Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

James C. Watson, Oil Editor

Midlanders Play Big Part In $1,000,000 Chaves Mineral Buy

Midlanders played big parts in a recently closed $1,000,000 mineral purchase deal in Chaves County, New Mexico.

United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Company and Louisiana Land & Exploration Company, both of which maintain their Permian Basin offices in Midland, took three quarters of the purchase. The other quarter of the deal went to Donald Winston of Los Angeles, Calif., and associates.

Involved in the trade was one-quarter of the minerals under 104,651.05 acres in the L. E. Ranch in Central Chaves County.

J. P. White Estate

The property is owned by the J. P. White estate. Oil and gas leases on the acreage is held by Magnolia Petroleum Company, DeKalb Agricultural Association, Inc., of Lubbock, and J. K. Wadley of Texarkana.

The deal was handled by Ross E. Williams, member of the firm of Williams and Parham, independent oil operators and traders of Midland.

Midland Concern

United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Company took one half of the quarter interest. Clark R. Steinberger of Midland is manager of that concern's oil and gas division.

Louisiana Land & Exploration Company acquired a quarter of the quarter interest. Stanley M. McDonald is manager of the LL&EC office in Midland. Winston and associates took the other quarter of the purchase.

The $1,000,000 paid for the quarter interest in the minerals is at the rate of approximately $39.00 per acre.

Sun Will Explore Strawn In Scurry

Sun Oil Company is to try to develop commercial production from the Strawn lime of the lower Pennsylvanian in Scurry County, both said to [illegible] was abandoned more than a year ago after failing to produce in the Canyon and in the Ellenburger.

Logs run on the project at the time it was abandoned showed only slight signs of oil and gas in the Strawn. However, developments since then in a nearby project have caused the company to decide to re-enter and test the Strawn through perforations in casing which was left in the exploration.

The effort will be made at Sun No. 2 Emil Schattell, which is located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 186, block 97, H&TC survey.

It drilled to 8,010 feet in barren Ellenburger and was abandoned there after failing to produce in the Canyon and in the Ellenburger. It is about three-quarters of a mile northwest of Sun's No. 1 Schattell, discovery and only producer from the Canyon in the Schattell field.

Recently Sun completed its No. 1-A Arledge as a flowing discovery from the Strawn on the southwest side of the Kelley-Snyder-Canyon field. That discovery is three-quarters of a mile east and one-quarter of a mile north of the Sun No. 2 Schattell.

It is planned to test No. 2 Schattell in the interval at 7,600-7,700 feet in the Strawn and try to make an oil well there.

Ellenburger Topped In SW Kent Region

Star Oil Company (formerly G. P. Moore and J. T. Cook) No. 1 Blanche Young, wildcat in Southwest Kent County, topped the Ellenburger at 7,787 feet on an elevation of 2,322 feet.

Operator is now drilling below 7,800 feet and will drill to 7,813 feet and take a drillstem test.

This project had some free oil and some shows of gas in the Strawn at 7,231-7,256 feet. It drilled through the Mississippian where it found no indications of production.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 54, block 5, HH&GN survey and five miles northwest of Polar.

Drilling To Start At Reagan Wildcat

Blackwood & Nichols Company is preparing to start drilling toward contracted depth of 12,000 feet on its No. 1 Oliver Daniel, North Reagan County wildcat.

Projected depth is calculated to take the explorer to the Ellenburger.

It is located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 40, block 35, T-5-S, T&P survey.

UN Adopts Anti-Soviet Korean Plan

LAKE SUCCESS —(AP)— The United Nations moved full steam ahead Thursday to put into effect an American-backed plan for the future of war-torn Korea.

The plan, which grants tacit permission for UN forces to cross the 38th parallel, won 47 to 5 approval in the 60-nation Political Committee Wednesday night. There were seven abstentions. Only the Soviet bloc—which supported a rival resolution—voted against the proposal.

Supporters of the proposal shrugged off fears that the Chinese Communists may intervene in the Korean war because UN military occupation of North Korea will be necessary to enforce its decisions.

Four Main Aims

Secretary of State Dean Acheson told a news conference any group looking to the world for recognition and for admission to the UN would hestiate to challenge UN principles. Communist China is fighting for the UN seat now held by Nationalist China.

The peace plan — sponsored by Britain, Australia, Brazil, Cuba, The Netherlands, Norway, Pakistan and the Philippines—has four main aims. They are:

1. Action—including holding of elections under auspices of the UN —for establishing a unified, independent and democratic Korea.

2. UN forces should not remain in any part of Korea longer than necessary to achieve this united government. This was taken to mean those forces could pursue North Korean aggressors anywhere in the country north or south of the 38th parallel.

3. Economic rehabilitation of [illegible] Wsupu, Ong delegations [illegible] Korea will be a "pilot project" to show what the UN can do in this line.

4. A new UN Commission of seven members to see that the plan's provisions are carried out.

Alert Salesman Aids In Arrest Of Shreveport Bandit

SHREVEPORT —(AP)— Alertness of an insurance salesman led to the arrest of a 20-year-old man in connection with the $12,256 robbery of the First National Bank here Wednesday.

About nine hours after the robbery the Shreveport salesman, Joe G. Preddy, spotted a man on the street he had seen go into the bank Wednesday afternoon.

Preddy trailed the man down the street while his wife called the police. The arrest was made a few minutes later.

Police Chief E. G. Huckaby listed the arrested man as Floyd Ray Reed of Fort Worth. He said Reed had made an oral statement to officers concerning the case.

Detectives reported they recovered from one of Reed's pockets the sum of $12,206.19, while they took a cap pistol from another pocket.

No charge has been filed against the man early Thursday.

ODESSAN ELECTROCUTED IN OIL FIELD ACCIDENT

ODESSA —(AP)— A 31-year-old Odessa man, Hugh W. Walden, was electrocuted Wednesday when he accidentally touched a high voltage electric line.

The accident occurred in an oil field 20 miles northwest of here.

Red Retreat Trail Strewn With Bodies Of Murdered Men, Women, Children

By RELMAN MORIN

TOKYO —(AP)— The Red retreat trail back to North Korea is strewn with buried and unburied bodies of an officially estimated 25,000 murdered men, women and children in South Korea.

Where they could, the Reds covered the evidence of horrible brutalities with earthen entrenchments. In haste of retreat, they left many bodies in exposed mounds at some places.

Some of the victims were American soldiers taken prisoner by the Communist Army but the total is not known.

American officers said the overall 25,000 figure is only a minimum estimate . . . the tragic total may run much higher.

South Koreans said most of the victims were bludgeoned, speared, burned or hacked with hatchets for opposing communism.

Mass graves, large and small, are being turned up in city, town, village and hamlet along the bloody retreat route.

Many graves have not yet been opened by American officers probing the mass murders.

Feared For Americans

U. S. officers fear "several hundred" Americans whom the Reds took into North Korea may be massacred before the onrushing United Nations forces can reach them.

A shocked UN Commission on Korea condemned "the complete disregard by the North Korean authorities of civilized standards of behavior." It sat in stunned silence at Pusan Wednesday when first-hand reports of the atrocities were presented. It immediately cabled preliminary findings to Secretary General Trygve Lie at Lake Success.

Partial figures compiled to date from official sources showed the following murder toll:

Seoul area, September 16-September 25: 10,000 and possibly more. The U. S. Army Tenth Corps is investigating.

Taejon, September 27: Between 5,000 and 6,000, including some Americans. The U. S. Army First Corps is investigating.

Wonju, October 1: Between 1,000 and 2,000, including some Americans. The U. S. Army 24th Division is investigating.

Chinju, September 22: Twelve American soldiers. The U. S. 25th Division investigating.

2,400 At Chongju

Yosu, September 27: 200. The U. S. 25th Division is investigating.

Chonju, no date, 2,400. U. S. Army Ninth Corps investigating.

Suchon, September 29: 280. U. S. Second Division investigating.

Yangpyong, September 23 to September 29: 700. U. S. 10th Corps investigating.

Mokpo, September 28: 500. U. S. 25th Division investigating.

These are the large scale slaughters already known. How many more will be uncovered as the inquiry proceeds can only be estimated, officers said. But if the gruesome ratio holds elsewhere they expect to find "400 to 500 in every fair sized town."

Midland Clean-Up Campaign Advances Into Final Stages

Midland's Fall Clean-Up campaign was nearing the final stages Thursday as inspection teams and clean-up leaders urged Midlanders to make the last three days the most effective in clearing vacant lots, cleaning up alleys and removing trash and debris.

An inspection tour made by Clean-Up Week sponsors Wednesday revealed most vacant lots still have not been cleaned up. The inspectors said most householders are participating wholeheartedly in the campaign, but owners of vacant lots definitely are not cooperating. They said the cleaning of vacant lots is one of the major objectives of the campaign.

Leaders expressed disappointment at the lack of interest on the part of owners of vacant properties.

Citywide Pick-Up

Meanwhile, C. Ed Prichard, general chairman of the drive, announced a complete citywide pick-up of all trash and debris will be carried out Friday and Saturday. Trucks furnished by oil companies and business firms will be out Friday and Saturday to pick up all the trash, rubbish and debris gathered and stacked by residents participating in the Fall Clean-Up campaign. Every section of the city will be patroled, Prichard said.

The City of Midland will furnish the labor to man the trucks, loading and unloading the trash. Service clubs will furnish truck drivers. Delbert Downing, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and Burvin Hines, his assistant, were the first to volunteer as truck drivers. Other drivers still are needed, Prichard said.

The State Highway Department has agreed to clean and beautify shoulders and rights-of-way on

Horse Rears, Falls Injuring Youth

Donald Sorge, 14, received serious injuries Wednesday when a horse reared and fell on him. He was riding the horse at the South Elementary School when the accident occurred. He was rushed to Western Clinic Hospital by ambulance.

Sorge, who is a Reporter-Telegram route carrier, underwent surgery late Wednesday. He suffered internal injuries. The saddle horn reportedly stuck into the youth.

The youth's home is at 1105 South Camp Street.

Police Alerted For Sweetwater Robbers

Midland police early Thursday were alerted to be on the lookout for two youths wanted in Sweetwater for armed robbery. The robbery occurred about 6 a.m. Thursday. About $100 was taken.

The youths, believed to be about 20 years old, were traveling west in an old model automobile. They were reported armed with a .22 caliber pistol.

Chambers Leaves City Position For Army

Charles Chambers, administrative assistant to the city manager, was winding up his duties Thursday. He will leave Friday for Camp Chaffee, Ark., where he will be a member of the staff of an Army Headquarters Company. He holds the rank of lieutenant.

Chambers has been associated with the City of Midland since July 1. His successor has not been named. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and holds the degrees of bachelor of arts and master of arts.

Hoboes come in all sizes!

Midland police late Wednesday lifted a 10-year-old negro from a freight train near the east city limits. He had run away from his father in Odessa.

"I just wanted to ride the rods and see what the world looks like," he told police.

His father came after him Wednesday night.

AMARILLO —(AP)— Evald Johnson, once tried and acquitted in the sensational Tex Thornton murder case, Thursday was sentenced to four years in federal prison for stealing Thornton's car. His wife, Diana, also received a four-year sentence but was placed on probation.

SAN JOSE, COSTA RICA —(AP)— A strong earthquake shook San Jose at 10:10 a.m. Thursday, driving frightened inhabitants into the streets. No casualties were reported immediately.

ORANGE, TEXAS —(AP)— City and Navy firemen wiped out a threat to the Navy Shipyard here shortly before noon Thursday when they doused a blaze which broke out at 10:30 a.m. and destroyed a two-story rooming house adjoining the yard.

LONDON — (AP) — A 21-day-old wildcat strike by London gas workers collapsed Thursday under Labor government pressure a few hours after the alleged leaders of the walkout were sentenced to a month in prison.

Mine Sinks Navy Craft; 21 Missing

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Navy Thursday announced the mine sweeper Magpie has been sunk by a floating mine near North Korea. Twenty-one men are missing.

It was the third ship to hit a mine in Korean waters. Two destroyers—the Brush and the Mansfield—were damaged by earlier collisions with mines, and 11 men on the Brush were lost.

Total casualties from the three ships now stand at 11 killed, 17 injured and 24 missing.

The Navy has said the mines are Russian-made but presumably were sown by North Koreans.

Only 13 Survivors

The Magpie hit a mine Sunday near the City of Ch'uksan-Dong. Twelve survivors were picked up by a sister ship, the minesweeper Merganser, and carried to Pusan, Korea.

The 136-foot wooden-hulled Magpie struck the mine on her starboard side and sank about two miles off shore.

The commanding officer of the Magpie, Lt. (jg) Warren R. Person, is among the missing.

Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, Navy chief of operations, told a congressional committee last Monday a "great many" Russian-made floating mines have been found in Korean waters. He said they had been "recently laid and not long out of the storehouse."

Sherman called the mines illegal. He explained that the Hague Convention —an international agreement signed at The Hague—outlawed floating mines because they might drift into the ships of neutral nations.

McKnight Elected Director Of Texas Oil And Gas Group

DALLAS—(AP)—R. B. Anderson of Vernon Thursday was reelected to a fourth term as president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Charles E. Simons, Dallas, was renamed vice president and general manager and all other top officers were reelected. In addition, one new district vice president was named. He is R. Clay Underwood, Wichita Falls, for the North Texas District.

Nine new directors were elected:

They were: Edward J. Brook, Fort Worth; Ish McKnight, Midland; Loyce Phillips, Gladewater; E. M. Decker, Jr., Alto; F. J. Adams, Fort Worth; Knox Tyson, Houston; R. M. Wagstaff, Abilene; Ben C. Belt, Houston, and G. W. Brian, Houston.

Texas Enjoys Cool, Bright Fall Weather

By The Associated Press

Texas weather was a thing of beauty Thursday, compared to squally weather which occurred in deep South Texas earlier this week.

The Weather Bureau forecast fair weather for most of the state, but said West Texas would have a few scattered showers Thursday night.

At mid-morning Thursday no rain was reported, and temperatures everywhere were mild.

U. S. Casualties In Korean Fighting Mount To 20,756

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Defense Department notified American familes of 20,756 Korean battle casualties through September 29.

This was an increase of 3,536 over the last previously announced total of 17,220 as of September 22.

The cumulative total announced Thursday included 2,660 killed in action, 13,953 wounded and 4,143 missing in action.

The total for wounded included 294 who died of wounds, raising the number of battle dead to 2,954.

The figure for missing includes 193 men who have returned to military control and 73 known prisoners of war, leaving 3,877 still missing.

175,000 UN Troops Mass For Invasion

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO—(AP)—Beating down the strongest resistance yet encountered in North Korea, the Korean Republic's Third Division Thursday seized Changjon, 60 air miles north of the 38th parallel.

