Diez y seis features variety

By STEVE REAGAN

A parade, live music, traditional dancers, selection of a queen and "almost every type of Mexican food you can imagine" will highlight the local Diez y seis de Septiembre celebration Saturday and Sunday, an organizer reported.

Festivities will begin at 10 a.m. with the parade beginning in the 1100 block of Lamesa Drive, behind Marquez and Sons TV, according to Raul Marquez, president of the local League of Latin American Citizens.

The parade will proceed south on Lamesa Drive and Gregg Street, east on South Second Street, then south on Main Street to State National Bank, Marquez noted.

Vietnam veterans will lead about 20 groups in the parade. City and county officials, horses and low-rider vehicles also will participate, Marquez said.

The Diez y seis queen candidates will be another parade feature. They are Maria Ontiveros, Armandina Alvarado and Michel Sanchez, he said.

At noon, the celebration will shift to the County Park at 1000 NW Fourth St., where a carnival featuring about 18 food and game booths will continue all day, he said.

Live music will begin at 12:30 p.m. Saturday and continue through the day, Marquez noted.

Dancers in traditional Mexican costumes will perform at 1 and 5 p.m., and children dressed similarly will dance at 2 and 7 p.m., he added.

A washer tournament, sponsored by the ALSA club, will begin at 3 p.m. and a puppet show, by Feasters and Company, will be at 4 and 6:30, Marquez said.

The climax of the fiesta will be a dance from 8 p.m. Saturday until 1 a.m., during which the Diez y seis queen will be crowned, he added.

The fiesta will continue Sunday with the same schedule of events, with the exception of the parade, washer tournament and queen crowning, he added.

Quinones said that there has been considerable interest shown among residents of the community in providing volunteer help.

Severe weather strikes Howard County

By staff and wire reports

A funnel cloud was sighted near Big Spring but apparently never touched ground, and winds were clocked up to 59 miles per hour in Wednesday night storms that brought rain and hail to some areas of Howard County.

The National Weather Service reported the funnel cloud, but a dispatcher for the Howard County sheriff's office said that the twister apparently never touched down and no damage was reported.

Hail broke skylights and rain damaged portions of Big Spring Mall, Manager Bryan Touchstone said this morning.

Grantham's had standing water, which also damaged a vacant space next door and leaked slightly into Cowtown Boots, Touchstone said, adding that the water was being removed.

He is not yet sure what caused the leak, he said.

Big Spring police reported high winds, heavy rains and continuous lightning about 1 a.m., after the funnel was spotted on weather service radar. The NWS said 3/4-inch hail fell in the area.

The U.S. Agricultural Research Service clocked winds at 59 miles per hour during a 1 a.m. storm, and at 46 miles per hour during a 4 a.m. storm.

The field station received no hail, but Research Leader Bill Fryrear said employees in various areas of Big Spring reported small sized hail at their homes.

The field station reported 1.19 inches of rainfall, bringing the yearly total to 18.85 inches — more than five inches above the normal-to-date of 13.66 inches.

The higher amounts of rain apparently fell on Big Spring and the western portions of Howard County.

Fryrear said he received about 0.25 inches at his home near Sand Springs. Wendell Shive of Coahoma reported 0.2 inches, and said he received 0.6 inches Tuesday night.

In contrast, Elton Hartin, 203 N. Nolan St., reported this morning that he received 1.1 inches of rainfall, and a little hail at 1 a.m.

O.W. Scudday of Forsan reported 1.3 inches rainfall this morning, and "just shy of 21 inches" for the year so far.

Neil Fryar of Lomax measured about an inch of rainfall.

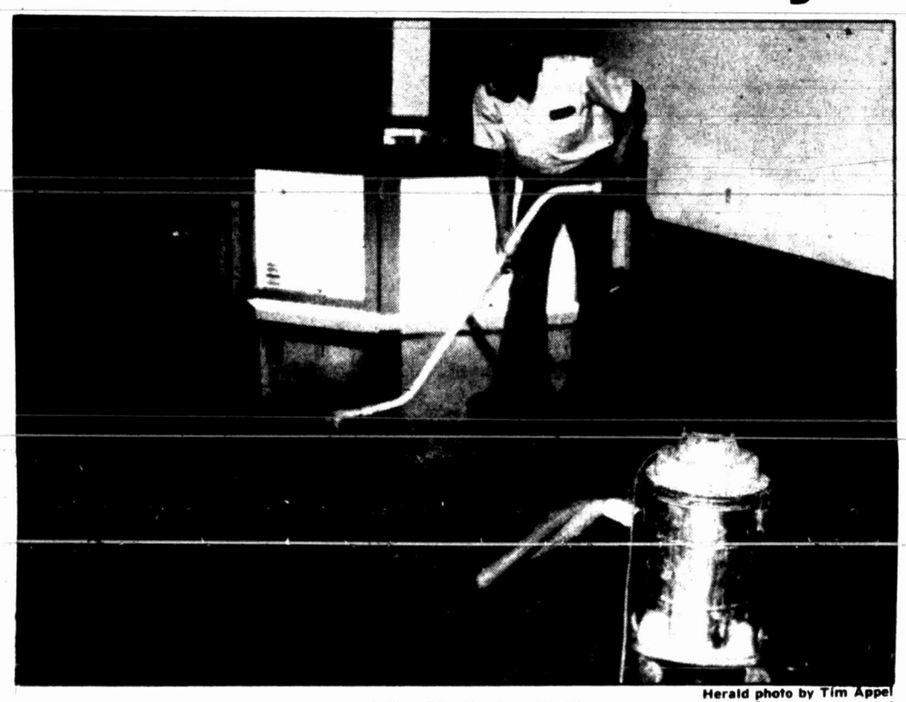

H. Boyce Hale of Sterling City Route reported 1.02 inches of rainfall, with a total of 2.81 inches so far this month, and 20.72 so far this year.

He reported high winds and pea-sized hail at about 1:30 and 4:30 a.m.

Hale noted that only once in previous record has Howard County received more than 20 inches of rain per year for three consecutive years: 22.47 was recorded in 1905, 25.96 in 1906, and 24.54 in 1907.

Hale has measured 22.47 inches in 1985,

Papal requests
Simply saying no isn't easy

Dallas Times Herald Bureau

SAN ANTONIO -- She could just say no. But Sister Charlene Wedelich is made of gentler stuff, and prefers to trouble with explanations.

After all, she says, her voice rising to an exclamation point, "They are all such wonderful ideas!"

In the months since Texans learned that Pope John Paul II would be their guest Sunday, Wedelich has heard hundreds of requests for the pontiff's time, hundreds of offers of assistance.

A member of the Divine Providence Order, she is among those assigned to planning by the Archdiocese of San Antonio, and to her come the hopeful inquiries and suggestions:

Could the Holy Father perform my wedding?

My baby is due in August, could the pope baptize him?

I have a spare room in my house, if his holiness needs a place to sleep.

I love to cook. Could I provide him a meal?

"I couldn't even hazard a guess as to how many of those we get every day. When you answer the phone, you never know who's going to be on the other end and what they're going to ask," Wedelich said this week after another in a series of 14-hour days.

"There's no way you could work them into his schedule. You just have to say that it's not possible, and that's hard.

"I tell, you, there's not a dull moment."

She has had to disappoint the parents of a young Girl Scout who finally had fulfilled the requirements for a religious medal. No, she told the family, the pope would not be availabe to make the award.

She has turned down an Episcopalian's request to be one of the select 120 who will receive communion from the pope, despite the man's impassioned testimony that he, unlike Protestants who consider the sacriment symbolic, believes the bread and wine become the actual body and blood of Christ.

She listened recently to the plea of an immigrant Polish Jew for a personal audience. The woman had survived the Holocaust by posing as a Christian, and wanted to tell her story to the pope. Wedelich couldn't promise John Paul's undivided attention, but arranged for the woman to be among the Poles of San Antonio whom he will visit Sunday night.

Mexico cuts crude price $2

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico, the world's fourth-largest oil producer, trimmed the average price of its light crude by more than $2 a barrel to U.S. customers last month, the government oil monopoly says.

Pemex, in a statement carried Wednesday by the government news agency Notimex, said the average price of its light Isthmus brand was $17.94 a 42-gallon barrel in August for the United States.

In July, the average price to the U.S. market was $20.23 a barrel, up from $19.18 a barrel in June.

To European customers, the average price of light Isthmus was $17.74 a barrel last month.

No prices were given for heavy Maya crude.

Mexico sells nearly half of its oil to the United States. Spain is its second largest customer, followed by Japan.

Pemex spokeswoman Marta Avelar said she knew nothing about the report and could not confirm the prices quoted by Notimex.

The oil company said, in the statement carried by the news agency, that the August decline in prices was due to heightened tensions in the Persian Gulf and over-production by some members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, the 13-member international oil cartel.

Mexico is not a member of OPEC but carefully monitors its decisions and often follows its lead.

Oil ministers from five OPEC members are to meet in emergency session Thursday and Friday in Vienna, Austria, to discuss evidence that key producers are cheating on a June agreement to strictly limit their oil production.

The delegates from Saudi Arabia, Nigeria, Algeria, Venezuela and Indonesia are expected to reaffirm the cartel's commitment to defending an average price of $18 a barrel.

In July, Mexico boosted its export volume to 1.36 million barrels a day after maintaining an export target of 1.32 million barrels a day in the first six months of the year.

Christopher firms file for bankruptcy

Staff Writer

Two companies of Big Spring businessman Charles "Chris" Christopher are named in a Chapter 11 bankruptcy claim filed in the Texas Northern District U.S. Bankruptcy Court in Lubbock.

The claim, filed Wednesday, names Christopher Companies and Omega LeasingHousing.

Under Chapter 11, a company obtains a federal court order that frees it from the threat of creditors' lawsuits until it can develop a financial plan to pay debts.

A financial plan has not yet been submitted, according to court records.

Estimated assets and liabilities are listed as more than $1 million and the bankruptcy form states 100 to 999 creditors.

The petition describes the nature of the debtor as a one-person organization consisting of real estate and oil and gas service.

Three Big Spring companies or residents are listed among the 20 largest unsecured claims.

Christopher is named as the debtor owing $46,500 to Tommy Horton, 1723 Yale Ave., $3,500 to Steve Stone, 307C W. 16th St., and an unknown amount to State National Bank.

The largest creditors are Jimmy Dean Lee and James Varner, who claim Christopher owes them $125,000 each.

City Attorney Hardy Wilkerson said today the bankruptcy filing puts an automatic halt to the city's litigation against Christopher.

The city filed a lawsuit in 118th District Court March 20, stating Christopher owed $1,882.50 in rent on an airplane hangar and office at the Big Spring McMahon-Wrinkle Airpark.

Wilkerson said the city will have to proceed through the bankruptcy court to seek the money.

To his knowledge, Christopher still has equipment occupying the hangar and office although he was advised to remove his belongings, Wilkerson said.

CHRIS CHRISTOPHER

The U.S. Trustees office will notify 121 individuals and companies of the bankruptcy claim and will serve notice of a meeting of creditors, according to the district bankruptcy court clerk.

The action takes about a month, she said.

Among those to be notified are more than a dozen Big Spring residents and companies including Advanced Telephone Systems, P.O. Box 2321; Arts Welding, general delivery; Barber Glass & Mirror, P.O. Box 1471; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Barker, 3313 Duke Ave.; and Basin Construction Co., P.O. Box 3179.

The list also includes Charles Beil, 502 Highland Ave.; the City of Big Spring; Big Spring Savings Association, P.O. Box 1509; Brown Well Service, general delivery; Kerry D. Burks, co 10 Glenwick Cove; and Citizens Credit Union, P.O. Box 425.

