Five HO&M Well Permits, Little League Top Agenda

Two public hearings and a discussion of the Aransas County Little League Association's request for exclusive use of the Memorial Park "Pony League" diamond, head a long and varied agenda for the Rockport City Council April 25.

Houston Oil and Minerals will be on hand at 7 p.m. to request city permits to drill five wells with bottom holes within the city limits.

The first of the five wells has a surface location in State Tract 150 and a bottom hole location in State Tract 149. The surface location is approximately three-quarters of a mile from shore.

The second well is projected to bottom out in State Tract 148. Its surface location is one-half mile from shore in State Tract 169.

Well number three is set in State Tract 150, with a proposed bottom hole in State Tract 148. The surface location is approximately three-quarters of a mile from shore.

Well number four has a surface location in State Tract 169 and a proposed bottom hole in State Tract 148. The surface location is approximately one-half mile from shore.

The final well requested is set in State Tract 146, and has its bottom hole in State Tract 149. The surface location is one-third mile from shore.

HO&M representatives say no drilling contractor has yet been chosen. The company estimates that completion of the wells, if permitted, will take approximately 50 days using an inland barge rig. The derricks on all five wells will be confined to the rig and used only during the drilling process. Production facility plans have not yet been completed, but representatives say placement will be near existing facilities of other oil companies.

Council will take action on the request during its regular meeting after evaluating any citizen input.

At 7:30 p.m. the second public hearing is scheduled on

Corps Approves 12 Bay Permits

The Army Corps of Engineers have given approval to a variety of permit requests in the Rockport area.

Key Allegro Development was granted an after-the-fact permit for bulkheading and dredging in Unit 5. The work was completed in 1975, and received an okay from the Corps without revision.

Getty Oil, which currently has three wells in Aransas Bay, received a go ahead to put two platforms in State Tract 444.

Houston Oil and Minerals Corporation received a total of seven permits. Two are blanket permits to erect structures for drilling oil and gas wells in state tracts 144 and 195.

Four permits refer to drilling sites which will be up for approval by the Rockport City Council April 25. No. 11735/1 will cover State Tract 145, No. 1. No. 11735/2 will cover State

Volunteer Profile

Experience Meant More Work For First ACHVI Volunteer

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of profiles of the Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Incorporated's emergency ambulance system's crew of volunteers.

These people sacrifice time with their families and in some cases labor time at their businesses to help save lives in trauma situations for free, which is only part of the story.

Pat Farley, who has worked with other emergency care organizations and worked at the state level to organize emergency medical attendants, has his "roots" here. He was born and raised in Port Aransas, but attended Flour Bluff High School and Del Mar before being drafted.

He was in the Army for three years, two of them in Viet Nam, where he was trained as a medic and flew "dust off" helicopter missions with a small evacuation crew in the war zone.

The Army trained him up to what would be the private Emergency Medical Trainee level, and the number and variety of emergency cases he handled taught him to keep his head clear and gave him the effective distance from the action. There was never much time for anything else. "It was strictly stop the bleeding, there. You saw everything."

After his service time was up he came back to Port Aransas then took a summer job in Houston with a mortician's ambulance service.

Back in Port Aransas, he married wife Charlotte Anne and moved to Austin to work for ACHVI director Conwell Smith's Austin Ambulance company. He stayed with Smith's company (ironically while Paramedic Bill Aston was

Rockport Sales Tax Up 28%

Rockport's one percent sales tax brought in $7,367.40 for the period ending March 31, bringing the yearly total to date to $37,457.52, more than $8,000 ahead of collections during the same period in 1976.

The percentage increase over 1976 is 28 percent to date, well ahead of the state average of 18 percent.

The increase reflects an increase in the payments made by the State Comptroller's office to the cities. The office has traditionally retained 4.76 percent of the cities' sales tax collections to cover refunds and bad checks. This amount has been reduced to two percent effective this month, thus cities will be receiving almost three percent more of their tax promptly to spend or invest.

Pair Jailed In April 10 Motor Theft

Willie Dale Carson, Jr., 21, of Ingleside, and Randall Jones, 23, of Aransas Pass are currently in the Aransas County jail unable to make bond on charges of felony theft in connection with an April 10 theft at the Key Allegro summer home of Blair Reeves of San Antonio.

The pair are charged with stealing a small boat motor, gas tank and ice chest from Reeves

Field House Plans Okayed

The Aransas County School District Board of Trustees Monday night approved preliminary plans for a new field house which would be constructed behind the south bleachers of Pirate Stadium.

The Board also authorized Superintendent Joe Randow to advertise for bids on the project when final plans are complete in two weeks.

The 7500 square foot field house would serve all the needs of the boys athletic program at the high school. Girls' classes would take over the facilities of the current high school gym.

The building, if constructed, is expected to cost more than $100,000, the only factor which made the board hesitate in approving the plans. Board President Ottie Mundine called the school's present facilities "totally inadequate," and Superintendent Randow said it was a tribute to the staff and students that more problems have not arisen out of the crowded conditions.

The boys' varsity teams currently dress in a quonset hut building which would be turned into a guest dressing area and a weight room should the proposed construction be carried out.

The building, as described by Randow, includes three separate dressing areas to accommodate more than 100 students. The building will have office and medical areas as well, six exhaust fans, a 24 x 24 foot storage area (double the present capacity), and two 85

ACHVI Plans Water Rescue

Boating traffic is picking up again with the return of good weather, and the potential for accidents makes a water rescue service a necessity.

The Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Incorporated, who run the successful local emergency ambulance service, would like to fill the need, but they lack a motor for the boat recently loaned to them by the Aransas County Navigation District No. 1 Commissioners.

The boat is a 17 foot skiff which has been used in the past with a 25 horsepower motor. The motor has worn out, although the boat is still in good shape, and the ACHVI's tight budget makes the immediate purchase of a motor impossible.

Local fishermen or businesses who have a spare motor of 25 horsepower (preferably larger) and would like to donate it or loan it for a long period of time to the cause are asked to get in touch with Paramedic

Whooping Crane Migration Begins

Whooping cranes, among the rarest of North American birds, are preparing to leave their wintering grounds at Aransas National Wildlife Refuge along the Gulf Coast, on their way back to Canadian nesting grounds.

"Whooping cranes arrive in Texas in mid-October and remain in the state until mid-April. The flock is awaiting favorable wind conditions for the flight to their nesting grounds in Wood Buffalo National Park in northwestern Canada," said Dr. Hal Irby, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department migratory game program director.

The 69 birds that wintered at Aransas included 12 hatched this past summer. The endangered whoopers, known for their bugling call that can carry more than two miles, are among the tallest native birds found north of Mexico, standing almost five feet and weighing 16 pounds. Although the female is slightly smaller, both have almost identical plumage.

"We are asking birders, sportsmen and others interested in wildlife to aid us by reporting exact information on where whoopers stop to rest on their way out of state," Irby said.

Usually, birds leaving Aransas fly in a northwesterly direction through northcentral Texas, into the Panhandle and then out of state.

"We are not certain whoopers stop anywhere in Texas after leaving the Refuge area, but if they do, it is important that conservation agencies know about it so as to be able to protect critical

Going Fishing

State Senator A.R. Schwartz's Texas Red Drum Conservation Act seems destined for passage, having survived the peak of continuing controversy over its provisions.

The bill calls for a 200 pound per day limit on redfish catches by commercial fishermen from September, 1977 to September, 1978. Thereafter, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department will be given authority to limit commercial catches to between 1.4 million and 1.6 million pounds annually.

The bill also imposes stringent new licensing requirements on commercial fishermen wanting to take the red drum. License applicants must swear in writing that the majority of their income comes from commercial fishing, and pay a $50 fee.

Senator Schwartz said he expected the licensing provisions to so thin the ranks of "commercial" fishermen taking red fish that the annual catch totals could be as low as 1,000,000 pounds instead of the 1.4 to 1.6 million pounds allowed under the new bill.

