VITAMIN B FLOUR

It is well known that in the milling of white flour, some of the important food elements of the wheat are removed, thereby making white bread less healthful than that made from whole wheat or rye. This is principally due to the elimination of certain vitamins in the milling process.

This deficiency in vitamins, especially of the B complex, can be corrected by the addition of these necessary substances to white flour. In the interest of public health, Surgeon General Thomas Parran has been urging millers and bakers "to restore our most important food to its original status as the staff of life."

As a result of his recommendations, it is expected that at least two new types of flour containing the needed elements will shortly be made available. One will be white flour and the other will be a flour in which certain parts of the wheat will be retained.

The idea is to retain as nearly as possible the palatability of white bread, which is preferred by most people, without depriving the human body of the vitamins necessary to its well-being.

While all the vitamins can be obtained in foods other than bread, the fact that bread figures so largely in the diet of millions who have only a very limited variety of foods makes it highly desirable that "the staff of life" should not be lacking in these essentials.

WE WIN A DOUBTFUL HONOR

The Roman poet Lucretius once wrote of the feeling that comes to a person standing on the shore when there is a great storm at sea and watching the tribulations of others. Lucretius declared that it was not enjoyable in itself to see others in difficulty, but that the sensation was enjoyable because "to perceive what ills you are free from yourself is pleasant."

We may not all share that attitude. But there is no denying that there are certain comforts, even when you are in difficulties yourself, in being able to point to someone else and say, "He's worse off than I am!"

In the field of taxation, many Americans have in recent years taken exactly that tack. Faced with constantly growing burdens, federal, state and local, they have drawn a measure of consolation from hating a thumb in the direction of Great Britain and what was commonly admitted to be her much heavier tax rate.

Now, according to the New York Times, even this satisfaction has been taken from us. Before the present war, the Times tells us the ratio of taxes to national income in both nations was about the same, standing at slightly over 20 per cent. But, under the impact of war spending, British national income has probably risen sufficiently to bring the ratio down around 19 per cent, and leave the United States the owner of the highly unwelcome "booby prize" in this field.

In the past many people have made the mistake, in comparing the tax rates in these countries, of simply matching taxes of the respective national governments. Actually, the national government is the chief collecting agent in Britain, while added to our own federal taxes is a handbag structure of local and state levies. In addition to enormous Federal taxes, some 175,000 state and local tax collecting agencies in the United States take in many billion dollars yearly. It is undoubtedly extravagance in all three divisions—federal, state and local—that has finally sent this country ahead in the unfortunate tax burden marathon between the two countries.

Even the small and meaningless consolation mentioned by the Roman poet seems no longer left to us; in sober fact, we are really the ones who are now at sea. And with the need for adequate defense, it is certainly time we pulled for the safety of the shore, and made an effort to cut out all possible waste in the non-defense spending of our various governmental bodies.

THE RADICALS ASKED FOR IT

Reports to the effect that the Federal government is establishing some sort of a new labor mediation board, with wide powers, should not come as a surprise.

Certain segments of labor have shown themselves completely irresponsible. They have delayed the defense drive. They have stopped production in important factories. They have, in short, taken advantage of the nation's need to "demand the moon." There seems to be no other solution than aggressive governmental intervention in labor disputes. About all the radicals in labor have achieved is to place the labor movement in disrepute in the minds of millions of Americans.

Mrs. M. H. Happel of Cleburne, Tex., wrote to an exterminating company last summer and asked how to rid her home of termites. After being delayed for several months, the letter was delivered, and half of it had been destroyed by termites.

Goobie, a turkey owned by Mrs. Ernest Lee of Gadsden, Alabama, has developed a father complex toward a drake, and refuses to leave him, day or night, protesting with guttural warnings any effort to separate them.

WASHINGTON THE MAN

In a letter written by Thomas Jefferson on January 2, 1814, when he was 70 years old, he gives an interesting estimate of the personal character of George Washington, from which the following paragraphs are taken:

"I think I knew General Washington intimately and thoroughly and were I called on to delineate his character, it would be in terms like these:

"His mind was great and powerful, without being of the first order; his penetration strong, and as far as he saw, no judgment was sounder. It was slow in operation, being little aided by imagination, but sure in conclusion.

"He was incapable of fear, meeting personal dangers with the calmest unconcern. Perhaps the strongest feature in his character was prudence, never acting until every consideration was maturely weighed. His integrity was most pure, his justice the most inflexible I have ever known.

"His education was merely reading, writing and common arithmetic, to which he added surveying at a later day. His time was employed in action, chiefly, reading little, and that only in agriculture and English history.

"On the whole, his character was, in its mass, perfect; in nothing bad, in a few points, indifferent. And it may be truly said that never did nature and fortune combine more perfectly to make a man great and to place him in the same constellation with what ever worthies have merited from man an everlasting remembrance."

