Texas Towns Are Snapping Back To Life

Three Are Killed, 53 Injured After Monday Twister

(By The Associated Press)

McKINNEY, May 4—Order returned quickly today to wind-battered McKinney, struck late yesterday by a tornadic storm that left three dead here and in nearby Princeton, injured 53 and made an estimated 700 persons homeless.

Relief agencies quickly supplied food and shelter for the homeless, restored communications and electric current and prevented looting.

Flattens Mill District

Striking suddenly out of clouds that plunged the city into darkness in mid-afternoon, the storm flattened most of the city's mill district at the southern edge. It leap - frogged over the western residential district, knocking over homes at random, and swept on to Princeton, six miles east.

Spectators, viewing the splintered wreckage, marveled that the death list was not heavier. A Dallas weather bureau expert gave an opinion that perhaps the tornado struck here in its formative stage and had not attained full force.

The dead were Mrs. Yola Lowry, 78, and Arthur Lee Holmes, 14, of McKinney, and Gordon H. Maynor, 35, of Princeton. Maynor, a farmer, was killed by lightning as he drove a tractor in a field.

The McKinney victims were hit by flying debris.

The Veterans administration hospital here, to which most of the injured were taken, said only one of the hurt was believed to be in a serious condition. He was Frank Turner, a textile mill worker.

Relief workers poured in. Earl Walker, chairman of the Collin county Red Cross, said "everybody pitched in and helped us to get back on our feet."

The Salvation Army and the Red Cross took over rescue, relief and information work. A mobile radio unit from the Dallas naval reserve station and ham radio operators established emergency communications after the storm had ripped out all but one telephone line. Marines from the Dallas naval reserve station patrolled the streets last night.

Gov. Beauford Jester came from Austin today to survey the damage. The Fourth Army disas-

Several farm houses were unroofed near Cumby in Hopkins county and trees uprooted near Commerce.

Buildings Destroyed

At Merit, in Hunt county, the Masonic hall suffered damage and two other buildings were destroyed by high winds.

V. L. Trammell of the Cross Roads community south of Athens in Henderson county was injured slightly when his automobile was caught in a wind, hail and rain storm five miles south of Athens.

A house near the scene was damaged by the wind while heavy hail damaged roofs and window panes west and south of Athens. Power lines were blown down south of that city, but golf ball-

Fast Approval Of Draft Bill Is Predicted

Martin Sees Early Floor Debate; GOP Opposes UMT Rider

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 4—Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr., predicted today that the House will approve the bill to draft men in the 19 through 25 year group for military service.

Martin did not commit himself one way or another on the two-year draft program okayed overwhelmingly yesterday by the House armed services committee. But he said it will be brought up for debate "as fast as possible."

"I don't see any reason why it won't pass," he added.

UMT Fought

Meanwhile, there were strong signs that House GOP leaders would scuttle any effort to link to the draft bill a delayed-action plan for universal military training. Rep. Harry L. Towe, R., N.J., has said he may propose a step.

The first indication of the leadership's attitude came yesterday from House Republican Whip Leslie Arends of Illinois. He said he would fight the draft bill if, during debate on the floor, it is tied up with UMT.

Arends, a member of the armed services committee, voted for the draft bill but he cautioned army officials against any "backstage maneuvering" to put UMT into effect whenever the draft dies.

Senate Undaunted

Martin would not say whether Arends spoke for the leadership generally. From other sources, however, it was reported he did. Martin and other House leaders do not like UMT. A separate UMT bill has been pigeonholed since last July.

The Senate armed services committee was undaunted by growing evidence that no UMT measure will pass the House at this session. It continued work on a plan to combine a 19-through-25 draft with a modified form of UMT for 18-year-olds.

Senate action on money for Air Force expansion was delayed by other business. The $3,233,000 bill carries $3,198,000,000 for buying some up-to-date planes at once and for putting in orders for others.

It passed the House 343 to 3. Senate sponsors hoped to bring it to a vote there late this week.

Martin, talking to reporters, based his prediction that the draft

154 Are Executed By Firing Squads

ATHENS, May 4 (U.P.)—Greek firing squads executed 154 alleged guerrillas and Communists today for the biggest single day's work in a long series of mass executions.

Authorities reported that the bulk of those executed today had been under death sentence for a long time for purported crimes committed during the bloody uprising and civil strife late in 1944.

Significantly, the red letter day for the firing squads came amidst a roundup prompted by the assassination of Justice Minister Cristos Ladas. Officials said "hundreds of dangerous Communists" had been arrested in connection with the investigation.

Flying Boat Downed In South Pacific

SYDNEY, May 4 (U.P) — A big Australian flying boat carrying 17 persons was down at sea today among the romantic islands of the South Pacific, radio reports intercepted here said.

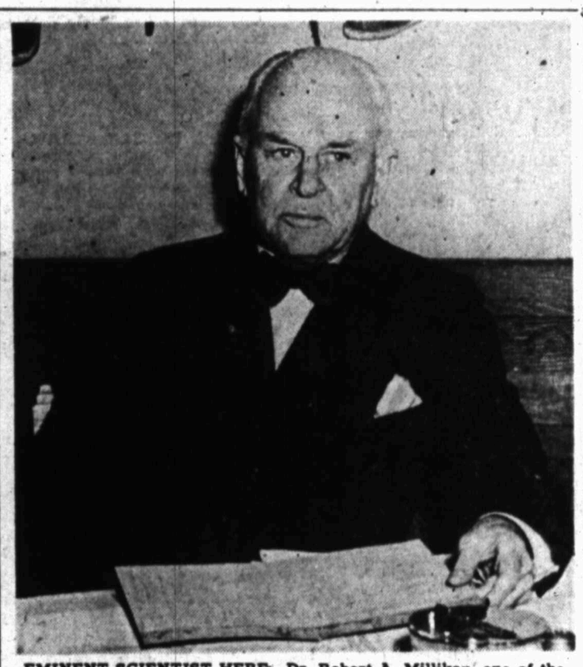

All aboard, including two movie figures, one an American, were believed safe, and the radio reports indicated the plane had taxied into the palm-fringed lagoon of Tau island in the American Samoa group.

