GREAT LINER STRANDED ON ROCKS

PASSENGERS ARE RESCUED FROM CELTIC

SURVIVORS OF VESTRIS NUMBERED AMONG THOSE ON CRAFT

(By Associated Press)

COBB, Ireland, Dec. 10.—The White Star liner Celtic, which left New York on Dec. 1, with 253 passengers, ran on the rocks off Rock Point at the entrance of the harbor today and at low tide was held fast in fifteen feet of water with the possibility that she might break up if she did not get off on the next tide.

All of the passengers were rescued, being debarked safely in tenders despite rough water around the stranded liner. A British diver cooperated in the work and aided in bringing the passengers to safety.

The grounding of the great ship took place in miserable weather conditions with a cold rain and biting wind adding to the discomfort of the removal of the passengers through the harbor to the Cobb docks.

No immediate danger. White Star officials this afternoon said the Celtic was in no immediate danger. There was a heavy ground swell and a light southeasterly wind blowing.

Bounding southeastern island in a gale, the Celtic made for Cork Harbor and Cobh, her first port since she touched at Boston after leaving New York on the first of

12 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

JOLLY OLD SANTA FACING ARREST

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (P).—If all the children are out of the room, here's a bit of news for the grown folks: There's a warrant out for Santa Claus.

Jolly old Kris Kringle punched a man on the jaw and knocked some teeth out. The man, Albert Cohen, went to the police about it and inasmuch as he didn't know St. Nick's real name, the warrant simply called for the delivery to the jail house of "Santa Claus."

Cohen was standing at State and Randolph. So was Santa. So was a little boy. The little boy was consumed with an irresistible urge to investigate Santa Claus' whiskers. He wanted to twine his little fingers in the snowy mane and pull. He did. The whiskers, attached to a rubber band, left a great gap below Santa's chin, then suddenly snapped back into place.

Jolly old St. Nick cut loose with a haymaker at the little rascal with the irresistible urge. The lad ducked nimbly. Not so Mr. Cohen, who was standing directly behind, smiling broadly. Cohen's failure to dodge was responsible for the loss of several of his teeth.

Santa, with whiskers askew, fled.

THREE KILLED IN PANHANDLE TRAIN SMASH

OTHERS ARE SERIOUSLY HURT IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

AMARILLO, Dec. 10 (P).—The death of Dave J. Lynch, Amarillo passenger train fireman, today brought the death list in the Fort Worth and Denver train wreck near Dalhart yesterday to three.

DALHART, Tex., Dec. 10.—D. J. Lynch and L. C. Ross, railway firemen injured in a head-on collision of two trains here yesterday which cost the lives of two men, will recover, hospital authorities said here today.

Both locomotives were reduced to junk and fourteen cars of the freight train, the baggage and mail car and a special car were burned when a gasoline tank car exploded. Other members of the train crew were injured less seriously and some of the passengers were badly shaken up.

She had been criminally attacked, there were marks on her throat and face and her clothing had been torn early away. The 27-year-old teacher's head had been crushed, apparently with an axe.

SECOND ROAD BOND VOTE TO BE JANUARY 12

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS CALL ELECTION FOR $1,000,000 ISSUE

A county-wide bond election of $1,000,000 for the paving of the state and federal highways in Lubbock county was ordered by the county commissioners court in regular session in the county courtroom this afternoon. The election will be held Saturday, January 12.

Highways 7, 9, 53, from Lubbock to county line on Levelland road, and from Idalou to county line of Idalou-Silverton road, are included in the proposed paving project.

In addition to the paving appropriations, the bond issue includes $22,000 for the purchase of outstanding road bonds of District one.

Actions were taken by the Lubbock county commissioners at 2 o'clock this afternoon on a petition containing about 1,500 names. The provisions of the petitions asking for the road bond election are identical to the same as in the previous bond issue of $2,000,000, which was defeated at the polls December 1, with the exception that lateral county roads are not included in the paving specifications.

The petition states that the "bonds shall be issued, sold and delivered as if and only when the State Highway Department shall ask the county to deposit in escrow one third of the cost of construction of each of said highways of section thereof."

County commissioners formerly agreed to call the election setting a prospective date for it, but no action was taken due to the absence of J. T. Pinkston, of Slaton.

Members of the commissioners' court who called the election this afternoon were: Judge Charles Nordyke, president; N. A. Payne, J. T. Pinkston, W. L. Brashers, and L. C. Denton.

Of the $978,000 to be spent in paving construction, the petitions specify that the bonds, if they are issued, may run not to exceed forty years and shall bear not more than five per cent interest. Amounts to be spent on each highway in the county is designated in the petition.

Youthful Marksmen Go To Reformatory

Found guilty in county court recently on a charge of delinquency as a result of shooting from ambush upon unsuspecting occupants of passing cars, three local youths yesterday were carried to the Texas State Boys' Training school at Gatesville. By Deputy "Cap" Moore and Constable J. C. Roberts.

Enroute to the reform school the two officers overheard the youths forming a plan to escape from the car in which they were riding when they reached Wichita Falls. The embryonic plot was smashed by the officers, and the youths were placed in the hands of the reform authorities.

CONCILIATORY MOVE IS INAUGURATED TODAY IN CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (P).—A move by the Pan-American conference on arbitration and conciliation to solve the Paraguayan-Bolivian frontier dispute was started here today even before the parley was officially begun.

Delegates to the Pan-American conference assembling here today faced sessions with the knowledge that Argentina was not represented and that Paraguay and Bolivia have broken diplomatic relations. Argentina, only one of the Latin-American republics not to send a delegation, decided not to participate at the last moment. The rift between Bolivia and Paraguay followed a clash between troops on the border. Both countries sent representatives.

After the inaugural speech by President Coolidge, it was arranged to lose no time in organizing the conference, beginning by inspection of credentials, with committee assignments next in order.

The meeting, called to frame a treaty which would extend as far as possible the number of international disputes to be settled by arbitration, has a model in the arbitration agreements lately negotiated with France and other countries by the United States.

A treaty of conciliation is also planned. Under it all international disputes would be studied by an impartial commission which would issue recommendations designed for a settlement. Pending the report, a maximum time of a year being allowed for this, the countries involved would be obliged to refrain from acts which might lead to war.

Some speculation has arisen as to the aims and policies of the American delegation, composed of Secretary Kellogg and former secretary of the State Department, who are expected to carefully avoid any action that might be interpreted as an attempt by the United States to exercise undue influence at the congress.

Secretary Kellogg, named as temporary chairman, will act in that capacity until, as is customary, he has offered the post of permanent chairman as head of the home delegation.

There was no discussion of the resolution which had been sent to the council by the assembly of the league.

