1858 by the Seneca Oil Company to drill a well for oil at Titusville, Pa., near where oil often appeared on the surface of streams and pools of water. Never before had anyone proposed that oil existed in such fashion underground that it could be found and brought to the surface by drilling a well.

When Colonel Drake arrived in Pennsylvania, he decided that he should hire some of the local experts who were drilling salt wells. A crew of three that he employed never showed up. Their dereliction was the chance that made "Uncle Billy" famous.

When his drillers didn't report for work, Colonel Drake borrowed a horse and headed for Pittsburgh and Tarentum, Pa., to talk to William A. Smith, a blacksmith whose reputation as a well driller was highly spoken of by salt well people.

The Colonel hired "Uncle Billy" on the spot, but was greatly chagrined when the driller insisted that he could not come to Titusville before the late spring of 1859. He had too many jobs already lined up in and around Tarentum, he told the Colonel.

Smith arrived as scheduled on April 9, 1859. Drilling started in May. Work progressed slowly. The drill was down only a few feet when quicksand was struck. They drilled through the sand readily, but when the drill was withdrawn, the sand filled the hole. It was Edwin Drake who came up with the solution. He suggested they push down a heavy pipe through the quicksand until rock was struck. Then they could remove the sand from the pipe and continue drilling operations through the pipe.

This held up drilling until financial arrangements for the pipe could be made. The pipe arrived in August, 1859, and they quickly drove it through the sand to the rock below.

On that historic August 27, 1859, the cursory inspection had revealed, just a few feet below the surface was the black, magic liquid: petroleum.

A new industry had been born and a new era in man's progress begun. "Uncle Billy" cancelled his plans to go fishing that day with his sons James and Samuel who had drill the well.

The ninety years since that first well was drilled are significantly the ninety years of the greatest progress in America. Along with the discovery of oil fields and the subsequent development of new uses for oil products have come the machine age, the automotive age, the flying age, the communications age and many modern marvels unknown to us less than ninety years ago.

BALKO News

Miss Geraldine Pugh

Funeral services for Henry Law of Liberal, Kansas, were scheduled to be held at the Balko Baptist church Wednesday.

Weekly Swing of Southwest Farm Markets

(USDA)—Most southwest farm products brought steady to higher prices during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Cattle receipts increased sharply last week over the week before. Texas sheep receipts increased, but other markets fell off. Hog numbers declined a little.

Cattle were steady to strong at Fort Worth, Denver and Chicago.

and some classes gained at other markets. However, heifers, calves, and feeders showed some weakness at Kansas City. Calves lost $1 to $2 at Houston and San Antonio, and cows fell 50 cents at Houston. Canner and cutter cows ranged from $11 to $13.50 at South Texas markets, $10 to $13 at Oklahoma City, and $10 to $14 at Fort Worth.

Hog prices had their ups and downs during the week but closed Monday little changed from a week earlier, except for slightly lower pig prices in Texas. Top butchers brought $18.50 at San Antonio, $18.25 at Fort Worth, and $18 in Oklahoma.

Wholesale dressed meat prices at New York were unchanged Monday from a week earlier on cow beef, veal and mutton, $1 to $2 higher on steer beef, steady to $1 higher on lamb, and steady to $2 lower on pork.

Eggs and poultry remained in good demand at about steady prices. Current egg receipts sold mainly from 43 to 53 cents a dozen in Arkansas, 43 to 49 in Colorado, 53 to 55 in Louisiana, and 45 to 53 in Texas. Turkey marketing remained very light.

Yellow corn lost 7 cents a bushel during the week, and sorghums gained 7 cents a hundred pounds. Wheat and white corn advanced a cent or two, as oats and barley saw little change. No. 2 white corn closed Monday at $1.51 1/2 to $1.55 1/2 in bulk carlots at Texas common points. No. 2 yellow milo brought $2.20 to $2.25.

OIL PROGRESS WEEK

"HOW ARE THINGS IN THE OIL BUSINESS?"

—Mister, let me tell you . . .

"You and I know that America has always been a nation on wheels. But the number of vehicles operating in the U. S. today is sort of staggering! There are now some 40 million cars, trucks and busses—and this year they will eat up an estimated 30 billion gallons of gasoline.

"With 250,000 service stations covering this country from coast to coast, the competition for this business—your business—is some thing terrific. And you benefit—because it pays off for you in higher standards of service, helps bring you better and more efficient oil products.

"Yes, Mister, outfits like our are out to beat everybody and his brother in winning and holding your trade. We'll pull out all the stops in keeping your car serviced and rolling smoothly. That's plain good business for us.

"We're just one of the thousands of individual companies that make up the oil business. The same spirit of rivalry that makes us tick is working for you in every branch of the industry—refining, production, transportation, research and marketing. Competition produces more oil products—better service for you and your family.

"This is Oil Progress Week. But the way we figure, Oil Progress Week is every week of the year."

The Rangers entertain the Dumas Demons Friday night at Ranger Field in the second conference game for both teams, and both teams will be seeking their first conference win.

This game will be practically a toss-up, with the Demons given the edge in pre-game predictions because of their 34-12 victory over Spearman this year. While this Spearman game is the only one Dumas has won, the Rangers have been unable to win a game, a 6-6 tie with Spearman being the closest they've come to winning.

Canyon trimmed the Demons last week, 27-13, although Dumas was ahead at half time. Perryton lost their first conference encounter by a 32-0 score to Hereford.

The game should be a hard one. Dumas has been pointing to this game with the Rangers in an effort to win a conference game, something they haven't done in over two years, when they beat the Dalhart Wolves, 19-0, in October, 1947. The Rangers, determined not to be entirely blanked this season, will be after their first victory. No Ranger team has ever gone through a season without winning at least one game.

Perryton was hard put to eke out a 19-0 victory last year at Dumas.

The Rangers will be in good physical shape for the game, and regular guard Dean Maberry will get into action this week after a month's layoff with a bad knee.

John King, troubled last week with intestinal flu, has missed. See No. 2, Page 8

McGibbon Co. Purchased by Collingsworth

Announcement was made this week of the purchase of the McGibbon Motor Company by Tip Top Collingsworth, former sales manager of that firm, according to Glen McGibbon, owner.

The Dodge-Plymouth agency shop and upholstery section are included in the business transaction, Collingsworth reported.

McGibbon said that the Phillips 66 wholesale and service station adjoining the motor company were not in the deal and would continue to be operated by himself. He has asked permission to change the oil company name to McGibbon Oil Company.

All personnel of the McGibbon Motor company are staying with the new firm.

They are: C. N. Britton, shop foreman, George McClendon, Leonard Rifenberg and A. D. Arthur, mechanics; Cleve Hudson. See No. 1, Page 8

Three Men In Hospital After Fire at Jail

Three men were overcome by smoke in a fire at the county jail Sunday night, and one of them is in a serious condition. The fire was discovered around 7 o'clock Sunday evening by Bob Smith, who lives across the street from the jail. He turned in the fire alarm and soon a large crowd was gathered around the metal fence surrounding the jail.

Everybody, including the firemen, had to wait a few minutes until state highway patrolmen Jack Shields and Bob Loving arrived with the keys to the jail.

Inside were H. E. Collins and Ralph Northup, both of Canadian, in the large cell of the jail, both unconscious from the smoke. In the small cell at the northeast corner of the jail was Junior Walton of Perryton, also unconscious. He was the most seriously injured of the three.