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters estimated that a Red infantry division and a company of Red Marines made a stand three miles south of that east-coast town.

AP Correspondent William Jorden, with the fast-moving Republican Third Division, said the town fell to the South Koreans after an all-day fight. His information evidently was several hours more recent than that at Eighth Army Headquarters.

Thirty-five miles south of this deepest penetration of North Korea, the Republican Capital Division engaged and by-passed a force of about 1,200 Reds in the hills west of Hwangpo.

The first notable show of Red defense came as a United Nations Army of up to 175,000 troops was massing to yank down the iron curtain all along Parallel 38 and wipe out Communist resistance in all of Korea.

MacArthur Ready

General MacArthur's headquarters made it clear that all his forces are ready to go into North Korea as needed.

Non-Korean troops had been held south of 38 since the South Koreans stabbed across Sunday.

The question of their crossing from liberated South Korea was considered only as a military issue, General MacArthur's headquarters said, and not as a political hurdle at this stage.

The United Nations at Lake Success Wednesday night directed MacArthur, in effect, to use any means at his command to unify Korea.

Parallel 38 was drawn originally to designate American and Russian zones for acceptance of the Japanese surrender after World War II.

The Allied political aim is a unified, independent Korea. Indoctrinated and armed by Russia, the North Koreans plunged across the parallel June 25. The historic ini-

Red Demonstrators Riot In Austria As General Strike Fails

VIENNA —(AP)— Communist demonstrators halted all rail traffic into and out of Vienna for three hours Thursday. Tracks on the east-west line from the American occupation zone into Vienna were the first ones cleared of road blocks and traffic resumed.

A flying squad of several hundred Communists piled railway ties across the tracks of that line at St. Poelten, in the Russian zone, west of Vienna. Other lines were blocked the same way and the Communists stood guard over the barricades at many points.

Crowds of shouting Communists, apparently angry over the failure of their general strike call Wednesday, also occupied two federal post office and telephone exchange buildings and were driven off by police in an attempt on a third. Other bands roamed Vienna streets, stopping streetcar traffic and fighting with car operators.

The Communists early Thursday seized the post office at Baden, the Soviet military headquarters. Wednesday night they occupied the communications center in Wiener Neustadt, also in the Russian zone.

U. S. May Suspend Market Penalty On Over-Quota Cotton

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Farm leaders speculated Thursday on the possibility Secretary of Agriculture Brannan might suspend rigid government marketing quotas on this year's very short cotton crop.

The secretary announced Tuesday that all production controls will be dropped for next year's crop because supplies are dwindling and needs are increasing under the defense program.

Then Wednesday the government clamped down on the export of cotton linters and cotton pulp, and authorized the importation of an additional 1,500,000 pounds of long staple cotton.

No Justification

Some American farm leaders said they saw no justification for continuing quotas on this year's crop because the situation which prompted the government to impose them no longer exists.

Quotas were put into effect a year ago because cotton supplies then were large and the government wanted to prevent an increase in a surplus that might break prices and add to the government's financial burden under its price support program.

Department officials said that, in the meantime, the government will continue to collect a penalty of 15 cents a pound on over-quota cotton. If Brannan does not suspend the 1950 quotas, growers would have to pay the penalty even if they held the cotton until after the expiration of the current crop marketing year.

More Than 40 Hurt In Rail Accident

ERIE, PA. —(AP)— A New York Central Railroad flyer clipping along at better than a mile a minute smashed into a derailed freight oil tank car early Thursday, setting off an explosion which rocked midtown Erie.

Miraculously, no one was killed. Between 40 and 50 were injured but none was burned although flames from the burning tanker leaped high into the air and lapped at some of the cars on the palatial westbound New England States Express.

Garfield Isn't At All Ashamed To Admit Using 'Man-Makers'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — John Garfield came right out and mentioned something that's taboo with jockey-sized movie heroes. In other words, "man-makers."

Garfield owns up to using them.

"Look," he told me, "I have to have something to kick me up when I'm working with a tall girl. Man-makers are blocks of balsam wood and most short guys in Hollywood use them."

Some male stars who hit the measuring stick at the same point as Garfield are sensitive about the height-builders.

Garfield's different, though. He threw me a "Make something of it, bub" look and said:

"I even use man-makers plus. That kicks me up about two inches. I used them doing scenes with Pat Neal in "The Breaking Point'."

Let other compressed hunks of virility blanch and gulp when they're tossed a question about how it feels to be a pee-wee making love to a female ceiling-scraper.

Not our boy Garfield.

"Look at Napoleon," he winked.

If the vitamin age is going to produce leading ladies who tower over him, it's all right with Garfield. He'll look right into their orbs even if he has to wear stilts.

Dr. Romance

Being a romantic John Garfield still floors them. He says:

"I feel about it like a doctor. I'm cold about it, but I like it. At first I didn't know how to cope with it. With some people, the romantic thing rises and sets on them. Me, I'm essentially a big hambola. Put two and two together and you get hambola."

Meanwhile, John should care if his fellow shorties in Hollywood start yipping about letting the public in on a hush-hush contrivance like man-makers. Garfield's been laving himself in scalding liquid ever since he blurted out that stage-acting was something like organ music and stained-glass windows to his soul. He says:

"Some of the people who criticise me for my feeling about the theater are ashamed to admit that they, too, would like to get back to it. But they're too far gone. If some of the younger actors like Marlon Brando give up the theater, they're idiotic."

Garfield has had his ears knocked down for pocketing Hollywood jingle-jangle stuff and rushing off to Broadway to sniff backstage perfume.

"The stage," he says, "is a luxury. Some guys have horses and planes. My luxury is the stage. I drew $60 a week during my last Broadway play. Some of my friends think this stage thing I've got is art, but you do what you have to do."

"Knife" Is Sharp Memory

A once-upon-a-time that is still getting him dirty looks in Hollywood is the Clifford Odets' play about Hollywood, "The Big Knife."

Garfield says he can name half a dozen big movie producers who cut him dead every time they see him.

"By this time they assume that I wrote the play."

He's tired of hearing about the molar marks he made on the big feeding hand of Hollywood.

"I never saw it as a play about Hollywood," he explained. "I saw it as a play about a guy who becomes successful at an early age and has problems."

Would he do a play or movie in which Broadway producers were depicted as bloodsuckers, vultures lechers?

"D—— right, I'd do it," he asserted. "It's the same thing."

Any sniping that's done at Garfield from now on about his passion for the asbestos curtain is likely to ricochet over to Rosalind Russell, Greg Peck, Dorothy McGuire, Mel Ferrer, Charles Boyer, Deborah Kerr, Gene Kelly and Henry Fonda.

He's up to his neck with them in the Actors Company, an organization that's out to prove that flesh-and-blood embting is as necessary to a star's existence as autograph hunters, camera angles and the mansions that the customers of guided Hollywood tours expect to see.

"So far, no fights, just healthy discussions," he beamed. "We invited a big actor to join our board recently and he walked in just as we were having a hot argument. The next day he sent in his resignation, and explained that he couldn't take discussions like that We said, 'That's just too bad'."

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

World Peace Is Modern Study Program Topic

"Building World Peace Through Natural Resources" was the program topic when the Modern Study Club met Wednesday in the home or Mrs. Al Boring, 110 Ridglea Drive.

The U. S. situation in vital metals and oil was discussed by Mrs. F. R. Schenck. She discussed our rating with other nations in these products and presented a probable estimate of our supply in future years.

"The World's Food Basket", by Mrs. J. W. Carroll, gave the amount of food Canada and America raise and consume in relation to the rest of the world. "Our main problem today," Mrs. Carroll said, "is to discover what to do with our perishable foods which the nation's population can't consume."

Mrs. C. L. Sherwood presided at the meeting.

The club was reminded of these dates: October 24, National United Nations Day; October 28, club rummage sale, and October 14-18, state convention in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Terrell Parker was a guest at the meeting.

Others present were Mrs. J. W. Browne, Mrs. Bert Goodman, Mrs. Earl A. Johnson, Mrs. C. C. Keith, Mrs. Lamar Lunt, Mrs. R. E. Morgan, Mrs. F. R. Schenck, Mrs. Ed Shakely, Mrs. C. H. Shepard, Mrs K. C. Slough and Mrs. H. A. Smith.

HADACOL Helpful to Three Generations of Hot Springs Folks

They Suffered a Deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Miss Frances Price is an attractive young lady with such beautiful complexion and sparkling personality that even at the mature age of three she attracts more than her share of admirers among the junior wolfs of Hot Springs National Park, Ark. She wasn't always the vibrant person she is today because, like her mother and her grandmother, she suffered a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin, and Iron.

Miss Price is a member of a HADACOL family because her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Kenneth Price, and Mrs. Myrtle Dyer, who operates a progressive store in Hot Springs, also take HADACOL.

"Here is what Mrs. Price, who had suffered deficiencies, said: "Our family sells and takes HADACOL. My mother, Mrs. Dyer, started taking HADACOL some time ago for indigestion. She had aches and pains of neuritis, but after the first three bottles of HADACOL she felt better. I was so enthused about my mother's results that I started taking HADACOL as a dietary supplement. I was weak and run down and now feel fine. We were then worried about my three year old daughter. She was weak, and run down and her food did not agree with her. After taking HADACOL she is now brimful of energy. Her cheeks are rosy. Ours is a neighborhood store and many of our customers are just as enthusiastic as we are."

Wonderful for Both Old and Young!

This new HADACOL is simply wonderful for men, women and children of all ages who are sick and ailing because their systems are lacking these important Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin.

The important Vitamins and Minerals in HADACOL come to you in special liquid form so that they are quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood stream, ready to go right to work at once. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days. HADACOL even builds up the red blood cells (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious elements to every part of your body—to your kidneys, lungs, heart, liver.

Relieves Cause of Your Sickness from Such Deficiencies

HADACOL now makes it possible for you to relieve the cause of neuritis pains and a general run-down nervous condition when due to deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin.

There Should Be No Doubt

After reading Mrs. Price's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great product will help you if your system is lacking in Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Price, it can do for you if you're suffering neuritis aches and pains, or other troubles due to such deficiencies.

So what are you waiting for? Don't continue to suffer—don't continue to be miserable!

Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief!

HADACOL is not a quick-acting pill which gives symptomatic relief—rather it acts to relieve the real cause of your pains and aches or a weak, nervous run-down condition due to such deficiencies. And continued use of HADACOL helps prevent such agonizing pains and such troubles from coming back. That's the kind of product you want—that's the kind you should buy and that's the kind you should start taking NOW!

HADACOL costs only $1.25 for a trial-size bottle. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. It is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. At any drugstore.

UN's 'Little Assembly'

In 1947 the United Nations set up new machinery—the "Little Assembly"—to get around the constant Russian vetoes in the powerful Security Council.

Russia still is vetoing action in the Council. The only difference is that now, with the Korean war raging and new aggression a possibility, effective concerted effort by the UN is more important than ever.

The Little Assembly is a body made up of some members of the larger General Assembly, the main UN forum. It's supposed to function when the General Assembly is not meeting, which means most of the year. Thus far the smaller unit hasn't played a very big role in UN affairs. But the time has come when the Little Assembly should be given the power to act decisively in major matters. Specifically, it ought to have authority to step into any new crisis of aggression that Russia may choose to touch off.

The Soviet Union's recent maneuvers toward hobbling the Security Council in the Korean situation make it clear that she'd use her veto to block UN effort in a new crisis. Hence, other machinery is the only hope of real UN action.

* * *

The General Assembly can handle a problem that arises while it's meeting. But to assemble it off-schedule for some emergency would be cumbersome and perhaps dangerously slow. The Little Assembly, convening throughout the year, is a more logical agency for the job.

The UN charter says nothing, of course, about a Little Assembly. But a charter, like a nation's constitution, must be flexible if the cause it serves is to survive changing conditions. UN members sufficiently were convinced of that in 1947 to create the new body. They should be equally ready to empower it to deal with the facts of life in 1950.

Russia and maybe others will howl that an agency thus equipped would steal power from the Security Council. But the Council itself is, technically, a creation of the General Assembly. If Russian vetoes prevent it from performing its functions, why shouldn't some other UN agency get the job?

* * *

The UN can't survive if it can't serve the aims of its charter. Preserving peace is its biggest aim. Merely having everybody around for a slam-bang talk-fest doesn't prove anything. What counts is what the UN can do when trouble develops.

It did very well in the weeks between the outbreak of the Korean war and Russia's return to the Council. That's the way it always must operate if we're to have effective world action against aggression.

Russia won't like any plan to by-pass the Council. But pleasing the Soviet Union isn't a primary UN goal. Particularly since it has become abundantly clear that she uses the UN purely as a forum for the fake peace propaganda which is a vital part of her war strategy.

Assembling UN Force

It's good news that Filipino troops have arrived in Korea and will move into the United Nations battle line. The contingent is undoubtedly small, but it's a firm sign of an intention to help make the Korean war a real UN operation. Presence of the Filipinos also will be living refutation of the Communist propaganda claim that this is a war of white, colonial imperialism against the Asiatic races.

Although British troops now are fighting beside our GI's, a lot of Americans have been critical of the British, the French and other free peoples for not dashing to our assistance more quickly. This is perhaps a natural reaction. But it overlooks the fact, of course, that the French have 140,000 troops fighting Communists in Indo-China, the British 50,000 doing the same in Malaya and another force garrisoning threatened Hong Kong.

Moreover, when the UN appeal for aid to U. S. forces went out, pledges of about 30,000 troops were made from countries all over the world. While these commitments are not great, in the case of many small nations they represent real sacrifice.

* * *

While we might well wish for heavier assistance, reality should compel us to admit that no free nation has big fighting forces available. To make them available at this time would mean either weakening other fronts or falling back upon U. S. financing.

All these offers have had to be screened carefully and appraised by our own military leaders. For technical military reasons, some may be turned down. All this is an inescapable part of the complex job of trying to weld a useful fighting force from the scattered units of numerous countries.

There'd Be Some Sense To A Strike Like This

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1950, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Kremlin counted on American inertia in Korea; Russia will talk peace to appease U. S.; AMVETS commander urges "preventive strength."

WASHINGTON — It now is possible to get a reasonably accurate picture of what the Kremlin had in mind when it invaded Korea and the impact our victory has had on Kremlin thinking. This picture comes from intelligence information pieced together from various parts of the world, and, while its accuracy is not copper-riveted, it probably is reasonably correct.

At the time of the Korean invasion, the Kremlin was convinced that the United States would not resist. This conviction came partly from the Soviet Embassy in Washington and unwittingly was confirmed by the top U. S. adviser to South Korea, Col. John E. Baird, through his Korean mistress Kim Soo Im. Through the unsuspecting Baird, the Korean Mata Hari learned of various secret directives, all showing we had written off Korea and did not plan to return in case of North Korean attack.

