U. S. Leaders Called In On China Crisis

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—State department officials disclosed today that former Secretary George C. Marshall, Harold Stassen and other American leaders outside the government have been called in to help find answers to the Chinese Communist upheaval.

These were among a group of 25 men who participated in a recent closed door, three-day session called to aid the work of shaping a current revision of American policy, which now is apparently in its final stages.

China Question Posed

What to do about recognizing the new Communist regime and halting the advance of Communism to the rest of the Far East were among questions put up to them by Secretary Acheson. Their views were not disclosed but officials said they were taken fully into account by Acheson and others involved in the China problem.

The State department has had frequent meetings with representatives of organizations concerned with foreign policy, beginning with the Dumbarton Oaks conference on the United Nations in 1944 when there were 44 civilian consultants. But calling in leading Americans for advice while the specific policy is in a formative stage is a new departure.

In addition, a three-day conference under direction of Francis H. Russell, director of the department's office of public affairs, on means of strengthening the UN was concluded Saturday at the State department.

Specialists Take Part

The China meeting was held Oct. 6-8. Aside from Marshall and Stassen, those taking part included university specialists on Oriental affairs, officials of international business firms, bankers, and a representative of the Army War college. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, is now president of the University of Pennsylvania. Another college president who served as a temporary consultant was Arthur G. Coons, Occidental college, Los Angeles.

They were asked to make no formal recommendations but to

$15,000 Taken In Holdup Of Family

FORT WORTH, Nov. 20. (AP)—Three soft-talking robbers drove away with an estimated $15,000 worth of jewelry and photographic equipment after holding Charles L. Renaud, his wife and daughter, a young guest and a negro maid prisoner at the residence from 8 a. m. to 9:20 a. m. today.

The Renaud's maid, Mabel Wright, said she discovered the robbers when she got up to let the family's dog out of the house. She walked into the living room and a man ordered her into the bedroom of the Renaud's daughter, Sara Renaud, 9.

There she found Sara and her overnight guest, Nellie Arthur, cowering on their beds.

Money Is Demanded

The Renauds had just awakened and were having coffee in their upstairs bedroom when two masked men walked in and said "we want your money."

"At first I thought they were friends pulling a joke on us," Mrs. Renaud said.

"When I saw that .38 automatic I knew it was the real thing," Renaud declared.

Renaud said one man, who seemed to be the leader, ordered him to put on his clothes and then directed him to pass a robe to his wife, "because you folks are going downstairs where the others are."

Nation's Weather Varies From Sunny South To Snow In North

CHICAGO, Nov. 20 (AP)—Light snow sifted into the eastern Dakotas and most of the Great Lakes region today. There was rain in parts of northern New England and western New York.

Elsewhere, much of the nation had fair weather.

Chilliest morning temperatures were reported in northern Minnesota, with the low reading, 14 degrees, at Duluth.

It was warm in most of the South from coast to coast.

Store Bandits Escape Net

A TRIO of gunmen who kidnapped an official of the Economy department store here and escaped after taking between $1,000 and $1,500 in a daring Saturday night holdup, remained at large Sunday despite intensified efforts of West Texas law enforcement officers to effect their capture.

Sheriff's officers here said "no trace" of the daring trio had been found since they released their hostage, Archie Skibell, about seven miles east of the city a few minutes after the robbery which occurred shortly after 9 p. m. Neither Skibell nor the seven other persons in the store when the gunmen forced an employe to hand over the contents of the safe after entering the store on a ruse, were harmed.

Some Cash Overlooked

Reports circulated here meanwhile that the holdup men had missed a quantity of money in the firm's safe.

Investigating officers gave newsmen estimates of the amount passed up by the bandits at from $3,000 to $20,000. A patrolman accompanied an employe of the store to a bank night-depository shortly after the holdup, it was learned.

Skibell, however, said a deposit had been made earlier in the day, adding, "the money deposited after the robbery was only change amounting to possibly $100.

He did not say why the bandits failed to take the money later deposited. Skibell, owner of another store here, said he has only a minor interest in the Economy store.

Police, meanwhile, were continuing investigations of two Saturday night burglaries, overshadowed earlier by the spectacular department store holdup.

Meadow Gin Blaze Destroys 20 Bales

MEADOW, Nov. 20. (Special)—An estimated 20 bales of cotton were destroyed in a mid-morning cotton fire here today at West Texas Gin Co. A number of other bales were damaged by the fire.

Gin officials said the blaze was discovered about 10:30 a. m. today. The fire, fanned by high winds, spread quickly, but was put under control in less than one hour's time by volunteers. A wooden bale dock attached to the gin was burned, but the gin structure itself was not damaged by the blaze.

It was not known tonight how the fire started, nor the extent of damage.

Sawyer Favors Single Federal Agency

New Transportation Board To Be Urged

By STERLIN F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20—Secretary of Commerce Sawyer soon will inform the President that the government needs a central policy body to guide federal transportation activities, officials reported today.

The report will suggest that coordination of federal programs covering the air, rail, water and highway transport industries could save taxpayers part of the $1 billion now spent each year by a dozen federal agencies.

Top Man Undecided

Sawyer's own department could finally fall heir to the top policy job. But the secretary's report—due to be in President Truman's hands by Dec. 1—is not expected to recommend whether a new agency, an old one, a committee or a White House "coordinator" should be designated.

The report may call for studies on whether the government should impose "user charges" on the air and trucking lines, shipping firms and railroads which benefit from federal outlays on highways, airports, harbor work and other facilities.

Report Now Incomplete

Transportation officials who gave this information privately, said Sawyer's report now is in the rough-draft stage, following talks with all agencies concerned. These include the Interstate Commerce and Maritime commissions, Civil Aeronautics administration, Bureau of Public roads, and others.

The high policy board, Sawyer will suggest, should develop a program aimed at an efficient national transport system — with high emphasis on military usefulness—at lowest possible cost in federal outlays.

Officials have in mind that it would resolve such questions as these:

Should further federal help be given railroads, in view of steadily sagging earnings despite repeated boosts in freight and passenger rates? Or should the government cut its subsidies to airlines, whose

Area Boy Dies In Tractor Mishap

CLAUENE, Nov. 20. (Special)—Eleven-year-old Wayne Hollis was killed about 5:15 p.m., today, on the Bert Wise farm near here, when the tractor he was driving turned over on top of him.

Young Hollis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hollis, was reportedly maneuvering the tractor around the Wise yard before a group of children, when he cut the wheels too short in making a turn, and turned the tractor over.

Rushed To Hospital

His brother, "Sam" Hollis of Levelland, who was visiting his parents' farm about half a mile east of the scene of the accident, rushed the boy to the George C. Price Funeral home in Levelland.

Attendants there took him to the Philips-Dupre hospital where he was pronounced dead upon arrival. His head had been crushed by the weight of the tractor, and the attending physician said he apparently died instantly.

Funeral services will be at 3 p. m., Monday, at the Fellowship Baptist church here, with the Rev. R. S. Sparkman of Wells, officiating.

Burial will be in Levelland cemetery under the direction of the George C. Price Funeral home.

Survivors include his parents, and two brothers, Wilburn D. "Sam" Hollis, and Ronnie Hollis, both of Levelland.

Young Girl Injured By Car While Crossing Street Here

Grady Nell Hill, 16, of 2021 Eighth, was treated by a doctor here Sunday for a deep cut on her orehead suffered, police said, when she was struck by a car as she was crossing the intersection of Main and Ave. L about 1:45 p.m.

The driver of the car, identified as Gerald Craft of Lubbock route 7, was attempting a turn from Main south onto Ave. L at the time of the mishap, it was reported.

U. S. To Increase Payroll Social Insurance Taxes By 50 Percent

By CHARLES MOLONY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. —A 50 percent increase in social insurance taxes will go into effect six weeks from today, raising $667 million more a year.

Beginning Jan. 1, employers and employes each will pay 1½ per cent tax on wages and salaries up to a wage or salary maximum of $3,000. The present rate is 1 percent. It has been in effect since the system of retirement and survivors benefits was started 13 years ago.

The schedule of benefits will remain unchanged.

However, under a bill passed by the House and pending in the Senate, both the premium and the benefits would be higher.

Officials predicted the taxes will affect some 39 million workers and 2,700,000 employers next year, requiring employers and employes to share equally in tax payments as high as $90 a person per year. The present maximum is $60.

Under the pending legislation, the number of workers affected may rise to 50 million and the top employer-employe tax payment per person to $108 before 1950 is over, they said.

The House-passed bill, which a Senate committee is to take up in

Man Found Beaten, Robbed Near Spur

SPUR, Nov. 20. (Special) — A man, who was unidentified by sheriff's officers here, reported being beaten and robbed Saturday by two men who offered him a ride, after he was found on the highway 2½ miles south of here.

He told officers he was trying to get a ride to Dickens about 10:30 p.m., Saturday when two men picked him up and then took him in the opposite direction.

One of them, described as being six feet tall, over 200 pounds, and wearing boots and a large white hat, then brandished a gun and forced him out of the car, whereupon the man and his companion beat him and took his money, he told officers.

Officers said he told them he had lost approximately $130.

A passing motorist discovered him at the side of the road, and took him to Spur. He was not injured seriously, suffering only bruises and abrasions.

Virginia U. Football Star Fatally Injured In Car Crash

CHARLOTTSVILLE, Va., Nov. 20 (AP)—Gene Edmonds, University of Virginia halfback, was fatally injured early today when an automobile he was driving went over a small embankment.

Attendants at a hospital here said he died of a broken neck.

The 25-year-old senior, Marine veteran and father of a year-and-a-half-old daughter, scored Virginia's second touchdown in yesterday's game which Tulane won 28-14.

President Of Panama Quits After Revolt

By BRODIE BURNHAM
INS Staff Correspondent

PANAMA CITY, Nov. 20.—President Daniel Chanis, jr., of Panama, was forced to resign today after a "one shot" police coup on his 58th birthday. Vice President Roberto Chiari was sworn in as his provisional successor.

Dr. Chanis, prominent Panamanian urologist, capitulated to an ultimatum that threatened a national police force attack on the presidential palace.

Bloodshed was averted by the prompt neutral intervention of the diplomatic corps, including U. S. Ambassador Monnett B. Davis. The diplomats provided a channel for the exchange of messages by Chanis and the police, headed by Jose Remon, that enabled them to work out a solution.

People Unaware Of Coup

Most residents of the capital slept through the night unaware of the tense negotiations which were finally culminated with the pre-dawn resignation of Chanis and the swearing in of Chiari at six a.m.

The lower part of the city was patrolled by helmeted, rifle-carrying police, but the capital was quiet.

Only one shot was heard fired throughout the early morning hours and this came from the direction of the palace.

Telephone communications with Panama City were suspended soon after the trouble started.

Charges Bring Change

The coup resulted from charges by Chanis against Remon that he was guilty of irregularities in connection with Panama's slaughtering concessions. Former President Harmodio Arias had charged Remon controlled the concessions.

Chanis also objected to the way the national police were handling the concessions for bus routes.

Chanis summoned Remon to the palace and demanded his resignation, along with his two top police officials, Bolivar Vallarino, and Saturnino Flores.

Remon refused to resign and thereupon Chanis ordered him held at the palace, while Remon's two aides seized control of police headquarters.

Chanis named former Police Chief Col. Rogelio Fabrega to take control of the police force, which serves as Panama's army, but when he went to headquarters he was seized and held prisoner.

China President Hands Over Job

HONG KONG, Nov. 20. —Nationalists China's acting President Li Tsung-Jen flew to this British colony and entered a nursing home late today.

It appeared as a major development in his split with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek — a deepening cleavage that has set the Nationalists to bickering among themselves while the Communists steadily continue their conquest of China.

Official May Visit U. S.

Although Li insisted he hoped to return to duty as soon as a serious stomach ailment permitted, he handed his job over to Premier Yen Hsi-Shan, and the Hong Kong press said he might go to the United States.

(The International News Service reported the London Daily Telegraph as saying today that acting President Li Tsung-Jen has been removed as head of the Nationalist forces.

(The newspaper said that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek forced Li's resignation. It quoted reliable Chinese sources as saying that Li will fly to the United States after a rest in Hong Kong.)

B-29 Survivors Rescued After 'Miserable' 79 Hours On Ocean

By JAMES STREDIG
Associated Press Staff Writer

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 20. — Eighteen survivors of a B-29 crash off the Bermuda coast spent a "miserable" 79 hours on storm-tossed seas and some were dunked in the water when their rafts capsized, the plane's commander said today.

Lt. Col. John Grable of March Field Air base in California, the commander, and other survivors of the crash Wednesday about 400 miles northeast of Bermuda were interviewed at Kindley field hospital.

The bruised and salt-caked fliers were delivered to the Kindley Air base by the Canadian destroyer Haida, which had picked them up from the chill waters of the Atlantic yesterday.

Two of the 20 men aboard the B-29 did not survive.

The tail broke off the plane when it was ditched out of fuel. It turned nose down in less than a minute.

One of the men who was killed was hurt by wrenched girders from the air giant. The second escaped injury but was unable to swim against the heavy seas. The men were lost because heavy swells

HOMICIDE CHARGES FILED

Arrest Of Official Strains Relations Of France, Poland

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Nov. 20—Diplomatic relations between France and Poland were badly strained today as the result of the arrest in Warsaw of a French consulate employe.

The arrested man, Andre Simon Robineau of the Stettin consulate, was detained as he was boarding a Polish plane for Paris Friday. He was charged with espionage involving two other French diplomats in Poland, Aymar de Bressin de Mere and Fernand Reneaux, members of the embassy staff.

Plane Crew Charged

Lacking official notice of the arrest of Robineau, French authorities filed homicide charges against seven members of the Polish airliner crew and impounded the plane. The seven, including the air hostess, were held for a time at the interior ministry but later were permitted to go to a hotel, under restriction.

The Polish embassy filed an "energetic" protest with the foreign ministry against the detention of the crew and demanded the crew's release.

Prezemslaw Ogrodzinski, counsellor of the Polish embassy, delivered the protest and declared that since the Frenchman had been arrested there was no question of homicide. Roger Seydaux, chief of the French foreign ministry's European affairs section, who received the protest, replied that France would hold the crew and plane until the French ambassador in Warsaw is permitted to see the arrested man.

Crew Changes Story

He said that only a statement from the arrested man himself can absolve the airliner crew under French law. The French point seemed to be that since the crew's first story had it that Robineau boarded the plane in Warsaw something must have happened to him since he did not arrive on the plane in Paris. The crew members later said he had been arrested.

A foreign ministry spokesman said the French ambassador in Warsaw had been instructed to demand permission to see Robin-

Wife 'Learned' Of Lost Flier's Death Through Dream

ARLINGTON, Calif., Nov. 20. (INS)—The dream of Olinda Breit — through which she "knew" her Air Force husband had perished in an angry Atlantic 4,000 miles from home—was told in awed whispers today by the wives of Callahan court.

Her story is one which will be repeated often when Air Force wives get together in their little homes near March Field. Her dream was an Air Force wive's nightmare.

Of the 20 men aboard the B-29 superfortress which plunged into the Atlantic Wednesday enroute to Bermuda and England, only two were lost — Sgt. Raymond Breit, 32-year-old father of six children, and a teen-aged gunner.

First Plane Ride

Breit had never been up in a plane before, although he had served two years in the Air Force as a ground crewman. Just before the ill-fated take-off he told a buddy:

"I'll give you $500 if you'll take my seat. That ocean's awfully big and awfully cold."

It was not established officially until last night that Breit was one of the two who lost their lives when a B-29 was ditched in the Atlantic near Bermuda.

But Mrs. Breit "knew" it Thursday morning—or so she told friends.

Woke From Sleep

Mrs. Gladys Weatherford, one of her friends, told a New York Mirror correspondent that Thursday morning Mrs. Breit woke from the drugged sleep of a doctor's sedative, clutched her hand, and said in a frightened whisper:

"He's gone, I know now for sure. I just saw him in a dream. We were apart and couldn't reach each other. He put out his hand to me, but we couldn't touch. Then he vanished in a sort of misty wave. It was Ray, because I saw the red ruby ring on his finger."

And the wives of Callahan court thought back to that

ECONOMY DRIVE IS EXPLAINED

Stabilized Military Budget Is Claimed To Be Johnson's Goal

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Defense department officials said today that Secretary Johnson's rigorous economy drive has as its eventual goal a stabilized military budget around $12 billion.

Calculating from the beginning of this year, when the President asked $14.4 billion for the Defense department, they said Johnson is within sight of saving a billion by July 1, 1950.

The basic fact, a top official said, is that nearly all expansion launched in the "war scare" year of 1948, is being liquidated and the country is preparing for a long period of armed peace.

The statement was given to International News Service in response to a request for explanation of budget figures which do not reflect Johnson's announced intention of saving $2 billion.

The figures show that Congress appropriated 13.9 billions for the department this fiscal year. The President impounded 700 millions earmarked for increasing the Air Force from 48 to 58 groups.

Thus the department gets only 13.2 billions to spend this year. Johnson announced a target budget of 13 billions for fiscal 1951—an apparent saving of only 200 mil-

Harris Man Charged With Attacking Girl

HOUSTON, Nov. 20 (AP)—A 28-year-old negro porter today was charged with rape of an 11-year-old white girl.

The charge against George Honey Young was filed with Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan who said he will recommend the case be sent directly to the Harris county grand jury.

Ragan ordered Young held without bond.

The girl, a sixth grade school student, was attacked yesterday morning after a negro man had lured her from a neighborhood football game at the St. Mary's Catholic school playground in Houston's Riverside residential area.

She told police the negro had told her the rector of the nearby St. James Episcopal church wanted to see her.

She said the man started to accompany her to the church but forced her into a weed patch between the two churches and attacked her.

Young was arrested at his home early today.

Police Lieut. W. P. Brown said Young made a written statement after being questioned by deputy sheriffs and city detectives.

Detroit Three-Alarm Fire Causes $1 Million Damage

DETROIT, Nov. 20. (INS) — A three-alarm fire burned out a vast section of the Herron-Zimmers Moulding company plant in east-side Detroit today, causing damage estimated at one million dollars.

Fifteen fire-fighting units responded to the alarms and firemen managed to bring the blaze under control before it razed the entire factory despite a series of small explosions which added to the hazards of their job.

Craft Feared Destroyed In Oslo Crash

(By International News Service)

OSLO, Nov. 21. (Monday)—A chartered Dutch plane carrying 29 Jewish displaced children, three nurses and a crew of four, was believed to have crashed and exploded last night in the outskirts of Oslo, minutes away from a landing.

