Foreign trade deficit hits record $18 billion for July

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's foreign trade deficit surged to a one-month record of $18 billion last month, heading ever faster toward the worst year ever, government figures showed Friday.

At the current pace, goods entering the country will surpass U.S. exports by $175 billion this year, far surpassing 1985's record $148.5 billion deficit and adding another crushing blow to already-suffering U.S. manufacturers.

Even U.S. farm produce, long a bright spot in an otherwise bleak trade picture, showed a third straight monthly deficit in July after decades of surpluses.

In further bad news for the generally sluggish national economy, the government reported that sales of new single-family homes declined 5.6 percent in July, the fourth straight decrease for the housing industry.

New houses were sold in July at an annual rate of 658,000, the lowest since last October, and analysts said no big improvement can be expected without further declines in mortgage rates.

The average sales price hit a record $116,900, up from $109,800 in June.

Meanwhile, the huge foreign-trade deficit has hurt countless U.S. businesses that have found more and more Americans switching to foreign goods.

As the deficit has risen in the past few years, much of the blame has been put on the high value of the U.S. dollar relative to other nations' currencies — a relationship that made foreign goods cheaper for Americans to buy.

However, the value of the dollar has been coming down with no discernible positive effect on the deficit.

House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., said, "In the face of this worsening news, the Republican Party stubbornly refuses to jettison its policy of stay-the-course."

"The House of Representatives has passed a comprehensive trade bill to mandate retaliation against foreign unfair trade practices," he said in a statement. "We call on the president of the United States to personally ask the Senate leadership to pass the trade bill."

Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, R-Kan., said he had no answer to the worsening trade picture, adding that the Senate does not have time to act on the House trade bill before Congress adjourns around Oct. 3.

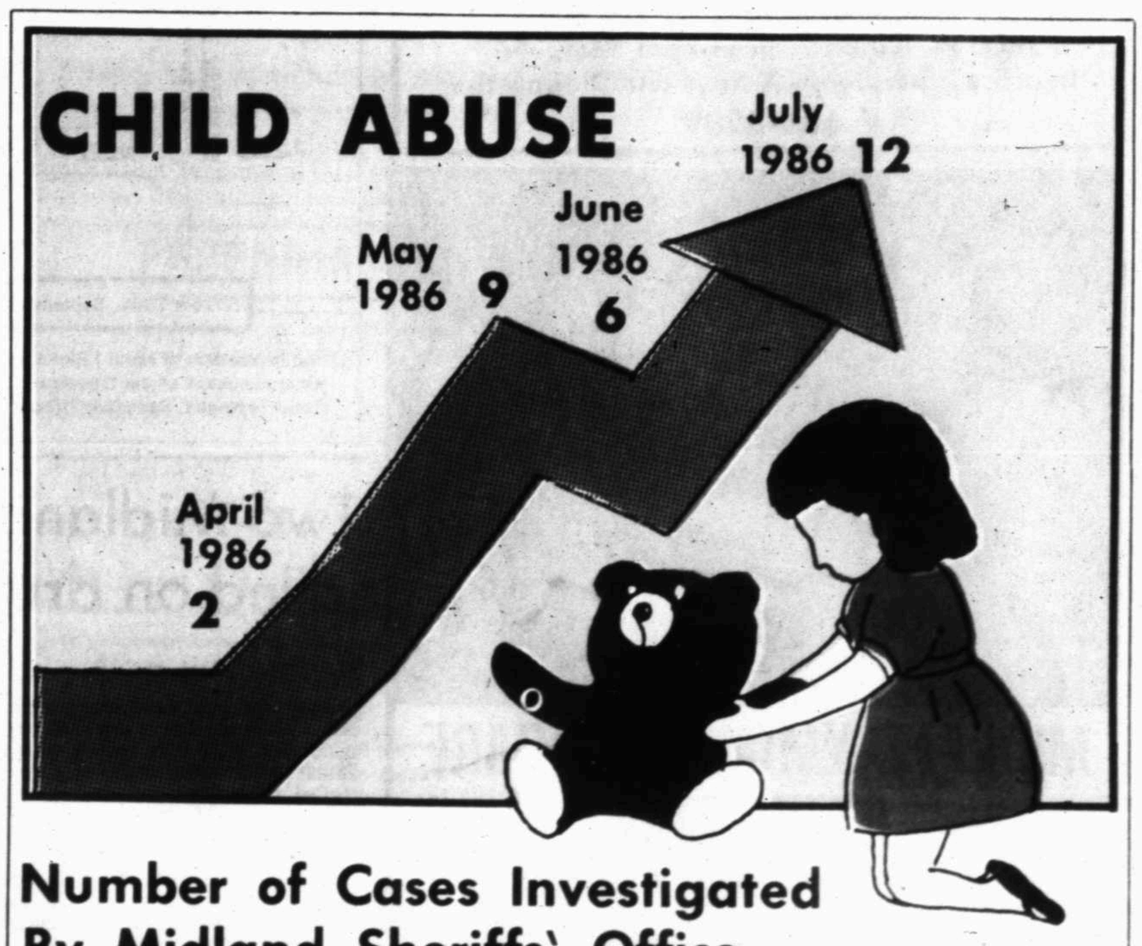

Dole said federal overspending is partly to blame, and said the administration has "been less than aggressive in our trade policy, and that's particularly true in agriculture."

Special Trade Representative Clayton Yeutter called the trade report "disappointing but not surprising." But he also said that "we continue to expect that the trade deficit will decline modestly late this year and substantially next year."

The new report "offers almost no signs of hope on what is the biggest economic problem for the country," said Allen Sinai, chief economist for Shearson Lehman Bros. in New York.

Some economists — and some Reagan administration officials — have said the declining dollar value will still have an impact, and Sinai agreed. But he also said the size of the overall trade "deterioration is too great to be anything other than very disturbing for the economy."

Car buyers swarm to take advantage of low rates

Associated Press

Car buyers swarmed dealer lots nationwide Friday, as Ford Motor Co. matched General Motors Corp.'s 2.9 percent financing announced a day earlier and Chrysler Corp. struck back with an even lower rate.

Ford announced 2.9 percent financing on most car and truck models on 36-month contracts, matching GM's cuts, which stunned the industry Thursday. Earlier Friday, Chrysler said it would offer a 2.4 percent financing rate on most of its 1986 cars and light trucks and some 1987 models. Chrysler said the rate was the lowest in industry history.

"We intend to keep our dealers competitive and maintain our strong sales momentum by offering buyers extremely attractive financing terms and substantial cash rebates," said Louis E. Lataif, vice president of Ford North American sales operations.

Ford said its financing program would be effective from Saturday through Oct. 8. Ford buyers also have the option of $1,000 rebates instead of the lower loan rate, the company said in a written statement.

The Ford rate climbs to 9.9 percent on longer-term deals.

GM dealers reported a crush of customers after the No. 1 automaker announced its incentive program in an effort to reduce its unusually large inventory of 1986 cars.

"It has just been overwhelming," said Keith Pierce, a salesman at Van's Chevrolet in Overland Park, Kan. "It's like the new cars have come out, with everybody on the showroom floor."

"It's been pretty amazing," said Gary Pratt, new car manager for Bill DeFouw Chevrolet-BMW in Lafayette, Ind. "We sold 30 cars yesterday. That's more than twice our normal volume."

But critics maintained the rates were promotional gimmicks, paid for in the price of the car, that confuse and perhaps deceive consumers.

The criticism didn't stop Ed DeBruyn of Grand Rapids, Mich., from shopping for a new car.

Authorities: Economy resulting in increased incidence of abuse

By PATRICK CRIMMINS
Staff Writer

Child abuse in Midland County is increasing, according to officials who deal with the problem daily, and the prime culprit is a familiar one: the struggling economy.

Steve Mild is the lone investigator of child abuse cases for the Midland County Sheriff's office, and he said his caseload has increased steadily since he began working in the juvenile division in April of this year.

That month, Mild said he investigated two abuse cases; in May, he investigated nine. Since then, he has seen the incidence of abuse increase.

"So far in August, I've been assigned 25 cases — and 17 of those were child abuse cases. What we're seeing is a definite increase in child abuse cases," Mild said matter-of-factly.

Mild recalls a recent seminar on child abuse he attended in Oklahoma, where a roomful of hardened law enforcement types watched the videotaped interview of a 9-year-old who had been sexually abused.

"I'll tell you what," Mild said, shaking his head. "I've got a pretty strong stomach, but she had all of us. Some of the things she said her stepfather made her do were so graphic, I almost got sick right there on the spot. It was just revolting."

Molly Whittington is program director of protective services for the Department of Human Services (DHS), which reports suspicious cases to the sheriff's office, said the number of complaints the agency investigates has decreased.

But she said the severity of abuse in particular cases has worsened.

"Frankly, over the past year or so, some of the cases have been more severe, as far as physical or sexual abuse," Ms. Whittington said. "What the sheriff's department is seeing is probably an increase in their work (load)."

Mild said he is convinced that the situation is worsening — especially the abuse of newborns to children two years old — because of the economy.

Local NAACP 'Awareness Rally' scheduled for today

By JANE DEES
Staff Writer

Midland's National Association for the Advancement of Colored People chapter will hold an "Awareness Rally" today at 5 p.m., the first of its kind since the chapter's reorganization one year ago this past June.

The chapter's president, James Fuller, an English professor at Midland College, said the immediate concern of the NAACP is to educate and expose black leadership to the community and motivate people — especially the young — to join.

The program, which should last until 8 p.m., will feature speakers addressing everything from NAACP history and education to church relations and the role of professionalism in the community, the agenda shows.

Fuller will speak as well, and a voter registration program is planned by Democratic County Chair, Janet Massey.

Fuller said there are misconceptions about the NAACP. He said a lot of people immediately think "radical" when they hear the term NAACP.

In fact, the NAACP, with 221 members locally, is the oldest civil rights organization in the nation, Fuller said, having been formed at the turn of the century, by a multi-racial group, to deal with issues plaguing blacks then.

Fuller stressed the club is not for blacks only.

"If one studies the title, he will see the term says nothing about just blacks being involved," he said.

The NAACP doesn't advocate any sort of violent demonstrations or force to get its message across, Fuller said.

However, he said that nationwide the group could be construed as "militant" when it came to legal negotiations at a bargaining table.

When Congress was conferring on the nomination of Associate Justice William Rehnquist to the chief justice position, you didn't see the NAACP standing outside and causing a ruckus, Fuller said.

"Instead, you saw them sitting inside listening to the hearings and voicing their concerns," he said.

"The only way society is going to improve is through individuals becoming aware we are all linked together — America can't do without any ethnic group," Fuller said.

The fact that Midland could be considered a conservative town only serves to motivate the NAACP more in the area of wanting to be recognized, Fuller added.

He said there may be a reluctance in some areas, including Midland, to accept those in the black community, Fuller said, and this fact could lead to some — regardless of their racial background — not wanting to be associated with the NAACP, Fuller said.

"The whole point of our existence though is to make all people aware — freedom is not free, period," Fuller said.

House bill legalizes parimutuel betting

By DAVID PLESA
Reporter-Telegram Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The House Friday formally approved a bill to legalize gambling on horse and dog racing in Texas for the first time in more than 50 years.

House members voted 75-58 to approve the bill that would allow voters to decide in a statewide referendum in November 1987 whether to legalize parimutuel wagering.

Sponsors were unable to gain the necessary votes to place the issue on the Nov. 4 general election ballot.

The Senate approved a similar bill Tuesday and sponsors say they anticipate no problems in working out an agreement between the two chambers.

But Gov. Mark White said he may not sign the bill because it leaves open a possible court challenge to the referendum. White says he will sign the bill only if it provides for a statewide referendum, protection against crime and local options for voters.

Supporters of the bill say legalized gambling on horse and dog racing will help the state by diversifying the economy. They say it eventually could bring in as much as $200 million per year for the state.

"Our motto is 'let the horses go, let the ponies go, let the dogs go, but don't let the state go to the dogs,'" said Rep. Harold Dutton, D-Houston, who voted for the bill.

Opponents worry that legalized gambling will foster organized crime, and are concerned the bill might become law without the referendum if that portion of the bill is challenged in court.

The bill gives voters in each county local options to decide if they want a horse track. Only Galveston, Cameron and Nueces counties can have dog tracks.

In other House action Friday, members gave preliminary approval to a bill sponsored by Rep. Mark Stiles that would enable the state to buy electricity at lower rates for state buildings in Austin.

Kilgore facility declared insolvent

KILGORE, Texas (AP) — The First Savings Association of Kilgore was declared insolvent Friday and acquired the same day by Federal SavingsBanc of the Southwest, federal officials said.

First Savings was a state-chartered, stock association with $22.6 million in assets, said Andrea Plater, spokeswoman for the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington, D.C.

She declined to say why the savings association became insolvent.

The board approved the acquisition by Federal SavingsBanc, of Kilgore, which is principally owned by Edward N. Phillips and Andy Doan, she said.

Federal SavingsBanc will acquire substantially all of the assets and liabilities of First Savings, she said.

First Savings was placed into receivership by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. Friday, an action taken with the concurrence of the Texas Savings and Loan commissioner, Ms. Plater said.

Hunt brothers file in bankruptcy court

DALLAS (AP) — The embattled billionaire Hunt brothers, struggling to hang onto their empire in the worldwide depression of oil prices, filed for protection in federal bankruptcy court Friday to shield their oil company from bankers.

The Chapter 11 bankruptcy petition for Dallas-based Placid Oil Co. and its real estate subsidiary was the latest move in years of wheeling and dealing designed to save one of the nation's legendary fortunes, beginning with the 1980 silver debacle.

Without the court protection, Hunt assets, including the brothers' downtown Dallas office tower, would have been auctioned off.

Nelson Bunker Hunt, William Herbert Hunt and Lamar Hunt are behind on $1.5 billion in loans, but have charged that 23 banks conspired to wreck Placid and its sister firm, Penrod Drilling Co. The banks deny any wrongdoing, and say they only want repayment of the loans.

Hunt spokesman Keith Burton said the family had not decided what action to take regarding Penrod but that a bankruptcy petition still was being considered.

Placid President Dan Brown said the filing "was necessary to ensure the viability and profitability of Placid until such times as the litigation can be concluded."

In its court filing, Placid listed assets of $2 billion, and liabilities of $979 million. Brown said the company would proceed with "business as usual."

The two companies employ 20,000 people and are among the largest energy firms in the world.

Placid's papers were filed in federal bankruptcy court in New Orleans because most of the privately held company's domestic assets are in Louisiana or offshore in the Gulf of Mexico, Brown said.

The brothers, heirs to flamboyant wildcatter H.L. Hunt, allege the 23 banks are trying to corner the offshore drilling market by putting the two companies out of business, and have filed suits seeking $14 billion from the banks.

H.L. was a Texas gambler who parlayed a $5,000 inheritance into one of the world's great oil fortunes, and his sons have carried on his sometimes eccentric, sometimes wild ways.

But the brothers have fallen on hard times since the worldwide plunge in oil prices. Assets such as drilling rigs and leases once valued at $2 billion or more now are said to be basically worthless.

The Hunts acknowledge that if forced to liquidate to repay the $1.5 billion in loans, Placid and Penrod would be destroyed.

Two Midlanders remain jailed on drug charges

From Staff Reports

A Midland man and woman are in Midland County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bond each after they were charged Friday with manufacture of a controlled substance.

Rhonda Gay Morgan, 25, and Jerry Wells, 41, were arrested late Thursday following a tip from Crime Stoppers, according to Midland Sheriff Gary Painter. Another person was arrested at the scene, a trailer house on County Road 118 just east of County Road 1220, but was released today, Painter said.

Painter said the arrest was made after authorities received a tip about the theft of some oil field equipment. When officers investigated, Painter said sufficient evidence was obtained to execute a search warrant.

The Midland Police Department is investigating several burglaries of vehicles.

Police have a suspect in the burglary of a 1979 Chevrolet two-door that was parked in the 3700 block of W. Ohio, according to reports. An AM-FM cassette stereo valued at $300 and an equalizer valued at $150 were reported stolen sometime between 10 p.m. Thursday and noon Friday.

The suspect in the burglary is described as a white male, 18 to 20 years old, five-feet seven-inches tall, weighing 160 pounds.

Two vehicles were reportedly burglarized while they were parked in the 4100 block of Pleasant, police said. Clayton Hale, 4104 Pleasant, told police hand tools valued at $200, a tool box valued at $140, a jack valued at $100, and jumper cables valued at $100 were stolen from a vehicle sometime between 10 p.m. Thursday and 9 a.m. Friday.

Miscellaneous tools valued at $20 were reported stolen from a 1986 Ford pickup truck while it was parked at 4102 Pleasant, police said.

An AM-FM cassette stereo valued at $175 and an equalizer valued at $255 were reported stolen from a vehicle parked in the 4200 block of Garfield. John Mark Thames told police the items were taken sometime between 6 p.m. Thursday and 8 a.m. Friday.

An AM-FM cassette stereo valued at $400 and a speaker valued at $50 was reported stolen from a 1980 Toyota parked in the 1000 block of Waverly Drive. John Thomas White told police the items were taken sometime between 10 p.m. Thursday and 10 a.m. Friday.

In other reports, a radar detector valued at $250 and a watch valued at $150 were reported stolen from a vehicle parked in the 2100 block of Northrup.

DEATHS

J.E. McDonald

Services for J.E. (Jim) McDonald, 76, of Midland will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Ellis Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Bob Porterfield, pastor of Kentucky St. Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be at 4 p.m. in Lamesa Cemetery under direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

McDonald died early Friday at Midland Memorial Hospital.