All three men were removed and taken to the Sanford Hospital. Walton suffered head injuries, apparently when he fell against the steel bars of the cell.

The fire was in the mattress in Walton's cell. A pile of charred paper was piled on top of the mattress, which was smoldering. See No. 5, Page 8

IT'S IN THE FAT: HE LOSES WEIGHT BUT GETS BIGGER

FAT BILL WETZEL photographed by friend John Wheatley, his personal photog.

By Robert A. Barnes
Newsfeatures

CLAYTON, N. M. — Bill Wetzel says he's the world's fattest man, and there's plenty of weight behind his argument. His belt — if he wore one — would be longer than most men are tall. And he hasn't been able to bend over and put on his own shoes for 13 years.

He's 6 feet 8 inches around the waist and 5 feet 8½ inches tall. And his weight? Just 627 pounds at last count.

A few years back Bill had hopes of topping the 700-pound mark. In 1941 he tipped the scales at 675. For seven years he didn't weigh. Last year he found to his surprise — and disappointment — that he had lost 48 pounds, although he was bigger than ever. He decided some muscle turned to fat, which weighs less.

During World War I the Army drafted Bill but discharged him after 17 days for obesity. He claims a note is attached to his honorable discharge which calls him "too large for a man, too small for a horse." He just weighed 280 then.

Bill doesn't claim to be the heaviest man in the world — just the fattest. But he ridicules some of the tales making the rounds on how much he eats. Half a pound of bacon? Three loaves of bread at a sitting? A pound of lard for dessert?

IT TAKES FIVE GIRLS to year the pants in 627-pound Bill Wetzel's home.

Horse Is Breezing With Breathing Aid

By DICK ANDERSON

Newsfeatures
HENDERSON, Ky. — Ballwee is a 3-year-old gelding short on wind but long on courage.

The Balladier-Willowee thoroughbred races with a silver plated brass trachea tube in his throat. And he's hard to beat on the track.

After two operations to improve his wind, Trainer Harry Richards of Lexington, Ky., obtained the tube from Ireland, his former home. The operation involved the removal of two or three cartilages in the horses windpipe for the insertion of the tube.

The gadget fits through an opening in the windpipe. It is like a T-joint in a plumbing fixture. The T portion of the pipe extends up and down in the windpipe with the base of the T coming through the opening in the neck where it is fitted with a round metal plate. The plate has a shutter that can be closed when the horse isn't exercising or racing.

To date Ballwee has raced four times and shows one victory, a second and a third. His only time out of the money was at Riverdowns near Cincinnati.

"Preposterous!" he complains. He says he usually eats about three-fourths of a loaf of bread a day. In his younger days—he's 56 now — he ate more than a loaf a day.

Anxious to support himself, he has recently overcome his dislike of being stared at and appeared at several public functions billed as "The World's Fat-test Man."

Bill is the oldest of nine children still living of an original 16. Three brothers top 200 pounds, as does his mother. An aunt weighs more than 400 pounds.

It takes a lot of sleep to keep Bill going. He gets eight to 12 hours at night and a nap in the afternoon.

Herman Meadows, Pood Herndon, Lawrence Good, Horace Smith and Lewis Emerick attended the Dalhart-Phillips football game last Friday night.

Follett-Booker Tilt Friday Is 6-Man Game of the Week

Follett's Panther Field will be the scene of the six-man battle of the week Friday afternoon when the red hot rivalry between Booker and Follett is aired. Other six-man pairings for the week are Gruver and Morse and Miami and Sunray.

To complete their conference schedule with a perfect record and a district championship, Coach Don Ward's six has only to defeat Morse, district 1 cellar team, Friday afternoon.

On paper, Booker has an advantage over Follett in Friday's game despite the fact that Follett has won two in four starts and Booker has won only one out of four. Both clubs lost to Gruver with Follett on the short end of a 54 to 14 score and Booker losing to the tune of 38 to 28. Against Darrouzett, Follett lost 30-0 and Booker lost 38-8.

Miami should take the field with a definite advantage over Sunray in their game Friday afternoon at Sunray.

New Hearing Device Has No Receiver Button in Ear

CHICAGO, Ill.—Deaf people are hailing a new device which gives them clear hearing without making them wear a receiver button in the ear. Now they enjoy songs, sermons, and companionship and are feeling that people are at any button hanging in the ear. With the new Phantomoid you may be self not only from deafness, but even from the deafness. The makers of the Phantomoid, 401-SL, 1435 West 34th St., Chicago 8, Ill., are glad to send you their literature (in plain wrapper) to show you how you can be cured of your own deafness without a penny. Write them.

SOLVING THE FOOD PROBLEM—A pony on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Muse, Mesquite, found the feeding problem gone when he made a deal with Linda, a Toggenburg milk goat. The pony's mother was sold soon after he was born. Mrs. Muse, shown petting the pony, says both the goat and pony, three and one-half-month old Choctaw, are satisfied. The pony eats a little hay and oats but still is nursed by Linda. (UPI Photo)

WHY YOU SHOULD VOTE

NO

— NOVEMBER 8 —

ON the Constitutional Amendment Raising Pay of Legislators to $3600 per Year

The election on November 8 offers voters of Perryton and Ochiltree county an opportunity to voice a unanimous and resounding "NO" to increased state expenditures and higher taxes. It is estimated that HJR 5, the bill providing for increased pay for legislators and annual sessions, would cost the taxpayers of this state an additional $2,500,000 yearly.

Advocates of the proposed amendment to the constitution argue that the pay increase would attract more capable men to the legislative halls. Only a moment's reflection is needed to see the fallacy of this reasoning. A salary ten times as large would hardly attract capable men from private industry for the salary alone. We prefer to think that our legislators serve because of a sense of civic responsibility and that their services are not in proportion to the compensation involved.

Economy begins at home — with the voter. The election November 8 offers citizens of this area a splendid opportunity to indicate on the ballot that this area wants REDUCED STATE EXPENDITURES and not ever-expanding budgets and higher and higher taxes!

Coast Guard Cools Off At Lonely Lighthouse

By TOM CHASE
Miami, Fla.—One of the coolest jobs in the south these sweltering days is tending the lights off the Florida keys. A score of coast guardsmen work on five reef lighthouses spaced at strategic intervals right out in the ocean — and they like it.

The powerful lights, visible 16 miles, warn vessels of a treacherous shallow ledge running from south of Miami almost to Key West — a ledge which once echoed the cries of wreckers.

Each reef lighthouse is built on eight iron pilings and is completely surrounded by water. The men have twin decked circular living quarters about one-third work keeping the lights ship-shape," he explains. "They are on duty 28 days and then off nine. That means there are only three men at work at a time."

The commander, who was born in Plymouth, Ohio, and lived in Dayton for many years, says there are 21 attended lights in his district.

"There are also seven so-called reef lights which are not attended. Coast guardsmen from Miami and Key West check the automatic operations of these lights every two or three months."

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

FOR A SMALL FAMILY, this house is efficiently designed to keep building costs at a minimum. A simple rectangle in shape, it calls for no complicated carpentry. Kitchen and bath are planned adjacent with laundry directly below in the basement to keep plumbing costs down. Windows are spaced to provide ample wall space for furniture. This is plan B-100 by the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. It covers an area of 720 square feet and with basement it has a cubage of 14,040 cubic feet. The architects suggest an exterior of wood siding and a roof of asphalt shingles, with a wide overhang to protect the front entrance and the picture window. A garage can be attached to the blank wall formed by the stairway.

