Hospital planning to build assisted-living, nursing home

Hospital Administrator Robbie Dewberry informed members of the Mitchell County Hospital District's Board of Directors that the hospital has taken the first step in the possibility of constructing an assisted-living facility, as well as a new nursing home. The first step that Dewberry spoke of is acquiring land, just east of the hospital's campus, from Mitchell County.

On Monday, county commissioners agreed to enter into an interlocal agreement which would deed land to the hospital in exchange for medical care for the county's incarcerated offenders. The hospital owns the land around the building, out to the land berm on the east side. The land being deeded by the county is located just east of that berm and extends all the way to the fence. Dewberry said that the beginning of construction is three to five years away at best. He also said that he has been contacted several times about the need for an assisted-living facility here.

The board is looking to the future and a new nursing home will be a must. "With the age of our nursing home, being as old as

Gainey chapter begins

The Dan Gainey chapter in Wolf football history will begin Friday night at Wolf Stadium against Division I Class 2A Breckenridge. Gainey is in his first year here as the new head coach. He served as offensive coordinator the past 11 years. Former head coach Frank Johnson and Gainey coached together for 24 years in Plainview and Colorado City. With Johnson's move to Holliday this Spring, Gainey was the board of trustees' first choice to be the new head coach and boys athletic director. Replacing Johnson as defensive coordinator is veteran Ray Carroll. Carroll comes to Colorado City from Hebbronville in South Texas where he coached the defense for 16 years.

Graduating from McMurry University in Abilene in 1988, Gainey's coaching career began in 1989 in Rockwall. After coaching there one year he moved to Plainview, coaching for nine years. In 1998, Gainey along with Frank Johnson moved to Colorado City and in 2002 Johnson was named head coach and Gainey was named the offensive coordinator. Johnson took a job in Holliday last spring and Gainey was named head coach and boys Athletic Director.

The transition to head coach hasn't been a big ordeal for Gainey. See GAINNEY, page 5A

Helm questions court as to 5% tax increase

The Mitchell County Commissioners' Court convened at 9 a.m. Monday to hold a public hearing regarding the proposed tax rate, and Austin Helm took the opportunity to speak. The proposed tax rate of $0.441300, an increase of about three cents, will generate $5.9 million for the county.

Helm questioned the court as to why the county would need a 5% increase in taxes, and County Judge Ray Mayo responded, "To help fund the 2014 budget." Mayo told Helm that the county was facing a $1.6 million budget deficit, and the tax increase was necessary to fund the budget.

Good opportunities are shaping up for an above average sea-

Area teams begin season this weekend

COLORADO CITY

The Wolves kick off the 2013 season Friday night against the tough Breckenridge Buckaroos at Wolf Stadium.

If you remember last year's battle with the Buckaroos, it was the Wolves blocking an attempted game-tying field goal late in the fourth quarter that preserved a marvelous 18-15 victory.

Breckenridge returns 16 starters from a play-off team last year and features linebacker Austin Dooley, previous district MVP selection.

The Buckaroos are from District 4-2A Division I which features teams from Eastland, Merkel, Clyde, Dublin, Jim Ned and Comanche.

LORAIN

Loraine will participate in the ASCO Kick-off Classic at Grande Communication Stadium in Midland Saturday night August 31st against Midland Trinity.

The pre-season district favorites hope to improve on their season from last year.

"That's our goal," second year coach Kyle Hawk said earlier this week, "improve on last year."

"Midland Trinity has established themselves as one of the Premier Private Schools in West Texas," Hawk said earlier this week.

The injury bug has hit the Bulldogs this pre-season as five play-

The Westbrook Wildcats will open the 2013 season Friday night hosting Blackwell.

Westbrook is coming off an agonizing 0-10 2012 season but a much improved and experienced team should enable the Wildcats to break that losing streak.

It will be tough to do Friday night as a much improved Blackwell team will be a test for the Wildcats.

Blackwell returns 16 starters from a play-off team last year returning four starters on offense and five starters on defense.

Student numbers increase

The first day of classes was Monday, August 26th for all three county schools, and two districts saw an increase in enrollment while the third saw a decrease. Westbrook and Loraine ISD both reported an increase in enrollment figures, while the student population at Colorado ISD decreased.

CISD Superintendent Reggy Spencer said that enrollment numbers, as a whole, were down for Colorado City's school district, but one campus saw a big increase in the number of students attending.

TWO-TIME NOMINEES – Proximo Sonido has been nominated for an award at the Tejano Music Awards again this fall, and band members, Elias Barrera, Freddie Martinez, Jimmy Garcia and Joe Garza are calling on their fans to visit the Tejano Music Awards website and vote for them. Photo courtesy of Elias Barrera.

Local band nominated again

Proximo Sonido, a Tejano band with local connections, has been nominated for an award, and band members are calling on their fans to help them out. The group has been nominated for Best New Artist/Group at the Tejano Music Awards, and fans have until midnight on September 6th to vote.

Elias Barrera, vocalist and accordion player, said the group had been nominated for the award after dropping a new album, 183, last fall. Several songs from the album have been playing on the radio, prompting officials to nominate the band for the award.

Musicians first joined together in 2007 to form Proximo Sonido, playing progressive Tejano/Conjunto music. In 2008, they released their first album, Por Primera Vez, featuring songs such as "Se Que Te Quiero" and "Liar", the latter of which was nominated as Crossover Song of the Year at the 2009 TTMA Tejano Music Awards.

Proximo Sonido band members are Barrera, bassist Freddie Martinez, percussionist Jimmy Garcia, and bajo sexto player Joe Garza. The band is partnered with producer Jimmy Garcia and Rokko Records and has recently released their long-awaited third album.

In 2008, the group was nominated for and won the best crossover song award, and Barrera said the win made them hungrier for more. "The experience of being with top notch artists makes you want to do it again," he said.

This year's Tejano Music Awards will be held at the Alamodome in San Antonio on October 19th.

Barrera is a 2002 graduate of Loraine and is the son of Jesse and Sara Barrera.

Proximo Sonido's fans should visit TejanoMusicAwards.com and click on the icon that says "Click Here to Vote", register and place your vote. Only one vote per household is allowed. Or, for those on Facebook, the band has a page with a link that will take you to the voting site.

City grants funds to help save the Palace

Marcus and Bea Monroe came before the city council of the City of Colorado City to request money from the Hotel/Motel Fund. The Monroes asked for $2,000 which will be used to hold a fundraiser for the Palace Theater, and council members granted their request.