Subsequent events indicate that Colonel Baird may have done his country a great favor.

For, banking on American inertia and the difficulty of mobilizing the United Nations, the Kremlin had prepared a series of "revolts" in other areas to follow the Korean attack—Formosa, Tibet, French Indo-China, civil war in North India, an invasion of Yugoslavia and Greece, an Azerbaijan attack on Iran, and a drive to push the allies out of West Germany.

If these could be accomplished, the Kremlin planners were convinced that anti-Communist governments in France and Italy would fall and the history of Czechoslovakia would be repeated.

Upset Timetable

What upset the Kremlin timetable was the sudden decision of President Truman to order U. S. troops into Korea plus Secretary Acheson's well-planned maneuver to get UN Security Council approval for our counterattack. From two reliable sources, we know that the Kremlin was dumbfounded.

The 14 men in the Politburo never had expected anything like this, and the Soviet Embassy in Washington was ordered to report immediately as to what went wrong.

This upset threw other Soviet moves of scheduled. Communist troops, it will be recalled, were all set to invade both Formosa and Yugoslavia, but the attacks were delayed for reconsideration of strategy.

What Next From Kremlin?

What will happen next is hard to predict. However, two factors seem worth examining. Because the Kremlin's intelligence was so bad regarding Korea, they appear to be worried about trusting intelligence reports from other countries.

Also, it appears certain that the current peace front which Malik and Vishinsky are waging at Lake Success is aimed to lull us back to appeasement.

The last thing the Russians want is an alert, heavily armed U. S. A. Hence the friendlier speeches, the rumors of a Stalin-Truman meeting and the talk that Vishinsky will attend an American football game.

Meanwhile there will be riots and exploratory probings in Germany, probable uprisings in Azerbaijan, plus Communist successes in Indo-China.

If we appease, the Kremlin will go back to its old bulldozing. If we continue tough, there should be a bona fide change in Kremlin policy—though this would be a miracle.

President Truman got some stimulating ideas on how to "win the peace" the other day from Harold Russell, armless commander of AMVETS and star of the movie, "Best Years Of Our Lives."

"Instead of waging a 'preventive war' against Russia, as some people advocate, our policy should be one of 'preventive strength'," suggested Russell. "That doesn't mean we have to hold still waiting for any further acts of Soviet aggression. But it does mean that the door for peace must be left open at the UN conference table. I'm not one of those who believe that war with Russia is inevitable."

The AMVETS chief hotly assailed Congress for failing to pass an excess-profits tax and for appropriating more money for "pork barrel" projects than for atomic research.

"Profit dollars should go to war the same as men," declared Russell. "Our guys are fighting and dying in battle and unless we back them up at home, the whole thing becomes a mockery. We've all got to make sacrifices—industry, labor, the farmer—all of us."

"Everything you've said makes sense to me," agreed the President. He added that he was grateful to AMVETS for not waging a personal war on his Cabinet," like some outfits."

"That would have put you in the headlines," said Truman, "but I didn't go after headlines, either, when I was chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee. And yet in a poll conducted by a leading magazine (Look), I was the only member of Congress chosen among the 10 'most useful" government officials."

His problems really started when he began to get big headlines, added the President. "Now," he said, "look at the trouble I'm in."

Civilian Defense Nepotism

Civilian War Mobilizer Stuart Symington is one of the most efficient operators in government, but he has one weakness—his family.

On the same day President Truman sent his special message to Congress warning American cities to prepare for atomic attack, he left the vitally important job of preparing these cities against attack in the hands of a charming socialite who got his job only because he was Symington's brother-in-law.

Jerry Wadsworth, now acting head of Civilian defense, is a tall, amiable, teddy-bear sort of individual, who at the age of 50 has made no career for himself, but happens to have two potent relatives: (1) his father, GOP Congressman James Wadsworth of New York; and (2) his brother-in-law, Democratc Stuart Symington, former secretary of Air and now head of the National Security Resources Board. From his father he gets a boost from the Republicans, and from his brother-in-law he gets help from the Democrats.

In fact, shortly after Symington came to Washington as War Assets Administrator, likable, inexperienced brother-in-law Jerry turned up as his assistant. Later, when Symington was given the Security Board, his brother-in-law came to work under him in Civilian Defense.

Now, with the resignation of Paul Larson as chief of Civilian Defense, Wadsworth is left in acting charge of the job once held by dynamic Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York. And this is an atomic age!

An octopus has eight arms.

Have A Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE

Johnson was a very conscientious man. He had borrowed $300 from a friend and had promised to pay it back in three months. As the time approached, he grew more and more disturbed and, on the night before the money was due, he tossed sleeplessly. At last, he arose, dressed, walked over and knocked on the door of his friend's home. In a little while, a window was raised and the man stuck his head out and called, "Who's there?"

"This is Johnson," said the visitor. "You know I owe you $300 and it's due tomorrow. Well, I can't pay it and I'm worried so I can't sleep."

The other said, "Why didn't you wait till morning to tell me? Now I can't sleep, either."

Oysters Are Grown In Private Ocean

NEW YORK —(AP)— Since Colonial days, Long Island, N. Y., has been one of the few places where land under the ocean can be owned. As a result, the bays around the island have an important place in the oyster industry. Oyster farmers grow their crops in their private ocean.

It takes five years to grow an oyster. Emphasis is on quality. When the crop is "ripe" it is harvested. Some of the oysters are shipped fresh, often by air to distant points. Others are canned.

Today's hand was played in the finals of the men's and women's pairs in the recent Summer championships of the American Contract Bridge League.

Freak hands are always hard to bid properly and this was no exception. In spite of the fact that the ace of spades was a sure winner against the hand about a third of the expert pairs reached contracts of seven in either hearts or clubs.

Most of the grand slam heart bidders were doubled and set two tricks by a club lead. The grand slam club bidders also went down two on a spade opening and club return. However, they were not doubled.

Another third of the players reached the small slam in a suit. Some were lucky and made their contracts. Others went down one.

Opening lead—♠ A

About a sixth of the players reached the lay-down six no-trump contract by themselves. Another sixth got there the hard way. After getting to six hearts they would be doubled whereupon North would run to six no-trump.

Actually, there is no reason why a good partnership should not reach six no-trump with the hand. As a starter North is almost strong enough to open with two but should content himself with a bid of one in his longest suit. South's response of one diamond is normal as is North's jump to two hearts.

As soon as he hears North's two heart jump South intends to reach a slam somewhere. He has two problems. One is to explore grand slam possibilities. The other is to find the best spot for the slam contract. Hence he merely bids three diamonds to confirm the fact that he has a good diamond suit.

North's three heart bid shows a five card heart suit and infers a six club suit. With five in each suit North would have opened with one heart. South bids four clubs as a temporizing bid, in order to see what North will do. North's bid of four hearts is a very fine tournament bid. He does not know that South has the ace of clubs and therefore he can not bid a slam. At the same time he shows that if no slam is to be bid the hand will probably play all right in the higher valued suit.

South's jump to five no-trump finally shows his strength. At the same time the bid denies the ace of spades. With the ace of spades in his hand South would simply have shown it by bidding four spades.

Finally North's bid of six no-trump is entirely logical. He knows South does not hold the ace of spades but must hold the queen for his five no-trump bid. Therefore North sees that no-trump is as safe a contract as any and he bids the slam there, where it will count most. Remember, honors don't count in duplicate.

Legality Of New Anti-Red Bill May Not Be Settled For Years

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It will be two days before Christmas before any conclusion at all can be drawn on the merits or worthlessness of Nevada Senator Pat McCarran's omnibus, catch-all, what's-it and anti-subversive control bill. This assumes that a test case will be forthcoming without any delays whatsoever in setting up the enforcement machinery. But even then the answer won't be final.

The tentative timetable is expected to work out something like this:

The law was passed over the President's veto on September 23. It provides that within 30 days after passage, all Communist and Communist front organizations must register and file membership lists with the Department of Justice. That would put the deadline to October 23.

In this interval, the Department of Justice must prepare appropriate forms on which Commie organizations may fill in appropriate blank spaces to supply the required information on their finances and membership.

For any organization that chooses to register, that will be all for the present. Except that any member not reported must register himself.

For any organizations that do not choose to register—and the Commie Party officials say that none will register—it's another story. For every case of non-registration, the law says that the Department of Justice must petition the new five-man Subversive Activities Control Board to require registration.

Witch-Hunters Not Needed

A word here about this board. The members will receive $12,500 a year salary. They must be appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. There may be some difficulty in finding highly qualified men of proper judicial temperament—not witch-hunters—to take the jobs and assume the headaches. But assuming they can be found, they will be given recess appointments and it is hoped they will be ready to function by October 23.

When the Department of Justice petitions the board to require some organization to register, the board then will issue an order. The organization in question then has 60 days in which to appeal this order back to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. This court will review the evidence. It then may uphold the board or grant the petition of the organization that the board's order requiring it to register be denied.

Again assuming that all the legal machinery is set up and that a test case is ready and waiting by October 23, this means that the first showdown can't possibly come before December 23.

Even then, the finding of the Court of Appeals on the first test case may be appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court. Either the government or the so-called Communist organization in the first test case is sure to appeal this first decision. And taking into account the usual delays in handling Supreme Court cases, it may be well along in 1951 or 1952 before anybody will have the slightest idea as to whether the McCarran bill—otherwise known as the "Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950"—is constitutional.

There is another deadline provided in the bill which will provide a further showdown. This is the requirement that February 1 of every year after registration, each organization must report anew on its membership and finances.

This may start a new daisy chain of litigation. Assuming that the courts do uphold the Subversive Activities Control Board in requiring registration of an organization, the Department of Justice then must start criminal proceedings. For every violation, fines of $2,000 to $5,000 are assessable as well as imprisonment of from two to five years. Long court cases and appeals are sure to follow.

No one has any idea of how many criminal suits may be filed under this law, if it is held to be constitutional. No one knows how much it is going to cost the Department of Justice to try to enforce this law. Congress failed to appropriate any money for its administration and enforcement. The present plan is to put the bite on the President's emergency funds to get the thing started.

No one ever knows in advance how these laws are going to work out. The old Voorhis Act of 1940, to require registration of any organization subject to foreign control, never accomplished what it was intended to do. And it took nine years to get a good conviction of the top Communist leaders under the Smith Act of the same vintage.

Questions and Answers

Q—How did the Passion Flower receive its name?

A—Spanish explorers believed these unusual flowers to be symbols of the sufferings of Christ, and taught that the tendrils represented the whips with which he was scourged. The five stamens represented the five wounds, the corona was the crown of thorns, the petals and sepals were disciples, the seed pod was the sponge dipped in vinegar, and the lobed leaves were the hands of Christ's persecutors.

The FORMER MISS FREY

MRS. WINWOOD, a chattery, vapid woman, monopolized conversation on the afterdeck as Northcott's cruiser slid smoothly down the river. And she also monopolized Dan Reagan for whom she averred openly, she had "fallen in a big way." She nicknamed him Handsome Dan, and Reagan, after one embarrassed glance at Ede, handled the situation with surprising aplomb.

"Handsome Dan?" he said. "Isn't that the name of the bulldog they use for a mascot at Yale? I'm flattered and insulted, half and half."

"I like your big Irishman," Gil Summerfield said to Ede later.

"Dan's swell," said Ede warmly. "He's certainly been a good friend to the Freys."

"He's lucky." They had stopped at the rail and Gil looked down at the smooth water, pewter-colored now, streaked with crimson from the dying sun. "He's in a position to be a friend."

Again Ede sensed that undercurrent of seriousness in his voice.

"Gil," she said suddenly, "you seem to have something on your mind."

"Not a thing." His eyes were still on the water. "Nothing but a little sparse hair."

"Your hair," Ede said, "is almost luxurious. It's your attitude that worries me."

"Sorry, lady," Gil lit a cigaret and flipped the burnt match overside. "But I don't know what you're talking about."

After dinner there was a bridge game and this seemed to be the element of the horse-faced Mr. Winwood. Partnered with his wife, he played against Mrs. Northcott and Gil Summerfield. And it soon developed into an argumentative contest.

At the first mention of bridge, Dan Reagan had stated his position flatly. He didn't know the first thing about the game; had never played. He hoped this fact would not cramp anybody's style.

"Not at all," Northcott said cordially. "We are seven, as the poet says. Not enough for two tables. Besides, I've things to do around the boat. I couldn't play myself."

It left Ede and Reagan free to prowl about.

* * *

A LOW moon, like a pale disc, was climbing slowly into the black vault of the sky. It cast a feeble half-light over the deck, a struggling beam that made little headway against the dark shadows. Ede, stretched full-length in her chair, inhaled a deep breath of tangy sea-air.

"Like cruising, Dan?" she asked.

He laughed. "I've never done much of it. But I'm liking this cruise, if that's what you mean."

"You ought to like it." Her voice was teasing. "You made a conquest this afternoon. Mrs. Winwood is practically your slave."

"That woman?" Reagan said, in digust. "She's the one sour note."

"Dan, you're absolutely ungrateful. After all the nice things she said. Right to your face, too!"

"This world," Reagan almost growled. "It's nuts."

She smiled. "Poor Dan! You sound thwarted. Who's been depriving you now?"

She said it carelessly, bantering-ingly. The next instant she regretted her tone. Reagan was leaning forward in his chair.

"Do you have to ask me that?" he said.

She saw that he was serious, desperately serious. Almost timidly she put a hand on his wrist. "No, Dan. I don't." She looked away. "Why do things have to get so terribly complicated?"

It could have been the warm touch of her fingertips. Or the pale glow of the moon. Or the way her face was turned just then, profile toward him, lips parted slightly. She never knew. But Reagan caught her, suddenly, in his arms.

Then his lips were pressed hard against hers and his arms, around her slim shoulders, were like bands of steel.

He let her go almost at once, as if some quick thought flashing through his mind had brought him to his senses. She felt his arms relaxing, felt them leave her shoulders altogether. She sat up, conscious of Reagan's big body, trembling; of a queer regretful look in the eyes that stared at her out of shadow. And conscious, too, of something else. A vague indefinite sound, a whisking movement, from somewhere on the darkened deck behind them.

* * *

REAGAN said finally, in a low strained voice, "I—I'm sorry. I guess I just forgot myself."

"There's nothing to be sorry about, Dan," Ede said slowly.

"I," he seemed to feel that words, explanations, were called for, "I couldn't—couldn't seem to help it. I—I'm a liar, of course. I didn't want to help it. When a guy's as much in love with . . ."

"Don't regret it, Dan. Because there's—nothing to regret."

He muttered, "I suppose I've fixed my wagon now. Torn everything wide open."