The children, who ranged in age from five to 12, were on the last leg of a flight from North Africa to Oslo by way of Marseillies and Brussels when the plane vanished in bad weather.

The Holland Aviation company, which owned the DC-3, announced that the plane and children were lost.

Children Leave Africa

The children came from different parts of North Africa and with their parents had been expelled from Casablanca and other towns during an anti-Semitic pogrom.

One ill child escaped possible death when the ill-fated DC-3 landed at Brussels to remove him to a hospital.

The children were bound for a Norwegian rehabilitation camp for a six month rest before joining their parents in Israel.

The camp was the former Nazi SS camp Grefstrang which is now administered by Norway's European Release committee.

Two hundred displaced Jewish children have lived there during the past seven months and were now being replaced by the new groups.

Explosion Reported Heard

Residents of Oslo's outskirts reported hearing an explosion and noise that could have been made by a plane plunging into Oslofjord.

Red Cross and other rescue workers scoured the area over a 10 mile stretch south of Oslo where the explosion was heard.

Reports pouring into Oslo said the motors of the twin-engined plane were heard sputtering at three different localities which gave credence to the belief that the craft was attempting to return to Amsterdam.

The plane, piloted by a man identified as Scrouws, was last reported over the town of Moss, 30 miles south of Oslo at 6:05 p. m. (11:05 a.m. Sunday CST) and then radio contact was broken.

TEEN TALK

Thanksgiving Offers Many Possibilities For Parties

By VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Staff Writer

A Thanksgiving party offers fine possibilities for the imagination. Make it a costume party, serve traditional food and play games appropriate to the day.

You'll probably plan your party for the night before Thanksgiving. If you plan a costume party, guests do not have to wear elaborate get-ups. The boys could wear black hats with buckles and the girls paper bonnets to carry out the Pilgrim idea. Some might like to wear Indian headdresses. If your crowd does not go for costume parties, don't attempt one. It will make everybody unhappy because only half will show up in costume.

As a ice-breaker, you can try the tried-and-true party quiz, "Roberto", giving it a new twist. This always is a good game, especially when many of the guests are comparative strangers.

Make up little slips of paper with names pertinent to Thanksgiving such as Priscilla, John Alden, Miles Standish, Samoset, Governor Bradford and Carver, the Mayflower, Plymouth Rock, Southampton (where the ship left from), Cape Cod, turkey, pumpkin, etc. You will think of others if you are up on your history. Pin one of these names to the back of each guest when they arrive. Another guest will look at the name and let the pin-up ask questions. Leading questions are: "Am I dead or am I alive", "Am I animate or inanimate", "Am I green or yellow", etc. The purpose, of course, is to guess who you are as quickly as possible, but even if it drags out it can be fun.

While the gussing games are on serve apple cider cocktails with a few cloves. Pass some nuts, apples, cheese and crackers for a tasty snack.

As usual you'll want to pick a good hearty buffet. Serve turkey curry with rice and chutney (mix it with chicken to spare the turkey), a big tray or glass baking dish of mashed sweet potatoes and a bowl of succotash is yummy and stick-to-the-ribs. If you want to budget your menu don't forget that most people like chile con corne. You can serve it by itself with chopped onions and little saltine crackers.

"Mixer" parties are quite the thing in Kansas City, Mo., Mary Rutter tells us. It is a wonderful substitute when the teen town idea doesn't go over so big. The "mixer" is a welcome substitute.

The party is held at the school house, financed by a 25 cent admission fee, runs from 7:30 to 10:30. There are dancing and games (table tennis, darts and volley ball) for those who do not like to dance. There is a movie after which the gang goes back for more dancing and refreshments. The kids get plenty to eat with sandwiches, pop, apples and about anything else they might fancy, available.

A mixer band is chosen from the regular school orchestra and at Paseo High School, Kansas City, is paid $50 a performance. Three out of the six payments go to the students themselves, the other three to the band fund for uniforms.

The mixer committee consists of student council representatives and faculty. They decide on dates for the mixers, arrange them so they do not conflict with other school events, pick the movies from a downtown exchange.

Members of the Parent Teachers Association serve as hatcheckers, run the sandwich stand and have other tasks.

Girls and boys may come alone to the mixer or bring dates. Usually about 600 show up—wearing school clothes. There is nothing formal about a "mixer" party.

Is it true that the latest fad on Eastern college campuses is for male students to own a pair of elevator shoes in the event they date a skyscraper coed? Not having seen any with our own eyes, it is hard to believe that boys would bother. And, who ever heard of a college boy who could own two pair of shoes at one and the same time?

What difference does it make whether the boy is short or tall, if the girl likes him. If a girl insists that a boy wear elevator shoes, or is embarrassed by the difference in their height, she should not date him in the first place. And the boy shouldn't ask her. Why waste time with a girl who is ashamed to be seen with you, boys?

Brownfield Group To Discuss Civic Concert Association

BROWNFIELD, Nov. 20. (Special)—Residents of Brownfield and adjacent areas who are interested in the organization of a civic concert association have been invited to attend a meeting at 8 p. m. Monday in the studios of radio station KTFY here.

The purpose of the meeting is to elect officers and board members for a local concert association.

If sufficient interest is shown in the organization of such a civic association, a series of well-known artists under direction of the Lucius Pryor Concert service will be brought to Brownfield at intervals.

Hale Center Pair Observes 50th Wedding Anniversary

HALE CENTER, Nov. 19 (Spl)—A former Hale Center mayor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sam W. Smith, quietly observed their Golden Wedding anniversary at their home here on Nov. 8 without ceremony of any sort. The couple's observance was known to only a few of their intimate friends who called during the day and who sent flowers. Otherwise, it was almost like any other day for the pair.

Mr. Smith, born May 6, 1875 in Mississippi, served as mayor of Hale Center from 1938 to 1942, and then served as city secretary here for several years. He came to Texas with his parents in 1882 to Lockhart where he grew up on a farm. He came to the Plains in 1916, serving as manager of a lumber yard in Abernathy for several years. In 1927 he moved to Hale Center. Mr. Smith is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, serving with the First Texas Volunteers, Company D, which went to Cuba but was not in any action. He entered the Army in June of 1898 and was discharged in July of 1899.

Five months after his discharge he wed Miss Kate Beard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beard, on Nov. 8, 1899, in Rome, Texas. She came to Texas in 1889 with her parents from Kentucky, where she was born Sept. 20, 1872. Her family settled in Wise county where she taught school in several places.

The pair has two children living, a son, Glenn, with the Lubbock city fire department, and a daughter, Catherine, who teaches in the Lordsburg, N. M., schools. One child died in infancy. The couple has one grandchild.

Luncheon Is Held For Homemakers Class

First Baptist Homemakers class attended a Thanksgiving luncheon Friday afternoon in the annex with 35 in attendance.

Mrs. W. H. Trice is teacher.

"Service is fine on this party line!"

Once upon a time (and it wasn't so long ago) there were some neighbors on a telephone party line. Everything was all right, except when anyone wanted to use the line it seemed someone else was always using it.

PLEASE, MY LITTLE GIRL'S SICK

One day Mrs. White, one of the neighbors on the line, had to call a doctor in a hurry. Someone was using the line. Mrs. White hesitated, then broke right in . . .

"Please," she said, "my little girl's sick. May I have the line to call a doctor?"

"Oh, yes," said the others, and hung right up.

A short time later, Mrs. White called the person she had interrupted. "I'm sorry I had to interrupt," she said, "but it was an emergency."

"That's perfectly all right," said the neighbor, "and I have an idea about this party-line business. Most of our calls aren't too important. Why don't we all agree when any one of us has an important call that we will ask for the line?"

"That's a wonderful idea," said Mrs. White.

So they all agreed, and service on that party line has been fine ever since.

AMERICAN KITCHENS ALSO FEATURED

Nunn Electric, Supply Corp. Has Top-Grade Electrical Products

Faith in the continued growth and prosperity of the South Plains area during the coming years was manifested recently by Nunn Electric and Supply corporation when plans were announced by spokesmen of that firm for construction of a new building at 2423-2427 Texas Ave.

To be used as a warehouse, display and office building, the new two-story structure is scheduled for completion in April, 1950.

When Nunn Electric and Supply Corp. moves into the new stone and concrete block structure another milestone in the company's steady progress and growth in serving Lubbock and the South Plains area will have been reached.

And the modern facilities and additional space in Nunn's new building will enable the company to maintain larger and more varied stocks of equipment and supplies for the convenience of its customers throughout this area.

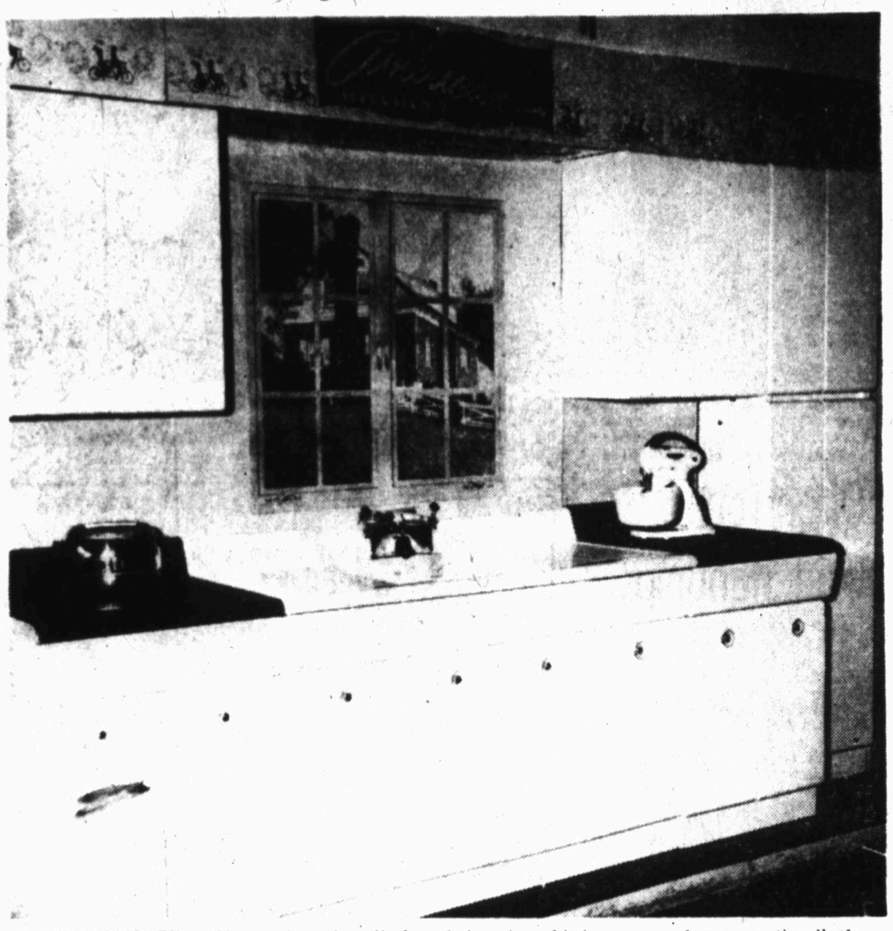

The company began business in Lubbock in 1937. During those 12 years in business here, Nunn Electric and Supply Corp., has strived to provide for its customers the most outstanding lines of electrical appliances and equipment, air coolers, and kitchen equipment available.

As a result, line of merchandise now stocked and distributed by the firm include Zenith radios, Universal electrical appliances, American steel kitchens, Essick evaporative air coolers, and various other lines of nationally-advertised electrical appliances and equipment.

A large part of the firm's business is connected with distribution of electrical material and fixtures. All types of electrical building materials are distributed through electrical contractors and through various industrial accounts.

Bill Honey, manager of the Lubbock branch of Nunn Electric and Supply Corp., said it has long been the company's policy to add superior new lines of merchandise and equipment to its stocks as they become available.

This policy will continue when the company moves into its modern new building next spring.

MODEL KITCHEN — Shown above is a display of American kitchens, one of many nationally-famous lines of merchandise at Nunn Electric and Supply Corp., 1112 Ave. Q. This well-known line of kitchen cabinets and equipment pays dividends in durability and low cost of upkeep, in addition to smart appearance. The sales staff at Nunn's will be glad to give more information about these famous kitchens.

Varied Stock Offered By Floor Covering Co.

Time was—and not so very long ago, either—when Lubbockites who wanted new floor coverings in their homes or businesses had to go one place for the kind of carpeting they wanted, and then to another firm to buy the linoleum of their choice.

Heave a sigh of relief, for that time is no longer. Nowadays, with just one stop at Lubbock Floor Covering Co., 2148 Nineteenth, your floor covering problems can all be solved.

For Lubbock Floor Covering Co. is Lubbock's only complete floor covering firm.

There you'll find a wide selection of fine carpeting from such well-known makers as Bigelow, Artloom, Gulistan and Firth.

In the hard floor covering department, famous brands featured are Armstrong, Congoleum, Nairn, Pabco and Sloan linoleum products.

Best of all, Lubbock Floor Covering Co. maintains large stocks of both carpeting and linoleum products in a wide price range. If your taste is unlimited but your pocketbook's on a budget, you still have a wide variety of patterns and colors of floor coverings from which to choose.

If price is no object, you'll find stocks of high-fashion, high-quality carpeting and linoleum that give your rooms luxuriousness and individuality.

Spur Will Meet Littlefield Thursday In Bi-District Clash

Wildcats Win Coin Toss, Select Home Field; Game Time Is 2:30

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

Spur's Bulldogs, grid champions of District 3-A, and Littlefield's Wildcats, 4-A titlists, will meet at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at Littlefield in their bi-district playoff game.

Littlefield won the toss of a coin Sunday at a meeting of officials of the two schools in the Hilton hotel here.

Agreements Are Reached

Other agreements reached at Sunday's session were:

(1) Admission prices will be $1.50 for reserved seats, $1.20 for general admission, and 60 cents for students.

(2) Officials for the game will be Paul Featheringill, referee; Marlin Hayhurst, umpire; L. L. Judd, head linesman; and Floyd Read, field judge.

(3) Play-by-play broadcasts of the contest will be aired by radio stations KSEL, Lubbock, and KVOW, Littlefield.

Winner In Regional

Joe Hutchinson and Foster Cook, school superintendents at Littlefield and Spur, respectively, presided at Sunday's meeting. The game officials were selected by Littlefield Coach J. S. Fikes and Spur Coach Sam Hawkes.

Thursday's winner will move into the regional Class A round against the victor of Saturday's Lefors-Phillips game at Phillips.

Littlefield swamped Slaton, 47-0, Friday in the District 4-A playoff to gain the bi-district round. Over the full season, the burly Wildcats have nine triumphs and one loss, by 14-0 to Dalhart in the season opener. Littlefield also was held to a 7-7 scoring tie by Sudan, but won that game on penetrations.

Littlefield Heavier

Spur's team, slightly lighter than the Littlefield aggregation, has come along fast after a slow start. After dropping their first two games, 19-6 to Haskell and 26-0 to Hamlin, the Bulldogs buckled down to win seven of eight conference games. Spur lost only to Paducah, 19-12, in District 3-A play.

In 10 games this year, Littlefield has amassed 361 points to the opponents' 47. Spur has tallied 203 points while giving up 126 in the same number of tilts.

Race Is Over In District 4-A

That perennial South Plains powerhouse, Littlefield, has moved into playoff competition again.

Coach J. S. Fikes' Wildcats nailed down the District 4-A title last week by crushing Slaton's Tigers, 47-0, in the inter-zone playoff. Earlier, Littlefield had taken the north division championship while Slaton was copping the south zone honors.

Slaton Tops In South

Littlefield also finished with the best overall record for the season, with nine triumphs and one defeat. Slaton was tops among south zone teams, winning six and dropping four.

Last week's district title game closed out the season for all 4-A teams except Littlefield, which Thursday plays host to Spur in the bi-district playoff.

Spur Impressive In Winning Title

Spur's speedy Bulldogs, improving with every game, sewed up the District 3-A grid crown last week by walloping the Floydada Whirlwinds, 45-13, in their most impressive performance of the season.

The convincing triumph gained Spur a berth opposite Littlefield in the bi-district playoff round. The game will be played at Littlefield Thursday afternoon.

Tie Is Avoided

Spur's win over Floydada avoided a four-way tie that would have resulted had the Whirlwinds won.

The final district standings show Lockney and Crosbyton deadlocked for second slot, each with a 6-2 record, and Floydada in fourth place with a 5-3 mark.

Season Ends

Overall season standings list Lockney and Crosbyton at the top, Each won eight while losing two over the full season. Spur and Floydada each posted 7-3 records.

Other conference clashes last week saw Crosbyton edge out Ralls, 14-6, and Paducah squeeze past Matador, 24-20, as the final curtain was lowered on the 1949 season.

Gulf Coast Title Settled Thursday

(By The Associated Press)

Whether Hardin is to be undisputed champion of the Gulf Coast Conference or will have to share it with North Texas State goes on the line Thursday at Wichita Falls.

Unbeaten Hardin meets a Trinity university team that's out of the race, but could pretty well ruin what has been a great season at the Wichita Falls college.

Some Startling Contrasts

North Texas State has finished its conference campaign with two wins and one loss—that defeat to Hardin.

The Gulf Coast Conference presents some startling contrasts. North Texas State last week crushed East Texas State, champion of the Lone Star Conference, 59-6 and it was this same East Texas State outfit that handed Hardin its only defeat of the season.

The Hardin-Trinity game winds up the conference race but does not finish the campaign. University of Houston will be at St. Louis playing St. Louis university and North Texas State will go to Reno, Nev., to meet University of Nevada Thursday.

McNeil Leading Scorer

Next week Trinity has a game with Hardin-Simmons.

Ned McNeil of North Texas State took over the scoring leadership last week. He now has 66 points, Jack Barry of Hardin, who has 65, fell to second place.

McNeil went into first place as the result of his work in the game with East Texas State.

University of Houston beat Trinity 28-21 in a conference game.