FACED WITH A REAL DUTY

Those interested in the national welfare will follow with a great deal of interest the career of the National Defense Mediation Board recently set up by the President to help reduce the number of labor difficulties threatening to hold up the progress of the defense program. Its announced purpose is all to the good. Its record of accomplishment is for the future to tell.

The Mediation Board contains four representatives of management, four of labor (two AFL and two from CIO), and three from the general public. Ultimately, of course, their achievement will be directly parallel to the abilities and the basic impartiality of the eleven men, themselves.

One thing is certain. If national security is to become a reality, this country can scarcely afford a wave of crippling strikes in defense industries. It cannot afford to permit jurisdictional disputes between rival unions, senseless "feuds" over division of personal power, to hold up the delivery of vitally needed defense equipment.

It is perhaps not commonly enough realized that in the case of the defense program one strike may hold up completion of work in many larger ones. Some small, but very necessary, gadget not delivered, may delay a big bomber or a medium-sized tank. It's a real case, often, of "for lack of a nail, the shoe was lost, for lack of a shoe the horse was lost," and so on.

To the extent that the new Mediation Board can forestall situations like these through the wise use of its prestige, it will perform a public service beyond calculation. America will have its eyes fixed on the Board with that thought in mind.

MOVING TO MEET THE DEFENSE NEEDS

The steel industry plans to spend more than $282,000,000 during the present year for plant expansion and improvement, which will be of valuable aid to the nation's program of defense.

A recent study of eight major air-craft companies showed that they had increased their weekly hiring rate nearly 300 per cent in the course of one year.

In 1908, only 65,000 automobiles were made in the United States. Today, as a result of mass production, lower prices and research gains, we can turn out that many cars in five working days.

America produces more finished rubber than all the rest of the world combined. As a result of this great production, the rubber industry in the United States now employs about 150,000 persons.

CUSTOM

Custom, education and fashion form the transient standards of mortals. Immortality, exempt from age or decay, has a glory of its own—the radiance of soul.—Mary Baker Eddy.

ARMY AIR CORPS HIRES 84 NYA BOYS

Austin—Of the 92 young men who have just completed their six months period of work experience in the repair, construction and maintenance of airplanes and airplane engines at an NYA Resident Center sponsored by the United States Army Air Corps and set up at the Duncan Field Air Depot near San Antonio, 84 have accepted Civil Service temporary appointments as mechanic's learners, according to J. C. Kellam, the state NYA administrator. Six of the youths have obtained jobs in private industry, and two have been called for Army Service.

The 84 boys employed as mechanic learners will continue to work with regular Army mechanics and other employees at the Duncan Air Depot where two thousand mechanics repair and maintain all airplanes in the Eighth Corps Area. Their jobs will include assignment to work units in engine repair, aero repair, metal manufacture and repair, electrical, drafting, maintenance and instrument.

To take the place of those youth who have just finished their work experience, the assignment of a second group of one hundred young men was made to the NYA Resident Center there, beginning March 2.

MATTRESS DEADLINE

College Station.—April 30 has been set as the final date for Texas farm and ranch families to make application for cotton and ticking under the Department of Agriculture's 1941 cotton mattress demonstration program.

This announcement has been made by B. F. Vance, administrative officer in charge of the Triple-A in Texas. Since the Extension Service is charged with supervision of the program, Vice Directors Mildred Horton and G. E. Adams are urging all county extension agents to be certain every eligible family in Texas has opportunity to make application before the deadline.

On March 24, more than a quarter of a million mattresses had been made in community centers in the state.

Since the beginning of 4-H club work on a nation-wide basis, it has reached over 8,000,000 rural young people.

An average of 42 cents of each dollar spent for food by the American housewife in 1940 went to the farmer. The pro rata was 41 cents in 1939 and 53 cents in 1913.

Prizes To Be Given For Best Cowboy Yarn

Residents of Munday and Knox county who know a good cow yarn have been invited to write it down and send it to the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's Association at Madisonville, Texas, where a nation-wide contest to select the biggest cow yarn is being conducted.

A pair of $40 cowboy boots will go to the winner. There aren't any entrance fees, and anybody in the Western Hemisphere is welcome to compete, it was announced.

J. Frank Dobie, noted Texas author of cowboy and western lore books and articles, will judge the entries. In addition to the high-heeled boots as first prize, a 10-gallon hat will be given as a second prize and a pair of spurs as a third prize. Winning stories will be published throughout the nation.

The contest was launched after the Sidewalk Cattlemen's Association drew national-wide attention with its publication of cowboy-boot wearing regulations to cut down on the promiscuous wearing of the high-heeled outfits by druggstore cowboys and city slickers.

"Cowboy boots for cow owners only," the Association declared, drawing up the following boot-wearing regulations: 1. owner of at least two head of cattle entitled to wear boots; (2.) owner of three head can stuff one pants leg in; (3.) owner of four head can stuff both pants legs in; (4.) owner of six head can wear spurs.

