Amazing New Chemical Ends Landfill Dilemma

At the very last minute Thursday, Colorado City officials were made aware of a possible solution to the landfill situation which may save the city several thousand dollars a year.

Representative Chuck LaSalle, from the Texas Department of Health in Abilene, was the bearer of good tidings when the Landfill Advisory Committee met Thursday morning in city hall to discuss the possibility of a lease agreement with Weldon Hardegree for a new landfill site.

Several options with Hardegree had been considered previously, but during the last council meeting, due to the city's financial status, the only remaining option was to lease Hardegree's 40 acres of land under a 20 year contract at a rate of $12,500 per year.

Hardegree's was the only land in a near proximity to the city which might possibly meet with state standards and the state was pushing for a new and suitable landfill under a threat of closure if one was not located.

The city fathers were down to the wire, having covered every available possibility without hope of reprieve, when LaSalle turned up information on a revolutionary new chemical substance, "Bentonite," which could be the answer to the council's dilemma.

"Bentonite," a powdery substance which is designed to be incorporated into any type soil, has only been on the market for a very short time, according to Mayor Elmer Martin.

"We had heard of the chemical, but it was so new, no one had any information on it when we asked earlier," he noted.

This revolutionary new chemical, when mixed with soil, compacts the earth and forms a substance similar to clay, thereby allowing any type soil to be utilized as a dump site without regard to soil content, City Manager Brenda Tarter reported.

The best news came when, with the assistance of Contractor Bobby Nobles, an estimate of the cost of using the chemical was arrived at and it came to about $1.75 per cubic yard, as compared to the current cost of $1 per cubic yard to excavate the land and $3 per cubic yard to purchase 12 inches of clay to cover the pit.

The actual cost of the chemical is estimated to be about $2,000 for the 8,500 cubic yards of landfill area. This area is estimated to last about one and one-half years, according to Mrs. Tarter.

Mrs. Tarter noted at the present site, the existing pit will last from eight to ten months at the current rate of usage.

About ten acres are left in the tract of land on which to dig pits. This is estimated by Mrs. Tarter to last at least another two years.

"This new chemical gives us many options for land purchase at that time," Mrs. Tarter said.

The chemical is very compatible with sand and the estimated loss of soil from excavation to completion is only 10 percent, Councilman Ray Mason noted.

Under the existing system, about one-third of the soil usage is lost

IN ONE OF THE finest funeral parades Mitchell County has ever been privileged to witness, Mr. Ray-Zor was laid to rest Thursday after a procession marched through the downtown area in his honor. From the time of his burial, all Mitchell County males are prohibited from shaving with the penalty for shaving being some of the most riotous punishments imaginable.

Outstanding Producer Receives SCS Award

Outstanding conservation farmers in Mitchell County were recognized during the Lions' noon luncheon Friday.

Soil Conservation Service Director Van Mills made award presentations.

Stanley Moore was the recipient of the 1980 resident conservation farmer-rancher award for his conservation practices carried out under the Great Plains Conservation Plan.

Moore constructed 77,000 feet of parallel terraces; 18,000 feet of standard terraces; 434 acres of contour farming; implemented 98 acres of proper grazing use; 98 acres deferred grazing use and 434 acres of cropping system.

Rozelle McKenney Dohoney of Big Spring was the winner of the 1980 absentee farmer-rancher award.

This award goes to an individual who lives outside the district and practices good conservation measures on land within the district.

Ms. Dohoney implemented brush control, range seeding, deferred grazing and proper grazing use on 200 acres; terracing on 13,000 feet of land; contour farming on 70 acres and conservation cropping system on 70 acres.

In addition, Ms. Dohoney rebuilt 39,000 feet of terraces on estate land.

Guil Jones of Big Spring received the award for conservation of

Neighbors Rally To Lend A Helping Hand

A true spirit of Christian love and understanding was demonstrated Monday when 39 families took part in planting 600 acres of land farmed by J. D. Clifton, six miles south of Loraine.

