LAMESA BUSINESS MEN TO VISIT SEMINOLE

DATE FOR TRIP SET FOR NEXT TUESDAY

Next Tuesday evening the business men of Lamesa—their wives and their friends will motor to Seminole where a goodwill program has been arranged there with the business men and their wives. The program starts there at 8 P. M.

A barbecue has been arranged and every person from Lamesa is expected to pay the price of 50 cents for a plate there. The Lamesa band will go—and will parade in their new uniforms—furnishing music for the occasion.

Everyone who is in business in Lamesa in any way is urged to go to this affair. "We shall need cars to take the band," so state the officials in charge. Telephone your reservations to the chamber of commerce office not later than Monday noon of next week—if you expect to go—and tell us if you can take a band boy or two.

A rousing good program has been arranged and all who fail to go to Seminole will miss a real treat and a fine opportunity to make some business with these people.

The Seminole people will return to Lamesa at a near future time. It is an excellent opportunity to get acquainted and to create goodwill for more business from this territory.

Lamesa wake up! Time to step out and get some of this new oil business that will certainly go somewhere else if Lamesa isn't alert. Phone the chamber of commerce now and tell them you're going. Do not wait for some one to ask you.

Farmers to Sell Surplus Cotton Tickets

The County Agent's office has this week received blanks and information in regard to the National Tax Exemption Pool. The surplus tickets of Dawson county can be sold outside of this county only through the National Pool. The price of these will be four cents per pound less carrying charges. Payment on these will come when the pool is closed. The portion of these tickets not sold will be re-issued back to the producer.

The first shipment to the National Pool was 917,560 pounds, and others are ready to be sent. Every farmer who wishes to sell tickets are urged to put them in the pool at once.

Goodwill Program At Luncheon Club

A goodwill program was had at the Luncheon Club Tuesday noon. S. L. Forrest was in charge and the program was conducted in the manner of a roundtable discussion.

The club was led in two rousing good songs by the club songster, Owen Taylor. Mrs. Matt A. McCall was at the piano for the first time in several months.

The invocation was given by the Rev. A. L. Dennis, pastor of the Nazarene Church here.

Many goodwill suggestions were heard from members of the club. The most meaning and telling suggestions revolved around the idea of creating a friendly spirit for Lamesa and doing it in all sincerity. Other suggestions said, "build our highways", while others warned to "give the customer values in merchandise at reasonable cost to them." The Luncheon Club and Lions Club were cited as mediums for goodwill to visitors and customers. Trades Day was another feature that business men were asked to keep up as a medium of goodwill.

The program next Tuesday will be held at night at Seminole and there will be no regular noon day program as all members are planning to go to Seminole and take their wives, or sweethearts.

To Offer Night School For the Unemployed

By authority of the Texas Relief Commission and the State Superintendent's office, the local school superintendent, V. Z. Rogers, has been requested to set up plans for teaching here a night school for unemployed and others, general adult education covering a number of subjects in this field.

The purpose of this offer is to improve the general education level of the people who want to study and learn, who may not have had the opportunity earlier in life to go to school as they would have liked. The course will be open to men and women and will be free to all who register.

Courses will be taught from the adult standpoint rather than the child's viewpoint.

Courses of interest to ladies only will be organized if there is sufficient demand, for the purpose of studying child care, cooking and sewing and general household organization.

Persons interested are requested by Mr. Rogers to register at the chamber of commerce in the City Hall downtown. As soon as possible this should be done as the whole plan for the conducting of this school depends on the number registered and the demand. Before this work can be started there must be a class of at least twelve organized.

Here is a fine opportunity for our people to get lined up again in school at no cost to them. Who will be the first to register at the chamber of commerce office at the City Hall.

A Careless Match

Golden Tornadoes Defeat Snyder Tigers

Last Friday night was opening night of the high school football season in Lamesa with the Snyder Tigers furnishing the opposition.

The Tigers came to town with enough boys for three teams and were accompanied by a large number of Snyder fans. The game resulted in a Golden Tornado victory by the narrow margin of one point, the score being Lamesa 7, Snyder 6.

The Tornadoes were placed "in the hole" on the first kick-off when the ball went over the Tornadoes and was killed by McKinnon on the six yard line. The Tornadoes by line plunges, end runs and well placed kicks soon got out of the hole and took charge of the game though the Tigers were playing hard all the way.

The superiority of the Tigers was indicated by the number of first downs made which was reported as fifteen to one. Penetrations into the opposition's territory, i. e. when the ball is on or nearer than the opponent's 20 yard line, were four for Lamesa one of which resulted in a score and point after goal to none for Snyder unless their touchdown play is so considered.

Lamesa threatened to score early in the first quarter but lost the opportunity by the infliction of a penalty when an official thought he saw a Tornado illegally holding a Tiger. The scoring play came in the second quarter when Lamesa had worked the ball into the scoring position by well executed runs by McKinnon, Berry, Boswell and Jordan. On the scoring play, a back started for the goal but fumbled on being tackled. The fumble was recovered by Mitchell for the tally. Point was kicked by Cozzens, making the score Tornadoes 7, Tigers 0.

Snyder's scoring play furnished a thrill for the vast crowd when in the fourth quarter a long pass to the left side was intercepted by the state champion hurdler, Wolcott of the Tigers who outran all the Tornadoes, so much that only one followed him any considerable distance and that without crowding him, to make their score add up to six points. Try for point went too much to the left and was outside the posts.

The crowd was by far the largest which ever witnessed an early season game in Lamesa and several hundred were outside the fence. The pep squad and high school band added to the entertainment throughout the game and especially between halves when following a beautiful drill, the "Football Queen" Doris Robertson was awarded the crown by Captain George Berry of the Golden Tornadoes.

Next Home Games With McCamey

The next game on the Lamesa field and under the lights will be that with McCamey on October 5. The game will begin shortly after dark.

McCamey is a Class A school and has been since starting football. They hold their own in the district play-off with Big Spring, Colorado, Sweetwater and San Angelo, which with the McCamey team makes up the list of schools in their district. Their team is reported to be coming along well and to be composed of fast running and fast blocking men. Their coach this season is Mr. Hayhurst, who until last year was coach at Brownfield where he developed district and bi-district championship teams in a small school like Lamesa.

