Safeway store sets closing

Saturday, Sept. 6, will mark the closing of a Colorado City institution of nearly 40 years.

Safeway grocery store at 524 Oak Street will close its doors at 7 p.m. Saturday, leaving over 20 employees without jobs and leaving Colorado City with just two full-line grocery stores - Fuller Foods and E-Z Way Superette.

Kathy Berry, manager of the local Safeway store for the past year, said the decision to close this store and other stores including one in Big Spring, was made because many of the smaller stores are not contributing enough money to the corporation. Kohlberg, Kravis and Robert investment company is in the process of purchasing Safeway corporation, now publicly owned.

"We hope everyone realizes that the store is not closing because of local management," said Mrs. Berry.

During its last week, the local store will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

"When we lock the door at 7 p.m. Saturday, we'll close out just like any other day," said Mrs. Berry. "On Monday, ev-

Retired checker recalls when 'new' Safeway store opened

The closing of Safeway after many years of service to Colorado City and Mitchell County holds a special meaning for Rae Fortenberry of Colorado City, who retired from Safeway in 1976 after 30 years service.

Mrs. Fortenberry, a checker, started work for Safeway here when the store was still located in the 100 block of Walnut. She continued working when a new store was built at 524 Oak Street.

"I really do hate to see the store close," said Mrs. Fortenberry Friday. "I hate to see all those people without a job."

Mrs. Fortenberry has newspaper clippings of when the then "new" store opened May 24, 1954.

"The huge, air-conditioned store - with its concrete parking for 100 cars - will be introduced to the public with opening-day activity that includes free favors for more than 7,500 persons and special prizes," a RECORD article stated.

Fred McKay, local Safeway manager who has since died, extended an invitation for citizens to visit the store and acquaint themselves with its shopping conveniences.

"Members of local Safeway staff have been busy for more than a week stocking the new 10,000-square-foot building and preparing for the opening," the article said.

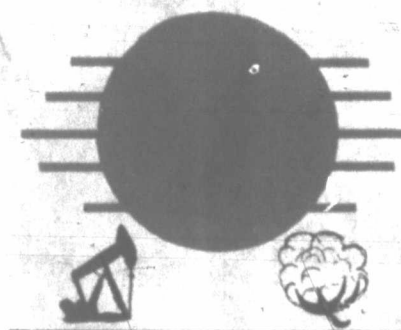

The article went on to say that:

"Parkway on both north and south sides of the building provide space for 100 autos.

"Latest facilities for easy, convenient shopping feature the interior of the brick building. Most modern service, display and storage units have been installed.

"Six checker stands are placed throughout the store."

Track to be resurfaced

The track field at Wolf Stadium will be resurfaced this fall, Colorado Independent School District board of trustees decided during a special meeting Friday morning.

Only one bid was submitted for the project - Vibra-Whirl and Company of Panhandle at a cost of $44,245.

John Smith, representing the company, said the project should take about 75 calendar days and will be a "turn-key" operation. He said the work will carry a two-year warranty and should extend the life of the track anywhere from "10 to 50 years".

Board president Billy Bridgford said that the track, built in 1979, is in need of repair and resurfacing and that if the work isn't done now, the cost to have to replace the track completely at a later date would be expensive.

Now, we're looking at $100,000-$125,000," said Bridgford.

Smith said his company will provide the school district with a suggested maintenance program to extend the life of the track once it is resurfaced.

In other business at the breakfast meeting, the board amended the 1985-86 school year budget.

A bid for school bus insurance was awarded to Farm Bureau in the amount of $5,180 for 23 buses and vans. Business manager Geneva Findley said the company previously providing coverage for buses had increased its rates to the extent that the cost was prohibitive. The only bidder

Lawsuit settled out of court

A $14.8 million civil suit against a trucking company for a 1983 accident was settled out-of-court Thursday for $3,055,000 before a 32nd District Court jury could reach a decision.

Attorneys for Watkins Motor Lines of Florida settled with Tony, Merry Ann and Amanda Sue Richter of Odessa. Amanda Sue Richter, 3 lost an eye and suffered severe brain damage as the result of a Jan. 2, 1983 five-car accident on Interstate 20 near Loraine.

The money received from the settlement will go into the purchase of annuities that will eventually pay the recipients $39 million dollars. Recipients will include Tony and Merry Ann Richter, parents of Amanda Sue, and Amanda Sue and Dustin Richardson.

Council hears water proposal

Members of the Colorado City Council, during a special meeting Friday, took no action on a proposal from a consulting engineering firm to update the city's water system analysis until another proposal can be studied.

Brenda Tarter, city manager, said another engineering firm is to submit a proposal during a special meeting Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Lee Head of Freese and Nichols presented his proposal Friday to the council.

Head said the work would consist of reviewing the city's water use records from 1982-86, reviewing future population projections, developing estimates of future water use, reviewing the existing water distribution system and making recommendations for improvements required to meet present and future demands.

Head said "consideration would be given to adequately supplying the area north of Interstate 20".

