Oil Tariff Jolted By Senators

Vote Switching Deals New Blow to Clause Calling for Duty on Foreign Petroleum and Products

WASHINGTON, April 28. (US)—The tariff steam roller broke down in the senate finance committee today.

Logrolling deals whereby coal, oil and copper tariffs were included in the new tax bill were overthrown when the committee, reversing two previous votes, threw out all tariff items.

The surprise action was attributed to failure of the tariff protectionists to include lumber products in the dutiable list.

Fight to Floor

The whole tariff fight now goes to the senate floor and threatens to precipitate a row that may endanger passage of the revenue bill within three weeks, as planned by senate leaders.

At the morning session, the committee voted a tariff of $2 a ton on coal, and nine-tenths of one cent on imported crude oil. Reconvening, the votes were overthrown on motions sponsored by Senators Harrison of Mississippi and Walsh of Massachusetts, both Democrats.

The votes to exclude coal and oil were 10 to 9. By a tie vote of 10 to 10 copper was left out of the bill. Two Democrats, Connally of Texas, and Gore of Oklahoma, voted for coal and oil. Gore and Senator King, Democrat of Utah supported the copper tariff, with Connally opposing.

Ill Feeling Arises

Ill feeling was engendered by the vote switching. The reversals were made possible by the return of Senator King, who was absent when the committee put in the tariffs earlier.

After disposing of most of the excise taxes, the committee had done so much cutting that it was approximately $40,000,000 short of the revenues raised in the house bill. Further reductions are in sight. The stock transfer tax is expected to be cut in half.

Revenues lost today were Coal, $500,000; oil, $5,000,000; matches, $6,500,000; and candy, $12,000,000—A total of $24,000,000. Revised estimates showed that previous slashes totaled $16,000,000.

Kept house rates on passenger automobiles, 3 per cent, trucks, 2 per cent, tires, parts and accessories, 1 per cent.

Struck out 10 per cent tax on candy.

Reduced match tax from 4 cents per 1,000 to 2 cents on wooden matches, and one-half of one per cent on paper packages of matches.

Retain Luxury "Taxes"

Retained 5 per cent tax on radios, phonographs, mechanical refrigerators and gum, and 10 per cent tax on sporting goods and cameras, exempting aerial cameras. Football goal posts were exempted, but football uniforms added to the list.

Reduced tax on cigaret papers to ⅛-cent per package.

Added pistols and revolvers to the 10 per cent firearms tax. This means that pistols and revolvers will have to pay a 20 per cent tax, including 10 per cent under present law.

Added parts of watches and clocks to the 10 per cent tax on jewelry.

The committee unanimously voted not to increase the tobacco tax.

Senator Couzens, Republican of Michigan, moved to eliminate taxes on automobiles, but lost, 12 to 6. Those voting with him were Senators Reed, Watson, Keyes, Bingham and Thomas of Idaho, all Republicans.

Chairman Smoot hopes to conclude the bill tomorrow or Saturday, so that debate in the senate can start by Tuesday.

LEE ROMANCE RETOLD

Young Husband of Wichita Girl Describes Visit To Dr. Thacker

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28. (AP)—A murder charge was filed today against Dr. J. W. Eisminger, Oklahoma City osteopath, as Lewis R. Morris, county attorney, investigated deaths of eight girls, including two University of Oklahoma co-eds, alleged to have been caused by illegal operations.

The charge was the second preferred in connections with the deaths. Dr. Richard E. Thacker, physician and surgeon, is sought on a charge of murder in the death last week of Miss Robbie Lou Thompson, 21, a telegraph company employe.

Denied Bond

Dr. Eisminger, charged in the death of Miss Virginia Lee Wyckoff 21, University of Oklahoma student, who died Saturday, pleaded not guilty at arraignment before a justice of the peace and was ordered remanded to jail without bond pending preliminary hearing May 6.

Dr. Thacker has been accused by the county attorney of performing a criminal operation on Mrs. Frank Lee, 17, university student and secret bride of a university football star, who died here Monday.

Four other deaths under investigation were those of Mrs. F. S. Roach, who died Saturday; Mrs. Isobel F. Ferguson, who died April 14; Ruth Hall of Bethany, who died April 15, and Marie Epperson, who died two years ago.

Nursing Homes Sought

Morris said he had information which will lead him to investigate thoroughly four private nursing homes here to which girls were taken following allegedly illegal operations. County operatives who called at one home found the occupants had moved recently without leaving an address.

Dr. Eisminger said in a signed statement he treated Miss Wyckoff April 3 at his office but did not believe she was an expectant mother. He said he treated her for another ailment.

Notwithstanding the fact that university officials have been exonerated by state and county investigators in connection with the deaths of Mrs. Lee and Miss Wyckoff, the discipline committee of the school tonight said an independent investigation would be made. It probably will include a general inquiry into conditions at the school.

Roach Names Thacker

Dr. Thacker was named by Roach in a statement about his wife's death.

Morris said, however, it was unlikely that additional charges would be filed against Dr. Thacker, missing since Saturday.

INQUIRY ADDS NEW LIST OF VICTIMS

Cloudiness Stays After Big Rains Drench District

Clouds hung over Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma Thursday night after a much-needed downpour late Wednesday night and early Thursday morning.

Precipitation varied in amount from .50 of an inch to 1.50 inches. In Wichita Falls rain amounted to .89 of an inch. At Quanah 1.30 inches fell, while at Ralls 1.50 inches was registered.

Four-tenths of a foot of water was pouring over the spillway at Diversion lake after the downpour, which amounted to one inch there. At Lake Kemp .71 of an inch of rain was registered.

Rain was expected to be beneficial to grain crops of this section, as very little moisture had fallen in several weeks.

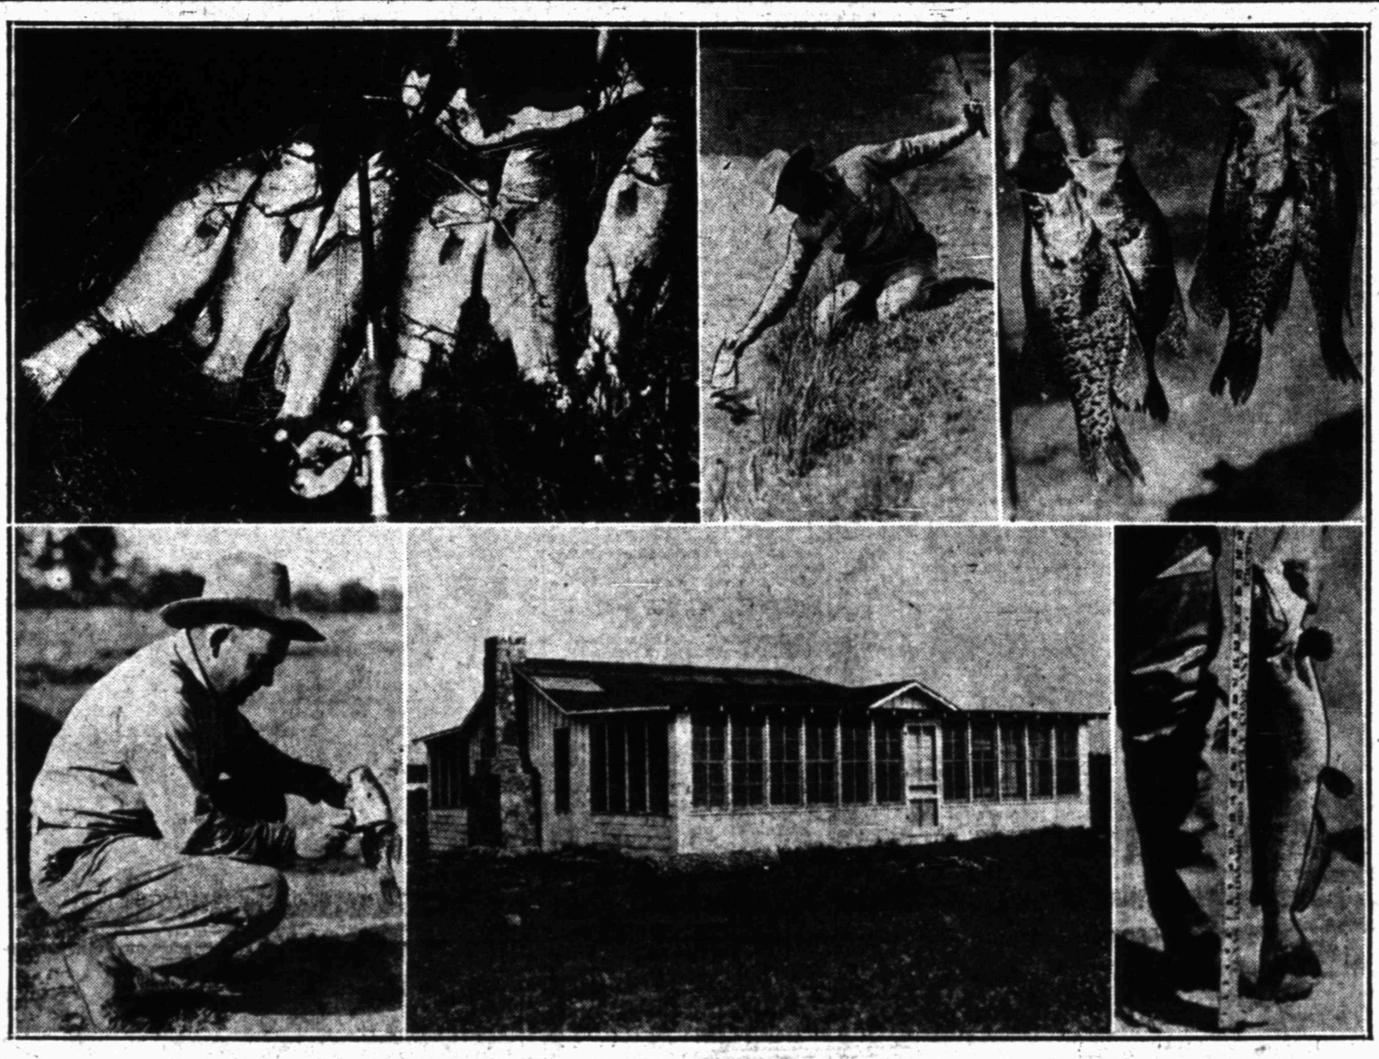

Temperatures had dropped rapidly and cool weather prevailed over the entire territory Thursday and Thursday night.

I. C. C. to Hold Hearing On Livestock Rates

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 28. (UP)—Examiners for the Interstate Commerce commission will open a hearing on livestock rates at Dallas next Monday, they announced here today.

A three-day hearing was held here this week. Testimony of shippers in many sections is being taken, and the presentation of evidence by the railroads to support their rate requests will start in Chicago in June.

What Happens When Fishing Frenzy Hits Cameramen

Just by way of reminder that May 1 is only two days away, The Record News cameraman rushed in Thursday with a pictorial record of some of the piscatorial doings on the three Wichita lakes during the last season. If these pictures don't start you to oiling up a reel, then you might as well go on and golf! Left to right, top row, we present six bouncing bass taken in less than an hour's casting at Diversion lake. No. 2 is a demonstration by Curtis Harper on what to do if you forget your landing net and snag a four-pound bass. Mr. Harper gills 'em. Notice his form, boys, for it's a good way for the amateur to lose fish. No. 3 is a good hand—four of a kind and pretty nice crappie.

On the second row, left to right: There is one sure way of determining whether your fish is a crappie or calico bass. Count the spines in the dorsal fin (the stiff rays in the back fin) If the fish has five or six, it's a crappie; if it has seven or eight, it's a calico bass. Mr. Harper is doing the counting. No. 2 is an example of modern cabin construction—the lake home of E. B. Lehrack at the Wichita colony at Lake Kemp. Among the features of the house are two 40-foot glassed in sleeping porches, furnished for 32 persons; big rock chimney; natural gas for heating, cooking and lighting; modern refrigeration, servant quarters, tool house and docks. No. 3 is printed for the trot line fishermen—a 25-inch channel catfish weighing nearly eight pounds, and taken at Diversion lake.

FEELINGS HOT AT OIL MEET

Texas Rail Commission Has Session on Proration

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP)—Only an appeal for pipe line meters, that for a time stirred hard feelings, varied the usual routine of oil field proration hearings in today's session of the Texas Railroad commission to hear testimony bearing on the welfare of operators and physical waste in the East Texas area.

Petroleum experts told of the effect of "fast withdrawals," on "ultimate recovery" and "water encroachment" on the life of the field.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the commission, said a hearing would be held soon to determine the advisability and practicability of placing meters on pipe lines in an effort to check "oil leakage."

Estes Suggests Meters

Carl Estes of Tyler said that "thievery should be stamped out," and declared the metering of trunk pipe lines would make it impossible for oil to be taken from the field through devious ways.

Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, until recently in command of martial law troops occupying the meeting, stated that before the commission orders pipe lines companies to go to the expense of installing meters

President Hoover Opens Fishing Season Saturday

WASHINGTON, April 28. (US)—President Hoover today responded to the lure of rod and reel and announced that he would open the White House fishing season Saturday, on his first visit of the year to his Rapidan lodge.

On this trip the president intends to leave politics behind and get a complete rest. He will be accompanied by the little group of medicine ball enthusiasts who meet with him every morning for a workout.

He plans to leave the camp for Washington early Monday morning.

Stimson to Report On Debt Situation

WASHINGTON, April 28. (US)—Secretary of State Stimson is returning to Washington shortly to report on the debt situation rather than the armaments conference at Geneva. He plans to leave Geneva Saturday to sail May 4 from Cannes.

Couple's Wedding Plans Drove Boy To Bank Robbery

FREDERICK, Okla., April 28. (UP)—An Oklahoma farm boy who sought funds to marry a girl who was to bear his child tonight awaited sentence after a plea of guilty on robbery charges.

The youth, Glenn Wilkerson, 18, and his friend, Clyde Meadows, 20, admitted taking the motor car of J. D. Henderson, Tillman county farmer, in an effort to escape after robbing the Indiahoma State bank yesterday.

Sentence Today

The armed robbery charge was heard in justice court, and they were bound over to district court for sentencing tomorrow. After sentence is passed, they will be turned over to Comanche county authorities to face bank robbery charges.

Meadows, according to Wilkerson, agreed to aid him in robbing the bank.

With a girl companion, an expectant mother whom Wilkerson wished to marry, the youths were arrested at Rule, Texas, yesterday.

Loot Recovered

All the $1,941 taken in the bank robbery was recovered, with the exception of $4.50.

Wilkerson signed a confession relating details of the robbery, but both he and Meadows refused to name the young woman.

"We didn't hurt any one," Wilkerson said. "We took only insured money.

"I'm a pretty good fellow, just off on the wrong track. I had to do something so I could marry the girl."

B. D. DONNELL HEADS ROTARY

New Officers Introduced At Annual Meeting

Dr. Wallace Masters and Dr. W. L. Parker, in surgical robes, provided the highlight of Thursday night's annual Rotary club ladies night when they rolled in the new Rotary president, B. D. Donnell, in a baby carriage.

Mr. Donnell is vice president and editorial director of the Times Publishing company and was fittingly attired for his presentation as president. Other new officers introduced at the meeting included "Scotty" Scott, first vice president; Jack Barnard, second vice president; Wiley Robertson, treasurer, and Tom Smock, secretary.

The new directors include James Biggs, John Coffey, Ed Crump, Julian Montgomery, Harry Olsen and Paul Putty.

L. H. Estes, retiring president, presided in the meeting and presented as special guests Jack McWilliams, secretary of the Burkburnett Rotary club with Miss Helen Henry; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stone, Mr. Stone being president of the Nocona club; M. D. Moore of Electra, president of that Rotary club and David Gray, a member; Leon Horn, president of the Optimists, with Mrs. Horn, and H. E. Brown, secretary of that organization; Kenneth Bebb, president of the Kiwanis club with Mrs. Bebb, and Don Haynes the Kiwanis secretary.

Ladies Honored

Without defining Rotary, the ladies present found that it meant a round of fun and fellowship. As

Murray 'Dodges' Into Panhandle To Make Speech

AMARILLO, Texas, April 28. (AP)—Gov. William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray of Oklahoma arrived in Amarillo shortly before 5 p. m. today to speak tonight in the interest of his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He was accompanied by Jewell Hicks, state architect.

Murray retired to a hotel room soon after arriving here. Hicks, who is acting as Murray's manager, said the governor would return across the Oklahoma line tonight, and would probably spend the night at Sayre. They left Oklahoma City at 7 a. m.

"We don't anticipate any trouble from Lieutenant Governor Burns while we are out of the state," Hicks said. "Anyway, he doesn't have any way of knowing when we crossed the state line."

BURNS LAUGHS AT MURRAY'S STRATEGY

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28. (AP)—Lieut. Gov. Robert Burns laughed tonight when he was informed Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray had slipped across the Texas line to Amarillo, for a speech in a suddenly renewed effort in behalf of his candidacy for president.

"I had a pretty good idea where he was about 2 p. m.," Burns said, "I'm not going to pay any attention to it, however."

Arrival of Ripley Draws Huge Crowd

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28. (US)—Without a single stroke of pencil or brush, one artist drew a crowd of 5,000 to a pier here today.

Which is but another way of saying Robert (Believe It or Not) Ripley arrived in San Francisco from a three months' tour of the Orient and South sea isles, bringing with him a heterogeneous collection of weird facts which will find their way into his world famous drawings.

Woman Wills Annuity To Her Unborn Baby

MIAMI, Fla., April 28. (US)—A premonition of death caused Mrs. Clara Duff Beauchamp to name her unborn child in her will, it was revealed today. The will, filed for probate, set aside an insurance educational annuity for "my unborn baby." Mrs. Beauchamp died 10 days after giving birth to a boy.

Four Highest Japanese Officials In Shanghai Injured by Bomb Blast

SHANGHAI, April 29. (Friday) (AP)—Four of the highest Japanese officials in Shanghai, including Gen. Yoshinori Shirakawa, commander of the army here and leader of the Japanese forces in the Shanghai fighting, were seriously injured by a bomb explosion here today.

The two most seriously injured were Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese minister to China and director of the recent peace parleys here, and Consul General Kuramatsu Murai.

Also among the injured was Maj. Gen. Kenkichi Uyeda, who began the Shanghai battle as commander, but was replaced by General Yoshikawa.

The bomb was tossed by an unidentified man, believed to be a Korean, into the speakers stand at a big military review in Hongkew park in honor of the birthday of Emperor Hirohito of Japan.

Following the blast the huge crowd closed in on the man accused of hurling the bomb. Japanese military officers attending the review sought to establish order. They rescued the man accused but it was not known immediately whether he was dead or alive.

Officials said General Yoshikawa and Uyeda were not critically hurt.

VERDICT NEAR IN MASSIE CASE

Four Nervous Defendants Await Decision

HONOLULU, April 28. (AP)—The seven men of Nordic blood on the Joseph Kahahawai lynching case jury came out of the jury room late today and stood on a balcony in the rain while their five colleagues, of oriental and native strain, remained inside.

The seven men stool in a group and talked for several minutes but it was impossible for spectators to draw any conclusions as to the significance of their act.

It was the first manifestation of any kind from the jury since it retired nearly 24 hours previously to determine the fate of Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and three others accused of slaying Kahahawai for vengeance.

HONOLULU, April 28. (UP)—A verdict was believed near late today in the case of four Americans accused of the second degree murder of Joseph Kahahawai, half-caste and asserted attacker of the wife of one of the defendants.

The belief was founded on the action of the jury in requesting and taking a temporary delay in its luncheon time. This was interpreted to mean the jurors hoped to reach an agreement soon.

Until this hint was given, the probability of a deadlock, with the jurors split along racial lines, had been discussed widely. Seven Caucasions, two Chinese and three mixed blood islanders compose the jury.

While the jurors sought a decision, the defendants, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, navy officer, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Grace Fortescue, and two seamen, A. O. Jones and E. J. Lord, remained at a downtown hotel, nervously waiting a verdict.

The four were charged with slaying Kahahawai to avenge assaults on Massie's wife, Mrs. Thalia Fortescue Massie, by five islanders assertedly led by Kahahawai.

Their defense to the charge was that Lieutenant Massie suddenly went insane and shot Kahahawai when the half-caste admitted he was a member of the group of attackers.

'TAME' BEAST RUNS AMUCK IN STATION WBZ

WOMAN SINGER HURT

Artists Trample Performer In Dash to Escape Leo's Wrath

BOSTON, April 28. (UP)—An 800-pound lion with a bad case of fright—microphone fright, became temperamental tonight, wrecked radio station WBZ, clawed and scratched attendants, smashed through two plate glass partitions, and drove a score of employes into hiding.

He was finally subdued by his trainer, Capt. Volney Pfifer, with the aid of a squad of policemen.

Slated for "Interview"

Leo, ordinarily a well-disposed lion, had been advertised to give a "radio interview." News cameramen had perched on pianos in the studio, ready to make flashlight pictures of the broadcast.

Shortly before his turn to walk to the microphone and growl, Leo took a sudden dislike to the whole proceedings, and leaped through the double-thick panes of glass separating the studio from the main control room.

Claws Woman

He landed in the lap of Miss Alice Wilkins, staff secretary of WBZ, clawing her on the face.

Trainer Pfifer sped after the lion, which had been cut in its passage through the glass panels, and subdued it enough so that he was able to induce it to return to the broadcast room.

Leo obligingly roared his part of the "interview" and was ready to leave when he decided on another leap. He crashed through the glass walls of the observation room and attacked Edward Craig, studio continuity writer. Craig suffered a deep gash over his nose, a scraped hand and cuts on one thigh.

Singer Trampled

Miss Patricia Henry, singer, was knocked down and trampled by artists trying to escape. The lion, blood streaming from its cut sides, raced from room to room, while attendants hastily closed all doors leading from the studios in order to prevent it from reaching that part of the Hotel Bradford occupied by guests.

Trainer Pfifer pursued the lion once more and again subdued it, this time after a 10-minute chase.

Cermak and Champ Explain to Cops

CHICAGO, April 28. (US)—Mayor A. J. Cermak and Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion of the world, had to prove that they were not two escaped convicts today.

Word had been flashed to authorities throughout Indiana to be on the watch for two prisoners who had escaped from the Indiana state penitentiary.

The mayor, with Schmeling and the latter's manager, Joey Jacobs, as his guests, was bowling along in his car toward Chicago early this morning after acting as a judge in the selection of a queen for the blossom festival at Benton Harbor, Mich., last night.

Shortly before reaching the Illinois line, they were overtaken by state highway police and ordered to stop. The officers were convinced of the identity of Cermak and his guests only with the greatest reluctance and were all for taking them back to Gary, Ind., "for investigation."