Gulf Coast Conference Teams To Pass Up Lone Star Next Year

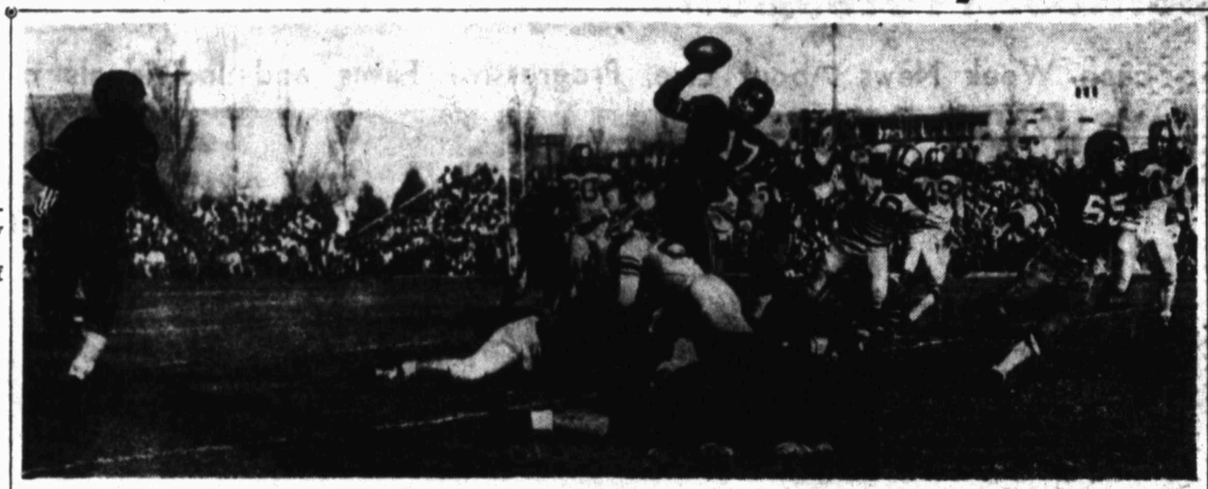

DALLAS, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Gulf Coast Conference is expected to pass up the Lone Star Conference in scheduling football games next fall, Harry Gage, writing in the Dallas News, said today.

He said the question of whether the two conferences had come to the parting of the ways is more apparent than ever now after East Texas State, the Lone Star champion, bowed to North Texas State of the Gulf Coast 59-6 Saturday.

PLAYOFF SITE SET

BIG SPRING, Nov. 20. (AP)—Wink's Wildcats, champions of District 5-A, and Haskell, District 6-A titlist, will meet at 2 p. m. Thursday at Sweetwater in their bi-district encounter in the state Class A football playoff. Haskell won the toss of a coin at a meeting of school officials here today and designated Sweetwater as its choice of a site for the game.

Olton Tops 3-B Grid Standings

The shooting's over in District 3-B, where Olton's champion Mustangs now await their Thursday bi-district game with Meadow at Olton.

Hale Center closed out the regular 1949 3-B schedule last week by trouncing Anton, 41-7. The win left the Owls, 1948 district rulers, in undisputed possession of fourth place in the final standings, behind Olton, Dimmitt and Springlake.

No other games were played by 3-B teams last week.

Olton Is Pacemaker

Coach T. M. Cox's Olton squad rolled to 238 points in nine games for the loop's outstanding offensive record. The Mustangs also were the defensive pacesetters, allowing their opponents only 27 points — an average of three per game.

In full season play, Olton and Dimmitt each had 9-1 records. Olton dropped its season opener to Class A Andrews. Dimmitt's lone loss was to Olton.

Tyler Faces Lamar In Junior College Final

(By The Associated Press)

The Southwestern Junior college conference football race comes to a close this week with one of the last games on the schedule to determine the championship and probably a spot in the Little Rose Bowl in California.

Undefeated, untied Lamar, which already has clinched a tie for the title, tries to make it undisputed against Tyler at Tyler Friday. Tyler, loser of one game, can deadlock for the crown by knocking over Lamar.

Last week Tyler strengthened the conference's claim to representation in the Little Rose Bowl by going out to California and beating Compton college, 28-14. Compton was the Little Rose Bowl champion last year.

Lamar kept its record intact by licking McNeese of Louisiana, 33-14, while Schreiner beat Brownsville of the Texas Junior college conference, 14-0.

In conference games, Kilgore clinched a tie for third place by beating Paris, 6-0. Tarleton State shoved Arlington State deep into the cellar with a 26-0 decision.

Paris and Tarleton finished the campaign tied for sixth. San Angelo will determine Thursday whether it is to tie Kilgore for third or wind up fourth in a game with Schreiner at San Angelo.

Paris ends the season with an intersectional game against Duluth, Minn., at Paris.

Raiders Favored Here Saturday

Tech Meets H-SU For Border Crown

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 20. —The schedule maker's dream comes true at Lubbock Saturday when the Red Raiders of Texas Tech meet the Cowboys of Hardin-Simmons university for the Border conference crown.

Tech, defending a title it's won for two straight seasons, stands as the favorite.

While their rivals for the title were downing New Mexico University, 27-0, at Albuquerque Saturday, the H-SU forces were taking a rest.

Winner Takes Title

The winner takes the title. Should Tech win it would have a record of five conference victories against no losses. Should H-SU take the crown it would assume top spot with a record of five wins and a single loss. The Cowboys play one more game than their close rivals so would win on a percentage basis, even though they've already lost one game.

A Tech victory also would put Arizona State college at Tempe into undisputed possession of second place. The Sun Devils of State have wound up their conference slate with a 4-1 record. Hardin-Simmons could throw Tech and Tempe into a tie for second with a victory at Lubbock.

Clubs Finish Season

Only the Tech-New Mexico and two games not counting in conference standings were on the docket Saturday. Arizona was smothered by Michigan state, 75-0, at Tucson, and Colorado A&M swamped New Mexico A&M, 45-0 at Las Cruces.

Most of the clubs wind up their 1949 competition this week. In addition to the championship tussle, Arizona State at Tempe plays host to Loyola of Los Angeles, West Texas State meets New Mexico at Albuquerque, the New Mexico Aggies tangle with Texas Western at El Paso, and Arizona has a rough assignment against the University of Kansas at Tucson.

Sun Bowl Possible

The Bowl picture also enters into next week's games. Normally the champion of the Border conference is invited to play in the Sun Bowl at El Paso. Tech has indicated it won't accept any bowl bids. H-SU would be receptive in all probability, as perhaps would Texas Western which has lost to both Tech and H-SU.

Arizona State at Tempe already has accepted an invitation to be the host team in the Salad Bowl at Phoenix.

Georgetown will be the visiting eleven for the Sun classic while Colorado A&M, Wyoming, College of the Pacific, Oklahoma A&M and San Francisco have been prominently mentioned for the Salad Bowl.

The Conference standings:

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	P	OP
Texas Tech	4	0	0	1.000	102	26
Tempe	4	1	0	.800	205	98
Hardin-Simmons	4	1	0	.800	143	53
Texas Western	3	2	0	.600	83	53
West Texas State	2	3	0	.500	92	82
Arizona	2	4	0	.333	100	145
New Mexico A&M	1	3	0	.250	87	122

McMurry Tribe Takes Crown

(By The Associated Press)

McMurry's Indians clinched their second straight Texas conference championship last week, but upsets and the last remaining games could jumble the rest of the standings.

The Indians were battled to a surprising 20-20 tie by Southwestern in one of two upsets. The other last week was Austin college's 20-19 victory over Texas A&I.

Two Games Set

This week, Abilene Christian and Howard Payne close out play with their Thanksgiving day game at Brownwood, and Texas A&I meets the University of Corpus Christi at Kingsville Friday night.

Brad Rowland for the second straight week failed to score, but he passed for one McMurry touchdown in his usual all-around performance and still paces conference scorers with 108 points.

Austin college came behind to beat Texas A&I and Ray Morrison's Kangaroos have cinched at least a tie for second place.

Sugar Bowl Committee Will Not Meet Until Monday Or Tuesday

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20 (AP)—F. V. Schaub, president of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association, said tonight the Sugar Bowl committee would not meet until Monday afternoon or Tuesday.

Schaub said Sugar Bowl officials attended games in all sections of the country Saturday, and many would not be back here until Monday or Tuesday.

Athens, Greece, will have an aircraft-overhaul base, as soon as financing is arranged.

Meadow Is New District Champ

Coach Lloyd Hunt's Meadow Bronchos completed a perfect regular season slate last week by outscoring the New Deal Lions, 23-7, for their tenth straight win.

The victory also gave Meadow full possession of the District 4-B championship, and the right to meet Olton in the bi-district playoff round. The two teams play Thursday afternoon at Olton.

Whiteface Takes Second

In addition to eight successes in conference play, Meadow decisioned O'Donnell and the Lubbock Pioneers in non-district games this season.

Whiteface tripped Ropesville, 26-6, last week to clinch second place in the final standings. New Deal's loss to Meadow dropped the Lions to third, with Ropesville winding up fourth.

The regular 1949 4-B slate will end with this week's Petersburg at Idalou contest. At present these two teams are tied in the standings, each with three wins and four reverses.

East Texas State Wins Lone Star Conference

(By The Associated Press)

The Lone Star Conference football campaign is at an end with East Texas State holding the championship.

The season closed on a sour note last week, however, as North Texas State of the Gulf Coast Conference whammed East Texas, 59-6.

Stephen F. Austin won second place in the standings by beating Sam Houston State, 51-14. SFAC also finished with the best full season record—7 wins and 2 losses.

Southwest Texas State closed out with a victory, beating East Texas Baptist college 31-26.

Jack Kyle of Sam Houston State won the scoring championship, winding up with 59 points.

Class A Grid Teams Open State Playoff

Four Districts Remain Undecided

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Class A schoolboy football teams move into the first round of the championship playoff this week as Class AA and City conference schools wind up regular season schedules.

Only four playoff spots remain to be decided in the three divisions that play to state titles in the Texas Interscholastic league's grid program.

Only 17 Unbeaten

Port Arthur and Beaumont tangle this week to decide the playoff representative of District 11-AA. Thomas Jefferson and Brackenridge settle the San Antonio district of the City conference, while Paschal and North Side battle to pick the Fort Worth district winner in the big city loop. District 4-AA is the other spot to be filled.

There are just four undefeated, untied teams in Class AA now, and Class A ended regular season play with only 13 unbeaten teams. Six of these had been tied.

Nine Titles Clinched

Nine Class AA titles were clinched last week: San Jacinto nailed down the Houston championship in the city conference, and 21 Class A playoff representatives were added to 11 already named.

Some traditional games are on tap this week, even if they don't mean much in the title races. These include Waco-Temple; Pampa-Borger; San Angelo-Abilene; Denison - Sherman; Texarkana, Ark., Texarkana, Tex.; Gladewater-Longview; Kirwin (Galveston)-Ball (Galveston); and Corsicana-Cleburne.

Here's the way the playoff will shape up by conferences and districts:

CITY CONFERENCE

DISTRICT 1—Sunset (Dallas); 2-Undecided; 3-San Jacinto (Houston); 4-Undecided.

CLASS AA

DISTRICT 1—Pampa; 2-Wichita Falls; 3-Lubbock; 4-Undecided; 5-Abilene; 6-Breckenridge; 7-Paris; 8-Highland Park (Dallas); 9- Marshall; 10-Conroe; 11-Undecided; 12-Galveston; 13-Corsicana; 14-Austin; 15-Alice 16-Harlingen.

CLASS A

DISTRICT 1—Phillips; 2-Lefors; 3-Spur; 4-Littlefield; 5-Wink; 6-Haskell; 7-Ballinger; 8-Ranger; 9-Burkburnett; 10-Bowie; 11-Arlington; 12-Garland; 13-Honey Grove; 14-Atlanta; 15-Mineola; 16-Leverett's Chapel; 17-Kaufman; 18-Grand Saline; 19-Lavega; 20-Mexia; 21-Rosebud; 22-Lampasas; 23-Brenham; 24-New Braunfels; 25-Alvin; 26-French; 27-El Campo; 28-Edna; 29-Freer; 30-Mission; 31-Edison; 32-Uvalde.

The undefeated untied teams are Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Port Arthur and Corsicana in Class AA; New Braunfels, Kaufman, Mexia, French, Lefors, and Edna in Class A. Unbeaten but tied in Class A are Uvalde, Leverett's Chapel, Bowie, Arlington and Ballinger.

Last Week's Results:

CITY CONFERENCE

DISTRICT 1—Crozier Tech (Dallas) 38, North Dallas 7; Adamson (Dallas) 40, Forest (Dallas) 12; Sunset (Dallas) 40, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) 6.

Shake Up Slated At Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 20 (INS)—The Minneapolis Star and Tribune said today in a copyrighted story that Frank McCormick has resigned as athletic director of the University of Minnesota.

The Tribune said McCormick tendered his resignation to University President James L. Morrill, Sept. 1, and has no definite plans for the future.

Resignation Confirmed

Sports Editor Charles Johnson of the Tribune said President Morrill confirmed the resignation, but said it has "not been accepted."

Johnson quoted the president as saying "I am still hopeful Mr. McCormick can be persuaded to withdraw it."

However, the Tribune sports editor quoted McCormick with insisting his decision was final, but said he declined to give any definite reason for his action.

The Star and Tribune said Morrill declared no steps have been taken to find a successor for McCormick, but it was rumored during the football season that Coach Bernie Bierman would replace McCormick if he should leave.

Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, a Minnesota alumnus, has been touted as a possible successor to Bierman.

ARGENTINE WINS

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 20 (AP)—Argentina's polo team defeated the Meadowbrook Club of the United States, 11-9, in the opening game of a two-nation series today.

Old Rivalries On Tap This Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP)—With California and Ohio State awaiting official nods for Rose Bowl designation, college football turns this week to several ancient rivalries and conference scraps from which additional New Year's bowl teams will emerge.

Topping the rivalry list is Saturday's affair at Philadelphia, where Army presents its undefeated record to Navy and asks the Middies what they're going to do about it. Both Army, the nation's No. 4 team, and Navy were idle last week.

And Philadelphia gets another humdinger Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, when Cornell and Pennsylvania clash in their annual game—this time for the Ivy league championship.

Rice-Baylor Tops

Half a dozen conference championships remain to be settled this week. The Rice Owls and Baylor Bears meet Saturday at Houston for the Southwest Conference crown and a spot in the Cotton Bowl. Down in New Orleans, Tulane faces Louisiana State, with an eye on the Sugar Bowl.

Baylor downed Southern Methodist Saturday, 35-26. S. M. U. beat Oregon in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1, 21-13. Rice kept its place atop the conference by beating Texas Christian, 20-14.

Tennessee upset Kentucky, 6-0, dimming the Wildcats' Southeastern Conference and bowl hopes. All Tulane must do to clinch the conference crown and probably get a Sugar Bowl bid is beat Louisiana Sate at New Orleans Saturday.

Tarheels Win Title

North Carolina, victor over Duke, 21-20, collared the Southern Conference crown. This gave North Carolina five conference wins without defeat, compared to a four and none record for Maryland. North Carolina, thrice-beaten, plays Virginia Saturday, with both still hopeful of a bowl bid somewhere.

Maryland also has bowl hopes. Beaten only by Michigan State, Maryland must get past West Virginia Thursday at College Park, Md., and Miami, Fla., there, Dec. 2.

Powerful Oklahoma, rated the No. 2 college team right behind Notre Dame, ran into trouble before finally defeating Santa Clara, 28-21. With a Sugar Bowl bid virtually assured, Oklahoma tackles Oklahoma A. & M. Saturday at Norman. Last January, Oklahoma beat North Carolina in the Sugar Bowl, 14-6. The Big Seven title already has been clinched by Oklahoma.

Notre Dame, hoisting to 36 its string of games without defeat, blasted Iowa, 28-7, after a rugged first half. The Fighting Irish entertain Southern California, 21-7 victor over U. C. L. A., at South Bend, Ind., Saturday.

Two other conference squabbles will be settled Thursday, when Wyoming plays Denver, and Detroit meets Wichita at Wichita, Kans. Wyoming is undefeated in the Skyline Six Conference, but a Denver victory would drop the Cowboys into a tie for the title with Colorado A. & M.

Detroit, on top of the Missouri Valley heap, must defeat Wichita to take clear title.

Texas Tech can also wrap up Border Conference honors by defeating Hardin-Simmons Saturday at Lubbock, Tex. Tech trounced New Mexico last week, 27-0.

Villanova, beaten only in an upset by Tulsa, 21-19, slapped down North Carolina State Saturday, 45-21, and could be headed toward one of the major bowls—perhaps the Orange. That ended the Villanova regular season.

COWBOY BACKS IN ACTION — These two Hardin-Simmons backfield men, along with the four linemen, are expected to see a lot of action in Saturday's crucial game against Texas Tech. The Red Raiders, undefeated in Border Conference competition, can wrap up their third successive conference title here Saturday. But they are expected to have their hands full against their traditional rivals in a game that should be a thriller. Shown above, left to right, are Ray Troutman and Nolan Tiger, backs, while the linemen, in the same order, are Bob McChesney, Paul Frost, Manuel Orfanos and Herb Barker.

DETROIT UPSETS GIANTS 45-21

Graham's Spectacular Passing Sparks Brownies In Pro Circuit

(By International News Service)

The passing wizardry of Otto Graham today gave the Cleveland Browns a 31 to 0 victory over the New York Yankees in an All-America Football Conference game at Yankee Stadium.

Graham's passes figured in all the points scored by the AAC leaders. He wound up the day with 19 completions out of 34 passes that went for 382 yards.

The victory was the tenth the Browns have handed the New Yorkers since the formation of the league.

In other AAC games, the Buffalo Bills blanked the Chicago Hornets, 10 to 0, and the Los Angeles Dons beat Baltimore, 28 to 10.

The upset of the day came in the rival National Football League, where the Detroit Lions upended the New York Giants, 45 to 21.

It was the highest total ever registered by the Lions.

The Eastern Division leading Philadelphia Eagles humbled the New York Bulldogs, 42 to 0.

The Western Division leading Los Angeles Rams battled to a 28 to 28 tie with the Chicago Cardinals.

Johnny Lujack passed for three touchdowns as the Chicago Bears stopped the Washington Redskins, 31 to 21.

The Pittsburgh Steelers turned back the Green Bay Packers, 30 to 7.

Quarterback Club To Hear Coaches Tonight

Cdach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school and Coach Dell Morgan of Texas Tech, both of whom had winning performances by their teams this week, will be the principal speakers at the Lubbock Quarterback club's meeting tonight.

The club will hold its usual session in the main ballroom of the Hotel Lubbock.

Coach Pattison will speak on the Westerners 28-7 defeat of Midland, a game which gave the Lubbock squad undisputed possession of the District 3-AA title. The Westerners play Brownfield here Thursday in the final conference game of the year.

Coach Morgan will talk on his 27-0 defeat of New Mexico and his old protoge, Coach Berl Huffman. He also will discuss the game with Hardin-Simmons here Saturday, a game that will decide the Border Conference championship.

Pictures of one of the games played this year will conclude the program.

Indians Probably Will Be Sold

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20. (INS) — Bill Veeck, Cleveland's sports showman supreme, is expected to hand over the reins of the Cleveland Indians Monday to Ellis W. Ryan, a baseball-minded insurance man.