Other Big Spring creditors listed are Coffman Roofing, 2416 Johnson St.; Anne S. Cooper, 4007 Dixon St.; Claudine A. Cooper, P.O. Box 632; Michael Dunn, Route 1 Box 688-1D; FPI Holding Inc., P.O. Drawer 3179; GDR Inc., P.O. Box 3179; Gartman Refrigeration, 2608 Alamesa Drive; and the Howard County Tax Assessor's office.

Hughes Cabinets, Industrial Park; Jones & Associates, P.O. Box 2398; Jerry Lysaght, 3305 Duke Ave.; Oakwood Homes CAC, P.O. Box 632; R.M. Oliver, Gail Route Box 201; Estate of Ann Garrett Turner, P.O. Box 3010; Christopher Childrens Trust, and Charles Christopher also are listed.

Chicago firm to control First City bank

HOUSTON (AP) — The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. has embarked on the second-largest bank rescue in its history by pledging to prop up the ailing First City Bancorp. of Texas with nearly $1 billion.

The plan, which won preliminary FDIC approval Wednesday, would pump $970 million into the Houston-based bank-holding company that is reeling from losses on oil and real estate loans, FDIC Chairman L. William Seidman said.

Another $500 million will come from stock sales by a group of investors headed by A. Robert Abboud, a former banking executive who operates an investment firm in suburban Chicago.

Control of the First City, Texas' fourth-largest bank-holding company, will go to Abboud.

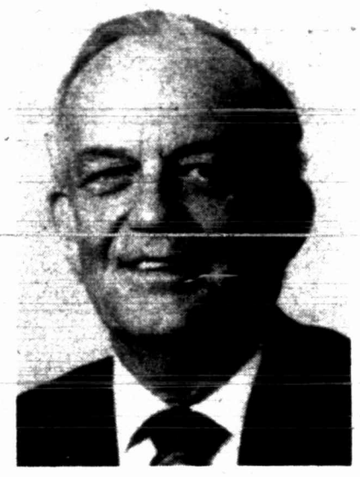

As part of the transaction, the FDIC will acquire a 15 percent interest in the restructured company. It also is guaranteed repayment of $100 million of the $970 million it is contributing in the form of five-year notes.

The government notes, along with additional notes provided by First City subsidiaries, will be used to cover $1.79 billion in bad loans from the parent corporation. A special spinoff bank will be set up to try to collect on the bad loans.

The action is the second-largest bank rescue in FDIC history. The agency pumped $4.5 billion into Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust of Chicago in 1984 and effectively became its owner when it could not find private investors.

A. ROBERT ABBOUD

J.A. ELKINS JR.

Seidman said the First City assistance package "is no bailout of the old shareholders or of the old bank management. ... This is a different transaction than the Continental Illinois transaction."

The share of the old common stockholders will be reduced from the current 100 percent to less than 3 percent, he said.

"I suppose one of the criticisms that we'll hear is that this is another example of the too-big-to-fail syndrome. Let me point out that for all practical purposes, in terms of the stockholders and managment, the bank has failed. But in terms of all of the depositors, the bank continues," he said.

Seidman said the assistance package was "the lowest-cost alternative to the FDIC when compared to alternative bids ... (and) to a payoff of depositors."

The plan is subject to the approval of First City shareholders and approval of final documentation by the FDIC. It is by far the agency's largest outlay this year.

"Depositors, borrowers, customers and employees can be heartened and reassured by the recapitalization program," said J.A. Elkins Jr., senior chairman of the board of First City.

He said the bank's management had been working to meet First City's long-term capital requirements. The FDIC transaction, he said, preserves the company's outstanding statewide market franchise and ensures its position as a major independent and financially strong competitor.

The FDIC's recovery of its contribution would depend on the value of its 15 percent interest, he said.

In the worst case, the FDIC could lose $800 million to $900 million, but allowing the bank to fail and paying off the depositors could have cost as much as $1.8 billion, he said.

Even in the worst case, the agency's insurance fund would break even for the year, retaining a net worth of about $18 billion, Seidman said.

As of June 30, First City had $12.2 billion in assets and owned 61 banks in Texas and one in South Dakota. Troubled by losses on real estate and oil loans, it lost $160.9 million in the first six months of this year and $402 million in 1986. It suspended dividends on its preferred stock last month.

Federal judge approves Bell information service

WASHINGTON — A federal judge today opened the door for the Bell operating companies to transmit computerized information services, but refused to lift restrictions that prevent the companies from making telephone equipment and providing long-distance service.

U.S. District Judge Harold H. Greene said the companies can transmit computerized services, such as message-storing and alarm-monitoring, but he precluded them from providing the information itself.

Greene also said the companies will no longer have to obtain a waiver from the court to enter non-telecommunications businesses.

The seven Bell companies, spun off from American Telephone & Telegraph Co. by an antitrust decree three years ago, had sought to vastly expand their businesses by having all three restrictions of the decree removed.

The Justice Department had recommended to Greene that the Bell companies be allowed to manufacture telephone equipment and provide information services.

The department also had asked Greene to let the Bell companies provide long-distance services outside the areas where they controlled local phone service. But the department later pulled back on that recommendation, saying the judge should allow that only on a case-by-case basis.

The department had argued that competition has developed rapidly in the telecommunications industry and among the Bell companies during the three years since divestiture. The Bell companies would no longer have a competitive advantage if they entered manufacturing and information services, government antitrust lawyers argued.

The Bells sought lifting of all three restrictions, arguing they were being unfairly restrained in a growing industry.

They argued that until they were allowed to provide information services, that fledging industry would never be brought to the public on a wide scale.

They also dismissed fears that their entry into manufacturing in joint ventures with foreign companies would harm the nation's trade balance. The companies argued that the restriction against manufacturing precludes them from getting equipment to meet their specific needs.

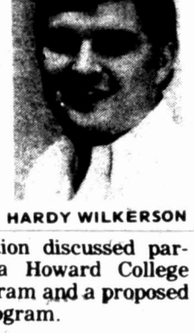

On the long-distance issue, they argued that competition in the industry would prevent them from having an unfair advantage.

County lawyers choose Wilkerson as president

Herald staff report

The Howard County Bar Association elected officers at its annual meeting last night.

Attorney Hardy Wilkerson was elected president; John Ferguson of Weaver & Ferguson, vice president; and Drew Mouton of Bancroft & Mouton, secretary/treasurer.

HARDY WILKERSON

The association discussed participation in a Howard College paralegal program and a proposed scholarship program.

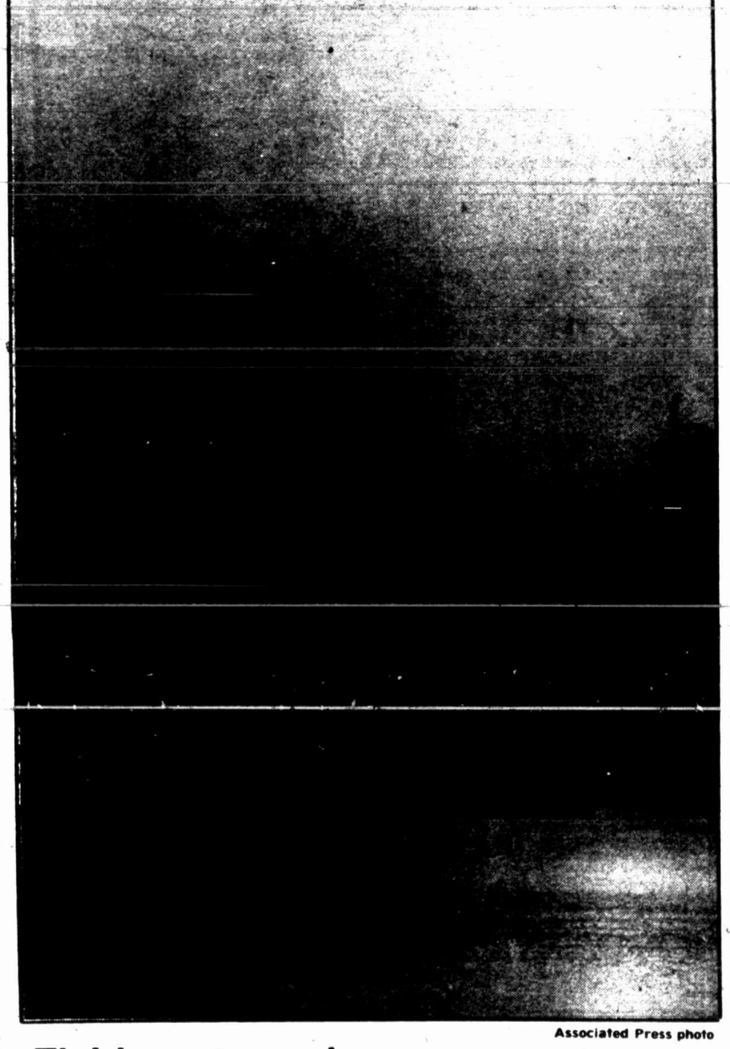

Approximately 16 local attorneys attended the event, at which Joe E. Nagy, president of the State Bar of Texas, spoke.

Nagy became president this year at the bar convention in Corpus Christi. He is a partner in the Crenshaw, Dupree & Milam firm in Lubbock.

Nagy said the state bar intends to provide improved assistance to local attorneys, and that he intends to visit as many bar associations as possible, particularly those in West Texas.

He said his Big Spring visit is the first to a local bar association since his tenure began.

Nagy emphasized continuing education and encouraged lawyers to stay current with legislative developments. He also said attorneys should be aware of and follow state bar ethical standards.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms, some very strong, covered the South Plains and northern sections of the Edwards Plateau and North Central Texas early today.

The disturbance, associated with a weak low-pressure trough, extended from the Trans-Pecos to North Central Texas.

Tax board to set budget

Herald staff report

The Howard County Tax Appraisal District board will meet in emergency session today at 1:30 p.m. to finalize its budget, according to Chief Appraiser Gene Pereira.

The meeting will take place in the board room at the Howard County Courthouse Annex.

Two budget workshops by the board resulted in a tentative budget of about $377,000, Pereira said. The figure is $8,000 less than last year, he added.

The major reason for the reduction is the elimination of one-time expenses that occurred last year — such as furniture and equipment purchases, he said.

The tentative budget includes a contingency fund of $2,000 for emergency expenses, Pereira added.

Howard County Grand Jury reviewing 38 cases

By KERRY HAGLUND
Staff Writer

A Howard County grand jury will convene again today to continue reviewing 38 cases brought before it Wednesday.

The jury considered several cases during Tuesday's session. Results won't be announced until it completes its agenda sometime today, according to a spokesperson at the district attorney's office.

Several witness cases including a murder charge and an arson case are to be considered by the jury today.

The jury convened at 9 a.m. in the grand jury room of the Howard County Courthouse.

Jurors today will consider a murder case that stems from the July 3 shooting death of Israel Pacheco, 24, formerly of 707 N. Douglas St.

Roland Garcia, 21, 401 N.E. Tenth St., was arrested in connection with the shooting.

He allegedly shot Pacheco after the two began arguing and fighting in the store's parking lot, according to earlier published reports.

Police later recovered a .22-caliber pistol believed to have been used in the incident.

Garcia was released from the Howard County jail July 7 on a $30,000 bond, according to sheriff's records.

In a separate case, jurors will determine if arson played a role in a massive fire June 21 that destroyed Moffatt Carpet and Furniture, 200 Main St.

A suspect has been named in the case, but no formal charges have been filed, Assistant Fire Chief Burr Lea Settles said.

He said it's likely no arrests will be made unless the grand jury indicts the suspect, but added that he believes he has a strong case.

Officials received information about the possibility of arson by a witness who informed Crimestoppers.

