City Council Strikes Out Baseball Man

An old bug-a-boo returned to City Council Monday night—baseball and light bills.

Brady (Pete) Warren appeared before the Council Monday night and asked the city to pay the 1960 and the 1961 electric bills for lights for the Pony League organization.

Warren asked the Council to pay a $272.04 bill left over from the 1960 season and this year's bill of $235.68—a total of $507.72.

Warren said that he took over the office of Pony League president this year thinking the 1960 bill had been paid. He asked the Council to pay the 2 bills and allow the league to start out free of debt in 1962.

"I hope that the program can pay for the lights next year," he said. The league has a small amount of money, to be used for park improvements, but not enough to pay the 2 light bills.

The league has constructed a new park, "one of the best in this area," he said, and had paid off all of its other debts for the season.

Councilman Bob Carver said that Lions Club had about 70 members and suggested that Warren take his plea for the money to that club. "I'm a member," Carver continued, "and I know I'd take it if the other Lions would agree to chip-in the same amount."

Warren said he did not want to approach the Lions club. The Lions contribute $150 to the Little League program each year as it is, Warren continued.

ON STATION KVMC

Annual "Radio Day" Set Here Tuesday by Jaycees

Colorado City's Junior Chamber of Commerce goes on the air Tuesday.

The Jaycees will observe their annual "Radio Day" here by furnishing the complete programming for Radio Station KVMC's 12 1/2-hour day of broadcasting.

The more than 50 local Jaycees will handle the entire show—news, sports, commercials and music. They are expected to pull a few surprises too in the way of special shows of local talent, panels and other features.

Four-man teams of Jaycees will man each 1-hour segment of the broadcast day that starts at 6 a. m. and continues until 7:30 p. m.

Jaycee Jerry Jamison, also a regular announcer on KVMC, is general chairman for the big day—one that could make history for both KVMC and the Jaycees.

Radio Day is an annual fund-raising project of the club. Jaycees have been busy for the past 2 weeks selling ads and commercials for their individual segments of the broadcast day. The club will share in the profits from the advertising they sell.

"Tuesday promises to be an unique day in the history of radio broadcasting," says Jamison, "and one of vast entertainment to Mitchell County listeners."

FALSE ALARM REPORTED TOO

Four-Room Home Destroyed by Fire

A Wednesday evening fire destroyed the A. B. Colson home at 346 Sherman St.

The fire was reported at 6:20 p. m. and the alarm was answered by the Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department.

The contents of the 4-room and bath frame house were described as a total loss. Damages to the contents were estimated at about $3,000 by Fire Marshall Virgil Eaton.

Eaton estimated damages to the house itself would run in the neighborhood of $3,000 also. The framework of the building was still standing after the flames were extinguished, but Easton said that only part of the lumber could be salvaged. The fire gutted the interior of the home and the ceilings in only 2 rooms were saved.

The house faces west on Sherman St. about 100 yards north of east U. S. Highway 80 in the eastern limits of the city. It is located on the east side of Sherman St.

The Colsons were in Sweetwater at the time of the fire. Eaton said that the fire apparently started in the south-east bedroom of the home. His department's investigation led him to believe that faulty wiring in an air conditioner was responsible for the fire, he said.

Colorado City had its second false fire alarm within 8 days Wednesday.

A fire was reported in the 1400 block of Oak St. at 9:49 a. m. Wednesday, but no fire was found.

Tuesday, Aug. 8, a false alarm was reported in the 400

MISS LONE WOLF ELECTRIC

Nati Lynn Smith In Beauty Pageant

Miss Nati Lynn Smith entered the competition tonight (Thursday) for the title of Miss Texas Rural Electrification.

The 18-year-old Miss Smith, Miss Lone Wolf Electric Co., carried the local co-op's colors into the annual beauty pageant at the Texas Electric Cooperative convention in San Antonio.

Beauty pageant competition is nothing new to the local beauty. She was crowned queen of the first annual Tumbleweed Festival here in Colorado City in 1960 and then was one of the 6 finalists in the Miss Texas pageant in June. She entered the Miss Texas competition as Miss Colorado City.

She will tonight with 6 other state beauties for the title of Miss Texas Rural Electrification in 1962 and a scholarship to attend college.

Miss Nati Lynn Smith, Miss Tumbleweed of 1960 and 1 of 6 finalists in the 1961 Miss Texas beauty pageant, was 1 of 7 entrants in the Miss Rural Electrification beauty pageant in San Antonio tonight (Thursday). She was crowned as Miss Lone Wolf Electric of 1961.

Decision is 3-2 As 2 Don't Vote

City Council, by a split vote, turned down a compromise telephone rates increase proposal offered here by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company Monday night.

The Council's refusal to accept the compromise proposal came as a mild surprise. A majority of the Council had apparently given an unofficial nod to approve the compromise proposal in a "study session" Friday in City Manager Earl Keaton's office.