The contest will run two months. Entries are being mailed to the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's Association, Madisonville, Texas. "The taller the story, the better," the Association declared, "truth should never stand in the way of a good yarn."

Shorthand Students Win O. G. A. Contest Prizes

Polly Silman won a certificate and membership in the Junior O. A. T. contest which is a contest in artistic typewriting.

Six shorthand students won certificates for writing an article that appeared in the Gregg Writer. The shorthand characters had to be near-perfect to merit a certificate. These students were as follows:

Audrey Nell Phillips, Bonnie Jones, Olive Dobbs, Polly Silman, Rosa Lee Chandler, Eliza Frances Moore, and Doris Howell.

Polly Silman received a certificate and O. G. A. pen for her outstanding accomplishment in shorthand and typing as announced by her former teacher, Howard Cobb.

This honor was awarded by the Gregg Writer, a publication of the Gregg Publishing Co., New York, to those who meet certain requirements.

Polly is to be congratulated highly on her success as it is due to a determined spirit and hard work.

Morrow Leads Team to Win And Harrell Elected Chairman

Dick Harrell, head of the History II class the coming and final six weeks, Jean Martin and Nadine Kreitz will be captains of the two sides, Juanice Jones and Florene Pippin were elected scorekeepers.

On the decoration committee the chairman appointed Florene Pippin, Nadine Kreitz and Juracy Jones. The bulletin board, which is full every day with interesting and timely articles is being kept by Ben Bowden, and decorations for the room are being handled by Charles Baker, Melvin West, and O. V. Milstead.

Joe Morrow's side trimmed the opposition in last six week's race by garnering 1700 points, a record, over the other side who counted heavily, some 1650 points.

Airplanes Cause Attention There
But Students Here Do Differently
Instead of looking into the sky for airplanes that might spell doom for homes, churches and schools—students of the General Science classes under the direction of Mr. Hill are now studying the stars, planets, planetoids, satellites, eclipses, causes of seasons and different time belts.

In physics, students are finding the methods of transference of heat, measurement of heat, and conductors of heat. These may be used in the future, especially in the defense program.

In biology, students are grasping the elements on cells of animals and plants. With the coming of spring students will get first hand information in the wide open spaces.

Story Hour
The following pupils have read stories to the rooms: Garon Tidwell, Ina Mae Jones, Mildred Lovell, Marquerite Hammett, Joyce McGraw, and Royce McGraw. All the pupils will read a story to the room before school closes.

Happy Birthday!
Marquerite Hammett was eight years old April 8. She received several nice presents. Her mother gave her a necklace.

A Recruit For Safety

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety and an enthusiastic crusader for safety, is shown enrolling Elizabeth Durham in the Ford Good Drivers League, which was organized by Edsel Ford to promote safe driving by the nation's youth. Miss Durham, 16 years old, is an Austin High School senior and plans to study commercial art. She has been driving for a year. By enrolling in the league, she becomes eligible to compete for one of the 98 university scholarships—49 for girls and 49 for boys—offered by Mr. Ford to winners of safe driving tests to be held in each state, with national finals at Dearborn, Michigan, in August.

Chickie, chickie,
Lay some eggs in the hay,
And I will come
And hunt them Easter Day.

Our Good Manners Slogan
We say "Thank You" when we are given things.

Garden News
We have finished setting out plants in our flower bed. The girls brought some zinnia and larkspur seed to plant. Jackie Mayes brought a package of marigold seeds.

The first grade vegetable garden is under way. The boys chose the garden spot, raked leaves, marked off the dimensions and are now digging up the soil. Next week the girls will lay off the rows, plant the seeds, put up the signs. We are going to plant carrots, beans, peas, okra, squash, turnips, beets, eggplant, lettuce, onions and watermelons.

Weekly Reader News
Safety is the chief topic in our Weekly Reader. It gave us these safety rules.

1. Do not skate in the street.
2. Play with toy airplanes in the yard at home.
3. Do not play marbles in the street.

A Plea!
Do not treat little live chickens and rabbits as toys by dyeing them with dyes. Many of these little animals are neglected or treated cruelly and die as a result. Be kind to animals!

Sixth Grade Has Excitement
The sixth grade had plenty of excitement this week. They received a letter from a sixth grade girl in Oklahoma. They had plenty of fun answering her questions about Texas. They had just been studying the friendly letter, when they received one. Each one in the class mailed their Oklahoma friend a letter. She will have a letter shower when she receives all 42 letters.

Friday, the sixth grade plans to go on a big Easter Egg Hunt at the park. All of them plan to go except Tiny Tim Goldfish. This will be our first outdoor affair, so the excitement is running high.

