WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, making a homecoming report on the U.S.-Soviet summit, called for a new "steady as we go" era with Moscow and won applause from legislators who found "hope rather than accomplishment" in the blunt-spoken meetings in Geneva.

reflected the summit itself. There was little substance, but much hope for improved relations in the future."

Reagan, summing up the first superpower summit in six years, said he, like everyone, is "impatient for results." But, he added, "good-will and good hopes do not always yield lasting results. Quick fixes don't fix big problems."

For his part, Gorbachev left snowy Geneva with a message that mixed hope with a straightforward reminder that there are serious obstacles to the comprehensive arms control agreement that both men said they seek.

"I would be so bold as to say the world has become a more secure place" because of the three days of meetings, the Soviet leader told a news conference. But he issued a fresh condemnation of Reagan's so-called "Star Wars" plan for a space-based missile defense, saying that unless the president compromises, their vital work. The world is waiting for results."

That was certainly true in Congress, where most lawmakers praised Reagan's trip and expressed optimism about the future, even as a few critics complained there had

"all restraint will be blown to the wind" in the arms race.

The Gorbachev news conference and the Reagan speech were the final acts of a summit drama whose principal agreement — aside from accords on cultural exchanges and diplomatic facilities — was a decision for future summits. The two men will meet again in Washington next year and Moscow in 1987.

They failed to come up with a new framework for arms control talks, but Reagan said, "We are both instructing our negotiators to hasten been few concrete achievements.

Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole, R-Kan., called the summit "a hopeful beginning to a process of dialogue and negotiations which we hope will become more comprehensive and bring more concrete progress in the future."

"In particular," he said, "the decision to hold future summits, including the one in Washington next summer, is a welcome development."

Said Sen. Nancy Kassebaum, R-Kan., "While tangible accomplishments from the talks are

Administration could agree to rescue of FCS if Congress reforms lending

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration says it possibly could go along with a federal rescue of the faltering Farm Credit System if Congress agreed to reform the massive farm lending operation.

"The system does not now need the government's financial support in any fashion," Charles Sethness, an assistant treasury secretary, told the House Agriculture subcommittee on credit Thursday.

He and an Agriculture Department credit official reaffirmed the administration's opposition to an immediate bailout of the FCS, but endorsed provisions of a House bill to reorganize the lending system.

FCS reforms must be carried out before any federal assistance can be considered, they maintained.

Sethness said federal assistance to the FCS at this time "is the wrong approach, at the wrong time, leading to a possible wrong result."

Donald Wilkinson, the governor of the Farm Credit Administration, which oversees the $70 billion farmer-owned lending system, supported the legislation even though financial aid provisions do not guarantee the $6 billion that FCS officials have warned is necessary to keep the system afloat over the next three years.

Their remarks came as the House panel considered legislation by a bipartisan group of farm-state lawmakers to prop up the FCS, a network of 37 cooperatively owned banks that hold about a third of the nation's $214 billion agricultural debt.

Sethness and Frank Naylor, an undersecretary of agriculture, objected to the bill's provision for a backup line of federal credit for the FCS. Any amount of money could be provided at the discretion of the Treasury secretary to protect the financial stability of the farm lending system.

When the bill was first unveiled, it provided for as much as $3 billion in federal aid. However, that was changed to allow the administration complete discretion to determine the amounts of assistance.

The legislation would revamp the system's organization, providing the Farm Credit Administration with greater regulatory powers and removing it from day-to-day management decisions of the FCS.

It also would establish a new Farm Credit Capital Corp. to act as a "warehouse" for bad loans and acquired properties. The new component within the FCS would provide a central pool of financing for quick aid to struggling system institutions.

Commissioners meet Monday

The Deaf Smith County Commissioners will conduct business Monday at 10 a.m. in the courthouse.

Agenda items include: opening bids for a new roof on the E.B. Black House, permission to cross county roads with utility, discussion of juvenile detention records, an appointment to the county juvenile board, setting holidays for 1986, a request for bids on a pickup for Precinct 4, a grievance committee appointment, a county policy workshop and discussion of the Panhandle Alcoholic Recovery Center.

The commissioners also will hear from the Hereford Lions Club about use of the Bull Barn for bingo and will accept the resignation and appoint a replacement for an alternate election judge in Precinct 1.

The traditional weekend-after-Thanksgiving kickoff of the Christmas shopping season is still a week away, but holiday shopping is already well underway in Hereford and other places.

Merchants here sponsored a "Home for the Holidays" promotion earlier this month to launch Thanksgiving and Christmas shopping. One of the factors creating the early interest in Christmas shopping is the shorter period between Thanksgiving and Christmas this year. The other factor, locally, was that Amarillo merchants always kickoff the shopping season before Thanksgiving.

Shoppers here have already taken advantage of the early promotion to get their shopping done. A number of retail stores reported they have wrapped many gifts in Christmas packages. The shopping will continue right up to Christmas Eve, however, as one store owner pointed out.

People across the nation, and especially in our 19th Congressional District, are mourning the death of George Mahon, who served in Congress for 44 years and was one of the most powerful men in federal government during his 17 years as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

To me, Mr. Mahon was the prime example of what a public official should be. He was a giant, yet he never talked down to anyone. He never lost touch with the people back in his district or his respect for their individual worth and opinions. His dedication to his country and the people he served was genuine.