DR. ROBERT MILLIKAN SAYS:

Collective Security Is World Problem

BY OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

The problem in the world today would be just the same if there weren't an atomic bomb, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, one of the world's foremost scientists who is here to deliver several speeches at Texas Technological college, said here this morning.

There is no doubt in the eminent scientist's mind of what the major problem in the world is. The problem is one of developing collective security, he stated.

Must Abolish War

War must be abolished, he said. "There is only one possible way to do it. That is by the principle of collective security. That is for the peace loving people of the world to unite their strength to put down international banditry, wherever it appears."

Such a plan has not yet succeeded, but the United Nations organization "has made a good start toward doing the job," said Dr. Millikan, who has been cited for accomplishment in both World war I and World war II, who has won the Nobel prize in physics, the Edison medal for meritorious work in field of electricity, the Hughes medal of the Royal society in recognition of his determination of the electronic charge and other physical constants and other recognition.

Cited For His Work

He was cited in World war I for work in developing the first U-boat detection device, in World war II for his rocket development.

The 80-year-old scientist, who has been active in science well over a half century, is professor emeritus of physics at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena and is chairman of the

Bogota Severs Red Relations

BOGOTA, Colombia, May 4. (AP)—Colombia became the third Latin American nation today to sever diplomatic relations with Russia. A break has been expected ever since President Mariano Ospina Perez blamed international Communism for the bloody April 9 revolution.

The Colombian cabinet decided on the break late yesterday. A short time later a note announcing the action was delivered to the Soviet legation. Its contents were not disclosed.

Broadcast In English

The government radio broadcast in English an announcement of the rupture last night. Informants believed the government will inform Colombian citizens of its decision today.

Colombia's action followed the suit of Chile and Brazil. Both broke with the Soviets Oct. 21, 1947. A 21-nation decision condemning international Communism was passed by the an American conference.

For the past month responsible sources say, Ospina Perez and his conservative cabinet colleagues have been trying to persuade liberal party members that Colombia should break with the U.S.S.R.

Observers believe the liberals were swung over last week when Carlos Arango Velez, Colombian ambassador to the Vatican, chief Colombian delegate to the Pan American conference and a top liberal leader, declared in a radio speech that Communists engineered the April 9 uprising, which

Houston Juke Box War Not Expected

HOUSTON, May 4 (U.P.)—Even though his building was splattered with bullet holes and a plate glass window broken, John Alee today refused to believe the shooting signaled the start of a juke box war.

Alee said he was in Galveston Saturday night when the shooting occurred. He said he believed hoodlums were responsible since he wasn't having any trouble with anybody.

Investigating officers said Alee's building was fired on about 9:30 p. m. Saturday. An anonymous phone call to a Houston newspaper yesterday indicated the shooting was the start of a gang war.

Taft, Stassen Fight In Ohio Tops Interest

Senator Predicts Minnesotan Will Suffer Setback

(By The Associated Press)

Ohio Republicans gave Harold E Stassen his answer today to how many of the state's presidential nominating votes he can take away from Senator Robert A. Taft.

The Minnesotan is seeking 23 of the 53 delegates Taft's home state will send to the Philadelphia convention next month. Stassen supporters claim up to 19. But Taft's backers said the former Minnesota governor would be lucky to get six—the senator himself gave Stassen only one at most.

Higher Price Supports

Stassen closed his Ohio campaign with a speech at Cleveland calling for higher farm price supports—a step Taft opposes.

Taft wound up his campaign in his home city of Cincinnati with a declaration that he would join anyone in a fight against Communism — even Fascist nations, "because Fascism now is no threat to our freedom."

Communism also was the subject of another GOP presidential aspirant, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who takes on Stassen in Oregon's May 21 primary.

Proposals Attacked

Campaigning for support in that contest Dewey last night attacked proposals—which Stassen has backed—to outlaw the Communist party.

To take such action, the New Yorker declared, would be to adopt the methods of Communism itself.

At Columbus, Mo., third party candidate Henry A. Wallace, told hecklers they were "fellow travelers" for interfering with his speech. Wallace had just commented that he would not enjoy freedom of speech in Russia.

In addition to the Taft-Stassen headline race in Ohio, Democratic voters picked 50 national convention delegates and both parties chose candidates for 23 House seats, the governorship and the state ticket.

Other States Voting

There was voting, too, in Alabama, Delaware, Florida and Indiana, but only in Alabama was any major political issue involved.

Democrats there selected 26 convention delegates from a field of 84 candidates—29 of whom have said they will quit the con-

CHELSEA, Mass., May 4 (U.P.)—Workers resumed digging with shovels and a crane today for a laborerer who plunged into an earth crevice while at work Saturday.

Two Factions Fight To Gain Demo Control

Conventions Held To Pick Delegates To State Meeting

(By The Associated Press)

Texas Democrats pushed and shoved today over control of their county conventions.

The main issue was whether the conventions would line up with the state Democratic executive

JESTER'S NAME BOOED

AUSTIN, May 4 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester's name was booed today by a combination of pro-Truman, pro-Eisenhower and anti-uninstructed Travis county Democrats at a tumultuous county convention.

The Truman-Eisenhower combine apparently had complete control of the convention. Resolutions to be adopted later in the day were expected to reflect predominantly Eisenhower strength.

committee's stand against instructed delegates to the national convention, or follow a pro-Truman faction which wants a flat endorsement of the President to succeed himself.

Conventions Important

Today's conventions are important, because they name delegates to the state meeting at Brownwood May 25. There Texas' stand in the national party meeting at Philadelphia will be decided.

Fights had been expected. They were as good as promised yesterday by a burst of angry words between the leaders of the two warring camps.

The state's Republicans, fewer in number than the Democrats, were expected to cause about as much noise at county conventions to decide who runs their party in Texas and who will win their support. The Republican state convention is May 25 at Corpus Christi.

Lineup To Be Watched

The lineup from the big voting cities will be watched with interest today. Led by Harris county the urban centers have great voting strength in the state conventions.

State Democratic Chairman Robert W. Calvert started the convention-eve wrangling with a pointed attack on Woodville J. Rogers, leader of pro-Truman Texans.

Rogers snapped back a quick denial of most of Calvert's remarks. Later, Caso March, another Truman backer, came verbally to Rogers' aid.

