Water Rate Reduced By Lubbock Commissioners

Thousands Of Dollars Will Be Saved Here

Authorized By City Dads In Special Session Friday Night; Rate Will Go Into Effect On May 1

To Aid Irrigation

Commission Marks First Step In Carrying Out Platform Of Mayor J. J. Clements; New Minimum Of $3 Is Set

THOUSANDS of dollars will be saved Lubbock water consumers during the summer months following action taken last night by the Lubbock city commission in setting an irrigation rate which will be in effect from May 1 to September 30.

Reduction in the water rate for irrigation purposes was taken at a special meeting of the commission called for that specific purpose.

Set $3.00 Minimum The new reduction states that a minimum rate of $3 per month for water users who consume 4,000 gallons during the thirty-day period will be granted. Additional water will be charged for at the rate of 10 cents per thousand gallons.

Contracts must be signed by all who use the new rate and these will be available Monday.

The new rate was adopted by the commission after a careful study of the work of the previous administration in the matter of water rates and the probable amount of consumption.

Carries Out Platform The action taken is the first step in carrying out the platform of Mayor J. J. Clements.

Will Vote On School Today

Issuance Of $50,000 Bonds For New Shallowater Ten-Room School Building Will Be Determined Today

(Special To The Avalanche) SHALLOWATER, April 25. — Voters of Shallowater Saturday will vote on the issuance of $50,000 bonds with which to erect a 10-room school to take care of the fast growing school system here.

Reports tonight indicated very little opposition to the proposal to issue the bonds and a big majority of the plan is predicted by friends of the proposal.

Building Inadequate T. C. Calley, president of the board and A. C. Wright, secretary, are of the opinion that the present building is not only inadequate to handle the needs of the school but that it is also unsafe.

Peters, Bradshaw and Strang, Lubbock architects, have drawn plans for the structure, which is to consist of ten class rooms, an auditorium and a study hall.

The auditorium will be used also as a gymnasium and there will be a stage in the rear for dramatic productions.

World Begin Seen Should the bonds pass, it is expected steps will be taken immediately to call for bids for construction of the building. The job will be completed this summer in time for opening of the school this fall.

Minister Tried In Shooting

OTTAWA, Ill., April 25. (AP) — Sobs from the gallery—made up of women members of his congregation—mingled with his own today as the Rev. James A. Wilson, Methodist preacher, took the witness stand to admit shooting his church sexton and the sexton's wife, but to deny intent to kill.

The minister described in detail the shooting which took place when he and the sexton, Amos Elliott, and the sexton's wife, struggled for possession of a letter written by the minister to Mrs. Emma Wagner, a widow of his parish.

The letter, which the pastor said he sought to "get out of circulation," was read by him from the stand.

Permits Total Soars Beyond Million Mark

Two-Story $35,000 Office Building To Be Erected At Corner Of Texas And 13th Street; Work Underway

Official announcement was made in Lubbock yesterday of plans for erection of a new two-story office and store building at the southwest corner of Texas Avenue and 13th street. A building permit was issued Friday afternoon for $35,000, estimated cost of the structure.

The building is to be erected by J. B. Doughty, J. B. Kirby and Lord Doughty on property purchased several months ago from Jno. F. Bacon. The building will front 75 feet on Texas avenue, numbered as 1306 and 1308 Texas, and 125 feet on 13th street, numbered as 1091, 93, 89, 87, 85, 83, 81.

Work on clearance of the lots has already been started and actual construction work on the new structure is expected to begin in the near future. It will be of brick and tile.

With the issuance of this permit yesterday, Lubbock's building valuations for the year topped the million dollar mark and slid over to $1,027,000, for 106 permits. Valuations for the month of April total $20,295 for 24 permits.

County Officers Recover $296 Worth Of Fountain Pens Stolen On Thursday

OFFICERS of the local sheriff's department last night reported that $296 worth of fountain pens, stolen Thursday night from the Bradley Drug store, 1223 19th street, had been recovered Friday afternoon.

Some of the other items which were taken by burglars when they raided three local establishments had been recovered.

The sheriff's department reported to the Morning Avalanche that arrest of the responsible parties probably would be made Saturday.

Three Die In Explosion Of Gas Refinery

Another Critically Injured When High Pressure Gasoline Still Is Ignited By Sparks At Port Arthur

Probe Is Started

Bodies Burned Beyond Recognition By Flames Sweeping Down From Tower; Victims Identified By List

(By The Associated Press) PORT ARTHUR, April 25.—Three men were killed and one critically injured here today when a high pressure gasoline still at the Texas Company refinery exploded.

The dead: C. C. Winburn, Claude Broussard and F. Kibodeaux, were burned beyond recognition, and their bodies identified only by checking the working crew list.

Dangerously Injured Rene Herbers was taken to a hospital here, and physicians said he was dangerously injured.

When the flames shot down from the tower where the men were working, Herbert threw a large bucket over his head and shoulders in an attempt to protect himself from the fire. His head and shoulders were untouched but his body was burned seriously.

Caused By Sparks The explosion was believed caused by sparks from a coupling pin which the men were attaching to the pressure gas line in the tower.

An investigation was started by W. K. Holmes, general manager of the Texas company here.

Peddlers Swarming Into Lubbock For Annual Jubilee Here Today

Vote "Yes" On The Jail Bonds

CITIZENS of Lubbock county are called upon today to cast a ballot on a question of expenditure for public improvement.

That question is: "Shall county bonds be voted in the amount of $250,000 for the erection of a new jail and criminal courts building?"

There is but one logical answer and that is "Yes." For months the Lubbock county jail has been jammed far beyond its adequacy. Sanitation has been forgotten. The prison has long passed its day of usefulness.

For several years the courthouse has been over-crowded. Efficiency in transaction of the people's business has become an impossibility. Something must be done to alleviate both unsatisfactory conditions and since today is election day, there is no time like the present.

Vote "Yes" today on the jail and criminal building bonds. That's the only logical conclusion to any voter's problem.

South Plains Crops Benefit From Rainfall

Moisture Throughout Section Varies From One-Half To One Inch; Long Drought Is Broken By Precipitation

Farmers throughout the South Plains area yesterday rejoiced greatly over a rain that came to break a drought of long standing. Reports received by the Avalanche from correspondents yesterday indicated the moisture varied from a half to slightly more than one inch.

Roads which had been slick all morning, were all right late in the afternoon, it was said at the Union bus station last night. Coaches were on time during the afternoon.

Moisture .57 Here In Lubbock the rainfall was .57 of an inch. Spurred report .61 of an inch at the state experiment station; Lockney .76 of an inch; Littlefield an inch and Floydland from a half to an inch. Tahoka had .19 of an inch; near O'Donnell one inch; Ropesville one inch; Plainview, .25 of an inch; Sweetwater and Snyder .75 of an inch each; Canyon, Amarillo, and Tulla half an inch each.

At Hobbs, new oil field town in New Mexico, a severe electrical storm accompanied the heavy clouds and rainfall. Storm clouds also formed a blanket over the extreme western edge of Texas as far north as Farwell and up to Clovis.

Graders At Work Around Lubbock the state highway department sent its graders.

PORT WORTH, April 25. F. E. Wheelock Resigns Demo Chairmanship

Lubbock Man Gives Up County Post After Serving For 2 Terms; Held Office In '28 Despite Committee Fight

F. E. Wheelock, of this city, Friday officially announced his resignation as Lubbock county democratic chairman, to take effect immediately.

Mr. Wheelock, in a statement to the Morning Avalanche last night, stated that his time would be fully occupied with other matters and that he would be unable to give the office the attention it would require.

Lacks Sufficient Time "I am opening a business in Amarillo," stated Mr. Wheelock, "and this will take the major portion of my time. It would be impossible for me to run the business and also give the chairman's office the amount of attention that it should have."

Mr. Wheelock has served two terms in the position, being elected first in 1926 for a two-year period and again in 1928.

During the elections of 1928 the democratic party of Lubbock county split on the Smith-Hoover nomination and Mr. Wheelock became an active supporter of the present president. This action on his part caused a breach between him and the county executive committee, which resulted in the election by

Polls To Open At 8 O'Clock This Morning

County Voters To Determine Fate Of Proposed Criminal Courts And Jail Building Here; Little Comment

Victory Predicted

No Organized Opposition Is Apparent To $250,000 Project; Immediate Disposition Of Bonds Planned

POLLS in thirty-two precincts of Lubbock county will be opened this morning at 8 o'clock when voters of the territory will make known their wishes regarding the issuance of $250,000 worth of bonds for the erection of a new criminal courts and jail building. The polls close at 7 o'clock.

On the eve of the election last night, little comment could be heard one way or the other and consensus of opinion was that the issue would carry in practically all precincts. Proponents of the issue, however, have not been without doubts and some campaigning has been evident on their part. No organized opposition has been apparent.

Would Be Three Stories In event of success, steps for disposition of the bonds and getting the structure under way would be taken as soon as law permits, according to members of the commission's staff who have been quoted on various occasions as staunch supporters. The building, of three-stories, would be erected at the northeast corner of the public square in Lubbock, directly north of the present jail which is to be moved to make way for a proposed new $335,000 federal building, contract for which will be let in December.

The present court house will remain standing, in event a new See BOND ELECTION Page 11

Wets And Drys Claim Victory After Hearing

Committee's Investigation Of Conditions Under Pro Laws Presents Two Different Pictures

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Both wets and drys today claimed to have emerged victorious from the House judiciary committee's investigation of conditions under the prohibition laws, which saw the dry statutes bitterly assailed and staunchly defended by a long succession of witnesses.

The committee, with a voluminous transcript of testimony to show for its hearings, planned to take no further action as a result of the inquiry.