The Senator's projection could be wrong, however, if qualified commercial fishermen step up fishing intensity in the bays.

Seafood Producers Association president J.C. Harlan told the Pilot only a handful of the currently licensed commercial fishermen are active bay fishermen with boats and professional rigging. And last year that handful took the majority of a catch in excess of 1,800,000 pounds.

So it would seem that the commercial fishermen, at least the professionals, howl too loudly about the bill. The quota will amount to a maximum cut of only 25 percent over record to 1975 levels, allow an increase over the catch level in 1972, and come close to the catch levels in the years 1971 and 1976.

Sport fishermen will be limited to 10 red drum per day, and can have no more than 20 fish in their possession at any one time.

Sport catches totalled 282,000 pounds in 1975, the last year for which complete figures are available.

The limits should not work a hardship on sport fishermen, since 10 red drum is quite enough for most families, and even seems a gross allowance when considering that true "sportsmen" throw their catches back.

Given the provisions of the bill, it should be workable all around. The licensing requirements will further cut competition for established professionals, making it easier for them to make a profit on the fish they do catch, since demand will remain high and prices probably rise.

Sports fishermen will reap the benefits of decreased fishing pressure, and the bay population, blessed with maximized conditions for the last six years, will have breathing room at last to bring its rare population of redfish to spawning age. Redfish, unlike trout, spawn only when five years or older, a factor which was paramount in the call for limitations on catches which were averaging 18 inches in length, or barely mature.

Vote Yes

Electoral reform is needed in several areas, all of which might be changed substantially by pending federal registration reforms. But if federal reforms do not reach to the local level, it would be worthwhile to make at least two changes in the current code.

Cities of less than 250,000 are not allowed to have runoffs. This makes one wonder if smaller cities should have smaller rights. Their problems—growth or the lack of it, honest management—are just as fundamental in terms of the need for leadership as the larger cities.

And greater concentration is desirable in any political election. In any race with more than two candidates, there should be a runoff if one does not manage a majority of the vote. It is inefficient for one to hold authority over the majority without its approval.

Secondly, small and large cities both need municipal voting lists. In Rockport for example, voting was held up several hours because, in order to satisfy possible challenges in a close race, voters whose post office box number was listed on the Aransas County voting list were asked to verify their residency in Ward 1 or 2.

The County list is the only one the city is empowered to use, despite the above weakness. And despite, too, the fact that it cannot possibly be up-to-date unless it is printed the day of the election. In short form, the risk of illegal voting is currently too great in a close election, and the existing system inaccurate and inefficient. Municipal registration would be better. Computerized printouts could provide up-to-date information and on-site verification wouldn't be necessary, except in rare cases.

Getting the Boot!

State Of The Region

By Juliet K. Wenger
Coastal Bend Council of Governments

It has happened right here in our own region and many of us are less aware of it than visitors from Canada or the Midwest. Rockport has become an important art center. Estimates are made that one in every 200 residents of Rockport is an artist or working with arts and crafts. You have your choice of enjoying the natural beauty of the city through your own eyes or getting a new viewpoint wherever you look, through the eyes of the artist.

There are 30 to 50 professional artists, making their living from their art and living in Rockport. Art classes are now year around, and 12 to 13 states are represented in nearly every class.

Downtown Rockport has attained full resort status with galleries and shops lining the streets. During the Art Festival in July and the Seafair in October, art lines the shores of the ski basin, and the city's population more than doubles as visitors crowd in.

Rockport intends to keep the charm that is making this happen. Mayor Walter Falk says the city is not competing for industry other than that which enhances its seaside flavor, tourism, fishing, shipyards, and art.

The city is growing rapidly but carefully. There will be no high-rises, no building over 451 feet in height. The mayor explains that tall buildings cut off the view and the breezes and leave that type of development to Miami. New subdivisions, laid out to take advantage of views of Aransas Bay and the wind-bent oaks, must have all utilities underground and meet other strict standards.

Yachts and commercial fishing boats are both attractions to tourists and artists. Some of the handsomest commercial boats are built in the yards of Rockport Yacht and Supply, right in the middle of town. Ocean-going fishing boats have been built for Japan, Korea, and other countries, including several in South America.

Christening of the boats brings prominent citizens from our own and other countries to the city. Uniforms that bespeak their homeland are seen on the streets when crews arrive to take the boats to sea. Fitting out of the boats means another source of revenue for Rockport merchants.

Dr. J. Martin Shaw, a city councilman, says the shipyard is moving more into utility boats to service the growing number of rigs in the bays and gulf. He said they have gone back to a World War II system of building the boats upside down and rolling the boats over so that they can build 150-foot, 800 ton boats in a small yard.

There are three harbors in and adjacent to the city, and no tax on the boats moored there. Nor is there any occupancy tax on the approximately 40 motels in the city and its environs. The city does not want to put owners of boats and motels within their limits at a disadvantage with those outside the limits line. There is a bill in the legislature which would allow Aransas County to impose a motel occupancy tax. The mayor says that if this law passes, Aransas will be the only county in the state with this authority.

Rockport is host to Winter Texas, summer vacationers, and counts as its own many second home families. In growing numbers, families within the Coastal Bend are spending weekends only a few miles away in Rockport, or spending days there to enjoy the good seafood restaurants and explore the art galleries.

The exceptionally wide varieties of birds to be seen in Rockport also bring visitors from this or other countries. Mayor Falk says there are more than 250 different varieties to be seen, that Rockport is the only city with a wildlife sanctuary within its city limits along its shoreline, and that the city has to provide turnoffs to keep bird watchers from clogging roads and impeding traffic.

Private citizens of Rockport take an active part in city beautification, planting tree and flowers in public right-of-way. The city staff goes far beyond required duties.

Bill Agee, who works for the city sanitation department is collecting flags and is gradually accumulating those from all 51 states. Every morning, he raises the flags of the United States and Texas. Last Year, the bicentennial flag flew there daily. Now, a new state flag goes up every week. The flag pole stands beside the ski basin. Visitors from across the nation, driving past the flag staff to the beach, feel particularly welcome when they see their own flag flying.

Watch Rockport Grow

By "Uncle John" Leslie
Governor Dolph Briscoe has proclaimed April 17-23 Texas Library Week and has asked all Texans to visit the libraries in their areas. So this week let's talk about our Aransas County Library.

Advertisers say that the only way to sell a product is to repeat and repeat and repeat. I am repeating today some of the things in last week's paper in hopes that through repetition one little thought may stick with you.

As mentioned in last week's paper, our library has grown from a small collection of books, gathered by a few interested women. Today our library has 21,439 books on the shelves and it has access to others when needed. It is housed in a building owned and operated by the Aransas County Commissioners' Court—the County of Aransas. The library's financial support comes from them plus donations and memorials from the public. Mrs. Eunice Hamon is the librarian. She is aided by one full-time assistant and many volunteers who give an afternoon of their time each week.

In the winter our visitors come in by the droves to purchase a visitor's card and most make good use of it while they are here. And at times it is crowded with school children working on various school projects and assignments. It is a reference library par excellence.

Now I want you to listen and listen real carefully to what I have to say, and to read it over a couple of times, please. Mrs. Hamon says there are over 300 books THAT ARE OVERDUE—some as much as 6 months. Please note and search your bookshelves to see if you can find one of these books. I just can't understand how that many books—most of them good books and late books—can be laying around our shelves. She indicates that is not children but also some of our prominent citizens who haven't brought back the library's books. All have been called time and again and it has now reached the point where Jim Anderson, our County Attorney, is having to write them a letter and notify them of their obligation.

Now, please back up and read this article again. There will be no fines attached on returned books—if you bring them in soon.

