VOLUME 20 NUMBER 23 HART, CASTRO COUNTY TEXAS NOVEMBER 26, 1981

GRAND PRIZE WINNER - Mark Stroebel proudly displays the grand prize in the Hart Beat's annual football contest - a crisp $50 bill. In competition throughout the contest, Stroebel never went a head in the standings until this, the final week, and emerging with the most timely win of all.

Mark Stroebel Big Winner In Grid Guessing Game

Mark Stroebel, assistant Longhorn football coach, perserved his way to the top of the standings in the very last week of competition and claimed the $50 grand prize in the Hart Beat guessing game.

Never in the lead till the last contest (an error was made in last week's contest story - Arnold Ehly did not have a five point lead but rather a one-point hold onto the top shot), Stroebel posted 131 correct predictions for the season. Bob Bowden and Ehly finished with 128 points.

For the week, Bobby Allensworth claims the $5 first place win. He missed just three games. Jo Stroebel was the lone contestant missing four games and thus earns second place winnings.

Three contestants missed five games each with Stroebel receiving the third place monies. He was 16 points off the tie-breaker game between Kress and Hale Center, predicting 14-34. Glen Black and Deanna Huseman were eliminated by their tie-breaker predictions of 14-28 and 14-20 respectively, missing 22 and 30 points.

In auditing the contests through the 12 weeks of competition, an error was discovered in the eleventh week. Mark and Jo Stroebel were reported as co-winners last week but the re-check disclosed Mrs. Stroebel's entry was incorrectly graded, giving her four wrong guesses. Last week's winners should be Stroebel, first; Bowden, second and Mrs. Stroebel and Allensworth tied for third. Each was 11 points off the tie-breaker game with 22-21 and 13-34 predictions for the Hart-Kress game.

Contestants who enjoyed the guessing game competition should express appreciation to the local merchants who helped make the contest possible. They are Farmers State Bank, Farmers Grain, Triple A Pump Company, Pay-N-Save Grocery, Smith Potato Company, Hart Gin, Stone's Motor Service, Kosy Korner, Tide Products, Hi Plains Insurance Agency Incorporated, Hi Way Garage, Ed Harris Lumber Company, The Hart Beat and Photography by Sue Cannon...naturally.

Kent Hance Named Trustee Of Wayland Baptist University

U.S. Congressman Kent Hance, representative of Texas' 19th District, heads the list of newcomers to the 1981-82 Board of Trustees at Wayland Baptist University.

Hance, 38, native of Dimmitt, was elected to the 39 member Wayland board during the annual meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas last month in Waco and will begin his three-year term at the Board's regular spring meeting in March.

Hance was one of five newcomers elected to the board during the Convention. Others are J.B. Roberts of Plainview, Roy McCasland of Tulia, Mrs. E.P. White of Lamesa and Alvie G. Burkhalter of Dalhart.

First elected to the U.S. House of Representatives in 1978, Hance was named by his 41 fellow Democratic freshman congressman to serve as chairman of the new members caucus. During his first term Hance served on the Agriculture Committee, where he was a member of the Subcommittee on Cotton, Livestock and Grains, and Conservation and Credit. He also served on the Science and Technology Committee.

Following his re-election in 1980, when he captured approximately 95 percent of the total votes cast in the 19th District, Hance successfully sought a seat on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, one of the three most powerful committees in the House.

In his short tenure in the House, Hance has been noted for his involvement in major legislation, especially that which affects the 19th District and his native Texas. One of the leaders in Congress in efforts to reduce federal spending and balance the federal budget, Hance authored the Conable-Hance tax bill - the largest tax cut bill in the nation's history - which was signed into law this past summer.

In February 1980 Texas Business Magazine named him "Best Freshman Congressman" and the Coalition for Peace Through Strength awarded him its "Leadership Award" for his efforts to increase military spending and return the U.S. to its number one defense posture. In January 1981, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram named him one of the top five most effective congressman in the 24 member Texas

A Trade War Is No Answer To Detroit's Problems

Concern for the health of the U.S. auto industry is prompting calls for various restrictions on imports of foreign cars. Japan has already agreed, under pressure, to reduce auto shipments to the U.S. voluntarily for three years. Now the United Auto Workers is launching a major drive to require at least 75 percent domestic content for cars sold in the U.S.—a thinly disguised quota system. Proposals for a tax credit for buying an American car have been put forth in Congress.

Such trade protectionism should be stiffly resisted. The U.S. auto industry does not need to be permanently coddled in order to be profitable. It needs only to produce quality cars at competitive prices.