The compromise proposal was for a 25c increase straight line telephones (private) and a 50c increase on business phones.

Southwestern Bell area manager Truman Black appeared before the Council and said that his company was "ready to compromise and get it over with tonight" on the request for a rate increase that has been before the Council for about 9 months—since December of 1960.

(The original request was for an increase of 50c (to $5.50) on straight line phones and $1.50 (to $11.50) on business phones.

Black told the Council that his company had a total billing of $148,000 in long distance calls here in the past year and a total billing of $184,000 in local revenue.

He added that the rate of return on investment by Southwestern Bell was 1.04 per cent here and that the compromise proposal would not raise their earnings to the 2 per cent mark. There are 3,000 phones in service here at the present, he said.

Councilman Bob Carver said to Black, "We got something in return from Texas Electric Service Company when we recently increased their rates—we got more water for the city and their promise that they planned further expansion in their facilities here. Carver then asked if Southwestern Bell had any plans for expansion here.

"No," replied Black. "You have all the service the people want and, besides, we added equipment here last year."

Councilman Sam L. (Buzz) Majors, Jr., said that the city had been forced into a gas rates increase last year by court action, that a water rates increase was to give more and better service and that the electric rates increase was justified by the fact that Texas Electric was going "to spend a lot of money in the community."

"Your company has nothing added to offer," he told Black. "We are continuing to improve service," replied Black. Black also said that efforts had been made to clear up the question of long distance calls from Colorado City being given "Sweetwater calling" by operators in this city's long distance exchange in Sweetwater.

"This (the increase) just doesn't look justified with your income here," Majors said.

One improvement that Southwestern Bell did plan here was the installation of a long distance dial system, Black said. He could not tell the Council how soon the system would be installed.

Councilman C. G. (Skeet) Harkins said he had talked to 76 of the 114 employees at Col-Tex Refinery (where he works) prior to the meeting and that his co-workers had said they had to have other utility services, but "we don't have to have phones." All of Col-Tex workers have taken a $30 to $80 per month pay cut recently and 15 are being transferred to Copen Refinery in Big Spring Sept. 1, he continued.

"This is just the opinion of some inside industry," Harkins said. "I would like to see the Council's decision on this."

A. G. FURLOWS

Golden Wedding Marked By Pair

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Furlow Sr., residents of Loraine for 45 years were honored with a reception in the home of a son and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Furlow Jr., Sunday.

Two other sons and 2 daughters cohosted the affair which complimented the couple on their golden wedding anniversary.

A. G. Furlow Jr. greeted guests and introduced the honored couple. Mrs. George Mahoney and Joyce Lynn Furlow, granddaughter, served golden wedding punch and a 3-tiered cake from a lace covered table with crystal appointments. Mints and nuts were also served.

Cake was white with gold trim and centered with the letter "50". A single gold bell topped the cake. Table was centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and gold leaves flanked by a miniature horse and buggy on 1 side and a modern car on the other, depicting the Furlow of Loraine; and 7 years as the couple started their courtship in a buggy.

White napkins were used with gold lettering. "Grady and Angie, 1911-1961." Registration table held an arrangement of gold zinnias and Mrs. Ray Furlow registered guests.

Sons and daughters of the couple presented Mrs. Furlow with a gold bracelet with each of her family's name on a charm. Mr. Furlow was presented a gold lighter.

Sixty-five guests were registered.

Mrs. Furlow, the former Angie Butler, and a native of Louisiana, and Mr. Furlow of Crockett, were married in Loraine Aug. 12, 1911. They lived in Corpus Christi until 1916 and have lived in and around Loraine since that time. Furlow was a building contractor until ill health forced him to retire 3 years ago.

HOME TOWN

Talk

By PEGGY BELVIN

Noticed a new face in COLORADO DRUG this week... an awfully small one. Between his duties of dusting, rearranging and drinking cherry cokes, we learned who he was.

The drug store's new temporary employee is 10-year-old MRC MC SHAN, grandson of MR. and MRS. M. E. MILLER.

Marc is visiting with his grandparents for 2 weeks, and he has proved to be quite a useful addition to the drug store's list of employees.

Other expected guests in the Miller household this week-end will be Marc's brother and family, MR. and MRS. PAT MC SHAN, Marc's mother. MRS. H. D. MC SHAN, will also arrive this week-end and Marc will return home with her.

Did you ever see someone cry for joy? I was a dinner guest of MR. and MRS. HARVEY SHERMAN the other night, and amidst the gay chatter and laughter around the table, it was noticed that Harvey didn't even crack a smile.

When questioned about this, he said that he was embarrassed to laugh. Since this was almost unbelievable, everyone demanded to know the reason why. But no amount of urging could make him confess, so all present set about the task of trying to make him laugh.