I first met Mr. Mahon in 1946. The postmaster at Lamesa had nominated me for appointment to West Point, and I was called to the post office to visit with the congressman. Although I decided against going to West Point, our friendship with Mr. Mahon grew over the years. He would call me on some occasions to "feel my pulse" on some issue, and I called him on occasions for information and help.

He had a keen memory of people and events. Before his retirement, I called him to request that he offer an appointment to West Point for a young man from Hereford. "I'd be

Waite says problems can be resolved

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Anglican church envoy Terry Waite said today he has met twice more with the kidnapers of American hostages and faces "very grave difficulties" in his efforts to free the captives.

But Waite said he believes the problems can be resolved with more work.

"A good measure of mutual trust has been established and I am able to say that progress is being made," he told reporters in a news conference at the Commodore Hotel.

Waite, a layman sent by Archbishop of Canterbury Robert Runcie, said the two latest meetings with the Americans' captors occurred after he returned to Beirut on Tuesday.

He previously disclosed at least one meeting with the captors, believed to be fundamentalist Shiite Moslems, during his initial round of contacts last week.

Waite declined to give any details of the new meetings at secret locations in Beirut.

"It might appear to some that a point of deadlock has been reached," he said. "While I do not deny the very grave difficulties facing me with this problem, I do believe it can be resolved."

"That will involve a great deal more work by myself and the goodwill and support of others," he said.

Waite's words were punctuated by the sound of rifle fire and explosions in the streets around the Commodore as Druse and Shiite Moslem militiamen battled for the third day.

Waite originally scheduled the news conference Thursday, but had to postpone it when he was trapped by the fighting for six hours in the Associated Press bureau near the hotel.

The fighting also forced him to delay a planned flight Thursday to Larnaca, Cyprus, and from there to New York for consultations with U.S.

officials. He said he now plans to leave Saturday.

He reiterated that he was "satisfied beyond all doubt that I was in touch with the right people."

He said without elaboration: "I have asked the captors not to harm the hostages in any way." He did not say whether he has seen the hostages.

Waite began his one-man mission Nov. 13 shortly after Runcie, the spiritual head of the Church of England, received a letter from four of the six Americans missing in Lebanon.

Two playoff games hosted by C of C

Hereford's Whiteface Stadium will be the neutral site for two football playoff games this weekend, thanks to the efforts of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and its sports committee headed by Ike Stevens.

Tonight's battle features a Class A regional playoff game between Phillips (8-2) of District 1-1A and Amherst (7-2-1) of District 2-1A. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

Two strong Class AAA teams clash at 2 p.m. Saturday when the Perryton Rangers take on the Post Antelopes. Both teams have 9-2 win-loss records. Perryton surprised Tulia, 34-7, in the bi-district playoffs last week while Post rolled to a one-sided 75-14 win over Fabens. The Harris Rating System for schoolboy football places Post as a two-point favorite.

Phillips beat Groom, 14-0, last week while Amherst upset Nazareth by 22-13. The Harris system ranks Phillips as a nine-point favorite in this contest.

The Deaf Smith C of C, through cooperation of the Hereford Independent District, provides the facilities and manpower for football playoff games at little or no cost to the participating teams. Volunteer workers help conduct the games.

Federal panel hears farmworker woes

PHARR Texas (AP) — Farmworkers are not getting paid minimum wages, are discriminated against and field sanitation regulations are not being enforced, a federal labor panel was told.

About 60 people showed up Thursday night for a U.S. Department of Labor hearing regarding migrant workers and farmworkers.

The six-member panel heard that thousands of farmworkers and vegetable packing shed workers lost their jobs after a freeze in December 1983 virtually wiped out the citrus industry.

People testifying before the group also said that the recent devaluations of the Mexican peso have prompted an unusually high number of illegal aliens to seek jobs in the Rio Grande Valley.

They urged the panel to do something to combat that problem.

Sister Maureen Leach, representing the United Farm Workers of America, said that farmworkers are not getting paid the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour.

She also said that people over age 40 constantly are discriminated against, passed over for younger workers, and that state field sanitation regulations are not being enforced.

The field sanitation rules are not required by federal laws, but Texas is one of 13 states that does have such regulations.

"We need federal standards and we need enforcement," Sister Leach said.

Troy Lowery of the Texas Department of Health said that local health department officials enforce the regulations.

Defector performs in 'the Nutcracker'

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — When Ballet El Paso invited D'mitri Korbeinikov to be a guest dancer in their annual Christmas special "The Nutcracker," the dance company laid the groundwork for the performer's eventual defection.

Korbeinikov, then a member of Ballet Nacional de Mexico, will perform in El Paso again this year, but this time as a Soviet defector to the United States.

Korbeinikov was granted political asylum last week by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service after formally defecting Sept. 6.

Korbeinikov, who trained for eight years in the Bolshoi Theater School of Dance, said he arrived in Mexico four years ago after he met and married Natasha Lagunas Wolfman, dancer and daughter of a Mexican diplomat in Moscow.

"The Russian government could not legally deny a passport to the spouse of a foreign national," he said. "It's in the Helsinki accord."

Korbeinikov, who speaks better Spanish than English, said that although both he and his wife were members of the Ballet Nacional de Mexico, he was the only one invited by Ballet El Paso last year to perform in "The Nutcracker."

He said that at the time, he came to El Paso with a guest visa from the U.S. government.

