Court Nominations Meet With Favorable Reaction

REPORT SAYS

Sept. Food Price Drop Biggest In Four Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — The biggest drop in food prices in four years sharply slowed September's over-all rise of living costs in the first full month of President Nixon's freeze on prices and wages, the government said today.

Grocery prices fell one per cent and the decline in automobile prices also helped to hold down last month's consumer price average, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The government's Consumer Price Index, measuring prices of food, clothing, housing, transportation, medical care and recreation, averaged two-tenths of one per cent higher—about half the average monthly rise so far this year—the bureau said.

The reports included some price hikes from before the freeze, which began Aug. 15, and the exact effect of the freeze on over-all living prices could not be precisely measured, the report said.

The rise brought the price index up to 122.4 in September, meaning it took $12.24 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the base period four years ago.

The bureau also reported that average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers dropped 27 cents to $128.76 because of shorter average work week.

The average pay check was still 5.9 per cent above a year earlier, but after allowance for the 4.2 per cent rise in living costs since then, the gain in purchasing power was about 3 per cent, the bureau said.

The report said that in the third quarter of 1971 ending in September, prices rose at an annual rate of 3.3 per cent, the lowest for any quarter since 1967 except for the first quarter of the year when mortgage interest rates dropped sharply.

Prices of fresh fruits and vegetables, eggs and coffee, dropped sharply while prices rose for processed fruits and vegetables, beef, margarine and salad oils, the bureau said.

The report said that most of the September rise in prices reflected either items that rose in price before the freeze was imposed, or was due to seasonal or other factors under which price hikes are permissible under the freeze.

As an example of prices that went up before the freeze, the bureau said it prices college tuition only once a year, in September, and it was up nearly nine per cent this year.

College tuition is exempt frim the freeze.

Mortgage interest and property taxes, also exempt, went up last month.

The report added that higher prices of imported goods subject to Nixon's special 10 per cent tax surcharge went up and accounted for about one-fourth of the over-all rise in living costs last month.

"Most of this was due to higher prices for imported apparel items and cars," the bureau said.

Price Would Cut UN Contribution By United States

Congressman Bob Price of Pampa has introduced legislation to reduce the contribution of the United States to the United Naions from 37 percent of the total U.N. budget to approximately 7 percent of the organization's budget.

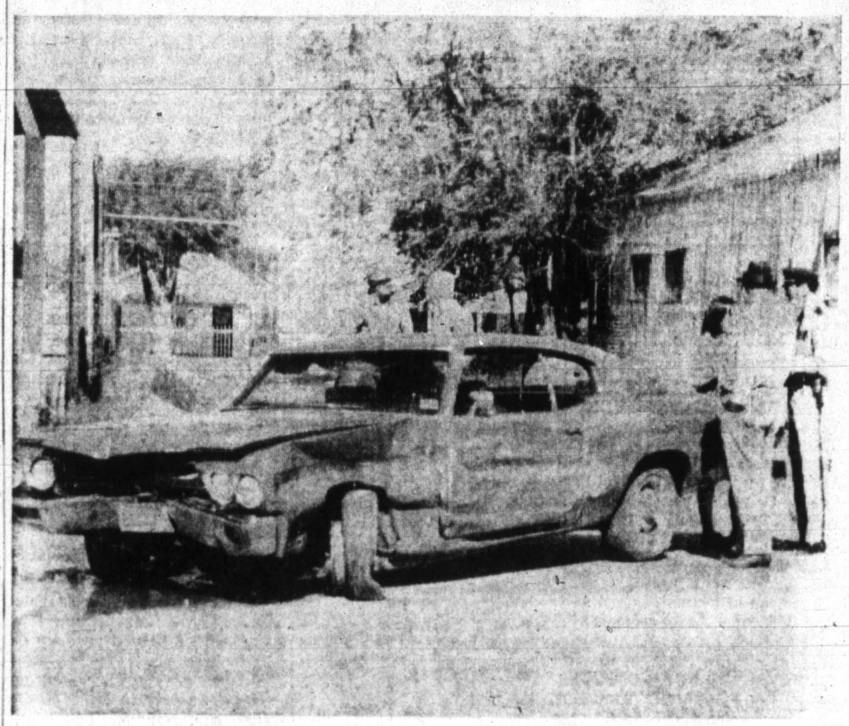

Said Price Today:

"On October 6, I suggested a procedural method whereby this country could prevent the expulsion of Nationalist China from the U.N. I introduced this bill to limit all U.S. contributions to the United Nations in the hope that the community of nations will realize the great depth of our opposition to the expulsion of the Republic of China."

The congressman noted that his bill would limit the U.S. contribution to an amount equivalent to this country's population in proportion to the total population of U.N. members.

"In my opinion, the United Nations has not lived up to its peace-keeping mission," Price said. "Some people say this is due to the lack of willingness on the part of member countries. If we stop giving the U.N. more than one-third of all its money, other members will quickly learn how to shoulder the responsibility or there will no longer be a U.N.

"I know of no other way in which we could more graphically illustrate this nation's opposition to the unjust and unjustifiable act of expelling the Republic of China from the U.N."

ONE OF THREE! — The coupe shown is the initial victim of a mishap at Foster and Purviance Streets shortly afternoon Thursday. The vehicle drivin by Brenda Bush (shown with investigating officer Brian Kieth) was struck at the intersection, caromed onto the sidewalk, back into the street to hit a third vehicle parked. Richard K. Flippo, driver of the other moving vehicle was cited.

2 Persons Injured In 3-Car Accident At Intersection

Two persons were injured in closely spaced accidents on Pampa streets Thursday afternoon. Three cars were involved in a crash at the intersection of Foster and Purviance Streets and a five-year-old girl was struck on North Banks Street.

A car driven by Brenda Bush, 17, 1112 Prairie Drive, was traveling west on Foster when a vehicle driven by Richard Kenneth Flippo, 22, 1035 Duncan, struck it in the side. Flippo, driving a car owned by David Selvog, 105 N. Faulkner, was going north on Purviance Street.

The Bush vehicle was knocked up on the sidewalk by the impact and passed in front of two business houses before going back onto Foster where it struck a parked car belonging to Joseph G. Dickey, 1901 Grape, 105 feet from the point of the initial impact.

Harold Mann, 2116 Coffee, a passenger in the Bush car, was taken to Highland General Hospital for examination and treatment of apparent bruises and cuts.

Investigating officer Brian Kieth cited Flippi for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Shortly after this mishap, Debra Kay Morris, 5, Route 2, darted into the street from between parked cars in the 1400 block of Banks Street and was struck by a car driven by William Claude Pearce, 62, 1805 N Christy.

The child was taken to Highland General Hospital where she was treated for an abrasion near the eye, X-rayed, examined and released. No charges were filed. Officer Kieth investigated this acciden also.

Women's Groups Rap President's Choices

By MICHAEL J. REILLY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was surprised, and backers of a woman justice were upset, but general reaction to President Nixon's Supreme Court nominees was approving.

Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., the man rumored to be the first choice for the court until he pulled his name from contention, praised the nominations.

"The President has made two excellent hoices," he said. "Lewis Powell is a skillful, distinguished Virginia lawyer of national and international stature. By every measure, personal and professional, he will be an adornment to the high court.

"William Rehnquist is an erudite scholar of the law, an experienced practitioner . . . and a talented legal craftsman. Their confirmation will enrich both the court and the country."

Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, a member of the Judiciary Committee, urged prompt hearings on the nominees. He said Nixon's choices "appear to be qualified."

There was criticism, however, from the women's organizations, which had strongly pressed for a female nominee.

By selecting two men, Nixon had "shown a great injustice to American women," said the National Policy Council of the National Womens' Political Caucus. "We resent the President's implied decision that there are no women who qualify."

Rep. Bella Abzug, D-N.Y., said:

"It is shocking at this point in history, when women's rights is high on the agenda of unfinished business facing this nation, that President Nixon should fail to appoint a woman to the Supreme Court.

"I believe he will answer for it in 1972," she added.

In legal circles, first responses were approving, despite the fact neither man had been cleared with the American Bar Association, a procedure previously agreed to by the administration.

Joseph L. Rauh, counsel for the Leadership Conferehce on Civil Rights, looked to another angle in response to the President's announcement—those left out.

Herschel H. Friday, an Arkansas bond lawyer, and California Judge Mildred L. Lillie had been in the forefroht of possible nominees throughout the week. But they ran into criticism from civil-rights groups and, finally, from the ABA's judiciary committee, which was looking over a list of six possible nominees.

Said Rauh: "The defeat of Herschel Friday and Judge Lillie is a real victory for civil rights and the court. The sad thing is that today we look at Supreme Court appointments in comparison to what almost happened rather than in relation to the big shoes of (Hugo L.) Black and (John M.) Harlan being filled."

JULY-SEPTEMBER

U.S. Economy Slow With Output Rising

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy slowed in the July-September quarter, with output rising at a 3 per cent annual rate, the Commerce Department said today.

Gross National Product, market value of the nation's production of goods and services, increased by $16 billion during the third quarter, but only half of the estimated 6 per cent growth was in terms of noninflated dollars.

But while the economy's growth rate slowed, the rate of inflation as measured by GNP also slackened, dropping to 3.3 per ent, the lowest this year.

In the second quarter, inflation rose at a 4 per cent rate of increase and the economy grew by 4.75 per cent in terms of noninflated dollars.

The department blamed the economic slowdown on what it called the "Correction of steel inventories."

This meant that steel inventories, which ballooned in the early part of the year as a hedge against a possible strike, declined sharply in the third quarter as steel companies got rid of their surplus inventories.

The department said third-quarter GNP reached a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $1.059 billion, according to the preliminary figures announced. Final GNP figures will be compiled next month.

Sales increased by $20 billion in the third quarter, but this was offset by the $4 billion drop in steel inventories.

The new report gave the Nixon administration, which is seeking to spur economic growth to cut into unemployment, little to brag about. However, Nixon has predicted the economy will show a strong upsurge in the last four months of the year.

The Commerce Department said consumer spending increased $11.25 billion in the third quarter and outlays for services climbed $5.25 billion. Automobile pirchases were up by $3 billion, possibly because of Nixon's proposal to repeal rate of Americans, which has

Major Oil Firms In Southwest Roll Back Gas Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major oil companies in the Southwest have rolled back all increases in propane gas prices under the scrutiny of the government, it has been learned.

The Cost of Living Council was expected to announce today that it secured the roll back in prices amounting to nearly 6100 million on an annual basis.

Also scheduled today are two fresh readings on the state of the economy—the release of the consumer price index and the third quarter gross national product figure.

The council had said it was investigating price boosts by eight oil companies. On Thursday, it was announced that two Texas firms, Sid Richardson Gasoline Co., Fort Worth, and Diamond Shamrock Corp., Amarillo, had agreed to rescind price increases.

Earlier in the week, Wanda Petroleum Co. of Houston announced its roll back.