The 7A English class received a letter from Arthur Zambano, Force, Pennsylvania, last week. In answering the letter the class really spread the greatness of Texas. They wondered how a person so far away could find a place like Munday. After living here for most of their lives some of the pupils said, "Great things do come in small packages." Since the 7th grade has worked hard on letters this semester they hope to have written Arthur some of the best ever received.

The Seventh Grade feels that an honor has been given them since McCelvey Jones returned from the District Meeting with a red ribbon. McCelvey will now go to the Regional. We say, "Keep up the good work, McCelvey!"

The fifth grade English classes are getting their workbooks finished. To their amazement school is almost out and their workbooks almost complete. Now for their grades!

Easter Eggs Galore!

Beginning Wednesday afternoon of this week practically every student of the Munday Elementary School will have participated in an Easter Egg Hunt by Friday night. The 7A class will go to the city park Thursday afternoon for an Easter outing, while the 5th, 6th and 7B will go Friday afternoon leaving at 2:00. Room 1A is go-duction. So, if I had my way about it, I would adopt a provision directing or authorizing the President, through the Secretary of War or the Secretary of the Navy to take over any plant which has a contract for the production of essential national defense articles, arms or ammunition, where disputes between the employer and the employees, or other labor disturbances, are impeding and delaying production."

Law exists now for the government to take over plants where the owner refuses to cooperate in the defense drive; Connally feels that the law can and should be amended to permit the government to take a hand in cases where employees refuse to cooperate and tie up defense production.

"There is a law against striking against the United States," remarked Senator Connally. "If the government should take over a plant as it did during the World War, governmental boards would determine in each particular factory what is a fair wage and what are fair working conditions."

Connally's legislative record has long been considered as friendly to labor; yet at the present time he considers "the Union of the United States as Union Number 1 in this country, which is superior and paramount to any other union existing."

Walter Phillips and son, Walter, Jr., were in Wichita Falls last Sunday to visit Mrs. Phillips, who recently underwent a major operation at a Wichita Falls hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Reneau spent last week end in Paducah, visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Reneau, Jr.

John Jones, who resides west of Munday, went to the Baylor hospital in Dallas for treatment the first of this week. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Jess Burnison.

Connally Seeks Action for Halting Strikes by Labor

Washington, D. C.—Rising to the floor of the Senate last week, Senator Tom Connally urged his colleagues to give heed toward halting labor shut-downs in national defense plants. Connally emphasized his interest in getting immediate legislative action on the problem.

"It seems to me," said the Texas Senator, "that fundamentally there is no difference between the employer refusing to go on and produce, and the employees refusing to proceed with normal pro-