He was born March 4, 1910 in Lamesa, where he grew up. He lived in a number of places in Central and East Texas, and worked several years with Brown & Root in Houston. He also had lived in Alaska and Guam and was in the construction business there.

In 1948 he went to work for Mobil Oil, and moved to Midland in 1966. He retired in 1975.

Married the former Chessie Springer in 1952, he was a member of Crestview Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Chessie McDonald of Midland; a brother, Myrton L. McDonald of Dallas; and two nephews.

Pallbearers will be Bob Adams, J.H. Glennan, Fred Henry, T.C. Kilborn, J.J. Lafitte, and Porter Wallis.

Louis C. Freeman

EASTLAND — Louis Cavin Freeman, 80, of Eastland, father of a Midland woman, died Thursday at an Eastland hospital.

Services were to be today at 10 a.m. at the Bakker Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. Dale Nofka of the Bethel Baptist Church of Eastland officiating, assisted by the Rev. Shirl Taylor of the First Baptist Church of Carbon. Burial was to be at Cross Plains Cemetery in Cross Plains.

Freeman was born April 20, 1906, in Cross Plains, where he was reared. He had lived in Eastland since 1950 and was a member of Bethel Baptist Church. He was married to the former Elva Faye Renfro on June 27, 1934. She preceded him in death in 1983. He was a retired farmer.

Survivors include a son, Tommy Freeman of Abilene; a daughter, Shirley Bassett of Midland; a brother, Harold Freeman of Denton; and a granddaughter, Sherri B. Miles of Austin.

Polly Day

Services for Mrs. Lyle E. (Polly) Day, 65, of Midland will be held at 1:30 p.m. today at St. Luke's Methodist Church with Dr. Jerrell Sharp, pastor, officiating.

Burial will be at 3:30 p.m. in Trinity Memorial Park in Big Spring under direction of Ellis Funeral Home.

Mrs. Day died early Friday at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Day was born February 12, 1921 in Gorman where she grew up. She moved to near Roscoe before she moved to Odessa.

She was married to Lyle E. Day July 14, 1939, and the couple lived in several cities, including Monahans, Kermit, and Odessa before moving to Midland in 1957.

Mrs. Day was a member of St. Luke's United Methodist Church.

Survivors include her husband, Lyle Day of Midland; a daughter, Karen Day Hudson of Aspen, Colo.; two sisters, Ada Sturtevant and Cecilia Garrison, both of Santa Monica, Calif.; and two brothers, Ray Parker of Roscoe and Wayne Parker of Mathis.

ABUSE

"In the biggest majority of those cases, there are a number of factors that are there," Mild said. "Extended unemployment, the person who is the abuser has a bad temper, and the abuser is usually the father. The mother may have a job, but actually able to supply only a little financial support.

"The father is left home to take care of kids — and he's just not used to it."

Mild said that type of abuser is not as severe a problem as others.

"Fortunately, in the greatest number of cases, that person can be rehabilitated; usually, if the employment situation stabilizes, everything is okay."

Midland County Assistant District Attorney Ralph Petty, who prosecutes child abusers, said the problem is a complex one.

He said decisions must be made, among them whether to prosecute the abuser and make sure he or she is separated from the child; or, to return the child to the home if there is assurance there will be no more abuse.

"It is a problem in every community, and we are trying to come to grips with the problem in Midland; it is a complex area, not only criminally, but also psychologically, as far as the child is concerned," Petty said.

"We have to see, first of all, if we have a violation of the law, and then we have to tend to the disposition of the situation," Petty said. "I look at the case on an independent basis to see what we have to work with. When a basic ingredient of love from a parent is absent, you run a very large risk if you return the child to the family — we run the risk the child might be reinjured.

"We have to make very difficult decisions."

Petty agreed that Midland's difficult economy has contributed to the incidence of child abuse.

"With the economy as it is, there is an increased level of stress involved which no doubt is a factor," he said. "But in any community there is an ever-present level of child abuse, in good times and bad."

Mild said myths about child abuse are rife, so education about the subject is imperative.

"For so long we have talked 'stranger danger', not taking candy from a stranger, etc., but your stranger who abducts and abuses children is a very, very small minority, probably less than 3 percent."

Mild said certain facts about child abuse are little-known: for example, 25 percent of all females are victims of sexual abuse at some time, from "flashing" to rape; and 25 to 30 percent of all abused children are males.

"The key to doing anything about this problem is education," Mild said. "Very simply, if anyone out there is having a meeting, PTA, womens' groups, civic groups, whatever, if they will call me I will go out and talk to them. We need to educate the children and the parents, children and adults."

AUTOS

"I was going to take my time, but 2.9 percent will get anybody's attention. You jump a little quicker," said DeBruyn as he shopped at Dale Baker

GM and Chrysler also are offering the option of cash rebates ranging from $300 to $1,500 instead of the low-rate financing. GM also said Thursday that it would delay the start of the 1987 model year from Sept. 25 to Oct. 9.

Before the rate cut, GM's sales had been off 10.4 percent in mid-August, while No. 2 Ford and No. 3 Chrysler had registered strong gains from a year ago. GM had been offering rates as low as 5.9 percent, Ford had offered rates as low as 6.9 percent and Chrysler 5.5 percent.

Patrick W. Harrison, chairman of the consumer credit division of the American Bankers Association, said the sales incentives are confusing consumers and not necessarily saving them money.

"GM is offering the public a choice of a cash rebate or subsidized financing," he said before Chrysler's announcement. "It is very difficult for the consumer to determine which choice is really the better deal."

ECONOMY

Donald Straszheim, chief economist for Merrill Lynch Economics in New York, said the July deficit "may very well be the worst month, but the trade numbers are not going to improve quickly."

In July, the Commerce Department report said, American businesses and individuals bought more foreign goods in a single month than ever before in history — $35.7 billion, up $3.5 billion from June — even though the nation's oil-import bill declined.

And exports of U.S.-produced merchandise dipped by $1.4 billion to $17.7 billion after rising in June.

Counting July's deficit, which surpassed January's previous one-month record of $16.5 billion, the trade deficit for the first seven months of the year stands at $102 billion.

Correction

In Friday's edition, the Midland Reporter-Telegram incorrectly reported that property owners would pay 10 percent higher taxes to the Midland Junior College District in 1986-87.

The 9.1 percent increase actually is representative of the true tax rate which increased from the current 9.04 cents per $100 valuation to 9.89 cents for the 1986-87 fiscal year.

The Reporter-Telegram regrets the error.

Have we made an error? Call us at 682-5311, Ext. 130, and a correction will be published.

The bill permits the State Purchasing and General Services Commission to buy electricity from the Lower Colorado River Authority. State buildings in Austin now pay higher rates for electricity provided by the city of Austin.

"The rates in the city of Austin are tremendously out of balance," said Stiles, D-Beaumont.

"We are trying to address one single area — the state Capitol complex in Austin — where we know we can save taxpayers $4 million (a year)," he said.

Stiles said the state has been negotiating unsuccessfully with the city of Austin for lower electric rates for the last six months.

Also, House members defeated a resolution that called on officials of universities and colleges throughout the state to declare their campuses "drug-free zones."

Senate favors bill allowing governor, LBB to rewrite budget

STATE

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate on Friday tentatively approved a bill that critics claimed would allow the governor and a majority of the 10-member Legislative Budget Board to rewrite the state budget.

The bill by Sen. Grant Jones would authorize the governor between legislative sessions — if the governor thought an emergency existed — to propose changes in the budget approved by the Legislature.

The budget board, made up of five senators and five House members, would hold a public hearing to approve, reject or modify the governor's proposal.

Any modification would require the governor's approval.

Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, said, in effect, the bill would give the governor and a majority of the budget board power to "reappropriate and undo the will of the entire Legislature" in "what they perceive as an emergency."

Jones, D-Abilene, responded, "I can't imagine a group having that kind of intestinal fortitude." He acknowledged, however, that it was a "remote possibility."

Another Senate vote is needed to send the measure to the House.

Senators sent to the House a bill that would allow five or more counties to operate a liability insurance pool. The aim would be to obtain maximum coverage at the lowest possible premium cost. The measure by Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, was approved 29-0.

In other action, the Senate approved and sent to the House proposals that would:

— Establish a state lottery in Texas for the first time, if voters support a proposed change to the state constitution. The proposed constitutional amendment was approved 21-8. A bill spelling out how the lottery would work was approved on voice vote.

— Create a special trust company to safeguard federal securities purchased by state agencies. One effect would be to place the securities in the state's name rather than in the name of the bank that settled the transaction.

— Allow the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission to issue beverage permits to Amtrak trains. Other passenger trains already may obtain such permits.

— Ask the U.S. Congress to enact legislation to require out-of-state mail order firms to collect sales taxes on goods sold. Sen. Tati Santiesteban, D-El Paso, said not collecting the tax gives out-of-state firms an unfair business advantage and costs Texas over $100 million a year in potential sales tax revenue.

Bell Helicopter seeks trial costs from two widows who lost suit

FORT WORTH (AP) — Bell Helicopter Textron is seeking almost $50,000 in trial costs from two women who lost a lawsuit over the deaths of their servicemen husbands in a helicopter accident.

The expenses the company is seeking from Catherine Ellis and Donna Dowd include the costs of first-class airline tickets and luxury hotel bills for expert witnesses in the two-week federal trial in Baltimore last year, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported Friday.

Army Maj. Douglas Dowd and Navy Lt. Robert Ellis were killed during a routine training flight in Maryland on May 26, 1981. The accident was blamed on a flaw in the free-floating mast system supporting the rotor blades on a Bell AH-1S Cobra helicopter.

A jury ruled in favor of the widows in January 1985, and awarded them $3.65 million after finding that the Bell rotor system was "unreasonably dangerous" and led to a deadly phenomenon known as mast bumping.

But the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va., recently overturned the case, ruling that defense contractors are not liable for defects in aircraft built for the military.

The attorney for the widows, John Green of Odessa, said he will appeal that decision to the U.S. Supreme Court on Sept. 10.

Federal law allows the winners of civil suits to seek certain trial expenses in addition to attorneys fees, such as the costs of depositions, witness fees and some travel expenses.

Bell's reimbursement request, filed recently in Baltimore, totaled $46,879, most of it for accommodations, travel and fees paid to expert witnesses who testified for the company.

Many of the witnesses flew first class from Fort Worth to Baltimore and stayed in expensive hotels, racking up airline and hotel bills of $17,145, according to court documents.

Fight prompts lockdown

PALESTINE (AP) — A fight between white and Hispanic inmates prompted a lockdown of one wing at the Beto I unit, Texas Department of Corrections officials said Friday.

About 190 inmates were involved in the lockdown, which was ordered Thursday evening and remained in effect Friday afternoon, prison spokesman David Nunnelee said.

Fist fights between eight Hispanics and eight white inmates erupted at about 4 p.m. Thursday in a day room, Nunnelee said. Only minor injuries were reported.

Man sues car dealer which repossessed car in dispute

NATION

CHICAGO (AP) — A travel agent who successfully sued an auto dealership that had repossessed his car in a dispute over a trade-in has been deluged with congratulatory messages from other frustrated car buyers.

A jury last week awarded Tom DeLaney $117,654 in punitive damages stemming from his lawsuit against a suburban Datsun dealership, whose conduct one juror called "totally outrageous."

Thomas Sondag, president of the dealership, Schaumburg Datsun, called the jury's award "a gross injustice" that stemmed from popular mistrust of auto dealers, and said his company would appeal.

DeLaney, 34, who works at a suburban travel agency, says the victory has made him a hero with other car buyers.

"They say, 'You made my day' and 'I wish I'd thought of suing,'" DeLaney said of the phone calls, cards, letters and social invitations he's received since winning the award.

In December 1984, DeLaney traded in his Pontiac Trans-Am as part of a $24,000 deal to buy a new Datsun 300 ZX Turbo sportscar from Schaumburg Datsun. DeLaney says he told the dealership that he wasn't sure if his Pontiac was a 1980 or 1981 model. The dealership insists DeLaney said it was a 1981.

When the dealership discovered the car was a 1980 model, it demanded an extra $1,200 from DeLaney, who refused to pay. A week later, he came out of his office to find his sleek new sportscar missing.

He reported it stolen, only to discover the dealership had repossessed the car to pressure him into paying out the extra money.

DeLaney got his Datsun back through a court injunction a month later. But he still decided to sue the dealership, whose conduct juror George Berger called "totally outrageous. They stole that man's car."

Toy company recalling brooms because of paint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Come Play Products Co., of Worcester, Mass., is recalling about 100,000 toy brooms because of lead paint on the broom handles, the Consumer Product Safety Commission announced Friday.

The brooms have been sold nationwide since 1960 at about $2.50 each.

The toys are about 28 inches long with red handles and straw bristles. The word "Hungary" is stamped in gold on the handles.

The recall covers wooden-handled brooms, not those with plastic handles and bristles, the commission said.

Lead can be poisonous, and the brooms are being recalled because of the danger that children might ingest the paint, which exceeds federal standards for lead content.

Parents were urged to either discard the brooms or return them to the retailer where purchased.

People needing more information can contact the commission's safety hotline at 800-638-2772.

Soviets offer to open nuclear test sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union, stepping up its pre-summitry campaign, offered Friday to open nuclear test sites to American inspectors and accused the Reagan administration of secret "Star Wars" explosions.

In a rare embassy news conference, Deputy Ambassador Oleg M. Sokolov dismissed as "cynical" the administration's refusal to join the moratorium that General Secretary Mikhail S. Gorbachev has imposed on Soviet tests until January.

The Soviet diplomat said Moscow was ready to accept "every conceivable form of agreement" to monitor a test ban once the United States joined in the suspension.

"Broadly, we do not see a problem of inspections as an obstacle toward reaching on accord on the cessation of nuclear tests," Sokolov said.

Gorbachev imposed the moratorium last August and has extended it thrice. The United States has refused to join, arguing that U.S. weapons must be tested for reliability and safety and that there were no assurances the Soviets would observe a ban.

Sokolov said, "There is no rationale for the United States not joining our moratorium except maybe for the cynical argument that nuclear tests are needed to continue the nuclear arms race."

On verifying a test ban, he said "as far as the Soviet Union is concerned the problem of verification of halting all nuclear tests does not exist. We have put forward practically every conceivable form of verification..."

"The Soviet Union is ready for the most wide-ranging, for any form of verification, national or international, including even on-site inspections, provided, naturally, that nuclear testing is halted," he said.

Soviet Col. Vitaly Kotuzhansky, appearing with Sokolov, said underground blasts could be detected even below the single kiloton level with current seismic measurements and satellite observation from space.

Kotuzhansky, who was described as a verification expert, said the United States conducted three tests, probably related to the "Star Wars" program, since Gorbachev announced the Soviet moratorium last summer.

The colonel said one was set off last August, another in the fall and the third last April. Kotuzhansky said these were in addition to the 15 announced by the U.S. government.

"They are probably oriented to the Star Wars program, and it is one of the dangerous aspect of that program," he said.

From 1980 to 1984, Kotuzhansky said, the United States set off 12 to 19 nuclear weapons explosions without publicizing them.

A Pentagon spokesman, Maj. Randy Morger, said "we do not discuss the objectives of the nuclear tests that are conducted." Otherwise, he declined to respond to the Soviet assertion.

A State Department spokesman, Charles E. Redman, rejected Sokolov's statements on verification as facile. "This is a much more complex situation," the U.S. official said, requiring the extensive discussions under way between the two sides.

President Reagan has invited Soviet inspectors to the Nevada test site to show that the U.S. tests were within the 150-kiloton range permitted in 1974 and 1976 treaties.

Sokolov dismissed the offer.

"We think this is unecessary and perhaps even more harmful because this will legitimize the testing itself," he said.

With preparations for a 1986 Reagan-Gorbachev summit lagging, the two sides have jockeyed over the reasons for delay and what they want to accomplish if a meeting is held here late this year.

"We want a summit that would be crowned in concrete results, first and foremost in the area of arms control," Sokolov said.

But Deputy Foreign Minister Anatoly Adamishin, winding up two days of preparatory talks on regional issues at the State Department, said Thursday "a lot of progress" was not achieved.

"We have to decide yet whether the summit would take place because it has to be productive," he said.

The Soviet official's dour assessment appeared to catch State Department officials off balance.

Redman acknowledged that the talks "produced no surprises."

Parade takes convicted drug dealer to his grave

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Friends cheered and snapped pictures Friday as convicted drug kingpin Felix Mitchell was carried in an ornate bronze casket to his funeral in an eight-mile procession of limousines and Rolls-Royces.

The casket was carried by a horse-drawn carriage driven by a man in top hat and tails. Tuxedoed ushers and relatives and friends dressed in red and black took photographs of the final tribute to a man police say was responsible for turning thousands of Oakland residents into drug addicts.

As flashy in life as he was in death, Mitchell, who grew up in Oakland housing projects, amassed a fortune as leader of the "69 Mob" and was given to fancy cars and gold jewelry.

The 32-year-old drug czar was stabbed 10 times in the chest last week at Leavenworth Penitentiary in Kansas, where he was serving a life sentence without possibility of parole for conspiracy to sell heroin and operating a continuing criminal enterprise.

His family scheduled the funeral parade, which passed through neighborhoods Mitchell's gang once claimed as turf, despite the complaints of city officials and leaders who said the event glorified someone better forgotten.