The jury also will consider or has considered the following cases:

• Don Adams, no current age or address available, theft of more than $750.

• Cherilyn Ausbie, no current age or address available, burglary of a habitation.

• Mickey Burchfield, 29, 116 Jonesboro, DWI.

• James Wesley Nesbitt, 21, 1012 W. Third St., unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

• Thomas O'Neill, no current age or address available, robbery.

Big Spring Herald owner buys Houston Post

HOUSTON (AP) — MediaNews Group, owner of the Big Spring Herald and the Dallas Times Herald, announced today that one of its affiliates has acquired the Houston Post from Toronto Sun Publishing Co. for $150 million.

The Post is the smaller of the two Houston newspapers, which have been engaged in a newspaper war similar to the battle between the Dallas Times Herald and the larger Dallas Morning News.

Toronto Sun Publishing Co. of Ontario, Canada, bought the Post in October 1983 for $100 million from the H&C Communications Corp., privately held by Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston.

William Dean Singleton, president of MediaNews Inc., said the company's Gloucester County Times Inc. affiliate purchased the Post.

The purchase is expected to be completed Nov. 1, Singleton said.

The purchase price will be $150 million in cash, but Sun Publishing will get an additional amount on March 31, 1993, based on the gross revenues of the Post over a five-year period ending Dec. 31, 1992, Singleton said.

Sun Publishing will be paid $1.25 for each $1 of additional newspaper revenue over an annual base equal to 1987 revenues, he said.

The latest circulation for the morning Post for the period ending March 31 was 309,400 daily and 356,424 on Sunday.

Sessions hearing goes without hitch

Dallas Times Herald Bureau

WASHINGTON — Although William Sessions appears to have put his Texas days behind him, it seemed like home on the range Wednesday in the Senate Judiciary Committee, where never was heard a discouraging word.

The committee's confirmation hearing on Sessions' appointment as the new FBI director turned out to be the Capitol Hill equivalent of a daylong standing ovation, as Republicans and Democrats clamored to offer kind words and kudos for the widely respected, law-and-order federal judge from San Antonio.

Lawmakers from liberal Massachusetts Sen. Edward Kennedy to South Carolina's arch-conservative Sen. Strom Thurmond joined in unanimous praise of Sessions as a tough, fair, responsible and experienced nominee to replace William Webster, who left the FBI earlier this year to head the CIA.

"This is beginning to sound more like a canonization hearing than a confirmation hearing," joked Sen. Patrick Leahy, D-Vt.

The flood of praise during opening statements by Judiciary Committee members left Sessions' homestate supporters searching for neglected niceties when their turn finally came to speak in support of the nomination.

"It's a real test of a fellow's command of superlatives to find anything new to say," said Texas Republican Sen. Phil Gramm.

"He's been compared to the old-fashioned western marshal with the star on his chest," Gramm said. "That's a little dramatic, but in my part of the country that's about the highest praise a person can get."

Sessions, 57, chief judge on the San Antonio-based U.S. District Court for the Western District of Texas, was heartened by the reception, saying the job of FBI director is "the richest honor" he could receive.

Loeffler considers post

Dallas Times Herald Bureau

AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements on Wednesday asked former U.S. Rep. Tom Loeffler, who unsuccessfully sought the Republican gubernatorial nomination won by Clements last year, to consider being named chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Loeffler said he was not sure whether he wanted to be considered for the position being abandoned in January by Democrat Chief Justice John Hill.

"Tom has told me that he will think about it," Clements said. "He understands there's been no offer on my part at all and there hasn't been. But he's not sure whether he really will have an interest or not."

Loeffler, along with another former U.S. congressman, Kent Hance, unsuccessfully bid for the 1986 GOP nomination for governor. Clements recently named Hance to serve on the Texas Railroad Commission to fill a position vacated by another Democrat, Mack Wallace.

"What I'm doing is trying to determine who has a solid, committed, interest in serving in this position and who doesn't," Clements said.

Reggie Bashur, the governor's press secretary, said the governor "was just asking if he (Loeffler) wanted to be put on the list."

TSTA threatens boycott

Dallas Times Herald Bureau

DALLAS — The Texas State Teachers Association may boycott Dallas as a convention site because the city's teachers are barred from attending association meetings.

Dallas is scheduled to host the association's 1988 convention for 1,200 delegates next April. Officials said Wednesday that if the convention is moved to another city, it could cost Dallas businesses more than $800,000.

The TSTA is threatening to find an alternate convention site unless the Dallas school board votes Sept. 24 to change its policy that prevented 56 teachers from attending the association's statewide convention in Lubbock last April.

Karen Johnson, TSTA general counsel, said the association also will ask the National Education Association to boycott Dallas as a convention site. The NEA annual meeting attracts about 10,000 teachers.

Amoco pipeline explodes

KEMAH — Residents were allowed to return home after an evacuation that was prompted when an explosion sent flames ripping down a butane pipeline, officials say.

The explosion occurred about 8 a.m. Wednesday in a pipeline running parallel to one being installed by a crew contracted by Amoco Pipeline Co., Amoco spokesman Guy Robinson said.

Robinson said he did not know how long it would take to burn off all the butane left in the pipeline. The six-inch line owned by Amoco carries butane from Baytown to the company's refinery in Texas City.

Three construction workers were injured in the blast, and Robinson said he understood those injuries were burns. The three were employed by Woodson Construction Co. in Lafayette, La., but their names have not been released.

"It was frightening as the devil," Mayor Ben Blackledge said of the blast. "The initial explosion wasn't anything spectacular, but it was considerable."

Incident costs taxpayers

SAN ANTONIO — After scores of hours of paperwork, a spate of public accusations and an apology, the 9-month-old Henry B. Gonzalez assault case is over, but the bill payments are just beginning.

The case that brought state politicians into the courtroom to lend support for the Democratic congressman's punch that landed in Bill Wayne Allen's face will cost taxpayers about $13,000, the Texas Lawyer magazine reported this week.

It ended Aug. 28 when Gonzalez said in a statement: "I regret ... that the incident took place at all. He apologized to the "citizens of Bexar County" — though not to Allen directly — and said all citizens are entitled to their political beliefs.

Opinion

Friendly advice to S&L industry

This is a letter to Tom King, executive vice president of the Texas Savings & Loan League.

Dear Tom:

In a letter you wrote the managing officers of your member institutions, you seemed upset about the bad publicity your industry has been getting lately. You even urged them to stop talking to the media.

Of course, nobody knows better than you that Texas S&Ls have been hemorrhaging badly, in some cases fatally. Texas' 281 thrifts began 1987 with an aggregate net worth of $329 million — not a lot for a whole industry, but still in the black. As of June 30, that aggregate net worth was minus $2.8 billion, and still dropping.

Your letter also mentioned Gov. Bill Clements, whose remark that depositors in Texas S&Ls would be lucky to receive 30 cents for each $1 insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. was roundly criticized by the media as irresponsible.

Your statement that he indulged in "dogmatism" seems apt, but then you seemed almost to excuse him by saying, "unfortunately, the news media is where he does his research."

We are always puzzled by those who believe their problems are caused by the media. You made a point of singling out the Times Herald's Aug. 16 story — the one that reported the FBI is investigating massive fraud in the Texas thrift industry and has subpoenaed the records of about 400 lenders and borrowers — as a particularly egregious example of thrift-bashing.

The problem is not the media or even the governor. The problem is that too many thrifts have been making uncollectible loans. The payments on these loans should have covered the interest due to their loyal depositors.

But since the loans were bad, the S&Ls have been meeting their payments — barely — by enticing new depositors and using those new funds to pay their old depositors' interest.

It's a grim end game. During the past 18 months it has spelled bankruptcy for 50 banks and 10 thrifts, and jeopardized the lives of those that remain.

If the media fell silent tomorrow, do you think any of these circumstances would be changed? Perhaps if you urged your members to refrain from bad practices, your problems would be less intractable.

"...AND NOW FOR MY BIGGEST HIT, 'LA BOMBA'..."

Says Jesus Christ can help

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I admit I always thought God wasn't interested in people like me, because I have lived a pretty bad life, I guess. But I saw you on television the other night and was impressed with what you said about Christ being for all kinds of people. I have a lot of problems I don't know how to solve, but would God help me with them, do you think? — P.S.

DEAR P.S.: Yes, He would — and He wants to help you, because He loves you.

Elsewhere in your letter you tell me some of the problems you're having. Most of them would probably never have happened if you'd chosen to follow God's way instead of trying to live for yourself.

The Bible rightly warns that "the way of the unfaithful is hard" (Proverbs 13:15), and that "A man reaps what he sows. The one who sows to please his sinful nature, from that nature will reap destruction" (Galatians 6:7-8). But the Bible also tells us that Christ wants to come into our lives and help us live as we should.

And yes, Christ is for all kinds of people — including you. If you read the Gospels in the New Testament, you'll discover that Jesus was called a friend of sinners and outcasts (see Luke 7:34).

Frequently He was found in the company of people who'd never had anything to do with God or religion — not because He approved of their sin, but because He loved them and wanted them to discover the real meaning of life.

The Bible says, "Here is a trustworthy saying that deserves full acceptance: Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners" (1 Timothy 1:15).

I don't promise that all your problems will instantly vanish if you accept Christ. But Christ will give you wisdom to deal with them and the strength to resist temptations. Don't delay, but commit your life to Jesus Christ today.

"I'm not running for president. I have no plans to run for president." — Former Democratic presidential candidate Gary Hart, in a 60-minute appearance on ABC-TV's "Nightline" program Tuesday night.

"If the question is in the 29 years of my marriage, including two public separations, have I been absolutely and totally faithful to my wife, I regret to say the answer is no." — Hart, asked whether he had had an affair with Miami model Donna Rice.

"One woman managed to get out of her car with her son. She had almost reached the safe part when a river of mud swept her away, too. For a moment I managed to grab her arm, but I couldn't hold on to her and I watched as she went over the mountainside." — Luis Mora, survivor of the Venezuelan highway mudslide that swept scores of automobiles from the road and buried them under tons of mud.

"Imagine, if you will, that the U.S. might continue blindly on its present course of excessive nuclear armament, traveling alone and pointlessly down a blind alley of history and ending up militarily musclebound, uncompetitive in industry, agriculture, or technology, irrelevant to the world of the 21st century — and broke." — Former Colorado Sen. Gary Hart, in remarks prepared for the Philadelphia World Affairs Council.

Jack Anderson

By JACK ANDERSON
and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — To the fictional exploits of Beetle Bailey and "The Good Soldier Schweik," we can now add the true story of Brian Sauer and his star-crossed attempt to find a career in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

After more than two years' entanglement with the Navy bureaucracy, Seaman Sauer just wants out. But the Navy has informed him that any discharge at this point would be "other than honorable."

Sauer doesn't want that black mark on his bizarre Navy career, and he maintains that such a discharge would be unfair because so much of his official record has been lost, altered or otherwise fouled up that it never can be reconstructed accurately.

The Navy's position is that Sauer is exaggerating the problem so he can shirk the obligation he signed up for when he joined the reserve.

Last fall, Sauer sought help from Rep. Fred Upton, R-Mich. In a letter to Upton, Navy Capt. G. Bair of the Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Reserve Center, suggested that the best solution to Sauer's case would be a transfer and a "clean slate start over."

The captain admitted "definite errors in documentation of training and service record maintenance." Sauer's record should be "expunged of any possibly deleterious information," Bair added.

Commodore Catherine Sperry, the Great Lakes chief of staff, told our reporter Gary Clouser that all errors have been corrected — and would have been corrected sooner if Sauer had gone through proper channels instead of asking for congressional intervention. She acknowledged "improper documentation" of his Indianapolis training records.