According to Bea, a fundraiser consisting of a 5K Dash for Digital run/walk and street dance is being planned to raise money for the theater's conversion to digital from the 35mm film used now. All theaters are being forced to convert, as the production of the film is diminishing and will become obsolete in the near future. Cost for the conversion is somewhere between $65,000 and $80,000.

The city's attorney was consulted about the request, and city officials got the go ahead from their counsel. The request qualifies for hotel/motel funds, because the Monroes say the event will attract about 500 people to downtown Colorado City, some coming in from outside the city.

The request was also qualified because funds would be used for the preservation of a historical site, and money will also be used as a promotion of the arts.

Councilman Sammy Contreras spoke in favor of granting the request, as he sees the Palace Theater as a place where families can go to enjoy each other's company. "It brings back so many memories," Contreras said.

Bea said that the $2,000 would be spent on the fundraiser, as cost to bring in the bands for a street dance would be $1400.

Councilman Craig Jolley had reservations about approving the funds, as the theater is privately owned. "In my opinion, it's an inappropriate use of city funds to promote this business over others," he said, pointing to the fact that the theater is a for-profit enterprise.

Contreras moved that the request for funding be approved, and Andrew Fuller seconded. The measure passed in a three to one vote.

In other business, the council chose to deny a request by John Lomeli for the purchase of tax sale properties. City Manager David Hoover informed council members that Lomeli still owes the city for sewer/water projects from the past.

Hospital holding blood drive Thursday

By Audra Hoback
Community Relations
Director, MCHD

Mitchell County Hospital District and Mitchell County Healthcare Volunteers will be teaming up with Meek Blood Center to host a community blood drive Thursday, August 29th from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in the MCHD parking lot.

According to Meek Blood Center, all of the blood used for patient care at the 17 area hospitals served by Meek Blood Center comes from volunteer donors.

If you have never donated blood, you may have reservations or concerns regarding the donation process. Meek Blood Center's goal is to ensure comfort and safety for all donors and most people will feel fine after donating blood. A unit of blood is less than a pint and the average adult body contains 10 to 12 pints of blood. Any fluid you give will be replaced within hours, as your body makes new blood constantly.

If you are considering donating there are a few requirements that must be met. All donors must provide a valid I.D., must be at least 16 years of age and in good health. Sixteen-year-old donors must have written parental consent. There is also a minimum weight requirement of 120 pounds.

Donations cannot be made by those currently taking antibiotics or those taking Accutane, Propecia or Proscar. Most other medications are acceptable including allergy, blood pressure, thyroid replacements, female hormones, anxiety, high cholesterol, vitamins or birth control.

OPINION & COMMENTARY

TUMBLEWEED SMITH Getting high on mangoes

When I taste a mango, I get slightly light-headed. I feel better and have a sense of contentment. My mind relaxes and I am immediately transported into another dimension that is full of beauty, tranquility, peace and comfort. Everything is in harmony and there is a softness to the entire environment.

I think of Browning's words: "God's in His heaven, all's right with the world," but eating a mango for me is close to being an out of the world experience or maybe it just gets me thinking about the best things the world has to offer.

I think of beautiful music, art, food, wine, natural wonders, seashores with gentle breaking waves, sky formations that seem to be the doorway to heaven, stately trees and gardens with flowers of every shape and color ever dreamed of by man or God himself.

The inside of the mango is the color of sunshine. The outside colors, red and green, remind me of love and happiness in the holiday season.

Once in Quebec I ordered a fish dish that had a mango sauce. I seldom have wine with lunch, but once I tasted the meal, a glass of wine seemed almost mandatory. One of the best trips I've ever taken was to India, the world's largest producer of mangoes. In Hinduism, a mango is the symbol of perfection. We were in India during March and mangoes weren't quite ripe, but I had to taste one anyway. Taking a bite of it made me think of all the sparkling jewelry we had seen throughout the country and the smiling children with wide, dark eyes. Maybe taking that bite of mango is why I enjoyed India so much.

Mangoes make me think of unbelievable architecture, impalas gracefully jumping over a fence, waterfalls and forests with colorful birds making pleasing sounds, in tune with frogs singing their nighttime symphony. I think of a perfect hit by a baseball player, a fantastic run by a halfback, a rodeo girl rounding the barrels in record time. I see a spectacular sunset with a dazzling palette available only once a day. I think of that miraculous spiral staircase in that church at Santa Fe. In my mind I hear an angelic choir, observe a rainbow in the sky and see ballet dancers make flawless leaps and whirls.

Mango is like a drug that transports me up and over the ordinary experiences of man into a special realm of enjoyment. I think of love and respect and appreciation for all things that taste good. I think of a snow-capped peak at Jackson Hole, a mountain steam in Oregon with wildflowers alongside. I think of good times with family and friends all expressing their own personal joys of life.

I have never just eaten a mango. I enjoy a mango. It is the king of fruits, eaten fresh more than any other fruit. They are used in salads, juices, smoothies and ice cream. Mangoes must be what angels eat.

Inspired by 23 club members

By Stephanie Perez

I was kind of excited to go to the weekly Lions Club meeting on Friday, because I knew I was being considered as a new club member. I think they voted on my application last Friday, and I was feeling confident going in.

After we got our plates, and ate while Patricia Gillespie entertained us on the piano, Bob Reily introduced me as a new member and gave me my welcome packet. By the way, my family members refused to call me Simba (Cheesy Lion King reference), even though I asked them to.

The one thing I did not know as I entered the Civic Center: I would be just as excited going out as I was coming in.

Club members from the Lake Brownwood Lions Club were guests at the meeting, and the treasurer Billie Rhodes presented the program. Her talk consisted of a mile-long list of good causes that her club sponsors or make donations to, which was very impressive. But her most impressive statistic? There are only 23 members in that club, and they raise about $500,000 a year.

The Lake Brownwood Lions Club hosts two sessions of bingo per week and have gathered a following of bingo players in the area. Club members hold bingo on Tuesdays and Saturdays, and donate 67% of all they make back into the community.

Club members also make a difference in other ways. They perform 3,000 to 5,000 hearing screens at Brown County schools each year. They take "Elvis" to perform at the nursing homes and serve a meal to those attending the Lions Camp in Kerrville every summer. The list goes on and on.

It was obvious that Rhodes derives such joy from all of the service achievements. She made me want to run to the store and start my own bingo night on Friday, just so I could start raising funds to donate to good causes.

I got so involved in all the things Ms. Rhodes was talking about, I forgot to take her photo for the paper. It was inspiring to understand that I had just become a group that calls itself, The Global Leader in Humanitarian Service.

Ms. Rhodes and her group made me get excited about the possibilities of service to others. Our local Lions Club and other groups like it, as well as individuals, have the opportunity to make a difference in the lives of others.