Repeal Proposed
The hearings were conducted on proposals that the eighteenth amendment be repealed, although their purpose, as phrased by Chairman Graham, was to permit the wet spokesmen to place their views before the country.

With the inquiry at an end, interest in the prohibition issue centered upon the sessions of the senate lobby committee, which is conducting an investigation of organizations formed to oppose or sponsor the anti-liquor statutes. Today, it was engaged in tracing out activities of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Coach Testifies
In an endeavor to refute statements of dry witnesses, the wets presented a noted football coach.

Royal Couple Is On Honeymoon

NAPLES, April 25. (AP)—In the idyllic surroundings of the Isle of Capri, where the Roman emperors Augustus and Tiberius spent their holidays, Edda Mussolini, daughter of Italy's dictator, and her husband, Count Galeazzo Ciano, today began their honeymoon.

Arriving from Rome last night, they proceeded aboard a motorboat to the island, which bears the Italian name of "goat" and dots the western horizon of the beautiful Bay of Naples.

High Commissioner Castelli, Admiral Solari and other high officials at Naples, apprised of their coming, bade the couple happy days. Rooms had been reserved at one of the most fashionable hotels.

GUESS ON CENSUS

Guessing the census estimate for the several communities is one of the chief indoor or curbstone sports of towns in Lubbock's trade territory. Every time a population is announced by the Avalanche-Journal, the boys get out their pencils and paper and begin to figure on what their community will show. Several of the men, noticing the trend towards actual figures, lower than chamber of commerce estimates, are beginning to haul in their horns so to speak. More conservative figures are now being quoted.

ELIGIBLE BACHELOR

Truett Smith, county clerk of Lynn county, is the most eligible bachelor in Taboria. Truett has a group of abstractors located around his office and the feminine contingent seem to find considerable work to do around the clerk's office. At least, that is the report from several reliable quarters.

TOLL LINES BUSY

Rails has more long distance circuits than any town of its size on the South Plains. There are 21 of these circuits, six being to Lubbock. "And you can hardly get a free circuit to Lubbock a good part of the time," H. M. Ellis, construction foreman for the State Telephone company says. "I never have seen a busier set of toll lines than those between Ralls and Lubbock."

AFFECTS WEIGHT

Wet weather affects cotton according to A. E. Henry of Ralls, who manages the two compresses there. He says that cotton weighed after it comes from the gin, in dry weather will show a difference when weighed again in wet weather. "You would be surprised at the difference between these weighings, too," he added. "Another thing, we always weigh a bale after it has been sampled a time or two. Samplers take a pound or so of cotton out of every bale every time they sample it and two or three samples will make a difference."

SEEK GOOD SAMPLES

W. F. Pruitt, city school clerk of Idalou, says that community is going to try and get good samples of grain this year for exhibition purposes. "The present ones are from our crops of 1929," he said.

PAPER FOR HEN

Lance Suits, editor of the Lorenzo Tribune, recently advertised in his paper for "fat hens." His ad read: "If you are not now a reader of the Lorenzo Tribune and want to become a reader, catch a nice fat hen and bring her to our office and we will place you on our subscription list for one year. The price of the Tribune is $1.50 per year. Pretty good price for your hen. But we are willing to accept a few under this arrangement. Tell your friends about this offer. It won't last long. J. L. Suits, pencil Pusher." Lance now has a pretty good sized flock of hens, he reports.

Sunday-School Lesson
BY DR. J. E. NUNN

For April 27, 1930
General topic—Giving Up All For the Kingdom.

Scripture lesson—Matt. 19:16-26.

And behold, one came to him and said, Teacher, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?

And he said unto him, Why dost thou ask me concerning that which is good? One there is who is good: but if thou wouldest enter into life, keep the commandments.

He saith unto him, Which? And Jesus said, Thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not commit adultery, thou shalt not steal, thou shalt not bear false witness.

Honor thy father and thy mother; and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

The young man saith unto him, All these things have I observed: what lack I yet?

Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldest be perfect, go, sell that which thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come follow me.

But when the young man heard the saying, he went away sorrowful: for he was one that had great possessions.

And Jesus said unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, It is hard for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of heaven.

And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

And when the disciples heard this, they were exceedingly astonished, saying, Who then can be saved?

And Jesus looking upon them said, With men this is impossible; but with God all things are possible.

Golden text—Lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven.—Matt. 6:19.

Time, March, A. D. 30, in the last few months of Christ's ministry, Phasael, the region east of the Jordan.

Introduction
This young ruler was an unusual man. He had been carefully trained in the religion of his fathers and was familiar with the law of Moses. He must have had an attractive personality, for Mark says that Jesus looking upon him loved him.

He was wealthy, and yet he had escaped the vice into which so many wealthy young men fell. He had led a clean moral life. He was honest and truthful. He honored his father and mother. He treated his neighbors right. From a worldly point of view he was a model young man, to whom parents of his community doubtless often pointed their own boys, in the hope that they would follow his example.

Moreover, he was deeply interested in religion. He felt the need of something better than he had yet found. He longed for a higher life, in which he should be conscious of closer fellowship with God. He approached Jesus with the greatest respect, kneeling to him as to a superior. In recognition of his spiritual authority.

The All Important Question v. 16
"And behold, one came to him." Mark tells us that he came running in his eagerness and his fear that the great Teacher might escape him, and kneel reverently before Jesus. He was a young man (verse 20), and he was rich (verse 22). Luke alone tells us that he was one of the rulers of the local synagogue, and said, "Teacher." According to Luke, he addressed Christ as "Good Teacher," the conventional title of a rabbi. "What good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?" Oh, that more young men would ask a similar question! It was a very suitable inquiry for an earnest person, such as he undoubtedly was. He sought eternal life, and could not be content with the honors of the hour.—C. H. Spurgeon. Moreover, he was wise in going to the one person who could tell him about eternal life, the one who was indeed the Way, the Truth and the Life. But he made the mistake made by all the Pharisees in seeking eternal life through outward observances rather than inward realities; he expected to win God's approval by doing rather than by being; and he was so well satisfied with his attainments that he fancied that one additional good deed would clinch his title to eternal life. It was necessary for the Saviour to move him from his self-complacency.

"Keep the Commandments" v. 17
"If thou wouldest enter into life, keep the commandments." In this coming down to the young man's position, that eternal life is to be won by deeds? Yes, but only for the purpose of demonstrating the impossibility of that position. To be sure, if any one should perfectly keep all God's commandments, he would be sure of eternal life; but who could do that? In the next moment the young man recognized the insuperable difficulty, apart from the Spirit of God.

Our Lord omits the first table of the decalogue, containing the commandments relating to God, because one could not be so sure of perfect obedience to those as to the moral laws of the second table; he was leading the young man on to make his fullest claims. "Honor thy father and thy mother; and, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." the last commandment in the first table, and is Christ's summary of the second table of the Law; see Matt. 22:37-39. It is to be noted that our Lord stops short of the tenth commandment, forbidding covetousness, for right there was the young man's special lack, as Christ proceeded to show him.

"What Lack I Yet?" v. 20
"The young man saith unto him, All these things have I observed." From my youth, he added in Mark and Luke. "What lack I yet?" Looking honestly at his life, and having in view only its exterior, only the outward requirements of the law, the young ruler would see no flaw. He was not a convicted Pharisee, like the one who stood praying in the temple, but was really a youth of noble desires and of honorable living; for it is recorded by Mark that "Jesus looking upon him loved him." Like the scribe of another dialogue, he was "not far from the kingdom of God." (Mark 12:34).

One thing thou lackest," said Jesus (Mark and Luke). "Jesus said unto him, If thou wouldest be perfect." Our Lord sympathizes with the search for perfection. He will have no easily satisfied disciples, no followers content with halfway attainments. But he makes it plain that the path to perfection is not an easy way.

The Supreme Test v. 21
"Go sell that which thou hast, and give to the poor." Christ bids the young man do something, but the deed is only a test of his sincerity of feeling, a proof of the claim he makes to loving his neighbor as himself. Note that "Jesus does not here teach that every man should dispose of all his property, though every believer must hold his property at the service of Christ. The young man really loved money more than God and had broken the very first commandment of all. Christ wishes to reveal the man's heart to himself."—Prof. A. T. Robertson. "And thou shalt have treasure in heaven." "Do not fear to part with your possessions," Jesus virtually tells him. "For you will be only transferring them from a world where they will soon vanish to a world where they will be eternal treasures." Our Lord was merely advising the rich young fellow to exchange a very poor, risky investment for a "gilt-edged" one, an investment sounder than any other.

A Tragic Failure
"He went away sorrowful, for he was one that had great possessions." His great wealth was a great snare. His gold lay on him as a heavy weight, so that he could not use his wings. He made what Dante calls "the Great Refusal." If he ever changed his mind and followed Christ, we are not told. His name is unknown. He stands for all time as a sad warning of the power of money to debase a spirit that otherwise would have gone far and risen high.

"The rich young ruler was influenced by the desire to postpone the decision. The one duty of the moment was instant action, while delay lost all."—Newell Dwight Ellis.

Special Lessons
"We may not infer from this incident—as the Romish church does—that the Lord requires voluntary poverty as something peculiarly meritorious from all his disciples. For Martha was allowed to possess her own house in Bethany, and Christians, who possessed houses and lands and were at liberty to retain them, are mentioned in the Acts (4:36; 12:12). Such external and general community of goods did not enter into the constitution of the kingdom of God, and did not exist even in the primitive church. The disciples of Jesus were only to possess as though they possessed nothing—i. e., as a loan from the Lord, and as that for which they must give an account."