Later, entering the city, the mayor stopped his car again, this time to assist in the rescue of a man caught in the wreckage of an automobile which had crashed into a safety island.

ARMS PARLEY IN DEADLOCK

Threat May Increase Naval Activity of Powers

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

LONDON, April 28.—Britain's threat to invoke the "escalator clause" of the London naval treaty will increase rather than diminish naval rivalry, bringing a return of pre-war naval building.

This is the opinion expressed guardedly here today, even in Whitehall, as the result of the outburst of a British spokesman in Geneva yesterday because of French and Italian failure to consider a naval accord worked out by Secretary of State Stimson and Prime Minister MacDonald.

France Firm

France's determination to maintain her naval position has not been changed one iota, it is learned, because of Britain's threat. Nor does Italy intend to call off her campaign for parity with France, a move that Paris is prepared to block at any cost.

The French government, what is more, does not care whether England and the United States go on building up to or beyond treaty limits, I am informed. France intends to rely more and more on submarines, each of them a thorn in Britain's side.

Japanese circles declare that if France is to increase her submarine fleet, Japan will be compelled to strengthen her undersea force which, under the London treaty, enjoys the same tonnage as the British and American navies. Thus the London treaty would die of its own weight.

French Blast Plans

Prime Minister MacDonald's warning that the "escalator clause" is not a dead letter is considered in many quarters futile and ineffective, but justifiable because of extreme irritation over French Premier Tardieu's successful torpedoing of MacDonald's second attempt within a month to settle all post-war problems by private conferences.

All hope of the disarmament conference's achieving anything is at the lowest ebb due to the failure of the participants to bring about anything likely to stir the world's imagination.

Burglars Make $1,000 Haul at Bowie Store

Loot of an estimated value of $1,000 was taken Wednesday night when burglars raided Saul's branch store at Bowie, Assistant Manager John A. Benninger reported to police in Wichita Falls. The store was entered by forcing the skylight and the condition of the store Thursday indicated the thieves had taken their time in choosing men's clothing, the principal loss.

Loss of a one-ton chain hoist was reported to local police by the city disposal plant of Electra Thursday.

Jason Walker, 1205 Denver, told police a brief case had been stolen at his home; and Edna McClure, 1404 Holliday, reported loss of a white gold bracelet.

All of Kreuger Estate Claimed by Creditors

STOCKHOLM, April 28. (US)—Ivar Kreuger's personal estate in Sweden amounts to less than $100,000, all of which will be needed to satisfy his creditors, leaving nothing for relatives and friends mentioned in his will, it was announced today.

Bullet For Breakfast Greets Wichitan After 'Quiet' Army Life

Milton Roueche, 30, 1601 Twelfth street, yearned for excitement three years ago, signed up with Uncle Sam's fighting forces and served a "hitch" in picturesque, but peaceful, Fort Sam Houston.

Honorably discharged recently, Roueche returned to his home here. Thursday he found excitement right in his own breakfast nook.

Roueche and his brother-in-law, Mirl Kimberling, sat down for toast and coffee at Roueche's home. As Kimberling sipped his coffee and Roueche munched toast—spat!—a pistol bullet fell on the table.

The bullet had pierced the window pane, the screen and the shade and was spent when it dropped to the table not eight inches from the former soldier's head.

Unable to explain the incident, the two men made a report to police.

Three Lakes Clearing After Heavy Winds and Rain; Forecast Is 'Fair'

Heavy Losses Due to Late Spawning of Fish Expected On Opening Day; Anglers Asked to Contribute

The three lakes of the Wichita Valley were beginning to clear up Thursday night following a week of violent winds and heavy rains of early Thursday. While the rains added much muddy water to the lakes, the cessation of winds was expected to allow the waters to clear rapidly, promising good conditions for the opening of the fishing season, May 1.

W. W. Cave, game warden at Lake Kemp, reported the waters there in fair condition Thursday afternoon and said that conditions should be fine by Saturday. Diversion lake and Lake Wichita also were settling. The government forecast for Friday and Saturday was for fair weather.

Fish Spawning Late

The opening of the season in the three lakes at 12:01 o'clock Sunday morning will bring to anglers the most serious problem of conservation in several years. Both crappie and bass are spawning late this year, and reports from the state game and fish department show that perhaps a majority of the game fish taken on May 1 will either be unspawned or guarding their nests. In either case the loss of young fish will be the heaviest in years. The driving or catching of adult fish from the nests is as fatal to propagation as is the taking of fish before the end of the spawning season.

After black bass spawn, the parent fish remain near the nest and drive away all intruders. When the eggs hatch, this vigil is not abandoned, as many anglers believe. The bass continue to guard the school of fry for two weeks or longer, herding the tiny fish together in schools until they are able to shift for themselves and scatter into the shallow and protected areas. When these small fry are deprived of their natural protection, they fall easy prey to schools of bream, perch, minnows and other fish.

It is the belief of many experts that far more fish are lost through the driving of adult fish from the spawning nests than by the ravages of spawn-eating fish.

Appeal to Anglers

In view of these conditions in the three Wichita lakes, the appeal of the Izaak Walton league for funds to repair and improve the rearing ponds at Lake Kemp and Lake Wichita is of vital importance. Since bass and crappie which are spawned this spring and given a chance to develop in the rearing ponds will be large enough for legal catching next spring, the conditioning of the rearing ponds will have an important bearing on the kind of fishing available here in 1933.

Opening day anglers will be given an opportunity to contribute to the fund to repair the rearing ponds. Milk cans, used at the Diversion state hatchery for transporting fish, will be placed at each of the seven official weighing stations through the cooperation of Superintendent D. C. Harper. Anglers are asked to drop their contributions in these cans, giving such amounts as they are able. The funds will be expended by the Izaak Walton league on the rearing ponds.

4—Fish may be weighed at any of the official stations at the three lakes, or in the lobby of The Times building.

5—Prizes are posted in two divisions, one for the crappie and one for the bass. Contestants may weigh fish in both divisions if they desire. A special prize for the largest carp has been posted by J. W. Lee, secretary of the Izaak Walton league.

6—Prizes will be awarded to the largest fish until all 29 prizes are distributed. The man taking the largest bass will have first choice of all prizes, the person with the second largest bass will have choice of the remaining articles, and so on until all prizes have been distributed. The same system will be followed in the crappie division.

Youth to Survive Dose of Bichloride

A 17-year-old Wichita Falls youth admitted to the Wichita General hospital last Friday night after he had taken four bichloride of mercury tablets and a quantity of iodine and mercurochrome, was released Thursday afternoon and returned to his home. Hospital attendants said the youth passed the crisis in his condition Thursday morning. His condition had been regarded a critical after he had been brought to the hospital from his home.

Great Britain has four members of its empire represented diplomatically at Washington, D. C. They are Great Britain, Union of South Africa, Dominion of Canada and Irish Free State.

Local Deaths

MRS. W. N. BRYANT

Mrs. W. N. Bryant, 29, of Huntsville, Texas, died at the Wichita Falls State hospital Wednesday night after an extended illness with a chronic ailment. She suffered a fracture of the skull when she fell in a bathroom at the hospital about 10 days ago, but the injury did not cause her death, Dr. C. W. Castner, superintendent, said. The body is being held at the Hines mortuary pending completion of funeral arrangements. Her husband survives.

HEFLIN DENIED SENATE SEAT

Vote Declares Bankhead Regularly Elected

WASHINGTON, April 28. (UP)—Former Senator Thomas J. Heflin, Alabama Democrat, lost his attempt to regain his seat in the senate today when that body declared Senator John H. Bankhead regularly elected.

The overwhelming vote upholding Bankhead's right to the seat, 64 to 18, left the bulky former senator evidently stunned. He watched the proceedings solemnly, from a seat on the next to last row, fingering a paper, but not nervously. Not a single Democrat supported him.

Bankhead Congratulated

After the roll was called, Heflin sat quetly for a moment, then rose and left the chamber by a rear door into the lobby. A few seconds later he returned and again sat down. A few feet to his right Bankhead was being congratulated by friends. Not a soul came to speak to Heflin.

Rising shortly afterward from his place, he ambled toward the main rear door. For a second he stood gazing slowly over the chamber. A look of defiance flashed across his face. Then, his head slightly bowed he walked out.

Heflin knew he was defeated when the senate rejected, 63 to 19, a substitute resolution by Senator Daniel O. Hastings which would have declared Bankhead's seat vacant. Then the roll-call began on the Bratton George resolution declaring Bankhead elected. The frequent repetition of "ayes" became monotonous.

Bankhead's brother, Representative William B. Bankhead, one of the house leaders, sat on the arm of the senator's seat as the vote was taken.

Heflin was in his best denunciatory form after he was defeated, declaring in a statement that the senate's action "is a rank travesty on justice."

The Heflin contest, in which the former senator himself participated by special permission of the senate, consumed seven days of debate.

Clerks Association Asks Abolition of Fee System

SAN ANTONIO, April 27. (AP)—Abolition of the present fee system as it applies to county officers and the placing of all such officers on a straight salary basis were recommendations in a resolution adopted at the final session of the County and District Clerk's association of Texas here today.

Hart McCormick, district clerk of Bexar county, was elected president of the association for the coming year.

BITTER FIGHT IN CALIFORNIA

Coast State Primary Slated Next Tuesday

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28. (AP)—A bitter, three-cornered fight for control of the delegation to the national convention and internal dissention over party control embroiled California Democrats today as each faction appealed for support in next Tuesday's presidential primary.

Goaded by a record Democratic registration, placid Republican ranks, with an uncontested Hoover slate of delegates on the ballot, urged a heavy vote to "encourage" President Hoover and to show there has not been a marked defection to the Democratic party.

Lively campaigns, characterized by charges of political treachery and "whisperings," have been conducted in behalf of John N. Garner, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith for the Democratic preference. Under the law, California delegates are bound to support the candidate for whom they are pledged until he releases them.

Leaders of the Garner and Smith factions were jubilant over the outcome of the Massachusetts primary, asserting the result would help their candidate in California and that Roosevelt had been "stopped." On the other hand, Roosevelt backers said the Smith victory in Massachusetts would only result in a greater split in the anti-Roosevelt vote in this state.

ROOSEVELT GAINS IN PENNSYLVANIA

PHILADELPHIA, April 28. (AP)—While returns marked the slowly rising tide of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's lead over Alfred E. Smith in the Democraitc presidential preference contest, factional leaders tonight differed materially in their interpretation of Tuesday's primary vote.

Roosevelt supporters cited Roosevelt's margin of 20,434 in the preferential vote and claimed the entire eight votes to be cast by 16 delegates-at-large as well as more than 50 of the 68 district delegate votes.

John R. Collins, state chairman, who advocated an uninstructed delegation and was prominent in the Smith campaign, declared Pennsylvania's 76 votes in the national convention would be "almost evenly divided."

TEXACO FIRE-CHIEF GASOLINE

Shrieking sirens—the roar of a powerful engine—a red streak flashes by and she's on her way! There's power for you—real honest-to-goodness power—the kind of power you'd like to have right under your own accelerator!

Today you can have it. Not the fire engine, of course, nor the siren nor the bell — but the very same power gasoline which surpasses federal specifications for use in United States Government emergency equipment.

Texaco Fire-Chief Gasoline is an anti-knock gasoline with an octane rating that is outstanding. And remember Texaco Fire-Chief plus Ethyl equals Texaco-Ethyl, now more than ever the leading premium gasoline.

EXPLORER DIES ON EXPEDITION

Young Scientist Tells Of Companion's Death

CHICAGO, April 28. (US)—The stark horrors of the last hours of a young Chicago scientist in a fever-infested Ecuadorian jungle were revealed today in all their dramatic detail.

The story came in a letter to the mother of Thomas J. Walsh Jr., in Chicago, and was from Harold Foard of West Virginia in whose arms young Walsh died in a semi-delirium.

The two who hopefully had started their expedition into the fastnesses of a tropical, mysterious jungle where the feet of white men never before had trod ended their tragic journey with their boat capsized, their supplies gone, helpless and stricken in the midst of a steaming, almost impenetrable forest.

Felt End Near

They fought desperately for days to find their way out, but without success. Each was growing weaker and each felt that the end was near. Each wrote a letter to his own mother. Each pledged the other that if either lived, the survivor would see that the message was delivered.

So in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Walsh today were these last words scrawled by their son, fever-stricken and with the wanderings of his mind reflected in the disjointed sentences:

"Mother: I am making Foard go on for aid . . . can't move . . . God save us . . . please help Foard marry Clarissa (a girl in Peru) . . . he is your son now . . . dad, I am dead . . . save mother."

Refused to Desert

But Foard refused to leave his comrade. They had lost all but one rifle and a few cartridges. They were faced by starvation, but Foard elected to stay by his friend till the end came. Then he dug a rude grave by the river's side and buried young Walsh.

Five days later on the verge of complete exhaustion, he was found in his wanderings by a friendly native. After a rest he was returned to civilization. He mailed the letter to Mrs. Walsh at Monzon, Peru, March 12, enclosing the note from young Walsh.

Walsh was 26 years old and a graduate of the University of Illinois with a master of science degree. He had been stationed at Oroya, Peru, as a chemist for the Cerro de Pasco corporation for two years.

Set Out in Boat

He and Foard conceived the expedition to the wild and almost inaccessible headwaters of the Paute river in southern Ecuador for a double purpose. They might discover rich new ore deposits. And Walsh expected to use his experiences in obtaining a Ph. D. degree.

They set out last November up the Maranon river in a boat which had been especially built for them in New York. They were bound for a territory inhabited only by fierce Indian tribes.

Two weeks later as they were shooting a rapids, the boat got out of control and smashed upon the jagged rocks. The youths barely saved themselves. All their supplies were lost.

Then began their desperate struggle. Dangers beset them on all Tropical reptiles and wild animals infested the jungles. They were eaten by insects and they were starving. The end came for young Walsh Jan. 26, but it was a month and a half later that Foard reached civilization.

Homemakers' Rally At Mineral Wells

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP)—The 13th annual homemaking education rally has been announced by the Texas department of education for Mineral Wells on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Miss Lillian Peek, state supervisor of home economics education, estimated that approximately 400 high school girls from all sections of Texas would be in attendance.

The girls must all be winners in local contests to be eligible to enter the competitive features of the rally. Miss Peek said about 25,000 Texas girls are enrolled in vocational home economics departments and are eligible to compete in the local contests for the privilege of attending the state meet.

The competitive features of the rally are designed to test the girls' judgment or ability in meeting certain life situations or problems commonly confronting homemakers.

On the first day the annual state meeting of high school home economics clubs, under the direction of Miss Bernice Mallory, state club chairman, is scheduled. Mrs. R. J. Turrentine, member of the state board of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, will address the group.

Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of the College of Industrial Arts, is on program to make an address Saturday.

Farmer-Labor Party Plans States Organization

OMAHA, Neb., April 28. (INS)—Col. Frank Eldredge Webb of San Francisco, presidential nominee of the Farmer-Labor party, today announced he would begin immediately to organize party groups in every state.

Webb was selected by the Farmer-Labor convention last night in a stormy session.

Gen. Jacob Cosey, mayor of Massilon, Ohio, was selected as the vice presidential nominee.

Map Shows How Nation Voted 'Wringing Wet' In Magazine's Poll

Here you see the results of the Literary Digest poll on prohibition, one of the greatest unofficial expressions of public opinion ever recorded in this country. Seventy-three voters in the poll out of 100 favored repeal of the 18th amendment. Twenty-six voted for continuation. Only two states (shaded), Kansas and North Carolina, gave a majority for continuance. Kansas' dry majority was 397 out of 84,120 ballots; that of North Carolina 68 out of 64,790 ballots. Nevada headed the wet column with 88 per cent of its vote wet. The Literary Digest, having collected the figures, has given them to the public for the discussion they seem certain to evoke.

Two States Vote Dry, 46 Wet, In Literary Digest's Final Returns

Kansas and North Carolina Cling to Prohibition By Small Margins in National Mail Poll

Seventy-three voters out of every hundred favor a repeal of the 18th amendment as evidenced by the final figures in The Literary Digest's nation-wide prohibition poll, which will be published in the magazine tomorrow.

A total of 4,668,537 ballots were returned and counted in this "straw" referendum. The division of the final figures shows 1,236,660, or 26.49 per cent, voting for continuance of the prohibition amendment and 3,431,877, or 73.51 per cent, favoring repeal.

Kansas and North Carolina are the only two states giving a clear majority for prohibition, Kansas voting dry by a majority of 397 votes out of a total of 84,121 ballots received and North Carolina voting dry by a majority of 68 votes out of a total of 64,790 ballots returned.

Northeast Wettest

The wettest section of the United States as evidenced by the returns in this poll is the group of states from the Mississippi river east to the Atlantic ocean and approximately north of the Mason-Dixon line, with the dampest concentration in the seaboard states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

The dryest section of the country includes the belt of states extending from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas to the Atlantic with the exception of Missouri, Louisiana, and Florida, which three states register higher wet majorities.

The balance of the Middle Western states show a sentiment wetter than the southern group but considerably dryer than the northeastern section of the country.

The Rocky mountain states show a collective vote slightly less wet than the country at large while the Pacific coast states gives a majority for repeal higher than the national ratio.

Thirty-three states and the District of Columbia return wet majorities in the final tabulation ranging from two to one to over seven to one for repeal.

Six states, giving a return of between 40 to 50 per cent of their total votes for the continuance of prohibition, include Tennessee, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina, ranked in the order of their greater dry sentiment.

Nine Vote 4 to 1

Nine states, finally voting more than 4 to 1 wet, are Connecticut, Illinois, Louisiana, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island and Wisconsin.

The nine states voting over 3 to 1 wet in the final returns include California, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Mexico, North Dakota, Washington and Wyoming.

The 15 sates returning a 2 to 1 majority for prohibition are Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Kentucky, Maine, New Hampshire, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Indiana, Missouri, and Arizona.

Nevada heads the wet column with 88.20 per cent of its final vote for repeal while Kansas, for some weeks during the poll the only dry state, heads the column for prohibition in the final vote.

The drys showed a continuous gain during the progress of the poll, the ratio for prohibition continuance increasing from 15.85 per cent of the total vote for the first week's returns to 26.49 per cent of the final vote.

The District of Columbia vote is over 3 to 1 wet.

The tenth and final tabulation in the 1930 Literary Digest prohibition poll giving three options on the ballot instead of two showed a total tabulation of 4,806,464 votes of which 1,464,098 or 30.46 per cent were for strict enforcement while 1,399,314, or 29.11 per cent, were for modification to admit light wines and beers and 1,943,052 or 40.43 per cent were registered in favor of an outright repeal of the 18th amendment.

Five Dry in 1930

In the poll of two years ago, five states voted majorities for the 18th amendment while in the current poll only two states are reported dry.

In the 1930 poll, Kansas had a dry percentage of 57.67 while in the present referendum her prohibition majority is 50.23 per cent.

North Carolina voted 50.66 per cent dry in the poll of two years ago and 50.55 per cent in the current returns.

Arkansas voted 52.19 per cent dry in 1930 as against 47.76 per cent this year. Oklahoma's dry vote of 50.94 per cent two years ago is reduced to 45.47 per cent dry in 1932. Tennessee, voting 50.37 per cent for enforcement in 1930 now shows a final dry percentage of 48.54.

"In an unforgettable year of public anxiety, controversy and political ferment but also of courage and hope," the magazine will state editorially tomorrow, "The Literary Digest offers this prohibition poll to the nation as a rounded contribution to the sum of public knowledge concerning the undercurrents of national opinion and sentiment on this vital issue.

"The poll now becomes history, a symmetrical edifice of statistical data built for the whole nation and not for any party or cause, we dedicate it simply and sincerely to service in the search for wisdom by public men in their councils and concils and conventions, their legislatures and executive mansions, at this crisis of the nation's life.

"If our offering is nothing else, it is a reflection of one special aspect of truth, as faithfully garnered as we, with much experience and good-will, could do the job."

Parallel to Finland

The Literary Digest points out a close parallel between the returns of this unofficial referendum and the national plebicite taken in Finland "whereby that country, last winter abolished prohibition after trying it for 12 years."

A total of 772,901 votes were polled in the Finnish election of which 28.10 per cent voted in favor of retention of prohibition, 1.40 per cent favored modification and 70.50 per cent favored repeal of their prohibition laws, while the current Literary Digest poll shows 26.49 per cent of the ballots returned favoring the continuance and 73.51 per cent favoring the repeal of prohibition.

M'CLURE HONORED FOR 25 YEARS SERVICE AS FIRE FIGHTER

LEADERS TELL OF FINE WORK

Officials and Civic Leaders Present Scroll

Twenty-five years of unbroken service as member and chief of the Wichita Falls Fire department was eulogized and the grateful respect of the entire citizenship eloquently voiced at the Kemp hotel Thursday night when more than 50 men held a banquet in honor of Chief Joseph L. McClure.

The veteran who has faced critical situations as a fire-fighter without quaking was visibly perturbed with emotions when escorted into the ballroom of the hotel Thursday night, where the party had assembled at the banquet tables as a surprise to the fire chief. The event marked the 25th anniversary of his admission to the fire department here on April 28, 1907.

Many Pay Tribute

Chief McClure was the recipient of unusual tribute during the evening. Representatives of the city government, the chambers of commerce, the Masonic lodge, the Floral Heights Methodist church, the state fire insurance commission, and the citizenship generally commended in glowing terms, but with obvious sincerity, not only his long service and efficiency as head of the fire department, but his civic integrity and personal qualities.

Climaxing the evening's program, Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., presented to the honored guest, on behalf of the city, a beautifully framed certificate of merit, inscribed upon heavy white parchment. It bears a picture of Chief McClure, in uniform, flanked by art-lettered inscription of the dates which mark the 25 years of service thus far registered in the fire department. Above the signatures of Mayor Nelson, City Manager V. R. Smitham, and Aldermen R. O. Harvey, C. E. McCutchen, J. M. Spoonts, J. S. Bridwell and J. N. Prothro the following declaration appears:

"In grateful appreciation of loyalty and devotion in unselfish service through a quarter-century of this city's growth, the citizenship of Wichita Falls is privileged to bestow this certificate of esteem and commendation upon Joseph L. McClure.

"As member and chief of the Wichita Falls Fire department for 25 years, he has strikingly exemplified the principle that greatness is best measured in terms of service rendered. Faithfulness and courage in the discharge of his duties has earned the undying affection of his fellow-citizens. His honesty, fairness, and kindness have endeared him to all those who have been privileged to associate with him in his work.

State Official Speaks

Raymond S. Mauk, state fire insurance commissioner, was present by virtue of a special trip from Austin for the event.

"Careful investigation of all the records of our department," he said, "failed to reveal even one unsatisfactory detail of Chief McClure's performance in office.

