Crop Forecaster Erickson Tells Farm Bureau About Wheat, Farming, and Soil Conservation

New Officers for Farm Bureau Are Elected Tuesday

New officers of the Ochiltree County Farm Bureau, elected at the annual meeting Tuesday night, are Fred Huston, president Cecil Tevis, vice-president, and Mrs. James Hardy, secretary-treasurer.

Virgil Devers was re-elected to the board of directors to fill the only vacancy.

L. R. Conner and J. H. Kershaw, were named delegates to the state convention at Amarillo, with Harlan Hawk and Arthur Swink as alternates.

The following resolutions were sent to the state organization: (1) A demand that freight rates be equalized to give the Southwest an even basis with other sections of the nation (2) That labor costs be included in computing farm parity (3) That the official year of the Farm Bureau be from November 1 to November 1 each year (4) That the gasoline tax refund law on farm machinery be continued in effect (5) That a Wheat Institute, similar to the Meat Institute, be set up for research and advertising of wheat (6) That the Farm Bu-

A talk of unusual interest to local citizens was made Tuesday night at the annual Farm Bureau meeting by A. W. Erickson, noted crop reporter and forecaster. Erickson kept the interest of the audience at a high peak as he spoke on wheat varieties, soil conservation, farming methods, and soil analysis.

Erickson made moisture tests of Ochiltree county land Tuesday afternoon and stated that the sub-soil moisture in this county, while less than it has been the past few years, is far better than in other sections to the north and east. Land north of Perryton has 22 inches, while land to the south and southeast has 32 to 34 inches. It is only 10 inches around Darrouzett, he added.

A lot of wheat in Kansas and Oklahoma has been "dusted in" for weeks without germination of any kind, he stated. Erickson said he checked some fields around Forgan and Gates, Okla., and found 42 fields seeded and 33 not seeded. As a side commentary, the forecaster said that according to the old saying, a farmer had no crop prospects until the grain was sprouted, and that a farmer without any wheat planted certainly had no prospects.

In spite of the drought, which Erickson calls a "blessing," the crop prospects are far from hopeless. He calls the dry period a

Rangers Regain Top Spot in News Ranking

Perryton has been given top ranking among the football teams of region one this week by the Amarillo News, thus regaining the spot they of the current season. This top position was given to Phillips after they beat Hollis, Okla., on Oct. 17, and the Blackhawks have been rated number one the past three weeks. The Rangers are the only team in the region that has gone undefeated and untied this year.

Legion Game Will Usher in Cage Season

Saturday night, November 15, is the night that the basketball season will open in Perryton. On that date the American Legion team will play the American Red Heads, nationally known girls' team, in an exhibition game which promises plenty of entertainment.

The Red Heads, composed of the best women players in the nation, play under men's rules and usually beat the men at their own game. Last year this team had a successful record in the Southwest, playing top amateur quintets.

The local cagers, composed of local boys with high school and college experience, believe they'll win this game, and have been working hard in preparation for the contest. The Legion team will be dressed in brand new uniforms, which they received this week.

Height of the Red Heads range from six feet, two inches to five feet, six inches. Toby McGee, center, is the tallest member and Thelma Cottrell, guard, is the smallest.

Several of these girls have been featured in sports magazines and in the Feb. 8, 1947 issue of Collier's.

Players on the Legion team include Wayne Gyger, Lindsay McWilliams, Knute Dowers, Joe

Health Survey Shows One-third Of Grade School with Defects

One out of three students in the lower eight grades of the Perryton schools have physical defects which need remedying and a slightly larger percentage have dental defects, the recent health survey reveals.

Of the 449 pupils given the physical examination, there were 150 found with defects. Percentage of defects was highest in the seventh grade, where 46 per cent of those examined were found defective. Lowest percentage was in the fourth grade, where 11 out of 62, or 18 per cent, had physical defects.

An even larger percentage of children were found with dental defects. There were 655 children given the dental examination, and of these, there were 265 with defects, or 39 per cent.

The third part of the physical examination, the testing of vision, is still in progress and no results have been tabulated.

Most of the physical defects were considered minor, and can be remedied. Each parent has been given a report of the findings of the doctors and dentists so that corrective action may be taken.

This survey has proved very helpful to parents, and it is planned to continue the health roundup as an annual affair. It is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association, with the donation of time by local doctors and dentists.

Voting is Heaviest in History Of Ochiltree County; Torrid Campaign Brings in 939 Votes

Voters in the Perryton Independent School District flocked to the polls in a record number Wednesday and voted 523 to 416 in favor of the $395,000 school bond election to finance an extensive building program for the Perryton schools.

The total number of votes cast, 939, was the largest ever recorded in an Ochiltree county election and gave an indication of how hot a contest this election was.

Both factions started a vote-getting drive about a week ago which reached a climax on the day of the election, as carloads of voters were unloaded at the school building from early morning until the polls closed at 7 p. m.

Handbills, mimeographed sheets, and house-to-house canvassing were methods employed by both the "pros" and the "cons" during the final few days preceding the election.

The campaigning carried over all sections of the county, as carloads of campaigners visited practically every farm and city house, vigorously working for their cause.

This $395,000 bond issue will go to build a new gymnasium,

County Taxes Are Collected At Rapid Rate

Tax collections by the three tax collecting agencies of Ochiltree county show a very good percentage of collections, reflecting the good financial condition of the county.

State and county taxes are leading, with 60 per cent collected, followed by 32 per cent of school taxes and 22 per cent of city taxes.

Total collections for the state and county during the first month amounted to $78,984.53, from a tax roll of $131,640. The school collected $44,009.06 from a tax roll of $138,000, while the city collected $11,601.61 from a roll of $2,267.32.

Turkeys Are Fattening for Legion Shoot

There will be 50 Thanksgiving turkeys for local shotgun artists at the American Legion turkey shoot scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, November 22 and 23.

Sidney Jines, in charge of the shoot, reports that the Legion has bought 50 turkeys and the birds are now being fattened, ready to be awarded at the shoot.

A new trap has been placed just south of town, east of the state highway warehouse, and the shoot will be held at this location.

First Merchandise Shoot a Success

The first merchandise trap shoot held by the Wolf Creek Sportsmen's Club was well attended, in spite of the cold northeast wind which held scores down below previous weeks.

A total of 28 prizes went to the high scorers of the 140 participants, reports Cecil Dodd, president of the club. More merchandise shoots are planned in the future, he added.

Legion Sponsors Home Talent Variety Show, 'Fun for You'

"Fun for You," a home-talent variety show, is being sponsored by the American Legion and will be presented in Perryton at the high school auditorium on Nov. 28 and 29.

Proceeds from this show will go towards the Legion building fund.