Ede took his hand suddenly. She wanted to help him, if she could. His contrition was genuine, boyish even. And yet, there was nothing much she could say.

What she did say seemed inadequate, even to her. "There's nothing to worry about, Dan. It doesn't change anything."

"You mean that—that . . ."

"I mean," Ede said, a little desperately, "that I still don't know."

For just a second, it seemed to Ede that a faint scent of perfume hung there in the darkness. So faint as to be little more than a suggestion. And then a puff of wind, whipping over the starboard rail, blew even the suggestion away.

Houston Man Faces Murder Charge In Death Of Housewife

HOUSTON —(AP)— Howard Lee Reese, a 41-year-old railroad clerk, has been charged with murder in the death of a Houston housewife.

Justice of the Peace Tom Maes set no bond for Reese.

The bloody, bruised body of Mrs. Aurey Green Rush, 48, was found Wednesday in the home of Reese.

An autopsy showed no broken bones and no serious wounds. A blood specimen was sent to Austin for laboratory examination.

Homicide officers said Mrs. Rush was beaten badly, but they doubted the beating caused her death.

Reese told police and reporters he had known Mrs. Rush, wife of an apartment hotel engineer, about two years. He said he drank beer with her Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night.

Reese told police he left Mrs. Rush Tuesday night somewhere on the Humble road in Northeast Houston but when he stopped his car in front of his home he found her lying in the street.

He said he carried her into his home and his wife called an ambulance.

Police said Reese and his wife were sitting in the living room near the body when they arrived to investigate.

Oil Man Asks More U. S. Aid To Industry

DALLAS—(AP)—The president of Socony - Vacuum Oil Company Thursday urged the government assist the oil industry more in expanding for wartime needs.

The industry needs more than ordinary peacetime economic stimulation to meet the demands of sudden and total war, said B. Brewster Jennings.

In a speech to the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, Jennings said "An adequate defense must include the coordination of the industrial plant with the military effort. The country which does it most effectively will be the strongest."

Jennings emphasized his dislike of government interference in business, but pointed out that the aircraft industry, for instance, "is active in all sorts of work which would be beyond its financial ability" if based on peacetime conditions alone.

He suggested the government cooperate with the industry in a more practicable distributing of alkylate and alkylate feedstock among oil companies and in assuring sufficient steel, pressure tank cars and other needs.

65 Stamp Lots Sold At Club's Auction

Sixty-five stamp lots were auctioned at a meeting of the Midland Stamp Club Tuesday night in the commissioners courtroom of the courthouse. Clem George was the auctioneer.

Turner Wynn, president, presided at the meeting.

Louis Michaelson and O. E. Sears were awarded door prizes. Other members and guests included Bill Adam, Lee Boone, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carter, Bob Clarke, John Crowley, Howard Davis, Fred Forward, Duane Hunter, Bill Johnson, Bill Key, Ed Dodson, the Rev. W. R. Mann, Bill Rutter, William Sandeen and Jake Williams.

Saturday Is Newspaperboy Day In Midland And Across The Nation; Young Businessmen

Saturday is Newspaperboy Day—in Midland, in Texas, and across the nation.

This is the day when proclamations from mayors, governors, and the President will pay these young businessmen the tribute that is their due. They are businessmen, you know. They buy their papers at wholesale prices and sell them at retail—the difference is their profit.

The 37 carriers in Midland carried 1,611,853 papers to your door last year, about 3,630 papers per carrier each month. For this, they got an average of $675 each.

Most of the boys start delivering their papers on bicycles. Many of them wind up driving cars. In-between stages are filled with routes covered by motor scooter and jeep.

Rain Or Shine

It takes about 35 minutes to cover the average city route—quite a long time when it's raining or cold. Weekday papers are delivered between 2:30 and 4 p.m., depending on what time the boys get out of school. Sunday morning papers start going out as early as 2:30 a.m.—it's pretty lonely then.

The boys are steady workers, though. They average between two and four years at their work. One boy, Wade Feemster, has been delivering The Midland Reporter-Telegram for nine years. Another, Charles Linebarger, has been on the job seven years. Ronald Hall, a street seller, has been working five years. Even Richard Wells, seven, has been on the job a year.

Four ex-carrier boys work on the paper now. One is assistant circulation manager. You can depend on it—the boy who delivers your paper today may be putting them out in a few years. After that, he may be making the news that goes into them.

Truman Says He Wouldn't Appoint Lewis Dog Catcher

DENVER —(AP)— "I wouldn't appoint John L. Lewis dog catcher," President Truman wrote Colorado State Senator Neal Bishop a year and a half ago.

Bishop disclosed Wednesday the President's reply to his joking suggestion that the United Mine Workers chief be appointed ambassador to Russia.

Bishop said he didn't make the letter public in May, 1949, when he received it because of a threatened coal strike.

Good Man With Quotes

He wrote that Lewis would make a good ambassador because he "has a more formidable appearance than Stalin; roars 'no' louder than Gromyko; hurls more choice invectives and quotations from the classics in his oratory than Vishinsky; out-negotiates Molotov at the conference table—as any mine operator will testify—and Lewis would be in Moscow."

Truman replied he already had appointed a "good man" to the post, but appreciated the "good humor" of the suggestion.

"For your information, I would not appoint John L. Lewis dog catcher," the President added.

There was no comment from Lewis.

Chapman Asks More Aviation Gasoline

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A production increase of at least 25,000 barrels of aviation gasoline daily was called for Wednesday by Secretary of Interior Chapman.

As the new petroleum administrator, Chapman requested the oil industry to reach this production in spite of abnormally high costs with the expectation the government will pay part of the burden later.

Father Of Crooner Bing Crosby Dies

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. —(AP)— Harry Lowe Crosby, 79, affectionately called "Pop" by Bing and the boys, is dead.

The crooner's father died at his home of a heart ailment Wednesday. Bing reached him shortly before the end came, speeding to the bedside from his home at Pebble Beach, California.

Because of the death, the Bing Crosby recorded radio program was canceled Wednesday night. The singer said he did not want his voice on the air on the same day his father died.

Scottish Rite Meet Scheduled Thursday

The Midland Scottish Rite Club, oldest unit of its kind in Texas, will celebrate the Feast of the Tabernacle with a banquet-meeting scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer.

E. A. Wells and Arthur E. Long of El Paso, prominent in Masonic circles of the Southwest, will be the guest speakers. A musical program also will be presented.

A capacity attendance is expected for the Thursday night gathering.

Elks Organization Meet Set Thursday

Organization of a Midland Chapter of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will be perfected at a membership meeting and barbecue scheduled at 6 p.m. Thursday in the American Legion Hall.

Work in forming the unit here has been underway the last several weeks and enough members to assure its organization is reported by sponsors.

Thad A. Steele of El Paso, district deputy grand exalted ruler for West Texas, and other officials will attend the Thursday night session.

Steele formerly resided in Midland and is well-known throughout this area.

Percy L. Prout, organization committee chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting here.

Abundant Living

By E. STANLEY JONES

Isa. 9:6; 14:3; Gal. 5:1, 7; Rom. 8:15

OPENING BLOCKED CHANNELS

If we are not reservoirs, but channels, then one of the first things to do in prayer, after reading the Word, is to become silent to God, and let Him put His finger on any blocked channel. The tendency, will be to try to pray around that blocked place, to slur it over, to act as if it were not there. That is a part of our inner defense. But don't defend yourself, overtly or covertly. Face the blocked place frankly; confess where you have been wrong; turn over to God simply and frankly your problem, and tell Him you will do anything at any cost to right it, with His help. Or better still—He will do it with your help. For He is taking the initiative to make you the best that you can be.

Here is what one happy, released soul did: " I have been a Christian—in spots, and a church member since I was about nine years of age . . . . . But I lived by fears rather than by faith. . . . . I decided I'd had enough of it, and that if you knew the way out, I'd certainly try to follow it. Well, you did, so I moved out all the accumulated terrors and panics and anxieties, and asked God to come in where I'd never let Him come before. He did, and I am so happy, because I am sure life is never going to be the same again."

To be relaxed is to be released. Relax, then, toward God and be eagerly open to any suggestion for clearing up your life. But perhaps you are not relaxed toward people. You are holding resentments toward them. Surrender those resentments into the love of God. That love will dissolve them.

Perhaps you are tense toward others because you want to live out their lives for them. Surrender those loved ones to God. I wrote my daughter and her husband when they were married: "I would like my attitude to be: Never in the way, and never out of the way." If you are fussily trying to manage other people in their supposed interests, surrender that fussiness—it is pure selfishness. That attitude ties up yourself and others.

O Thou Tender Silence, speak as I go into silence. Speak the word that will release me and heal me and make me adequate. I consent without reservation to the draining of every swamp of self-centeredness and fear. Clean me to my depths. For the world is sick, and I want to be a part of the cure of the disease. In Jesus' name. Amen

★ THE DOCTOR SAYS ★

Mortality Rate Of Pneumonia Cut Sharply In Recent Years

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

There are several kinds of pneumonia. One of them, which only a few years ago was a great killer, is lobar pneumonia, a disease caused by a germ called pneumococcus.

This disease, which was particularly serious in infants and old people, was not only common but about one person in three who contracted it failed to recover. Now, thanks to the sulfa drugs and penicillin, a person who gets lobar pneumonia has about only one chance in 20 or 25 of dying from the disease.

Another form of pneumonia is known as bronchopneumonia. This does not involve as large an area of the lungs as lobar pneumonia does, nor is it caused by a single germ since any one of several germs can be responsible. Essentially, bronchopneumonia is an inflammation of the smaller air passages leading to the lungs which has spread to the air cells of the surrounding lung tissue.

The symptoms of bronchopneumonia are usually less acute than lobar pneumonia. The fever is not likely to be so high, for example, and the disease does not end in the sudden crisis which is so typical of the former condition. Bronchopneumonia is not as dangerous as lobar pneumonia used to be, but it often does not yield as rapidly or as completely to the new treatments. Certainly, someone who has a cough with fever should suspect bronchopneumonia, and should go to bed promptly and stay there until a diagnosis has been made, and treatment started. Otherwise, there is great risk involved.

Another kind of inflammation of the lungs which has caused a great deal of concern in recent years is called atypical pneumonia. This is almost undoubtedly caused by a virus rather than an ordinary germ, and does not yield to the sulfa drugs or penicillin. It usually starts, much like influenza, with a cough, running nose and watering of the eyes.

The acute stage lasts around one or two weeks, but a characteristic aspect of atypical pneumonia is that, although most victims recover, they take weeks or months to do so. Too often the cough hangs on and on, and for months the convalescent complains of getting exhausted after very slight activity. Certainly, almost everyone who has had it becomes much discouraged because of the long time it takes before one really feels normal again.

There have been several favorable reports about the treatment of atypical pneumonia with aureomycin, one of the relatives of penicillin. This drug seems to be the most promising of those developed so far.

Negro Prisoner Conks Sheriff, Flees

FAIRFIELD, TEXAS —(AP)— A negro prisoner hit Freestone County Sheriff Homer Robertson on the head with a pop bottle and fled the county jail Wednesday night.

Mrs. Robertson said the sheriff had gone up to get the prisoner's plate after the man had eaten; that she heard the plate fall, and then the prisoner ran down the stairs and out the door.

The sheriff was treated at a hospital and then put to bed at his home.

The negro was being held on a burglary charge.

Take Off Ugly Fat With This Home Recipe

Here is an inexpensive home recipe for taking off ungainly weight and helping to bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from your druggist, four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take two tablespoonsful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

SHOPPING 'ROUND TOWN . . . with BARBARA

The Three "Rs"—Remodel, Repaint, Repair—

The remodeling or repairing of your house isn't a one-man job. MIDLAND LUMBER COMPANY has consulted with thousands of home owners who have problems of this nature. It may be just a minor job . . . (a closet or two) or an entire house to be modernized. The company will also finance your remodeling program with a loan. You'll find paints and building materials for every decorative purpose.

Step Down To Luxury—

Have you seen the sensational new Hudson? If you have, you know that it is delivered fully equipped, including weather-control heater and such accessories as you order. You can buy a Hudson with cash or on time payments, with or without trade-in. You're given a good allowance if you have a trade-in. The Hudson is the only car you step down into. See the Commodore-Six or the Pace Maker at BUSTER CHARLTON GARAGE, 110 South Baird, your Hudson dealer in Midland.

Quality Cleaning—

Mother's frailest dresses . . . Dad's heaviest tweeds . . . can be entrusted to HABIT CLEANERS' careful cleaning process, quality in cleaning being the first consideration and speed the second. Anything from the flimsiest dresses to rugs, drapes and slipcovers are expertly dry cleaned, and each article receives the careful handling that is typical of Habit Cleaners' work. There's a knack to cleaning and pressing clothes correctly, and Habit Cleaners has that knack! You'll find the little "extra" services exceptional in scope.

Let's Go To The Movies—

The youngsters come along when you go to the movies the modern way. At the TEXAN DRIVE-IN THEATRE, West Highway, everybody enjoys a fine evening of entertainment—always the latest and best in motion pictures. It is always naturally cool at the drive-in theatre. You enjoy the movie from the privacy of your car. Bring the whole family to the show tonight. The children will enjoy the playground, too, and you save the expense of a baby sitter.

Housewives Applaud—

Modern brides prefer something practical! Gifts of fine electrical appliances will delight her on her wedding day and make her married life a happier, easier one for years to come. Housewives applaud the modern electrical appliances featured by PHILLIPS ELECTRIC COMPANY for their time-saving efficiency and streamlined beauty. Combination twin waffle bakers and grilles—chrome finished, pop-up toasters, streamlined irons and 6-cup electric percolators are featured.

Customers Are Happiest When They're Fed—

The next time you've got a tough customer to sell, suggest having lunch together at JOMAC'S CAFE in the Greyhound Bus Terminal. The delicious home cooking will do wonders for you both! Wait for that contented sigh you'll hear after he's finished the last bit of dessert . . . offer him a good cigar . . . then talk business. He'll think there's no other man he'd rather give his order to than you!.

Planned, Designed And Built For You—

Your dream house can become a reality when you take your ideas to LLOYD PONDER, BUILDING CONTRACTOR. He will build a house to conform with your own specifications and those of your lending agency. Mr. Ponder builds homes which are in the $12,000 to $20,000 class. You don't have to accept substitutes. Have your home planned the way you want it, to suit your individual needs. Call 4478 for more information.

Car Bodies Refinished Like New!—

Modern equipment and skilled operators make it possible for PRINGLE BODY SHOP, 807 East Florida, to offer you refinishing methods just like those used at the factory, yet at an amazingly low cost. Drive in today for an obligation-free estimate. These skilled men can straighten dents, weld rips and repaint your car body to look like new. Increase the trade-in value of your car and enhance your pride of ownership with an expert repaint and repair job.