YOU'RE IN THE OIL BUSINESS

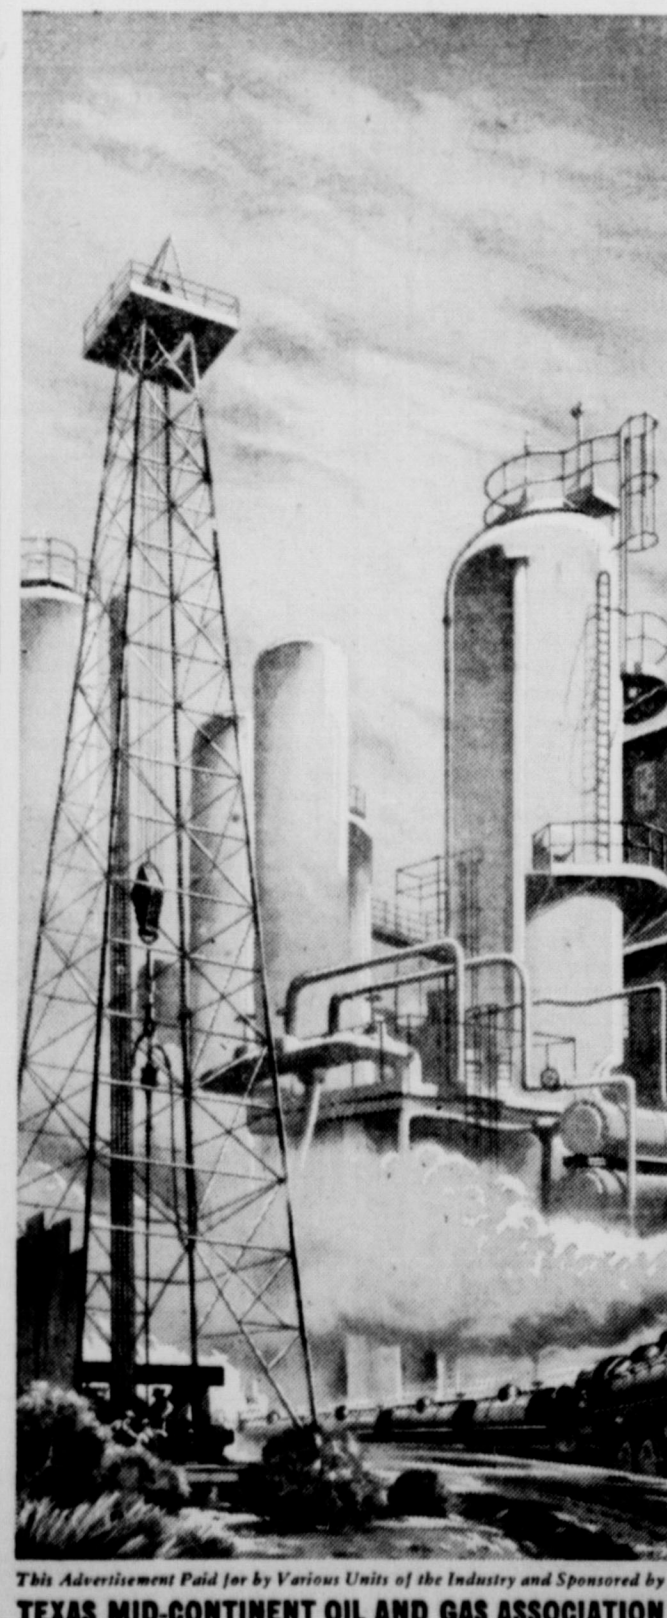

I live on an oil lease and operate a few small pumping wells. 95 per cent of all the oil wells in North Texas are small pumpers like these.

Thousands of North Texas families like mine depend upon such stripper wells for their living. The petroleum industry of this area supports nearly 75,000 persons, including oil workers and their families. Wage earners of this group get nearly 23 million dollars a year.

North Texas farmers and ranchers receive over 8 million dollars a year in lease and royalty payments and tax collectors get nearly 4 millions more.

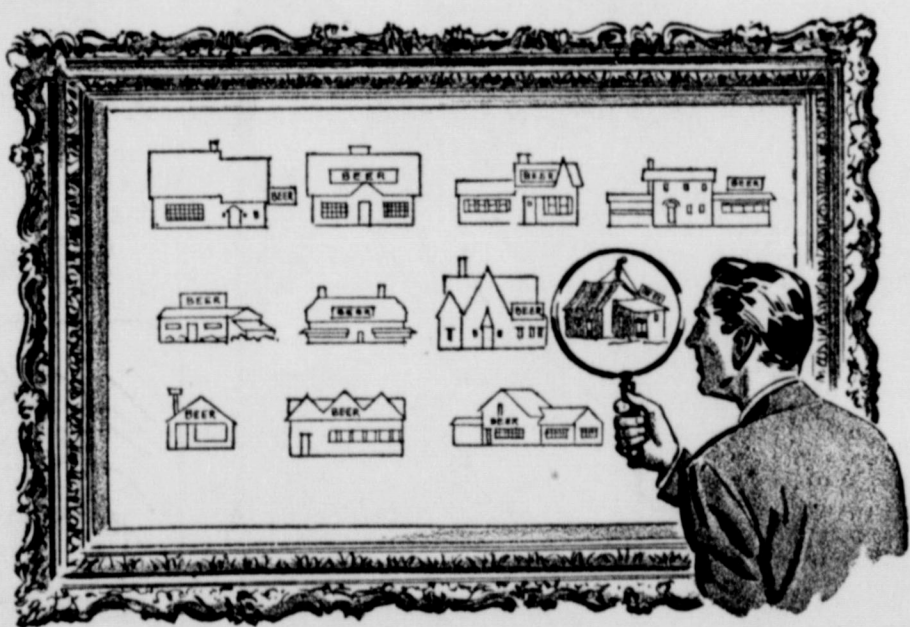

All told, the petroleum industry pays out 54 million dollars a year in North Texas. This money is spent and repent until every merchant and business and professional man—in fact everyone—in our section gets his share of it.

You and I and our families and our community have a very important stake in the oil industry and its future in Texas.

ARE YOU SEEING ONLY PART OF THE PICTURE?

The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean wholesome places. Yet it is the once-in-a-while exception—the anti-social, law-violating tavern that everybody notices. Such undesirable retailers give beer a bad name it doesn't deserve. Furthermore, by arousing public indignation, retailing abuses endanger your right to enjoy good beer, the beverage of moderation. They also endanger the benefits that beer has brought to Texas—31,165 persons employed since re-legalization, an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and $2,273,968.64 taxes paid last year. While it is the brewers' responsibility to brew good beer and the retailers' responsibility to sell it under wholesome conditions, nevertheless the brewing industry wants anti-social retailing eliminated entirely. You can help us by (1) patronizing only the legal and reputable places where beer is sold and (2) by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted law enforcement authorities.

The senior honor roll will be published next month.

The members of the R.H.S. wish everyone a very happy and joyous Easter. As Pascal says, "Happiness is neither within us only, or without; it is the union of ourselves with God." So let each and every one of us during this Holy Week and on Easter Sunday, as we should on all Sundays, go to church and unite ourselves with God.