Calvert called Rogers a "self-appointed leader" and said the Truman backers want to leave the platform up to "northern political bosses."

He asked, "who wants a delegation pledge to Truman?"

And he answered himself:

"Woodville Rogers of San Antonio, self-appointed leader of the self-righteous who has not yet recovered from the fact that his candidate for governor was defeated in 1946 and that he was

The teachers struck to support their demand for a single-salary schedule.

Members of the AFL Teacher's Alliance placed picket lines at schools throughout the city.

Honor Picket Lines

Members of the Independent Teachers' association had voted at a meeting today to honor the picket lines. Of the city's 1,200 teachers, about 600 are members of the AFL union and 400 belong to the independent association.

Officials said that less than 40 teachers reported to their classes today.

Hope Dim In Rail Dispute

Federal Mediator Sees Little Chance Of Halting Walkout Set For May 11

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 4—A nationwide railroad strike, set to start a week from today, appears likely, says a federal mediator who has been striving to head off the walkout of three operating brotherhoods.

"It looks very much like there might be a strike," said Frank Douglass, chairman of the National Mediation Board yesterday. "The picture does not look good."

His comment followed four days of apparently unsuccessful meetings with the unions and carriers. However, he said the board planned further sessions today in a final attempt to settle the wage dispute.

"Tuesday might very well be our last day in Chicago," Douglass told newsmen. "If the picture doesn't change we may well decide there is nothing more to do here."

Douglass said that the "White House was being kept informed of the progres of negotiations."

There was no immediate word from Washington if some government action might be expected. Douglass did not disclose who was being kept advised at the White House on the talks here.

There appears no further step for the government to take to head off the strike by the carriers' key workers—some 190,000 engineers, firemen and switchmen — which would cripple the country's rail service. Old Refrigerator Death Trap For Five Children At Dumas

(By The Associated Press)

DUMAS, May 4—Five children —three from one family, two from another—suffocated in an unused, airtight refrigerator here yesterday.

Dead were Charles Richard Nichols, 7; Allen Jackson Nichols, 3; Ralph Gordon Nichols, 4; Patricia Hill, 6, and Arthur Dennis Hill, 4.

Their parents were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Nichols and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hill.

The children had been missing about three hours when Mrs. Hill found them.

She saw them through the double glass doors of the display-type meat box. It stands abandoned on a vacant lot across an alley behind the Hill home.

Doctors tried to revive the children but failed.

Hill said, "the wind must have blown the door shut."

"Either that," said Mrs. Hill, "or the youngsters closed the door after they got in the box."

A 30-mile-an-hour north wind was blowing against the face of the box.

TRYING TO MAKE UP HIS LOSSES

Bank Bandit Gives Up And Confesses

(By The Associated Press)

HUNTSVILLE, May 4—Charges of armed robbery were filed today against William Carl Sullivan, 24, of Riverside, Tex., for the robbery of the New Waverly State bank yesterday.

Sullivan gave himself up three hours after the robbery, and $1,924 was recovered. Bank officials indicated this was within approximately $120 of the loss.

The charge was filed in Justice of the Peace R. E. Franklow's court.

Had Lost Money

Sheriff Lloyd Farris quoted Sullivan as saying he took the money to try to make up for money he lost going broke in the cattle business.

The bank was robbed about noon. Farris said Sullivan walked up to Highway Patrolmen Elmer Nichols and A. L. Bouldin here about 3 p. m. and told them he understood the sheriff was looking for him.

Farris had gone to Riverside after finding the money and a gun in a car driven by two persons. The patrolmen took Sullivan there, then to New Waverly so bank officers could see him.

The sheriff said the car was in William Carl Sullivan's name. He said that the two persons in it knew nothing of the robbery and that Sullivan told in his statement of trading cars with the man who was driving the automobile. He quoted Sullivan as saying he left the gun and money in a suitcase in the car.

The sheriff said Leon Bilnoski, vice president of the New Waverly bank, recalled after the robbery that a man answering the robber's description had spent a lot of time in front of the bank a week ago.

Official records listed them as:

Arthur Lowry, 26, sentenced to two years for theft over $50.

Stanley Jones, 22, a negro, four years for robbery.

Robert Eddie Waller, 31, of Morton, five years for forgery.

Delbert Phillips, 35, 10 years for theft over $50.

Samuel James Taylor, 42, a Slaton negro, four years for burglary.

Rushed To Hospital

Police said a 43-year-old man of 300-block Hub homes, arrested Monday and charged with drunkenness, was rushed to a hospital in the night after being found with his belt fashioned as a noose around his neck and the other end tied to a bar in a jail cell. His condition was not disturbing after treatment, it was announced.

Two women were charged today in connection with their Monday arrest for investigation into shoplifting, Detective Capt. Pat Davidson said. One allegedly had a ham and a chicken hidden under her skirt.

The charge named Gladys Wheeler, 48, and Neva Roach, 26, who were accused of theft of a a bolt of cloth valued at $25 from A. H. Maas, of Montgomery Ward and Company.

Identified by officers as mother and daughter, they had not explained this morning how they

World May See Many Important Issues Answered This Year

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

President Truman says the present year "may well determine the world's future."

The Chief Executive expressed this striking view yesterday in a message of greeting to the AFL Upholsters' international convention in Washington. He didn't say what impelled him to such belief but left it to us to figure out for ourselves. That constitutes something of a challenge, so let's see what decisive events are on the fire in this year which already is one-third spent.

Naturally our first thought is that the remaining eight months may well bring us to the crisis in the cold-war between Russia and the democracies. That is, the cold war either will have developed into a shooting war o we shall have substantiation for our belief that another global conflict isn't inevitable. Certainly the world's fate hangs in the balance.

Other Problems

That's the number 1 issue, but interlocked with it are many other momentous matters. For instance, can Russia be held along the line which she has established across central Europe or will she be able to surge westward? Any further great movement toward the English channel might easily be fatal to world peace.

We shall learn whether the new alignment of the nations in western Europe in conjunction with the Marshall plan is the real thing or just a flash in the pan. In short we shall know whether the democracies have the courage of their convictions.