After all attempts had failed, JOE PHARISS (another guest) told an unusually humorous story, upon which Harvey finally burst into laughter. To everyone's utter astonishment, 2 enormous tears rolled down his cheeks.

Harvey confessed that he always refrained from laughing until he reached home, where he could let the sink catch all his tears...

In every store's advertising, this phrase is oft repeated. "For Back To School..."

Yes, it's almost that time again. Almost time for those old standbys of readin', writin' and 'rithmetic. This modern day world has also added a few others such as geometry, physics, biology, psychology and trigonometry, to mention just a few.

Just a little reminder about the time when families are ready to purchase new wardrobes, supplies, etc. for the 1961-62 school year. There is no better place to purchase it than the local stores right here in town, and at the same time, you will be providing much more than material things for the children of Colorado City. You will also be purchasing for them a better town to attend school in as well as a better town to grow up in...

Mrs. Dawson Presides At Circle Meet

Mrs. Ethel Dawson, chairman, presided during the business session of Roberta Edwards Circle meeting Monday night in the home of Mrs. Paul Beeman of the Buford community.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. Brooks Teague, Mrs. Dawson, Mrs. Walding, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Reed. Mrs. B. B. Lee, Miss Morgan, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. R. B. Cain and Mrs. Inez Hook. Also Mrs. Grantland, Mrs. C. C. Barnes and Mrs. Beeman. Next meeting will be Sept. 11 at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Barnes, 405 E. 13th St.

SQUAD IS AS SCRAPPY AS EVER

Wolves to Field Faster Offensive Team in '61

"We'll be scrappy!"

That's the way Coach Sam Christy sizes up this 1961 edition of the Colorado City Wolves.

And that's all that most any coach asks of his charges and it is one of the main objectives of Christy — he wants a squad that get out there and "mix it up" and make the leather pop win or lose.

Christy instilled that type of desire in his 1960 Wolves and they responded with the best season in years for the locals — plus a most shocking and rewarding upset victory over an overrated Sweetwater Mustang crew.

"They'll work, too," Christy says of his newest hopefuls and that they'll have to do to round into shape for their opening date on Sept. 8 when they journey to Post. Christy must mold an entirely new team — only 8 lettermen return from his 5-5 team of last year and only one can really be rated as a returning starter.

Guard Darrell Davis, a 160-pounder, is the only actual returning starter. He started most of the Wolf games at that position on both offense and defense last year.

Another returnee who got some starting nods from Christy last year was defensive back Dan Latimer. He started on the defensive side several games in relief of one of last year's top stars, quarterback Jerry McKay.

From that point on, the pickings are slim as far as starting experience is concerned.

But, who knows, the Wolves only had a 1-9 record in 1959, but Christy took a crew that wasn't expected to be anything more than "cannon fodder" last year and molded them not only into a district co-championship team, but also the best team in the district at season's end.

About 45 hopefuls greeted Christy and his staff on the practice field as pre-season drills opened here Monday — and many were in good shape due to summer workouts on their own.

There are 2 other bright spots on the Wolf unit — the team is faster overall and already has a promise of a fine running game on offense. The Wolves have 2 little quarterbacks who can handle the team on the ground, but no proven passing strength. Latimer, who tips the scales at 140, and David Lewis, a 130-pound prospect, are the man-under hopefuls.

But, there is hope in sight. Mike Andrews, a fine prospect at end, is being groomed as a possible man-under and he's being groomed as a passer. If he develops, and Christy is presently most hopeful, he could give the Wolves a balanced offensive attack with a passing threat.

The team will be molded around its 3 tri-captains. They are guard Davis, tackle Jerry Whitaker and back Jimmy "Chicken" Womack. Whitaker rates as one of the largest men on the squad at 210 and his opposite is Womack — pound-for-pound one of the scrappiest on the team at his "soaking wet" 140 pounds.

What will make the Wolves dangerous on the ground will be their speed. Christy rates it faster than that of last season.

And leading that charge will probably be Ken Northcutt, a scabbard who specializes in the 100-yard dash in track and is faster than the Wolves' 1960

all-stater, tailback Don Vest. This season's Wolf schedule is rated tougher than the one the team faced last year although only one change in opponents has been made in it. But that one change is a "hand full."

The Wolves dropped Brownfield from their schedule and added the potent and ever dangerous Stamford Bulldogs to their slate. Stamford, for years a state powerhouse in Class AA, is never a push over.

That's what Christy and his assistants now have to work with — and it's possibly enough, say Christy, if no one is injured.

The assistants are Ken Kearns, backfield; Caddo Matthews, B-team; and Jeff Walker, line and chief scout.

Leaves for Boot Camp

Benny Whitehead, a 1961 graduate of Westbrook High School, left Monday for San Diego, Calif., to begin 9 weeks of basic with the U. S. Navy.