So, I would like to invite you to join the Lions Club, or a service group of your choice. The possibilities are endless for an inspired group of people. There are so many people right here in Mitchell County that need help or maybe just a smile, and we all have the opportunity to give them what they need.

To learn more about joining the Lions Club, call me at the Record at 325-728-3413. I would love to get some friends involved and celebrate serving others.

Wallace Accelerated High School ended the last school year with 21 students, and 70 kids reported for classes Monday morning. Most of the students attending Wallace are part of a Disciplinary Alternative Education Program (DAEP) and are transferring to Wallace from Sweetwater and Roscoe. Approximately 23 of the 70 students at Wallace are local.

While enrollment at Colorado High School and Kelley Elementary remained stagnant, Colorado Middle School and Hutchinson Elementary saw decreases in students attending. Middle school began the year Monday with 197 students, compared to 225 last year. Hutchinson had an attendance of 218 on Monday, compared with 231 at the beginning of school last year. Enrollment at CHS was 258 for both years and 322 at Kelley Elementary.

Not considering Wallace's numbers, CUSD's enrollment is down by 39 students which translates as a loss of about $200,000 in funding, according to Spencer. "We're adjusting our budget," he said Monday. However, the boost in enrollment at Wallace is a comfort to him, as the growth will help make up for about half of the funding the district would lose without the alternative program.

"The budget will be a little tighter," Spencer said, "but we will still be able to present a balanced budget."

Westbrook ISD set a record with the enrollment figures on Monday, as 265 students showed up for class, the most ever for the school district. The surge in numbers represents a 16% growth from last year's attendance of 224.

"It is nice," said WISD Superintendent Todd Burleson. "Growing is a good problem to have."

Burleson credited in-district growth, as well as a rise in the number of transfer students for the increase in student numbers. He said he thinks the increase can partially be attributed to the population growth in the area.

Loraine ISD has a new campus and an increased number of enrolled students to fill it, as school officials reported a total of 165 students attending class Monday. Last year, the first day of school saw Loraine's enrollment at 135.

LISD Superintendent Travis Edwards said he thinks the increase can be credited to excitement over the new school which was officially opened to the public with a dedication ceremony Saturday.

Edwards said he hopes the increase will excite people over here. Besides the construction of a new campus, Loraine students have been issued iPads and all graduates receive scholarships.

ey. "I'm sleeping good," he said earlier this week. "We haven't done anything different, it's what we have been doing for the past 15 years."

Gainey inherits a team coming off a 10-4 regional finalist season that was perhaps the Wolves' best season in many years.

Fourteen seniors will provide the leadership including Nick Perez, Olivar Sosa, Osvaldo Lopez, Rankin Bullard, Robbie Gonzalez, Rylan Gardner, Scotty Bailey, Adrian Ausbie, Cason Smith, David Garza, Doug Garcia, Jacob Ludwig, Johnathan Martinez, Josh Sutton and Mark Sanchez.

The Wolves' reputation the past 14 years has been one of a hard-hitting, aggressive defensive team with an open style spread offense that will use both the pass and run. "We will continue to build on that reputation," Gainey said.

ers were held out of last week's scrimmage. Expected to miss Friday's game, and possibly a couple more games, is senior Timothy Garza. Also Carson Edmonds is expected to miss Saturday's opener with back issues. Ricky Cantu has been hampered with an ankle injury missing a lot of pre-season work-outs. He will play Saturday along with several Bulldogs with nagging injuries.

An 8:00 p.m. kickoff is set.

COURT

"We would have to cut programs or personnel if we didn't (raise taxes)," Mayo said. Rising costs was also a reason cited for the bigger budget.

Tax Assessor/Collector Sylvia Clanton was present for the meeting, and she informed Helm that the county was facing an $18 million loss in values this year, compared to 2013.

"I understand costs going up," Helm said. He also said that he remembers reading in the newspaper years ago that the county budget was in the black, and Mayo said he remembers those days also.

"If there's a tax increase, I should hope it's for a carefully made decision," Helm said. He spoke his piece and left the issue in the hands of the commissioners, directing them to think carefully about the issues at hand.

In other business, Judge David Hall from Nolan County addressed the court about appointing a judge to oversee court proceedings in the first-ever multi-county court at law, which Mitchell County is a part of. Effective September 1st, the new court will provide relief to the existing county and district judges by hearing cases.

Hall said that he hopes the newly-formed court provides for more flexibility in scheduling court hearings. Mitchell, Nolan and Fisher counties will be served by the new court, and each county stands to receive quite a bit of money in court costs. Hall told commissioners that Mitchell County would probably receive about a $20,000 increase because the State of Texas is partially funding the operation.

Applications from those wanting to serve as the multi-county court of law judge are being taken and will be considered at a called meeting on Friday, August 30th.

District Attorney Ann Reed came before the court to ask that commissioners reconsider the supplements being given to all full-time county-only employees next year. The employees that work in Reed's office are district employees, which means they are paid through a combination of Mitchell, Fisher and Nolan County.

Earlier in budget talks, the court agreed to give annual $600 supplements to all full-time Mitchell County workers, which would not include district employees. Reed said that her employees feel like they have been singled out.

She said that besides the employees in her office, the district supplies two investigators that work almost solely in this county. "We are your full-time felony prosecutors," Reed reminded the court.

There are four full-time employees in her office, and the cost to give them supplements would total $2400. She said she has never asked for an increase in her budget and never uses all she is allowed. She also said she would be willing to take a budget cut to help fund the supplements.

Commissioner Jesse Muñoz asked if Nolan County had given raises this year, and Reed said they had. Commissioner Jeremy Strain asked if the district's employees get raises through drug forfeiture money, and Reed said yes. Though her request was considered, Muñoz pointed out that her employees got a 5% raise that Mitchell County employees did not receive.

"They're big" was how head coach Dan Gainey described Breckenridge. "My main concern is how we play. We have lots of kids that have never played on Friday night, how they handle the situation is a concern," Gainey said.

Offensive senior starters returning from last season include Johnathan Jackson, Olivar Sosa, Ryland Gardner and David Sanchez. On defense the Wolves will start seniors John Jackson, David Sanchez, Olivar Sosa, Josh Sutton, Adrian Ausbie and Nick Perez. Starting quarterback is junior Dillon Gainey. Gainey broke an arm early in last year's season and missed the 2012 year. Also the Wolves will have senior linebacker Scotty Bailey back. He is the pre-season defensive MVP selection.