COMMITTEE AT WORK ON PLAN FOR HIGHWAYS

IDEAS OF MOODY GROUP MUCH AT VARIANCE IN SECOND MEET

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 10.—While the finance sub-committee labored in an effort to revamp its former plan for financing construction and maintenance of a permanent, connected highway system, other members of Governor Moody's committee composed of members from each of the 31 senatorial districts, waited patiently this morning to hear the recommendations.

The sub-committee was still working on its plan at noon and it was possible it would be mid-afternoon before it reported.

Whether the recommendations for legislation should specifically fix a three-cent tax on gasoline or remain silent on the amount, and the method of refunding counties out of the statewide bond issue proceeds for expenditures already made on highway projects, were the principal points of contention.

OKLAHOMA TO SEE NEW QUIZ

SOLONS STRUGGLE FAILS IN EFFORT FOR ACCEPTABLE SPEAKER

(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 10.—A meeting of 41 of the 57 democratic members of the Oklahoma house of representatives, struggled vainly in the small hours today to select a speaker of the house acceptable to proponents and opponents of the administration of Gov. Henry S. Johnston.

Likelihood that the legislature would revive an investigation which elicited impeachment charges against the governor in an abortive special session of legislators last December, frankly was admitted by numerous speakers at the meeting.

Three of the five candidates for the speaker's post declared themselves to be in favor of an investigation of state officials. They were James Nance of Walters, Claud Briggs of Wilburton and Allen Street of Oklahoma City. Woody Dixon, of Marietta, the fourth, adopted a conciliatory attitude in offering to withdraw in favor of a compromise candidate, and J. F. Daniels, of Ringling, the fifth candidate, contented himself with declaring that he would conduct himself in the position, if he received it, without the hindrance of any obligations to his constituents to whom he said he had made no promises. Tacitly granting apparently, that an investigation by the legislature, was inevitable, all five candidates declared they would adopt an impartial attitude in such an investigation.

This dispute has gone on for years. Representatives of the countries concerned announced that conversations would soon begin and M. Briand expressed

MYSTERY DURANT HERE THIS WEEK
In connection with the opening of the Panhandle-Durant company, 1311 Main street, the famous "Talking Auto" otherwise known as the "Mystery Durant," will appear at 4 and 8 o'clock daily all this week at the home of the new Durant distributors here.

Heralded by press and public as one of the oddest and most uncanny shows of the age, this performance will be conducted by Billy Van, well-known vaudeville and musical comedy comedian.

L. H. Plam, manager of the local agency, urges the public to attend the daily shows, which are to be free.

It is claimed that the mystery car talks, sings, answers questions, obeys commands, flirts with the ladies, and despite the fact that thousands of persons have "read it," the car's mystery remains unsolved.

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

QUARRELS ARE DEPLORABLE: THOSE BETWEEN KIN WORST

Oh, dear, what a pleasant world this might be if people would think the best instead of the worst of one another. And the very worst quarrels are between relatives, both blood relations and those united in marriage. One can scrap with outsiders and often forgive and forget, but when relations fight there seems to be no end to the unhappiness.

What can an outsider do to settle such differences as the one submitted in the following letter?

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I hope you won't be too busy to give me a little advice. My home is being broken up and I don't know what to do. I lost a baby girl two years ago and my brother-in-law says I killed her. I have one now a year old when her milk failed to agree with her we took her to her grandparents in the country and they put her on fresh milk and she gained three pounds a week. My brother-in-law had been telling I wanted her out of the way so I could be free. And if my husband knew what he did about me he wouldn't live with me a minute. It nearly kills me to think of it. Friend Hubby cursed a little and said he would never speak to his brother again, but he speaks and smiles whenever he sees them. My hubby never even asked what he knew that was so awful about me. He wants me to overlook all of that now they want to be friendly. If this was the first time I might, but it happens every three months. My husband says it is my imagination about his brother. Don't tell me to ignore them and what they say. It is too awful. I can't."

"A READER."
From your letter, which was far too long to print, it seems your husband doesn't believe, or really pays much attention to, his brother's atrocious accusations. I don't blame you for feeling dreadfully hurt and angry, but the very fact that he says such things whenever he feels pained, proves that he doesn't believe them himself, and only says to hurt you. As long as your husband doesn't even ask what dreadful things you have done and continues to live with you, they can't break up your home. You could threaten the brother with a slander suit, but that would be very unpleasant and expensive and might make more trouble than ever. Probably he is the kind of brute that works off his ill feelings on the ones he thinks he can torture and if you paid no attention to him he would stop.

Diane: Some people are just naturally born firts and nothing that I know can cure them. Yes, they can love seriously, but it is better not to take them so. Better love them lightly and leave them.

Broken Hearted Me: Probably the man you think you love likes to talk to you but does not think of love because you are so much younger than he. Don't worry about it. He may come to love you in time.

THE NEW FORD HAS A REMARKABLE

Value of simplicity of design shown daily in outstanding smoothness, acceleration, speed, power, reliability and economy. Low-priced car should not be complicated.

ENGINE

THE engine of the new Ford represents a new development in modern automobile engineering. It is unique in design and performance, giving unusual smoothness, acceleration, speed and power without sacrifice of reliability and economy.

Ford engineering has found the way to include every essential feature of good performance without the necessity of a high speed, complicated motor.

The design of the cylinder head is just one factor in this performance. Others are the direct gravity gasoline feed, the specially designed carburetor, the new hot-spot manifold, the carefully planned large valve diameter, the chrome silicon alloy valves, the aluminum pistons, the statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft and flywheel, and the simplicity of the electrical, ignition, cooling, lubrication and fuel systems.

Engine mounting reduces vibration

Of special importance is the manner in which engine vibration is absorbed before it reaches the chassis of the car, thereby preventing unpleasant vibration periods.

This is done in the new Ford through the introduction of a flexible front end support that is both simple and practical—a truly remarkable improvement in engine mounting developed after many months of testing and experimenting.

Quality of materials and careful workmanship also have a great deal to do with the continuously good performance of the new Ford.

In the new Ford, for instance, the diameter of the piston pin is held within three ten-thousandths (.0003) of an inch. An equally close limit is followed in the hole into which the piston pin is fitted.