"I think it's wrong," said Daniel Gonzalez of Oakland, whose grandmother lives across the street from the yellow wood-frame house that is the Mitchell family's home. "It's going to make the kids think it's OK to become a drug dealer. They're making him out to be a king."

Council member Leo Bazile called the two-hour procession "hero worship of a murdering thug."

Prosecution witnesses at his 1985 trial blamed his gang for at least seven murders, some of which allegedly were ordered by Mitchell.

At the sentencing, Assistant U.S. Attorney George Niespolo said the 25- to 30-member gang earned as much as $400,000 a month while creating thousands of heroin addicts, some of whom worked in exchange for drugs.

About 2,000 people had flocked to a church Thursday night to view Mitchell's body.

On Friday, spectators were two and three deep along one block where the parade began at the Mitchell home. Spectators applauded when the horse-drawn carriage bearing Mitchell's body arrived at his former home. Ushers and friends chatted and joked outside while they awaited the beginning of the procession back to the Star Bethel Baptist Church.

A friend of Mitchell who wouldn't give his name said he had flown from New York for the event.

Lawyer: Client victim of coverup in Fossey murder

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Researcher Wayne Richard McGuire, accused of hacking gorilla expert Dian Fossey to death in Rwanda, is the victim of a coverup by officials in the East African nation, his attorney said Friday.

"My conclusion is that either a conspiracy between the U.S. government and the Rwandan government existed, or the U.S. government was duped by the Rwandans to make Wayne the scapegoat for the murder of Dian Fossey," said attorney Mike Mayock said.

Mayock said both governments knew McGuire, 34, a doctoral candidate at the University of Oklahoma who was Ms. Fossey's research assistant, was still in Rwanda months after the 53-year-old researcher was found murdered Dec. 27.

The body was found in her remote camp on the slopes of 12,175-foot Mt. Visoke, where she lived among the endangered mountain gorillas.

Ms. Fossey, internationally known for the 18 years she had studied and lived among the gorillas, was killed with a machete.

Mayock said poachers or even Rwandan officials might have wanted Ms. Fossey dead because of her efforts to shield the endangered gorillas from humans.

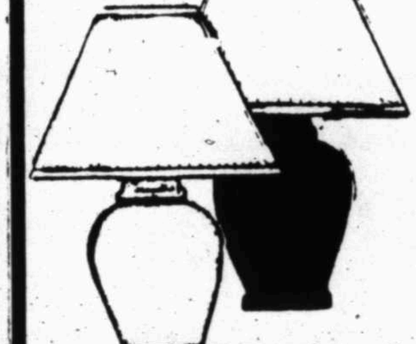

"About 17 percent of Rwanda's gross national product comes from tourism," he explained. "These people came visiting the mountain gorillas, and Dian Fossey opposed these tourists and took (verbal) pot shots at them. That's one thing that would cause them (the Rwandan government) not to appreciate her conduct.

"Another possibility is poachers. She was involved in this war...a personal vendetta and war against (gorilla) poachers."

The Rwandan government issued an international arrest warrant July 27 for McGuire, who had been conducting research on the endangered gorillas for a doctoral thesis.

"My belief is the U.S. and Rwandans knew exactly where he was and when he left the country," Mayock said.

Opposition criticizes special session

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Opposition parties from the left and right accused the government Friday of calling a special session of Parliament under false pretenses and of refusing to debate substantive issues.

One issue cited was this week's riots in Soweto, the black township near Johannesburg. At least 21 people were killed and nearly 100 injured.

The government also announced that its bill to include blacks on a constitutional reform council would not be ready this year.

Members of Parliament said Friday the special session could close next week or at latest in mid-September.

Opposition benches were almost empty when the white House of Assembly met in Cape Town on Friday, as were many seats on the governing National Party's side. Some bored members fired paper wads at each other with rubber bands.

The separate chambers of Parliament for Asians and people of mixed race adjourned last week after completing their debates. Blacks, who account for 24 million of this country's 29 million people, have no voice in national politics.

The minister of constitutional development and planning, Christopher Heunis, was quoted in three newspapers as saying the bill to create a consultative national council would not come up because of negotiations still in progress.

When President P.W. Botha suggested giving black leaders a voice in national policy through an advisory council that would consider substantial changes in the constitution, he indicated he wanted to see the measure brought before Parliament this year.

Many black leaders have said they would refuse to take part in a body that had only advisory status.

Colin Eglin, leader of the official opposition Progressive Federal Party, said after hearing of Heunis' announcement, "Something is wrong with the government's plans...It is a reflection of a serious malaise in the governing party, which is a combination of confusion and arrogance."

The Progressive Federal Party led a rebellion against the National Party in Parliament on Thursday, saying it would refuse to cooperate in scheduling debates and meetings, would not speak on any bill it favored and would provide only one speaker for brief comments on legislation it opposed. The New Republic Party and the right-wing Conservative and the Herstigte Nasionale (Reform National) parties joined in.

All were angry over the National Party's decision to shorten the daily meeting hours for the house without consulting them.

WE MAKE HOUSE CALLS!

OPEN LABOR DAY
SUMMER SALE IN PROGRESS
Sound old fashioned? Maybe so . . . but that's the way we feel about helping you solve your decorating problems. Here at our Gallery, we think your ideas should have the same kind of warm professional and personal attention folks expected from their family doctor in the good old days.
We're ready to see the problem through your eyes, right in your own home, whether you're looking for a single chair, new draperies or a decorating plan for an entire room or home. If you're uncertain about your choice of a lamp, an area rug, a picture or any other decorative accessory, we'll be glad to make a "house call" . . . happy to come to your home by appointment.
Most old fashioned of all . . . our "house calls" are complimentary. Just ask one of our design experts for the story.

TORNADO or THUNDERSTORM

WATCH
(Conditions are right for a tornado or severe thunderstorm to form.)

WARNING
(A tornado or severe thunderstorm already is in existence.)

Conditions forecast for 8 PM Saturday

In North Texas, increasing clouds west and central, otherwise fair with highs in the 80s. Partly cloudy most sections tonight and Sunday with a slight chance of thunderstorms west Sunday. Lows tonight mid-60s east to near 70 central and west. Highs Sunday near 90.

In West Texas, mostly cloudy with scattered showers and thunderstorms through Sunday. Patchy fog possible each morning, especially near Permian Basin. Lows tonight in the 60s. Highs today and Sunday near 80 to the mid-80s, except around 90 far west and along the Rio Grande in the Big Bend.

In South Texas, mostly cloudy west and south with widely scattered thundershowers. Fair and unseasonably cool east. Lows in the mid-60s north to the mid-70s lower coast. Cloudy to partly cloudy today with scattered thundershowers south and west. Highs in the mid-80s to mid-90s.

Chance of rain in forecast

From Staff and Wire Reports

A chance of rain remains in the local forecast for the Labor Day weekend, with pleasant temperatures in the mid-80s expected through Sunday, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Air Terminal.

Early morning drizzle and fog are expected today, yielding to mostly cloudy skies and a 30 percent chance of showers and thunderstorms. Highs will be in the mid-80s with south winds at 10-15 mph.

Saturday night and Sunday will be mostly cloudy with a 30 percent chance of thunderstorms. The low Saturday will be in the mid-60s with the high in the mid-80s.

Friday's low of 65 was four degrees warmer than the record of 61 set in 1971. The high of 104, set in 1964, was more than 20 degrees warmer than Friday's high of 81.

STATE

Late afternoon thundershowers dotted the upper Rio Grande Valley, the lower Pecos Valley and the mountains of far West Texas on Friday.

There were other showers and thunderstorms over the coastal waters and the lower Rio Grande Valley behind a stationary front that angled across the Gulf of Mexico, the National Weather Service said.

In addition, patches of light rain sprinkled the central and southern Panhandle.

Meanwhile, high pressure over northern and southeastern Texas continued to result in mostly clear skies over those areas. The rest of the state generally was partly cloudy to cloudy.

Light and variable breezes brushed across the northeast, southeast.. extreme south and southwest parts of Texas, while southeast to south winds ranging from 10 to 20 mph prevailed elsewhere.

NATION

Rain returned to the Southeast on Friday and parts of Texas were under a flash flood watch after several days of rain, and unseasonably cool air spread over much of the eastern half of the nation.

A stationary front reaching across northern Florida produced rain and thunderstorms from the northern half of Florida across southeastern Georgia and southern South Carolina.

High pressure dominated the rest of the eastern half of the country, producing clear to partly cloudy skies and unseasonably cool temperatures with highs mostly in the 60s and 70s. A frost warning was posted over parts of northwestern and north-central Pennsylvania.

Bulldogs shoot Class 4A Eagles

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Assistant Sports Editor

Maybe the Midland High boosters should plan another pre-game rally for Lubbock Monterey next Friday night.

Maybe the Bulldogs are just a bunch of hams who like to be introduced to a crowd. Or maybe they just like watching the drill team and cheerleaders put on a show. At any rate, after Super Dog Night "Fat Burgers," the Bulldogs went out and pounded Class 4A Pecos by a 6-0 scoring margin.

And that left MHS coach Doug McCutchen with a smile about as wide as the Pecos River.

You've heard about the backfield speed that the Bulldogs possess and those rumors can now be taken seriously. For instance, running back Tyrone Oliver rushed for 125 yards on only 11 carries and caught an additional pass for 23 yards. Included in those totals was a 50-yard, speed burning run to the end zone. He had 99 yards rushing in his first six carries.

If you liked watching Oliver in the 400 meters last spring, you'll love him on the football field. Pray for Oliver to break into someone's secondary so we can see which college prospect can catch him from behind.

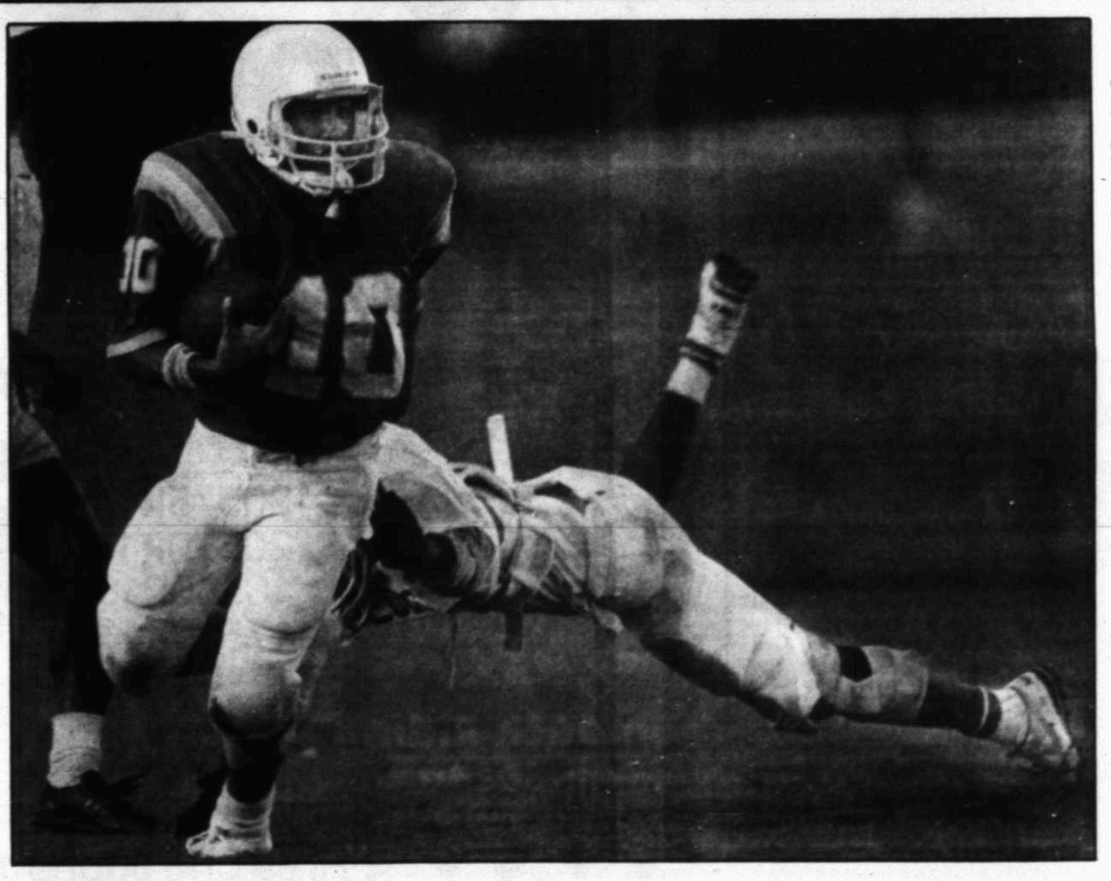

McCutchen is also probably breathing a little easier about his quarterback and linebacking positions after Friday night's showing.

Starting quarterback Jaime Madrid completed four of six passes (one of which was dropped) for 70 yards. Backup Jeff Somers completed three of six for 34 yards and a touchdown, covering 12 yards to Michael Ball. Somers also threw the only interception for the Bulldogs.

And those two had plenty of choices to make. Seven completions and seven different receivers caught a pass. Ricky Duran, Clyde Govan, Anthony Adkison, Lee Atwater, Clif Coleman, Oliver and Ball were all on the receiving end with Oliver's 23-yarder the longest of the night.

Madrid also had a net 62 yards rushing and scored from 65 yards out after breaking a tackle only three yards into the play and then breaking free on a downfield block by Oliver.

Lee Rebels blitz Yellowjackets

By ERIC SCHURER
Sports Writer

This time around, Midland Lee coach Earl Miller was a little more pleased with what he saw.

What Miller saw in the Rebels' second scrimmage in as many days was his No. 2 team hold an explosive Kermit squad scoreless in a 2-0 victory Friday evening at Lee Field. And in knocking off the highly-touted Class 3A Yellowjackets, Lee's second squad showed the type of enthusiasm Miller has been looking for.

"That was a good scrimmage for us... we really stood our own on defense," said Miller. "We had three goal line stands that I liked. You always look for positives in these things, and that is certainly one."

Though there were only a dozen or so players that Miller expects will see regular varsity action on the field, the intensity of Friday's scrimmage was much improved over a lukewarm outing Thursday.

Miller was particularly pleased with his secondary and the play of his linebackers John DeFrance, Antonio Pina and James Hanlan. In the secondary, Danny Jordan and Robert Pyle showed a nose for the ball.

"Javier Falcone did a good job up front and I thought we had real good pursuit. The defense was better than I expected, really," Miller said. "It was good to see a lot of kids play that are going to be good football players. They may not be helping us this year, but they're going to help us in the future."

LEE

AS WELL as the yeoman work of the defensive unit, Miller was impressed with some of Lee's young offensive players. But as a defensive-minded head coach, Miller deferred comment on the offense to offensive coordinator Van Tom Whatley.

Whatley was particularly impressed with sophomore running backs David Whiteside and Quincy White and junior Tony Rice, all who will see action mainly on the junior varsity this season.

Junior quarterback Geoff Rich also impressed Whatley with his ability to run the wishbone attack as did Dudley Jordan — when the Rebels picked up their blocking assignments.

Rich, who is expected to back up Rodney Johnson at quarterback this fall, connected with J.J. Jackson for the first touchdown of the scrimmage on a 50-yard pass play. But the offense didn't click quite that well all night.

Elway to Johnson helps Broncos dump Rams, 19-10

Associated Press

DENVER — John Elway and Vance Johnson connected on a 61-yard bomb to highlight an electrifying first-half passing display that carried the Denver Broncos to a 19-10 NFL preseason victory over the Los Angeles Rams Friday night.

Both teams finished the preseason with 2-2 records.

Elway completed 17 of 23 passes for 275 yards and two touchdowns, staking Denver to a 16-0 lead before leaving the game at intermission. Johnson caught nine passes for 182 yards in the half and added two more receptions in the fourth quarter.

On the game's third play from scrimmage, Elway dropped back to pass, pump-faked to his right, then threw deep over the middle to Johnson, who had beaten Rams safety Vince Newsome. Johnson gathered in the pass at the 15 and scored untouched. Rich Karlis missed the extra-point attempt.

Early in the second quarter, Elway hit running back Steve Sewell on a 21-yard scoring pass. Elway completed three passes to Johnson on a drive late in the half that resulted in Karlis' 46-yard field goal, producing the 16-0 lead.

The Rams cut the deficit to 16-10, capitalizing on Denver turnovers. Cornerback Jerry Gray picked off a Scott Stankavage pass and returned it 52 yards to help set up Mike Lansford's 25-yard field goal in the third quarter.

Cornerback Mickey Sutton returned another interception 34 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Dolphins 21, Bucs 3

MIAMI — Dan Marino tuned up for the start of the NFL regular season, passing for 201 yards and one touchdown in the first half to lead the Miami Dolphins to a 21-3 preseason victory over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Marino completed 14 of 18 passes and was particularly sharp in a drive leading to Ron Davenport's 1-yard TD run and a six-play, 75-yard march he capped with a 21-yard scoring pass to rookie James Pruitt with two seconds left before intermission.

Don Strock replaced Marino in the second half and directed Miami's final touchdown drive while hitting seven of 12 passes for 93 yards against a Tampa Bay secondary that starts two rookies.

The victory enabled Miami, 2-2, to avoid its first losing preseason since 1971. The Bucs, 2-14 a year ago in their first season under Coach Leeman Bennett, finished 0-4.

Marino hit three of four passes for 50 yards in a seven-play, 54-yard drive that Davenport completed with his touchdown run for a 7-0 lead with 6:14 left in the second quarter.