Following the Thursday announcement the council said it was continuing its probe of "several other oil companies believed to be selling propane gas at prices in violation of the freeze."

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department said personal income took a $3.2 billion jump in September, largely on the strength of increases in farm income and railroad retirement pensions.

Profiles Of Nominees For High Court Seats

By DAVE RILEY
Associated Press Writer

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Lewis Franklin Powell Jr., a tall graying man trying to keep up with ringing telephones and doorbells, says his only regret about being nominated to the Supreme Court is that he will have to end his role as an active lawyer if he is confirmed by the Senate.

"I essentially regard myself as a lawyer," he said Thursday night shortly after President Nixon nominated him for one of two vacancies on the high court. "We have to have lawyers to make the system work."

Powell, 64, a former American Bar Association president, greeted newsmen at his door with, "Welcome to our home." He sat in a high-backed easy chair in the living room of his five-bedroom home overlooking the James River and indicated no concern for the examination he is likely to receive as a nominee for the high court.

He puts his trust in the constitutional system he said he "deeply believes in."

The Richmond lawyer, cited by fellow virginians as a fair-minded realist on racial matters, shrugged off the suggestion he might be in for more than average scrutiny by the Senate because he is a Southerner.

"I think the Senate is a very fair-minded body and will consider the nominations on the merits of the individuals," he said.

His booming law practice—his firm employes 60 lawyers—has concentrated recent years on corporate law and antitrust problems. He did aid the state attorney general earlier this year, however, in filing a brief before the Supreme Court in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg, N.C. school case. That case led to the high court ruling that upheld busing as a desegregation tool.

Powell is described by fellow lawyers as a quiet scholarly man—a lawyer's lawyer. But as he alternately answered questions and stepped over Piper, the family terrier, to answer the telephone in the adjacent library, he exchanged lighthearted banter with his wife Josephine.

Mrs. Powell relayed messages from the telephone and Powell, after listening to a story of one unknown caller who just wanted to talk to a Supreme Court nominee, questioned the advisability of letting others answer the telephone.

"I don't want to be inaccessible to my fellow citizens," he told Mrs. Powell.

Powell shuns labels such as "strict constructionist," choosing instead to "consider myself as a lawyer who believes in the judicial system."

He has served in various advisory capacities to Virginia governors and was on the presidential commission appointed by Nixon that became known as the Blue Ribbon Panel on Defense.

Powell has met Nixon "perhaps twice"—once at an American Bar Association meeting and once at the White House, but "not in connection with the nominatiin."

Powell watched the President's address on television and said he agreed with Nixon's

IN MEMPHIS

7 Whites Burned As Violence Continues

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Seven white persons were burned early today when three homemade firebombs were tossed into a tavern as racial violence continued in Memphis, police said.

Police said the bombs exploded in the Red Lantern Lounge hours after a 3-year-old Negro boy had been struck and killed by a police cruiser enroute to another firebombing.

It was the third successive night of violence, disorder and vandalism which followed the death a week ago of a black teen-ager who had been arrested after a police chase. The district attorney has ruled his death a homicide.

Officials said five of the seven remained hospitalized.

Police inspector John Barger said he was uncertain whether the firebombing of the tavern was related to the death of Robert Reed Jr., 3.

Barger said some witnesses told police the persons who threw the bombs were white. But other witnesses said they were black, police said.

Barger said the Reed boy was killed when a police car answering an emergency call turned a corner and the child darted into its path.

The boy's aunt, Mrs. Mary Washington, said she had just picked him up at the home of relatives to return him to his parents.

"My sister was taking him out to the car when he broke away and dashed into the street," Mrs. Washington said. "He didn't see the car until just before it hit him."

Barger also said a police cruiser was fired upon in predominantly black South Memphis at about the same time the firebombs were thrown ihto the tavern.

Police said that before these incidents occurred shortly after midnight, acts of violence appeared to be on the wane.

The disorders began Tuesday night during the funeral of Elton Hayes, 17, who died last Friday after the pickup truck which he was riding with two other black youths crashed at roadblock.

Police at first said he died from injuries suffered in the crash. But Dist. Atty. Phil Canale said Tuesday an autopsy showed Hayes died from "two primary blows to the head."

Police Chief Henry Lux suspended 23 officers connected with the case pending an investigation.

COUPLE TESTIFIES

U.S. Pro-Maoist Organization Has Close Ties With Red China

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two ex-missionaries say they once worked with the FBI to infiltrate a pro-Maoist organization they described as highly disciplined, well armed and dedicated to the overthrow of the U.S. government.

They said the organization, the Revolutionary Union, has "close ties with Red China."

"We were considered great converts," Lawrence L. Goff of Lemoore, Calif., told the House Internal Security Committee Thursday.

Goff, 30, and his 28-year-old wife, Betty Sue, said leaders of the organization demanded "extremely strict discipline—our time, our house and our family were not our own.

"Our children were considered property of RU, the RU took care of them, and I'd find strangers with the children," Mrs. Goff testified. "They tried to indoctrinate children. I didn't agree but I put up with it."

There also was heavy emphasis on firearms training, she said.

Goff said the prime goal of the organization was "to build a base in the working class and the military."

He said members of the group "are dedicated, willing to sacrifice their life if need be in violently overthrowing the government."

Their most painful personal experience, Goff said, came when they were pressured "to curse the Bible and blaspheme God."

Goff, now a gunsmith, said he and his wife spent several years in Mexico and Central America as Christian missionaries among primitive tribes.

He said he became associated with the Revolutionary Union in the fall of 1969, ant his wife said she joined in July 1970.

They dropped out in late March and early April this year, he said, "after we were found out."

Goff said his San Jose chapter had about 50 members, that backers claimed to have 400 followers in the San Franrisco Bay area, and that he heard one leader claim the group had spread nationwide with collectives in New York, Detroit and Chicago.

Sources close to the committee said the Goffs' testimony was setting the stage for witnesses who will tell next week about "substantial Revolutionary Union involvement in activities intended to radicalize" GIs stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif.

Prospect For Cotton Exports Dimmer Than Expected: USDA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department officials say the outlook for cotton exports has dimmed from earlier expectations and the forecast is the chief reason for not altering the government's acreage-payment program for 1972.

Still, if the overseas market picks up and disputes with dock workers do not drag on, the department would give further consideration to beefing up the 1972 cotton program to encourage more production, sources said.

But the official line right now is for the 1972 program to remain the same, including price support rates, allotments and set-aside requirements at this year's level.

Assistant Agriculture Secretary Clarence D. Palmby told newsmen Wednesday that higher prices on the world market have helped spur additional production in a number of foreign countries.

Considering that, and the difficulties with export movement because of dock strikes, the outlook for U.S. cotton sales abroad during the current marketing year ending next July 31 has dampened considerably.

The latest appraisal of the cotton situation, issued by the Economic Research Service after Palmby's comments, said exports this year could drop 20 per cent from 1970-71 shipments of 3.75 million bales, or to three million or less.

In all, the service report said, cotton use—including U.S. mill demand and exports—may run about 11 million bales, compared with 11.75 million last year, indicating all the decline is expected in export trade.

Production in 1971 was estimated at 10.7 million bales as of Oct. 1. An updated forecast will be issued by USDA on Nov. 8.

Considerable pressure was brought by producer groups and the cotton industry for an expanded program for 1972, including proposals for a boost in price support loans, a larger national allotment or "paying base," upon which direct payments hinge, and a reduced set-aside requirement from the 20 per cent cropland now required to be idled.

The department agrees with the trade that more production is essential to help rebuild cotton reserves, down to 4.25 million bales last Aug. 1, a drop of 1.5 million from a year earlier, and the smallest carryover in two decades.

But USDA officials think farmers will expand acreages next year, even with the program held to 1971 levels.

Smith Says He Wants To Run For Third Term

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith said Thursday he wants to run for another term "and probably will."

Smith made the remark to a newsman during a visit here to deliver a speech. He did not elaborate.

Smith also said he should be applauded as a hero for vetoing two banking bills that figures in the Texas stock scandal.

Earlier this week in Dallas, Smith told newsmen: "I might remind you that the bills were signed by the lieutenant governor, Ben Barnes."

"He's been pretty well left out of this—but he signed the bills and I vetoed them."

Barnes, an announced candidate for governor, also visited here Thursday and had this reply when asked about Smith's remarks:

"I think he is forgetting that the people know that no bill can be considered in a special legislative session unless he (the governor) submitted it."

The two bills were passed at a special session of the legislature in 1969. Barnes, as lieutenant governor, automatically signs all legislation approved in the Senate, over where he presides.

Smith and Barnes were here Thursday to adress a conference of the County Judges and County Commissioners Association of Texas.

U.S. Congress To Decide Fate Of Water Plan

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas Water Development Board's agency planning director says the fate of the controversial Texas water plan now is in the hands of Congress.

"We have no intention in the near future of promoting a $3.5 billion bond issue, although the legislature could change our minds," Lewis B. Seward said.

He said Harris County was responsible for the defeat of the 1969 73.5 billion bond issue which would have helped pay for transportation of water from Louisiana to the Panhandle of New Mexico.

Seward said the agency's concern now is seeing that the water is there when a person or an industry turns on the tap.

He said the Mississippi diversion of the water plan is being considered by the U.S Engineers and several state-federal studies on intra-water resources also are being made.

President Nixon May Have Played 'Trick-Or-Treat' Game On Bar Assn.

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, a man of many surprises, may have played a "trick-or-treat" game on the American Bar Association in choosing two nominees for Supreme Court vacancies.

In this month of Halloween, Nixon nine days ago submitted to the ABA Judiciary Committee names of six potential nominees. The list did not include his ultimate selections, William H. Rehnquist of Wisconsin and Lewis F. Powell Jr. of Virginia.

After Nixon made his picks known in a television-radio address Thursday night, a knowledgeable White House source said the President had Rehnquist and Powell in mind before submitting any names to the premiere trade association of the organized bar.

Asked why Nixon's ultimate selections were omitted, the source suggested there was little point in submitting a full roster of possible nominees since the initial list of six was reported publicly, by his reckoning, an hour ir two after submission to the ABA.

On Wednesday, the ABA committee voted to withhold approval from two of the six on the Nixon list—the two the panel apparently deemed most likely to be nominated. Those decisions quickly became public knowledge.

Within minutes after Nixon spoke Thursday night, the White House released a statement by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell terminating the administration's agreement to consult with the bar group on Supreme Court nominations. In explaining the action, Mitchell likened the ABA committee to a sieve.

The turn of events suggest either that the ABA committee trapped itself or that Nixon and Mitchell trapped the ABA in order to find an escape hatch from an unprecedented consultative collaboration.

In either event, the scenario was appropriate for the trick-or-trick season.

The truth presumably will become evident in time. For the moment, it is sufficient to say that Nixon reserved his options and initiative—the element of surprise—until he appeared before TV cameras and radio microphones in his Oval Office.