Miss Maxine Packer of Kansas City arrived in town Sunday to start work on the show. She will direct the show, conduct rehearsals and do the make-up work for the players.

There are ten scenes in the show. They include impersonations of such popular radio programs as "The Quiz Kids," "Singing Commercial," "Barn Dance and Grand Old Opera," "Dr. I. Q. Quiz Show," "Tom Breneman's Breakfast in Hollywood," and a patriotic number called "Treasury Star Parade."

The show is built for laughs and variety and is a brand new idea in amateur production because the people who make up the cast not only impersonate radio, stage and movie stars, but the audience attending the show has an opportunity to take part, too.

Prizes and awards which members of the audience will receive include silver dollars, orchid corsages, nylons and other valuable awards.

Specially costumed choruses, featuring high school girls as the Roxy Rockettes and the Earl Carroll girls add a colorful and tuneful note to the show.

Miss Packer, the director, comes to Perryton well recommended. She has had extensive experience in acting and directing in Little Theatre work. This same show, "Fun for You," has been presented in a number of towns this year and has met with a very good reception wherever it has shown.

Advance tickets are on sale at Young's Barber Shop.

HIGH SCORER—Glenn Lippman (above) is averaging better than 26 points per game of El Campo High School this season and has attracted the attention of college football scouts. In seven games he has rolled up 190 points. One night he tallied 42. "He's a coache's dream," says his coach Grady Reynolds.

Pickpocket at Work Breaks Own Heart

ROME (AP)—When a Milan pickpocket nipped the wallet of a fellow tram pasenger the Rome press reported, he set off an explosive line of coincidence which broke up his married life and landed him behind bars.

The first thing to turn up—where the money should have been—was a picture of the pickpocket's wife, tenderly inscribed to the victim of the fleecing.

The pickpocket hailed a cab, overtook the tram and with heaving breast demanded of his unsuspecting prey how he came to have the pickpocket's wife memento, dashed the wallet in the gallant's face and followed with a punch to the nose.

Police separated the two, restored the wallet to its owner and jailed the outraged felon, who was last heard swearing vengeance and divorce.

Miss Selma Payne, Oklahoma City, is arriving in Perryton on November 17 to spent two weeks visiting her sister, Miss Hallie Payne, and her brother, J. W. Payne and family.

Black Marketeers Outwitted By French Customs Officers

By Jacques Armand-Prevost
(AP Newsfeatures)

PARIS—French customs officers, in their endless struggle with smugglers, have learned the latest tricks figured out by imaginative black market operators in postwar Europe.

There are two categories of smugglers—those who cross the frontiers at night, heavily loaded and cautiously walking a few miles to deliver their stuff in a lonesome cafe near the Belgian frontier; and those who profit from the smugglers' work by utilizing a vast chain of accomplices. Everything from American cigarettes, nylon stockings, to gold and drugs is smuggled.

A pitiful old woman, limping on a wooden leg, slowly leaves a ship docking at Marseilles. Her wrinkled face shows fatigue as she trudges along, carrying a canvas bag that contains her belongings. No one is there to greet her. She is called into a room by a woman customers officer who demands that she undress. The inspector finds one pound of drugs inside her wooden leg.

In the same sunny Mediterranean port are specimens of all the races of the world. A poker-faced Chinese, greeting with oriental politeness his "most-honored-and-beloved - to-his-third-cousin twice-removed," helps the visitor carry his luggage from the boat. He bows in a dignified manner when he is handed a gilded bird cage because the double bottom contains a store of opium that is worth more than all the birds the smugglers, or the customs agents ever saw.

With the currency regulations, the innocent tourist cannot spend many days in Switzerland. But Switzerland is the mecca for vacationists now because of its supply of food and cloth. So if you want to carry a supply of Swiss francs into Switzerland with you, agents are bringing them out every day in the engines of their automobiles.

Customs officers were tipped that a large supply of cigarettes was hidden aboard a ship at Cherbourg and began searching every nook and cranny. Their efforts were to no avail until they dismantled the ship's radio and found what they were looking for.

Another favorite smuggling item of crews is penicillin. Following a tip officers searched a new arrival from stem to stern. They found some nylon stockings inside an armchair, but no penicillin until they went into the bakery. It was mixed with the flour.

The finishing touches were put on 1947 smuggling technique by a "mafia" band that guided the course of a submarine from a Swiss shore of a lake separating Italy and Switzerland to the Italian side. Customs officers stood open mouthed when the loot was found to consist of canned milk, chocolate, currency, gold and drugs.

"And here we thought the Swiss navy was just a joke," they said.

Joe Juliusson returned Friday for a three weeks stay in Kansas City where he received medical attention.

SPORTS LAUGHS

(AP Newsfeatures)

Many years ago one of the great point-a-minute Michigan teams, coached by Fielding Yost, was playing Buffalo University.

The Wolverines were battering Buffalo and the score mounted steadily. The Buffalo players were also taking a bruising beating physically. The rule book at that time said that once a player left the game he could not return, but Yost waived the rule and allowed the Buffalo boys to move in and out of play.

Finally a Buffalo player came off the field exhausted and sat down on the Michigan bench alongside of Yost.

The Michigan coach said: "Young man, you belong on the other side."

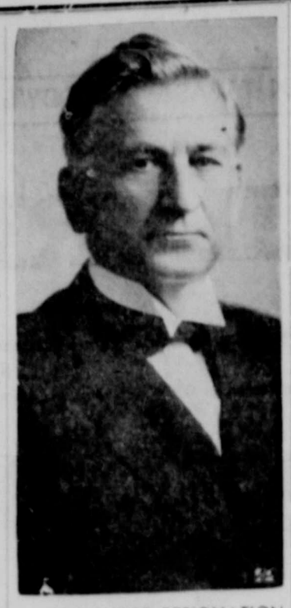

Gasping for breath, the player replied:

"Please don't send me away, Mr. Yost. I want to stay here. I've been in that game four times already and I don't want to go back again."

...es are Being Built Faster ...Families to Use Them

...NGTON — The rate at... America is building new ...has almost caught up ...rate at which new fam... being created.

...overnment experts are ...no such flat prediction. ...it may last longer be... ...mong other things:

...body has yet invented ...g machine that will ...the whims of romance. ...man beings can change ...ds awfully fast.

...body knows how much ...money the head man of ...ly is going to have a ...e.

...k and more, will have ...nce on the housing de... mand, the experts say.

But here's how the figures add:

Families Vs. Building

The Census Bureau estimates new families are being established at the rate of about 2,800 a day. This rate is expected to start downward soon.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics says that in September new homes were completed at the rate of 2,563 a day. This rate is going up.

Sometime next year a point will be reached where the number of new homes completed daily will exceed the number of new families created on that day.

