BIBLE COMMENT

Bible Tells True Concept of Man

The Bible asks, in Psalms and Hebrews, "what is man?" And it then gives the answer with a completeness unequalled anywhere else in literature. Its answer is unsurpassed even in the delvings of modern psychology.

In the Bible, man is revealed in all the heights and depths, aberrations and variations of his acts and character, with nothing withheld.

In the early record man appears as an unbrotherly murderer, Cain becoming the symbol of the unbrotherly murderers of all time, including our own.

Man is a liar, even in the lapse of the good Abraham (Genesis); a cheat in the weak but ultimately better Jacob; an adulterer in the strong and great David; an oppressor in the glorious builder, Solomon.

In these and many other characters is expressed what man has been and is, in lust and cruelty; in ruthless ambition and misuse of power; in slackness and weakness; in petty and major sins and transgressions.

It is all there—the Bible's answer to the question, "what is man?" But the uniqueness of the Bible is this: with all the realism concerning man's degradation and degradation of himself and his fellows, it also reveals man in all the heights of his possibilities and attainments.

In contrast to its Ahab's and Jezebels are the Johns, Josephs and Simeons, the Annas and the Marys. In contrast with all the depths are the pinnacles of man's aspirations and glories.

Nor is this all. For man in the depths there is the favor and the grace of God. The Bible is the Book of the Gospel, of faith and hope, of restoration and uplift, of a new life.

LONE STAR FARMER

Farmers to Save Million in Ginning

By JOHN C. WHITE, Agriculture Commissioner.

Texas cotton farmers can look forward to a million-dollar saving in ginning costs this year.

The Texas Department of Agriculture has revised pink bollworm regulations to eliminate sterilization of cotton seed during ginning operations. The new provision applies to seed moving to areas within the state.

Until now, some 928 gins in Texas have been required to treat seed with high temperatures. The heat killed any larvae inside the seed without damaging its growing qualities.

The added cost of this service was passed to the farmers by the gins at approximately $1 per bale. Gins where this measure was in effect normally process about a million bales or more a year.

The new regulations eliminating this treatment resulted from findings of a three-year research project by Texas and United States Departments of Agriculture pest control men.

Modern methods of some 35 gins were studied during this period. Goal of the survey was to determine whether normal ginning operations killed enough larvae in the seed without the added burden of sterilization.

Studies of cotton processed in the gins showed the lowest rate of kill to be 89.5 per cent. The highest was 100 per cent.

These figures indicated that the kill ratio of pink bollworm larvae was effective enough to reduce the threat of destruction in cotton fields. As added proof, all but five gins killed 97 per cent or more of the insects and 18, or half the gins, registered complete kills.

Gin operators will find the new regulations to their advantage also. Sterilization involved costly equipment and was time consuming.

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials are in complete agreement with the regulation change in Texas. A revision of federal regulations will follow later in the season.

The vulture is said to fly at times at the rate of over 100 miles per hour.

SLUGFEST OVER LYNDON JOHNSON

Rayburn-Shivers Exchange Shoves Harmony Out the Window in Texas Demo Delegation

By VERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association.

Battle lines are fast forming. The scrap for control of the Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention is a high-tension argument. Harmony is out.

Now it's a no-holds-barred, toe-to-toe slugfest.

It started when House Speaker Sam Rayburn, leader of Texas liberal-loyalist forces and godfather of the Democratic Advisory Council proposed that U. S. Sen. Lyndon Johnson be Texas' favorite son candidate for President of the United States . . . and head the Texas delegation to the nominating convention in Chicago.

George W. Sandlin, chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, had proposed Gov. Allan Shivers as chairman. Shivers charged that Byron Skelton, chairman of the DAC, had thought up the favorite son and chairman idea . . . and that Rayburn "is just his mouth-piece."

proposal as a "cynical and calculated effort to divide the conservative democrats of Texas . . . an attempt to maneuver the senator into the DACPAC camp." Then he challenged Johnson to denounce Liberal-Loyalist backing and take a stand for states' rights.

Johnson's answer was that he would head only a middle-of-the-road delegation. Not one "from either fringe" — either ultra-conservative or ultra-liberal.