Sauer and confusion were shipmates from the start. He first tried to join the Navy in September 1984, but his test scores were too low. He asked for a waiver; the Navy refused. So in April 1985, he joined the less demanding Naval Reserve. He reported to Indianapolis and requested training as a seaman apprentice.

At Great Lakes boot camp, Sauer was told to choose a specialty; he picked gunner's mate and completed the first of three training phases, but was dropped when his math scores didn't measure up. He then tried for basic electrician, but flunked out.

In October 1985, Sauer was transferred back to Indianapolis, where he studied damage control and preventive maintenance. In July 1986, he requested and was granted a transfer to Grand Rapids, Mich.

But when he got there, he was told there was no record of his time in Indianapolis, and officials didn't know where to place him. Sauer decided he wanted to be a Seabee and started training for this — without authorization.

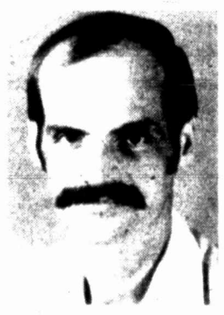

In November 1986, he received only half his salary and was told he had been training with the wrong unit. He was later informed that he had missed too many scheduled drills — but the letter was sent to the wrong address.

Because of the missed drills, Sauer was ordered to 18 months' active duty. He contested the order. Then it was discovered that someone had altered a document in his service record to read that absences must be excused by the day of the drill rather than up to 15 days after.

That had been the policy when Sauer missed his drills. When the Navy discovered the alteration, it canceled Sauer's order to active duty.

Early last month, Sauer was told he'd be transferred to a reserve unit in Muskegon, Mich., as a Seabee, though he doubts he is qualified.

Column writing, made simple

Around the rim

By STEVE REAGAN
Staff Writer

Greetings, faithful readers.

My thanks go to the many kind people who have complimented my efforts in the newsroom. To have complete strangers approach you on the street and compliment your writing is heady stuff — especially considering I've been on the job all of three months.

On the other hand, to have other total strangers occasionally offer the opinion that writing stinks is comparable to walking into a wall — it gets your attention quickly.

I admit my human qualities. I love it when people like my work and I'm stung when they don't, a predicament that calls to question my choice of professions.

This brings me in a roundabout way to the subject of this week's offering — how I write my columns.

Several people have asked me how I go about writing my "rims." In fact, that's the second-most often asked question I receive, ranking immediately behind "How long have you been going bald?"

For me, column writing has been fairly easy. I sit down at my trusty computer terminal and start writing whatever comes to mind.

My columns appear every Thursday. According to schedule, I must have it ready for the editor by Wednesday at 3:30 p.m., so I have a week to think about something to write.

Sounds easy, huh?

Sometimes, it is. I have this personality quirk, however, that sometimes prevents me from doing things ahead of schedule. Most people know it as procrastination, but I know it as my constant acquaintance.

My former boss, Herald circulation manager Chuck Benz, used to dread giving me assignments. He knew only too well my overwhelming desire to sit down and think about my task — sometimes for weeks on end.

I have since moved to the news department and my ol' buddy procrastination moved along with me.

I have learned one thing about this companion. It's not as bad as a drug habit, but it's an insidious affliction just the same.

So, Wednesday often dawns with yours truly in the early stages of panic. Some friends believe that is how I begin most days — but that's another story.

I enter the newsroom, sit at my desk and begin to scan the wire stories for an appropriate subject. Sometimes I get lucky and a story catches my eye. More often, however, I remain uninspired through the morning.

I remain fairly calm during lunch. I figure that the muse hasn't failed me in the past, so why should it happen now? This temporary calm is shattered when I return from lunch and City Editor Robert Wernsman asks when my rim will be ready.

"Oh, pretty soon," I answer.

Robert, who understands this routine, calmly asks, "How soon is 'pretty soon' ?"

"Oh, I'll have it ready by deadline."

Realizing the futility of additional questioning, my city editor simply smiles and goes back to doing whatever it is city editors do — leaving me to ponder just what the heck I'm going to write about.

By now I'm racking my brain trying to think of a column subject. Managing Editor Darrell Berkheimer slaps me on the back and tells me how much he's looking forward to reading my rim.

You and me both, Berky.

Just when all appears lost, an idea suddenly strikes. It may come from a conversation, a late item on the newswire or simply off the top of my head — suppose that has anything to do with my balding?

Whatever its origin, I'm grateful for its arrival.

Typing furiously, with one eye on my terminal and one on the clock, I compose my epic of the week with minutes to spare. With a huge sigh of relief, I turn to Robert and say — in the calmest voice I can muster — "By the way, my rim's ready."

He thanks me with a knowing grin, as if to say "Lucked out again, eh, Reagan?"

The conclusion to my mini-odyssey comes when my editors read my effort, make the necessary corrections and say "Nice rim, Steve. Will you have one next week?"

"Sure thing," I say. "No sweat."

Let's all play 20 questions in race of '88

By ART BUCHWALD

The fun of watching the seven Democratic presidential candidates on TV is guessing who they are. The other day it was my turn to have the gang over, and this is how it went.

"Who is the fellow from Arizona?"

"He's the one with the dark suit on."

"Six of the seven have dark suits on."

"Well, I know he's not the guy with the bow tie."

"How do you know that?"

"Because there is only one guy in the presidential race with a bow tie and he's from somewhere in the Midwest."

"I recognize a candidate."

"Which one?"

"The fellow with the mustache. That's Jesse Jackson."

"How can you be sure it's Jesse Jackson?"

"Because he is the only one who has a mustache in the campaign, like the other guy is the only one who has a bow tie. This makes both of them very different from the others."

"I think that's Joe Biden of Delaware at the end."

"How do you know that?"

"Because he's attacking the size of the Republican deficit."

"They all have attacked the size of the Republican deficit. The person you say is Biden could be any of the seven."

"It could even be Dukakis. He is confused with Biden when they're debating."

"It's hard to tell Dukakis from the others because he doesn't look like anybody."

"Any idea who the fellow in the light suit is?"

"That's probably the candidate from Iowa. I don't know his name, but he's always getting into an argument with the senator from Tennessee whose name I think is Gephardt."

"No dummy, the senator from Tennessee is named Babbitt."

"I thought Babbitt was from Illinois. It isn't easy to keep them straight."

"They all look like excellent prospects to me."

"And they each have their own personality, which causes them to stand out in a crowd — and makes it easy to identify with them."

"Who is the one for taxes and against war?"

"I think Jackson. No, it could be Simon."

"You haven't been listening. All seven are for taxes and against war."

"Have any of them come out against lying in government?"

"As far as I can tell most of them have taken a position against lying in government."

"Well, at least they agree on something."

"I think they agree on everything."

"How can you have seven candidates who agree on everything?"

"Because they don't want to get anybody mad at them."

"What is most peculiar is Jesse Jackson is the one making all the jokes. When did Jackson start telling jokes?"

"When Gary Hart got caught in Bimini."

PBS to air debates

BOSTON — Republican and Democratic presidential debates scheduled for Dec. 7 and 8 in Boston will be telecast nationally by the Public Broadcasting Service, the network says.

The final format of the debates has yet to be worked out. The Republican candidates will meet Dec. 7 and the Democrats will debate the next day.

The debates will be held at Faneuil Hall in Boston. They are being co-sponsored by The Boston Globe and ABC News in association with PBS Boston affiliate WGBH-TV and WETA-TV of Washington. WETA, Washington's PBS affiliate, will broadcast the debates over 319 PBS stations, the network said Wednesday.

650 bus drivers strike

A strike by 650 school bus drivers in Boston forced thousands to find other ways to get to class today, while officials in Chicago had little hope for an early end to a walkout by 28,000 teachers against the nation's third-largest district.

In all, teacher strikes continued in seven states, disrupting education for more than 720,000 students.

In addition to Illinois, the strikes were in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Washington state and in Michigan, where 11,500 teachers were on strike in Detroit. Striking teachers were under court order to return to work today in New Jersey and Massachusetts.

Baby M future 'difficult'

NEW YORK — Baby M's court-appointed legal guardian says the child born to surrogate mother Mary Beth Whitehead will be "hounded by the press" for years.

"She may be in for a difficult future," Lorraine A. Abraham said in an interview with Redbook magazine. "She has no real peers. There are other surrogate children, but they have not lived through what she lived through."

Ms. Abraham said she thought it was sad that the child will be given no privacy.

"Whenever there is a slow March 27, it's going to be 'Baby M's 10th Birthday,' or 'Baby M's 15th Birthday.'

Firefighters hope for rain

Weary firefighters looked for help from the sky today, hoping that rain would help them attack the fastest-growing of the forest and brush fires that have charred more than 1,000 square miles in the West.

"If we get as much as one-tenth of an inch, which we're saying is possible, that will go a long way toward shutting down the fires," said John Saltenberger of the weather service in Redding, Calif.

About 1,250 fires have burned nearly 545,000 acres in California since a spate of lightning strikes Aug. 28. More than 170 of the blazes remained uncontained Wednesday.

Pope John Paul II shakes hands with Cardinal William Wakefield Baum, former Archbishop of Washington and head of the Holy Congregation for Catholic Education, at Rome's Leonardo Da Vinci international airport Thursday. The Pontiff left Rome for a 10-day pilgrimage in the United States and was due to arrive at 1 p.m. in Miami.

John Paul II

Pope to arrive in America

ROME (AP) — Pope John Paul II flew to the United States today on a mission to defend church doctrine under attack from his U.S. flock and applaud the vibrancy of the Roman Catholic Church in America.

The special Alitalia 747 nicknamed "Shepherd 1" left Leonardo da Vinci airport at 9:25 a.m. local time with the pope, his 31-member entourage and journalists. President Reagan was scheduled to greet the pontiff in Miami at the start of his 10-day, nine-city U.S. tour.

The Polish-born pope has been preparing for the visit for months, carefully working over the 45 speeches he'll deliver, meeting with U.S. church officials and polishing up his English.

It is John Paul's second U.S. tour and his 36th foreign trip since he assumed the papacy in 1978.

Vatican security guards, the pope's valet, and senior prelates involved in issues ranging from foreign policy to relations with other Christian denominations and Jews are accompanying the pope.

Two glass-enclosed bulletproof "popemobiles" were shipped in advance to Miami. John Paul has traveled in such vehicles on foreign trips since he was shot and wounded by a Turkish gunman in St. Peter's Square on May 13, 1981.

Critics of church views are expected to stage demonstrations in several cities, but the Rev. Roberto Tucci, the organizer of papal trips, said last week that the Vatican was more concerned about the possibility of an assassination attempt because of the availability of guns in the United States.

From Miami, the pope will fly to Colombia, S.C., then on to New Orleans; San Antonio, Texas; Phoenix, Ariz.; Los Angeles; Monterey, Calif.; San Francisco and Detroit. He is scheduled to visit Fort Simpson in Canada's Northwest Territories on Sept. 20 before returning to Rome.

Vatican officials attach great importance to the Catholic Church in the United States, and expect many of its views to eventually be embraced by Catholics in other countries. It is a wealthy church, with 52.9 million members.

Surveys have shown that many U.S. Catholics disagree with the church's prohibitions on artificial contraception, divorce, abortion, women priests and married clergy.

Archbishop Jan Schotte, a senior Vatican official, indicated that the pope would condemn a "pick-and-choose church where it is accepted that being Catholic has little to do with adhering to all the church's teachings."

The pope is fully aware of dissent in the U.S. church and intends to "clearly defend church teachings that are under attack," Schotte said in a briefing last week.

Aquino names council

MANILA, Philippines — President Corazon Aquino asked a new advisory council today to mend the rift between the government and military that triggered a failed coup and the Cabinet's resignation.