If you haven't visited the library, I would suggest that you do so. You will find books to suit your reading interests—in almost every category. Just go by and see what is going on. It will be well worth the trip. Not only are the books available but special programs can and are arranged for the children, including Story Hours, movies, etc. We should be proud to have such a library and that it is rendering such a service to the community. Please help them.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Monthly, I receive a magazine published by the Scottish-Rite Hospital in Dallas which reports on their activities in the treatment and cure of crippled children in Texas. This month's issue tells about a most interesting case—a little girl who was brought in with clubfeet. At a very early age, corrective casts were applied every two weeks for three and one-half months. With each cast her feet were brought into a more normal position. At the end of three and one-half months no more casts were needed. Now, six years later, she doesn't require corrective shoes, has normal-appearing feet, and walks normally. If you know of a crippled child, regardless of race, creed or color, in Aransas County, who needs some special surgery or treatment, contact any Mason or Shriner—it is absolutely free.

EVERY MAN RECEIVES THE SAME SALARY IN HOURS, MINUTES AND SECONDS. WHAT DO YOU DO WITH YOURS?

Luke 6:31 "And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."

Wieting Reports

Representative
Leroy J. Wieting, Portland

As a member of the Appropriations Committee of the Texas House of Representatives, I would like to say "thank you" to the many people who played such an important part in making my job an easier one, when it came to the House Appropriations Committee mark-up for the Texas A&I University System.

The immediate involvement of the new members of the House from this area, Hugo Berlanga, Arnold Gonzales, Irma Rangel, and Ernestine Glossbrenner along with such long time members as DeWitt Hale and Billy Hall, and all of the other South Texas House Members, that lent support during the committee processes right up to the night of mark-up. Even Bill Clayton, Speaker of the House attended the Appropriations Committee meeting. This victory is a result of the members of our delegation and South Texas working closely together.

This process began a long time ago when members of our delegation in the House, citizens of Corpus Christi, Kingsville and Laredo, members of the Texas A&I University System Board, University System officers and staff as well as the various university presidents and development staff members and other interested people of South Texas working with the interim committees expressing their desire to help

The Texas A&I University System and the need for quality education that could be provided for South Texas by the Texas A&I University System.

The background work done by all these people, the appearances before interim committees, each of our House members working with House Committee members, the long hours of united efforts on behalf of Texas A&I University made it possible to have the entire Texas A&I University System adopted without opposition, the only system in the State to have this happen. Those long hours of standing by, at my request, to give assistance when needed made it possible to reach this goal.

The Governor, Lt. Governor, the Speaker, at the request of various officials, visited the areas served by the Texas A&I University System, met with the people, toured the facilities, and listened to our problems. They met with representatives of each community numerous times in Austin. The Chambers of Commerce from Corpus Christi, Kingsville and Laredo, held a reception in Austin and invited all the Senate and House members as well as other State officials. This was well attended and the Speaker and Governor spent much time that evening discussing the needs of the area with persons from each city.

But let us not forget that the big battle is yet to be won. We must work even harder and closer now that the Senate Finance Committee will mark-up their companion bill within the next few days. As each, Senate and House, considers the bill we must maintain even closer vigilance because of the tugging and pulling by all the state agencies for badly needed funds from the legislature this year. The citizens within South Texas cannot relax until this bill has been signed by the Governor.

A PILE OF POLICIES

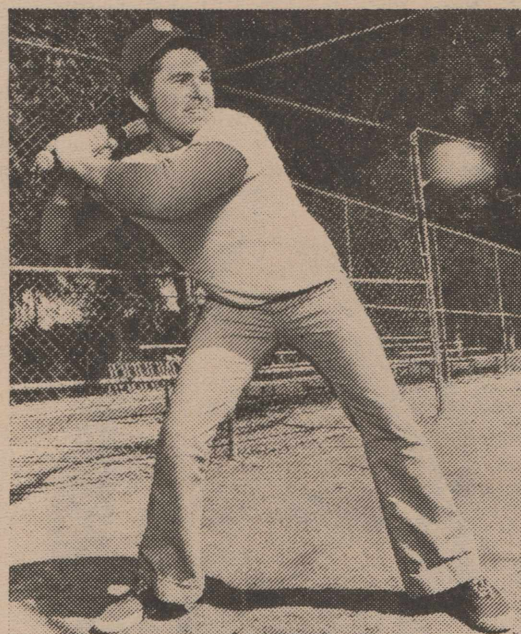

According to the Institute of Life Insurance, if you're an average head of household, you have — in addition to auto insurance — eight other policies, five of them life, the remainder for protection of your family, home, or personal belongings.

There could be overlapping coverage. With changes in family size, income, and value of possessions (especially your home), there could be insufficient coverage.

Insurance costs represent a sizeable item in the budget, so it's wise to review your policies periodically to see if you're getting the coverage you need, paying your premiums in the most economical way, and using your dividends properly. What with the constant changes and new combinations of risk coverage, and a lot of small print that might befuddle you, it's to your advantage to have your insurance agent help you in this review.

Garden Club Hears Monthly Reports

The Rockport Home and Garden Club met April 14 in the home of Mrs. Ronald Levy with Mrs. Kenneth Thomas co-hostess.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Bob Evers.

The club voted to set aside a certain percentage of income for the club's beautification project in addition to the amount in the year's budget.

Mrs. B.F. Street gave a report of the club's trip, by bus, to Los Patio, San Antonio, in March.

Mrs. Charles Kaigler read a report from Mrs. W.K. Thomas, beautification chairman, giving thanks to those participating in the Ski Basin work day and reminded the members to continue their work, watering and weeding assigned boxes.

The club voted to participate in SeaFair in October.

Mrs. J. Paul Rogers gave a brief report on displays seen at Festival of Flowers, Corpus Christi. Mrs. Rogers, with assistance of Mrs. E.H. Butler and President Mrs. Lewis

Caton, and with donations from club members, took a display of ferns and a display of native grasses, representing the Rockport Home & Garden Club. She won first place and a grade of 99 on her fern display and first place and grade 98 on her native grasses.

STATE HONORS. The Rockport Home and Garden Club won first place awards for their Bicentennial Flower Show and Arbor Day Program last week at the Texas Garden Clubs Convention in Houston. Pictured with those awards and a certificate of appreciation from the state organization for the club's participation in the "World Gardening" celebration, are Mrs. Lewis Caton, president (left), and Mrs. W.K.

Thomas, club civic beautification chairman. Mrs. B.F. Street and Mrs. Richard Beck were in charge of the Arbor Day Celebration held by the club. Mrs. Bob Evers and Mrs. Jack Cowan handled the Bicentennial Flower Show event. Rockport won its awards in competitions with chapters representing more than 28,000 members statewide.

Garden Club Honored

Mrs. Lewis Caton, president, and Mrs. W.K. Thomas, civic beautification chairman of the Rockport Home and Garden Club, attended the Texas Garden Clubs, Incorporated's 49th Annual Convention in the Shamrock Hilton Hotel in Houston, April 12-14.

Hostess group for the convention was the Houston Council of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc. The Rockport Home and Garden Club received first place State and District VII awards for their Bicentennial Flower Show and 1976 Arbor Day Program. In addition, the organization was given a certificate for participating in the Texas Garden Clubs' project of "World Gardening."

Mrs. Lee Coil of Lubbock, the outgoing state president, presided at the convention. Her selected theme for the convention, "For Such a Time as This," was emphasized throughout.

Programs included a horticulture breakfast and flower show, youth communication luncheon and a landscape design luncheon.

Mrs. C.W. Thomas of Tipton, Missouri, gave an artistic design program, "Prime Time for Design," at the Thursday evening banquet.

Installation of new state officers for 1977-79 included Mrs. Jay Huckabee of Snyder as president. A reception honoring Mrs. Huckabee and the new officers was hosted by District VIII.