"No one knows better than Allan Shivers that I am not a creature of the ADA, DAC, PAC, NACP, CIO or any other group he may have named," snapped Johnson. "Nor am I an errand boy of reactionary big business or the Republican party."

Verbal blasts between Washington and Austin continued. Shivers accused Rayburn of "trying to run Texas from Washington." Rayburn termed Shivers "an angry, confused, frustrated man . . . on a sinking ship." Adding "I belong to no faction but the Democratic party."

Shivers replied that he had gotten in the boat with Rayburn and Adlai Stevenson in 1952, "we would have lost both the boat and the tidelands." He charged Rayburn with "being a Democrat first and an American second."

Shivers has declared he will not pledge himself to support

"any nominee," and will hold himself free to vote for the man he considers best for president, regardless of party . . . "and I hope it is a Democrat."

Fencing between Johnson and Shivers was in milder tones, with Shivers concluding that he had no desire to battle with "my old friend, Lyndon Johnson." Without withdrawing his demand for Johnson to state his position on the issues, Shivers said "I would not stand in the way of Texas honoring him as chairman of the delegation or as favorite son."

Johnson has not said whether he would permit his name to be presented as a favorite son candidate, or whether he would take the chairmanship. He has said, however, that he hopes to be a delegate.

Mrs. Williams, a graduate of Texas Tech and active in church and Girl Scout work here, declared in a prepared statement that she was seeking a board place because she is "primarily interested in a fundamentally strong and well-disciplined school system and a well-balanced extracurricular program for our schools."

Windham, who reported he had no special platform in his write-in campaign, said he had "sympathy" for the problems of present school board members, but expressed desire "to get on the board and do my best."

And he also said deferment of the bond issue was in line with his thinking since "this is the biggest drouth we've had."

ON SNYDER HIGH TRACK, SATURDAY

C-City, Stamford to Battle For District Track Crown

At least eight records are in danger of falling when District 5-A track teams meet Saturday at Snyder.

Colorado City and Stamford will be favored to battle for the district crown with Hamlin, Anson and Rotan following in that order.

Stamford's Mike McClelland will probably lead the record-breaking in the dashes and is almost certain to smash two marks set by Colorado City's Hollis Gainey.

The standard of 10 flat set by Gainey in 1954 should fall before McClelland's flying feet. He has run 9.7 and 9.8 consistently this season.

Gainey ran under the 10 flat mark consistently but was hampered by bad track and weather each year at the district meet.

Gainey's record of 22.8 in the 220-yard dash, also set in 1954, will probably fall. McClelland has turned in the fastest time in the state this season with a 21.6.

Colorado City's Doyle Herring may break the 440-yard dash record of 53.2 set last year by C-City's Richard Howlett, now a freshman at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos.

Herring has been "off and on" this year with his best time a 50.7 at the Permian Basin Relays last Thursday.

Ken Hewitt of Hamlin may threaten the record of 2:07.2 in the 880-yard run, set in 1952 by Gary of Snyder. Hewitt is considered the top half-miler in the district.

The mile run mark of 4:57.0 set by Breaux of Merkel in 1952 appears to be out of danger in the record-breaking.

Both hurdle marks seem safe enough. They were set in 1953 by Don Maynard of Colorado City. His time in the 180-yard low hurdles is 20.2 while the high hurdle record is 15.2.

Probably the top hurdler in the district is Jimmy Roberts of Anson.

Colorado City's 440-yard relay team of Don Fite, Doyle Herring, Frank Mackey and Bancker Cade appear certain to smash the old 440-yard relay record of 45.4 set in 1953 by Berman Corbell, Maynard, Charles Small and Gainey.

This year's Wolf sprint relay foursome has been consistent with their time of 44.4 seconds. They have been beaten only once this year, that defeat coming at the hands of Andrews in the Permian Relays last week.

They've won sprint relay titles at Fort Stockton, Snyder and Odessa.

Top race of the meet will probably be the mile relay with Stamford and Colorado City battling right down to the wire for the best time.

Stamford holds the better time with a 3:31.3 but Colorado City has come very close to that time this season.

Key to the Stamford mile relay is McClelland on the anchor. Colorado's team is composed of the same four that runs the sprint relay.

Coach Bob Rely has not disclosed his strategy in the running events, but he's expected to try for as many second and third places as possible in order to win the district title.