Man Hurt On Harbaugh Well

Edward Coyle, driller on the No. 1 Harbaugh well about 25 miles south of Perryton, was brought to the Sanford Hospital early Wednesday morning after an accident at the rig injured him seriously.

According to the other men working on the well, the crew was pulling the drill stem when a connection broke and the heavy metal joint struck Coyle on the side of the head.

He received a concussion and lost blood from the wound en route to the hospital. His condition was described as serious Wednesday afternoon.

Many Registered Herefords are Entered In Sale

Although the Fourth Annual Registered Hereford Sale is several months away, many well-known Hereford breeders from this area have already entered animals in the show and sale, reports Hood Wills, secretary of the North Plains Hereford Breeders Assn.

There are 40 registered Herefords entered now, more than in last year's show. It is expected to have 50 animals for the show and sale, scheduled for February 6-7.

Among the Hereford breeders who have entered animals are Gordon Whittier of Wheeler, H. H. Reeves of Shamrock, Edward Gething of McLain.

Walter Britten of College Station has been secured as auctioneer.

some workouts this week, but will probably play Friday night at fullback.

Rough practice sessions have been held this week in an effort to iron out mistakes of previous games.

The Demons have a sprinkling of experienced players, and while winning only one game this year, have never been drubbed in their losses. Their line will outweigh the Rangers 16 pounds per man, averaging 163 pounds to 147 pounds for the Rangers. The team averages give the Demons only a 7-pound advantage, however.

Dumas has been hampered by injuries throughout the season, but are getting their boys into shape now. Fullback Bryan Engman and halfback Sonny Marcum, both on the injured list for recent games, will give the Demons an improved offensive punch if they are ready to go this week.

This week's game will be a battle for survival in Perryton as well as in Hereford. While the Whitefaces and Dalhart Wolves pit perfect records in their game, the Demons and the Rangers will each be trying to keep out of the district cellar.

Forger Arrested In Fort Worth

E. E. Goodson, charged with forgery of two checks on George Yates several weeks ago, has been arrested in Fort Worth, Sheriff Ray Phagan reports.

Goodson forged an $18 check on Yates and passed it at the A & B Motor Co., and forged a similar $18 check at the Sanford Drug.

Sheriff Phagan stated that Goodson, who used his right name in the local forgery, would be returned to Perryton on the forgery charges as soon as he is released by Fort Worth authorities. He is being held on a forgery charge at Fort Worth.

Darrouzett Carnival Date Is Changed

DARROUZETT — A change in the date of the Darrouzett school carnival from Oct. 28-29 to November 11-12 was made Tuesday by E. A. Herber, superintendent of Darrouzett schools.

One of the outstanding features of this year's carnival will be a performance by high school boys and girls tumbling teams under the direction of Coach A. C. Teeter.

Recent visitors of Miss Angie Nell Tevis were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Frolick and small daughter, Linda Rae of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Beck and children of Spearman were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Beck Sunday.

and moved to Perryton in 1935, where she lived until a few months before her death.

At the time of her death she was visiting in Dallas with two of her daughters.

She was converted into the Baptist church at Afton, Iowa.

Lipscomb Red Cross Holds Nursing Course

DARROUZETT — A Red Cross home nursing course on the care of the sick was scheduled to start in the basement of the Darrouzett Methodist Church Wednesday, Oct. 26.

Classes will meet twice weekly for two-hour sessions on Monday and Wednesday. The course will continue for several weeks under the sponsorship of the Lipscomb county Red Cross chapter under the direction of Mrs. Clyde Pugh, home nursing chairman.

Mrs. Florence G. Ellis of the St. Louis branch of the Red Cross nursing staff of the Western Area will teach the course. Practical home methods of nursing will be demonstrated. This course offers a splendid opportunity for women to learn the most common procedures for care of the sick in the home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Drum and grandson, K. Drum, of Beaver, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. John Bohn.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Granby, Missouri, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. (Wick) Brown and family.

Ranger Band Performs Well At Ball Game

While the Rangers had little success on the gridiron against Hereford Friday night, the 52-piece Ranger band performed well at the halftime intermission.

Led on the field by their six twirlers, the red-and-white clad musicians of band director J. D. Davis formed an "H" in front of the Hereford stands, then played the Hereford high school song.

They then marched to the center of the field, formed a circle, and the twirlers performed their stunts.

The band then formed a huge star and played "The Eyes of Texas" before marching off the field to the applause of the spectators.

A. W. Henry, Sibley and Sidney Jines returned Friday from a hunting trip in South Dakota.

Mrs. Dot Mounts and her sister, Mrs. Bessie Mullett of Hutchinson, Kansas, returned Wednesday evening from LaJunta, Colorado, where they visited another sister, Mrs. Tobie Schrock.

Dr. and Mrs. E. R. Jarvis will be out on vacation until November 1st.

Powerful Hereford Whitefaces Take Easy 32-0 Victory Over Rangers Friday Night

The Hereford Whitefaces lived up to advance notices at Ranger Field Friday night, casually taking a 32-0 victory with a well-rounded attack. A set of versatile backs worked well behind a big and experienced line, and the visitors were never in any trouble.

This victory toned for the 31-0 defeat administered last year by the Rangers, and was achieved in much the same manner.

Like the 1948 Ranger-Whiteface game, passing played a big part in the victory. Southpaw Jack Stanton connected on seven passes Friday night, two of them for touchdowns.

Alert defensive work paid off well for the visitors, too, as they scored once on a pass interception and set up a touchdown for another.

The Rangers could not get rolling against the Hereford line. They tried their spread formation, their box and a single wing on occasions but could never start a drive. John King was ailing with intestinal flu and was not up to par on his line smashes.

Hereford scored first midway the initial quarter when end Wendell Morton snatched a Ranger pass on the Hereford 40 and went all the way for a touchdown. The try for extra point was no good.

The second touchdown for the visitors came in the first quarter and was started by a 34-yard punt return by halfback Bill Kelly, who took the punt on his own 30 and went down to the Ranger 36. Kelly then drove to the Ranger 20, Reynolds made it to the 14, then Stanton flipped a pass to Kelly in the end zone for the second score. Kelly kicked the extra point and the score was 13-0.

Midway in the second period, Hereford scored again, this time on an 80-yard pass play. Standing on his own 20, Stanton faded to his left, flipped a pass to Alex Schroeder who was in the clear on the Ranger 40. Schroeder scampered the remaining 40 yards for the score. The try for extra point was blocked, and the score stood at 19-0.

The final score of the first half came a few minutes before the gun and was set up by a pass interception by Bill Ingram on the Ranger 42.

Bill Forbus made 16 yards to the Ranger 26, then Jack Reynolds broke through right tackle and crossed the goal line for a score. Ingram kicked the extra point and the score was 26-0.

The second half was tighter, with only one score made. This one came early in the third period when L. Walterheid, backing up the line, intercepted Earl Olmstead's pass on his own 28 and got down to the 7 before Delbert Trew overhauled him from behind.

After two incomplete passes and an exchange of offside penalties, Reynolds got to the 2, then plunged across for the final tally. The try for extra point was no good and the score was 32-0.

A Hereford drive was throttled in that quarter when Don Hergepeth intercepted a Stanton pass on the Ranger 26.