Head said the work would be performed on a cost times multiplier basis with the amount not to exceed $5,000.

The council is studying a water system analysis update in order to see what needs to be done to provide more water to the area north of I-20.

"We need to get water to the north part of town," said Mayor Elmer Martin. "This is a critical area and we need to move as fast as we can on this."

Head said the most effective solution to supplying water to that area of town will be to construct a storage tank. He said, however, that it will need

Chamber schedules bid center meeting

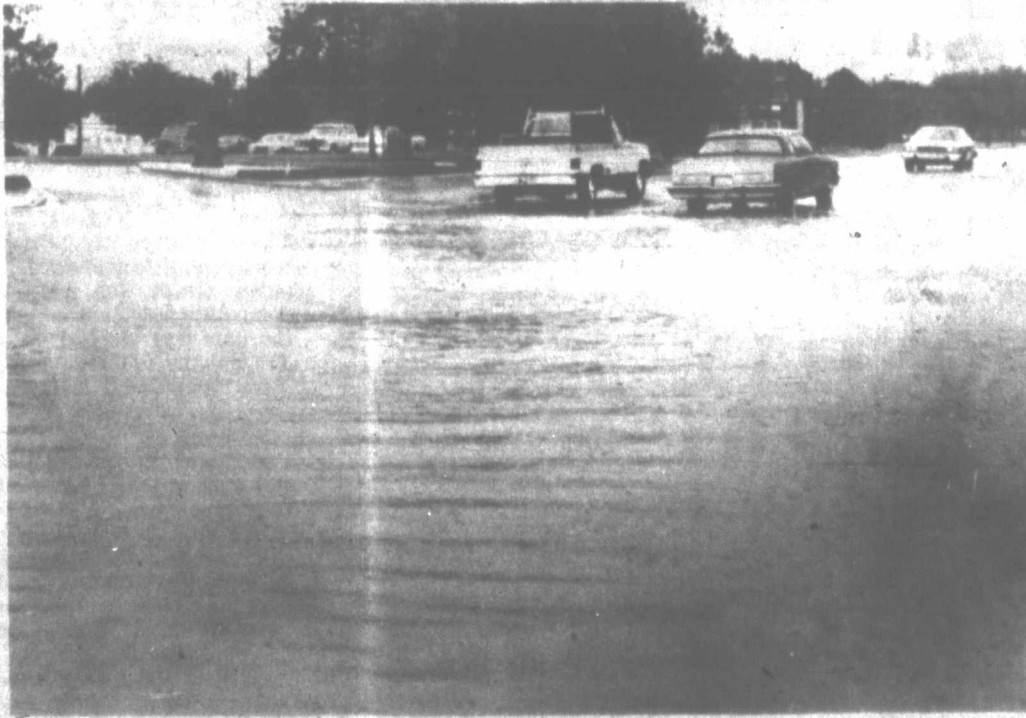

The recent slump in the agriculture and petroleum industries presents the challenge of finding ways to diversify the local economy.

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce is meeting the challenge by keeping up with the latest ideas and opportunities, said Penny Solomon, chamber manager.

"Government Procurement Bid Centers is one of the most exciting and innovative ideas designed to assist local businesses during the temporary slump in our economy," she said.

The United States Government spends approximately $167 billion a year purchasing goods and services from the private

THE INTERSECTION at Third and Oak streets turned into a small lake Wednesday causing a car and a pickup to stall after driving through the area. Over an inch of rain was recorded Wednesday and almost half an inch fell Thursday. A cool front brought cooler temperatures and the accompanying rain to the area, giving residents a taste of fall weather.

Raschke is named to board

Alton Raschke of Colorado City, a cotton, grain and hay farmer, is a member of the newly formed 15-member Odessa District Agriculture Advisory Board of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John Hightower announced the appointment of board members and made brief opening remarks during the board's first meeting recently. The board also received an overview of its function, TDA's marketing initiatives and regulatory services in the 34 counties that the Odessa District serves.

Paul Hopper, a rancher and cotton farmer in Knott, was elected board chairman. Clifford Hoelscher of Garden City was elected vice chairman. Hoelscher farms cotton in Glasscock and Pecos counties.

Dove season opens Monday

Dove season will begin Monday, Sept. 1, according to Game Warden Ronnie Aston. Aston said hunting will be allowed on both sides of the interstate in Mitchell County but that the north zone (north of I-30) will close Nov. 9 and that the central zone (south of I-30) will close Oct. 30 and reopen Jan. 3-12.

Aston said new laws require all hunters, regardless of age, to have hunting licenses. The limit will be 12 per day with maximum of 24 in possession. Aston said that beginning Sept. 1, all persons fishing, regardless of age, must have a fishing license. However, for those under 17 or over 65, the licenses will be free of charge.

"Completely new shopping carries, easy rolling and equipped with rubber handles, equip the store. In the array of carriers are 10 units with baby carriages.

"A special convenience for Safeway shoppers will be the 'magic carpet' exit door. As departing customers approach the exit door, they step on a small carpet.