"It was only upon arriving here today that I discovered his weakness, for it was revealed that in 13 years of effort, he succeeded this year for the first time in catching the first ball pitched at your opening ball game.

"It is what these friends here think of you, however," Mr. Mauk continued, "that measure your worth. I have attended many banquets, similar in purpose, but never have I witnessed such profound respect and unquestioned sincerity as have marked these expressions of regard here tonight."

J. C. Ward, the city's first fire chief, told of the first fire he fought here.

"It was not a house," he said, "for houses were very scarce, and were insufficient for our population. This fire was in a tent. We saved the ridge-pole—nothing else. But that was the beginnig of another tent."

V. E. Stampfil, who was chief of the department here when Mr. McClure became a member and for a few years thereafter, told of an incident when his own house caught fire. Chief McClure at that time was driver of the city's new fire engine, he said—the first motor fire vehicle in Texas. En route to the fire, the steering apparatus snapped. Chief McClure quickly abandoned the truck, formed a bucket brigade, and extinguished the fire.

Courage Praised

"Most people don't think enough about the fire department to know how much good it does," Mr. Stampfil continued. "The first report a fireman hears is 'yes, they saved the lot, but lost the house.' I experienced once a reversal of that condition. During high waters once, down by the river, Chief McClure called me to say some of my houses were about to go down stream. I asked him to have them hauled back from the bank. George Dobson pulled them back with his mules. I saved my houses, but lost my lots."

Chief McClure's unfailing readiness to answer calls at any and all times, his courage in action, and his maintenance of an efficient, harmonized department were eulogized repeatedly by other speakers. The senior chamber of commerce was represented by Albert E. Kelly, president, while President Don T. Haynes of the Junior chamber of commerce spoke for that organization. Al Ellis, recorder of Maskat temple, commended Chief McClure's loyal service in Masonic organizations, and Leon Deaton told of the fire chief's devoted service in the Floral Heights Methodist church during the past several years.

Jones Tells of Friendship

Lester Jones, whose father was city physician at the time of Chief McClure's advent to the city's fire department, told of 25 years of close friendship dating from 1907. Mr. Jones also expressed his pleasure in serving during the past few years as chairman of the fire chief's cabinet.

Overton Abernathy paid tribute from the Wichita Falls Insurance exchange in recognition of Chief McClure's service in minimizing fire losses, and of his personal attributes.

Chief McClure spoke briefly upon being presented to those present upon his arrival, and in response to Mayor Nelson's presentation of the city's award.

Henry Mason, chairman of the committee which staged the banquet, acted as toastmaster. Other members of the committee were Mr. Abernathy and Wilburn Page.

Huge floral tokens from the chamber of commerce, the fire department personnel, and from the Texas Electric Service company were presented to Chief McClure at the conclusion of the evening.

Frank Lee Tells Tragic Story Of Romance and His Bride's Death

Oklahoma University Student Gives Prosecutor Full Information in Death of Young Co-Ed

NORMAN, Okla., April 28. (AP)—The tragic story of a young couple who feared their secret marriage would be annulled if it became known was told today by Frank Lee, University of Oklahoma football star, whose 17-year-old bride died Tuesday night in an Oklahoma City hospital after an alleged illegal operation.

Honored

Chief J. L. McClure of the Wichita Falls fire department, whose completion of 25 years' service in that organization Thursday night was celebrated with a banquet in his honor at the Kemp hotel.

His eyes red from loss of sleep, Lee unfolded his story to Lewis R. Morris, Oklahoma county attorney. Lee arrived here before dawn today after driving all night from Bonham, Texas, where yesterday his wife was buried.

Marriage Here

"We were married on Feb. 2, at Wichita Falls, Texas, and no one knew about it except Nancy's stepmother," Lee said. His wife was registered at the university as Nancy Lee Seay, her maiden named.

"We both returned to school and did not live together, because she was only 17 and we were afraid our folks would have the marriage annulled if they knew about it. I was afraid my brother wouldn't help me any more if he knew about it," the athletic star went on.

"Nancy became sick the first part of last week. We worried a lot. At that time all I thought about was having her examined by a good doctor. I did not think of an operation."

Referred to Thacker

Lee said he then went to some boy friends at the university "and they all told me about Dr. Thacker (Dr. Richard E. Thacker is sought by officers on a murder charge in a similar case).

"I went up to see him Sunday morning and told him I wanted him to look at my wife. We didn't talk about an operation then. He suggested that I bring her up. I called her and she came up on the interurban shortly after noon."

Lee then told of Dr. Thacker performing the operation. He said the physician did not make a physical examination of the girl but asked if her health was good.

"I told him it was," Lee said. "We both were nervous and didn't know what we were doing."

Dr. Thacker asked $75 for the operation, Lee said, but finally accepted $30, "all the money I had." The money was paid in advance, Lee said.

He then related how his wife became "awfully sick" Monday, when he took her to Oklahoma City General hospital, aided by two university friends. He obtained money from his brother, Harry, of Kansas City, to pay the hospital bill, he told Morris.

Efforts of Lee to locate Dr. Thacker failed, he said. Then he learned the physician had left the city.

Rotary Club Honors Ladies

a change from the plan of giving favors of the past year, the Rotary Anns and lady guests were lined up along the wall and passed the long table where a handsome gift for each was attached to a ribbon. Mrs. Geo. Gutzman drew the immense doll that crowned the table and all Rotarians crowded round Mr. Gutzman with congratulations.

Mr. Estes gave his swan song in a few well chosen words, saying that being elected president of the club had been one of the happiest events of his life. Before the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Dr. Josh Kimbrough, John Kilgore made a short speech and presented the retiring officer with a handsome wrist watch from the Rotarians, stating that each member felt the pleasure of giving a personal remembrance in the gift. Mr. Estes' response was heartfelt.

Old Time School

Dr. Kimbrough in defining the philosophy of Rotary, said it was the spirit of fellowship and introduced H. D. Fillers, who offered the first number on the program. When Messrs. Ed Crump, James Biggs and Julian Montgomery entered attired as country school boys with Edwin Bebb and R. E. Shepherd playing the dressed up parts, the scene was hilarious. Mr. Fillers presided as a country school master and called the roll of his pupils, allowing them to give a Friday afternoon program.

(Shep) Shepherd sang as a vocal solo, "A Bird in a Gilded Cage," and when Eddie Bebb was called on for a violin solo, he responded with a cello number, coached from the piano by Mrs. Bebb. In the midst of the encore, he asked to be excused. The artistic qualities of voice and cello was interrupted by spitballs thrown by Julian Montgomery.

Eddie Crump was called on to "speak a peace" and with much hesitation and diligent coaching, recited "Under the Spreading Chestnut Tree." This reading was followed by "The Charge of the Light Brigade," recited by Jimmie Biggs, with the professor's assistance. The final number on the Friday afternoon school program was a sketch of Linton Estes, read by Julian Montgomery, a clever burlesque on the retiring president. The school was dismissed with an expressed hope that the parent-teacher club had been present and noted the activities of the school.

R. E. Shepherd took charge of the introduction of officers and presented the past 12 presidents who in single verses, sang of the outstanding events of their regimes. Mr. Shepherd acted as a musical interlocutor. Bass, treble, tenor and baritone voices were noted in the songs by the presidents in the order of their service; George Keith, Tom Smock, Q. B. Lee (who especially asked that his voice be noted), C. R. Hartsook, Horrace Robbins, Al Moline, substituting for Walter Cline, Albert Miles, Luther Hoffman, John Kilgore, Josh Kimbrough, Herbert Voelcker and Linton Estes.

At the conclusion of this original number, which was greeted with almost hysterical hilarity, B. D. Donnell, the new president, was rolled in in a baby carriage and after removing his infant robes, was presented by the retiring officer with a handsome leather loose leaf note book with his name inscribed upon it.

There were 205 members and guests registered for the annual banquet, installation and frolic.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, limewater, candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they don't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food don't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blocks up your stomach. You have a dizzy, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, remarkable when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Accept a substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

CO-ED DEATHS INVESTIGATED

New Names Added to List Of Victims

The list of suspected victims increased hourly as prosecutors examined death records. On at least nine they found in physicians' handwriting cryptic phrases such as this:

Dozen Investigations

A dozen investigations started. Attention was centered on a fugitive physician and an osteopath.

Search for the physician, Dr. Richard E. Thacker, stocky former army lieutenant, spread throughout the Southwest. He has been charged with murder in one death, named in complaints in two others and is wanted by County Attorney Lewis Morris for questioning in several others.

In a statement to Assistant County Attorney Draper Grigsby, John W. Eisiminger, Oklahoma City osteopath, admitted performing an operation on Miss Virginia Wyckoff April 10 in a private home. In a deathbed statement, the popular 22-year-old University of Oklahoma student named the osteopath as the one who performed the operation.

Murder charges were filed against Dr. Eisiminger at 5 p. m. today.

Thacker Disappears

Dr. Thacker disappeared with his wife Sunday, driving a green sedan. Saturday afternoon county officers had attempted to serve a murder warrant on him at his office, but failed.

Today, Frank Lee, University of Oklahoma football star, told County Attorney Morris that 30 minutes before the officers called, the physician had performed an illegal operation on his 17-year-old bride, also a university student.

With tears streaming down his face, he stood with his two college companions in the university press building and told the prosecutor of his brief romance that ended in death of his bride at Oklahoma City General hospital Tuesday night.

He had met Miss Nancy Joe Seay of Wichita Falls, Texas, at the student paper office. A courtship that ended in a secret marriage during the vacation between semesters followed.

"We were afraid our folks would have the marriage annulled so we decided to keep it a secret," Lee said.

Find Girl Sick

"Harry Horner and I missed an interurban to the city but hitchhiked. When we arrived she was deathly sick. We called Dr. Curt von Wedel who reluctantly agreed to take her to a hospital."

Dr. Von Wedel said the girl was taken to the hospital "about dead."

She was buried yesterday at Bonham, Texas.

After reading accounts of the deaths, F. S. Roach came to the county attorney today and swore to a statement his wife died last Saturday after an illegal operation by Dr. Thacker.

Across the campus the home where Virginia Wyckoff lived with her mother and made gowns for her classmates, was vacant.

Her mother and Esca Milne, a university student and companion of Miss Wyckoff had gone to Centerville, Iowa, where funeral services were held.

Records of Oklahoma General hospital showed Milne had submitted to two blood transfusions in a desperate effort to save the life of his friend. Five other students had responded to the call for blood when her condition became critical last week.

University Concerned

Aiding Morris were operatives of the state bureau of criminal investigation, city detectives, County Attorney Person Woodall of Norman and the university disciplinary committee, personally directed by Dr. W. B. Bizzell, president of the University of Oklahoma.

"The tragedies have caused grave concern at the university. I do not believe, however, the university can become involved other than giving what information we find to the authorities," Dr. Bizzell said.

In addition to the nine deaths under investigation by the county attorney, the United Press was advised "six deaths have occurred from illegal operations at another hospital recently."

PROSECUTOR LISTS NAMES OF VICTIMS

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28. (UP)—County Attorney Lewis Morris said tonight he was investigating what appeared 'to be an epidemic of illegal operations."

He studied evidence indicating, he said, that at least nine persons had died recently after such operations.

They include:

1. Mrs. Frank Lee, 17-year-old University of Oklahoma student. Died April 26. Lee told the prosecutor Dr. R. E. Thacker performed the operation.

2. Virginia Wyckoff, 22-year-old University of Oklahoma student. Died April 23. A murder charge was filed against John W. Eisiminger, Oklahoma City osteopath, who admitted in a statement to the county attorney he operated on the student.

3. Mrs. F. S. Roach. Died April 23. Her husband in a statement to the county attorney said Dr. Thacker performed an illegal operation.

4. Ruth Hall, 22-year-old girl. Died April 15.

5. Mrs. Isobel Francis Ferguson, 22. Died April 14 from "septicemia following the history of criminal abortion done in the terminal building." (Dr. Thacker had his office in this building.)

6. Ethel Hestand, 30, died April 3. Death certificate filed by Dr. Thacker.

7. Robbie Lou Thompson. Died April 20. A murder charge has been field against Thacker in this death.

8. Geraldine Miller Easley, 19. Died March 19. Dr. Frank Harbison signed the death certificate saying: "Patient admits criminal abortion."

9. A "brother of a girl named "Epperson" reported to Assistant County Attorney Mart Brown that his sister died two years ago following an illegal operation "by Dr. Thacker."

Hoover Speech Attacked As 'Glittering Ignorance'

WASHINGTON, April 28. (US)—President Hoover's speech to the governor's conference in Richmond was an effort to "force them to soak the poor to care for the millions of unemployed victims of Hoover prosperity," Prof. John Dewey of the people's lobby said today.

He attacked the speech as "glittering ignorance."

VIEWS AT ODDS ON PRORATION

their practicability first should be determined.

He pointed out that engineers disagreed as to practicability of meters measuring flowing oil.

Wolters Give View

General Wolters told the meeting he believed East Texas was suffering in the main from effects of "asinine ignorance and wild talk and rumors."

W. A. Wise of Tyler requested General Wolters to take the witness stand and the general complied. Wise asked if oil taken through underpasses from a Gladewater school lease was not found in Texas company lines.

General Wolters said no oil had found its way into Texas company lines "except in a legitimate way." Wise told Wolters he was under the impression that the general, while commanding the martial law troops, had reported that oil from the Gladewater school lease had been found in Texas company lines. General Wolters said his report did not contain that information.

Wolters Upheld

"The Gregg county grand jury investigated that underpass incident and brought indictments against men who were not connected with the Texas company in any way," General Wolters testified.

Estes took the floor to tell the commission that he was sure the Texas company had not "stolen a barrel of oil."

"I know they did not if General Wolters had anything to do with it," he said.

C. V. Millikan, petroleum engineer for the American Petroleum corporation of Tulsa, Okla., told the commission, in describing the East Texas sand, that the faster the oil was withdrawn from the pool the less would be the ultimate recovery.

Opinions Differ

He said that continuance of the existing allowable of 325,000 barrels daily (67 barrels per well) for not more than six months would make little difference in the amount of oil ultimately recovered.

E. V. Foran, expert who formerly served the state's now discarded proration committee, testified, as he has in past hearings, that he believed unrestricted production of oil in the field that existed prior to the martial law shutdown was being felt now, causing not be in this condition had proper many wells to show water, would conservation methods been applied.

Liquor Law Separates Aged Twins First Time

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 28. (UP)—The prohibition laws separated Rudolph and Herman Knickelbein, 65-year-old bachelor twin brothers, today for the first time in their lives.

They had lived since birth on a farm n ar Saukville, where three prohibition agents found a still last Sept. 15. The next day the brothers were brought here for arraignment. It was their first trip to a large city.

They made their second visit to the city today; Rudolph to receive a six months' sentence and Herman to be freed from charges of violating the prohibition laws. Rudolph explained to Judge F. A. Geiger that he had operated the still without his brother's knowledge.

BABY SEARCH BIDES TIME

Norfolk Negotiator to Set Out in Yacht

NORFOLK, Va., April 28. (UP)—A message from the kidnapers of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., was awaited tonight by John Hughes Curtis, chief of the three Norfolk men negotiating for the baby's return.

Curtis expected to leave the naval base late yesterday in the yacht Marcon for a cruise to sea during which he hoped to be sought out by a boat from the group of men with whom he is dealing. He awaited only a message from the "kidnaping" group.

The message failed to arrive. Curtis was never far from a telephone and jumped each time there was a ring. He was still waiting today. He was not at his boathouse, and was believed to be at home with his wife, who is ill.

Associates Unworried

Curtis' associates seemed unworried by the delay. The situation was that they must await a message from the supposed kidnapers, either giving a "yes" or "no" answer to the latest word from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh or simply making a nautical date to meet at sea, off the Virginia capes.

However, there have been hitches before during the negotiations, which have lasted ever since March 1, when an emissary of the claimants to the baby's possession approached Curtis. It seemed possible that another obstacle might have arisen.

Edwin B. Bruce, retired banker of Elmira, N. Y., who is Curtis' companion on the Marcon's cruises, was in town all day, as was F. H. Lackman, skipper of the 85-foot twin Deisel motored yacht.

Set Out Today

It was understood that while no minimum time limit was possible, they did not expect to set out before early tomorrow.

The Marcon, fuelled and provisioned for a cruise of four or five days if necessary, lay at the Norfolk naval base ready to go. Weather conditions were good.

There appeared to be no necessity for immediate communication with Lindbergh. Curtis was understood to have told him yesterday by telephone the results of the four and a half day cruise from which he had just returned, unshaven, tired, his clothes rumpled and his eyes heavy from loss of sleep.

COUPLE MAY SPEND SUMMER IN FRANCE

PARIS, April 28. (US)—The second baby of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh may be born in France.

This possibility excited Paris today when it was reported that Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh may take a picturesque chateau in the Pyrenees for the summer.

Colonel Lindbergh replied promptly to the chateau's order, thanking him for his thoughtfulness and adding that he and Mrs. Lindbergh are seriously considering the offer.

The chateau is near Arcachon in the foothills of the Pyrenees near the Spanish border, a short distance from a sea coast renowned for its oyster beds. Its occupants enjoy almost complete isolation, a mild climate with invigorating sea breezes fanning through the surrounding pine forest.

Americans here described the location as an ideal birthplace for the expected baby. It is also said here that because of the kidnaping of their son and the unsuccessful attempts to secure his return, Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh may abandon their Hopewell, N. J., home.

Hitch-Hiker Killed By Hit-and-Run Driver

EL PASO, April 28. (INS)—A hitch-hiker, tentatively identified as W. D. Cooper, 52, of San Pedro, Calif., died in a hospital here today from injuries sustained last night when struck by an automobile near Fort Hancock.

The driver of the car fled from the scene of the accident and was not identified.

Two men who gave their names as Joe Weigel and Leslie Boyd were with Cooper when he was injured.

HEAP BIG FUN

Indian Women Prisoners Brew Fire Water And Get on Jag

MUSKOGEE, Okla., April 28. (UP)—Home brewing within the federal jail, operated by the city, has had destructive effects.

Two Seminole women, Vada Underwood and Midget Burton, serving sentences for liquor law violations, suddenly went berserk. They kicked out the windows in their cells and turned the jail into a turmoil.

Marshal Clark Wasson indignantly demanded an investigation, intimating he may insist on a matron to watch the women prisoners.

PTA OBSERVES HEALTH WEEK

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, April 28.—Iowa Park P.-T. A. observed health week with a special physical educational program at the W. F. George High school auditorium Wednesday evening. Euclid Payne, coach, gave the essential requirements of an athlete and developed the relationship of physical education as related to the schools of today. Miss Myrtle Ellis, presented her pupils in varied exercises, explaining the advantage of each. Kindergarten pupils of Mrs. Troy Hagar gave several selections, with Gordon Duval Clark announcing.

Plans were made to attend the county council meeting at Clara, Friday, May 6. Mrs. Marshall Clark, president, announced that means of conveyance would be furnished all who plan to attend.

Officers for the ensuing year will be installed Wednesday evening, May 11. Mrs. Frank B. Creighton of Wichita Falls has been invited to have charge of installation ceremonies.

Awards for the greatest percentage of mothers present were made to the first grade, Mrs. Alice Palm, teacher; second grade, Mrs. Dave Harbour, teacher, and to the seventh grade, Clavin Lakey, teacher.

Col Alvin Owsley To Speak At Quanah

QUANAH, Texas, April 28. (AP)—Col. Alvin M. Owsley, past national commander of the American Legion, will be the principal speaker at the annual convention of the 18th district in Quanah May 7 and 8.

Other notables who will attend the convention include Department Commander V. Earl Earp of Sweetwater, R. O. Whitaker, Austin, department adjutant, and W. S. Goode, Austin, state service manager.

The district is made up of 62 legion posts, with a membership of 3,767. Most of the posts have auxiliaries. An attendance of 1,000 or more is expected. Amarillo and Plainview are asking for the next convention and will send bands to support their claims.

a "run-down" body can't stand up under work and worry

A cheerful helper is not enough — not if you are "run-down" physically

"Mother, I do wish you were well and strong . . . you always look tired."

It isn't fair to expect one to like work or to be happy when in a "run-down" condition.

Ordinarily you don't need to go to bed or to a distant resort to regain your strength. Usually S.S.S. will do it right at home and while you are up and going.

If you require a tonic you should by all means try S.S.S.—this long established medicine acts by stimulating the secretions of the stomach . . . reviving the appetite . . . aiding digestion . . . regenerating hemoglobin . . . restoring the red-blood-cells—and builds greater resistance against infection and disease.

Try it yourself. Get S.S.S. from any drug store. In two sizes: regular and double—the latter is more economical and is sufficient for a two weeks' treatment. S.S.S. may be the means of bringing better health and happiness to you.

15 BOYS HELD IN CAR THEFTS

Other Members of Gang Held in Texas

CHICAGO, April 25. (AP)—Fifteen Mexican boys arrested in a federal roundup of an alleged automobile theft gang were held to the grand jury today by U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker. The bonds of Fred Tabor, 17, and Michael Cortez, 19, were set at $2,000 each and the others at $1,000.

Government officials said five others were under arrest in Southern Texas. All were accused of stealing cars for sale to Mexicans about to leave this country for their former homes.

Interesting Plans Made At Garden Club Luncheon

Mrs. C. B. Haynie discussed the cultivation of dahlias after Mrs. Peyton F. Gwynn presented her in a pretty talk in the program of the Garden club following the monthly luncheon and business meeting at the Forum clubhouse Thursday.

Preceding Mrs. Haynie's instructive address, Mrs. James P. Bowen read a charming poem on gardening by Edgar A. Guest and Mrs. Gwynn read a legend of the bluebonnet, a flower which she is cultivating this year for the first time.

Mrs. Haynie told the gardeners to plant dahlia bulbs for late blooming up to the middle of June, demonstrating with a bulb and knife, the manner in which the tubers were to be prepared. Relating her own experience, she directed that the hole be at least 12 inches deep and filled for several inches with rotted leaves, ashes and peat moss to lighten the soil. "Do not," she emphasized, "put any fresh fertilizer in the hole." Mrs. Haynie drives a short stake beside the tuber when she plants it so that she will not risk driving it through the tuber later. Gardeners were told to plant the tuber six inches deep, to fill the hole so it would not fill with water, to cultivate often, but lightly, and to water often but always after the ground had cooled. "When the buds appear," Mrs. Haynie directed, "fertilize without letting the fertilizer touch the plant stem. In the hot days of July and August, spray each day after the ground is cool; use large stakes later for the brittle plants and cut the buds back, leaving only one terminal bud." Directions for preserving the blossoms were to cut the flowers early in the morning, stand in very hot water about four inches deep and then place in cold water. Mrs. Haynie named a number of the best varieties of dahlias for Texas gardeners.