Speaking of happiness—it is a poor sort of happiness that could ever come by caring very much about our own narrow pleasures. We can only have the highest happiness, such as goes along with true greatness, by having wide thoughts and much feeling for the rest of the world as well as ourselves; and this sort of happiness often brings so much pain with it, that we can only tell it from pain by its being what we would choose before everything else, because our souls see it is good.—George Eliot.

Senior Report

Upon measuring for the caps and gowns the Seniors found that Richard was the smallest in our class. But don't worry, Rich, remember the old saying, "The best things always come in small parcels."

We have almost completed our civics course which we have found to be very interesting.

We Wonder Why—

Cletus and Richard enjoyed the picnic in Seymour Park so much Saturday.

Annie F. was so blue last week. Was it because Albert A. was ill? C.L. has been so quiet lately. (C.L. the truth always hurts.)

Geneva and Genevieve were in Seymour last Saturday but not at the Park.

Junior Report

The Juniors are nearly finished with their geometry book. It is getting harder right along. The last several weeks will be used for review.

Sophomore Report

We open our report with a bang. We're still thinking of our picnic. All of us can feel it in our arms and legs. Miss McGraw, we know you would make a good cook, because the sandwiches were really good. Some of us were nearly sick from going on the merry-go-round, but we enjoyed ourselves very much. Just a few more days left until Easter. We know that the Easter Rabbit will be good to us. We hope that we can all have a few days off. The Sophomores wish you all a Joyous Easter.

It IT True That . . .

—Our reporter kept sitting in his seat Monday? (Was it his birthday?)

Mildred and Weldon didn't take up much room? (Why?)

Elsie enjoyed her ride coming back.

Helen rode in the pickup going to Seymour. (Who else was in the pickup?)

Weldon didn't know the way to Monday on account of thinking of someone close.

Kenneth's windshield is clean. (Was it really dirty?)

Urban asked for his knife. (What for . . . to cut a clod?)

Frances liked the games we played.

Theresa liked to slide on the slide.

Bernardine enjoyed playing the games.

Calvin really didn't like his ride back. (Who was missing?)

Freshman Report

We enjoyed the picnic Saturday, at Seymour park very much and hope that everyone else that went did also.

We Wonder Why

Not all the Freshmen were seen at the picnic.

Everett had to take medicine Friday.

Albert A. wasn't at school all last week.

Alvin didn't want to come to the picnic Saturday.

Geneva was so angry last Friday. (Was it because someone teased her about becoming a "sister"?)

Room III Grade School

We are very glad that we have just one more month of school.

In our arithmetic we are studying about the banks. We have learned how to make checks and promissory notes.

Our agriculture seems very interesting because we took up the study of horses. We have also learned the different breeds of cattle.

Everyone seems to like our boarder of our blackboards. The front board has on it pictures of two rabbits in a car, and the side board has a rabbit sitting with several eggs.

We wish everyone a happy and joyous Easter.

It Couldn't Be True That—

Magdalen knew something about the chalk getting away.

Cleo has been having so much fun with pictures.

Magdalene likes her desk so well.

News of Room IV

We have been busy making baskets the last few days. Everyone has had an enjoyable time making them. Some were painted white and some were varnished.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Next Sunday Christendom celebrates the resurrection of our Lord. We celebrate the discovery of America by Columbus, American Independence Day, Texas Independence Day; but the greatest of all days was the one on which Jesus came from the tomb. The empty tomb is Christianity's greatest victory. To some it is just another day, to others it is just another day, to the lover of the Lord it is a day when we keenly remember that we have been made alive from the dead, that death has been changed into victory.

Last Sunday the Sunday School attendance was 234. Come next Sunday and help make it better. There is a place for everyone. Come as you are, no one can fill your place. There's a blessing in store for you.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

I bow my knees before no man,
Nor take orders at a tyrant's command.
I live in a land of democracy,
And not in the throes of autocracy!
I am an American.

I worship God as my choice may be,
And truthful news to me is free.
All radio programs it is my right to hear
And trial by jury I hold most dear!
I am an American.

I train for games and not for war.
My home, the bombs shall never mar
I live not in terror nor fear for my life,
Not in a land torn by dissension and strife!
I am an American.

I live in a land respected by all.
Where beauty and truth shall never fall.
Love is our watchword and peace is the cry.
Where the stars and the stripes fly forever high!
I am an American.
(Written by Robert Moore, a patient at the State Sanatorium, whose home is in Brownwood; quoted in John C. Biedoger's La Coste Ledger.)

Momentum was given to the proposed return of horse racing at a meeting in Austin of representatives of a dozen organizations, including Dirt Farmers Congress, labor, old age pensions and First Voters League. A resolution was adopted that any taxes from racing be set aside for pensions. It is estimated racing would provide $2,500,000—and, while almost every industry and business included in the omnibus tax bill is pleading to be released, racing is willing to be taxed.