"Contact with the carpet immediately and automatically opens the exit door without the patron having to touch the door.

"Spacious shopping aisles provide easy access to the store's large stock of food and home supplies. All aisles are six and eight feet wide between grocery displays."

The article went on to say that "the self-serving meat department is a first here by Safeway. It was installed to eliminate waiting in line for the butcher, and to provide opportunity for the shopper to select individually his choice of meat cuts, wrapped and sealed in transparent covering."

Members of the staff on that opening day in 1964 included McKay, manager; Charles M. Oliver, head produce clerk; Mrs. Fortenberry and Miss Elfriede Kahsmitz, checkers; Michael Manfre, Johnny Shackelford, Charles Curry, Dennis Thompson and A. K. McCarty Jr., checkers and stockers.

C. W. Carey was meat department manager, Swenson Boyd, meat department, Mrs. Paul Stewart and Mrs. P. G. Carpenter, meat wrappers.

to be determined if existing transmission lines can be used to get the water to the tank or if a new transmission line will have to be installed.

Lloyd Ledbetter, who owns the Dairy Queen just north of I-20, said that whatever the city decides to do, "you should build in enough to take care of the growth rate." He noted that the Industrial Development Team has a 20 acre site in that area, and enough water should be available for whatever industrial use might be required.

"Using the existing transmission lines would be cheaper if it doesn't have a detrimental effect on other customers," said Head.

Buz Rich, director of public works, agreed that the council should be concerned with solving the water problem north of I-20 and that the city can replace old mains south of the interstate which have caused decreased pressure in some parts of town. Rich said the size of the lines are adequate, but because of age, the buildup in the lines is decreasing the amount of water carried.

Martin agreed, saying that "we do need to replace lower elevation lines due to the corrosion in those lines."

Drug charges are filed

Two Sweetwater residents were charged with possession of a controlled substance after their arrest by Colorado City Police on Tuesday night.

Bobby Sparks, police chief, said Jay Virgil Green Jr., 23, and Jeannene Oden Hoover, 21, were each charged with possession of a controlled substance. In addition, Green was charged with intent to distribute.

The pair was stopped on a traffic violation in the 400 block of East 17th Street Tuesday at 11:30 p.m. in a 1979 white Pontiac Trans Am.

A small child in the car was turned over to the Department of Human Services.

Sparks said six baggies believed to contain marijuana were found in the glove compartment and that marijuana paraphernalia was found in the trunk of the car.

Both Green and Hoover were taken to Mitchell County Jail where they were later released on bond.

Officers assisting in the arrest were Jerry Rutherford, Randy Roberts and Vince Arias.

She estimated that it will take about a week to completely empty the store.

Mrs. Berry is being transferred to Sweetwater to be assistant manager of the Safeway store there.

But for the other 24 employees, some with over 20 years of service with the company, the future is not so bright. They'll be without jobs unless Safeway can find a buyer to purchase its store lease or unless they find jobs elsewhere.

Mrs. Berry said one food-store chain has contacted Safeway about possibly purchasing the lease, but said she does not know if anything will come of the negotiations.

Safeway has been in Colorado City since the early to mid-1940s.

Bill Hunt has a kidney worth living with now.

It's not standard equipment, but so far his body has rolled out the red carpet and given it a heroes' welcome.

Bill, who is 51, lost his first kidney in 1979. In recent years the other one reached the point of no repair. It meant dialysis treatments three times a week. Four hours at a time.

People on dialysis have their moments. Sometimes they thank God for preserving their lives. Sometimes they curse Him for the same thing.

Bill's darkest moments - the moments when he wondered if it made any sense - he describes as his "extreme spiritual challenge." Bill applied for a kidney transplant after 18 months. His brother, a good match, according to physicians, was prepared to give him one of his kidneys.

Instead, they discovered a tumor in one of Richard's kidneys. He felt terrible, but Bill says they were lucky to catch his brother's tumor in time.

There was still the cadaver transplant option. The risks were higher, for sure. Some poor, unrelated soul would have to die before his kidney could be implanted into Bill's body. The chances of rejection were greatly enhanced.

Bill thought it over, then decided to withdraw his name from consideration. That was it, or so he thought.

Friends and doctors at the Dialysis Center kept encouraging him to go for the transplant option. It was an opportunity, after all, not available to some dialysis patients.

The pulling back period, he says now, relaxed his mind. "I was able to give up some of my panic," he says. "It was my time of surrender. I just decided to accept whatever happened."

Bill finally put his name back in the computer and waited. Some days he managed better than others.

Dr. James Webster is an informal physician who wears boots and jeans to work. He also has a flair for down playing the dramatic.

"What are you doing this afternoon?" he asked Bill that day.

"I'm taking some people on a (church) retreat."

"How would you like to go to Dallas this afternoon?"

"Why?"

"They've got a kidney waiting for you."

"I felt like somebody had dropped a safe on me," says Bill. "When do I have to let you know?" he asked.

"Well, I'm kinda' on long distance."

