Prescott House Damaged By Saturday Morning Fire

Smoke Screen At Residential Fire

Smoke rolled out of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Prescott, 2044 Chestnut, Friday morning. The fire, which originated in the area of a bedroom closet, heavily damaged the furnishings and the house's interior before firemen extinguished the blaze. It was the second major fire in the Colorado City area this week.

Fire Saturday morning severely damaged the two-bedroom residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Prescott at 2011 Chestnut.

Mrs. Prescott and their two children, ages 5 and 3, were in the living room when the blaze broke out in the children's bedroom.

Her husband was at work at Curlee Lumber, where he has been employed for three years.

Entire bedroom, where the fire was centered, was burned on the inside. Gutted with the structural interior was the furniture, furnishings and clothes.

Before firemen could extinguish the fire, it caused damage throughout the house — burning, blistering and scorching walls and furnishings.

Smoke damage also was extensive throughout the residence.

Mrs. Prescott discovered the fire after smelling smoke in the living room. She went to the children's bedroom to investigate and the fire was leaping from the closet area.

"It already was too big to stop," said her husband, who arrived home just after the fire had been extinguished.

Mrs. Prescott phoned the fire department and then took her children to safety.

The Prescotts have resided at 2044 Chestnut for two years, renting the residence from Henry Lewis.

Prescott said his furnishings were covered by insurance.

State Leaders For Conference

These three state administrative officials for Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Service had major roles in the West Texas ASCS conference here Wednesday and Thursday in Civic House. Left to right are Woodrow Wallace, administrative specialist; W. Lewis David, state executive director, and Leonard Williams, state training officer.

Money Pinch Hits ASCS Operation

State administrators for Agricultural Conservation & Stabilization Service told West Texas county committeemen here Thursday operational expenses must be cut immediately.

The cutback must come at the county level with a trimming of staff personnel in county ASCS offices.

W. Lewis David of College Station, state executive director for ASCS, told the committeemen what county office manager had been relying to the farmers and ranchers for weeks.

Approximately 12.5 million dollars have been cut from ASCS appropriations for the 1968 fiscal year.

The pinch in funds is intensified by the fact that the current fiscal year began last July 1 and ends June 1968.

Congress, however, is just now appropriating funds for this period — nearly six months late.

So, ASCS, operations must revise their operational expenses in the last six months for the entire year. And that doubles the cutback.

Here at the Colorado City ASCS office serving Mitchell County already has reduced its staff to seven employes — two less than a month ago. Another employe probably will have to be eliminated.

This is typical of the problem facing all ASCS offices, David told the committeemen and office managers here from 25 counties in District 8 and 9.

With the decreased work staff, ASCS offices are administering the heaviest load of ASCS program in many years.

The State ASCS administrators didn't explore this point during their two-day meeting here Wednesday and Thursday, but herein is another problem. Although Congress has been approving various programs for ASCS, Congress has not always been appropriating the funds to carry out the programs.

In fact, farm leaders here in Mitchell County are predicting the Colorado City ASCS office will be short of operating money before next July 1 despite a cutback in the number of employes.

Leonard Williams, state training officer for ASCS, told the group that automation will be utilized more and more in the government's farm programs.

The start of this increased automation comes with the currently new procedure of sending farm data from Colorado City to New Orleans, where scanner devices read, compute and write checks which are mailed back to the Colorado City ASCS office for local distribution.

Booze Intercepted

62 Cases Going To Sweetwater

Sweetwater, whose citizens voted dry recently in a local option election, may be a little short on booze this weekend.

Not because of the election especially, but because of a load of bootleg whiskey beer and wine was intercepted in Mitchell County Friday night.

Officers counted 60 cases of beer, one case of bourbon whiskey in pints, half case of bourbon in fifths, one case of wine in pints.

It was all loaded in a 2-door 1961 Chevrolet with rear seat removed and equipped with special springs.

Ted Wheeless of Lubbock, head of the district game warden force, and three other game wardens flushed the car south of Loraine on Farm Highway 640 at 11:45 p.m.

The wardens were checking for hunting violations and became suspicious of the car when it picked up speed as they entered the highway behind it.

When the game wardens stopped the car five miles south of Loraine, instead of finding illegal hunters, they discovered the load of beer, whiskey and wine.