Business Meeting

Mrs. J. C. Mytinger, president, was in the chair during the business session before which Mrs. Guy Rogers gave the invocation. Mrs. Luther Wright led in a discussion of a contemplated plant exchange and Mrs. Floyd Randel proposed that an exhibit of spring flowers be held at the next regular meeting, blossoms from the member's gardens to be displayed in the dining room and the luncheon to be served in the auditorium. This was moved and approved and the entire forum personnel will be extended an invitation to attend the luncheon on May 26.

A pilgrimage to beautiful gardens of the city will be made at an early date; members will meet at the Forum clubhouse and after visiting the gardens opened to the group, will return to the clubhouse for tea and sandwiches.

Mrs. P. F. Gwynn, incoming president, was elected delegate to the state Garden club convention to be held in Mineral Wells in May and Mrs. W. B. Hamilton was named alternate.

Mrs. Floyd Randel, Junior garden club chairman, reported 11 schools taking part in junior garden work. She stated that 2,000 names were sent to Washington from this city and would be incorporated in the garden club book which "Better Homes and Gardens" had suggested as a bicentennial junior project. She spoke of the Fannin junior gardener's enthusiasm; extended thanks for the Austin club to Mrs. W. W. Perkins and W. P. Ferguson, and introduced the chairman of that club, Mrs. O. D. Scott. The Huey vegetable garden, the radishes at Crockett school and the garden at Ben Franklin were especially mentioned. Mrs. Randel displayed verbenas and snapdragon, sent from junior Austin gardeners; wheat and oats mixed with bluebonnets from Alama juniors; a trailing vine from a potato in a glass jar, sent by Huey and a bed of wheat, an Irish gardener rolling a sprinkling can filled with green topped carrots from Ben Franklin. She announced that a valuable member of the Garden club had donated seeds for many of the junior gardens but they were to be inspected soon and she had promised a bird house for the prize. Mrs. C. E. McCutchen announced that she would donate the bird house.

Mrs. Ed Howard Winner

Mrs. L. N. Cason was requested to deliver the book offered as a prize for the best tulip display and awarded it according to the committee's announcement, to Mrs. Ed Howard.

Mesdames C. E. Basham and Robert Basham were in charge of the decorations and no prettier setting has been arranged for the garden table. Among the beautiful blossoms, were a bowl of pansies from Mrs. Robert Basham's garden; a golden basket of roses and larkspur from Mrs. C. E. Basham's; a blue bowl of yellow columbine from Mrs. C. E. Beavers; a vase of Queen Anne's lace and purple iris and one of snapdragon from Mrs. J. J. Perkins; a bowl of mixed blossoms from Mrs. Bert Bean; a silver vase holding one mammoth peony and red roses from Mrs. C. D. Shamburger; a bowl of cornflowers charmingly arranged, from Mrs. Rhea Howard; a pink crystal bowl of "silver moon" roses from Mrs. L. H. Cullum and a large silver bowl of mixed spring flowers from Mrs. Frank Timberlake.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

It requires a meticulous nicety to successfully cope with the younger generation of 1932. And it seems there are few of the "horse and buggy age" who are qualified in that way. Dr. C. W. Stevenson, who so feelingly responded to the toast to fathers at the annual father and daughter banquet at the Forum clubhouse Tuesday night, had evidently studied the girl situation and his only plea was that daughters carry on untarnished those ideals handed down to them.

There's a habit somewhat common to this day; busy mothers quite often turn their backs on the duties of motherhood. They are dazed by the new phases of life. Sometime, considering the blank expression that daughter dons when she is being given information, one can hardly blame the mother. Even mothers need encouragement, and it stumps them (pardon the slang) when the daughter begins to mechanically assume the expression of one swelling up.

A gentleman sitting beside us Tuesday evening asked just what we would give to be able to start again at 16 and relive life. "Nothing," we answered promptly. "We know of nothing that would induce us to live life over again though we would choose to remain at this period indefinitely."

He looked at us quizzically, wondering, we suspected, why we wished to stay at the age we had attained, then remarked: "Well, I'd like to try it once more and see if I could make a better thing of life."

There's the rub. If one would try over, he must begin again without experience; he must lose illusions once more; have simple faiths crushed; fight his way to the soulheaded period of maturity.

For ourself, while we went through life and passed maturity, fate kept rolling up her sleeves and giving us knock-out blows. Even though we have not the gay insouciance of youth (we think we never had it, being a timid child), we have a better perspective than in the past.

But we have lived and loved and suffered and these are elemental things through which all humans go. That with the knowledge and experience gained through these elemental facts, one may not be able to give aid to youth, is one of the tragedies of parents' lives.

We have no sympathy with that mother who says, "I never stayed out until 10 o'clock," or the father who measures 1932 by his own youth. It takes real sympathy to even offer advice in sugared form.

Young people, it seems, must work out their own destinies. If age could only teach them the lesson of adjustment, it would be something. But each age measures life by the standards of that age.

Sometimes, hearing parents bemoaning their inability to "control" grown girls and boys, we think of the old Germans in one of the "Elizabeth series." One said to the other over his despairing potation of beer, "Only those can be truly happy who are destined never to be born," and the other thought it over and said drearily, "But to how few falls that happy lot."

We are glad we have lived and loved and suffered and we grudge no girl or boy a destiny that may be made a beautiful thing.

Episcopal Women Postpone Barbecue

The old-fashioned barbecue planned by women of the Episcopal church to be held at Cedar park Saturday evening has been postponed on account of the heavy rain, it has been announced.

The barbecue will be held Saturday evening, May 7, if the weather permits.

Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr. Will Give Organ Recital Sunday

Celebration of national music week is to be inaugurated here Sunday afternoon, May 1, at the First Methodist church at 4:30 o'clock with an impressive program to be given by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., organist in that church for many years, and one of the most prominent recital organists in this section of the country.

Sunday afternoon's vesper concert is being given under the auspices of the American Guild of Organists, Texas chapter, in accordance with that organization's plan for nationwide use of organs in observing music week.

This recital is being given for the public, and all lovers of organ music are invited to avail themselves of the opportunity to hear a program of outstanding compositions interpreted through one of the largest and most beautifully voiced organs in the South.

Stanley M. Raub, violinist, will assist Mrs. Akin as soloist. Mrs. Lucille Brooks Huff will be accompanist for Mr. Raub.

The program will be as follows: "Rhapsodie," (Alfred J. Silver); "Night," (Cyril Jenkins), and "Supplication," (Frysinger), Mrs. Akin.

"Andante," from "Symphonie Espagnole," (Lals); "Gavotte," (Mozart-Auer); "Caprice Viennois," (Kreisler), Mr. Raub.

"Toccatina in D" (Gillette); "Andante Cantabile," and "Finale" from "Fourth Organ Symphony," (Widor), Mrs. Akin.

Do's and Dont's At Table Discussed

By EMILY POST

Question—I have been dining lately with two young men. I note

each of them, after cutting his meat, conveys it to his mouth with fork in left hand, while I have always been taught to hold the fork in the left hand while cutting meat and then transfer it to the right hand to convey food to the mouth. Will you kindly advise which method is considered correct.—M. S.

Answer—Not using the left hand is an American provincialism. Unless your left hand is paralyzed, why pretend it is? Certainly, use the left hand, when holding the fork prongs down, and the knife in right for cutting.

Question—I would particularly like to know if the person "toasted" drinks with the rest, or rises?—E. B.

Answer—The person to whom a toast is drunk sits still and does not lift the glass.

Question—Will you please tell me whether or not it is correct to serve whipped cream for coffee at a party or club meeting?—M. A.

Answer—If you like it, serve it. But usually whipped cream is served with iced coffee. Plain cream is rather more usual. However, whiped cream is always served with chocolate.

Question—Is it proper to use candles on the dining room table during the day? There has been much discussion about the use of them. Some of my friends insist it is correct to use them at any hour. Whereas I think they should be used not earlier in the day than afternoon tea. Will you please enlighten me?—J. A.

Answer—Candles should be used only when their light is necessary, with the one exception of putting them on the dinner (evening) or supper table while it is yet daylight in the summertime. They are put on at lunch or afternoon tea if the dining room be dark.

Our Children

I CAN'T

When a child says, "I can't," he is frightened into helplessness. Panic has seized him. He cannot gather himself together and center what strength he has upon his difficulty. His forces are scattered, his control is gone. He is confused and dizzy and afraid. He needs encouragement.

Once when the great sculptor Thorswalden was a boy he entered a contest. If he won the prize by making the best figure, he could have a scholarship, as well as much honor. He started to work but the clay would not follow his thought. His hands lost their cunning because he was afraid. He crushed the clay into a heap and ran out of the room.

The teacher went after him. "Come back, come back. Try again."

"I can't. I can't."

"Yes, you can. I know you can. Wait a minute. Get hold of yourself. You can do today what you did yesterday. I know you can. I tell you that you can. Come back now and start again." That time he succeeded. I always wonder what would have happened to Thorswalden if that teacher had not held him up when he was failing in fear.

Many children are overtaken by fear this way. Sometimes they are doing very well and something happens that calls their minds off the work and fastens it on themselves. Down they go in panic. "I can't. I can't." It is like climbing out of the pit on a shaky ladder. Keep looking up and you get along very well. Look down and fear catches you and you are in danger.

When a little child, too young to go alone, gets into a panic and screams, "I can't, I can't," stand by him. Don't lose patience and scold and tell him he can if he wants to. He does want to. But fear has wiped out his power and sapped his strength. Stand by him. Hold his hand. Comfort him until he feels your strength supporting his feebleness, hold him up while he tries again and help him to succeed. Success brings courage.

Try not to let a child fail when he is attempting things that are new to him. New things always frighten children. Make the first steps easy. If you send him on his first errand let him see you waiting for him and he will go in good heart. If it is wiping the first dish make it a small one, easy to hold in his hands, and give him plenty of time to do the job. Praise him when he finishes it. Teach him to dress button by button, but put in most of them yourself in the beginning, leaving him one easy one for his. Gradually as his skill increases his faith will grow and he will help himself more and more.

Children dread failure. It frightens them. Guard against the first step in any adventure coming to grief. Make it succeed. That will enable the child to try again. The teacher always makes the first lesson easy, whether in algebra or physics or the first step in addition. If the child thinks he can, he can. Keeping him thinking that way is one of the teaching arts.

Teach the child to tell himself that he can, and before very long he will have learned to say that strengthening phrase, "I must."

Rainbow Luncheon Final Forum Social Event

A beautiful event will complete the Woman's Forum social calendar for the year when the rainbow luncheon honoring out-of-town members takes place Tuesday, May 3, at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. W. B. Hamilton is chairman of arrangements and her committees are already at work planning an outstanding affair. Decorations and program, the latter of which will be given by members from adjacent towns, will be features of particular interest. This luncheon, postponed from the regular date of March 29, comes at a time when the city is filled with rainbow colors in flowers.

Mrs. Rhea Howard, telephone 6178, and Mrs. E. B. Lehrack, 6565, will take reservations until Monday evening.

Austin Board Will Hold Final Meeting

Members of the executive board of the Austin school parent-teacher unit will meet Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the school auditorium to complete plans for the regular meeting to be held Wednesday afternoon, May 4.

The meeting scheduled for Friday is to be the last executive meeting of the year and final reports will be heard. Mrs. J. R. Kolb, president, has urged that each officer and sponsor be present.

Liquor Sentence Meted On Two-Year-Old Indictment

STINNETT, Texas, April 28. (AP)—"Shine" Popejoy, who is under indictment for alleged participation in the March robbery of the First State bank of this city, recently was given a two-year term for violation of the liquor laws on a two-year old indictment.

Popejoy had been out of the state most of the time since the old liquor indictment was returned, but was brought back to face the bank robbery charge. The liquor indictment dated back to the administration of the late John A. Holmes as district attorney. Holmes was slain from ambush Sept. 13, 1929.

Lecture And Pictures Of Orient Feature Circle Tea

Mrs. T. P. Duncan's home on Grant street was thrown open Thursday afternoon to members of circle 11 of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary society who gave a tea for the benefit of Buckner's orphan home in Dallas. Spring flowers in lovely colors made the home unusually beautiful.

Mrs. Charles R. Daniel, assisted by Mr. Daniel, featured the afternoon. Lights were turned out and Mr. Daniel showed on a silver screen pictures they made on a recent tour of the Orient.

While native beauty of the Hawaiian islands, of Japan and of China were shown, Mrs. Daniel gave a travelog in words that brought the perfect atmosphere of the country visited to her audience. Among the unusual pictures shown, were several of Shanghai, which had been evacuated only two weeks before their arrival. Probably no recent lecture has been followed with deeper interest.

Members of circle 11 were hostesses and a delicious plate was served to each of approximately 200 guests who heard the illustrated travelog.

Monty Banks Granted Divorce From Wife

LOS ANGELES, April 28. (INS)—Monty Banks, well known screen comedian, was granted a divorce today from Gladys Frazin Banks, well known stage actress before her marriage.

Banks cited the five-day disappearance of his wife April 7 as one of many acts of cruelty, asserted his wife was often intoxicated and at time called him harsh names.

They were married Sept. 20, 1929 and finally separated April 7, the date of Mrs. Banks' alleged "disappearance."

Informal Party Honors Fowler Class Members

Mrs. E. A. Fowler and her daughter, Mrs. L. W. Brewster, entertained members of the Fowler Bible class of the First Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon at Mrs. Fowler's home, with a charming informal party honoring Mrs. J. T. Erwin who is leaving soon to make her home in Longview, and Mrs. Emma Goff, who was a former member of the class and is a guest in the city.

Mrs. George Lasater, who celebrated her birthday Thursday, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses and the honorees were given a number of pretty gifts.

Old-time songs were sung and the afternoon was spent in a get-together party.

Dainty refreshments were served to Mesdames Erwin and Goff, the honorees and to Mesdames J. D. Robertson, W. H. Apple, W. D. Bolding, I. H. Roberts, O. W. Hines, Max Shumake, Carrie Fidler, C. I. Progress Reported in Texas' First Farm Census

AUSTIN, April 28. (AP)—Carl H. Robinson, senior agricultural statistician for the United States department of agriculture, said county tax assessors are doing a good job of gathering Texas' first farm census, although they are not being remunerated for their work.

The federal and state agricultural departments are cooperating in taking the census, the Texas legislature having appropriated $5,000 toward the project, but the federal government is spending much more, Robinson said.

A bulletin will announce the results of the census, and it probably will be issued in September if the county assessors comply with a state law requiring all enumerations to be completed and reports made by June 1, Robinson said.

HUNTER TALKS AT DENISON

Governor Candidate Flays State Tax System

DENISON, Texas, April 28.—"Down in Uvalde county a recent check up of employment in the state highway department showed 258 workmen and 106 bosses," said Tom F. Hunter, Democratic candidate for governor, speaking in the hall at Denison Thursday night, before a large crowd of voters from this section.

"Texas must have a revision of its state tax system," he said. "We must remove 70 per cent of the taxes from real estate and plant them upon the two-thirds of our wealth now escaping taxation."

Escaping Wealth

Speaking of the escaping wealth, he said: "Records at Austin show that there is assessed for taxes in Texas $4,300,000,000 worth of wealth whereas statistics at Washington show $100,000,000,000 in wealth in Texas. Now it would not be fair to say that 4.3 per cent of the wealth of the state is paying all the taxes, but it is true that less than one-third of the wealth is paying all of the ad valorem taxes.

"We need a tax system that will require all who live in Texas and all who do business in Texas to pay according to their ability to pay.

"Real estate is so overburdened with taxes that it cannot stand the load. The mean average tax in Texas is $4.28 per thousand, as much as a man ought to have to pay interest on a land loan. Real estate is worth only as much as it will produce and when it will not produce a profit it is not worth the price. You can rent a house cheaper than you can own one. We are putting a penalty upon home-ownership instead of setting up a premium for it.

Opposes Road Bonds

"If you bought stock at a bank you would ask what the dividends were to be and other questions regarding its safety and its profits. Ask the same questions of yourself about real estate. If your farm or your city property is producing a profit under the heavy tax burden of today it is doing better than mine.

"I am unalterably opposed to a state-wide road bond issue as advocated by one of the candidates for the governor's office. When you take out of the hands of the people the right to say when they shall or shall not be bonded, and place that authority in official Austin you commit your state to bankruptcy and your posterity to servitude. It is not fair to tax real estate to build and maintain roads. One cent of the gasoline tax if applied to that purpose, is sufficient to retire the road bonds of every county in Texas, as they mature."

Loans to Brokers Show Decrease of $9,000,000

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Loans to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks for the week ending April 27 were announced by the federal reserve board today as $498,000,000, a decrease of $9,000,000 from the preceding week.

Loans for the week ending April 29, 1931, were $1,730,000,000.

'Free' Services To Public Increasing Taxes, Says Marrs

"The reason taxes don't come down is because the public demands more and more 'free' public service," County Judge John P. Marrs told county judges and commissioners of West Texas in session at Midland Thursday afternoon. "The public now is being supplied with innumerable services, from county farm agents, health officers, nurses, bands and libraries down to terracing the farmers' land and killing the prairie dogs."

On of the greatest causes of high cost of government, Judge Marrs set out in his address, is the cost of service to defectives and dependents—those who contribute nothing to the county's wealth, but live upon those who labor.

He expressed the belief that one cent of the per gallon tax on gasoline may have to be diverted to counties' general fund accounts to take care of bonds, particularly highway bonds.

Judge Marrs left Wednesday afternoon for Midland, and addressed the association Thursday afternoon. The convention will close Friday evening.

Why Black-Draught Is So Effective

THE plant which gives Black-Draught its active principle is one of the foremost cathartics (or laxative herbs), widely used throughout the world today. Because it is effective, because its action is so well known, this plant is prepared in various forms of medicine, such as liquid extracts, syrups, powders. In powdered Thedford's Black-Draught, this valuable medicinal plant is provided in its pure, natural form, with the leaves dried and finely ground so that the digestive system of your body may extract the medicine easily and naturally.

Give your family the advantage of a laxative made from approved, properly combined, powdered cathartic plants. Put a package of Thedford's Black-Draught on your home medicine shelf, today—for use by all the family. FOR CONSTIPATION INDIGESTION BILIOUSNESS

LUX for underthings
removes perspiration acids and odors—Saves colors

"IMAGINE wearing underthings that aren't quite fresh! Others notice perspiration odor right away—before you do yourself. How can she run such a risk?"

At a dance, in the office, or anywhere, perspiration odor in underthings will ruin any girl's success.

Everybody perspires, and lingerie is constantly absorbing these unpleasant acids and odors. But it's so easy to avoid offending.

Lux is made to remove perspiration acids and odors completely—yet it saves colors and fabrics. In fact, because perspiration is taken out, your lingerie stays new longer. Simply Lux your undies after every wearing—it takes only 4 minutes or less. And remember, anything safe in water is safe in Lux.

REFINERIES IN BETTER SHAPE

Production of Oil Products Shows Decline

TULSA, Okla., April 28.—Mid-continent refiners reported a continued improvement in their statistical position the week just ended.

Production of gasoline and kerosene as well as stove distillate and fuel oil fell off, and inventories of both motor fuel and burning oils were also lowered. All of this was accomplished by a curtailment of runs to stills of both crude oil and semi-refined crude.

The statistics as compiled by Platt's Oilgram and National Petroleum News indicates that mid-continent refiners are voluntarily working with the rest of the industry to maintain stabilization of their phase of the oil business.

Runs Decline

Area—	Past Week	Pr. Wk.
Kansas	58,836	60,948
Oklahoma	83,251	72,149
North Central Texas	42,578	56,384
West Texas	20,068	25,977
N. Louisiana-Arkansas	36,300	15,017
Totals	241,053	297,935

Other oils processed in barrels follows:

Area—	Past Week	Pr. Wk.
Kansas	5,573	5,319
Oklahoma	1,048	2,728
North Central Texas	3,511	4,213
West Texas	.....	.....
N. Louisiana-Arkansas	15,017	15,735
Totals	25,857	27,277

Less Gasoline Made

Area—	Past Wk.	Prev. Wk.
Kansas	9,941,000	11,049,000
Oklahoma	13,818,000	13,012,000
N. C. Texas	7,148,000	8,136,000
West Texas	2,411,000	2,494,000
North Louisiana-Arkansas	5,910,000	7,195,000
Totals	39,228,000	41,886,000

Shipments of motor fuel increased in gallons as follows:

Area—	Past Wk.	Prev. Wk.
Kansas	12,854,000	13,379,000
Oklahoma	15,503,000	12,130,000
N. C. Texas	8,846,000	7,399,000
West Texas	1,700,000	1,821,000
North Louisiana-Arkansas	6,051,000	6,786,000
Totals	45,054,000	40,515,000

Area—	Past Wk.	Prev. Wk.
Kansas	36,576,000	38,898,000
Oklahoma	42,809,000	44,494,000
N. C. Texas	31,731,000	33,429,000
West Texas	13,615,000	12,904,000
North Louisiana-Arkansas	5,600,000	5,541,000
Totals	129,431,000	135,267,000

Less Kerosene Stored

Here's the figures on kerosene, the principal burning oil product now in demand of mid-continent refiners, in gallons:

Area—	Past Wk.	Prev. Wk.
Kansas	2,399,000	2,121,000
Oklahoma	2,208,000	1,710,000
N. C. Texas	984,000	923,000
West Texas	33,000	.....
North Louisiana-Arkansas	417,000	375,000
Totals	6,041,000	5,129,000

Kerosene shipments increased 14.3 per cent as follows in gallons:

Area—	Past Wk.	Prev. Wk.
Kansas	3,583,000	2,603,000
Oklahoma	2,587,000	2,546,000
N. C. Texas	1,983,000	963,000
West Texas	16,000	12,000
North Louisiana-Arkansas	377,000	530,000
Totals	7,996,000	6,644,000

Area—	Past Wk.	Prev. Wk.
Kansas	4,156,000	5,290,000
Oklahoma	4,691,000	5,070,000
N. C. Texas	2,371,000	2,500,000
West Texas	42,000	25,000
North Louisiana-Arkansas	431,000	391,000
Totals	11,691,000	13,276,000

Production of stove distillate fell off 64.1 per cent, with a 25.2 per cent decline in shipments and a decrease of 16.7 per cent in stocks. Gas oil output increased 17.3 per cent, but shipments fell off 17.4 per cent and stocks increased 3.9 per cent. Fuel oil production declined 10.2 per cent, with a 6.1 per cent gain in shipments and 1.6 per cent increase in inventories.

The analysis showed that of the 39,288,000 gallons of gasoline made that 56.1 per cent was produced by straight run methods; 35.1 per cent by cracking and 8.8 per cent from natural gasoline.