Can Italy and France — both strategic states in the Democratic bloc—overcome the double handicap of fierce economic depression and the assault of powerful Communist parties which take their orders from Moscow? Can England pull herself out of her economic tail-spin and reestablish the military strength essential to this sentinel of western Democracy? Present indications are that the answer to both these questions is in the affirmative.

Will See Red Power

We shall have a far better idea of whether Russia can hold down those countries like Czechoslovakia, Poland and Hungary, which she has subjugated. We also shall see what progress the Soviet Union makes in post-war reconstruction, upon which would depend her ability to engage in another major conflict.

And while we are on this subject of reconstruction let's not overlook that upon American strength hinges the fate of Democracy. Any display of weakness, due to internal dissension, might be an invitation to disaster. It might produce the world conflict which we are trying to avert.

Apropos of this, we shall discover in the balance of this year whether the still free nations have learned the hard lesson that Communism is the greatest threat Democracy ever has faced. And we shall find out whether England and America and the other democracies mean business when they declare war on red organizations within their own borders.

Jewish Question

Then of course the generation-old issue of the Jewish national home may be settled—in one way or another. The prayer is that it may not have to be decided by a Jihad, or Holy war—the most terrible of all conflicts. Whether it can be settled by negotiation depends in large degree on the United Nations.

And what of our peace organization? Its fate fits into the general picture of this decisive year. The view of many close observers is that the U.N. will have to be remodeled to enable it to function. Then the nations of good will—which comprise a big majority of the globe's countries — would have a chance to do constructive work.

Yes, it could be that this year would determine the world's future.

CHICAGO, May 4 (AP)—Maine was the only chilly spot on today's early morning weather map with other sections of the country reporting temperatures at seasonable levels.

Rain fell in scattered sections. The heaviest falls were in sections of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana. Memphis reported a fall of 1.22 inches in six hours. There also were showers in parts of Kentucky, Indiana, Missouri, Oklahoma and Montana.

White Home-Owners Wishing To Keep Colored Residents Out May No Longer Seek Court Aid

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — White home-owners who want to keep colored residents out of their neighborhoods may no longer look to the courts for help.

The Supreme court said so in two 6 to-0 decisions yesterday But the tribunal at the same time told the white owners:

1. They can get together among themselves and make all the private restrictive agreements they wish so long as the purposes are carried out by voluntary means alone.

2. No matter how discriminatory or wrongful such private agreements may be, those excluded because of them can expect to find no redress in the 14th amendment to the constitution.

The two opinions written for the court by Chief Justice Vinson mentioned only agreements based on "race or color."

Hence there was widespread speculation as to what effect the decisions would have on restrictive agreements — or covenants— which bar other minority groups, such as Jews, Mexicans and Syrians.

Government attorneys who sided with the colored people in arguing the cases which were decided yesterday refused to comment publicly. But one of them said privately he considers the ruling to apply to all minority groups, not just those defined by race or color.

The issue may remain obscure, however, until one or more new test cases are decided.

Negro spokesmen praised yesterday's ruling. Real estate interests showed little alarm.

Robert T. Furman, jr., vice president of the National Real Estate Clearing House, said in New York:

"People will and are entitled to choose their associates and will continue to do so. It need not be a matter of law. Any good real estate broker endeavors to locate his clients where they will be happy, and he does not consciously detract from a neighborhood by introducing either an undesirable structure or resident."

Notable Achievement

In Washington, Thurman L. Dodson, president of the National Bar association composed of some 900 negro lawyers, described the opinions as "a notable achievement in the negro's perennial struggle to eradicate his second class citizenship status." Dodson added:

"America need never fear the deadly infiltration of foreign ideologies when it gives such a forthright answer to those who would destroy our American democracy by bigotry, intolerance and racism."

Thurgood Marshall, special counsel to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the ruling "gives thousands of prospective home buyers throughout the United States new courage and hope in the American form of government."

In holding that private agreements are not illegal, Vinson explained the court's views this way:

"Restrictive agreements standing alone cannot be regarded as a violation of any rights guaranteed by the 14th amendment. So long as the purposes of these agreements are effectuated by voluntary adherence to their terms, it would appear clear that there has been no action by the state."

Overrules Courts

This statement was given by the chief justice in overturning rulings by state courts in St. Louis and Detroit cases. In both cities negro purchasers of property were enjoined from using houses because of restrictive agreements. The state courts had held the agreements were enforceable by court injunctions.

But, said Vinson, such state court action violates the 14th amendment's command that "no state shall make or enforce any law which shall . . . deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law."

He recalled that the amendment was adopted shortly after the Civil war and commented:

"The matter of primary concern was the establishment of equality in the enjoyment of basic civil and political rights and the preservation of those rights from discriminatory action on the part of the states based on considerations of race or color."

The high court similarly reversed the federal court for the District of Columbia in two cases affecting property sold to colored persons.

Federal Courts Barred

In the Washington cases, the Chief Justice said, federal courts are barred from such action by the Civil Rights act of 1866. This act was passed about the same time that the 14th amendment — which applies solely to state action — was adopted.

The 1866 act requires that "all citizens shall have the same rights in every state and territory, as is enjoyed by white citizens thereof to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold, and convey real and personal property."

In the Washington cases, Vinson also said the 1866 act does not invalidate private agreements.

Neither decision, however, gave any hint as to how these agreements might be enforced.

Unofficial speculation centered around two possibilities.

One is that organizations similar to clubs may be set up, with membership limited to persons who meet certain qualifications.

The other takes the form of a "conservation agreement" setting up "standards of use" for residences in a given neighborhood.

Justices Jackson, Reed and Rutledge did not say why they eliminated themselves from participation in the cases.

Group Theater Play Is Well Received

The maiden performance of Lubbock's Group theater, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," was greeted by Lubbock playgoers Monday night as a promising indication of entertaining presentations to come.

Approximately 800 persons saw the Hart-Kaufman comedy in Senior High school auditorium. The individual performances were good, those in attendance agreed.

Play Outstanding Ports

Outstanding in the cast were Harrison Butterworth, the man who came to dinner and stayed considerably longer; Mrs. John Robert Moxley, who played the part of his secretary, Maggie Cutler; Bill Thurman, who played Bert Jefferson, the newspaper reporter; and Norma Day, who played the part of Lorraine Sheldon, an actress.