McCamey coaches, like Lamesa coaches, desire the best competition available prior to the playing of conference games. This game will be the third for each team and the season will be far enough advanced that the teams should be ship-shape thus giving their followers a definite idea of their relative strength in their respective conferences.

Football Players and Their Numbers

The following are members of the 1934 Golden Tornado squad and for the purpose of identification each player wears a sweater with a large number upon it and these are kept during the season unless the sweater gets destroyed in action in which event boys might be assigned another number or sweaters exchanged.

Berry, captain No. 53; Boswell, 51; Gaines, 59; Addison, 38; McKinnon, 54; Burdine, 50; Cozzens, 45; Harrell, 47; Stephens, 46; Jordan, 52; Gilbert 37; Hill 57; Kirksey 56; Mitchell 48; Hughes 60; Adams, 44; Morgan 43; Fuson 36; Hahn 24; Huddleston 77; Boyd 28; Fambrough 30; Walker 42; Matthews 31; Roberts, C., 40; Roberts, E., 39; Sandel 25; Lee 27.

Traffic Rules To Be Enforced

"Save the life of a child." What does this statement mean to you? Does it not strike you very forcibly? Think of it seriously. If someone were to run over someone else's child and kill it, or maim it for life—it would be bad enough—but if some one ran over our child and either killed or maimed it—it would be too bad, that's all.

But to the meat in the "coconut". An effort is being made to lessen the possibilities of injuring the school children near the school buildings by the city officials, after being requested to take action by prominent business men and citizens of Lamesa. City Marshall Phinizy is watching the moving of traffic near the schools with diligence. He is finding that cars are traveling too fast and many are not stopping at the "stop signs" at the end of South and North First Streets. Mr. Phinizy has strict orders from the City Commission to strictly enforce the City ordinances on speeding and failure to stop at all stop signs in the city limits.

Mr. Phinizy states that he has had so far, splendid cooperation in matters of traffic regulations and that he expects all to fall in line from now on.

Reports have come to the city hall that several prominent men and women in Lamesa have been guilty of speeding and running stop signs. Mr. Phinizy has called attention to these people that such practice is expected to stop.

Another very urgent request coming to the city officials is to ask the school children not to walk on the pavement, it being pointed out that the side walks are made for pedestrians and the streets are made for the automobiles and all other modes of traffic. Warning is therefore given to school children to clear the streets and take to the side walks as a necessity of safety. If an accident should occur while a pedestrian is on the streets the liability is on the pedestrian, it is pointed out. Parents are therefore urged to cooperate with the city and school officials in requesting their children to stay off the streets while afoot. Parents who permit their children to drive cars are requested to caution them not to speed and to stop at all stop signs.

This city is asking full cooperation on the part of all that the safety of our children be insured. It does not wish to make any one mad or incur the ill feeling of any one—but regardless of who it is all must respect the traffic rules, including our men, women, boys and girls.

Bicycle riders are also warned to ride to the side of the streets and strictly observe all traffic rules as is required of automobiles, according to instructions coming from the Mayor and City Commission.

Following the address there will be dinner spread on the grounds, where there will be plenty of water, eats, and an opportunity for every member and visitor to get acquainted with one another. After dinner, the following program will be rendered:

Any friends from these nine churches, together with any members from First Church, Lamesa, who may wish to bring their dinner and join with us in the all-day program and get-together are cordially invited. The following Methodist congregations are uniting in this all-day

THE JUNIOR WHIRLWIND

(Too late for last week) With aches and groans, the Juniors managed to come to school Monday morning, but after that picnic you can imagine how sore they were. Riding on a truck without sideboards, and thick mesquite brush just don't go so well together.

Members of the class met at the school building about dusk Friday evening, and left town about eight o'clock, headed for the Flying W ranch. As soon as the picnic spot was reached, the class fell to with a will, and with the help of some of the boys who knew all about building a well campfire, we soon had the meal cooked and ready to eat. Sandwiches, potato chips, fruit, cookies, and punch made up the supper which was eaten by firelight. Someone failed to bring the cups to drink punch, so while one held the jar, another drank. And if there was one who came back without a plentiful sprinkling of punch, he should be given a large brass button.

After an hour spent in songs, talk and stories, it was decided that a start back to the village had better be made, but the ride back home was rather spooky. Everyone was tired and could think of nothing to say, so with everyone looking out in the dark, wolves howling, and cows bawling, it was a queer-feeling trip home. But everyone had a wonderful picnic.

We have lost one of our old members, but have gained two new ones. Juanita Frazier Hooten has gone to New Mexico. Dorothy Jordan from Carleton and M. L. Webb, a former student, have enrolled this week.

Mrs. J. J. Lindsey returned Saturday from Christoval where she has been for medical treatment.

Miss Mary Snell of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Snell here the past week end.

Lamesa To Get New Gas Rate

Mr. R. F. Hinchey, vice-president of the West Texas Gas Company, has announced that Lamesa and all towns served by the Company are to be offered another gas rate reduction. The City of Lamesa a few weeks ago, authorized the West Texas Gas Company to install an optional rate available to all domestic and commercial consumers who desired to sign contracts for the same. The original proposed optional rate offered reductions to a majority of the consumers, but did not provide for a reduction to those who consumed 5,000 cubic feet or less per month. The optional rate as now revised offers a reduction to all domestic and commercial consumers who consume gas in excess of the minimum bill now in effect and who desire to avail themselves of this rate.

The new optional rate is available to domestic and commercial consumers who sign contracts for twelve months continuous service, and the contract, with the rate structure set out therein, which the Company is now ready to offer to the gas consumers in Lamesa and its other towns, is as follows:

"The undersigned, (hereinafter called Consumer) in consideration of the special rate granted herein, hereby agrees to take and use Natural Gas for a period of not less than twelve months continuously from this date, at _____ Street, occupied by Consumer as a _____ such gas to be furnished by the West Texas Gas Company (hereinafter called the Company) at the following maximum rates:

Minimum Bill, $1.50 per month. Additional charge of one-ninth (1-9th) of bill to be added if not paid within ten days after date rendered.

RATE "A"
Applicable to any consumer using five thousand (5,000) cubic feet of gas or less per month.