State Highway Patrolmen Buddy Hertenberger and Jim Mauldin were notified by radio and the car and driver were brought to Colorado City.

Charges of transporting are expected to filed against the driver, who officers said was from San Angelo but on his way to Sweetwater to deliver his cargo.

Three Boys Face Court Hearings

Delinquency charges are expected to be filed against three boys who were taken into custody Friday by city police.

The trio were among six youths, ages 11 to 15 years, who played hookey from school and were discovered in a vacant house.

The trio who will have juvenile hearings are accussed of stealing soft drinks and taking them to the house.

Usually, such incidents merits conferences with the offenders and their parents. But the three facing formal charges have been in repeated trouble over the last sev-

LORAINE CALLS FOR SALES TAX BALLOT

Loraine has joined the list of towns voting on whether to adopt a one per cent city sales tax.

The election will be Jan. 9 in Loraine.

Loraine's City Council voted this week to call the election.

Colorado City's sales tax election is Friday, Dec. 15, and Big Spring, Clyde, Knox City will vote the following day, Dec. 16.

Hamlin decides the issue Dec. 21 and Sweetwater will ballot Dec. 28.

Merkel and San Angelo were voting Saturday and Breckenridge ballots Tuesday.

Hundreds of cities have either voted on the issue or will ballot. Only a few communities have said "no" to the one cent sales tax across the state and most of these have been suburban areas near larger cities which have adopted the tax.

Abilene led off for the metropolitan areas in West Texas, voting emphatically for the sales tax earlier this month.

Monday Rites for Pilot

Ensign Kayser Killed in Crash

Richard Kayser, a slender youth who loved the open rolling acreage of Renderbrook Ranch, graduated from University of Texas 18 months ago.

He pondered prospects for another degree, this time in law, but his yen for flying was strong.

So, a few months later — after nose surgery to make sure he could pass his physical exam — he entered U. S. Navy officer training. His goal — the wings of a Navy pilot.

Today Richard Kayser's body comes back to Colorado City with a Navy escort.

He died Thursday afternoon when his plane crashed two miles off shore from Pensacola Naval Air Base.

The 23-year-old ensign was approaching for a landing and witnesses at the air base said clouds engulfed his plane.

He lost control and the plane crashed into the water. Navy divers recovered his body the next morning.

Kayser, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jones of Renderbrook Ranch, was commissioned an ensign after completing Navy Officer Candidate School last March 10. He was in flight training when the accident happened Thursday.

He was the son of Mrs. Pauline Jones Kayser, a teacher in Lubbock, and J. Merrill Kayser of Snyder, coordinator for special education for Snyder Public Schools who had been an Air Corps Instructor.

Funeral service will be conducted here Monday at 2 p.m. in First Methodist Church with Rev. Billy Wilkinson, the church minister, officiating. Burial will be in Colorado City Cemetery under direction of Kiker & Son.

Pallbearers will be Herb Story, the military escort from Pensacola; Don Fowler, Richard Cooper and Tony Battista of Wichita Falls, Keith Owen of San Antonio and George Cox of Fort Worth.

Kayser was born March 28, 1944, in Brady and was graduated from Wichita Falls High School. He attended Schriener Institute in Kerrville on a track athletic scholarship and was a 1966 graduate from University of Texas, where he was on the track team.

His brother, Ensign Ray Kayser, arrived here Friday from Aircraft Carrier Enterprise, to which he is assigned as a Navy pilot.

ENSIGN KAYSER, . . . in pilot's gear.

Coffee Time At Agricultural Conference

Courthouse Living Tree Will Shine

Living Christmas Tree on courthouse lawn will be lighted Thursday or Friday evening, said Mrs. A. H. Jackson, executive secretary of Mitchell County Tuberculosis Association.

Citizens are invited by the TB Association to watch the tree's colored lights grow.

By tradition, each colored light represents a gift of $5 or more to the annual Christmas sale of TB seals.

To be lighted the first night will be 75 lights to shine for 75 gifts of $5 or more to the seal campaign.

County Judge Elmer Martin will announce the date for lighting the tree.