Six hours later at Parkland Hospital they were taking 13 tubes of blood from Bill's body. By 10 p.m. he was being wheeled into surgery. By midnight he had a new kidney - and a new life.

All of this came at the beginning of Lenten season. "I'm giving up dialysis," he told his priest, the Rev. Charles Chatham.

Bill hasn't forgotten about the Dialysis Center, though. He knows the struggles the patients are going through. He remembers how the cards, the letters and the visits from old friends helped pull him through his operation. Now he visits the patients at the Center and tries to offer hope and understanding.

It's been six months since his operation. Not once has the body attempted to reject the kidney. They're calling it a picture-perfect transplant.

Bill's optimism has soared. He thinks he may be looking at 10 productive years.

Whenever he thinks about the man whose life was lost and whose family was kind enough to donate the kidney, he is humbled. "I feel like my life has been given back to me for no deserved reason," he says.

Bill now leads a morning prayer service at an Episcopal Church in his community. When it's over he goes to work as a clerk at a convenience store.

He is an educated man with a B.A. in forestry from Colorado State, and a certificate from seminary at Oberlin College in Ohio. For 19 years he served as a Presbyterian minister.

But medical problems have limited his career. The bills have been high and the income has been modest. He lives in a small, but comfortable home with his wife, Sally, a nurse, and his 15-year-old daughter, Ashli.

His daughter is a polite, seemingly unspoiled teenager. When her dad had the kidney transplant she wrote a story in the school paper explaining the situation to her middle school classmates.

Her conclusion, compete with five exclamation marks, hints at a home life with meaning beyond a Ferrari in the driveway: "I love my dad," she wrote. "He is the greatest!!!!!"

ASU planetarium presents new program

Angelo State University Planetarium Director Dr. Mark Sonntag has announced the presentation of a new star program at the University Planetarium beginning Thursday, Sept. 4.

"Footsteps" is an hour-long story of mankind's continual dream to reach the Moon and the significance of that dream realized, explained Sonntag of the new show. "Footsteps" will run every Thursday at 8 p.m. and Saturday at 2 p.m. during the months of September and October at the University Planetarium.

This year marks the 17th anniversary of man's first step onto another world and the ASU Planetarium commemorates the historic achievement in a multi-media spectacle of sight and sound.

"The planetarium program allows us to travel back in time to witness the formation of the Solar System," said Sonntag. "It also allows us to explore why the Earth and Moon are radically different worlds."

Sonntag noted the Earth is teeming with life, while the Moon remains dead and almost unchanged since its formation, billions of years ago.

"We'll watch man through the centuries learning about the Moon and trying to guess what he might find there. And finally, we'll ride with the Apollo 11 astronauts down onto the surface of the Moon and peer into the future as man becomes a true citizen of the Universe," said Sonntag.

Admission for the show is $2 for adults and $1 for students, children and senior citizens.

Each Additional Family Member	$2,444	$3,478	$204	$299	$47	$67

Children from families whose income falls within the level shown on the above scale are eligible for either free or reduced price meals. The reduced price for lunch is 40 cents and for breakfast 30 cents.

An application is to be completed to apply for free or reduced-price meals. Please answer all questions on the form. An application which does not contain the following information cannot be processed by the school: (1) the total household income must be listed by the amount received by each household member receiving income and the type of income it is (such as wages, child support, etc.) OR your food stamp case number if your household is on food stamps, (2) names of all household members, (3) social security numbers of all household members 21 years old or older or the word "NONE" for any household member who does not have a social security number, and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

Within ten (10) days of the receipt of the application the school will let you know whether or not your children are eligible.

.....The information on the application may be checked by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

.....If your child is approved for meal benefits, you must tell the school when your household income increases by more than $50 per month ($600 per year) or when your household size decreases.

.....You may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If you are not eligible now, but have a decrease in household income, become unemployed, or have an increase in family size, fill out an application at that time.

.....In certain cases foster children are eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and wish to apply for free or reduced-price benefits please tell the school and they will help you complete the application.

.....Children who receive free or reduced-price meal benefits are treated the same as children who pay for meals. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, national origin, age, or handicap. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

.....If you do not agree with the school's decision on your application or the result of verification, you may wish to discuss it with the school. You also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing Charlie L. Uselton, Superintendent, 534 E. 11th Street, P.O. Box 1268, Colorado City, TX 79512-3721.

.....The information you provide will be treated confidentially and will be used only for eligibility determinations and verifications of data.

HAS THIS EVER HAPPENED TO YOU?

Even a minor fender-bender can cause whiplash, spinal misalignment, pinched nerves, and muscle spasms, which, if undetected and uncorrected, can make your body susceptible to arthritis, joint degeneration, disc degeneration or other serious problems.

Auto Accident?

Most Insurance Plans Cover Chiropractic.

Following any auto accident, no matter how minor, it is important — and makes good common sense — to get a chiropractic checkup.

We offer free consultation and spinal function test. If x-rays and treatment are indicated, automobile, liability, no-fault, and/or group health insurance usually cover the costs in full.