Local couple injured in accident

I-20 ACCIDENT — Bo and Nina Merket were driving eastbound on I-20 in their Buick when an 18-wheeler struck them from the rear last Wednesday. The accident occurred at Mile Marker 221 just after noon. The Merkets suffered lacerations and bruises but are at home recuperating. Photo courtesy of Shady Mitchell.

Both victims now recuperating at home

Bo and Nina Merket were involved in a car accident on I-20 last Wednesday around noon, and both were flown to Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene as medical crews were concerned about the condition of the couple. After spending three to four days in the hospital, the Merkets are now home recuperating from some severe bumps and bruises. Neither suffered any major injuries.

The Merkets were traveling eastbound on Wednesday, August 21st, making their way to Abilene for a doctor's appointment when they noticed an 18-wheeler passing a pickup behind them. After passing the pickup, the truck, still in the passing lane, came up behind the Merkets.

Unfortunately for the couple, the truck was too close to their vehicle when he tried to move back over into the right lane and the semi hit their car in the rear. The accident occurred at Mile Marker 221 at about 12:30 p.m.

The airbags in the Merket's Buick deployed probably prevented the two from sustaining more serious injuries. Bo was transported to Hendrick by helicopter from the scene of the accident. Nina was transported to Mitchell County Hospital but then transferred by helicopter to Hendrick, as well.

According to sister-in-law, JoAnn Merket, they are both banged and bruised up but have been released from the hospital and are recuperating at home. The pair returned to Colorado City on Sunday evening.

"They are so lucky," JoAnn said. "It could've been so much worse."

Trail ride planned in Loraine

Joe Muñoz and Richard Alvarez are planning a Trail Ride Festival to be held in Loraine on September 14th, and everyone is welcome to join in the fun. Muñoz said he's looking forward to providing a day of entertainment for those interested in participating.

The trail ride will begin at 9 a.m. on Saturday, September 14th at Muñoz's place off FM 644. The ride will end 12 miles later in downtown Loraine at approximately 1 p.m. Anyone with a horse, mule, donkey, buggy or wagon is welcome to participate, and there is no charge to ride.

As a matter of fact, Muñoz is giving $5 vouchers to everyone riding, so they can eat at Linda's Deli in Loraine after they arrive at their destination. He said he just wants to start a family-related event that everyone can enjoy. "We're gonna' take it easy and not get in a hurry, so that everyone can participate," he said.

Trail rides are an event that Muñoz once held in Midland, and he would have 100 to 150 riders at the events. Last year, he held his first trail ride in Loraine, but the riders experienced very inclement weather. It was a cold, rainy day, but 25 people braved the elements and rode into Loraine.

In conjunction with the trail ride, Alvarez is helping Muñoz plan a Trail Ride Festival. There will be no charge to anyone wanting to set up a booth in downtown Loraine, and crafty folks, as well as cooks, are encouraged to plan to attend and set up.

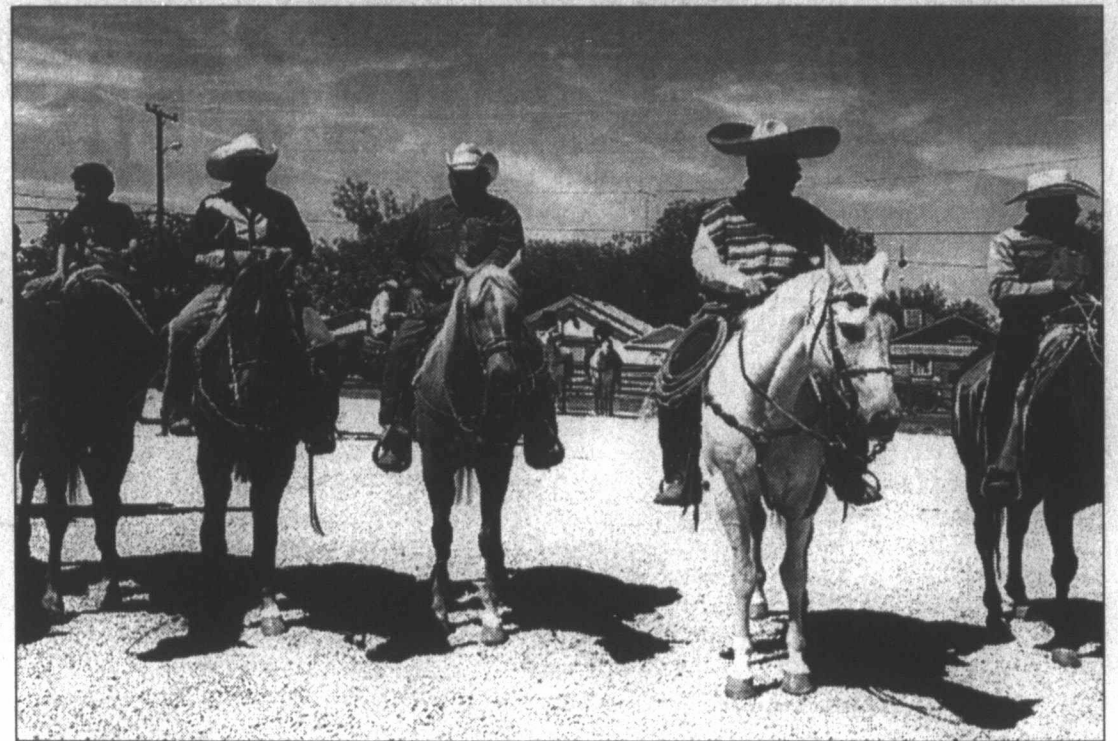

A limited supply of electricity will be available, and electrical designations will be made on a first come, first served basis. All booths will be set up on the concrete slab downtown, because roads will not be closed for the festival.

Along with commercial, craft and food booths, there will be live music. Anjelique Alvarez and her band will perform, along with Mark Pantoja's band and Carabina Treinta Treinta. Muñoz said the bands are performing for a cut rate, making the live entertainment possible for all to enjoy.

Muñoz has been away from Loraine, where he grew up, for 30 to 40 years and has recently retired and returned to the area. He said he's looking forward to putting on the event to bring Loraine citizens together in a positive way.

Everyone is encouraged to bring their lawn chairs, show support for Loraine, and have some fun along the way. Anyone wishing to be a vendor, should contact Alvarez.

Introducing three new members to Wall of Honor

Each year at the Colorado Wolves homecoming football game, several Colorado High School graduates are recognized for their accomplishments and named to the Wall of Honor and this year is no different. Colorado Middle School Principal Mark Merrell is gathering information on some of this year's honorees.

Mary Anne McCloud

Mary Anne McCloud is a Class of 1948 alumni who was active in school. She was a cheerleader, the yearbook activity editor, on The Howl staff, Band Sweetheart and Carnival Princess. After graduating, McCloud attended Texas Tech University and earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Education.