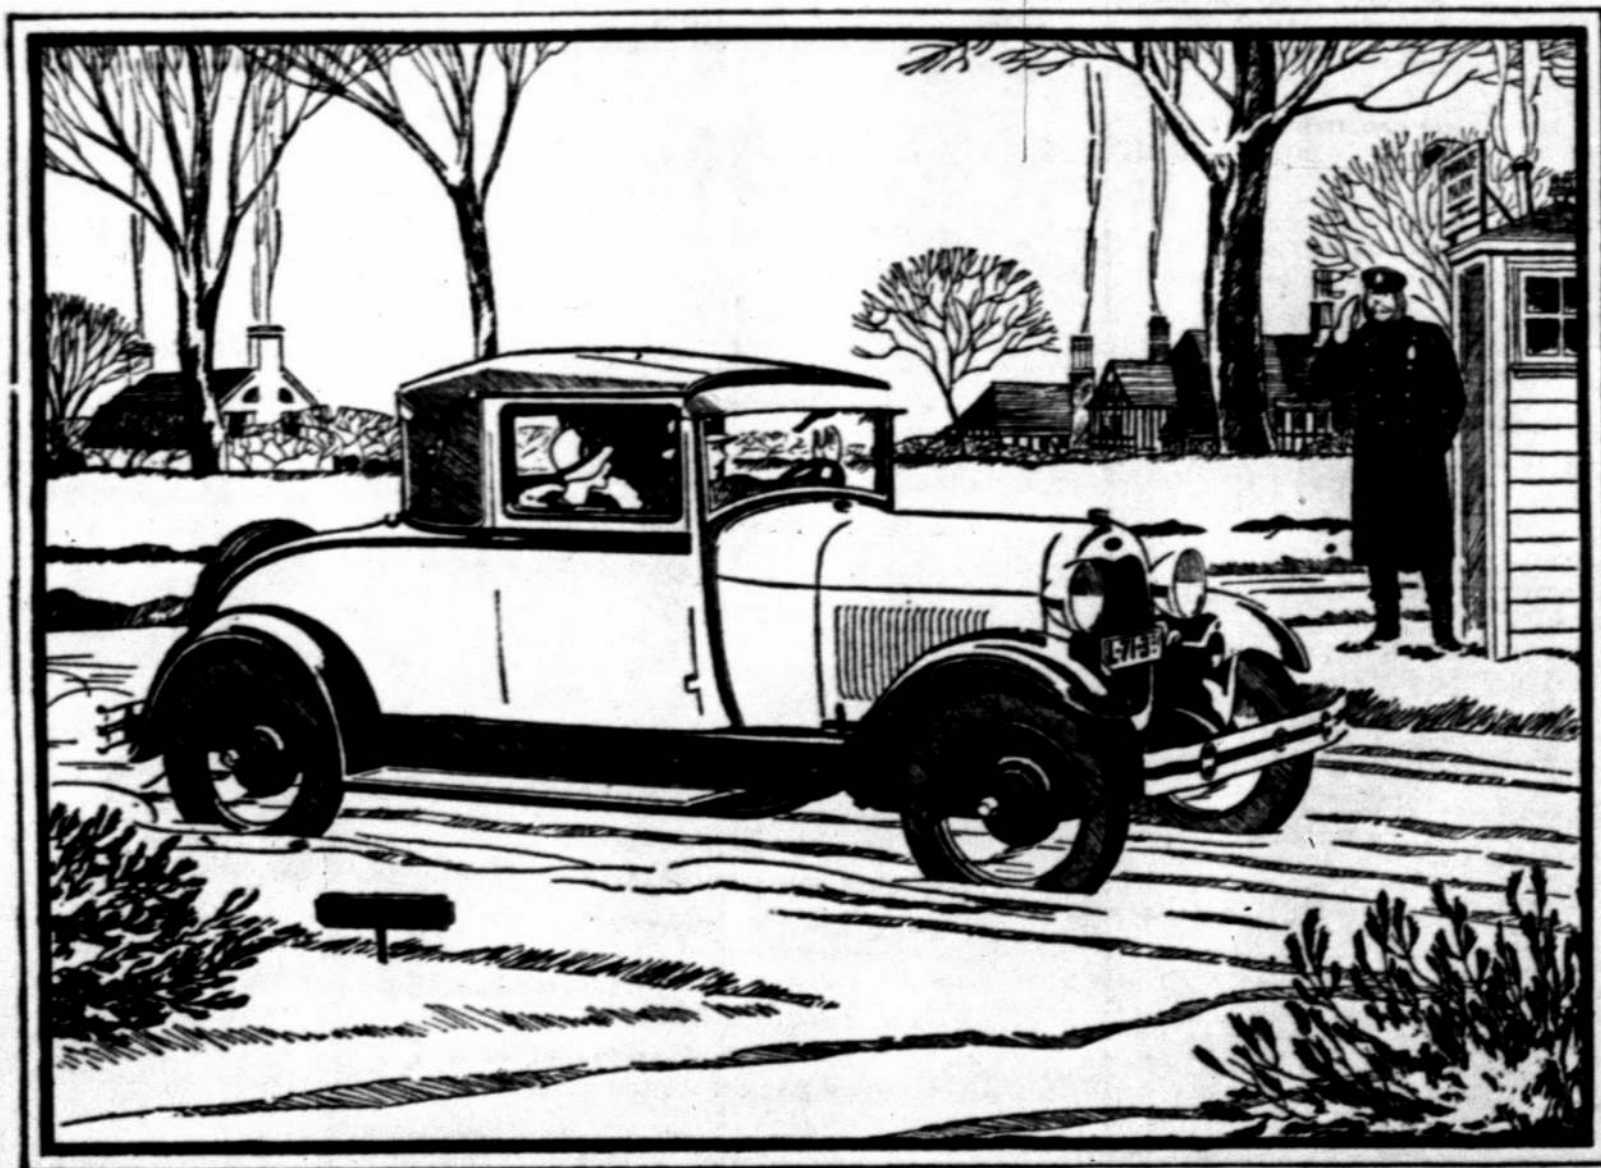

The weight of the aluminum alloy pistons is set at 17½ ounces. No piston is permitted to come under this weight nor exceed it by more than 2 grams.

In the piston assemblies, consisting of piston, connecting rod, pin and spring retainer, the four assemblies in each motor must match in weight within a limit of 3½ grams. Every piston assembly must meet the weight of the other assemblies in the set within approximately ¼ of an ounce. Main and connecting rod bearings on crankshaft are held true to within three ten-thousandths (.0003) of an inch.

Unusual accuracy of manufacturing methods

It is of course almost impossible to conceive of measurements as close as these. They are achieved only through the finest precision gages in the hands of expert workmen. The master blocks by which these gages are set are accurate to the almost incredible limit of a millionth of an inch.

The new Ford is distinguished by the trim, graceful simplicity of its lines and the beauty of its colors. Without being extreme, it has struck a new note in automobile designing. Shown here is the new Sport Coupe—one of the most popular of the new Ford cars. Wide, comfortable rumble seat is included as standard equipment.

All of this care and accuracy is an indication of the fundamental thoroughness of Ford manufacturing methods. If a part should be made accurate to a limit of .0003 of an inch, it is made .0003 of an inch. Margin of profit is made secondary to service.