DHS board eases Medicaid controls

AUSTIN (AP) — New hospital facilities in Texas have been removed from a moratorium on receiving Medicaid funds, and controls on the health care money for nursing homes have been eased.

The Texas Board of Human Services voted unanimously Thursday to remove the state hold on Medicaid funds for needy hospital patients.

However, the board decided it needed to keep strict control of Medicaid funds for new and expanded nursing homes but with some exceptions to take of hardship cases.

The board also agreed to take another look at the nursing home situation when permanent rules are adopted in early 1986.

The board acted Thursday after Rep. Juan J. Hinojosa, D-McAllen, and several other legislators accused the department of issuing the moratorium last July because the 1985 Legislature had done away with the Texas Health Facilities Commission.

Hurricane Kate crashes through

PORT ST. JOE, Fla. (AP) — Kate, downgraded from a hurricane to a tropical storm today, left more than 100,000 people without electricity and Florida's Panhandle a maze of flooded streets, toppled trees and roofless buildings.

Ninety percent of Tallahassee, the state capital, was blacked out after Kate barreled ashore Thursday, forcing more than 100,000 people to evacuate and spinning at least eight tornadoes across the panhandle and southern Georgia.

The twisters and high wind ripped the roofs off buildings in the Panama City area and Meigs, Ga., toppled Apalachicola's water tower, tore down trees and knocked down power lines in Port St. Joe, Mexico Beach and Tallahassee.

Up to 30,000 homes and businesses were without power Thursday night, from Panama City west to Apalachicola River, Gulf Power Co. said. Eight Florida Power Co. substations were knocked out and 90 percent of Tallahassee, a city of about 89,500, was blacked out early today, said Joy McIlwain, a spokeswoman for the state Division of Emergency Management.

Two people drowned when their fishing boat capsized in Kate's high seas, one man was electrocuted when he stepped on a utility line and an 81-year-old woman died of a heart attack after being evacuated.

The 11th named storm of the 1985 Atlantic hurricane season, Kate was blamed for up to 10 deaths and "grave" destruction to crops and property in Cuba.

Streets were impassable, flooded by heavy rainfall or blocked by fallen trees and coastal roads, which had taken a beating from previous hurricanes Elena and Juan, were crumbling into the Gulf of Mexico in several areas.

Martin makes tongue-in-cheek remark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Lynn Martin, in a speech on the House floor, suggested that men spent more of their time this week reading the sports pages of newspapers than studying the stories on the Geneva summit.

The Illinois Republican made the tongue-in-cheek remarks Thursday in response to comments attributed to White House Chief of Staff Donald Regan earlier in the week. Regan was quoted in The Washington Post on Monday as saying that women don't understand human rights or superpower summitry.

"On Tuesday, I had lunch with a number of my male colleagues," Mrs. Martin said, "and their conversation ... was about the dreadful accident that befell the quarterback of the Washington Redskins." She was referring to the broken leg Joe Theismann suffered in Monday night's National Football League game.

"From this, I have determined that males read sports pages and know very little about what happens — or care — in Geneva," she added.

Dole receives notice for 'Daddy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole is used to hearing from constituents — but probably not often from colleagues' daughters.

Dole got a personal plea Thursday from the 6-year-old daughter of Sen. Dan Quayle, R-Ind., to let her father out early.

Dole told his colleagues, who have been working late this week, that he wanted to get done in time to honor a special request, then read the letter he had received:

"Dear Senator Dole, I am having my second-grade play tonight. Please make sure there aren't any votes between 7 and 9 so my daddy can be with me. Please come with him if you can. Love, Corinne Quayle."

Dole said, "I do not want to be in the doghouse with her."

Comet gets its own hotline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Demand for information about Halley's Comet has kept the single, comet information line at the U.S. Naval Observatory busy almost 24 hours a day.

So, the observatory plans to experiment with a high-volume commercial service for its hotline starting in December.

The new Halley Hotline number will be 900-410-8766.

Calls to the new hotline, which will offer recorded messages, will cost 50 cents for the first minute and 35 cents for each additional minute for residents of the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Congressmen pleased with dialogue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas congressmen said they were pleased by renewed dialogue between the United States and the Soviet Union, but expressed disappointment at a lack of resolutions on tough issues.

"The summit provided neither a breakdown nor a breakthrough in U.S.-Soviet relations," said Sen. Lloyd Bentsen. "Their failure to make any visible headway on an arms control agreement is disappointing, but this is the first such summit in six years and it was expected to be a time for sowing seeds, not harvesting."

President Reagan returned Thursday after meeting with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev in Geneva. Reagan told a joint session of Congress that the summit wasn't a meeting of the minds, but did move arms control forward from where it was last January.

Sen. Phil Gramm said Reagan's "upbeat" mood during the summit and his speech to Congress is reflected by the American people. Still, Gramm was cautious in his predictions of better U.S.-Soviet relations.

"I think first of all, as the president said so clearly, we have to be realistic. The Soviets are not going to change as a result of one meeting or maybe of a million," Gramm said.

'We have to be realistic...'

"They still have their same ambitions and designs, but I think clearly that having President Reagan ... sit down and talk for two days with Gorbachev," Gramm said, "was a necessary precondition for any kind of normalization of relations with the Soviets."

Rep. Joe Barton, R-Ennis, said he was pleased with the results of the summit.