In 1951, McCloud attended the University of Colorado, in 1966 she took part in graduate work at Hardin-Simmons University and finished her graduate study at the University of Nevada in 1968.

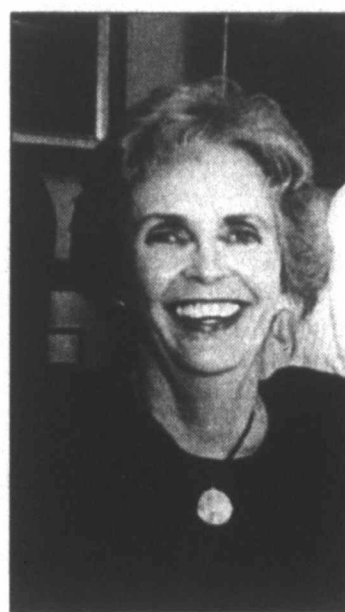

McCloud taught in Georgia and Houston before coming back to Colorado City to teach, where she developed a reading program that was chosen as one of the 50 best in the United States. She was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma and was on the library board. She also volunteered her time with the Girl Scouts of America.

Probably her most notable work came as a supporter of MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, as she spent from 1979 to 2013 as a board member on the Board of Visitors. She is recognized statewide as originating and implementing the first fundraiser for MC Anderson, Polo on the Prairie.

The family fundraiser has been held for 28 years on her son-in-law's Musselman Brothers ranch near Albany. Since its inception, over $5 million has been raised to benefit a vast number of research programs and patient care at MD Anderson.

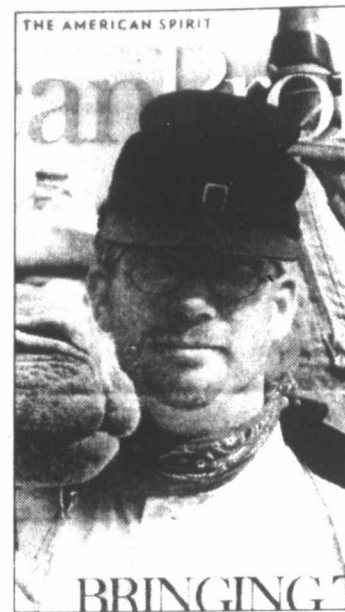

In 1995, McCloud, along with her son-in-law, Henry Musselman, received the Loving Hearts and Caring Hands Award from the Department of Chaplaincy at the hospital. A meditation room located in the Albert B. and Margaret M. Alkek Hospital was created to honor her and her family for their devotion and dedication to MD Anderson Cancer Center.

Ben Steadman

Through the years, many celebrities and politicians have participated in the fundraiser, and there are photographs of McCloud with former President Bush, Tommy Lee Jones, and former First Lady Barbara Bush, just to name a few.

Ben Steadman

CHS graduate Ben Steadman also enjoyed his time in high school, staying active in the Pride of Wolf Country Marching Band and concert band, as well as the Student Council and UIL. After graduating in 1997, Steadman enlisted in the U.S. Army as a Russian linguist and attended language school.

Steadman was accepted to the United States Military Academy at West Point and graduated in 2002 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering. Upon graduation, he received his commission as a Second Lieutenant in the aviation branch of the Army.

In 2004, Steadman served as a Black Hawk platoon leader in the 1st Air Cavalry Brigade, 1st Cavalry Division, stationed in Taji, Iraq. He also served as a Company Executive Officer, Battalion Supply Officer and Company Commander.

He deployed to Saudi Arabia in 2007, where he served as the aide-de-camp to the Program Manager for the Saudi Arabian National Guard Modernization Program.

In 2009, he assessed into the Army Acquisition Branch which is the business side of the Army. He was responsible for developing, producing, procuring, fielding and sustaining the weapons and equipment necessary to equip U.S. fighting forces.

His most recent assignments include serving as the Assistant Product Manager for Tactical Air Traffic Control Systems and as the Assistant Product Manager for the UH-60M Black Hawk Helicopter.

After returning to the states, he married Shelley Staley, a high school math teacher from Brighton, Michigan. The couple has two children, Gabriel and Karis. Steadman and his family currently live in his wife's hometown of Brighton while he pursues an MBA at the University of Michigan as part of the Army's Advanced Civic Schooling Program.

Doug Baum

Doug Baum grew up in Colorado City and developed a love for music. He performed with country music star Trace Adkins, and he has enjoyed his music career as a drummer but his true love is tall, furry and has humps. Baum owns and operates Texas Camel Corps, out of Waco, educating children around the national about camels.

Baum first became interested in camels during his time as a volunteer zookeeper in Nashville, Tennessee. He was especially interested in the historic use of camels in the United States military during the 19th century, and he eventually traveled to the Sinai Desert to study camel training with the Bedouin there.

Since 1997, the Texas Camel Corps has created curriculum for VisionQuest, a national placement agency for at-risk youth. For ten days each month, Baum instructs a dozen youth in camel handling and takes them on a 3-day CamelQuest. The benefits derived from the program are intensely personal to Baum, given his love of children and education. Previous CamelQuests have taken place in Arizona's Coronado National Forest and Sonoran Desert, as well as the Big Bend region of Texas.

In addition to education programs, Baum sometimes leases his camels and services to the motion picture industry, and they were used in the 1998 film, "A Texas Funeral," starring Martin Sheen.

Baum enjoys creating new, innovative ways to share his camels with people, and also enjoys visiting Egypt and learning about the culture there.

Rhodes speaks to Lions Club

"Much can be done with few" was her message

Billie Rhodes, treasurer of the Lake Brownwood Lions Club, was the guest speaker at the weekly noon meeting of the Colorado City Lions Club. She informed local club members of the many causes supported by the club, as they donate to many worthy charities with funds raised by the twice-weekly bingo games they hold.

Some of the groups that benefit from the Lake Brownwood club are: West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Ben Ritchey Boys Ranch, Brown County school students, nursing home residents, Lions Club Camp, graduating Brown County seniors, the Leader Dog charity, Meals on Wheels, Lake Brownwood Volunteer Fire Department, etc.

The club is small; it has 23 members, but the $500,000 they raise annually is a lofty goal. The organization donates 67% of funds raised back into the community or to charities. For instance, school students wanting to perform in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade received $3,000 from the Lions.

Every year, 30 Brown County graduates receive a $500 scholarship and are honored with a banquet. As all Texas Lions Clubs, the lake club participates in the eye glasses recycling project. They do 3,000 to 5,000 hearing screenings for Brown County students annually.