First 2,000 cubic feet, or less, per month, $1.50 (Minimum bill);

Next 3,000 cubic feet per month at 50¢ per thousand cubic feet.

RATE "B"
Applicable to any consumer using in excess of five thousand (5,000) cubic feet per month.

First 6,000 cubic feet per month, $4.00.

Next 44,000 cubic feet per month at 50¢ per thousand cubic feet.

Next 50,000 cubic feet per month at 30¢ per thousand cubic feet.

All additional cubic feet per month at 25¢ per thousand cubic feet.

"This contract does not cancel the contract consumer now has with the Company for the furnishing of natural gas, but supplements the same, including the right of cancellation by reason of removal from the city, or of substituting a new location from the one designated above. The consumer agrees to take and use the gas furnished hereunder subject to all the rules and regulations and provisions contained in said original contract except as herein modified.

"It is further understood that the rate hereinabove specified, is the consideration of the granting of the agreement of the undersigned Consumer to take and use said gas for a continuous period of not less than twelve months from this date, and that this contract is not subject to cancellation by Consumer until the expiration of twelve month's period, except upon payment by Consumer to said Company for all gas used under this contract up to the date of such termination at the rate applicable to consumers of the same class in said city or town who have not elected to take gas on the optional basis; provided, however, that bills will be computed on the optional rate if this contract is cancelled by virtue of the circumstances detailed in the preceding paragraph. It is agreed that the total annual bill under the applicable published rate of the Company in the city or town of _____ for the same volume of gas consumed by months during the yearly period here in provided for, and in the event such annual bill under the optional rate shall be greater, refund for the difference shall be made within fifteen (15) days after the end of the contract year.

"It is agreed and understood that this agreement shall run for an initial period of one year from the date hereof, and may be renewed for twelve (12) months' periods thereafter at the option of the Consumer, but not to exceed a period of three years from December 31, 1934.

"This contract is subject to all the terms and provisions of the franchise of said town."

The purpose of Rate "A" in the revised schedule is to give a lower rate for gas that is consumed primarily for water heating and for cooking. Gas used for these purposes is not subject to any great seasonal fluctuations in demand, and the Company feels, therefore, that a lower rate is justified to consumers who use gas in excess of the minimum bill for such purposes.

The introduction of Rate "A" is the only change in the optional contract previously proposed and accepted by the City of Lamesa. This change will afford an opportunity to all consumers to accept the benefits of reduced rate, and will permit them to make a saving in the annual cost of their gas service, without increasing the amount of any monthly bill above what the customer is now paying under the present rate. The consumers who would have made a saving under the former proposed optional rate will make an additional saving under Rate "A" on account of the reduction in the amount of their bills during the summer months of low consumption.

Herman Harold Heffernan left last week for Fort Worth where he will attend school.

O. B. Norman has returned to Lamesa after a several weeks stay in Dallas.

HOME CANNING
The first step in canning consist in the careful selection and preparation of the products to be canned by washing, paring, trimming and cutting them when necessary. Only fresh, fully ripe or mature fruits or vegetables should be canned. A canned product is only as good as the poorest of the products which were canned.

After the materials and containers are cleaned, the procedure consists of seven additional steps—grading, pre-heating, packing into the cans, exhausting, sealing, cooking, and cooling.

Fruits and vegetables are graded for uniformity of color size and maturity, not solely for the purpose of having an attractive product, but because smaller and less mature foods will become overcooked before the more mature foods are thoroughly cooked.

Pre-heating or blanching is done to break down the air cells in stems and leaves and to render all foods more pliable for canning. The vegetables are then packed carefully and boiling brine or syrup is poured into the can to within one-eighth inch of the top.

Exhausting is the pre-heating of the contents of a can in order to expand the food to drive off the air or oxygen. The cans are then sealed immediately while hot, and placed in the pressure cooker or water bath for processing.

The cans should be cooled immediately after processing in order that the cooking will stop and the food will not become overcooked.

QUALITY TOMATO JUICE

Home Demonstration clubs thru-out the county are making quality tomato juice. This juice is prepared without reaching the boiling temperature during the whole process. In this way, vitamin C which is quickly destroyed by heating in the presence of oxygen is preserved.

Tomatoes and tomato juice should play an important part in the diet of every family. Citrus fruits or tomatoes should appear in the diet at least 3 times a week.

The presence of vitamin C in the diet will prevent scurvy in children. Two tablespoons of canned tomato juice daily will prevent scurvy in an infant.

Because of the importance of a supply of tomatoes for the diet of every family, it will be most important for every family to make and lay enough tile for sub-irrigation to provide tomatoes in case of extremely dry weather next year.

The meeting was opened by singing "Can the World See Jesus in Me," after which Mrs. N. F. Peterson led in prayer. During the absence of the secretary no minutes were read. Mrs. C. M. Bird was unanimously elected assistant secretary.

Miss Cox told of the plans that had been made for the club fair to be held later in the fall. Then Miss Cox gave a demonstration on canning tomato juice and salad tomatoes. Two new members were added to the roll.

The club ladies met Thursday of last week at the home of Mrs. H. G.

LAMESA HI-LIFE

Rev. J. E. Eldridge spoke to the student body at the Minister's period on Wednesday. His topic was "Temper" which he recognized as a valuable human quality if kept under control but quite destructive to human happiness and character if permitted to operate without controls.

The assembly of Tuesday found the stage occupied by members of the high school orchestra which like the band is directed by Mr. King. These young people gave the student body fifteen minutes of splendid music to help along the day's work.

The senior class uncovered some splendid entertainers in the persons of Bernice Beeman and Clyde Moore for the regular Class program on Thursday. Beeman and Moore handle the violin and guitar in excellent fashion and choose tunes which draw applause.

Friday was Yell period in assembly. Miss Elizabeth Arnett, High School Pep Squad Leader for the second year, led the practice in preparation for the Snyder game and received excellent co-operation from her fellow pupils. The practice was more orderly than usual, and indications are that the local squad will be hard to beat this year.

The High School and Elementary School Libraries have been considerably improved in looks and usefulness by the acquisition of the new books and reference works added at the close of last school term and with the beginning of this term. The eagerness of the pupils in reading these can be witnessed at the checking periods when books are obtained for use.