BOWLER of the Week

Mrs. A. B. Colson

Mrs. A. B. (Lovine) Colson puts plenty of emphasis on footwork in bowling. And apparently she's right.

For she has travelled a long way in just 1 year of bowling — participating in 5 leagues, earning honors within the leagues and in City Bowling Tourney, stepping up into regional and statewide competition.

Mrs. Colson and her husband, who owns his own cattle company, reside at 346 Sherman St. For 17 years she has been office manager for Tri-County Auction Company in Sweetwater. But duties of housewife and career haven't slowed her bowling. In fact, she has perfect attendance for all 5 leagues in which she bowls.

She was named the most improved bowler in the Women's Winter, Mop & Broom and Travelette leagues. She captained the Roberts Butane & Walker Grocery teams, earned individual high average, game and series in the Mop & Broom.

Her honors include all-events championship in Women's City Association Tourney, plus second in singles and third in doubles. She bowled in Texas Women's Bowling Association doubles and singles in San Antonio last spring. And with Mrs. Tex Keel won 10th in a field of 333 entries in the Alibi Doubles at Austin Bowl in the Alamo City. In a 14-week Hen Scratch League just ended in Sweetwater she and Betty Colson won third.

Mrs. Colson, secretary and treasurer of both the 1961 Women's Summer and Mop & Broom leagues, bowls a 144 average with 251 high game, 359 high series.

Mrs. Don DeLaney was installed as the organization's new president. She took over her duties following the installation services.

Other new officers for the association's 1961-62 year are: Mrs. Emmett Banks, Jr., vice president.

Mrs. W. P. Robinson, secretary-treasurer. Miss Dolores Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

Outgoing officers, the charter officers, were honored with Women's International Bowling Congress awards for their service to the association.

Outgoing officers were: Mrs. Albright, president; Mrs. Cummins Wood, vice president; Mrs. Robinson, secretary; Mrs. Warren White, treasurer; and Mrs. Orbie Ray Linder, sergeant-at-arms.

ON LAKE COLORADO CITY

Fishing Slow at Spots, But Cat Catches Good

"They've been biting slow" is the way Earl Taylor, manager of Lake Colorado City's fishing concession at Lake Park, describes fishing at past week on the local lake.

Lake View Camp, located on the west side of the lake, reported some good catches during the week, but the big cat that were being pulled in earlier in the year again are missing from the report.

The biggest cat catch of the week was reported by T. E. Underwood of Big Spring who hooked an 11-pound yellow cat on perch and water dogs on a trot line. He also pulled in a 7½-pound channel cat.

Bernie Grable, rated 1 of Colorado City's better bass fishermen, used a Bushwacker lure to hook 3 bass — weighing 3.2 and 1½ pounds each. Sally Wistrand, also of Colorado City, used a Denson Bug to hook a 2-pound bass.

Cotter Hieft of Midland, a regular at the local lake, found the cat fishing to his liking with a total of 9 yellow and channel cat. He pulled in yellow cat weighing 7, 6 and 5 pounds and channel cat that tipped the scales at 4 and 3 pounds and 4 more that averaged 1½-pound each. He used perch on a trot line.

Another Midland resident, Cotton Beasley, racked up a surprising total of 80 channel cat and a yellow cat on his trot line that was baited with liver. The 80 channel cat averaged 1-pound each and the yellow cat weighed in at 4 pounds.

Lester Brannon, Lubbock, and Bill Davis, Hobbs, N. M., reported a catch of 18 channel cat ranging between 1 pound and 1½ pound. They used waterdogs on a trot line.

Two Odessa men G. C. Stevenson and J. W. Glover, hooked 21 channel cat on their trot line that was baited with liver, heart and waterdogs. One weighed 4 pounds and the other 20 averaged 1½-pound each.

D. L. Vaughn and Howard Eaton of Big Spring reported 9 channel cat caught on a trot line baited with waterdogs. Seven of the cat were 1-pounders and the other 2 were 3-pounders.

Six-year-old, Eddie Dowser, Harold Glover, age 9, and Jimmy Glover, 11, all of Odessa, also found the cat fishing favorable here. They took 17 channel cat weighing up to 4½ pounds, on a trot line using liver and heart as bait.

Thirteen channel cat, averaging 1-pound each, were caught by Gene Wadell and Gary Gummelt of Midland on waterdogs on a trot line.

An even dozen channel cat, averaging 1½ - pound each, were hooked on water dogs by J. C. Moore of Brownfield and J. O. Freeman of Tahoka.

Mrs. J. B. Cloud of Brownfield pulled in 7 channel cat that averaged 1-pound each.

Bob Landrum and George Chapman of Big Spring caught 2 4-pound channel cat on waterdogs on a trot line.

THEY COUNT . . .

Something extra usually is required to do the best job . . . to do the leading instead of the following.