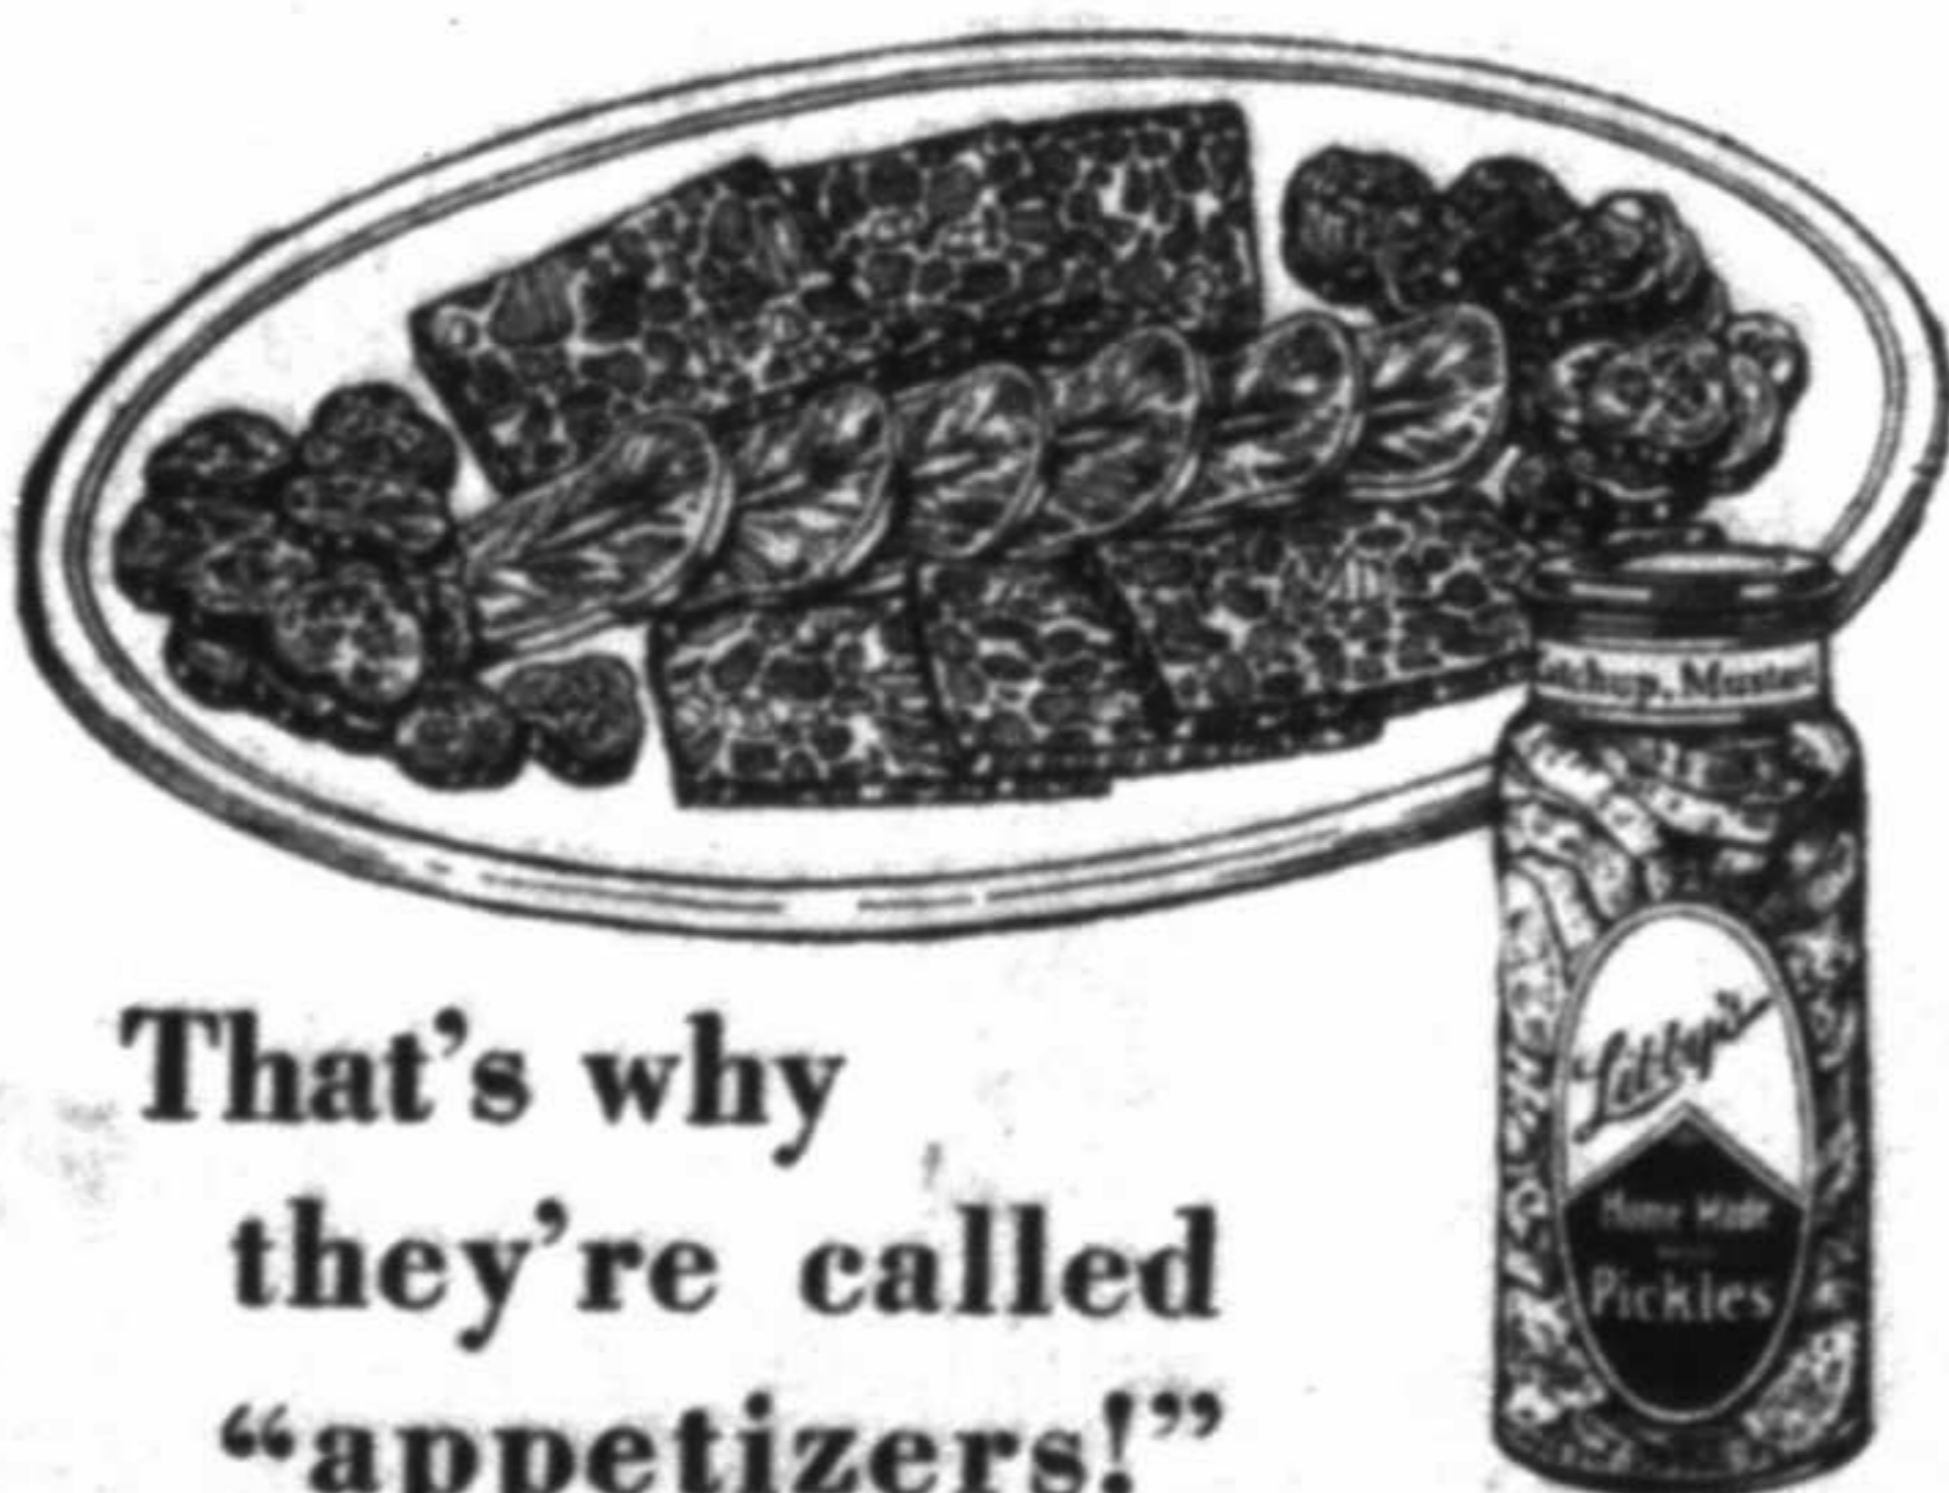

"Wealth has duties to perform in the constitution of our modern society, that poverty could never perform. The progress of science, of the arts, of higher education, the organized efforts of philanthropy, require capital in the hands of a few, just as truly as trade requires capital."—Bishop Henry C. Potter.

"Before we can get the kingdom of heaven in, we must get the kingdom of Satan out."—Horace Mann.

"Every man and every woman in the world will spend or give away every cent and all the property he or she possesses. Don't forget this."