Geological Map Of Texas Near Finish

AUSTIN, April 28.—In another year there will be available a complete geological map of Texas, made from surveys by the United States geological survey, in cooperation with the bureau of economic geology of the University of Texas, according to Dr. L. W. Stephenson of Washington who for the last several years has been in charge of the geological investigation on the upper cretaceous formation of the coastal plains of Texas for the United States geological survey.

Dr. Stephenson has been spending a few days in Austin in consultation with members of the staff of the university bureau of economic geology. The geological map of Texas will be of almost incalculable value to oil interests and others who may be seeking information in regard to the underground resources of the state.

Complete geological maps have been made of only a few of the states. The oil development of Texas created a great demand for information along these lines and this fact was the principal cause for the undertaking of the work, it was stated. The operations of oil companies in different fields and localities have brought to light valuable data that were made available in the making of the state-wide geological survey.

'Cyclone' Johnson to Oppose Extradition

AUSTIN, April 28. (UP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling's issuance of extradition papers for return of T. H. (Cyclone) Johnson from Gregg county to Oklahoma to answer a charge of disposing mortgaged property, will be contested before the court of criminal appeals here.

WILMOT POOL LOCATION

The old Wilmot pool, a few years past one of the district's most active areas, will soon again be listed as an active field. The Shappell Oil company has made location for a deep test and is erecting derrick. The test is contracted to 2500 feet and will be drilled 450 feet from the east and 150 feet south of the north line of block 7, G. N. Smith survey, abstract 303, A. Wilmot farm, Archer county.

Railroader Kills Man Over Payment of Note

HOUSTON, April 28. (INS)—H. B. Crowder, Houston police character, was shot to death about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon in a barbecue restaurant here, W. B. May, railroad man, surrendered voluntarily to police.

May told police that he recently was forced to pay a note for $400 which he had signed for Crowder. He saw Crowder in the barbecue stand and went in to demand payment.

Words ensued, May said, and Crowder reach for his pistol. Crowder was shot four times in the chest and died instantly.

The dead man, police said, has a long police record, including charges of bank robbery. A brother was killed about two years ago by another convict on one of the state prison farms.

HOUSE DOWNS HOOVER PLAN

Five-Day Week to Cut Pay Roll Rejected

WASHINGTON, April 28. (US)—By a teller vote of 176 to 159, the house late today rejected President Hoover's plan of cutting the federal pay roll through adoption of the five-day week for per diem workers and furloughs without pay for workers on an annual basis.

The Hoover plan was offered by Representative Ramseyer, Republican, of Iowa, in the form of an amendment to the $200,000,000 omnibus economy bill now under consideration by the house.

Previously the house had ripped $9,000,000 from the bill by rejecting the economy committee's provision for abolishment of Saturday half holidays now enjoyed by federal workers.

Amendment Adopted

Representative McCormack, Democrat, of Massachusetts, offered the amendment which was adopted, 148 to 118. Adoption of this amendment reduced the total savings in the bill from the $200,000,000 originally provided to $138,000,000.

And the house in rebellion against the leadership of both parties seemed bent upon eliminating other items from the measure.

Speaker John N. Garner told newspaper reporters the country expects congress to reduce expenditures. He said:

"We will see whether the house wants to accomplish this economy through adoption of the items in the economy bill.

"I am not especially concerned as to how the economies shall be effected. But I do insist that the expenses of the government must be reduced. We have made a start in that direction."

Stock Trader Who Makes More Money In Depression Called 'Mystery Man'

CHICAGO, April 28. (US)—Quiet, unassuming, between 50 and 60, the father of a daughter now married, and nicknamed "Lon Chaney" because of the stoop in his shoulders and because the "street" never knows when he will be acting as bull or bear, Thomas Montgomery Howell was the cause of many ripples of curiosity in La Salle and Wall streets today.

The man of mystery, who is reported to have made so much from stock market operations in a period of acute depression that his income tax for last year exceeded $1,000,000, was the focal point of "depression interest" here today, because of the senate quiz on market wizards at Washington.

Never Photographed

Never photographed by newspaper cameras, Howell is reported never to have had any photograph taken of himself. In fact, nothing is known of him that could be corroborated. He remains a man of mystery, reserved about his activities as he is about his beginnings as a financial wizard.

Directing transactions from his private offices in La Salle street directly across the street from the grain pit, which would be the Continental Illinois bank building, Howell is reputed to have made more millions during the depression as a bear operator, than he did as a bull during the period of inflation.

He is reputed to have whipped the trout pools of Rapidan with President Hoover, and to have played host to European nobility.

He owns an imposing town house at 2708 Lake View avenue, Chicago, a country estate near Barrington, Ill., and one of the largest and most luxuriously appointed yachts in American waters—The Thalia.

Legends of the street have been built up around him. He came to Chicago some 30 years ago. He had been a telegraph operator in Nebraska. Starting as an obscure trader on the old open board of trade—one of the "ten-dollar operators,"—he soon graduated to the big board.

REQUISITION HONORED

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 28. (AP)—A requisition for the return of Frank Burrell, escaped negro convict, from Lewisville, Ark., to Angleton, Brazoria county, Texas, was honored today. Burrell fled from the Texas penitentiary while serving a 20-year sentence for murder.

TWO KILLED BY LIGHTNING BOLT

Stroke Electrocutes Man And Baby Girl

BEAUMONT, Texas, April 28. (AP)—Gilbert Moss, about 30, and a 1-year-old daughter were killed by a bolt of lightning today six miles south of Raywood in Liberty county. Mrs. Moss, who was carrying the baby's twin sister, and several other children were not injured.

The family became alarmed when a storm was seen to be brewing and left their home in an attempt to reach the home of a brother, Leonard Moss, before the storm broke. Moss was carrying one of the twins and Mrs. Ross the other and the older children were following.

The bodies of Moss and his daughter were badly charred by the lighting and their clothing was torn into shreds.

The family lives in the farming community of Moss Bluff.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, April 28.—As one looks ahead to convention days in Chicago, it is reasonably clear that fixing up platform planks dealing with the economic crisis is going to be one of the big jobs for both parties.

CARTER GLASS

In general what is said on that subject may have little vote-getting effect. Except for things like the bonus angle, the electorate would not be apt to get up much heat over abstruce economics.

Even the silver issue of the nineties had to be dramatized by a striking figure like William Jennings Bryan.

Yet writing the economics of the stock market crash of 1929, and downward plunges thereafter, into the partisan literature of the platforms will be necessary to keep the party records straight. And in Senator Carter Glass of Virginia the Democrats favored an available man to do it.

Still a Driving Force

The thought is suggested by the voluminous report Senator Glass submitted to the senate on his bill to revise federal banking laws so as to set up permanent safeguards against any future similar panic.

The federal reserve act itself was similarly framed to prevent recurrence of such panics as that of 1907. Glass, then in the house, was the driving force behind that measure, as he is behind the present bill.

In between he served as treasury secretary. So the Virginian has a quarter century of intimate knowledge of the general subject on which to stand.

The Glass report of this year endeavors to picture authoritatively the forces that combined to bring about the crash of 1929.

From the summaries available, it appears that Senator Glass followed his invariable rule of nonpartisanship so far as his legislative activities are concerned.

Yet Senator Glass does not carry non-partisanship to political conventions.

And if Glass, as seems wholly likely, frames the Democratic platform presentation of the causes of the economic smash-up, it is perhaps to be expected that not only the Hoover, but the Coolidge administration possibly, will come in for blistering treatment.

A Constructive Report

A notable thing about the summaries of the Glass report is that they make no reference to comment by the senator to the effect that if this had been done or that had been done, things probably would not have been so bad. The treatment is purely constructive.

Yet there may be a wide field of possible criticism of government omissions or commissions awaiting Mr. Glass' attention when he steps out of his self-imposed role of nonpartisan legislator into that of vehement and colorful party warrior.

Graduation Program Made At Iowa Park

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, April 28.—Miss Florence Huff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Huff of Iowa Park, who has been a student in the Iowa Park schools for the past nine years, is valedictorian of the 1932 graduating class. Miss Alice Faye McKinney, next highest in grade, is the salutatorian and Miss Opal Ramsey is the giftorian. Vernon Coward made the highest grade for boys.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Cicero B. Fielder, pastor of the First Methodist church, at the auditorium of the First Baptist church, Sunday morning, May 22. Commencement exercises will be held at the W. F. George High school auditorium, Monday evening, May 23, at which time Supt. H. D. Fillers of Wichita Falls, will address the graduates.

Record News' Program for Wichita Falls

1. OIL—Place the Wichita Falls district on a parity with other centers in the marketing of both crude oil and refined products.
2. THE VALLEY—Systematic, vigorous development of the irrigated valley in keeping with its possibilities as Wichita Falls' greatest physical asset.
3. WATER—An ample, assured supply of soft water.
4. EDUCATION—Maintenance of a junior college in Wichita Falls to give opportunity for higher education to our youth—the highest standards in elementary schools.
5. THE LAKES—Full development of the recreational opportunities offered by the three lakes.
6. HIGHWAYS—Early consummation of a highway program covering all the main routes radiating from this city and all the local roads that serve its agricultural community.
7. DRAINAGE—Solution of the drainage problem in all three phases; first, in the irrigated valley; second, with regard to Holliday creek; third, in those portions of the city now inadequately drained.
8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

War debts may be a live topic in the United States, but France and England forgot all about them when they made up their new budgets.

Both marriages and divorces are decreasing, the census bureau says. That's easy. It's a cinch you can't have divorces without marriages.

We don't believe the rumor that members of the cabinet have been playing the short side of the market. We don't believe they're that smart.

We Must Take Our Chances

THE New Jersey gentleman who has asked President Hoover to make the local school authorities "quit bothering him" seems to be moved by an impulse that comes now and then to every parent.

This chap, as you may remember, refuses to send his children to school. He explains that on their way to school they might be hit by automobiles, or bitten by dogs; or they might fall in with wayward youngsters who would persuade them to play hookey. Failing that, attendance at school might well expose them to measles, chickenpox, whooping cough or what-not.

Consequently, since the way of a school child is encompassed about with so many perils, the New Jersey man has decided that the only safe thing is to keep his children at home all the time.

Probably there is not a parent in the land who has not, at one time or another, felt a little bit like doing the same thing. For, after all, this man is at least partly right. Going to school does involve risks. All of the horrible possibilities that this man foresaw really exist, and some of them really happen to children in every town in the land.

Unfortunately, however, that is the way this world is put together. Every path is beset with perils. The mere process of growing up, school or no school, is a dangerous business. Nowhere on earth is there such a thing as perfect safety. From birth to death we move through unpredictable chances, any one of which may strike us down at any moment.

But we have to make the best of it. We have to take our chances and trust to luck, to grow case-hardened so that we can accept partial security in place of the real thing; and this is especially true if we are going to move upward in any way and take part in the race's long and toilsome climb toward the peaks.

It would be nice if we could wrap our children in cotton and wool and protect them from all accidents. But it simply isn't possible. The desire for perfect safety is one desire that can never be gratified.

Bull Fights vs. Movies

THE bull fight is popularly supposed to be Mexico's favorite diversion; but a brief article in a theatrical magazine recently indicates that the movies have pushed the bull ring into a very poor second place.

During 1930, there were sold in Mexico City and its environs some 18,500,000 admissions to places of public amusement. Of these, almost 16,000,000 were tickets to the movies; and only 160,000 were tickets to bull fights.

Just what all of this proves is not entirely clear; in the United States, for example, the movies outdraw baseball by a wide margin, but baseball is far from losing its popularity. It does indicate, though, that the bull fight may not be quite as great an obsession with the Mexicans as we commonly suppose.

The Short Sellers

THE senate's investigation into the short sellers of Wall street is bringing out some interesting facts, but it would be a mistake to put too much emphasis on the disclosures.

After all, it is perfectly obvious by this time that the depression was not caused by the malign influences of conscienceless stock market operators who spread ruin by depressing stock prices below their normal levels. The causes go a whole lot deeper than that, and unfortunately there is no such simple remedy available as a mere prohibition of short sales.

In the main, declining stock prices have been a fairly accurate reflection of the state of industry's general health. To try to blame the whole business on Wall street schemers is to delude one's self badly.

SO THEY SAY!

The outstanding disgrace of America is the unhealthy and indecent housing and sanitary conditions of our slums and many of our homes. There are billions of dollars worth of sound, self-supporting and profitable projects of construction that await approval and the impulse to get under way.—Francis Lee Stuart, ex-president, American Society of Civil Engineers.

In my opinion, and in the opinion of a majority of the people, there is entirely too much advertising and sales talk over the radio. Instead of this situation improving, it has been growing steadily worse. —Congressman E. L. Davis of Tennessee, chairman of the house committee on merchant marine, radio and fisheries.

A law may be said to be enforced when a majority of the people obey it and a majority of the prosecutions under it result in convictions. Undoubtedly, prohibition is meeting that standard.—Senator Morris Sheppard, author of the 18th amendment.

I am distinctly in favor of a national referendum on prohibition whenever the people demand it in the form provided in the constitution. —William E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson, dry crusader.

A Columnist, Who Can't Afford A Sec'y, Jots a Few Notes To Himself, the Madman

Dear P. Y.: I ordered the aspirin. . . . It is being crated today and will be shipped tomorrow aft. . . . I also canceled your suite at the hotel. . . . You'll have no more use for it. . . . But don't let that worry your, there's a lot of people who aren't columnists these days who are talking to themselves. . . . Grant Withers called to say that Alice Joyce's photo was right along side his in that Philly speak. . . . Why does Peggy Joyce glare at you that way? . . . Was it the "depression note" you ran about her in The Little Red Book? . . . Jimmy Durante long-distanced to offer his congrats and tell you he just can't wait until he gets back to Garbo. . . . The Manhattan telephone directory carries a 'copyright" line, so be careful when you quote from it. . . . Rian James carried the McCoy on the Mon. gossip column in his Tuesday shaft. . . . thanked him, and told him you got a great kick reading his "Love Is A Racket". . . . You did, didn't you? . . . Or was it I who read it? . . . Do you mind if I use some of your aspirin? . . . Murison Dunn cabled to say that because the Belgrade Illust. Weekly said Velomir Yankovitch's new play was "incompetent twaddle," a judge sentenced the paper's owners to five days in jail. . . . I sent copies to Peggy Fears and John Anderson.

There's a funny break in that John Bennett screemie at the Roxy this wk. . . . You see the lovely lady carousing in a 30th floor re-penthouse speak . . . and a few minutes later when the jernt is raided, she is taken along with the other guests out of a basement door. . . . Maybe the whole thing is worked on elevators like orchestras. . . . Another madman phoned to say that detectives traced the supposedly dead Ivar Kreuger to Smyrna by the cigars he smokes. . . . It's a special brand that is sold only on rare occasions. . . . I asked him how he knew about the story, and he said he saw it in a guvment radio from London. . . . Russell Patterson dropped in to say that the reason artists grow long hair is not because of poverty but because the hard, sharp lines left by the barber offends their aesthetic senses. . . . But there's nothing wrong with Russell. . . . Do you mind if I admire him?

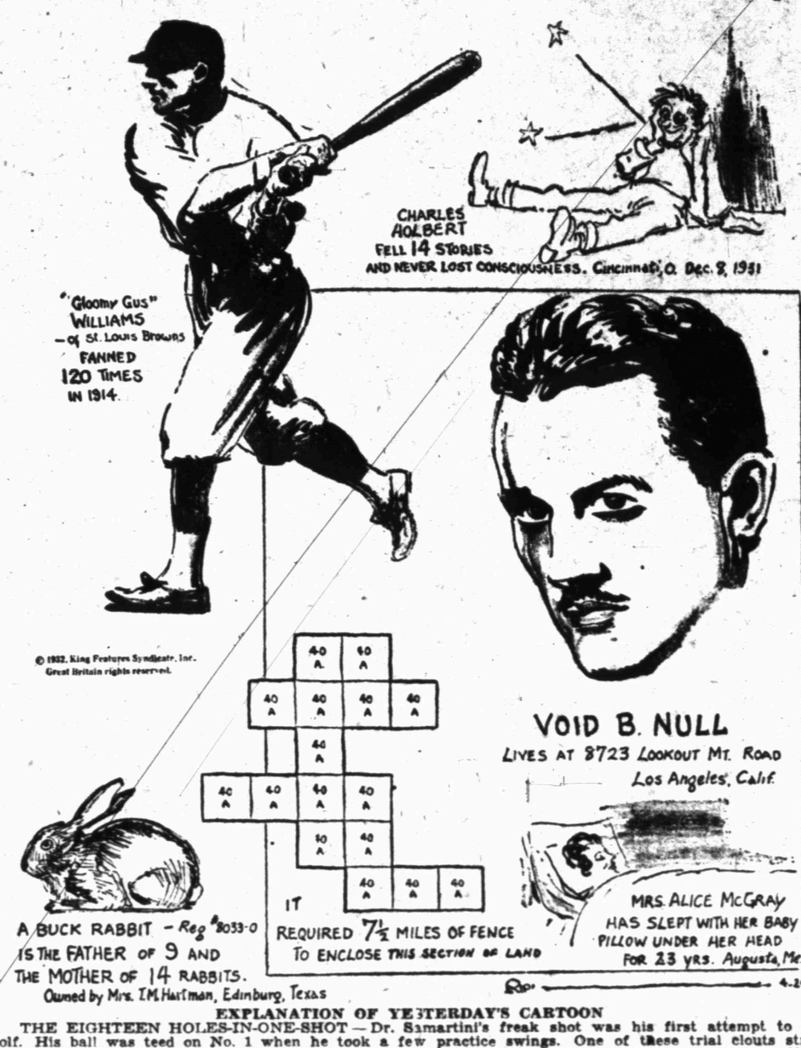

Too bad about Eisenstein, the Russian director. . . . He sailed for Europe today without having had a chance to show his stuff in Stallywood. . . . Is the guvment afraid of the Red influence? . . . Walter Wanger phoned to say goodbye. . . . He's leaving for the coast and will live in one of Marion Davies' shore palaces. . . . Said to tell you that you could use the ocean in front of his house for a swim any time you happen to be in Hollywood. . . . I told Jim Warden Lawes had also offered you the hospitality of the electric chair at Sing Sing any time you needed a rest. . . . Which reminds me that Paul Forrest defines the Hot Seat as a "monument to Franklin's labors and Edison's ingenuity" . . . And that's high-class defining, if you ask me. . . . But you never ask me! . . . That evening tabber who is always so ready to rib you about his items, hints today about the Altar Work of Genie Fursa and Milton Raison. . . . You did the same thing three days ago. . . . I thought you'd like to know.

The phonies have a new racket they pull on the dawn spots. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Smoothie walk in and announce they have been appointed by a club to arrange for its annual blow-out. . . . They leave a check for $100 on a Jersey bank. . . . And the prop., overjoyed at the unexpected business, invites them to remain for dinner. . . . Of course, the check comes back marked NB (No Bank) . . . Ask Meyer Horowits of the Village Barn —they nicked him for dinners twice in one wk. . . . Did you know that the cat is nowhere mentioned in the St. James version of the Bible? . . . Or didn't you even know about the Bible? . . . Eddie Moran phoned to tell you that the reason people go to the Mayfair on Sat. nights is to learn how to hate their favorite movie star. . . . Or is that a reflection on the Hollywooing couples? . . . Nick of the Astor called to say he is putting the finishing touches on his script: Thirty Years a Headwaiter on Bway. . . . Seems to me that's a long time to be taking insults from the mad-eaters.

Jules Glaenzer, the Cartier man, is in town from the Tahiti cruise and complains that all the South Sea dames have bad teeth and large feet. . . . Kendall Lee, his wife, is more gorgeous than ever. . . . Say something nice about Russell Owen's story in the Times yestidday on the Fortescue case. . . . It thrilled me all the way in on the subway. . . . That fella can write, all right. . . . But, of course, not as well as you, boss. . . . A Mr. Turner of the Chatham-Phenix rang to deny that Louis G. Kaufman Jr. and Dorothy Dilley had Crossed Reads. . . . I liked his voice and told him you'd be glad to deny it. . . . The money you sent to be deposited never got to the bank. . . . The office boy says he dropped it in a chewing gum slot. . . . Wally Sullivan, the wag, sauntered in. . . . He said that Anatole Friedland, who is producing the cond. version of 50 Million Frenchmen, is opening with 25 Million, cutting the thing to the bone. . . . Paid my way in to see those alleged naughty pictures of female nudes on Bway and was glad to get out of the place. . . . They say that Mildred Harris Chaplin is being groomed for a sensational burlesque tour. . . . She's a deserving gal if ever there was one. . . . Can you get Jimmy, the crippled newsie at 72nd St. and Eway, an introduction to Connie Boswell? . . . He says it would be worth 10 yrs. of his life, poor lad.

When Elinor Smith asked Edgar Allen, who is block-aiding on Times Square, to fly over the city with her for the cause tomorrow, he refused. . . . "Not me," said Edgar, "I have to be on the ground to collect the money." . . . Velma called. . . . I thanked Dr. Michel and Bessie Mack, the Capitol exploiter, for you. . . . Also Louis Sobol. . . . Walter Duke, the tobacco scion, is plague-ing his appen. at the Presbyterian Hosp. . . . Borrah Minnevitch, with whom you spent those Hot Afternoons in Paree last yr., called. . . . He got tired after spelling his name and wouldn't leave a message. . . . I couldn't get that St. Louis call through to your folks. Sorry . . . I saw P. 56 of the May Movie Classic. . . . How you raye! . . . —Your Best Friend, Paul Yawitz.

The Story of an Unemployed Girl

CHAPTER XXXIX

G—I—R—L—S!

Come and live with us.

The sign outside of the "Girls' Home" beckoned like a friendly hand to Lillian and Eve as they trudged along the pavement lugging their suitcases.

They walked into the building and across nicely polished floors to a woman sitting at a desk.

"Good afternoon," smiled the woman, although it was after six o'clock. "Anything I might do for you?"

"Yes, please," Eve began. "We only have a dollar and a half between us. We can't afford much for a room, because that is all we have. We owe our landlady some back rent and she is beginning to be unpleasant about it and—"

"I understand. We have many such cases—" her eyes had gone to Lillian and she saw Lillian wince at the word "case." "I'm sorry. Didn't mean to embarrass you. What I mean is we have taken care of hundreds of jobless girls, helped them—"

Eve and Lillian smiled at her.

"Is that all the money you have with you?" the woman asked, looking from one to the other girl.

They both said, "Yes."

"Then I guess I could take care of you for 60 cents."

"OH . . . " escaped Lillian.

"You mean just for one night?" asked Eve.

"What's the matter, dear?" purred the woman.

"Nothing . . . execpt I was just figuring. Sixty cents. That's over a third of all we have in the world . . . but if that what you charge here I guess that's about as well as we could do anywhere in New York."