Other members of the cast were Susan Phelps, Mrs. J. E. Wooten, Leonard Shannon, Mrs. Ronald Nabors, Richard Kelisky, Billie Hutchings, Mrs. H. L. Allen, jr., Mrs. Joseph B. Jenkins, Lloyd Croslin, Charles E. Musson, Mrs. George Wilson, Henry Fisher, C. H. Cummings, Don Reeder, Aubrey Thompson, David Blackbird, Jeff Justice, G. V. Pardue, jr., W. C. Mauzey, Cliff Elliott, Weldon George, Dick Cozby, Henry Musson and Dave Dawkins.

GOP Fight Looms In County Meet Today

With prospects for explosive fireworks in the Republican meeting, Lubbock county Democrats hold their county conventions this afternoon at the courthouse to name delegates to state conventions later this month.

The Republicans, split wide open between two rival factions were to meet at 2 p. m. in the District courtroom. The executive committee was to meet an hour earlier.

Demo Session May Be Quiet

Delegates from the Demo precinct conventions held over the county Saturday meet at 3 p. m. in the courtroom. No unusual action is expected to come from the Democratic meeting, with possible exception of some disagreement over whether to send an instructed or uninstructed delegation to the state convention in Brownwood May 25. However, most precinct delegates were believed uninstructed.

The GOP meeting is another matter. One faction, led by County GOP chairman John L. Vaughan is expected to face opposition from a group headed by M. D. Temple, chairman of the Lubbock County Republican club, members of which walked out of at least two precinct conventions Saturday to hold rump conventions and name their own delegates.

L. C. Ellis, county Democratic chairman, last night was still awaiting answer to a telegram sent Monday to State Democratic committee headquarters to determine the number of delegates Lubbock county is entitled to send to the state meet.

Of 900,000 people eligible for Social Security, only 288,000 have applied because they cannot afford to retire and live on Social Security.
—Henry Morgenthau.

WOULD YOU WORK 5 YEARS for $6.15 a month?

If you are now age 35 and have earned and continue to earn at least $3,000 a year under Social Security, at age 60 you will be entitled to a benefit of $50.25 a month. Payments will begin when you are age 65. If you continue to earn $3,000, and work right on until you are 65, you will get $6.15 a month more from your Social Security. But would you work five years longer for $6.15 a month more?

Chances are, you couldn't live on $50.25 a month—or $56.40 either, for that matter. Chances are, you couldn't afford to quit. But you can afford to quit when you are 60 if you supplement your Social Security now, while you are earning a steady income. Which would mean the most to you—five more years of labor, or five years sooner in which to start taking life easy?

You can supplement your Social Security benefits with Southwestern Life Insurance to guarantee yourself an income of $100, $150, $200 a month—or for any amount you wish—and quit when you are 60! There's a Southwestern Life retirement plan to fit every pocketbook. Let me show you today how to combine your Social Security benefits with Southwestern Life Insurance. The sooner you hear the facts, the more you will know about how easily and conveniently you can combine life insurance with Social Security.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Offered Marriage By Lad, 21, Girl Admits He Has Valuable Traits But Likes Worldly Men

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Four years ago when I was a very uncertain 16, I met Jay, a forceful 17-year-old. We were acting together in a school play, started dating, soon agreed to "go steady" and this continued for two years, although meantime he had joined the service.

Although we were very much in love, as we understood the term, gradually I began seeing other boys—in fact, a great many—both before and after Jay got home. He knew about most of them, but I've since regretted not playing quite fairly—as to instances he didn't know about.

When I was 19 we finally broke off, agreeing that it was about time we got acquainted with more of the population, and I may say I gave the final push. Then ensued for me a period of varied and heavy dating with all sorts of men, which has given me a good idea of what I want in the man I marry.

IS SHE ASKING FOR THE MOON?

HOWEVER, three months ago I met Jay again and dated him a few times subsequently; and last week he asked to marry me. He has a very promising position in law, my parents like him a great deal and I do, too; but I'm not sure I can reconcile his somewhat immature personality with what I want my husband to be.

I've often met men who've seen the world, know what it's all about, and (more important) approach life with a certain amount of maturity that I feel is missing in Jay, although he is definitely ahead of many men four or five years older than he.

Jay has many qualities not easily found that are very valuable to happy marrige; and I wonder therefore if I am reaching for the moon, or being overly-cautious—if that's possible in choosing a life partner. At present I am a college senior, working 30 hours a week in a very responsible enjoyable job that will be permanent when I graduate shortly.

Signed:
B. N.

CONFUSED TERMS IN JUDGING BOY

DEAR B. N.: Aren't you confusing maturity with sophistication, in weighing Jay's attributes and finding him wanting as compared to worldly wise older men who've "seen life," the the saying goes, and seem to know what it's all about?

Maturity is one thing and sophistication quite another; and whereas maturity has to do with functioning strength of character, sophistication is, in esence, to be deprived of original simplicity or naturalness.

Maturity is a quality of personality composed of many elements, according to Drs. Edward Strecker and Kenneth Appel.

Among these elements are ability to stick to a job, giving more than is asked or required; persistence in carrying out a goal in the face of difficulties, or willingness to persevere until one has given all he has in the endeavor; determination, the will to achieve, to succeed:—"the will to life."

LAD'S MUCH MORE MATURE THAN GIRL

ENDURANCE is an attribute of maturity: endurance of discomforts, frustrations, hardships. So is the ability to size things up and make one's own decisions, which implies a considerable amount of independence.

The mature personality is cooperative, adaptive, capable of compromise; he is able to work with others, in organizations or under authority. He is flexible, he can defer to time, persons, circumstances; and, above all, he is reliable.

Your reference to Jay's forceful character and many valuable traits suggest that he is mature beyond his years, far more mature than you, indeed, to judge by his poised perseverance in coping with the uncertainties of your frivolous performances; but if you don't love and admire him wholeheartedly, don't marry him.

In conclusion, I suggest that this ideal husband you have in mind is really a father-figure in disguise, and that in breaking with Jay a year ago, you were backing away from growing up—from accepting the discipline of mature-type fealty to one man for life.

M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of The Lubbock Evening Journal.

