Rites for Pct. 1 commissio... ...nday

Eldon Perry, commissioner for Pct. 1 here since 1973, died at his home early Friday morning, the apparent victim of a heart attack. He was 54.

Services are scheduled for him at 2 p.m. Sunday at First Baptist Church. Rev. Ken Branam will officiate. Burial will follow in Hillside Memorial Gardens.

Those acquainted with Perry expressed shock at his unexpected death. Thursday, he had attended a meeting of Senior Citizens Inc., for which he served as a board member.

John Gayle, chairman of that board, noted "he seemed in perfect health." Gayle, who worked with Perry in his capacity as Snyder city manager, added, "Eldon was a good, good commissioner."

Perry had also been actively involved with budget planning sessions of county commissioners this week.

He won re-election to his office with the May primary and Jan. 1 began serving his fourth four-year term as commissioner.

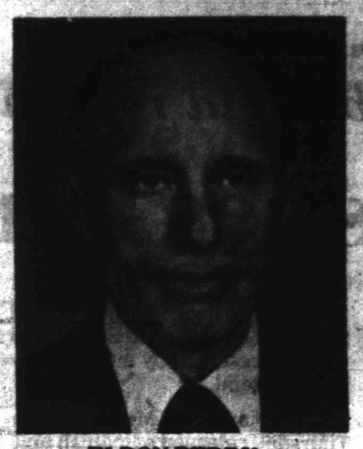

He was a lifelong resident of Scurry County, graduating from Snyder High School in 1948. He farmed some 9 miles east of Snyder in partnership with his twin brother, Weldon.

He was born May 5, 1931, the son of J.E. (Elbert) and Floy Lewis Perry. He married the former Anna Mae DeShazo on Jan. 5, 1951 in Snyder.

In 1960, he and his brother were named Scurry County's outstanding young farmers.

He was a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps. and a member of First Baptist Church here.

In addition to his wife and brother, survivors include two sons, Sid, now of Fort Collins, Colo., and Todd, who will be a freshman this year at Snyder High School; and one sister, Mrs. H.L. (Laverne) Thompson of Snyder.

Reagan may be released Saturday

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a gesture from a hospital balcony, a series of telephone calls to world leaders and announcements of forthcoming meetings, the White House is signaling that President Reagan is rapidly resuming his duties.

The president could return to the White House as early as Saturday, one week after he underwent cancer surgery, presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said.

Reagan appeared publicly in person Thursday for the first time since he entered the hospital July 12, giving reporters an OK sign from his third-floor balcony at Bethesda Naval Hospital when they asked how he was feeling.

In other moves that accentuated the positive:

—Vice President George Bush, one day after paying his first visit to the convalescing president, made telephone calls to foreign leaders in which he was quoted by a spokesman as saying, "The best medical evidence is that the president will make a full recovery and resume duties here at the White House next week."

—The White House announced that Reagan will meet in September with the new Soviet foreign minister, Eduard Shevardnadze, and an administration official said privately the president may also address the United Nations General Assembly in New York that month as he has in the past.

—White House Chief of Staff Donald Regan, addressing members of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, predicted the president "will be full of vigor" after a three-week stay at his ranch in California beginning in mid-August and "we will pursue a very active course this fall" in pursuit of Reagan's tax overhaul plan.

Changes are few at rodeo

Snyder and Western Texas College cowboy Donnie Yorks flashed a 4.7 to grab first place in the steer wrestling event at the 50th annual Scurry County Rodeo Thursday evening.

Yorks edged out another Snyder cowboy, Kenny Riley, who had posted a 5.7 earlier in the evening.

Thursday's show was the first one for bulldoggers, and, in a sense, for saddle bronc riders. After two nights of rodeo, only Justin Rowe of Tulsa, Okla., has managed to stay aboard the Rafter D stock. Rowe scored a 70 Thursday.

The annual rodeo, celebrating its 50th season, is being held nightly at 8 through Saturday at Scurry County Coliseum. Tickets are $4 for box seats, $3 for general admission and $2 for children age 12 and under.

Thursday's performance feature some good scores and times but produced only one new leader in the regular events other than in the steer wrestling and saddle bronc events. Travis Howe, of Portales, N.M., scored a 75. James Stewart of Forrestberg took over second place with a 72 while Midland's Bill Brown moved into third with a 71.

Bullfighting, new on the rodeo agenda this season, saw Jeff Grigsly of Fort Worth score a 69. Scott Young of Adona, Ark., scored 68. Those scores have been the best of the competition so far. Unlike other events, the bullfighting winner will be based on average over three fights per contestant instead of a single per-

Appraisal board hearings at end

Board of Review hearings for county property tax appraisals concluded around 3 p.m. Thursday after eight individuals posed questions for the board.

Thursday was set aside for real estate value questions involving both residential and commercial properties appraised through the Scurry County Appraisal District.

Six individuals appeared before the three-member group Thursday and two others called in questions which were considered.

Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler said total adjustments amounted to some $60,000. The total real estate values for Scurry County are now set at some $330 million for the coming tax year, a 14.3 percent decrease due primarily to a downgrading in the five-year average for agricultural land.

Peveler noted Friday morning that some of the property values in question might be adjusted later after district personnel have re-examined these.

Individuals appearing before the review board Thursday were Mrs. Charles Hardy and Ann Davis, raising questions regarding residential property in Snyder; James D. Baize, with similar questions regarding a residence in Ira; Roy Holman and Abe Hester, questions related to Hermleigh residential property; and Mike Banta, involving commercial property associated with American State

League report notes Hermleigh, Ira ISDs

The annual report issued by the Texas Research League — which compares school districts in such areas as tax levies, teacher pay, student-teacher ratios and money spent per student — includes figures for both the Hermleigh and Ira school systems.

Results of the report regarding Snyder ISD were reported Thursday in the SDN.

Tax information reflected in the report covers the 1984-85 school year. Such data as salary information and teacher-student ratios cover 1983-84 since final information regarding these isn't reported until Aug. 31.

The tax information reflects cost associated with the state legislature's passage of House Bill 72 during the summer of 1984.

A sampling of these facts for the two rural school districts include:

—For 1984-85, the average tax increase for Texas districts was 14.3 percent. For Ira and Hermleigh, the ISD tax levy was increased by 97.7 and 7.1 percent respectively.

—School property tax rates in 1984-85 averaged approximately 62 cents per $100 valuation. The Ira and Hermleigh rate was approximately 51 and 64 cents respectively.

—The average school tax paid in 1984-85 on property valued at $100,000 across Texas was $622. In Ira and Hermleigh, this same value produced a school tax bill of $514 and $641 respectively.

—During 1983-84, the state average for cost per pupil was $3,103. For Ira and Hermleigh, this cost was $4,912 using an average daily attendance of 171

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Obesity is obvious because it's centrally located."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

James Roberts, in the Andrews County News, said the recall of watermelons grown in western states reminded him of a summer long ago in Andrews when watermelons became dirt-cheap.

"Prior to World War II, the best watermelons in the county came off the Lonis farm a couple of miles south on the Odessa highway.