The ABA did not stand alone as the source of pre-announcement speculation about Nixon's choices.

Senate sources said Wednesday that Nixon very shortly would nominate two of the six on the list given the ABA. They were identified as Mildred Lillie of Los Angeles and Herschel Friday of Little Rock.

U.S. Won't Change Military Aid Plan For Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cambodian abandonment of the "sterile game of an outmoded liberal democracy" is not going to change the U.S. policy of providing military and economic aid to the government of Premier Lon Nol, according to the State Department.

It is not so much the form of government, department spokesman Charles W. Bray indicated, that determines the American involvement in Cambodia, bit the U.S. determination to maintain an independent and neutral nation.

Mrs. Powell admitted more visitors, well-wishers this time, and Powell took another telephone call, agreeing to see a film crew that would not reach his well-hidden house until midnight.

In addition to all the people trying to see him, he confessed, there was work on his desk brought home from the office.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A lawyer who left his practice in Phoenix, Ariz., to follow his law-and-order conservatism to the Nixon administration's Justice Department stands today a Senate vote away from the U.S. Supreme Court.

The President who nominated him Thursday night thinks William H. Rehnquist is "fantastic."

Rehnquist, an assistant attorney general, wasn't saying what he thought of the nomination. "You can't be shot for what you didn't say," he told questioners, declining further comment until after the Senate has acted.

In Rehnquist, the President found a nominee about whose legal stance there could be little doubt. He has been interpreting law for the administration since 1969 as chief of the Department's Office of Legal Counsel.

Nixon nominated Lewis Powell Jr., a Richmond, Va., lawyer, to fill a second vacancy on the high bench.

Rehnquist is neither a stranger to the private halls of the court, nor an unqualified admirer of its product.

He served as clerk to Justice Robert Jackson, 1952-53, and once declared the court lacked common sense.

At Justice, he is considered a protege of Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard D. Kleindienst, one of the toughest law-and-order men in the administration, and has been instrumental in developing the administration's position on wiretaps.

He has said, for example, that a president has the unfettered right to employ electronic surveillance against political extremists even without court approval.

Rehhquist has criticized some court decisions on the rights of defendants, which he contends give a criminal an edge in escaping punishment.

Watson Accepts Death Sentence For Tate Killings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles "Tex" Watson, a smalltown high school star athlete who became enmeshed in a love-murder cult, accepted calmly a sentence of death for the seven Tate-La Bianca slayings.

Watson, 25, showed no emotion Thursday when a jury of six men and six women returned the verdict after deliberating 4½ hours.

Under California law, a person sentenced to death is granted an automatic appeal to the state Supreme Court.

Watson is the fourth follower of Charles Manson, 36, to be sentenced to die in the gas chamber for the 1969 murders of pregnant actress Sharon Tate and six others. Manson and three women followers, tried together—also were convicted and sentenced to death for the crimes.

Defense attorneys had depicted Watson as a mindless robot controlled by Manson and drugs at the slaying scene.

Watson had said, "I was doing what Charlie told me to do," in admitting that stabbed and shot victims on Aug. 9 and 10, 1969.

Member Of Charles Manson's Family Found By Police

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A member of Charles Manson's so called family was to be arraigned toay on charges of felony escape in a courtroom of the Hall of Justice, from which he fled early Wednesday.

Kenneth D. "Curly" Como, 31, was charged by the district attorney's office Thursday in a criminal complaint.

Also to be arraigned was Sandra Good Pugh, 27, charged with aiding and abetting Como's escape.

Authorities said Como's flight from a 13th floor cell was his sixth escape in a criminal career dating back to 1954. He was recaptured in a shed in West Hollywood after being on the loose for seven hours Wednesday.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Confucius said: "Give a hungry man a fish and you feed him for a day. Teach him how to fish and you feed him fo 100 years." This column gives the background facts so you can solve your iwn problems in the future. It explains the reasons why!

CASE R-595: Dr. E. Duane Hulse is a very successful pastor of a big church at Madison, Wisconsin.

At the Spring meeting of the Board of Directors of our Scientific Marriage Foundation, he said:

"Dr. Crane, the Farmers Insurance Exchange of Wisconsin recently made a very sensible innovation in insurance rates. For it offers a special 10 per cent discount on auto insurance to non-smokers! In fact, it had earlier pioneered lower life insurance rates, too, for those who do not smoke. Isn't this a sensib'e way to reward the non-smokers?"

HORSE SENSE

Yes; for the typical one pack-per-day cigarette smoker shortens his life by from 5 to 7 years.

So you non-smokers have had to help pay the insurance claims for those who dies prematurely, due to their tobacco habit.

"But, Dr. Crane," you may inquire, "how does smoking cause more auto accidents?

We can see how tobacco would shorten the smoker's lifespan. But why should it jeopardize his driving skill at the wheel of a car?"

Well, memorize these reasons:

(1) Many smokers die of sudden coronary attacks or strokes of apoplexy while they are actually at the wheel.

You have thus heard frequent reports that the driver lost control of his car!

At the autopsy table, however, we medics often find that he was dead before his car ran off the road or into a tree.

So the auto crash was a RESULT instead of a CAUSE of his death!

(2) Your vision is automatically impaired while you are smoking, for you inhale a lot of carbon monoxide.

Even a 3 per cent carbon monoxide content reduces perception.

But in regular smokers, the content may run as high as 16 per cent carbon monoxide in the blood!

Even the wreaths of smoke in front of his eyes and the two streams that may snort out of his nostrils, also add an external impairment of his vision.

And smokers often let go of the wheel to fish for a cigarette or then light a match.

Youthful smokers may also drive with one arm around their girl friend and momentarily release the other hand from the wheel while removing the cigarette from their lips.

Our A.M.A. back in 1959, had warned that after smoking only 3 cigarettes, the oxygen deficiency in the smoker's blood was the equivalent of suddenly being at a 7,500 foot altitude.

Which is an obvious reason, even to you laymen, why heart attacks are so common.

For when a person's heart is barely getting enough oxygen to function moderately well, if he were suddenly deposited on top of Pike's Peak, where oxygen is "thin" in the air, then that heart patient might be unable to survive.

It is thus a belated evidence of "horse sense" for insurance companies to reward the non-smokers with lower insurance rates.

Same is also desirable for the non-drinkers, for they contribute at least 50 per cent to auto fatalities!

So send for my booklet "How to Break the Tobacco and Liquor Habits," enclosing a long stamped return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pampa Daily News, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Miss WTSU To Be Selected Tonight

CANYON — The second Miss WTSU will be selected tonight from a field of 24 coeds as a highlight of West Texas State University's Homecoming activities.

The winner will be crowned by Molly Malone, the first Miss WTSU and a semifinalist in this year's Miss Texas contest.

The Miss WTSU Pageant, which drew a near capacity crowd in its inaugural last year, starts at 8:30 p.m. in the Activities Center ballroom and is open to the public. Tickets are $1 with a WTSU identiffcation card and $1.50 without.

The pageant will open with the 10 semifinalists chosen during prelim nary judging last Saturday being announced.

Dean Kelley of television station KFDA, Amarillo will be the master of ceremonies.

Judges are Barry Hall, president of the Miss Texas Pageant; George Petrek, executive director of the Miss Texas Pageant; Mrs. June Burton, a Miss Texas chaperone; Mrs. Leslyn Pitts, past director of Miss Wheatheart of the Nation contests; and Neil Hess, director of the Neil Hess School of Dance.

Miss WTSU will receive a $400 wardrobe from Blackburn's in Amarillo, a $250 scholarship and a trophy. She will be sent to the Miss Texas contest next year and will represent the university at all official functions.

Competing for Miss WTSU are Linda Adams, 19, Amarillo; Jan Brookshire, 20, Tahoka; Carolyn Brown, 21, Bovina; Patte Camp, 20, Muleshoe; Harletta Capps, 21, Vernon; Laura Childers, 19, Slaton; Beverly Chisholm, 20, Littlefield; Betty Davis, 19, Andrews; Jackie Ermey, 19, Pampa; Deborah Eubank, 20, Post; Susan Fangio, 19, Amarillo; Lynda Gomez, 19, Hobbs, N.M.; Judy Gossett, 20, Tahoka; Mary King, 18, Canyon; Carol Mathis, 21, Amarillo; Joy McCathern, 19, Hereford; Peggy Patterson, 21, Borger; Beverly Proffitt, 19, Amarillo; Carolyn Roney, 18, El Paso; Rebecca Short, 21, Midland; Jane VanDever, 20, Sweetwater; Jeri Vaughn, 20, Pampa; and Judith Yarbro, 19, Herefird.

CHICAGO (AP) — President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew both will appear a ta Republican fund-raising dinner in Chicago Nov. 9, the sponsors announced Wednesday.

The $500-a-plate dinner will be the one from which the President will address via closed circuit TV similar fund-raising events in 20 other cities.

The Chicago dinner also will feature comedian Bob Hope.

Russia Launches Campaign Against Venereal Disease

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has launched a major propaganda campaign against veneral disease and stiffened penalties for those who knowingly infect others.

President Nikolai Podgorny on Oct. 1 signed a decree providing for up to three years imprisonment for anyone knowingly passing on syphilis or gosorrhea. One year in prison was prescribed for persons "who do not get treatment after being ordered to do so by the health authorities." And a person previously convicted of transmitting VD who repeats the offense can get five years in prison; previously the maximum was three years.

Today the weekly magazine Zdorovye—Health—published a long article on the problem, titling it "Veneral Disease—Retributtion for Thoughtlessness and Licentiousnes." It gave no figures on the number of cases but made clear that the rate is rising and the government is concerned.

The author, N. V. Nikitin, head of the Ministry of Health's department for disease prevention, began with the statement:

"In capitalist countries, venereal disease is increasing because of unemployment, prostitution, the cult of sex and the absence of a state system to fight it."

But, he added, there are "no social reasons" for the presence of venereal disease in this country.

Then Nikitin listed the reasons, presumably nonsocial, for the presence of VD in Russia, and high extramarital relations and alcoholism.

"The fight against alcholism is the fight against venereal disease," he declared.

Marked for stern criticsm were Russians who get together for as evening, have a few too many and then "lose their moral brakes and easily enter into casual sexual ties."

TV And Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The AEC television network is enjoying its most popular season in years, but Wednesday night is full of headaches.

The schedule consists of four half-hour programs, mostly situation comedies, and an hour drama. All are suffering from acute low ratings.

"Bewitched," which opens the prime time broadcasts, is beginning to look threadbare after eight years. It is the same old combination of magic tricks and wrangling between the witches and the mortal husband.

The two half-hours that follow are warm, sentimental and family oriented. "The Courtship of Eddie's Father" continues to chart the difficulties of a widower affectionately trying to raise a boy. Eddie—played by the very appealing Brandon Cruz—this week was learning about responsibility in connection with a stolen bicycle. As usual, Eddie's father—Bill Bixby—also learned a lesson.