Just like in organizations such as Lions and Kiwanis. Not everybody wants to be saddled with the extra work, extra effort, extra concern that goes with the presidency of valuable organizations like these.

But Dr. H. Jeno Steakley, the dentist, and Martin Weaver, the hospital business manager, are handling the chores in capable fashion. And they join a prominent list of citizens who have given that "extra something" for better civic clubs and a better community.

Marketing Quota Needs Farmer's Concern

If marketing quotas on the 1962 wheat crop are approved by growers in the August 24 referendum, U. S. Department of Agriculture officials estimate it will save U. S. taxpayers about $50 million next year.

And in the period before next year's wheat crop could be disposed of, the probable savings to taxpayers at present rates would amount to $258 million, according to the department.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said government stocks of wheat are now near 1 1/4 billion bushels and would probably increase by another 100 million bushels unless the program for 1962 is approved by the referendum. The savings will come from reduced interest and storage costs if the new program is approved, he said.

These are big figures and, no doubt, subject to debate by persons with different ideas about agriculture surpluses and marketing controls. But this makes it even more important that the individual grower make every effort to study the situation, the proposed quota program and then vote in the referendum next week. His decision is the important decision.

The wheat stabilization law provides for a 10 per cent cut in the nation's 55 million acre wheat allotment. The acres taken out of wheat production must be devoted to an approved conservation use. Under marketing quotas, wheat price supports of $2 a bushel would be available to farmers who comply with their acreage allotments. There would also be payments to producers who divert additional wheat acreage to conservation uses.

Two-thirds of the growers voting in the Aug. 24 referendum must favor marketing quotas to put them into effect. Farmers have approved such quotas for the past eight years and last year more than 87 per cent of those voting said yes to marketing quotas for the 1961 crop.

Polling places in Mitchell County will be announced by county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee and details on the referendum are available from this committee, from county ASC offices and county agents. The decision that farmers make is extremely important to them and to all of us.

Lawman Speaks Out—To All Of Us

You may have overlooked the news report of the speech, but those words spoken by Col. Homer Garrison Jr. this week in East Texas are worth repeating.

The director of Texas Department of Public Safety was addressing the East Texas Peace Officers Association meeting in Tyler when he mentioned juvenile crime.

Garrison's report on the increase in juvenile crime was not watered down. He called the rise deplorable and declared that boys and girls between 17 and 19 years of age are committing more crimes now than any other group.

This juvenile lawlessness is a major reason that our crime rate has jumped 98 per cent in the last 10 years—outstripping the population growth by 4 to 1, he said.

But it is significant where Garrison placed the blame. Not on the youth nor on law enforcement agencies, but upon the shoulders of parents, themselves.

Relaxing of parental responsibility is the real cause, he said, and this has become a moral crime by parents in the circumstance of more and more juvenile crime.

Garrison urged parents to instill in their children and teenagers a belief in their country and their God. And he predicted this plea with the warning that Communists have declared openly they can win the country that kills its own national pride and patriotism.

All of which re-emphasizes what was said at the beginning—Garrison's words are worth repeating.

There's more, too. For the colonel's talk implies that we should devote a little more time to correcting our own weaknesses instead of just denouncing Communism.

Definitely, Yes

A nationally known research firm has come up with some pertinent information. The firm, Sindlinger & Company, Inc., said interviews with 3,104 persons throughout the nation reveal: 107-million or 82 percent of all U. S. citizens (12 & older) are informed on the current Berlin situation and have definite ideas on what we should do... only 3 percent disagree with President Kennedy's Berlin policy.

STATE CAPITOL NEWS

State Crosses the Great Divide with Sales Taxes

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Associated

Texas has crossed the great divide of controversy and entered the field of general sales taxation.

To the central collection point for the operation of the state's business, this means some $320,000,000 in the next 2-6 year period.

To the individual taxpayer, the cost is unknown, but educated guesses already are being made.

James McGrew, research director for the Texas Research League, has estimated all these things will cost the Texas family $25 to $30 a year, "maybe less if they don't buy any furniture or home appliances."

With some exceptions, the general sales tax will be 2 per cent on purchases of 25c or more.

Passage of the tax bill and the attending publicity caused many a man—and woman—on the street to suddenly realize that there already was a state sales tax on such things as cosmetics and appliances.

Actually, the sales tax bill was only part of the tax package handed down by the lawmakers. In addition to the $320,000,000 estimated to come from this source, they passed a corporate franchise tax worth $20,500,000. They increased drivers' license fees by $7,250,000. They made a bookkeeping transfer of motor fuel tax funds to totaling $4,000,000. They also taxed dedicated gas reserves $8,330,000. And they passed a bill designed to bring in some $3,000,000 from abandoned property.

In addition, the Legislature previously had passed a tax on private clubs, calculated to raise some $4,000,000.