"The family had come to the county in 1932 and each year they raised a lot of good, sandy-loam melons on their place. But north of town, a couple of miles north of the Florey store, a guy from Smackover, Ark. started the town of Smackover, complete with stores and a field full of watermons behind the stores.

"Competition developed between the qualities of watermelons grown by the two producers. Teenagers were not partial to either field--they raided both places at night.

"But hail knocked out the Smackover crop and the Lonis farm had a virtual monopoly on watermelons in Andrews--and the prices soared accordingly.

"The melons became so valuable that Lonis decided to put a stop on the raids on his field at night--and he tried sitting up all night with a loaded shotgun.

"It slowed, but didn't stop the stealing all together. Finally Lonis put up a sign which read: 'One of the watermelons in this patch has been poisoned'

"Three nights later, an addition was made to the sign: 'Two of the watermelons in this patch have been poisoned.'

"The Lonis family wound up selling the crop out of town--the word had spread too fast in Andrews."

George Dolan, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, had a new definition of the "born loser."

"He's the guy, who week before last, bought 100 cases of the old Cokes for $20 a case, turned down an offer last week of $40 a case for them and boasted that he could get three times that by merely waiting another week."

In Brief

Trio held

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Three people remained in custody today in Texas in connection with the seizure of more than 200 pounds of cocaine worth an estimated $50 million, which was concealed in a propane tank.

An El Paso County sheriff's officer called the placement of cocaine in the tank with a smaller tank containing fuel inside it "ingenious."

Authorities said the seizure, which came after an informant alerted Sheriff Leo Samaniego to the drug's location, was the largest in West Texas.

Authorities said 261.3 pounds of cocaine seized in El Paso on Wednesday and another 267 pounds confiscated south of Alamogordo, N.M., on Saturday are worth about $100 million.

Dam breaks

ROME (AP) — A dam collapsed today in a popular tourist area in the Dolomite Mountains in northern Italy, and many people may have perished, police said. They said houses and hotels were inundated.

"There may be many dead," a police officer reached by telephone told The Associated Press.

The policeman, who insisted on anonymity, said the waters from a lake were pouring into a residential area in the village of Stava, near Cavalese in Trento province. He said the area included two hotels.

Soweto riots

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Police killed a black man while breaking up riots in the black township of Soweto, and elsewhere blacks staged strikes and boycotted white businesses in continued agitation against white rule.

Clashes also were reported in other black townships across South Africa as riots and protests persisted for the 11th straight month. More than 450 people, all but three of them blacks, have died in the turmoil.

Authorities said mobs of blacks stoned patrol cars and houses in Soweto on Thursday, and police fired birdshot, rubber bullets and tear gas to disperse the rioters.

Nicaragua to be held responsible...

U.S. issues harsh statement

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Saying America's patience is growing short, the United States accused Nicaragua of backing plans for terror attacks against U.S. citizens in Honduras and said it will hold Nicaragua responsible if any occur.

The leftist Nicaraguan government said the U.S. statement demonstrates that America is preparing the groundwork for an invasion of Nicaragua.

The U.S. charges, in a diplomatic note presented by U.S. Ambassador Harry Bergold, were made public by the Sandinista Front government as it prepared for today's celebration of the sixth anniversary of the overthrow of the pro-American dictator, Anastasio Somoza.

The government expected 400,000 people to attend the celebration at a plaza near Lake Managua. Bergold left Thursday for a vacation in the United States, and the United States was to be represented by a minor embassy official.

The Foreign Ministry on Thursday released a Spanish text of Bergold's note and said the note "contained very grave threats against our country."

In Washington, U.S. State Department spokeswoman Sondra McCarty released the Bergold text, saying: "Given that the Sandinistas have chosen to breach the privacy of our diplomatic exchanges, we are making public the text of points made in Managua on July 17 by our ambassador."

The note said the United States has indications that preparations are under way to introduce a program of terrorist attacks against U.S. personnel in Honduras.

The note said another incident such as the slaying of six U.S. citizens in San Salvador on June 19 will have serious repercussions.

It said the same principles would apply in cases of terrorist acts in other Central American countries and elsewhere.

Girl eulogized; DA wants suspect certified as adult

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Tarrant County prosecutors are expected to seek certification of a youth to stand trial as an adult in the death of a 4-year-old girl, eulogized as a "teacher" who left a legacy of love.

A minister said at the funeral of Melody Ann Flores on Thursday that her asphyxiation death "reminds us of the uncertainties of life and that evil exists in our world and in our midst."

The child was believed killed Saturday after she went to return a toy to a playmate, police said. The 16-year-old brother of the playmate remained in custody today in connection with the killing.

"Her death reminds us of a sickness among us and that we should all try to cure that illness," Bob Milligan, assistant minister of Brentwood Church of Christ, said at the church. "Her death has taught many of us compassion.

"She was with us only a short while, yet she was our teacher," he said.

About 500 people, including police officers and reporters, attended the funeral in east Fort Worth. Homicide detectives were reviewing their investigation of the slaying and preparing evidence to present to the Tarrant County district attorney's office.

Based on that evidence, District Attorney Tim Curry was expected to file a motion in juvenile court seeking to have the 16-year-old suspect in the killing tried as an adult. The evidence also will determine whether the youth is tried for capital murder or murder and aggravated sexual assault, officials said.

Unending Family Discord Builds On One Sour Note

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1985 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: The letter regarding the expensive piece of jewelry that "disappeared" while a teen-aged relative was visiting brought back some bitter memories.

When my son was 6, he and an older cousin I'll call Bobby were playing in Bobby's father's car. Bobby's sister, a waitress, had left her uniform in the back seat of that car, and when she retrieved it, five $1 bills were missing from the pocket.

Both boys denied ever being in the back seat of that car, but later Bobby changed his story and said that my son had been in the back seat. The scene that took place when my son was confronted by those holier-than-thou relatives I shall never forget if I live to be 100.

My dear mother repeatedly offered my son $5 if he would only confess to taking the money. My son, with tears in his eyes, repeatedly refused her offer, saying, "But, Grandma, I didn't take any money."

I knew my son was innocent and prayed nightly that someday the truth would be revealed.

Many years later, when my brother's family moved to a new home, a dusty bucket was found in the corner of the basement. And in it were five very moldy $1 bills! They told my mother about this find, but to this day my son, who is now 42, has never had an apology from any of his accusers.

I write this to urge the owner of the piece of jewelry that disappeared mysteriously to refrain from jumping to any conclusions, as false accusations can ruin a lifetime of family harmony.

IT HAPPENED IN MARYVILLE, TEXAS

DEAR IT HAPPENED: Your poignant letter is sure to awaken in many adults the painful memory of having been falsely accused as a child. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: A reader wrote to complain that she was made to feel unwelcome at a public swimming pool because she refused to shave her hairy legs.

I would be interested to see where, in the civil code, it explains why a man may go topless at a public beach or pool, but a woman may not.

Why is it that men's breasts (some of which are larger than some women's) are OK to expose to public view, but women's are not?

Isn't this sex discrimination?