"The Smith Family" headed by Henry Fonda as family man and police officer, was also being taught a lesson. Sgt. Smith switched duty with a fellow officer to visit his son's school. The other officer was killed in a shootout, with the sult that all the Smiths felt so guilty that they smothered the slain officer's family with attention.

Neither show, while ifficially comedy, is very funny—heart warming is probably the better word to describe them.

Then, alas, along comes "Shirley's World," which is still on the wrohg foot. Shirley Ma Laine, playing a most unlikely magazine reporter, this week was fighting an oil tycoon planning to ruin some English countryside by building a refinery. One could not quarrel with the theme, but the execution was pretty bad.

The series, only about six weeks old, is considered to be a most likely candidate for mid-season replacement. It is believed to be one reason that the show that follows, "The Man and the City," is also faltering.

Anthony Quinh, playing the emotional, warm Chicano mayor of a Southwestern city in the hour drama, is almost overwhelming in his role.

This week's episode, with the mayor working his way out of a building scandal that started when an overpass collapsed, was attention holding and close enough to the headlines to seem real up to the pat happy ending. The series deserves a more visible spot in the schedule.

NICE, France (AP) — Andre Malraux, writer-soldier and former French minister of culture, proposed today that he be made an honorary citizen of India so he could argue the case for East Bengal before the United Nations.

First, he said, he would actively fight for East Bengal, and that would give him the right to talk about it. However, "right now the mood seems to be for negotiation," he said.

Malraux, who will be 70 Nov. 3, volunteered last month to serve aboard a tank fighting for East Bengal. An answer to the offer is expected early next month. He made today's comments to newsmen after coming ashore from a 13-day Mediterranean cruise.

OLD TIMES — Mortimer: "He dropped dead right in that chair! How awful for you;" Martha: "Oh no, dear. Why it was rather like old times. Your grandfather always used to have a cadaver or two around the house." This classic dialogue will be repeated in the Pampa High School drama department production of "Arsenic and Old Lace" Saturday and Monday. Only the cast pictured is different. Shown above are 1951 cast members, left to right, Reggie Mayo as Mortimer; Mrs. Calvin Lacy (Rochelle Smith) as Martha; and Sally Cobb Grauer as Abby. Mrs. Lacy is the 1971 director.

Frenchman Chooses Texas Cave For His 'Journey Beyond Time'

By PAUL RECER
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) —Late nxt month, Michel Siffre will descend 200 feet into the dark winding chambers of a Texas limestone avern where he plans to spend six months alone searchihg for an elusive 48-hour day in what he calls a journey "beyond time."

The 32-year-old Frenchman is an experimenter in the mind's concept of the passing hours. by cutting himself off from the outside world he hopes to trick his body into adopting a wake-sleep cycle based on 48 hours instead of 24.

Siffre has chosen Midhight Cave near Del Rio, Tex. for his experiment. He expects to be cloistered underground alone for up to 200 days and emerge sometime next June. He plans to elebrate one birthday and one Christmas while cut off from the world beneath the rugged, mesquite-covered Texas ranch country.

"The main purpose of the experimeht is to understand the 48-hour function in man," said the short, dark-haired Parisian.

In a news conference here after a six-hour flight from Paris, Siffre said that in other experiments subjects alone in the isolation of French caves have slowly changed their daily cy les until they are working 36 hours straight and sleeping 12 hours. This comes about naturally, he said, but no one knows why.

"We must find the mechanism of the 48-hour rythmn," he said "If we do, we may develop new data on sleep and how it is possible to create good sleep which gives good restorative powers."

Understanding of the natural 48-hour cycle, he said, would also have applications in long-term spaceflight and ih the effects on passengers of rapidly crossing ti)me zones in airplanes

Siffre actually began his experiment a month ago in Paris. For 30 days he carefully recorded his brainwaves and core body temperature.

Then on Wednesday, he flew directly to Houston, crossing six time zones. It was late afternoon in Houston, but, he said, "to me it's 11 p.m."

He was to fly on to San Antonio and then drive to Del Rio. There, he will study his body's ability to adjust to the new time zone.

On about Nov. 20, the Frenchman will begin his solitary confinement in midnight cave.

A science laboratory has already been established at the mouth of the cave. While Siffre is underground the laboratory will be manned around the clock. Technicians will be able to monitor Siffre's temperature, brain waves and heartbeats

The caveman will be able to call into the laboratory, but only scientific reports will be discussed

BOBBY CRAWFORD

Airman Bobby E Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crawford of 1122 S. Christy, has graduated at Lowry AFB, Colo., from the U.S. Air Force supply inventory specialist course.

The airman, trained to inventory supplies by use of electronic data processing machines, is being assigned to Kelly AFB, Tex., for duty with a unit of the Air Force Security Service.

Airman Crawford, a 1969 graduate of Pampa High School, attended West Texas State University. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

1951 Cast Of 'Arsenic And Old Lace' Preparing To Observe Anniversary

In connection with the 1971 production of "Arsenic and Old Lace," to be presented at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and Monday in the Pampa High School auditorium, by the drama department, a search is being made for members of the 1951 cast.

The effort is being made to observe a 20th anniversary of the cast, according to Mrs. Calvin Lacy, director.

1951 cast emebers known to be presently living in Pampa include Walter Colwell, Mrs. W.K. Mackey, (Carol McCune), Don Nelson, Ronnie Saulsbury, Mrs. J.W. Steede (Ann Outhier), and Mrs. Calvin Lacy (Rochelle Smith).

Those Mrs. Lacy has been unable to locate include Dorothy Bruns, Bud Reynolds and Billie Withrow.

Other members of the 1951 cast and crew included John Allford, Dr. Marvin Baer, Bobby Becker, Jerry Bray, Mrs. Kenneth Breeding (Doris King), Mrs. Stanley E. Brown (Gail Finkelstein), Buddy Epperson, Mrs. Carol McClelland Gallemore, Sally Grauer, Mrs. Preston Grissom (Gloria Coombes), Billie Hutchings, Joe Key, Marlene Leder, Reggie Mayo, Mrs. Wayne McMurtry (Ann Jordan), Oville Schiffman, Dick Standefer, Mrs. John Thompson, Dr. Herman Van Sickle, Msr. Bill West and Johnny Wills.

A drama classic, "Arsenic and Old Lace," is the story of two eccentric sisters, Abby and Martha Brewster, whose hobby is poisoning lonely old men.

Texas Businessmen To Meet In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Some 500 Texas businessmen are expected here this week for the annual Conference of Texas Industry, sponsored by the gtexas Manufacturers Association.

Speakers for the Wednesday through Friday conference include Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. He will speak to a Thursday night banquet.

Edward Mosher of Houston, Texas Manufacturers Association chairman, said the conference is an "opportunity to help create a favorable public image for business and industry."

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Judge Leonard Gang is looking for a place to hold court Wednesday—the present courtroom is needed by the Ladies Aid Society.

Gang convened a session of the Clark County District Court Monday at the First Methodist church when he found there was no available room at either the county courthouse or federal building. The problem has come up frequently, with nine judges and six courtrooms

The church came to the rescue Monday, offering space for a minimal fee. But it said the room is available "anytime except Wednesdays," when the church's Ladies Aid Society gathers.

The county is building more courtrooms at the courthouse.

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — Officials at the provincial fish hatchery became suspicious of a boy who stood for a long time watching trout from a walkway over a display pond. They found he had run a line down had caught a fist on it.

Willy Brandt Is First German To Win Nobel Prize In 44 Years

BONN, Germany (AP) — It was an emodional moment in the Bundestag when Willy Brandt acknowledged his designation as the first German politician in 44 years to win the Nobel Peace Prize.

He was born Herbert Frahm on Dec. 18, 1913, in the Baltic seaport of Luebeck, the illegitimate son of a salesgirl. He never knew his father.

At 17, Brandt joined the Socialist party. When it splintered in 1931 in the face of the growing Nazi threat, Brandt joined the militant section called the Socialist Workers party.

The Nazis seized power in 1933, banning all such parties. Adolf Hitler stripped Brandt of his German citizenship. Adopting around that time the name Willy Brandt, he fought the Nazis in Luebeck's streets. Then he fled to Scandinavia for the war years. Given Norwegian citizenship, he returned to Germany as a correspondent at war crimes trials. His German citizenship was restored in 1948.

Brandt made his first political mark as mayor of West Berlin in 1957. Twice he was defeated for chancellor of West Germany, by Konrad Adenauer and Ludwig Erhard. Then, when Erhard's coalition collapsed in 1966 he reconstituted his government by calling in the Social Democrats. Brandt became vice chancellor and foreign minister.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our only child is 14. I was 38, and my husband was 52 when he was born. He has always been a joy to us.

We've never had any trouble with him until this summer, when he became enamored of a 13-year-old girl. The girl's mother is a twice-divorced lady bartender who leaves her 13-year-old to babysit for her four younger children.

We allow our son to stay out until 10 p.m., and he always abides by our wishes, but we know he goes to see this girl every evening and I am worried about what may happen.

I feel it is a very unhealthy situation. Dynamite, in fact. I even telephoned the girl's mother and told her I didn't want my son over there. She said, "So, keep him home."

My husband feels the boy will outgrow this fascination. I think he should have a talk with the boy and positively forbid him to see that girl.

What do you think?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Forbidding him to see the girl is not the answer. To a 14-year-old boy, having a "girl friend" is exciting, and if you "forbid" him to see her, he'll become resentful, and he'll probably see her anyway. His father should have a talk with him to be sure he knows everything a boy should know when he first becomes "enamored" of a girl.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and have been a Baptist all my life until about two years ago when I started studying with Jehovah's Witnesses. Six months later, I decided that this should be my religion, and ever since then I have been persecuted by my family. They think I am "confused" and they insist that I should quit going to the Jehovah's Witness church and go back to the Baptist church.

Do you think it is fair if my parents try to keep me from going to the church my choice?

CAGED

DEAR CAGED: I think everyone should be allowed to serve God in his own way.

DEAR ABBY: Hiw would you suggest I handle a sister-in-law who offers unsolicited advice on my marriage, how I run my home, and how I handle my finances?

She makes my personal business her concern. I would rather keep my affairs private. If she were not my dear husbands sister, I wouldn't worry about diplomacy., Any suggestions?

BOILING

DEAR BOILING: You need not hold still for any unsoilcited advice unless you want it. When she proceeds to offer it, simply tell her that you appreciate her interest and concern, but prefer to do things in your own way. Then change the subject.

DEAR ABBY: Any waitress will tell you that men are much easier to wait on then women. Also, men are more appreciative of good service, and their tips show it.

Also, nurses who have worked in both men's women's wards will tell you that men patients are far more considerate of each other than women are.

Furthermore, sales people (both men and women) will tell you they would much rather wait on a man than a woman.