"The man who spends his life accumulating money and property is depositing all his earnings and wealth in a bank which he knows will fail."

Confederate Memorial Day Will Be Observed By U.D.C. Group Here Sunday

Afternoon Program Will Be Held By Group At Cemetery; All Interested May Attend

Decoration of Graves To Conclude Impressive Service; Dr. Jack M. Lewis Will Read Scripture And Dr. J. C. Granbery, Mrs. J. C. Orr Will Speak

GRAVES of Confederate veterans will be decorated and a suitable program given in observance of Confederate Memorial Day Sunday afternoon at the Lubbock cemetery. Although the day actually falls on April 26, it is being observed here this year on Sunday, in order that some may attend who might not be able to attend today.

All wishing to attend the services are asked to meet at the First Christian church at 3 o'clock and go in a body to the cemetery.

Opening the program will be a Scripture reading by Rev. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. A male quartet composed of Edgar Shelton, Dr. S. S. McKay, Herbert Carlock, and Arthur Brown, will sing.

Dr. Granbery To Speak
The memorial address will be made by Dr. J. C. Granbery, followed by a talk on "Origin of Memorial Day," by Mrs. J. C. Orr. A mixed quartet, J. D. Carroll, Arthur Brown, Mrs. A. W. Evans, and Mrs. W. C. Rylander, will furnish vocal selections, and the roll will be called by Mrs. E. F. Tom.

A song, "Abide With Me," and decoration of the graves of Confederate veterans will close the program.

Origin Of Day
Confederate Memorial Day had its origin at the close of the war in 1865 when the women of Georgia were accustomed to go under the direction of the Ladies Aid society to decorate the graves of Confederate soldiers who were buried there.

One day Mrs. Roswell Ellis remarked that she thought it would be a beautiful custom to set apart a day and meet annually for the purpose of decorating graves. April 25 was suggested, that being the day of General Johnston's surrender, and, through the efforts of the Ladies Aid, the day was set aside and observed.

Dressy Suits, Detachable Capes, Varied Fabrics Feature New Season

By ROSETTE
NEA Service Writer

PARIS, April 25.—The spring collections were attended this year with something akin to excitement. Never before in the annals of "Haute Couture" had such interest been prevalent. This was not to be marveled at. The fashions presented last August were so revolutionary that they had provoked endless discussion and everyone was eager to see what the couturiers would offer for spring and summer wear.

Never has the mode offered such variations as this season. There are reasons for every occasion that may present itself in the day of a modern active woman, whatever position or occupation. The business woman is being dressed as smartly as the woman of leisure and there was never a greater occasion for the expression of personality and individuality.

Although most of the new morning dresses are of a tailored appearance, original touches can be applied to them that would be entirely out of place in a conventional sports model. For practical purposes, these dresses are frankly short, from six to seven inches below the knee, according to the new ruling.

A New Note In Style
An interesting element in the realm of fashion is the dressy tailored suit. The ubiquitous "ensemble" had begun to pall on most women. Two women could look very much alike in an afternoon dress and coat, but the reappearance of the afternoon "tailored" will allow the woman with individuality to express it to the very last degree. According to Jean Patou, only the woman with a perfect dress sense can score.

The woman who wears a simple tailored suit, cannot afford to be "evenly right" in the choice of accessories. Every single detail of hat, shoes, bag, gloves, stockings and blouse must be perfect, and the result is invariably incomparable.

All the important collections stress the afternoon tailored suit this season, which means the return of the dressy blouse. Soft wools, satin, taffetas seem to be the three fabrics favored for the coat and skirt, and georgette, chiffon and crepe satin for the blouse.

Detachable capes of all lengths and shapes are another feature of the spring showings. These are shown with the informal morning dress as well as with the more formal afternoon and evening gowns and there are quite a number of cape sleeves to tweed traveling coats.

This black flat crepe dress created by Chantel has an exclusive tucking effect and tailored bows on the sleeves.

Spring Fabrics Varied
There is a great choice of fabrics offered for the spring styles. There are many tweed weaves in brown and white, black and white, red and brown, and a few greens. The Trenches and the Triburs are interesting in that they are composed of three matching fabrics but in different weaves for ensemble comprising coat, suit and sweater. The lace wool mesh which was first launched by this master in the art of weaving is used almost exclusively for sweater blouses this year and there are a number of new designs to select from. The sweater has been replaced by the sweater blouse, worn under the skirt and for the most part devoid of sleeves.

English fabrics and settings are fashionable for the strict tailored suit, usually in a plain color. As a matter of fact they have almost usurped the position occupied by tweeds, which have become rather too popular in the ready-to-wear market.

Washing silks are used almost exclusively in tennis and beach dresses as well as a few exclusive cotton prints. Shantung fashions a great number of summer dresses and suits in the lightweight and heavy-weight qualities.

Black is Dominant
So far as the question as to what colors will be fashionable this spring is to be answered, the dominant note is certainly black. In most models it is combined with white or another color such as yellow, rose or green. Dark blue has come in again but is not seen so much as black. There are a number of delicate blues, pinks and greens, a few grays, little beige but quite a lot of brown, ranging from very dark to very light, often relieved by touches of yellow or green.

News Censored by Indian Government

BOMBAY, India, April 25. (AP)—Reports here today were that the Indian government had clamped a censorship on news from Punjab and northwest Frontier province, in which Peshawar is located.

An official statement at Simla, summer capital, said some political agitators jailed at Peshawar, were taken to Charsadda to prison. A crowd collected outside the jail, but the constabulary dispersed it without bloodshed.

It was said troops had not been employed either at Kohat or at Charsadda. In another official circle reports were that troops had been moved into the disturbed regions of Peshawar and Nowshera, that there had been rioting in Kohat, and that the guard had been increased in Kohat Pass, which leads through the mountains to Afghanistan.

Ralls School District Has Model Record

Unique System Of City And Rural Schools Attracting Attention Throughout Entire State Of Texas

(By Staff Correspondent)
 RALLS, April 25.—The Ralls Independent school district is said to be one of the longest districts on the South Plains, with a unique system of rural and city schools that has attracted wide attention of school men throughout the entire state. State department of education officials have pointed out the district as a model of what a rural community can accomplish when it is out to do an outstanding thing.

Seventeen Miles Long
 "Our district used to be about 20 miles long but we cut off several miles of it on the south end and now it is only about 17 miles long," B. Sanders, superintendent, explained.

"We had over 900 scholastics at our last count. There are now enrolled 988 students in the entire district. Thus you see our enrollment is well above the scholastics."

In our district, which is about 17 miles wide, there are three rural schools, a high school and a city grade school. At the rural schools we give two years of high school work in addition to grade work.

One of the rural schools is known as Emma. It is four miles south of Ralls. Owens, eight miles south and east and League Four, 12 miles south and west, are the other rural schools.

25 Instructors
 The system has 25 instructors, including nine in the Ralls high school. All of the high school instructors hold B. A. degrees. Only one is not working on a M. A. degree.

Students for the upper grades of the high school are brought to school and taken home in district owned buses. This has greatly reduced expenses of the operation of the district.

The district has 39 negro scholastics and 25 of these attend a school in Ralls.
 The high school has 25 credits instruction is given in each of these subjects.

Superstition Is Blamed In Savage Death

Norwegian Scientist Stoned To Death After Indian Savages Feared Decapitation Of Children

MEKICO CITY, April 25. (AP)—A weird story of superstition and fear that ended in the stoning to death of Dr. Edgar Kuhlmann, Norwegian scientist, at Amozac, near Puebla, a week ago, was published by the newspaper El Universal today.

The paper said that eight persons believed responsible for the savage murder of the scientist had been captured and probably would be executed.

Dr. Kuhlmann went to Puebla with recommendations from President Ortiz Rubio, the secretary of the interior, and Governor Irujo of Puebla as personal guarantees.

According to one story, the superstitious Indians in some way got the idea that the scientist had been sent by the government to decapitate their children and to make oil from the children's bodies. This oil, the Indians said, was to be used on a South American flight by a noted aviator.

The Indians were stoned to have mobbed Dr. Kuhlmann and to have stoned him to death, later pushing his body into a deep well.

The German consul at Puebla verified the story in all details this morning.

SAFETY CODES CITED

Southwestern Safety Confab Underway At Dallas

DALLAS, April 25. (AP)—Mandatory safety codes were pointed out as essentials of successful accident prevention work by Harry Gullbert, director of the Pullman company's bureau of safety, at a meeting of the Southwestern Safety Congress here today.

More than 600 executives and employees of utility companies in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana had registered.

Foremen are responsible for additional stability, and because the executives depended upon them for the maintenance of safety as well as production records, they deserve the best of training in schools organized for that purpose, Gullbert declared.

Rector Wins Court Battle For Marrying Catholic

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 25. (AP)—Victor in a fight he waged virtually unaided, the Rev. Julius Arnold of Velasco, rector of St. John's Episcopal church at Dayton, Ky., today faced only an admonition by his bishop for his marriage to a Catholic and its aftermath.

The 31-year-old minister, whose romance led up to a battle before an Ecclesiastical court here to regain his church orders, conferred last year a few months before he married Catherine Rogers of Baltimore. He was acquitted last night of major accusations filed against him by a diocese committee.

Passion Play Presentation To Be At Gym; Ticket Sales, Headquarters Opened

Fear Of Inclement Weather Causes Stadium's Discard As Showing Place; Advance Representative In City

Fear that inclement weather might interfere with one of the three performances staged here has brought a change in the showing location of the Freiburg Passion Play in Lubbock. Major Joe R. White, advance representative, announced yesterday afternoon.