Some strange people I know.

People who talk about prayer but never pray.

People who say tithing is right but never tithe.

People who want to belong to the church but never attend.

People who say the Bible is God's word to man but never read it.

People who criticize others for the same things they do themselves.

People who sing, "Oh, how I Love Jesus" but can't love their neighbor.

People who sing praises to God on Sunday, but use His name in vain on Monday.

In order for Mitchell County Hospital to comply with the new indigent health care laws, the following is the criteria that will be used to determine eligibility for indigent care.
Section 17 of House Bill No.
634, which created the hospital district, states:
"Whenever a patient residing within the district has been admitted to the facilities thereof, the administrator or manager may cause inquiry to be made as to his circumstances and those of the relatives of such patient legally liable for his support. If he finds that such patient or said relatives are able to pay for his care and treatment in whole or in part, an order shall be made directing such patient or said relatives to pay to the hospital district for the care and support of such patient a specified sum per week in proportion to their financial ability. The administrator or manager shall have power and authority to collect such sums from the estate of the patient or his relatives legally liable for his support in the manner provided by law for collection of expenses in the last illness of a deceased person. If the administrator or manager finds that such patient or said relatives are not able to pay either in whole or in part for his care and treatment in such hospital, same shall become a charge upon the hospital district as to the amount of the inability to pay. Should there be any dispute as to the ability to pay or doubt in the mind of the administrator or manager, the board of directors shall hear and determine same after calling witnesses, and shall make such order or orders as may be proper. Appeals from a final order of the board shall lie to the district court. The substantial evidence rule shall apply."

Any resident of Mitchell County who feels that he or she may qualify for indigent care may obtain an application from the Administration Office of the hospital. At that time, if so requested, someone will explain the procedure and qualification criteria and help in completing the application forms.

Mitchell County Hospital District will be using 25% of the Federal poverty guidelines for income determination.

TIP OF THE WEEK
You can't make a house absolutely burglary-proof. But you can make entry so difficult that the prowler will go elsewhere in search of an easier victim. Burglars don't like delay, risk or noise. Make entry difficult with substantial door and window locks, exterior lights at night when you're home, plus inside lights when you're not and a good watch dog.

Salvant exhibit to be displayed at bank

Noted artist J. U. Salvant, whose work has been published in "Texas Highways", "Military History Journal of Texas and the Southwest", "Land of Good Water" and "Historic Forts of Texas" will be at City National Bank Sunday, Sept. 7 from 2-5 p.m. during the bank's open house.

Her work, primarily watercolors, will be on display at the bank the following week.

Salvant's showing at City National Bank also will include three paintings of local interest - the old Mitchell County Courthouse, Colorado National Bank and a street scene.

The open house is to mark the recent completion of the bank's remodeling.

In "Historic Forts of Texas", published by the University of Texas Press, Salvant joins with writer Robert M. Utley to produce a volume that is as lovely as it is accurate and as readable as it is informative.

The artist's graceful watercolors afford glimpses of 10 key military posts (including Fort Griffin near Albany and Fort Concho in San Angelo) that kept watch over the westward-advancing frontier of Texas during the pioneer decades of the 19th century.

Salvant's artistry captures the range of habitations in which

U.S. soldiers were quartered - the rude jacales of Fort Richardson, the flimsy huts of Fort Lancaster, the solid brick barracks with deep-shadowed verandas of Fort McIntosh. She vividly shows the officers' homes that passed for elegant on the remote frontier, the hospitals, the storehouses and warehouses, the places where troops worshipped and, as at Fort Davis, held court for want of more suitable space. Not merely architectural detail, her portrayals evoke the mood of the time and place and hint at the engrossing adventures that must have unfolded within the fort

J. U. (Joan) Salvant

"Historic Forts of Texas" is dedicated to former Colorado City resident Mary Anne Kelley McCloud as well as to Salvant's husband, Edwin Theodor Salvant Jr., and her father, Clarence Leonard Usner.

Chamber to host supper celebrating sesquicentennial

The Sesquicentennial year in Texas has sparked a number of major events all over the state. Colorado City is no exception.

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce is hosting a community wide grilled burger supper in Ruddick Park on Friday, Sept. 19, at 7 p.m. Guests for the evening will be the members of the Sesquicentennial Lone Star Wagon Train.

"These brave people exemplify the spirit of our ancestors as they travel from Weatherford on July 5 across this great state to Austin, November 28, 29 and 30," said Penny Solomon, chamber manager.

Tickets to the supper, at $2.50 each, may be purchased in advance by contacting the Chamber office.

"The meal ticket buys more than just a meal—it buys a chance to win a very special limited edition exclusively designed belt buckle of solid brass (in the design shown in the accompanying drawing)," said Miss Solomon. "The buckle will be No. 11—the first brass buckle in a limited edition of 250 buckles."

The drawing will be held after supper.