The most serious Ranger scoring threat came midway in the fourth quarter, when they drove down to the Hereford 5. Coach Dalton Criswell had sent in some substitute linemen, but inserted his regulars back in after the Rangers had driven from the 35 down to the 5. The first string Whitefaces halted the drive on the 5, then Christian booted a 70 yard kick to put them out of danger.

Several boys were outstanding for the Rangers in this game. Delbert Trew played his usual fine game, and Donald Hedgepeth, operating at a line backer position on defense, showed up exceptionally well. B. R. Fletcher displayed some excellent running form on several occasions and intercepted two passes. Earl Olmstead and J. B. Langwell did well on offense.

For Hereford, it would be hard to pick out an outstanding back, except for Stanton and Kelly. In the line, it was Walterheid and Gresham who dealt the most misery to the Ranger attack.

From The SIDELINE with HAROLD HUDSON

The Hereford game Friday night was just about a repeat of the 1948 performance at Hereford, only with a different team winning. The half time score was 26-0 for Hereford this year; last year it was 25-0 for the Rangers. Final score Friday night was 32-0; last year the Rangers won, 31-0.

The Whitefaces lose all but one of the starting line, so we're told, although most of their backs will return.

We also understand that Dalhart loses but one boy from their team this year. B-r-r-r!

We've been amused for the past few weeks reading accounts of the Ranger games in other newspapers, particularly the newspapers of the winning opponents. In each game, the Rangers are described as being "inspired," "up," or some other suitable adjective to account for their better-than-expected showing. Truth of the matter is, they have played a hard brand of ball every game, but never "inspired" beyond their normal playing range.

This seems to be the week the Rangers win a game, if they're to win one at all this season. Dumas, while considered stronger than the Rangers on the basis of comparative scores against one common opponent—Spearman—still seem to be the one remaining foe on the schedule that the locals have anything near an even chance to beat.

Dumas won over Spearman with comparative ease, taking a 34-12 verdict. The Rangers, of course, met a Lynx team which may or may not have been "inspired," but was good enough to hold the Rangers to an unexpected 6-6 tie. This should give the Dumas Demons the edge. And probably does.

If Perryton is to finally break into the win column, they'll have to play hard, make fewer mistakes, and be "up" for the game. Dumas is as hungry for a win as the Rangers. Especially are they eager for a chance to whip Perryton, being on the losing side of a long series with the Rangers.

This week should find the Rangers in the best physical shape of several weeks. If Dean Maberry's knee allows him to play, it will be a boost in the line. He was a sparkplug until the injury, and has been out a month now. John King should have recovered from the influenza which slowed him down considerably last week and we hope Earl Olmstead's shoulder is improved. He hurt it in a tumble down the cafeteria steps on Tuesday before the Hereford game.

Mrs. Tom Slack and Sydney and Sherry visited Mrs. Slack's parents in Canyon last week and attended the WTSC homecoming football game.

Mrs. Harry Cayler and Donna of Hereford were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kelly, last week end.

Don Stephenson and J. C. Jones, students of Texas Tech, were home last week end.

Mrs. Bill Carpenter left last week to visit relatives in Clayton, New Mexico.

with BETTER LIGHT for easier seeing

Reading comic books is hard work for young eyes. The strain of trying to see small print on grey paper may result in permanent damage to vision unless there is plenty of good light for easy seeing.

Give your children the abundant glareless light of a modern floor lamp equipped with a white glass diffusing bowl and 100-200-300-watt bulb. And see that they do their reading in a chair close to the light source and not while lying on the floor. Remember—eyes are priceless... good light is cheap!

"Everlasting Punishment" is subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 30.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord
is far from wicked; but he hear-

(Proverbs 15:29.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:
"Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you." (James 4:7.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The moral law, which has the light to acquit or condemn, always demands restitution before mortals can 'go up higher.'" (page 11.)

GEMS OF THOUGHT

HISTORY

History owes its excellency more to the writer's manner than to the material of which it is composed.—Goldsmith.

The impartiality of history is not that of the mirror, which merely reflects objects, but the judge who sees, listens, and decides.—Lamartine.

Each generation gathers together the imperishable children of the past, and increases them
by new sons of light, alike radiant with immortality.—Bancroft.

The use of history is to give value to the present hour and its duty.—Emerson.

Opinions alter, manners change,
creeds rise and fall, but the moral law is written on the tablets of eternity.—Froude.

The cross is the central emblem of human history. Without it there is neither temptation nor glory.—Mary Baker Eddy.

that several states

fire districts, a group

county residents asked

aren McDonald to inroduce similar legislation this year.

The proposed constitutional amendment does not outline any details of how such districts

would operate. George C. Hawley,

chief of the state fire insurance commission, says cities probably would be willing to provide service if revenue raised by the 3-cent tax were enough to cover expenses.

Or districts might buy their own equipment and develop their own fire fighting force.

Creation of hospital districts was proposed by Rep. Jack Ridgeway of San Antonio. No. 3 on the ballot, the proposal reads

as follows:

"FOR (AGAINST) the amendment to the constitution of the State of Texas authorizing the legislature to provide for the establishment and creation of hospital districts."

This was another instance of statewide action being suggested in order to solve a local problem.

Robert B. Green Memorial Hospital, a city-county hospital in San Antonio is supported by a 10 cent property tax. That is the maximum the commissioners court is authorized to levy. The legislature had no power to pass

a law increasing the rate. A constitutional amendment was the only route by which taxes could be authorized.

There was little legislative argument over the measure. Back-ers said the amendment would not only help San Antonio and Bexar county, but would also permit counties in sparsely settled areas of the state to set up centrally located hospitals to meet their needs.

A few opponents contended

that the idea of creating districts containing several counties

would not work. Taxpayers would not want to support a ho-

pital located outside their county,

they argued.

There was also some opposition because the amendment would not limit the tax rate

which the legislature could set.

This argument was offset somewhat when proponents pointed out that a district could not be created without the approval of the people in the district.

The city-county health unit amendment is No. 5 on the ballot. It reads as follows:

"For (Against) the constitutional amendment authorizing

the legislature to pass laws for the creation and operation of city-county health units and to authorize cities and counties to vote a tax in support thereof."

The legislature would be given power to authorize counties to levy a tax of not more than 20 cents on the $100 valuation to finance the health units. The tax would be levied only on county valuations.

Texas has had city-county health units since the mid-1930's.

Forty-seven are now in operation,

serving about 50 to 60 per cent of the state's population. Dr.

George W. Cox, state health officer, reported.

But the units have had rough

sledding financially, depending on money from city and county

general funds to keep them going. The amendment would give units an independent source of revenue.

Work of the health units is primarily educational. The program is aimed at controlling communicable diseases and thereby reducing the mortality rate in Texas.

Sanitation is a big part of the program. Courses are offered in food handling, water sanitation,

proper disposal of sewage and garbage.

School health is emphasized.

The health units carry on im-

mization programs, give advice on keeping schools clean,

conduct mass X-ray examinations of children as well as adults to detect tuberculosis.

Units assist the state health department by collecting vital statistics.

The only medical treatment offered is that of venereal diseases.

Persons who cannot pay private doctors for treatment are sent to one of three hospitals located in Waco, San Antonio and Overton for free treatment.

No strong opposition was expressed against the amendment.

In the case of the other two propositions discussed here, some argument was heard against creation of a new taxing agency.