While the 39 men rode tractors, wielded hoes and hauled material, eight women prepared food sent to the home by numerous friends, relatives and neighbors in the community.

This demonstration of brotherly love came about when Clifton was diagnosed as having multiple melonoma (a form of cancerous tumors,) and was unable to plant this year's crops.

"We are so very grateful and touched by this display of kindness and consideration. George Martin organized the volunteer workers and Mrs. Martin saw to it that everyone was offered food," Mrs. Clifton said.

"This is a hard thing to face but the love and understanding shown by the community has made it much easier," she said.

After the meal, the workers gathered on the front lawn to offer prayers for the well being of Clifton and his family.

"It is heart-warming to know that we are not alone in this and that people care as much as they do," she said.

Prayers are also being offered by two churches in Oklahoma, one in Roscoe, one in San Antonio and all the churches in Loraine, Mrs. Clifton said.

"The love and concern is so beautiful and gives us added courage and hope for the future," she said.

The Cliftons will travel to San Antonio today (Sunday) where he will enter the hospital at Wilford Hall Medical Center for further testing and treatment.

The Cliftons are the parents of five children, James, Jr., who is employed by Custom Ag; Jeri Lynn Rover, whose husband is employed by Dowell; Teresa Ann, who graduated from Loraine High School this year; Melissa Jane, who is currently attending Loraine High School and Jennifer, who is eight.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

After reading the Sunday RECORD and after hearing the name "Boom Town Revue" over the radio, I am taking this opportunity to express my thoughts.

As a member of the committee to judge and select a winner for the "Name the Spectacle" contest, I resent the statement (that) the judges selected the name "Boom Town Revue." Mrs. Sweat's only entry - "Boom Town Boomerang" was declared the winner. It was selected because a boomerang returns and with it the hope that Colorado City would once again become a boom town.

Since "Boom Town Revue" was not even submitted in the contest, I was shocked to discover it was the title for the centennial pageant. To me, it seems unethical to change an entry—even a winner—when the other contestants were not given the same opportunity.

I speak only for myself when I say the handling of this contest, by those not on the judging committee, has left me with the knowlege that neither my time nor my effort was worth it!

Sincerely,
Bebe Colaw

Auto-Chemical Analyzer Speeds Up Test Processing

An ambulance service budget totaling $96,113 was approved by the Mitchell County Hospital District Board of Directors when they met Tuesday.

The new budget will be effective June 1 of the total revenue figure, a monthly payment of $1,793 will be submitted by City, County and Hospital Districts.

This amount is an increase in payment of $193 monthly over the amount contributed by each entity in 1980.

A letter received from Attorney General Mark White to the hospital board marked the approval of voting boxes to be place in Loraine and Westbrook for the hospital elections.

There was no decision made for the placement of the boxes in those communities, which will serve the voters in the April 1982 election.

The board discussed a proposal by Dupont Co. Chemical Division which entails a one year agreement to buy chemicals in exchange for use of an auto-chemical analyzer. The analyzer has been delivered to Root Memorial Hospital on a trial basis, in lieu of a decision by the board.

The auto-chemical analyzer considerably speeds up processing tests on blood, urine with a 99.5 percent accuracy. This eliminates the possibility of human error also, Business Manager George Witten said.

These tests have been processed in Abilene or Dallas in the past.

It was also noted that the laundry building which is utilized by Root Memorial Hospital has two household type washing machines and one large commercial machine which results in quite an overload for the smaller ones. It was decided to request bids on one large commercial washer.

Root Memorial Hospital now has a new Photo Gamma Camera which is installed in the x-ray department and replaces the radial scanner.

Rogers Promoted In Savings Firm

Renee Rogers has been elected Branch Manager of First Security Savings Frenchman's Creek Branch Office by the Association's Board of Directors.

Mrs. Rogers who, with her husband Bobby, live in Abilene, joined First Security in January of 1978 as a teller trainee. Later that year, she was assigned to the Frenchman's Creek office as a teller.

Mrs. Rogers was born and raised in Loraine and graduated from the Loraine High School.