Numerous newspapers are urging repeal of the chain store tax. "Most chain stores today are home owned," says the San Antonio Evening News. The tax is called a discriminatory penalty by the Dallas News, and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram asserts the levy is "punitive, not against the chains, but against the consumer, the producer and business in general." Says the Austin American, "The consumer is the real 'goat' of the law." Out in West Texas, the Post Dispatch calls the tax a "fine on efficiency."

and continues, "a spokesman for the Southwestern Cattlemen's Association recently reported that a program in which producers and chain stores worked together had materially increased beef and lamb consumption, and had given the cattle industry three of the best years in its history. The chain stores have participated in similar programs on behalf of cotton, fruit, pottery, cactus plants, and other commodities whose sale had to be increased if producers were to avoid possible ruinous losses." The San Antonio Express sums up, "Civic sentiment generally demand the repeal of the unwarranted Texas chain-store tax."

The Benjamin high school was the scene of action last Tuesday evening when the various schools in the county met to compete in the track events. We should like to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation to the participants for the excellent conduct displayed on the part of all our visitors. We extend to you our welcome to visit us any time that you desire.

We were pleased to have two boys—Pete Rutledge, who won first in the mile and vaulting, and Lee Bivins, who placed second in the 880-yard dash, to represent us at the District Meet at Breckenridge last Saturday. These two boys placed fifth in their divisions there.

Nadene Parker and Wanda Nunley, who placed first in typing at the county meet, also represented Knox county in typing. They were, however, unsuccessful at Breckenridge.

As the spring season has arrived, so has the desire to play baseball. The all-star boys, together with some of the high school boys, have already organized a baseball squad. This promises to offer some little excitement in the very near future.

Sophomore Report
At last during this week the sophs are really going to have a party. We are really thrilled. Mrs. Jackson (Librarian) is having this party at her home Thursday night. The following girls will be present with their escorts. Glenna Faye Rutledge, Frances Duke, Bonnie S. Parker, Elda Purl Laird, Jimmy Salter, Nadene Parker and Wanda Nunley. We are all looking forward to a very nice time.

Junior Report
The Juniors are planning their amateur program. It is to be April 18. We are planning for it to be the biggest and best we have ever had, and we are looking for everyone to be there.

A big Easter party is also being planned for Friday night, and we are all looking forward to that.

Senior Report
Last week the seniors had a surprise (April Fool) party at Mrs. Brookreans. Everyone enjoyed the party, although everything was a little tricky.

APPLICATIONS FOR COTTON COMFORTER MATERIAL SUSPENDED

College Station—On account of army purchases in connection with the defense program, submission of further orders for percale and comfort cotton have been discontinued. G. D. Walker, acting director for the southern division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, has notified B. F. Vance, administrative officer in charge of the AAA for Texas, that the discontinuance would affect applications for comfort material in excess of that amount covered by orders on hand at Washington.

The comfort program, supplementing the cotton mattress program was begun in February. Walker explained that army purchases made it impossible for the Surplus Marketing Administration to obtain additional percale in quantities sufficient to carry on the program.

Percale ordered for the Texas comfort program prior to the discontinuance order totaled 2,903,030 yards. Allotting ten yards to each unit, this would provide 290,303 comforts.

Ford Airplane Engine Plant Emerges from 'Cocoon'

Workmen have begun tearing down the huge fiberboard canopy which sheltered the $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine plant at Dearborn, Mich., during winter construction. This view shows the front section of the plant. The entire building will be completed early in April—little more than six months from the time ground was broken. Ordinarily such a project would require 12 to 14 months, but the shelter built over the structure enabled crews to work around the clock through the dead of winter.

Junior Report
 April 11, at 8:00 o'clock the stage curtains in the Sunset auditorium will rise and the Sunset Juniors will present No Bride for the Groom!! Just think, folks! Only four more days, and then, with only a few minutes drive you can come out to Sunset and see the play you've heard so much about! The Juniors have been working faithfully on the play, and as everyone knows, this play will mean a great deal to the Juniors' future—and the Seniors too, maybe.

The whole situation takes place in Sophia Selby's home near Willowick, Missouri. You've often heard that one person, when he gets started off just right, can make enough trouble for everyone. So come out and see what you think about Little Jolly (Jonell Smith) when she gets everyone mixed up by putting fortunes on top of the wax in the jam jars.

The Juniors are happy to announce that they have two Sopranos—Joe Waldron and Victor Thomas—and one "Fish"—Billy Bob Burton, in their play. Without their help it would not have been possible, and they know with their help it will be a big success. Again the Juniors urge each and every one of you out to Sunset this coming Friday night, April 11, to see No Bride for the Groom, one of the biggest events in Sunset's history.