Fresh Fall Beauty For Your Home—

"Redecorate" your grounds for new Fall beauty. WALKER'S NURSERY, Andrews Highway, offers expert yard service. You'll be proud of your home—and proud of its welcoming qualities when you have your yard landscaped by this professional service. Mowing, tree trimming and shrub planting is a part of this service, and the nursery is equipped to do complete yard renovating. By the middle of October you'll be able to get all kinds of shrubs from Walker's Nursery. Call 2010 for more information.

Rejuvenate Your Living Room—

Look ahead into Winter, and now is the time to rejuvenate your entire living room. You'll never recognize your old furniture after HAWKINS FURNITURE COMPANY, 503 West New Jersey, has worked on each piece, completely renewing everything. Right now, the company has an unusually wide choice of fabrics. Experts will repair and rebuild your furniture before they recover it with your choice of material. Call 2037 for an estimate.

Live In A Completely Modern Home—

Old homes are wasteful unless you keep them up-to-date! Look at your home the way an automobile owner looks at his car: does it offer all the latest conveniences, the latest ideas, the usefulness it should? Purple Zip Shown In Fast Drills

The air was crisp and sharp Wednesday afternoon, and so were the Midland Bulldogs. The Purple eleven moved through its workout with a lot of zip and fire. It worked at stopping the Mineral Wells offense in the main, but didn't overlook its own point-producing efforts, either.

"This is the best day we have had for football," Coach Tugboat Jones remarked after cocking his weather eye toward the cool breeze, "and we ought to be able to really go this afternoon."

And they did. The downfield blocking and the defensive line play was, for the most part, encouraging. It needs to be. Mineral Wells will bring along a smooth, polished offense to throw at the Bulldogs, Friday night.

Hold Two Wins

The Mountaineers have won two games and dropped one. They hold wins of 26-0 over Hillsboro and 12-0 over Denton. The lone loss was by a 7-25 count to strong Grand Prairie. Midland has two wins—a 14-7 decision over Ysleta and a 21-2 triumph over Forest High of Dallas. The kickoff is slated at 8 p.m. Friday in Memorial Stadium.

Probable starting lineups:

MIDLAND

ENDS—Bush (172) and Mackey (166).
TACKLES—Coker (210) and Wood (187).
GUARDS—Culp (171) and Byerley (180).
CENTER—O'Neal (181).
BACKS—Gilmore (157), Burris (161), Crowley (171) and Thomas (167).

MINERAL WELLS

ENDS—Thomas (160) and Reasoner (170).
TACKLES—Smith (177) and Tomerlin (164).
GUARDS—Owens (160) and Barber (175).
CENTER—Cleveland (165).
BACKS—Mitchell (160), Patterson (150), Bord (170), and Benton (168).

Graziano Scores Kayo Over Burton

CHICAGO —(AP)— Rock Graziano likes to fight in the Chicago Stadium.

The former middleweight champion Wendnesday night returned to the arena where he scored his greatest triumph and knocked out Gene Burton, New York welterweight, in the seventh round of their scheduled 10-round bout.

On July 16, 1947, Graziano knocked out Middleweight Champion Tony Zale here.

Graziano, weighing 160, had a nine-pound advantage over Burton.

Missions Lick Vols, Extend Dixie Series Into Seventh Game

NASHVILLE, TENN. —(AP)— Two often-wild speedball artists, a Texas League right-hander and a Southern Association lefty, tangle Thursday night in a pitching duel in the payoff game of the feud-like Dixie Series.

The San Antonio Missions tied up the seven-game series in the sixth tilt Wednesday night with a 6-3 triumph over the Nashville Vols. Now the Texas Leguers vow they'll grab the championship behind Procopio Herrera, Mexican hurler who saved them from an ignominous 1-4 series lost last Monday night. Herrera gave up only six hits and four runs in that game.

The Vols, irked by two losses in a row after they thought they had the series won, call on their ace, Bob Schultz, in the final bitter battle.

Bitter Grudge Battle

The Dixie Series already was a grudge scrap before San Antonio humbled the Vols in their tiny home park, Sulphur Dell, Wednesday night. The Vols got hot when the Texans called the "Dell," which has a short, 262-foot right field wall and steep slopes leading up to the fences, "infamous." The Texans flared up when the irate Vols took two straight to make the series score 3-1 on the San Antonio diamond.

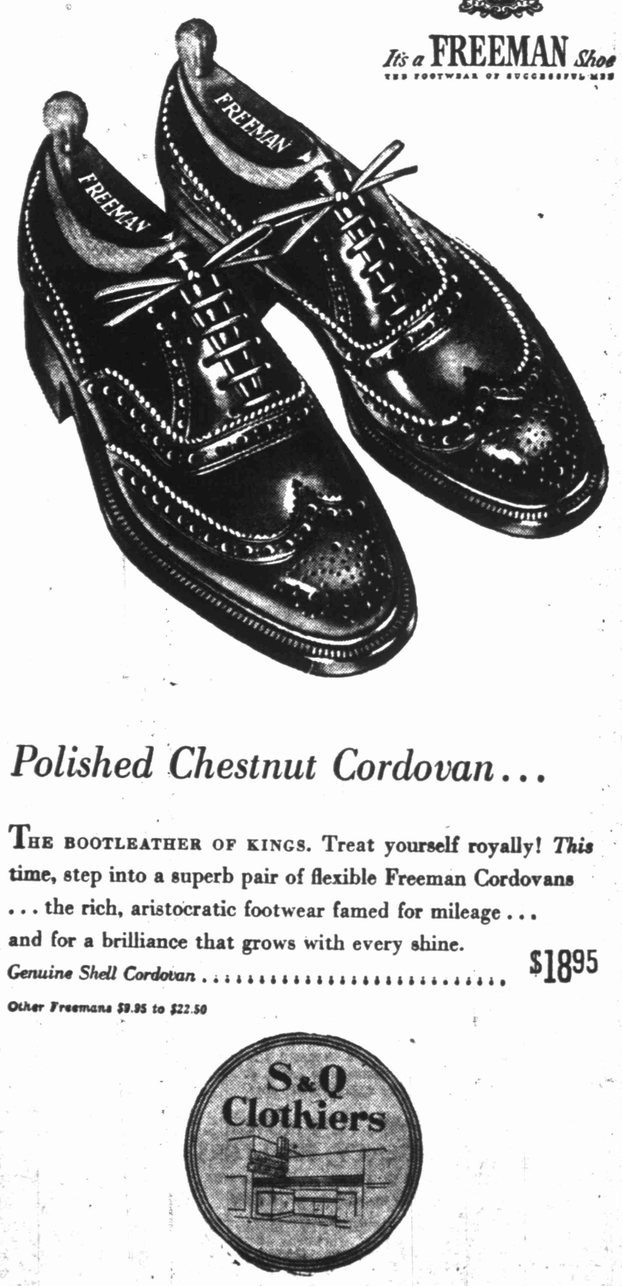

The feud flared higher when Umpire Tom Fleming chased Eddie Fernandes, Vol catcher, to the showers in the first inning Wednesday night.

Hal Hudson saved the game for San Antonio in the sixth although John Pavlik got credit for the victory. Hudson retired the Vols on two soft ground balls and a fly, giving up only one hit in the last four innings.

Four Nashville hurlers gave up 14 hits.

Phils Face Uphill Battle After Loss Of Series Opener

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— The Philadelphia Phillies faced an uphill job Thursday after dropping the first game of the 1950 World Series to the New York Yankees 1-0, and nominated Robin Roberts, 20-game winner in the regular season, to stop the Yanks in the second game—or else.

Manager Eddie Sawyer lost his daring gamble on Jim Konstanty in Wednesday's 1-0 opener. But not before his relief ace turned in a pitching job that long will be remembered. Yankee Vic Raschi simply threw too hard for the dazed National League champs despite Konstanty's heart-tugging effort.

Raschi's brilliant job couldn't dim the near-miracle of Konstanty. The 33-year-old bullpen veteran who had not started a game since 1948, deserved a better fate. He allowed only four hits in eight innings before giving way to a pinch hitter. It took two fly balls to convert one of the hits into the only run of the game.

"I don't mind losing on base hits," Konstanty said. "But when a couple of fly balls beat you, it's pretty tough."

Two Fly Balls Do It

The base hit—a double down the left field foul line by Bobby Brown in the fourth inning—was the only extra baser off Konstanty. According to Jim is was a "slider at least a half-foot inside." But that was the ball game when it was backed up by two fly balls that permitted Brown to score.

The big Phil chance came in the fifth when they collected both of their hits. Raschi retired 13 men in order until Willie Jones singled into center field with one out in the fifth. After Gran Hammer flied out, Andy Seminick laced a single to left, then Raschi bore down to strike out Mike Goliat.

Raschi walked Eddie Waitkus, his only pass of the game, with one out in the sixth and proceeded to mow down the next 11 men in succession.

"Shudda been a one-hitter," said Raschi. "That single by Jones — I thought it was hit real hard and I got out of the way. It was just a dribbler."

Columbus Red Birds Beat Baltimore In Little World Series

COLUMBUS, OHIO —(AP)— The Columbus Red Birds racked up a second major conquest for Manager Rollie Hemsley Wednesday night in beating the Baltmore Orioles 6 to 3 in the final game of the Little World Series.

Hemsley, who piloted the American Association Red Birds to four wins in five games with the International League champions, managed the Nashville Vols when they won the Southern Association pennant last year.

There is speculation that Memsley, a former star catcher, is slated to succeed Eddie Dyer as manager of the parent St. Louis Cardinals.

In 1949, the overall attendance as 455,240.

WT-NM Combine Posts Low Four-Ball Score In Hobbs Meet

HOBBS, N. M. —(AP)— A Texas-New Mexico combine won the Pro-Amateur Low Four-Ball Tournament Wednesday as the West Texas-New Mexico Open Golf Tournament got underway at Hobbs Country Club.

On the four-man winning team with a 12-under-par 60 were Joe Lopez of San Angelo, pro; Pro Kenneth Wright of Amarillo, and amateurs Al Willis and Bill Stonerawer, both of Hobbs.

Dode Forrester, Hobbs Country Club pro, and Abe Beckman of Midland, tied at 65 for low scores among the professional players. Joe Lopez of San Angelo was third.

To teams marked up a 61 to tie for second in the pro-amateur competition. On one team was Eid Faircloth of Kermit, pro; and Amateurs Roy Teden, Kermit; Virgil Addison, Hobbs, and Dick Kimbrough, Hobbs.

A. C. Hornbuckle of Odessa, pro; Guy James of Hobbs, amateur; Roy Fox of Lamesa, amateur, and Foy Fannin of Abilene, pro, made up the other team.

The 72-hole medal play got underway Thursday. Twenty-four professionals and 18 amateurs were entered.

Raschi Beats Phils But Loses To Thief

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Vic Raschi was a 1-0 winner in the opening World Series game, but a loser to a thief.

Raschi's hotel room was looted Wednesday while the New York Yankee ace was pitching his two-hit shutout against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Two suitcases containing 140 series tickets, jewelry and a diamond-studded watch were taken from Raschi's room, Detective Lt. Frank A. May reported.

Later one of the suitcases was turned over to police by a youth who said he found it in an alley. It contained 80 series tickets, two neckties and a pair of pajamas.

Missing from the suitcase were 20 reserved seat tickets for each of the three games at New York. Some of the recovered tickets were for Thursday's second World Series game.

Raschi said he bought the tickets for friends and relatives.

Stolen also was a suitcase belonging to Rachi's wife, Sally, in which she said she had the watch, a new blouse and "between $500 and $1,000" worth of jewelry. The watch bore the inscription: "New York Yankees—World Champions, 1949."

Frank Scott, Yankees traveling secretary, also reported his room looted of $95 worth of costum jewelry belonging to his wife, Betty.

King's Row

By LARRY KING

We don't know if Coach T. L. (Tugboat) Jones has stopped to think of it, as busy as he is forging a ball team these days, but he has reached the .500 mark in Midland football.

Jones' eleven won four, lost six last year. This year the Bulldogs have two wins, no losses. That's an overall 6-6 record.

Tugboat brought a record of 44 wins and 11 losses in his coaching career to Midland when he came. We would like to see that record grow. And we think it will.

—KR—

Jones record of splitting even thus far is more than most Bulldog coaches of the past can say. Barnes (Foots) Milam, Jones predecessor, won 10 while losing 20 in three years at the helm.

Gene McCollum won 16 ball games, lost 22 and tied one when he tutored the Purple. McCollum was head man for four years.

—KR—

Wander with us down the bleak and desolate road of Midland football during the last 10 years. Look this way just one more time, and then shut it out of your mind.

It isn't nice to remember. The road is rough and rocky.

—KR—

Midland's "winningest" football team of the last 10 years was in 1940. That year Bud Taylor's charges won seven, lost two and tied one, to finish second behind champion Big Spring.

That was the last year Midland could beat either Sweetwater or Odessa. The Purple dumped Sweetwater 14-7 in 1940, and we know every Midland fan remembers the 16-14 win over Odessa.

—KR—

Since that time, Midland teams have made nine—count 'em—nine unsuccessful passes at the Bronchos and Mustangs. And it's all for naught in the Bulldog victory column.

The nearest the Bulldogs have come to beating Odessa was in 1944 when the score was 20-7, and in 1948 when it was 34-19.

Sweetwater beat Midland 33-20 in 1948, and 19-6 in 1945. That's as close as the Bulldogs have come to licking the Ponies. Both teams have dealt the Bulldogs some real shellings along the way.

—KR—

Gene McCollum's teams kept their heads above water in two of his four years—in 1943 when Midland won five and lost four, and in 1944 when the Bulldogs posted a 6-4 record. The latter was Midland's last "winning" year.

McCollum didn't fare so well in his first year and his last season. He won four, dropped six in 1942, and his club possibly was the weakest of all weak Midland teams—the 1945 outfit which won only one game, and tied one. It dropped eight tilts.

—KR—

But even that bleak year isn't the blackest of the black. 1941, the year Earle Clark coached the Bulldogs, grabs that dubious honor. That team won one game and lost nine—and it had to wait until the last game of the season to win one, 20-19, from Colorado City.

—KR—

Milam's first team at Midland started out like a house afire. The Bulldogs won four in a row, dropped one, then won another. The team ended with a dull thud and lost its last four tilts for a 5-5 record.

Things went from bad to worse. The 1947 eleven could get only two wins, while losing eight. The 1948 team fared little better, winning three and losing seven.

That gives Midland a total of 34 wins, 53 losses, and two ties from 1940 through 1948.

—KR—

But all that was BT: "Before Tugboat."