From then on the excess of new homes will begin eating into the backlog of demand for new homes that has been building up since the depression.

The experts don't agree on the size of this backlog because of the human element.

In 1940 there were 1,846,000 in families "doubling," or living in the household of someone else.

In 1947 there were 2,764,000 families "doubling."

How Many?

The Controversary is over how many of these families will "undouble" when houses become available.

"If you ask Joe, who owns the house, if he wants to live alone he will probably say yes," one housing expert explained.

"But if you ask Fred, his brother-in-law, who is living with Joe and cutting his expenses in so doing, he may tell you he isn't anxious to change the situation. So there you are."

Assuming that all of the people who have doubled since 1940 would move into their own home if they could get one, they would create a demand for 918,000 homes.

If the present rate of "starts" on housing continues, about 1,000,000 units will be completed next year. But this would leave an excess of 325,000 homes over the number of new families expected by the census bureau.

On that basis it would take about three years for the supply to meet the demand of families who want to undouble.

But some government experts say many of the 1,846,000 families who were "doubling" in 1940 would have moved to their own quarters, too, if they could have.

Family Decision

So the decision to double or not to double will be an important one in determining the length of the housing shortage.

On top of all these factors is another complicating question—the economic situation.

Officials say if the employment rate remains high the demand for houses will remain longer at a peak. But if there is a decline in employment more people probably will remain "doubled."

The great U. S. migration of the past few years also will have its influence. Tens of millions of Americans have joined this movement which has been in swing since Pearl Harbor. Where and when they will finally settle is a big factor in the housing picture.

Some areas of the country, notably the rural areas, have a surplus of housing. The big pinch is in metropolitan areas.

Judge Nips Lawyer's Scheme to Milk Railroads Through Injury Litigation

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 (AP) — The Superior Court on Nov. 3 permanently restrained attorney Sol Andrews and his agents from prosecuting 92 personal injury suits and from proceeding with methods which the court said might make Chicago "the personal injury litigation capital of the United States."

The 92 suits against the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific railroads asked a total of $5,000,000 in damages. Judge Schwartz, who issued the injunction against Andrews said the plaintiffs could continue prosecution here but that Andrews could not represent them.

The injunction was based upon a report of master in chancery William J. McGah who accussed Andrews of making a "wholesale" business of soliciting railway injury cases in other parts of the country and bringing suit in Chicago. MaGah said larger verdicts could be expected from juries here and the railroads would be inconvenienced in defending the suits.

Evidence taken by the master showed Andrews employed railroad men to solicit cases for him. The report said one such man in California visited railroad hospitals to induce injured employes to retain Andrews to represent them in claims against the companies.

"In my opinion," Judge Schwartz said in his ruling, "the plaintiffs (the railroads) have rights which were violated by the defendant (Andrews). Then diversion of the attention of their employes and the interest in their work from that of the ordinary duties of brakemen, switchmen, clerks and yardmasters to the get-rich scheme of Andrews based upon unethical and inequitable conduct, is an invasion of their rights."

"It is conceivable that if all had gone well with the scheme Chicago would have become the personal injury litigation capital of the United States. Its courts would have become clogged with cases filed by the plaintiffs living in distant places concerning facts which occurred far from the scene of the trial and testimony would be given by witnesses brought great distances."

Judge Schwartz compared the methods with a dice game and added:

"I count it no boon to the working man to become involved in a dice game for big stakes only a fraction of which will ever come back to him."

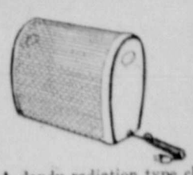

The master's report said part of Andrews' operations included advancing money to employes while they awaited trial. This was deducted from the settlement.

Russian Miners Building Homes On 70-Year Plan

(AP) Newsfeatures

MOSCOW—Nearly 7,000 private cottages for miners of U. S. S. R.'s Donbas are nearing completion.

An announcement stated twice as many Donbas miners are buiding private homes this year over last year and that more than 5,000 cottages were finished during the summer.

In addition to the individual cottages—which are being built by the miners themselves with the aid of bank credits and the collaboration of the mining authorities—apartment houses and two-family brick buildings are going up.

The Donbas was one of the most devastated areas of the war.

Each miner can obtain a 10,000 rouble credit for a period of 10 years which he begins paying off in equal instaliments a year after he moves into his house.

Each miner building a home is given—by his local Soviet—a plot of land big enough for the house, a small barn, chicken sheds and a garden or orchard.

The cottages are of individual design but retain the traditions of Ukrainian architecture. They are mostly built of stone and slag blocks and usually have three rooms.

Pupils to Show How Tooth Brush May Avert Aches

(AP) Newsfeatures

CHICAGO — A two-year test with school children is expected to show just how effective careful brushing of the teeth is in preventing tooth decay.

The study is being launched by the University of Illinois College of Dentistry, and will involve 2,000 sixth and seventh grade youngsters in three downstate communities.

The children will be asked to brush their teeth at their desks each morning and afternoon, and after each evening meal at home and before going to bed. The amount of tooth decay will be compared with that in other children who will continue brushing their teeth according to their usual habits.

The tests also will study the effectiveness of three kinds of dentrifices. One is a new kind, developed at the college and containing ammonium compounds, which in limited tests has shown a sharp reduction in tooth decay.

Life Termer Happy

Little Dutch Band Still Wows Them

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The old band wagon with the fringe on top was 75 years old last summer, but it was revived after 30 years of idleness and is well on junct of parades, picnics and oth- its way to being a classic ader entertainment programs in western Maryland.

The Little Dutch Band of the Middletown Volunteer Fire department dresses in costumes of the Gay 90s with whiskers to watch and tours adjacent areas in the ancient vehicle. It often plays tunes that were popular in other days, but can give out with occasion with strictly modern music.

These Animals Can Be Tricky

EL PASO, Ill. (AP)—"Rusty," trained cat of Guy Fletcher, has more tricks up his whiskers than he has lives.

Rusty's repertory includes walking on two legs, jumping through a tennis racket, and jumping five feet from a chair into a paper sack.

The 11 months old feline isn't the first animal Fletcher has taught stunts. He once had a pig, "Spotty," who could catwalk and "say his prayers."

Fletcher said Spotty could still jump through a hoop when he weighed 300 pounds.

Poland Keeps Tommygunners As Policemen

(AP) Newsfeatures

WARSAW—The tommygunner Poland's exponent of law and order, may someday disappear from the villages, towns, and cities, but the day is not yet in sight.

Khaki-clad tommygunners are everywhere. They are Poland's police. They guard government buildings, they flock to every sports event, they direct traffic and patrol streets.

Before the war, Poland had blue-uniformed, regular police armed only with a pistol.

A foreign ministry spokesman said today's law enforcers carry tommyguns because in this country they still deal with "people who carry tommyguns."