Deep-seated therefore is the quality of the new Ford. You can see but a part of it with your eyes. Beneath the hood are countless invisible values. Summed up, they count for more than any one spectacular feature.

Because of the value that is in it, the new Ford is more than just a new automobile. It is a part of the life, the progress and the prosperity of the country. Our policy has always been to see that you get the very best materials—the most careful workmanship—the soundest design that can be built into a low-priced automobile.

Today, more than ever, the new Ford is the fulfillment of that ideal.

CONFERENCE MEMBERS FAVORABLE TO TECH, OFFICIALS SAY ONLY FEW ECHOING POST-SEASON SHOUTS TO GRID TUMULT

WILL TRY FOR ENTRY AGAIN NEXT SEASON

DESPITE VOTE AGAINST EXPANSION, COLLEGE
HAS HIGH HOPES

A cordial reception greeted members of the Tech athletic council when they went before the executive committee of the Southwestern Conference in Dallas Saturday, according to E. W. Provenance, business manager of the college and member of the council representing the Tech institution, and although the group had previously voted not to consider any new members this year, Tech officials returned from the meeting with the assurance that their school will receive sympathetic hearing in future meetings of the Southwest assembly.

The spirit and persistence of Tech in her efforts to gain admission to the major athletic conference of the state has gained favorable comment from coaches and officials from the various schools now in the conference, local representatives state, and the general sentiment outside the conference room indicated that Tech as Tech will be the next school admitted to the conference.

Although members of the executive committee were non-committal in the meeting with Tech officials, only kind words were expressed toward the bid of the local institution for membership.

"We will try again," said the executive committee that we are upholding the same high standard that members of the conference are upholding," E. W. Provenance said this morning, "and that we are ready to abide further by any standard that they see fit to institute. The committee was promised that Tech would be back every year until the school is admitted to the ranks of the conference."

Head Coach E. Y. Freeland was in high spirits over the outcome of the meeting with the conference officials when queried this morning concerning the prospects of Tech entering the group.

"We feel a great deal better about the situation after this meeting than we ever have before," the Matador mentor said, "our reception was greater than we could have hoped for and the attitude of the conference members certainly is favorable."

Football games with members of the Southwest Conference were not matched at the meeting Saturday, but will probably be announced within the next week. Tentative plans for games with Baylor University and Texas Christian University have been under way for some time. Efforts are being made to bring both schools to Lubbock for the 1929 games.

Since Arkansas University was assured continued membership in the conference, the prospects for Tech look even brighter. Officials of the conference in the meeting Saturday pointed out that with Arkansas out, the six remaining teams could have had an ideal compact group in which each member could play the other. With the Arkansas rumor settled, Tech will likely within the next few years become the eighth member of the group.

Football, basketball, track and baseball agreements were made by Tech coaches with the various conferences in Dallas Saturday, but as yet no schedule is complete.

TOSS OF COIN IS TO DECIDE GAME WINNER

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Dec. 10.—Port Arthur and San Antonio Main Avenue high schools will flip a coin to determine winner of Saturday's 6-6 deadlock for bi-district championship.

Where the score is tied and each team has the same number of 30-yard penetrations to its credit, rules provide that the contenders shall resort to casting lot for a decision.

Roy Henderson, secretary of the Interscholastic League, Monday morning had not received formal presentation of the controversy.

PYLE PLANS SECOND RUN

'CASH AND CARRY' TO CONDUCT MARATHON
DURING MARCH

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (P).—C. C. Pyle, plans a second cross country marathon run, starting from New York, tentatively, on March 31. Just where it will finish Pyle can't say at the moment except that some Pacific coast city will get the honor.

Pyle, or his backers, were reported to have dropped considerable cash on the first derby, won by Andy Payne of Claremore, Okla., last spring. This time he plans to charge each contestant an entry fee of $300 and furnish neither meals nor lodging as he did in the first race. Some $60,000 in prizes are to be distributed, says the promoter, with first prize again $25,000.

CANYON MADE DEPOSITORY

GOVERNMENT PAPERS
ARE TO BE PLACED
AT W. T. S. T. C.

CANYON, Dec. 10.—A telegram received today from Congressman Marvin Jones to President J. A. Hill carries the information that the West Texas State Teachers College has been designated as the depository for government documents in this district.

This depository was formerly located at old Clarendon College. When that institution was discontinued steps were taken to have it located at Canyon which now has the only senior college in this territory.

According to members of the college faculty the depository is one of the greatest assets which could have come to the Teachers College. All the publications of the departments of government and special reports of congressional committees, reports of consular and of the diplomatic corps will be sent immediately to the college.

Publications of the departments of Commerce, Agriculture, Interior, State, War, Navy, the Treasury, the Post Office, Labor and of the Attorney General are some of those included.

These publications are invaluable to teachers and students of economics, history, government, agriculture, home economics and education. There is almost no subject which can be mentioned on which the government has not printed exhaustive and accurate information. All this will be received at the depository.

Not only will current publications of the government be received, but many valuable documents which have been published in the past will also be available.

Big Turkey Haul

BALLINGER, Dec. 10.—Thieves visited the Odom ranch, 30 miles northwest of Ballinger, last week while Mr. and Mrs. Conda Wylie, managers, were spending the night in Ballinger, and made away with about 100 turkeys. Out of a flock of 350, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie only had 250 turkeys left when they returned to the ranch.

The turkeys were valued at more than $400.

BANQUET FOR WESTERNERS

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM TO BE GUESTS AT FEED
FRIDAY NIGHT

All of Lubbock football fans are invited to the annual banquet Friday night in honor of the 1928 high school Westerners who will make their final public appearance in the banquet hall of the Logan Cafe opposite the high school building, according to Superintendent M. H. Duncan and Chas. Whitacre, in charge of arrangements.

In addition to an informal program consisting of spicy musical numbers and impromptu speeches, Coach Henry Frnka will introduce each member of the squad individually and present the lettermen for the season.

The ticket committee has announced that forty double tickets will be first sold to insure each member of the squad a ticket to the affair, and an additional hundred tickets will go on sale for individuals who also wish to attend. The banquet will start at 7 o'clock.

Barley Is Captain Of Big Spring Team

BIG SPRING, Dec. 10.—Burna Barley, star center of the Big Spring team for 1929 at a meeting held Wednesday, Dec. 5, Barley is an outstanding player, having starred in most every game this season. The following members of the team are letter men this year: Jack Flowers, Burna Barley, Vernon Manuel, Bob Humble, Frank Griffith, Frank Fisherman, Frank Johnson, Ed Setles, Fred Fields, E. Mims, Luther Glover, Jack Kilway, Frank Jones and Jess Fuglaar.