Lillian was thinking that that was Saturday night, too, and they could not go job hunting on Sunday. Yet they would have to eat on Sunday . . . and sleep again Sunday night.

"Sign here, please," the woman said, pushing a card across the desk at them. They both signed.

"Do you have references?" she asked.

Eve had several. Lillian had none. "I'll give you a reference for Miss Blane, if you like," Eve said, looking the woman straight in the eyes.

"I guess that will not be necessary," the woman said. "But we do require the name of your nearest relative or friend, that we may notify them in case of mergency."

Eve gave the name of her cousin in Memphis. Lillian made up a name of an aunt in Canada. And she reminded herself that in case of emergency her parents had rather not hear about it, if it had to happen in a girls' home in New York, in a 60-cent room!

"Have you girls any kind of a job in view?" the woman asked.

And to their eagerness she answered: "If you really need work badly I thought perhaps you might see our Miss Webb or Miss Finley at our other houses, uptown and in Brooklyn."

If they really needed work . . . yet they had told her they had only a dollar and a half between them, and were behind with their room rent . . . yet she seemed so calm, with her forced pleasantness.

"Now, you pay in advance, please," she said.

Well, there was no chance to get behind with your room rent there.

She gave Eve a key and directed an elevator girl to show them to their room.

They picked up their suit cases and started to follow the elevator girl. Their eyes fell on a display of candies and cakes temptingly arranged under a glass.

But chocolate bars, which would be nourishing and rich, were 10 cents. That would be too extravagant. Peanut butter crackers were only a nickel. They bought two packages of those.

Then they followed the elevator girl and went to their little room on the fourth floor.

"They serve breakfast in the cafeteria between 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning. You can get coffee and doughnuts for 10 cents," the girl volunteered.

In the new room the walls were tinted a rich beige, the curtains were crisp and clean and the bed was disguised as a couch with a gayly colored spread. There was a small table with some movie magazines and two lights sporting cheerful golden shades.

They were impressed with the air of cleanliness and color.

"No use to unpack. We'll be moving tomorrow," said Eve, "if we can find a cheaper place."

Lillian supposed Eve was right. But she was hungry. She passed one package of the peanut butter crackers to Eve and opened the other.

"By nibbling instead of chewing they'll last longer," Eve suggested.

Their dime meal finished they went downstairs again. At least for a few hours they knew they were to be warm, comfortable, even if there was a gnawing in their stomachs that water and thin crackers refused to stop.

There was a living room, they discovered, to the right of the elevator. It was comfortably furnished, with ordinary wicker furniture, rugs, a little worn, and several beautiful graceful ferns.

A radio was going and a group of girls sat near.

There was a homelike atmosphere about the warm room. And the girls appeared cheerful as they sat about listening to some crooner.

As Lillian and Eve approached the circle several made room for them, on the couch and on the floor.

"Are you going to live here?" one girl asked Eve.

"For tonight," Eve said.

"I see," said the girl, her eyes serious. "Looking for jobs?"

Eve nodded.

"Me, too," she said, "no joke."

Lillian hoped they wouldn't get into a discussion of job hunting. She was nervous and on the verge of tears. She knew Eve was, too.

The radio started up a new tune. A merry tune. It made Lillian shut her eyes to hold in the tears. The tune tore her heart. It was so happy—and she was so sad.

The crooner took it for his own. His voice was slow, soft, terribly sweet . . .

". . . you forget your gloves when you kissed me and said goodnight. "So I brought them to you as you wanted me to and it's quite all right . . ."

She wanted to be happy. Happy again. To forget about heart broken people, poverty-stricken people . . . wanted to dance, wear bright clothes, perfume . . . stockings without holes . . . all of those things seemed so far away . . . so out of reach.

The strained little faces of the girls about her seemed unreal when she opened her eyes. She shut them quickly . . . praying for the magic of the crooner and the music to take her away again from the tension, the crestfallen expressions of those girls . . .

"If you girls are game—you looked like you would be. I noticed you when you came in . . . well, we could go together, see?"

The brunette girl, siting crouched on the floor near Eve's chair, was talking. She was talking to Eve.

"We could make some money. It's Saturday night. And there's always a crowd. I made enough last Saturday night to pay my whole week's room rent . . ."

Lillian listened.

"Taxi dancing. It's sorta fun. There's a place down in the Village . . . wanna come along? We could get back here by 12 or 1 . . . you get a nickel a dance. The fellow pays a dime and you get half of it some places, that is. But they tip you here in the Village . . . and I don't want to pay car fare to go to the one on Broadway . . . how about it . . . going to the taxi dance place here in the Village?"

It seemed so long ago that Lillian was a professional hostess . . . and right then it seemed absurd—that she had hated it so!

Bank Bandit Conducts 'School' For Timid Apprentice In Raid

LANSING, Ill., April 28. (AP)—The bandit who robbed the Oak Glen Trust and Savings bank was disgusted.

He was conducting a one-man school in practical bank robbery but his pupil was so dumb and so nervous he all but spoiled the holdup.

"Open the drawer, you lug," shouted the machine gunner as he joined his companion in the cashier's cage. "We can't stay here all day."

Together the pair managed to sweep the cash, about $5,000, into a brief case, but as they stepped out of the cage toward the bank's vault the pupil's pistol arm was shaking so violently he accidentally discharged the weapon, the bullet going harmlessly into the floor.

They were still arguing about the pupil's inability as they drove away in an automobile.

Large Mail Order House Goes to Receivers' Hands

NEW YORK, April 28. (INS)—The Irving Trust company was today appointed equity receiver for the National Bellas Hess Co., Inc., the third largest mail order house in the country, by Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman on a petition filed in the federal district court by Herbert McHerney, a stockholder.

The complaint stated that the appointment of a receiver was necessary for the protection of the corporation's assets, and that it was unable to continue to operate its retail stores at a profit owing to present economic condition without the impairment of capital.

The corporation filed an answer admitting the allegations and consented to the receivership.

Q.—How much capital is invested in the aircraft industry in the United States?—D. M.

A.—The Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce says that in 1929 the value of the assets of American aircraft companies was close to $500,000,000. Liquidation and writing down of values according to the New York Trust company, today gives a figure of from $300,000,000 to $350,000,000.

Q.—How did it come about that graduation exercises were called commencement?—D. L.

A.—Originally it was really a commencement as it marked the inception of the pupil graduate as a teacher and his recognition as such by his master and other members of the profession.

Q.—Where is Corn island?—D. L.

A.—The Corn islands are a group of two small islands in the Caribbean sea some distance off the coast of Little Corn island. They were leased from the Nicaraguan government for 99 years by the treaty of Aug. 5, 1914, whereby Nicaragua also granted the right to the United States of constructing a canal across her territory. Although by treaty empowered to do so, this government has never obtained governmental control of the islands which are still governed by a native Nicaraguan.

Q.—What is the meaning of the expression, from A to Izzard?—N. R.

A.—It means from beginning to end. A being the first letter of the alphabet and izzard being an old designation for Z.

A.—Dr. W. S. Weir Mitchell is credited with it. As early as 1875 he advocated a rest-curt for cases of nerveus prostration and conditions characterized by poor blood and lack of muscular and nervous tone.

Q.—How many of the Chinese people could be classed as well-to-do?—D. E. L.

A.—China has a population in excess of 450,000,000. While about 90 per cent of the people is poor, it leaves the significant number of 45,000,000 or more who are fairly well off, while some are rich. It might be said that China has in normal times about 10,000,000 well-to-do families.

Q.—Is the state of Florida east or west of the Panama canal?—E. M.

Q.—What is nipa?—T. H.

A.—This is a Spanish word from Malay. nipah and refers to a palm of the genus Nypa. The tree is of low stature, with long pinnate leaves, which yield a fibre useful for thatching, mat-making, and for tropical hats. The seeds are edible, and the sap yields wine. The nipa palm is common in certain parts of Luzon in the Philippines.

Q.—Who was the American jockey who revolutionized flat racing style?—S. N.

A.—James Todhunter Sloan, popularly known as Tod Sloan. This Kokomo, Ind., jockey probably exercised more influence on flat racing than any other single individual on the turf. He introduced the shortened stirrup and rode forward on the horse's neck. No horse, ridden in the old English fashion, could hope to compete with Sloan's mounts. He first was taken to England in the '90s by Lord William Beresford.

Q.—What kind of cages were first used in basket ball?—C. I.

A.—The first cages were tall cone-shaped peach baskets used in general merchandising in that era. Thus the game got its name.

Q.—Is there a bill in prospect turning all homestead lands back to the states?—R. B.

A.—The general land office says that there are several bills being considered to turn the federal public land back to the states which will accept it. The federal government will retain the mineral rights, howeve, and it is thought that very few of the states will care to take the land back unless the mineral rights are also returned. There has been no legislation enacted along this line up to date.

NEW STORE TO OPEN SATURDAY

Gouchie Bros. Grocery One Of City's Finest

Offering a new source of high class food supplies to citizens of Wichita Falls, Gouchie Brothers grocery and market will be opened Saturday morning at 3002 Seymour road at Hayes street.

The grocery and market has been refinished and decorated for the opening in a well lighted building with ample space arranged for the convenience of the buying public. A feature offered by the store is adequate parking space for shoppers.

The Gouchie brothers are veterans of the grocery and market business and have set an aim of maintaining a high quality of courtesy and service established by years of serving Wichita Falls people.

David Gouchie has been with the White House market for 11 years and is well known to the public as is Frank Gouchie, a veteran of eight years experience in the grocery business. The third brother, W. G. (Bill) Gouchie recently completed three years employment as salesman with Sprague, Warner & Co. He previously was with the Gate City grocery for eight years. All of the brothers are native Texans and are long-time residents of this city.

A complete new stock has been placed in the new fixtures of the store, representing the highest quality meats, vegetables and canned foods that the markets afford.

Delivery service will be an added service offered the public by Gouchie brothers.

Lee Garrett of this city is in charge of the meat department of the new business and is a veteran of nine years' experience in meat cutting. He has previously served the public with the J. B. Whitman store and with Williams Department store meat department.

Mr. Garrett will continue his record of doing his utmost to please the buying public and will offer the choicest qualities of meat at the market.

Narcotics Worth $10,000 Found in Wrecked Car

SPRINGVILLE, Ala., April 28. (INS)—Narcotics valued at $10,000 were found in an automobile forced from the highway and wrecked today by officers pursuing the machine on suspicions that it contained liquor.

J. J. Harris, Martin Smoot, W. T. Parks and E. T. Mulvey, occupants of the automobile, were arrested.

Fishery Bureau Officer Explains Designs Of State Game Fish Laws

Various States Legislated to Give Conservation of Denizens of Streams According to Need

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, April 28.—One method of determining when a blue law is not true blue but merely apparently so as a means of protective coloration is to consult the game fish laws of the several states. Ever so often metropolitan newspapers poke fun at law officers for hailing before the courts and fining some luckless fisherman who has been caught making a catch on Sunday. Editorials are written on the one hand to the effect that it is time the nation repealed its outworn Puritanical blue laws, enacted at a period of intolerance, and vouchsafed hard-working people a little personal liberty. On the other hand, other editorials are written pointing out that only by strict enforcement of such well-grounded statutes can the people be restored to godliness and the good life and the nation be spared.

Favorite Fishing Day

All the time neither knows the subject, for the blue laws forbidding Sunday fishing in some of the states are pure fish conservation measures and have nothing to do with the Lord's day one way or another. Except, possibly, for the circumstance that experience has taught the game wardens, charged with the protection of wild life, that more people go fishing on Sunday than any other day.

"A Summary of Game Fish Laws" for 1932 which has been compiled by Talbott Denmead, law enforcement officer of the United States bureau of fisheries, explains this and other recondite matters relating to the piscatorial statutes of the several states. Pennsylvania, for example, forbids fishing on Sunday and from Pennsylvania come, probably, the most frequent newspaper reports concerning how this person or that was arrested for the offense. The law of Pennsylvania, in order to conserve the fish in the streams, has a weekly closed season of one day and it so happens the day is Sunday.

Stopped Fish Raids

Pennsylvania has a long border marching with Maryland and both states are well served with fishable streams, some of which cross the line or nearly parallel it. It was found that Pennsylvania Waltons had contracted the habit of stepping over into Maryland to fish the free state streams on Sunday out of respect to Pennsylvania's law. Maryland thereupon enacted a statute forbidding a citizen of any state which forbids Sunday fishing to fish on Sunday in Maryland. This forecloses not only the Pennsylvanians but others in like case. Nor was Maryland's law prompted by Puritan blueness in the conventional sense. Marylanders merely thought so much of their fish that they did not want the people of Pennsylvania raiding them on Sundays.

Conservation of Game Fish

Mr. Denmead's summary has a wealth of over interesting and curious material in it and reveals clearly that American legislators have spent many hours of thought on the problem of conserving game fish. It reveals with equal clarity that fishermen have spent many hours of thought on the problem of evading obvious prohibitions and finding new or reviving old ways of catching fish.

For example, the state of Kentucky finds it necessary to forbid shooting of fish with bow and arrow. Previously, of course, it had provided against the taking of game fish in other more obvious ways but resourceful Kentuckians, harking back to the earlier days of the state, bethought them of the bow and arrow and joined fishing to archery with such good results that a specific prohibition had to be included.

Allen Can't Fish

The people of the states take great pride in their fish and treat them like true born Americans. For example, Pennsylvania and West Virginia absolutely forbid an alien to fish. If the Prince of Wales came along he could not cast a line in either of those states until he renounced his title and became a naturalized United States citizen. He would not be permitted to take out a license. The thought creeps in that the legislators of these jurisdictions disliked the idea of all those foreign-born coal miners, many of whom still have alien status, fishing the streams. West Virginia, where the coal mine districts have had a good deal of experience with heavily armed Baldwin guards, also prohibits the taking of fish with gun, rifle or pistol.

The game fish laws of Idaho sound a bit queer to an Easterner. They prohibit fishing from horseback. For that matter, the law says, one may not catch fish while sitting on a horse or any other animal. The legislators appeared to fear the specter of a rapacious fisherman dashing into a stream mounted on a bull moose or a giraffe and depleting the waters. Actually, Mr. Denmead points out, there is an advantage in fishing from a height and cowboys, who are practically fastened to their saddles anyhow, acquired the habit of casting from their mounts.

Conditions Differ

Iowa law does not countenance trolling from a boat for game fish, although this practice is quite common in other states. Colorado has a fish preservation measure which forbids lowering the level of water artificially to the detriment of fish. In the South this would not work at all. In Alabama, for instance, there are facilities in the Muscle Shoals district for lowering the water every 10 days as a measure of mosquito control. Fish life is damaged by this practice, according to Mr. Denmead, but the lives of the Southerners are imperiled by the mosquitoes and so far the human beings have been accorded the better protection.

A great many states will not permit certain game fish to be sold. This means that only sportsmen are likely to fish the streams. A professional fisherman, fishing for the market would be stopped on trying to sell. Some states permit sale of game fish in their markets but only if caught in other states.

Dynamiting Forbidden

Dynamiting water to bring dead or stunned fish to the surface wholesale is universally condemned and Georgia takes this lack of sportsmanship so seriously as to impose a $1,000 fine or a year's term on the chain gang or both for the crime. It is like shooting a fox in England. Georgia has the most drastic game fish laws in the entire country, with fines and chain gang sentences for other infractions besides dynamiting.

Mr. Denmead's summary tells of many other measures taken by the states and supplemented by the federal government to preserve game fish and gives some information regarding Canadian laws.

The laws, it is explained, have not been enacted for the fun of ordering sportsmen around or to collect fines. Species of fish which once swam American waters already are extinct or nearly so and others would have been exterminated had steps not been taken. In order to conserve the natural resources on which fish stories depend, the government had to arrange for some of them to get away.

VITAMIN B IN BRAN. RESEARCH REVEALS

Also Has "Bulk" to Further Assist Elimination, and Iron for Blood

One of the functions of Vitamin B is to help tone the intestinal tract, and promote elimination. Now, laboratory experiments show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains this valuable vitamin.

In addition, ALL-BRAN brings a plentiful supply of "bulk"—which provides the "ballast" needed to exercise the intestines.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it is different from the way you see it in the package. It absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, milder, more palatable.

Another healthful element brought by ALL-BRAN is iron. Tests show this cereal has twice as much usable iron as the same weight of beef liver.

Check common constipation—with its frequent headaches, loss of appetite and energy—by eating this delicious cereal. How much pleasanter than taking pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

PAIR JAILED IN ROBBERIES

Two Suspected of Kidnaping Muskogee Woman

MUSKOGEE, Okla., April 28. (UP)—Two men held here for questioning in several Muskogee robberies are believed to be two of the three men sought for questioning in the slaying of Ovie McCracken, Muncie, Ind., patrolman, Police Chief John Wolsey said today.

The pair was tentatively identified as the men who kidnaped Mrs. C. B. Taggard here a week ago and robbed her of $1,800 she had withdrawn from her postal savings. They were questioned also in connection with two Muskogee filling station robberies. They were arrested yesterday at Pryor.

The men gave their names as A. L. Nance and L. H. O'Neill, Berrian Springs, Ind. They were said to have prison records in Fort Wayne, Ind. Nance served four years in the Tennessee penitentiary for attempted murder, officers said.

Chicken Thief Loses Diamond in Henhouse

CLARENDON, Texas, April 28. (AP)—The moral of this story is that "crime doesn't pay", although in this case the violator is still at large.

A thief who removed several hens from the poultry yard of Mrs. George Lutz lost a ring containing a small diamond said to be worth several times as much as the chickens.

New Bridge Planned Over Canadian River

AMARILLO, Texas, April 28. (AP)—A new bridge may be constructed across the Canadian river on highway No. 5 in Potter county to replace the 19-year-old steel and wood bridge now in use.

Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, on a recent visit to the Panhandle, inspected the bridge and advised Potter county commissioners that he would recommend an immediate survey and an estimate of costs on a new structure.

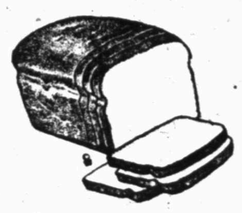

The old bridge has never been condemned, but it has been carrying heavy traffic a good many years.

Potter county has just completed a new stretch of paving from Amarillo creek to the river bridge from the south, and construction is under way north of the bridge to the Moore county line.

WENTZ FILES OUSTER SUIT

Former Highway Head Calls Successor 'Usurper'

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28. (UP)—Naming Miss Maude O. Thomas, appointee of Gov. W. H. Murray, as an "usurper," attorneys for Lew H. Wentz today filed a district court ouster suit to force Miss Thomas to give up her place on the state highway commission.

John H. Miley, Wentz' attorney, said he hoped to get an immediate hearing on the case, which was seen as paving the way to a clear-cut decision as to the right of the governor to remove Wentz from the commission and appoint Miss Thomas in his place.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

L. F.—I have $500 in the bank which I want to put into a good stock. I was considering the purchase of Paramount-Publix but would like your opinion in the matter. I am a mechanic, working steadily, with one dependent.

Answer—Paramount-Publix is prominent in the motion picture industry but the stock is a speculation. Stockholders received 2½ per cent in stock Sept. 30, 1931, in lieu of former cash payments in varying amounts from 1919, and a similar payment was distributed Dec. 31, 1931; nothing since. Net earnings for nine months ended Oct. 3, 1931, were $2.32 a share, contrasted with $4.60 in like 1930 period. Net for year ended Dec. 27, 1930, was $5.90 a share. In 10 years, including 1930, annual earnings averaged about $5 a share. The bank is the only place for your slender capital. Do not buy securities which would pay you nothing.

Mrs. W. R. Dallas, Texas—I have owned New York Telephone preferred for a number of years. Can I depend on the dividends in the future?

Answer—In earnings of $141.30 a share in 1931, $121.92 in 1930, and an annual average of $121 a share in the 10 years including 1931, there is ample assurance for believing that you will continue to receive dividends of $6.50 a share yearly on New York Telephone preferred. The company is an important unit of the Bell system, operating in New York state and in part of Connecticut. Through ownership of all outstanding common stock, the company is controlled by American Telephone and Telegraph.

J. G., Wichita Falls, Texas—How do you regard General Mills preferred?

Answer—General Mills, Inc., $6 preferred is considered an attractive business man's investment. Yield at recent price of 87 is 6.9 per cent. For the fiscal year ended May 31, 1931, earnings were equal to $16.44 a share compared with $20.03 in 1930 and $18.96 in 1929. Call price is 115. The company has no funded debt nor any preferred other than this issue which amounts to $23,544,000. According to last annual report financial condition was strong, current assets of $30,762,827, including $10,895,961 in cash, compared with current liabilities of $5,161,019. Earnings for the current fiscal year are expected to compare very favorably with the preceding year.

J. K.—I have not much money, but can afford to buy 10 shares Remington Rand first preferred. Is it a good investment?

Answer—Though Remington Rand is a large manufacturer of office equipment, directors found it expedient to omit the Jan. 2 quarterly dividends on both issues of preferred stock. Common dividends were suspended April 1, 1931. Operations for nine months, ended Dec. 31, 1931, resulted in a net loss of $2,215,943, compared with profit of $1,480,566 in similar 1930 period. Earnings applicable to the first preferred stock for fiscal year ended March 31, 1931, were $3.38 a share. Where there is no income, there is no investment.

Mrs. J. R., Graham, Texas.—What is your opinion of Grigsby-Grunow common stock?

Answer—Grigsby-Grunow reported a net loss of $2,170,000 for the fiscal year ended May 31, 1931, as against net income of $1,746,000 in the preceding 12 months. For the seven months ended Dec. 31, 1931, net loss amounted to $2,901,805. Conditions in the radio industry do not lend themselves to profitable operations and improvement in this field is likely to be long delayed. Likewise, keen competition and reduced demand have resulted in elimination of profit margin for Majestic Household Utilities corporation, a subsidiary of Grigsby-Grunow. The company's balance sheet dated Dec. 31, 1931, showed total current assets of $4,177,766, including $841,179 in cash, as compared with total current liabilities of $1,079,291. Stock is highly speculative.

G. L., Wichita Falls, Texas.—What can you tell me about current earnings of Drug, Inc., common stock? Do you consider it a good investment?

Answer—Earnings of Drug, Inc., probably will not decline drastically during the first half of 1932. Unofficial estimate is that per share earnings during this period will approximate $2.50, as compared with $3.04 in the like 1931 period. Virtually the entire net will be accounted for by the manufacturing division; practically nothing is being earned by the retail stores. However, the management is attempting to establish the latter upon a more profitable basis through labor economies and substantial rental reductions. It is understood also that some alleviation of the keenly competitive situation in this field recently has occurred. This branch of the business is a valuable asset to Drug, Inc., in that it affords an outlet for manufactured goods. While United Drug, a subsidiary, has a relatively large funded debt outstanding, fixed charges are being earned comfortably. The organization produces a diversified line of drug and allied products, the most important of which are Bayer Aspirin, Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, Vick's Vaporub, etc. The stock is regarded favorably as a business man's income producer.