Aunt Susie Shoots the Works
 —Story of the Play
 When Aunt Susie "shoots the works" she explodes a bombshell of responding mirth that will cause the audience to rock with laughter. And since this is a mystery farce it is entirely different from any other "Aunt" play ever written. Aunt Susie Stowe, an eccentric and man-hating spinster, lives entirely alone. When she learns that her late lamented schoolmate, Cora King, has willed her her property, she wires her favorite niece, Joy Herbert, who lives some 50 miles distant, telling her to meet her on the following afternoon at the King residence. Joy arrives, accompanied by her colored maid, Scarlet, and while waiting in the supposedly deserted house for Aunt Susie they are confronted with a series of mysterious and hair-raising events. Just as they are getting ready to make a terrified departure Aunt Susie arrives, calms their fears and boasts that she has inherited not only the late Cora's house, but the factory next door as well, which turns out to be, of all things, a sausage works! Aunt Susie plans to manufacture sausages when Cora's lawyer descends on them and relates that Aunt Susie will only inherit the property providing she is married to one of Cora's cousins, a man named Omar Graves, within 30 days. Aunt Susie hits the ceiling and prepares for a battle. To make matters worse, Joy is secretly engaged to young Johnny Rogers who turns up unexpectedly bent on a mysterious mission and dismissed as an old man. Aunt Susie mistakes the hapless Johnny for Omar Graves and poor Johnny is on the verge of nervous prostration when the real Omar Graves arrives accompanied by his colored man-servant, LaSalle. Lights flash off and on, characters disappear into nowhere, strange visitors run in and out and at midnight strange sounds are heard coming from the factory next door. Aunt Susie is determined to investigate and goes into the factory alone. The climax is reached when the eccentric spinster "shoots the works" thereby sending the audience into spasms of laughter. Say farewell to the blues, goodbye to gloom—when Aunt Susie shoots the works there is room only for joy!!

This rip-roaring play is to be presented by the Seniors of Sunset high school in the high school gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock April 25. Admission is 10c for all school children, and 25c for adults. Since the proceeds from this play are to help the Seniors take their class trip, they are working very hard to make the play a success. Every one come out and enjoy this great play, and thereby help the Seniors to make the trip.

Volleyball Report
 The volleyball girls met with some stiff competition at Breckenridge Saturday.

They met Weinert in the first game, which they won in two games. The next game was with Moran, and was a pretty tight game. Sunset won the first one, but lagged a little the next and Moran won it, the third game ended with Sunset winning with about two points to spare. The third game was with Almeda which Sunset won by a small margin. The final game with Woodson, but the Sunset girls were dead on their feet and tired. Therefore

Rejection of Registrant May Cause Hardship

Texas Selective Service local boards today were urged by General J. Watt Page, State Director, to warn every registrant ordered to report for induction under the Selective Service System to arrange his affairs so as to prevent undue personal hardship in the event he is rejected later at the Army induction station.

General Page said there are instances when men sent to the induction centers by the local boards are rejected on physical or other grounds, and that State Headquarters is extremely anxious that any injustices suffered by the registrants in such cases can be reduced to a minimum.

"Probably more often than not," the director said, "when a registrant is ordered to report for induction, he disposes of his automobile at a sacrifice, since he has been instructed that he cannot take it with him. He either sells or gives away his civilian clothes and gives up his lodging accommodations.

But more serious is the possibility of inequity to rejected registrants centering on the fact that they have severed their employment connections when ordered to report for induction. When a registrant is notified by his local board to report for induction, he should point out to his employer the possibility that he will not be accepted at the Army induction station. The employer can then be prepared to replace the man if he is accepted, or to continue his employment if he is rejected.

"It is difficult to find an immediate sure-all for this problem, but it is hoped that through a closer coordination between the employer and the prospective inductee much of the hardship and suffering in these cases may be alleviated.

"Employers should feel a 'moral obligation' to hold a registrant's job for him until he has actually been accepted at the Army induction station. Even though he is rejected, surely he has fulfilled his duty to his country by responding to the call for service."

TENANT-PURCHASE OPPORTUNITIES

College Station—Tenant farmers of Texas will have another chance to become farm owners when the Farm Security Administration begins taking applications on April 15 for long-term, low-interest loans with which tenants may buy farms.

"Many farm families have ownership of a family-size farm as their goal, and it is for these people that the FSA's tenant-purchase program is designed," explains C. M. Evans, regional director. Sharecroppers and farm laborers, as well as tenants are eligible for these loans, but preference is given to families that have adequate livestock and equipment.

These loans are repayable over a 40-year period at extremely low rates of interest. An unusual feature is the variable payment plan, under which farmers pay more in good years and less in poor ones. Farmers to whom these loans are made choose the farms they wish to buy, and are not restricted to fully-improved farms, for the loans may include funds to build or repair the home or make other improvements.

Thirty-six whole farm and ranch demonstrator families in Texas remodeled their homes last year.