Again supporters of the bill observed that the tax could be levied only after approval of a local option basis.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

A pronounced feeling of pessimism about the future of public hunting followed reports for the 1948 season which showed more game law violations than in any previous year. More arrests, more convictions; more killing beyond bag limits or out of season; more illegal sales of game; more incidents of damaged property and slain livestock; more protests from farmers; more of everything that was wrong with hunting.

This rise in law breaking and generally irresponsible behavior has set many people to asking "How much longer can public hunting continue at this rate?" Do these events foreshadow an approach to the English system under which the average citizen cannot buy a license, get a gun and go hunting?

Outdoor Writer Bill Wolf reports that there is a pronounced trend toward some form of private hunting here, and it is due to lawlessness and bad field sportsmanship as much as any other cause. More and more hunters are joining or forming private clubs which own or lease anywhere from a few to many thousands of acres. More and more landowners are signing only their friends or paying guests to shoot over them.

Under today's conditions, public hunting is largely dependent upon the landowner's tolerance of hunters, and upon the hunters' license money. It's really a cooperative enterprise, but the farmers' tolerance is wearing thin due to discourtesies and vandalism, and the supply of game is wearing out due partly to illegal hunting on the part of both landowner and hunters.

If the recent rapid trend in many states toward more posted land and less game continues unchecked, hunting will collapse. Few persons realize that the end of public hunting could mean the virtual end of game species since only hunters, today at least, are sufficiently interested to spend cash to see that game survives.

Hunting violations persist in the face of increasingly intense enforcement of laws. Despite game men's vigilance, many offenders go unpunished and help wreck hunting for law-abiding gunners.

But worst offender of all is public apathy. Once the average hunter realizes that his own sport is heavily at stake, he probably won't blind his eyes to other hunters' violations and bad conduct. Once the general public realizes that $2 billion worth of its business is threatened, it will cease smiling indulgently over its neighbors' boasts of outwitting the game agents or putting that officious hayseed of a farmer in his place.

Gruver Six Roll Over Sunray; Fifth Victory

GRUVER—Coach Don Ward's Gruver six-man football team rolled over their fifth straight conference opponent Friday afternoon on the home field when they defeated the Sunray six 46 to 28.

1 cellar, is the only conference opponent remaining between Gruver and a district 1 championship.

They will play next Friday. Gruver second and third strings saw considerable service in last Friday's game. Standouts for Gruver were backs Spanky Schader and Bob Fletcher accounted for repeated long gains. They were ably abetted by fine blocking from Jim Fox, Gruver end.

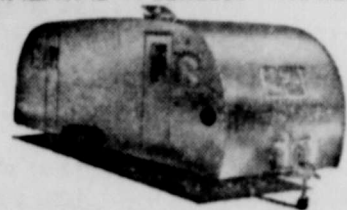

Stand-out in the Sunray attack was Griffin, backfield ace.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

J. A. Wants Support On Johnson Grass

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher won't get anywhere with his proposal this week, but you can't blame him for trying.)

Dear editor:

I been readin in the papers that turn up out here with the regularity of a hungry son-in-law about the various price supports the government's gonna keep in effect next year.

As I understand it, the government will support the price of cotton, corn, wheat, rice, tobacco and peanuts, and while I'm in favor of the government supporting not only the price of goods for the people but the people too, I have been searchin every paper I can find, even down to yours, and I haven't yet seen a word mentioned about Johnson grass.

It seems to me Johnson grass ought to be just as eligible for price support as cotton or corn or wheat. As I understand it, the reason the government is supporting the price of cotton and corn and wheat and so forth is because we got too much of it, and the same thing would apply to Johnson grass, especially at this place where I've got too much of Johnson grass, blue weed and bindweed, all of which grow without too much cultivation so to speak, and the Johnson grass is sure plentiful this year.

I will appreciate it if you will get in touch with Gene Worley and see what he can do on this. I notice the support price of cotton for example applies only to baled cotton, not cotton just open in the field, but the way I see it is when you go to the trouble of pickin and balin it you only make the situation worse, only add to the amount of cotton there is and make price support more necessary than ever, in a sort of vicious cycle. Same way with wheat, it ain't supported until you get it out of the fields and in a bin.

Now my idea for price support for Johnson grass hay is to put a bigger price on Johnson grass in the field than in the barn. You can't depress the price of hay when the stuff is witherin on the stalk, it's when you load it and head for town you affect the market the price starts dropin. Ain't nothin wrong about plantin cotton or corn or wheat or rice, it's when you harvest the stuff you play thunder with the price.

I will appreciate you attendin to this right away, and if we get price support through on Johnson grass I may be in to see you about subscribin to your paper. Ain't nothin wrong with price support, so long as I can benefit by it too.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

THE TEXAS POLL:

Water Problem Is Serious to Several Sections of State

By Joe Bolden
Director, The Texas Poll
AUSTIN, Texas — If Texas wants to grow up and become one of the great industrial regions of the world, it will have to control and increase its water supply.

This is what water conservation leaders would like to get over to the public. Unless the public realizes the problem, they point out, it cannot be expected to support the measures necessary to build up our water supply.

The water problem, however, is something that doesn't have to be explained to about one-fourth of the public. Nearly that many Texas adults are conscious of a current water shortage in their own communities. It affects them most often when they have to stop watering their lawns and gardens. And sometimes, believe it or not, some families cut down on washing and bathing because there isn't enough water.

A statewide survey by The Texas Poll indicates that people in West Texas, the Panhandle-South Plains area, and the Southwest Texas and valley regions are most concerned about the water shortage.

Wonder Drug Plant Is Grown in Hawaii

By ROY ESSOYAN

(AP) Newsfeatures
HONOLULU—A rare plant that has brought hope to 7,000,000 arthritic patients in the United States has been cultivated in Hawaii for the last 17 years.

A species of African vine called strophanthus, this plant contains ingredients for relief of arthritis and rheumatic fever. But—total production in the islands so far doesn't add up to enough to help one patient one day.

"It's still in the experimental stage," says Dr. H. L. Lyon, director emeritus of the experiment station, Hawaii Sugar Planters Association.

Researchers have reported that a chemical obtained from seeds of the strophanthus is identical with one of the intermediate chemicals now involved in the laborious process of producing cortisone.

Main obstacle to production of cortisone from the plant is the same as that presently hampering its production from ox bile—you need a mountain of seeds for a few ounces of cortisone. To be exact, one ton of seeds to relieve one patient one year.

Three out of every four who are conscious of a current water shortage realize that steps are being taken to build up their community's supply. They point out new dams are under construction, new wells are being dug, storage tanks and reservoirs are being enlarged, larger water mains are being laid, and more pumps are being installed.

It is these water-conscious Texans who may provide the backbone of support for a systematic statewide program for which conservation leaders are aiming.

Well, here's a brand new gad-

when the print is developed to the proper degree. Fans, meet the "Agi-Tone" comparator, a plas-

match the print as it develops.
It is shaped like a four leaf
clover, each leaf a different tone,
and pierced with a large hole.
The print is seen through the center hole and around the leaf.
The lightest leaf matches the flesh tone usually desired in portraiture. The next leaf is equivalent to a Miami Beach tan.
The third takes in the mid-key values of clothing, walls, etc.
The darkest tone is for the shadow areas.