FED UP WITH ANTIQUATED LAWS

DEAR FED UP: In accordance with the cultural standards in our country (right or wrong), there are certain parts of the male and female anatomy that may not be exposed to public view. And regardless of their size, the female breasts are one (or should I say two?) of them.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My mother, who is 77 and lives with me, recently met and became very fond of a gentleman who is 79. His wife died last February. My mother and this gentleman really seemed to enjoy each other's company until his children reproached him for having a "girlfriend" so soon after their mother's death. The gentleman lives with his children, who have demanded that he wait an unspecified period of time before he can see my mother again.

I can see how unhappy my mother is, and it hurts me. I don't have to tell you that they may not have much time left on this earth, and it's unfair to these elderly people who only want to enjoy a little happiness in their remaining years.

I don't want to get in the middle of this since these people are my neighbors.

Please print this, Abby. There are many children who react in the same selfish manner, robbing their elderly parents of the companionship that so recently (and briefly) added a sparkle to my mother's life.

Thumping helps detect trouble

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What's the doctor doing when he takes his finger and thumps on my back during an exam? When I asked him what the purpose was, he gave me a smart-aleck answer. I'd like to know what this test is all about, and I'd like to know why doctors can't answer a simple question without putting down the patient.

DEAR READER — Sound alters its characteristics depending on what it passes through. Normal lungs are filled with air. When a doctor thumps your chest, he is listening for (and feeling) the sound vibrations. They are perceived as a resonant and somewhat hollow tone. If, on the other hand, there is fluid in the chest or some condition that replaces lung air, the tone will be flatter and less resonant. This medical technique is called percussion, and despite the extensive use of chest X-rays for diagnosis, it remains a useful and accurate method to detect abnormalities.

You can try it yourself and see what I mean. Firmly rest your third finger on your thigh and strike it smartly with the tip of the curved third finger of your other hand. You will experience a sensation (from your fingers and ears) of a dull, flat sound. Now repeat the process on the wall of your abdomen. The sound will be more hollow because, unlike solid thigh muscle, the intestine contains air. The difference in tone results from sound traveling through different tissues of unequal density.

Try percussing other parts of your body. The lungs, for example, give off a slightly different note than the abdomen. With a little practice, you will be able to detect the dullness of your liver (in the right upper abdomen) and, possibly, even a full bladder (just above the pubic bone).

You can try this on your friends, on a date or at a party. Pretty soon everyone will be percussing each other like crazy and having a thumping good time.

Oh, I almost forgot: Your doctor put you down because he spent thousands of dollars learning to percuss, and he is not about to let you in on the secret for the measly price of an office call.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is susceptibility to skin infections and rashes inherited, or is it more often the result of poor diet and stress? Is there any way to reduce one's susceptibility to skin disorders?

DEAR READER — For the most part, skin sensitivity seems to be inherited. Acne and allergies, for example, tend to run in families. Of course, poor diet and stress add to the likelihood of skin irritation.

Just because you inherited a certain type of skin does not mean that you are helpless in coping with dermatological problems, however. You may need to wash or shampoo more often if your skin is oily. You may have to use a sunscreen if you are particularly sensitive to ultraviolet light, and you may have to avoid certain foods or clothing if you have allergies. Finally, you may choose to see a dermatologist if your skin problems persist or are severe. Although many skin conditions — like baldness, moles, rashes and certain infections — are part of your genetic makeup, there is often a lot that doctors can do to help you manage your inheritance.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101. Due to volume of mail, individual questions cannot be answered. Questions of general interest will be answered in future columns.

Banned herbecide may be culprit

LELIA LAKE, Texas (AP) — As many as 20,000 acres of crops in two counties may have been destroyed by a banned herbicide which causes plants to "grow themselves to death," a Texas Department of Agriculture spokesman said.

Damage is not nearly as extensive this year as it was last year when the herbicide 2,4-D drifted across Deaf Smith and Parmer counties destroying 35,000 acres of crops, TDA inspector Dennis Maloney said.

Blanket spraying permits for volatile 2,4-D were banned after last year's disaster. But almost 100 complaints of herbicide drift have been reported recently by farmers in Donley and Briscoe counties.

Annadelle and Company perform at MAWC brunch

Annadelle and Company of Abilene presented "The Lucky Moores", a story in song, for the program for the musical brunch hosted by the board of directors of the Martha Ann Woman's Club Wednesday, July 17.

"The Lucky Moores" is a story of a pioneer family moving to West Texas. "Most good things in life are within the reach of those who work for them" was the prevailing theme of the story.

The stage area was highlighted with a handmade quilt serving as the backdrop for a spinning wheel. The setting complimented the old fashioned dress of the performing company.

Annadelle Turnbull, Betty Dunn and June Gill have been performing for several years as a team. They are members of the Methodist church and are active in their homes and with their families as well as in the community.

Individual tables were covered with pastel colored linen cloths and centered with miniature arrangements of matching carnations floating in vases. Gingham ribbon tied to the stem of the vases added interest to the arrangement.

The serving table was covered with a handmade quilt under glass and centered with an old fashioned chuck wagon coffee pot filled with a summer floral arrangement.

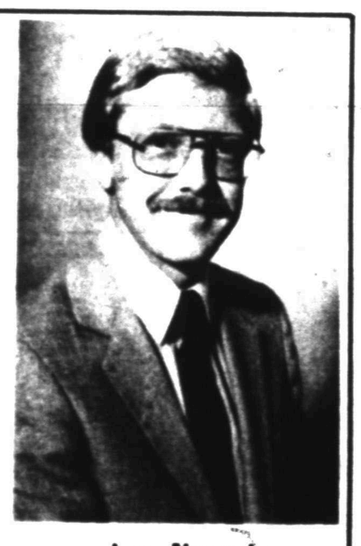

SESAME DIP

Beat together until blended 4 ounces softened cream cheese, ½ cup sour cream, ½ cup plain yogurt and 1 teaspoon sugar; turn into a small serving bowl, cover and chill. Spread 1 or 2 tablespoons of sesame seeds over the bottom of a small skillet; stir constantly over moderate heat until lightly toasted; cool. At serving time, sprinkle seasme seeds over cream cheese mixture. Serve as a dip with strawberries, sliced pears and pineapple spears.

Getting away with murder

South got to his shaky slam by himself. North's close-out bid of four hearts showed good trump support, minimal points, no more than an outside ace, and probable shortness in a side suit. South blasted past game with his cue-bid of five clubs and North had nothing to lose by showing the diamond ace. That cue-bid was enough for South, who immediately bid the slam, but now he had to find 12 tricks.

Dummy's diamonds look useful, but on closer inspection probably cannot be established. Not only is there a shortage of entries to dummy, but there's the threat of an overruff at trick two or three. With Q-J-10-8 of trumps missing, declarer can't allow an uppercut without losing an eventual trump trick.

The opening lead of the diamond king was covered by dummy's ace, declarer noting the fall of East's 10. With a diamond ruff threatening, declarer cashed the A-K of hearts to pull trump, played the club ace and ruffed a club in dummy. A spade was led, won by East's ace, and South won the spade return. He trumped a third club in dummy, returned to his hand with a diamond ruff and cashed the king of clubs. The established club 10 and the two remaining trumps brought the slam home.