According to Rhodes, the club also helps its own members when they need it, supplying new glasses and hearing aids to members who can't afford their own. They don't forget who makes this all possible: their bingo players.

Several times a year, bingo games have a special twist, like a costume party at Halloween, corsages for the moms around Mother's Day, an Easter egg hunt for children and grandchildren of the players, to name a few. Rhodes said that they have 80 to 125 people come out to play bingo each Tuesday and Saturday at 6 p.m.

Before leaving, Rhodes invited local club members to join them in serving a meal at the Lions Club Camp in Kerrville next year in June, and club president Charlene Reilly accepted the invitation.

Local club members were inspired by Rhodes' talk, and research has begun on how to implement some of the fundraising efforts in Colorado City.

Anyone wishing to join the Lions Club should contact Bob Reilly by calling 728-3134.

Sr. citizens' dances not only fun, but fundraisers as well

Suffering from a big cut in funding, volunteers at the Wallace Nutritional Program have had to come up with creative ideas for fundraising. The group sponsors a Senior Citizen Dance each month, and the event is a hit.

According to Ernestine O'Dell, there have been as many as 120 people at the monthly dances, and people travel from Big Spring, Midland, Snyder, Sweetwater, Sands and many other places to enjoy some live music and dancing.

Last Thursday, music was provided by Shady Mitchell and the Kickin' Kountry Band, and those attending enjoyed the opportunity to get together and have some fun. Everyone brings something to eat and enough to share.

Those attending enjoy the food and music, as well as a chance to visit with old friends and make some new ones. And they love to dance!

Cost to get in is $5 each, and those attending know it's a small price to pay for an evening of good entertainment. Dances are usually held on the fourth Thursday of each month at the Colorado City Civic Center, and doors open at 6 p.m.

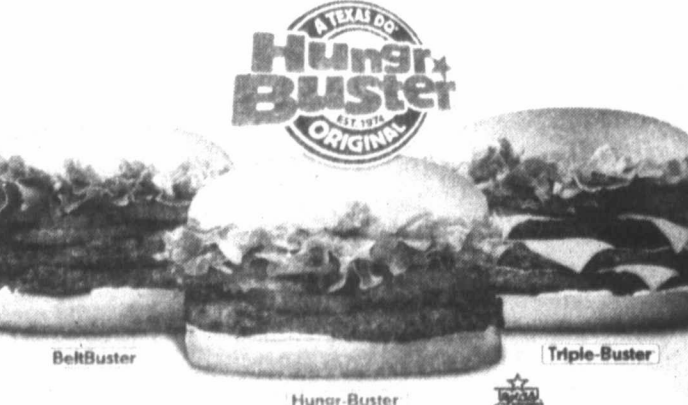

SCOOTIN' A BOOT — Lillie Funderburg and Dale Horten were on the dance floor Thursday evening at the monthly Senior Citizen Dance held at the Civic Center. Organizers said people come from all over to eat, dance, visit and have fun.

CUTTIN' A RUG — Senior citizens Francis Godwin and Arlis Cotton enjoyed the Senior Citizen Dance Thursday night. The event is held each month at the Civic Center to help raise money for the Wallace Nutritional Program.

Quail Research Ranch plans 6th annual field day Sept. 27

The Rolling Plains Quail Research Ranch will conduct its 6th annual field day from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sept. 27 at the Rolling Plains Quail Research Ranch near Roby.

"Best Management Practices for Quail" is the theme.

Individual preregistration is $10 until Sept. 20 and $20 thereafter. Student preregistration is $5. The fees include lunch, refreshments and field day abstracts. For more information or to preregister contact Dr. Dale Rollins, Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service wildlife specialist and Rolling Plains Quail Research Ranch director, San Angelo at 325-653-4576 or e-mail d-rollins@tamu.edu.

"The quail situation looks better this year than any year since 2007," Rollins said. "With the adoption of good management practices, hopefully we can capture this momentum and get back to huntable levels across west Texas."

Rollins said the program, which will be moved to Roby in case of rain, will include talks on Bermuda grass renovation for bobwhites, enhancing useable space for bobwhites on post-Conservation Reserve Program contract lands, establishing "brood patches" and "quail oases," use of "camera trapping" in quail management, sculpting prickly pear habitats for bobwhites and shrub mortality response to prickly pear herbicides.

Other subjects to be addressed include translocation of scaled or "blue" quail into former ranges, key plants for quail, "shale and quail" considerations in a pending oil boom, and updates on "Operation Idiopathic Decline" and "Operation Transfusion" research efforts.

The field day is a collaborative effort among AgriLife Extension, the Rolling Plains Quail Research Ranch, Texas A&M AgriLife Research, Park Cities Quail and AgriLife Extension's Quail Initiative.

Two Texas Department of Agriculture continuing education units will be available for those with a valid private applicator's license.

it is, we're going to have to build a new one," Dewberry said.

Before construction plans begin for the long-term care facilities, the hospital has another project that is currently underway. Plans are being drawn up for the district's new 12,000 square foot rural health clinic.

The new clinic will have space for one more healthcare provider and also allow for the relocation of the specialty clinic. Currently, specialists providing care at the specialty clinic must alternate days due to space constraints.

After the construction of the new Family Medical Associates, the specialty clinic will be relocated to the current clinic. Several specialists will be able to see patients on the same day.

The hospital board has signed a contract with architect Larry Harvey's company and approved a basic design for the new clinic building. The architect is drawing the new plans which the local board will have the opportunity

YARD OF THE MONTH – The beautiful yard of Tom and Debby Carlock located at 949 E. 15th Street was chosen by Keep Colorado City Beautiful as a Yard of the Month. to look at, change or approve and send on to the state.

Dewberry said that he has also talked to Royce Clay, President of City National Bank, and funding for the construction project is set.

During Tuesday's board meeting, board members approved a resolution to authorize Dewberry to sign and execute documents regarding a USDA Rural Development Grant. Dewberry said that the district had written and submitted a grant application to the USDA about two and a half years ago.

The applications had not been reviewed due to a lack of funds available, but Dewberry was notified that funds are now becoming available. The $28,800 available is a matching funds grant that the hospital CEO says will be used to purchase a nurse call system.

During an informational item, Dewberry told board members that he is looking into changing health insurance benefits for the employees of the district. Last year, MCHD workers had Blue Cross/Blue Shield, and the company assured Dewberry that premium costs would stay the same for this year.

He said that when he contacted the district's broker about renewing this year, she told him premium costs would be increasing by about 18%. After threatening to change policies, BCBS offered to lower the increase to 9%. The smaller of the two increases would cost the district about $110,000.