Fite will match strides with McClelland in the century. Cade will be another 100-yard dash entry.

Mackey will run the 220 where he has picked up several points in prior meets.

Clarke Jones is the Wolves' best bet in the 880 while Delbert Lewis is figured to carry the load in the mile run for the C-City team.

Wolves will be counting heavily on Jim Windham and Dru Vowell in the weights.

Windham is a likely choice to smash his own record of 49 feet 10 1/2 inches in the shotput. He has thrown over 52 feet this year. His top opposition is expected to come from Dallas Christian of Stamford.

Windham will be favored in the discus but he's not likely to break the record of 151 feet 1 1/2 inches set by Warsaw of Roby in 1954.

Christian and Mackey could break the high jump record of 5 feet 8 inches set by Campbell of Roscoe in 1952. Both are capable of clearing six feet.

The broad jump mark of 20 feet 2 1/2 inches set by Corbell of C-City in 1953 will probably stand as will the pole vault mark of 11 feet 6 inches set by Bucky Nix of Roscoe in 1952. Herring, Fite and Cade will enter the broad jump with Mackey in the vault.

Preliminaries are due to start on the Snyder cinder track at 9:30 a.m. with finals scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

First, second and third place winners qualify for the regional track affair at Brownwood scheduled later in the month.

Colorado City will be seeking its fourth consecutive district track crown.

Fishing Facts

By HOWARD BYNUM

Hefty bass catches continue to be reported by anglers out at Lake Colorado City.

Infact, several whoppers have been boated during the last seven days.

J. A. Pickens, a local fisherman, caught a seven pound two ounce bass while casting a Shimmy Wiggler with black bucktail.

Driving over from Roscoe to try his luck at the lake, Clyde Ater was all smiles with a five pound eight ounce bass. He was successful with a bass bug.

B. W. Dorn, another local angler, caught seven bass that weighed from two to four and one-half pounds. He used minnows for bait.

Tops in bass catches was the big one hooked by Mrs. Charles Hines, a regular visitor at the lake from Big Spring.

The bass tipped the scales at eight pounds two ounces.

Mrs. Hines caught the whopper while fishing with rod and reel and baiting with large minnows.

Crappie are moving to shallow water at the lake to spawn. And that is making them hard to catch.

However, several crappie that were boated during recent days weighed well over two pounds.

Otis Cranfill took three channel cat off his trotline at the lake. And the three averaged four pounds each.

Reporting the best one-night catch was Brooks Dorn, who boated an 11 pound channel cat and a couple of three pounders. He used cut bait.

Buck Boatright also had good luck with a trotline last week. He caught two yellow cat - one weighing seven pounds and other weighing seven pounds eight ounces. The first was hooked Wednesday evening with rabbit liver as bait. His second big one was taken off the line Thursday.

Boatright also caught several channel cat on the trotline at mouth of Cherry Creek.

AT LOCAL APPLIANCE STORES

'Most Improved' Gas Ranges to Feature Annual Spring Showing

The most advanced automatic gas ranges ever to hit the retail market will be on display in Colorado City during April and May when the annual spring showing of new lines is held by gas appliance dealers and Lone Star Gas Company.

The 1956 gas range models have been termed by members of the gas industry as the "most improved" line from the standpoint of technical and automatic advances ever produced by manufacturers.

Gas appliance dealers offer numerous attractions for customers. To signal the showing of 1956 gas range lines in their stores, gas appliance dealers will display special window signs. Inside, "mobiles" and other display pieces will point to the new models in floor displays.

Numerous dealers will hold special demonstrations to show advantages of modern gas cookery. Some will serve refreshments and offer special gifts to persons who visit their stores.

Because of the revolution brought about in cookery by the new automatic topburner control, the theme of the spring showing of gas ranges will be "Now It's Time for Tops."

To acquaint homemakers with this new method of cooking, many gas appliance dealers will offer special prices, discounts and trade-in on gas ranges during the spring campaign. Also, special terms with low down payments will be offered by some dealers.

Advertising during the two months of the spring range campaign also will point to another major feature of the modern gas range. That is the "no hangover heat" advantage of the top-burner control which automatically adjusts the gas flame to maintain the cooking temperature set by a dial. This prevents boilovers and scorching of foods.