What are the odds of clubs splitting 4-3, hearts 2-2, and the spade ace being onside? Pretty poor (about seven to one against). As my father once said to an overbidder like today's South, "You shouldn't be proud of making that slam; you should be ashamed of bidding it."

Fade creams for brown spots are merely very mild bleaching formulas.

By law, the amount of bleaching ingredient in such a cream is strictly limited to prevent skin damage.

The cream must be used daily for quite a long period to get results and seldom completely fades brown spots. Foundation tint can conceal whatever color remains.

Youngsters rock opponents in early Kermit tournament

KERMIT – Snyder teams made a clean sweep of victories in Thursday's opening rounds of the United Girls Softball Association tournaments here.

Snyder's Division I All-Stars defeated Colorado City 25-18; its Division II squad ripped Kermit 18-3; and its Division III team slammed Jal, N.M., 43-8.

In games scheduled today in Division I, Snyder was to play Lovington, N.M. at 8 a.m. and Kermit at 5 p.m.

Snyder Division II was to play Andrews at 10 and Coahoma at 5.

Snyder Division III was to play Coahoma at 8 and Andrews at 5.

The first-round victories for Snyder teams improves their chances for reaching Saturday's finals. The top two teams on basis of record in each "pool" will advance to Saturday's finals.

In some disappointing news coming from the tournament, pitcher-all around athlete Yolanda Anderson suffered a knee injury in the Division III game with Jal. According to reports, Anderson will probably be sidelined for the rest of the tournament.

She led Snyder off with the first home run of the tournament Thursday as the Division III All-Stars sacked Jal, 43-8. Anderson also had two doubles and a single in the game.

Denise Overton led the bats with two triples and three doubles. Barbara Chapman slapped two doubles and two singles. Patricia Casias and Christy Greene - who took winning pitcher honors - also smacked two doubles apiece.

Others hitting for the Snyder Division III team were Annette Ramos, a double; Tammie Watkins, three singles; Pam Batchelor and Debbie Yandrich, two singles each; Sandra Morin, a triple; and Becky Davila, one single.

No Snyder player struckout in the game.

In other action here:

DIVISION I

Dawn Myers uncorked a triple, a double and two singles as Snyder's Division I team got past Colorado City, 25-18.

Hayley Patterson added power with a home run, a triple and a single, while Tiffany Jones popped a triple and a single and Monica Garcia lashed a double and a single.

The All-Stars cranked out 18 hits in all, helped by two singles from Becky McCravey and Kayla Walker and one each from Jamie Franks and Mandy Baker.

Eva Hernandez was the winning pitcher.

DIVISION II

When Dessie Ware punched a home run in the sixth inning, this game officially ended at 18-3 by the 15-run rule. Ware also tagged a triple, a double and two singles in the game for an all-around solid effort at bat.

Monica Garcia followed suit with a triple, a double and two singles, while winning pitcher Cinnamon White drilled a double and four singles.

Others hitting for the squad were Katina Brandon, three singles; Angie Crawford, Angie Burleson, April Blair and Rebecca Ramey, two singles each; and Kellye Myers and Lee Ann Owens, one single apiece.

All-Stars cop nationals trip

MIDLAND – Snyder's Division IV All-Stars have apparently earned a berth to the United Girls Softball Association national finals, just two games into an area playoff tournament here.

Snyder defeated Midland 25-20 and popped Andrews 8-7 in games Thursday. The All-Stars were scheduled against Odessa here at 6 today. Snyder and Odessa are the only two undefeated teams, however, and are already scheduled to meet in Saturday's 10 a.m. championship game.

Since team officials state that first and second place teams both advance to next week's national tournament in Big Spring, it would appear that Snyder has already wrapped up a berth, regardless of the outcome of tonight's game or Saturday's championship game.

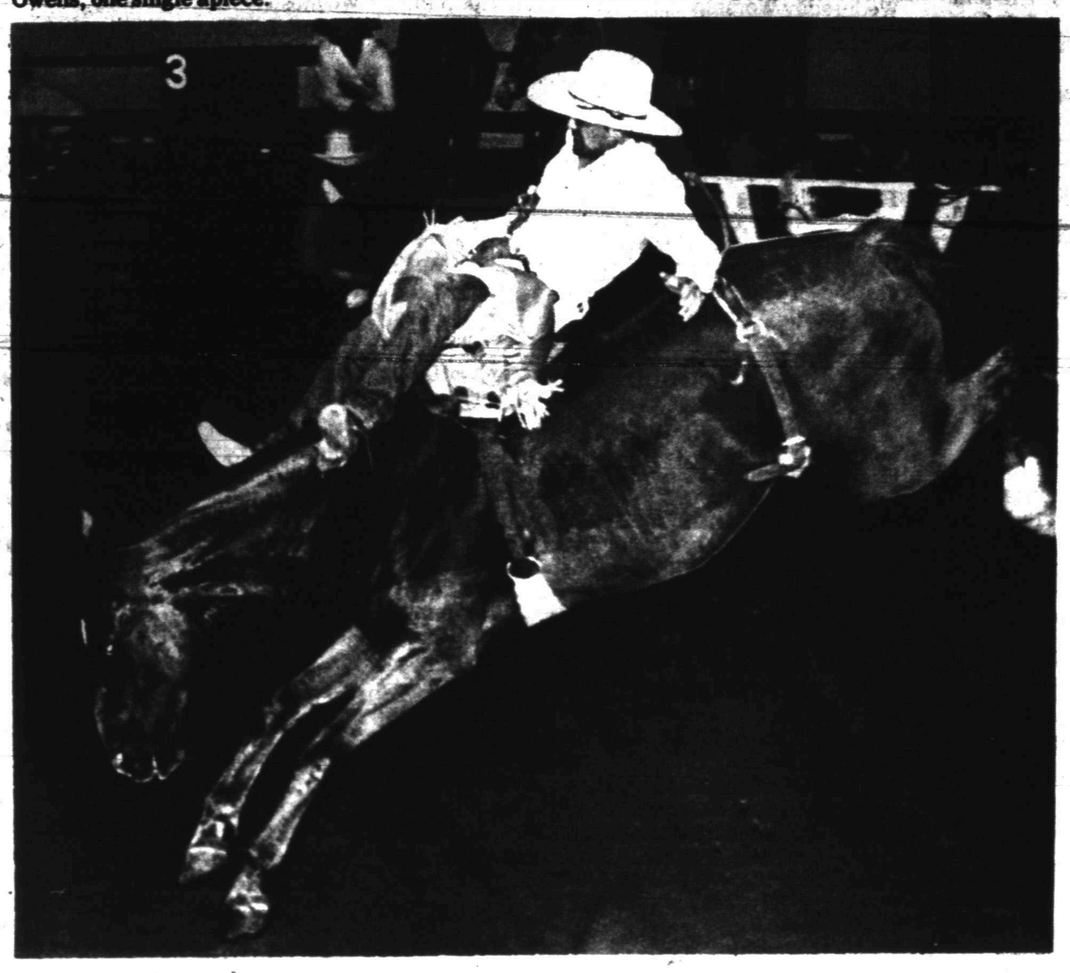

Snyder ran out to a quick lead in Thursday's second game with Andrews. The All-Stars had all 8 of their runs by the end of the third inning, then held on for victory.