She also postponed a state visit to Italy which was to coincide with the Oct. 18 canonization in Vatican City of Lorenzo Ruiz as the first Filipino saint.

The president has not explained Wednesday's resignation of her 25-member Cabinet, which supporters said was intended to give her a free hand in reorganizing her embattled government.

Striking workers fired

EAST LONDON, South Africa — Mercedes-Benz fired 2,600 striking black autoworkers who defied an order to return to work, and said it would seek replacements.

The company said the workers turned down its latest offer to end the five-week strike, and refused to go back to their jobs.

"As a result, non-returning workers have been dismissed," the automaker said in a statement Wednesday. "The company's recruitment program (for new workers) will be announced in due course."

Mercedes said the workers fired Wednesday were in addition to 188 workers fired earlier.

Protestors meet leader

TRIER, West Germany — East German leader Erich Honecker today visited the hometown of Karl Marx and was met by demonstrators seeking freedom for people wanting to leave the Communist country.

The East German Communist Party leader, the first to visit West Germany, was to return to his birthplace later today for the first time in nearly 40 years.

Upon arrival, he was greeted by officials of the Rhineland Palatinate state and about 30 protesters, who quietly displayed banners.

Iranian embassy seized

OSLO, Norway — Eleven men occupied the Iranian embassy here for more than two hours today to protest arms sales to Iran, and three people were reported injured, the national news agency NTB said.

The unidentified men surrendered peacefully and were taken to police headquarters for questioning, the agency said.

Banners draped outside the seized embassy identified the group by the initials OGFPI, said NTB. It was not clear what they stood for.

Police had cordoned off the area around the embassy. One person was seen being carried away on a stretcher, the agency reported.

The news agency quoted an unidentified Iranian journalist as saying the attackers were unarmed and had offered to surrender if a photographer were first allowed into the building.

Tanker fire permitted to burn out

NEW ORLEANS — Firefighters decided to pull back and let a fierce chemical fire in a railroad tank car burn itself out today because of a risk of explosion, authorities said. More than 900 people were evacuated.

The car, loaded with 34,000 gallons of toxic butadiene, caught fire before dawn Wednesday in a railroad storage yard next to two interstate highways, bringing most city traffic to a crawl, authorities said.

Fidelity between husbands and wives noted

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Doesn't it seem odd that there are so many more men who cheat on their wives than wives who cheat on their husbands? Either somebody is lying, or these men are gay (or bisexual) and are cheating with other men. Could this account for the increase in AIDS? Could it be that these men are having affairs with the same woman?

Are the women who are sowing their wild oats before they get married — or are they really married women who are afraid to tell the truth? How about an update on your survey, Abby? I was one who wrote in.

TRUE-BLUE WIFE
IN QUEENS

DEAR TRUE-BLUE: The mail is still coming in, but I'm beginning to see the light at the end of the tunnel. There's no reason for anyone to lie in this survey since names are not required. At the last count, there were 186,775 responses. Approximately two-thirds of the respondents were women, and their fidelity count was far higher than their husbands'. Stay tuned.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Smoking is more than a physical health matter. It's a family and sexual health matter, too.

I haven't kissed my wife in 10 years — her breath is sickening! I can literally smell her before I see her. I love her dearly, and years ago I told her how I felt about her smoking, but I doubt if she remembers, or if she really believed me. I haven't brought it up again because I don't want to be a nag.

She's meticulous in her dress and appearance, but the scent of her perfume, combined with tobacco odor from her hair, her clothing and her body, makes for a real turn-off.

My advice to women smokers looking for a lasting relationship with a man: Give up on the non-smokers on your wish list. You'll be a "smell out" to them.

THE NOSE FROM GEORGIA

DEAR NOSE: Face it: You are married to a woman whose addiction to nicotine is every bit as hard to overcome as a heroin habit. Most smokers would quit tomorrow if it didn't require more determination (OK — "guts") than they possess.

However, anyone who really wants to quit can do it. (It's not easy — but it's not impossible either.) There are "quit smoking" programs (call your local American Cancer Society), and clinics for those who want to overcome addictive behavior, as well as support groups for spouses, friends and family members of alcoholics and substance abusers.

Your wife can do whatever is necessary to overcome her addiction. But she has to want to. Unfortunately, like many others, she may not want to until it's too late. What a tragedy for them and their families.

DEAR ABBY: I have a fine husband except for one problem that is affecting our marriage. He tells everyone everything he knows. I could tolerate this if what he disclosed concerned only himself, but I very much resent his telling strangers intimate details of our sex lives.

I used to be flattered when I'd overhear my name being mentioned to outsiders. Now I cringe, because I know he'll leave nothing out! I have asked him nicely, begged him, all to no avail.

I'm embarrassed to show my face in front of the neighbors. What is wrong with him, and how can I get through to him? He really can't see anything improper about what he says.

CRIMSON IN CLEVELAND

DEAR CRIMSON: Your "fine" husband lacks judgment, common sense and respect for your privacy. If you must spell out the subjects that are taboo, then do so, and be specific! Stress that your personal lives are personal and nobody's business, and he should talk about the weather, sports, current events, or anything except you and him, and what you do.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow for the creation and establishment, by law, of special districts to provide emergency services."

PROPOSITION NO. 16 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the commissioners court in a county with a population of more than 150,000 to establish more than one Justice of the Peace court in each Justice of the Peace precinct, i.e., to provide for the election of more than one Justice of the Peace in each Justice of the Peace precinct.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 17 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 26 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to define by law those municipal functions that are governmental and those that are proprietary. This authorization would apply to laws passed by the 70th Legislature, 1987, and by future legislatures in regular or special session. A municipality is liable for damages arising out of acts committed under its proprietary functions, but not its governmental functions. Definition of such functions by the legislature would clarify the liability of a municipality in civil lawsuits filed against it.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to define for all purposes the governmental and proprietary functions of a municipality."

PROPOSITION NO. 18 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide for the creation, operation, and financing of jail districts. PROPOSITION NO. 19 ON THE BALLOT

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds to fund undertakings related to a superconducting super collider research facility sponsored or authorized by the United States government, and to make appropriate grants for such undertakings."

PROPOSITION NO. 20 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 96 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to provide ad valorem tax relief for mobile offshore oil and gas well drilling equipment. The tax relief would be limited to equipment that is being stored while not in use in a county that is adjacent to the Gulf of Mexico or on a body of water that is adjacent to the Gulf of Mexico.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide ad valorem tax relief for certain offshore drilling equipment that is not in use."

PROPOSITION NO. 21 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 17 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide for legislative involvement in the executive branch of government by permitting the legislature to include the speaker of the house of representatives in the membership of an agency or committee that includes officers of the executive branch of government and performs executive functions. Under current law, the legislature is not allowed to exercise any powers in executive matters under Article II of the Texas Constitution, which provides for the "separation of powers" into three distinct departments.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to include the speaker of the house of representatives or the speaker's appointee in the membership of an executive agency or committee."

PROPOSITION NO. 22 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 53 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the term of office of a gubernatorial appointee to a vacancy in a state or district office to a partial, temporary term if the appointment is made on or after November 1 of the last year of the governor's term and the governor is not reelected. Under this amendment, the legislature may provide that the tenure of such an appointee would end sooner than the term would normally expire.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the authority of a governor to fill vacancies in state and district offices during the end of the governor's term if the governor is not reelected."

PROPOSITION NO. 23 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 54 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the Texas Water Development Board to issue an additional $400 million in water development bonds. Of the $400 million authorized, $200 million would be designated for conservation and development of water resources, $150 million would be designated for water quality enhancement, and $50 million would be designated for flood control. The amendment also authorizes the legislature to provide for review and approval of the issuance of the bonds and the use of the bond proceeds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to authorize the issuance of an additional $400 million of Texas Water Development Bonds for water supply, water quality, and flood control purposes."

PROPOSITION NO. 24 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 83 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow a county to use county equipment and personnel to perform work, without compensation, for another governmental entity if the commissioners court finds that the work will not interfere with the performance of county work and approves performance of the work. The governmental entity must be located wholly or partly in the county, and the governing body of the governmental entity must file a written work request with the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit a county to perform work, without compensation, for another governmental entity."

PROPOSITION NO. 25 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the Legislature to authorize Randall County to levy a tax for the benefit of the Amarillo Hospital District. Any such tax could be levied only on property located outside the City of Amarillo and outside the South Randall County Hospital District. The tax could not be more than 75¢ per $100 property valuation and would be effective only upon approval by the voters in the area to be taxed. If the tax is authorized by the Legislature and approved by voters, the Amarillo Hospital District is to serve residents of part of Randall County. If a tax is levied under this provision, Randall County must repay the State for the cost of publication of this amendment.

The proposed amendment also permits the legislature to authorize a hospital district to change its boundaries or jurisdiction if the district was created or authorized by a constitutional provision that includes a description of the boundaries or jurisdiction of the district. Any change in the boundaries or jurisdiction of such a hospital district would become effective only upon approval of the voters in the district.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to permit the Amarillo Hospital District to serve certain residents of Randall County, to authorize Randall County to provide financial assistance to the district, and to authorize certain hospital districts to change their boundaries or jurisdiction with voter approval."

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT FOR STATEWIDE REFERENDUM NO. 1

Senate Bill 86 submits to the voters the question of whether the 15 members of the State Board of Education should be appointed instead of elected. If the proposition passes, the Governor will appoint a member of the board for each district, with the consent of the Senate. If the proposition fails, the members will be elected from these districts.

The referendum will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The State Board of Education shall be composed of members who are appointed from districts instead of elected, with equal representation throughout the State of Texas."

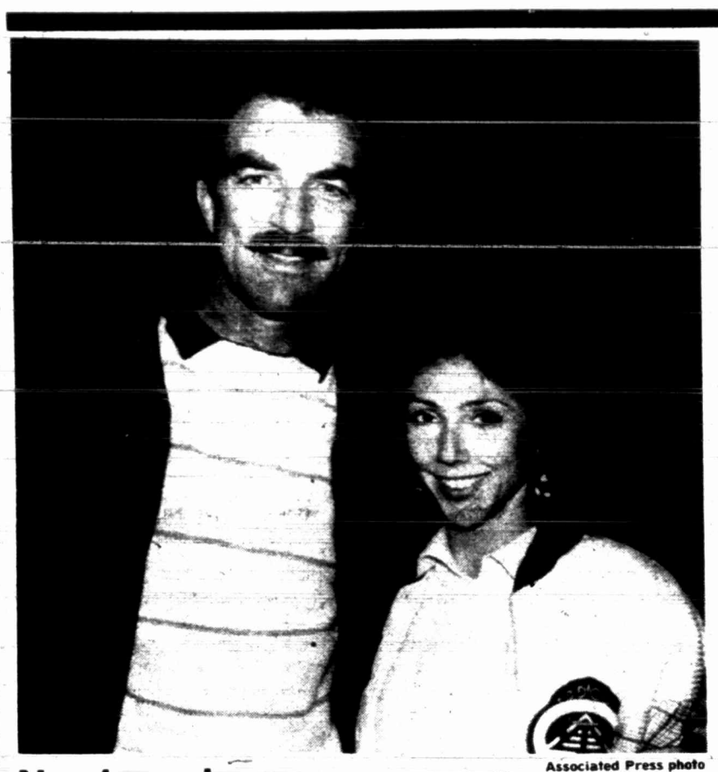

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT FOR STATEWIDE REFERENDUM NO. 2

The Texas Racing Act submits to the voters the question of whether pari-mutuel wagering should be legal in Texas on a county-by-county local option basis. If pari-mutuel wagering is adopted by the voters statewide, a county must also pass a separate proposition on pari-mutuel wagering at an election held in the county before any such wagering may be conducted in that county.