"It was decided to move the play from the Tech athletic stadium, where it was originally planned to show it, and make the presentation in the college gymnasium," Mr. White said. "The company can't afford to take chances with the tricky spring weather of West Texas and should even one performance be curtailed thousands of Lubbock and South Plains people would be disappointed. As it stands now, with performances scheduled on both Friday and Saturday nights and a matinee on Sunday afternoon, we fear that all those who wish to view the play cannot be accommodated, due to lack of seating facilities."

Gymnasium Adequate
 "The gymnasium is adequate for a beautiful presentation of the play," White continued, "and we expect impressive showings upon each of the three performances here May 2 and 3."

Headquarters for advance ticket sales were established here Friday afternoon in the lobby of Hotel Lubbock with Miss Olive Bates in charge. Advance reservations have already started coming in and reservations by mail are to be sent W. R. Waggoner, care Texas Technological college. The college is sponsoring the play here.

"The Freiburg Players carry two baggage cars in addition to their passenger cars," said Major White, "and in those baggage cars they carry sufficient stage machinery and mechanisms to give a beautiful presentation of their sublime pageant on any kind of stage. In fact they almost carry their own stage. For in their scenery is enough stuff to set up an excellent reproduction of a street scene in the city of ancient Jerusalem, including the temple, the palace of Pilate, the palace of Herod, and several outdoor scenes."

Have Own Lighting
 "By utilizing one end of the gymnasium and building therein a specially constructed low stage, the Passion Play can be given in such a way that it can be witnessed anywhere in the house. Unfortunately the construction of a special stage cuts down the seating capacity of the house to a minimum. The Freiburg Players carry their own machinery for electrical and lighting effects."

The Passion Play comes here from America with the original cast of 28 German players, with which they played in the New York Hippodrome and with which they made the tour of the west and south, playing in the principal cities as well as in dozens of lesser communities. The southern tour will close in May when they go to Kansas City for a week's

Lawless Elements Continue Looting

SHANGHAI, April 25. (AP)—Advices from Huchow, northern Chekiang province, today stated lawless elements were continuing their burning and looting in that locality and that many persons had been killed.

Szean, 24 miles west of Huchow, was reported to have fallen into the hands of 3,000 bandits. It was reported that the merchants there agreed to pay $100,000 Mexican to prevent looting and that the bandits agreed. Before the money was paid, however, provincial troops arrived.

In the ensuing fight 300 bandits and 50 soldiers were killed. The bandits were routed, but they swore vengeance before departing.

Marks Tremble As Stars Of Nation Close In On Drake, Penn Contests

Leland and Simpson Hold Spotlights In 2 Events

By CLAIRE BURCKY
"And the time—nine and fourth—the seconds—equaling the world's record."
If you're on Franklin Field or in Drake Stadium this afternoon the loud-speaker is very apt to convey the information that George Simpson, Ohio State flyer, or Cy Leland, "Blond Blizard" of Texas Christian University, has just streaked to victory in world's record time for 100 yards. Furthermore, if you're paying strict attention to affairs on the athletic field before you, it is almost a certainty that several meet and possibly world's records will be broken right before your eyes.

Only one thing is lacking in the annual Pennsylvania and Drake relays to make the games the greatest ever staged, aside from the Olympic contests. Neither boasts the entry of Southern California or Stanford Universities, kings of the region west of the Rockies. If we exclude the coast athletes, the cream of this country's intercollegiate stars of cinder path and jumping pit are entered in the pair of attractions. The boys of Dean Cromwell and Dink Templeton are withholding their brilliance, to dazzle us later on at the I. C. A. games.

Eye Are On Simpson

Much of the interest in Philadelphia centers on a tall, slender fellow from Ohio State University, who has hopes of proving his claim to the title of "world's fastest human," without the starting block reservation. To do this the young man plans to run several 100-yard dashes, getting his start from crudely-dug holes in the cinders.
The field over which Simpson must prove his superiority is formidable. It includes Ohio State's Charles Farmer, who carried the colors of North Carolina University to a new century record in the Southern Relays; Karl Wildermuth of Georgetown, who snapped at Simpson's heels last year when the young star equalled the accepted world's record of 9.8 seconds; Edward Hamm, Georgia Tech's great broad jumper, who several times has done 9.8 seconds; Reggie Bowen of Pittsburgh; J. H. MacDonnell of Yale; J. N. Stevens of Dartmouth; DeArmond Hutson of Denison and Allen East of Chicago. If Simpson wins, it will be his third successive triumph at Penn.

Leland-Bracey-Tolan Duel

Rivalry in the Drake "100" revolves around Cy Leland and Claude Bracey of Rice, rulers of southwest sprint lanes; Eddie Tolan, diminutive negro flyer of Michigan; Cave and Patterson of Illinois; Haas of Minnesota and Ford of Northwestern. In gaining his most recent victory over Bracey, the "Blond Blizard" swept Roland Locke's record of 9.6 seconds off the boards at the Kansas Relays. His time of 9.4 seconds, which equals Simpson's recognized American record, was accomplished before a slight breeze.

Competition in the baton-carrying events of both games is the stiffest in recent years. In the distance medley event at Penn six of the best milers in college circles are matched in the final leg of the race. They are McKinnif, running for Pennsylvania; Hollowell of Harvard; Sivak of Butler; Lermond of Army; Hickey of New York University and Chamberlain for Michigan State.

The 440 and 880-yard relays at Drake too; together again the crack Illinois and Michigan quartets, after spirited duels at Kansas, in which they broke, even, Usman, Dickenson, Cave and Patterson, bore the Illinois colors to victory in 41 seconds, over the shorter race, equaling the world's record set in 1927 by an all-star quartet representing the Newark, N. J.

A comparison of winning times, distances and heights for the two programs annually provides a source of argument for weeks following the games. Last year, easterners won the majority of the debates, by reason of better marks in 11 events at Pennsylvania.

In the main, the program of events are the same for each set of games. One of the most interesting pairs of the Penn Relays, however, is the decathlon, a grueling test in 10 events for the all-round performer. Barney Berlinger, winner of the title last year, is an odds-on favorite to retain the championship.

Dennis Lavender To Defend Title At Houston Club

HOUSTON, April 25. (AP)—The 23rd annual Texas Golf Association tournament will be staged at the River Oaks Country club here May 19-24, with amateur golfers from every prominent club in the state competing for the championship now held by Dennis Lavender, Abilene youth. Lavender, it is reported, will defend his championship, but he will be in competition with such other members of the state's first flight group as Ossie Carlton, Houston; Gus Moreland, Dallas; Tommy Cochran, Wichita Falls; Happy Masingsill, Fort Worth and Lewis Levinson, San Antonio.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—The Johnson resolution for a survey of all existing veterans legislation by a joint congressional committee, was adopted today by the house and sent to the senate.

Indians Slug Hard To Defeat Steers

DALLAS, April 25. (AP)—The San Antonio Indians came back at the Dallas Steers here today to win 6 to 4. The Indians outhit the Steers 13 to 8, including home runs by Lapan and Harvel. Hargrove had only one bad inning, allowing the Steers three tallies in the sixth. Otherwise he was master of all he surveyed.

Veteran Philadelphia Cur Ball Artist Has Word Of Encouragement For Youth Seeking Diamond Fame

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Howard Ehmke, lanky veteran with the slow smile and the slower cut that confounded experts and the Chicago Cubs alike in the 1920s, said today that baseball is the most honest and the most democratic of sports.

He said that the game is the only one in which the underdog can win. He said that the game is the only one in which the rich and the poor can play together on the same field.

Cubs Down Reds In 12-Inning Contest

Malone Hurls Bruins To 6-5 Win At Cincinnati

Pat Malone hurls the Cubs to a 12-inning victory here today, five hits in the last frame counting two runs to out, 6 to 5, after the Cincinnati Reds had threatened to win them with one marker in the same frame.

Brown allowed two hits, three runs and with two out in the ninth an error allowed the visitors to score. Kraus' double off Littlejohn, relief hurler in the ninth, resulted in him being yanked and Brown went to the box. An infield hit and two bases on balls to the following batters decided the contest.

Howard Ehmke

World's series, has a reassuring message for baseball-minded youth. Not only are better young ball players coming into the big leagues all the time, but the calibre of the youths has improved steadily since Howard first wandered out to a big league pitching mound in Detroit 14 years ago. Furthermore, opportunity and financial rewards for youngsters never were greater than today.

Experience Big Help

"Young pitchers usually arrive with a lot of speed and stuff and things to learn. Usually they learn rhythm, poise and to field their position. Experience comes with these, and then you have a real pitcher."

Should Pitcher Foot Right

"Most new pitchers place the forward part of the right foot on the rubber so that the foot points directly at the batter. During the windup they must turn the foot so that it points to third base. That throws the body out of line, the rhythm is lost and the ball doesn't go exactly where you want it. The correct is to point your foot to third base before you start the windup."

Lubbock Retired Farmer Declares He Feels Like New Since Taking Orgatone (Argotane)

"A few weeks of Orgatone (Argotane) treatment actually put an end to my indigestion and made me feel like a new man" said H. D. Owens, a well known retired farmer residing at 311 Ave. T, Lubbock, Texas in relating his experience with Orgatone (Argotane).

"One day after eating" he continued "I had an awful attack of indigestion and from that time on I commenced to get in a general run down condition. My stomach would bloat up with gas so at times I could hardly stand the pain. I started doctoring myself, but in spite of the medicine I took I became so much worse and suffered such agony that it looked like nothing could ever do me any good."

"One of my friends advised me to try Orgatone and I began to improve right from the start and in a week I felt much better. A few more weeks and it fixed me up all right and I have gotten over my indigestion and can eat anything I want. I believe everybody in my neighborhood is taking Orgatone (Argotane) and praising it for the good it is doing them."