S. C. S., Abilene, Texas—Please furnish me with latest earnings of Aluminum Company of America. What are prospects for this year?

Answer—Reflecting the generally reduced rate of business activity during the past year, particularly in such industries as the automotive and electrical equipment, net income of Aluminum Company of America was equivalent to a deficit of $2.88 on the common, as against profits equal to $1.93 a share in the preceding year. While an increase in cash and the value of marketable securities was reported at the close of the past year, the latter item probably was carried at cost rather than at market. In addition, bills payable increased from $5,252,500 at the end of 1930 to $23,050,000 as of Dec. 31, 1931. Considering the coin earnings during the current year tinuance of depressed trade conditions, little, if any, improvement is in prospect.

I understand Procter & Gamble's earnings are falling off. Would you advise me to sell my stock now?

Answer—Procter & Gamble is apparently beginning to feel the effects of reduced consumer purchasing power and increased competition. Tonnage volume of sales was about 6 per cent lower in the first six months of the current fiscal year than in the corresponding period 12 months earlier, while dollar volume (reflecting the trend of consumption from higher to lower priced and less profitable lines) was off to a materially greater extent. The Crisco division suffered more than the soap lines as a result of severe competition from lard (which is now selling near 5 cents a pound as against 20 cents for the former product). These factors accounted for a 24 per cent recession in earnings in the six months ended Dec. 31, last, to $1.37 a share against $1.84 in like 1930 period. The common stock around 39 is not outstandingly cheap in relation to income, but the company's strong financial position, long term possibilities, and the adequate yield from a fairly assured dividend, warrant retention of investment holdings.

What is your opinion of Union Bag and Paper stock?

Answer—Largely as a result of extensive manufacturing economies, 1931 operations of Union Bag and Paper company resulted in a profit, the first since 1925. Net income amounted to 77 cents a share after inventory-write-offs, as against a deficit of $1.06 in 1930. However, under prevailing low prices and keen competition in the trade the medium term outlook for sustained earnings expansion is not promising. Paying no dividends the stock must be considered a speculation.

Please tell me what Vanadium earned in 1931. What is the outlook?

Answer—Although no official figures will be available regarding results of Vanadium Corporation of America's 1931 operations until March, a substantial deficit is estimated. Current indications are that business for the first six months of 1932 will be no better than that for the last six months of 1931. It is generally believed in trade circles that total steel ingot production for 1932 will not equal that for the past year and continued unfavorable earnings are in prospect for Vanadium. All mines of the company are closed, while plants are being manned by a small force. Deliveries for sales requirements are being made out of inventories, and it will probably be midyear before the company is able to determine whether mines and plants will be opened to replenish inventories.

Mrs. A. F., Amarillo—How can I invest $100 to bring more than savings bank interest? This is money saved during the past year from household expenses.

Answer—The proper place for the money you have saved so painstakingly is right where it is, in the savings bank. There would be no advantage in putting this limited amount in a standard security. Be content with savings bank interest and continue to build up the fund.

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

From Quanah

"Dear Rambler:

"I have an argument on how Eddie Moore throws, right or left-handed. I think I am right. I say he throws right-handed. I have a gallon of whisky bet on his throwing. I will bring you a drink when I come to see the Spudders."

You lose your gallon of whisky, Mr. Quanah Fan. Eddie Moore both bats and throws left-handed.

But don't let that keep you from coming to see the Spudders; and incidentally, my office hours are from 2 till 2. Toodle-do.

All-Stars Play

Sike Smith, manager of the Burkburnett All-Stars, writes in to announce his team will play the Comanche, Okla., Indians on the Burkburnett diamond Sunday afternoon. The boys expect quite a good game.

"Most Unsporting"

American prohibition authorities have definitely refused to allow French athletes competing in the Olympics this summer to have their daily quart of wine.

When the French heard of this, Charles Dennis, secretary of the French Olympic committee, said the action was "most unsporting."

Dennis further said, according to a Universal Service cable, that "lack of wine will have the worst moral and physical effect on the athletes. They can't give their best without the national tonic."

That sounds odd to our ears. In this country, the bare mention of alcohol in connection with athletics draws a frown, and dire warnings, from drys and wets alike.

The Royal Foe

His opponent was listed as A. Bray, London editor.

With that name, he must have been a sports editor.

Speaking of Names

Whitey Govro (yes, that's right) is one man in a million. His name has been misspelled in the papers ever since his wrestling show opened here several months ago, and he hasn't let out a yelp, even to date.

Bob Connor, Govro's predecessor as wrestling promotor here, was responsible. He announced Govro's name as Grovo, when the latter was appearing on the cards.

Drake Relays Open In Des Moines Today

DES MOINES, April 28. (AP)—A handful of athletes from the "wide open spaces" of Texas and Arizona were the first arrivals in Des Moines today of the field of more than 2,000 athletes expected for the 23rd annual Drake relays opening tomorrow.

The threat of rain hung over the Drake stadium as the boys from the Southwest took easy practice jaunts around the oval and workmen busied themselves with last-minute preparations for the classic.

Weatherman Charles Reed held little hopes for a dry Friday, but he was not so sure about the conditions that will prevail Saturday, the principal day of the meet.

Arizona university, nearly 2,000 miles from home, held the honor of being the first of the visitors to arrive. Five men represented the Southwest contingent which took a brief workout this morning. The Texas Christian university athletes, wearing 10-gallon hats and high heeled boots, were the next to register.

Tomorrow's program will be confined largely to preliminaries to trim the huge field down for Saturday's final program.

Vernon Trio Prepares For State Track Meet

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, April 28.—Members of the Vernon High school track squad, with the exception of three performers who will enter the state meet, have turned in their uniforms to Coach W. C. Weir. The three pathmen who will enter the state contests at Austin, May 6-7, will continue to work out in preparation for the event. They are H. A. Thompson, Shaw Lockard and Tarleton Jones. Thompson captured first place in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes in the district No. 4 meet at Wichita Falls recently, while Lockard tied for first place in the 440-yard dash with Boyce Wyatt of Odell, and Jones copped the discus throw.

Lucille Tyler Wins in Fort Sill Tennis Meet

Special to The Record News.

FORT SILL, Okla., April 28.—The finals in women's singles in the spring tennis tournament at the field artillery school have just been completed with the victory of Miss Lucille Tyler over Mrs. Paul Miller in straight sets by scores of 6-3, 6-2. This was the first of the tourneys to be finished. According to Lieut. Roger Wicks, tennis representative, the men's handicap singles, with 30 entries, and the mixed doubles, with 10 teams fighting, will start next week while the men's singles and doubles, with 32 and 10 team entrants respectively, are just completing the first round.

NEW ATTACK PLANES

WASHINGTON.—The U. S. army air corps is now testing a new type of attack plane, said to be the latest word in speed and fighting ability. It is a low-wing monoplane fitted with guns to attack troops on the ground. The power plant, rating at 600 horsepower, is liquid cooled. The new plane uses a three-bladed propeller.

Quanah Tennis Tourney Featured by Upsets

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, April 28.—Quanah's tennis tournament to determine who will represent this city in the Panhandle Tennis league is well under way, with elimination matches bringing about upsets and surprises.

Watt turned down Phelps in straight sets, after Phelps took a two-game lead in both sets, but was unable to hold ground due to his heavy loss on serving.

All matches are to be finished not later than Saturday.

Doubles: Moseley-Phelps; Creed-Tempkin; Watt-Maloy; Stevenson-Magee.

Prizes are offered in both singles and doubles by local merchants.

Women Golfers Compete At Henderson Saturday

HENDERSON, Texas, April 28. (AP)—More than 100 women golfers from all over East Texas are expected here Saturday for the quarterly tournament of the East Texas Women's Golf association at the Highland Park Golf club.

The local course will be in excellent condition.

Women golfers from practically every section of the district have already come to Henderson to practice on the local course so they will not be handicapped by lack of familiarity with the links.

Mrs. Clyde Anthony, president of the association, and Mrs. Will Kelley, secretary, both of Palestine, have written Henderson golfers that to judge by the number of inquiries they have received, the gathering here next Saturday will eclipse all attendance records for similar events.

Edwards Takes on Humberto Tonight

A wrestling program promising plenty of fast action is carded for Friday night at Govro arena with the rough and tough Billy Edwards taking on the suave and smiling Don Juan Humberto in the main event while Russian George Ligosky tangles with Joe Kopecky in what promises to be one of the roughest matches of the year.

Edwards, the famous Kansas City headlock artist, for years has been one of the outstanding light heavyweight wrestlers in the country. Known as one of the greatest exponents of the rough and tumble type of grunt and groan entertainment, he will make an excellent test for the popular Mexico City sheik who has gained rapidly here in the way of popularity through his fast and entertaining matches.

Boxing Czar Names Secretary as Heir

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 28. (AP)—William Muldoon, 86-year-old "czar" of boxing has adopted his secretary, half his age, as his daughter, and named her heir to his estate and fortune.

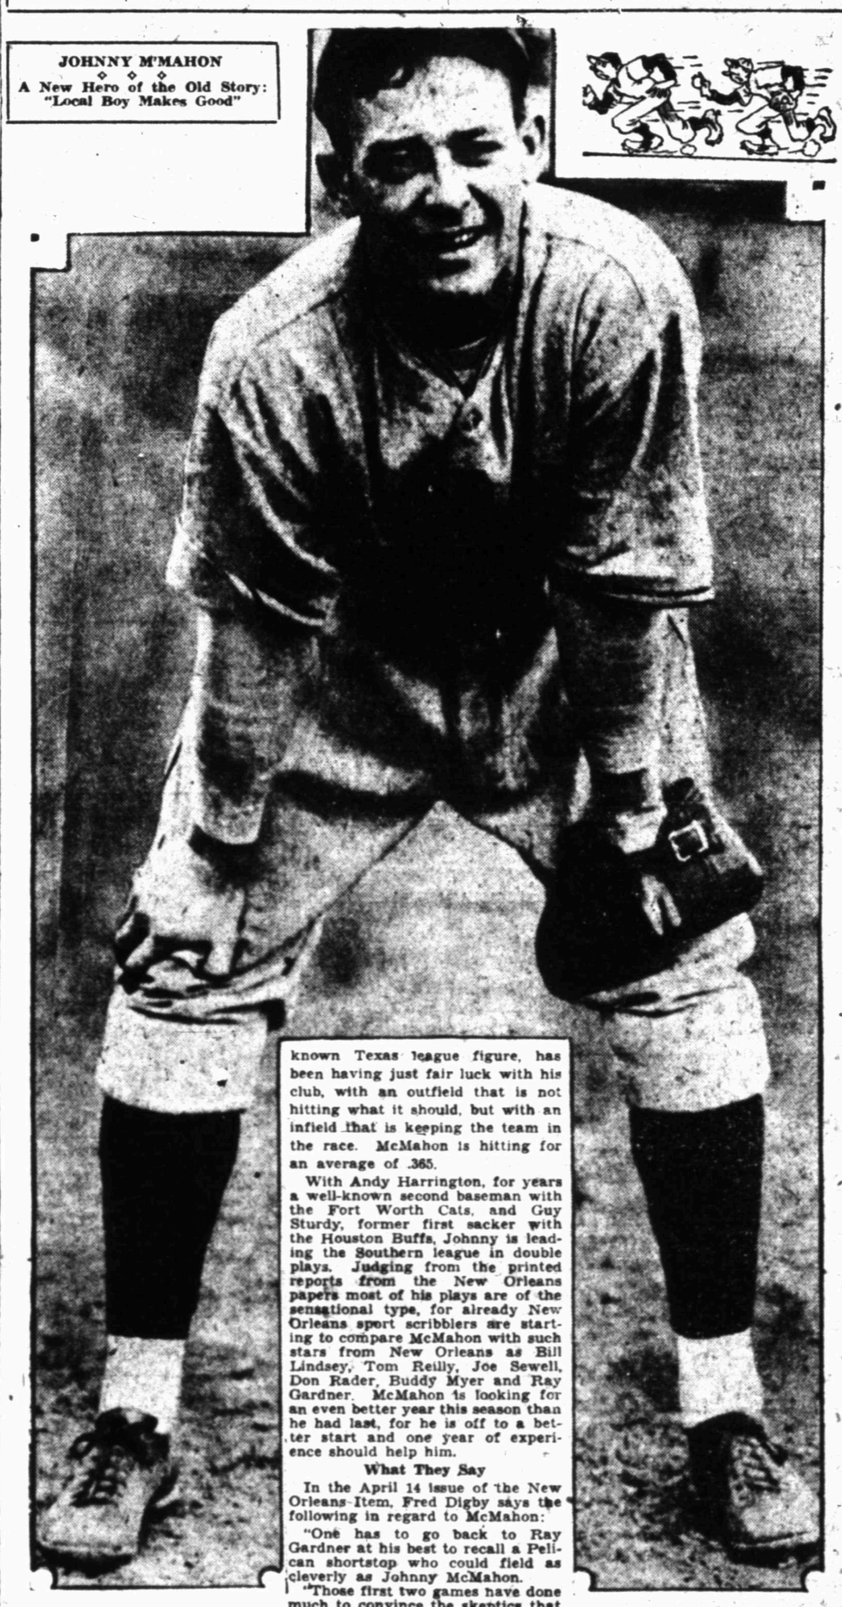

This was revealed today when it was learned that Surrogate George A. Slater had signed an order approving the adoption by the state boxing commission of Miss Margaret V. Farrell, 43, his secretary for the last 12 years.

Muldoon, who has operated one of the world's most famous health farms, at which dozens of prominent figures have recuperated from illness and fatigue, lives on his 20-acre farm, known as "Olympia" in Purchase, near here.

JOHNNY M'MAHON
A New Hero of the Old Story: "Local Boy Makes Good"

WICHITA BOY PELICAN STAR

Johnny McMahon Flashes As New Orleans Shortstop

By MACK TURNER

Sandy-headed Johnny McMahon, who took his first baseball lessons on the sandlots of Wichita Falls with the old-time City league, is making good in a big way as shortstop with the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern association.

New Orleans sports scribes rate him as one of the greatest shortstop prospects ever to break into the Southern loop, whose champion is the annual foe of the Texas league winner.

Johnny played his first year in professional baseball last year with the Omaha Packers in the Western league where he had a great year. In his first season, Johnny did the story-book jump from the sandlots to class A ball and hit .306 for his first year. In 107 games at shortstop last year, McMahon fielded .916 which is an exceptional average for a first year kid in class A ball. Included in his 147 hits last year, were 23 doubles, five triples and three home runs.

The greatest compliment came during the past winter when the New Orleans baseball club traded four seasoned players to Omaha for McMahon. Included in the four was Vern Underhill, well known to Wichita Falls fans while with the Shreveport Sports. When the club traded four seasoned men for one kid, they must have faith in what that one kid could do.

When Johnny reported this spring to New Orleans he found four other shortstops assembled on the scene to beat him out of the year's salary, but the Wichita Falls youngster ducked his head and started playing sensational baseball right off the bat. The fact that one of the four shortstops had been sent down from Cleveland, another from Toledo and a third was a holdover from the year before at New Orleans, didn't keep Johnny from gaining the stamp of approval from both Larry Gilbert, club president, and Jakie Atz, manager, right from the start. To date, Johnny has not missed a game and is regular leadoff man for the Pels.

Skipper Atz, for years a well-known Texas league figure, has been having just fair luck with his club, with an outfield that is not hitting what it should, but with an infield that is keeping the team in the race. McMahon is hitting for an average of .365.

With Andy Harrington, for years a well-known second baseman with the Fort Worth Cats, and Guy Sturdy, former first sacker with the Houston Buffs, Johnny is leading the Southern league in double plays. Judging from the printed reports from the New Orleans papers most of his plays are of the sensational type, for already New Orleans sport scribblers are starting to compare McMahon with such stars from New Orleans as Bill Lindsey, Tom Reilly, Joe Sewell, Don Rader, Buddy Myer and Ray Gardner. McMahon is looking for an even better year this season than he had last, for he is off to a better start and one year of experience should help him.

What They Say

In the April 14 issue of the New Orleans Item, Fred Digby says the following in regard to McMahon:

"One has to go back to Ray Gardner at his best to recall a Pelican shortstop who could field as cleverly as Johnny McMahon.

"Those first two games have done much to convince the skeptics that McMahon will be one of the strongest links in the inner defense of the New Orleans club. Larry Gilbert who said before the season opened that McMahon had all the earmarks of a big leaguer, is predicting that Johnny will "carry" the Pelicans into the thick of the pennant fight.

"'A shortstop will make or break your ball club,' said Larry yesterday. 'Remember what Buddy Myer did for us in 1925 and how Ray Gardner stepped in to help us win two pennants? Well, I'm looking for McMahon to do the same for this year's club. He certainly is off to a fine start.'

"Following the line of great Pelican shortstops, Bill Lindsey, Tom Reilly, Joe Sewell, Don Rader, Buddy Myer, Ray Gardner and George Knothe comes this kid from Omaha who before the season is over may take his place among the best of the lot. McMahon, playing his second season, is getting better every day and he has filled the shortstop berth so sensationally that the Birds go into the flag race this year with no discernible weak spot in their armor."

SPUDDER GAME IS POSTPONED

Heavy Rains Soak Field At Athletic Park

Heavy rains that fell Wednesday night washed out the Spudders' clash with the Galveston Buccaneers at Athletic park yesterday. The grounds were in no condition for a game. Lowering temperatures made game conditions even more unfavorable.

The Galveston clash was to have opened the invasion of Wichita Falls by clubs in the southern division of the league.

The park was given a thorough soaking, and there existed the possibility today's game might also be postponed. However, if the ground has dried sufficiently by game time today, the contest will be played, it was said. No plans were made for a double-header to make up for Thursday's washout. The double bill probably will be played on the Galveston club's next visit to Wichita Falls.

Skipper Severeid announced yesterday he expected to release a pitcher possibly within the next two days, in order that the club might be cut to the Texas league limit of 16 players.

The club now carries 17 men. All clubs in the circuit with the exception of Wichita Falls were within the player limit yesterday, in accordance with the league rule, which states it must be reached 15 days after the opening of the season.

The Spudders are permitted to carry 17 men, one over the limit, as long as Ollie Bejma, regular second baseman, remains on the injured list. He was placed on the list several days ago when he turned up with an injured finger.

When Bejma returns to the lineup and again is listed as an active player, a man from some other department will have to go, and as the club now stacks up, it is certain the slash will be made in the pitching department.

BURKS WINS SINGLES TITLE

King and Hanks Capture Doubles at Vernon

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, April 28.—Wichita Falls and Memphis boy tennis performers, champions of district No. 4 and 3, respectively, divided honors here this afternoon in bidistrict net play to earn the right to compete in the state meet at Austin.

Singles honors went to Alfred Burks, rangy Memphis ace, who defeated Rufus King of Wichita Falls, but the Coyote netter came back to pair with H. R. Hanks and carry off the doubles crown by defeating Burks and his partner, Eugene McElreath, in straight sets.

Playing on an unfirm court, caused by a heavy rain the night before, Burks literally chopped the usually consistent game of King's to pieces, winning 6-4, 3-6, 5-3, 6-5. The match was hotly contested throughout, but the Memphis star held the upper hand after the diminutive Coyote racqueteer won the second set in a furious rally to even the match. Burks played consistently throughout, applying a deadly chop stroke that was extremely difficult for King to return.

The Wichitans jumped into an early lead in the doubles fray, taking the first two sets easily, 6-3, 6-3. The Memphis youths staged a comeback in the third set, however, to run the score to 5-4, but King and Hanks copped the next two games, dropped the next, and then captured two more straight games to win the final set at 8-6.

CHICAGO POUNDS CARDINALS, 12 TO 7, FOR SIXTH STRAIGHT

CUBS BOUNCE DIZZY DEAN

Batting Power Aids Windy City Boys

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs failed to get their usual brand of good pitching today, but produced enough socking power in two innings to defeat the world champion Cardinals, 12 to 7, in the opening game of the series, and run their winning streak to six victories.

Bob Smith started for the Cubs and with a five-run rally in the fourth to lean on, sailed along until the sixth. In that inning the Cards broke out with a five-run splurge of their own to tie the score at six-all. Smith was replaced by Charlie Root, who was wild but effective enough to hold the champions to one run.

The Cubs batted Dizzy Dean off the hill in the fifth, and started a six-run assault on Bennie Frey in the seventh. Jess Haines also was mistreated and Tex Carleton finished. Riggs Stephenson's home run in the fourth with the bases loaded gave the Cubs their first lead, and Lance Richbourg's double in the seventh was the important blow of the inning.

Richbourgh contributed a pair of singles along with his double and drove in four runs. George Watkins found the Cub pitching easy, connecting for a double and four singles in six times at bat.

The victory gave the Cubs a lead of one full game over the idle Boston Braves. Score:

DODGERS 11, PHILS 5

PHILADELPHIA, April 28. (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers broke a five-game losing streak today by pounding four Philadelphia pitchers for an 11 to 5 victory.

Home runs by Johnny Frederick in the first inning and by Max Rosenfield with two on in the eighth aided the Brooklyn cause but the big factor in the triumph was a six-run rally in the third, in which Ed Holley and Roy Hansen were driven to the showers. Score:

Senators Push Athletics Further Downward With 10-4 Victory

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Walter Johnson's flashy Washington Senators pushed the subdued Philadelphia Athletics further downward today with a 10 to 4 victory hammered out over one of Connie Mack's aces, Rube Walberg.

Fifteen hits, including a homer into deep center field by Heine Manush, rattled from the Washington bats. The big, left-handed Walberg gave up 11 of them before he was pulled in the seventh inning in favor of DeShong, a rookie. Showing no favorites, the Senators rapped DeShong for four more bingles.

Carl Fischer, youthful fire-ball southpaw, got credit for downing the Athletics but Fred Marberry was sent to his assistance in the seventh. After Heving, Simmons and Foxx had started a menacing rally, Marberry went into retire the side and pitch the rest of the game without giving up a hit.

Carl Reynolds and Sammy West led the crashing Washington offensive, with three hits apiece. Myer, Spencer and Judge contributed two hits each.

Despite his defeat, Connie Mack had some solace in the attack of his murderers' row. Heving, Simmons and Foxx batted hard and often, but in the pinches the base hits were not forthcoming.