The referendum will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The legalization of pari-mutuel wagering under the Texas Racing Act on a county-by-county local option basis."

HUMDINGER — Sears is celebrating with an anniversary appliance sale. Here Rosella Munoz shows a television and a VCR, both on sale, displayed on a just-arrived rolling cabinet.

SEARS

There's a humdinger of a sale going on at Sears to celebrate the 60th anniversary of the giant retailer.

The Sears catalog store is featuring home appliances, — washes, dryers, refrigerators, dishwashers, VCR's, TV's and stereos — and most models are in stock for this sale. Sale prices are good from September 10 through October 9.

The advantages of buying from Sears, according to saleswoman Rosella Munoz, are Sears' famous quality and guaranteed customer satisfaction. In addition the local store operates its own service department.

When you stop by the catalog counter, knowledgeable, courteous personnel can help with your order. Most orders arrive in 2 or 3 days, a service much appreciated by customers.

Sears has maintained a catalog store in Big Spring since 1941, making it probably the oldest national retailer in the city. They've been at their present location since November 1963.

Sears employs a staff of 16, including manager Ken Surratt and salespersons Munoz and Barbara Russell. Alvin Johnke, TV repairman, has been employed there 20 years. (Two 20-year veterans recently retired)! Russell has worked at Sears 17 years.

Former Lady Steer doing well

Myrick, a freshman at Lubbock Christian University, played in her first college volleyball competition last week in the Sul Ross State University tournament. The 6-1 middle blocker played so well she was named Athlete of the Week by LCU coaches and sports information directors.

In three games, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Myrick had 22 kills in 66 attempts. She also had eight solo blocks, three assisted blocks, 36 digs, one assist, and served 25 points. She set a school record by serving eight aces in a match against McMurry College.

LCU finished second in the tournament behind Tarleton State University.

The next-to-last men's slow-pitch softball tournament of the season in Big Spring was played two weeks ago and the Stanton Bandits came away with first place. Finishing second were the Stanton Cajuns, while the Big Spring Astros placed third. Two other Big Spring teams, the Saints and the Sandstormers, placed fourth and fifth.

Bandits making the all-tournament team were Darren Sorley, Kevin Glaspie and Joe Cropp. Dennis Tafano, Manuel Rodriguez and Steve Hearn made the team from the Cajuns. Rudy Hilario and Rodney Murphy were selected from the Astros. Rounding out the all-tourney selections were Craig Neighbors from the Saints and Ronnie Schornic of the Sandstormers.

Wally Hazelwood of the Bandits was named most valuable player.

★★★★★

Big Spring junior tennis player Rocky Tubb won the 14-and-under division at the Tri-State Tournament Labor Day weekend in Amarillo. Over 50 players from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico were entered in Tubb's division.

The Big Spring netter beat Ryan Neal 6-2,6-3 in the final.

In addition, it was reported that Rocky, who will be a freshman this year, will play tennis for the Big Spring Steers this season. Tubb had considered sitting out the season in order to concentrate on tournament tennis.

Football forecast

Big Spring (0-1) at

Lubbock Estacado (1-0)

The second consecutive road game for the Steers. It's the first time in the last three seasons Big Spring has travelled to Lubbock to play the Matadors.

This makes the sixth time the two teams have met, Big Spring has never beaten the Mats. The first three meetings were close, low-scoring affairs. Estacado came out on top 12-0, 21-14 and 12-7.

But the last two years have been Estacado blowouts. In '85 the Mats rolled up 494 yards total offense in a 41-12 win. And last year the Mats gained 410 yards, returned three punts for TD's, in a 56-6 slaughter.

This year both the Mats and Steers have inexperienced squads. But Estacado has been to the state playoffs eight of the last 13 years, so the Mats have that winning tradition. Whereas Big Spring just experienced winning last season, so the Steers are a little "green" when it comes to tradition.

The Steers have something to prove, coming off a embarrassing 48-21 loss to El Paso Riverside last week. Meanwhile the speedy Matadors played good defense while downing a good Plainview team 19-13.

Overall the Steers will play better this week, but they are playing a better team. Improvement will gradually come for the Steers, but it won't be fast enough to get a win this week.

ESTACADO 28, BIG SPRING 14

Whiffs 16 Giants in 4-2 win

Ryan goes on strike

HOUSTON (AP) — Nolan Ryan thinks he's seen the last milestone strikeout in his amazing major league career.

"I don't think this old dog will be around long enough to get 5,000," Ryan said Wednesday night.

Ryan, 40, had just finished striking out a major-league season-high 16 batters to surpass the 4,500 strikeout plateau, leading the Houston Astros to a 4-2 victory over San Francisco.

"There's only one more ball going in the trophy case for me, the last one," said Ryan, who extended his major league record to 4,503 career strikeouts.

Ryan, 7-14, struck out 10 of the last 12 batters he faced in his eight-inning stint, extending his major league record to 172 games with 10 or more strikeouts.

Ryan's pitching gem couldn't have come at a better time for the Astros, struggling to gain ground on the Giants. The victory narrowed San Francisco's lead to 4½ games over the Astros in the National League West.

"This is special because I had a big game in the pennant race before the home crowd," said Ryan, who doffed his cap to standing ovations after the seventh and eighth innings.

"That was my old American League curve ball, I threw it harder tonight and I threw it for strikes and it was the difference in the game," said Ryan, a former California Angels pitcher.

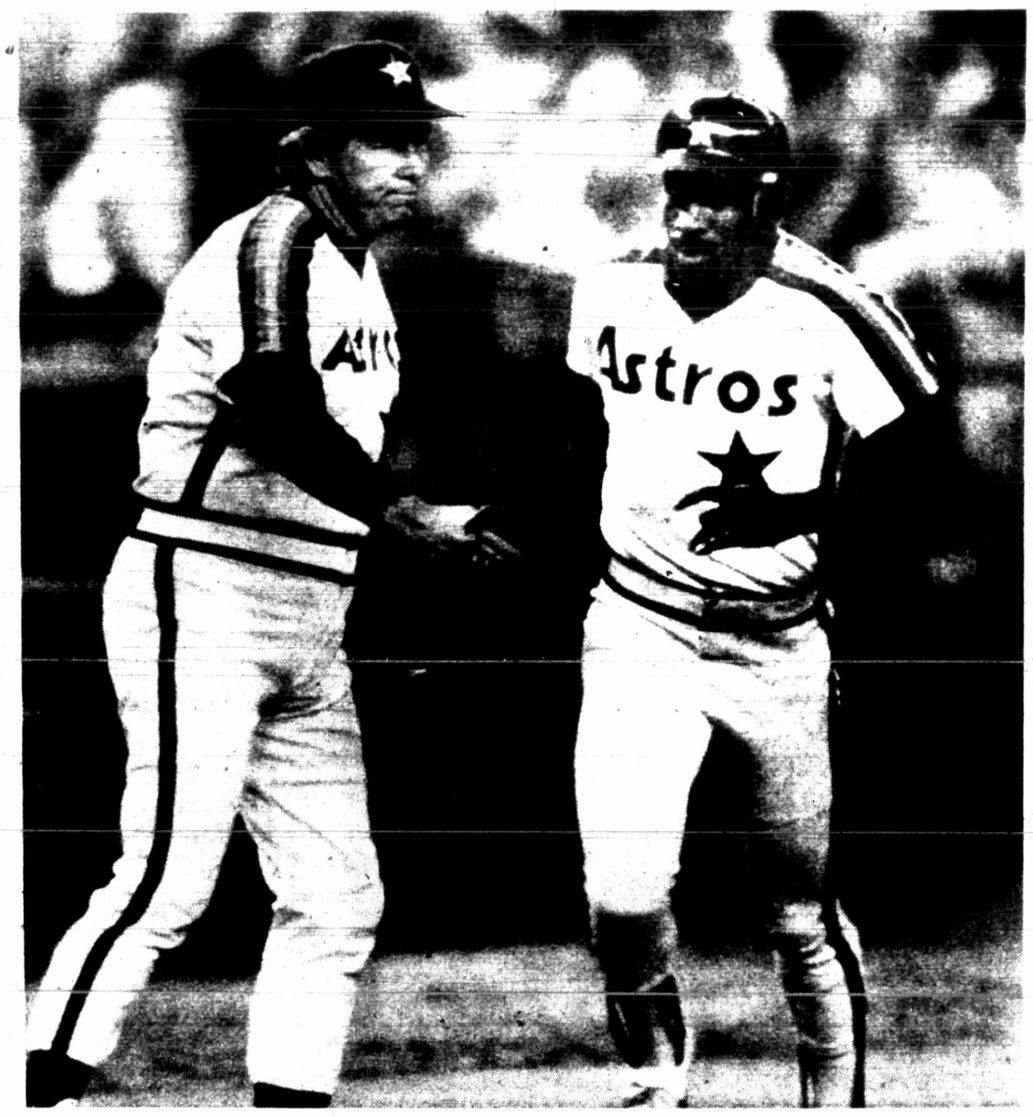

"Batters don't do me any favors. They usually lay off my curve ball until I throw it for strikes."

Ryan helped win his own ball game, driving in the first run for the second game-winning hit of his career, in the second inning.

Kevin Bass hit a two-run homer and rookie Gerald Young got three hits, including a run-scoring double.

Young, who has been watching Ryan since grade school, had a good view from center field for this game.

"He was in Anaheim (with California Angels) when I was in the third grade," Young said. "My little brother and I used to watch him then and here I get to watch him close up."

Houston Astro Kevin Bass is congratulated at third base by Astros manager Hal Lanier after his two-run homer in the third inning to give the Astros a 4-2 lead over the San Francisco Giants Wednesday night in Houston.

Young was amazed as a 10-year old and he's amazed as a teammate.

"Man, I'd have paid to get to to see this game," he said. "That was the best performance I've seen in a long time.

"For a guy to be that age and still be dominating is incredible. I was fascinated to watch him throw by guys then and now. From what I've seen, he's a lot more consistent now."

The Giants scored runs on singles by Eddie Milner and Mike Aldrete in the fifth inning and felt lucky to get them.

"Nobody can beat him when he's throwing like that," San Francisco Manager Roger Craig said. "We were fortunate to score two runs.

"We won't face pitching like that in Cincinnati. We got beat by two great pitchers here."

Victories by Ryan and Mike Scott gave the Astros two of the three games.

Six-man teams set for opening round

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

Sands running back Jay Fryar better watch out for more than the Coyote defenders when the Mustangs host Borden County Friday night in Ackerly.

Coyotes' coach John Bond, when asked how he plans to stop Fryar, laughed, then answered: "I'm going to bring my shotgun with me."

Bond, of course, was kidding, but he may get tired of watching Fryar before Friday's game is over. Fryar is considered the top player in the district, and Sands is the preseason favorite.

This game, however, won't count in the district race, and will allow both teams to get a feel for one another before their Oct. 2 tussle at Gail, which will count in the district standings.

Borden County won its opener, a 55-7 laugher over New Life Christian Academy. NLCA was a replacement for McCaulley, which no longer has a high school. The Coyotes were scheduled to play McCaulley again Oct. 30. Bond said they'll play Rule in Gail instead.

Despite the ease of Friday's win, Bond said his team did gain from it.

"They were pretty weak but we felt like our kids did a good job and we got some good out of it. We feel pretty good about Sands — we had two good workouts this week and the kids have been enthusiastic. We know it's going to be a tough ballgame, but we feel like we'll play well," Bond said.