Some 3,000,000 American Youngsters Can't See Where School Helps Them

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Some 3,000,000 American boys and girls can't see that school gets them anywhere. About half of them have quit altogether.

Those are the estimates of Dr. John W. Studebaker, U. S. commissioner of education.

To advise the nation's high schools on gearing their courses to meet the needs of the times a Commission on Life Adjustment Education for Youth has been established.

Establishment of the commission, Dr. Studebaker says, was recommended by leading authorities on secondary education throughout the country. Membership includes educators representing nine major educational organizations. Dr. Studebaker says the commissioners plans call for guidance in such "down-to-earth" subjects as home and family life, job hunting, budgeting, use of leisure time, understanding of the necessity and dignity of all types of labor, civic responsibilities and related areas.

"Too many of our young people are receiving an obsolete education in the high schools," says Dr. Studebaker.

In announcing the formation of the commission Dr. Studebaker explained its task would be to broaden the curriculum so that all youth will find values in the school.

This approach, keyed to realistic needs," he says, "will make a frontal attack on such problems as youthful irresponsibility, lack of social concern and delinquency. Moreover, it will help to release the richest field of resources of which a democracy can boast—the talents of its boys and girls."

Though menus at Blair House, where top foreign writers are quartered, are planned according to the weather and the nationality of the visitors, the President's request for meatless Tuesdays and poultryless Thursdays will be followed to a "T."

Mrs. Victoria Geaney, hostess and housekeeper, says she will "go along" with anything the government requests.

As far as fare goes, simplicity was indeed the keynote at the tea that Mrs. George Marshall, wife of the Secretary of State, gave at Blair House the other day for heads of diplomatic missions and their wives.

More ambassadors and ministers than you could shake a stick all were on hand. They and their wives semed to relish the little sandwiches of cream cheese or thin slivers of chicken as much as they do the more lavish buffets dished up at their own residences.

Indian ladies and children living in Washington were invited to the Indian embassy the other afternoon when Mme. Aruna Saf Ali, wife of the Ambassador, gave a party to celebrate Dussehra, an ancient Indian festival.

The ffestival marks the victory of Rama, India's ideal of filial piety and kingly virtues, over Ravana, the demon King of Lanka (modern Ceylon.)

Motion Pictures Part of Thesis

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Motion pictures of building a log house will be part of a master's thesis in industrial arts by John J. Hanson, a graduate student at the George Peabody College here.

Hanson, industrial arts instructor in the manual arts therapy department of the veterans hospital, also will include other pictures of notable log houses in the vicinity and a written history of log houses.

The building pictures are being made in conjunction with construction of a house that he and his wife intend to live in. It is being built of logs more than 100 years old from old houses which Hanson has bought.

In hot climates it is difficult to maintain organic matter in the soil because it decays so rapidly.

Roll Up the Steps In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Fountain St., near the Baltimore docks, takes in its steps at night and often turns them up during the day.

It is a street of red brick row houses many of which have two white wooden steps leading up to the front door. They are Fountain Street's version of the white marble steps for which Baltimore is noted. Families often sit out on them in the evening for rest and gossip with the neighbors.

Residents disagree as to how the custom of turning the steps up against the wall during the day and taking them in at night started. They deny it is a sign of inhospitality. Closed shutters and turned up steps are just an aid to cleanliness, most say.

The blast furnace was invented in the 15th Century.

Ever Watch Yourself Having An Accident?

LEWISTOWN, Mont. (AP)—Martha Hoeckle, a school teacher from nearby Brooks, watched a driverless automobile roll across a street, slip between a fire hydrant and a gasoline pump and crash to a stop against a brick wall.

"I'd hate to be in the way of that car," she remarked to a companion as they walked on to a teachers' meeting.

Hours later she returned to where she had parked her car, found it gone and realized then that it was her own automobile she'd watched on the loose. She found it—with fender and bumper smashed—right where she saw it stop.

Water soaks quickly into ground which has an adequate supply of organic matter.

Build It Yourself Says Cabinet Maker

CHICAGO (AP)—Albert Kochanski figures the pioneer plan for solving the housing problem still has two excellent points. It works, and it's cheap.

Kochanski, 23, a cabinet maker and an ex-serviceman, is building a 30 by 20 foot house near suburban Barrington. The lumber is second hand material, picked up in large part from the attics and basements of friends. He expects his outlay to total no more than $250.

Foote Truck Co. Entertains 500 Visitors

Approximately 500 visitors were on hand for the formal opening of the Foote Truck and Tractor Co. in their new building on north Main. The opening day was held on Tuesday, November 11.

Music by The Swingsters, local swing band led by J. D. Davis, furnished music during the afternoon, and coffee, doughnuts and soft drinks were served.

Three movies were shown Tuesday night, and the visitors inspected the plant equipment and merchandise of the company.

Henry Reitman, branch manager for the International Harvester Co., gave a preview of prospects in the implement field, especially as his company was concerned.

The general production outlook for farm implements is much better for 1948 than it was in 1947 because there are four new plants operating at full capacity and fewer labor difficulties are anticipated. The parts situation, he said, is greatly improved.

Production is at an all-time high, yet this production will not be able to keep pace with the demand for several years to come, in Reitman's opinion. Domestic deliveries of farm machinery have not been materially affected by export, since but 8 to 12 percent of current production is sent abroad.

Other officials of the company present for the formal opening were John Coggins, assistant branch manager; Paul Moore, consumer relations head; B. W. Witherspoon, dairy equipment specialist; Jack Kendall, general line blockman; Don Tuscha, motor truck blockman; Harry Grounds, branch service manager; Bob Sandlin, branch parts manager; and Dean Webb, motor parts man.

C. W. Foote and Carl H. Kuper of Dalhart, owners, greeted the opening day visitors.

HOW TO MAKE A ROCKET

AP Newsfeatures

ROCKET-MINDED engineers and scientists of the General Electric Co., who are doing missile research for the U.S. Army, have developed a way to make miniature "parlor-sport" V-2 rockets. Here's how they do it, but the directions are not for children.

TAKE scissors, empty cigarette package with tinfoil, matches, paper clip. Place one match and one match head together, head to head.

WRAP matches in tinfoil tightly, then twirl the top part.

BEND clip so it will form a base for the small rocket.

LIGHT tinfoil at point where the match heads bulge.

SWISH! The rocket zooms off—to a distance up to 15 feet, so make sure you give it some clear space. And also be careful of fire.

"blessing" because it gives the land time to replenish vital minerals and if it were not for "forced idleness," Plains farmers would work their land to death. He noted the very small amount of summer fallow land in this county and pointed out that it is considered good farming practice to summer fallow, but with good crops and high prices, no one wil let his land be idle.