RUMOR SIMMONS BANNED FALSE

Branding a rumor coming from Abilene that Tech has banned Simmons University in football and other sports as "false and absurd," E. W. Provenance, business manager of the college, stated that so far as he knew Tech would carry out its schedule with the Abilene institution by playing the Cowboys in Abilene in 1929 and in Lubbock the following Thanksgiving day.

Schedules in basketball, track and baseball have not yet been announced, but in all probability will include Simmons.

Athletic relations between the two schools are in perfect harmony insofar as Tech officials are concerned, it was announced this morning.

NATIONAL TO STAGE ANNUAL MEET TODAY

ALL APPEARS TRANQUIL
BUT FIREWORKS ARE NOT UNEXPECTED

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—If there are any fireworks at the National League's annual meeting, the experts will have lost the last measure of what self-confidence remains to them.

They have taken it on the chin with monotonous regularity when they attempted to pick winners in actual sports competition. But most of them predicted, and with some show of confidence, that all would be calm and peaceful at the meeting of the National League, opening today at the Waldorf-Astoria.

At the minor league meeting in Toronto, it was indicated the majors completed several outstanding deals that they preferred to keep under their collective hat until the time came for their own league meetings. These may come to light in the next two days.

There is at least one trade, either made or in the making, by which the New York Giants would add a good right-handed pitcher to their somewhat shaky mound staff. Rumor has had it that John McGraw would not object to finding Pete Donohue or Adolf Lague, or both, in a Giant uniform next season.

The Pittsburgh Pirates also are on the hunt for pitchers and may be persuaded to part with Glenn Wright, a great shortstop no more than two years ago. The Chicago Cubs, it is supposed, will make a play for any third baseman that is hit.

GRAHAM-PAIGE TO HAVE AGENT HERE

Location of another automobile agency in Lubbock was made known here this morning with the announcement of T. L. Calloway that a distributing agency for Graham-Paige would be opened in this city sometime about the first of the year.

Mr. Calloway lives at 2708 22nd Street, coming here recently from Florida where he has been connected with the automobile business for a number of years, having handled both the Buick and Studebaker agencies.

Definite location of the agency has not yet been ascertained, but it is expected that the first shipment of cars will be received by January 15. This is the first time that an agent of the Graham-Paige line will be stationed in Lubbock. This car was first produced under the new management about eighteen months ago.

Their Names Were Written
Games in which a participant's life is actually at stake make fatalists of them when the first thrill wears off. They came eventually to abide by the hardened theory of the battlefield that "it won't get you unless your name is written on it."

The strange way in which fate plays its pranks, Steve Hannagan points out, was illustrated recently when Norman Batten and Earl DeVore, two daring automobile race drivers, who had escaped a dozen invitations of death on the track, were drowned when the Vestris went down.

In the 1927 Indianapolis race, Batten was saved by a quick-acting driver from being burned to death. His car burst into flames when he was turning into the home stretch. He tried to free himself from the car and found that he couldn't get out. He then opened the throttle at 100 miles an hour and drove the car off the track so that he would not imperil the lives of the other drivers. He was pulled out of the flaming car, but was badly burned and was in the hospital for months.

In the race this year DeVore crashed into a retaining wall in the path of 100 speeding cars, but he backed out and continued to

By ALAN J. GOULD
NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (P).—Except for a few echoing post-season shouts in the far west, the college football tumult for 1928 is stilled.

The experts, as soon as they have finished dodging the all-American rebounds, may turn their attention from now on, among other affairs of sport, to baseball palaver as well as such burning questions as whether Dempsey will stage a come-back, Nurmuri turn pro or Tilden be reinstated.

The South has had the last few words in the football debate, so far as the regular season is concerned, but also will have a full share of interest in the main post-season argument as well. Georgia Tech is going to Pasadena New Year's day to play California.

And How Would You Describe Your Own Credit Standing—

Good? Fair? Slow? Undesirable?

YOU would, of course, have to have some source of outside information, such as the files of his association, in order to know the credit standing of your neighbor, or the new member of your club—But how about YOUR OWN? You don't have to ask anybody about that. You know, better than anyone else, whether your credit transactions have been conducted in such manner as to classify your credit reputation in the GOOD column; or the FAIR column—the SLOW column or even the UNDESIRABLE list. Check up on yourself, and be absolutely fair and unprejudiced. You will find that one of the above captions will accurately fit your case.

Now, having decided on the rating you have made for yourself, consider whether it is as good as it should be. Decide for yourself whether your accounts are appreciated. Place yourself in the position of the banker or merchant or doctor or lawyer of whom you ask credit accommodation and make an unbiased decision as to his attitude toward your responsibility. Would you be glad of the opportunity to make a charge to your account—would you be hesitant and reluctant about it—or would you refuse the accommodation?

There's nothing intricate about the workings of a credit bureau. Your name is probably on file in the office of this Association, together with a brief history of your transactions. Your "rating" is in all likelihood that which you conceive it to be after reading this message.

Thought For Today
And as the toes of the feet were part of iron and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong and partly broken.—Daniel 2:41

Weakness ineffectually seeks to disguise itself, like a drunken man trying to show how sober he is.—
Bovee.

Poverty Of Wealth
"Our wealth has made us rich
and left us poor, and it has increased our power and destroyed our stature."—Bovee.

This statement comes from a report adopted by the board of home missions and church extension of the Methodist Episcopal church. Coming, as it does, on the heels of 6,000,000 share days in the stock exchange, it seems rather timely.

We have grown into a rather peculiar attitude in the past decade.
Despite the fact that a good many citizens have had to go hungry at various times in that period we have been, on the whole, very prosperous.
Gorgeous new buildings have shot up in every city. The number of automobiles has increased tremendously. The radio has come into existence as an added luxury for the ordinary man. Movie theaters have grown ornate as grand opera houses.
All of this has given us a warped outlook. We have fallen into the habit of judging everything on the basis of cash value. No more do we respond to appeals to our idealism for altruism. The man we will follow is the man who can tell us we shall get more money in our pocket.
We gauge our progress in dollars. We believe that we have advanced greatly because we are vastly richer than we used to be—and if anyone dissents we put him down
as a booby.

Now, most refreshingly, an organization of churchmen raises its voice to remark that there are other standards than the money standard. It suggests that there may even be more important things than perpetuity.

Heretofore of course,
yet it is quite possible that American people in steadily increasing numbers will come to adopt such attitudes in the near future.

Although Europe has called us a nation of dollar chasers for generations, we are not and never have been, a materialistic people. From the very beginning Americans have been idealists and visionaries. Our entrance into the world war, for instance, may have been at bottom
a matter of money, yet it was the people who were won by appeals to the intangible values—
liberty, democracy, freedom.