"I'm not a great believer in the good will of the Soviet Union. I am somewhat distrustful of their intentions, so I am pleased by the results of the summit," Barton said.

Barton said he likes the idea of a "people to people" cultural exchange program which Reagan and Gorbachev agreed to initiate. He also said plans for the two superpower heads to meet again seem promising.

"The agreement to meet twice more in the next two years could be of great benefit," Barton said. "When you know you're going to be meeting every year, you're more willing to put more issues on the table. The more frequent you're in contact the greater chance of reaching an agreement."

The most important product of the summit, said Rep. Jim Chapman, D-Sulphur Springs, "is that the whole world is safer today than it was 48 hours ago."

"The summit acknowledged differences but apparently has not narrowed them. Key issues regarding the strategic defense initiative, sometimes known as Star Wars, and human rights have yet to be resolved," Chapman said.

Pen pals of 50 years visit in West Texas

By JAN TOMAS
San Angelo Standard-Times

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — Mary Hay of San Angelo and Phyllis Collinge of Todorden, England, became pen pals in the early 1930s when both were about 10 years old.

"We were Methodists. I got her name from a church publication. I don't know if I liked her name, or if it was because our birthdays were close together," Mrs. Hay said.

Mrs. Collinge and her husband, Jim Collinge, recently spent three weeks visiting the Hays.

Now in their mid-60s, the women have shared all aspects of their lives as they grew up — school, marriage, children and grandchildren. Neither kept any letters, but both have saved pictures sent to one another over the decades.

As World War II brides, they worried by long distance about their husbands, Collinge in Africa and Italy and Hay in the Pacific.

Their friendship spans an era that included a depression, three wars and some shocking events.

"I remember the Duke of Windsor was in love with Wallis Simpson and the British public didn't know. I wrote to Phyllis about it," Mrs. Hay said.

Mrs. Collinge chimed in. "I didn't understand her letter. A few months later it became public. They had kept it from us."

The women looked at one another. "I don't suppose such a thing could happen nowadays," Mrs. Hay said thoughtfully.

The pair first met in 1966 when the Hays visited England. "I remember the airport at Manchester," Mrs. Collinge said to Mrs. Hay. "As soon as you appeared at the door I knew it was you." The Hays returned to visit the Collinges three more times.

There were no surprises for the two friends. They said they each felt they had always known one another. Neither was surprised by the other's language accent. "We are both calm and placid people," Mrs. Hays said. The Collinges showed England to the Hays, just as the Hays would take their British friends around the American southwest 19 years later.

The friendly people of Texas get high marks from Mrs. Collinge. Next, she said she enjoyed the "lovely sunshine."

For Mrs. Hay, the chimney pots, the ancient buildings and the Roman walls of England were most enchanting. "I liked the pubs there. They are a real gathering place for people."

Not many people reach retirement age with a child friendship intact. "I think it's great to have a friend for such a long time. You appreciate knowing people for so long," Mrs. Collinge said.

FARMWORKERS

Sister Leach and others at the hearing said that farmers constantly violated the minimum wage law, saying that some workers were getting 30 cents per bucket of tomatoes and sometimes that amounts to about $1 an hour.

They were told that some farmers who employed less than six people were exempt from paying minimum wage.

Bobby Scott, representing the minimum wage division, said that he wanted specific complaints about abuses and that his office would investigate them.

Farmers did not testify at the hearing.

A woman whose migrant family worked in New Jersey last summer complained about living conditions

"We don't think some of the local health departments are quite as aggressive as we would like them to be," Lowery said.

happy to do that," said Mahon. "After all, I probably owe you one since you didn't take the appointment many years ago," he answered with a chuckle.

I lived in Mahon's 19th Congressional District all my life. When we moved to Hereford in 1972, I thought I'd be out of his district. Boundaries were changed, however, and Deaf Smith was added to Mahon's territory.

Mr. Mahon was the lone reason I was against the proposal to limit the terms of congressmen. It makes sense to limit the terms, because too many elected officials spend most of their time and talents running for reelection. However, I couldn't see arbitrary legislation cutting short the career of such a man as Mahon.

His unique qualities carried him above the level of politician, to the level of statesman. Lubbock Mayor Alan Henry, a former assistant to Mr. Mahon, probably said it best:

"George Mahon undoubtedly was the most respected congressman that our nation has known. It is doubtful if we will ever see another George Mahon. His sense of loyalty to our nation and his district was absolute. He used his awesome power wisely and well, but he knew when to pass it along graciously at the proper time."

that their employer provided for them.

Isabel Soliz that during her years as a migrant worker last year was the worst because of the horrible living conditions.

"The first day we didn't sleep because we didn't know where we were going to sleep," Mrs. Soliz said. "We wanted to leave, but my husband had already committed himself to doing the job."

"But we were 10 living in a two-bedroom house and a kitchen," she said.

She said they were moved later after federal inspectors found out about their conditions. They were moved to a larger home, but the conditions were just as bad, she said.

"We will never go back to that camp again," she said. "But we have to leave the state to work because here in the Valley there are no jobs. If we stayed it would be very bad."

Panel members answered some questions and said other queries would be placed in a report that the panel would present to a national committee.

Sister Leach urged the panel to act on the complaints.