Erickson called Perryton the "Home of the Chisel Plow," reminding the audience that the Jeoffroy Co. first made the chisel plow on a commercial basis in this town, although other companies claim to have been the first.

The chisel plow checks water erosion, which Erickson called the most severe type of soil erosion, while wind erosion was the most spectacular.

The dust storms of the 30's, which everyone remembers with clarity, brought good with the bad, said Erickson. Tons of rich topsoil was brought in by the wind and lodged on these fields, making them more productive in the years after the dust storms were checked.

In speaking of the dust storms, Erickson stated his fear of more dust storms. The whole wheat belt has been drilled with a 6 inch drill, the top soil is loose and ready to blow with the first 40 mile-an-hour wind.

Erickson praised the work of the Ochiltree County Wheat Improvement Association and at the same time paid tribute to the high standing of Ochiltree county in the raising of quality milling wheat. This wheat improvement program will bear fruit in the years to come, he said, although now the world is so hungry for wheat of any kind that the poor milling varieties are not penalized as they will be later. "The easiest sale in the world is to sell a starving man a loaf of bread on credit," he said.

It should be easy to convince wheat buyers of the quality of Ochiltree county wheat, said Erickson, because of the natural composition of this soil. Soil analysis shows local soil to be exceedingly rich in minerals, making the wheat above most other sections in that respect. As an example, he said that his analysis of Seward county soil, near Liberal, showed a lime percentage indicating 525 tons of lime per acre. Ochiltree tests show the lime content runs considerably higher than that. In some agricultural sections, farmers fertilize their fields with two tons of lime per acre, giving an indication of how rich this soil is.

Wheat varieties are constantly being developed to take full advantage of the peculiarities of the soil, he said. Turkey wheat has become outmoded through hybridization, and the hybrid varieties are tailored to fit the needs of various wheat growing sections.

As a parting remark, Erickson encouraged Ochiltree farmers to keep on advertising the quality of their wheat, and keep on raising the best milling varieties.

Marriage at Shamrock Nov. 1 Of Wide Interest

Of interest to his friends here, is the marriage of Barbara Laycock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Laycock of Shamrock, to Malcolm Wesley Yarborough, son of Rev. and Mrs. P. E. Yarborough of Memphis, Texas. The marriage was solemnized on Saturday evening, November 1, in the First Methodist Church, Shamrock.

Rev. Yarborough, father of the bridegroom, read the nuptial service. Against a white background, the altar was decorated with arrangements of white chrysanthemums, tuberoses and candelabra bearing lighted tapers. An arch entwined with fern and lighted candles in the choir loft completed the decorative appointments.

Mrs. Cabot Brannon, organist, and Henderson Coffman, soloist, presented the nuptial music.

Mrs. Carl Back of Norman, Okla., was matron-of-honor; bridesmaids were Misses Jacqueline James and Mary Margaret Hodge of Rustan, La., Ruthie DuBose, Barbara Scott, Betty and Jo Burks and June Ann Nix. Judy Munday was flower girl. Robert Laycock, cousin of the bride, was best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Carl Back, Norman, Okla., Charles Boston, Raymond Sonnenburg, Jerry Berten, Gilford Nolan and Harold Williams of Lubbock.

Entering on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride was attired in a gown of white slipper satin, designed with a sheer yoke outlined by satin, long sleeves tapering to points over the hands, fitted basque accented with sprays of seed pearls and bugle bead and a full skirt caught at the hem over rows of pleated illusion and extending into a cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell in circular tiers from a pleated illusion tiara traced with beads. She carried a white Bible topped with orchids and white roses and showered with white satin streamers.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was feted at a reception in the home of the bride's parents.

The couple is to be at home in Dallas following the wedding trip; both are students at Southern Methodist University.

Mrs. Yarborough graduated from Shamrock high school and attended the University of Oklahoma, Norman, before entering S. M. U.

Mr. Yarborough graduated from Perryton high school and attended North Texas State college, Denton, before serving three years in the army.

Prissy's Got a Man! (Maybe)

Yesterday Sis Martin, our librarian, found an article cut from their file copy of the Clarion. When she compared it with another copy that I gave her she found it was my column on "How to Keep a Husband Happy."

Nothing unusual about that. Except the last person seen reading the paper was Prissy Hoskins (our town's proverbial Old Maid)!

Well, if Prissy has finally got a man, more power to her. And more tolerance to both of them . . . because that's what my column was about: Tolerance of a husband's taste for old hats, old pipes, old friends, and mellow beer. And tolerance on the husband's part of wife's tastes and habits.

From where I sit, nobody grudges Prissy taking that step ping from the Clarion. But I'd like to hint that if she'd just subscribe she'd get my thoughts on tolerance husband. And in return I'll send her to a glass of beer.

AMERICAN LEGION

We Need Your Help!

While membership in The American Legion is restricted to those who served in the military forces in time of war, there are no limitations to the activities of The American Legion. We are appealing to you for help to an organization that is banded together "for God and Country" . . . "to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the Community, State and Nation". These are quotes from the preamble to the constitution of The American Legion.

The Perryton American Legion Post is now prepared to build the first unit of a home for ex-service men and women . . . a building that will not only serve our organization needs . . . but a structure that will be available for community needs. As the end of the year approaches, many are becoming aware of income taxes, so we are asking that you give us a portion of the money that you are going to have to pay in income taxes.

Are you aware that 15% of your gross income can be deducted from taxable income if given as a donation to such an organization as The American Legion? Do you know that as your income increases, you pay a much higher rate of income tax? Please check your income before the end of the year and see if you cannot make a substantial donation to The American Legion building fund . . . at very little cost in actual dollars to you. Donations of any amount will be appreciated.

Approximately 2,000,000 veterans whose secondary education was interrupted by the war may, in most cases, obtain high school diplomas by taking tests given at Veterans Testing Service agencies located in all parts of the country, VA reports.

The agencies, organized by state departments of edueation and not by VA, are being established in or near every community with a VA regional Office or guidance center.

VA vocational advisers can furnish veterans with the address of the nearest VTS agency, as well as information on procedures for applying for credits and diplomas. The agencies, designated by the state departments of education, charge a nominal fee for the tests.

Tests for high school diplomas measure a veteran's general educational development resulting from his experience and educational opportunities in the armed forces. Emphasis is on general information rather than specific facts. Over half-million veterans already have received high school diplomas as a result of the tests.

Two Cars Meet at Night, Provide Way For Dalhart Fliers to Land Plane

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff

Otho Harrison, Seymour undertaker, tells of a Saturday night incident that had the strange qualities mystery story writers like, and which persons who believe in mental telepathy make much of.