Circle 1 Donates To Window Fund

Circle I of the First Presbyterian Church met on April 14 at the home of Catherine Cavitt with eighteen members and one guest present.

Sara Bates opened the meeting as Gertrude Mills was ill. Agnes Reasor gave the Least Coin Meditation. The treasurer reported a balance on hand of $105.50.

The intensive Bible Study will be held April 29 at 10 a.m. with a salad luncheon. The study book is "Beauty Care for the Eyes."

There will be no more Board meetings until September.

A birthday party will be held on May 5 at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Neva Jackson.

On May 6 the Episcopal Church will host a May Fellowship Day Service at 10 a.m. This service is planned by the United Church Women.

Sewing for children as a project of Ecumenical Missions will continue on April 21 with a request for scraps of tape, trimmings and yarn. Garments are being displayed in the foyer. A report was given from The Castaways.

The two card parties given for winter visitors were so well received that a series will be planned for next year. It has been suggested that card tables be purchased as extra money becomes available.

April 20 is the next Family Night Supper. Several members commented on the plan to show films discrediting the life of Christ. An address is available for those wishing to contribute to a fund to oppose the release of these films.

The hostess for the May meeting will be Lonie Rheinlaender with Bessie Glass moderator.

An announcement was made of a plan to form a Widowed Persons Service in Rockport and an invitation was extended to Circle members. Elnorie Daniel led the continuing study of Paul's Letter to the Ephesians.

be the first to give in, so that fingers will clasp in a burst of laughter?Childhood play. It isn't always this easy. Later on, we want to bridge the gap that separates us from something or someone else. But often we don't have the nerve.Sometimes we want to speak . . . and can't find our voices.
Sometimes we honestly want to go to church . . . but it's been so long.In anything, the hardest part is the first step. One foot, then another foot . . . which, in the case of the church, leads straight to a wide-open door.

The rest is easy.

migration habitat locations. Spotters in Texas as well as in midwestern states provide much information between late-March through early June, when the birds head north," said Irby.

Observers who sight cranes are asked to record exact time, date, location, what the birds were doing (feeding, resting, flying) and report it immediately to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's wildlife division in Austin.

"The problem remains that the birds are very wary while on the ground. They will not allow you to get close to them, so they are usually spotted from a great distance, which makes positive identification difficult," he added.

Before recovery efforts began, the whooper population reached a low of 15 birds on the Texas wintering grounds and six in Louisiana. The refuge was acquired by the federal government's Fish and Wildlife Service in 1937 in an initial effort to prevent the extinction of this stately bird.

Agenda

the city's new Flood Plain Management Ordinance, rewritten to bring the city into line with new state and federal requirements. Under the provisions of the proposed ordinance, all mobile homes within the city limits would have to have proper tie-downs. New mobile homes would have 10 days to meet the requirements. Homes presently in the city limits and legal under the old ordinance would have 45 days to comply.

In addition, the ordinance will require a certificate of elevation for each new residence built inside the city limits, and for all homes added onto after passage of the ordinance. The certificate must be completed by a registered surveyor or a licensed engineer.

Council will also take action on the Flood Management Ordinance during the regular meeting after hearing public comments.

Under old business, Council will open and possibly award contracts for paving and repairs to Glass Avenue and delivery of a flatbed truck for the street department.

Council will discuss the Little League Association's request under old business, as well as the hiring of a Recreation Director to oversee the summer operation of City recreation facilities, including the Memorial Park ball diamonds.

A report will also be given on the progress toward a park in Little Bay Shores.

Under new business, Council will set a date for a meeting of the Board of Equalization, consider renewal of hospital insurance for employees, and approve minor changes in a Central Power and Light Company tariff sheet. The changes won't cost the city any money, according to City Secretary Herman Johnson.

Director of Public Works J.C. Gurley will have recommendations for Council's consideration on roads to be seal coated during the year by city street crews.

Aston visualizes the service as serving the Ski Basin and Key Allegro areas from a centrally located shelter. Keys would be distributed to qualified volunteers, and the boat would be ready during the daylight hours when traffic is heaviest.

Training for the water rescue team could be done locally, Aston says, with current volunteers, some of whom have professional diving experience.

Lady Pirates Bound For Region Meet April 23

Nancy Hicks, Jena Miller, Julie Miller and Betty Baldwin won a trip to the regional meet with a second place finish in the mile relay Friday in the District 15-3A meet, held in Pirate Stadium.

The team finished with a time of 4:17.4, approximately three seconds behind Tulos-Midway's winning effort.

Coached by Karen Richter, the team will compete at 4:20 p.m. Sat. in Buccaneer Stadium in Corpus Christi. A top finish would send them to the state meet in Austin in May.

The mile relay was the only top two finish for Rockport-Fulton in the strongest district in South Texas. The girls finished eighth overall with a total of 28 points.

Gregory-Portland, as expected, rolled to an easy win in the team standings, piling up 120 points to whip T-M and the rest of the field with ease.

The Lady Pirates' top individual finisher was Kathe Heffernan, who took third place in the 880 yard run with a time of 2:32.4. She missed a trip to the regional meet by just a few steps.

The Lady Pirates got fifth place finished in the high jump and 440 yard dash from Julie Adams and Betty Baldwin, and Mona Gail Smith finished fifth in the 80 yard hurdles.

In the junior division of the 15-3A meet, Rockport-Fulton's Lady Buccaneers, under the direction of Coach Mary Echols, finished sixth overall with a team point total of 39.

Varsity Baseball Team To Meet Oso, Calallen

Rockport-Fulton's varsity baseball team will take on West Oso April 21 on its home field beginning at 7:30 p.m. The team will be out of town April 26 for a game with Calallen, also beginning at 7:30 p.m.

April 12, Rockport won its second district game with an 11-10 squeaker over Gregory-Portland. Down 4-10 in the seventh inning, Rockport came back to score six runs and send the game into extra innings. Paul Harris finally won the game for Rockport in the bottom of the ninth with a lead-off home run.

The game began April 12 but was reset for April 13 with G-P leading 2-0. The Pirates came out quickly and tied the score, but G-P took the lead again in the third, going ahead 5-2.

In the bottom of the third, Scott Casterline walked, stole second, and scored in front of Mark McCabe, who hit his sixth home run of the season to boost the Pirates within one run at 4-5.

The Wildcats got five more runs in the top of the seventh and seemed to have the game on ice, but Charles McLead opened the bottom of the inning with a double, and the Pirates were on their way. McLead scored on two consecutive wild pitches, and Casterline walked two pitches later. McLead then hit into an apparent double play which Casterline broke up with a rolling slide into second, and Reggie Morgan scored both runners with a clutch double. After Albert Mendiola walked, second baseman John Pina hit a three run homer to tie the game.

April 15 in Sinton the Pirates were down and lost 7-1

Local Tennis Seniors In San Marcos Tourney

Four local tennis players represented Rockport Racquet Club in the Super Senior Tennis tournament last week at Woodcreek Resort near San Marcos. Participants were Dewey Lingo, Jim White, Bill Hansen and Dave Crooks.

Four divisions were scheduled-60 and older, 65 and older, 70 and older and 75 and older with both singles and doubles play. Also there was a singles consolation division for players defeated in the first round of singles play.

Lingo made it to the finals in consolation play by beating Art Ronk of Houston, 6-1 and 6-4. However, rain during the third day of the tournament washed out Lingo's scheduled final match with Joe Gray of Austin.

White and Ed Decherd of Dallas, who was in charge of the tournament, lost in the 65 and older doubles division semi-final match to Luis Fisher and Terry Pollard, both of Houston, 6-4 and 6-4.

Hansen and Lingo lost to Gray and Cornelius McDonald of St. Louis, 6-0 and 6-0 in the 60 and older doubles.