ONE MINUTE PULPIT

If a wise man contented with a foolish man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest. The bloodthirsty hate the upright; but the just seek his soul.—Proverbs, xxxix, 9, 10.

A TRAVELING MEN'S STORY!

Did you ever hear the story about the traveling man who spent the night in the farmhouse? Stop me, it— But, wait a minute! This is not that kind of a story! It's about traveling men, all right, all right, but it'll bear telling here. And it's not a parlor story, either—but a story that can well be shouted from the house-tops hereabouts, and The Morning Avalanche is happy to spill it to the world.

On the front page of today's paper you'll see a banner line which reads "Howdy, Peddlers! Lubbock's Ticked to Welcome You All Home Again!" That banner line is not "hokum"—it's not "sales talk," peddlers—it's fact. Lubbock is glad to extend the hand of western hospitality to the finest bunch of "knights to the Grip-toes" any territory ever had! And that's no exaggeration, if you know what we mean!

For eight years now, Lubbock has been setting aside one day each year for the traveling men—and the traveling men, good sports that they are, have been setting aside one day for Lubbock. The time has rolled around again and were all friends together once more.

Frankly, the annual Peddlers Jubilee was not instituted as any great philanthropic institution. To go back a bit, into the archives of history, the idea was conceived by one Curtis Keen, a bright young man then in charge of the Lubbock chamber of commerce. Reasoned Mr. Keen to himself: "These traveling men can do Lubbock good—or they can do Lubbock harm. They're everywhere, and they talk a lot, and if we can get those boys pulling for Lubbock it'll be fine for us. It's up to Lubbock to say whether the peddlers are our friends or our enemies."

So young Mr. Keen put on his hat and busted himself around the square, where he "sold" the idea to the business men. The first party was held and was a howling success. It's been happening, once every year, ever since then and as we see it, the idea has proven even more of a success than Mr. Keen visualized.

Lubbock has become a prime favorite with the traveling men. There's no doubt about it. And, at the same time, without any doubt, the traveling men have become prime favorites with Lubbock.

Everybody's happy, everybody likes everybody else—and the Peddlers Jubilee is one of the big events of this country.

It's just another case of "knowing folks." of pulling together for the common good. Lubbock is a "home away from home" for the travelers and the travelers are Lubbock's year "round good will evangelists. The Morning Avalanche says it again—"Boys, we're glad you're here. Have a good time—the city is yours. Come back next year and bring some other peddler with you!"

THE SEXES

Witness a little drama. There is a marked-down sale of men's clothes. Every suit is a bargain, and the store is filled with people who wish to buy—nearly all of them men.

A few men stand near the counters, making selections. Many more stand behind them, impatient but well-mannered, awaiting their turn. Any one of them had rather miss a bargain than make a scene.

A dozen or more large women are present, having in tow husbands or sons. These dear creatures, impatient of delay, calmly plough through the crowd of waiting men, seize piles of garments and return in triumph to their male property. If they need a clerk to answer questions, they seize one by the arm as he scurries past.

In short, they get service and get it promptly while mere men cool their heels.

An unthinking observer would say: "These women are superior to men. They get what they want." The truth is that if any man should begin to slob his fellows aside in complete disregard of the rules of fairness and good sportsmanship somebody would disregard his face. Men are courteous to one another because courtesy is the first part of discretion.

A woman can, in the language of our day, get away with murder—solely because she is a woman—solely because men of our day, almost without exception, aspire to be gentlemen, and the bedrock of gentility is chivalry.

Chivalry is a ball and chain in competition. Where women are concerned, any man who is reasonably decent pulls his punches.

Eventually woman may boss the world by reason of sheer merit. But until chivalry is dead they won't get a chance to show what they can do in a fair fight.

MORE FOOD FOR THE WORLD

American machinery has done a great deal to make American farmers exporters. Now it is beginning to build up competitors. The farmers of Europe are learning that much of the superiority of American methods is due to mass production with machinery, and they are beginning to find that the same methods can be adapted to help grow bigger crops.

REPUBLICANS FIND LITTLE COMFORT IN PROSPECT THAT DEMOCRATIC PARTY WILL BE SPLIT ON WET-DRY QUESTION

BY CHARLES F. STEWART Central City, Wis.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—In the prospect that the democratic party will be split wide open over the wet-and-dry question in 1932 there is small comfort for republican politicians this year.

Throughout a considerable portion of the G. O. P.'s normally most dependable territory their crowd is split wide open right now.

In at least five states—Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Delaware and Illinois—republican senators and representatives' chances look doubtful or worse because of this pestiferous issue. It is causing trouble in other states, too. Pennsylvania, for instance, is too one-sided to be lost to the G. O. P., but G. O. P. candidates there are twice as scrambled as any egg by reason of the prohibition problem. Governorships also are jeopardized by it.

Southern democratic candidates are not worried by the prohibition issue in their area. Not yet, at any rate. They do not take straw polls seriously, insofar as Dixie is concerned. They expect to run as dry democrats, as usual, and be elected.

Senator Simmons, to be sure, is encountering serious difficulties in his renomination campaign in North Carolina, and Senator Sheppard, they say, a trifle of opposition in Texas, and Senator Heflin has to run as an independent in Alabama.

However, these complications grow out of a good many other heart burnings left over from the last presidential fight, among which the prohibition item was only one of several. Senator Simmons, Heflin and Sheppard, as everyone knows, all are bone-dry, all are confident that their respective states are bone-dry, and none of them would feel a minute's anxiety if that were all there was to it.

The republicans' dilemma is entirely different—and worse, for a great many more candidates. In the democratic party is traditionally wet; not dry, as in the southland. Contrariwise, the G. O. P. has tended to dryness... not as much so as the southern democracy, but generally it has taken the dry side of the controversy whenever and wherever there has been a particular showdown on the question in the northern section of the country.

This would not bother northern republican politicians a particle under ordinary circumstances. Like politicians of all parties everywhere, they can alter their ideas to suit any imaginable change in public opinion the instant they sense it. Undoubtedly they do think they sense it now very distinctly in the states already mentioned, and some additional ones—but this time it happens that an obstacle interposes itself in the way of a general political flop (onto the fence, anyway) with the customary political celerity.

Exactly (as northern G. O. P. politicians see it) at the wrong psychological moment—with dry sentiment at its peak and just ready to begin to toboggan—maybe slowly at first, but who could tell at how rapidly accelerating a rate?—President Hoover took occasion to commit his administration to so strenuous a dry policy that it is mighty hard for any one of his followers to say a wet word for himself without seeming to repudiate the White House.

Here and there, to be sure, is some individual who is fortunate enough always to have been known as a wet. Senator Couzens, for example, is in that lucky position. The supposedly ultra-dry state of Michigan elected him originally in spite of his always boldly-proclaimed wetness. Having made the best of him once, presumably, it will do it again this year, even though it may still be dry, if it has changed its mind on the prohibition subject, all the better for him.

For a candidate, however, like Dwight W. Morrow, who is slated to run for the senate in the sopping wet state of New Jersey, and yet needs to do it with Mr. Hoover's dry blessing, it is a heck of a situation.

It is not only bad for this year's G. O. P. candidates in the imperiled regions; if next November shows such democratic gains as Jeffersonian forecasters are predicting and as quite a few republican prophets are almost conceding to them, it promises to create a 1932 state of affairs that will be mighty hard to analyze.

True, the G. O. P. bosses do feel all confidence, regardless of next November, that the democrats will presently get into a fight amply sufficient to wreck their White House possibilities two years hence.

Nevertheless, a democratic victory this coming fall in Massachusetts—possibly Mr. Morrow's defeat in New Jersey—even ex-Senator Jim Ham Lewis' election in Illinois, which actually is seriously suspected—maybe ex-Senator Baynor's return to public life from Delaware—perhaps ex-Senator Gerry's triumph as a wet in Rhode Island! Such a batch of election results (supposing them) would not make very pleasant reading, on the morning of November 3, for the dozen or so republican senators who will be trying for re-election in 1932, as satellites to a dry presidential candidate.

ARTIFICIALLY RIPENED TOMATOES ARE A BIT SHY ON VITAMINS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Tomatoes may be artificially colored and ripened by exposure to ethylene gas, so also may such products as the citrus fruits, including oranges and lemons and bananas. Products ripened with ethylene have more uniform color and firmer texture than those allowed to ripen naturally before being gathered.

The investigators, Drs. D. B. Jones and E. M. Nelson of the United States Department of Agriculture, have recently made a comparative study of the vitamin value of tomatoes treated with ethylene gas as compared with those collected at different stages of their development.

The matter is particularly important because tomatoes are used in infant feeding to provide vitamin C as a preventive of scurvy; to provide vitamin A for resistance to disease, and for its general value in promoting growth and to provide vitamin B, which is related to appetite and digestion.