Seals sales this season are less than at the same time in 1966, Mrs. Jackson said. Families are reminded that buying and using the seals help fight respiratory diseases.

Leonard Allens To Mark Golden Wedding At Party

Golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Leonve, route one Hermleigh, ve, route one Hermleight, will be celebrated with a reception at the Dunn Community Center, next Sunday, Dec. 17, between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Hosting the open house will be the couple's son, Rocky Allen of Big Spring, his wife, and other relatives

All friends of the pioneer China Grove couple are issued an open invitation from the Allen family to attend the anniversary party.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen, the honor couple, have lived all their 50 years of married life in China Grove.

They exchanged their wedding vows Dec. 23, 1917, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Shoemaker who lived in Little Sulphur Community just over the Mitchell-Scurry line. The Shoemaker family later moved to Colorado City.

Mrs. Allen was before her marriage Miss Lona Shoemaker.

Mr. Allen is the son of the late George Matthew (Uncle Matt) Allen who established his home in China Grove Community when his children were small. Leonard Allen was born in Sterling County. His mother was the former Miss Lizzie Collier.

Wedding ceremony for the couple, then aged 17 and 23, was performed by Mr. Allen, maternal uncle, the late Rev. W. D. Green, widely-known Baptist minister who was retired and living in Loraine at the time of his death several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen are active members of the Baptist Church at Dunn. The Allens only son, Rockey Allen, is father of three young sons.

"Just being grandparents," they agree, "is our favorite hobby and pastime now."

Mr. Allen is still an active stock-farmer at China Grove on land he owns in Mitchell County. The couple also have farm interests in Martin County.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Cottey's

GREAT day in the mornin'. It's gettin' so you just can't trust anybody anymore.

When you think of all the hundreds of thousands of etiquette books she has sold . . . all the stern rules for social behavior she has set forth . . . all the little brides-to-be and their mothers who have held her word to be true and proper . . . it is simply too ridiculously funny!

Who and what? Amy Vanderbilt, of course, and her plans for her fourth wedding.

And she definitely is not gonna practice what she preaches.

* * *

THE ETIQUETTE expert, who is also the more than plump woman who does those TV air-freshner commercials, is gonna have herself a whang-dang.

Her three sons and the five children of her groom-to-be, attorney Curtis Kelley, will all attend the February wedding.

Now that maketh this heart glad to remember the time when a beautiful young mother of two small sons asked advice about her second wedding. She probably had read Amy Vanderbilt's edict saying children of first marriages at the second wedding spell out "poor taste."

"Of course have the boys at your wedding," said old Conversation Corner when she get asked. "This wedding is more important to them than it is to anybody except the bride and groom."

* * *

AMY is one who frowned on elaborate receptions for second weddings.

So she and her fiance will entertain 125 guests, come Dec. 30, at a wedding reception — even though the wedding won't take place until February.

Associated Press writer didn't say, but it wouldn't surprise anybody now if Amy shows up to "exchange vows" in a long white veil — a thing she has called "unthinkable for a second wedding."

Course she hasn't yet gone into rules and regulations for fourth weddings. Maybe by that time anything goes.

* * *

THAT'S the trouble with experts. Most of 'em play it "Do as I say, not as I do."

Shakespeare, as usual, put it best. "Twere easier to tell twenty what were good to be done than to be one of the twenty to follow after mine own teaching," quoth he.

Oh well, I wish her well. May even send her a blue garter to wear showing there's no hard feelings in the heart of one of her longtime readers.

Not that it's the slightest bit of my business, you understand. But the whole thing brightened this whole week for at least one "society editor."

* * *

SEEN LATELYS here and there were Oscar Haney . . . Guy Burson. Did you know that the Burson first son Mike is president of his fraternity at Tech?

Saw Viola Erwin shopping for Christmas candies and happy over a recent visit to Midland with her son Curtis, his wife Mary Louise (Logan), and their son David. The Erwins were celebrating David's sixth birthday, and the 14th wedding anniversary in their new home at Midland.

Bob Ratliff was an office visitor giving out beautiful calendars. Nelda Garrett and Inez Mock were Christmas shopping together.

* * *

HEAR TELL that our Juanita Johnson is grandmother! A baby girl named Julianna was born in Dallas Monday to her son Franklin (Butch) and his wife.