The four leaves are attached to a stem and knob, which makes it easy to use as an agitator

inert plastic, it does not affect or react to the developing solu-

A Panhandle Girl In Europe

By KATHERINE SHARP

Europe cannot be resurrected
around the fringes of a festering Germany, expert or the glib keep saying.

A healthy, working German economy is vital; the Germans must not rebuild an aggressive force to conquer Europe; Germany must be pro-western, not Communist.

All of which seems eminently sensible, is undoubtedly true;
but as a plain citizen I wonder sometimes just how all this is to be carried off.

I'm wondering even more since my first trip into Germany, a casual trip into the land of our former enemy during a pleasant,
sunny drive through the fabled
Rhine country.

We drove beside this famous river, a sluggish stream which carries thousands of tons of traffic from Rotterdam or some other Low Country port as far as Basel in Switzerland.

The rolling, tree-covered country is beautiful, and very like a more populous West Virginia.
About Bonn the picture-postcard Rhine begins. The terraced hillsides are the vineyards where grapes for Rhine wine grow.
Castles loom from the sides or tops of steep hills.

Peaceful farms and country villages are along the roadside just before and beyond the total destruction of Cologne, a gray and grotesque city. There the destruction is shocking, even after ten years of pictures and stories of damage.

But the Cathedral still stands in Cologne, a tribute to the skill of pinpoint bombing, for everything around it was blasted. A magnificent shrine to medieval, religious Europe, the pride of an old and important city, it bears serious damage only to towers and stained glass windows.

Inside, Westphalians still worship, and Americans still marvel at the feat of its hand construction and the devotional beauty of the interior.

Cologne is only one of the Rhine cities with a name echoing vaguely-learned European history, forgotten since school days.
There is Dusseldorf, busy again
all around a broad boulevard surrounded by bomb damage.
Shop windows are full, but coffee is priced at the mark equivalent of four dollars a pound. A few well-dressed Germans and British soldiers drink in street cafes, and German urchins performed handspins in front of us before begging.

Coblenz is over the line of the French zone. The same disorderly, unkept look of uncleared war damage is there. Nowhere else but in Germany have we seen so little evidence of clearing up and rebuilding, so few cleaned blocks with neatly stacked brick nearby.

This damaged, confused look of the cities parallels other confusions in visiting Germany. The occupation is confusing to a casual visitor. In a brief Rhine trip
one passes in and out of French,
British, and American zones.

And the geography of Germany, the importance and differences of the provinces or states, their diverse histories until just 70 years ago when Germany became a nation under Bismarck are all confusing, too.

But the most confusing experiences are the reminders of the era of Hitler's 1933 rise to power, of the past 16 years in Germany. The confusion of wondering whether and how Germany can become a friendly and peaceful state; whether we should withdraw troops or stay in firmly and watchfully. And should we work for a productive, strong German economy or be tough about demilitarization and dismantling.

This puzzle for an American is not allayed by a visit to Bonn,
the university town on the Rhine which is now the capitol of the new western German republic.

There we spent a fine, sunny,
fall Sunday, visiting the house where Beethoven was born, the University buildings — those that remain intact — and the modern, white, many-windowed buildings where the new west

German legislature is meeting.

The day was one of celebration for the opening of that newly elected parliament. Costumed roller skaters did elaborate figure skating in a new outdoor rink. Children gathered and exclaimed delightedly around a puppet show near the largest church in the city. Young people in Bavarian costumes danced in the city square which was bedecked with the new German flag of yellow, orange and black.
And little boys, disheveled and undisciplined, marched singing behind Boy Scout leaders and troop flags.

Searching for the house of an old woman who had been kind to a friend of ours in his student days, we were saddened to find only ruins and a sign indicating that before destruction her home had been a hospital. We would have to write we could find no trace of the woman who had been friendly twenty years ago.

Bonn was warm and beautiful and somehow hopeful. We felt kindly disposed toward individual Germans who must rebuild
after a war which this time brought destruction to their own land, and which is, after all, over.

Then we lost our way, and a man approached to help us with an over-politeness which makes one uncomfortable. We inquired in German for the Remagen bridge, and our volunteer helper gave directions.

"Onet was where the Rhine was crossed at the end of the war. Many Americans were killed
there, but not many Germans," he said. Was this insolence, or pride, or just lack of tact?

And as we drove on I happened to check the guide book we had.
There we were reminded that,
"The concentration camp at Dachau isn't included in most tours, but it's worth seeing. About one hour by taxi from Munich."

We weren't going to Munich this trip. But we were leaving Germany more puzzled than ever about its future and the future of American occupation.

Skill Pays Off In
Bottle Washing

SYDNEY—(AP)—There's $4 a week skill margin for bottle washers in Australia. This margin is on top of the basic wage—$20.80 in Sydney.

The rate was set by Conciliation Commissioner D. V. Morris-son on the application of the Liquor and Allied Trades Employees Union. Morrison said the award will apply to persons employed in bottle stores or bottle yards.

Blue Plate Special,
With Drink

CAIRO—(AP)—Found in Egypt:
the free lunch which disappeared
from the corner bar in Grandpa's day.

A local bar serves with each beer: a plate containing tuna fish, roast beef and liver; two rolls; plates of olives, peanut and cucumber squares; a heap of thin, dry Arab bread, and a plate of tehena, delicious oily grain sauce Arabs dip their bread into.

Steaks are extra.

Trucker Drives
Up The Town

BRISBANE—(AP)—One-legged
John Edmund Page, 23, drove a truck through Brisbane one night. He says he can't remember the drive. But the prosecutor in the police court, jogged Page's memory when he described the drive to the magistrate. The prosecutor got the story from a policeman who chased Page's truck on a motorcycle. During the chase, Page—

Passed a tram, grazing the front cabin. Passed a stationary tram on the wrong side at a speed of between 60 and 70 mph.
Ignored a stop order from the pursuing policeman.

Overtaken two cars driving side by side. Knocked another car off the road. Passed another stationary tram on the wrong side.
Hit another car off the road.
Struck still another car and capsized it. Hit the rear of a stationary truck outside the Brisbane Hospital. Forced the stationary truck into a car in front,
which was pushed onto the footpath. Was thrown out of his own truck by the jolt. Landed on his head. Was taken into the hospital.

Page pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving. He was fined $166.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY
(AP) Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON —(AP)—A Texas woman is one of the authorities on the farm bill pushed through Congress in its closing days of this year's session.

She is Mrs. Altavene Clark of Amarillo, executive officer of the House Agriculture Committee.

She has the privilege of sitting in the House during debate on farm legislation, and goes there armed with facts and figures. It's her job to have them ready when congressmen on the committee may be called upon suddenly to back up a statement about the need or effect of some law.

Since 1933 Mrs. Clark has been accumulating a knowledge of farm and ranch problems. Her fresh outlook, twinkling blue eyes and brown hair belie her age; she has a recently-married son employed with the Hawaiian Airlines in Honolulu.

Born in Iowa, Mrs. Clark went to Texas "as soon as I was old enough to show good judgment" to use her own words.

She was working as purchasing agent for the Panhandle Lumber Co., in its general offices at Amarillo, when she got a chance to come to Washington in 1933. Her boss at the time, John E. Hill, was a good friend of the then Panhandle Congressman Marvin Jones. When Jones became chairman of the House Agriculture Committee he offered Mr. Clark a position on the staff.