It was the Senators' third victory over the Athletics against two defeats, placing them abreast of the Yankees in destruction of the champions' dominance. Score:

CLEVELAND, April 28. (AP)—Knocking Pat Caraway out of the box in the fourth inning and continuing their assault on McKain and Gregory, the Cleveland Indians today trounced the Chicago White Sox, 11 to 2, and ran their winning streak to five straight.

With Earl Averill hitting a home run, his fourth of the season, and a single for .500 average, the Cleveland batting order gave ample evidence of coming out of its hitting slump. Johnny Hodapp, traded this week by Cleveland to the Sox, made two of Chicago's three errors. Score:

GOLF STAR WON'T COMPETE

Joyce Wethered Will Not Aid Britishers

LONDON, April 28. (US)—Chances for an American victory in the British women's open golf championship next month increased today when Miss Joyce Wethered, former British women's champion, declared she would not compete.

Miss Wethered, hard-hitting sister of Roger Wethered, is to British golf just about what Mrs. Helen Wills Moody is to American tennis. She has been ruler of the women four times—in 1922, 1924, 1925 and 1929.

Despite the fact that Enid Wilson and Diana Fishwick, champions of 1931 and 1930, will enter the play at Saunton, Devon, on May 30, British links enthusiasts do not believe a British player is left in the tournament strong enough to "take" America's entries.

Miss Glenna Collett Vare, Helen Hicks and Maureen Orcutt, three of the strongest of the United States' invaders, are fully expected to fight it out among themselves after the opening rounds have found Britain's contestants dropped by the wayside.

Although Miss Wethered will not enter the open, she will not desert the ranks of the British women's team competing in the Anglo-American international match at Wentworth park on May 21. She is counted on heavily there for victories likely to turn back America's first official Anglo-American match team.

Sixty-five per cent of the motion pictures shown in Bergen, Norway, are made in the United States.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Babe Ruth has given up his alternate love—golf—in order to concentrate on and conserve his energies for the business of helping to wallop the New York Yankees to the top of the American league.

"I found out last year I couldn't combine the two games and be at my best," he said today.

"Maybe I'm getting a little old—but these ball games are tough enough on the legs.

"I need the rest I can get on these off days, especially since I have a little touch of water on the knee now and have to take care of that."

This sounded a bit alarming but the Babe added:

The great man, meanwhile, sees no reason for changing his prediction on the order of the American league finish—New York, Washington, Philadelphia.

"No, I've gone back to my old way of standing at the plate. I feel more comfortable with the left foot well back. I'm still trying to learn how it's done, after 19 years."

Hitting .394 for the first two weeks of the season, with five home runs already to his credit, Ruth is away to one of his best starts, despite a slight touch of "flu."

U. S. Wins Opening Tennis Matches

WASHINGTON, April 28. (US)—Uncle Sam's racquet wielders got off to a fast start in their quest for the Davis cup today, winning both singles matches against Canada in the American zone play.

Ellsworth Vines, first ranking player, downed Dr. Jack Wright, the Canadian No. 1 man in a grueling five set match, 8-6, 3-6, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Doubles will be played tomorrow, with Allison and his Wimbledon champion partner, John Van Ryn, opposing Wright and Rainville. Victory for the Americans would settle the issue.

There is a likelihood America might call on Frank Shields for the doubles, Shields, the second ranking U. S. Netman, was displaced in the singles on the basis of Allison's flashing play in southern string tournaments.

The Vines-Wright match was a nip and tuck affair, with the lanky American's endurance in the final set the deciding factor.

Among notables present were Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, wife of the secretary of war and the Canadian Consular Agent Hume Wrong. Mrs. Herbert Hoover was unable to attend but sent word she would be sure to watch tomorrow's matches.

TEST ROCKETS

NEW YORK.—The United States is active in experiments with rockets, forerunners of "space ships." On exhibit here recently was a seven-foot high altitude rocket built by the American Interplanetary society. It is planned to shoot this aluminum rocket as high as possible from a location near Red Hook, N. Y. Its fuel will be a mixture of gasoline and liquid oxygen.

LOOK WHAT $3.83 BUYS TODAY!

Here, value hunters, is the news you've been waiting for. Here are the lowest prices ever offered for tires from the world's largest rubber company.

Look at them and ask yourself if it pays to nurse along those old, bald-treaded, risky tires, when prices like these will buy the safety of tough new rubber, clean-cut new treads and Supertwist carcass construction.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

X-Ray and Fluoroscopic Machine

Question—H. U. Y asks: "Which has the most dangerous effect on one's system—the use of the x-ray or the fluoroscopic machine? Does not the use of the fluoroscope give more definite results. Would the use of either of the above methods for examination and diagnosis if used on the same individual say about once every two or three years for a general check-up, have any bad effect?"

Answer—X-ray pictures and the fluoroscopic screen both make use of the same type of x-ray machine; consequently, one is not more dangerous than the other. The only danger comes from the length of time of exposure. The time ordinarily used to conduct examinations is not dangerous and has no bad effect even if used several times a year. While I thoroughly approve of the x-ray machine as a diagnostic help, I seriously question its value as a therapeutic agent. X-ray pictures are clearer than the shadow thrown on the fluoroscopic screen, but the fluoroscope is very valuable where one wishes to examine the movement of an internal organ. The motion would not show on the picture.

Cause of Discharge

Question—Mr. Gregory E. writes: "A friend has a discharge on his pillow each morning that is tinted with blood. He claims that it is caused by his gums bleeding. He also coughs a great deal. Does it not seem that it is more serious trouble?"

Answer—Blood on the pillow may come from various causes, such as nose bleeding, bleeding from the gums, coughing up blood, etc. If your friend coughs a great deal, I would certainly urge him to go to a physician for examination.

Electrans Honor Mother On Birthday

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, April 28.—Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Horton entertained with a birthday dinner at their home Wednesday evening honoring Mr. Horton's mother, Mrs. J. H. Horton of Quanah, who was celebrating her 88th birthday. Mrs. Horton is a native of Polk county, Arkansas, but has lived in Quanah almost a half century, 43 years to be exact. She recalls many of the incidents during the civil war. She and others made clothes for the Confederates during the war and slipped them to the boys at night to keep the Yankees from stealing them.

The table was centered with a huge pink and white birthday cake which contained 88 pink candles. The guest list includes Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Woolard and children, Mary Kate and Dale of Oklaunion; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bates and children, Alma, Mary Joe, and Clauda Mae; Mrs. T. D. Porter; Mrs. Cora Keesee; Mr. and Mrs. Jodie McClinton; Misses Eunice Griffith, Florence Hughes, and Doris Horton; the hosts and the honoree, "Grandma" Horton as she is known to her many friends was the recipient of a lovely array of gifts including several large bouquets.

Appointment of Judges Draws Wide Opposition

WASHINGTON, April 28. (INS)—Further opposition to the appointment of Judges Kenneth MacKintosh and James H. Wilkerson to the U. S. circuit court of appeals was placed before the senate judiciary committee today.

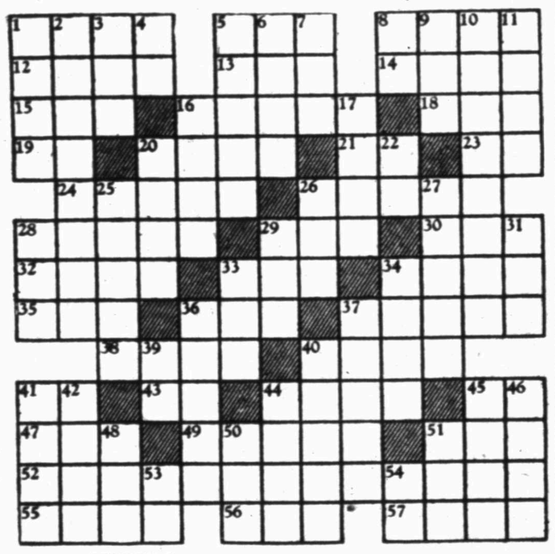

A memorandum signed by 27 lawyers, economists and university professors, opposing President Hoover's nominations included the names of Frank P. Walsh, Henry T. Hunt, Amos Pinchot, Arthur Garfield Hays, Norris Hilliquit, Alexander Fleisher and Carle Whitehead.

Texan Indicted for Having Bogus Money

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 28. (AP)—Charles L. Scott, 26, of Temple, Texas, indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday for possession of 12 counterfeit half dollars was held in default of $2,000 bond.

Arrested by city detectives Jan. 24, Scott said he had made the coins in a junglecamp here and had learned the art while in the Texas state penitentiary.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—A somewhat irregular opening was followed by a gradual decline in cotton today, with selling becoming a little more active in the last hour owing to the weakness of the grain and stock markets.

July contracts broke to 6.12 in the late trading and closed at that figure, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 10 to 12 points.

Offerings continued light until near the close, when the sagging tendency of the market seemed to bring in some additional selling, which sent May off to 5.98 and October to 6.35, or 9 to 12 points net lower.

Reports from the Southwest indicated a continued firm spot situation. Reports from Washington with reference to discussion of marketing policies by the cotton advisory committee to the federal farm board were considered too indefinite to have much market effect, and the late weakness was attributed chiefly to action of grain and stock markets.

Futures closed barely steady, 10@12 lower. Spot quiet; middling 6.15.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 28. (AP)—Cotton was rather dull today, particularly during the first half of the session. Prices moved slowly downward owing to weakness in stocks and grain and lack of support as traders were disposed to await the action of the farm board meeting today. Prices made the lows for the day right at the end 12 points below the highs. The close was at the bottom with the general market showing net declines for the day of 13 to 14 points.

Prices were influenced downward by easier stocks and uneasiness as to what would be done by the farm board about its cotton holdings. The decline continued during the early afternoon. July traded down to 6.16 and Oct. to 6.38, 8 to 9 points below the previous close.

The market continued to ease off during the entire afternoon in sympathy with lower stocks and grain, and made new lows for the day on active months right at the end with July at 6.11 and Oct. at 6.33, down 12 points from the highs. The close was at the bottom with July 13 points net down for the day and October 14 points net down.

Liverpool is due tomorrow on New Orleans 4 to 5 penny points down.

Port Receipts 7,337, for week 76,265, for season 9,444,106, last season 8,694,367. Exports 18,572, for week 77,024, for season 7,283,253, last season 5,827,883; port stocks 4,173,132, last year 3,562,220. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 127,663, last year 829,549. Spot sales at southern markets 6,557, last year 4,479.

Futures closed barely steady at net declines of 13 to 14 points:

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, April 28. (INS)—There was a fair demand for spot cotton at the opening today with prices easier. There were no receipts.

At midday middling fair was quoted at 5.90d, strictly good middling 5.45d, good middling 5.05d, strictly middling 4.95d, middling 4.90d, strictly low middling 4.85d, low middling 4.75d, strictly good ordinary 4.55d, and good ordinary 4.25d.

Futures opened quiet with May at 4.66d, July 4.63d, October 4.66d, and January 4.71d.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, April 28. (AP)—The cotton market closed unchanged to 14 points net lower. Liverpool opened unchanged and stock market was steady at the opening. Sterling was up ¼ point from yesterday's close. Opening prices in Chicago were 4 points lower for May, but unchanged for other months. In early trading May regained the early loss, but later in sympathy with weakness in the grain market, prices eased off, July and October showing the greatest loss, and closing was bottom for the day.

C-C PLANS TO GREET SOONERS

Band to Meet Oklahoma Special Here

Plans are rapidly being completed here by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce for entertainment and welcome of 150 Oklahoma City business men Tuesday afternoon, May 10, as the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce good will trip special train arrives in Wichita Falls for a night stop.

Members of the Oklahoma City party voted to spend the night in Wichita Falls this year as a result of the welcome Wichitans extended the Sooner visitors a year ago. The Sooner special will arrive in Wichita Falls at 4:32 p. m. and will be met at the union depot by a large reception committee, which will include Paul Seeds' Los Caballeros band.

Harry Hines, chairman of the reception and convention committee of the local chamber and President Albert E. Kelly with a group of Wichitans will meet the Sooner special at Burkburnett and accompany them to Wichita Falls.

The program for the afternoon and evening includes a parade through the business district with the Oklahoma City band leading and a period for the visitors to meet friends, customers and business associates here. The visitors will take dinner at the Kemp hotel at 7 o'clock and business men of this city are invited to eat with them and reservations for plates may be made through the chamber of commerce while the number of plates permit. A short program of greetings, special entertainment to be followed by a dance is scheduled after the dinner.

AT&SF Directors Favor Purchase of Texas Road

They were S. T. Bledsoe, James G. Harboard and Myer Hurley, all of New York, and Warren E. Brown, Wichita.

Bledsoe is chairman of the executive committee.

Little but routine business was transacted, and most of the shares were voted by proxy. A proposal to acquire capital stock of the North Plains and Santa Fe Railway company, a subsidiary which recently constructed a 700-mile line from Amarillo, Texas, to the Oklahoma line, was approved.

Low Living Cost Equal To Poverty, MacDonald Says

LONDON, April 28. (US)—A warning to the working class that return of prosperity means an increase in the cost of living was voiced today by Prime Minister MacDonald in the Independent Labor party's news letter. MacDonald declared:

"Mere cheapness might become a steadily extending form of national poverty.

"During the last few years, prices have fallen dramatically, but instead of being prosperous as a result of this reduction in the cost of living, we are very much the reverse.

"All authorities agree that returning prosperity will be preceded or accompanied by rising prices."

Wichita Falls Doctors Address Ryan Kiwanis

RYAN, Okla., April 27.—Dr. C. W. Stevenson and Dr. F. R. Collard were guests of the Ryan Kiwanis club Wednesday at the noon luncheon at the Brick hotel. Dr. Stevenson delivered a lecture on the ravages of tuberculosis, showing X-ray pictures of recent cases of tuberculosis under his care.

Dr. F. R. Collard also spoke to the subject stating in brief the causes and preventives of the disease. Right living was given by both physicians as the best preventive and cure.

DEATHS

MRS. W. H. HOGAN

Funeral services for Mrs. W. H. Hogan, 51, who died at a local hospital at 11 o'clock Wednesday night, will be held Friday at Moran, Texas. The body was forwarded Thursday by the Hines mortuary. Her husband survives.

RITES SAID FOR R. FRAZIER

Last Tributes Paid Pioneer Of North Texas

Funeral services for Richard Frazier, 66, pioneer of North Texas, were held from the Lamar Avenue Baptist church at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon with the pastor, the Rev. S. F. Martin, officiating. The Wichita Falls I. O. O. F. lodge was in charge of services at the grave with the Hines mortuary directing burial in Riverside.

Mr. Frazier died at 11 o'clock Wednesday night at his home, 1308 Fifth.

Mr. Frazier was born at Peoria, Hill county, and came to this section in 1888, settling in Baylor county, near Bomarton. He was married in 1889 to Miss Julia Moody of Seymour. While residing in that county he served as county commissioner for two years.

He came to Wichita Falls in 1917 from Memphis, Texas, where he had engaged in the hotel business. Engaging in the oil business here, Mr. Frazier converted use of ingredients from an oil well to the manufacture of a medicinal soap and other products, starting in 1918.

Survivors are his widow; two sons, Bernard Frazier of this city and J. W. Frazier of Longview, Texas; a daughter, Mrs. W. L. Richeson of Mankins; a brother, J. T. Frazier of Petrolia; a sister, Mrs. Matt Hammond of Kopperl, Texas; seven grandchildren and one great grandson.

Saturday Last Day To Seek Seed Loans

Saturday, April 30, will be the last day for filing applications for federal seed loans, G. C. McGown, county farm agent announced Thursday.

About 70 loans from this county have been approved thus far, and practically all successful applicants already have received their checks, it was said. Any further applications submitted must be filed early enough to permit examination by the county board in this city before Saturday night, it was pointed out. Blanks are available in Burkburnett, Iowa Park, Electra and Wichita Falls.

Sol Lasky's Father Dies at St. Louis

Abraham Lasky, father of Sol Lasky, president of the Hub Clothiers of Wichita Falls, died at 7 o'clock Wednesday night at St. Louis, word received here said. Mr. Lasky was at his father's bedside when death came. The store here will be closed from 10 to 11 o'clock Friday morning when funeral services will be held in St. Louis.

Dumas School Building Occupied After Delay

DUMAS, Texas, April 28. (AP)—This city's new $150,000 school building is occupied after a delay of three months because of financial difficulties. The building was completed in February but a mixup in finances kept the structure from being occupied.

Cleaning of Mains Improves Pressure

Fishing Poles and Bricks Taken From Pipes

Appreciable results in improved water pressure already have been achieved in the city's water main cleaning campaign now under way, according to information obtained Thursday at city offices.

Cleaning of about 11 miles of four and six-inch mains has been completed in areas which heretofore have suffered most acutely from low pressure, according to V. R. Smitham, city manager. This completion represents perhaps 10 to 12 per cent of the total lineage of that size, it was said.

Members of the city's fire department already have reported a material and helpful increase in pressure in those sections, Mr. Smitham said.

Work of the mechanical "go-devils" being used by the city has revealed that incrusations on interior walls of water mains often have effected a 50 per cent blocking of the flow. Many obstructions have been discovered and removed after they have halted the machine. Pieces of two-by-four lumber, broom-sticks, cane fishing poles, and numerous other articles have been removed from mains after having lodged there for many years. Water department officials attribute the presence of such debris to the play of children while the mains were being laid. In many cases, the accumulation of solids from the water about such foreign substances had almost completely closed the main.

All low-pressure areas are to be served first in the cleaning process, it was said. Later the 14 and 20-inch main lines will be treated similarly with machines now being built for the purpose.

CALL FIELD SALE TODAY

Farmers of Wichita Area To Gather for Auction

Much interest in the April auction sale and agricultural trade exchange, to be held at 11 o'clock Friday morning at Call Field, is being shown by farmers of the Wichita Falls area. The auction is sponsored by the Valley Development association.

Livestock has been entered in the auction from neighboring counties and numerous farm items will be offered for sale at the auction. J. R. Ray will continue as auctioneer and Roy King as clerk. A demand for dairy cattle, horses, mules, hogs and farm machinery has been reported for the auction.

Haynes Named Delegate To W. T. C. C. Convention

Directors of the Wichita Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce voted to send Don T. Haynes, president, to Sweetwater for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, May 12-14, at a luncheon meeting at the Wichita club Thursday. The board members discussed various organization details and a letter from L. C. McEvoy, vice president of the St. Louis Browns and president of the Spudders, was read expressing appreciation for the activity of the organization in promoting the opening day parade in Wichita Falls for the local Texas league entry.

FOR COLLECTORS

20,000 Arbor Day Stamps Go on Sale At Postoffice

The Wichita Falls postoffice placed 20,000 Arbor Day commemorative postage stamps on sale Thursday and Postmaster O. P. Mariele bought the first half page of the new issue. The stamps are 2-cent denomination of regular size.

The stamps commemorate the birthday centennial of J. Sterling Morton of Nebraska City, Neb., who was instrumental in promotion of Arbor Day, first observed by Nebraska in 1872. The stamps were first placed on sale at Nebraska City on April 22 when special covers for stamp collectors were available. The stamp carries a picture of a boy and girl planting a tree, with a home and other trees in the background.

Oil Worker Injured In Fall From Derrick

Joe Gerrard, 1302 Austin, was reported to be resting well at the Wichita Falls General hospital Thursday night from injuries suffered Thursday morning when he fell from an oil derrick on the Paul Trahan lease in the Chalk Hill pool. Mr. Gerrard's injuries were described as a spinal fracture and several fractured ribs. Associates reported he fell 18 feet, striking the ground on his back.

MAIL PLANES SPEED SERVICE

Improved Connections For Wichita Ordered

A new and improved air mail service will be available to patrons of Wichita Falls Sunday, May 1, it was announced Thursday by Assistant Postmaster L. H. Howard. The new service is available through a change in schedule of the Dallas to Amarillo line.

Leaving Dallas at 10:26 a. m. the mail plane will arrive in Wichita Falls at 11:56 a. m. and in Amarillo at 1:54 p. m., making connection at Amarillo with the air mail line from Los Angeles to New York. This schedule will permit air mail posted in Wichita Falls for the 11:56 a. m. plane to arrive in New York at 5:15 a. m. the following morning. The same service will permit air mail posted here to arrive in Kansas City at 6:30 p. m. on the same day.

The schedule offers the best air mail service yet available for eastern points, Mr. Howard said. The mail plane from Dallas will arrive in Wichita Falls 18 minutes earlier than the present schedule allows and in Amarillo 30 minutes earlier. The plan now arrives in Wichita Falls at 12:18 p. m.

Under the new schedule air mail for southern points will leave Amarillo at 11:30 a. m., arriving in Wichita Falls at 1:33 p. m., Fort Worth at 2:40 p. m. and at Dallas at 3 p. m.

Woman Faces Charge After Children's Scrap

Six new misdemeanor complaints were received by County Attorney L. V. Abernathy Thursday, one of them being filed against a woman on a charge of using abusive language.

A quarrel with a neighbor, the outgrowth of a conflict between children of the two women, was said to have occasioned the defendant's resort to cursing.

A charge of theft was brought against a man accused of taking some money from a woman's pocketbook while talking with her beside her car in the downtown district. Two complaints were filed for vagrancy, and two for swindling by check.

Law to Protect Land Of Seminoles Signed

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—President Hoover today signed an act requiring the approval of the Seminole tribe or the nation's general counsel upon disposal of any of its tribal lands.

Jubilee Special To Carry Big Crowd

Wichitans are enthusiastic over plans for running the "golden jubilee special train" to Sweetwater for the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce May 12-14, and the Junior chamber of commerce committee is lining up many prospects for the occasion, Chairman W. R. Creamer said Thursday.

The regional convention offers citizens of Wichita Falls an opportunity for serving the city in two ways; by advertising the 50th anniversary celebration Sept. 26-28, and in aiding to maintain the city's record of having the largest delegation at the regional gatherings. In addition the trip affords a real opportunity for a vacation week-end with business associates and friends of the city, drive leaders said.

Following the lead of the Kiwanis club in making a reservation for the special with the opening of the drive Wednesday, committeemen of the junior chamber reported six additional reservations Thursday afternoon with many prospects to report before the week closes.

The Kiwanis club will select their representative Monday. Others signing for reservations are J. E. Hutchinson Jr., Don T. Haynes to represent the Junior chamber, the Holt hotel, W. A. McCarty, W. B. Hamilton and Charles A. Spragins Jr.

Five Students On Cashion Honor Roll

Five students of the Cashion High school were placed on the honor roll for the term just completed, Principal Randle R. Hanks announced Thursday. Three of the students averaged 90 per cent and above in their studies and are Darice Rutledge, junior; J. F. Rutledge, senior; and Irene Evans, seventh grade. Two pupils averaged 90 per cent and are Margarete Holly, senior; and Lois Ivey, junior.