The Dolphins quarterback fueled the march with completions of 11 yards to Nat Moore and 20 yards to Mark Duper, and then set up the score with a 19-yarder to Bruce Hardy, who was hauled down just short of the goal line.

Marino riddled Tampa Bay for 77 yards on 5-for-5 passing in the final 1:35 of the half.

He used completions of 28 yards to Pruitt and 19 to Tony Nathan to move the ball from his own 32 to the Bucs 21. On the next play, he found Pruitt wide open in the end zone for the Dolphins' 14-0 halftime lead.

Woody Bennett closed out Miami's scoring with a 3-yard fourth-quarter touchdown run that came 6:01 after Tampa Bay settled for Donald Igwebuike's 19-yard field goal despite marching to a first down at Miami's 2-yard line.

King's 30th HR doesn't help

From Staff Reports

SAN ANTONIO — If nothing else comes out of this season for the Midland Angels, at least Kevin King will have something to remember.

King blasted his 30th home run of the season Friday night to set a club record, but it didn't help the Angels from dropping a 7-5 decision to the San Antonio Dodgers.

King has now hit four homers in the last two games and leads the Texas League in homers with just one game remaining tonight.

The Angels blew a three-run lead in the sixth as the Dodgers exploded for five runs on five hits off starter Phil Venturino, 2-6. A two-run homer by Tracy Woodson, his 18th of the season, tied the game before Ken Harvey put San Antonio on top for good with a two-run double.

Midland opened the scoring in the second on Dave Montanari's first homer of the season. Alonzo Tellez tied it in bottom of the inning with his fourth homer.

The teams traded runs in the third before Midland took a 4-2 lead in the fifth, first on King's solo homer, then on an rbi single by Brian Brady. Dante Bichette made it 5-2 with an run-producing single in the sixth before the Dodger's sixth-inning uprising.

The two teams will finish out the season tonight with a 7 p.m. start in San Antonio.

Scott hurls Astros to 3-2 win over Pirates

HOUSTON — Mike Scott allowed six hits in 7⅔ innings for his 14th victory and Jose Cruz hit a two-run single to lead the Houston Astros to a 3-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Friday night.

Scott, 14-9, won for the ninth time in his last 14 starts. The major leagues' strikeout and ERA leader struck out six and only one run off him was earned. He increased his strikeout total to 241, and lowered his ERA to 2.24.

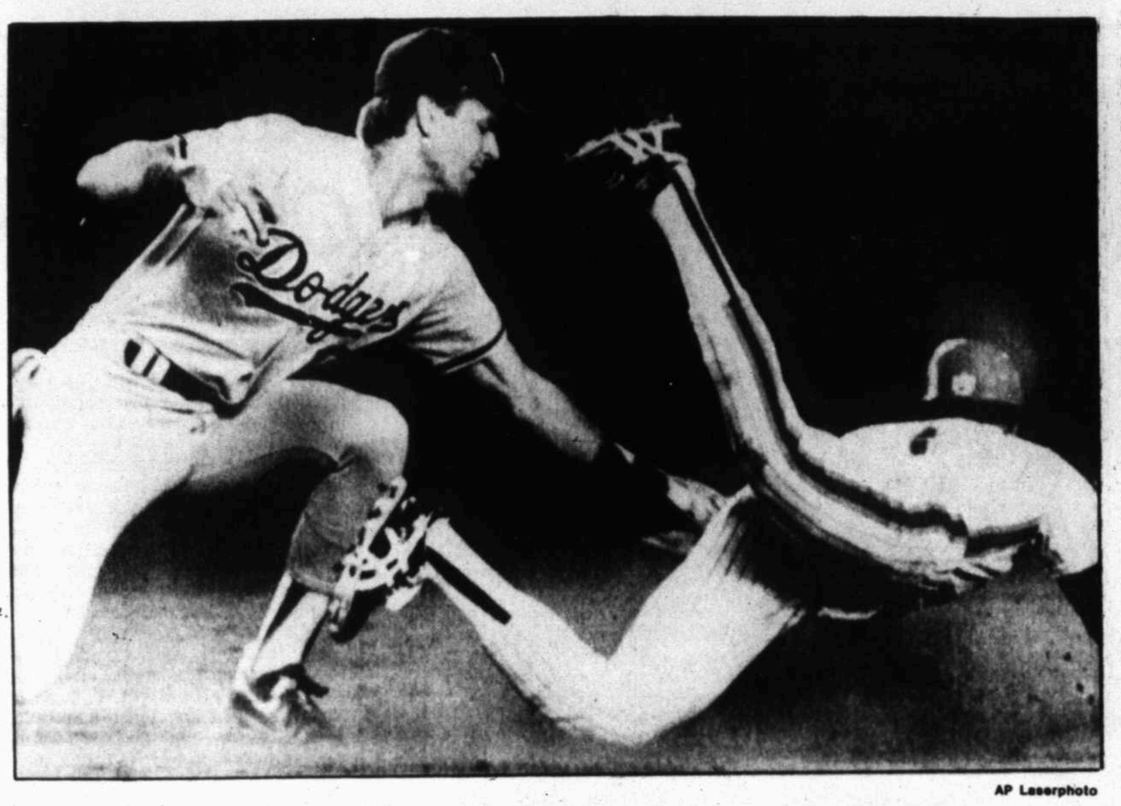

Dave Smith got his 27th save.

Cruz singled in the last two Houston runs in the sixth, off Rick Reuschel, 8-15. The Astros stayed seven games ahead of Cincinnati in the National League West.

Houston took a 1-0 lead in the first. Billy Hatcher led off with a double, Craig Reynolds bunted for a single and Hatcher scored on the play when Reuschel threw the ball away attempting to get Reynolds at first.

The Astros increased the lead to 3-0 in the sixth. Reynolds reached on first baseman Sid Bream's error and moved to third on Glenn Davis' double. Kevin Bass was hit by a pitch, loading the bases before Cruz singled.

The Pirates cut the deficit to 3-2 in the seventh on singles by Johnny Ray and Mike Diaz and a two-run single by Tony Pena.

Los Angeles shortstop Dave Anderson tags New York Met Mookie Wilson Friday.

Mets 2, Dodgers 1

NEW YORK — Bob Ojeda pitched a five-hitter and Mookie Wilson had three hits, an RBI and scored a run as the New York Mets extended their winning streak to four with a victory over Los Angeles Dodgers.

Keith Hernandez drove in Wilson with a first-inning, infield single off Rick Honeycutt, 9-9. Wilson singled home a run in the eighth.

Ojeda, 15-4, won his third straight decision. In his last 16 starts, he has a record of 9-2. He struck out seven batters and walked two, and at one point retired 13 Dodgers in a row. The run he gave up was unearned and came on a ninth-inning groundout.

The Mets lowered their magic number for winning the National League East to 15.

Honeycutt gave up seven hits and a walk in 6⅓ innings and struck out seven batters. He has lost three of his last four decisions.

Phillies 6, Giants 4

PHILADELPHIA — Von Hayes and John Russell each had three hits and two RBI as the Philadelphia Phillies won for the ninth time in their last 12 games with a win over San Francisco Giants.

Hayes, who had a single, double and triple, has hit in 18 of his last 20 games and is 32-for-81 over that span. He also leads the National League with 34 doubles.

Rookie Mike Maddux, 2-5, allowed four runs in 5⅔ innings. Steve Bedrosian got the final six outs for his 20th save, setting his career high.

Reds 2, Cardinals 0

ST. LOUIS — Bill Gullickson pitched a three-hitter, retiring 17 of the last 18 batters, and Buddy Bell homered as Cincinnati won their sixth straight game over St. Louis.

Gullickson, 12-8, walked none and struck out five as he won his fourth straight start, his eighth career shutout. In his last eight starts, Gullickson has permitted only six earned runs over 65 innings — a 0.83 ERA.

Mike LaValliere, who singled in the third, and Willie McGee, who singled in the fourth and the ninth, were the only Cardinals to reach base. Gullickson faced only 30 men.

Bell's homer in the sixth, his 17th this year and 10th in 26 games, pulled him within one of his single-season high. It came off Danny Cox, 8-11, who surrendered only six hits.

St. Louis was shut out for the 13th time this year.

The Reds won for the 10th time in 11 games, giving them a 19-10 record in August and a 38-26 record against National League East teams that includes a 7-3 mark against the Cards.

Cubs 7, Braves 3

ATLANTA — Bob Dernier hit a three-run homer in a five-run Chicago fifth inning and Manny Trillo had three hits and two RBI as the Cubs defeated the Atlanta Braves 7-3.

Scott Sanderson, 7-10, who had not won since Aug. 12, allowed nine hits in seven innings. He struck out eight — his season high — and walked one. It was the first time he made it past the seventh in 25 starts.

Dave Gumpert pitched the final two innings.

Chicago broke opene a 2-2 game in the fifth. Gary Matthews walked and moved to third on Keith Moreland's single. He scored on Jody Davis' sacrifice fly.

Ron Cey walked and Trillo followed with a run-scoring single before Dernier hit a 3-0 pitch for his third homer of the season, his first since Aug. 11.

Dernier's homer knocked out Zane Smith, 7-13, who allowed seven runs and 10 hits in 4 1-3 innings.

Explosions rock Olympic Stadium

MONTREAL (AP) — Two explosions Friday shook Olympic Stadium, home of the Montreal Expos, when two bottles of oxygen exploded inside the stadium's unfinished tower, officials said.

There were no injuries among the 60 workers on the construction site at the time.

The National League baseball game between the Montreal Expos and the San Diego Padres scheduled for Friday night was postponed until Saturday to allow engineers to determine whether structural damage was caused to the tower.

The explosions occurred about 30 minutes after 10 tanks of acetylene near the top of the 10-story tower caught fire. The flames heated the two oxygen tanks to the point where they exploded.

"Everybody was out a good half-hour before the explosion," said iron worker Alvin Sylvain, who alerted the work crew. "I stayed behind to make sure there was no one around."

Firefighters managed to contain the fire to the top of the tower about an hour after the explosions, but they had trouble directing water on the blaze because their aerial ladders, which go as high as seven floors, were too short.

Sylvain said he saw a bottle of acetylene accidently catch fire and spread to other bottles of the fuel. Acetylene burns intensely but doesn't explode. He said he ordered the other workers out because he feared the acetylene would eventually set off the nearby oxygen tanks.

The fire quickly spread to wooden forms and floors in the tower.

Sylvain said anything could have caused the initial fire.

CHICAGO — Charlie Hough and Mitch Williams combined on a four-hitter and Geno Petralli's two-run single keyed a four-run fifth inning Friday night, leading the Texas Rangers over the Chicago White Sox 5-2.

Hough, 12-8, held Chicago hitless for four innings and gave up four hits in 7⅓ innings. Williams did not allow a hit in getting his seventh save.

The victory was the seventh in 10 games for the Rangers.

Texas went ahead 4-0 in the fifth against Joe Cowley, 8-9. Toby Harrah walked, Oddibe McDowell was hit by a pitch and Scott Fletcher walked, loading the bases. Right fielder John Cangelosi dropped a fly ball by Pete O'Brien, allowing two runs to score, and Petralli delivered his two-run single.

Chicago scored twice in the bottom of the fifth on a leadoff single by Ozzie Guillen, a double by Ron Karkovice and Cangelosi's two-run single.

Harrah hit his seventh homer of the season in the eighth against reliever Dave Schmidt.

Indians 7, Red Sox 3

BOSTON — Former Midland Cub Joe Carter hit three home runs and went 5-for-5, powering the Cleveland Indians past the Boston Red Sox.

Carter, who also singled twice, drove in four runs. He became the first Cleveland player to hit three homers in a game since George Hendrick on June 19, 1973, and first to accomplish the feat on the road since Bill Glynn on July 5, 1954.

Boston lost for the fifth time in six games.

Rookie Cory Snyder homered and Brook Jacoby and Pat Tabler rapped three hits apiece in the Indians' 16-hit attack against four pitchers.

Tom Candiotti, 13-9, pitched a six-hitter in beating the Red Sox for the second time in a week. Tom Seaver, 7-11, took the loss, giving up five runs on nine hits in 4⅓ innings.

American League

Carter got an infield single in the first inning and then hit a two-run homer in the third. Carter singled again in the fifth, and then connected against Sammy Stewart for a leadoff home run in the seventh.

Carter opened the ninth with a homer off Bob Stanley. Carter has hit 24 home runs this season, seven against the Red Sox.

A's 4, Orioles 3

OAKLAND, Calif. — Mike Davis homered twice and went 4-for-4, leading the Oakland A's past Baltimore in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader.

The victory was the third straight for Oakland while the Orioles lost their sixth consecutive game. The A's swept a doubleheader from Baltimore on Thursday.

With the score 2-2, Davis led off the sixth with a single and took second on a groundout. He then scored the go-ahead run when he stole third base and continued home on catcher John Stefero's throwing error.

Eric Plunk, 4-7, allowed five hits over six-plus innings to get the victory with help from Jay Howell, who tossed the final three innings for his 13th save. Storm Davis, 9-12, took the loss.

Brewers 3, Royals 1

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Ted Higuera pitched a six-hitter and set Milwaukee's single-season strikeout record in leading the Brewers to a 3-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Higuera, 17-8, fanned six and put his season total at 173, four more than Marty Pattin recorded with the Brewers in 1971. The husky Mexican right-hander, 7-1 since the All-Star break, raised his career record against Kansas City to 4-1.

Dennis Leonard dropped to 6-11 and for the second consecutive start had nothing to show for a good performance. Leonard allowed seven hits in eight-plus innings.

Rick Manning hit a one-out single in the second, took third on a single by Dale Sveum and scored on a sacririce fly by Jim Gantner.

Blue Jays 6, Twins 5

TORONTO — Cliff Johnson singled home the tying run and Jesse Barfield then hit into a game-winning forceout, capping a ninth-inning rally that gave the Toronto Blue Jays a victory over the Minnesota Twins.

Toronto won its sixth straight game and pulled within 3½ games of American League East leader Boston, which lost to Cleveland 7-3.

Kelly Gruber opened the Toronto ninth with a walk from Keith Atherton, 5-10, and took second on a single by Tony Fernandez. Johnson, who had tied the game 4-4 with a home run in the eighth, hit a one-out single to make it 5-5, and an error by left fielder Randy Bush on the play put runners at second and third.

After George Bell was intentionally walked to load the bases, Barfield hit a grounder to shortstop Greg Gagne, but the Twins could not turn a double play as the winning run scored.

The Twins had taken a 5-4 lead in the top of the ninth on consecutive doubles by Roy Smalley and Tom Brunansky against Mark Eichhorn, 12-4. The run was the first allowed by Eichhorn in 24⅓ innings.

Mark Salas opened the scoring for Minnesota in the second when he tripled home Smalley, who had singled. Toronto tied the game 1-1 in the fifth against Minnesota starter Mike Smithson on Manny Lee's first major-league home run.

The Twins scored three times in the sixth on Gary Gaetti's two-run double and Smalley's RBI single.

Toronto scored twice in the seventh on an RBI single by Garth Iorg and a run-scoring grounder by Lloyd Moseby. Johnson tied it with his 14th homer, off George Frazier.

Perry's sack may be expensive

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears' William "The Refrigerator" Perry reportedly has been fined $2,000 for a crunching tackle delivered against St. Louis Cardinals' quarterback Neil Lomax in last week's exhibition game.

Chicago televison station WBBM broadcast the report Friday.

Perry, a defensive lineman weighing about 320 pounds, picked up Lomax and slammed him to the ground during the first half of the Cardinals' 14-7 victory at Soldier Field. Perry was not ejected from the game.

WBBM-TV did not disclose the source of its report.

Perry lost $6,000 in incentive pay for failing to show up at training camp July 15 at 300 pounds. He weighed in at 325 pounds the next day.

Officals ejected Bear offensive lineman Keith Van Horn and Cardinals Lionel Washington, Ottis Anderson and Charlie Baker.

Twilly leads St. Jude Classic

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Howard Twitty shrugged off chilly winds and fast greens Friday to take the second-round lead in the $500,000 Federal Express St. Jude Classic with a 5-under-par 67.

"It's a hard golf course," Twitty said after finishing the par-72, 7,282-yard Colonial Country Club course with a two-round total of 138, six strokes under par.

Twitty birdied five of his first 10 holes Friday and his only bogey was on the par-5 16th hole where he missed a 2-foot putt.

First-round leader Fuzzy Zoeller, who shot a 70 on Thursday, had some problems on Friday. Zoeller finished the day with a 74 for a two-round total of 144.

Payne Stewart and Joey Sindelar, who were tied with Twitty, Gary Hallberg and Mike Hulbert at 71 after the first round, were in second and third place. Stewart shot a second-round 70 to finish the day at 3-under par 141.

Sindelar shot a 71 to stand at 2-under 142.

Defending champion Hal Sutton, who was well back in the pack with an 80 on Thursday, shot a 69 to stand at 149.

Jack Nicklaus II, son of golfing superstar Jack Nicklaus, missed the cut in his first professional tournament. He shot an 85 on Friday to go with Thursday's 81 for a 165.

Twitty, who has been on the Professional Golfers' Association Tour for 11 years, has won $100,046 this year, although he has finished in the top 10 in only one tournament. His last Tour victory was in 1980.

Twitty said the winds that plagued the golfers in the first round were still a factor on Friday. But he said the wet greens had dried out and were fast.

"The greens are tough — real quick," he said. "If you're above the hole, there's no way to stop the ball."