The buckles are due to arrive in late October and may be reserved in advance by contacting the Chamber of Commerce office. Buckles will be reserved on a first come first paid basis. Buckles No. 1-5 are of solid sterling silver with 24 karat gold overlay. Buckles No. 6-10 are of solid sterling silver. The first 10 buckles will be available for sale or auction at a later date.

Ranch roundup brings in money

WICHITA FALLS-The Texas Ranch Roundup held recently in the Wichita County Mounted Patrol Arena made more money than any in the past, according to Nils Richardson, executive director for the North Texas Rehabilitation Center.

He said it would be at least a month before any final figures were out on roundup income. The roundup, which pitted 13 of the most famous and largest ranches in Texas against each other in ranching chores such as bronc riding, team penning, branding and roping, was co-sponsored by the North Texas Rehabilitation Center and Budweiser.

Richardson said the unaudited cash income at the arena for ticket sales, beer sales and dances came to $55,152, compared to last year's $54,602.

Proceeds from the roundup will be split three ways. The North Texas Rehabilitation Center receives 60 percent of the profits, the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene gets 20 percent and the West Texas Boys Ranch San Angelo receives 20 percent.

Renderbrook-Spade Ranch of Colorado City, defending champion from last year, came in 11th place in this year's competition.

Doris McCellan of the local ranch was selected the 1986 Texas Ranch Roundup First Lady. Other local winners included Rachael Swann who took third in arts and crafts and Margie Smith who took third in the cooking contest with her peach cobbler. Some of the Renderbrook-Spade cowboys also came away with some points.

Club to hold meeting

The Brush and Palette Club will have its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, September 3 at 2 p.m. at the home of Bobbie Steakley at 1621 Watson.

Plans and projects for the new year will be discussed. Program will be given by Vincent Arias, crime prevention officer of the Colorado City Police Department.

Members and interested persons are invited to attend.

County Oil News

Pumping 230 barrels of 32-gravity crude daily along with 41,000 CF casinghead gas and 406 barrels of waste water, the No. 92 W. L. Foster "1" has been brought on line in Mitchell County's East Howard Iatan Field.

Drillite was about 10 miles southwest of Westbrook. With Chevron U.S.A. as the operator, the well probed to total depth of 2,980 feet and was plugged back to 2,898. Production will be from perforations in the Clear Fork Formation, 2,632 to 2,835 feet into the hole.

First production figures have been posted for the No. 16 J. D. Fuller in Mitchell County's Sharon Ridge Field, about three miles southeast of Ira.

Mrs. W. M. Keck Jr. is the operator.

The well probed to total depth of 1,840 feet and was plugged back to 1,782. It will produce from a perforated interval in the San Andres Formation, 1,716 to 1,736 feet into the wellbore.

It showed ability to pump 28-gravity oil at the rate of 52 barrels per day plus 61 barrels of salt water on an open choke.

The No. 10 Cone has been drilled to total depth of 3,400 feet at a location in the East Howard Iatan Field, Mitchell County, about eight miles southwest of Westbrook. The well was spudded on April 2 of this year by D. L. Ray Inc. It now is being tested for production prospects.

Commercial shows of oil have been logged at the No. 11 F. E. York, a developmental venture in Mitchell County's Turner-Gregory Field, about five miles northwest of Westbrook.

Spudded on July 21 by Hrubetz Operating, the well is bottomed at a depth of 2,953 feet. It has been perforated for production at 2,612 to 2,878 feet. Potential testing is continuing.

Scanty production potential was reported when Chevron re-completed its No. 1306 North Westbrook Unit in the Westbrook Field, Seminole County, seven miles north of Westbrook.

The well originally was completed as a pumping oiler when brought on line in February of 1966. It produced from the Clear Fork Formation at 3,015 to 3,061 feet. It potentialized at just one barrel of oil daily when Chevron attempted to extend production to the 3,090-ft. mark.

Child care is major concern for working women

By Debbie Christian County Extension Agent

With school starting up again, child care for the working woman is a major concern.

As more and more women joined the job force during the 1960's, and '70's, some people predicted the downfall of the American family life. Although their own families seem happy, some women are still concerned about the impact of working outside the home—especially on their children.

Actually, the hundreds of research studies of working mothers and their families show little direct impact from outside employment. But they also show that families have made some changes.

In general, a mother's full-time employment is not by itself likely to harm a child. Studies show virtually no difference in school achievement and social adjustment between children of working mothers and those of non-working mothers.

The children of working mothers also have as much attachment to their moms as the children of non-working mothers have to theirs.

Even during the often-troubled teenage years, a mother's employment alone seems to have little impact. The researchers say that within the entire range of behavior from marijuana smoking to attitudes toward school and parents, there's almost no difference between teens with working mothers and those whose mothers don't work.

Teenagers also say that the advantages of a working mother outweigh the disadvantages. In the next article in this series, we'll look at those job-related factors that do seem to affect families.