Ever since the war we have been content to follow the dollar. But the pendulum will swing the other way. We shall discover in due time the truth of this remark of the churchman—that we can be vastly rich in money but lamentably poor
in the things that are most worth having.

When that day comes we shall realize that material prosperity is a means to an end, and not end in itself.

Nature's Way
Despite the fact that this is an age of mechanical inventions, the age-old forces of nature can still be enlisted to advantage in doing the work of the world.

The biological survey and the bureau of plant industry of the United States department of agriculture have been experimenting on new methods of helping farmers rid their orchards of destructive grubs and insects, and one of the best ways has been found to be the enlisting of an army of insect eating birds.

Careful researches have been shown the investigators what birds
are an orchard's best protectors.
Now they are studying methods of breeding that will enable a farmer
to maintain these birds on his land.

Odd, isn't it? We use machinery for more varieties of work every year; but nature's methods of keeping the insect population in check still seems to be the most effective.

THE PLAINSMAN
Say

That Girl on Broadway says her boy friend thinks growing a moustache will help him keep a stiff upper lip.

Well folks, The Plainsman is dashing off his daily stint on a brand new typewriter and while that may not make any difference as to the quality of the contents here-in,
it certainly will be a great aid to the quantity.

It's just like hopping on a baby grand piano after having played on an upright with the black keys dead and the white ones off key. There's as much difference between the new "mill" and the old one as there is between the original radio and the ones so popular today. Aside from the fact that the keyboard is the same there's no comparison.

Not being over-ambitious, The Plainsman has been waiting for years for some mechanically minded soul to invent a typewriter talking into a tube—
kinda like one of these dicto-graphs only different. Just imagine being able to sit with feet propped up on a desk, talking into a tube and the machine writing down what you say! That in the language of our old friend Briggs, would be a "grand and glorious feeling!"

But enough of this day dreaming.

The Lubbock Division of the Northwest Texas District of the United States Federal court opens its first hearing today and another milestone of progress is passed. A campaign extending over a period of fourteen years has been brought to a successful close and the Hub of the Plains chalks up another triumph.

This writer believes that Lubbock's record of "getting what it wants when it wants it" has been responsible for a great deal of good publicity and has done
a lot to make this city what it is today. People all over Texas have heard of Lubbock's ability to put over big propositions and are logically of the mind that there is cooperation right there will be progress. The campaign for the Federal court is just one instance of the city's progress.

That Man on Avenue Q says a fellow never realizes the influence of Andrew J. Voisard upon this country until he starts cutting a wisdom tooth.

Six hundred Texas will likely make the trip to Washington next February to attend the inauguration of Herbert Hoover on March 4th, predicts Fred L. Haskett, publicist manager of the anti-Smith organization in this state. The Plainsman doubts seriously that Texas' contribution to the inaugural crowd will be that large but the fact that plans are being laid for a special train is interesting to behold.

If a democrat was being installed in the Whitehouse the estimate of 600 Texas visitors might not be so startling. But that many to cheer the inauguration of a republican rallying mainly to snuff another political precedent into smotherhood.

Aside from those living in the vicinity of Washington and those employed by the Federal government, The Plainsman doubts seriously that more than 60 Texans saw Calvin Coolidge inaugurated. Despite the Hoover victory in Texas, the Plainsman believes that Mr.
Haskett, who by the way was a resident of Childress for many years, is somewhat optimistic.

This writer has not been in Washington since the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson in 1917 but he certainly can advise those who have never been in the national capital to make the trip. There's nothing in the world that can measure up to Washington at inaugural time. Folks who want to "see things" may well spend their time and money by making the trip regardless of who is being inaugurated.

Well, well. It won't be long now until we'll all be doing our Christmas shopping.

Associated Press dispatches from Fulton, Missouri, tell of an aged couple walking 20 miles to testify before a grand jury. In Texas they'd have walked the other way.

Members of the 1928 football team of Lubbock high school will be feted in a banquet Friday night of this week and the occasion should be one to remember. The "double ticket" plan is being used, whereby each outsider purchases his own and one additional ticket to take care of a grid squad member. The cost is slight and there should be a
"sell out" long before the toastmaster signals for eating to begin.

In characteristic Lubbock fashion those Westerners, with only five letter men returning from last year, hopped into the middle of the Class A grid race and with the exception of one game brooked no opposition.
They finished in second place,

THE SENATE DELAYS

The United States Senate has declined to ratify proposals to have this Nation participate in the League of Nations and the World Court,
and now action has been deferred
for a time upon the Brian-Kellogg treaty for the outlawry of war. It is announced that Secretary of State Kellogg will be called before the Senate at that body's request Friday,
when the pact will be brought up again.

Ratification of American entrance into the League and the Court was declined on the general grounds that certain regulations of the organization might conflict with the individual sovereignty of the United States. At least the reservations forwarded would intimate such grounds.
No such basis can be found for refusal to ratify the Brian-Kellogg treaty. This movement toward peace can not interfere with the sovereignty of any nation because it makes no provision of jurisdiction in disputes between nations. It makes no pretense at providing an international court.

As a matter of fact, the Brian-Kellogg treaty, in its final analysis is a formal statement renouncing
war. To sign it is merely to go on record as opposed to war as a means of settlement of difficulties between nations. No obligations are assumed, and now powers are delegated.
Despite the acclamation with which the anti-war pact has been received it actually represents little material progress toward lasting peace, because it offers no substitute. However, to have nearly two score nations go on record as opposed to war is extremely indicative of a trend away from hostilities.
The treaty is a gesture for peace that may result in material progress toward that end.

For the United States to decline
to go on record as opposed to war would be a blot upon the name of this nation. Surely such is not the will of the people. Penetrations representatives were justified in refusing to enter the World Court and the League of Nations under the terms set out, but they can not be excused for declining to formally express the attitude of the United States as opposed to war. Refusal to ratify the Kellogg treaty will create a sentiment among the other people of the world that would retard progress toward permanent peace for many years. Surely Americans have no desire to be a party to such action.—Vernon Record.

WHY GOOD HIGHWAYS
All the teachers of the state are said to be advocates of the modern highways. W. L. Hughes is president of the Texas Teachers' association. He has let it be known that fighting gamely in every tilt and showed Lubbock football fans
something in the way of condition that they haven't seen for some time.

They refused to have their
"morale" broken by a heart-rending defeat by a bigger, older and stronger Amarillo team and turned from their loss to lace their remaining rivals in no uncertain terms.
The kids have accomplished something and their efforts should be encouraged.

In New York
By
Swan
Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—This is just a short story of the Bowery
that was, and the Bowery that is.
The Bowery that was is a flashy colorful and drab legend. The Bowery that is—well, it's drab when it's drab, and after that it's a bit monotonous. It retains its name, its bums and its two-bit lodging houses. And little else.