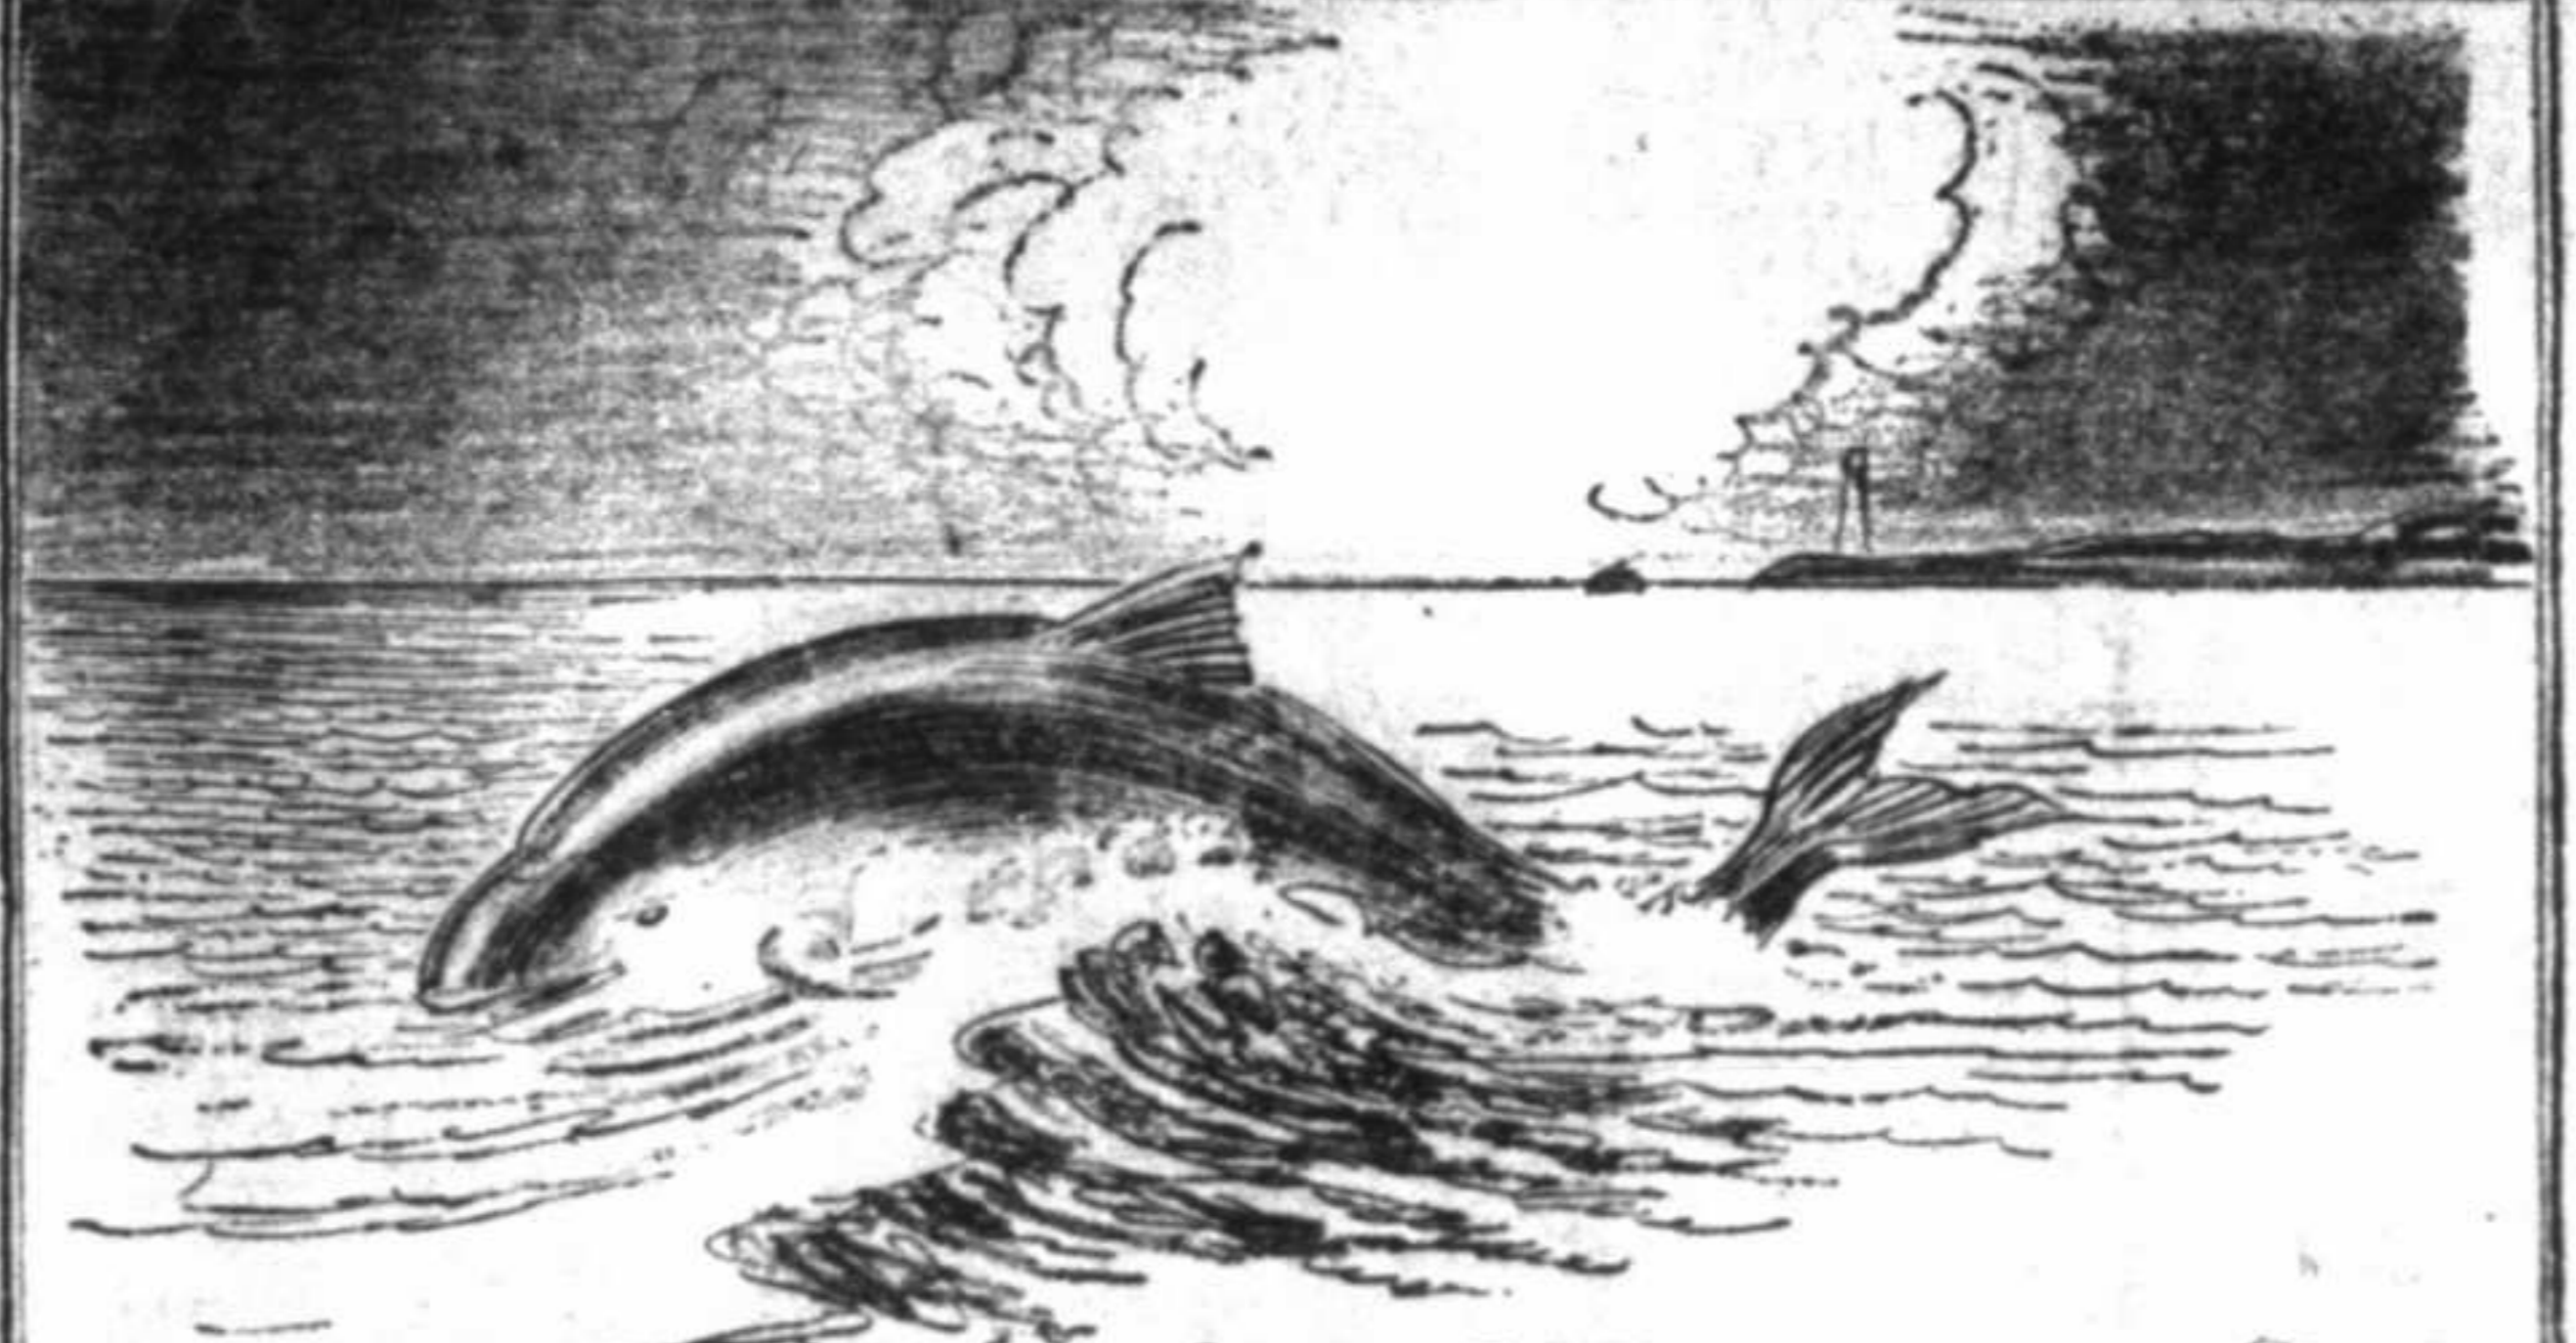

Tomatoes that were mature but green, tomatoes naturally ripened on the vines, small immature green tomatoes, mature green tomatoes ripened with ethylene and immature green tomatoes ripened with ethylene were tested on animals as to their content of these three vitamins.