Twitty said his three-stroke lead isn't enough to start spending the $90,000-plus winner's check.

"I wouldn't feel comfortable with a three-stroke lead until I was in the middle of the 18th green at the end of regulation play," he said.

Stewart agreed with Twitty about the fast greens.

"You have to make sure you don't put the ball above the hole on some of the greens," Stewart said. "You are not going to see a lot of balls hit on the greens and back up."

The hard-luck golfer of the day was Gary McCord, who finished the day with an 87 after shooting a 16 on the par-5 16th hole. McCord hit six shots into the water, and stroked another ball into a hotdog stand.

Lloyd, Becker win, McEnroe defaults

NEW YORK (AP) — Chris Evert Lloyd and West Germany's Boris Becker breezed to easy victories Friday night after Jimmy Connors, looking his age, came up with the big points when needed to down 19-year-old Claudio Pistolesi of Italy in the U.S. Open Tennis Championships.

With the victories, all three advanced into the third round of the year's final Grand Slam tournament.

But the biggest stir of the day came when John McEnroe, who suffered a stunning first-round defeat in the men's singles, received another blow Friday as he and teammate Peter Fleming were disqualified in the men's doubles when they failed to show up for their opening-round match on time.

Lloyd took just 35 minutes to romp past Czechoslovakia's Regina Marsikova 6-0, 6-0. The loser won just 14 points in the match.

Becker, the reigning Wimbledon champion, crushed Cassio Motta of Brazil 6-3, 6-0, 6-2 in a match that was briefly halted when the crowd at Louis Armstrong began a "wave."

"I saw it in Mexico during Davis Cup," Becker said of the wave.

Connors, who will turn 34 before this two-week tournament ends and has won this Grand Slam title five times, ousted Pistolesi 7-6, 6-4, 7-5 and was joined in the victory ranks by Tom Gullikson, the oldest man in the tournament who will turn 35 on Sept. 8.

Gullikson, whose career highlights have come in doubles competition, upset 10th-seeded Andres Gomez of Ecuador 3-6, 6-7, 7-6, 6-3, 6-4.

"McEnroe was very, very upset," Ken Farrar, a Nabisco Grand Prix supervisor, said of the left-hander's mood after being informed he had been disqualified. "It was sort of a nasty situation.

"McEnroe is much more upset than Fleming," Farrar said. "McEnroe is very disappointed about not playing and very upset about it."

Asked if McEnroe asked the supervisor and tournament referee Gayle Bradshaw to reconsider the default, Farrar said:

"He couldn't understand why we couldn't have waited longer. He never really asked us to reconsider. He just kept saying, 'How could you do this? Why couldn't you have waited longer?' "

The two were defaulted when they failed to show up 15 minutes after their match was called to go onto court.

Besides Connors and Gullikson, other singles winners Friday included four Swedes — No. 2 Mats Wilander, No. 4 Stefan Edberg, No. 7 Joakim Nystrom and No. 13 Anders Jarryd — and No. 16 Miloslav Mecir of Czechoslovakia in the men's singles. Seeded women to advance into the third round included No. 6 Claudia Kohde-Kilsch of West Germany, No. 7 Helena Sukova of Czechoslovakia, No. 9 Manuela Maleeva of Bulgaria, No. 12 Zina Garrison and No. 14 Catarina Lindqvist of Sweden.

In late matches, six-time women's winner Chris Evert Lloyd played Regina Marsikova and the reigning Wimbledon men's champion, West Germany's Boris Becker, took on

Padres call abrupt end to Gossage's year

SAN DIEGO (AP) — An early end came to relief pitcher Rich "Goose" Gossage baseball season Friday when he was suspended without pay by the San Diego Padres.

Club President Ballard Smith said the suspension was effective immediately and was brought on by Gossage's repeated personal attacks against team owner Joan Kroc and Smith.

Gossage, who has struggled with a 5-7 record and a 4.31 earned run average, told Newsday newspaper this week that Smith "doesn't know anything and doesn't care" about baseball.

It was the latest in a series of tirades by Gossage, who earlier this season challenged Manager Steve Boros and Kroc.

In his anger over a ban of beer in the team clubhouse, Gossage berated Kroc, saying she was "poisoning the world" with food served at McDonald's restaurants. Kroc is chairwoman of the board of the giant fast-food chain.

Reached at the team hotel in Montreal, where the Padres are playing the Expos, Gossage declined comment on his suspension, saying he was waiting to hear from Smith. Team spokesman Bill Beck said Boros told Gossage of his suspension Friday morning.

"I don't mean to be abrupt," Gossage said by telephone from Montreal. "But I can't answer anything right now. I'm waiting for a call from Ballard Smith."

In Montreal, Boros told ABC Radio that expected Smith to act based on the Gossage's comments to Newsday. He also said he supported Smith's action.

"I saw the article and had an inkling that something might come about, something serious," Boros said.

Smith said he suspended Gossage under Major League Rule 13, which gives owners the right to discipline players for "repeated and continuing insubordination and similar player behavior that is not in the best interest of the club."

Despite recording 21 saves this season, Gossage has struggled all year and has failed in 12 save opportunities and numerous other games where no save was possible.

Rangers promote eight to Majors

CHICAGO (AP) — The Texas Rangers are promoting eight players from its Oklahoma City and Tulsa farmclubs, general manager Tom Grieve announced Friday night.

The Rangers also will activate pitcher Rickey Wright. He and the eight farmhands will be in uniform for Texas' Sept. 5 game with Kansas City.

Catcher Mike Stanley, infielder Jeff Kunkel and outfielder Bob Brower will be recalled from Oklahoma City of the Class AAA American Association.

The contracts of pitchers Dwayne Henry and Ron Meridith and catcher Orlando Mercado will be bought from the same club.

Infielder Jerry Browne will be recalled from Tulsa of the Class AA Texas league, and the contract of pitcher Kevin Brown will be bought from Tulsa.

Henry, Mercado and Stanley have been with Texas earlier this year, while Brower, Browne and Brown will be making their major-league debuts.

Wright was placed on the 15-day disabled list Aug. 6 with a pulled groin muscle and was sent to Oklahoma City for medical rehabilitation.

Managers Dave Oliver of Oklahoma City and Bill Stearns of Tulsa will join Texas' coaching staff next week.

Mets vs. cops goes to trial on Oct. 30

HOUSTON (AP) — An Oct. 30 hearing was set Friday for pretrial motions on felony charges filed against New York Mets players Ron Darling and Tim Teufel stemming from a scuffle with Houston police outside a nightclub last month.

Innocent pleas were entered for Darling, a pitcher, and Teufel, an infielder, before State District Judge Joe Kegans.

The players were in the courtroom but they never had to stand before the judge as the formal arraignment was waived by their attorney, Dick DeGuerin.

"This was an arraignment setting and nothing happens at an arraignment setting," DeGuerin said. "A formal plea of not guilty has been entered."

Both are charged with aggravated assault on a police officer for a July 19 altercation outside Cooter's nightclub. The pair allegedly fought with two police officers after Teufel was told not to take beer outside Cooter's nightclub. Two other Mets players, pitchers Bob Ojeda and Rick Aguilera, were charged with hindering arrest, a misdemeanor.

DeGuerin has complained that police overreacted during the arrests, using excessive force that included striking one of the players with a flashlight.

"He's doing his job as a defense lawyer," prosecutor Mike Anderson said. "He's trying to cloud the issues and get people not to focus on what really happened. What really happend was these guys got drunk and things got out of hand."

DeGuerin said it likely would be a month or two after pretrial motions before the case goes to trial.

"I don't know now," he said of the trial date. "It depends on the judge's schedules, the lawyers. We'll work out a date that's agreeable to everybody."

The players sat in the back of the courtroom during the 20-minute docket call. DeGuerin said they attended the session because their bond required their presence.

DeGuerin said neither player would comment on the case. They did, however, sign autographs for a few fans.

Gainesville replaces sacked coach

GAINESVILLE (AP) — A former Gainesville High School coach who led his teams to three state championships will replace the current coach who was fired after twice failing the state teacher's exam, school officials said.

Jim Thomason, who was Gainesville coach from 1968 to 1979, was named as the new head coach and athletic director to replace Coach Robyn Byars who was fired Thursday, Superintendent Don Hooper said.

Thomason has been serving as a Gainesville elementary school principal for the past six years.

Hooper said Byars had not decided whether he would take the teacher's aide job the Gainesville school board offered him immediately after firing him Thursday.

The board also gave Byars the opportunity to continue to work with the football team, which he guided to a 7-2-1 record last year, bringing his record for three years as head coach to 16-13-1.

BYARS WAS an all-district linebacker at Gainesville High School before his graduation in 1971. He went on to become an all-NAIA linebacker at Bethel College in Newton, Kan.

He narrowly missed taking Gainesville to the state playoffs last year. The Leopards tied McKinney for second place, but fell a penetration short in a 7-7 tie.

"He has done everything that this school district has asked him to do," said school board president Charles Draper. "Our athletic program is in the best shape ever. Our basketball is strong, our baseball is strong. We've had a tennis player go to regional and a golfer go to state. He's always operated under budget."

GAINESVILLE WENT to the state finals in 1974, 1976 and 1978 under Thomason. During his 12-year career at Gainesville, Thomason compiled a 84-9-35 record.

Under school reform legislation in effect this year, teachers were required to pass a minimum standards test to keep their teacher's certificate. Those who fail can keep their jobs only if the state grants a one-year waiver, allowing the teacher to remain for another year.

Gainesville school officials said they inquired with the TEA about the possibility of getting a waiver for Byars, but abandoned the effort when told that the agency had rejected every such request.

Prices farmer paid hold steady, figures show

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices farmers get for raw products on the average held steady in August, despite record high market prices for hogs and broiler chickens, the Agriculture Department said Friday.

The department's Agricultural Statistics Board said hog prices averaged $61.80 per 100 pounds of live weight, the most since the agency began records in 1909. The previous top was $61.30 four years ago.

Broiler prices at the farm averaged 45.9 cents per pound, live weight, up from 42.4 cents in July, the previous record level.

Department economists say hog prices are up because of sharp cutbacks by producers. However, with bumper harvests this fall and cheaper feed in the outlook, some economists think hog production soon may begin turning up.

Broiler prices have risen sharply this summer, partly because of a toll taken by heat in the Southeast, where production is concentrated. But USDA experts say the main reason has been a rise in consumer demand, prompted in part by reduced supplies of more expensive beef and pork.

The farm prices of cattle and eggs also moved higher in August, while lower prices for corn cotton, potatoes and soybeans offset the increases for the other commodities, the report said. The August corn price of $1.70 per bushel was the lowest since October 1977.

Although the July-to-August reading was unchanged, the August price index was up an average of 3.3 percent from a year ago, the report said.

The index of prices that farmers pay out to meet expenses was unchanged from July, the previous reading. Due to a financial cutback, the agency is releasing prices paid by farmers every three months. The next will be on Oct. 31.

According to the preliminary August figures, based mostly on mid-month averages, the farm prices of livestock and livestock products, which includes poultry and eggs, rose 3.5 percent in August and averaged 16 percent more than a year ago.

Time nearing for Eagles' Ryan to put up or shut up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Thanks to his mouth, Buddy Ryan is perched on a limb.

Since leaving the Windy City, the Philadelphia Eagles coach has made some windy predictions.

Ryan, whose famous "46" defense helped the Chicago Bears become last year's Super Bowl champions, has promised hungry Eagles' fans an NFL division championship. Most experts figure if he's 8-8 he should be coach of the year.

He has also insulted players, opposing coaches, officials and even Eagles' owner Norman Braman with his barbed-wire comments.

On his weekly radio program, "The Buddy Ryan Show," he tells fans they're stupid, but they keep calling him anyway.

During training camp at nearby West Chester University, 500 spectators were once the rule. Now, there are overflow crowds of 5,000.

They are there to see the Birds, but mostly Buddy.

He's 52, stocky and balding with a twinkle in his eyes.

Give him a red suit, some reindeer and a white beard and he could pass for Santa.

Until he opens his mouth.

Some observations:

—"Football people know Buddy Ryan knows his football. The Dallas Cowboys and Washington Redskins are worried and they should be."

—"Big 71 (nose tackle Ken Clarke) is a hell of a player but he held out, and now he's out of shape and dumb."

—"We're not going to stand around and kill grass. Consequently, some guys are going to go home."

"I just tell the truth," Ryan said. "I'm not smart enough to say one thing and two days later remember what I said. I try to tell it like it is. Maybe it's not always right, but I try to be fair."

BEFORE THE opening exhibition game against Detroit: "No, we won't use the 46. We'd really be embarrassed. It's tough enough playing a good football team like this doing what you know. We couldn't play it against ourselves." On the first series of the game the Eagles play the 46 and bury the Lions' offense.

On using instant replay in games: "Anything that will help those blind guys make decisions I'm all for."

On quarterbacks: "I'll change them by the quarter. If a guy is having a bad day I'm not going to die with his butt. Some guys have better days than others. Their biorhythms are off. Is that still in vogue?"

On his job: "Being head coach ain't no big deal. You just get a little more money for it, a little bigger office. It's not much bigger either way."

Last weekend, Ryan took on Don Shula.

After a preseason game with Miami, Ryan accused the Dolphins' coach of breaking NFL rules and trying to confuse the Eagles' defense by using 15 players in the huddle.

"Shula gets away with it because he's on the league competition committee," Ryan said.

To which Shula replied: "It seems like Ryan's got something to say about everything."

"From what he's said in the past about draft choices and the guy he worked for, I think it tells you a little bit about him," Shula said. "The only difference is going to be that at the end of this season, they're going to be looking at his won-loss record. They didn't do that when he was an assistant coach."

RYAN INSISTS he's not blowing smoke when he says the Eagles will win the NFC East.

"I really believe there is a lot of parity in the NFL, and the difference is the good teams and the bad teams are not that far apart," he said. "So, with a good draft and getting the other people to play 10 percent better than last year, which isn't asking a hell of a lot, you can be in the playoffs. That's what I believe.

"I think we can win the NFC East. The good thing is that with the exception of Washington we play the teams in our division late when, barring injuries, we should be better. I don't see why we can't win our division. I think Washington is the best team in the division, no question about it. I think we can play with New York, St. Louis and Dallas."

Ryan said the Eagles, 7-9 last season, have improved in two important areas: the running game and run defense. He likes his offense more now than his defense, which was the key to the team in 1985.

On offense, Ryan is counting on the recovery of running back Keith Byars, the No. 1 draft choice from Ohio State who had a severe foot injury.

Ryan has Ron Jaworski and Matt Cavanaugh competing at quarterback, and one of the league's best wide receivers in Mike Quick. The offensive line is a question mark.

On defense, Ryan has one of the best players in the NFL in tackle Reggie White. Clarke at nose tackle, ends Greg Brown and Byron Darby complete a competent front four. The secondary should be strong, featuring Pro Bowl safety Wes Hopkins, and cornerback Roynell Young. Middle linebacker Mike Reichenbach heads an inexperienced linebacker corps, including rookie Alonzo Johnson, a second-round draft choice.

Other MHS scores came on a six-yard run by Paul Gary, who had 44 yards rushing on the night and Tommy Yorkman on a two-yard run. The defense even scored once when Chris Johnson intercepted a pass and returned it 90 yards to give the Purple Pack a score and halt Pecos' only real scoring threat of the night for Pecos in one turn of events.

Pecos only penetrated the MHS 20 once all night.

It all had McCutchen glowing when the final whistle sounded.

"I'm really pleased. I thought the kids gave a great effort," said McCutchen. "We went into the scrimmage hoping we would have great effort and intensity and we would worry about mistakes later. We got what we wanted."

But McCutchen wasn't ready to praise every phase of the Bulldog game.

"We're still making some small mistakes, but we executed better than we have all this week. We need better pass blocking. We completed a lot of passes, but they were of the play action type. We didn't block well on the sprint out passes and we have to improve there.

"I was pleased with the linebackers. We won't know for sure what kind of job they did until we see the films, but we were running a lot of kids in there at linebacker and my first reaction is that they did a pretty good job."

Pecos coach Daylon Whitehurst left Midland not knowing how his team would rebound from the thumping.

"I'm not sure this type of beating will help us," Whitehurst said when asked if his team would benefit from scrimmaging a 5A school. "When you're drummed like that, it can be a negative thing.

"I can count the number of first downs we had on one hand. Midland looks plenty good to me. I hope they're good or we have a long, long way to go. You name it — running, passing, defense — they had it all. It got to be a pretty dangerous thing to have the ball. Midland has good size, speed and I thought both of their quarterbacks looked very good."

Defensively, Richard Triplett had an exceptional game. Ball also came up with an interception while Toby Box looked to have good movement for a kid owning a 250-pound frame. Mike Mechler was also impressive in the middle and linebacker Chris Dean had some big moments.

McCutchen and the Bulldogs now have a week to prepare for the 8 p.m. home opener Friday against Lubbock Monterey. McCutchen isn't sure just what plan of attack will follow this week.

"The trouble is we know very little about Monterey. They have a new coach and I'm sure they will be a lot different than last year," said McCutchen. "Saturday will be routine. We bring the kids in, look at films and work with weights some. But we'll have to wait on our scouting report on Monterey to see what areas we really need to work on next week."

But if the Bulldogs are more than a "one-shot" killer, Monterey better start looking for a way to keep the MHS speed intact.

ing safety helped the Redskins over the Falcons.