The night was dark and foggy when Harrison quit work at the Harrison Hardware store. He decided to take a drive on a highway out of town — something he'd seldom done merely for pleasure.

About three miles out he heard a plane, apparently in distress. He stopped his automobile. The headlights shone down the highway. Harrison got out to watch the plane.

Another car approached. This was all the distressed pilot needed.

Aided by the car lights, the pilot settled his plane on the highway in front of Harrison's parked car.

Four men crawled out, one of them still trembling.

The men were from Dalhart and included the pilot, a highway patrolman, the Dallam county sheriff and a passenger who was ill and was being taken to Fort Worth for treatment.

The weather had been clear when the plane took off from Dalhart but by the time it reached Seymour it was in a pea soup fog. The radio was out, the compass jammed and the pilot had only a hazy conception of distance and direction. The ground was not visible. Gas was low.

After writing a note and placing it in a fire-proof container, the four had resigned themselves to fate. But then they saw the welcome lights of the two cars below.

The pilot, now safe on the ground, asked Harrison how he happened to be out at that time of night and Harrison, a deacon in the Baptist church, said "The Lord must have sent me."

The men said they'd never seen such fast service—a distressed plane met by an undertaker. The next morning the party continued the flight to Fort Worth.

Had the fliers met a worse fate, the Harrison family could have taken care of matters handily. Otho could have managed the undertaking. Wesley could have furnished the caskets from his funeral home. O. C., owner and publisher of the Baylor County Banner, could have written the obituaries.

Then O. C., Otho and Wesley could have been joined by another brother, Arch, to make a quartet for the funeral music. They all sing.

Their mother, known to her thousands of friends as "grandmother" Harrison and who is approaching the century mark, reared a large and active family.

Lighting Tips
For the Longer Evenings Ahead

Keep bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes clean. You'd be surprised how much dust and dirt hold back light from your portable lamps and fixtures. Just by washing bulbs, bowls and enclosing globes you can get up to 50% more useable light. (Disconnect portable lamps before washing and be sure bulbs and bowls are dry before reconnecting.)

Brush or clean lamp shades regularly. If lamp shades are dirty or turning yellow inside, you may be losing as much as 50% of the light you're paying for. Clean or brush lamp shades regularly. If they are too dark or discolored, reline them or replace them with fresh new shades with white or very light linings.

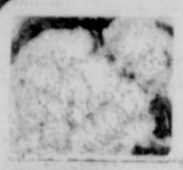

Fill empty sockets and replace blackened bulbs. Bulbs that have turned black with age rob you of light. Replace them with bright new bulbs of the right size and you'll get a lot more light at little or no increase in cost. Fill empty sockets, too. They're eye strain breeders.

Keep an Ample Supply of Spare Bulbs on Hand.

State Government Costs Mounting

A battle over State spending is shaping up as the biggest problem that will confront the next Legislature when it convenes in January, 1949, according to the Texas Research Institute.

The Legislature will either have to cut expenditures or levy additional taxes, declares a report issued this week by the Institute, a statistical agency sponsored by the South Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"The State Government is taking in more money than ever before," says the report. "But it also is spending far more than ever before. The last Legislature appropriated all the money certified by the Comptroller as available, including an accumulated surplus of $52,000,000. A much smaller surplus will be available when the next Legislature convenes. The difference will have to be raised by more taxes unless the lawmakers reduce expenditures."

State Government cost increased 34 per cent in the fiscal year ending last Aug. 31 over the preceding fiscal period to reach a total of $319,988,101, the Institute reported. It was the biggest year-to-year gain in history.

"This expenditure will be overshadowed, however, by the anticipated expenditure of more than $450,000,000 for each year of the present biennium," the report added. "Demands for still more spending may be expected in the next Legislature. Higher taxes will be difficult to avoid unless Texans alarmed by the prospect make their voices heard between now and January, 1949."

Babson Discusses Your Age

ROGER W. BABSON, Editor-in-Chief

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 7—At the suggestion of a friend of mine, G. H. C. Anderson of Dallas, Texas, I have been making a study of how one's age affects his or her opportunity to secure a position.

Middle-Aged People Handicapped

This study indicates that it is very difficult for an employment agency to place women over thirty-five years of age, or men over forty years of age who are now under Social Security benefits. One employment agency reports it can so place in a Union Shop only one such woman out of every thirty applicants."

The few middle-aged people after securing positions are able to keep them better than the younger ones. The older ones are both more loyal and industrious although they work more slowly and are more subject to accidents. In my own business here, where we employ about 130, we give a preference to the older persons; but our work requires accuracy and headwork, rather than speed or work with one's hands.

What Personnel Managers Report

One who has interviewed representative employment managers in seventeen different kinds of businesses, averaging over 400 employees per firm, reports as follows: 30 years of age for both males and females is the maximum accepted for beginners in office or clerical jobs. 36 years is the maximum for female beginners in department stores; while 43 years is the maximum for male beginners in warehouses, etc.

Those above these ages now holding positions should do everything possible to retain their present positions, especially as these statistics apply during a period of prosperity when there is a distinct demand for additional help by most employers. Of course, these ages do not apply to common labor or to housework, etc., for which the demand is so great that age is not considered. Moreover, the non-union concerns are usually willing to employ all ages because they are free to pay them according to what they produce.

Newspaper Advertisements

Anyone who questions the above statements may telephone those who are advertising for additional help in the Sunday Newspapers. From a hasty study of the HELP WANTED columns, one would think that there is a great demand for help of any age. If, however, you will answer any of these advertisements, you will find that the first question is "How old are you?".

This is now a very serious situation; and when hard times come, will become most pathetic. It surely means that there will be a resurrection of the Townsend Plan, the Anderson Plan and other pension programs which are being put forth. Whether these will be a solution to the problem is debatable, but they surely are worthy of careful study. It seems logical that the first step should be for married women, with husbands having a job, to retire from the scene. Surely this is a step also in the solution of the Youth Delinquency.

A Labor Union Suggestion

A study which I have made of strikes shows conclusively that the "hotheads" are the younger persons in these labor unions. The older ones wish to avoid strikes, but for some reason they do not attend the labor meetings and do not get elected as officers of the Unions. Hence, when the strike is settled, if the concern does not take back all its employees, the older ones are the ones left out.

It would be a smart thing both for employers and wage workers, to have two unions. One union could take in those below thirty-five and one union could take in those above thirty-five. Either group could strike without involving the other group. Unless the older employees of many concerns resort to such a setup they surely will be left out in the cold before many years. I believe in collective bargaining and in properly organized Unions with equal pay for both sexes on a piecework basis; but with two unions—one for the young inexperienced and the other for the older ones. Moreover, for the protection of the public and consumers, these employees should be so staggered that — in case of a strike of only one group—the entire plant need not shut down.