"Year after year we have heard you tell us that DOL is understaffed and that this is why many laws protecting farmworkers are not enforced," she said. "Farmworkers are tired of speaking to deaf ears."

Lady gets caught 'squeezing the Charmin'

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A squeeze has resulted in a pinch at a supermarket in this Texas Panhandle city.

Well, it wasn't exactly a squeeze, but it certainly was a pinch.

It seems that a 53-year-old Amarillo woman was apprehended after security officers spotted her suspiciously handling a six-pack of Charmin toilet tissue.

Mr. Whipple of the famed television commercial wasn't around to take charge of the matter, so the security officers did.

It turns out, detectives explained, the suspect squeezer didn't want the toilet tissue and wasn't mimicking the product's well-known television commercial.

You know the one, where the bespectacled grocer Mr. Whipple admonishes his customers not to squeeze the "squeezeably" soft tissue?

When the Amarillo woman finished with the tissue, she returned the package to the store shelf and walked away, police said. Then, the security officers went to the shelf and observed the woman's crime.

She had torn the label from the package.

They moved in and apprehended the woman and accused her of ripping the label from the covering of the package. However, they reported, the woman initially denied any knowledge of the offense.

The woman then explained that she took the label because she needed the proof of purchase label from the product to take advantage of a special offer.

The woman was issued a citation for criminal mischief under $20 and was given a trespassing warning not to return to the store.

Search team confirms finding B-52

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A joint U.S.-Vietnamese team searching for remains of four American MIAs has confirmed that wreckage they unearthed is from a U.S. Air Force B-52 bomber, a spokeswoman said today.

Vietnamese who are working at the site side-by-side with the American team say the plane was shot down 13 years ago during the Vietnam War.

SUMMIT

modest, I believe the summit has opened the way for serious, detailed negotiations on a series of critical issues...."

Sen. Albert Gore Jr., D-Tenn., said, "It's possible the private discussions began a mind-changing in one or both leaders."

Johnston said the tone of the talk was "hope rather than accomplishment."

Reagan flew to Brussels to meet with leaders of NATO allies, who greeted him warmly.

Then the president boarded Air Force One for the flight back to the United States, a helicopter ride to the Capitol, and the speech to the joint session of Congress that capped a 20-hour workday.

A "number of larger aircraft parts" as well as operator manuals were found by the team Thursday — enough material to identify the plane as a B-52, said Capt. Virginia Pribyla. Pieces of metal thought to be part of an airplane had been found earlier.

She said the exact identification of the plane could not yet be made.

The excavation began Tuesday and is scheduled to conclude Nov. 29, she said.

Vietnam says four airmen were killed when their B-52 was shot down on Dec. 20, 1972 and plummeted into the agricultural commune of Yen Thuong, nine miles north of Hanoi. Two of the six crew members parachuted out of the plane, were captured, and later released, Vietnam says.

The American side has said it had no record of a B-52 crash on that date.

Sharing hostess' duties at the monthly meeting and covered dish supper were Bea Knabe, manager, Gail Garrt, Mary Garza, Rosie Hernandez, Alecia Jimenez, Pam King, Lupe Lopez and Billie Sims.

Trudie Gray, cafeteria supervisor, spoke briefly to the 56 employees and several guests in attendance. She announced that the December meeting would be the annual Christmas party for all cafeteria employees and guests.

Sharon Pennington, a deputy of Deaf Smith County's Sheriff's Department, was the guest speaker. She distributed an "attitude sheet."

The questions were answered and discussed after she presented a slide presentation on rape prevention. She announced that other information material was available through Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence Center of Amarillo.

The meeting was adjourned when Gray dismissed the group.

Insects have blood and hearts that pump blood through their bodies. Insects' blood is usually green, yellow or colorless. The heart is a tube-like vessel extending the full length of the body.

Saturday against Midwestern

Bufs to begin hoop season

The West Texas State University men's basketball team opens the 1985-86 season Saturday when the Buffaloes play host to Midwestern University.

Gary Moss is starting his second year as head coach of the Bufs. WTSU had an 11-17 record last season, and a 4-12 Missouri Valley Conference record.

The season opener will be played at the Amarillo Civic Center at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The all-time series between West Texas State and Midwestern University is tied at 6-6, with WTSU last winning a game over Midwestern in the 1962-63 season.

Starters for West Texas State are expected to be Earl Davis, a 5-11 senior guard who averaged 9.1 points and 2.2 rebounds last year; Jerry Singletary, a 6-0 junior guard who averaged 15 points and 3.3 rebounds; Orlando Graham, a 6-8½ sophomore center who averaged 11.4 points and 6.4 rebounds; William Childs, a 6-6 senior forward who averaged 10.5

points and 4.6 rebounds; and Fred Johnson, a 6-7 senior forward who averaged 4.3 points and 1.3 rebounds.

"Midwestern is a tough team to open up against. They have a great basketball tradition," Moss said.

"I've known Coach Gerald Stockton for a long time, and I think he is one of the better basketball coaches in the country.

"We'll have to be ready and play with intensity. If we execute, everything should go well; if we don't execute, we'll definitely have some problems.

"The Indians have two good players, Robert Harris and Robert Jordan, who can control a game. We'll have to stop them.

"Depth could be a factor for us. It looks like we can possibly go to seven players."

Harris is a 6-1 junior guard for Midwestern, and Jordan is a 6-4 senior forward.