Dewberry said he is looking toward self-funded insurance but he hasn't made the decision official. Self-funded insurance means that the hospital would take the money they usually spend on premiums and put it in a bank account to use to pay claims.

The claims would still be managed by Blue Cross/Blue Shield but the hospital would pay for the claims, instead of the insurance company. BCBS would be paid $6,000 to $7,000 per month to manage the claims.

The hospital would be responsible for every claim for every employee up to $50,000 per employee. The maximum payout the hospital would face is about $1.1 million, close to what the district spends on insurance costs now.

There's no explanation as to why BCBS is calling for such a large premium cost increase, and Dewberry said he's not sure of the reasoning.

"When you look at costs of premiums as compared to costs of claims paid, there a huge profit margin there," he said.

Valley Fair Lodge Administrator Marsha Rickard gave a report on the nursing home. She said that the facility is at about 72% capacity, and there are three admission pending.

She said that numbers were down because the home dismissed a large number of patients in one month a few months ago, and admissions have trickled in since then.

Hardegree attends advocacy academy

Recently, Kalynn Hardegree attended the Texas 4-H Livestock Ambassador Advocacy Academy on the Texas Tech University Campus.

Kalynn Hardegree

The academy is the second level of the Ambassador Program, which looks deeper into lessons taught in the first level while focusing on communication and marketing topics, such as media training and how to effectively use social media to promote agriculture. Hardegree says it was very inspiring to spend time with other 4-H members that share her love of and passion for agriculture and the 4-H organization.

The Texas 4-H Livestock Ambassador Program is an in-depth learning experience for selected youth to represent the agricultural industry in Texas. During the course, students are exposed to college-level animal science curriculum and given the opportunity to discuss topics such as food safety, nutrition, reproduction and animal well-being. During this three day training, more than 30 hours of rigorous instruction by university faculty, Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Specialists, and County Extension Agents cover topics such as animal science principles, leadership, career development, and animal agriculture advocacy.

Once a young person completes their course work and passes their final exam to become a Texas 4-H Livestock Ambassador, they are required to commit at least 30 hours of service annually. Giving back to their community is an important part of the program. As a 4-H livestock ambassador, Hardegree has assisted at livestock shows in addition to presentations of topics in agriculture advocacy, nutrition, selection, daily maintenance and care, showmanship, sportsmanship, preparing new 4-H families for show, and management of show animals during a livestock show.

Lady Wolves place first in Nita tourney Bronze bracket

The Lady Wolves traveled to San Angelo this past weekend to participate in the Nita Volleyball Tournament. They returned home with a first place finish in the Bronze Bracket.

The competition started Saturday with games against Sterling City. It took a game for the Lady Wolves to get warmed up, as they missed seven serves in the first game against the Lady Eagles. The Lady Wolves lost that first game, 21-15. The girls continued to win the second and third games against the Eagles.

It was smooth sailing from there on. The Lady Wolves were warmed up and ready to play against TLCA, winning both games 25-14 and 25-13. The same could be said in their games against Greenwood. Those games were both won handily, 25-19 and 25-9.

"Mackenzie Kimball, Heather Merket and Taylor Griffith helped the team with their great hitting," Coach Anita Graham said. "Other top players were Brittany Munoz, who led the team in assists; Makayla Rivera and Haley Maxwell, who led the team in aces; and Ramsey Alvarez and Kasey Miller, who led in digs."

The Lady Wolves earned their bronze bid from Friday's pool play with a 2-0 win over Wink, and losses to Bushland and Del Rio.

Earlier in the week, the Lady Wolves beat Water Valley 3-1 and lost to Miles 0-3.

The volleyball team will be playing in Hawley Saturday, August 31 and will be home next Tuesday, September 3 against Sweetwater.

OIL & GAS NEWS

TSTC and PEC join forces to develop well-trained oil and gas workforce

Texas State Technical College West Texas (TSTC) and Petroleum Education Council Safety Management (PEC) have joined forces to create a pipeline of well-trained, credentialed workers for the Oil & Gas Industry in Texas. TSTC will teach PEC's "Oil Field Preparation System" (OFPS) which is a job readiness program that prepares job seekers for the oil and gas industry. This safety-based job readiness program prepares job seekers for work in the industry on land and offshore.

The training program has seen enormous success in Louisiana, where eighty percent of OFPS participants have been placed into oil and gas industry jobs upon graduation. Accredited by SafeLand and SafeGulf, the OFPS work skills program offers a variety of safety awareness training and full-level safety certifications, ultimately preparing those job seekers who have little or no experience in the energy sector to go to work within the oil and gas industry. OFPS students will receive quality, classroom instruction and hands-on training in twenty-six oil and gas industry recognized certifications, including Hydrogen Sulfide (H2S), Medic First Aid, Rigging, Confined Space, Forklift, Aerial Man Lift, Hazard Communication & LOTO, just to name a few. Other benefits to the students include assistance with resume preparation, mock interviews, and assistance scheduling job interviews with the area's operator and contractor employers. Classes begin September 9, 2013. Call 325.672.1590 for more information or to register for classes.

Expectations the same around Wolf season

AND HE'S GONE - Junior David Sanchez (20) returns this season to help the Wolves' running game.

The Wolves 2013 season under new Head Coach and boys Athletic Director Dan Gainey starts Friday August, 31st.

Many expect the Wolves to contend for another District Championship. "That's always our goal" Gainey said. Last year the Wolves were defeated by Sonora in the quarter finals and expectations are the Wolves can advance that far again. "Anything can happen once you get in the playoffs" Gainey said.

Cisco is picked to finish a top district 4-2AD II. "They certainly earn the right to be the favorite," according to Gainey. "They're always good, well coached and one of the most talented 2A schools in the state."

Most observers have Wolves in the runner up spot followed by Hamilton, Ballinger, Coleman and Hawley.

Much of the Wolves success, or lack thereof, will be how well the young guys on the line perform. Gainey has said through-out the pre-season two-a-days, "our line needs to play and gain some experience."

A major factor in a team's success is always senior leadership. This year the Wolves have 15 seniors to provide that leadership.

Those seniors are: Josh Sutton, Mark Sanchez, Rankin Bullard, Robbie Gonzalez, Nick Perez, Rylan Gardner, Adrian Ausbie, Carson Smith, David Garza, Doug Garcia, Jacob Ludwig, Johnathan Martinez, Olivar Sosa, Osvaldo Lopez and Scotty Bailey.

LEADING THE WOLVES - Senior Rylan Gardner will bring experience to the Wolves this season and is one of 15 seniors returning to provide leadership.