IT AIN'T QUITE THE SAME—says Army coach Earl Blaik, as he moans the loss of last year's great eleven, including Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard. However, these two lads are doing well as replacements on the starting team this year. They are Elwyn Rowan (33) and Bobby Stuart (42).

Termite Fighting Is Not Hopeless

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 11—Whenever termites show up in a building, the owner feels like throwing up his hands at the very beginning of the fight. It seems to him that he has a never-ending, hopeless battle on his hands.

There are two remedies for fighting termites, extension entomologists of Texas A. & M. College say. The best remedy is and always will be "Build Them Out." Most termite infestations are due to faulty construction when they can get in at filled porches, terraces and other entrances, or through the foundations. The thing to do is block them out with concrete or similar materials.

Since it isn't always practical to rebuild or repair, the entomologists suggest poisoning the soil around and under buildings. The poison will discourage the insects for some time.

According to research workers at Beltsville, Maryland, Saucier, Mississippi, and the Canal Zone (an area of severe infestations) there are nine chemicals that do a reasonably good job at getting rid of termites. Five of them proved good under most conditions of test: sodium arsenite, pentachlorophenol, trichlorobenzine, orthodichlorobenzine and coal-tar creosote. The other four appear promising: lead arsenate, sodium fluosilicate, cryolite and phenothiazine.

Electrons Go to Work

(AP) Newsfeatures

LITTLE ELECTRONS do big jobs. They bring the music through your radio, images on television screens. They detect fire; sound alarms, even control air moisture. Here Gordon Volkenant of the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Co. shows how they work:

BILLIONS of electrons in a flame send current to light bulb and sound a siren.

BREAKING beam of this "electronic eye" puts out light, stops bell, or opens doors.

WAVING electronic element in air cools it enough to call for more light here—or heat from your furnace.

BLOWING OUT electric light? Yes, if you have an electronic humidistat that controls humidity in vital places.

His Seals Are Sent To Seal Their Scent

ST. LEONARD, N. B. (AP)—A truckload of trained seals rumbled across the U. S.-Canadian international bridge, disturbing a new customs officer's quiet evening.

At a loss as to what to do about the seals, en route to a fair at St. Hyacinthe, Que., the officer telephoned his chief for advice.

"There is a whole family of seals wanting to get across," he said, "and the smell around that truck is something awful. What do you want me to do?"

"Let 'em through and out of town at once," the senior officer advised.

In TOUCH with GOD

Millions of miles of wire have come to the aid of Morse and Bell, to make it possible that you and I shall be able to communicate with those we love. Do you remember how you thrilled to hear the voice of your son who had been across the Pacific? Back in the homeland, his first thought was to talk with the home folks. Thus we have been privileged to keep close contact with absent members of the home, though many miles away from the fireside. Life must touch life and we are the better for the inflowing of one life upon another. Love cries out for the hand and voice of the beloved.

Out of his heart of love the Heavenly Father called us into being that we might be with Him. Made in His image, created for fellowship with each other and with God, our hearts are restless till they find rest in Him. We find ourselves as the children of divine love and care; we belong to the household of God; we are all prodigals until we come to be at home with the Father.

How may we keep in touch with God? Eyes of faith will reveal God at work by our side this very day. He is not far away, in some secluded haven; He walks our way and if we will open our eyes we shall find Him as near as was the Master with the disciples on the way to Emmaus. There is "The Christ of the Indian Road" and there is the loving Spirit of God on every road where God's children must travel.

Our speech with God we call Prayer; it is the reaching out of the human hand to be grasped by the divine; it is a sense of invisible but genuine comradeship. "He walks with me and He talks with me" and I know I live in His care.

When we gather in companies to sing praise to our Father—God—we call that activity Worship; it is a reverent sharing of the sense of divine blessing; it is the family of God gathering for a weekly home coming of the soul. Your life and mine will be radiant and strong if we keep up our lines so we can keep "In touch with God."

Edward Merydith scored on the second play after the final period opened. Merydith ran wide to his left, got in behind the line backers and halfbacks and raced across the goal line from the Canadian 46.

The final score came on a 21-yard pass play, T. Pletcher to Jerry Key. This touchdown was set up by a fumble recovery by Marvin Moore, who recovered the ball on the Canadian 21. Two plays later the pass was completed, bringing the score to 58-0. Merydith kicked the extra point for the final score of 59-0.

Perryton scored but four times from scrimmage, the other five touchdowns coming on the punt return and four pass interceptions. Perryton was forced to kick one time, and were held for downs one time, on the Canadian 19.

Canadian got past midfield but once, and that was when they received a Perryton kick on their 40 and came back to the Ranger 40.

Although the Wildcat team compared with Perryton in size, they seemed to melt as the Ranger blockers opened huge holes for the backfield, and Canadian was never really in the ball game.

This scoring outburst put the Rangers on top of the scoring heap among region one teams with 260 points in eight games.

From The SIDELINE

The big news in class A football last week was the victory of the Lefors Pirates over the Wellington Skyrockets, 19-13. The Skyrockets were rated top-heavy favorites over the Pirates, but the Lefors boys evidently didn't read the papers.

An indication of this upset came last week when Wellington won over Memphis 30-0. Although the final score was conclusive, the Rockets had lead in their pants and led by only 2-0 at the half of that game. Memphis has a fair club this year, though not title contenders, by any means.

Incidentally, this Lefors-Wellington game must have looked a lot like the Perryton-Phillips game last year. In both games, the score was tied in the final quarter. Wellington elected to gamble on a fourth-down running play for a first down, as Perryton did last year. Both tries were on the 40-yard line. Wellington failed to make it, as Perryton did last year. Then Lefors exploded with quick passing plays, to work the ball down to the 5, as Phillips did last year. They scored from there, and staved off a last minute effort just like Phillips did. Quite a coincidence, isn't it?

This defeat should make Wellington come to life against Shamrock, and they'll have to win to stay in the running. We believe the Wellington team is the best and will win, providing they do play the best ball they know how. However, the Irish will probably be favored to take this one.

In awarding David Hummer the award as "Player of the Week," sports writer Frank Godsoe of the Amarillo News paid the Ranger team a high compliment when he said "it has been a temptation not to mention six or seven on that team as 'players of the week' since it's hard to choose between them."

This reminds us of a remark attributed to the late Sam Burton, famous basketball coach at West Texas State College. The Buffalo team had just finished winning the state T. I. A. A. tournament and the all-tournament team selection failed to include any member of the team. All five made the second team, however. Sam Burton's remark was, "That is the highest compliment any coach or any team could ever receive."

Over the Borger radio the other night, coach Chesty Walker of Phillips was bemoaning the fact that his boys were pointing so hard for the Perryton game that they were taking the other intervening games too lightly. We notice that the Blackhawks took Dalhart 32-0, even if they did take them lightly. Perryton has the same trouble, if it can be called a trouble.