Crooks and Travis Smith of Wharton, Texas, lost 6-1 and 6-4 to Ronk and Frank Oliver of Dallas in 70 and older doubles. Smith, age 81, has been playing tennis since he was 11. The current issue of Time Magazine reports in its Sports section that Smith and Henry Doyle, also 81, will represent the United States in a side event to the Wimbledon tournament in June when they will play a team of English octogenarians.

Last week's tournament is believed to have been the first Super Senior tournament in Texas, but Decherd and some of his associates are planning to promote a number of such events this year.

Wives of the Rockport players accompanied them to the tournament.

Boaters who disregard small craft advisories just can't be classified as very intelligent. A red pennant flying on a flagpole near coastal waters or inland lakes during the day or a red light over a white light at night are storm warnings or small craft advisories. Radio and television stations also announce small craft advisories a day or two in advance.

At one time along the coast these were called Small Craft WARNINGS but, for some reason, the weather bureau changed their wording and now they call them ADVISORIES.

When exactly the same conditions prevail on inland lakes the working changes again. Here they are WIND WARNINGS. They still mean keep your small boat off the water.

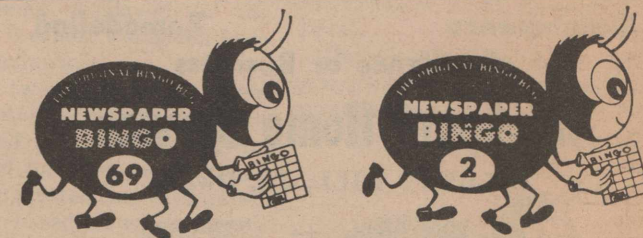

These warning signals (pennants or lights) are hoisted when wind speeds reach 18 miles per hour. In open water this can mean waves up to 10 feet high with long, pronounced rolls. There are very few times when the wind finds a long enough sweep to produce waves this high, but it can. Even smaller waves produced by 18 to 20 mile per hour winds can push a small boat off course, push it into unseen obstacles and even swamp it.

Boaters or fishermen who find themselves caught out in sudden heavy weather should immediately don their PFDs (life preservers), stow everything securely in the boat and be prepared for some rough sledding.

Many TP&WD game wardens, especially on inland lakes, will make the rounds of the lake warning fishermen and boaters that rough weather is on its way. They would much rather do this than drag the bodies of drowning victims later.

Keep an eye, and an ear, on the weather when you're going out on the water. If you expect to go very far or stay very long you should carry a small radio along, preferably one that will tune in to the official weather stations broadcasts. Listen to the weather predictions and when small craft advisories or wind warnings are forecast head for home.

Pirates Tennis Co-Champs

Erin Falk and the doubles team of Jimmy Aleman and Steve Allen won district titles and led Rockport to a 15-3A co-championship in tennis last week.

Men and women competed separately at the H.E.B. Tennis Center in Corpus Christi, but point totals were cumulative, and Rockport's 30 points matched Sinton's at the end.

Falk was the first to strike for Rockport, defeating Rhonda McCauley of Beeville 6-1, 6-2 in the finals to win her second consecutive trip to the Regional meet, set for April 22 and 23 at the H.E.B. Tennis Center.

Two straight match wins at the Regional meet will mean a trip to the state meet for the state-ranked singles player, since both the first and second place winners in the April 23 finals get tickets to Austin.

Aleman and Allen, who have been tough to beat all year, also won a return ticket to the regional meet, defeating Sinton's Fairchild and Hesselstine

6-3 and 7-5—preserving Rockport's co-championship in the process.

A pair of wins April 19 at the men's regional meet will also mean a trip to Austin for Aleman and Allen. Matches will begin at 1 p.m. according to coach A.C. Blunt, but players' draws have not been held yet, and opponents are still undetermined.

Both the doubles team of Allen and Aleman and Falk lost in the first round of the Regional meet last year to eventual state entries, and Blunt says the three will be that much tougher to beat this year, given a year of growth and the experience of pressure competition behind them.

Other competitors for Rockport at the district meet included Juan Duke and Bryan Bracht as senior division boys' doubles, and Jerry Lewis and Jeff Crosby as boys' singles.

In the senior girls' competition, Renee Fair and Barbara Allen teamed in the double's competition, as did Anne Corbett and Valerie Ovenden. Maureen Mixon was Rockport's second single.

In the junior division, Julie Hiller was all alone for Rockport in the girls' division. Reagan Little and Gary Cruse and Frank Bettancourt and held down the fort in the boys' division.

Bucs Finish Season With 15 3A Meet

Rockport-Fulton Junior High School's eighth grade boys' track team closed out its season last week in Calallen at the District 15-3A track meet.

The team finished far back of winner Gregory-Portland (like every other team in the district), but got strong performances from several individuals and both relay teams.

Johnny Little, Mike Goodlett, Abraham Cocke and Kroy DeForest ran both the 440 yard and 1320 yard relays for the Bucs in Calallen, and the four-some finished sixth in both races.

Kyle Dietze was Rockport's top individual competitor, taking a third place in the discus. Kroy DeForest finished sixth in the shot put, Abraham Cocke sixth in the 660 yard run.

Bubba Scott and Kyle Dietze turned in Rockport's top individual performances, taking third in the shot put and discus, respectively. Scott's throw of 45 feet represented an improvement of 10 feet since the beginning of the season.

In other individual events, Rockport's Kroy DeForest took home a sixth place ribbon in the shot put, and Abraham Cocke snared a sixth place ribbon in the 660 yard run.

JV's Drop District Games To FB, Sinton

Last week, the JVs dropped a pair of district contests to Flour Bluff and Sinton.

The Hornets took Rockport to the cleaners, 13-3, handing the loss to workhorse moundsman Joe Williams. Ricky Garcia and Gabriel Benavidez did most of Rockport's damage at the plate.

Against Sinton, things were much closer, Rockport falling by one run, 4-3. "Errors killed us," said Johansen of the loss to the JV Pirates. "We didn't make a whole lot of them, but they came at bad times with men on base." The loss nullified a fine relief effort by Jerry Kelly, who came in in the fifth to relieve Williams and ended a Sinton rally with a strikeout. In the sixth, Kelly set the side down with strikeouts.

Garcia and Jimmy Cruser were the hot hands for Rockport at the plate.

A Library Week Look At The ACISD Library System

Editor's Note: This completes a two part look at local libraries in honor of state Library Week, April 17-23.

Although both perform educational services, there are fundamental differences between public and school libraries. Tax supported and interconnected with libraries across the state and nation, public libraries serve the entire community and must try, at least, to have a little bit of everything, from Einstein to Dr. Seuss.

School libraries are a different breed. "Many people don't understand the difference," says High School Librarian Elsie L. Barton. A school library must support the educational program of the school. It has to be more specialized than a public library, and it has to adapt itself to a different clientele, one with age limits and specific interests. School librarians also have to select books they think will challenge students. We look hard to find something to lead the students on toward more reading and more knowledge.

More than public libraries, the school is looking to provide what some have called "the book that saves."

Most of the High School's 8,907 volumes are there to save students from pulling their hair out at report time, of course.

"Spring research activity just goes on and on," says Mrs. Barton, who has been in library work for eight years and at Rockport for six. "The advanced English classes are all assigning reports, and the teachers all want the student to go to the primary sources. And that means periodicals (the school has more than 50 titles, many as far back as 10 years). It's non-stop."

The library's activity sheet for March showed more than 2,500 check-outs. The February report showed almost 1,600.

Mrs. Barton handles the load with the help of student Library Club volunteers and Library Science students, who follow a regular course of credited instruction from Mrs. Barton.

The volunteers give time before school, or during their lunch or activity periods.

The crew handles requests that vary widely with class assignments, fads, and TV shows. GONE WITH THE WIND was a big mover, for instance after the 1939 classic was rerun on television.

During the last two years, interest in the occult has mushroomed and students are keeping the staff on the run with requests for books on astrology, witchcraft and demonology. Books on consciousness expansion and by youth gurus such as Herman Hesse are less in demand but also popular.