Lisa Rosas took winning pitcher honors. Pam Casias was credited with a save.

Hitting for Snyder were Teri Sue Henry, a double and two singles; Casias, a double and one single; Rosas, three singles; Connie Velasquez, a double; Chenelle Reeves and Paula Caldwell, two singles each; and Jill Roemisch and Denise Yandrich, one single apiece.

In the game with Midland earlier in the day, Tracey Hicks grabbed winning pitcher honors and slammed a home run. Roemisch cracked a double while Reeves punched three singles and Henry had a double and a single. Also hitting were Dora Hernandez, two singles, and Nita Hernandez and Yandrich, one single each.

Roemisch, who rapped a double, scored four runs.

WILD RIDE – Brad Curtis of Conway, Ark., comes out in the bareback event during Thursday's run of the Scurry County Rodeo. The rodeo is being held nightly at 8 in the coliseum. Results begin on page 1. (SDN Staff Photo by Bill McClellan)

In baseball talks...

Little progress being made

NEW YORK (AP) - Cross off three more days in the countdown toward a possible baseball strike.

Despite a players' union decision to walk out on Aug. 6 if a new collective bargaining agreement hasn't been reached, the major league owners and players won't sit down together again until Monday.

The owners' Player Relations Committee and officials of the Major League Players Association reported little, if any, progress after three hours of negotiations Thursday. It was their first meeting since the players set the deadline on Monday.

"If you're asking me whether we made significant progress, the answer is no. If you're asking whether the clock is ticking, the answer is yes," concluded Don Fehr, acting executive director of the union.

"We are concerned about the lost time, but there is no sense in insisting that somebody meet with you to discuss an issue if they tell you they are not prepared to do that and would like additional time," Fehr said.

"There is enough time to reach a collective bargaining agreement before Monday, Aug. 6," he said. "Without saying whether we'll get there or not ... there is time."

The negotiators said they dealt with a list of 25 non-economic issues and only briefly addressed their biggest differences, salary structure and benefits.

"We had a brief discussion, but there is still no offer on the benefit plan," Fehr said. "We reviewed a lot of other issues, not fundamental issues, but important ones."

The owners have proposed a salary cap, which the union rejected, and want to change the conditions under which a player is allowed to seek free agency or salary arbitration.

The biggest dispute concerns baseball's television revenue and how much of it will go into the players' pension and benefit fund. Traditionally, the players' association has received one-third of that money. This year, that share came to about $15 million.

But the value of baseball's new TV rights contract soared last year from $250 million to $1.1 billion, and the owners have resisted giving the players the traditional third, or about $60 million.

"We have not made a specific offer on television money," MacPhail said. "It depends on how the whole financial issue is going to be resolved. To us, the economic state of baseball is the most important thing that has to be considered."

He acknowledged that the past few contracts have set aside one-third of television revenue for the players' pension and benefits. But he said player salaries have increased 600 percent and "the basic conditions are different now."

"The money involved when we're talking about one-third is greatly different today than when those other agreements were reached," MacPhail said. "The clubs then were in a position to give one-third. It was a reasonable amount ... and the clubs in those years were somewhere close to breaking even.

"Today, the clubs are losing a lot of money."

Management claims to have lost $43 million in 1984, although an accounting professor hired by the owners said the losses were more like $27 million.

After their own experts looked at the books, the players concluded baseball made $10 million last year.

Bell trade going through, Texas' Valentine confirms

DETROIT (AP) - Texas Rangers manager Bobby Valentine confirmed reports that third baseman Buddy Bell has been traded to the Cincinnati Reds for outfielder Duane Walker and Dallas Times Herald reported.

The newspaper quoted Valentine as saying after Thursday's 3-2 victory over Detroit that an Associated Press story from Cincinnati confirming the trade was "accurate but not official."

The Rangers and Reds have scheduled news conferences today to formally announce the trade, the Times Herald reported.

Bell reportedly is making $600,000 a year on a contract running through 1987 with an option righthander Jeff Russell, the for 1988.

Walker, 28, has been used as a backup outfielder and pinch-hitter. He hit .292 in 83 games last season, but is batting just .167 in 48 plate appearances this year.

Bell is in his 13th major-league season, having split time between the Cleveland Indians and the Rangers. He hit .315 last season with 83 runs batted in, but has slumped badly this season, hitting .235. He drove in a run Thursday night to help the Rangers record a 3-2 victory over Detroit.

Cowboy football camp

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - With No. 1 draft pick Kevin Brooks safely in training camp, the Dallas Cowboys rookies and second-year men have reached the halfway point of their first week of two-a-day drills.

A former University of Michigan defensive end, Brooks signed with the Cowboys Wednesday night and started practice here Thursday, ending a brief holdout and leaving fifth-round choice Matt Darwin, Texas A&M lineman, as the only unsigned rookie.

Free-agent fullback Todd McGrady of Washington's Puget Sound was placed on waivers Thursday after leaving camp voluntarily, a spokesman for the National Football League team said.

Brooks, 6-foot-7 and 262 pounds, had not reported to the camp Sunday with other Cowboys rookies and held out for three days before agreeing to contract terms.

But Brooks said now he was "tired of lifting weights and running around by myself. I'm ready to play football."

His four-year pact includes an option by the team to renew for one additional year, according to agent Mike Trope. Other terms were not disclosed.

Moerschell cops conference award

AUSTIN (AP) - Former Texas Longhorn quarterback-tailback Rob Moerschell has received the Southwest Conference Scholar-Athlete Award for 1985.

The award was presented Thursday to Moerschell, who was a schoolboy star at Dallas Highland Park, by President Peter Flawn of the University of Texas at Austin.

The award is given by the SWC to the athlete showing the most outstanding "academic achievement, athletic performance and leadership" among conference athletes.

Moerschell, 5-foot-10 and 183 pounds, ran for four touchdowns and passed for five scores in his Texas football career. His career statistics included 270 yards rushing and 886 yards passing.

The four-year letterman returned punts and kickoffs as a freshman and sophomore, started eight games at quarterback as a junior in 1983 and switched to tailback his senior year. He also was the holder on placement kicks.

Urge accounting of unpaid work

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — In a victory for promoters of a world homemakers' strike, delegates to the U.N. women's conference urged their nations to put a price tag on the work of women who raise families, keep house and grow crops.

The conference, now in its fourth day, has been dominated by East-West politics, but on Thursday women from five continents told a "unity" rally that the meeting demonstrated women could join together and work for peace.

A group of militant homemakers calling itself the Wages for Housework Campaign, has called for a one-day, worldwide housework strike on Oct. 24 to press their demand that women be paid salaries for housework.

The group said it expects governments, not husbands, to pay.

Wilmette Brown, a native of Newark, N.J. who now lives in Britain, said the strike was scheduled for Oct. 24 to mark the 10th anniversary of the day 25,000 housewives in Reykjavik, Iceland, held a "Women's Day Off."

However, the highest-ranking female government official at the conference opposed the idea.

"I don't believe in it. I don't know of a government which could pay for it because it's too expensive. Women must get out and mix with the economical world. And we must try to organize more child care, and more sharing of domestic work at home by the husbands," Yvette Roudy, France's minister for women's rights, told The Associated Press.