YOU AUTO KNOW

By Aaron Carpenter

Q. What is the reasoning behind keeping antifreeze in the cooling system all year - particularly in the summer?

A. First of all, the radiators in today's cars are not built to run on pure water or, more correctly, the temperature warning light will not operate because the radiators, thermostats and warning lights are designed to operate at the boiling point of antifreeze solution, rather than water. Secondly, commercial antifreeze contains rust inhibitors and tends to lubricate hoses and cooling system parts. With pure water, you'd end up putting in several additives to achieve this protection. And, of course, there is the fact that you won't have to remember to change or, perhaps, be caught by surprise with the first unexpected freeze - and that could be a very unpleasant surprise.

The Parable Of The Nominal Churchman

M. Ronald Hamby
Pastor
First United Methodist Church

Jesus seemed to be convinced that parables were by far the best teaching method, so perhaps we might still learn best from them today, as in this contemporary parable borrowed from an unknown source:

There was once a man who lived in the final part of the 20th century. His home was new. Two cars and a boat graced his garage, color T.V. gleamed in his den, and new carpeting covered his floors. His family was wealthy. Lo, good fortune had smiled upon him.

As was his custom--when the fish were not biting, and when he was not out of town, or when company did not come, or when his friends did not persuade him to play golf, and when he was not too tired--he went to church regularly.

On these regular occasions (every month or two), he made it a point to deplore the state of religion. He noted the "empty places" in the church, the poor offering, the preacher's lack of enthusiasm, the shortcomings of the church school, and that the hymns were "not familiar" anymore. "They ought to do better," he said. "What happened to the old-fashioned religion that I knew as a child?"

So vacations and days off came and went. Many moons passed. This man's children grew up. They had no interest in the church, because "They" at the church had not interested them. As he grew older, the man's health failed. "They" did not visit him in his time of infirmity. Verily, he became angry, but being of a great heart, he decided to give the church another chance.

But behold, when he arrived there was no church--only a supermarket, open seven days a week. And the man went away very sad, crying "How could they let this happen?"

Those who have ears to hear, let them hear! Won't you be in your own church Sunday?

Letter To The Editor

Letter to the Editor:

This is my prayer for graduating seniors. Graduation time is in our high schools, colleges and universities. What a thrill it is to graduate.

I offer congratulations to each one of our graduates, both collegiate and high school. They are rejoicing in their accomplishments, and we rejoice with them and share their happiness.

I would like to offer this prayer in the behalf of all graduates.

"Our Gracious Heavenly Father, how wonderful, loving, and kind you are. Thy greatness reaches out as we realize the wonder of your hand through observing the creation in which we live. I thank you Father for these graduating seniors, who have reached this high accomplishment in life.

"May your loving hand of mercy direct the steps of each individual as they face major decisions. Because they have come to a Y in the road of life, and they must choose between various roads.

"I earnestly pray that these decisions which must be made, will have your hand of direction in them. May good judgment, foresight, and prudence be used, coupled with discretion in the making of these most important choices.

"In Jesus' name, that name which is above every name, the name at which every knee shall bow and every tongue confess is Lord, I pray. Amen."

"THOSE CRAZY EPISCOPALIANS"

are they living in the past?

Outwardly Episcopalians are pretty steeped in tradition. But in their relations with the world about them, they're a "today" sort of bunch.

They're usually among the first to address a compassionate ministry to people problems wherever those problems crop up.

Take alcoholism. It's no accident that one of the founders of Alcoholics Anonymous was a sympathetic Episcopal minister. Sam Shoemaker and some folks today make jokes about "Whiskeypalians."

It's true that this denomination is a bit more tolerant than some. They nourish a strange belief in guidelines — not straight-jackets — for a Christian life. They're not interested in condemning but in helping people.

It isn't really a new idea. Just a timely one.

Episcopalians believe they have good reason for many of their views. Maybe some of the reasons would make sense to you, too. It costs you nothing to contact the nearest Episcopal minister and find out. He won't even twist your arm.