The campus game at this season of the year is that of mumble-peg. Groups may be seen at many places on the grounds intently interested in this game. No challenges have been sent or received between classes or other schools but when such happens Lamesa Public Schools will have sufficient practice and experience to offer strong competition for another regional championship.

Book covers were furnished the pupils this year by Forrest Lumber Company and Collins Dry Goods Co. The covers were on hand at the opening date and were distributed along with the text books making a convenient arrangement and a cheap one for the pupils who in times past have been put to the trouble of re-securing their own covers. The State Text Book Law requires covers on all State adopted books which have been issued to pupils.

After several faculty announcements, pupil interest in keeping the rooms and premises more free of paper and other waste shows some signs of improvement.

The loss of fountain pens is often reported but it seems unusual for a "found announcement" to be posted. Mr. McCollum reported two "found" last Wednesday at one time. One wonders why losses are not followed by finds in such cases.

Joe Ward, transfer from Hancock was sick with the Flu for three days last week and was unable to attend school or to participate in the football game with the Snyder Tigers. Joe is reported as being improved and expecting to be in fine condition for Hobbs game this week and McCamey next week.

A. J. McDaniel and Glen Cope were Lubbock visitors Saturday night.

Houston in Life

Here is an oil painting of General Sam Houston, military liberator of Texas, that pictures him as he really was, for it was made from a daguerreotype taken in 1847. The painting is life-size and was made on order of prominent citizens of Houston, Texas, who presented it to the U. S. Cruiser Houston. The original daguerreotype was made when Houston was a U. S. Senator at Washington. (Texas News Photos.)

Will Vote on 1935 Corn-Hog Plan

Corn-hog contract signers in Dawson county will be asked to vote on the 1935 plan of the corn-hog section of the AAA according to word received here by county farm demonstration agent Joe C. Williams, from E. M. Regenbrecht, Extension swine husbandman. The referendum is set for the first week of October.

Regenbrecht represented the Texas Extension Service in the AAA meeting held recently in Kansas City where farmers and representatives from state agricultural colleges from Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas met to make recommendations for the next steps in the corn-hog program. The first question discussed at Kansas City and to be voted on by corn-hog contract signers is whether or not there shall be any sort of adjustment program in this field, Regenbrecht said.

The second point to be decided is whether the contract shall deal with corn only or hogs only or be a joint contract, as in 1934.

The third question will ask for preference on the type of contract which they wish to follow the 1935 program. This refers to a possible unified contract for the six basic grains: wheat, corn, rye, barley, grain sorghums and flax. It would represent a shift from several single crop contracts to a broad program of developing better systems of farming through less intensive use of land conservation of soil resources, and use of land for those crops for which it is best adapted.

The fourth question will be voted on only by those signers who are grain sorghum growers for grain. It will ask if they prefer that grain sorghums be included in the 1935 contract. The exact wording of the questions will be available at the time of the referendum.

At Kansas City the voting was that benefit payments be made on both corn and hogs, that the established 1932-33 base in the 1934 program for both corn and hogs be used, with benefit payments of $3 per head on 75 per cent of the 1932-33 hogs, and of 40 cents per bushel on the appraised yield of contracted corn acres; and that the growing of hogs be permitted up to 80 or 95 per cent of the base, and corn acreage increased up to 75 to 90 per cent of the base, the exact percentage to be optional.

Other recommendations made by the conference were that contracted corn acreage be used without restriction for hay, pasture, soil improvement, soil erosion prevention crops, fallowing, or for forest planting; that grain sorghums be included in the 1935 contract on the same basis as corn as to adjustments benefits, and tax; and that the base of processing tax be broadened to include other commodities in proportion to the benefits accruing to them from this program.

It was also recommended that the plan for warehousing corn on the farm be continued and the same principle extended to other grains, and that the 1935 corn-hog contract be made a step toward a long-time contract program to begin in 1936.

It was asked that the referendum be held the first week of October; that the questions be made clarified and made more specific; and that the poll be taken by unpaid workers. "It must be remembered that these were merely recommendations to the AAA and that they may or may not be allowed," Regenbrecht said.

Key Students Go To Carlsbad Cavern

The Key school faculty took the students and a few outsiders on a trip to the Carlsbad Cavern. Leaving the school house at noon Friday, the group motored as far as Whites City Friday night, leaving early the next morning for the cave.

There were fifty-three on one truck, and as that was the largest crowd on one truck ever to attend the Cavern, Superintendent Thomas Bales took the crowds picture and is sending it to our paper. Also a news reel was taken of the entire crowd going through the Cavern and will be in Lamesa in the spring.

Those enjoying the trip were: Edgar and Edith Fair, Alta Jean, Murray Lee and Earl Towns, Audrey and Gladys Whitmire, Jackie and Marion Smith, LaVerne and Eva Jo Holt, Rueben and Catherine Osburn, Harry Lee Zeek, Maxine and Byron Jr. Southard, Velma and Ela Morris, Josie Helen Stricklin, Yantis and Hilburn Roberts, Charles Shipley, Roy Woods, L. T. Shipley, Elma Gladie Ruth and Vandayne Guinn, Elmo and Jim Jeter, Wayne, Eula, and Vernie Bartlett, Rachel Hogg and Willard Tapley, school children. The teachers, Mr. Hatchett, Mrs. Kerby, Miss Cora Kerby and Miss Ila Bartlett.

The following were outsiders: J. J. Southard, Mrs. R. H. Stricklin and daughter Mary Kate, Gordon Holmes Juanita Kerby, Mrs. E. H. Shipley, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Riley, Marion Whitmire, and Gracie Mae Hogg. The truck driver was Mr. W. C. Edmondson.

The entire entire group gives their thanks for a lovely trip to the teachers and the truck driver. —One present.