The evidence indicates that naturally ripened are a better source of vitamins A, B and C than any others studied. No material difference was observed in the vitamin A content of any of the lots, nor of the vitamin B content. However, the vitamin C value of tomatoes seems to increase as the fruit develops and approaches the mature ripened condition.

Naturally ripened tomatoes contained the most vitamin C, full grown green tomatoes were next and the small immature fruit contained the least of all. The ethylene treatment of the tomatoes does not produce any significant change in their vitamin C potency.

Bills Authorize Additions in Number Of States As Move Toward Relieving Congestion in U. S. Courts

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Bills authorizing an additional federal judge for the southern district of New York and for the southern district of California were reported favorably to the senate today by its judiciary committee.

The committee also approved bills granting an additional judge each for the circuit court of the third district, including the states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware, and for the fifth district, including the states of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

Chairman Norris of the judiciary committee explained that the four additional judges were favored to meet emergency conditions in the district and they had no relation to larger problems of court congestion resulting from the prohibition law. Separate bills providing for some measure of relieving the court congestion are still pending and will be taken up shortly by the committee.

Princess Living Life in Convent

She follows the rules of the order, rising early with the nuns, sharing the simple food, and assisting in the aid daily routine of looking after sixty girls within the convent.

The paper said there was nothing in her convent life to distinguish her as a princess.

Images of Memory Thought Electrical Deposits in Brain; Believe Permanent Patterns Engraved Which Last Forever

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor PHILADELPHIA, April 25. (AP)—

Discoveries that the images of memory probably are electrical deposits in the brain were reported to the American Philosophical Society today.

They were described by Dr. G. W. Cliffe of Cleveland, who told of seeing the records being made.

They are produced by the tiniest of electrical currents passing along the nerves and engraving in the brain permanent patterns—memories—which are never lost. The connections may become obstructed and ability of recall impaired.

He cited experiments showing that nerves carry electro-chemical impulses as wires conduct electricity. He pictured the nervous system with an infinite number of "reception" receiving stations, transforming sense impressions into electrical impulses, and sending them into the "innumerable microscopically visible fibers of white matter" of the brain.

Many observers he said, have found that light falling upon the eye causes electric energy to travel over the optic nerve. This he compared to the new "electric eye," the photoelectric cell, in which potassium may be used to obtain the photoelectric effect. This same potassium is abundant he said in certain of the eye nerves, and could operate somewhat the same.

"We know what material the mechanism that holds the memory image must be," he went on, "for the brain consists of water, various compounds of potassium, sodium, phosphorus, calcium, magnesium and a group of highly specialized fats. In other words, the brain is a mass of conductors and insulators."

"All the billions of brain cells in existence at birth, for no brain cells are added after birth. But few of the fibers exist at birth and there is then little memory."

He explained the chemical nature of these fibers which are potassium and other substances, and the electrically conducting fluids that come into the brain would be to set loose some potassium working with phosphorus and other substances would create a fiber.

"Thus," he said, "we postulate that the nerve cells secrete a fiber. When another like impulse upon the same sense organ creates the same fibers (neurofibrils) would be stimulated and the pathway intensified, thus recreating the original image—creating memory."

"These infinite pathways created intercommunicate, also, infinite numbers of associations, making possible the processes of thought and reasoning."

"In experiments upon rats have been able to produce faceted pathways both in freshly removed brains and in living brains by passage of an electric current, facilitation being manifested by increased conductivity along the path of the stimulating current and diminished activity across it."

Mrs. Lee Will Use Lessons Learned As Her Husband's "Right Hand Man"

SAN ANTONIO, April 25. (AP)—Lessons learned as her husband's "right hand man" will be offered by Mrs. Robert Lee, Texas' latest feminine militant to political honors, as primary qualifications for the place in Congress left vacant by Congressman Lee's death.

As her husband's constant companion before and during his campaign in 1928, and his tenure of office, Mrs. Lee learned not only the principles which her husband adopted but the practical side of politics in Washington. During the longness which preceded Mr. Lee's death, she was in full charge of his Washington office. Now, actively in the field for office, she has announced that she will be too busy in making to make an active personal campaign.

Making her announcement yesterday, almost in the same breath, Mrs. Lee said she planned to return to Washington soon, leaving the campaign to the friends who surrounded her to run.

Forty-seven years old, mother of six children and stepmother to two others, Mrs. Lee found time to accompany her husband on his 19,000 mile tour in behalf of farm crop verification, and to take part in women's activities of a varied nature. She is vice-chairman of the resolutions committee of the General Federation of Women's clubs; she held the position of district president and state chairman of education for the Texas Baptist General convention and served terms of parliamentarian of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

Hawaii plans to start its new government construction program June.

Plainview Has Chance To Get Rotary Confab

Newly-Elected Presidents Of District Clubs Will Make Selection Of Next Meeting Place In July

While the newly-elected presidents of the Rotary clubs of the 41st district of Rotary International, will not select the 1931 convention city until July, Plainview has splendid chances, Mayor J. J. Clements, one of the Lubbock delegation, said yesterday on his return from Temple where he attended the annual convention.

"Both Plainview and Cleburne are strong candidates but I believe we will have the convention up here in this section," the mayor said. The incoming presidents, at their conference in July, will decide on the convention city.

District Represented Every town in the district was well represented at Temple. There was only one active candidate for district governor, Ray Nichols, of Vernon, former Amarillo newspaper man and editor of the Vernon Record, won the honor.

Ralls Rotary club presented the name of J. Edt McLaughlin, their retiring president, as a candidate for the governorship next year. He will be opposed by Tom D. Brooks, former Waco mayor. Brooks is a veteran Rotarian and has long been active in the district," the mayor said. He is also a professor in Baylor university. McLaughlin is a banker and is well known among bankers of Lubbock as well as among Rotarians of this city and section.

From the Lubbock club were the following: Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college; the incoming president, Will Jackson; Homer Grant, Dean and Mrs. Marcus Gordon, Dean and Mrs. W. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Westerfield and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Smith and Mayor J. J. Clements.

PIONEER VISITS HERE

Charles Reagan Sees Son Of Civil War Comrade

Charles Reagan, pioneer Crosby county resident, was in the city yesterday on business and while here met W. H. Bledsoe, with whose father he served in the Confederate army during the Civil war.

Mr. Reagan has lived in this section since 1891, when he came here from Collins county where he had located in 1873 from Tennessee. He was with the late Major W. H. Bledsoe in two outfits, an Independent Tennessee cavalry troop and later one of the regular regiments.

Acrobatic Airplane Shows Off

NEA San Francisco Bureau.

This acrobatic airplane, with Leo Nomis, stunt flyer, at the controls, decided to put on a show of its own at the Sacramento, Calif., airport, and did a "nose stand" when landing. Nomis is seen climbing out of the cockpit while attendants hold the wings. Half an hour later, a new propeller had been put in place and the plane was entered in a race.

Religious Census Taken in School

A religious census taken at the last meeting of the senior class Lubbock High school, revealed that of the 212 students attending the meeting 208 are members of churches in Lubbock.

The Methodist church leads with 75 students showing membership but is closely followed by the Baptist church with a total of 70 students. Thirty-two students are members of the Church of Christ; the First Christian church has an enrollment of 14 students; 11 are Presbyterians and the Episcopal church enrolls two. The Nazarene church, Catholic church, and Apostolic Church of God each have one student as a member.

Only three students are not members of some church and have no preference for any.

Fifty-four students, some who graduated at mid-term and others who were absent at the class meeting, are unaccounted for in the census.

Small Favored By West Texas

Gubernatorial Candidate To Need Support Of Eastern Part Of State To Win In Primary, Bledsoe Says

Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington, who announced this week for the nomination for governor, will have the almost united support of West Texas. W. H. Bledsoe, former senator and an announced candidate for the nomination for lieutenant governor, said yesterday. The former senator declared that in his opinion the bulk of the support which should put Senator Small over in the first primary must come from other sections of the state. It is in these sections where he is not so well known, that the senator must obtain a large vote if he is to be successful. "Personally, I think Clint is a very fine man," Mr. Bledsoe said. "I think a great deal of him."

Mr. Bledsoe has not begun his active campaign for the office but seeking and does not expect to about a month.

Loving Cup Given For Market Week

Expressing their appreciation of Lubbock's first Market Week, held several weeks ago, traveling men of Texas and others from different states represented here at the week's program, have presented C. A. Sheffield, manager of Hotel Lubbock, and Mrs. Sheffield, originators of the idea in this city, with a beautifully engraved silver loving cup.

The presentation was made this week through the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce after the traveling men had made up a collection and authorized this organization to buy the cup, have it engraved and make the presentation.

On the face of the cup is engraved the following: "To Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Sheffield: Commemorating Lubbock's First Market Week From Their Friends, The Traveling Men." When informed of the gift both Mr. and Mrs. Sheffield were thoroughly surprised but expressed deep feeling of appreciation to these friends.

Lubbock's first Market week, now established as a semi-annual affair, was held on March 28, 29, 30 and 31. The next similar affair will be held the first part of October.