From 1933 to 1940 the friendly Texas woman stayed with the agriculture committee. Then the veteran Representative Jones was appointed to the U. S. Court of Claims, where he is now Chief Justice.

Mrs. Clark then was employed by Judge Jones' successor, Rep. Gene Worley of Shamrock. She went back to the Agriculture Committee staff with the beginning of this year, to become its executive officer.

It was during her years on the committee when it was headed by Judge Jones that Congress enacted most of the basic farm legislation in effect today — dealing with the AAA (now embodied in the Production and Marketing Administration), the Soil Conservation Service, crop insurance, Farm Security Administration, Farm Credit Administration and Commodity Corporation.

Halloween Goodies for Parties; 'Trick or Treat', Come Next Monday

PUMPKIN PARTY . . . Halloween icings for cupcakes.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Make a batch of cupcakes for Halloween and let the kids in your family have the fun of decorating them. You'll like the following recipe because the condensed tomato soup in it gives a delicious flavor and helps the cakes keep moist.

HALLOWEEN TOMATO SOUP CUPCAKES

Ingredients: 2 cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon mace, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 ten-and-one-half-ounce can condensed tomato soup.

Method: Mix and sift the flour, baking powder, baking soda, cloves, mace, and nutmeg. Wash raisins under hot running water and drain well; chop with a knife. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually and continue to cream thoroughly. If electric mixer is used beat in the eggs well, one at a time; if not beat the eggs well first with a rotary beater and then beat in well with mixing spoon. Add the flour mixture in four additions, alternately with the soup; begin and end with the flour and mix only until well combined each time. Fold in the raisins. Turn into fluted paper baking cups that have been placed in muffin pans of matching size. Bake in a moderate 350 degrees F. oven for about 15 or 20 minutes until done (depending on size). Remove from pans and place on cake racks to cool thoroughly before frosting.

HALLOWEEN FROSTING

Ingredients: 1/2 cup butter or margarine, dash of salt, 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 4 tablespoons (about) cream or milk, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, orange food coloring, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate (melted).

Method: Cream butter or margarine and salt. Add sugar and milk alternately until proper consistency to spread, add Vanilla. Divide frosting in half; add orange food coloring to one part, chocolate to the other.

EASY HALLOWEEN CUPCAKE DECORATIONS

To make decorations the kids will love to try these: For chocolate pumpkins and witches' cats, form round balls of chocolate frosting, flatten in palms of hands, and shape. For eyes, nose, mouth, and pumpkin stems use bits of jellied candy, cloves, chocolate bits, slices of maraschino cherries, and corn candy. A fence for the cat may be cut from a long jellied licorish candy.

For small pumpkin faces use round flat orange jelly candies; cut in half crosswise to make pumpkin faces a shiny orange.

Mrs. Vance Apple Is Hostess to Entre Nous Wed.

Mrs. Vance Apple was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the Entre Nous bridge club in her home, 918 S. Amherst. A Halloween motif was carried out in the decorations, and dessert was served to the guests.

Mrs. Jack Todd won first prize, and Mrs. Mattie Maud Cayler won second. The guest prize went to Mrs. Henry Richardson.

Those present were the following members: Mesdames W. L. McConnell, Cecil Dodd, O. B. Hankins, Max Boyer, Jack Todd, Fred Osborne, Mattie Maude Cayler, Jake LaMaster, G. L. Kingle, J. H. Brashears, and two guests; Mrs. Henry Richardson and Mrs. LaRue Norris.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Reynolds and family of Hereford visited in the home of Mrs. Opal Sodowsky over the week end. Their son Elmer Jack Reynolds is a member of the Hereford football team and scored two of the team's touchdowns against the Rangers Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keim, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. James Lolliis were week end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Lolliis and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Lolliis and family in Altus, Oklahoma.

Darrouzett Six Smothers Miami 60 to 6 Friday

Coach A. C. Teeter's Darrouzett Longhorns won a 60 to 6 victory over Miami Friday afternoon at Miami.

Accounting for the bulk of Darrouzett's scoring were B. L. Rogers, Frankie Parks, and Joe Travis.

Although Coach B. L. Craig's Miami six turned in a creditable performance, the breaks went against them and they were unable to make consistent headway against a determined Longhorn defense led by Joe Travis and Mervin Snyder.

Friday's game was the fourth win out of five starts for the Longhorns.

Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Gene Cudd and Geanette were in Borger Friday on business.

Follett Six Wins 63-7 Over Morse

The Follett Panthers romped to an easy 63-7 victory over Morse Friday afternoon on the Morse grid.

The Panthers scored almost at will with seven members of the squad contributing to the impressive score.

"Squirt" Laubhan blocked a Morse punt and ran it over for a touchdown. In the final quarter Laubhan scored again when he pushed over another tally from the one yard line where Hamilton had carried the ball on a sensational 45 yard run.

Bob Swope scored twice — once in the first quarter on a 55-yard run and again in the second quarter on a 25-yard run. Don Wynn scored on a long pass from Lyndon Imke the play netting 45 yards.

Boyce Russell, who was hampered by an injury, carried the ball twice and scored twice on long runs.

On the kickoff following the Morse touchdown, Carrol Bruce took the ball and returned it 60 yards for a touchdown. He was assisted by beautiful and effective blocking which enabled him to go all the way untouched by an opponent.

Follett's extra points were scored by Bob Swope, Squirt Laubhan, and Lyndon Imke.

'Mr. Soft Touch' Is Story of Gambler and Social Worker

"Mr. Soft Touch," starring Glen Ford and Evelyn Keyes, comes to the Ellis on Fri.-Sat., Oct. 28-29. The story casts Ford as a gambler who falls in love with Miss Keyes, a settlement worker.

Ford, a big-time gambler, returns from the wars to find that his partner in a gambling club has been murdered by a gangster who has then moved in on the establishment. Ford takes $100,000, which he feels rightfully belongs to him, from the club's safe, and, with the thugs yapping at his heels, holes up in a settlement house. There, he meets a young settlement worker (Keyes) and they fall head over heels in love. But Ford's refuge from the pursuing pack ends when a nose newspaper columnist (Ireland) puts them on the right trail.

The gangsters, failing to retrieve the hundred grand, set fire to the settlement house and recover the money. Ford secures it again, the hard way, but is forced to shoot it out with the hoodlums — and slumps to the ground, critically wounded. It wouldn't be fair to tell what happens with the money — but something wonderful does, for Ford is by now a thoroughly regenerated character.

Museum Advises On Paintings

NEW YORK.—(AP)—A painting whose surface has become dull can frequently be brightened by using a good quality wax-emulsion cream furniture polish, the Metropolitan Museum of Art advises.

Superficial dust and dirt can be removed by light brushing with absorbent cotton. But they should never be treated with soap, water, bread crumbs, erasers, raw potatoes or sliced onion. Any of these may improve the appearance but all can be harmful in inexperienced hands, the museum cautioned.

Through the medium of the love affair between Dan Dailey, as a singing hooper, and Anne Baxter in the role of a Boston blue-blood, who becomes the great "Hotcha Girl" of the silent screen, the span of years from the last golden days of vaudeville and the golden era of the silent screen has been recounted in "You're My Everything," which comes to the Ellis on Sun.-Mon., Oct. 30-31.