Democratic Convention Opposes Amendment

WHEREAS, since the submission of the proposed constitutional amendment to limit state tax income in Texas on a population basis, there have developed unforeseen contingencies in the financing of the state, particularly in carrying and retiring the bonds for poor relief and in meeting the requirements of Federal Highway Act No. 393, 73rd Congress; and

WHEREAS, under these circumstances the amendment threatens the continuation of an existing basis of state aid to local units for schools and roads; and

WHEREAS, the amendment if adopted would further shift tax burdens from the state to local communities; and from large to small taxpayers; and

WHEREAS, the adoption of these restrictions on the state's income would decrease the ability of Texas to carry on those activities of state government hitherto regarded as fundamental in the traditions and time-honored principles of the Democratic Party; be it

RESOLVED, that this Convention now recommends to the people of Texas that this amendment be defeated at the coming November election.

I hereby certify that the above is a true and correct copy of the resolution adopted by the State Convention of the Democratic Party held in Galveston, on the 11th day of September, 1934.

Vann M. Kennedy, Secretary, State Democratic Executive Committee.

Relief Checks Are Mailed for September

Austin, Sept. 24.—Allotment of general relief funds for September was completed today as checks, representing the last half of the months allotment, were mailed to the various Texas counties from the auditing department of the Texas Relief Commission. Amount of the disbursement was $1,846,653.

At the same time checks totaling $235,088, representing partial allotment of rehabilitation funds, also were mailed. J. E. Stanford, head of the department of rural rehabilitation, said additional checks yet to be mailed will bring the total to above $400,000.

For buying land and materials for four new colonization projects, $350,000 of the $800,000 allotted the department by federal authorities for September has been set aside. These rural communities will be constructed at Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Mexia and Nacogdoches.

"Our program is progressing at maximum speed now and will continue to gather momentum during the next 90 days. Land leasing contracts are coming in fast enough to enable us to place 3500 families per month in rehabilitated houses for the next three months," Stanford said.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Marriage license were issued to Edward Krous and Miss Deola Herndon, September 20; Vernon Mosely and Miss Mattie Laura Reed, September 22; and Clarence E. Dyer and Miss Madeline Crook, September 23.

Cuthrie Allen Jr., of Plainview spent the week end here with his parents.

Texas Farmers Are Repaying Crop Loans

Texas farmers are making an excellent record in paying their production credit crop loans when due, according to Tully C. Garner, president of the Production-Credit Corporation of Houston. In spite of drouth and, in many cases, poor crops there is every indication that most of the loans made to Texas crops are sold this fall.

For example, in a report received from the Austin Production Credit Association, H. H. Onstot, secretary-treasurer says:

"At this early date, (September 15) 75 per cent of the total amount of our crop loans are paid. More than 50 per cent of our crop loan borrowers have paid their loans in full. About 35 per cent of our unpaid balances are covered with ginned cotton which will be sold within the next few days. There are only 14 of our borrowers who have made no payment and most of these have enough cotton picked but unsold to pay their loans.

"Our borrowers seem well pleased with the handling of our loans this year and, with very few exceptions, they will be borrowers next year. Some of our crop loans are being paid from the sale of cotton allotment tickets where practically no crop at all was made. The morale among our borrowers is excellent and we expect to carry over into next year's crop program less than five per cent of this season's loans."

Fair Quail Crop Forecast for Plains

Only a fair quail crop for the South Plains area this year is forecast by game wardens. Three counties along the New Mexico border are closed to all quail shooting for five years, by an act of the State legislature last year. These counties are Gaines, Andrews and Yoakum, and no quail may be shot in them until 1938. Martin and Borden counties are also included.

The drouth last year and this is blamed for small coveys. Blue quail are almost native to West Texas, and have been plentiful in former years, but recently they had begun to disappear, hence the action by the legislature. Of recent years the Bob Whites have been brought in, and are now beginning to be seen in fair numbers, but are not breeding as prolifically as has been hoped.

The season opens December 1 and closes January 16.

Health Association To Meet In Abilene

Austin, Sept. 24.—The Twelfth Annual Meeting of the Texas Public Health Association will be held at Wooten Hotel in Abilene, October 3-5, stated Dr. T. J. McCamant, President. The meeting is open to physicians, health officers, nurses, sanitarians, and others interested in public health.

Besides the general meeting, there will be special sections for nurses laboratory workers, and full time health officers. Among the speakers will be Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer; Dr. Lewis C. Crabbe; E. A. Baugh; Senator J. W. E. H. Beck, M. D.; and representatives of the United States Public Health Service, State Medical Association, Agricultural Department, American Public Health Association, and State Medical Association.

The program will consist of discussions of health work possible with relief funds, milk sanitation, water and sewage, public health nursing, health legislation, and communicable disease control.

Many cities send their health workers to this meeting so that they may keep up with the new development in their field. This will be especially true this year as much health work may be accomplished with relief funds.

ROBBERS' ROOST

By ZANE GREY

COPYRIGHT W.N.U. SERVICE

Hays hung around the barn, mostly idle, watching the valley, until the Herricks returned. The cowboys brought the horses down. Whereupon Hays abruptly left. And he did not come back. From that hour he became an elusive man.

That day ended Jim Wall's carpentry. On the next he was summoned early after breakfast to ride with the Herricks.

Under the stimulation of this girl's inspiring presence Jim gave an exhibition of swift and accurate shooting that surpassed any he had ever accomplished.

"Marvelous!" she exclaimed. "Helen, he's a bally good shot," declared Herrick.

That night Hank Hays evinced slight but unmistakable symptoms of jealousy, occasioned, perhaps, by Jim's report of killing thirteen out of fifteen bounding jack rabbits. Happy Jack, wide-eyed and loud-voiced, acclaimed Jim's feat as one in a thousand.

"Air you that good frontin' a man who you know is swift?" drawled the robber chief.

Jim stared. "Hank, I'm not so good then," he replied, slowly.

"Wal, somebody'll try you out one of these days," added Hays.

"I daresay," he rejoined, coolly, and caught himself in the spell of a daring impulse—to tell Miss Herrick that he loved her. The idea was sheer madness. Yet the thought persisted, and when he tried to shake it the result was it grew stronger in a haunting maddening way.

CHAPTER VI

Next day Herrick did not accompany his sister on the daily ride, a circumstance which, if anything, gave freer rein to her spirit. Jim had concern for her safety. He could not judge well of her horsemanship, because of the side-saddle she rode. Bluntly he disapproved of the atrocious thing and said it was worse than the "pancake" her brother rode. But she rode after the hounds just the same, and held her own until she was thrown.