Roughly, it is figured that all these things will cover the state's needs for the next 2-year period, and provide for a school teachers' pay raise of $810 per year.

OMITS BANKS—Gov. Price Daniel won a partial victory in his long fight to tighten the state's escheat law. It's the law under which abandoned cash and property held by private business and industry is supposed to revert to the state.

After several attempts the Legislature passed a bill requiring institutions holding such property to report it to the state. Banks, however, were exempt from the provisions of the bill, much to the dismay of Governor Daniel.

"With everyone else covered," he said, "the banks cannot hold out much longer. The enforcement procedures should include banks and I shall continue to fight for this, both as a principle and as a means for the state to obtain property it already owns under the present escheat law."

GATESVILLE—Recent breaks at the Gatesville School for Boys, and the death of an attendant beaten with a baseball bat, have focused attention on that institution which is without RESIGNS—Dr. Robert W. Robert W. Strain has resigned as a member of the State Board of Insurance. He is to become executive secretary of the National Association of Insurance Agents. With 100,000 members it is one of the largest trade organizations in the country.

SHINNERY PHILOSOPHER

Reflections on Russians' Feats

Editor's note: The Shinnery Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek has been keeping up with the news lately, his letter this week indicates.

I was out here on this Johnson grass farm the other afternoon wondering why people are always picking up airplanes to hijack. You never hear of anybody hijacking a farmer's tractor and forcing him to drive off to some distant place, when I shut the motor off on my own and got off and sat down under the shade of a tree and pulled out a newspaper I'd been carrying a round in my pocket for several days as a handy in case I ran out of something to think about and discovered it was an issue printed right after the second Russian flew around the earth in a rocket ship.

I had already known this latest feat had made 17 trips around the earth and landed right back in Russia, where he started from, which may be precious to some people but I don't see what it has to do with me. One was a morning story and the other, just like the other one who made it around the earth, would be given an automobile. For conquering space, a Russian gets what us Americans are already swamped with, Funniest way to distribute automobiles I ever heard of, and it's also an index to what man really thinks about space. He may be curious about it, but once he's been out there, he sure is interested in getting back to earth and sampling some of the pleasures of the world, like driving an automobile or going to sleep in his own bed.

People are always talking about conquering space, but it's sort of like me conquering this Johnson grass farm. You can make a dent in it, but you never really get it conquered; the minute you turn your back, it starts closing in on you.

Understand, I'm not discounting what the Russian astronauts have done, but it sure seems like going to a lot of trouble to get a ship on the back and a new set when anybody in America can get the same thing just by walking into the nearest car dealer's show room and waving the department.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

EVER heard of the SMITH SISTERS?

Taylor-Made hadn't until Wednesday. Of course, he had heard of their brothers and he used to use their cough drops with every winter cold.

The Smith Sisters are local products nevertheless and, frankly, were quite a surprise to The Shadow.

TAYLOR-MADE was making with his LaMont Cranston bit just before Jaycees started Wednesday in Civic House when who should walk in but MISS DOLORES SMITH and MRS. M. W. (COLEEN) PALMER—better known in music circles as said-same Smith Sisters.

And to top it off, Dolores was carrying an ukulele. "So this is this week's program," The Shadow thought. "We'll, it looks like we'll have some slapstick comedy." You see, I know Dolores and well . . .

BUT let this writer go on record right now and offer his humble, on his knees, apologies: These 2 young ladies have TALENT—that's for sure.

The Shadow is always awed in the presence of talent and he felt pretty small after thinking the thoughts he had thought earlier.

The singers, the daughters of M. AND MRS. COLYN SMITH, soon had the Jaycees "under their thumbs" with renditions of such old favorites as "San Antonio Rose," "Side by Side," "Blue Moon," "Never on Sunday" and several others.

AND THEY are professionals too.

They have in the past had a 30-minute show on KVMC here in Colorado City and appeared once on the Circle 4 Ramblers show on KEDY-TV in Big Spring. And, of course, they've performed here for the Lions, Kiwanis, Jaycees, Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, carnivals, at Westbrook banquets and a Lorraine talent show—just to name a few.

COLEEN sings the lead and Dolores the harmony.

Dolores practices in her spare time while she is not working for G. D. FOSTER, he sells insurance, you know. Coleen grabs a few minutes for her practice when she's not keeping check on the "apples of her eye"—Margie, 7, and Jackie, 4.

If you haven't heard the Smith Sisters, you've missed something.

HEARD this comment from a regular fisherman at Lake Colorado City:

"Fish are said to be good food for the brain, and I believe it's true. They certainly improve the imagination of a fellow I know when he tells about the size of his catch."

TEXAS AGRICULTURE

Inspections for Consumer Health

By JOHN C. WHITE
Agriculture Commissioner

Texas provides a large portion of the nation's supply of fruits and vegetables, and one of the functions of the Texas Department of Agriculture is to see that these highly-important foods reach Texas and American homes in good condition.