Washington reserve quarterback Doug Williams followed the safety with a seven-yard touchdown pass to Anthony Jones as the Redskins rallied from a 14-0 deficit to finish the preseason at 3-1.

Atlanta, 2-2, was foiled in its bid to notch its first winning preseason since 1974.

After a Steve Cox punt stuck the Falcons on their own one yard-line, Hamel chased Archer and forced the quarterback to unload a hurried, illegal pass. The safety gave Washington a 22-21 lead and Atlanta never threatened again.

The Falcons had taken a 21-20 lead 39 seconds into the final quarter when Archer tossed a 29-yard scoring pass to Joey Jones.

The Falcons led 14-0 in the first quarter, but Washington, getting a 28-yard interception return for a touchdown by Darrell Green, battled back and led 17-14 at halftime.

The Redskins made it 20-14 on Mark Moseley's 40-yard field goal in the third quarter.

Archer finished the night by completing five of 11 passes, but he hurt his right shoulder and was yanked late in the game. The extent of the injury was not immediately known.

Washington quarterback Jay Schroeder completed 15 of 30 passes but was intercepted twice.

49ers 21, Seahawks 10

SAN FRANCISCO — Jeff Kemp threw two touchdown passes to wide receiver Jerry Rice late in the second period, wiping out a 10-point Seattle lead, and San Francisco ended the exhibition season with a victory.

Rice gained 43 yards on a completion in the first scoring drive, which ended with his 14-yard TD catch. His other scoring catch was on a 1-yard play.

Kemp, who split the 49ers' quarterback duties with Mike Moroski, was 9-for-10 passing on the drives that covered 72 and 59 yards. Rice caught six passes for 83 yards in the first half.

The 49ers moved 80 yards with Moroski at quarterback and scored on fullback Tom Rathman's 6-yard run early in the fourth period to go ahead 21-10. A pass interference call against cornerback Terry Taylor, who bumped Rice, accounted for 44 yards.

Norm Johnson kicked a 49-yard field goal for Seattle in the first period and rookie quarterback Sean Salisbury hit Steve Largent on a 7-yard TD pass early in the second period. Running back Curt Warner, playing only in the first half, gained 52 yards on nine carries.

Both teams finished with 2-2 preseason records.

Lions 30, Bengals 20

CINCINNATI — Running back Scott Williams' 1-yard touchdown run, his second TD of the game, with 13 seconds left enabled the Detroit Lions to come from behind and defeat Cincinnati in the final exhibition game for both teams.

The Lions added their final touchdown on the game's last play when nose tackle Eric Williams intercepted a pass jarred lose from Cincinnati quarterback Ken Anderson's grip and ran it 49 yards for a score.

The Bengals had built a 20-9 lead on the strength of two touchdown passes by starting quaterback Boomer Esiason before Detroit began its comeback.

The Lions closed their exhibition season with a 2-2 record.

and you turn two backs loose and make two reads, it takes awhile to put things together," Whatley said. "There were some busted assignments, but it worked well considering we worked on their blocking scheme for only about 15 minutes."

WHITESIDE ACCOUNTED for Lee's second score breaking an off-tackle play for a 60-yard run as Whatley and Miller frequently alternated their backfield.

"The only thing we have these scrimmages for is to go out and bump into someone else," Whatley said. "We just like to get an idea of who can play."

"We got what we expected out of Kermit — they are a good team," Miller said. "I kind of expected an outcome like this, even though Kermit is one of the best 3A teams in the area."

Kohde-Kilsch crushed Catherine Tanvier of France 6-1, 6-0; Sukova downed Britain's Sara Gomer 7-5, 7-5; Maleeva defeated Peru's Laura Gildemeister 6-3, 6-1; Garrison stopped West Germany's Eva Pfaff 6-7, 6-4, 6-1; and Lindqvist defeated Australia's Amanda Dingwall 6-2, 6-3.

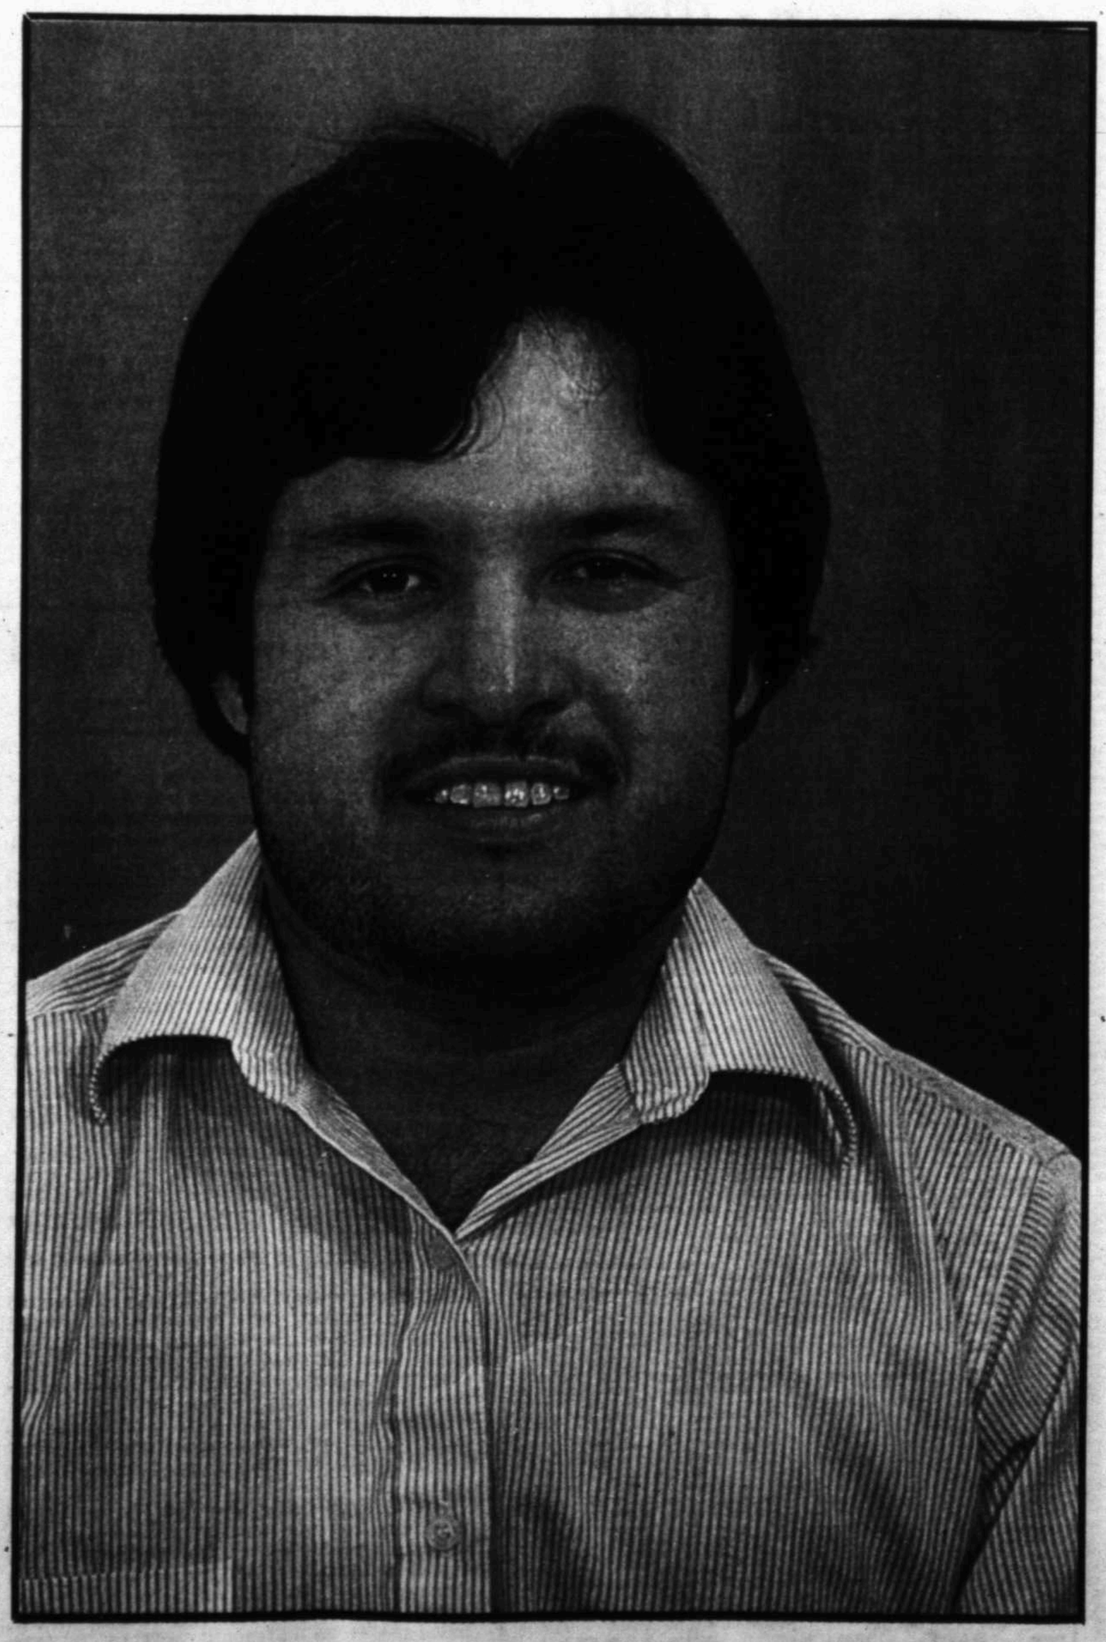

Connors seemed to be a step late against Pistolesi, last year's top-ranked junior who celebrated a birthday four days ago. Yet, the veteran was able to come up with the winning shots when he needed them.

Pisolesi broke Connors' service in the third game, then lost his own service in the eighth. It was the veteran who finished on top in the tie-breaker, 7-3.

Connors pulled off the only break of service in the second set, then took a lead in the third set when he broke the Italian teen-ager in the seventh game. But Pistolesi broke right back.

Three games later, Connors finished off the two-hour, 42-minute match when he broke Pistolesi at 30.

Gullikson gained entry into the 105th U.S. Championships by getting a wild card at "the 11th hour," he said.

Meet Our Carrier Of The Month For July

Henry Serrano

Join us in congratulating HENRY SERRANO as the Midland Reporter-Telegram's July CARRIER-OF-THE-MONTH. Henry delivers a total of 236 papers at Forty-Four Hundred, Windsor, Sinclair, Windscape, Lakepoint, Autumn Wood, Lakewood, Junction and Andalusian Apartments.
Henry started his routes in January, 1986. His hobby is playing golf.

His route profits are being used to attend UTPB in Odessa.

Congratulations Henry for a job well done.

British twins celebrate their 100th birthday

LONDON (AP) — Twins Marjorie and May Chavasse survived two world wars and 50 million-to-one odds to arrive at their 100th birthdays together on Friday.

"I don't feel any different," exclaimed May, the youngest by 20 minutes, when Britain's oldest surviving twins arrived at a champagne luncheon attended by 100 relatives and friends.

The sisters, not identical twins, said keeping physically active and interested in life are what's kept them going.

Nephew Thomas Chavasse said the twins are "quite competitive."

"We are convinced in the family that each is determined not to die before the other," he said. "That is what keeps them going."

The twins sat in wheelchairs holding hands and surrounded by four generations of their family at the birthday party, which was held at the home for retired nurses at Gerrards Cross where May lives.

Born during the reign of Queen Victoria, neither married. They live in adjoining counties west of London and meet regularly.

May was a nurse who cared for the wounded during both world wars, while Marjorie worked for a charity organization for 33 years, becoming a chief executive.

May suffers from arthritis and failing eyesight but still likes to read thrillers. Marjorie, who survived serious injuries in a 1960s car accident, enjoys reading The Times of London and the Bible daily.

Both are ex-cigarette smokers. Marjorie said she quit during World War II when cigarettes were rationed. May gave up her pack-a-day habit more recently.

Daughters of a former bishop of Liverpool, the sisters were the last of seven children, including twin brothers Noel and Christopher, two years older.

Jeffrey Selwyn of London's Allied Dunbar life insurance company, said the chances of twins reaching the age of 100 have been estimated at 50 million to one.

Archeologist Howard Carter spent five discouraging years digging in the Egyptian Valley of Tombs. Ridiculed for continuing his digging, he was determined to try one last time. On November 4, 1922, his workmen discovered a stairway cut into the rock. The door at the bottom of the stairway bore the name Tutankhamen-King Tut! By digging deeper, Carter found the treasure. How deeply are you willing to dig for the treasure of God's kingdom?

Laboring For Maturity

Maturity. What is it? It's one of those words you can never get a handle on. It lends itself more to description than achievement; more to a lifestyle than an attainment.

Maturity may be defined more as a pilgrimage than an arrival; more a process than a possession.

The New Testament writer James properly describes maturity as "unswerving constancy" which he says leads to being "perfect, complete, lacking in nothing." (1:3,4)

That sounds not only foreboding, but impossible. Can a person ever be that? Experience that? No, not totally.

Maturity is knowing no one can ever be fully mature; yet, maturity is not stymied by that reality, but rather is stimulated to keep striving for it.

This was the Apostle Paul's commitment: "I count not myself to have attained . . . but I press on to the mark of the prize of the high calling . . . ." (Phil. 3:13)

Methodists announce programs

First United Methodist Church, Main Street and Illinois, has announced the beginning of its "Wednesday Night Alive" program for the fall, Sept. 3. The first series of classes will run for four weeks, Sept. 3, 10, 17, and 24, 6:15-7:15 p.m. each evening.

A family-style meal will be available in the fellowship hall from 5:15 to 6:00 p.m. Graded choir rehearsals for children age 3½ through sixth grade will also be held 6:15-7:15 p.m. Child care will be provided for children not in the choirs.

The public is invited to participate in the classes, the meal, and the choirs. There is a $3 registration fee for the courses.

Classes offered include "Who Am I?," "The Sermon on the Mount," "Contemporary Personal Finances," "Personal Mechanics," "Sewing Circle," and "Youth Group."

"Who Am I?," or "Is This Really Me?," will meet in the parlor and will be led by the Rev. Steve Edwards, director of Community and Senior Services of Midland. The course will focus on understanding personal development. Life changes will be discussed, including dealing with the aging process and handling and preventing crises.

"The Sermon on the Mount" will be led by Marie Coleman, a Bible teacher at First UMC, and will be held in Room 15. The sermons will be studied using a new study series, "Jesus." Study books will be available.

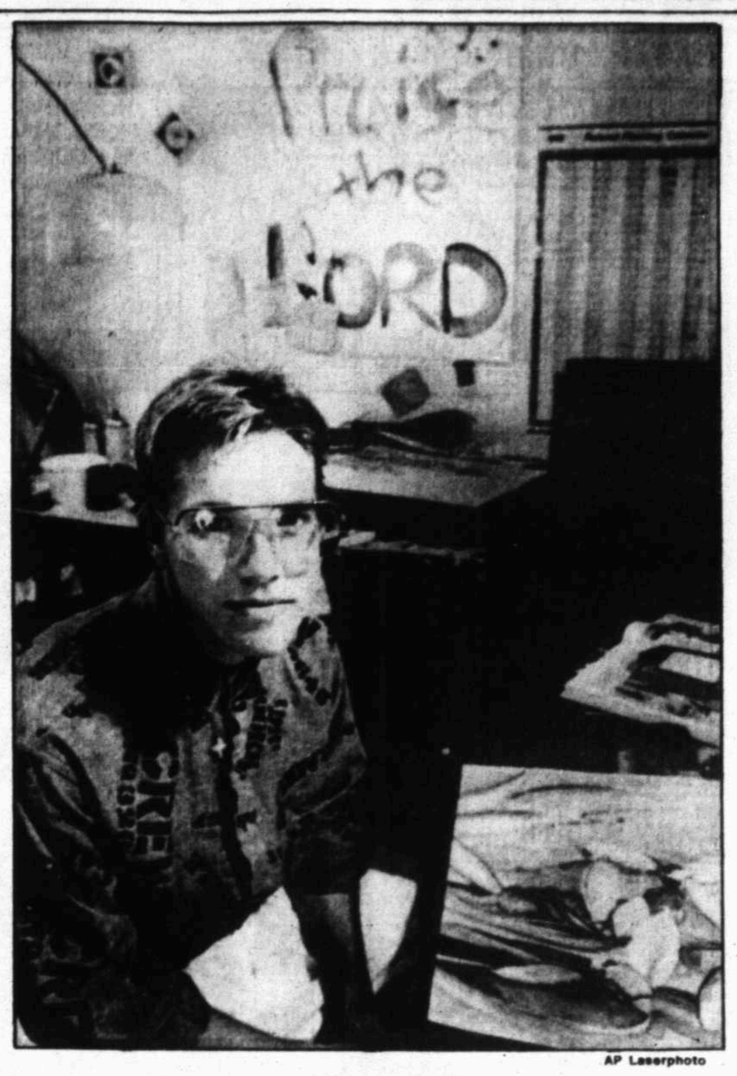

"Contemporary Personal Finances" will be in Room 103 led by Jim Cox, a financial investment consultant and member of the church. The course will deal with how to set up books for personal home use and how to manage personal finances.

"Personal Mechanics" will be held in Room 13 and be taught by John Ellis, a chief mechanic for a local automobile dealership. This course will cover basic auto mechanics and will involve actual practice. It is open to men, women, and youth who are licensed drivers.