DON IN PENNA.

What's your problem? You'll felt better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

A birthday today. Sets you out in the open on a trek upwards to a broader view of your world. This year the sun sign, from Libra to Scorpio at this age, is different. Today's natives tend to [illegible] serious gestalt of truth.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Other folks have substantial things going. Some whose advice welcome offer to help keep you on [illegible].

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Romantic involvements are subject to rather intense, like to the letter, see that your normal chores are not neglected in the process.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21): The less you spend on trivial items and superficial gratifications, the better.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Arrange your weekend around your own efforts and not the gratuities and diversions as others' plans may be stronger at this time.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23): Refrain from getting into a strong opinion and be just as well pleased later when the broader picture is clearer.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23): Children, young people become important in your immediate scheme of daily living. Changes are due. Let others seek you.

LIBRA (SEPT. 23-Oct. 22): Open your mail to glory. Beauty is all about you, the spirits of people, the weather and the patterns of nature. Make the most of a sparkling moment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): The more formal and self-restrained your approach now, the stronger your influence later. Be conservative.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Extravagance proves nothing favorable about you. Keep that restless currency in hand for a really good opportunity.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A good deal more is going for you than you may realize. Make the best use of available resources. There's also a premium on minding your own business.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): It would be normal today for many more people to get involved than you had planned to deal with. And nearly everybody has his own idea of what should happen best.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Original ideas pile up before previous arrangements are fully worked out. Make notes, get ahead of the situation by starting early.

HILLSGROVE, R.I. (AP) — Margot FitzGerald stepped off a plane at Green Airport Tuesday night after a 10-day visit to Denver, and found a three-piece band, television cameras, a welcoming banner and champagne awaiting her.

"It's nice to be missed," Mrs. FitzGerald said.

Her husband, Louis C. FitzGerald, president of an advertising firm, said he did it because "she deserved it—after 30 years."

After all, he said, he had handled airport receptions for former Presidents Harry S. Truman and Dwight D. Eisenhower, "so why not for my wife?"

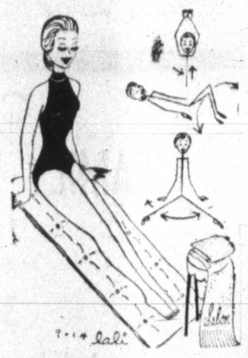

A Lovelier You

Spot Reducing

By MARY SUE MILLER

(Second in a series of five special columns: "Beauty Boutique: Shop Here.")

In a quest for a trim, graceful

figure, spot exeriise is essential. Genenal ovenweight calls for a combination of exercise and diet. Spot routines are all that's needed to slim a heavy area, when your weight is near-normal.

The crucial proportions in relation to fall fashion occur at the waist, hip and calf — snug belts, fitted hiplines and below-knee hemlines, you know. Exercises to trim those spots follow. Step into the salon.

1. Midriff Slimmer. Stand erect, place fingertips on shoulders. Elevate chest, without lifting shoulders, and slowly contract waist muscles. First pull in and next pull up, as far as possiable and then a bit more. Holding position clap hands high over head and immediately swing arms to sides and clap hands behind hips. Relax and repeat 10 times.

2. Hip Reducer. Lie, back down on floor, knees bent and soles of feet pressed to floor. Rock legs from far side to far side, so that weight rolls across hips. Twenty Twenty counts, or more.

3. Calf Trimmer. Sit on floor with legs straight out and together. Pointing toes bend feet backward as far as possible and hold position. Now slowly swing legs apart by sliding calves along floor; slide back to start position. Without stopping, repeat 10 to 20 times. Throughout press calves to floor—really press.

Reducing Tip: Work on a carpeted floor near an open window. Wear a minimum of clothes, no shoes or girdle. Breathe naturally in rhythm. That way you can expect to take a smaller dress size. Look for prettier movements and pinker cheeks too.

Tomorrow: Best Face Fallward.

SPOT REDUCING EXERCISES

Spot reduction—key to a proportioned figure, exercise is the only way to trim those stubborn bulges . . . to lose inches exactly where you wish. My new leaflet, SPOT REDUCING EXERCISES, gives easy routines—40 in all—for slimming the upper back, arms, midriff, hips, legs, ankles . . . Plus ideal measurements . . . other figore-trimming tips. For your copy, write to Masry Sue Miller in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

MISS MELINDA SPEARMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau reports a black population of 22,580,289 in the 1970 survey, about 11 per cent of the people in the United States.

The government says it has taken the most accurate census ever, although some black groups have contended their race was undercounted.

The bureau issued a report Tuesday also giving this other breakdown of the population by race: white 177,748,975; American Indian 792,730; Japanese 591,290; Chinese 435,062; Filipino 343,060; and all others, including Koreans, Hawaiians, Aleuts, Eskimos, Malayans, Polynesians, 720,520.

Miss Spearman Enters 4-H State Dress Revue

Miss Melinda Spearman, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jihn Spearman, east of Pampa, has returned from the 1971 4-H State Dress Revue at the State Fair in Dallas.

One of 46 contestants at the Fair, Miss Spearman had won the country dress revue and was one of five District I winners, making her eligible for state competition.

Her entry was a jumper of red and white herringbone polyester, with a white knit top. She had fashioned a beret of the same fabric as the jumper, and she wore red hose and red patent leather boots.

Miss Spearman, a member of the Sundowners 4-H Club, has carried clothing projects in 4-H for six years.

She was accompanied to Dallas by Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Gray County Home Demonstration agent, and Miss Patricia Henderson, assistant HD agent.

Genesis House Commemorative Services Scheduled Sunday

Special services commemorating the founding of Genesis House will be conducted Sunday at First Presbyterian Church at both the 8:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. hours.

At the 11 a.m. service the Robert E. Lee Junior High concert choir will sing directed by Elena Donald. The Rev. Martin Hager, pastor, will preach on the topic, "The Twentieth Century Leper."

Following the last service of the morning the congregation will meet to elect officers for the coming year. A congregational dinner in honir of the Genesis House program wil be served in the Fellowship Hall at 12:15.

The church initiated the Genesis House program as a home for girls 13-17 years of age.

'A Date With God' Dr. Bayless' Topic

"A Date With God" is the subject of the morning sermon by Dr. C. Gordon Bayless at First Baptist Church Sunday. Dr. Bayless is preaching in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Dan Cameron who is preaching in Madrid, Spain.

At the evening service the sermon subject will be "You Can't but You Must."

At the morning hour the choral call to worship will be Angell's "I Will Extol Thee" by the choir directed by David Campbell.

For the evening service the ladies chorus will be in the choir loft and the ladies trio will bring special music.

Both services are broadcast on station KPDN and cable television channel 13.

Wednesday night following the fellowship supper the color motion picture "His Land" will be shown at 6:15 in the church sanctuary.

This showing is open to the public.

Writer, Preacher To Speak

Delmar Owens, Duncan, Okla., will be the guest speaker at all services of the congregation Sunday at the Church of Christ, Mary Ellen at Harvester.

The Sunday morning service will be broadcast over radio station KGRO beginning at 10:25.

The daily 7 a.m. service will be only 20 minutes long. Other services will be at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Owens is the author of two volumes, "The Surrendered Life" and "Launch Out into the Deep" plus a number of articles contributed to religious publications.

Church Plans To Observe 'Tate Day'

Sunday is "Tate Day" at Central Baptist Church marking the first anniversary with the congregation of the music-education director and his wife.

Rev. Bryan Halliburton, pastor of the church, continues his sermon series based on the parables with "The Man God Called a Fool."

Following the evening services there will be a reception honoring the Tates. Prior to coming to Pampa, he served Sherwood Baptist Church, Odessa, six-and-a-half years.

Both morning and evening worship services are broadcast over station KGRO.

Pampan To Sing In 'Dome

Donnie Walberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Walberg, 1209 Williston will be in the spotlight at a massive Baptist rally at Houston's Astrodome Wednesday night as a member of the Hardin-Simmons University Chorale.

Miss Walberg, a sophomore music major at the Abilene university is a graduate of Pampa High School where she participated heavily in the musical program. She was pianist for the chorus and appeared in "West Side Story" and other productions.

She was a member of St. Paul Methodist Church, Pampa.

Pastor Speaks At Leaders Conference

Rev. David H. Solar, pastor, church of God of Prophecy, spoke to the annual ministers convention at Lubbock this past weekend.

Rev. Solar told the convention that "ministers and laymen alike must stand firm in the teachings of the Bible the world needs the Christ of the Bible, who can change mens lives, and it is the job of every Christian to propagate this truth through example."

Ministers and laymen from the "four corners" of West Texas, attended the convention which was moderated by Bishop W.A. Howard, state overseer.

'Kid Krusade' Scheduled At Full Gospel

A "Kids Krusade" begins at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Lamar Full Gospel Assembly, Bond at S. Summner Sts. Rev. and Mrs. Charles Aaron, Texarkana, Ark., will conduct the Krusade nightly through Friday.

Rev. Aaron is a ventriloquist with "Jody" as his foil bringing inspiration to young and old alike in a delightful way. These services are open to all.

Old-Fashioned' Revival Now At Local Church

The old-fashioned revival in progress at the Progressive Missionary Baptist Church, 936 S. Gray, continues through Sunday.

The Rev. M.E. Robison, pastor, Mt. Zion Baptist Church, San Angelo, is the speaker. Services begin at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Oletha McNeial is the song leader directing the musical portion of these services.

Rev. Davis emphasized that all services are open to any wishing to worship with the congregation.

Science Topic Is 'Probation'

True life and goodness have no end, according to the Bible Lesson-Sermon on "Probation After Death" at Christian Science churches Sunday.

One of the passages from Psalms affirms: "Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore."

A hint of what this can mean in today's life style is in this citation by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life and goodness are immortal. Let us then shape our views of existence into loveliness, freshness, and continuity, rather than into age and blight."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Locks which open only when five buttons are pushed in proper sequence have drastically reduced thefts in three Harvard University dormitories, a university spokesman says.

Dormitory residents have been asked not to tell nonresidents the combinations for the locks installed on exterior doors.

If a dormitory resident forgets his combination, he must be recognized by somebody inside before he'll be let in.

Senior advisor Richard C. Lozeau said Monday that Harvard is onsidering putting such locks on other dorms.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The only thing missing at the world premier of the Sidney Poitier film "Buck and the Preacher" Saturday night will be the film "Buck and the Preacher."

Poitier, coproducer of the movie, had thought it would be ready in time for the benefit premier at Virginia Union University, of which he is a trustee.

It wasn't. So, instead, he will bring along a film entitled "The Organization"—a sequel to the 1967 Academy Award-winning Poitier film, "In the Heat of the Night."

The premier is to help raise funds for restoration of the Virginia Union chapel, which burned.

The Weekly Message of Inspiration...