Jones' eleven was green last year, and it was playing under a system that was new to the kids. The team dropped its first four ball games, finally came through with a rush to take three of its last four. That brings the 10-year total to 38 wins, 59 defeats, two ties.

We could add the Bulldogs two 1950 wins to the total and help the average some.

But we don't want to.

Midland has entered a new phase in football. No longer will the Bulldogs be "breathers" on other teams' schedules. No longer will they stand by ineptly and be crushed by humiliating scores.

Claassen Picks 'Em, And How!

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK —(AP)— Remember that recent eclipse of the moon? That wasn't an eclipse. That was just a certain football selector hiding his face after last week's picks.

Last Thursday's selections listed 58 winners in 75 decisions. That's an average of .767 and pulls the season's average down to .789.

But there is a new list of games this weekend, so here goes:

Notre Dame vs. Purdue: Neither team is as bad as it looked last week as the Irish won from North Carolina and Purdue bowed to Texas. No breaking of the Irish victory skein here. Notre Dame.

Maryland vs. Michigan State: The Spartans accomplished the No. 1 mission last week by defeating Michigan. No. 2 is to defeat Notre Dame. That should permit Maryland to sneak through. Maryland.

Oklahoma vs. Texas A&M: Leon Heath, Oklahoma's only returning regular, is as good a blocker as he was a runner. That's almost enough. Oklahoma.

Southern Methodist vs. Missouri: Missouri might make it close but the Texans are too good. Southern Methodist.

Florida vs. Georgia Tech: Bob Woodruff, who brought new life to Baylor, hasn't been defeated as Florida coach. He should escape defeat another week. Florida.

Texas Christian vs. Arkansas: A year ago Arkansas won 27 to 7, and then the two teams wrangled all Winter about who had been impolite. They won't wear white gloves this time, either, but TCU should get revenge. Texas Christian.

LSU Over Rice

Georgia vs. North Carolina: Neither team won last week but Notre Dame took much out of North Carolina. Georgia.

Skipping over the chalk lines in a hurry:

Southwest: Baylor over Mississippi State, Hardin-Simmons over Arizona, LSU over Rice, New Mexico over New Mexico A&M, Texas Tech over West Texas State, Texas Western over Idaho.

MORE MIDLANDERS TO WORLD SERIES

Five more Midlanders left Thursday by plane for New York City to attend the World Series baseball games. They are Andrew Fasken, Murray Fasken, Pete Morgan, J. D. Dillard and Albert McReynolds.

A number of Midland residents left earlier this week to attend the opening games in Philadelphia.

Texas Rapist Held For Abduction Of Girl In Colorado

TRINIDAD, COLO. —(AP)— An escaped Texas rapist was held Thursday for the abduction of a 10-year-old girl, lured to his car with a request to help "look for my little boy."

"He grabbed my arm and twisted it, put his hand over my mouth and threw me into his car," said the girl, Gail Couey, who escaped after a 10-mile ride Wednesday. He threatened to kill her if she made any noise, she said.

Arrested Wednesday night after hiding out in the country all day, James Johnson Neely, Jr., 39, of Detroit, told Deputy Sheriff John Sebben, "I'm your man."

The brown-haired girl said he forced her to drink enough whiskey to make her drowsy, but did not harm her.

"I just wanted to play with her," Sebben quoted Neely as saying.

The Texas State Highway Patrol said Neely escaped from the Clemens Texas State Prison Farm August 31 by cutting his way out of a school room. He was serving a life sentence from Dallas County for rape.

highways within the city limits, Prichard said. The Rotary Club, before the campaign was begun, obtained the promises of Texas and Pacific Railway officials for a complete cleanup of T&P right-of-way inside the city.

Prichard said an all-out effort on the part of all Midlanders will be needed during the final stages in order to make the Clean-Up Week a success. The program has the unanimous backing of all service, civic and women's clubs in the city, all of which are urging each Midlander to do his share to make the campaign a success.

Midland Boy Scouts will patrol the city Saturday, picking up paper bundles which will be sold to an Odessa firm. All householders are urged to tie their discarded paper in neat bundles and place the bundles at intersections early Saturday so the Scouts may find them. Proceeds of the scrap paper sale will be used to purchase a replica of the Statue of Liberty, which will be placed on the courthouse lawn.

Dr. Henrie Mast Is Guest Speaker At Rotary Meeting

The nation-wide program of providing jobs for physically handicapped persons was discussed by Dr. Henrie Mast, Midland physician, at the meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer. "Helping Them to Help Themselves" was his subject.

The program was arranged and presented by Dr. H. Glen Walker, chairman of the club's Crippled Children Committee, in line with the observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week. Bill Chancellor, Jr., a director of the club, presided.

Dr. Mast told of the programs being conducted by various organizations for treating, training, rehabilitating and providing for disabled persons. Much progress is being made in this work, he stated, but the major need still is for increased employment of the physically handicapped. He explained the various types and kinds of physical disabilities and listed types of work especially suited to physically handicapped persons.

Dr. Henry Schlichting spoke briefly concerning the annual Community Chest finance drive, which opens October 17.

He termed the campaign a "six-in-one" deal, explaining that six agencies participate in Chest funds.

"For a better community, support your Community Chest. Give—Give Enough," he said.

Koreans—

tial UN armed peace-enforcement action crushed the Red invaders in three months.

To mop up the remnants, the UN forces waited only for completion of the buildup eastward from the Seoul-Inchon west coast area and for final decisions on strategy. There wa sno indication of where the main Allied blows would fall or whether they might be amphibious or overland.

The Red regime continued to ignore surrender ultimatums first aired by MacArthur Sunday and repeated since.

Intelligence officers in Tokyo said only two sizable intact Red forces remain in South Korea—2,000 men each in the Kumchon area between Taegu and Taejon, and in the Namwon area in the southwest.

Beaver Is Shocked But Recovers Soon

HELENA, MONT. —(AP)— While fishery men were operating an electrical shocking machine in Little Prickly Pear Creek, stunning fish so they could be weighed, measured and tagged, a beaver swam between the electrodes.

The startled animal leaped from the water twice, then sank. The crew on the machine hauled the dam builder to the bank and in 45 minutes the animal recovered and scurried away to resume his woodcutting.

Official Warns Of Beggars With Dogs

MORRISTOWN, N. J. —(AP)— Beggars are trying to cash in on the public's sympathy for blind persons with Seeing Eye dogs by equipping themselves with dogs that look like those trained at the Seeing Eye institute here, officials of the organization say.

Citing "increasing numbers" of complaints from persons who have "seen a blind beggar mistreating his Seeing Eye dog. "Dr. Henry A. Colgate, president of the Seeing Eye, Inc., says his organization never knowingly issues dogs to beggars. "Seeing Eye graduates are self-supporting, contributing citizens of their communities," he says.

Well this is just a part of the 10-cent pieces which were exchanged for Meadowlake Margarine from July 1 to September 30, and they're being counted by Julia Conlisk and Mrs. Florence Tayler preparatory to Meadowlake's $5,000 dime-estimating contest.

Clubs Help MHS Students Find Aptitudes; All Kinds Of School Organizations Listed

Midland High School is helping its students to find their aptitudes and interests by offering a number of clubs in which they may participate.

It is possible for a student to belong to four clubs. Clubs convene weekly.

Here are the clubs with facts listed:

Future Farmers of America: national organization for future farmers.

Band Club: for members of the band only.

Vocal Music Club: open to music enthusiasts.

Library Club: open to those interested in reading and in library work.

"M" Club: composed of lettermen in athletics.

Cub Club: open to class and room reporters.

National Forensic Club: national speech club.

Brush'n Palette Club: for those interested in art.

Model Airplane Club: build model airplanes.

National Thespian Club: national dramatics club.

Future Homemakers Club: national organization for future homemakers of America.

Geology Club: sponsored by the Midland Geological Society.

Future Teachers of America Club: national organization for those who plan to teach.

Junior Classical League: national organization for the understanding of the classical age and its effects on the present.

Business Education

Business Club: for those students getting a business education.

National Honor Society: for juniors and seniors who excel in scholarship.

Charm and Personality Club: for girls who are interested in their appearance and manners.

Science Club: for anyone who is interested in science.

Las Habladores: for speakers of beginning and advanced Spanish.

Stamp Club: for those who wish to collect stamps.

Slide Rule Club: for those who want to learn to use a slide rule.

Bible Club: for those who would like to learn more about the Bible.

For the last two weeks, these clubs have been in the organizational stage with the last two assembly periods being devoted to explanations of the clubs. These clubs are to be enlivened and enlightened by films relating to their subjects, by speeches by local businessmen, and by field trips. Some of the national organizations will send delegates to district and state conventions.

It is the belief of educators that clubs are builders of interest and of good citizenship.

Dime-Estimating Contest Announced By Mrs. Tucker

"How many 1940 dimes did Mrs. Tucker get?"

This is the thousand-dollar question folks are asking in the eight-state area where a pound of Mrs. Tucker's Meadolake Margarine was given for a 1940 dime during the last three months.

The Meadolake-for-a-1940-dime offer, which almost changed the ten-cent-piece economy of the nation, ended September 30, but immediately Mrs. Tucker announced a new contest for the estimating of these 1950 dimes she received. Five thousand dollars worth of government "E" bonds are the prizes. A bond of $1000 maturity value is the first prize for the estimate nearest the actual number of dimes received. And there are 91 other prizes in U. S. bonds.

Facts to help contestants calculate the number of dimes have been announced by Mrs. Tucker as follows: the exchange of Meadolake for 1940 dimes was for three months; 108,119,827 dimes were coined in 1940; about three per cent of all dimes in circulation July 1, 1950 were 1940 dimes; 837,000,000 pounds of margarine were consumed in 1940; and Meadolake is distributed in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado and New Mexico.

Contest details are available at stores handling Meadowlake Margarine.

If Bored, Just Go On Shopping Tour

NEW ULM, MINN. —(AP)— Sandra J. Koosmann, age three and a half, got bored when she and her mother were taking a nap. So she went shopping.

In a grocery store she helped herself to two bottles of cream, a can of soup, candy, bubble gum and cookies. She bobbed her head yes when the checker asked her if her mother had sent her and went out with her bag of groceries. But no one noticed when she added a new purse, a toy sewing machine and a little clock at another store. In a third store, busy clerks paid no attention when she tried on a new pair of shoes. Leaving her red sandals she wore them out of the store. But her bag was heavy and she set it on the sidewalk and went into a fourth store. There a friend of the family spotted her and suggested a soft drink. That slowed her down until now frantic parents caught up. Papa M. E. Koosmann found her bag on the sidewalk and retraced her trip, paying as he went.

States in which Meadolake is distributed: Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri.

MEADOLAKE IS THE NO. 1 MARGARINE FOR FLAVOR AND FRESHNESS

Made and Guaranteed by the Makers of Mrs. Tucker's Shortening

THE SIMPLE RULES

Write estimate of 1940 dimes, your name and address on the end flap of a Meadolake carton with Mrs. Tucker's picture on it, or on a plain piece of cardboard the same size and shape as this end flap and mail to Mrs. Tucker, Sherman, Texas. All cards must be uniform in size and shape for efficient judging.

You may make as many estimates as you desire, just so each estimate is on a separate end flap or card, as outlined above, with only one estimate to a card. All entries must be postmarked prior to midnight November 30, 1950.

All 1940 dimes received by Mrs. Tucker during the last three months are held in Sherman vaults and the sealed total number of these dimes will be placed in the hands of Judges between October 15 and 31, not to be opened by them until December 1 after the contest has ended.

All decisions of the judges will be final. In case of ties the entry postmarked with the earliest date and time will be declared winner. Employees of Mrs. Tucker's Foods, Inc., and the company's advertising agency are not eligible.

Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Black And White Shoe

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, hurried to the roof of the monkey house. It was very early this morning, but he bugled some bugle music on his bugle as loud as he could. He listened and heard the answering howl of the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, from away and down the Elephant Path at the Huffen's hollow tree house.

Mugwump bugled once more to be sure. Yes, the Huffen howled an answering signal to say he was ready, and so Mugwump slid on down to the ground. Away he ran down the Elephant Path, on and on Huffen's hollow tree house.

The Huffen stood in the door to meet him. The Huffen said. I'm your old friend, the Huffen Puffen, I am, I am, and I am ready to go."

"Sure," said Mugwump. "We want to tell everyone that tomorrow is Daddy Ringtail's birthday."

And so our friends were about to hurry out through the forest to tell everyone that tomorrow is Daddy Ringtail's birthday. They were about to go, but Mugwump said: "Huffen Puffen, just look at your shoes!"

"Ooooh!" said the Huffen, for he saw that one of his shoes was black, while the other one was white. The Huffen looked and then he chuckled. Said he: "Oh, it doesn't matter it doesn't, because both of the shoes are shined."

The Huffen said he was ready, he was, to go on out in the Great Forest and tell all the folks about the birthday tomorrow. Mugwump said no. He said no and no indeed The Huffen must change his shoes.

The Huffen didn't like to wait to do it, but back he ran in his house to change his shoes so that one would not be white while the other one was black.

Yes, and out he came at once with shoes that weren't changed at all. "It wouldn't do to change them, it wouldn't," said the Huffen. He explained that the shoes in the house were just like the shoes on his feet. One shoe was black. The other one was white.

And so away our friends hurried out through the forest to tell the happy news. Tomorrow is Daddy Ringtail's birthday! Happy day!

Wholesale Food Price Index Drops

NEW YORK —(AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index posted its sharpest drop in more than a year this week as wholesale prices reflected the commodity market break which followed the favorable turn in the Korean war last week.

The index skidded 11 cents to $6.50, lowest since July 25, when it was on the way up to the year's peak of $6.89, reached in the week of August 29.

When a heat-resistant glass baking dish is hot it should always be handled with a dry cloth. A wet cloth will cool the dish suddenly in the spot it touches and might cause a breakage.

Mother, Son Race To Learn To Walk

PITTSBURGH — A pretty 27-year old mother is racing with her two-month-old son to see who walks first.

The odds are that Mrs. Robert Kovach will win over chubby Tommy who was born June 7, a few months after his mother was stricken by infantile paralysis.

Mrs. Kovach was stricken in February shortly after coming to nearby McKeesport from Philadelphia with her engineer husband and two-year-old daughter, Lynn. Says she:

"We weren't even unpacked and my husband has had to batch it ever since."

Mrs. Kovach went to Pittsburgh Municipal hospital where she spent long hours on a rocking bed to aid her circulation and breathing. Then Tommy was born. He weighed a hefty seven pounds, two ounces, and now tips the scale at a healthy 10 1 2 pounds.

She has responded so well to treatment that she's in a wheel chair at the D. T. Watson home in Leetsdale. Her son keeps her company and is the delight of the staff. Officals say Mrs. Kovach will need braces for early steps but eventually is expected to walk unsupported.