"Sewing Circle" is coordinated by Janet Smith. This course is designed for women to work on personal sewing projects while participating in group discussions. Interested persons are invited to bring sewing, knitting or stitchery projects. The group will meet in Room 211.

Led by Jaun and Billy Helms, "Youth Group" will meet in the youth lounge and is for junior and senior high young people. It will consist of a study/discussion time as well as a recreation time.

For more information or to register, call the church office at 682-3701.

RELIGION

By LEIGH HOPPER

LAKE JACKSON (AP) — Allen Alldredge, 18, likes to drive fast and go on dates. He's got a huge wardrobe and wears his hair in a short, punkish style. Like many of his friends, he starts college this fall. He wants to be a prophet.

That's right. A prophet.

That's what you call ambition. He looks normal enough — no halo around his head, just braces on his teeth.

Many members of the clergy will describe some event, some religious experience they interpreted as their "calling." Two years ago, while sitting in church, Alldredge simply heard the air conditioner click on and he knew he was in the wrong place. The Methodist church he and his family attended was just too quiet and solemn.

Alldredge wanted something more. He says he wanted to be around people who seemed interested in learning about God.

He and his family switched over to the Family Life Church in Lake Jackson, a "full gospel" church dedicated to practicing what the Bible preaches down to the letter.

"It's too extreme for some people," he says. But that's just what Alldredge was looking for. He sees the Bible as a book of commands; he felt others saw it as a collection of suggestions.

A year later, Alldredge decided what to do with his life.

He describes his parents as "sophisticated gypsies." His mother paints and his father does the matting and framing of her work and manages the business. The two travel from show to show selling her work.

Alldredge has been painting since he was 13 years old and at 18 he's established a flourishing business. He paints large, watery flowers or big splashes of color, sometimes with a few plants worked in.

"I just want to create the most peaceful atmosphere I can in a painting," he says.

People living as far away as California send him letters describing their living room colors and asking him to create a painting for them.

"I could make millions with my art," he says.

That's easy to believe. He stacks his paintings in the back of his car and takes off for art shows in malls or at festivals in Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Austin, then walks away with $1,500.

Of course, he's only been making that kind of money for the last year or so, since he started going to higher-quality shows and taking his work more seriously.

During high school, he made $400 to $700 a month. Now, if he works a 10-hour week, he can expect to bring in $600 to $700 a month. If he puts in a 30-hour week, he makes about $3,000.

"It's a fun job. You can't beat it," he says.

But he's giving it all up.

In September, Alldredge begins a two-year program at Rhema Bible Training Center in Broken Arrow, Okla. It is the place for gospel ministers to train, he says. Rhema is Greek for "the spoken word."

Students at the Rhema center specialize in one of the five ministries: pastor, apostle, teacher, evangelist or prophet. The first four disciplines can be taught, Alldredge explains. But a prophet has to be born.

Understandably, the student-prophet group is small. The majority of students enroll at Rhema to become pastors, Alldredge says.

The first year, everyone follows an intensive program of Bible study. The second year, students break off into their area of specialization. Pastors learn such practical things as how to set up funds for building churches. Alldredge doesn't know what the prophet curriculum has in store for him.

He'll continue painting as long as he has the time. Right now, Alldredge says he's saving money for college, but confesses that he still buys a lot of clothes. His collection spills out of the closet onto the floor: 40 jackets, 50 shirts, 20 pairs of pants from Goodwill to Neiman Marcus.

He used to put more importance on money than he does now. The way he figures it, everything boils down to greed.

"No matter how much you make, you always want more," he says. "Money is just a bunch of figures."

Nevertheless, he says he's the kind of person who will own a satellite by the time he's 25 years old so he can broadcast his sermons.

"You're no better than who you plan to be," he says.

Looking back, Alldredge has been drawn to religion and ministerial work since he was 3 years old. "Like a little kid wants to be a fireman, I wanted to be a preacher," he says.

In high school, he went through several identity crises, he says, and threw himself into karate, then bodybuilding. Some friends see his Christianity as another phase he'll work through.

But Alldredge says he'll stick to this goal. Everything else he's thought about doing, including art school, seemed dissatisfying.

Ex-Vietnamese judge ousted from Catholic Church

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Bai An Tran has been excommunicated from the Catholic Church for leading a fight to make a local mission into a parish catering to the Vietnamese community.

But he's not worried. He has faith.

"Deep inside my heart, I have been and will be a faithful Catholic. What I'm doing is for the interest of our community," said the former Vietnamese judge whose followers have barred their new pastor from his own church.

Church leaders have called Tran and another excommunicated leader "dissidents." They've also accused the men of slander and are considering seeking a court order to regain control of the mission.

The controversy began last year, when Roman Catholic Bishop Pierre DuMaine changed the mission's name from the Vietnamese Catholic Center to Our Lady Queen Of Martyrs Vietnamese Pastoral Mission.

DuMaine also replaced the mission's pastor, the Rev. Joseph Nguyen Van Tinh, with the Rev. Paul Luu Dinh Duong on July 20.

Church officials said Tinh requested a sabbatical leave to Germany. But some believe DuMaine replaced Tinh because Tinh had supported the idea of establishing a Vietnamese parish. Under church law, a personal parish can be based upon rite, language or nationality if pastoral and financial concerns are resolved.

The Rev. Eugene Boyles, diocesan vicar for public affairs, said a mission is a "quasi-parish," which must provide all the pastoral, sacramental and education services of a normal parish.

Boyles said DuMaine is open to eventually establishing a personal parish, but not until the mission is sound financially. He said the diocese still subsidizes the mission with more than $20,000 a year.

Tran, now a real estate broker and leader of the opposition to Duong, noted there are 17 personal parishes for the Vietnamese in the United States.

Hundreds of Vietnamese have mounted a sophisticated campaign against the bishop and Duong.

On July 21, when Duong tried to enter the mission, he was blocked by church members and no Mass has since been held there.

Protesters, who watch to make sure Duong does not try to enter the small brick building, have constructed a wooden stage that holds a 30-foot high cross surrounded by smaller crosses that mark each day that passes without services.

A protest prevented Duong from reciting a Mass of reconciliation on Aug. 9 and another followed Aug. 16 during Duong's installation ceremony at a nearby church.

RELIGION IN BRIEF

Jackie and Glenda Thompson

Missionary pair to Indians, guests of Calvary Assembly

The Calvary Assembly of God, 908 S. Johnston, will host Jackie and Glenda Thompson, as guest speakers, Sunday, at the 7:00 p.m. service.

The Thompsons are home missionaries to American Indians.

Married in 1957, both studied at the Berean School of the Bible and received their ordination with the West Texas District Council of the Assemblies of God. In addition to their evangelistic work, they have pastored six churches in the area.

The Rev. Gayle Reeves, pastor of Calvary Assembly of God, invites the public to attend.

Speaker talks to Fellowship

ODESSA — Women's Aglow Fellowship of Odessa will hear Betty McNerlin of Midland as the featured speaker, 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Roadway Inn, South Grant and Interstate 20 in Odessa.

Mrs. McNerlin and her husband, Glen, longtime pastors in Midland, have ministered extensively as speakers, counselors and in radio broadcasts throughout the Permian Basin.

All area women are invited to attend the meeting.

There is no charge and nursery facilities will be by reservation.

For nursery arrangements, call Melba at 1-362-4764.

FBC sponsors train trip

The Midland First Baptist Church is sponsoring a Bible study and a train trip from Sept. 29-Oct 6.

The Bible study, conducted by Herschel Hobbs, will be held at the Gloreita Baptist Conference Center in Gloreita, N.M., from Sept. 29-Oct. 3. The theme will be Coming of Age.

On Oct. 3, the group will leave by train for Durango and Silverton, Colo. The group will return to Midland Oct. 6.

For more information call 682-7669. The cost is $300 with a $50 deposit due.

Mother's Day Out offered

The Kelview Heights Baptist Church is offering a Mother's Day Out Program Thursdays beginning in September.

The program will be for church families as well as non-church families and is for children up to 5 years old.

In addition, Kelview Heights is starting a Ladies Bible Study from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Tuesdays beginning Sept. 2.

For more information on these programs call 682-3842 or go by the church office at 402 W. Scharbauer Drive.

School enrolling children

The Seventh-Day Adventist Church School is currently enrolling children for grades 1-8.

"While we support public education with our taxes, we also provide alternative education where the name of God can be mentioned or a prayer said when the occasion arises," said Jerry Oster, pastor of the church. "Our school is an extension of the home education."

"We don't believe it is for us to find fault with the system if we differ in ideals," Oster continued. "We do appreciate the privilege of providing the setting for teaching those differing goals."

Joanna Herr, a new teacher at the school, will teach grades 1-4 this year. James Ott will return as principal and teacher of grades 5-8.

The school is located at 3114 Travis. Inquiries regarding curriculum and fees may be directed to Oster at 694-7382 or by Ott at 694-2746.

Special music program set

A special music program will be presented by Melinda Reed and Paul Wiseman, 7 p.m. Sunday at Crestview Baptist Church, 3300 Thomas.

The program will include songs by contemporary Christian artists, and a number of Wiseman's original compositions.

Reed and Wiseman have been performing together for six years.

Wiseman is a graduate of Baylor University. He moved to Midland in 1975 and worked in radio for five years before going to work for a market research company. In 1982, he wrote and produced a musical, "Season in the Son."

Reed, a graduate of Midland Lee High School, studied music at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. An accomplished pianist, she will accompany the Midland Junior High choirs during their concerts this school year. She is also an assistant director of Koinonia, a youth folk group at Crestview and works for a local bank.

Family Fair begins today

Our Lady of St. John Catholic Church, 1008 W. New Jersey, is holding its Annual Family Fair today and Sunday. The times are 4 p.m.-midnight today, and noon-11 p.m. Sunday.

In addition to other attractions and games, a raffle will be held 10 p.m. Sunday. First prize is $2,500; second prize is a washer and dryer; and third prize is a VCR.

The church is located at 1514 S. Jefferson.

St. Mark's sets film series

St. Mark's United Methodist Church will begin its "Wednesday Night Alive" series with the James Dodson film series "Focus on Family." The series will run four consecutive Wednesday evenings beginning Sept. 3.

The first in the film series, "The Strong-willed Child," will be shown at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday. A dinner will be served, for a nominal charge, by the Methodist Men of the church at 5:30 p.m.

A nursery for younger children and a Disney film and magic show for older children will be provided.

Reservations should be made by calling the church office at 683-3339. The public is invited.

Register now for Hebrew

Temple Beth El in Odessa, the only Jewish congregation in the Permian Basin, is accepting registration for Sunday school classes in Hebrew and religious instruction.

Contact David Strauss at 682-1435 in Midland, or Rabbi Klirs at 366-3282 in Odessa for further information on this education offered to Jewish children.

Exercise course offered

The First Baptist Church of Midland is offering an exercise course, "Aerobirhythms," that will begin Sept. 2, and run for six weeks.

The class will be held in the activities building of First Baptist. Morning class will be Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 9:30-10:30 a.m. Evening class will be Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays, 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Child care will be provided. Class cost in $18 per person. For more information, call 682-7669.

Law moratorium favored

NEW YORK (AP) — A top leader of Orthodox Judaism in the United States has voiced support for a moratorium on new religious legislation in Israel, siding for the time being at least with Conservative and Reform Judaism.

Rabbi Milton H. Polin, president of the Rabbinical Council of America, the U.S. Orthodox wing, said a halt to religious legislating was needed to "help reduce tensions" between Israel's strict religious and secular factions.

Recent acts of violence between them have included ripping down secular advertisements featuring scantily clad women and vandalizing of some synagogues.

Polin said "it is crucial to re-establish communication and reaffirm a consensus between religious and secular elements" on the state's "Jewish character" and for that purpose suspending new religious moves.

The stand signified a shift since U.S. Orthodox Judaism generally has backed Orthodox efforts in Israel to change the "law of return" to admit converts only if accepted under Orthodox rules — efforts strongly opposed by U.S. Conservative and Reform Judaism.

JEANE DIXON'S your horoscope

© 1986, Los Angeles Times Syndicate

By Jeane Dixon
Sunday, August 31, 1986

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: You will feel new appreciation for someone who makes home warm and inviting. A love relationship becomes more important than attaining an old goal. Watch your temper. You will make swifter financial progress if you are less outspoken at place of employment. Give way on minor points if you can have your way on major issues.

CELEBRITY BIRTHDATES: Author William Saroyan, Richard J. Porter of "Another World," Atlanta Braves right-fielder Claudell Washington, Phillies outfielder Von Hayes, actors Richard Basehart and Buddy Hackett, producer Dore Schary, Hall of Fame slugger Frank Robinson, lyricist-playwright Alan Jay Lerner, and master violinist Itzhak Perlman.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Do not let the emotions of the moment spoil a happy family day. A surprise meeting stirs the fires of romance. A hobby could become the source of extra income. Think big!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You can do almost anything if you put your mind to it. Spend this last summer weekend with those closest to your heart. Stay in a good humor! Romance enjoys favorable influence.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Diplomacy may prevent open warfare between neighbors. Take steps towards making your dreams come true. Let romance develop at a leisurely pace. Avoid revealing or promising too much too soon.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Invite friends for a home-cooked meal. They will be impressed by your culinary skill. You will be happier if you keep busy while someone special is far away. Be independent.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Visit a favorite spot this weekend. Your romantic ideals could be put to the test. Others look to you to get things rolling at a social event. Travel is fun.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Innovative ideas set you apart from an unexpected source. Have faith in a family member no matter what you hear. Rumors are often wrong.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Good luck accompanies you if traveling. Wind up a vacation on a happy note. Surprise partner with a small gift of love. Romance flourishes. Reveal how you really feel about mate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A friendship proves more enduring than a romance. Although you will have to do more to achieve a special goal, you are getting closer. Be patient with a sibling.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You are feeling more romantic than usual. Find a country spot where you can be alone with that special someone. Someone from your past could get in touch with you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your creativity makes you very popular today. Your tolerance for an employee's foibles could run out. Avoid saying anything that might make an enemy. Circumstances may require you to borrow from Peter to pay Paul.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Spend money on necessities. Wearing bright colors boosts your spirits. Romance brings a new contentment. A financial question must be dealt with now, not tomorrow.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Business losses are temporary. Do not let recent events shake your self-confidence. Find more time for family members and friends. Students need to find out where they stand in school.

Frank Sinatra to give first concert in Italy in 23 years

Sinatra

MILAN, Italy (AP) - Frank Sinatra will give a concert in Milan on Sept. 27, his first performance in Italy in 23 years, his Italian manager announced Friday.

The American singer will travel to this northern Italian city after a two-day performance in the Bernabeu soccer stadium of Madrid, Spain, manager Pierquinto Cariaggi said.

Sinatra will be accompanied by a 40-member orchestra, he said.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Pop star Whitney Houston didn't get to play before the New York State Fair's biggest grandstand crowd ever when rain made the stage too dangerous and the concert was canceled.

The 16,000 concert-goers who were turned away Thursday would have been the biggest crowd ever to attend a concert at the fair's grandstand, said spokesman Joseph LaGuardia.

Ms. Houston's tour manager, Tony Bulluck, said the singer was disappointed.

"She feels very badly about having to cancel and move out of here," he said.

Fair Director Joseph O'Hara said rain left a large puddle on the stage, a dangerous situation with thousands of watts of power surging through the sound and light systems. He said the fair is trying to arrange a new concert date, possibly sometime next week.

Charles

VERONA, Italy (AP) — Prince Charles headed back to England on Friday after a three-day visit to Italy, but said he might return for a Sept. 3 opera performance to benefit Cameroon after the Lake Nios disaster.

The program is to be dedicated to opera singer Maria Callas and sponsored by the Red Cross and the Red Crescent societies with profits to go to the Cameroon survivors.

A cloud of gas released from beneath a lake in the western African nation suffocated 1,500 people.

While in Verona, Charles attended performances of two Verdi operas, "Un ballo in Maschera" and "Aida," at the city's ancient Roman arena, originally built around 100 A.D. He also visited the tomb said to be that of the tragic heroine of William Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A stellar cast of favorites from the 1950s and 1960s, including Frankie Avalon and Annette Funicello, has agreed to a "Spring Break Reunion" here, says a producer of the planned television special.

About a dozen acts will perform on four theme weekends next June for the two-hour show, which would air late the following fall, said Grant Gravitt, president of Tel-Air Interests, a Miami-based production company.

Gravitt said the broadcast is to include the Beach Boys, Jan and Dean, the Everly Brothers, Chuck Berry and Blood, Sweat and Tears.

He said the idea is to persuade people who took spring break years ago to return to their old haunts.

The Broward Tourist Development Council voted Thursday to contribute up to $500,000 toward the costs of producing the broadcast.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Film director Ken Russell has gone to court seeking more than $1 million from New World Productions, which he contends failed to pay him for directing the 1984 film "Crimes of Passion."

According to the lawsuit filed in federal court Thursday, Russell had an agreement with the Los Angeles company to direct the film, starring Kathleen Turner, for $578,514 and 20 percent of the profits.

The suit said the agreement called for Russell to be paid $68,514 during the production and for the company to retain $500,000 as Russell's investment in the picture.

The suit, filed by attorney Richard A. Rosen, seeks unspecified compensation and $1 million in punitive damages.

Calls to New World after business hours Thursday went unanswered.

The British director's other films include "Women in Love," "The Music Lovers" and "Tommy."

Lee

AUSTIN (AP) — Funeral arrangements were pending Friday for internationally known photographer Russell Lee, whose pictures documented Depression-era farm life, the American oil industry and Appalachian coal fields.