This infrequently-recognized but highly-important service of the TDA is continuing inspection of produce grown in the fertile Rio Grande Valley and Winter Garden areas and shipped to consumers throughout the state and nation.

This inspection for quality, grade and uniformity in packing, which during the past year included nearly 60,000 carloads of fruits, vegetables and peanuts, results in annual savings of thousands of dollars for consumers who might otherwise be compelled to accept inferior produce for their families.

Protection extends to just as important a degree to buyers of fruits and vegetables who can be insured throughout the inspection service that they get what they order sight-unseen. In addition, farmers are encouraged in this manner to grow the cleanest, highest-quality crops possible because their market price is only as good as the commodity they produce.

An integral part of the Texas Department of Agriculture's operations, the fruit and vegetable inspection service is carried out through cooperative agreement with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Some of the commodities, namely citrus (which accounted for almost 4 of last year's inspections) and tomatoes are required to be inspected by state law. Other crops inspected under federal marketing orders include onions, carrots and lettuce. Peanut inspections are largely voluntary and are paid for by the buyers or sellers who request the service, but practically all peanuts moving in commercial quantities are inspected to insure quality for everyone concerned.

Besides the some 60,000 shipping-point inspections mentioned before, special inspections on highways outside the original shipping point are set up to double-check against movement of uninspected produce during peak harvest seasons.

This spring, 2-man Texas Department of Agriculture inspection crews were stationed at various locations on 14 highways over an area of some 300 miles. Road station inspectors stopped and checked 10,330 trucks. A number of violations were uncovered and a deeper respect for inspection laws resulted.

Texas produce is as good as—and often better than—that grown anywhere. It is a part of our job to see that it is treated right so that the folks who use it will be treated right as well.

LOCAL BUSINESS

"Completeness..." A Key to Results

By MADGE BELL
Record Staff Writer

"Completeness..." This has been called the most important factor in good advertising.

This means that advertising should tell the whole story in order to sell effectively. However, for advertising to be really complete it must be presented in a way by which the potential customer can retain the information.

Any person who has advertised a classified advertisement knows about completeness in advertising. The want ads which include description, price, and address bring results which often amaze the advertisers. The advertisements which leave out vital information are too often passed up.

Strictly Fresh

A friend of ours had a proposal of marriage turned down three weeks ago and he's been drinking ever since. Offhand, we'd say that's carrying a celebration a bit too far.

There's a big future waiting—the ad man who can figure some way to put the fun back into funerals.

Classified advertisers and their customers quickly learn something else about completeness in advertising. A person does not retain information; he does not bother to write it down. The information remains in complete possession of the potential customer because he clips the advertisement or retains the whole want ad page until he has investigated an offer.

Thus, effective completeness is rarely ever possible in advertising unless information about a product is printed in a form which is retained and readily available for reference. From that standpoint no other medium compares to the local newspaper.

The local newspaper is the only advertising medium which the typical housewife can quickly locate at any time during the day or night and check information on any retail offering.

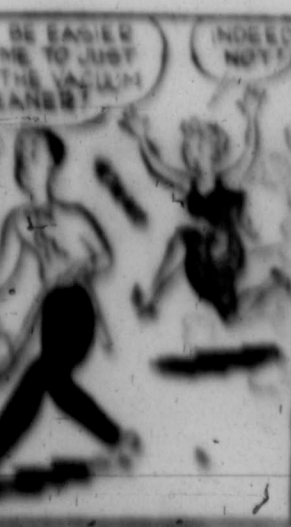

J. H. Wood, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, states the case as follows:

"The newspaper reader gets a completeness that no other medium can give him. These are not words passing through the air or across a picture tube. They are in black and white and permanently inscribed upon the record."

21ST STATE CONVENTION

14 from Here to Attend Electric Co-op Meeting

Fourteen representatives of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperatives will attend the 21st annual convention of Texas' 77 Electric Cooperatives in San Antonio starting today (Thursday).

Heading the list of Lone Wolf delegates to the meeting will be president W. H. Cooper, of Roscoe, manager Raymond Perdue and a special guest — Miss Nati Lynn Smith, "Miss Lone Wolf Electric."

Other Lone Wolf officials attending will be vice president Martin Murphy of Hermleigh, director Lindon Solomon of Cuthbert, electrification assistant James Hull and Miss Nelda Garrett and Mrs. Holbert Gundrum of the local office staff.

Others attending will be Mrs. Solomon and 2 daughters, Mrs. Perdue and Mr. and Mrs. James D. Wulfjen, parents of Miss Smith.

Miss Smith will compete for the title of "Miss Texas Rural Electrification" of 1962. Several candidates are vying for the title now held by Miss Carnetta Burgett of Shallowater who was first runner-up in the national Miss Rural Electrification contest in Dallas earlier this year.