The story, a delightful one because of its light heartedness, of that fabulous period continues with the child-star craze of the mid-thirties. As the daughter of Ann Baxter and Dan Dailey, Shari Robinson, a 10-year-old moppet from Indianapolis in her first screen role, recreates the illusion of Shirley Temple with such old songs as "On The Good Ship Lollipop" and the "Staircase Dance" as well as some new ones including "I Want to Be Teacher's Pet." Ann Revere, with a sidelong wink at old Boston, brings an extra touch of warmth to the picture already brimming with happiness and gaiety.

"A unique feature," he said, "of the Shelvador CB-9 is the 'butter safe,' a compartment for butter storage built into the door of the refrigerator. It is electrically heated and thermostatically controlled to keep butter at the proper spreading consistency. Constructed of white plastic, it is easily removable for thorough cleaning."

THOSE TRACTORS HAVE PULL They Prove It in Indiana Contests

TAKE IT AWAY—Tractor roars as it takes the pull.

on the ground gives more traction before the maximum is reached.

Tractors, when put into a hard pull, will lift their own front wheels into the air. That's one of the dangers of the business.

The sporty farm boys use many gimmicks to get more traction. They load their tractors with sand bags, log chains, extra wheels and such devices.

One driver put two extra wheels on each side of his drivers. It didn't win him the championship, but it gave the tractor the weird look that it might be a super-mechanical gadget.

Tractors pull in weight classes. The state championships were divided into four classes, under the following weights, 3,200, 4,000 and 6,000 pounds and the unlimited class, 6,000 pounds and over.

To qualify for the lighter weights a driver often will strip off fenders and all unnecessary parts, then put them back on for a higher weight and add still more for another heavier weight.

Any size tractor can win the grand championship—in fact a lightweight driven by Gene Ahlfield, 21-year-old farmer of Roann, Ind., won the championship this year.

The rating is on the basis of percentage of weight pulled. Ahlfield pulled 7,175 pounds of iron rails on a sled 32 inches. This was 185 per cent efficiency, based on the weight of his tractor.

Newsfeatures

SWAYZEE, Ind.—Those pesky tractors are threatening to take over another activity from ole Dobbin—weight pulling contests.

Matching teams to see which can pull the heaviest load has been a top notch country sport for many years, and still is.

This year, however, a furry of tractor pulling contests has broken out over Indiana and more than a score were held.

They don't pull the crowds that the horses do, but the state championship contest held here recently attracted more than 4,000 people, to see the 140 tractors pull during a 14-hour program.

The state team pulling contest this year drew 10,000.

Tractor pulling lacks the animation of horses straining and groaning to the shouts and commands of their drivers, but it has its fine points.

The farm hands who boast of the prowess of their mechanical mounts are fast learning many things which will give more pull from their machines. There are several schools of thought along this line.

Some believe in weighting down the rear end of the tractors, arguing that gives more traction before the big rubber tired wheels begin to slip and spin.

Others believe it is best to weigh the front end with the idea that holding the front wheels

Mexico City Irked by Cactus

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The newspapers are getting pretty annoyed with the city planners. And even a lot of just ordinary Mexicans don't like the idea of planting cactus in the middle of a main street.

It all started early this year when the city fathers decided to fix up the Paseo de la Reforma, which connects the best residential districts with the business section. It had wide parkways on each side and lots of shade trees. The planners turned the parkways into additional traffic lanes in the downtown section. They sacrificed the benches, repaved the street and put a narrow parkway down the middle. The benches, life-size bronze statues of minor national heroes and three foot classical bronze urns which had lined the street, were re-erected farther out.

German Harness Racing Wins British Soldiers

By George Boulwood

Newsfeatures

HAMBURG, Germany—The American sport of trotting, imported to Germany, has become a big favorite with British soldiers.

A number of Britons are driving sulkeys over the Hamburg track.

Maj. L. Evelyn Jones of Frington-on-Sea, England, president of the Anglo-German Trotting Club, is credited with reviving the sport after the war.

Trotting came to Germany early this century when an American trotter called Peter the Great was imported. Today his descendants are trotting on the Hamburg track.

The Farmers track in Hamburg was a displaced person camp after the war. Major Jones, then adjutant of the London Welsh regiment, experimentally took a sulky around the track. "From then on I was an addict," he says. He organized a regimental meeting from which developed a British trotting club. Later, it was merged with the old German club and now is a big business, handling meetings at which large sums of money pass through the tote.

Many of the British soldier-drivers have earned good reputations on the German track. They are even known to German punters by nicknames such as "Flash" and "Speedy."

Master Sgt. John Rogers of the Royal Berkshire regiment, has had a particularly two years. He's from Hetton-le-Hole, County Durham.

A founder-member and successful rider is George Sims, of Kensington, London, now with the control commission. Although he took up trotting only recently, Harry Barrett, an Ipswich horse-dealer before the war, has had several wins.

Getting back his form again is Lawrence Murphy of Broad Green, Liverpool. He was in the hospital four months after being thrown from his sulky. With his favorite horse, Eva Challenger, he has placed seven out of nine times. He is also a British soccer referee and in 1938 he refereed the northern amateur cup final.

At Farmers there are now about 400 horses owned by about 40 stables. A win is worth between $2,400 and $3,200 and second place about $1,400.

But for the soldier drivers the only reward is the thrill of the sport and perhaps a small gift like a cup or cigarette case from the owner. Club rules forbid acceptance of money.

It's Confusing And Amusing, This BB Game

By Glen Lemon

BOOKER — Two hundred and twenty-six cash customers witnessed a thrilling though confusing basketball game Saturday night between Booker high school boys and a Booker school faculty team. The referee declared the game a tie.

The high school lads encountered difficulty in scoring early in the game before they succeeded in removing a wire which blocked their goal.

Referee Wayne Parrish, confused by the rough play and the football uniforms worn by the faculty team, assessed a number of penalties against both teams.

On the faculty club were: Clarence Bounds, Bobby Kirksey, Edward Weinette, Alvin Lee, Leo Kirksey, Warren Kerns, and Buster Mounsey.

Members of the high school team were John Bartlett, Max Comer, Glen Lemon, Lewis Blau, and Ray Lee.

The game was a prelude to the annual Booker high school Halloween carnival, and proceeds will go to the school athletic fund.

India Plans Rule of Strategic Princedom

NEW DELHI—The government of India proposes to take over the administrations of the two strategic princedom of Tripura and Manipur in Assam province. Tripura is surrounded on three sides by eastern Pakistan and on the east by Assam. Manipur has a wide vulnerable common frontier with Burma and during the last war the Japanese poised their attack on India through Manipur.

Tripura is 4,000 square miles in area and has a population of 500,000. Manipur, with more than double the area, has about the same population.

Manipur has had a history of repeated wars with Burma. Its vulnerable valley, 50 miles long and 20 miles wide, provided convenient route for invaders of India from the beginning of the 18th Century to the last war. The young Maharajah of Manipur married for the fourth time in 1943 because palace astrologers had predicted the lucky stars of the new bride would ward off the Japanese. But India prefers to strengthen its defenses by direct administration rather than depend on lucky stars of royal brides.

Graft Board Short Lived

BANGKOK—The life of 23-man committee set up to clean up corruption in the Thailand department of communications was brief, indeed. The anti-graft body hadn't even completed investigation of 30 alleged corruption cases presented to it when the Ministry of Communications advised the Cabinet Council the committee should be disbanded.

No official explanation was given for the request to end the anti-graft probe, but it was reported that expenses of the committee were running much higher than the money that could be saved.