But once upon the time when the Bowery was the Bowery, there was a fighter they called "the Bowery Boy."

And anyone who cares to look through his Sporting Annual can chart back to a day when the name of the Bowery Boy was one,
as they say, to conjure with. The Bowery Boy was truly a Bowery Bo. With the Bowery as his background, foreground—and now his past. Back in the 1820's, when a lot of us were still anticipating birth, the Bowery Boy "put away"
some other fellow named McElroy,
whose name still lingers in song.

Overnight, the lad who had been Joe Bernstein, but who became the Bowery Boy, was more than a passing hero to his neighborhood. He was idolized, hero worshipped and feted.

Then the old story—transient glory, bright lights, money and then obscurity.

Very well! About a year ago,
the Bowery Boy from the Bowery that was, revisited the Bowery that
is. He hadn't been feeling well.
And he was broke. He thought he'd like to revisit the scene of his glory in the event that his illness proved more serious than appeared on the surface. And as he plodded, half sick, along the tawdry lower Bowery
that is, bums asked him for dimes.
And he couldn't give them any, for
he had none himself.

The following day he collapsed
and they took him to the Bellevue hospital—to a charitable ward.

For a time it seemed certain he would die, but finally he won and they tossed him back on the world again—broken in health. Some of the old-timers got together and staged one of those benefits. They called the Bowery Boy a fat purse
to start him up in business.

Over in Brooklyn, a fast aging man shuffles nightly about the smoke filled pool room, of which he is proprietor. It's a great hangout for "four-rounders" and "pues" in general. They gather around the pool table and talk about the last fight and the fight before last and the next fight; they talk about their own prowess and hopes—and when the fast aging man comes about they call out to him and ask for his state of health. And he answers:
"Oh, so, so!"

And if you were to ask them
who this man is, they would look at you unbelievably and remark
—"He, don'tcha know the Bow-
ery Boy?"

Which is all there is to this short story.

But there are many such scattered about Manhattan. For the prize ring leaves few prizes in the pockets of the men who have made their names and fortunes there. And those who make neither names or fortunes are to be found scattered about the sidewalks, "waiting for something to turn up."

The role came of course,
young Griffith—he who added his days a lumbering old man, seated night upon night at the back door of the Rialto theater, watching the Broadway crowds drift by and getting a "hand-out" from time to time. One day, he just tumbled over and they found him dead a few days later. They gave him an elaborate funeral—but the clairvoyants of the Broadway belt will tell you that his ghost still haunts the corner of 43d street and Broadway. For a dollar or so they'll produce it.

ing I'll bet you little thought that

American farmer.
Friday's available supply would have manufactured 1,600 tons of fertilizer containing 754,820 pounds
of nitrogen or the nitrogen contained in 2,435 tons of Chilean nitrate, costing the farmer $62 per ton. Nitrogen can be made at Muscle Shoals and sold at 6 cents per pound. Thus, if Friday's available power had been used to make air nitrogen, the saving to American farmers would have been $105,681.80.
"Compare this sum with the $6-62.80 from sale of power at two mills."

President Coolidge's firm stand against government operation, reiterated when an Alabama delegation called at the White House the other day, has made it clear that no government operation will be attempted under this administration. The president let it be known that he might approve the bid of the American Cyanamid company, if certain changes were made. But the outlook is that the Muscle Shoals problem, which has rocked along for years, is going to be handed over to the Hoover administration for decision.

TOO MANY CALORIES MAKE FAT EVEN WITH SWEETS EXCLUDED

Why Can't She Reduce?
"I am 15 pounds overweight and can't reduce to save my life! I never touch sugar, bread or butter,
or any form of cereal or potatoes.
I eat green vegetables and meat,
fresh fruit and
coffee. If I ate
your 'reducing'
article, even though you sent
me your pamphlet,
I'd be as big as a
bee. Am only 5
feet tall and weigh 125 pounds. I can only reduce by
eating positively
nothing. If I were alone, I
would never have
an order sugar,
bread, butter, potatoes, cereals. I never bake cake or pies unless I am having guests. I eat all my food dry; I dislike gravies and sauces. I could be shut in a cage in a show for a month without food and not lose an ounce. Why?"

"MRS. P."

Your error, my dear Mrs. P. You couldn't be shut up without eating anything for a month, and not lose an ounce. You would lose many,
many ounces, and rapidly, too.

The reason you don't reduce is exactly the same one that applies to every one else—you are eating more than you need for your activities.
It is not what you don't eat that makes you fat, even though what you do eat includes bread, sugar, gravies, sauces, etc. In the food you do eat, you are making up enough calories so that you have more than enough for your needs.

I will concede you this point: As you are short (only 5 feet) you don't need nearly so much food to sus-tain you as a larger framed person would, any more than a little runner would need so much gasoline to run on as a big touring car.
So it is to count your calories and see how much you are actually consuming, and cut them down so that your own excess will have to supply the deficit.

Your diet is a little bit too restricted. You should have milk in it.

The World And All
BY CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

CATCHING A HUSBAND
It is most untactful, unwise, ungentlemanly and unskillful for a married man to say to his wife, "You entrapped me. You went after me.
You used wiles and tricks to make me ask you to marry me."

Why, of course she did! And what's wrong with that? Why shouldn't she? The husband, instead of taunting his wife with the tricks she used in catching him, should smile broadly to himself about it and say within himself, "Well, well, n't that cute of her! And if she hadn't done it,
I wouldn't be here."

It may be assumed that the single girl of marriageable age who is in fairly good health and is normally constituted, wants to be married. If she didn't, God pity the human race! It is also safe to assume that the average male in circular health and normal circumstances, is just a mile shy of marriage. He has to be entrapped.

Now, the poor girl isn't responsible for this situation. It was all arranged by an all-wise Providence.
Who certainly knows what's best for men. In other words, the situation is the result of the interaction of biological and economic laws, none of which the girl had anything to do with making.

Facing the situation she finds herself in the girl, obeying laws she probably knows nothing about, puts her in a position where she has to do something.

NEW YORK TRADING
NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (P)—A renewal of selling sent cotton prices down from unchanged to 15 points. This was prompted by relatively easy Liverpool cables but the decline to 15.60 for January seemed to bring considerable covering or trade buying and the market recovered 9 to 10 points of its losses during early trading. At the end of the first half hour, active months showed net losses of 10 or 11 points. There was enough trade buying or covering to give the market a fairly steady undertone and cause moderate rallies from the opening decline, but the selling continued and prices were within a point or two of the lowest at midday. January sold off to 19.37 and May to 19.38 making net declines of about 14 to 15 points.