Veeck notified all the city's sportswriters tonight that a meeting will be held at the stadium office at 11 a.m. Monday presumably to announce the sale of the ball club to Ryan and his group. The sale would end many months of dickering within baseball circles.

Over Two Million

The price to be paid by Ryan is expected to be near $2,200,000 about $800,000 more than Veeck paid for the club when he purchased it from Alva Bradley in 1946.

Included in a syndicate headed by Ryan, president of the W. F. Ryan Insurance co., are Donald W. Hornbeck, a lawyer; Guy Waters, president of the Midwest Forge co.; Jack John, an associate of Ryan; George Medinger, director of the Fostoria Pressed Steel co.; Nate Dolin, box office manager of the Cleveland arena; and Harry Small, vice president of the Bank of Ohio. All are Clevelanders.

Hornbeck said that on completion of the deal with Veeck, another member—former Cleveland Mayor Ray T. Miller—will be added to the group. Miller is one of the principal owners of Cleveland radio station WERE, which probably would broadcast all of the Tribe's games.

The status of Hank Greenberg, former home run king of the major leagues, is still questionable. Greenberg, although he had a major part in building up the Indians' farm system, has had very little experience as an executive.

Owls Minus Feathers After Frog Tilt

Baylor Plays Rice In SWC Title Game

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lumped into one afternoon will be the entire Southwest conference football race. The big event comes Saturday at Houston as Baylor's Bears, scenting their greatest season in a quarter of a century, clash with the Rice Owls.

From this battle will emerge Rice as undisputed champion and Cotton Bowl host or Baylor as co-champion and the Southwest's team in the Cotton Bowl.

All other schools were eliminated from title contention Saturday as Rice beat Texas Christian, 20-14, and Baylor tumbled 1948 champion Southern Methodist, 35-26.

Rice is undefeated in conference play, Baylor has lost one game. Should Baylor beat Rice it would be co-champion but still would get the Cotton Bowl spot because precedent says if two teams deadlock for the title the one that beat the other in regular season play becomes the host outfit in the Dallas gridiron classic.

Four games this week wind up the official campaign for all except Southern Methodist, which still has a date with Notre Dame on Dec. 3.

First business of the week will be transacted Thursday when Texas and Texas A&M play their annual traditional Thanksgiving day game. This time it will be at College Station and will be the fifty-sixth in the oldest football rivalry of the Southwest.

Saturday Arkansas plays the next to last intersectional game for the conference as the Razorbacks clash with tough Tulsa at Fayetteville. Southern Methodist and Texas Christian will be staging their perennial dog-fight at Fort Worth while Rice and Baylor swap touchdowns at Houston.

Rice had trouble aplenty with Texas Christian which threatened to the last seconds to knock the Owls from their lofty seat. Twice TCU touchdowns were called back on penalties and it was up to Rex Proctor, great Rice defensive back, to save the day. He drove Dan Wilde out of bounds on the two-yard line to prevent a touchdown and he intercepted a pass that would have meant a score with only seconds left.

John Morton, powerman of the Christian backfield, rammed out 139 yards in a ball-carrying show.

Adrian Burk, the "perfect quarterback," was Baylor's great man in the triumph over Southern Methodist. Burk passed for three touchdowns and set up another. He also completed nine passes for 240 yards.

All-America Doak Walker played a grand game for SMU, scoring three touchdowns, kicking two extra points, rolling up 60 yards rushing and 94 passing. A fumble by Walker helped Baylor to a touchdown and his gamble on fourth down that misfired aided the Bears to another score but as one sports writer remarked: "Well, that just shows Walker is human after all.."

In the other game played Saturday Arkansas was dismal against William and Mary, hurting the conference's intersectional record with a 20-0 defeat. William and Mary surged 77 yards for one touchdown and used Arkansas fumbles for two more. Vito Ragazzo caught his thirteenth touchdown pass of the season—a new national record—in helping Buddy Lex, Jack Cloud and Ed Magdziak plaster the Razorbacks.

Walker took the lead in conference scoring, running his total to 82 points. It shoved idle Randall Clay of Texas into second place. Clay has 64.

Wink Goes Into Bi-District Play

Wink's Wildcats finished their blistering stretch drive with a 26-16 win over Crane last week to lay a clear-cut claim to the District 5-A championship.

The triumph moved Wink into the Class A bi-district round against Haskell, the District 6-A kingpin. The two will meet Thursday afternoon at Sweetwater.

Andrews Is Second

Andrews, a constant challenger for top spot in the closing weeks of the campaign finished in runnerup position with a hard-earned 26-21 decision over Seminole. Kermit, the early-season 5-A leader, dropped a 21-13 verdict to Hobbs, New Mexico's top-ranked team. Pecos spilled Monahans, 32-21, and McCamey downed Fort Stockton, 19-6.

Wink posted the circuit's top offensive mark, with 276 points in nine conference tilts. Andrews led defensively, giving up only 68 points in district play.

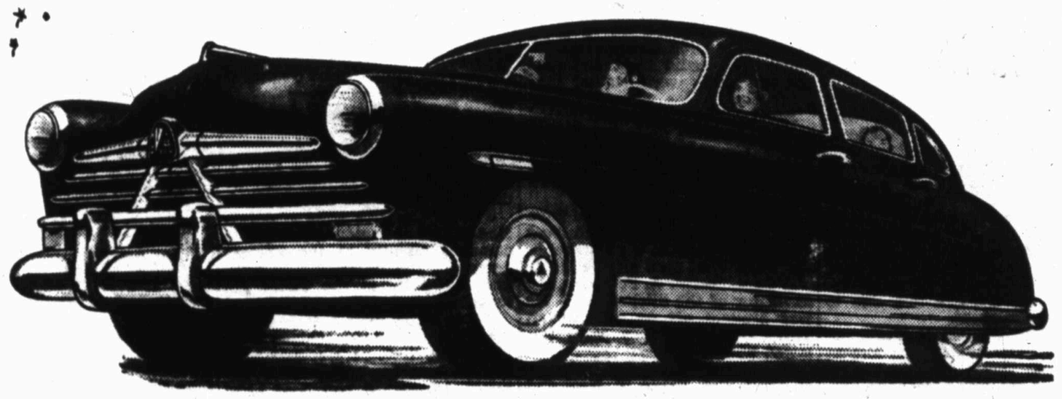

FINAL DISTRICT STANDING

Teams	W	L	T	P	OP
Wink	8	1	0	276	77
Andrews	7	1	1	198	68
Kermit	6	2	1	174	83

Hudson invades lower-price field

WITH FAMOUS "STEP-DOWN" DESIGN

ANNOUNCING THE NEW Hudson Pacemaker

ON DISPLAY FOR THE FIRST TIME TODAY!

See this engineering triumph . . . a trim-size, new car with the sensational advantages of Hudson's years-ahead "step-down" design . . .

A streamlined beauty with a colorful new interior featuring gorgeous wool fabrics combined with plastic Dura-fab trim . . .

A neat-as-can-be automobile with more room than any other car at any price, except another Hudson; yet a car that costs you less to buy . . . less to drive!

HUDSON'S NEW PACEMAKER is here today! . . . On display today! . . . You can see it today!

For the first time in motor-car history, you can have compactness and lower price with big-car comfort and riding qualities. For here is an agile car with more inside room than in any other car at any price, except another Hudson.

It's a trim, tidy car with a lower center of gravity than any other make—and because of this you get a smoother road-hugging ride than is possible in even the costliest cars built the old-fashioned way.

Here, Hudson's "step-down" design gives you not only all the room, comfort, safety and amazing roadability, but also all the low-built beauty, the long, free-flowing lines that can come only with the "step-down" way of building motor cars. Every body line is naturally beautiful, even to the graceful curves of the Full-View windshield.

This is Hudson's new Pacemaker . . . priced for millions of new-car buyers!

You ride securely—in Hudson's single-unit, all-welded, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame*—safely within a box-section foundation frame that surrounds the passenger compartment, even outside the rear wheels—relaxed in the roomiest seats in any automobile.

This is Hudson's new Pacemaker . . . with the new higher-compression Pacemaker engine, the power-packed engine that test drivers call "the smoothest, sweetest we've ever driven!" . . . the rugged, long-lived engine with new carburetion and fuel intake that make it a lightning-like performer with surprisingly saving ways!

And this amazing car brings you Hudson's new Super-matic Drive (optional at extra cost)—the only automatic transmission that includes the fuel-saving advantages of overdrive and that shifts gears just as you want to shift, that doesn't creep at lights, that doesn't slip as you roll along.

There are more . . . many more . . . fresh, colorful and desirable features in this great new car . . . too many to mention here. Hadn't you better see it today?

*Trademark and patents pending.

18 B-29 Survivors Are Taken To Bermuda After Sea Rescue

made it impossible to reach them, Grable said.

Fourteen of the survivors were able to walk off the destroyer. Four were carried to the base hospital. One appeared to be suffering badly from shock.

Lt. Cmdr. Edward T. G. Madgwick, Ottawa, captain of the destroyer, said waves 50 to 60 feet tossed the survivors in their rescue boat, which had been dropped to them by a B-17. He said the boat rose so high on the waves the men stepped or were handed across the destroyer's forward deck without using a ladder.

Asked whether any of the men had showed religious zeal, Grable said:

"No one turned evangelist, but we all thought a lot and prayed that we would be picked up."

"What are you going to do?" they were all asked.

"I think we are all going to the church, and then, maybe we will celebrate a bit," Grable said.

"What was the main topic of conversation?"

"'Move over and give me a little room,' but nobody said please."

Rafts Were Overloaded

Grable referred to the fact that the six-man rafts carried nine men each because a third raft had jammed in the tail section and was not recovered.

The survivors were not thirsty because it had rained a good deal of the time. They also had equipment to purify salt water for drinking. They lived on emergency rations, which are mainly hard candy. When they were picked up, they had one day's rations left.

Grable said he felt they were certain to be picked up because he realized planes and ships were searching for them. They heard planes pass over several times and twice saw ships. They tried vainly to paddle toward one but were unable to make any progress and decided to wait until morning. Then the ship had gone.

Grable, who was flying the plane, escaped through a window to the left of the pilot's seat. He said the "Gibson girl" survival radio had not worked, despite a day and a half of trying. It was finally lost when a raft capsized.

Landing Was Easy

Staff Sgt. John J. Harris, 35, Braddock, Pa., the plane's engineer, said "I don't believe I moved two inches when we landed.

"I had plenty of time to cut all the switches and lessen the danger of fire. I had no trouble at all getting out. I felt only one impact, but the men in the rear said they felt two.

"I believe they felt the jolt of the ship breaking in two. The morale of the men was excellent. Everyone got along fine."

Staff Sgt. John Burch, 28, of Los Angeles, who was in the tunnel which runs past the bomb bays, escaped through the astrodome used by the navigator. He said his thoughts while drifting were about beefsteak. Drenched constantly, he said his only discomfort is extensive itch due to saltwater exposure.

Staff Sgt. William H. Pratt, 26-year-old paratrooper from Brockton, Mass., went through a broken portion of the plane from the center section.

Staff Sgt. Manuel Oropeza, 31, suffered a right shoulder injury in escaping and his arm was nearly useless. He managed, however, to pull the cords inflating a Mae West jacket worn by Cpl. Bryce W. Neal of Sault Sainte Marie, Mich., who seemed dazed. Sgt. Oropeza sent Neal swimming toward a raft, then followed, swimming with one hand.

Oropeza, the first of the four stretcher cases transferred from the destroyer to the Air Force crash boat, smiled and waved his hand during the rescue. Oropeza said his main thoughts were of his wife and two children and how glad he was that he had insurance.

First Lt. Leonard D. Culberson, 28, a bombardier from Little Rock, Ark., was riding in the nose section instead of at his regular ditching position because of the extra men aboard. He said he threw out two one-man life rafts. One was lost and the other exploded when its automatic inflater went into operation after it had been blown up by mouth.

Texan Appeared Dazed

Lt. Culberson said that First Lt. Ernest W. Oliver, 27, Abilene, Texas, who was riding in the co-pilot's seat, appeared to be dazed momentarily. Culberson grabbed Oliver's feet to start him through the right hand window.

Culberson followed and swam to the raft after cutting a cord holding it to the bomber. Such rafts pop out of the top of the plane's fuselage and inflate automatically, but the ejector on this one failed and a crewman pulled an emergency cord to bring it to the surface.

Culberson's only injury appeared to be a sore back suffered when he crawled out of the window.

The rescue boat, which had been dropped from a B-17, picked up the survivors from the two overcrowded life rafts on which they had been huddled since the crash.

Lt. Cmdr. Alfred A. H. Kerley, of Victoria, B. C., engineering officer of the Haida, said the men seemed pretty dazed when they were picked up.

"We fed them soup and coffee, and they wolfed that down," Kerley said.

Waves Slowed Ship

Madgwick said the seas were so heavy the Canadian frigate Swansea had dropped behind the aircraft carrier Magnificent and the Haida as the three raced toward the rafts.

The Magnificent launched Firefly fighter planes to search the seas as it approached, despite the fact the waves were breaking over the flight deck. As a result, some of the planes were damaged in landing.

Due to the heavy swells the fighters had not spotted the rescue boat, but the survivors had seen the carrier planes. The final rescue was made after Petty Officer Crowley on the Haida saw the B-17 circling and realized it was over the survivors.

Survivors said the tail broke off the B-29, ditched out of fuel 400 miles northeast of here, and the big bomber turned nose down less than one minute after landing on the rough Atlantic.

Two of 20 men aboard were lost because heavy swells made it impossible to reach them despite life preservers, Grable said.

Man Suffered Head Injuries

Cpl. Raymond Breit, 32, Arlington, Calif., one of the men lost, was badly injured about the head when caught by wrenched girders.

Pvt. Robert Dobson, 19, Decatur, Ill., was not reported hurt, but was unable to swim against the swells, and disappeared, Grable said.

Seventeen men appeared in good shape after spending a night on the rolling destroyer. Only Sgt. Roy Coulter, 46, Beverly Hills, Calif., one of the ground crew men, riding as a passenger, was ruled not in condition for a press interview.

Coulter lay quiet and unsmiling on a stretcher when brought ashore but watched the proceedings.

Coulter was reported suffering considerable shock.

Grable said he caught one fish, a two-foot yellow tail, but lost it trying to land it. It was the nearest they came to landing a fish in three days.

Grable said they were forced to ditch after navigation and radio equipment failed.

"We hunted for the island under every cloud we saw, but had no luck," he said. "It was pretty overcast. We jettisoned everything we could and prepared for ditching. We got the wind direction os 220 degrees by radio from Bermuda but the swells were heavier than I expected."

Hundreds of spectators appeared as the Canadian destroyer H.M.S. Haida entered the harbor and cheers rose into great ovations both for survivors and the crew of the ship.

Survivors were transferred from the destroyer to the crash boat which was used as a photographers' boat. First man off the Haida was Capt. Joseph A. Petrosino, the navigator of the ditched B-29. He was brought off on a stretcher. Three other stretcher cases followed him.

They were: Staff Sgt. William H. Pratt, Cpl. Bryce W. Neal and Sgt. Roy H. Coulter in that order. The other men followed on foot, and as each man was transferred the small flotilla of pleasure boats cheered each one individually.

The survivors then were taken to Kindley Field, waving their last farewell to their rescuers.

The condition of the men was considered quite good. There were some who suffered sprains and some salt water sores, but the majority seemed fairly fit.

Only one survivor, Petrosino, appeared in a very weakened condition.

The survivors were moved to the Kindley Field hospital by ambulance.

The pilot of the B-17 search bomber which first spotted the men on their two rubber life rafts said some of them were so weak it took them 45 minutes to transfer into a lifeboat dropped by parachute. Ironically, he added that his own plane must have passed over the rafts at least 15 times on Thursday without seeing them.

Transfer Called Off

It had been intended to transfer the men to the Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent for better medical care, but later messages said they were too weak even to talk about their experience and they remained aboard the destroyer.

The rescue craft pilot, First Lt. Edward Lynch of New Haven, Conn., said the 18 men were crowded into rafts intended to carry only six men each. At March Air Base, Calif., the two dead fliers were identified as:

Cpl. Raymond Breit, 32, ground crewman, Arlington, Calif., father of six children.

Pfc. Robert H. Dobson, 19, Gunner, Decatur, Ill.

Sgt. Ralph E. Hawes of Asheville, N. C., spotter on the rescue plane, was credited with sighting the survivors of the B-29.

"Certainly I was excited," said Hawes, "especially when I saw men in the rafts."

After dropping the lifeboat and watching the survivors board it, the B-17 crew contacted the Haida and sent her to the scene. Lt. Lynch said the Haida picked up the B-29 survivors an hour and 15 minutes after the lifebat was dropped.

The B-29, was from the second squadron of the 22nd Bombardment group, one of a group of B-29s being sent to Britain under a rotational training system.

The search for the plane cost the lives of five other B-29 crew members. Their ship, taking off from MacDill Field, Florida, for a search sweep Friday crashed at the edge of Tampa Bay. Four men survived.

That crash, and a series of others to B-29s recently—six crashed in two weeks—resulted in an order Friday grounding those B-29s not engaged in the search, for inspection and modernization work. A B-29 costs about $1,000,000.

Wife Learned

morning, when their husbands were bobbing around on a tiny raft, struggling to keep alive.

Wife Collapsed

After her dream, Mrs. Breit, who had remained cheery before the wives of the other missing men, collapsed and was taken to the March Field hospital.

Her oldest daughter, 11-year-old Norma Jean, sensing that tragedy was closing in, was taken to the hospital too and given a sedative.

This morning the Rev. John H. Fulford, Catholic chaplain at March Field, entered Mrs. Breit's room with the official news of her husband's death.

Mrs. Breit looked for a moment at the hospital wall and answered slowly:

"Yes, Father, I know. I knew it Thursday morning."

The other wives of Callahan Court, knowing full well that Sergeant Breit's fate might also have been that of their husbands, took Mrs. Breit's children to their homes for care.

The B-29 which carried Breit and 19 others was the lead plane of a flight of eight bombers enroute to England for three months of special training.

All others reached their destination safely — bearing the men whose wives were among those talking in small groups today about Olinda Breit's dream.

U. S. To Boost Tax

January, would apply the 1½ percent levy to earnings up to $3,600, thus upping the combined contribution of employer and worker at that level another $18.

The higher levy to go into effect automatically on Jan. 1 results from legislation passed in 1948 by the 80th Congress.

The extra money won't help the government pay its own bills or balance its budget. The reason is that taxes paid in for social insurance and money spent on benefit payments are not counted in he budget bookkeeping.