The Buffaloes' second game of the season will also be at home, against Adams State at 7:30 p.m. in the Amarillo Civic Center. WTSU plays homes games on Dec. 3 against Panhandle State at 7:30 p.m., and on Dec. 7 against Southern University at 7:30 p.m.

Dallas passing versus Philadelphia's No. 1 defense

Cowboys plays Eagles Sunday

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
AP Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Eagles safety Ray Ellis says he's looking forward to the game against Dallas Sunday because it matches the Cowboys' excellent passing offense against the Eagles' No. 1 pass defense.

"That's a challenge," Ellis said. The Cowboys' pass offense leads the National Football League's National Conference and places third in the league, while the Eagles' pass defense tops the NFL.

Ellis leads the Eagles in fumble recoveries with three and has forced two fumbles. He also has made three interceptions and 72 tackles.

A five-year veteran of the Eagles' wars with Dallas, Ellis says the Cowboys' play pass makes their pass

HHS sophomores score 54-46 win over Plainview

Hereford High School's sophomore boys' basketball team won its season opener Thursday night, defeating Plainview 54-46 in a road game.

The HHS sophomores play at Lubbock Coronado at 11 a.m. Saturday, and then play at home next Tuesday against Dumas at 4:30 p.m.

The score was tied 7-7 at the end of the first quarter Thursday, and Plainview held a 21-19 halftime lead.

Hereford moved into the lead in the third quarter, holding a 34-32 lead at the end of the period. Hereford then outscored Plainview 20-14 in the last quarter to record its 54-46 victory.

Scoring in double figures for Hereford were Bobby Robbins with 18 points and Ross Torres with 10 points.

Trent Bowling scored seven points, and Raymond Romo added six points.

Oilers add third quarterback to team roster

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers added quarterback Mike Moroski to their roster Thursday by releasing wide receiver Steve Bryant, a team spokesman said.

Moroski is a seven-year veteran out of California Davis. He will be back up for other Oiler quarterbacks, Warren Moon, who is injured, and Oliver Luck.

Bryant was acquired by the Oilers in the 1982 draft after playing college ball in Purdue.

"They have a guy like Tony Dorsett, who you're so worried about getting the ball and running. And they'll run the draw with Dorsett off that play pass," Ellis said.

"It holds the linebackers in a little bit, and the receivers run across the middle. Then the linebackers can't get back fast enough to help out. Or they'll come up with the big play with Dorsett going down the middle, or try to hit Tony Hill on a long bomb and Mike Renfro on a long bomb."

When the defense least expects the pass play, the Cowboys come with it, Ellis said.

"They'll work that running game and work it and work it and work it, and boom they'll hit you with the long pass," Ellis said.

Ellis said whether backup Gary Hogboom or Danny White directs the Cowboys' offense makes little difference. White is injured and listed as a probable.

White, who had earlier been listed as "questionable," was listed as "probable" Thursday. He was injured in last Sunday's 44-0 loss to the Chicago Bears.

"You have to prepare for him (Hogboom) just like any other quarterback. We've had times this year when we've played against a backup quarterback who came in and did a great job. Hogboom is a darn good quarterback," Ellis said.

Hogboom substituted for an injured White when Dallas lost, 16-14, to the Eagles in Philadelphia Oct. 20.

Eagles quarterback Ron Jaworski still is listed as doubtful with a bruised shoulder. Jaworski, who threw for 380 yards and a touchdown in the first game against Dallas, suffered the injury Sunday against St. Louis and hasn't practiced this week.

Jaworski insisted Thursday that he would play. Coach Marion Campbell said he was optimistic that his 13-year veteran passer would start, but trainer Otho Davis remained cautious.

Jaworski has declined the use of a special shoulder pad, claiming it limits his motion.

The Eagles, 6-5, must win to stay in contention for a playoff spot. Dallas, tied for first place with the New York Giants at 7-4 in the NFC East, also views a victory as a must.

Showdown game is Oklahoma versus Nebraska

Many bowl berths could be decided Saturday

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — One of the nation's top collegiate offenses will face one of the country's stingiest defenses when Nebraska and Oklahoma collide in a game that could decide the Big Eight championship and a trip to the Orange Bowl.

The Cornhuskers, second-ranked in the nation with a 9-1 record, are 6-0 in the Big Eight. They bring into the game the nation's best rushing attack, averaging 395 yards a game, and are the No. 2 team in total offense.

The Sooners are ranked first in total defense and second nationally against the rush. Oklahoma, 7-1 and 5-0, has given up an average of 65 yards a game on the ground.

The matchup is being nationally televised on ABC-TV beginning at 2:30 p.m. CST.

Combatants in several other bowls also could be decided Saturday.

In a night game that will reflect on the national championship, Penn

State protects its No. 1 ranking and a trip to the Orange Bowl against Pittsburgh. The rest of the Top Ten schedule has Minnesota at No. 3 Iowa, Colorado State at No. 4 Miami, Fla., No. 12 Ohio State at No. 6 Michigan, No. 7 Oklahoma State at Iowa State and No. 8 UCLA at Southern Cal. Colorado State and Miami will play at night.

In the Second Ten, the schedule is Utah at No. 11 Brigham Young, No. 13 Air Force at Hawaii, No. 15 Baylor at Texas, No. 16 Tennessee at Kentucky, No. 17 Louisiana State at Notre Dame, Southern Methodist at No. 18 Arkansas and No. 19 Texas A&M at Texas Christian. Air Force at Hawaii is a night game.