It has already started to do so. Ford's new subcompact Escort is the best-selling car in the U.S. Chrysler's K-cars are selling well. And the all-new small cars introduced by the domestic car companies substantially outsold the Japanese imports throughout the 1981 model year. What the U.S. auto industry needs is not trade protection but lower interest rates and reasonable pricing.

In seeking voluntary quotas on Japanese car shipments to the United States, the U.S. auto companies emphasized that they only wanted "breathing room" to make the transition to competitive new fuel-efficient vehicles. Indeed, they are investing an estimated $80 billion to get there. General Motors is in the midst of a massive model changeover. Chrysler is renovating its St. Louis plant for K-car production, quadrupling the number of computerized, automatic welders. American Motors is entering into joint production with Renault. Ford, Chrysler and GM turned a profit in the second quarter despite a sluggish economy.

Restricting the importation of foreign cars can only mean higher prices for the U.S. consumer. And high prices are a chief factor keeping the buyers out of the showrooms now. With only three major auto companies in the U.S., competition from imports is needed to help keep prices down, and quality up. Such competition is good for the consumer, good for the country, and ultimately, good for the auto companies. It is the strongest incentive for them to produce cars that will not only meet the needs of consumers at home but sell well abroad, where the market for cars is growing faster than in the U.S.

The answer to the U.S. auto industry's problems is self-revitalization, not protectionism. Sealing the U.S. off from foreign competition would be a self-defeating policy in the end. That was learned in the 1930's when the Smoot-Hawley tariff started a trade war that helped bring on the Great Depression.

JV Longhorns Win Over Kress

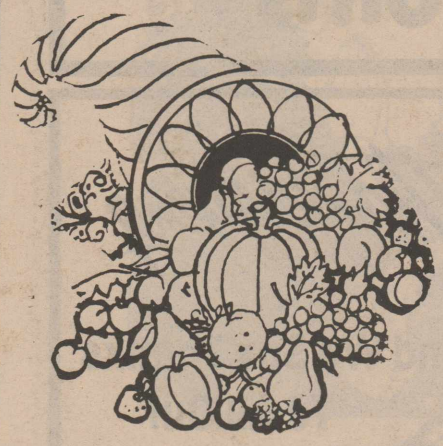

In a very tough football game against Kress Junior Varsity, Hart Longhorn JV's managed to come from behind twice in the game to win.

Bruce Finch scored first for the Longhorns, but his extra points try failed, making the score, 6-0. Then the Kangaroos added six.

The Longhorns regained the lead as Finch went in for the TD making the score 12-6. Kress wasn't finished yet, as they went outside the Longhorns for 65 yards and a score. The Kangaroos also made two extra points making the score 14-12, their favor.

With 5:56 remaining in the game, the Longhorns put on an impressive drive. Tony Hoover ended the drive with a touchdown when he found Roland Alfaro alone in the end zone. This made the score 18-14, with Hart out front again. A key interception by Freddie Washington helped keep the score there and the Longhorns won 18-14.

Country Squire Dinner Theatre To Open In Amarillo Dec. 1

Dorothy McDonald and Archie Dwyer star in the Country Squire Dinner Theatre production of Love and Kisses that opens Dec. 1 at the Amarillo theatre.

McDonald and Dwyer portray Carol and Jeff Pringle, average parents with a suburban home and two children. Son Buzzy is a high school senior planning to spend the summer working for his father before going to the university. Daughter Elizabeth is getting married, and her elaborate wedding plans rival those of Prince Charles and Lady Diana.

In the middle of Elizabeth's wedding preparations, Buzzy comes home and announces that he married his girlfriend during their lunch hour.

The ensuing confusion is the basis of this comedic tribute to matrimony. Jeff and Carol try to offer advice and support to both their children and the results are often hilarious.

McDonald comes to the Country Squire following an eight week engagement at the Harlequin Dinner Playhouse in Santa Ana where she costarred in The Marriage-Go-Round with Steve Meyer.

She has appeared in several Country Squire productions including The Rainmaker and Not Now, Darling. Ms. McDonald now lives in Los Angeles, but said she enjoys returning to her native state of Texas.

Dwyer calls Amarillo home and he also has appeared in other Country Squire productions. His most recent performance was in Janus with Virginia Mayo.

Other cast members for Love and Kisses include John Glenn, Maura Soden, Sheridan Wright, Stephen Berrier, Robin Goodhue and Jerry Brewer.

Love and Kisses plays each Tuesday through Saturday at the Country Squire. Curtain is at 8 p.m. following a buffet meal that begins at 6 p.m.

Special Sunday hours are 4 p.m. for the buffet and 6 p.m. curtain time.