The government's insurance intake and output is recorded in another set of books as a "trust fund," with the government holding the money in trust for those who paid it in, until they're eligible for benefits.

The $667 million increase officials estimate in receipts next year is expected to raise total social insurance tax collections to $2,424,000,000 for 1950.

The benefit payment total, climbing steadily as more insured workers reach the retirement age of 65 or die, are expected to move above $700 million next year.

Minor Damage Reported As Result Of Five Fires Here

Only minor damage was reported in five blazes extinguished by the fire department Sunday.

Two of the fires were at cotton gins. A bale of unginned cotton was damaged slightly at the Fortenberry gin at Monroe at 9:25 a.m.; and two bales at the Tudor gin southeast of the city at 9:15 a.m.

Other blazes were a grass fire at the East Broadway entrance to Mackenzie State park at 9:20 a.m.; a cane fire on Thirty-ninth between Avenues A and B at 12:50 p.m.; and a faulty hot-plate in the kitchen of an apartment occupied by Don Edwards at 2318 Ninth at 12 p.m.

Congratulations to:

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Townsend of Lubbock route 1 on birth of a son weighing 6 pounds 6½ ounces at 8:23 a.m. Sunday in West Texas hospital. The father is a farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Justice of 2429 Twenty-ninth on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 7 ounces at 4:37 a.m. Sunday in Lubbock Memorial hospital. The father is an attorney.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Oliver of 2206 Ave. T on birth of a daughter weighing 7 pounds 5 ounces at 2:17 a.m. Sunday in St. Mary's hospital. The father is transfer agent for Braniff Airways.

Stabilized Budget

lion dollars.

The official explained, however, that many of the effected and proposed reductions and economies were deducted from appropriations by Congress before it adjourned last month.

Pay Raise Cited

He further pointed out that Congress increased military and civilian pay more than $300 million without appropriating any money for this purpose. It is hoped that the pay raise can be taken care of out of economy.

The official also said that in presenting a target budget of 13 billions, the department does not necessarily expect that Congress will appropriate the entire amount.

Actually, he said, Johnson believes that if he can get the military budget down to $12.4 billion a year, he will have saved $2 billion.

Bradley Sets Goal

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has also mentioned $12 billion as a possible military budget for fiscal 1952.

Johnson's economy program has now been reflected in all branches of the far-flung military establishment.

Nearly 100 separate military installations have been closed or reduced to a maintenance status, and military and civilian personnel reductions already total nearly 200,000.

Admittedly, the bulk of the reduction is being made by the Navy, which has been told to save $353 million on operations this year.

Adjusted figures do not show any reduction in the Air Force, although they do wipe out proposed expansion.

reporters as saying he had urged President Truman to threaten the Communist with a total air and sea blockade.

Knowland frequently has advocated renewed American assistance for the Chinese Nationalists.

At a press conference in Taipeh, Formosa, reporters asked for comment on the case of Angus Ward, American consul-general whom the Reds have held in jail in Mukden for more than a month.

They said Knowland replied as follows:

That he had radioed President Truman, proposing that the Reds be told to free Ward within 48 hours under penalty of blockade by the United States;

That all members of the United Nations be asked to join the blockade; and

That American economic aid be cut off from any nation refusing to join, even though the United States could enforce a blockade alone.

He concluded that it was ridiculous for the United States to pour out money opposing Communism in Europe while letting the Reds run rampant in the conquest of Asia.

Knowland said he planned to fly to Chungking this week to see Chiang Kai-Shek.

eau. France, he said, had not been officially notified of the arrest of Robineau. The Polish embassy, in a news release, said the Warsaw government was expelling the other two French diplomats. The foreign ministry said it had no official word on that either.

Police said that charges against the Polish plane crew would have to be dropped if the news of Robineau's arrest was officially verified.

The Polish radio last night announced that Robineau, who is the son of the secretary-general of the French institute in Warsaw, had pleaded guilty to the espionage charges and will appear in a Polish court later.

said, and a search was underway for another in connection with the burglary of the Lone Star Ceramics house at 405 Ave. V.

Wylie Summerlin, an employe of Moore's Bonded patrol, told officers he was checking the door of the firm when he noticed a man lying on the floor inside the building. He broke out the glass in the front door in an effort to capture the intruder, he said, but the man and a companion, previously unnoticed by the patrolman, escaped through a rear door.

Car Owner Jailed

When a chase of several blocks proved fruitless, Summerlin returned to the building. Ownership of a car parked across the street from the building was traced through license plates and its registered owner jailed by police to face charges of burglary.

Officers said $14 in small change had been taken from a cash drawer and all drawers of a desk in the store had been ransacked. A number of pennies were left in the cash drawer, it was reported.

Entry was gained by breaking out a small window at the back of the building.

Wayne Diebel, an employe of the O. K. garage at 1812 Nineteenth, told officers a steel box containing tools valued at $125 had been taken from there. Diebel said he and another employe had left the garage to get some coffee and returned a few minutes later to find the tools missing.

Tools Were Marked

The door of the garage was closed during their absence, but not locked, Diebel said. All tools, he said, were marked either with the initials "W D" or a series of punch marks..

ALubbock man was arrested about midmorning Sunday after a woman living in the 1700-block Eighth reported he had forced his way into her house.

Officers found the man sleeping in a bed at the house.

The complainant, who said the intruder was a stranger to her, informed officers he had forced a door-lock to gain entry.

Charges of breaking and entering probably will be filed in the case today, it was indicated.

Minor Thefts Reported

Several minor thefts were reported to officials Sunday and late Saturday.

Prowlers, who picked a door-lock on a car belonging to Ralph Terry, of McGregor, stole a panel clock and two hub caps from the vehicle, a 1941 Buick, records showed.

G. C. Applin of 2623 North Second said thieves had taken two chrome fender lights valued at $4 from his car while it was parked in the 1700-block Ave. H.

Ben Beaird, proprietor of Beaird's Jewelry company at 815 Broadway, told officers a .38 caliber Smith and Wesson military-type pistol had been taken from his store.

Bonds of $1,000 each were set for two men arrested by the sheriff's department. They were:

Gordon Stauffer, 38, of 2204 Ninth, charged with theft of over $50; and William Jones, 40-year-old negro of 1614 East Thirty-second, charged with a threat to kill in a complaint brought by his wife.

Sheriff's officers also arrested 15 men, all of them negroes, on charges of gambling. One of the prisoners, it was learned, faces additional charges of resisting an officer. All but the latter paid fines ranging from $1 to $10 and were released. The men were taken into custody in a hotel in the Queen City residential section.

An unidentified Lubbock man was taken to West Texas hospital for emergency treatment about 8 p. m. Sunday after he had swallowed a quantity of rat poison, police said.

This conference was independent of the specialized study of the problem being made by a three-man group of consultants to Acheson, headed by ambassador at Large Philip Jessup.

An Egyptian, Hassan Abd-el-Rehim, who recently swam from St. Margaret's Bay, England, to Griz Nez, France, is the third man to have swum the Channel in both directions.

NEWS BRIEFS

The afternoon circle of the Forrest Heights Methodist W. S. C. S. will meet at 3 p. m. today in the home of Mrs. Jessie Sowell, 3302 Thirtieth, instead of in the home of Mrs. O. R. Copeland as was originally announced.

Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal, will be guest speaker at noon today at a luncheon of the Lubbock Health and Accident association in Hilton hotel.

Guam Suffers Heavy Damage From Storm

GUAM, Nov. 20. (INS)—Civilian damage left on Guam by last week's typhoon was estimated today at millions of dollars to civilian establishments alone.

No attempt can even be made yet to assess the disastrous loss in military equipment and installations caused by the high winds and torrential downpours.

Civilian and military authorities have begun the long, tough job of reconstruction and mail service is expected to be restored tomorrow. Most of the telephone circuits are still out and power circuits are slowly being put back into operation.

A mine sweeper was forced back in its attempt to land at the southern towns of Merizo and Umatac with relief supplies. Another attempt will be made today over a land route. The two towns are out of communication but the inhabitants are believed to be safe.

Loss in the town of Marbo alone was estimated at more than a million dollars and it was one of the lightest damaged.

Quick restoration of power to refrigerators at the naval supply center was estimated to have prevented the loss of millions of dollars worth of frozen meat.

Of the ships in Guam's harbor, only one tug and several barges were sunk. There were only a few injuries reported and no deaths.

President Quits

Other Chanis police appointees, Maj. Manuel Palau, and Maj. Oscar Ocana, also were taken prisoner by the rebellious police force.

Remon announced that Chanis' justice minister, Abelio Bellido, also was jailed.

Remon said he will continue as police chief, with Vallarino and Flores continuing as his deputies.

The 70-man presidential palace guard, headed by Palau, did not clash with the police officers who visited the palace. Soon after dawn, the chief justice of the supreme court visited the palace and swore in Chiari.

Chanis, a liberal, who was born Nov. 20, 1891, became president of Panama last July 28. He was then vice president and was named to succeed President Domingo Diaz Arosmena, who was suffering from a heart attack that killed him last Aug. 23.

Denver City Boy Is Hospitalized From Meat Grinder Injuries

DENVER CITY, Nov. 20. (Special)—Jerry Charles Lightfoot, four-year-old Denver City boy, is reported recovering satisfactorily in a Dallas hospital where he is receiving treatment.

The youngster recently injured his hand as he was helping his grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Kincheloe, operate a meat grinder in her restaurant in Denver City. He was taken to Hobbs, N. M., by automobile, where he was placed on a plane for Dallas.

A kidney infection, caused, hospital authorities said, by infected tonsils which were removed several weeks previously, set in after the youngster was admitted to the Dallas hospital. Asthma also developed and the injured hand could not be treated until the other complications were cleared up.

The boy is the son of Mrs. Josephine Lightfoot of Denver City.

Holland ended newsprint restrictions.

Airliner Missing With 36 Aboard which owned the plane said it had enough gasoline to remain aloft for 10 hours—the deadline which was reached at 11 p. m. Sunday (4 p. m. CST).

Miss Schwartz Jensen of Norway was identified as one of the three nurses aboard the plane. The other two were listed as coming from Tunis, starting point of the flight, and Isarel.

Nothing further was heard of the plane up to early this morning, after a check of Swedish, Norwegian and Dutch airports.

The plane was the second of two bringing Jewish children to Norway for a combined vacation-education before they were sent to rejoin their parents now in Israel.

First Plane Lands

The first plane landed safely at Oslo with a similar number of children shortly before noon.

The weather became bad soon afterward and closed in Oslo's Forenbu airport.

(Israeli sources in Brussels said the group of 600 were scheduled to go to Norway for rehabilitation under sponsorship of private Jewish organizations.)

A flash of hope emerged during the night when a report—which later proved erroneous—was received that the missing plane had landed safely at Oslo's airport. But officials immediately denied the report and started an intensive check of west European airports, while ground searchers scoured the hilly Grefsen district in Oslo's outskirts.

Rites Incomplete For Lockney Woman Killed In Auto Wreck

LOCKNEY, Nov. 20. (Special)—Funeral arangements for Mrs. W. P. Cates, about 60, resident of Lockney, who was fatally injured Saturday night near Big Spring, had not been definitely set late tonight, according to Carter Funeral home of Lockney.

An ambulance from that funeral home brought Mrs. Cates' body to Lockney from Big Spring today.

Mrs. Cates' husband, W. P. Cates, who was injured in the automobile accident, today was transferred to St. Mary's hospital in Lubbock from Big Spring hospital, where he was taken for treatment after the automobile mishap occurred.

Hospital attendants said last night that he was "resting fairly well." They said he suffered head and shoulder injuries in the accident. However, attending physicians had not completely determined the extent of the injuries late tonight.

The Cates were enroute to Odessa to visit relatives at the time of the mishap, which occurred about 12 miles west of Big Spring on U. S. Highway 80. Their car struck the rear of the vehicle directly in front, and the impact caused the Cates automobile to careen broadside across the highway, where it was hit by an automobile traveling in the opposite direction.

Others involved in the collision were not seriously injured.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cates, Mrs. Allie Holloway of Lubbock, is at her father's bedside in the hospital in Lubbock.

growth has hurt the railroads? Or adjust rates among the competing forms of transportation to relieve pressure on the railroads?

In addition, it might plan overall route patterns. Rail and air routes are not planned now in relation to service being given by truck or water carriers. The new agency might develop patterns to discourage a new air service, for instance, if the route were adequately served by rail or other carriers.

Christmas Seal Sale To Open Here Today

Today marks the opening day of this year's Christmas seal sale to raise funds for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

Roy Boyd, chairman of the sale for the Lubbock county Tuberculosis association said approximately 12,500 letters containing seals would be delivered to Lubbock county residents today, and he urged recipients to be generous in support of the 1949 sale which will last through Dec. 25.

A total of 82 per cent of the money raised will be used in Lubbock county, with 12 per cent going to the state organization and six per cent to the national association, said Boyd.

Gov. Allan Shivers has issued a special appeal for Texans to be generous, for "the more we support the work of the tuberculosis associations, the closer we shall be to victory over tuberculosis in Texas."

Boyd said that the seals are selling for one dollar a sheet, but that people were urged to give more if they could.

daughter's bedroom, Mrs. Renaud was told to lie on the bed with her daughter. Renaud was told to sit on the edge of the bed and Nellie was told to lie on the other bed. The maid was told to stand against a wall of the room.

Then, adhesive tape was used to bind the adults.

"They seemed to know what they were doing and they certainly did a professional job with the tape," Renaud said.

While two of the men ransacked the house, a third, whom Renaud described as "emaciated and jittery," stood guard over the prisoners.

Renaud, president of the Westexas Oil and Royalty company, listed as taken a diamond bracelet, valued at $6,000, a star ruby and diamond ring valued at $2,500, an heirloom man's soltaire diamond ring valued at $1,200, his wife's engagement ring valued at $800, approximately $4,000 worth of cameras and equipment, imitation diamond ear rings and a necklace of little value, plus $40 in cash from the maid, about $4 from his wife and approximately $20 from himself.

Man Arrested In Texas Faces Murder Charge In Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 20. (AP)— District Attorney James Quine said today he had issued a murder warrant against Wayne Young, 30, who was arrested yesterday at New Braunfels, Tex., at the request of Colorado Springs officers.

Quine said Young was sought in connection with the strangulation murder of Walter J. Parsons, 18, last January.

Sheriff Norman Short left here this afternoon by automobile to return Young. New Braunfels is about 25 miles from San Antonio.

Parsons was beaten and strangled to death last Jan. 18. The youth's nude body was found on the embankment of mesa road in the Garden of the Gods near Colorado Springs.

Coffee Situation May Grow Worse By 1960, Agency Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. (INS)—If you think 10 and even 20 cents is too much for a cup of coffee now, better brace yourself for what you may have to pay in 1960.

The Commerce department, which brought the subject up, warns that by 1960 the country's "bumper crop" of children will be old enough to be coffee drinkers.

The department's Office of International Trade said that "assuming no major changes in the level of national income or in consumer tastes, by 1960 when the present large group of children starts to reach adulthood, there may be a further sharp increase in total demand for coffee."

Two Factors Cited

The OIT found the present soaring coffee prices due to two factors:

1. The United States is the largest coffee-drinking country in the world.

2. Production in Brazil, the largest coffee exporter, is down.

The agency explained that in the 1930's Brazil was bogged down with a coffee surplus that it couldn't move even at prices below the cost of production.

This discouraging condition, the office said, caused growers to neglect their trees. The number of coffee trees under cultivation dropped from three billion in 1934 to 2.1 billion in 1946.

Brazil's coffee exports for 1949-50 were estimated by the agency at 14,400,000 bags as compared to the 22,500,000 bag average in the years 1930 to 1940.

Consumption Climbs

Meanwhile, the agency said, Americans are drinking more coffee than ever before. The average consumption before the war was 14.4 pounds per person per year. Now it is 19 pounds per person per year.

Even these figures, the agency continued, do not really tell the full story. The OIT pointed out that the per person consumption was based on total population — and a great segment of this nation's population is composed of children who are assumed to be milk rather than coffee drinkers.

The pounds per person would be much higher, it said, if there was a way to exclude the non-coffee sippers from the arithmetic.

As a ray of hope, the trade office said that recent reports from Brazil indicate that a two-months drought there has ended and the next harvest of coffee may at least be as large as the current crop rather than considerably less, as originally feared.

And, it added, present high coffee prices may encourage additional planting—though it takes a coffee tree from five to seven years to start yielding.

Finnish Composer To Get Gift Cigars

WASHINGTON¼ Nov. 20. (INS)—The National Arts Foundation today appealed for gifts of cigars for famed Finnish composer Jan Sibelius, who celebrates his 84th birthday Dec. 8.

Foundation Director Carleton Smith recently visited the great musician, who told him that cigars "are my bread."

Cigars sent to the foundation will be flown direct to Finland and presented to Sibelius by U.S. Minister to Helsinki Avra Warren.

Four Members Of Family Are Killed In Flaming Auto Crash

WATERTOWN, Wis., Nov. 20. (INS)—Two children died of crash injuries today at St. Mary's hospital in Watertown, sending the death toll from a flaming auto-truck collision at Waterloo, Wis., to four, all members of the same family.

The latest victims were Donna Weber, 8, and her younger brother, James, 5.

They were fatally hurt last night in an accident that killed their mother, Mrs. Beatrice Weber, 29, and a brother, Wayne, 3.

Their father, Harold, 30, was reported in serious condition at the Watertown hospital.

U. S. Businessman Disappears In Hungary; Arrested, Confined By Reds, Wife Claims

VIENNA, Nov. 20. (AP)— Mrs. Robert A. Vogeler said today her husband, an American representative of the International Telephone and Telegraph company, was arrested in Hungary last Friday and is being held incommunicado.

She said she did not know why. Mrs. Vogeler said in an interview that her husband told her last Wednesday by telephone that he was being follwed constantly by Hungarian police.

Vogeler, 38, son of Robert A. Vogeler, of Jackson Heights, Long Island, N. Y., is assistant vice-president of his company and its representative in eastern Europe.

Release Considered Uncertain

He was last seen, his wife said, at 9 a.m. last Friday morning, when he left the American legation in Budapest to return to Vienna. He was driving alone in a late model American sedan. Mrs. Vogeler is convinced her husband is alive but it not optimistic, she said, about his immediate release.

Austrian authorities have checked the frontier station on the main Vienna-Budapest highway but there was no record his car had passed that point, Mrs. Vogeler said.

She said her husband told her Wednesday night that his exit permit and other papers were in order and that he would leave Budapest Friday morning.

