Rain Slows Attendance When Annul Fair Opens Thursday

If Weather Fairs Up Rain Will Increase Crowds For Big Show Over Week End

Friday Will Be Observed As Children's Day With All Midway Rides Going For Only Five Cents

Rain dampened the opening of the Fourth Annual Dawson County Fair which opened its gates this morning. Heavy overcast skies with occasional showers thinned the crowds to practically nil. However, officials feel that if the weather clears up, the rains will likely mean a large crowd, as it will delay cotton gathering.

The peak of the crowd is expected on Friday and Saturday, with the schools being dismissed for Friday and the usually large Saturday crowd, accounting for the increase. This has been the history of the association since its inception.

Booths were in readiness Thursday and everything is in shipshape for the large crowds that are expected. Merchants were busily engaged in preparing commercial booths at an early hour Thursday, as well as the club booths, live stock exhibits, etc.

The Exhibits this year are up to advance expectations are well above the average.

Crowds have thronged the midway, throughout the week since the Tidwell shows opened Monday.

This is the Fourth Annual event and will continue throughout the remainder of the week.

Officials of the association are to be congratulated on this year's event. The Fair will furnish needed diversion to the thousands of people in Lamesa and Dawson County, and is a welcome respite from the care of the work-a-day world.

Friday will be school day at the fair, with all rides on the Midway being only five cents for school children. The morning will be dedicated to the children from the rural schools, while the afternoon will be given over to the children of the Lamesa schools.

Charles Cannon of Lamesa, who has a 20-section ranch in eastern Dawson County, has a real "sheep proof" fence that keeps the sheep in and the wolves or coyotes out.

The fence has two electrically charged wires on the bottom of the fence, energized from a battery of about 6 volts capacity.

Wolves found they could dig under the fence, so the wires were strung and charged. Now the wolves get a shock and for weeks will not go near a smooth wire. They learn that charged wires are smooth, regular fencing barbed.

3,000 Bushels Of Peaches Sold For 25c

Last Summer the Von Rhoder Seed farm of Knapp, Texas, advertised in the Courier through the classified section that they had fresh peaches to sell.

It was reported to the Courier this week that more than three thousand bushels of peaches were sold to the people of Lamesa and Dawson County through this classified alone.

This is another proof of the pulling power of these little ads. The ad in question cost the Von Rhoder Farms, exactly 25c and sold them hundreds of times the small cost.

Each week sees more and more people using these little wonder workers to buy, sell, rent and scores of other things as well.

Readers too, have learned that they can save time, money and trouble by consistently reading the Courier Classified ads.

Miss Edna Merrick Becomes Bride of Noah Grove Teates Saturday Afternoon

Miss Edna Merrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Merrick of Lamesa, was married to Mr. Noah Grove Teates of Warrenton, Virginia, at the First Baptist Church in Washington, D. C., on Saturday, October fifth, at four o'clock p. m. The Rev. Edward Hughes Prudden read the service and officiated at the impressive single ring ceremony.
 The bride wore a street length dress of purple chiffon velvet with matching hat and shoulder length veil. A corsage of orchids completed the ensemble. She carried a handkerchief which her mother and three sisters had carried as brides. Immediately after the wedding, which was attended by a small group of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Teates left for a short honeymoon in Virginia, which will be continued later in the month when they will visit the bride's parents in Lamesa. Mrs. Teates graduated from Lamesa high school and attended Mary Hardin-Baylor College. She taught in the Mullins school and later was deputy in the County Clerk's office. Last October she accepted a position with the Treasury Department in Washington, D. C. Before her marriage she was honored at a luncheon and shower by the Accounts Division of the Register of the Treasury.
 Mr. Teates attended the schools in Warrenton and at present is associated with the Johnson Service Company, which recently was awarded the contract for installation of temperature control facilities in the new War Department Building in Washington.
 Mr. and Mrs. Teates will live in Arlington, Virginia.

SELECTIVE SERVICE QUESTION AND ANSWER SERIES
(Editor's Note—Below is one installment of a series of questions and answers on the peace-time military training program which has been prepared under the direction of the State Director of Selective Service, J. Watt Page.)

III. Registration—Administration

Q—What is the purpose of the registration under the Selective Service Act?

A—The purpose is to get a complete census of all men between the ages of 21 and 36, with a view to determining which are most eligible for military training.

Q—When will the registration take place?

A—The President of the United States has proclaimed Wednesday, October 16 as national registration day. Registration booths will be open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Q—Where will the registration booths be located?

A—Each registrant will report to his usual voting box where he will be registered. Customary polling places are being used for registration because the public is familiar with their location.

Q—Who will be in charge of the registration?

A—The Governor of each state will be the directing head of registration, but the key men will be the county clerks.

Q—How will the registrants at each polling place be selected?

A—The presiding judge and judges for each voting precinct, as provided by the County Commission.

tioner's Court, are the registrars. The county clerk will appoint enough additional helpers to complete the registration in one day.

Q—Will these registrars be paid?

A—No. They will not be paid. It is the consensus of opinion that the election personnel should be willing to contribute one day's service to the national defense program.

Q—Where will the registrars get their instructions and their material for registration day?

A—The Governor will forward to each county clerk sufficient supplies and instructions for the registration. The clerk will then hold an instruction school for the chief registrars from each precinct, and these chief registrars will in turn instruct the assisting registrars.

Q—How many registrars can one registrar handle between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on registration day?

A—Experience has proven that it will take an average of 20 minutes per registrant, therefore the average number of registrants one person can handle will be about 30 during the day. Presiding judges will make sure they have sufficient helpers to take care of the registration for each voting precinct.

Q—Will the results of the registration be reported?