HOBART BAPTIST CHURCH

Ronald G. Mooney, Pastor

The political picture is heightening with activity every passing day. There are some tremendously vital issues at stake. Think of the difficult moral and spiritual problems to be seen in every part of the globe. A father, wanting to amuse his son, clipped out a picture of a world map from the newspaper, cutting it into irregular pieces, he mixed them all up and told the boy to see how quickly he could reassemble the hodgepodge puzzle. It wasn't too long after that the lad was back with the jigsaw map all complete, held together by scotch tape. His dad couldn't understand how he could ever get it done so rapidly. He found out when he saw what was on the other side. It was a photograph of a man. The boy explained, "All I did was to put him back together, Dad, and world came out all right." We may criticize our government business operations, and other aspects of life. But keep in mind that none of these things can be righted until man himself is first in proper relationship with God. This can come only through personal faith in the saving grace of our Lord Jesus Christ.

It's not reformation that man needs, but rather regeneration through the Saviour's power. "Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Old things are passed away behold, all things are become new." (II Cor. 5:17) This regeneration comes as one turns to Christ in repentance and confession of his sins. Only the blood of Jesus Christ cleanses us from unrighteousness. Our sins are forgiven only as we go to Jesus on the cross where He bleed and died. These are simple truths with eternal meanings and it is my prayer that each one who reads this, with the Holy Spirits guidance, will determine in His own heart his relationship with Jesus Christ.

Harvesters Will Clash With Tascosa Tonight

By RICKEY WRIGHT
Staff Writer

If you haven't bought your tickets for tonight's clash between the Pampa Harvesters and the Tascosa Rebels you had better arrive early or you may have based your tickets you had better arrive early or you may have paid for standing room only.

According to head Harvester coach Robert E. 'Swede' Lee, There were enough people from Pampa at the Caprock game alone to fill Harvester stadium. Tascosa has demanded half of the seats for tonight's game and they can do this because of a district ruling that promises 50 per cent of the seats to the visiting team. Palo Duro has already requested theier 50 per cent of the seating.

Rumors are floating that Tascosa will be a pushover and two main Rebel running backs are out of action with injuries. Neither rumor is true.

If Tascosa would start their third string defense they would be no pushover. Football is a game of desire to win and then physical ability.

The Pampa Shockers defeated the Palo Duro Junior Varsity 20 to nothing yesterday afternoon in Amarillo.

The victory extended the Shockers winning record to eight wins and no losses for the season.

Bucky Sams, Rebel running star, has missed some action this season but is now back in shape and raring to go. Zimmers, has missed games because of injuries, but is back into action for tonight's game against the Fighting Harvesters.

Beef dominates the line from Tascosa on both offense and defense. The Offensive unit averages about 190 pounds including the split ends. On Defense, the Rebels, have an average of 186 pounds including the linebackers.

Tascisa runs a T-formation offense. Their execution is not similar to that of the Harvester T. "They steer away from the option play and like to run the power play and trap," comments Lee. The trap nearly killed us against Caprock."

"Tascosa is built to play defense," Lee continued, "and so far they have won three games with the ending score being 7-0, so we had better have a good offensive night."

"I was tickled to death with Chuck Reeves' performance last Friday night," Lee said, "but being a coach, I have to think about experience. Garvin Mc Carrell has the experience."

McCarrell will start at halfback in tonight's game. Steve Mathis is back in good playing form after re overing from an ankle injury in the Lawton game and Reeves is ready to play.

The only changes in the Harvester lineup at press time were Jim McDowell and Billy Lemons, both are on crutches from ankle injuries. Taking Lemons place in tonight's encounter will be Larry Knutson, Senior tight-end, on offense and defensively Junior Larry Johnson will be replacing Big 'B'.

Tonight will be Dad's night with the fathers of the players receiving free admission to the game and special seats reserved along the field.

Make plans to attend the game and support the 'Fighing Harvesters.'

Pity The Cougars Against Alabama's Crimson Tide

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Pity the Houston Cougars. They have never solved Alabama's mastery over them in football.

They come to town Saturday to face a Crimson Tide riding high and aiming for a fourth national championship in 11 years.

Alabama is fourth-ranked nationally and waiting for Nebraska, Oklahoma or Michigan to stumble or for a chance to settle who is the nation's best in a postseason bowl.

The Crimson Tide, seeking its seventh straight victory of the season, is a solid favorite over the visitors despite Houston's high-powered offense led by fullback Robert Newhouse and quarterback Gary Mullins.

Alabama fans believe the Tide can more than match Houston in moving the ball with the running of Johnny Musso Ellis Beck and Joe LaBue and the running and passing of Terry Davis.

In addition, the Tide is one of the country's top defensive teams and is giving up only a touchdown or so a game.

If fevenue is a good motive, the Cougars have that.

Tough Test Faces Kansas City Chiefs

NEW YORK (AP) — The Washington Redskins, the only unbeaten team in the National Football League will get their toughest test of the season Sunday—and they will pass it with a victory over the Kansas City Chiefs.

In the other big game of the weekend, the Minnesota Vikings will eke out a victory over the Baltimore Colts

That's how it looks to this picker who was 10-3 last week for a three-week total of 26-12-1.

Picking 'em:

Washington 24, Kansas City 23-with Larry Erown and Charley Harraway, Washington has the running that will allow Bill Kilmer to pass against and make the Chiefs the Redskins' sixth straight victim. Kansas City has the home field and that old standby—momentum—after a season-opening loss.

Minnesota 20, Baltimore 17—Minnesota's defense against Baltimore's running game, with the Vikings' coming out on top in this meeting two once-beaten powers on Monday night.

San Diego 31, Buffalo 21—the only thing different this week for winless Buffalo is that this game is on a Saturday night.

Detroit 31, Chicago 6—Detroit will eventually wear down a good Chicago defense which should get little chance to rest. Because of injuries, Chicago will go with third-string quarterback Bobby Douglass.

Oakland 24, Cincinnati 21—Daryle Lamonica and his Oakland playmates know that they can break away from a tie with Kansas City should the Chiefs fall to Washington. The Bengals are always troublesome. They also are 1-4.

Miami 31, New York Jets 14—Third-string quarterback Bob Davis got the Jets past Baltimore and they tied Miami earlier this season. But now Bob Griese and the Dolphins appear to be in gear.

Los Angeles 23, Green Bay 10—The Rams beat San Francisco and Atlanta on the road and should have a happy homecoming against Green Bay, especially with quarterback Roman Gabriel apparently in good form and defensive end Deacon Jones back after missing two games.

Cleveland 34, Denver 10—Cleveland has the passing of Bill Nelsen and the running of Leroy Kelly and Bo Scott. And the Browns are healthy, Denver is not.

San Francisco 24, St. Louis 20—The hot-and-cold tendecies of the two clubs make this one a tough game to pick. But John Brodie's arm and the hip injury of St. Louis safety Larry Wilson give the 49ers an edge.

New Orleans 24, Atlanta 17—with rookie quarterback Archie Manning, who plays as though he stills thinks his opponents are college teams, and a good defense, the Saints are too much for Atlanta.

Joyner, 'The Best' In Paterno Eyes For Penn State

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State football Coach Joe Paterno usually doesn't deal in superlatives. He does, however, when it comes to offensive tackle Dave Joyner.

"Dave Joyner is the best offensive tackle since I've been at Penn State," says Paterno, and that covers the last 21 years.

Paterno was reminded of such Penn State offensive tackles as Roosevelt Greier, Andy Stynchula, Charley Janerette, Rich Buzin, Stew Barber, Dave Bradley, Chuck Sieminski, just to recall a few who were great in college and also later pro stars.

"I remember them all," said Paterno, "and they were all great tackles. But Joyner is the most consistent. Not only does he do a great job of blocking, but he's a great leader," said Paterno of the 235-pound native of State College. He's quick, touchy, durable and as smart as he can be."

Rebels Defeated By Dumas, 28-18

The Robert E. Lee Rebels dropped a 28 to 18 decision to the Dumas Demons Thursday night in Dumas. According to Rebel coach Dennis Pasley, "We were outplayed. Dumas was there to win and they looked like it. I think both, coaches and players took this game too lightly."

"We trailed 16 to nothing at the end of the first quarter and 22 to six at halftime. We have to be ready to win mentally, we are as good as Dumas but couldn't get into the proper frame of mind."

Football Strategy On Televised Plans

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) —Bubba Smith has been watching "X" IIIarted film of Ron Yary all week, but on Monday night the football adversaries will be involved in sorictly family television entertainment.

That's when the Baltimore Colts and Minnesota Vikings, both divisional leaders with 4-1 records, clash in a nationally televised (ABC) National Football League game which includes a matchup of Smith against Yary.

Although Smith is in his fifth season as a Baltimore defensive end and Yary, an offensive tackle, is starting his fourth season, they have never opposed each other.

To get prepared, both have been seriously studying game films to pick up valuable information. Bubba admits to being impressed, but not to the point of running scared.

"He's a big cat, one of the biggest tackles I'll go against all year," Smith said of the 6-foot-5, 255-pound Yary.

"He's been overpowering a lot of people in the films I've seen," said Smith, who is 6-8 and 265. "After practicing against Carl Eller all year, he's bound to be pretty good by now."

"Yary looks good," Bubba said, "but there's no sense in sitting around worrying about him. I'll just try to play the game the way I know best.

"If I try to do different things just to confuse him, he'll have me beat already."

John Sandusky, Baltimore's defensive line coach, concurred with that observation.

"You can't change your game," he said. "You've got to do what you do best."

"Bubba has been double-teamed a lot," Sandusky said.

"When that happens, you know a player has respect as pass rusher. Bubba never sees a lot of one-on-one blocking."

Noting that Smith was staying after practice to study more Yary films, Sandusky said: "The longer a player is in the league, the more he realizes he has to do something extra to get an edge."

"But no matter how much studying you do, you've got to see what happens on the field and then make adjustments."

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The only sound in the Minnesota Vikings' meeting room was the whirring of a movie projector.

Ron Yary, the 6-foot-5½, 265-pound offensive right tackle, watched intently as No. 78 of the Baltimore Colts thundered off the line of scrimmage, slammed a forearm into an opponent and exploded into the offensive backfield.

"I think he's having his best year," says Yary, whose assignment Monday night in the National Football League television special will be to block Bubba Smith, listed by the Colts at 6-8, 265

"He's one of the strongest people in football today—enormous strength and he's quick off the ball," says Yary.

"From what I've seen of him now and in the past, he's got a better pass rush than at any previous time .He's one of the better defensive ends in football."

Smith and Yary will provide only a frame of the crucial game between two NFL giants with 4-1 records at 9 p.m. EDT, at Mefropolitan Stadium, and it will be the first time the two highly regarded lineman have played against each other.

When the Vikings crushed the Colts 52-14 in the second game of the 1969 season, Yary had not yet been activated because military reserve duty delayed his arrival at training camp.