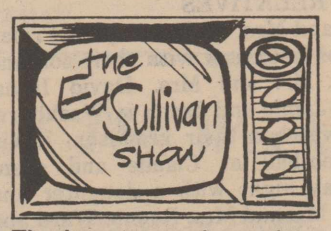

The Country Squire Dinner Theatre, now under new ownership, is located at Interstate 40 and Grand in Amarillo. Call 372-4441 for reservations.

[VARSITY]

Linda Washington was high scoring fem Tuesday as the Lady Longhorns lost a close one to Floydada, 44-47.

A slow start made the difference in the game as the home team scored just 5 points in the first quarter, to Floydada's 12. Other quarter scoring was 14-16, 11-12 and 14-7.

Thursday night Hart Varsity Girls hosted Cotton Center and grabbed an easy 63-24 victory. Linda Washington led scoring with 13; Suzahn Rowland had 12.

Varsity boys Thursday night took a 56-47 win over Cotton Center. Roy Martinez was high scorer with 14.

"The kids played pretty well for the first ball game," says Coach Ralph Granger. "I was really pleased with our offense. We still need a lot more work on defense. If I had to point out some kids who did good jobs during the course of the game, they would be Roy Martinez, Phillip Hawkins and Chris Clifford with 13 each and Derek Rich with 8 points.

"Chris Reyna had 5 defensive steals and Hawkins had 6. We were 72 percent from the free throw line and were 30 percent from the field."

Friday night action found the Horns bringing home a defeat at the hands of the Happy Cowboys. Final score was 27-57.

Coach Granger said, "I have to give credit to Happy's defense. Early in the first and second quarters, we were able to score. But after that, they shut us off."

JUNIOR VARSITY

Hart Junior Varsity girls were soundly defeated Nov. 17 with a 20-68 drubbing by Floydada. Cristi Rowland led the scoring with 5.

Score by quarters was 3-14, 5-12, 2-22 and 10-20.

In Thursday night action, the JV girls lost 25-31 to Olton's JV. Diana Perez scored 9; Susie Reyna had 6.

"We played a much improved ball game from our first game," said Coach Kathy Fisher. "Everyone hustled a lot and worked hard.

Hart JV boys took a thrilling 42-39 win over Olton Thursday back of Omar Longoria's 14 points. It was their opening game.

Score by quarters showed 8-1, 12-9, 10-15 and 12-14.

Junior Varsity boys lost 37-57 Friday night at Happy. Omar Longoria led scoring with 9.

Texas Farmers Named To Club

Three northern Texas farmers who produced corn yields greater than 200 bushels per acre have been named members of the Yieldmasters Club. The Yieldmasters yearly select for membership 1,500 of the nation's outstanding corn and grain sorghum producers.

James Campbell of Hart produced a 229 bushel yield with DeKalb XL-72aa to earn his membership. Campbell planted 30,000 seeds per acre on April 4 and applied 282 actual pounds per acre of nitrogen and 92 pounds of phosphate. Atrazine, Sutan and Prowl were used to control weeds and liquid Furadan was applied to keep insects in check.

Campbell harvested the 1.3 acre yield check Sept. 18 and the grain moisture tested at 21.7 percent.

Panhandle farmer John Dale Kelly, Jr. combined a 216.8 bushel per acre yield from a field where DeKalb XL-72aa was planted. Kelly planted the corn in a field that was summer fallowed in 1980 and added 164.4 pounds of actual nitrogen as anhydrous ammonia. He harvested Sept. 9. The grain moisture tested at 20 percent and registered a 56.85 pound test weight.

Josef Grotegut of Hereford used the same hybrid to produce a 209 bushel per acre yield check. Grotegut planted on April 20 putting in enough seed to end up with a 27,000 plant finished stand. His fertility program included 135 pounds of actual nitrogen, 18 pounds of phosphate, 12 pounds of potash and six pounds of sulfur. The Deaf Smith County farmer harvested Sept. 29 and the grain moisture tested at 23.5 percent.

The Yieldmasters Club is sponsored by DeKalb AgResearch, Inc. as a means for farmers to gain greater grain production expertise. To qualify for membership, farmers must mechanically harvest at least one measured acre in the presence of an impartial witness.

Hart Lions Club Votes Support Of Girlstown Fems

Turkey and dressing and the trimmings were served by CVAE homemaking students Monday to Hart Lions Club members and their guests.

Guests were Jerry Davis and Kirk Cunningham.

In lieu of a program, details were discussed for the club's upcoming project. The group will sponsor a pheasant hunter's breakfast Saturday, Dec. 12 in the school cafeteria. They are also sponsoring a reserved hunt. Approximately 25,000 acres of Castro County land has been acquired for leased hunting.

All members of the club were asked to report to work at 5 a.m. the morning the pheasant hunt begins.

In other action, the club voted to sponsor two girls in the annual Girlstown Shoe and Coat project.