NEW ORLEANS TRADING
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 10 (P)—The cotton market opened easy in sympathy with lower Liverpool cables. First trades showed losses of 14 to 18 points and prices receded a point or two additional after the start to 18.95 for January, 19.02 for March and 18.96 for May or 17 to 19 points under Saturday's close.
Despite the influence still exerted by the bearish government report January rallied to 19.07, March 19.02 and May 19.10, or 10 to 12 points above the lows.
The demand tapered off at the advance and some liquidation by less developed carrying January sank to 18.90, and active positions generally 20 to 23 points under Saturday's close.
Towards noon prospects for large exports for the day induced a slight demand which steadied the market and advanced prices a few points above the lowest.

LEAGUE MEET IN SPOTLIGHT

UNITED STATES TAKES HAND IN TOPICS UP FOR TALK

(By Associated Press)
Lugano, where the council of the League of Nations opens its fifty-third session today, will be the center of interest this week for Europe's international politicians. The open program involves questions in which the United States has a distinct interest, notably the discussion of the rule for the court of international justice, a subject which arose through this country's reservation that it must have the right of vetoing submission to the court of any subject in which there was direct American consideration.

The council is to debate arms and armament in connection with the failure last week of a special commission at Geneva to frame a tentative convention for control of the manufacture of weapons and munitions. That conference agreed to disagree, splitting over the old subject of publicity on the products of government arsenals.

At Lugano, Aristide Briand of France, Gustav Stresemann of Germany and Austen Chamberlain of Great Britain meet "eye to eye" for the first time in nine months and while it has been agreed that Germany's war reparations payments are temporarily out of the international political field until the projected commission of experts has reported some months hence, there is every probability that the three foreign ministers will have

Stocks And Money

WALL STREET PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (P)—With strong buying support over the week end, stock prices rallied in impressive fashion at the opening of today's market after the sharp perpendicular decline of the three preceding sessions. Radio which broke 72 points Saturday, opened 14 points higher at 310 and quickly ran up to 314. International Harvester jumped 23 points on the first sale. National Tea, 10 American smelting 5. General motors 41-2 General Electric 3. Montgomery Ward dropped 4 points on the first sale.

The initial rally was based on widespread rumors, which lacked official confirmation, that buying support had been arranged at a meeting of bankers Saturday. Fresh selling developed on the rally but only in a few cases did prices break below the low levels of last week. Radio fell from an early high of 314 to 300 before the end of the first half hour. Wright Aero-nautical lost its initial gain of 6 points and General Motors forfeited most of its initial gain of 4 1-2 points.

A. M. Byers broke 6 3-8 points below Saturday's final quotation and National Bellas Hess, American Machine & Foundry, American Express and Indian Refining sagged 2 to 3 points.
Foreign exchanges opened firm with cables slightly firmer at $4.85 1-16.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

ENGLISH RULER YET IN DANGER

BULLETIN, OPTIMISTIC, HOWEVER AVERS ILLNESS SERIOUS

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Dec. 10.—King George's condition is still causing anxiety. The king's physicians made this clear in their bulletin this morning which otherwise was of a somewhat more encouraging character than those of the last day or two. They reported his temperature was somewhat lower despite a restless night and his general condition was slightly improved.

The admonition with which the bulletin closed, however,—that anxiety must continue—held the warning that the royal patient's case was still a very serious one with the outcome in doubt.

The general public seems already to have been convinced, however reluctantly, by the tenor of recent official reports that this is the real situation and one effect was to bring a large number of anxious people to the plaza before Buckingham Palace by the time this morning's bulletin was posted.

NEW HEARING TO BE GIVEN

CONDEMNED PAIR WILL GET NEW CHANCE FOR PARDON

(By Associated Press)
BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 10.—The state pardon board will grant a new hearing to Ada Bonner Lehoucq and Dr. Thomas E. Debever, sentenced to hang January 5 for the murder of the woman's husband.

Both Lieutenant Governor Paul N. Cyr and Attorney General Percy Saint said they would vote to reopen the case in view of the discovery of new evidence. Recent the pardon board voted two to one against recommending commutation to life sentence of the death penalty.

New evidence was the finding of a pistol in a six foot canal near the scene of the killing, which Joseph Lehoucq, of Morgan City, son of the slain man, said today was the blue steel weapon belonging to his father.

COOLIDGE SUGGESTS SUMMER WHITE HOUSE BE PROVIDED BY CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—To Herbert Hoover and other presidents to come may go the benefit of President Coolidge's suggestion that the chief executive be provided with a country White House.

Only a few months before his retirement from office the president has declared that the health not only of the president but of the mistress of the White House would be benefited if there were some place in the hills near Washington where they might go to escape the heat and tedium of summer.

Writing for the fifteenth anniversary of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, President Coolidge said: "As a president about to retire, I feel at liberty to write of certain phases of that office which one who was entering upon its duties might feel some hesitation in discussing."

He declared that he referred to the health and physical condition of the president, adding "not so much for my own sake as for my successor."

"I have often remarked that at least I had one distinction," he continued. "I have been the healthiest president that the country has ever had."

President Coolidge said that he had accomplished this by systematic exercise and regular habits. "Washington is practically at sea level," he said. "Its climate is an exceedingly good all the year round climate, but at times the humidity is high and unrelieved. It becomes monotonous. The only avenue of escape for the president is the naval boat Mayflower."

President Coolidge explained the chief executive's little freedom of movement, and he asserted that the only place he could enter without considerable preliminary disturbance is the White House.

"For these reasons," he said, "it seems to me that some place should be provided in the hills within easy striking distance of Washington where the president might go for two or three days at a time when he was so disposed, with conveniences for entertaining members of the government and other guests, where he could have that freedom of action which he has only at the White House, and where he could get a complete change of atmosphere."

Benefit to Mistress
"While I have made no mention of the mistress of the White House, she is of course to be considered. The public little understands the very exacting duties that she must perform and the restrictive life that she must lead. Fully as much as the president, she needs the opportunity for a change and some place where she can have the seclusion of the White House without a constant reminder of its obligations."

While talking of the proposed presidential retreat, President Coolidge said that a legacy left for a summer White House was never accepted by congress.

The legacy was a gift of J. W.

Joy Riders Smash Into Parked Auto

Stranded a week ago by a local negro in front of the city hall, a light touring car was considerably smashed last night when a car loaded with young people "broad-sided" it.

Picked up later by members of the police force and asked why he ran into the other car, the driver said: "Why the fool driver of that touring car just darted in front of me and I didn't have a chance to miss him."

Since the officers knew that there had not been a driver in the other car for the past week, they feared that the driver was seeing either double or not at all. He and two of his companions paid off this morning to charges of drunkenness.

It is now definitely known that the dog does not see very well, probably because no color vision and hence sees everything as some shade of gray.