In a separate unity rally that attracted more than 1,000 people, women from five continents praised the conference.

"This is not the end of a decade, it's the beginning of a whole new movement," said American feminist Betty Friedan, founder of the National Organization for Women and author of the 1963 book "The Feminine Mystique."

"There was incredible strength, incredible unity shown here by 14,000 women despite the divisions of the male political world," she said. "No matter what our governments say, we the women are united in saying, 'no more buildup of nuclear missiles, no more use of our national budgets for death-dealing weapons, and an end to apartheid in (South) Africa."

Winners named in golf tourney

Several senior citizens from Snyder and Sweetwater participated in a miniature golf tournament Thursday at the Westerner Golf Land in Snyder.

Snyder winners included Val Benton, first place, 37; Buster Starnes, second place, 41; and Pat Johnston, third place, 43.

Sweetwater winners were Letha Miller, first place, 48; Della Light and Tab Wiman, tied for second place, 49 each; and Aubry Simpkins, third place, 54.

Others playing from Snyder were Beulah Starnes, Margaret Johnson, Pete Glass, John Wiman and Amon Weaver.

Others playing from Sweetwater were John Brookshire, Buford Light, Lucille Wiman and Vicki Taylor, director.

Expect thousands for vets reunion

TYLER, Texas (AP) — Thousands of Vietnam veterans from Texas were expected to begin gathering today for a reunion marking the 10th anniversary of the end of the conflict.

The three-day reunion was to get under way at noon and continue through Sunday in the Mayfair Building at East Texas Fairgrounds.

Brian Taber, second vice commander of AMVETS Post No. 68, said the reunion is the first of its kind, featuring the one-half scale model of the Vietnam Memorial which made its national debut in Tyler in October.

The six-foot high memorial, composed of 148 Plexiglass panels that can be disassembled and transported, will be located behind the Mayfair Building.

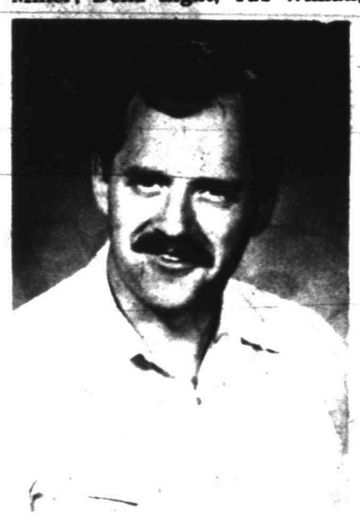

"There's never been a reunion like this in Texas," Taber said. "Once we learned about 950,000 Vietnam veterans were residing in Texas, we thought this would be great."

JOHN MCMACKIN

McMackin named new sales rep

Treanor Equipment Company has named John McMackin as machine sales representative for Fisher, Howard, Martin, Mitchell, Nolan and Scurry counties of West Texas. He will represent the full line of Caterpillar Equipment.

McMackin has 13 years of equipment sales experience in Texas, including five years with Caterpillar products. He will represent the entire construction equipment line including such new Cat product offerings as wheeled excavators, integrated tool carriers and the soon to be available back hoe/loader.

McMackin and his wife, Janice, will reside in Snyder.

The growing demand for luxury cars in the United States also is taking place in Europe, according to Jaguar PLC. The firm says it plans to establish independent distribution networks in France, Spain, Italy, Holland, Luxemburg, and Belgium to satisfy increased demand.

Davis quintuplets have 10th birthday

DALLAS (AP) — Jerry and Debbie Davis never set out to prove they could cope with diapers times five or chicken pox in quintuplicate or $250-a-week grocery bills.

But while young Casey, Christa, Charla, Chanda and Chelsa celebrated their 10th birthday Thursday, the Lewisville couple was getting rave reviews for parenting.

"Magnificent," said Dr. Jack Pritchard, as he surveyed the five babies he delivered.

"Beautiful," enthused Dr. Charles Rosenfeld, the neonatalist who cared for the state's only surviving quintuplets.

At age 10, the five little Davises are normal, their parents say — very, very normal.

"They're pretty good at fighting," Jerry Davis said, "They are good kids. But they are like normal kids. There's nothing special about them."

When the tiny quints were delivered to an ailing, 20-year-old mother by Cesearean section six to eight weeks early, Rosenfeld gave them only a slightly better than 50-50 chance of survival.

"This time 10 years ago, I was rather worried," Pritchard said. "It was a terrifying day."

Like the parents, the doctors say the quints are all-American, apple-pie normal.

"You can't help but compliment the parents," Rosenfeld said. "I think they did a very good job of treating their kids as kids."

Jerry and his wife, Debbie, say life with the quintuplets is hectic, and the last year has been the toughest yet.

Each child, it seems, needs to be somewhere different — roller skating rink, soccer field, private school for Chanda and Chelsa, bowling alley, swimming pool, shooting TV commercials — at the same time.

Green Hill Baptist opts for name change

Green Hill Baptist Church, 201 North College, is changing its name to Bible Way Baptist Fellowship, reports David Haladay, senior pastor.

"The name change is part of an emphasis on developing new ministries and direction for the church," Haladay explained. "The congregation desired a name that would signify the commitment of the church. Bible Way was chosen because of a determination to allow Scriptures to be the guide and authority in all practices," he added.

Haladay said Bible Way will continue to hold to Baptist doctrine and be a part of the Southern Baptist Conference. Because of a strong emphasis on loving care and personal ministries the name "fellowship" was chosen in place of church.

This fall the church will also open its Christian school, Bible Way Academy, for grades kindergarten through eighth. A day care will also be opened this fall.

Besides Haladay, the ministry of the church includes Mike Brown, pastor, and Marvin Ward who will minister in the Christian school. Debra Stansell and Ann Brown are church instrumentalists.

Bob Crowell set to preach Sunday

Bob Crowell will preach at the 10:55 a.m. service Sunday at First United Methodist Church. A former member, he and his family were very active in the church while they lived in Snyder.

In addition to local church activity, Crowell has been very active on the conference level as a layman, having served for many years as conference lay leader and in other capacities in the Northwest Texas conference.

He is currently conference president of Methodist Men.

Live Aid draws $35 million

LONDON (AP) — Live Aid organizer Bob Geldof, of the rock group Boomtown Rats, says last weekend's mammoth concert and telethon has drawn contributions of $35 million from around the world, about half the target figure.

"Every penny given to us will go to somebody that is dying. I can promise that," Geldof, leader of the specially formed British rock group Band Aid, said Thursday after a meeting of the Band Aid trustees in London.

Ask The Preacher

...about
"degrees of punishment"

By Randall Gray

A reader asks, "Are there degrees of punishment, eternally?" This is one of the most interesting questions that I have received. To find some answers, I went to Luke 12. In that context, Jesus is talking about his return (or 2nd coming) and what it will be like for his servants when he returns. In Lk. 12:47 and following, Jesus said:

> "That servant who knows his master's will and does not get ready, or does not do what his master wants, will be beaten with many blows. But the one who does not know and does things deserving punishment will be beaten with few blows. From everyone who has been given much, much will be demanded, and from the one who has been entrusted with much, much more will be asked."