Miss Julianna Johnson weighed 7 lbs. The young Johnsons are moving soon to Oklahoma City where Butch will be with the Oklahoma League for the Blind. He's a Texas Tech graduate.

* * *

FAMILIAR FACES, various places, belonged to Ruth and Billy Cooper lunching together . . . Bill and Doris Carter, too.

Bob Robinson, former C-Citian now of Big Spring, dropped in for a few minutes, Thursday.

So did Peggy Bagwell, wife of Rulen . . . Mattie (Mrs. Will) Hines . . . Jaycee president Wendell Jarnigan. Saw Lu Hertenberger, wife of Buddy, busy at her holiday shopping.

Lena Porter, talented with any kind of needle, was on Lena Porter, talented with any kind of needle, was on two dark-red type bath towels. Furthermore she had with her one of those handsome handbags she makes from upholstery webbing and bright wool thread.

PEARL WEBB, asked about her husband Wayland Webb, reported his condition unchanged.

Wayland, who suffered a critical concussion in a fall several years ago, is now a patient in an Abilene nursing home.

That reminded me to call Gerald Gordon and ask about Bob May who is still in Hendricks Memorial Hospital. Bob, says Gerald, has made some progress but will be in Abilene at least another week, then may require further hospitalization for physical therapy.

* * *

LOOKED UP to see a LTNS (long time no see) favorite face. There, right in Maniss Office Supply store stood Nina Katherine (Quinney) Crout, here from Tustin, Calif., where she, her husband, H. L. Crout Jr., and son Don live.

Nina is here to be with her mother Winnie Quinney who is hospitalized for now. She expects to be here until about Dec. 19, then hopes to share Christmas with husband and son.

Saw Gini (Mrs. Joe) Cold way at the lunch counter . . . Jimmy Payne at the Down Town . . . Addie V. Payne, his wife, on the shopping scene . . . Wilma Jean McKenney, wife of Rex, smart in a bright knit suit . . . nice Lynn Hamilton of Loraine . . . Alta Casbeer . . . Eddie Piland . . . and Hill (His Honor) Austin McCloud.

War I Event Thursday

Luncheon Tribute To Veterans

Veterans of Foreign Wars Thursday will pay tribute to a gang of "old soldiers."

It will be the annual VFW luncheon honoring Mitchell County Barracks No. 1582, World War I Veterans, and their wives.

The event also will commemorate the 50th anniversary of United States entry into World War I in 1917.

Fritz Mogford, barracks commander, said the World War I vets and their wives would gather at the VFW at 11 a.m. Thursday.

Business meeting of the barracks will follow the luncheon at 2 p.m.

"Gone is the sprighty step these veterans displayed in training in 1917 and in the parades that marked their victorious return from overseas," Mogford said. "Instead, walking for at least some may be a bit laborous around the VFW Hall when they visit with old comrades.

"Gone, too," he reminded, "are the slim lines that were theirs when they put on the Khaki uniforms, wrapped their legs in khaki bandage which was part of the prescribed uniform in 1917.

"Now most of us old vets display midriff pouches of varying sizes."

Leading the muster of Barracks No. 1582 Thursday at the luncheon with Mogford will be Travis Branch of Loraine, senior vice commander; T. J. Davis of Loraine, junior vice commander; Leroy Gressett of Westbrook, chaplain, Claud E. Neely of Westbrook, quartermaster; R. B. Morgan of Colorado City, adjutant; Charlie C. Hamilton of Loraine, W. L. Doss and Jesse Austin, trustees; Moody Cloud, sergeant at arms.

Burditt Asking For New Trial

Attorney for Jim Raymond Burditt, sentenced to jail for 18 months for negligent homicide in the auto crash death of J. P. Nunn, has filed motion for new trial in County Court.

James G. Baker of Perryton filed the motion Friday with County Judge Elmer Martin.

The brief legal document contends the jury verdict against Burditt is contrary to law and evidence and requests that the verdict and judgement be set aside and a new trial granted.

Jury in the case found Burditt, Snyder youth, guilty and then, in a second deliberation, set his punishment at 18 months and recommended no probation.

Burditt's request for probation from the court was overruled by County Judge Elmer Martin.