CROW GETS A RIDE

FREEPORT, L.I. — (AP) — When young Frank Burt rides, his bicycle, he carries an extra passenger on the handlebars. The cargo is his pet crow, "Jet." The crow fights with the family's two dogs over bones, says hello, loughts, and sings whenever it hears organ music.

Get Proteins At Little Cost

ONE-DISH SUPPER combines kidney beans, corn and eggs in an individual dish. It's a good way to get proteins at low cost.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

The high cost of meat makes homemakers seek equally good but less costly protein in other foods. Eggs get top rating for their protein. Dried beans contain protein, too, even though it is not a complete protein like that in eggs. But when combined with eggs, beans boost the nutrition at very little cost.

Try this one-dish luncheon or supper:

Frijoles with Eggs
(4 servings)

Two tablespoons fat, 1/2 cup finely diced onion, 1 small clove garlic, minced, 1 1/2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, No. 2 can kidney beans, 1 1/2 cups cooked corn, or 12-ounce can whole kernel corn, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1/8 teaspoon curry powder, 1 bouillon cube, 1 large green pepper, 4 eggs.

Melt fat over moderate heat in flying pan. Add onion and garlic and cook about 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add kitchen bouquet and stir in. Add kidney beans and corn.

Sprinkle with salt, pepper and curry powder. Add bouillon cube. Heat thoroughly, making sure bouillon cube is dissolved. Pour into individual baking dishes.

Cut green pepper into four 1/2-inch slices. Arrange green pepper slices to form cup in center of each casserole. Break an egg carefully into each green pepper ring.

Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees F., until egg white is set, about 25 minutes. Serve immediately.

Here's a good sandwich spread that packs a nutrition wallop at low cost:

Pork and Bean Sandwich Spread

One pound can pork and beans, 3 tablespoons sweet relish, 2 tablespoons salad dressing or mayonnaise.

Mash the beans. Add relish and salad dressing; mix thoroughly. Spread between slices of toast or bread. Makes 8 sandwiches.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Minnie the melder dealt and turned up a four spot. The score was opponents 3880, Minnie and her partner Hold-up Harry 2470.

The first three discards in order were 4-4-5. Minnie's hand consisted of a joker, a duce and ace-king- king- jack-nine-eight- eight four-four. She drew a five spot.

At this point Minnie could have melded her 90 in any one of several ways but did restrain her melding impluses. Minnie loves to meld but even Minnie is not going to use her two wild cards to make a first round meld when there is no urgent reason to do so. Minnie simply discarded the five.

The next player drew and discarded a queen. Hold-up Harry placed joker-nine nine and two queens on the table, added the queen from on top of the discard pile, took the rest of the pile into his hand and discarded one of the three fours.

Without seeing Harry's full hand we can't be sure that his discard of one of the fours was correct. However, the chances are that the play was all right. Except in very unusually circumstances when you start by taking a fair-sized discard pile and the opponents need 120 you should forget about playing for out in a hurry and try to play for a big hand. With Hold-up Harry that particular play was automatic.

Generous George who played next drew and discarded a nine right in the ace of the meld of joker-nine-nine on the table.

George held a poor hand and that was his only nine. He did not know how many nines Minnie held and didn't much care. He knew that barring a mircle, he was going to lose on the hand and that before the hand was over his opponents would probably make several canastas anyway. Hence, he did not worry at all about letting them make a canasta in nines quickly.

Minnie took the nine with a polite "Thank you, George," and added it to the nine meld. Then she melded the four with the two in her hand and added her own nine and joker to the nine meld. This made a meld of four nines and two jokers and left her side one from a canasta in nines.

Minnie discarded her jack and her hand now was ace-king-king-8-8-2.

This was not a good play, neither was it a particulary bad play. In my next article I will analyze that play and describe the further progress of the hand. Actually, this play started a sequence that wound up disastrously for Minnie, but the principal blame for what sequence is due to plays made later on by her partner.

Add grated yellow cheese to creamed diced potatoes for a flavor change. Sprinkle with chopped chives of parsley cut fine with kitchen scissors.

Sites For 77 New Tests Are Spotted In Wes-Tex District

Locations for 77 new petroleum explorations in district No. 8 of Texas were reported to the Midland office of the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas during the last week.

Scurry County again led the list with a total of 20 new field projects. Ector County was next with 16 new drillsites.

Crane and Kent Counties each reported four new projects. Three new locations were listed in each of Andrews, Borden and Mitchell Counties.

Cochran, Dawson, Gaines, Hockley, Howard and Pecos Counties each gained two new explorations.

The remaining sites were staked one each in Loving and Yoakum Counties.

Ten wildcat locations were reported in the area during the last week. Pecos and Terry Counties each received two of the new prospectors. The remainder of new ventures was divided one each among Andrews, Crane, Dickens, Garza, Howard, Irion, and Ward Counties.

Ten amended applications were filed. Scurry County claimed three of these. Two amended applications were filed in each of Crane, Gaines and Howard Counties. Borden received one amended location.

In addition Kent, Lynn and Reeves Counties each reported an amended application filed on a previously reported wildcat location.

Radios Help Out Canada's Schools

TORONTO —(AP)—For 30 minutes every day during the school term children in approximately 20,000 schoolrooms in English-speaking Canada gather around a radio or loudspeaker to hear their history, science, music and English studies supplemented by dramatized versions of their texts.

The school broadcast on a nation wide basis began in 1942. Since that time 6,764 schools have applied for and received from the department of transport free receiving licenses. Hundreds of rural schools have a small mantel radio around which the pupils gather with their teacher to hear the programs. In larger schools a loudspeaker system is installed.

W. S. Huthford, Deputy minister of Education for Ontario, says the programs are very helpful in stimulating the children's interest. Ontario he says, is rapidly expanding its receiving network.

THANKS TO PROSECUTOR

VICTORIA, B. C. —(AP)— Prosecutors don't often get thanks, especially from the wives of the men prosecuted. But one woman was grateful for her husband being called to court and ordered to pay hospital insurance premiums. Her husband now is in a hospital and if the action hadn't been taken "we'd be faced with hospital bills we couldn't afford," she said.

The pencil-making business of the German Faber family dates back to 1760, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

TAKES THE UPS AND DOWNS—This six-wheeled truck-tractor, with drive to all wheels, was shown at a motor show in London, Eng. The vehicle's flexible wheel mountings are designed for rugged terrain and can go through water six feet deep.

Everyone seems to like macaroni products. Not only because they taste wonderful, but also because they are inexpensive when it comes to feeding the family.

Creamed Macaroni Gratin
(4-6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces elbow macaroni, 4 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 2 tablesspoons flour, 1 cup light cream, 1 cup milk, 1 cup celery, cut in match-like strips, 1 cup zucchini squash—cut in match-like strips, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup cooked tongue, ham or tripe—cut in strips, salt and pepper, parmesan cheese.

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni as water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain incolander. In a saucepan, melt butter or margarine over low heat; add flour and blend. Add cream and milk. Simmer until thickened, stirring constantly. Place vegetables in a small amount of salted water in a saucepan. Cover and bring to a boil. Cook 2 minutes; drain. Combine cooked macaroni, sauce, meat and vegetables. Season to taste. Pour into a 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350 Deg. F.) for 30 minutes. Serve immediately.

Macaroni and Tongue Gratin
(4-6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces elbow macaroni, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1 medium-sized green pepper—cut into thin strips, 6-8 mushrooms—cut into thin strips, 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, 1 cup cooked tongue, tripe or ham, cut into thin strips, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, parmesan cheese.

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni as water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. In a heavy skillet, melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add onions, green pepper and mushrooms. Saute for 5 minutes. Stir in tomatoes and bring to simmering point. Pour over cooked macaroni. Add meat and seasonings to macaroni mixture. Pour into individual casseroles. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in moderate oven (350 Deg. F.) for 30 minutes. Serve immediately.

Sweeten mashed sweet potatoes with honey and adde seedless raisins that have been soaked in boiling water for five minutes and then drained. Spoon into a casserole and bake in a moderately hot oven for about 20 minutes.

Israel Arabs Form Village Governments

JERUSALEM —(AP)— Israel's Arab population of 165,000 is steadily moving toward local self-government.

The department for minorities in the ministry of interior has just authorized the establishment of local governing councils in five Arab villages. About 100 of these councils are to be formed eventually.

Korean Women Play Busy War Role, Also Active In Politics

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK — The women of South Korea, who have something to say about their government for the first time in 4000 years, are doing something about the war, too.

One of them is Louise Yim of Seoul, only woman in the South Korean cabinet, who is now in America in her role as adviser to President Syngman Rhee. Five hundred others are on the Korean police force, and a few even are piloting planes with supplies to the front lines.

"In the 1948 election, 50 per cent of the votes were cast by women. It was the first time they had voted in over 4000 years of our history," Miss Yim explains. "In the second election, in May, 1950, Korean women got out the vote."

Death List

Though most of them are not well educated, Korean women are eager to take part in public life.

"If necessary, they'll fight at the front or in the streets," Miss Yim says emphatically. "Meanwhile, they raise money for soap and other necessities for the soldiers at the front. They do whatever they can."

Her original purpose in coming here, just before the war, was to raise funds for Central University, the co-educational college she established at Seoul in 1932. The Japanese closed the university during World War II because Miss Yim refused to train its girls as nurses for the Japanese army. Miss Yim's name was placed on the death list and she was saved only by the end of the war a month later.

Miss Yim, who was born in Kumsan, in South Korea, got a first-hand knowledge of the inside of Japanese jails in 1919, during a national uprising. She was distributing revolutionary pamphlets when the Japanese police caught her and sent her to jail for six months.

On her release, she attended high school in Tokyo because she wanted to watch the Japanese operate. She then returned to Korea to teach at Ewha College in Seoul. Her teachers' license was taken away when she made speeches advocating Korean freedom. She finally reached California in 1924, where she studied for and got both her B. A. and M. A. at the University of Southern California.

Founds University

She invested her savings in several California service stations and with the profits returned to Korea to found Central University, where students are trained for positions in government and education.

When the Korean republic became a fact after World War II, Miss Yim was in the first cabinet as minister of Commerce and Industry. She is head of the Korean Women's Democratic Party. But she feels that her role as president of Central University is most important because of the part education plays in the fight against communism.

"Our people must be educated in order to resist the Communists," she says. "An ignorant people fall easy prey to communism."

Kaiser-Frazer Autos Assembled In Israel

HAIFA, ISRAEL. —(AP)— The first Kaiser-Frazer cars to be assembled in Israel are expected to start rolling out of a plant here by the end of November.

One hundred workmen now are busy putting a plant in shape for operation. Once production starts, the employment rolls may go up to 250 to 300 men.

The enterprise, in the Haifa Bay area, is backed by American and Israeli interests. Most of the vehicles assembled here are to be exported although a limited number will be for sale within Israel.

India Building Up Fleet Of Airliners

NEW DELHI, INDIA —(AP)— India is pulling a new airline fleet from the dusty five-year-old pile of war disposals left here by the Allies.

The Communications Ministry has announced that 70 twin-engined Curtiss Commandos, used in wartime to carry freight, will be reconditioned as passenger planes. India's present commercial fleet consists largely of another wartime plane, the Douglas DC-3.

Here's High Style Spaghetti

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Caproni's restaurant in Cincinnati lures gourmets from all parts of the United States. Gabriele DiMaiolo, who has been chef at the restaurant for the past 25 years, is a magician with macaroni products. This is the way Caproni's chef makes two of their popular spaghetti dishes.

Spaghetti Gabriele
(8-10 Servings)

One half cup olive oil, 1/4 cup butter or fortified margarine, 3 cloves garlic, minced, 1 cup sliced onions, 1/2 cup chopped celery, 1 cup chopped parsley, 12 ounces mushrooms, 1/2 pound coarsely ground beef, 1/2 pound coarsely ground pork, 1/2 pound coarsely ground veal, 1 No. 2 1/2 can tomatoes, 1 6-ounce can tomato paste, 1/2 teaspoon ground whole spices, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 teaspoon thyme, 3 tablespoons salt, 6 quarts boiling water, 2 pounds thin spaghetti, 1/4 cup butter or fortified margarine, 2 tablespoons grated Italian cheese, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley.

In a large heavy skillet, heat olive oil and melt butter or margarine. Add garlic, onions, celery, parsley, mushrooms and meat. Saute until golden brown. Add tomatoes, tomato paste; simmer for 1 hour. Add spices, pepper, 1 tablespoon salt and thyme.

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti as water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Place dry cooked spaghetti in saucepan; add 1/4 cup butter or margarine, cheese and parsley. Cover and let stand for 2-3 minutes. Add small amount of sauce to spaghetti mixture; bend well. Serve spaghetti with remaining sauce.

Spaghetti Tortozini
(6 Servings)

One-quarter cup butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 drops yellow coloring, 1 pint light cream, 1 tablespoon Italian cheese, 1 teaspoon salt 1 1/2 pound chicken, boiled or roasted, 2 tablespoons salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 1 pound thin spaghettis, 1/4 cup butter or fortified margarine, 2 tablespoons grated Italian cheese, paprika.

In a saucepan, melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add flour and blend. Add coloring and cream; simmer until thick, stirring constantly. Stir in cheese and salt. Chop dark chicken meat. Add to half of cream sauce.

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Add 1/4 cup butter or margarine and 2 tablespoons cheese. Combine with chicken-cream sauce.

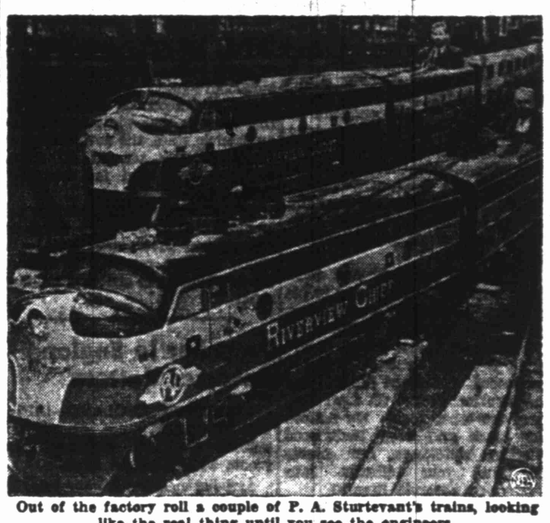

Slice breast of chicken paper-thin. Place spaghetti mixture into individual casseroles; top with slice of chicken breast. Spread with cream sauce. Sprinkle with additional grated Italian cheese and dash of paprika. Place under broiler until golden brown. Serve immediately.