Now I'm not sure I understand everything contained in that passage, but it seems quite clear that (a)this is a figure of our Master's return (b) the "blows" mentioned (some versions say "stripes") are punishment for rebellious, disobedient servants and (c) the fact that some will receive "many" stripes and some "few" stripes undeniably indicates comparative "degrees" of punishment.

So, I guess the answer to that question is, "YES".

Doctors endorse use of aspartame in food

CHICAGO (AP) — The artificial sweetener aspartame has received approval from the American Medical Association as a safe sugar substitute for healthy people, a report hailed by maker G.D. Searle & Co.

"My general reaction to the AMA publication is that it's good news for consumers," said Robert B. Shapiro, president of Searle's NutraSweet Group, which markets aspartame under the NutraSweet trade name. "The AMA joins a long list of scientific authorities, each of which has independently reviewed data on aspartame and has found it to be safe."

According to a report by the AMA's Council on Scientific Affairs in today's Journal of the American Medical Association, consumption of aspartame is safe for everyone except people with a rare metabolic disorder called homozygous phenylketonuria, which can cause mental retardation. Phenylketonuria occurs once in about 16,000 live births.

"In approving aspartame for use in soft drinks, the Food and Drug Administration commissioner concluded that maximum projected consumption of aspartame by normal children and adults was 'far, far below any level even suspected of being toxic,'" the council said.

The AMA report appeared one day after Searle, a pharmaceutical company based in the Chicago suburb of Skokie, announced it would merge with Monsanto Co., a St. Louis-based chemical company, in a deal valued at $2.7 billion.

Aspartame was first approved by the FDA in 1974 for use in cold breakfast cereals, chewing gum, dry beverage mixes, instant tea and coffee, gelatins, puddings, fillings, non-dairy toppings and table-top sweeteners.

But the FDA suspended approval after objections over unproven safety. Searle agreed to delay marketing, and in 1981, after further research, the marketing suspension was lifted. In July 1983, aspartame was approved for use in carbonated beverages and carbonated beverage syrup bases.

The AMA said the national Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta recently evaluated complaints about aspartame received by the FDA from consumers and found none of them serious.

The council said questions had been raised about the possibility that aspartame, alone or in combination with the commonly used flavor intensifier glutamate, might contribute to brain damage. Another fear was that aspartame might induce brain tumors in laboratory rats. Studies cleared the substance of both questions, the AMA said.

Some health researchers have suggested that pregnant women avoid use of the product until more is known about any effects on their fetuses.

Aspartame is digested as a protein and is 180 to 200 times sweeter than sucrose, so a very small amount is needed to achieve equivalent sweetness, the council said.

J. Miller may be nominee

WASHINGTON (AP) — James C. Miller III, a conservative economist who toned down the pro-consumer stance of the Federal Trade Commission, is in line to take over from David Stockman as President Reagan's budget director, congressional and administration sources say.

Presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said he was sure White House chief of staff Donald T. Regan would talk with Reagan today about who should fill Stockman's job, a Cabinet level post, but that it was uncertain if a decision would be announced.

At a briefing Thursday, Speakes denied that any decision had been made.

Congressional sources, speaking on condition they not be named, said the administration was spreading the word that Miller, who had worked at OMB in 1981, would be the nominee. An administration source, also insisting on anonymity, said it appeared Miller was going to be chosen.

Regan said recently he wanted someone to take over the budget director's job, or at least be chosen and able to begin work, before Stockman leaves Aug. 1 for a high-paying job with a Wall Street investment banking firm.

The new budget director takes over at a time when the administration's efforts to cut deeply into federal programs and reduce budget deficits are at a standstill.

Efforts to achieve a compromise between House and Senate budget writers collapsed Wednesday, and Regan told the U.S. Chamber of Commerce on Thursday it appeared likely Congress would recess until after Labor Day without deciding on a budget.

During his four years on the FTC, Miller moved to temper the aggressively pro-consumer approach taken under Michael Pertschuk, the chairman appointed by President Carter.

Miller, outlining his philosophy last November, declared, "Our proper role is not to tell entrepreneurs how to run their businesses nor is it to impose our views on consumers in a fit of big brotherism. Rather, it is to keep markets competitive and free of fraud and deception."

While at OMB previously, Miller helped draft a Reagan executive order that gave the budget office authority to clear all new regulations before they are published in the Federal Register.

The order helped make OMB one of the most powerful federal agencies.

In 1981, Miller became head of the OMB's office of Information and Regulatory Affairs, and later he was executive director of the President's Task eforce on Regulatory Relief.

formance.

The top tiedown calf roping time Thursday was a 9.7 by D.R. Lewis of Hobbs, N.M. Still leading is a 7.8 clocked Wednesday by both David Bowen of Victoria and Todd Parks.

Gary Richards of Houston continues to hold down first place in the bull riding with Wednesday's score of 79. Western Texas College cowboy Tobin Tate, from Clovis, N.M., led Thursday's competitors with a 71. His score puts him in third place overall.

In other Thursday results, none of which posted new leaders:

- Rhonda Smothers of Sinton clocked a 14.50 in the barrels. Kim King of Ackerly timed a 14.51.

- Bill Teague and Johnny Eicke of Snyder were timed at 6.9 in the team roping.

- J.J. and Jana Kincheloe won the goat sacking competition for youngsters. Jerry Dawson and Ricky Stroud were second.

Hearings end for tax values

Bank here.

The two questions handled over the telephone included a commercial value question raised by Byron Hedges, owner of Snyder Farm and Ranch, and a residential question asked by Ronnie Johansen of Snyder.

Last Tuesday, the Board of Review heard questions primarily related to oil values. These resulted in adjustments equaling some $30,000.

The county's taxable value overall for 1985 is now set at $2.2 billion. This reflects a 12.7 percent decrease from last year's countywide value of $2.5 billion.

Members of the Board of Review are Harold Lacik, Ross Carroll and Walter Stirl.

The next step for appraisal district personnel will be to certify tax rolls and to establish effective tax rates for local taxing entities.

This information will then be provided each entity and the respective boards for each will move toward setting individual tax rates — the figure multiplied $100 valuations to establish the tax bill.

These rates are carried to four decimal places. For example, a rate of .4350 — the current rate for Snyder ISD — equals 43½ cents per $100 valuation.

The tax rate set last year by each entity includes: Scurry County, .1558 cents; Western Texas College district, .0830; Snyder ISD, .4350; City of Snyder, .2550; Hermleigh ISD, .6710; and Ira ISD, .4900.

Obituaries

'Slim' Cannon

GREEN FOREST, Ark.-- Graveside services for Odis "Slim" Cannon, 65, of Green Forest, Ark. were conducted Tuesday at the Pickens Cemetery with the Rev. David Hanshaw officiating. Interment was in the Pickens Cemetery under the direction of Nelson Funeral Service.

He died Saturday in Harrison, Ark.

Local survivors include a daughter, June Caldwell and two grandsons, Darrell and Robert Caldwell, all of Snyder.