Pigskin Preview set at Wolf Stadium

The annual Labor Day Pigskin pre-view is set for Monday night at 7:30 p.m. at Wolf Stadium.

Football player introductions along with volleyball, cheerleader, and flags will participate.

The Wolves varsity JV and 7th and 8th grade teams will also be introduced.

Bulldogs: Looking for a repeat

The Loraine Bulldogs, fresh off an area finalist performance in the play-offs last season, are primed and expect to repeat and perhaps exceed that success this season.

Coach Kyle Hauk

The Bulldogs steam rolled through district last year, but expect a tougher go this year as Trent and Lueders-Avoca are much improved while Westbrook may also be a contender for a play-off spot.

"Lueders-Avoca is returning a lot of young kids and I expect them to be much improved," Coach Kyle Hauk said.

The Bulldogs have returning players of their own. Pre-season offensive MVP is senior Timothy Garza and defensive MVP is senior linebacker Ricky Cantu. Garza also was named to the second team all-state utility player.

Tristan Mosher, a senior, also received several post season awards last year including first team all-district and first team all-regional.

"Our goals are to repeat again as district champions and advance further in the playoffs then we did last year," Hauk said.

Other seniors expected to contribute to that goal include Este Benivamondez, Carson Edmonds and Rafael Pantoja.

The Bulldogs are in District 7-6MDII with Westbrook, Trent and Lueders-Avoca.

FIGHTING TIL THE END - Defense played an important role in last year's stunning season. Here a handful of Bulldogs work to stop a Highland Hornet from making into the end zone.

RICKY CANTU drags a would-be tackler down the sideline to set up another Loraine touchdown in action against Blackwell last season. The Bulldogs went on to win that game 49-22.

Westbrook hoping to find some wins

The young Wildcats, hungry for a win, start the 2013 season Friday night in Westbrook against Blackwell.

Blackwell appears to be primed for an improved season, returning 16 lettermen, four starters on offense and five starters on defense. Blackwell was a bi-district finalist last year.

Westbrook, still young but much improved over last year, looks to upgrade on their 0-10 season that was tough to endure.

Second year Head Coach Randall Petty expects an improved Wildcat team and hopefully an offense that can score some points.

"I expect us to move the ball much better this year," Petty said. "We're able to mix up our running and passing game and our blocking has gotten much better."

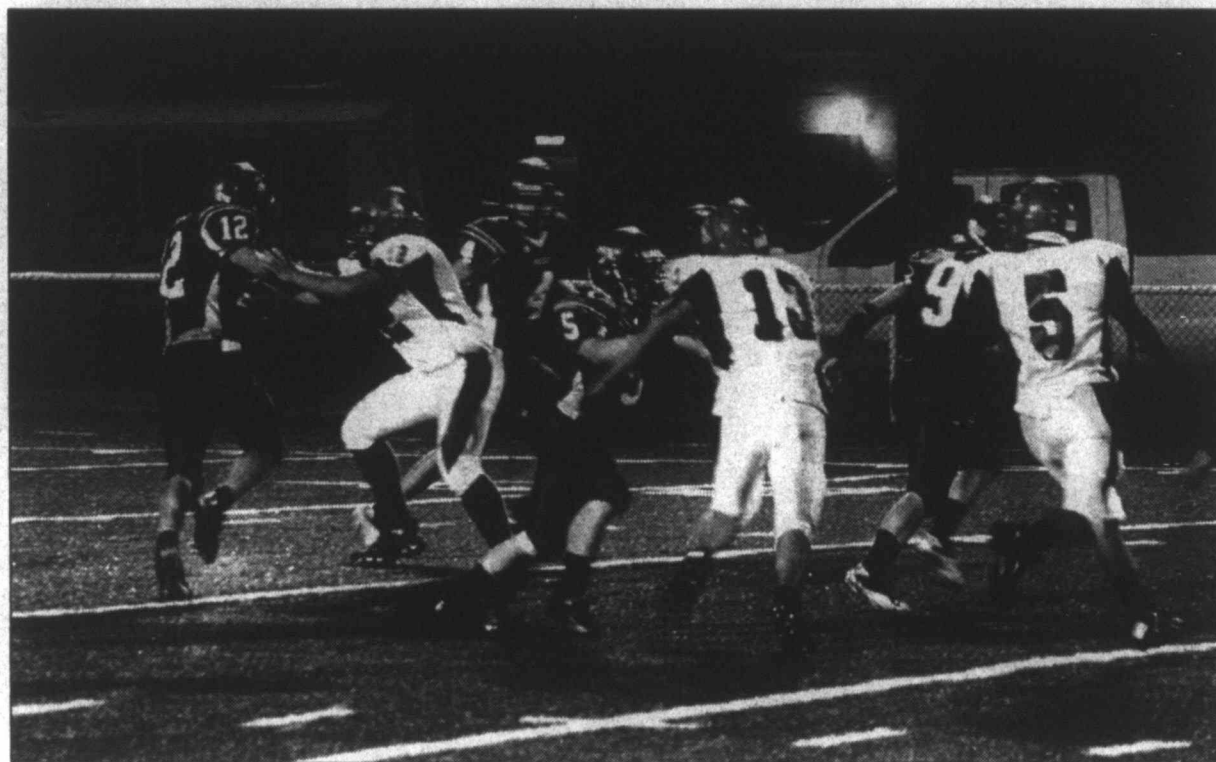

The Wildcats are still young with only two seniors on the squad.

Erin Hale and Cody Runnels will provide the senior leadership with a strong cast of juniors and sophomores. Runnels may miss four to six weeks with an injured MCL that occurred in last week's scrimmage game. His condition will be evaluated in two weeks.

The Wildcats are in District 7-6M DII with Loraine, Trent and Lueders-Avoca.

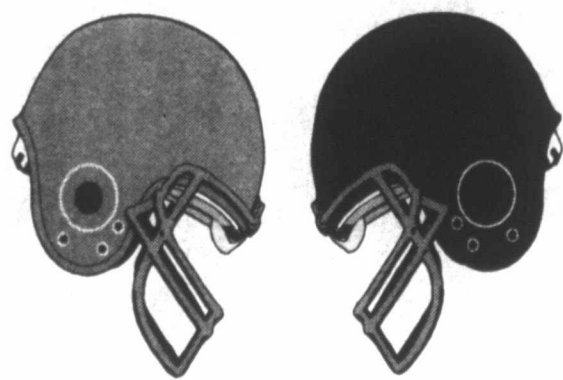

Coach Petty agrees with most predictions that Loraine and Trent are favorites to compete for the district title this season.

If the Wildcat offense can get moving, they could very well contend for a play-off berth themselves.