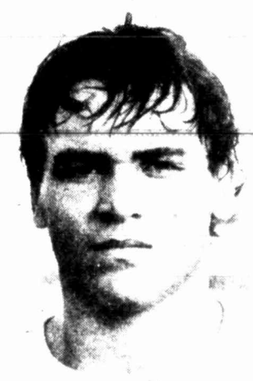

Last year Sands won the non-district clash, and Borden County won the one that counted. Bond doesn't like playing Sands — or for that matter, any team — twice a year. But the scheduling was done before he came to Borden County, and he said there's nothing he can do about it.

His biggest weapon this year is his son, running back Shannon Bond. On Friday Bond had four touchdown runs, including a 59-yarder. He'll again be the key to the Coyotes' offense.

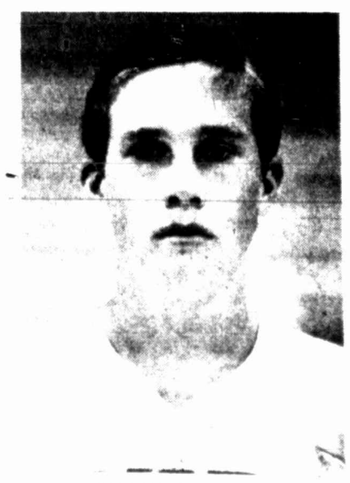

On defense the key will be stopping Fryar, and guns aren't allowed. Bond said he'll use some different formations this week, but he knows his defense has a big job.

"One man won't be able to do it. We'll have to have as many people as we can make the tackle. That's what we're striving for," Bond

Hot Lansford leads A's over Rangers

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Carney Lansford remains on a hot streak, something his Oakland A's team is probably going to need to win the American League West title.

Lansford had a two-run triple and two-run double in Wednesday's 11-7 victory over the Texas Rangers, and the second-place A's remain three games behind division leader Minnesota.

The A's won the three-game series with Texas 2-1, coming back from a 12-1 defeat in the middle game. But they have not won more than two consecutive games since taking three in a row in mid-August.

"I'm not even going to think about that. Once you start thinking that way, you'll never get a win streak going," Lansford said. "I'm just thinking about tomorrow, and after that game I'll think about the next one."

Third-place Kansas City arrived today to open a four-game series.

Lansford is by far the A's hottest hitter. Manager Tony La Russa has had him in the cleanup spot the last 15 games, and Lansford has batted .411 with 17 RBI.

Others swinging well Wednesday against Bobby Witt, 7-9, and the Texas pitchers who followed included Tony Bernazard, with three hits, and Jose Canseco, who had two RBI singles to break out of an 0-for-18 slump.

The A's scored four runs in the first inning before Witt retired a batter, and he also was charged with two runs in the second.

The A's starter was Storm Davis, the recently acquired pitcher who had a 10-0 lifetime record against Texas when he was with Baltimore. It's still 10-0, since he failed to last five full innings in his A's debut.

La Russa said Davis was very impressive until his fifth-inning troubles, and he probably will start against the Rangers next week on the road.

Out to conquer the Matadors

By STEVE BELVIN
Sports Editor

Going into tonight's football game against Lubbock Estacado, Big Spring Steers' offensive guard Rocky Ramirez has two things on his mind — forget and conquer.

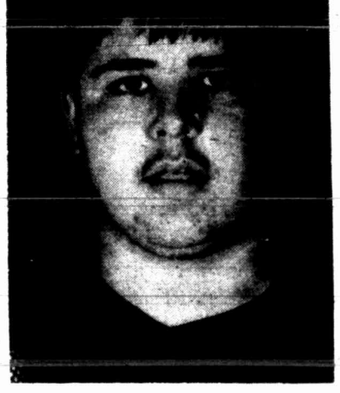

He'd like to forget last Friday's showing against El Paso Riverside, a game the heavily-favored Steers lost by 27 points. He wants to conquer the Matadors, a team that defeated the Steers by 50 points last year.

"We want to put the Riverside game behind us and look ahead to Estacado," said the 6-0, 230-pound senior. "It's one game at a time."

The Steers' offense was unimpressive against Riverside, accumulating 243 yards. But 123 of those yards came on two bombs later in the game against the Riverside reserves.

"I think we really did take Riverside lightly. They're a 5A school and we beat them last year. We thought that meant we were supposed to beat them this year," said Ramirez.

Ramirez said much of the Steers' poor showing had to do with the number of inexperienced players on both the offensive and defensive lines.

ROCKY RAMIREZ

"I don't think either the offensive or defensive line played well against Riverside. Not that many of us have varsity experience, it's going to take some time," he said.

Ramirez is one of the few trenchmen on this year's unit that has some varsity experience. Last year he was reserve left guard and played some at defensive tackle.

This season he was moved to right offensive guard and he's enjoying the change.

"The assignments are about the same but the right side of the line sees most of the action, and I like that. I just want to blow my man off the line and create the biggest hole I can."

If Ramirez can make holes the remainder of the year, there's a chance his football career won't end this season.

"My goal is to be the best lineman I can be, a top college prospect. I want to play college football."

He will get a chance to showcase his talent tonight against an Estacado team that is known for playing tough defense.

"Lubbock Estacado has a good defense. They always have lots of speed and quickness. That game last year with them really sticks in my mind. I want to get back at 'em."

To do that the Steer offense will have to move the ball better than last week.

Will the Steer offense move the ball this week?

With a fierce in his eyes, the big right guard replied — "We're going to move that ball."

First year Mustangs' coach Sid McCowan said he "saw some good things" in Sands' opening season 40-27 loss to Jayton, the number two team in the state. The Mustangs were within a point in the fourth quarter, and almost beat the highly touted Jaybirds in their own stadium.

McCowan said he's a little worried about the Coyotes' size.

"They're quite a bit bigger than us — they're front line averages about 195. We just hope we can counter their size with our speed," McCowan said.

The Mustangs divide the passing and running pretty evenly. Fryar's the workhorse on offense, but Damien Zarate and Sam Rodriguez also run the ball frequently.

Receiver Paul Martin caught four passes for 102 yards, and will be the Mustangs' biggest receiving threat.

The two teams generated some heat in last year's battles, and this year's first game should be the same.

"They've talked about it," said McCowan. "But with all the tough teams around here, you better get fired up every week. If you're ever flat, you're going to lose the ballgame."

Bond admitted that his team wanted this game pretty bad as well.

"It's just a good district rivalry," he said. "Our kids know their kids and it's just a good, healthy rivalry."

Bulldog, Buffs top area players

By EDDIE CURRAN
Staff Writer

A Coahoma running back is the season's first Crossroads Country Offensive Player of the Week, and two Buffaloes share top honors on the defensive side.

Matt Rowell, a senior transfer from Devine, ran the ball 31 times out of Coahoma's 50 plays, and gained 193 of the Bulldogs' 213 rushing yards to lead Coahoma to a 7-3 win over Seminole. It was the Bulldogs' first win in almost two years.

Rowell, who also started on defense, scored the game's only touchdown, and didn't fumble.

"He did a super job," Coahoma coach Steve Park said in the lockeroom afterwards. "He was fantastic, and the line was blocking good for him. He did some tough running."

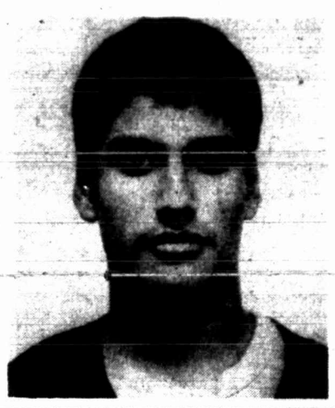

Forsan defensive back Ruben Holguin intercepted two passes and returned them 81 yards, including a 72-yard touchdown return with 3:07 remaining. That interception not only halted a Roscoe drive but gave the Buffaloes a 20-8 lead.

The final margin was 20-14. Holguin also earned a spot on the offensive honor roll. He caught three passes from Buffaloes' quarterback Brant Nichols for 71 yards and a touchdown.

Stanton linebacker Robert Schoolcraft set up both the Buffalos' scoring drives with an interception and a fumble recovery. The Buffalos trailed Seagraves 7-6 in the final minutes when Schoolcraft recovered the fumble.

MATT ROWELL

RUBEN HOLGUIN

Stanton scored and won the game 12-7. That performance earned Schoolcraft a share of the Defensive Player of the Week award.

Schoolcraft's teammate Carols Ortiz, a cornerback, also had a big game, forcing a fumble and intercepting a last-second Seagraves bomb.

Several other area defenders had good games. Terry Hall had seven tackles and Scott Thomas six in Coahoma's win over Seminole. Colorado City's Reese Moore recovered a fumble that set up a score, and the entire Wolves' defense must have had a good game, because C-City won their opener 14-6.

There were plenty of good offensive performances as well. In addition to Rowell, Coahoma got a strong performance from Curtis Hudson. The sophomore quarterback completed six of nine passes — including five of five in the second half — for 95 yards. Hudson guieded the Bulldogs to 295 yards and no turnovers.

C-City's Beau Rees was the workhorse for the Wolves, gaining 119 yards on 22 carries. Quarterback Ismael Silva completed five of seven passes for 52 yards. Perhaps most importantly, Silva and the Wolves didn't have one turnover. Last year, it was turnovers that were largely responsible for the Wolves 1-9 record.

Sands lost to Jayton 40-27, but were within a point of the state's second ranked team in the fourth quarter. Paul Martin caught four passes for 102 yards to lead the Mustangs. Jay Fryar scored twice, and Damian Zarate had two touchdown passes for Sands.

Grady also lost, but it was close — 51-37, and to a good Trent team. Scott Glaze had a good game for the Wildcats, completing 18 of 30 passes for 235 yards and four touchdowns. Some of those completions were to Scott Terrell, who caught six passes for 154 yards and three scores.

Borden County running back Shannon Bond scored on runs of 59, 10, two and eight yards to lead the Coyotes past New Life Christian Academy by a 55-7 tally. Jimmy Rios added two touchdowns, one on a 34-yard punt return, the other on a 25-yard run.

In Klondike's 43-24 win over Amherst, Kirk Tidwell passed for three second half touchdowns to secure the win. Corbett Foster was on the receiving end of two of those scores.

A sacred regard for the authority of God, the authority of Jesus Christ, and the Bible truth ought to lead us to reject any error in religion, however old or new, sanctioned by whatever other authority or however generally practiced. The only sound reason to speak or write in favor of, or to defend any religious doctrine, or to encourage anyone to accept a religious doctrine or practice is because that doctrine is truth, truth as far as God is concerned as revealed in the Word of God. If that doctrine, practice, is based upon God's truth revealed in scripture, then in addition to sincerity, there must be the desire for truth, a desire strong enough to compel belief and practice to change wherever one's belief and practice is found to be false or in error whenever those beliefs and practices are compared to the Word of God, the Bible. Truth challenges investigation. And any person whose beliefs and convictions are founded upon Bible truth correctly understood, does not fear having their convictions and beliefs investigated as to its truth, it only increases confidence.

Two American favorites eliminated from Open

Two of the most dominant players in U.S. Open history — Evert has won six titles, McEnroe four — were eliminated from the tournament Wednesday.

Evert, the No. 3 seed, was sluggish and out of control as she lost to No. 11 Lori McNeil 3-6, 6-2, 6-4. It was the first time in her 17 appearances at the American championships that she did not at least make the semifinals. The defeat also shattered her string of 13 straight years with a Grand Slam crown.

McEnroe, admittedly lacking the desire of his opponent, was blitzed by top-seeded Ivan Lendl 6-3, 6-3, 6-4 in a night match before 21,016, a record for an evening session at the Open.

"He wanted it more than I did," McEnroe said of Lendl, who has won the last two Opens and been in five straight finals.

Lendl will play No. 6 Jimmy Connors in the semifinals. Connors beat No. 13 Brad Gilbert 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0 Wednesday.