Two lawsuits are filed in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Playwright Neil Simon and actor Charles Bronson have filed separate lawsuits here — one to recover an investment, the other to gain underpayment of storm damages from an insurance company.

Simon, of Los Angeles, filed a lawsuit Wednesday against a California limited partnership and United Savings Association of Texas to recover $3.5 million he said he invested. He also seeks more than $10 million in punitive damages.

Simon said he became a limited partner in 1981 with Willowbrook West Ltd. and Realty International Associates headed by Hugh C. Pike "to purchase and develop certain real property in Harris County."

He blamed "a multitude of initial errors by its general partners" or "the poor Houston real estate market" in 1981 and 1982 for the partnership's being continually in debt and unsuccessful.

Calls to the United Savings Association of Texas by The Associated Press went unanswered Thursday night.

Bronson and his wife, Jill Ireland, doing business as Lost Tree Village Apartments, are suing an insurance company for underpayment of damages from 1983 storms.

Bronson said he had completed premium payments to State Farm Fire and Casulty Co. to insure the apartments for $4.2 million.

Family sheds hair as man comes home

MILWAUKEE (AP) — When Manuel Garcia returned home from the hospital, his head shaved because of hair loss from cancer treatments, he found an array of shiny pates waiting to greet him.

Garcia's family said at least 50 relatives and friends shaved their heads as a way of making Garcia feel like one of the crowd.

The special tributes began Sunday. Garcia said he was in the Milwaukee County Medical Complex that day when four visitors walked in.

"All I could see was baldheaded people," Garcia said.

He started laughing. His friends started laughing. The nurses finally had to tell them all to keep quiet.

One of those who gave up locks to help make Garcia feel better was his 5-year-old son, Miguel, who told his father he allowed his head to be shaved "because I love you."

Garcia, 39, who suffers from stomach cancer, told Milwaukee Sentinel columnist William Janz that because he was losing hair as a side effect of cancer treatments, he decided to shave his head when he left the hospital.

Garcia said he thought he would be alone with his baldness and his cancer fight.

"It makes me feel so good, so many people backing me up," he said.

Police action told

Police report clearing one misdemeanor theft and logged five misdemeanor arrests Thursday.

The theft of a bicycle reported Wednesday by Rosalinda Tovar of 1406 31st St. was cleared at 9:20 a.m. after she reported that the missing bike had been found.

It was apparently lost rather than stolen.

Officers answered a call to a noise disturbance at the Pal-O-Mar Motel on East Highway at 1:14 a.m. Friday and jailed five men for public intoxication.

All five were taken into custody on the motel parking lot and two of the suspects were also charged with consuming alcoholic beverages after hours.

Sons recall father charged in S&L slayings

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — Two sons of a Jefferson County man charged with the slayings of two Port Arthur savings and loan employees describe their father as "a caring, sensitive man who did all he could do to provide for his family."

David Holland Jr. and Ronnie W. Holland, sons of 50-year-old David Lee Holland Sr., provided a personal insight into their father's life during an interview Thursday with the Beaumont Enterprise.

Justice of the Peace John Borne formally arraigned the elder Holland Thursday. He stands accused of the Tuesday slaying of teller Dianna Joy Jackson, 23, Port Neches, and branch manager Helen Jean Barnard, Groves, employees at Jefferson Savings and Loan's 39th Street branch in Port Arthur.

"Our father was a proud man," David Jr. said in the Enterprise's copyright story. "He wanted all of us to trust in his ability to provide for his family ... I don't think he could bring himself to ever admit to any of us that he may have been having financial problems."

The Holland brothers described their father as a "traditional head-of-household" figure. The brothers were born to Holland's first marriage which produced four children. Besides David Jr., 29, of Beaumont, and Ronnie, 25, of Houston, Holland is father to Joni Holland, 27, and Mark Holland, 19, both of Lufkin.

Holland was divorced from his first wife, Ruth Holland, 45, of Huntington, Texas, "about five years ago," David Jr. said. He married Sylvia Dowd Holland a year ago.

She has three daughters from a previous marriage. David Jr. said his father was a man who was used to large families.

"He is the youngest of nine children," he said. "His parents my grandparents were salt-of-the-earth folks who worked hard all of their lives." The brothers said their stepmother has been the target of a nearly constant barrage of crank calls since their father's arrest Wednesday.

"They call the house and when she answers," David Jr. said, "they ask her stuff like 'Hey, is this the wife of the killer?' or "Is this where the killer lives?' ... That kind of thing."

To that regard, the brothers said, the entire Holland family can be counted among the victims of the Port Arthur shooting. The brothers talked about growing up in the Holland household, about globe-trotting from Texas to Libya to Egypt during the days their father worked in the oil industry as a tool pusher.

"He is the kind of man who believed that his responsibility was to do anything it took to support his family," David Jr. said. "I remember once when I was young when the fair came to Beaumont and my dad didn't have any money to take us kids," David Jr. said. "So, he went out and pawned his wedding ring and a class ring that my grandfather had given him just to get enough money to take all of us to the fair."

Holland had been unemployed for about three months prior to the savings and loan robbery.

Your Birthday

July 20, 1985

Lady Luck has some aces up her sleeve for you in the year ahead. She will be dealing them out at the times you'll need them most.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You have a wonderful knack today for making people feel completely at ease and receptive. Good things happen when we're nice. Trying to patch up a romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. Send $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're likely to be financially luckier today than you will be tomorrow. Give priority to matters that can make or save you money.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Companions will be looking to you for leadership today in involvements of mutual concern. Don't be afraid to assume command.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Something beneficial could develop for you today through a unique channel, so be alert. A relative may have an active hand in what transpires.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today you will be popular with friends; wherever you go you're likely to be the center of attention. Let your hair down and be your warm, charming self.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Tenaciously pursue your objectives today and don't be too cognizant of the odds. If you're determined enough, the success you seek will be yours.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Where important issues are concerned, take the long-range view today rather than the immediate one. Plans that are well-founded now will produce benefits later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Profit from your commercial dealings is a strong likelihood today. Pay heed to your instincts and don't take things at face value.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your judgment is quite keen today and you have the ability to see both sides of issues. Base your actions upon your impressions.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Do an extra good job today if your boss singles you out for a special task. There could be definite rewards in store for you if you handle it well.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) This will be a pleasurable day for you if you do things your impulses dictate. Break up your routine with one or more fun activities.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Today, new ways can be found to handle your financial burdens. Let your imagination run rampant, and when you get a good idea, act on it promptly.

State worker charged

AUSTIN (AP) — A $41,400-a-year state accountant who had worked for the Comptroller's Office for 23 years has been charged with stealing a state check for $247,000.

A district attorney's office investigator said in an affidavit that James R. Fontaine, 43, of Cedar Park falsified and stole the check earlier this month because of his "frustration with the management of the Comptroller's Office and so that he would be 'king of the mountain with $247,000 in his pocket.'"

William Krumpack of the Travis County District Attorney's Office filed the affidavit when the theft charge was filed Thursday with Justice of the Peace David Cain.

According to the Krumpack affidavit, Fontaine arranged for a $247,000 state payment voucher to be made out to another Cedar Park man, who told the investigator he was owed no money by the state.