Mrs. Barton says on the average that older students tend to read less outside class assignments unless they have found their area of interest, in which case they can become almost carnivorous, devouring the entire stock of library material relating to their chosen field.

There are also reading cliques within the school. The occult, as mentioned, is popular, as is science fiction, westerns by Louis L'Amour and Zane Grey, and the old male standby, "war" books.

Classics also have their adherents, especially among advanced English students whose interests have been stirred by reading lists that range from Crane and Howells to Huxley to Dostoevsky to Hemingway. As for the moderns, Solzhenitsyn is more popular than Vonnegut, and a Pynchon fan rare indeed.

The high school library also handles audio-visual equipment for the school, including filmstrips, records and recordings, and movies from the Education

Service Center in Corpus Christi, a cooperative film buying service made up of small South Texas school systems who pool funds to purchase and rent films.

The Junior High School library, under the direction of Claudia Bateman, has 4,506 volumes, almost a third of which are fiction.

The most popular book is not a work of fiction, however, it's the Guinness Book of World Records. Most of the students are just looking, it seems, since Rockport hasn't been the scene of any world record attempts lately.

TV also has the expected impact among reading students. Since the advent of the series, Nancy Drew and Hardy Boys mysteries have become overwhelming favorites among students of both sexes.

Aside from the fads and the occasional curiosity, however, the favorites are much the same as they have been for years. Girls like self-help books with tips on how to make it through adolescence, with crafts coming in second.

Boys go for World War II stories and sports.

The occult, meaning parapsychology, is also a big mover, although Ms. Bateman says the supply of titles is limited.

The library also does a steady business in reference books, everything from dictionaries to encyclopedias. Unlike many libraries, the Junior High school allows overnight check-outs, and students take advantage regularly when term papers or reports come due.

The library also serves as the audio-visual center for the school, keeping track of the projectors, films, recording and records which teachers use as boosters to textbook instruction.

The library also has steady interest in its eight periodicals, including National Geographic, Texas Parade, American Heritage and Current Biography and the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature.

Circulation for the library averages approximately 1200 titles a month in a school with 500 plus students. It keeps Ms. Bateman, in her third year, and a supply of student assistants, busy.

Fulton Elementary library is run by Mrs. Gertrude Ramirez, and she says the Hardy Boys and Nancy Drew are favorites there, too, since the coming of the TV serializations.

Mrs. Ramirez says the old standbys for students outside class requirements are horse stories for girls and motorcycles for the boys. Each student uses the library at least once a week, and circulation usually equals enrollment, or approximately 100.

Mrs. Ramirez, in her fourth year, adds 75-100 titles per year to the library shelves, as well as periodicals like National Geographic.

Elsie L. Barton

Only books are handled at the library. Records and study tapes and the like all come from the principal's office.

At Live Oak Elementary, where Linda Clark is in charge, Nancy Drew and The Hardy Boys are on top, with science, foreign countries and whatever else the class units are covering finishing a close second. Live Oak handles only grades one through four, and Ms. Clark says every student in the school takes at least one book per week.

The total library stock is approximately 3000, equally divided between fiction and non-fiction.

Ms. Clark has been librarian for seven years, and adds new titles each year as the budget allows. She says she tries to keep the current balance in her selections, evaluating requests from students (science is big this year and new titles are on the way).

She also sees to it that Live Oak students are schooled in the proper use of library facilities, and begins training in the Dewey Decimal system of filing titles as soon as she feels the students are ready. By the fifth grade, she says, they are "picking it up fast."

Her duties on occasion also include research for teachers in various subjects. With her knowledge of the library system she is a good sleuth at the Aransas County Library and its state-wide interlibrary loan system.

The largest elementary library is at Rockport Elementary, where Mrs. Valerie McLead oversees almost 9,000 volumes.

Mrs. McLead says the Hardy Boys and Nancy Drew are also tops with her students, although the Charlie Brown or "Peanuts" series remains in the forefront.

Rockport Elementary has perhaps the best read student body. The library circulated more than 2500 books last month, up to 10 times more than some of the smaller schools.

Mrs. McLead says her students have remarkably similar interests, with boys and girls alike falling for sports books and the aforementioned mysteries.

Eight students chosen for high grades and personal discipline assist Mrs. McLead in the library. The eight, all fifth grade students, help first graders find books during their library period, and also help with shelving used volumes and cataloging the inventory.

The library at Rockport carries 13 periodicals, including the National Geographic, American Girl, Boy's Life, Jack and Jill and Western Horseman. The library's library of filmstrips is the elementary system's largest.

ACHVI Volunteer

While in Austin he and a friend also in the emergency care business lobbied with legislators for regulations which would upgrade the level of qualifications required of attendants and the overall level of emergency care.

Some listened, some didn't, but one of Farley's ideas, a register of emergency medical attendants statewide, has been set up by others (not the legislature).

Farley came back to the coast after three years to start the old "Fisherman's Pride Restaurant" in Rockport Plaza.

Business was good but not good enough, and the Farleys now run the Rusty Anchor Restaurant on Highway 35, where an out in the open location is drawing good results.

The stay in Rockport Plaza did give him a chance to meet civic leader Bill Janacek, who introduced him to the Rotary Club and got him involved in community affairs.

At the same time, his old Austin employer, Conwell Smith, was keeping him abreast of developments with the ACHVI, and when the paramedic was finally hired, Farley was the right man in the right place to shoulder a good deal of the extra work which went into the preparation and early operation of the Modulance.

So far he's managed to work in classroom teaching to volunteer classes, a nearly full shift in the Modulance, a month of long hours spent fixing up and do-it-yourselfing with Aston so that the donation fueled service could fly now and pay a little later.

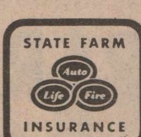

This, plus 12 hours or so at his business.

Everyone is underpaid, of course, but the pressure and the long hours are a pace only pros and fanatics can love, and Farley feels it could be a problem for the service in the future.

The new back-up unit for example, will be a mixed blessing for the 15 or so volunteers who fill a seven day schedule. "The double shifts that will be required now could cause some friction to some people," says Farley. And that is my biggest worry with so many people working so hard. Their families might want that time and we might lose them. I'm not saying that it will happen, but it could happen."

"It can take a toll on your social life. The ideal situation would be another Paramedic. Right now Bill's working six days a week on 24-hour call, and it can get to you. We've both had lots of days where we'd make a call at say 2 a.m. and with the care at the scene and the transportation and the trip back it would be 5 a.m. before we got back to bed. Then Bill especially would have days where he'd have to give a speech to a civic club or a church group the next morning, bright and early and you get to dragging after two or three days like that."

All the sweat and cut corners are worth it for the community and Farley both when the moment comes when quick action saves a life. Working with an Austin Paramedic filling in for Aston on his off day, Farley has already recorded one "field save" reviving the vital signs of an 83 year old woman who hadn't eaten for three days and weighed 63 pounds.

Almost three-fourths of his cases have been similar, cardiac problems, arrests, strokes, etc.

Some of the others are car accidents, and some are hypochondriacs, "some want attention," some are borderline. They don't need an ambulance at that particular moment. But they do need to see a doctor, which is what we tell them to do: get it in the car."

School Board

In other business, the Board: Approved the recommendations of Superintendent Randow and named Cam Leonard, Tom Brown and John Mitchell to the ACISD Board of Equalization. School Tax Assessor Collector Melba Mills was appointed Recording Secretary for the Board.

In a move directed as strengthening ACISD's ability to compete in University Interscholastic League skills events, the Board approved payment to at least three teachers for sponsoring student entrants in competitions varying from Slide Rule to Poetry Interpretation. Teachers currently sponsor and coach students on a volunteer basis without compensation, often putting in a double work week to prepare the students for district and higher level competitions.