Vogeler had been in Budapest on business since Sept. 30. His trip was one of many he has made there since he came to Vienna in 1945. He was scheduled to leave Vienna by plane today for a conference in London.

When he did not arrive late Friday night, Mrs. Vogeler said she called his Budapest hotel, the Astoria. The hotel clerk, she said, told her Vogeler had checked out at 8:40 a.m. that morning.

A call to the American legation in Budapest, she said, revealed he had left there at 9 a.m. The American military attache at Budapest was to have accompanied Vogeler to Vienna in another car. He told Vogeler to "go ahead and I will catch up with you."

The attache, a Lt. Col. Hoyne arrived in Vienna Friday but said he had not met Vogeler anywhere along the road.

Minister Promises Probe

Mrs. Vogeler said Nathaniel P. Davis, American minister in Hungary, contacted the Hungarian foreign minister Saturday. The minister, she said, promised to investigate.

On a trip from Budapest to Vienna last May 30, Vogeler was held four hours by Russian soldiers outside of Vienna. They said his travel permit was not in order.

Mrs. Vogeler and the couple's two children are living in the American sector of Vienna. The Vogelers first met in Switzerland and were married in Belgium in 1939. Before going to Austria they lived in La Grange, Ill.

Princess Elizabeth Joins Philip At Malta

VALLETTA, Malta, Nov. 20. (AP) —Princess Elizabeth got here in time today to spend at least part of her second wedding anniversary with her sailor husband, Prince Philip. She had planned to arrive last night, but fog delayed her departure from London for 24 hours.

Philip bounded up the landing steps of the plane which brought Elizabeth here from London as soon as it landed this evening. He gave her his big hello in the cabin before bringing her out to face the photographers.

The princess greeted Malta's governor, Sir Francis Creasy, and Archbishop Gonzi, along with a few naval personages, but there was a minimum of ceremony.

The royal couple was taken to Villa Guardamangia, which will be their home during her stay here. Among the vessels which can be seen from the villa is the destroyer Chequers, which is the prince's home at sea. He is second in command of the vessel.

The princess expects to rejoin her year-old son, Prince Charles, in London before Christmas.

Bishop Manning Is Death Victim

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. (AP) — Bishop Wm. T. Manning, one of the leading figures of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, died Saturday at the age of 83.

He was Episcopal bishop of New York for 26 years, retiring less than two years ago.

MANNING

He was a strict churchman throughout his life, and an uncompromising enemy of divorce. He once preached a sermon criticizing King Edward VIII for abdicating the British throne to marry a divorcee, and barred Elliott Roosevelt, twice-divorced, as vestryman of St. James church at Hyde Park, N. Y.

As bishop, he was the driving force behind continued construction here of the huge cathedral of St. John the Divine, the world's largest cathedral in Gothic style.

Rites Set Tuesday

His body will lie in state in the cathedral until Tuesday noon, when the burial office and a requiem will be offered. Burial will take place at a later time in the cathedral itself.

Bishop Manning returned from a vacation in Maine on Nov. 4 and entered St. Luke's hospital for his annual examination. He was found to be suffering from a kidney and bladder involvement, complicated by age, and was kept in the hospital for treatment.

His conditioned worsened during the week and he sank gradually. The end came at 5:10 p. m. (EST) with his two daughters present. Mrs. Manning, the former Florence Van Antwerp of Cincinnati, had left the hospital shortly before he died.

Engineering Group Plans First Session

The first meeting of the Lubbock chapter of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical engineers will be held in the Hilton hotel today at 6:30 p.m.

Enough interest was shown by oilmen of the area in a meeting of the Permian Basin section of the AIME here last month to organize a chapter here, Robert R. Shaffer of Levelland said.

Chief speaker will be R. M. Leibrock of the Stanolind Oil and Gas company of Lubbock. He will speak on "Factors To Be Considered in Determining the Feasibility of Gas Injection."

From 50 to 100 area oilmen are expected at the meeting, according to Shaffer.

Two types of membership will be offered by the association, member and affiliate member. The latter classification is made in order that those unqualified for membership can take part in activities of the local chapter. Three levels of membership are offered: junior, associate, and full member.

Britton Eaton Cranfill, 60, Widely-Known Oilman, Dies

DALLAS, Nov. 20. (AP) —Britton Eaton Cranfill, 60, Dallas and Wichita Falls oil operator, died here Saturday in a hospital after several months illness.

Funeral services are pending.

Cranfill, who lived in Irving, northwest of here, owned the Dixie Royalty Oil company and the Southwest Oil Production Co.

During his oil operations in the Wichita Falls area with two brothers, Truett and Tom E. Cranfill, and with Robert Seay, he discovered three Texas oil fields. One was the Sand Hills pool in Crane county, another in Baylor county, and the third at Richland, Navarro county.

Cranfill was a native Texan, born Sept. 16, 1889 at Turnersville, Coryell county. His family came to Texas from Kentucky shortly after the state was admitted to the union.

Reese Portrait To Be Granted School

SHALLOWATER, Nov. 20. Special)—A 20 by 24 inch portrait of 1st. Lt. A. F. Reese, jr., for whom Reese Air Force base at Lubbock was named, will be presented to the Shallowater High school at an assembly program Tuesday at 1:15 p. m.

Reese was a 1935 graduate of Shallowater high before joining the Air Force in World War II and subsequently being killed. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Reese, sr., of Shallowater.

To be presented by the senior class of 1950 at Shallowater, the portrait will bear a copper engraved plate with Reese's name, year of graduation from high school and from Texas Tech, and the date he was killed. He graduated from Tech in 1939 and was killed in action in 1943.

Mrs. Varina Putman is sponsor of the 1950 class here.

Seven Scurry Producers Are Completed

Editorial | Comics | Classified | Section 2

"Dawn the Day on the South Plains"

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE

Lubbock, Texas, Monday, November 21, 1949

Drilling Permit For Well Sought

Completion has been reported for seven new producers from the Canyon reef lime in Scurry county. Five of the projects were completed in the North Snyder field and two in the Diamond-M field.

Standard Oil company of Texas No. 8-2 Brown flowed 12 hours through a 24/64th inch tubing choke, natural, to rate a calculated 24-hour potential of 864 barrels of 42-gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 930-1. No formation water was reported.

Flowing casing pressure was 550 pounds and the flowing tubing pressure was 740 pounds.

The flow was from pay between the 7-inch oil string cemented at 6,620 feet and the total depth at 6,952 feet.

Location is 680 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 449, block 97, H&TC survey.

The same company completed its No. 6 Jap Beck in the North Snyder field for a 24-hour potential of 936 barrels of 43-gravity oil. Gas-oil ratio was 890-1. There was no formation water.

Completion was from open hole between the 7-inch oil string set at 6,558 feet and the total depth at 6,887 feet in the Canyon reef. Flowing casing pressure was 350 pounds, with the tubing pressure 680 pounds.

This new source of oil is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 393, block 97, H&TC survey.

WELL COMPLETED IN NORTH SNYDER FIELD

In the North Snyder field, the Pure Oil company completed its No. 7 Whatley for a calculated 24-hour potential of 1,208 barrels of 44.2-gravity oil. No water was reported. Gas-oil ratio is 745-1.

The flow was through a three-quarter inch tubing choke from open hole between the 5 1/2 inch oil string cemented at 6,600 feet and the total depth at 6,950 feet.

This source of oil is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 394, block 97, H&TC survey.

Standard Oil company of Texas No. 11-4 Brown flowed through a one-half inch tubing choke to rate a calculated daily potential of 702 barrels of oil, from open hole in the Canyon reef lime between the 7-inch oil string set at 6,553 feet and the total depth at 6,886 feet. Gravity of the oil was 43.5 degrees and the gas-oil ratio was 960-1.

This new producer is 467 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 450, block 97, H-&TC survey.

Standard also completed its No. 6-8 Brown in the North Snyder

New Tests Set In Hobbs Area

HOBBS, N. M., Nov. 20.—Locations for two 7,200-foot semi-wildcats in the House area of east central Lea county were reported Saturday. Drilling is to be started at once on both.

The explorations are to be Stanolind Oil & Gas company projects. They are approximately six miles southeast of Hobbs.

Stanolind No. 1 Bilberry will be 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 2-20s-39e. That makes it one-quarter of a mile due north of C. L. Norsworthy, jr., No. 1 Shell-Waldrip, recently completed flowing discovery from the Drinkard lime, which is located 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 6-20s-39e.

Well Location Given

Stanolind No. 1 House will be 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 11-20s-38e. That makes it three-quarters of a mile south of Stanolind and Norsworthy No. 1-U State, a small pumper from the Drinkard pay, which was finished several months ago.

The No. 1 House will be one mile south and one-quarter of a mile west and one-quarter of a mile south of Norsworthy No. 1 Shell Waldrip.

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Eaves, the third exploration to drill to the Devonian in the Knowles field of central-east Lea county, and 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 35-16s-38e, has been completed as a commercial oil well from that formation.

Initial Flow Reported

The well reported a daily initial production of 883.2 barrels of oil, flowing through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. The oil had a shakeout of two-tenths of one per cent basic sediment. There was no water.

The production came from perforated section at 12,532-573 feet in the bottom of the hole. The interval had been treated with 2,-500 gallons of acid.

This well topped the Devonian at 12,345 feet. Most of the section from the top of that formation to the total depth was productive, but operator elected to complete from the 41-foot zone in the bottom of the pay. Total depth is at 12,575 feet and 7 5/8th inch casing is Cooking among the housewives of the nation is fast becoming a lost art, Troy Morris, publisher of The Sundown Monitor, bravely states in his column "Komment." He fails to add where he is taking his meals now.

"The tin can and the can openers, implements once scorned by the 'good' cook, are fast displacing the frying pan and the boiler —the oven is fast going into disuse as bakery products appear at reasonable prices in the cross-road store," he writes.

As if that wasn't enough, he brewed up a few more caustic comments.

"It is no trick at all to step into any grocery store and buy a pre-cooked mean that requires only heating—ready-made biscuits can be picked up at any meat counter . . . as to the art of pastry cooking, that is now contained in a box, to the contents of which you add a little water, stir and place in the oven and you have a cake such as 'mother used to bake.'

"Give the modern woman the duties of her great grandmother and she would drop dead on the spot—as it is, when she turns on the automatic range and opens her cans and sets them on to heat, she is already exhausted."

Backing off a little, Morris adds, "However, be it far from us to criticise modern progress," pointing out that we are passing from the electric age to the atomic age when the woman may be able to push buttons for meals without leaving their atomic novels.

Paper Gets New Head Plate

The Seminole Sentinel came out with a new head dress this past week, designed by Al Stevenson, local sign painter and advertising man.

The title plate, in pictures, traces the history of the area from the days when Indians roamed the prairies to the present day empire of oil and agriculture.

Another new addition to the paper was Edwin Engledow, who assumed the editorship after serving for two and one-half years as editor of The Lamesa Daily Reporter.

Dallas Burglars Flee With $4,200 In Cash

DALLAS, Nov. 20. (AP) — Safe crackers stole nearly $4,000 in coins and $200 in bills from a Southwestern Bell Telephone company office some time this weekend. The burglars took a company truck to haul away the heavy loot.

Police said the burglary was discovered this afternoon. A. H. Leach, manager of the public telephone office, was notified that the company's panel truck was missing from the rear of the building.

Found Safe Open

He went to the office and found two safes open.

U. S. bonds totaling $4,000 had been removed from the safes but were found under them.

The coins had been collected from pay telephones in northeast and central Texas last week and stowed in one of the safes. The bills were in the other safe.

Most of the stolen money—$2,-500 of it — was in nickels. The stolen money bags also contained $385 in dimes and $925 in quarters.

The truck was found abandoned.

Detectives said the burglars entered the building by breaking a lock on the rear door.

The coins were brought here Friday from such places as Waco, Tyler, Paris, Gainesville and Marshall.

U. S. Faces New Far East Crisis

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20. — The U. S. is heading into a new period of crisis and possible severe setbacks in its battle with Communism in the Far East.

The central question coming to a showdown is whether Communism can be contained or will, for the time being, restrict itself within China.

The question becomes more acute daily as Red armies strike through the south toward the borders of French Indo-China and Burma. The fate of Formosa and in some degree of British Hongkong are uncertain.

Issue Nears Showdown

Concern over where these armies will stop has long been in the forefront for U. S. policy makers. The time is approaching rapidly when the issue will apparently be decided in action.

What the United States may be prepared to do other than invoke the moral powers of the United Nations to safeguard China's neighbors remains to be disclosed.

In the case of Formosa the present island stronghold of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, there is a growing belief here that the United States may not be able to keep it out of Communist hands unless Chiang can hold it. Chiang is described as sitting on top of a very bad situation. The Formosans, chafing under Chinese rule, might well launch a Communist revolt.

Acheson Deeply Concerned

What happens if the Communists conquer all of China proper is in many respects a source of deeper concern to Secretary of State Acheson and his Far Eastern brain trust than is the failure of American efforts thus far to spring Consul General Angus Ward from a Chinese Communist jail at Mukden.

Yet in one sense, responsible officials concede, the worry deals with the same fundamental problem. This is, what real power does the United States have left in Asia as a result of Nationalist China's failure and the subsequent American retreat from China.

If President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and their panel of Far Eastern advisers have any overall plan for effectively meet-

Tech Schedules Music Program

Marking the beginning of an expanded music program at Texas Technological college, the annual departmental chamber concert will be given Dec. 19 in the Lubbock high school auditorium.

With Dr. Gene L. Hemmle, new head of the department, directing two choruses for his first annual appearance, all four of the major musical groups at the college will be included in the concert program.

Glee Club To Perform

The Tech Men's Glee club, directed by Richard Richards, will lead off the program with three numbers, followed by the Campusaires, a newly-formed group of 40 girls directed by Dr. Hemmle. Mixed voices of the Tech choir, also directed by Dr. Hemmle, will then render eight numbers, while the Matador band under direction of Prof. D. O. Wiley will conclude the concert.

Rendering of the concert will be the first full musical program given by the Tech music department since Dr. Hemmle came to the campus in September. The program will be the first testing grounds for the enlarged program planned by the director.

Rigid Standards Set

With greater plans still in the formative stage, Dr. Hemmle has already reported the establishment of applied music exams for students at the college. Every person taking private voice, piano or orchestral instrument training building, which will be used for

Ceremonies Held At Church Of Christ

Cornerstone Rites Held At New Church

By EMMETT SHOCKLEY
Avalanche Staff Writer

The cornerstone for one of the largest Church of Christ church buildings in the world was laid Sunday at the site of the new Broadway Church of Christ in the 1900 block on Broadway.

The stone was laid in a brief and informal ceremony shortly after the close of services inside the unfinished auditorium, which began at 2 p.m. Members of the building committee, the church elders, Aunt Mary Green, who is the only remaining charter member of the church, and Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister, took part in the ceremony.

In the auditorium, Rep. George Mahon spoke briefly as he brought greetings from the citizens of this area. Mahon said that in this age, the only hope of salvation for the world lies in the church and in the teachings of Christ.

Hershel Dyer, minister of the Pioneer Park Church of Christ, extended greetings from the Churches of Christ in this area. Liff Sanders, a pioner Church of Christ minister, who preached in the Broadway Church of Christ over 50 years ago, delivered the opening prayer.

Sherrod Outlines Plans

B. Sherrod, chairman of the building committee, spoke on plans for the completion of the building, which is expected to be ready for use by next July. He explained the uses for which various sections of the huge church will serve, and mentioned some of the things to be kept in mind for making further additions to the structure.

Dr. Young cautioned that the chief cornerstone of the church would always be Christ, and that Christ should be made the chief cornerstone of every life. With a growing community like Lubbock, and the pioneer spirit which prevails here, Dr. Young said the structure was a challenge to church members to strive for greater things.

Arrangements for singing by a quartet were made by Horace Coffman, associate minister.

Luncheon Is Held

Prior to the services a covered dish luncheon was held in the auditorium at 12:30 p.m. with about 500 persons attending.

Members of the building committee, in addition to Sherrod, are Lawrence Green, S. E. Holt, Dr. J. B. McCorkle, Bob Cobb, E. K. Hufstedler, jr., J. C. Rigney, and Dr. Young.

Others taking part in the ceremony were Elders C. P. Collier, Raliegh Martin, Paul Sherrod, Hollis Allen, Fred Pinkston, and Liff Sanders. Elder Jimmy Kerr could not be present.

Seating capacity in the auditorium of the new church will be approximately 2,100 with 1,500 being seated on the main floor and 600 in a balcony to the rear.

MOUNTING TAXES

The Same Old Alibi

THE 1950 federal tax buck is already being given a polish as President Truman and Congressional factions pass it back and forth among each other.

The President is plugging diligently for 1950 tax increases to match mounting cost of his profligate administration. Economy-minded congressmen, who include a good many Democrats as well as Republicans, are yelling for cuts in expenses.

Each blames the other for the enormous governmental costs and the failure to effect economies. Actually, both share the blame. Without an exception since he became President, Mr. Truman has demanded appropriations which called for tax increases. Congress has approved enough of them, and invariably has added some of its own, to preclude the possibility of any worthwhile tax relief.

As president, Mr. Truman should set the example of economy by requiring—as he has the power to do—the various government agencies and departments to cut costs. He has not done that. As the direct representative of the people, Congress should refuse approval of expenditures which keep governmental costs at outlandish levels. Congress has failed to do that.

Both have failed. And each seems under the impression that it clears itself of responsibility by blaming the other for its failure. The taxpayers get alibis instead of relief.

The chances are this practice will continue as long as Americans will accept excuses, instead of tax reductions, without a rebellion at the polls. Prospects are not encouraging that this may occur soon.

College Problem

THE report from the U. S. Office of Education that 2,456,841 young men and women enrolled in colleges and universities this Fall doubtless cause the officials of many of those schools to wonder whether their long range plans are adequate.

The figures represent an increase of only 48,000 over last year. But most educators had expected a sharp drop as war veterans dropped out of school. The GI enrollment did decline, but was more than offset by the increases from other sources.

The reasons for the increases are apparent. More children out of each 100 remain in public schools, or their equivalent, until they graduate; and more high school graduates out of each 100 go to college. This trend almost certainly will continue.

But a much bigger headache for college and universities lies some 10 or 12 years in the future. Wartime marriages stimulated the nation's birth rate tremendously. The offsprings of these unions now are taxing public school facilities to overflowing, as officials of Lubbock Independent School district will attest. Most of these children will graduate; most will go to college. Enrollments in most colleges and universities are expected to take their biggest jump in history in about 1960, and to continue at a high rate for five or six years.