A—Yes. Local registrars will report results to the county clerk who will relay them to the Governor. When all returns are in, the Governor will make his report to the National Director of Selective Service in Washington, D. C.

IV. Registration—Who Is Affected

Q—Who must register on October 16 under the selective service program?

A—Every male citizen of the United States and every male alien has declared his intention of becoming a citizen, must register unless he is specifically exempted by law, provided he has reached his 21st birthday and has not passed his 36th birthday.

Q—What classes are exempt from the registration?

A—The Selective Service Law provides that the only classes exempt from registration are members of the armed forces of the United States, the National Guard, the reserve corps, the coast guard, the coast and geodetic survey, the public health service, and cadets and midshipmen at national military academies. The staffs of foreign diplomatic establishments in the United States are also exempt.

Q—Suppose a registrant is absent from his home voting box on registration day. What procedure does he follow?

A—Many registrants, such as college students, traveling men and business men will be away from their homes on registration day. They must go to the nearest polling place on that day and register. Their registration card will then be forwarded to the proper place.

Q—Suppose a registrant is sick on registration day. What should he do?

A—He may deputize some person to get a registration blank for him and to assist him in filling it out. In some cases the person will be too sick to permit registration, so he will be allowed to register later on presentation of a doctor's certificate explaining the reasons for his non-registration.

Q—Suppose a man is married or suffers from some physical ailment, which would make it impossible to perform military service. Does he have to register?

A—Yes. All persons between the ages of 21 and 36, regardless of physical handicaps or conditions of dependency, must register on Wednesday, October 16.

Q—Can a man register late without being penalized?

A—Only if he can produce sufficient evidence to justify his failure to register on the national registration day.

Q—What is the penalty for the failure to register?

A—A heavy fine and prison sentence is provided for failure to register. Registration officials will make up a list of those failing to register, and this will be turned over to law enforcement officials who will round up the truants.

V. REGISTRATION—The Actual Procedure

Q—What, exactly, will the registrant have to do on October 16?

A—He will report to his local polling place between the hours of 7 a. m. and 9 p. m. on Wednesday, October 16, 1940, to answer questions on a registration form which will be asked by the registration officials.

Q—How long will this registration take?

A—The registration for each individual will require about 20 minutes.

Q—What questions will be asked?

A—The registration form includes questions on the registrant's age, name, address, telephone number, employer's name and address, the place and date of birth, the citizenship, and the name of a close relative of each of the registrants.

Q—Is a physical description required on the registration blank?

A—A brief physical description will be made by the registrar noting the race, height, build, color of hair and eyes, complexion, and obvious physical defects of each registrant.

Q—Will the registrant swear to his answers?

A—Yes. After the form is filled in the registrar will read the answers back to the registrant who will then sign the registration form with the declaration that his answers are true. The registrar will also sign the form.

Q—What proof will an individual have that he has registered?

A—After the form is filled in, each registrant will be given a certificate showing that he has already registered.

Q—Will it be necessary to keep these registration certificates?

A—Yes. The registration certificate must be carried at all times so that it can be presented on demand to law enforcement or selective service officials. The registrant also must notify his local board immediately of any change of address.

VI. THE NATIONAL DRAWING

Q—In what order will the registrants be considered for classification and induction into service?

A—One of the basic principles of a selective service system is that all registrants shall be treated on an equal basis. The order in which individuals will be considered for classification and possible service will be determined by lottery—a national drawing.

Q—Will each local registrant receive a definite number?

A—Yes. After the registration is complete in each local area the registration cards will be shuffled and mixed before numbering. Each person will then be assigned a serial number, and a list of these numbers in each local area will be posted for public inspection. It is contemplated that there will be more than 3,500 registrants in any single area, so the serial numbers will run from 1 to 3,500 or less.

know how soon he may expect to be called. Each man will then be assigned what is known as an "order number".

VII. CLASSIFICATION—General Nature

Q—What does classification of registrants mean?

A—It means that every person between the ages of 21 and 36 who registers on October 16, 1940, will be classified according to his availability for a year's military training.

Q—What will be the classes in which the registrants will be placed?

A—The main class—Class I—will be composed of those who are available for training immediately. Persons whose service in civil capacities is of great importance (workers in munition plants, for example) will be placed in II and their call to training will be deferred. Those with dependents (wife, children, etc.) may be placed in Class III, deferred on ground of dependency. Certain individuals will be placed in Class IV when their service is undesirable on moral, physical, or other grounds or because the law defers them (ministers, etc.)

Q—How will this classification be made?

A—The local boards will classify all registrants on the basis of detailed questionnaires, interviews with registrants, and other information gained through private research.

Q—Will all registrants be placed in Class I, unless additional facts prove that they should receive a different classification?

A—Yes. If a registrant does not claim a deferment, for example, he will automatically go into Class I. If he fails to fill out his questionnaire, he will be placed in the same class. The only way to get out of Class I is to prove the right to a deferment or to be removed as the result of a physical examination which shows the registrant is not suitable for service.

Q—Suppose some citizen of the community is not satisfied with the classification given to a registrant. What can he do?

A—Each citizen is interested to see that no favoritism and no error creep into the classification. In each local board area a Government Appeal Agent, recommended by the Governor and named by the President, will appeal from any local board decision which he believes is wrong. If a citizen feels that Registrant X, who has been given a deferred classification, should be classified as available for training, he will present his facts in secrecy to the Government Appeal Agent who will then act. The Government Appeal Agent will also help ignorant registrants to secure justice.

Q—What will be the classes in which the registrants will be placed?

A—The main class—Class I—will be composed of those who are available for training immediately. Persons whose service in civil capacities is of great importance (workers in munition plants, for example) will be placed in II and their call to training will be deferred. Those with dependents (wife, children, etc.) may be placed in Class III, deferred on ground of dependency.