Yary, biggest of Minnesota's offensive linemen, will spot Smith some height and possibly weight but says "size isn't important. If he's got the credentials, and he does, it's difficult to beat him especially when he's got all those tools. He's got them all—strength, quickness, moves and size."

How will Yary attack those strengths? "Until the action begins you don't know really what you're going to do. It's hard to size him up on film. We'll see what works."

And Yary is spending more than an hour a day watching Bubba oh film, but won't take the projector home with him

"An hour a day of watching him is enough," Yary said respectfully.

Fences Are Foes Of CRSA's Newest Drive

Winning hunting rights to the Canadian Riverbed was the first purpose of the Canadian River Sportsmen's Association. Now they have tackled the removal of all illegal fences crossing or penetrating into the State owned property.

The CRSA has adopted a resolution to write letters to state representatives, Gov. Preston Smith and the Texas Land Commissioner in an effort to have the fences removed.

The CRSA contends the fences pose a hazard to the public using the Canadian Riberbed for recreation and in many cases motorcycle riders have narrowly avoided injury or accident because of the barbed-wire barriers.

The Riverbeds and railroad-right-of-ways were closed to the public earlier in the year and reopened by the Parks and Wildlife Commission in a Sept. 30 ruling. The ruling came after Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin released an opinion stating that the commission acted without "proper authority" in making the river beds into games refuges.

Car Nuts Will Bolt At Chance Of A Lifetime

By STEVE BHOLANDER
Sports Editor

Two of the nation's top ranking wheelstanders have been added to the impressive lineup for the World Finals in NHRA drag races in Amarillo scheduled for this week-ehd.

Top names in racing have been pouring into the Panhandle community during the past week in preparation for what is hailed as 'the' event on the racing circuit.

Last night as a drawing card to the races the fans were given a chance to look at the competitors and cars during a three-hour 'open house' on Main Drag USA. (Polk Street in downtown Amarillo was blocked and the dragsters along with their autos were placed on display.)

Perhaps the largest event to hit the Panhandle. The World Finals, will start this afternoon with inspection and classifi ation of automobiles.

Tomorrow the track will open at 9 a.m. for the start of time trials to determine the make up of the eight eliminator brackets for the big race on Sunday.

Interesting to note is the fact in a rules change this World Finals winner in the Top Gas Eliminator Class will go down in the record book as the sport's last World Champion. The Top Gas Eliminator Class was part of the deletion of several classes in the 1972 rules.

Top Gas Eliminator is made up of dragsters powered by engines of unlimited size but restricted to stock pump gasoline. Unlike their fuel-burning counterparts in the Top Fuel category they are not allowed the benefit of special additives which boost performance. Still, they cover the quarter-mile in seven seconds, at speeds of 200 mph.

Tickets for the WORLD FINALS are priced at $5.00 for Saturday, and $7.00 for Sunday. CHILDREN UNDER 12 FREE when accompanied by an adult.

Casper-Trevino Ready For Gold In Kaiser Oper

NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Billy Casper and Lee Trevino each think they're ready to start grabbing gold on the golfing fairways again

"I think I found it out there today," said Casper Thursday after a first-round 67 in the $150,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament.

"I think I'm ready to start playing golf again," said Trevino, who shot a 69.

Casper and Trevino headed a huge field of tightly bunched challengers to Georgia natives Hugh Royer and Tom Aaron, who had six-under-par 66s Thursday for the first-round lead.

Casper was just a stroke back and Trevino was well within striking distance as the touring pros took advantage of ideal playing conditions to make a mockery of par 72 on the North and South courses at the Silverado Country Club.

The other at 67 were J. C Snead, Al Geiberger, Mike Bill, Jim Colbert and Larry White.

Eight more followed at 38 with Trevino and 17 others at 69. That left 34 players within three strokes of each other. In all, 85 players, more than half the field, matched or bettered par.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player are not competing.

Casper, who has failed to win this season for the first time in 16 years, found a new set of irons to his liking. He missed only one green, didn't make a bogey and was flying his shots dead to the flag with monotonous regularity.

Trevino shot his 69 without benefit of a practice round.

Football Roundup

Oklahoma makes a Wish and Kansas State Coach Vince Gibson says a prayer Saturday.

The second-ranked Sooners send their Wishbone-T offense against Kansas State in one of Saturday's top college football games, prompting this reaction from Gibson: "You pray you don't get killed."

He has a point. Oklahoma has won five straight with a powerhouse crew that includes quarterback Jack Mildren and halfbacks Joe Wylie and Greg Pruitt, who has gained 421 yards rushing in the last two games

"They're unbelievable," says Gibson. "They're a super football team. They have super speed."

They also have more confidence than last year, according to Gibson.

"That's the big difference between Oklahoma last year and this," said Gibson. "A fumble doesn't bother them because they know they can come back. They can't get quite excited about us after the way we've been stinking up the place the last few weeks."

The Wildcats have a 2-4 record after straight losses to Colorado, Kansas and Iowa State.

Nebraska, 6-0, the nation's No. 1-ranked team, visits Oklahoma State 3-1-1 in another big Saturday match. The mighty Cornhuskers held Kansas to a minus 42 yards rushing last week.

Third-ranked Michigan, 6-0, which has posted three shutouts in six games, takes on Minnesota 3-3; No. 4 Alabama, 6-0, hosts Houston, 4-1; fifth-ranked Auburn, 5-0, tackles Clemson, 2-3; No. 6 Notre Dame, 5-0, plays Southern California, 2-4; seventh-rated Penn State, 5-0, plays Texas Christian, 2-2-1; No. 8 Georgia, 6-0, meets Kentucky 1-5; ninth-ranked Arkansas, 5-1, tackles North Texas State and No. 10 Stanford, 5-1, entertains Washington State.

In the Second Ten, it's No. 11 Colorado against Missouri; Wisconsin at No. 12 Ohio State; Arizona State, tied for No. 14, at New Mexico; Dayton at No. 14 Toledo; 16th-rated Texas against Rice; No. 17 Purdue at Illinois; 18th ranked Tennessee versus Mississippi State; No. 19 Duke at Navy and No.20 Air Force at Colorado State.

"Remember Tulsa" Rings From Hogs

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —The rallying cry at Arkansas this week is "Remember Tulsa."

Earlier in the week, Coach Frank Broyles reminded the Razorbacks about the 21-20 loss to Tulsa on Sept. 25.

"They remembered," Broyles said. "I didn't have to remind them, but I did."

The loss to Tulsa should help the heavily favored Razorbacks prepare for Saturday's meeting with North Texas State at Fayetteville.

On Arkansas' schedule, Tulsa and North Texas State are looked upon as breathers. The fans speculate on the margin of victory instead of the winner. Tulsa may have changed that.

Broyles says it is difficult to tell if the ninth-ranked Razorbacks have stopped savoring the victory over Teras. "The offense is just kind of stumbling around," he said.

North Texas State lost to Brigham Young, Weber State, New Mexico State and Akron before upsetting Louisville 20-17 last week.

"They beat a good football team," Broyles said. "The game is getting close and I'm getting scared."

Arkansas and North Texas have not played since 1966 when Broyles' 9-1 team beat the Eagles' 8-2 team 17-15 at Little Rock.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Who Voted For This?

One of the reasons increasing poiltical control over individual life has not been rejected out of hand by Americans is the illusion that "the people are the government."

There is no "public servant" holding political office who has the endorsement of every person over whom he has authority, and none even who has the endorsement of the majority of those over he exercises control.

Despite this, the public generally seems to hold to the myth that what is done to them politically represents the will of the people. To help perpetuate this myth, we are from time to time urged to write "our elected officials" to seek vote action one way or another. The implication, of course, is that the voice of the people will bring about the kind of governmental action desired by the people.

And when the action is opposed to what the people hoped it would be, there is another discourse suggesting that the people failed to exercise their civic duty.

This explanation is valid, generally, becaise it should be obvious that the 100 million or so adult members of the American society will never agree on any subject, and an overwhelming majority won't even bother to get exercised about a given subject.

This is somewhat like leaving the candy store unlocked while the proprietor goes fishing.

But now, we wonder if the myth will continue to blind the American people becaise the latest political ruse from Washington threatens to do away with individual economic freedom.

We wonder if they have gone too far.

In explaining the American system of government, there was usually the picture of "checks and balances," a three-part political house in which the powers were separated. The fact that this no longer exists apparently has not erased the idea from the minds of most people.

But now any thinking person should ask himself: "Who voted for wage and price controls?" "Who voted to take the opportunity to get rich away from individual Americans?" "Who decided that a presidential committee in Washington is th best judge of the value of a worker in Gray County?"

"How many Americans gave their approaval to the complete destruction of the free enterprise system?"

These are interesting questions, and we challenge anyone to continue to cling to the myth that the latest government meddling in personal economics represents the will of the people.

The American idea of human life includes the freedom of the individual to seek employment of his choice under conditions acceptable to himself and to the person paying for his services.

It also includes the freedom of business to offer its product or service for sale on the open market at a price acceptable to those who wish to buy.

Inherent in such a system is the freedom for others to offer similar goods, services and labor in the same market place. This ompetition insures increasing quality and decreasing costs for the consumer.

Over the years, the injection of force by political government and union pressures disrupted the free market and hampered individaul enterprise, but still it operated after a fashion.

But now, political government has instituted a series of changes which include the machinery which can wipe out individual choice in such matters as wages a worker may be paid, prices a merchant may charge, interest an investor may receive, and profit an enterprise may earn.

The rules as they appear at this writing are to be established by a group of people sitting in Washington, and none of them was elected to such positions by those over whom they hold full economic power.

Oh, Doctor, By The Way...

On Aug. 15, 1971, President Nixon turned down the political thermostat and froze wages and prices, at least theoretically. At that time we began to read about the Cost of Living Council which was charged with enforcement of same. Now we are reading about the Office of Emergency Preparedness. We checked up to see how the Cost of Living Council related to the latter, and we learned that the office of Emergency Preparedness is the "operating arm" of the former.

With the country being operated on, we wonder whether it would seem too bold if the patient inquired of the Office of Emergency Preparedness what emergency he is being prepared for. A little late to ask, when the subject is already strapped to the table, but still a matter of interest, is it not?

Musing On A Star

Are we all alone in this star-studded universe? Is anybody or any living organism adrift out there in the endless, ice-cold twilight that surrounds this exciting, billions-of-years-old planet?

A thought-provoking view of possible planetary life was expressed this week by astronomer Dr. George H. Herbig, acting director of the University of California's Lick Observatory.

"Space," according to Dr. Herbig, "is pervaded almost everywhere with the molecular constituents of life. This material probably represents the pollution of space by the debris of old planetary systems in which a great mass of complicated organic material has been formed not by biological activity, but by purely chemical processes.

"It all seems to go together," he added, "like a fascinating jig-saw puzzle; our existence here at the apex of biological evolution on our own little planet does not represent some fantastic one-time-only quirk of nature, but is a perfectly reasonable piece of a much larger picture that is emerging from astronomical research."