The natural inclination is to wait until this bridge is nearer before worrying about it. But few colleges have facilities adequate for present needs. Instead of keeping up with current requirements, they are falling further behind, with nothing to indicate this trend will be reversed in the foreseeable future.

Just what will happen when the "war babies" begin flocking to college in record numbers remains to be seen. But apparently one of two things must happen: Colleges must be expanded hugely, or they must bar their doors, after they are filled, to thousands of young men and women who will be clamoring to enroll.

If the decision swings to expansion, as most believe it should, the advance planning cannot be postponed much longer because such undertakings require much in terms of time, effort and money.

On The Loose

The Cameo

By VIRGINIA TEALE
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: At Hagar Blair's gift shop, the ownership of a valuable carnelian cameo has been questioned. The cameo is in the possession of Arnold Pfieffer, who says Martin Falter commissioned him to sell it in San Francisco and that it belongs to Martin. Mrs. Nell O'Neill has just appeared in company with a Russian artist, Andrey Yakov, and claims the cameo is hers. Hagar Blair has offered to buy the cameo but Yakov says he intends to buy it. At this point Stephanie Smith, a quiet young girl who works for Hagar, says "No.")

ANDREY YAKOV stared obliquely at Hagar Blair. "It appears, then, that we have three prospective buyers? You, myself and the young lady, Miss—" he paused, giving Stephanie a look of inquiry.

Stephanie's eyes locked with his as she supplied her name, "Smith."

He bowed. Hagar glanced at Stephanie significantly, then back to Yakov. "You can narrow it to only two prospective buyers. Stephanie and I are partners."

Arnold Pfieffer had been wrapping the silver box in the small square of tapestry. He slipped it into his pocket and was beginning to edge out from behind Hagar, one eye on the front door.

"Just a minute, Arnold!" Nell O'Neill challenged. "Where did you get my cameo?"

Arnold, his hand on the doorknob, stood glaring at her: "Don't yell at me! As far as I know, this is Martin Falter's property. If you must know, he's commissioned me to take it up to San Francisco for him."

"You'll do no such thing. That cameo's mine and I intend to have it." Nell took a step toward Arnold who shrank back against the door. "Give it to me now, and save yourself a lot of trouble."

Hagar walked over and confronted Nell. "Look here, how can you expect him to turn over the piece to you after Falter has told him he owns it? The thing to do is get hold of Falter and settle the right of ownership—then we can start bargaining."

When Nell transferred her attention to Hagar, Arnold yanked open the front door. With escape assured, he turned on the rest:

"I'm sick and tired of this whole mess and I'm not going to get further involved in it. I'm going out right now and hand Martin back his wretched old pin. And then the pack of you can start playing hare-and-hounds with him. I'm through with the whole thing!" He closed the door behind him.

Hagar grinned at Yakov and Nell. "Arnold is the intense, high-strung type."

Nell clinched her fists, "That little rabbit! He probably stole my cameo from Martin."

Yakov assumed an expression of pleased surprise. "Aha! But think how fortunate we are, Nellya! This suddenly brings to your mind where you have left your wonderful cameo—in the safe hands of your good friend, Mr. Falter. I shall buy it from you for a generous price."

"What do you call a generous price?" Hagar asked.

Yakov fingered his mustache. "Let us simply say I am prepared to better any offer you can make, Miss Blair."

NOTING that Stephanie had moved over to the window, Hagar whirled on Nell: "Mrs. O'Neill, it looks like you've got yourself a golden goose, doesn't it? And it also looks like Mr. Yakov here has got a tight grip on the pinfeathers. But just for the heck of it, I'll make you an offer."

"How much?"

"First things first. Right now you haven't got the cameo. Little Arnold may have had a temperamental fit and chucked it in the ocean."

Stephanie hurried to Hagar and grasped her arm. "Don't say things like that! Please!"

Hagar gave Stephanie a slow wink.

Yakov's eyes flicked to Nell as he made a show of consulting his watch. "Nellya," he said carelessly, "is it not time to go to the place where Tom and his friend wait for us? Perhaps we can arrange for the four of us to have dinner at my studio."

After they had gone, Hagar walked to the window.

"It doesn't add up," she mumbled against her cupped fingers. If Yakov wants that cameo bad enough to top any offer I'd make, he must own a remarkable collection. And, if he has a collection of that class, why haven't I heard about it? It might be in Russia, of course. But I still ought to have seen some report of it. The only one I know of in that Godforsaken country is the one in the St. Petersburg Hermitage Museum. There is a possibility he might be buying for someone else, but I have a funny hunch that's not it."

SHE shifted around absent-mindedly, crossed her feet in a fantastic way and leaned precariously on one elbow:

"No, Stephanie," she continued, "I'm convinced he wasn't acting for someone else. Did you notice how excited he was when he first saw the cameo? That sort of 'Hallelujah! The lost is found!' expression? And right after that, when Arnold snatched the cameo away from him, his eyes turned the color of steel and practically skewered the poor little guy."

Stephanie grasped Hagar's arm, "Hagar, please, let's not just talk and talk about it. Let's do something before Yakov gets the cameo! He must not get it, he must not!"

Hagar stared interestedly at the fireworks provided by Stephanie's blue eyes. Today was the first time she'd seen Stephanie's reserve melt away, the first time the girl appeared to have any fire.

"It's important to me, Hagar. Terribly important."

Hagar leaned back against the cabinet. "Suppose you tell me why?"

On The Line

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 — The American traveler in Europe finds little readily apparent evidence of the billions we are dumping in those countries in Marshall Plan aid. There are few newspaper mentions of the help and few verbal expressions of thanks below the top levels.

This has been a source of deep concern to Paul Hoffman and other distributors of the mountains of munificence, but not because they're hurt by the seeming lack of open gratitude. They're concerned because one of the chief goals of the plan—an economic union of Europe fashioned somewhat along the lines of that of our 48 states—is proving difficult to achieve.

Goal Is Needed

A dramatic something is needed to fire the imagination of Western Europe: some symbol or sign-in-the-sky that can be a rallying point in the job of making that section of the world self-supporting.

The best suggestion for a symbol that we've come across is the one presented by New York idea man Josef F. Hynes.

It has met with the approval of Hoffman, the powerful advertising Council, Inc., and other reputable officials and organizations.

Hynes would borrow one of those 458-foot "landing shipdocks" now rusting in America's mothball fleet. On its main deck would be built a huge relief map of Europe, in the manner of General Motors' "futurama" exhibit, done by Norman Bel Geddes for the New York World Fair a decade ago.

THERE would be no borders shown. Great highways would link the capitals. Stress would be laid on soil erosion plans, reclaimed swamplands, blueprints for the rebuilding of bombed cities, flood control, new land uses, drainage, air, road and rail transportation. In short, it would depict graphically what Europe could achieve in the foreseeable future, and there would be many side exhibits such as model schools, hospitals, homes and services. The pitch would be:

All this is possible, if you get

ON FOREIGN PROGRAM

GOP To Open Attack

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — Republicans on Capitol Hill will open a 1950-1952 dress rehearsal on the Administration's foreign policies at the January session of Congress as a result of the defeat of John Foster Dulles in the New York senatorial race and the prospect that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's health will not permit him to resume an aggressive role in the bipartisan operations.

These two men alone held enough G.O.P.-ers in line for support of Marshall Plan appropriations, the North Atlantic Alliance and for Truman-Acheson refusal to recognize Franco or give more generous financial and military assistance to the Chinese Nationalists. But toward the close of the recent session their control over critics of American financing of socialistic regimes abroad was beginning to slip.

TUCKER

Although outvoted, the views of men like Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and Senator William F. Knowland of California were beginning to gain headway in the upper chamber.

Many a member's vote for the Administration's foreign aid program was given only on a probationary basis. They thought the White House should be allowed more opportunity to demonstrate the long-range effectiveness of its overseas ventures.

MISSION: President Truman's awareness of this skepticism accounts for Secretary Acheson's recent journey to Paris for an emergency meeting of the three Foreign Ministers of the western powers. The Secretary of State, although concealing the fact in formal statements, really embarked on a mission to prevent a current crackup of our whole foreign policy.

The three Allied nations — the United States, Great Britain, France—do not agree on any major issue with respect to Western Europe, Germany, China, South America or the Near East, including Palestine. Nor can they get together on basic plans for the restoration of world trade. Worst of all, they agree on the future attitude toward Moscow.

The fact is that, as our wartime Allies begin to get their heads above water, they become eager to cut loose from the lifeline Washington has thrown them since the defeat of the Axis. Both the statesmen and the people themselves show irritation over the American tendency to interfere in their domestic affairs, based on our tremendous financial assistance and sacrifices.

SCOLDINGS: London, for instance, refuses absolutely to enter any Western European economic union for levelling tariff barriers, for abolishing quotas, for monetary agreements to unfreeze currencies. In short, she prefers to trade on the old-fashioned, prewar basis with the U. S., the commonwealth and other countries outside the proposed economic organization.

Britain's representatives blocked the formation of a cohesive Western European group, despite scoldings by ECA Administer Paul Hoffman, and in spite of the fact that unity was supposed to be a prerequisite to Marshall Plan aid.

England, however, figures that she can violate this agreement because of our historic and sentimental tieup with the Empire. Prime Minister Attlee, Foreign Minister Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps realize that the U. S. cannot adopt any reprisal measures against them for the simple reason that we would need the British Isles and her far-flung territory in any future conflict with Russia.

However, the British attitude, especially in view of our acquiescence in her "lone wolf" policy, has caused resentment and concern in Paris, Brussels, The Hague, Bonn and in the Scandinavian area. They naturally feel that London and Washington will leave them to their own weak resources in any prospective world crisis.

DISMANTLING: Although Anglo - American differences involve almost every possible postwar problem around the globe, the central difficulty between the two powers concerns Germany's future status in the family of nations.

We believe that Europe can never get back on her feet without German production. We must continue to pay our billions of dollars annually until the former enemy country recovers.

As the leader in the "cold war" against Russia, the U. S. wants a strong German state as a buffer that will keep a Red Army several hundred miles further from the English Channel.

The British and French, however dread commercial competition from the former Reich, as well as her restoration as an aggressive nation. Having permitted us to assume the leadership vis-a-vis Moscow, they do not seem to feel the need of German arms and armies if the "cold war" should get hot.

The Birtish intend to recognize a Communist regime in China, whereas Mr. Acheson is still "waiting for the dust to settle." London prefers to placate Arab chieftains because of her oil holding in that area, and worries over our activities in Turkey and Palestine. So do the French.

RIDE: It is obvious that there can be no full European recovery at the expiration of the Marshall Plan in 1952 unless Secretary Acheson can persuade the British to revise their general diplomatic program. Likewise, the admittedly pitiful military reinforcement of Europe under the North Atlantic pact will be a failure if Germany is kept weak.

Without a strong Western German Republic, Russia would reach the Channel in three weeks, according to our military experts' estimate. It would mean that the U. S. would "go broke" maintaining armies here and abroad.

This is the real background of Dean Acheson's Paul Revere ride!

GERMANY GAINS FROM DISPUTE

U. S. Policy In Germany Opposed

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — A time comes when a definite pattern emerges from a series of gradual events. Thus history is made.

When it means the shattering of once-cherished aims and ideals it is well to recognize it frankly.

So it is now in the case of Germany.

Only five years ago, at this time in November, 1944, Germany was the ruthless enemy that finally was begin pushed back to her own borders after her crime against civilization. Even then she was plotting that final desperate coup which ended in the gory Battle of the Bulge. A sad Christmas season it turned out to be for many American families.

STOKES

West Germany Gains Ground

Today, as the result of diplomatic negotiations over a protracted period, step by step, Western Germany is about to be admitted again to the family of nations on our side. The division between "our" Germany and Russia's Germany, which originally were supposed to be one Germany that both of us would watch carefully, was the inevitable result of the rift between two war allies, ourselves and Russia. It is far too late to go over all that again. It has happened.

Some other things have happened, too.

TO size up we must go back to our war aims and those of our allies. They were, simply, to prevent Germany ever from becoming again such a menace to the peace of the world and civilization as she had been twice in a quarter of a century—in 1914 and 1939. To accomplish these aims, our policy was, first, to destroy the war potential of Germany and to break up the giant industrial monopolies or cartels, with their ramifications all over Europe and the world. They had supplied the munitions for the Nazi onslaught, and, through their tie-ups with our own industry and that of our allies, had restricted our own war preparation. Second, to try the criminals, both military and industrial, before the world and through these trials, which were held subsequently at Nurnberg, to establish a new principle of international law that those guilty of aggressive war must be held accountable.

In keeping with the first aim, German war plants were to be dismantled and moved to allied nations—except ours—to provide reparations for the destruction in those nations by the Nazis. This seemed to be a fair and sound policy. It was subscribed to solemnly by us and our allies. The dismantling, which proceeded sluggishly, was successively limited and the number of plants listed for dismantling reduced—always over French and British protest—until now it is apparently to be abruptly stopped, largely through our influence.

Move Would Aid Germany

Of course, any such dismantling of productive facilities can come to appear ill-advised, especially after the passions of war have cooled. A kindly reception is given to arguments that they are needed to restore Germany in order to restore Europe and to remove burdens on our taxpayers, even though there is an outright repudiation of our policy and our pledged word. It is still insisted that the aim is to curb Germany's war potential.

Our action on dismantling is hard to justify. It is even harder to justify our complete abandonment of our program to break up the giant cartels. They have not been broken up at all. Their former Nazi masters are back in control. This war aim has been completely diluted despite pious lip service. The next step may be for our industrial and financial interests to tie in with them again. That's where we all came in—back in 1920's and 1930's.

NOW, too, you begin to hear and read apologies for the Nurnberg trials, a type of propaganda so dangerous and insidious that Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, New York lawyer who was chief counsel in the American military government trials, has been forced to speak out in protest. He points out that this only encourages an already "alarming resurgence of authoritarianism in Germany," in plain words, the Fascism against which we fought.

Finally, to cap it all, you begin to hear in high military circles here that maybe we should rearm Germany and should welcome Spain into the Atlantic pact, though such feelers are always conditioned with the explanation that this is a military view and does not necessarily reflect the political view.

History has rolled around quickly to a strange point since those terrible days of the Battle of the Bulge.

Increased Red Troops In Albania Considered As Dangerous To Tito

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

BELGRADE, Nov. 20.—Responsible non-Yugoslav sources here said today Russia has increased substantially the number of Soviet military men stationed in Albania.

While an exact figure of the number of Soviet forces in Albania is not obtainable, the best informed guess places the number between 12,000 and 15,000, or about twice as many as there were four months ago.

Apparently authentic reports reaching Belgrade said the new arrivals appeared to be technicians, officers skilled in guerilla warfare and training experts.

Saber Rattling Possible

This could be more of the saber rattling which has been going on in the Cominform neighbors around Yugoslavia as a part of the war of nerves against the Cominform outcast—Premier Marshal Tito.

Or—much more dangerous to Balkan peace—it could be a hint that there are plans in the wind for guerilla hit-and-run warfare against Tito, with Albania as a base.

Such a scheme might have for its motivation the desire to goad Tito into retaliation and thus provide Russia an excuse for open military aid to Albania, with which Russia has a friendship treaty.

Alone, Albania would be a push-over for Tito's highly trained troops, but there are many other factors involved.

One is the fact that Albania has given shelter to thousands of Greek troops who were driven out of Greece. There are reports here, without any confirmation, that these troops are being re-equipped for possible action against Yugoslavia.

Another is the prospect that any intensive guerilla activity on the Albanian border might force Tito to draw off troops now guarding Yugoslavia's lengthy borders against other Cominform patrols, incursions, sabotage and espionage.

Third, Tito has guarded against providing Russia any excuses despite more than a score of provocations of one sort or another. There is every reason to believe he will follow the same policy with regard to Albania, should anything develop there.

Actor Gregory Peck Denies Charge Of 'Red Sympathizer'

DUBLIN, Nov. 20. (INS)—Screen Actor Gregory Peck branded as "ridiculous nonsense" today the action of the Catholic Stage guild which accused him of Communist sympathies and barred him from making a personal appearance at a Dublin theater.

Peck was refused permission to appear at the Adelpri theater last Tuesday, charging he was "not a suitable person to appear at a show staged by a Catholic organization."

Peck said:

"What's the use if I deny I am a red?

"Hollywood would get hold of the story and by implications twist it into something worse.

"I am pretty tired of all this. Back home we are all going through much the same sort of thing.

"It's just ridiculous nonsense."

It has been such a sunny winter in South Africa's Cape area that snakes, which usually hibernate at this season have been reported about, and one man, Basie Eksteen, of Fransch Hoek, was bitten by a puf adder, while he was plowing.

High Cost Estimate Of Farm Plan Called Fantastic By Brannan

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan assailed as fantastic Saturday assertions that his program of farm income and price stabilization would cost $19 billion yearly.

"Such a cost would imply that every farmer sold every unit of every commodity for exactly nothing!" Brannan told the National Grange convention.

He said he could not understand how anyone could read his testimony before Congress and then quote the high figure "with innocent intent."

Brannan said the nation cannot afford the price of error in controlling its economy.

"We cannot afford the luxury of price protection that is not price protection. Nor can we afford to dissipate our abundance," said the secretary, whose plan was refused by Congress in favor of the agricultural act of 1949.

Hard Facts Cited

Of the nation's economy, Brannan said:

"We have hard facts to face. Hard facts like these—

"Prices received by farmers are already down one-fifth from the postwar peak, and they may decline another 10 per cent in 1950.

"Net income of farm operators is already down about 20 per cent from 1947—and may decline another 15 per cent next year.

"Farmers are buying less machinery, equipment and other industrial goods."

Brannan said nobody in the administration wants to put the farmers on a dole. "On the contrary," he said, "we do want to help protect farm price and incomes against a collapse that might threaten the stability of every business in the nation."

He said the wise use of agricultural abundance has been and continues to be "the heart of the American farm problem."

Cosmopolitan Club Is Host For Dance At Texas Tech

A cosmopolitan flavor — aptly enight — pervaded a dance of the Texas Tech Cosmopolitan club Saturday night in the Green Room of the Tech Recreation hall.

An estimated 100 persons attended, including club members and their guests.

Jack Witty was master of ceremonies, and was in charge of a variety-packed floor show presented by various Tech students.

Burl Hubbard's orchestra played for dancing.

British Bloc Ready To Recognize Reds

LONDON, Nov. 20. (AP)— Eight British commonwealth nations were reported today to have decided they would recognize the new Chinese Communist government. But when is still a question.

Official sources disclosed that representatives of Britain and seven other commonwealths met in London last Tuesday and all accepted the principle of recognizing the Peiping regime of Mao Tze-Tung.