If she had fallen upon rocks or even hard ground she would have been seriously injured, if not killed outright. But when the horse stumbled she hurtled over his head and hit in the sand. Jim was off almost the instant she struck, and he yelled for the cowboy.

"Water, Barnes," he called, as the cowboy dashed up.

"There ain't none close," replied Barnes.

"I'm all—right," spoke up Miss Herrick, weakly. "I came—a cropper—didn't I?"

She sat, evidently not hurt, though she clung to Jim's arm. With his scarf he wiped the sand from her face, aware that his hand was not steady. Her hair had come partly loose to fall in a golden mass on her shoulder. She rearranged it and put on her hat, deftly despite gloved fingers.

"Help me up, please," she said.

Jim placed a strong arm under hers and lifted her to her feet. Then something cold and tight within let go, and his reaction was to take refuge in anger: "Miss Herrick, I told you that saddle was no good. It's a wonder you were not killed."

"Oh, don't exaggerate. I've come many croppers cross-country riding at home."

"Barnes, back me up in this," appealed Jim to the cowboy.

"Miss, he's tellin' you true," said Barnes, earnestly. "You was ridin' fast. If this hyar had been stony ground, like it is lots of places, you'd never knowed what hit you."

"I believe I did strike pretty hard," she admitted, ruefully.

"You want a cow-saddle with a double cinch, and overalls," concluded Jim.

"Overalls!" she exclaimed, and she blushed rosy red. "You mean like these blue trousers Barnes has on?"

"Yes. Then you can ride. This is the West, Miss Herrick. You like to run a horse. It's dangerous. I shall have to speak to your brother."

"Don't. I've never ridden astride, but I'll do it, since you are so very fearful about it."

That experience left Jim shaky, probably a good deal shakier than it had left Miss Herrick. But it was not fear for her. Jim revealed in the torturing sensation engendered by contact with this beautiful girl. He shook like a leaf at the staggering realization that when she lay on the ground with her arms spread wide, her hair gold against the sand, he longed to snatch her to his breast. A natural impulse, under the circumstances, but for him—idiotic!

Miss Herrick took to the Western saddle like a duck to water. She could ride. Moreover, that spirit of which she had hinted certainly overtook her. More than once she ran off alone, riding like the wind; and upon one of these occasions it took the cowboys till dark to find her. That with Hank Hays and Heeseman there to see her gallop away unescorted! Herrick did not seem to mind.

As far as Jim Wall was concerned, however, these rides with her centered him upon the love which had come to consume him; and the several she took alone were more torturing because they aroused fear of Hank Hays. It could not be ascertained whether or not Hays followed her, but when the day came that Jim discovered Hays had been riding the trails frequented by Miss Herrick, it seemed time to act.

This placed Jim in a worse quandary. To act, for a man of his training at such a time and place, was to do only one thing. But how could he kill his leader upon mere suspicion of sinister intent to kidnap the girl? It was a predicament for a man who had always played fair, alike to honest friend and crooked ally.

Jim paced under his dark sheltering trees, in the dead of night, when he should have been sleeping. Days had passed without his once seeking to avoid disaster; and he had not sought because he knew it was of no use. To wish to be with his blond girl seemed irresistible. More than once he had caught himself in the spell of a daring impulse—to tell Miss Herrick that he loved her. The idea was sheer madness. Yet the thought persisted, and when he tried to shake it the result was it grew stronger in a haunting maddening way.

At breakfast next morning Hays raved about the fact that Smoky had not been there for over two weeks.

"Things air comin' to a head," he concluded, gloomily.

"Reckon they ought to have made two drives by now," rejoined Happy Jack. "I rid down the valley yestiddy eight or ten miles. Cattle thinned out, boss. Any cowboy with eyes in the back of his head would be on to us by now."

"Shore. Haven't I kept them workin' up here. But I've no control over this hossback ridin' after hounds. Pretty soon Herrick will be chasin' down Limestone way. Then the fire'll be out."

"Hank, he wouldn't know the difference," interposed Jim.

"Aw, I don't care," replied Hays, harshly, and that finally intimidated much. "Wait till Smoky's outfit shows up!"

Every morning when Jim rode down to the corrals he fell back under the spell of something sweeter than wine. The sunny hours with the sage flat ahead, the fragrant pines, the baying hounds, and always out in front this bright-haired girl, were vastly different from the dark hours when the day was done. Nothing could be truer than that this utterly incongruous and bitterly sweet situation could not last. In moments of humility, engendered by the higher emotions this girl aroused, Jim clasped to his breast the fact that he was protecting her from worse men.

Barnes and another of the cowboys had taken the horses for the Herricks up to the house. To Jim's honest dismay he espied Helen riding ahead, with the cowboys behind leading her brother's mount. Herrick was not coming. The hounds bounded and cavorted about her, keen for the chase.

Miss Herrick looked far less proud and unattainable in the boy's riding garb she had adopted. Moreover, it had transformed her, yet her femininity appeared more provokingly manifest than ever.

Barnes turned Herrick's horse over to a stable boy, and with his companion fell in behind Miss Herrick, who rode out upon the valley. Jim rejoiced them, and they trotted their horses together.

"Why didn't Herrick come?" asked Jim.

"He was rowin' with Heeseman," replied Barnes, soberly.

"You don't say! What about?"

"Reckon I don't know. They shet up as I come along," returned the cowboy. "But I seen enough to calculate somethin's wrong. They was on the porch. Herrick looked sort of peevish. He didn't want his sister to go huntin' today, I heard that. An' she said right pert she was goin'."

"How did Heeseman look?" went on Jim, ponderingly. Something was up. For two days Heeseman's outfit had been through hauling timber.

"Dead serious, like he was tryin' to persuade the boss to somethin'."

Jim lapsed into silence. What turn would affairs take next? It was getting warm around Star ranch.

Each day the hunters had to ride farther afield to find game. Jack-rabbit chasing had grown too tame for Miss Herrick.

Three or four miles out the hounds jumped a coyote from a clump of sagebrush.

The cowboys took the lead, then came

Miss Herrick, while Jim brought up the rear. It was a long, gradual ascent up to an open ridge.