School-age kids are active fun-loving little people that ... in their zest sometimes forget to stop, look and listen. It's our job to look out for them but, we need your help, too! Be aware of these important safe driving tips ... be especially careful near schools. Know all traffic rules and observe them. Obey crossing instructions! Always be prepared for the unexpected! Remember children are always dashing about. Watch out for those peak traffic periods ... mornings, noons and afternoons. When in doubt ... stop! We, the policewomen and men of this community urge your cooperation in complying with these rules. Help us safeguard your kids!

While in the nation's capitol, Baum worked mainly on media-related projects, such as press releases and radio production. He also attended sessions of the House and Senate. He said that working in a congressman's office provided him with an insight into what happens to legislation of a bill.

Baum said that the feeling in the Capitol gallery was eerie. "To know that what you are watching will affect you when you get outside is a powerful feeling," he said. "I saw for myself what I hear about on the news all the time." He said that seeing Tip O'Neill was a highlight. "He has such a commanding presence. I can see why he's Speaker of the House."

In the office, aiding in constituent services was one of his favorite jobs. "I enjoyed reading what our citizens were concerned about. I was highly impressed that Congressman Stenholm reads every bit of his mail, and I wish more people knew how hard it is to do that. The volume is tremendous and all the people in the office help him answer it."

In his spare time, the recent Colorado High School graduate enjoyed sightseeing. "I saw all of the memorials—Lincoln, Vietnam, Jefferson—and the Washington Monument," he said. "I spent three days in the Smithsonian buildings, like the Air and Space, Natural and American History Museum, and I loved them all." He also took in two concerts, a performance of the Taiwanese National Acrobatic Troupe at the Kennedy Center, and saw a baseball game between the Texas Rangers and the Orioles in Baltimore. At the game he attended, a new major league record was set for three grand slams in one game.

GIANT STEP 12

SOCIAL STUDIES

Five specific areas in social studies are covered on the GED test. These are U.S. history, political science, economics, geography, and behavioral science. It would take many years of study to become an expert in each area; however, you can pass the GED social studies test if you have some basic knowledge in social studies, and the ability to read carefully. The same basic skills for reading comprehension that were discussed in the Reading Skills and Science sections also apply to Social Studies. Note: There may be some questions that require prior knowledge of the social studies area.

DISCRETE ITEMS

PROBLEM 1.
Major cities tend to develop near which of the following geographic features?

- (A) mountain ranges
- (B) bodies of water
- (C) deserts
- (D) tropical rain forests
- (E) tundra

PROBLEM 2.

In disagreements with management, labor can use all of the following except

- (A) picketing
- (B) boycotting the goods sold by a particular company
- (C) striking for higher wages
- (D) lockout of the plant
- (E) calling in sick for many days

PROBLEM 3.

Which of the following would be a common reason for a drop in the prime interest rate to businessmen?

- (A) in order to boost demand for loans
- (B) to decrease the national debt
- (C) to slow down the demand for money
- (D) a cold war tactic against Russia
- (E) to improve the balance of payments

SHORT PASSAGES

Some of the Social Studies Test consists of short passages of less than 100 words. You will be asked to read a passage and draw conclusions based on statements and implications used in the passage. The questions on the short passages will most likely require you to do one of the following:

- (A) make inferences—covered in lesson on "Reading Skills"
- (B) choose the main idea of the passage—covered in "Reading Skills."
- (C) choose the best title for the passage
- (D) select the identity of the person who might have spoken or written the passage
- (E) apply your knowledge (recall) in social studies by selecting the correct cause of an event
- (F) prior knowledge

EXAMPLE

Wife: Every time I go shopping, the prices are higher. I wonder if this inflation will ever end.

Husband: Prices go up and my salary is buying less and less. If this continues, we'll have to start cutting back on our food and clothing.

Wife: I don't know how much more I can cut out of our weekly food shopping. Let's face it, I've got to go out and get a job. Maybe with two salaries we can finally start to pay off some of our bills.

Husband: I don't like the idea at all, but what else can we do?

The statement that best expresses the idea of the passage is:

- (A) The husband feels that his wife should not work.
- (B) Complaining may not help, but it makes you feel better.
- (C) Inflation means that more money may be the only solution.
- (D) You can't win over inflation.
- (E) Careful budgeting is the only way to fight inflation.

The best answer is: (C) inflation means that more income may be the only solution. It's the best answer because the husband and wife believe that earning more money may be the only answer. Choice (A) is a possible answer; however, although the husband is unhappy that his wife must find a job, he realized there is no other choice. Choice (E) is also a possible answer, but as the wife says, she already has been budgeting and it hasn't helped.

EXERCISE 1

Education, then, beyond other devices of human origin, is a great equalizer of the conditions of men—the balance wheel of social machinery. . . it gives each man the independence and the means by which he can resist the selfishness of other men.

Horace Mann, 1848

PROBLEM 1

Which of the following is the most accurate statement regarding the quotation?

- (A) Education will solve all of an individual's problems.
- (B) Without education, a man means little in our society.
- (C) Education gives a person an opportunity to rise above his condition.
- (D) A wealthy man must receive an education in order to remain ahead of a poor man.
- (E) The man that wrote the quotation is a dangerous individual and should not be permitted to say such things.