You Can Ride This RR Tycoon's Trains All Over, But You Won't Get Very Far

Out of the factory roll a couple of P. A. Sturtevant's trains, looking like the real thing until you see the engineers.

RENSSELAER, IND. — (NEA) — The sleek and streamlined trains that roll from the half-acre concrete factory on the outskirts of Renssealer run on railroads all over the U. S., in Hawaii, South America and Mexico.

But you'll never get very far riding on one of them.

Rensselaer's streamliners are made in the biggest factory of its kind in the world—the Miniature Train and Railroad Co.—and the roads they run on are in parks, zoos, circuses, carnivals, and even in department stores during holiday seasons.

The size doesn't keep P. A. Sturtevant, founder of the factory, from being a railroad tycon. He got that way in 1928 when he built a miniature steam locomotive in which to ride around in his yard.

Gets In Business

When the depression came, the former Illinois toolmaker didn't feel right about having $1,500 tied up in a toy in his backyard, so he leased it to a department store. That put him in business.

With a neighbor, he opened his factory and switched from steam to reproductions of streamlined diesels.

One of his present models is electrically operated; another is entirely portable, and can be loaded on a two-wheel trailer and hauled behind an automobile from carnival to carnival, a method of transportation which would make other railroad magnates blush.

Latest is an exact one-fifth scale reproduction of the General Motors diesel used by big railroads. The two-unit locomotive is more than 20 feet long, is powered by two four-cylinder V-type aircooled motors, and even has airbrakes. Total weight is 3,600 pounds, and it will roll as fast as 20 miles an hour.

Youngsters aren't the only passengers. At the Chicago Railroad Fair last year, one of Sturtevant's trains hauled 196,280 people—about half of them grownups.

If you're figuring on one of these railroads for your own backyard, however, you'd better line up some of the neighbors as stockholders. The cheapest model, which is the portable setup, sells for $2,985. The twin diesel unit, with six passenger cars, has a $12,500 price tag.

Accident Cures Limp Of Illinois Resident

JACKSONVILLE, ILL. — (AP) — Because of an accident, Clarence Ketter may be able to walk much better. Ketter, 35, suffered a crippling leg injury in a motorcycle accident when he was 18. He developed a limp.

Recently, Ketter was hurt in another traffic accident. His left leg was shattered in almost the same place. Dr. Harold Norris says he believes resetting the bone straightened the angle of Ketter's leg.

Woman Is General In Nationalist Army

TAIPEI, FORMOSA —(AP)— People usually look twice when they see Miss Chou Mei-yu.

It isn't her looks. What attracts attention is the star she wears, the insignia of a major general in the Nationalist Army.

Miss—pardon—General Chou is the only woman to hold such rank in Chiang Kai-shek's forces. She is in charge of training nurses for the Nationalist Army. Born and brought up in Peiping, she was trained at the famed Rockefeller-endowed Peking Union Medical College.

Israel Plans Oil From Sunflowers

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL —(AP)— Israelis hope to get oil supplies from sunflowers growing in the Negev desert wilderness of southern Israel.

The newspaper "Haboker" said sunflowers should supply all the raw material needed for Israel's local consumption of oil.

It added experiments conducted in the negev resulted in a fat yield of 84 per cent as compared with an 80 per cent fat yield from imported plants, mainly from Turkey.

Youth Center Chatter

By JOYCE HOWELL

Hi! Here we are again!

First off, we want to express our thanks to Mrs. A. G. Williams who was the temporary Youth Center director for two week while Mrs. Gwyn was on vacation. Mrs. Williams' daughter, Elizabeth, also assisted her mother around the Center. We were very glad to have you with us, Mrs. Williams, and we hope you will come back to visit us again.

This week we again are very proud of our football team. The Midland Bulldogs won last Friday night's game against Forest High School of Dallas by a score of 21 to 2. Two busloads of MHHS students went to Dallas for the game. Other students went by private car.

The two busses were well-decorated with "Beat Forest High" and "Yea Bulldogs" signs. When a lot of teeners get together for a long trip there is bound to be a lot of noise and fun—and off-key singing, and this trip was no exception. Dona Ingham supplied a very high soprano to "I'll Never Be Free"—which we think must be one of her favorite songs.

The two busses ran a contest of sorts to see which could get to Dallas first. One bus left at 7:15 a.m. Friday and the other left 15 minutes later. Stopping for meals allowed the busses to catch up and pass one another.

"Stink Pipes"

On the way home John Zant and Gary Throckmorton bought pipes—called "stink pipes" by the girls—which they attempted to smoke. Of course, the smoke almost asphyxiated the other occupants of the bus, but the boys really enjoyed them anyway.

Daffy Tabor (who undoubedly got her nickname from the daffy things she does) fell asleep with a B-B-Bat stick of candy in her mouth. When she woke up, she found her arm and the sleeve of her dress stuck to her mounth!

Several teeners decided to spend their free time riding the streetcars and visiting Fair Park in Dallas. Tony Dunagan, Joe Barnett, Bill Crites, Mary Jo Hale, Mary Neill and Betty Bolton got on a streetcar during the late afternoon when the car was well filled. It was Mary's first ride and the others were trying to impress her with their "man of the world" attitudes.

Mary later said several of the other passengers just stared at them in amazement. The car started on past their stop when Tony yelled out, "Stop! Let me off this thing!" Despite all mishaps, the group arrived at Fair Park safely.

Alton Scroggins, W. B. Franklin, Leo Hatfield, Norman Drake, Red Scott and Charles Linebarger went to Dallas in Charlie's car. They decided to come straight home after the game. They planned to share the driving and have one person in the front seat to keep the driver awake. The plan worked very well—at least until Red woke up and found the car parked by the side of the road, the headlights on, and everyone asleep at eight o'clock in the morning. Red exchanged places with Al, who was the "Keep the Driver Awake" man and they too, arrived safely home.

Early Arrival

Those riding on the busses arrived home at 7 a.m. Saturday and spent the rest of the day sleeping. Miss Bonnie Eddy and Mr. Marks, two of the high school teachers, were the chaperones on the trip.

The cheerleaders put everything into their yells last Friday night and certainly you could tell it when the game was over. They had led the yells from an asphalt covered area, and their knees were black. Peggy Charleton fell down in her enthusiasm and when she got up she accidentally wiped her face with her hands. Presto! One striped face! The nice white trousers the boys wore, and the pretty white skirts of the girls turned a grayish white before the evening was half over.

Friday night the Bulldogs play Mineral Wells on our own field here in Midland. We'll expect to see all of you out for this game. Don't forget the big football dance at the Youth Center after the game. Music by the juke box, and free refreshments will be there for everyone. We had a record crowd for the first football dance and we expect to break that record Friday night.

Saturday afternoon when the football boys returned from Dallas, there were a lot of cars parked at the football field. Parents were there to take the boys home and a lot of girls also were out there to see the boys. They really got quite a reception!

Important Meeting

This Saturday afternoon at two o'clock there will be a meeting of all members of the Youth Center to elect Junior Council members for the following year. Two representatives each will be elected from the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes. Two representatives also will be elected from Junior High School. Each class will vote on its representatives separately. From this Junior Council, the director will select five members to act as an Honor Council for the following year. The Honor Council will decide upon penalties for those disobeying the Youth Center rules. These penalties must be approved by the senior directors before being enforced.

Plans for the following years also will be discussed. This will be the most important meeting of the year, and we hope to see all of the Youth Center members present. Remember, 2 p.m. Saturday in the Center.

Wandering Thoughts:

We had three visitors from our neighbor city of Odessa last weekend. Roy Downing, Clyde Wright, and Tommy Thompson were at the Center with Jimmy Chauncey.

Here's a piece of news of which we are very proud. Jimmy Chauncey was elected vice president of the Freshman Class at Odessa College.

Have you heard Jackie Brady's horn? It really has a very different (to put it mildly) sound!

Wonder if Russell Huckably's hat is glued to his head—we seldom see him without it!

David Laverty really had the football announcer talking about him last Friday night. As David went on the field, the commentator said, "and David is a good-looking senior. His parents are here tonight. He is also president of the Senior Class." Did you pay him, David?

Who's lipstick was Bill Franklin sporting at school last week? (The lipstick was on his handkerchief!)

Pretty Shirts

Bill Spence certainly has some pretty shirts. The newest one in his collection is dark with a red, green, yellow and black duck on the front.

Just wonder if Lee Woods is dying of a broken heart. He played the record, "Enclosed You'll find One Broken Heart" at least five times the other night. We noticed Dan Black and Fred Underwood collecting billfolds a few nights ago. Miss your billfolds, Jane Beakey and Georgia Stamb?

The boys obviously feel that the girls play a much better game of pool when they are around to help them. Emily Hamilton, Mary Ann McRae, and Sue Ann Francis were assisted by Jim Chauncey. The situation was reversed the next night. Robert Melton, Dan Black and Fred Underwood were assisted by Dona Ingam.

College News

From SMU we have news of two boys who have pledged fraternities. John Torbett, a freshman, is pledging Kappa Sigma. John is an active member of the Band at SMU. Dick Giles, who also is a freshman, is pledging Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

At Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., Maggie Murphey, also a freshman, pledged Tri-Delts. Kent Miller, who is attending the Colorado School of Mines at Golden, will become a member of the ATO. Rosalyn Leggett, a freshman at Sophie Newton, in New Orleans, is pledging Kappa Alpha Theta. At the University of Texas, Sara Lew Link is pledging Kappa Alpha Theta. She is a Sophomore.

That's about all the news for this week, so "Goober" till next time.

Pakistan Leader Asks Moslem State

KARACHI —(AP)— A 70-year-old-bearded divine who denounces western ways and demands a theocratic state is winning new followers for a political party whose origin was a religious group. Moulana Abul Ala Moudoodi's party is the Jamaat-E-Islami, or Theocratic Islamic Party. His theme is that while Pakistan is an Islamic state, the government of Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan is "un-Islamic and far from Islamic Ideals."

He would give no place in the administration to non-Moslems. The present government includes a Hindu cabinet minister and there are Englishmen in civil and military ranks.

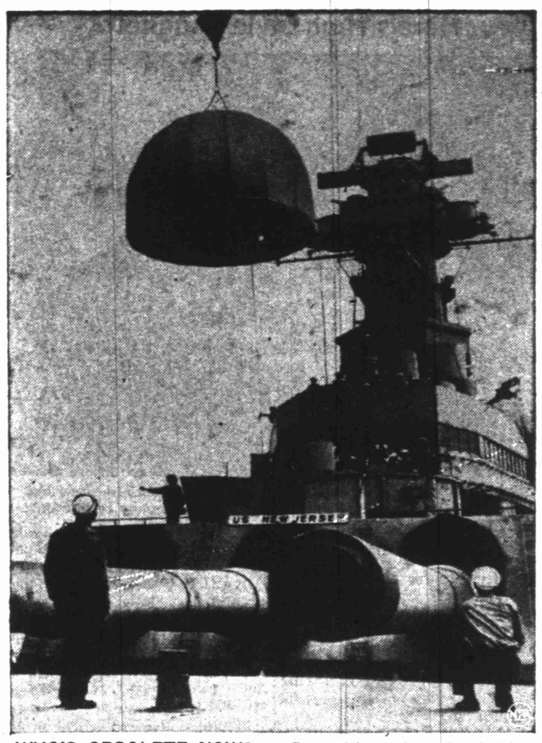

Preacher In England Reverses Pattern

WOLLATON, ENGLAND—(AP)—The Rev. M. F. Giles reversed the pattern and left the bride and groom waiting at the altar.

Arriving nearly an hour late, he found the couple already signing the marriage register after having the vows in front of a hurriedly summoned substitute.

"I'm sorry," apologized Mr. Giles. "I forgot about the wedding."

Next time you prepare creamed onions, fry some bacon slices until crisp, then drain and crumble over the top of the onions just before serving. To save time cooking in hot weather use the small white onions (not pickled) that come in jars.

WHO'S OBSOLETE NOW? — Some folk insisted battleships were obsolete, but it seems that the U.S.S. Missouri's great record in the Korean war changed that. The U. S. S. New Jersey, shown here being de-mothballed at Bayonne, N. J., is being fitted for active service on rush orders. The New Jersey is one of three fast, 45,000-ton battleships built during World War II, the others being the Wisconsin and the Iowa.

Deviled eggs are particularly delicious when the yolks are mashed with butter or margarine, salt, freshly-ground pepper, dry or prepared mustard and a little vinegar. Don't press the filling flat when the eggs are re-stuffed with it, but ruffle with a fork and sprinkle with paprika.

Civil War Rocks Paris Fashion World

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON
AP Newsfeatures

PARIS—The tight little world of high French fashion is coming apart at the seams.

This world now is rocking with a virtual civil war over the issue of whether big name labels should be put on ladies' ready-to-wear counters.

For the last quarter of a century, at least, the Paris fashion world has kept its squabblings, its disputes and its razor-keen competition strictly in the family. On the surface all seemed serene.

Now the break has come into the open, and the name - calling is something terrific.

Five Houses

It all started when five prominent fashion houses formed a syndicate called Couturiers Associes (Associated Couturiers) and made plans to put 35 models a season into mass production — at prices shopgirls could afford.

The howl that went up from some of the other 80-odd designers sounded like a husband looking at the month's bills.

"It will ruin the business," said Elsa Schiaparelli, whose originality and versatility have blazed fashion trails for two decades. "I'm dead against it."

Loudest voices in the wave of protest are those of the smaller of the 85 or so fashion houses in Paris. Their business is mainly the lower-priced—but still exclusive—designs they can sell to customers who don't have the money to buy originals from names like Dior, Balmain, Schiaparelli or Fath.

To the smaller houses, the organization of the ready-to-wear could be a death knell.

Own Names

The five who formed the syndicate, however, are undisturbed by the clamor. They are Jean Desses, Jacques Fath, Robert Piquet and the houses of Pacquin and Carvin.

Said Jacques Fath in an interview:

"We are just proceeding to exploit our own names, for our benefit, as commissionaires have been doing for years.

"I am a Frenchman. I want to see women in the provinces dress well at prices they can afford to pay. I have been helping dress American women well for years, and I find it difficult to refuse a chance to do the some for women of my own country."

Not In Paris

Under the syndicate's plan, each of the five designers will turn out two frocks, two suits, two coats and a raincoat every season, making a total of 35 models. The models will be turned over to Jean Gaumont-Lanvin, himself a one-time designer, who will adapt them for mass production and turn them out for about $30 to $40 apiece, complete with the label of the designer who created them.

The syndicate agreed not to sell in Paris, but the French provincial towns will have the clothes. The designers decided they would be competing with their own lower price "boutiques" (shops) if they sold in Paris.

Jean Desses, who makes a specialty of dressing ladies of half a dozen royal families, says the syndicate is the answer to a trend in the fashion business.