Here the hounds jumped a herd of deer. Despite the yelling of the cowboys they dashed up the ridge with a chorus of wild yelps and barks. They all passed out of hearing.

Jim caught up with Miss Herrick, who waited in an open spot among the pines. Flushed and disheveled, with her sombrero on the pommel, panting from the arduous ride, she made a disconcerting picture.

"Hunt's off for us, Miss Herrick," said Jim.

"Too bad! But wasn't it fun—while it lasted?" she replied gayly. "Let us rest the horses. I'm out of breath myself."

Jim dismounted to tighten his saddle cinches.

"Wall, take a look at my cinches," she said.

"May I ask you not to call me Wall? I must remind you I'm no butler."

"Pray pardon me," she rejoined, in surprise. "I presume I should address you as Mr. Wall?"

"Yes, if you're too stuck up to call me Jim," he said.

She lifted her chin and deigned no reply. And that infuriated him.

"While I'm at it I'll tell you this, too," he went on doggedly. "You must not ride around alone again. I've had no chance to speak with you. But I told your brother. He laughed in my face. He is a fool."

"Mr. Wall, I will not listen to such talk," she spoke up, spiritedly.

"Oh, yes, you will," he flashed, striding over to her horse. "You're not in an English drawing room now, confronted by a disrespectful butler. You're in Utah, girl. And I am Jim Wall."

"That last is obvious, to my regret," she returned coldly. "Will you please be so kind as to tighten my cinches?"

It will be the last service I shall require of you."

"Thank the Lord!" ejaculated Jim, in grim heartiness. "All the same I'll tell you. If you were an American tenderfoot, it wouldn't be hard to make you understand. If you were western, you would not need to be told. But as an English lady of quality, who thinks her class, will protect her anywhere, you need to be jarred. . . . It's wrong for you to ride around alone on this range like any wild tomboy."

"Why?"

"Some of these men might kidnap you for ransom."

"Nonsense," she retorted, contemptuously.

"What do you say, Miss Herrick, when I tell you that Hank Hays has been watching you from the ridges, riding the lonely trails, biding his chance to waylay you?"

She paled at that.

"I don't believe it," she said, presently.

"And you'll go on riding alone when it suits your royal fancy?" he queried witheringly.

"That is no longer any concern of yours," she replied, at last stung. "But

"But I Certainly Shall Ride When and How I Please."

I certainly shall ride when and how I please."

"Then you're as big a fool as your brother," declared Jim hotly. "Here I am, the only man in this Star outfit with honesty enough to tell you the truth. And I get insulted and fired for my pains."

She sat her horse mute. Jim laid a strong hand on her pommel and shook it.

"Your saddle's loose. Will you oblige me by getting off?"

"I can ride it back," she rejoined, lolly.

"But your blanket will slip out. The saddle might turn with you."

She removed her foot from the stirrup. "Tighten the cinches then—and hurry."

Jim complied expeditiously enough, but in doing so he accidentally touched her. Something like fire shot through him at the contact. Under its stimulus he looked up to say a few more words to her, words to mitigate his offense and protest his sincerity. But they were never uttered. She had bent over to fasten a lace of her boot, and when Jim raised his head it was to find his face scarcely a foot from her red lips. Without a thought, in a flash, he kissed them, and then drew back, stricken.

"How dare you!" she cried, in incredulous amazement and anger.

"How dare you?" she cried, in incredulous amazement and anger.

A Money-Saving OPPORTUNITY For Our Gas Customers

THE year-round gas customer is the backbone of our business. He takes gas service month in and month out and thus qualifies as a continuous and dependable consumer. The very permanency of his service connection reduces service expense.

To develop a more uniform year-round load and increase the number of continuous users of gas service, we have formulated an optional rate schedule available to the domestic or commercial consumer who agrees to use gas service continuously for a period of twelve months. The present minimum bill remains the same; otherwise the rate is lowered. More gas for less money is made possible under the optional rate schedule.

You are interested, naturally, to know what advantage this new rate schedule would be to you, and what the savings would be on your gas bills. We would be pleased to have you call at our local office or phone for a Company representative to call on you, to analyze each of your gas bills for the past twelve months, month by month. Then you can see in dollars and cents what your savings would have been for this period under our optional rate and can decide whether or not you want to take advantage of the savings offered.

The cold winter months of heavy seasonal gas demand are close at hand. We request, therefore, that whether or not you are at present a continuous or year-round consumer, you give us the opportunity of explaining to you our optional contract rate.

Twilight Tea Given In Honor of Club Women

The Delphian Club and the Study Club were joint hostesses Monday evening at the Club house honoring the District President, Mrs. W. P. Averitt of Lamesa and the State President, Mrs. Volney Taylor of Brownville, with a twilight tea.

The club house was decorated with beautiful bowls and vases of roses; shaded lamps and candles gave forth soft rays of light.

The tea table was laid with a beautiful lace cloth decorated with silver candle sticks with lighted yellow candles. Mesdames C. Baldwin and Ralph Stuart presided here.

The out of town guests were eighteen club women from Brownfield and twelve club women from Tahoka.

Mrs. E. T. Bailey, president of the local Study Club presided over a well rendered program.

Mrs. Arthur Hull, Delphian president, spoke cordial words of welcome with responses graciously given by Mesdames Fenton of Tahoka, and Jacobson of Brownfield. Mrs. A. G. Barnard in her usual efficient manner rendered "The Rosary."

The Junior Delphians delighted the home folks and visitors with their song "Onward Junior Delphian", composed by Mrs. E. R. Yates, who accompanied them at the piano. Mrs. Ralph Stuart, former sponsor of this club, had the pleasure of having this number dedicated to her.

The messages brought by Mesdames Taylor and Averitt were enjoyed very much by the entire group.

The Delphian Daughters and Camp Fire Girls were also guests of the local clubs.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Hull spoke words of appreciation for this visit of our honor guests and presented each of them with a lovely handkerchief from the two clubs.

Mrs. Rupert Austin, recent bride, was named honor guest last Wednesday evening when Miss Gladys Alsbrook entertained at her home.

Three tables of bridge players were guests for the occasion. At the conclusion of the games Miss Mary Cameron held high score and was given a what-no stand, Miss Juanita Paulk held low score and was presented with a silver pepper and salt set, both prizes being presented to the honoree. Mrs. Austin also received a beautiful electric waffle iron from the guests.