The Baylor Bears will be bucking history on Saturday when they try to barge into the Cotton Bowl with a victory over the Texas Longhorns.

The 15th ranked Bears haven't beaten Texas in Austin since 1951 but they'll have to if they want to make their third Cotton Bowl visit.

The Bears have a high-scoring offense and are ninth in the country in scoring defense.

"This game is what we've worked for since the end of last season," said Baylor Coach Grant Teaff. "We made a commitment then. It went through the spring and summer and into two-a-days. I'm very pleased and excited to be in this position."

"We've worked hard to become a good team and we have. How good we really are we'll find out Saturday."

Baylor was a two-point pick by the oddsmakers over Texas for the 12:04 p.m. regionally (Raycom) televised game. In other SWC clashes, Texas Tech was a one-point underdog in Coach Jerry Moore's final game at the AstroDome in Houston against the Cougars; Arkansas was a one-point favorite over Southern Methodist in Fayetteville; and Texas A&M was a 21-point pick over Texas Christian in Fort Worth. Rice is idle this week.

The Razorbacks are expected to be Holiday Bowl bound while the Bluebonnet Bowl is interested in either Texas A&M or Baylor.

Texas Coach Fred Akers said the Bears are a very talented team.

"The Bears have as much talent as anybody," said Akers. "They have tremendous speed and quickness, and their quarterbacks are experienced, skilled operators. It will be a real challenge."

Akers said he is proud of his team which has only one SWC loss just like the Bears.

"Our team has come a very long way from the time it was picked in the bottom division of the conference race," said Akers. "They deserve a lot of credit for what they've accomplished. Not many people believed we would be to this point with our destiny in our hands — a shot at the title and at the Cotton Bowl."

The annual Nebraska-Oklahoma contest has decided the Big Eight champion 38 of the past 40 years. The Big Eight champ is the host team in the Orange Bowl. Penn State already has verbally committed to play the Big Eight winner in Miami on New Year's night.

If Nebraska wins or ties Saturday, the Huskers would go to the Orange Bowl. A loss reportedly would send the Huskers to the Fiesta Bowl.

A win by Oklahoma puts the Sooners in a showdown with Oklahoma State next week for the conference title. Nebraska beat Oklahoma State earlier in the season to give the Cowboys their only loss.

Indications are that if Oklahoma beats Nebraska but loses to Oklahoma State, the Sooners would go to the Gator Bowl with Oklahoma State going to the Orange Bowl.

Bowl bids officially can be extended Saturday.

A close game could easily be decided by the leg of Nebraska kicker Dale Klein, who hit seven field goals for an NCAA record against Missouri, set a school single-season record last week with his 13th three-pointer.

Penn State, at 10-0 one of only two unbeaten Division I-A schools, winds up its season against Pitt, 5-4-1. The Nittany Lions are coming off a 36-6 drubbing of Notre Dame, while the Panthers have lost two of their last three. The other major unbeaten is Bowling Green, which is headed to the California Bowl Dec. 14 in Fresno, Calif., against Fresno State, the Pacific Coast Athletic Association champion.

The Big Ten Conference could send as many as six teams to major bowls.

Iowa, 9-1, could clinch the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl Jan. 1 with a victory over underdog Minnesota at Iowa City. But, if the Hawkeyes should lose, the winner of the Ohio State-Michigan game goes to Pasadena, Calif. In any case, both of those teams, plus a couple of others from the Big Ten, will be bowl bound.

Michigan also could go to one of two New Year's Day bowls, either the Fiesta Bowl or the Cotton Bowl, while Ohio State could go to either the Florida Citrus Bowl Dec. 28 at Orlando, Fla., or the Cotton Bowl.

If Illinois beats Northwestern on Saturday, the Illini are ticketed for the Peach Bowl on Dec. 31 against Army, which ends its season Saturday against Navy. Minnesota looks like it is headed for the Independence Bowl Dec. 21 at Shreveport, La., against the Clemson-South Carolina winner, while Michigan State could go to the All American Bowl Dec. 31 at Birmingham, Ala., against Georgia Tech.

The Southeastern Conference could send as many as five teams to bowl games, but the glamour bowl for the SEC is the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1 at New Orleans. No. 9 Florida leads the SEC but is on NCAA probation, so it appears the conference title will go to 4-1-1 Louisiana State, 3-1 Tennessee or 3-1-1 Alabama. Tennessee, with games left against second-division teams Kentucky and Vanderbilt, appears to be the frontrunner.

LSU could also go to the Liberty Bowl Dec. 27 at Memphis, while Alabama has been mentioned for the Aloha Bowl Dec. 28 in Honolulu. Georgia could go to the Sun Bowl Dec. 28 at El Paso, Texas, while Auburn has been mentioned for both the Cotton Bowl and Florida Citrus.

Besides the Orange Bowl, the Big Eight Conference could land teams in three other bowls. Colorado, fourth in the conference, has been mentioned for the Freedom Bowl, while the Fiesta Bowl apparently would like to take the Big Eight's No. 2 team with the No. 3 team in the conference going to the Gator Bowl against Florida State.