COMPROMISE TRY IS FRUITLESS

Senate Nears Oleo Repealer Decision

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 4 — The Senate neared a decision today on what to do with the House-approved oleomargarine tax repealer. The vote could decide the final fate of the bill.

Eleventh hour efforts to compromise differences between oleo and butter supporters proved fruitless.

The bill, which the House passed last week after a bitter fight, was tangled up in the Senate in a complicated parliamentary snarl involving one rule which had not been invoked in more than a quarter of a century until yesterday and another in apparent conflict with that rule.

Compromise Attempted

Senate President Vandenberg (R-Mich) told reporters he was inclined to ask the full membership to vote on unscrambling the issue. It concerns whether the bill should go to (1) the calendar, where it might be called up for action at any time, (2) the tax-writing finance committee or (3) the agriculture committee.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt), a member of the agriculture committee, tried to work out a compromise with some of the advocates of the bill last night, but no agreement was reached.

The oleo supporters want the bill referred to the finance committee. They think it has a better chance there of receiving prompt and favorable action than in the agriculture committee.

Confer At Length

Aiken and five other interested senators conferred for an hour and a half. He said the conferees discussed ways of guaranteeing that oleo shall not be sold as butter in public eating places.

The objective was to get an agreement on such a provision with the idea that the oleo supporters might then withdraw their insistence that the bill go to the finance committee.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark), one of the leading advocates of the tax repeal, said no agreement was reached. He added he saw little chance that one would be in time to avert a Senate vote today.

Aiken said among the proposals discussed, were ones to require (a) manufacture of oleo in distinctive shapes, a proposal the House rejected, (b) use of a different shade of yellow, and (c) that hotels, restaurants and other eating places which serve margarine be licensed.

Cool Weather Felt In State

(By The United Press)

Moderate temperatures returned to Texas today on the heels of a cool front that pushed cyclonic winds, rain and hail into a wide sector of the northeast part of the state yesterday.

Sunny skies and readings in the eighties were predicted for heavily damaged McKinney and Collin county, where the full force of a tornado struck in mid-afternoon Monday.

The U. S. weather bureau reported an outbreak of cooler weather all the way to the Gulf coast and over most of the state except in the extreme south portion. The rain belt stretched from Fort Worth southward, concentrating in extreme Northeast Texas. Texarkana recorded 1.58 inches of rain, Dallas .24 and Fort Worth .05.

Early morning temperatures in the thirties hit West Texas, with both Amarillo and Clarendon at a 39-degree level. By contrast, Brownsville, in deep South Texas, reported a minimum of 77. The range was gradual, however, with Dallas recording 56 and Waco 61.

Badly needed rainfall still eluded most of West Texas, and none was forecast.

Lamesa Votes Today On $100,000 Issue

LAMESA, May 4 (Special) — Citizens of this city were voting today on proposed issuance of $100,000 in municipal bonds for completion of a water and sewer system expansion program.

(An erroneous report, possibly due to transmission or transcribing of a telegraphic dispatch, showed the amount as $1,000,000 in this morning's Avalanche.)

The $100,000, if approved, would supplement $350,000 in revenue bonds voted last year for the project. City Manager J. D. Wilson said there has been little active opposition to the proposal. He urged "every tax payer" to vote.

Smith, frame residence at 2520 Edna, $4,000, and H. F. McLarty, tile business building at 1011 Seventeenth, $1,500.

Funds For Families Of Victims Sought

Estes launched the drive with a $1,000 gift and about $5,000 more was raised within an hour.

The seedless apple had its origin from a freak tree in Virginia.

Santa Fe Officials, Armed With Industrial Facts, Depart Today

Officials of the Santa Fe railroad, here Monday and today to collect information on the potentialities for industry in this area, left Lubbock this afternoon well-armed with facts and figures regarding opportunities for prospective industrialists in Lubbock and on the South Plains.

"We have gathered a tremendous amount of valuable information in connection with our industrial survey of West Texas," Arthur A. Dailey, general advertising manager for the Santa Fe, of Chicago said. "It is evident that much thought and work was put in on the information and saved us having to ask a lot of questions. We wanted specific data, not just generalities, and that's what we got here.

Will Distribute Facts

"We did not come out here to tell you what you should offer," Dailey said. "We are students finding out what you already have learned. When we get the necessary information, we'll see that it reaches the right people in our advertising programs in various financial, industrial and trade magazines distributed principally in the East.

Dailey indicated West Texas might logically cash in on decentralization of industry, but that the area should seek only the types of industry best suited for the section.

"Industry is not especially interested in good schools, churches, homes and a fine climate," Dailey said. "They're more interested in water, power, taxes, type of labor, market, etc. The former assets are fine for a community to have and might add some influence on a manufacturer's decision, but the one thing industrialists must know is where a product can be made to put on the market cheaper than a rival.

"We will try to find the industrialist, and you can try to sell him," he added.

Officials Named

Dailey said an outline on the textile research project at Texas Tech conducted by Mark Wood under a project sponsored by the Santa Fe and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce given by Dean R. C. Goodwin and Wood in a meeting this morning "was the basis for an excellent report."

Jack O'Kieffe, vice president of the Leo Burnett company, which handles Santa Fe advertising; Jack Emery, director of research for Burnett; and Fred R. Thompson, account executive, all of Chicago, are aiding Dailey in making the survey.

The group was accompanied to Lubbock by D. A. Bandeen, manager, and L. A. Willkie, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce; R. H. Deitiker, general freight agent, and Ralph W. Ater, special public relations representative of the Santa Fe, both of Amarillo.

Five Prisoners

had obtained more than $150 worth of groceries and clothing of all sorts which were found in their automobile.

Caught Leaving Store

An employee of Furr Food store No. 5, at 1702 Texas Ave., caught the two suspects leaving the store with more than $10 worth of groceries. They had attempted to start a car parked near the store.

Officers said that the older woman, about 48, had hidden from view a ham and a chicken. Other items had also been taken by the 26-year-old woman, they said.

Included in the property found in the car were several women's dresses, hosiery, socks, shoes, a bolt of cloth, underwear, and a large box of groceries.

A third woman was seen in the party, but she had disappeared when police arrived at the store. She was believed to have been connected with the alleged offenses.

Women Borrowed Car

An Abernathy man, owner of the car, informed police he would be here today to accept delivery of the machine. He said the women had borrowed it.