India and Canada were said to favor an early move, while South Africa and New Zealand advocated deferring action as long as possible.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin was reported to have taken a middle-of-the-road stand. The others were represented by their high commissioners in London. They are: Canada, India, South Africa, New Zealand, Ceylon, Pakistan, and Australia.

Bevin, informants said, told the meeting Britain herself is unlikely to act before the first or second week in January.

Santa Fe Accused Of Attempt To Murder Pickets On Track

CARLSBAD, N. M., Nov. 20. (AP). A union official Saturday night accused the Santa Fe railway with making a "cold blooded attempt to murder the pickets" in a potash strike.

The strike of 1,200 CIO potash workers early today affected the Potash Company of America, the United States Potash company and the International Mineral and Chemical corporation.

Pickets sat on the rail and lay on the roadbed in front of a freight train late today in an effort to stop shipments from the plants.

Dan Trahey, Santa Fe division agent at Clovis, N.M., said the train went through the picket line "very slowly, stopping four times."

But Howard Goddard, international representative of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter workers, said the locomative was run into the picket line in "a cold blooded attempt to murder the pickets."

No one was injured.

"To avoid seasickness, travel on an aluminum - funnelled ship," may be the advice of the future, for British engineers claim that by building its upper part of aluminum, to keep the weight below decks, a ship can be made to roll less.

Of that new policy contract my company came out with recently — THE JEFFERSON FAMILY PROVIDER. It's a new low cost plan — a special plan for preferred risks only.

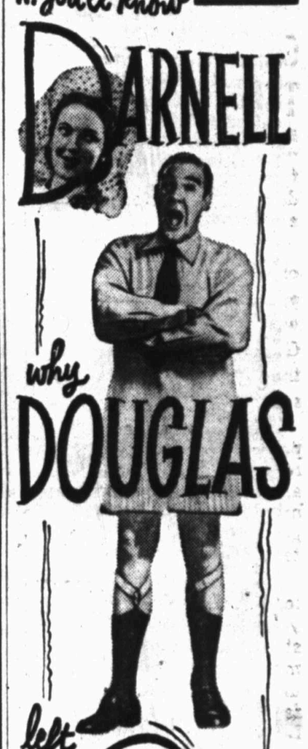

For a little more than the regular cost of $5000 whole life insurance, the plan provides for $14,460 total protection for your family.

Let me give you further particulars — no obligation.

Seven New Oil Producers Are Completed In Two Scurry Fields

field.

Flowing natural through a 24/64th inch choke, the well made an initial daily production of 226.9 barrels of 43.5-gravity oil, with a gas-oil ratio of 980-1. No formation water was reported.

It was completed from open hole between the 7-inch oil string set at 6,989 feet and the total depth of the project at 7,004 feet.

Location is 660 feet from west and 680 feet from south lines of section 439, block 97, H&TC survey.

PRODUCER COMPLETED IN DIAMOND M FIELD

A new Diamond-M producer is at Lion Oil company No. 22 McLaughlin.

This project, located 665 feet from north and 1,984.30 feet from east lines of section 196, block 97, H&EC survey, completed for an initial daily production of 456.06 barrels of oil from the Canyon reef. Gravity of the petroleum was 44.2 degrees and the gas-oil ratio was 917-1.

The flow was through a 16/64th inch tubing choke from pay between the top of the pay at 6,664 feet and the total depth at 6,821.5 feet.

There was no formation water.

Flowing natural from perforations in the 5½ inch casing at 6,598-776 feet, Lion Oil company No. 19 McLaughlin in the Diamond-M field, made a 24-hour production of 461.47 barrels of oil and no water.

Gravity of the oil was 44-degrees, with a gas-oil ratio of 768-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 570 pounds and the flowing casing pressure was 240 pounds.

The venture was drilled to a total depth of 6,778.5 feet where the 5½ inch oil string was cemented. Top of the pay was 6,598 feet.

The development is 664.98 feet from north and 1,831.10 feet from east lines of section 197, block 97, H&TC survey.

PERMIT SOUGHT FOR SCURRY EXPLORATION

Claud B. Hamill of Houston has filed an application with the Railroad commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill his No. 4 Lois Sears Sentell as a 7,000-foot exploration to test the Canyon reef lime on the southeast side of the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county.

Slated to begin drilling at once, No. 4 Sentell will be 1,545 feet from north and 1,930.8 feet from west lines of the lease in section 26, block 1, J. P. Smith survey. The drillsite is six miles north of Snyder.

NEW PRODUCTION IN SCURRY COUNTY REPORTED

Commercial petroleum production from the Canyon reef lime has been developed in the northwest side of the Snyder townsite in Central Scurry county, two miles east of the nearest completed oil wells on this north side of the Kelley field.

The new production has been developed at Standard-Fryer Drilling company No. 1 J. B. York, located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 180, block 3, H&GN survey.

This exploration took a one hour and 45 minute drillstem test in the top of the reef at 6,724-45 feet. Gas showed at the surface in six minutes and oil started flowing out in 84 minutes.

When 23 stands of drill pipe had been pulled after the tester was closed it started unloading fluid. Operator figured that total recovery was 4,300 feet of clean oil and 360 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. No formation water was developed.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 600 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 30 minutes was 2,750 pounds. Hydrostatic pressure was 3,400 pounds.

A string of 5½ inch casing is to be cemented at the top of the pay, and the well will be completed as it is.

Top of the Canyon reef, and the approximate top of the pay was at 6,730 feet. Elevation is 2,346 feet, to give the new well a datum of minus 4,384 feet.

It is understood that Standard-Fryer is to skid the rotary rig used to drill No. 1 York to the location for its No. 1 James A. Clark, in the southwest quarter of section 179, block 3, H&GN survey, which will be one quarter of a mile north of the extender. Drilling operations are slated to start at No. 1 Clark immediately.

Hiawatha Oil & Gas company is scheduled to start activity at once on an east flanker to the Standard-Fryer No. 1 York. That venture will be Hiawatha No. 1 York and it will be located one-quarter of a mile east of the new townsite producer.

ACID TREATMENT SLATED ON GAINES WELL

Samedan Oil corporation and Anderson Brothers of Midland, No. 1-E-A Andrews, indicated Ellenburger discovery in Central-South Gaines county, was preparing to wash perforations in that zone from 11,900-960 feet with mud acid to clean that interval. Operator will then likely treat with regular acid.

In 12-hours of swabbing on section from 11,900-960 feet, operator recovered 18 barrels of new oil.

The possible deep discovery is on the northwest side of the Robertson field, and 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 19, block A-24, psl survey. It is 15 miles southwest of Seminole.

This prospect has also shown for possible production from a thin section in the Devonian from 10,062-090 feet.

Reagan J. Caraway No. 1 Loe, Northwest Dawson county wildcat, seven miles northwest of Lamesa, and 660 feet from the north and west lines of labor 12, league 3, Taylor county School Land survey, was making hole below 7,520 feet in the lower Permian, after taking a drillstem test at 7,400-7,520 feet.

The tool was open two hours. There was a slight blow of air for a part of the period. Recovery was 30 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water.

The prospector is contracted to 10,500 feet to explore into the Pennsylvanian lime.

MIDLAND WELL MAY COMPLETE AS PRODUCER

Some possibilities of the discovery of oil in Central Midland county has been indicated at York and Harper, Inc., No. 1-A TXL, 12½ miles south of the city of Midland.

This venture had a recovery of 850 feet of free oil during a two and one-half hour drillstem test in the Fusselman zone of the Silurian at 12,573-685 feet.

No gas or fluid came to the surface while the tool was open. When 1,440 feet of drill pipe had been pulled free gas was encountered. When 5,642 feet of drill pipe had been pulled and rack drilling mud was encountered. Some of the fluid, which was cut with oil and gas was unloaded from the pipe while it was being pulled.

Total recovery was the 850 feet of clean oil and 3,240 feet of oil and gas cut water blanket and drilling mud.

Interested operators say that the showing of possible production is encouraging—but they point out that it does not mean that the wildcat is a proven producer. That will only be determined by further testing.

The project was circulating Saturday, while waiting on orders as to whether it would make a swabbing test, or would drill deeper.

It is contracted to about 13,800 feet to explore the Ellenburger—unless it gets commercial production at a higher level.

Location is 690 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 25, block 39, TP survey, T-3-S.

New Tests Set

cemented on bottom.

Shell oil company No. 1 Carter, slated 13,000-foot wildcat, six miles northeast of Hobbs, and 1,980 feet from south an east lines of section 23-19s-38e, had progresser below 9,664 feet in an unidentified lime and shale and was drilling deeper.

Well To Go Deeper

The Texas company No. 1 Ertel, which is contracted to at least 12,500 feet to explore into the Devonian in East-Central Lea county, one and one-half miles northwest of Knowles field, had penetrated below 8,791 feet in hard gray lime and was making more hole.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 27-16s-38e, had drilled under 5,486 feet in dry, middle Permian lime and was boring ahead.

Potential Test Slated

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 1-B1 State, one-quarter of a mile northeast of the initial producer from the Devonian in the Bagley-Hightower field in Northwest Lea county, about 20 miles northwest of Tatum is preparing to take potential test and complete from the Devonian.

Located at the center of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 2-12s-33e, the new well is bottomed at 10,914 feet in the Devonian.

It is to cement a string of 7-inch casing at about 10,765 feet, which is approximately the top of the Devonian and complete.

The section from the top of the Devonian and the total depth showed for production. The last test covered the zone at 10,870-914 feet. During one and one-half hours of flowing from that interval, through a five-eighths inch bottom hole choke, the production was 20.01 barrels of oil. The flow was natural.

Drilling To Continue

Amerade No. 1 BTD State, one-half mile west and one-quarter of a mile south of the first producer from the Devonian on the north side of the Bagley-Hightower field, and located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2-12s-33e, had progressed below 10,667 feet in dry lime and was drilling deeper.

Amerade No. 1 Roach, one-half mile south of the most distant Devonian producer in the Bagley-Hightower area, and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 26-12s-33e, was making hole below 9,780 feet in lime and shale.

Gulf Oil corporation No. 1-NMI State, wildcat located at the center of the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 22-12s-33e, and about one mile northwest of the nearest completed producers in the Bagley-Hightower field, had reached 9,773 feet in lime and was drilling ahead.

Gulf No. 1 Saunders, 15 miles south of the Bagley-Hightower field, had penetrated below 11,530 feet in dry lime and shale. It was making further hole. It is due to go to around 13,000 feet, unless it develops commercial production before reaching that level.

No. 1 Saunders is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 34-14s-334.

8,774 Foot Depth Passed

In northeast Lea county, Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Walker-Federal, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 8-9s-36e, had progressed below 8,274 feet in anhydrite and dolomite and was drilling ahead.

Magnolia No. 1-B Betenbaugh, south outpost to production from the Pennsylvanian in the Bough field, in northeast Lea county, and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 14-9s-35e, had reached 8,153 feet in dolomite and anhydrite and was boring deeper.

The Atlantic Refining company No 1-A Dickenson, southeast outpost to the discovery well of the Denton-Devonian field in central-east Lea county, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 13-15s-37e, had drilled below 10,940 feet in lime and shale and was making further hole.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Federal-Wiggs, in central-south Eddy county, 16 miles south of Carlsbad, and 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 31-24s-27e, had reached 13,286 feet in an unidentified lime and was continuing to drill deeper. It has not reported having logged any recent signs of possible production.

Shallow Discovery Indicated

Honolulu Oil corporation appears to have made a shallow oil discovery from the San Andres lime of the Permian at its No. 1 State in central Chaves county, New Mexico, at its No. 1 State.

The prospective field opener is 18 miles southeast of Roswell and 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 13-11s-27e, and it is about 10 miles southeast of the old shallow, depleted Comanche field.

The Honolulu wildcat had its show of oil in a drillstem test at 1,985-2,050 feet. The tester was open three hours and 15 minutes.

Gas showed at the surface in 15 minutes. The gas volume was not gauged or estimated.

Recovery, when the drill pipe was pulled was 1,150 feet of clean oil, of a gravity of approximately 30 degrees. There was no formation water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 250 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure was 700 pounds after 15 minutes.

Hydrostatic pressure was 1,150 pounds.

The venture is making hole below 2,080 feet in lime. If it logs any further shows of oil and gas by the time it reaches 1,200 feet another drillstem test will be undertaken.

No New Findings Reported In Death

POST, Nov. 20. (Special)—Sheriff E. M. Bass of Garza county reported "no new developments" today in the bizarre murder or suicide of Mrs. Marvin Truelock, 41, at her home in Southland on Wednesday.

Asked if any ideas or additional information had been contributed by persons not directly questioned in connection with the woman's death, Bass replied:

"Yes, about 90 per cent of the population has made suggestions, but no one has supplied any clues."

He added that he appreciated the suggestions made in an effort to assist in solving the mystery, and added that some information received might be of value upon further checking.

Mrs. Truelock was found dead on the concrete floor of her bedroom, a gag in her mouth, a burning stove over her head and her hands held behind her with a rope tied around her waist.

These applied exams will serve to lift the standards of Tech musical graduates and raise the department's standing as well as the quality of graduating students, the director asserted.

He pointed out that as yet there is no really widely-known music school in this part of the state.

Taking Over New Duties

"More of our friends are branching out into business for themselves," says J. M. Forbes, editor of The Muleshoe Journal.

"There is a lot of satisfaction in being your own boss, but a lot of worry and responsibility goes along with it, as, of course, you all know.

On Writing Your Congressman

Charles Didway, editor of The Brownfield News, writes that he had always figured that writing your congressman was something every red-blooded citizen should do when matters of legislative importance come up.

It took Homer Winston, the Brownfield wit, to set him straight.

"Homer said that on his recent trip to Washington he asked George Mahon's four stenographers if there was any word they wanted to send to the folks back home. 'Yes,' he quoted them as saying, 'tell them to stop writing letters to their congressman.' "

REDS 'BOOM' ARTILLERY DAY

MOSCOW, Nov. 20. (AP)—This is artillery day in Russia. In 26 cities 20-gun salutes boomed. Soviet newspapers declared Russian artillery is the most powerful in the world. "It is not for us but for the imperialists to fear a new war," said Pravda, the Communist party newspaper.

U. S. Faces Crisis

ing the dangers they foresee — for strengthening Indo-China and getting Ward out of jail — the plan has yet to be given a public airing.

This does not mean they are without many ideas and some specific projects. Work is going ahead, now somewhat behind schedule, on completion of a Japanese peace treaty. The State department is determined to sign a pact with Japan sometime next year, if possible, with or without Russia.

Close economic and military cooperation with the Philippines, political and economic support for newly independent Indonesia, and President Truman's whole "point four" program for aiding underdeveloped areas are part of this picture.

More and more, as seems to be true in the Ward case, the Communist conflict in Asia is a naked power clash wtih few holds barred.

There was a time when State department officials believed the Communists would want American recognition, American trade and contracts and would therefore avoid unnecessary trouble.

Six months later State Department officials concluded the Communists by their own acts had proved themselves so sompletely unfriendly that the policy of live and let live would not work. Ever since then the American government has been trying to get Ward out of Mukden.

Trusty Fails To Return After Leaving Jail To Empty Trash

LEVELLAND, Nov. 20. (Special)—Carl Crasick, 35, a trusty who was held in Hockley county jail on a charge of forgery and theft, went to empty trash this morning—and "forgot to come back."

Sheriff Charlie Bullock described the man as 35, 5 feet 11 inches tall, 160 pounds, dark hair, gray-brown eyes, and bare-headed.

Crasick, the sheriff said, was dressed in gray gabardine trousers, khaki shirt, dark short jacket, and low quarter shoes.

World Food Bank Plan Hampered By Doubt Of Congressional Okay

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Doubt that Congress would vote financial support stood in the way today of a proposal for a world food bank aimed at moving farm surpluses to needy areas at cut-rate prices.

The proposal will be advanced at the annual meeting of the United Nations food and agriculture organization convening here tomorrow. The plan will be outlined by FAO Director-General N. E. Dodd, former U. S. undersecretary of agriculture.

Okay Of Congress Needed

An official source said the United States delegation to the 58-nation conference will explain that this country is not able to endorse the food bank plan without congressional approval.

The bank or clearing house would have an eventual capital of $6 billion, the bulk of which this country would be called upon to supply. This country's initial contribution would be about $450 million, it was said.

The clearing house would take surpluses supplied by producing areas and sell them to shortage areas. The buying countries could pay in acceptable or convertible currency and get the goods at a cut-rate. Or they could pay in a so-called "soft" or presently inconvertible currency at the full market price.

In event it paid in soft currency, the bank would hold the payment to the credit of the supplying country until the currency became convertible or acceptable in world trade.

This government's reluctance to endorse the FAO proposal was said to grow out of apparently growing congressional resistence to government spending and particularly of the foreign relief or aid nature.

Dodd and other proponents of the world food bank idea are expected to argue that the United States faces the prospect of spending hundreds of millions of dollars a year to finance crop control programs designed to prevent production of surpluses.

It would be better for this country as well as shortage areas, Dodd will say, if the money were spent to move the surpluses into consumption.

together and buckle down.

Hynes would outfit a similar vessel with two exhibits, tentatively called "America of Today" and "America Of Tomorrow."

His plans for the former are expressed thusly: "This will be a dynamic portrayal of the benefits to be derived in the free flow of trade between states over a large area, as exemplified by our own union of 48 states, all within the framework of liberty and individual freedom.

Would Show Progress

"We will show models of great dams, irrigating great areas and furnishing power across state lines — the vast system of transport and communications and all other aspects of the 'abundant future' we have achieved.

The "America Of Tomorrow" exhibit would be a carefully analyzed and constructed dream of the American cities, farms and homes of the future.

Columbia university geographers Peter M. Stern and Theodore Shabad estimate that a "landing ship-dock" could moor at 23 sea and river ports in France alone. Some 26,000,000 people live within a radius of 50 miles of those ports. Another 25,000,000 live within 50 miles of the proposed ports along the Rhine.

ECA officials who like the plan believe it would be best for the impetus to come from an organization such as the Council of Europe, whose president is Belgium's Paul Henri Spaak. They do not wish to take the initiative for fear of "pressing" the opportunity—and the lesson.

Hynes would like to see the American end of the effort sponsored by the American Heritage foundation and the Advertising Council — which jointly made possible the "Freedom Train" tour. The cost could be borne by Marshall plan appropriations, and by gifts from U.S. firms with blocked capital abroad.

Seems like a natural and effective way of dramatizing the hitherto undramatizable yet tremendous prop we've placed under a sinking Europe.

Of 70 ships which Portugal plans to add to its merchant marine, 33 now are on hand.