Hull will introduce Miss Smith to the delegation. Perdue will serve on the resolutions committee of the session. U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough will address the convention Friday, the closing day. The convention's theme this year is "The Future in Focus."

Address will also be made by James Turman of Gopher (Fannin County), speaker of the Texas House of Representatives; Richard A. Dell of Washington, D. C., deputy administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration; and R. A. Yarbrough of Chillicothe, president of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

Tom Reavley, TEC general counsel and former Texas Secretary of State, will deliver the keynote address, and State Senator Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio will welcome the delegates.

"Clear the Way for Rural Development" will be a panel featuring 3 experts in the field: Marvin Selig of Seguin, executive vice president and general manager of Structural Metals, Inc.; H. B. Armstrong of Giddings, secretary-treasurer of Lower Colorado River Electric; and D. N. Beasley of San Augustine, manager of Deep East Texas Electric and chairman of the Sabine River Authority. John Davenport of Austin, administrative assistant to the TEC general manager will serve as moderator.

Rural electric support of youth activities will be brought into focus with the appearance of the state champion 4-H farmer cooperative demonstration team from Taylor County. Team members are Suzanne Orr and Richard Stanley.

ELECTRIC CO-OPS ARE

BUILDING A BRIGHTER TOMORROW

Ask Mom, Dad, Brother and Sister what the electric cooperative has brought.

Mom will vote for running water and an all electric kitchen.

Dad might say air conditioning and refrigeration.

Brother probably lists Television and his Radio.

Sister likely will choose her hair dryer and, much as she hates to use it, the vacuum cleaner.

But there are many, many other appliances and work saving devices each could choose, all made possible by the electric systems of which they are member-owners. Rural people borrowed money to build their own electric systems and they are proud that their efficient, low cost electric service is Building a Brighter Tomorrow.

Plan Grain Storage Prior To Harvesting

Advanced planning in checking "on-farm" grain storage may save valuable time during harvest, says Jack Burkhalter, Mitchell County Agent.

Leaky, run down, and unclean storage buildings will increase hazards from insect and rodent damage, the 2 factors usually responsible for the loss of quality in farm storage.

A good storage unit should meet certain standards. The roof should be weather tight, the walls should be strong, sound, and rain proof. Any potential water leaks should be patched and caulked to prevent the entry of moisture from the outside.

Cover the openings in the walls and gable ends of the buildings with screen wire to keep out rats and birds, and use 1/4 inch mesh wire around the tops of wooden bins, he says. Lining the lower part of doors and door openings with strips of metal sheets will keep rats from gnawing holes at the corners. Check the foundations of wooden buildings to be sure they are not decayed, and repair any foundation deterioration, he continues.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR'S NOTE — The kindness and consideration of Colorado City and Mitchell County citizens knows no limits and no strangers — as a California man found when he was injured in an auto accident near Dunn in May.

"I am writing this belated letter of appreciation for the kindness and consideration shown us while we were confined in Root Memorial Hospital in your fair community.

"Our stay in the hospital was due to our having an accident on State Highway 208 just south of Dunn on May 10th, 1961. The car we were riding in left the road, due to a flat left front tire, and caused us to sustain injuries that made this stay necessary.

"My brother was the most seriously injured, and passed away 10 days later.

"The treatment we received at the scene of the accident by the people and the Texas Highway Patrol was highly commendable. Then upon entering the hospital, Dr. Seth B. Cowan was on duty and immediately he and the staff of nurses performed their duties in the most efficient manner and proceeded to make our stay a rather comfortable one for the next 16 days.

"I have traveled around this country quite a bit, North, East, South and West, and never found a more friendly community and people than those in Colorado City, Texas.

"There were so many people that paid us daily calls and some came into town from 40 miles away. It is unbelievable that so many people would take an interest in the welfare of total strangers.

"We are still recuperating from our injuries and coming along nicely and it is our hope that eventually we shall make a trip back east and will surely stop off in Colorado City to visit once again with such wonderful people.

"So once again, I would like to thank the people in Colorado City who were so kind to us and also the staff of doctors, nurses and those in the employ of Root Memorial Hospital who made our stay so comfortable.

"Trusting that your fair city shall grow and prosper and may the good Lord shower his blessings upon you, I am

"Sincerely yours," Frederick G. Bertsch 625 Graviola St. La Jolla, Calif.

REMEMBER HOW GREAT
CIGARETTES USED TO TASTE?
LUCKIES STILL DO

LUCKIES DON'T SKIMP

They're so round, so firm, so fully packed—so free and easy on the draw.
They're fully packed with fine tobacco.
They're firmer than any other regular cigarette. And Luckies smoke longer.

THAT'S WHY THEY TASTE SO GREAT.