Superintendent Randow originally recommended three paid sponsors, one to handle math and science entries, another to handle debate and one-act plays, and a third to handle all other events. The Board was concerned that three would be too few, and gave Randow a free hand to hire sponsors as needed.

Approved a non-development lease for the Rockport Elementary School campus with Henry H. Waggoner. The lease calls for a bonus payment of $800, and one eighth royalty.

Turned down a request from the City to Rockport for $1000 as a one-third share of the cost of hiring a summer recreation director to oversee the use of City park facilities including City ball diamonds.

Approved a tentative calendar for the 1977-78 school year will call for six teacher in-service work days.

Heard Superintendent Randow's report that Rockport should remain 3A during the next school year. Randow set the average enrollment for the past two years at the high school at 633, just over the UIL's 550 minimum for 3A schools. Board President Otis Mundine predicted the school would have some 800 students within two years. Randow set the current school enrollment at 670 students.

the night of April 9. Reeves reported the theft at 7:30 a.m. April 10 to the Aransas County Sheriff's Department, which put the information on its state-wide teletype. At 9:30 a.m. word came from the Jackson County Sheriff's Department that the articles had been found with the suspects after they were stopped for a traffic violation.

In addition to the articles taken from the Key Allegro home, Jackson County officer also discovered a 25 horsepower motor taken April 9 from an Aransas Pass home.

HO&M also received the final go-ahead on a recently complete bay pipeline. HO&M Associate Counsel John Lea told the Pilot Monday that the company's bay wells are still shut in, awaiting completion of pipeline connections the Cove Harbor facilities.

Three permits refer to Copano Bay sites. Col. H.S. Saylor received a single permit to erect a bulkhead and fill an area in Copano Bay.

Wainoco, Inc. received a single permit to erect and maintain structures for the purpose of drilling oil or gas well in the Copano Bay.

Crisis Center

The Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Incorporated's emergency ambulance service reports the following calls for the week of April 11 through April 18:

--An emergency call at 6:23 p.m. April 12 sent the Modulance and crew to the scene of an auto accident north of Copano Causeway on Highway 35. Response time was four minutes. The patient was not injured and was not transported.

--A 10:55 a.m. emergency call April 13 sent the Modulance and crew to a residence at the intersection of Church and Laurel Streets in Rockport. The team arrived in two minutes and transported a single patient to Lyman-Roberts Hospital in Aransas Pass.

--April 13 at 4:27 p.m. a call sent the team to the Doctor's Clinic in Rockport; where they transported one heart attack patient to Spohn Hospital in Corpus Christi. Response time was one minute.

--April 14, a 6:23 p.m. emergency call on a possible heart attack sent the crew to the Oak Terrace subdivision in rockport within four minutes. Patient was stabilized at the scene with intravenous fluids and rushed to Lyman-Roberts.

--April 16 an emergency call from a Pine Street residence in Oak Terrace at 2:24 a.m. brought the Modulance within four minutes. One patient was transported to Lyman-Roberts.

--A 12:11 p.m. emergency call April 17 sent the crew to Port Street in Palm Harbor, where a 17 month old child was having difficulty breathing. The team arrived at 12:17 and advised the family to have the child checked by a family physician.

--A 7 p.m. emergency call from the scene of a motorcycle accident in downtown Rockport brought the ambulance crew to the scene in one minute at 7:01 p.m. Two victims were transported to Lyman-Roberts.

--The final call of the week went in at 4:17 a.m. April 18. This call was for a single patient supposedly at 421 Kossuth, but the crew and Sheriff's Department deputies had trouble finding the street and house because of a lack of markings, and when no patient was found at the scene, no response time was recorded.

For the week, the ambulance system covered 240 miles, and average two minutes in town response.

Elected Judgeship Sought

State Sen. A.R. Schwartz introduced S.B. 1204 in the Texas Senate today which will provide for an elected Judge for the newly created District Court for Brazoria County and could set a precedent for an end to appointed judges of newly created Courts in the State of Texas. The bill, S.B. 1204, establishes the new district court in Brazoria County and sets January 1, 1979 as the new effective date for that court.

Governor Briscoe has failed to submit a name for appointment to the Court created for April 1st under the emergency Omnibus Court Bill so this bill provides that the position of judge for that court will be on the ballot in the general election in November of 1978. "The dilemmas caused by conflicting opinions of a Governor and State Senator should never even be permitted to arise and the election system is still the best guarantee that the people of a county ought to make the determination of who shall serve as Judge of a newly created court rather than the present patronage system," Schwartz said.

Under the terms of the bill the judge of the court will be duly elected by the people of Brazoria County. Currently, new district courts almost always take effect between elections and the Governor appoints all judges for the new posts. This gives patronage to the Governor and his friends, rather than serving the best judicial needs of an area and gives his appointee the advantage of incumbency when the election is finally held.

The Governor's appointments and thereby subvert the intent of the constitution.

Senator Schwartz commented, "The Constitution of the State of Texas requires that district judges be elected, yet every time a new court has been created, the Legislature has allowed the Governor to appoint a judge to fill that position until the election is held. When these judges run for office, they run as incumbents, and very rarely are incumbent judges defeated in elections in this state."

"I hope that this bill will set a precedent for future court bills in this state," added Sen. Schwartz. This kind of bill takes the power of selecting judges away from the Governor and the Senate and puts it back in the hands of the people, where it belongs."

The bill was first heard in the Senate Intergovernmental Relations Committee March 29 along with several other bills relating to the creation of new courts. Senator Schwartz expects that all of these bills will be combined into one omnibus court bill.

Senior Citizen

Internships

Available

Sen. John Tower (R-Tex) today announced he is accepting applications from Texas senior citizens who wish to participate in an intern program in his Washington office for two weeks in May.

Two citizens will be selected from the applicants to spend from May 16 through 27 in Tower's Washington office observing the legislative process, meeting with representatives of departments and agencies and participating in the operations of a Congressional office.

Tower said a demanding schedule of activities will include meetings with various agency, department and committee representatives, an all day trip to the Social Security Administration in Baltimore and the opportunity to attend committee hearings.

The interns will work on a briefing book explaining the programs designed to benefit senior citizens at the city, county and state level.

However, all will not be hard work, Tower said. Plans also include a private tour of the White House and social activities with the Congressional staff and other interns.

Tower said the two interns will be chosen by a panel or representatives of senior citizens and retirement associations. He said applicants should be senior citizens who are at least 65 years of age, are active in their own communities, have an interest in legislation and would be willing and able to share with their age group the experience and information

Golden Age Passport Available

If you are 62 or older and would like a free, lifetime pass to national parks, monuments and recreation areas which charge entrance fees, it is yours for the asking.

The Golden Age Passport is issued free to citizens or permanent residents of the United States who are 62 or older and it admits the permit holder and any persons accompanying him or her in a single, private noncommercial vehicle such as a car, pickup, motor home or motorcycle.

When entry into a park is not made by private car, the permit admits the holder and his spouse and children.

How do you get a Golden Age passport? First, you may only obtain the passport in person. By law, they are not available by mail.

At the time you obtain the passport, you must show proof of age, which may be a birth certificate or a driver's license that carries your birth date. If you have no proof of age, you must sign an affidavit attesting that you are over 62.

The passport is available at almost all federal areas where it may be used, so it may not be necessary to get your passport before beginning your trip. But for further data on the Golden Age Passport, including the places where it may be obtained and where it may be used, write the National Park Service, P.O. Box 728, Room J-12, Santa Fe, N.M. 87501. You'll be sent a brochure that describes both the Golden Age and the Golden Eagle program.

The Golden Eagle is for persons under 62 and is a little different. It also admits the permit holder and a carload of accompanying people, but it costs $10 and is good for only the calendar year.