Lee, who had lived in Austin since 1947, died at his home Thursday. He was 83.

Although he didn't purchase his first camera until age 32, Lee won wide acclaim for his photographic work during a 40-year career. He also taught the first photography courses in the University of Texas art department.

A 1925 chemical engineering graduate of Lehigh University, Lee later trained as a painter. He purchased his first camera in 1935 and quickly gave up painting.

Today, some of his photographs are in the Museum of Modern Art.

In 1936, Lee became a major participants in the federal Farm Security Administration's project to photograph the impact of the Depression on farms and small towns in America.

The Farm Security Administration, forerunner of today's Farmers Home Administration, used some of the giants of American photography for the Depression effort, including Walker Evans, Carl Mydans and Dorothea Lange.

Lee also won acclaim for a project sponsored by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey which chronicled the impact of the oil industry on American life.

During World War II, he took part in photographic mapping of transport routes and airstrips in the Caribbean, South America, Africa, the Middle East and Asia for the U.S. Air Transport Command.

In 1946, Lee did photography for the Federal Coal Mine Administration's health and safety study of the bituminous coal fields in Appalachia.

After moving to Austin, Lee recorded life in the Southwest during a time of rapid change. His photos included 1950s political rallies and a reunion of old cowboys in the Texas Panhandle.

In 1965, Lee joined the University of Texas faculty, teaching until 1973. Former students recalled that there always was a waiting list for his courses and that his Austin home was a meeting place for those interested in photography.

Woman allegedly killed by man she dated

NEW YORK (AP) — Jennifer Dawn Levin, who police say was killed by a well-to-do college dropout during a sexual encounter in Central Park, was eulogized Friday as a loving and special person who was flawed by innocence.

"She was only 18. Nothing bad can ever happen when you're 18," said her uncle, Daniel Levin, who was chosen by the family to deliver a eulogy. "Now we know that's not true."

The killing has focused unusual attention on the world of the sophisticated New York prep student, a world now "upside down," one young woman said.

Robert Chambers, 19, was charged with murder in Tuesday's slaying after police called him in for questioning along with some of Miss Levin's other friends and noticed scratches on his face and chest.

Chambers, a Boston University dropout who lives off Fifth Avenue, told police he choked Miss Levin reflexively when she hurt him during sex that "got rough" on a grassy knoll in the park.

About 600 people packed a chapel at Riverside Memorial Chapel in Manhattan, many standing in the aisles. The mourners included many of Miss Levin's teen-age friends, who wept openly and supported each other on their arms.

Miss Levin's divorced parents, Steven and Ellin Levin, sat next to each other, flanked by other relatives. The immediate family wore torn black ribbons pinned to their clothing, a traditional Jewish symbol of mourning.

Daniel Levin remembered his niece's childhood with some wistful humor, recalling her playful ambitions to be a roller-derby queen and a toll collector, the latter so she could wear earphones all day and keep the money.

Steven and Ellen Levin, parents of Jennifer Levin, 18, arrive at the Riverside Chapel in Manhattan Friday for their daughter's funeral. Ms. Levin was allegedly killed in Central Park by a well-to-do college dropout.

"She had one serious flaw: She was always an innocent," he said during the 35-minute service. " She had no idea anyone would ever hurt her."

Four tearful friends of Miss Levin's tried to choke out eulogies also, although one was too overcome to speak.

"She made all of us feel like we were her best friend," said one of the four, Coza Thrush. "She was like my baby sister...She was so beautiful."

Miss Levin's body was found in the park early Tuesday by a bicyclist riding near the Metropolitan Museum of Art. She had been out with friends the night before in an Upper East Side bar called Dorrian's Red Hand, which she left at about 4:30 a.m. Tuesday with Chambers. The two reportedly had dated several times.

Local newspapers quoted unidentified law-enforcement officials Friday as saying Chambers told police in a statement that he watched from nearby as the body was discovered by the bicyclist and removed by police.

Chambers reportedly told police that he struck her with his arm and she fell over. He was not sure how seriously she was injured so he dressed and watched her from nearby until an ambulance took her away and then he went home.

Chief of Detectives Richard Nicastro said Miss Levin appeared to have been sexually assaulted, and Chambers had scratches on his face and chest that indicated Miss Levin had tried to fight him off.

An autopsy determined that Miss Levin died from asphyxiation due to strangulation, said Andrew Anzalone, chief of the evidence unit at the medical examiner's office.

Miss Levin, who had lived in Soho with her father and stepmother, graduated last spring from the Baldwin School, a private school. She had planned to enter Chamberlayne Junior College in Boston next week.

Outside the funeral home Friday, Scott Bar-Tzvi, who said he had known Miss Levin and Chambers casually, described the social life of the young people in his set as a search for a safe hangout that would serve liquor to them, despite their ages.

Liza Moir, who said she had known Miss Levin for three years, said she was full of grief for her friend and anger at Chambers.

"My best friend's gone. I can't cry. I can't do anything," she said.

The night before the funeral, the scene at Dorrian's Red Hand was somber.

"It's a morgue in there," said David Grant, a 21-year-old friend of Miss Levin's, standing outside. "It's like a big vicious circle for all of us."

"Our whole world, everyone that comes here, everything that happens here, it turns it upside down," said Francesca Coloma, who said she was one of Chambers' girlfriends.

Officer: Murder noticed because of details

NEW YORK (AP) — Five New Yorkers were murdered Tuesday and one of them, a preppy, well-to-do teen-ager named Jennifer Levin, made headlines. The other four moved in different worlds and their deaths got little public attention.

In some ways the five cases are similar. Like Miss Levin, Rachel Pajooh, Rosa Dueno, Vincent Matthews and Danny Alvarez allegedly were killed by people they knew. As in Miss Levin's case, quick arrests were made.

But Miss Levin, 18, died in Central Park, behind the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The other killings in the city that day were in housing projects in the Bronx, the borough north of Manhattan.

Other than a brief story in a local newspaper about Ms. Pajooh, the Bronx murders were all but forgotten.

That does not surprise Lt. Louis Delnavo, who works in one of the borough's high-crime areas. "Unfortunately, no one cares about the Bronx," he said.

But police do not believe their cases were overlooked just because they lacked the sensational details of the Levin case: sex, and a group of wealthy teens who liked to party at the trendy Dorrian's Red Hand bar in Manhattan.

Part of the reason, they say, is simple geography — the media and top police brass are in Manhattan.

"We have murders involving bars all the time," said Lt. John Sebring, who heads the detective squad in the drug-ravaged 41st Precinct, known as "Fort Apache."

"But who wants to know about the San Juan or the Alpaca? The Dorrian, trendy, upscale, whatever you want to call it, is much more interesting," he said.

Capt. Michael Julian of the department's Public Information Office said only one detective and his partner were assigned to the Levin case. "Fortunately for us we hit paydirt very early and didn't need to call in additional help," Julian s

Lutheran bodies vote to merge

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Three Lutheran bodies voted overwhelmingly Friday to merge and create what one leader called "an American church," a 5.3 million-member church that brings together all the ethnic strands of American Lutheranism.

The new Evangelical Lutheran Church in America will be the nation's fourth-largest Protestant church, taking in the 2.9 million-member Lutheran Church in America, the 2.3 million-member American Lutheran Church and the 110,000-member Association of Evangelical Lutheran Churches.

The AELC vote was unanimous, and no more than 7 percent of the other conventions were opposed to the new church.

"My friends, there will be a new church!" exclaimed Bishop James R. Crumley Jr. to the LCA convention. The announcement was greeted with applause, cheers and a round of "Amen."

The announcement of the vote was delayed by a bizarre series of events. First, a telephone hook-up that was to be used to announce the results to the ALC in Minneapolis, the LCA in Milwaukee and the AELC in Chicago failed.

Then, while the delegates in Milwaukee were waiting, Daniel N. Solberg — a pastor who was active on behalf of steelworkers in western Pennsylvania, but was defrocked after a dispute with his congregation in Allison Park, Pa. — mounted the stage and approached an unattended microphone.

"I hate your adulterous merger, your whoring after corporate tools."

— Pastor Daniel N. Solberg

"I hate your adulterous merger, your whoring after corporate tools," shouted Solberg, the brother of actor David Soul. The audience clapped rhythmically to drown out Solberg's shouting. The mike was turned off and the convention recessed. Solberg was arrested when he refused to leave the podium.

City Prosecutor John Carter said charges were being considered against Solberg.

As a result of the disruption and the 2½-hour lunch recess, delegates to the LCA convention heard the results after the news media and the other churches. Not being able to tell everyone at the same time "denied us a few moments of joy," said AELC Bishop Will Herzfeld.

The votes came after four years of negotiations and a week of debate at the three conventions. Some details were left to the last day, including the selection of a site for the new church's headquarters.

The merger commission had proposed Chicago, and any change required a two-thirds vote of the LCA and ALC. Two-thirds of the ALC convention voted for Milwaukee, but a majority of the LCA, despite a strong pitch from Milwaukee, backed Chicago.

The churches traded victories on other issues. The ALC won pension contributions of 9 percent for church employees; the LCA had wanted 12 percent. The LCA got the smaller church council that it had demanded.

There were no real doctrinal disputes among the churches.

Instead, they differed on matters of style and in their backgrounds. The LCA was formed in 1962 by a merger of smaller churches, most of whose members descended from Germans, Finns and Swedes. The ALC was formed the year before, and included mostly Germans, Norwegians and Danes. The AELC is mostly of German background.

Those differences paled with the years. Now, said ALC Bishop David W. Preus, the Lutherans are "melded into an American church," an "indigenous church of the United States."

The merger faces two more hurdles before the new church becomes reality on Jan. 1, 1988. The 4,900 ALC congregations must pass the proposal by a two-thirds margin, and the LCA must approve the merger again at a special convention next spring.

Leaders of both churches said they expected no difficulty in reaching final approval for the plan.

The largest U.S. Protestant denominations are the Southern Baptists, the United Methodists and the National Baptist Convention.

The conservative Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, with 2.6 million members, is the largest of several Lutheran bodies which will not join the new church.

The Rev. Ralph A. Bohlman, president of the Missouri Synod, appeared before the LCA convention Friday and offered his "congratulations and best wishes in this wonderful moment."

Accident victims relate stories of how seat belts saved their lives

CHICAGO (AP) — Car accident survivors shared stories Friday of how their lives were saved by seat belts in a campaign to dramatize the need to buckle up during the holiday weekend.

About 100 people who arrived in Chicago Friday in one leg of a nationwide caravan planned to reach St. Louis on Monday and wrap a 600-foot seat belt around the Gateway Arch — symbolically buckling up America.

"Traditionally, Labor Day weekend is a time when many accidents occur," said Lois Robinson, executive director of the Illinois Coalition for Seat Belt Use. "It's a time when we traditionally try to emphasize seat belt awareness."

The National Safety Council estimates that up to 500 people will be killed in motor vehicle accidents over the three-day holiday weekend and that up to 21,000 will suffer disabling injuries.

During last year's holiday, 439 people died and 18,000 were seriously injured in car accidents, the council said.

Thousands of highway deaths and injuries could be prevented by wearing seat belts, said the participants in the America Buckles Up Border-To-Border Campaign.

The caravan began Aug. 26 when one group of cars left Laredo, Texas, and a second group left Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., headed for the rendevous St. Louis.

Since Illinois' mandatory seat belt law took effect in January, 124 lives have been saved, say state officials who compared accident statistics from the past five years.

Mary Beth Berkoff lobbied for the state's seat belt law because of an experience in 1964.

"I was a student at the University of Michigan and I had my first car — a red Corvair. I was driving back from Chicago to Ann Arbor. I hit a patch of ice and rear-ended a gasoline truck," said Ms. Berkoff, public relations director for Northwestern University's traffic institute.

"The whole front end of the car collapsed. My passenger and I were wearing lap belts and the first thing the police officer said was, 'You girls would have been dead if you hadn't been wearing those safety belts,'" she recalled.

Libyan military restructured since U.S. raids

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Libya has been quietly restructuring its military since the U.S. air strike last April 15 and has appealed for increased military aid from Eastern bloc nations, sources here said Friday.

The bombing, which Libyan officials said heavily damaged Tripoli and Benghazi and killed 39 people, apparently took Libya by surprise despite a reported warning by Maltese air controllers 45 minutes before the attack.

Diplomats in Tripoli, the capital of Libya, said an Eastern European analysis of Libya's response concluded that its air force pilots didn't react swiftly enough and its air defense system was poorly coordinated.

Military advisers from Syria, which like Libya has Soviet-made SA-5 missiles, helped in the air defense, according to U.S. government officials and sources in Tripoli. One U.S. plane used in the raid was shot down.

The United States has warned that further evidence of alleged Libyan support of international terrorism could result in another military attack.

The result has been a drive to reorganize the Libyan military and get more military aid.

(Libya warned Friday that West European countries "will be the first to pay the price" should a new U.S. attack against Libyan territory take place, the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, in a dispatch from Tripoli.

(It said Libya's state-run newspaper Al-Jamahirya issued a warning against "U.S. West European satellites" in the first official reaction to rumors that the United States was planning military action against Libya. The newspaper usually reflects Libyan leadership stands.

(U.S. officials recently said they have evidence Libya is planning terrorist attacks against America.

(In Washington Friday, the commander of U.S. forces in Europe said the United States should strike back militarily if Libya launches terrorist attacks, and Libya should understand the next attack might be much more extensive. The comment came from Gen. Bernard A. Rogers, who also is NATO's supreme allied commander).

Diplomatic sources in Tripoli, who spoke on the condition of not being identified, said that Libyan air force pilots are receiving renewed training with Yugoslav help. They said also that in July, the armed forces command post was transferred deep into the Libyan desert to Hun, 250 miles south of Tripoli.

Yugoslavia, though a communist nation, pursues a non-aligned policy.

Libya recently accepted two Soviet warships to replace a Libyan warship sunk by U.S. aircraft in a skirmish in the Gulf of Sidra a month before the American attack, said authoritative sources, adding that a Soviet naval adviser went down with the ship.

The sources, who refused to be identified by name or nationality but who were close to the transaction, said two Soviet frigates of the Nanushka class were delivered to Libya six to eight weeks ago.

The sources said the frigates were handed over in response to a Libyan appeal to Eastern bloc countries for increased military aid following the American attack.

Although Libya has purchased billions of dollars in Soviet arms in the past, a sharp drop in oil revenues, from $22 billion in 1980 to less than $5 billion expected this year, is cutting into its military spending, sources said.

Plans to buy tanks and military training aircraft from Yugoslavia have been scaled back and a project to construct a new naval base at Al-Khom, about 75 miles east of Tripoli, has been put on hold, diplomatic sources said.

Several recent deals for arms have been cut with the Soviets using Libyan oil as a barter tool, according to oil industry and diplomatic sources.

There are an estimated 3,000 Soviet military and technical advisers in Libya, many stationed at coastal bases where the SA-5 missiles are installed, according to Tripoli-based Western diplomats. An unknown number of Syrian military advisers are also present.

Sources said a senior Soviet naval adviser to Libyan leader Moammar Gadhafi was killed last March in a clash between Libyan forces and U.S. planes involved in maneuvers off Libya. The officer, a captain, was aboard the Libyan frigate when it was sunk by an American warplane, the sources said.

According to the sources, Soviet military advisers did not take part in Libyan counterstrike efforts when the U.S. air raid came three weeks later.

Libya warns West European nations 'they will pay' if U.S. attacks them

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Libya has warned West European countries they "will be the first to pay the price" if the United States attacks Libya again, the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported Friday from Tripoli.

The warning was contained in Libya's state-run el Jamahirya newspaper, Tanjug said.

U.S. jets bombed Tripoli, the capital of Libya, and Benghazi, Libya's second-largest city, on April 15 in retaliation for what Washington said was Libyan support of international terrorism.

Tanjug said el Jamahiriya, which usually reflects the position of Libya's leadership, issued a warning directed against "U.S. West European satellites" that "should a new aggression be launched against Libya, they will be the first to pay the price."

U.S. officials recently said they have evidence Libya is planning terrorist attacks.

Gen. Bernard A. Rogers, NATO's Supreme allied commander and commander of U.S. forces in Europe, told reporters at a Pentagon breakfast in Washington on Friday that the United States should strike back militarily if Libya launches new terrorist attacks, and Libya should understand the next attack might be much more extensive,

Rogers said, "I happen to be one who believes...that if those conditions obtain again — an attack against our people, an attack against our facilities, and (Libyan strongman Moammar) Gadhafi is found responsible for it — that we need to strike again."

El Jamahiriya said that those countries which have placed their "territories at the disposal of U.S. ships, aircraft and missles...ought to know that their coasts are within reach of ours and they will be transformed into a genuine inferno" in the event of a U.S. attack against Libya, said the report.

El Jamahirya also issued a "final warning...(to) Arab reactionary regimes to prepare for a final settling of accounts" and said they will "stand to lose most in the lost American game," said Tanjug, without elaborating.

The newspaper said that in the event of an armed conflict with the United States, Libya counts on the aid of Algeria and Syria.

For 20 years we have welcomed your challenges...

helped you buy, sell, build, dream...

helped you find homes that were bigger, smaller, newer, older, less expensive, more expensive, urban or suburban...

assisted you in moves across the street, the city, the nation...

advised you on values, market conditions, the economics of adding on or remodeling, and whatever else we could.

Thank you for your 20 years of trust. We are working to earn 21.