At the conclusion of the evenings entertainment the Wednesday Night Bridge Club was reorganized.

Delicious refreshments were served to Misses Mary Cameron, Juanita and Inez Paulk, Katie Lee Clement, Neiva Powers, Ruby Randle, Louise Billingsley, Wilma McMurtrey, Nina Scott, Mrs. W. E. Cox Jr. and the honoree.

Aubrey White Honored On Birthday

Mr. Aubrey White was entertained in his home on Tuesday evening, September 18, by members of the Ballard Sunday School, honoring his 27th birthday.

The crowd gathered on the lawn and played old time games for a while, then delicious ice cream and cake were served, after which the crowd gathered into the house and listened to some sweet music rendered by Mr. White and James Bryant. Mrs. G. F. Ward conducted a beautiful devotional service with scripture reading, prayers, songs, music and some good heart to heart talks that made us all glad to be present.

Mr. White has been superintendent of our Sunday school the past year. He is a young man of fine Christian character, and highly respected by all who know him.

About forty guests were present.

Recent Bride Honored By S. S. Class

The Philaetha Sunday school class of the First Baptist church entertained with a lovely party and miscellaneous shower last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mesdames T. V. Crawley and R. R. Townsend, honoring Mrs. Roy Cole, a recent bride.

The class colors of blue and white formed a pretty decorative note in all party appointments.

Guests were registered as they entered, in the brides book.

A beautifully rendered program of musical selections and readings was followed by a fortune telling game in which was predicted for the honoree much happiness and many warm friendships. This forecast was substantiated by the array of many lovely gifts with which she found herself surrounded when the blindfold was removed from her eyes.

Mrs. R. F. Nix in a few well chosen words expressed the sentiment of every guest present in welcoming Mrs. Cole into their midst.

The hostesses were assisted in serving by Mesdames T. V. Crawley, R. R. Townsend, M. C. Lindsey and R. F. Nix. About sixty-five guests were present.

Miss Deola Herndon, Edward Krous Marry

Miss Deola Herndon became the bride of Mr. Edward Krous in a ceremony performed on Sunday morning, September 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. McMillin. Rev. S. H. Biggerstaff, pastor of the Church of Christ, read the ceremony before a few of the couples intimate friends.

Mrs. Kraus is the daughter of Mrs. Mattie Herndon, and is a former student of the local schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Krous will make their home here in the Ault Apts. Mr. Krous is employed at the Self-Serving Grocery.

Mrs. Bennett Hostess To Pioneer Club

Mrs. W. H. Bennett entertained members of the Pioneer Club on Tuesday afternoon of this week at her home.

Button From Coat Was Texas' First Lone Star

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 23. (Special)—The first use of a five-pointed star as the emblem of Texas was in 1835 when a brass button, cut from an overcoat, was used as a seal. The large button came from the overcoat of Henry Smith, provisional governor, elected by the Texans when events were shaping themselves for independence, but at a time when the main issue was as to whether the Mexican constitution of 1824 would be observed.

Smith was named Governor at a meeting held at San Felipe (Austin county). Needing some kind of a seal for official documents, he cut off one of the decorative buttons on his overcoat and it was used as the seal. The present seal of the State features a five-pointed star, and the star also is used in the Texas flag.

This historic button may or may not be in existence today. It would be a most interesting relic for exhibition in 1936, when the Centennial of Texas independence is to be celebrated at San Antonio, Houston, Goliad, Brenham, Nacogdoches, Dallas, Huntsville and other cities of the State identified with the early history of the Lone Star State.

WILL ROGERS IS WILD BOY IN LATEST FILM COMEDY

Rogers' "Handy Andy" Is Hailed as Funniest of His Career

His wife wanted him to retire and play a little . . . but all play and no work makes Will a wild boy.

That, in brief is the story of Will Rogers' latest picture, "Handy Andy" coming to the Palace Theatre, Lamesa on Sunday and Monday. Advance reports from the previews say this is the funniest comedy of his career. And the highlights of the story bear this out.

Will is getting along comfortably in his drug store, when his wife, Peggy Wood, persuades him to sell out. First he takes up pigeon raising but he has to stop that when his pets fly all over the house. Next he takes up golf, with uproarious results. Then his wife and daughter, Mary Carlisle, persuade him to attend the Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

That's when things really begin to happen. Will begs off from attending the Comus costume ball. Wandering around alone he gets acquainted with a fellow druggist and his dashing girl friend, Conchita Montenegro. A few cocktails make him change his mind about the ball, and he attends with Conchita, choosing a Tarzan leopard skin costume. A few more cocktails persuade him to do an hilarious adagio dance with Conchita—and the ball breaks up with a riot.

Of course there's much more to the story than that. Among other things Will serves as cupid in his daughter's romance with a young man his wife doesn't approve of. And there's a surprise ending that can't be tipped off in advance.

David Butler, who also directed Rogers in "The Connecticut Yankee" directed "Handy Andy" under the supervision of Sél M. Wurtzel. The screen play was written by William Counselman and Henry Johnson from the play "Merry Andrew" by Lewis Beach.

TALK

WONT PUT WEIGHT ON CATTLE and

TALK can't put SAFETY and MILEAGE into TIRES

It would be easy to make money in the cattle business if ranchers could use the gift of gab to add weight and raise prices. But talk won't do it.

And saying that a tire won't blow out doesn't prevent it from blowing out. And claiming that a tire is three or four times safer or that it will run many thousands of miles farther doesn't make any tire safer or last longer.

Talk doesn't build good tires. Only rubber and cotton and long experience can do that. And that is why Seiberling tires are FACT tires—not CLAIM tires. They are built by a man who has been building good tires since 1898 and who has more major tire inventions to his credit than any other man.

Come in and let us demonstrate the facts about Seiberling tires. Let us show you how the exclusive Seiberling Vapor Cure process adds greatly to tire mileage—to tire safety and to ultimate tire economy.

NO. 4: QUALITY?

Has it quality? Seiberling tires are built of the finest rubber and cord it is possible to obtain. Constructed in a factory that has the equipment to build the "Superior Tire in the Quality Field."