The Pacific-10 Conference appears to have four teams bowl-bound. UCLA could clinch the title and a trip to the Rose Bowl by beating Southern Cal Saturday. If UCLA loses, Arizona State could go with a victory over Arizona. ASU also has been mentioned for the Holiday Bowl. Arizona could go to the Sun Bowl, while Washington has been mentioned for the Freedom Bowl.

Normally, the Western Athletic Conference champion would go to the Holiday Bowl, but since it's on a Sunday, Brigham Young, a Mormon school, could not have played. So, the obligation was dropped for a year.

Air Force leads the conference with a 6-1 record going into the Hawaii game, with BYU at 5-1 while facing Utah. Air Force has been mentioned for the Bluebonnet Bowl, while BYU could go to the Florida Citrus Bowl.

ENMU aims for share of conference championship

Eastern New Mexico University's Greyhound football team has an opportunity to be co-champions of the Lone Star Conference, and that opportunity will come in the regular season finale Saturday.

ENMU plays at Texas A&I in Kingsville at 6:30 p.m. Saturday. Texas A&I will be trying to win the conference championship outright with a victory or at least a tie.

Season records for the teams are 5-4 for Eastern New Mexico and 7-3 for Texas A&I. Texas A&I leads the conference with a 4-0 mark, and ENMU is 3-1.

Eastern New Mexico's conference loss was 51-38 to East Texas State, a team that Texas A&I scored a 22-19 victory over.

Texas A&I is averaging 241 yards rushing compared to 97 yards by its opponents. In the air, A&I averages 128 yards compared to its opponents' 216.

The Greyhounds have averages of 236 yards passing and 46 yards rushing per game, while their opponents are averaging 142 yards passing and 181 yards rushing.

ENMU players Cecil Jackson and Herman Evans were named Lone Star Conference players of the week on offense and defense, respectively, for their efforts in the Greyhounds' 26-24 win over Angelo State last week.

Jackson, a 6-4, 220-pound linebacker, had two quarterback sacks in that game, caused a fumble and blocks a punt. The blocked punt led to a safety which won the game for ENMU.

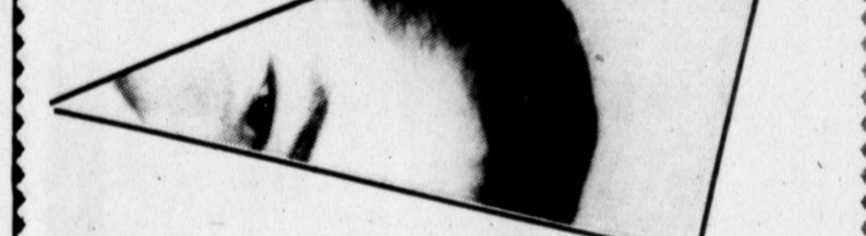

Evans, the 6-0, 180-pound starting quarterback for the Greyhounds, completed 20 of 46 passes against Angelo State for 329 yards and two touchdowns.

Ann Landers

Something to think about

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is in answer to "I Spell Well But My Typing Is Lousy."

Apparently "Spell Well" has never studied a foreign language.

I am tired of hearing how hard it is to learn to spell because our language has crazy words like "bough," "beaux" and "bow."

Most other languages have words with masculine and feminine genders. The English language has none of that nonsense.

In French there are nine tenses in the indicative, two in the conditional and four in the subjunctive. This means dozens of special endings to memorize.

It would be hard enough if all the verbs were the same type, but they fall into four classes for a grand total of 360 different endings in order to conjugate the regular verbs. Then, of course, there are the irregular verbs. (I have lost count of them.)

The pronunciation of a French word doesn't give you a clue as to how it is spelled. Half the letters are silent.

Chinese is the real killer. Many words sound alike but they have different meanings when they are said in a higher (or lower) pitched voice. In other words, you have to "sing" them just right or you are saying something altogether different. Also there are hundreds of dialects. The Chinese you learn in Canton won't help you a bit in Beijing.

I'm sorry to say that we Americans are getting soft in the head from thinking everything should be easy. Let's apply ourselves and work hard to raise our national IQ.

In the last 25 years our educational standards have lagged shamefully behind those of many other countries. Have you noticed how the Japanese have been beating our brains out when it comes to manufacturing cars, cameras and TV sets?—ENUFF SAID IN N.J.

DEAR N.J.: Maybe too much. I'll bet I get a lot of flak in response to your last paragraph.

Last spring I sat on the platforms of three fine institutions of higher learning and watched the diplomas and honors handed out. The majority of summa cum laudes and magnas went to Chinese, Vietnamese and Japanese students. It gave me something to think about.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I didn't care for the answer you gave to the woman whose fat friend broke her furniture. Why should people have to put up with such stuff? Maybe YOU can afford to have chairs and sofas repaired every few months but most people can't.

One of my cousins weighs about 240 pounds. I like Edith a lot but after she busted two chairs in my living room and got stuck in another one, I told her she had to sit in the steel-frame kitchen chair I got from my grandmother or she couldn't visit me anymore.

She didn't get mad or anything, just said, "I understand," and we never had any more words about it.

I believe the only way to deal with a problem is to be up-front.

It makes life a lot easier and in my case I saved money on furniture repair bills.—NO SOFT SOAP IN SEATTLE

DEAR N.S.S.: Well said. We approached the problem from different angles but came out at just about the same place. Thanks for the reinforcement.

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged by Parents? How to Get More Freedom," could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611.