Gas ranges ignite instantly and turn off instantly and there is no excess or "hangover heat" to continue cooking or burners that retain heat after cooking is completed. This feature keeps the homemaker cooler.

Mrs. Warner Is Host For Easter Guests

Easter week end guests in the home of Mrs. A. E. Warner here were Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam Moates and daughter, Ruth Ann, of the Houston area.

Joining the group for Sunday luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Odell Fuller of Ropesville, Tommy Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warner and daughter, Joan.

Miss Warner returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Moates for a visit.

Visit Bennett Homes

Mr. and Mrs. John Hickman of Fort Worth were week end guests of the Bennett brothers—Joe Bennett, Tom Bennett, James Bennett and Alva Bennett—and their families.

Numerous other advantages and convenience features are available with the purchase of 1956 gas range models. They enhance the beauty of a modern kitchen—and are equipped with new automatic indicators, rotisseries; automatic devices and ovens which are actually cool to the touch.

More and more manufacturers are leaning toward the production of the all-purpose ranges that provide other extra freedoms in gas cookery. Automatic gas ranges on display during the spring showing incorporate functions one performed by many auxiliary cooking devices that occupied needed space in the kitchen.

Features on the 1956 models take the place of griddles, deep-fat fryers, rotisseries, dutch ovens and incorporate other such new features as cool ignition pilots, automatic timers, foldaway burners and full size ovens and regular size burners on small ranges.

The revolutionary thermostatic top burner control this year brings automation into cooking. With this control plain percolators become automatic coffee makers, frying pans become automatic skillets and sauce pans become automatic baking ovens or deep-fat fryers.

The top burner control lights automatically and quickly reaches and holds preset heat until cooking is done. The homemaker starts by consulting a recipe, then dials the exact temperature wanted. The control automatically raises and lowers the flame to keep cooking utensil and its contents at a constant temperature.

The homemaker can now get the same precise results on top of the burner that she formerly got in her oven.

HIDDEN GRIDDLE—This homemaker has reason to be pleased with the built-in, hidden griddle featured on this gas range. The cast aluminum griddle on the smart chromium-topped range lifts out easily for cleaning. Its cover, also chromium, is hinged to stand behind the griddle to protect the back panel from grease splatters. It also doubles as a serving tray.

Human Relations — World's No. 1 Problem

By W. G. VOLLMER, President The Texas and Pacific Railway Company

The months and years which lie ahead bring with them opportunities and challenges, together with an age-old problem which has plagued mankind since the dawn of civilization.

It is the problem of man's inability to achieve good human relations throughout the world. Like the pot of gold at the rainbow's end, the solution always is just over the horizon — always evading the grasp of man.

Hopeful Signs
Despite man's failure to achieve the goal of worldwide good human relations, he has progressed materially and morally, socially and spiritually. Never before in the long annals of history have so many people worked so earnestly and resolutely for universal good human relations, as they are doing today.

The greatest measure of good human relations is to be found in those nations of the world where the climate of freedom exists... where the rights and liberties of man are recognized as coming from a power higher than the state.

A Matter of Respect
Good human relations, whether worldwide or local, are founded upon faith in, and respect for, the rights and freedom of others... upon faith in God, ourselves and our fellow men.

Bad human relations thrive on doubt and fear, suspicion and distrust, greed and selfishness and indifference to the rights and freedoms of others.

Human relations, in some form, are with us always. They are a vital part of everything we do. They exist in the home, on the job, in business and industry, in the professions and in government.

America Sets Example
The progress and prosperity of our nation provides abundant evidence of the high quality and character of the good human relations we long have enjoyed. No other people on earth have so much freedom, so many opportunities, so much respect for the rights of others, so many of the good things of life, as does our nation.

The personal well-being of each of us... of business and industry everywhere... of our nation and of the world, is measured by the quality and character of human relations.

The achievement of good human relations the world over is one of man's most pressing problems. Its solution would bring joy and happiness to the hearts of people everywhere... and peace to a troubled world.

In our dealings with our friends and neighbors, and with the men and women of the I & P family, we strive constantly and earnestly to maintain a mutually pleasant and profitable relationship. It is our conviction that good human relations, like charity, should begin at home.