Police sought to determine whether the large number of items of clothing had been stolen. Tags and sacks showed that the property came from numerous stores here.

Police arrested 13 women at local hotels last night and charged them with vagrancy by prostitution. One negro porter was charged with vagrancy by association with a prostitute. All were assessed $50 each in corporation court.

A bicycle was reported stolen from Norman Ashley, of Ashley courts. It was described as a Roadmaster, valued at $20. Another bike was reported stolen by Mrs. Ruth Perry, of 223 North Adams. It was described as a Rocket boys bike.

The Plumbers and Steam Fitters union, at 2002 Ave. J, reported theft of a Smith portable typewriter.

Charge Is Dismissed

County Judge Walter Davies, upon motion of County Attorney John Steele, dismissed a liquor law violation charge against G. A. Benton, alias C. S. Wilson, 50. He also dismissed two other liquor law violation complaints naming Wilson. In a fourth such complaint, naming Wilson, he accepted a fine of $100 and costs. The law firm of Burks and McNeil appeared for the defendant.

Steel's motions to dismiss recited "lack of evidence" and asked for dismissal "with prejudice."

J. S. Johnson, 49, pleaded innocent of drunk driving and of abusive language toward arresting police. Bonds of $500 and $100, respectively, were set in county court and in corporation court, officials said.

Negro Is Fined

Police fined a negro $75—$50 for disturbance and $25 for drunkenness—after he had to be removed by force from a negro woman's quarters at Sixteenth and Ave. X.

A 20-year-old youth who lives in 2600-block Thirtieth, tossed a firecracker from a cab Tuesday night in 1000-block Ave. J. It cost him $15.

A group of students were cleared from a cemetery, where they said they had gone as pledges of a fraternity. It was 3:36 a. m.

Texas Demos

kicked off the state Democratic executive committee, a small coterie of followers most of whom supported Dr. (Homer P.) Rainey in the governor's race in 1946, and the more radical of the labor leaders who have not followed Henry Wallace into the Progressive party."

Rogers branded this about half made up and said it indicates Calvert is scared.

He was not kicked off the executive committee, Rogers said — he just was not running for re-election to it. Besides, he said, he supported Grover Sellers for governor—not Rainey.

Stand Well Known

Furthermore, Rogers said, his stand on a permanent fair employment practices commission, on federal ownership of tidelands and on repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law was so well known that he needn't bother answering questions about how he stood on those points.

Reports from Dallas said Truman forces will make a strong bid for control of the county convention.

In Corpus Christi, the Junior Chamber of Commerce met in special session last night and passed a resolution urging all Jaycees in Texas to get into their party conventions and plug for repeal of the poll tax.

Among the Republicans, there was only one show of downright bitterness on convention eve. That was at San Antonio, where Philip Lee Eubank, Bexar county Republican executive committee member, said there were some shoddy doings at GOP precinct conventions there—enough illegal tricks to warrant a grand jury investigation.

Other Moves Made

There were a couple of moves among those who want an army man for president.

Gen. Johnathan Wainwright left San Antonio on a nationwide tour to try to build up support for Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

And at Austin, Carl B. Morris, executive secretary of the Draft Ike committee for Texas, said the Lone Star radio chain had denied his request for free time to boost Gen. Dwight Eisenhower as the Democratic presidential candidate. He said he had asked the time to balance a 30-minute program backing Truman.

High Winds

size hailstones failed to cause much damage in Athens.

Heavy rains struck at several points in North Texas, accompanied by hail at scattered points, but little damage was reported. The rain was welcome to crops.

At Texarkana, a complete blackout occurred around 8:30 p. m. last night when lightning struck a power line between there and Shreveport. Power was restored within five minutes, however, for hospitals and by 11 p. m. only a line from Texarkana to Ashdown, Ark., remained out of order. Two inches of rain fell at Texarkana with winds ranging up to 33 miles an hour reported.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

LIFT GIVEN MARKET

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP) — Bidders gave another lift to selected stocks in today's market although the urge to cash profits put brakes on many leaders.

Amusements were exceptions, exhibiting weakness throughout. The pace slowed now and then after midday but quickened toward the finish. Top marks running to a point or so were reduced in most cases at the close with the minus column well populated.

Volume for the full session expanded to around 1,500,000 shares.

Backward most of the time were Paramount Pictures, Warner Bros., Loew's, Douglas Aircraft, Schenley, Standard Oil (NJ), Southern Pacific and Westinghouse.

Better movers included American Woolen, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Oliver Corp., Western Union, Southern Railway, Central Railroad of N. J., Gulf Oil, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide and United Air Lines.

Bonds were narrow.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP) — Cotton futures were firm in fairly active dealings today. Replacement commission house buying, along with short covering and mill buying met only scale up offerings. Traders attributed the advance partly to technical reasons following Monday's sharp sell off.

Washington reports that southern congressmen will press for early house action on the $150,000,000 revolving fund covering cotton and other commodity purchases for Japan, stimulated some buying.

Liquidation in nearby May following the issuance of 44 additional May transferable notices was readily absorbed.

Late afternoon prices were $1.20 to $1.60 a bale higher than the previous close. May 37.05, July 36.47, Oct. 32.82.

executive council of that institute. Continuing his addresses at Texas Tech, he will speak at 5 p. m. today in the Memorial auditorium on "Release and Utilization of Atomic Energy" and at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Tech Recreation hall on "The Road to Peace." His final talk will be Wednesday night.

After stating this morning that the problem "would be just the same if there weren't an atomic bomb," Dr. Millikan said. "The damage in Germany was hundreds of times more than if an atomic bomb had been used."

Too Much Attention

"The public gives too much attention to the atomic bomb as distinguished from other warfare. It is no worse than what we call germ warfare."

Quoted recently in an International News Service story by Bob Considine as urging that the United States supply "trustworthy" foreign nations with atomic bombs as a safeguard against future aggression, Dr. Millikan this morning reiterated his belief in that plan as a means of creating the collective strength of peace loving nations.

He said the plan he described is part of the Baruch plan, that the bomb would be under control of an international commission, that ultimately germ warfare also would be under such control.

Called Fairest Proposal

He cited the Baruch report as "the fairest proposal ever made in international affairs."