Those who plan several visits to Park System areas charging entrance fees may save by buying the Golden Eagle for $10 rather than paying individual entrance fees, which range from 50 cents per person to $3 per car, at each area.

The Golden Eagle and Golden Age Passports were established as part of the Federal recreation fee program under the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965, as amended. Most revenues from Golden Eagle Passport sales go into federal outdoor recreation programs.

When you write for your brochure describing the Golden Age-Eagle programs, also ask for the free SUPER 77 trip planner that describes National Park Service areas within a tankful of gasoline of your home.

County Heart

Association Has Busy Year

The Aransas county Chapter of the American Heart Association has been very busy the last year with Heart education and blood pressure checks.

The Chapter trained 70 residents area in basic Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation, commonly referred to as C.P.R. Several of the trainees are going ahead with the instructor's training. When they have qualified as instructors, the Chapter's training capacity will increase dramatically, and basic C.P.R. training will be available to a many more citizens.

The Chapter has also supported civic activities in the past year with free literature and blood pressure checks. The latest activity was the CB Club's April Fool's Fest. The Club donated free blood pressure checks, and a total of 302 checks were performed at the two-day fair.

Donations to the Heart Association thus come back to the community in these and other ways.

HO&M Asks Bay Permit

Houston Oil and Minerals has applied for a permit from the Army Corps of Engineers to erect and maintain structures and perform work for drilling two wells for producing oil and gas in Aransas Bay, State Tract 150, approximately three miles northeast from Rockport.

Plans of the proposed work may be seen at the Corpus Christi Area Office, 2900 Shoreline Drive.

AMA Urges Pre-Summer Immunization

With the advent of the spring season of 1977 most of us are beginning to get out of doors again. There are gardens and lawns that need work and outdoor chores of all sorts that have accumulated during the winter.
With the return of outdoor activities comes once again the hazard of minor accidents, cuts and scratches. Most often these aren't serious and will heal quickly if properly cleaned and protected.

The American Medical Association cautions that sometimes these scratches can be more serious. Sometimes they are the channel through which you could get tetanus, commonly called lockjaw.

Tetanus-producing spores lie dormant in the soil of your garden, the dirt of your garage.
These spores can infect you through the tiniest wound—a pin scratch, a bee sting or a small cut.

Tetanus spores may remain in your body for long periods without producing the disease.
Or, they may produce poison effects in five to fourteen days, even though the wound has healed.

First signs of tetanus are irritability and restlessness.
Muscles rapidly become rigid,
eventually causing a clenched-jaw leer that gives tetanus the popular name of lockjaw.

When symptoms appear, the outlook is grim, even with the best treatment. To avoid the deadly consequences, be sure you and your family are immunized with tetanus toxoid.
When you are immunized, your body manufactures antibodies that will fight tetanus. A booster is needed every ten years.

If you aren't protected, in an emergency there is not time for immunization. If you have no built-in immunity, your physician may inject tetanus antitoxin.

Figures Show No Traffic Deaths In '77

Aransas County continues to be blessed with a clean slate as far as traffic fatalities go, but March proved to be one of the worst months on record for personal injuries.

A total of 15 persons were injured in 20 accidents during the month, pushing the yearly total for injuries to 21, more than double the figures for 1976
during the same period.

Property damage only resulted from five accidents during the month. In 1977, property damage is running almost half of 1976 levels, 14 to 27 for the first three months of both years.

Total accidents for the first quarter are down by three in Aransas County, from 38 to 35.
In the 21 counties which make up Region II of the Texas Highway Department, 12 accidents took 16 lives in 11 of the 21 counties.

A total of 437 accidents were investigated regionwide. In addition to the 16 killed, 235 were injured in a total of 193 accidents involving personal injury or death. Some 224 accidents resulted in property damage only.

In comparison with 1976, the figures show a decrease of more than 50 percent in traffic deaths for the first three months of the year, and a decrease of 10 percent in personal injuries.

No Miracle Cure, But A Small World

A news item from the Texas tourist bureau which was printed in the Feb. 24 issue of The Pilot led to the solving of a riddle that had thoroughly stumped the Orange Tourist Bureau. Seems someone turned in a pair of crutches which had been left in a restroom. The supervisor who accepted them quipped, "We always knew coming to Texas was good for you, but we never intended to compete with Oral Roberts."

It wasn't quite spontaneous healing, but it was close. Donald Daut had stopped with his wife on the way back to Rockport from Orlando, Florida. He was getting used to walking on his new prostheses and had taken the crutches with him to the men's room.

Back in the car, he realized he didn't have them, and quickly convinced himself he had left them beside the road during a driver change 100 miles back. The couple left it at that in their minds and drove on to Rockport.

That was Jan. 11. Feb. 24, a neighbor at the trailer park where they are staying brought the clipping by, having heard of the lost crutches and the trip through Orange.

The couple realized the situation and wrote a letter to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation's Orange Tourist Bureau.

They told supervisor Bill Navia a miracle cure wasn't involved, but that Daut was walking without the crutches and that a charitable organization might make better use of them.

The Orange office agreed, and so now someone else in need will have them. "Small world," as Mrs. Daut said in her letter.

State Officers Laud Local AARP

Members and visitors attending AARP Chapter's April 13 meeting at Paws and Taws Building heard guest speaker James A. Anderson of Corpus Christi, assistant state director, and Elbert Perryman of Lake Jackson, program specialist from the National Board, American Association of Retired Persons.

Speaking on the merits of the American Association of Retired Persons organization and its amazing growth in 19 years, Mr. Anderson emphasized the importance of "Leadership" and "Motivation" to serve, help older people and better their quality of life. He lauded the growth of AARP expansion to 18 chapters in South Texas (in his term of office) some only five miles apart, and said that the Rockport Chapter is now producing, more than any other chapter, the desire to do something for other people.

Mr. Perryman's subject, "Widowed Persons Service," touched on what this program will mean to widowed persons in helping them to cope and adjust to a new way of life. A preliminary meeting was held on April 12 in the Memorial Room of the Presbyterian Church. Future meetings are being planned by the Chapter to put the program into action. President Pat Works reported that "Happiness" was the word when the residents of the Aransas Pass Nursing Home received the beautiful Easter lilies that were given by the Chapter. Also, it will be a fun day on June 17 with a program that will be given by the "Lyons' Clowns."

S.O.S. "Sofa Pillows" for the Nursing Home, please leave them at the Concern Center or call 729-1077.

The next AARP meeting will be Wednesday, April 27, at 10 a.m. "Hostesses of the Month" Katie Lou Mundine, Myrtle De Forest, Zoe Heath and Charlotte Lee will be there to serve you.

A program on Cardio Pulmonary Respiratory (CPR) is to be presented by Mrs. Connie Garcia, president of the American Heart Association, Aransas County, and a certified CPR. She will assist Iris Jenkins, Certified CPR Instructor, in a demonstration of this life-saving technique.

You can save money on electricity costs... if your home has an Energy Efficiency Award from CPL.

Before you buy or build that all-electric dream house you've been planning all these years, make sure it incorporates energy-saving ideas to help you keep your electricity bills in line. In these days of rising power costs, whether or not a house will help you use energy wisely is a factor you should consider just as carefully as you do size, location and architectural style.

That's why you need to know about the Energy Efficiency Award program sponsored by Central Power and Light Company. An all-electric home that merits this award has been designed and built to help you make the most of every dollar you spend for electricity: it is well insulated, weather-stripped and equipped with efficient electric heating and cooling systems. A qualified technician from CPL checks the house for these and other important features that boost its energy efficiency.

When you live in a home that has earned the Energy Efficiency Award—and follow CPL's suggestions for using energy wisely—you can be sure that you're getting the full value for every kilowatt-hour you buy.

So if you're thinking about building or buying an all-electric home—or remodeling your present one—ask your builder, realtor or designer about the Energy Efficiency Award. Or get more information from your CPL office.