Somehow — during moments when the world's problems overwhelm and suffocate the spirit — some find comfort in believing that we on this flyspeck in space are not alone, and that at sometime, somewhere, someone — at this moment or eons ago — traveled this road before. For sure, its a "fascinating jig-saw puzzle."

H. L. Hunt Writes

RED CHINA AND POPULATION CONTROL

One further example, if any more were needed, of the harmful effect of our growing ties with Peking is the dive to set up Red China as a model for government population control.

The Population Crisis Committee is corrently cirdulating a booklet entitled "Population and Family Planning, the people's Republic of China. The booklet praise Mai Tse-tung for "great statesmanship in a (1937) speech to the Supreme State Converence when he advocated a stable Chinese population, now called zero population growth."

The booklet adds that in 1964 Chou En-lai established a short term goal of reducing population growth to one per cen per year, which "could well be adapted by all nations as the agreed world goal for the next thirty years.f" This is clearly a call for coercive family limitation by government, using Red China as a model.

According to columnist Paul Scott, population control advocates also hope to use Red China's likely entry into the United Nations as a springboard for a worldwide population control program.

Praise for Peking's population control practices carefully omits any reference to the main means by which "unwanted" people have been eliminated in China: mass murders. Estimates are that at least 34,000,000 and as many as 60,000,000 individuals have been executed since Mao Tse-tung assumed power.

Clearly the Peking regime is no model for our country or any free country to imitate, in anything they do. Coercive population control fits in ideally with political philosophies which deny the dignity of the individual and his God-given rights, but it has no place in Republic USA.

Strategy for the Big Game

VIEWPOINT

The People's Right To Know

By JESSE HELMS

Ever so often, the ultra-liberal newspapers around the country begin baying in unison about what they call "the people's right to know." More often than not, it's the second verse to that old song-and-dance routine called "freedom of the press."

The country got a heavy dose of it recently when a former federal employe stole some secret government documents and turned them over to The New York Times, and to another dozen or more carefully-selected newspapers known for their leftward tilt. These newspapers have portrayed this young thief as a hero, and they have piously portrayed themselves as courageous defenders of the First Amendment.

The truth of the matter, of course, is that these very same newspapers place severe limitations on this people's-right-know business. The way itnot works out, the people have a "right" to know only what the editors want them to know, nothing more, nothing less.

We were reminded of this a night or so ago as we scanned the August 2 issue of The Congressional Record. Just as a matter of perspective, have you read — in any of the left-wing newspapers — about a joint effort among several North Carolina Congressmen to bring about an amendment to the U.S. Constitution that would forbid forced busing of school children?

Of course you haven't — because that obviously comes under the category of news that you have no right to know, because the editors don't want you to know it. If you knew about it, don't you see, you might be inclined to lend your support to the Congressmen. Therefore, you are given only those endless reports on irrelevant statements by the most inconsequential spokesmen favoring forced busing and forced integration.

North Carolina Congressman Wilmer Mizell was leading the forces on August 2 calling for a Constitutional amendment to outlaw forced busing. The Congressman was joined in his effort by Congressman Fountain, Congressman Lennon, Congressman Earl Ruth—all of North Carolina— plus several other Congressmen from other sections of the country.

A great many interesting facts were placed in the record by the various Congressmen. For example, Congressman Mizell noted that a recent survey of North Carolinians disclosed that 83 percent of the people of this state, black and white, are opposed to forced busing.(An interesting question arises from that revelation, incidentally: Why have your large daily newspapers not told you of that poll? They tell you about every other kind of poll!)

Congressman Fountain, in voicing his support of Congressman Mizell's effort, reviewed in detail the manner in which the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has consistently refused to abide by the laws of Congress which were intended to specifically forbid forced busing. At one point, for example, Congressman Fountain said: "In the past (the Congress) has adopted numerous legislative amendments against (forced) busing...adding them to appropriations bills as well as authorizations but none has proved effective." Then Mr. Fountain explained: "Ingenious legal reasoning has been used (by HEW) to evade the intent of Congress in this regard."

Were you told of this by your large ultra-liberal daily newspapers? Why not, do you suppose? Did the people not have a right to know, all of a suddeen?

There are several proposals now awaiting action in the House of Representatives which would amend the Constitution so as to outlaw forced busing of school children. Congressman Fountain introduced one some weeks ago. Congressman Mizell has introduced one, which happens to be House Joint Resolution 646. But the public is being told almost nothing about them.

Sometime, when you have a moment to contemplate the situation, you may wish to speculate about the kind of "freedom of the press" which refuses to let the people know about such things. To say the least, it tells something about this business of "the people's right to know" — the right to know only that which the ultra-liberal editors want them to know.

Question Box

QUESTION: Can a citizen of the United States also be a citizen of another country?

ANSWER: The Fourteenth Amendment (often disputed) to the Constitution of the U.S. provides that "all persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States. . ."

At the time of its disputed adoption, the Fourteenth Amendment was meant to apply to a situation in which Negroes lacked the protection of being able to sue in the citizenship was affirmed by the Fourteenth Amendment state courts. In that context, the fact of the place of birth. That is to say, citizenship was not acquired by merit, but rather was mandated by the geographical location at which the person happened to come into the world.

The mandatory provision of the Fourteenth Amendfent did not apply to persons born in the United States, although outside United States jurisdiction as, for example, the child of a foreign diplomat.

Also, for almost 100 years, the general interpretation of regislation was that a U.S. national could lose his citizenship by performing certain specified acts. But a change came about in 1967. A letter dated Nov. 10, 1970, from David M. Abshire, assistant Secretary of State for Congressional Relations, explains the nature of that change. The letter was written by then Senator George Murphy.

Following is an excerpt:

"In the 1967 case of Afroym V. Rusk, the Supreme Court held that citizenship granted under the Constitution could not be taken away by act of Congress unless the individual voluntarily relinquishes it. This decision thus raised doubt as to the validity of virtually every section of United States law providing for loss of citizenship, except voluntary renunciation. Since that decision, each case must be considered individually on its own merits, with particular attention to the individual's intent.

"Israel automatically extends citizenship to all Jews entering Israel with an immigrant visa, unless the immigrant positively renounces the grant of Israeli citizenship at the time of entry. Since United States citizens are not obligated to renounce their American citizenship to acquire Israeli nationality, a class of dual citizens has emerged. The acquisition of a foreign nationality does not, in itself, necessarily result in the loss of United States citizenship."

We surmise that, if dual citizenship accords any advantage to the holder thereof, other countries will be inclined to follow the precedent set in the 1967 case.

STRAIGHT TALK:

Silence Not Always Golden

By TOM ANDERSON

Shortly, a new book of my editorials will go to press. I procrastinated at length over its title.

Tvery book needs a title — but not three, like this one has had. First, it was "Free Men Are Not Equal, and Equal Men Are Not Free." But since that statement has been stolen from me by various individuals and organizations, that title was abandoned in favor of "HUMILITY—And How I Achieved It." Nobody would steal that — because most people don't "get" it.

My wife says that title is irrelevant, and maybe irreverent, and again evidences my perverted sense of humor. She suggests the same title for the book as she has suggested for my speeches: "The Creation of the World and Subsequent Events." Remarks like that are just another reason for my deepening humility. I once read a 240-page book entitled: "What I Know About Women." Every page was blank.

As H.L. Mencken and other cynics have said, in one way or another, "Never overestimate the sense of the public." But, even more than that, never underestimate its lack of a sense of humor. So the third title, completely serious and non-satrical, become "Silence Is Not Golden, It's Yellow."

Back to the subject of humility, people achieve their humility in different ways, of coirse. When someone once said that President Truman had an inferiority complex, a wag responded: "It's not a complex. He is inferior." Humility can be inherited, earned, or bestowed by one's wife or mother-in-law.

My favorite refresher course in humility comes from reading again and again a special collection of letters which are very dear to my heart.

Several years ago, I wrote an editorial saying that there should be no preferred citizens in our country; that veterans should get no benefits of any kind, unless permanently injured in combat. A scribbled postcard from rural Kentucky replied:

"You 4-F, Swede, prismatic s.o.b. In case you don't know what a prismatic s.o.b. is, it's one from any way you look at him." (Just as a test, I later wrote an editorial condemning motherhood. It was far more popular than the one against veteran's benefits.)

Of course, every now and then I write a letter to the editor saying Tom Anderson is my favorite editor. Trouble is, I'm running out of fictitious names to sign.

Which reminds me of another enterprising Southerner who aspired to be a professional baseball player. He spent hours writing letters to big league scouts telling them, over a spurious signature, that they ought to go see him play. His real name was Ty Cobb. As a teenager Ty left home to go try out for a major league baseball club. A few weeks later, he wrote his daddy saying that he probably wouldn't make the grade and would be home soon. His daddy fired back a five-word telegram: "Don't come home a failure." So Ty stuck it out — to become the greatest ball player of all time.

Branch Rickey, the famous baseball manager, used to love to tell about Cobb's feats. Once Cobb came to bat in the last half of the eleventh with the score tied, and two out. Cobb was a master at making pitchers lose their ciol. He managed to get a walk — then won the game without another ball being pitched. The catcher dropped the ball and Cobb made first and then tore into second, third and home with cleats flying and forced a fumble at every base — the only time in major league history that a player made a home run out of a base on balls.

So here we are, too, in the last half of the eleventh with two out. The name of the game is Freedom. When freedom is at stake, silence is not golden, it's yellow.

James Madison, known as the father of our Constitution, summarized our present situation in two brief paragraphs:

"Since the general civilization of mankind, I believe there are more instances of the abridgement of the freedom of the people, by gradual and silent encroachments of those in power, than by violent and sudden usurpations. . . .

"Although all men are born free, and all nations might be so, yet too true it is, that slavery has been the general lot of the human race. Ignorant — they have been cheated; asleep — they have been surprised; divided — the yoke has been forced upon them. But what is the lesson? That because the people may betray themselves they ought to give themselves up blindfold to those who have an interest in betraying them? Rather conclude the people ought to be enlightened, to be awakened, to be united, that after establishing a government they should watch over it, as well as obey it."

—The American Way Features

Communism And Society

"There are very few people in the Soviet Union today who still profess to believe in the 'ideals' of Socialism or Communism. I doubt very much if the members of the Central Committee of the Communist Party or even of the ruling Politburo believe in them. This loss of faith is the result of years of hard experience which have proved beyond any doubt that Communism is not capable of advancing human society towards something better. Communism is contrary to the very nature of human relationships and human life in general, and can only impede its progress."

—Anatoli Fedoseyev (the Russian scientist who was given asylum in Britain last June, who was responsible for developing the device which enabled the Russians to shoot down an American U-2 spy plane in May 1960; he made the statement in an article in the London Sunday Telegraph).