Our nomination for the most optimistic man of the week goes to the announcer at the Perryton-Canadian game. It was just after the fourth quarter when the announcer said, "Perryton comes into this game with an outstanding record. They have won seven and are undefeated, UP UNTIL THIS GAME." The score at that time was 52-0.

We notice where the dismal football fortunes of the Dumas Demons is causing much concern among the local townfolk. Editor Bill Rutherford of the Moore County News has made a study of what he believes the Demons need for a football program and will publish his findings next week. Some of the folks there are worried about the school enrollment. The Dumas high school needs but a very few more students to put them into class AA football competition. This is very alarming, since the Demons have had trouble holding their own in class A competition the past few years.

The Dalhart football program is expected to start bearing fruit about next year. For the past two years they have had an outstanding junior high team, at Kella Hill, and some of those boys are on the A squad now, as freshmen. The Kella Hill juniors have another strong outfit this year and will furnish some more good material. Phillips, of course has had an inclusive football program in effect for several years, one reason why they always put out a good team.

We should see some pretty good basketball in the season lid-lifter Saturday night, when the Legion team plays the girl Red Heads. The Legion team will be all decked out in new uniforms and have been working out for several weeks, getting ready for play. The boys are quite serious about getting in condition and it is certain that they'll be ready. The Red Heads are a famous aggregation and usually beat their men opponents, a most embarrassing thing for the men.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stinson were overnight guests Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Flowers, near Canadian.

Marion Tucker was in Albuquerque, New Mexico, this week end to get the Tucker's household furnishings. They will occupy the house being remodeled by W. E. McMillen at 213 4th Ave.

Team Marches 99 Yards in 35 Seconds

(AP) Newsfeatures

MOSCOW, Idaho—When Coach Millard F. (Dixie) Howell set out to cure a football inferiority complex at the University of Idaho he told his players never to give up.

But he never expected them to win a game with a 99-yard touchdown drive in the last 35 seconds, traveling 43 yards on the final play in exactly one second.

That was one the boys figured out for themselves.

The Vandals were tied 14-14 with Portland University here this season in the last minute of a game which went scoreless in the first half and suddenly blossomed into a wild passing feud.

Portland's Danny Christianson, who had been matching Idaho's Billy Williams with touchdown passes threw one at the Idaho end zone and Williams intercepted on his one-yard line.

Williams called time out with exactly 35 seconds left to play by the official timer's watch and with the winning touchdown 99 yards away.

The little Vandal halfback, who never played football until last year when he was drafted from a campus intramural team, faded into his end zone and threw 35 yards to end Orville Barnes who plunged on to Portland's 46. Twenty seconds were left.

Williams dropped back again, looked in vain for a receiver and ran three yards, yelling "time out" as he hit the ground.

Officials checked the watch. One second remained in the game. The timer was told not to fire the gun until the ball was dead.

The Vandals shifted into formation and Williams weaved back to his own 45 while he watched Woody Delorme, fleet Idaho halfback, speed toward the goal posts.

Then Billy charged forward and threw the ball with all his might. The racing Delorme caught it on the nine-yard line, juggled it on the dead run, and then hugged it close as he crossed the goal with the winning touchdown.

On the sidelines, the new Idaho coach turned back toward the field, bewildered at the roar of the crowd.

"I couldn't bear to look," Howell said.

"I still don't believe it."

'They Won't Believe Me' Tells Story of Irresistible Cad

Robert Montgomery, that old smoothie, is cast as a weakling with an irresistible way with women. His wandering ways finally get him into trouble, as the film soon shows.

Married to a wealthy wife, likeable New York playboy Larry Ballantine (Robert Young) can live the carefree life he craves. Women fall for his charm, and he makes no effort to resist them. His wife, Gretta (Rita Johnson) knows of his weakness and fights to keep him loyal to her by the only means she has—her money. When Larry falls heavily for one of her friends, Janice Bell (Jane Greer), Gretta forces him to luxurious estate in California and for the time being, Janice is forgotten.

In Los Angeles, Larry becomes emotionally involved with gold digging Verna Carlson (Susan Hayward). When Gretta finds out she buys a remote ranch in the High Sierras. By threatening to close her purse strings, Gretta forces Larry to go along, but he still manages to find ways to meet Verna, and they plot to clean out Gretta's bank account and elope. Tragedy follows swiftly, and the story mounts to a smash climax with Janice taking a prominent part in bringing about Larry's retribution.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Green were called to Ashbury, Mo., last week to attend funeral services for her father, J. M. Hazlewood, 88 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Hazlewood, who recently spent a month with the Greens at their home in Farnsworth, had observed their 65th wedding anniversary.

Williams Boys of Phillips Enjoy Playing Center

(c) Newsfeatures

LUBBOCK, Texas—The question in Southwest football circles is "who will get that fourth Williams center up at Phillips High School?" It won't be answered for three years, however.

The lad is Jimmy Williams, 15-year-old six-foot, three-inch 170-pound pivot man.

Before him have been three brothers—all centers. Bobby is winning his third letter at Texas Tech where he has been alternating with Tuffy Nabors. Don also is at Tech, where he is a freshman. He is too good to be sidelined while Bobby and Nabors play, so Coach Dell Morgan made him into a tackle.

Then there's Clint, who is the center for West Texas State College.

Bobby left Phillips High in 1942. Clint stepped in at Phillips in 1943. Then came Don—and now Jimmy.

College coaches rather believe Jimmy will be the best football player of the four.

Lonely South Sea Island is Setting For Action Story

A lonely South Sea island, the kind that was popular before GI's found out about them during the war, is the setting for "Strange Journey," which plays at the Ellis for the midnight preview Nov. 15.

Paul Kelly is seen as Lucky Leeds, ex-racketeer, who flies with his wife Hillary Brooke to his privately owned island to escape charges for a murder which he did not commit. However, the island sanctuary becomes a menacing trap when they are forced to crash-land and suddenly find themselves caught up with a shipwrecked group of highly explosive personalities, including a Nazi agent; an elderly scientist and his daughter, custodians of an atomic secret; and a huge merchant seaman, who rules the group by brute force. Kelly, by similar tactics to those which gained success in his former business, gains control of the group and persuades Osa Massen to disclose her father's discovery.

The tempo of the drama tenses when Kelly's wife, angry over being compelled to come to the island in the first place, double-crosses him by revealing to the others his questionable past. Miss Massen, alarmed by this disclosure, asks Kelly to return her trust. Refusing, Kelly bitterly and ruthlessly provokes a life and death situation which leaves little to be desired in suspense, fear and violence, building steadily to an arresting climax.