Also advancing to the semifinals were the top two women's seeds. No. 1 Steffi Graf of West Germany downed No. 5 Pam Shriver 6-4, 6-3, and will meet McNeil in Friday's semis. No. 2 Martina Navratilova took Gabriela Sabatini of Argentina, 7-5, 6-3, and will meet Helena Sukova of Czechoslovakia on Friday.

Just two singles matches were scheduled today. No. 2 seed Stefan Edberg of Sweden was to play unseeded Ramesh Krishnan of India in the afternoon, and No. 3 Mats Wilander of Sweden was to face his nemesis, fifth-seeded Miloslav Mecir of Czechoslovakia, at night.

On Wednesday, Edberg completed his rain-delayed victory over countryman Jonas Svensson, 6-2, 7-6, 6-3. Wilander beat Ken Flach 6-3, 6-3, 7-6, and Mecir ousted Mark Woodforde of Australia, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

McNeil scored the biggest victory of her career.

AT&T ANNOUNCES UPCOMING PRICE CHANGES FOR SOME TEXAS INTRASTATE SERVICES

AT&T announces the following price changes for some of its Texas intrastate services. These changes, which more closely reflect the actual costs incurred by AT&T in providing these services, will become effective on October 1, 1987.

- SDN (Software Defined Network) Schedule B prices will be reduced an overall 7.1%. Schedule C prices will be reduced 4.4% for the initial 30-second rate period of each call.
- WATS 80 service prices for both the initial period 80-hour usage and additional period usage will increase 5%.
- The monthly prices for AT&T's Private Line Service will increase up to $25 per channel termination for Analog services and 10% for Digital Data Services.
- A $25 monthly surcharge will also apply to any private lines which may be used to access the local exchange network, unless certified as exempt by the customer. The $25 surcharge, which was previously authorized by the Public Utility Commission of Texas, is a flow through of charges assessed by the Local Exchange Companies to AT&T for those Private Line services.

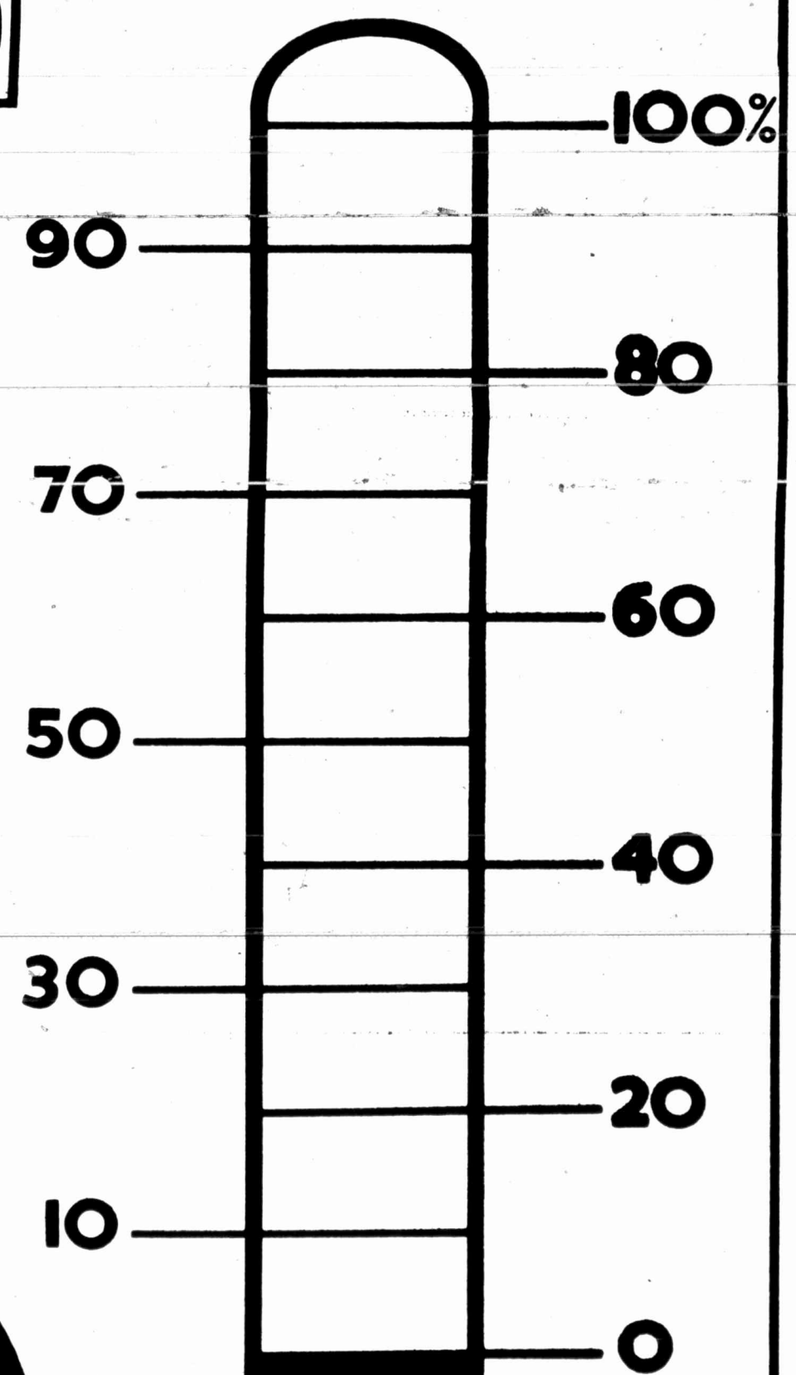

The combined effect of these price changes is expected to produce approximately $4.99 million annual revenue, which is approximately .5% of AT&T's annual revenues for all Texas intrastate services.

If you have questions regarding the changes for Private Line service, please call AT&T toll-free at 1-800-345-5092. If you have questions regarding the WATS or SDN price changes, please call our business consultants toll-free at 1-800-222-0400. AT&T's tariffs reflecting these changes will be filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas on August 31, 1987, with an effective date of October 1, 1987.

Persons who have questions regarding this tariff filing may also contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas in writing, at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or by calling the Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223, or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 for teletypewriter for the deaf.

Rams, 49ers remain top dogs in NFC West race

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One of these seasons, the New Orleans Saints might reach the National Football League playoffs and make San Francisco 49ers Coach Bill Walsh look good.

"It seems like I say this every year, but I think New Orleans is on the verge of breaking out and getting into the playoffs. They've been flirting with it every year," Walsh said in a pre-season look at the 49ers' opponents in the National Football Conference's Western Division.

"The Atlanta Falcons have a fine young team, but their quarterback has to become established," Walsh added, referring to 25-year-old David Archer.

Those two teams are trying to break into what has been a California monopoly in the division.

Walsh is heading into his ninth season with the 49ers, who won their fourth NFC West title in the last six seasons by finishing 10-5-1 last year and edging the Los Angeles Rams, 10-6. The Rams have one division title and four runner-up finishes so far in the 1980s.

Atlanta last made the playoffs in 1982, the strike-shortened season, and hasn't had a winning season since. Last year's Falcons went 7-8-1, and an off-season change brought Marion Campbell back for his second tour as head coach.

The Saints, in their first season under Coach Jim Mora, were 6-5 at one point last year, then faded out of the division race and finished 7-9. In 20 NFL seasons, Saints have never posted a winning record or made the playoffs.

"Once the Saints have that first winning season, it's going to help a lot," says Mora, who is making no promises for the coming season. "It's hard to catch up when the teams ahead of you are trying to improve, too."

What the Saints have going for them, besides Walsh's encouraging words, include a highly regarded defensive line and linebacking unit; Rueben Mayes, who rusched for 1,353 yard as a rookie and their superb placekicker, Morten Anderson.

Atlanta's Archer was another of the many NFL quarterbacks injured during the 1986 season. He helped the Falcons to a 5-1 start, but the team was 5-5-1 when he suffered a shoulder injury in November, and backup Turk Schonert took over. The Atlanta passing offense ranked 25th in the NFL, and the quarterbacks were sacked 56 times.

The Falcons' strong rushing attack is led by Gerald Riggs, who has gone over 1,000 yards three straight seasons. Coach John Robinson of the Rams has a new offensive coordinator, Ernie Zampese, formerly with the San Diego Chargers. Zampese will oversee the annual challenge of giving the team a passing offense to adequately compliement NFL rushing champion Eric Dickerson. The Rams' passing offense ranked dead last in the NFL last season.

Jim Everett became the Rams' starting quarterback late in his rookie season and is the unchallenged at quarterback entering into his first full NFL season on a team that for a decade has played musical signal-callers.

"He's very competitive. He's very confident," Zampese says of the 6-foot-5 passer from Purdue who threw for 1,018 yards and eight TDs as a rookie.

San Francisco's veteran players include several who starred on the Super Bowl championship teams of 1981 and 1984. Quarterback Joe Montana heads that list and, at age 31, would like to remain the 49ers' starter for several more seasons.

But it's unlikely that Walsh envisioned more than a year or two of backup duty for Steve Young when he traded with Tampa Bay for the 25-year-old quarterback, former Brigham Young All-American and USFL player. Young was a starter most of last season and took plenty of lumps, being sacked 47 times and intercepted 13 times while throwing for 2,282 yards and eight TDs.

Montana had back surgery in September and played only eight regular season games last year, yet passed for 2,236 yards.

Keith Fahnhorst, the 35-year-old offensive tackle, center Fred Quillan, tight end Russ Francis and wide receiver Dwight Clark are among veterans nearing the end of their careers.

The 49ers' most talented young players include wide receiver Jerry Rice, the 1986 league leader in receiving yardage with 1,570, fullback Roger Craig, and defensive linemen Michael Carter and Charles Haley. Others expected to become starters soon include three rookies, running back Terrence Flagler from Clemson and offensive linemen Harris Barton of North Carolina and Jeff Bregel of Southern Cal.

YOUR DAILY HOROSCOPE

From the Carroll Righter Institute

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1987

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The decisions you made during the past few days can now be sorted out and reduced to workable levels if you apply yourself to the specifics. Think along materialistic lines, and know where you stand financially.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study your assets and liabilities well and then pay your bills, make collections and clear the slate. Get more than one bid for necessary property repairs.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Take care of your appearance, and improve it in some way. Your barber or beautician could be a real help. See some friends this evening and you'll feel very happy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Do something practical for your mate this evening and get good results. Be careful in motion of all kinds. See a person who is qualified to give financial advice.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Decide which of your friends can give you the help you need, then contact that person. Rely only on yourself where personal aims are concerned.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Go to a superior who can help you realize greater success in your career, and get some advice along those lines. Improve your credit rating in some way and feel confident.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You'll find several ways of advancing in your career, so pick the best and follow it up. Make some careful arrangements for a trip coming up. Be enthusiastic today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Find a way to increase your income — it's there for the taking. Your mate will appreciate your initiative, and you'll gain more affection. Be careful in new deals.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Discuss with a clever partner a plan you have in mind. If you both believe in it and work together, you can both gain much prosperity and prestige.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be more efficient at your coming duties and you'll benefit more. Show a co-worker how conscientious you are, and you'll get along better together.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Check into the costs of a recreation before getting into it, and be sure your finances will stand the strain. If you dine out with your mate, be sure the food is good.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get your home arrangements improved early today. Then invite in some charming, conventional friends for the evening. Show that you're an excellent host.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get your reports and statements handled today, but don't rush through them and risk mistakes. Meet with some supportive friends and discuss a mutual interest.

If Your Child Is Born Today
He or she will have an excellent understanding of the value of a dollar and most other things. A very fine business education should be provided, concentrating on financial matters. Teach your progeny while young to be more open-minded and thoughtful of others. Sports which teach fair play would help greatly in this area.