EXERCISE 2

Africa's political heritage indicates that a one-party democracy is a possible, even attractive, choice. Even though it does not imitate the multi-party systems of most western nations, it does satisfy the African's need for a voice in the control of their country. It gives people a chance to be heard at the lowest levels of political organization, the village council. Then their needs and views are brought up through an ever-narrowing structure or administration until they can be reviewed and implemented on a national scale.

This is not to suggest that multi-party democracy does not also exist in Africa.

"Project Giant Step" is a summer adult education program sponsored by the Colorado City RECORD. In order to enroll and obtain answers to the mini-lessons which are arrived in each Sunday's RECORD, contact Orville Conner or Bob Reilly at the Wallace Center of Tuesday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. For more information, call the Wallace Center at 728-2392.

Some nations, such as the Gambia, Upper Volta, Nigeria, and Mauritius, have two or more parties that represent different viewpoints on national development and political philosophy. Nevertheless, in countries that have a more or less unified sense of where they are going, and have only a limited amount of resources to call upon, support for one-party rule is very strong.

PROBLEM 1

An appropriate title for the passage would be:

- (A) How People Live in Africa
- (B) One-party Government in Africa
- (C) Democracy Comes to Africa
- (D) African Unity
- (E) Operation of Democracy in Africa

PROBLEM 2

According to the passage, all of the following are logical conclusions about governments except:

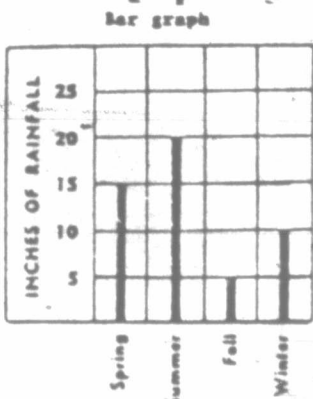

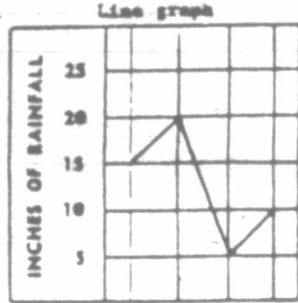

- (A) African democracies are not based on the same model as the United States democracy.
- (B) Having only one political party does not mean that the opinions of minority groups are not heard.
- (C) Nations that have more than one political party don't have a sense of where they are going.
- (D) Many African nations have no need for a two-party system.
- (E) Africans have developed governments tailored to the unique characteristics of Africa.

GRAPHIC SELECTIONS

The Social Studies Test includes charts and graphs since they are an important device in social studies research.

Much information can be gained from graphs. Graphs are simple if you remember that a graph always compares two kinds of information. Interpreting the graph requires that you identify the subject of the graph by reading the title and then note how one kind of information is compared to the other. On the line graph below, note that the quantity is compared to time. The line shows inches of rainfall in relation to the season of the year.

Bar graphs are similar to line graphs. The only difference is that bars rather than lines are used to show the information. Compare the bar graph to the line graph. It is clear that the information is the same. A line connecting the top of the bars would appear the same as the line in the graph.

Refer to the graphs above and answer the following questions:

PROBLEMS

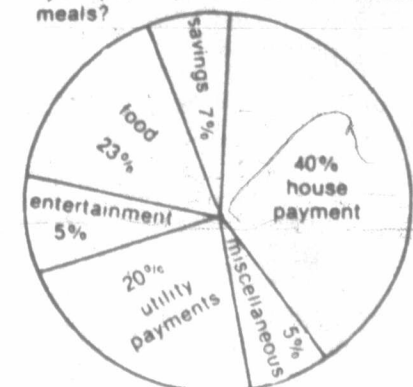

- The greatest amount of rainfall fell during the _____.
- The total rainfall for the year was _____.
- The driest season of the year was _____.
- How much more rain fell in winter than in fall?
- Which two seasons combined produced most of the annual rainfall?
- Judging from the information presented by these graphs, which season is probably the poorest for outdoor sports?

EXERCISE 2

Pie or circle graphs show in what proportions something is divided. The pie graph below shows a graph of a family budget and each of the monthly expenditures. Keep in mind that all the percentages must add up to 100%.

PROBLEMS

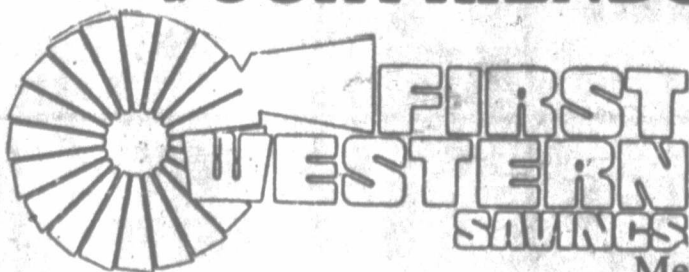

- The second most expensive item in this budget is _____.
- An equal amount is spent for entertainment as is spent for _____.
- Under which category of spending would you put expenditures for restaurant meals?