Referring to accomplishments of the United Nations organization—which, he said, should not be considered a failure—he said that through free and open debate it has started the collective security plan to functioning. "We haven't been able to get together against Russia yet," he said, but I think it is working that way now." The world is rapidly being convinced of the motives of Russia, he said.

He said Russia should be invited to join in any international plan. "If we can't get Russia to join, then get the rest of the world to join . . . in stopping aggression of any nation," he said.

"Aggressors always try to keep division among the nations that oppose them," he said.

Could Have Stopped Him

Hitler brought on World war II because the world was not banded together in an international organization for collective security, he said. If the United States had been in the League of Nations and had been with the others to say "no" when Hitler entered the Rhineland in 1936 "it is now known he would not have gone in," said Dr. Millikan.

Hitler looked carefully and saw no nations willing to do the job of stopping him, said Dr. Millikan. "The whole effort of collective security was balked at that time."

Just how long does Dr. Millikan think the world has to develop collective security without another war developing before the plan is completed?

"I don't think we will have another world war for the next five to 10 years at least," he said.

Would Not Dare Attack

If a strong international organization of peace loving nations is developed in the meantime Russia would not dare attack against such strength, he said. "If all peace loving people will unite their strength, Russia or no other nation will dare attack," he said.

He used the term of "collective security" as one "meaning something" and as distinguished from the often-used term of "one world," which he said is a vague and nebulous term.

"There is no such thing as one world," he declared. "We can't even run the United States as a single thing yet." He quoted Winston Churchill as saying people are worried because Russia may withdraw and there will be two worlds, but that there is no need for worry about two worlds if one is much stronger than the other.

Must Work Out Plan

He said it is for the statesmen to work out a plan that will succeed. Perhaps success could come under the United Nations, he said. Some amendments could be made to the United Nations charter. There is nothing wrong with amendments; even the United States constitution has them, he said. How near the United Nations has come toward "doing the job" is not known, he said. That's all in the hopes of all of us."

The United States has made some "awful blunders," he said, citing the Morgenthau plan for Germany as an example, but the United States has the strength to promote the world organization, he said. The United States must make "the major contribution of strength. We're the people that have it."

He described the weakest point of this nation as "isolationism" and expressed belief that weakness is being overcome, and described its strongest point as "internationalism"—its entrance into the United Nations organization and trend toward international action. Weakness has been in thinking that this country is protected by isolation. "The Japs exploded that notion except for people too stupid to see," he said. "The lawmakers understand and a great many people understand now," he said.

How can the individual citizen help in promoting world peace? By keeping informed on world affairs, he said, by casting votes against isolationist and pacifist tendencies. "If they get the majority of the country, we're hopeless." No country can vote against the great majority of public opinion and "we determine that as a whole. You and I have votes and we talk to our friends and we help to make public opinion."

Rail Dispute

ent law. The dispute has been threshed out in all procedure provided by the railway labor act.

The carriers, Douglas said, are standing pat on the recommendation made by a presidential fact-finding board for a wage hike of 15 1-2 cents an hour and changes in some working rules. The unions, he said, are insisting that the railroads negotiate on rules changes not recommended by the board.

"Neither side has deviated from the positions it had when we came here last Thursday morning," Douglass said.

He said both sides recognized that granting the three unions a pay raise beyond the 15 1-2 cents recommended by the board would mean similar hikes to all other railroad workers.

Eighteen other rail unions accepted the 15 1-2 cents hourly raise last fall. The engineers, firemen and switchmen had asked for a pay raise of 30 per cent, with a minimum boost of $3 a day.

The working rules, Douglass said, provided a possible basis for settlement. Changes in some rules would mean more money for some workers. The rules govern methods of calculating payment for specific types of work. Douglass said the unions might accept the wage proposal if granted some rules changes.

vention if President Truman's civil rights program is written into the party's platform.

The Florida primaries pick a 20-vote Democratic delegation and 16-vote GOP delegation plus candidates for six House seats, the governorship and state ticket.

Indiana voters selected nominees for the state's 11 House seats as well as delegates to state conventions which later will name national convention slates.

To Support Truman

Delaware's 10 Democratic delegates are expected to support President Truman for the party nomination. Missouri's 34-vote delegation was named yesterday with those instructions.

A Republican faction in Georgia also named a convention slate yesterday, and left it uninstructed. An opposition GOP group in the same state will meet later.

In another election yesterday, the lightest Maryland turnout in years chose six nominees for the congressional races in November. Two Republican and three Democratic incumbents were renominated. A fourth Democrat was defeated.

Texas Storm

ter team from San Antonio flew in cots, blankets and emergency food supplies.

The storms lengthened the list of tornado casualties in six states within 48 hours to 23 dead and more than 156 injured.

Earlier, tornadoes had struck with deadly effect in Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Kentucky and West Virginia.

Two field kitchens were speeded here to help feed hundreds of homeless. One was sent here from Fort Worth and the other, a Red Cross mobile unit, from Oklahoma City.

Mayor R. F. Newsome and Public Director J. R. Bryan estimated that damage in McKinney alone exceeded $500,000.

They said that approximately 100 homes were damaged or destroyed. Walker estimated that 60 homes were destroyed at Princeton. Several farm houses between the two towns were badly damaged.

It was reported here a 14-year-old boy was killed by the storm at Princeton, but it could not be confirmed.

Hardest hit here were the Fannie Finch elementary school, the Texas Textile Cotton Mills, employing hundreds, and the city hospital.

At the elementary school, Principal C. T. Eddins suffered the loss of a finger when a door slammed shut on it, but no other serious injuries were reported there although school was in session.

Gibson Caldwell, president of the McKinney school board, credited Eddins with saving the lives of many students.

"He instructed the students to stay in the school. If they'd gone outside they may have been hit by debris."

Says It Was Miracle

Mrs. Lorene Smith, employed in the weaving room at the textile mill, said "it was a miracle that somebody didn't get killed there.

At the City hospital, where she was taken for treatment of cuts caused by flying glass, Mrs. Smith said that the "whole top of the mill was demolished.

She esitmated that between 500 and 600 were in the plant at the time the tornado hit.

The roof of the three-story City hospital was lifted off, but Miss Bertha Broch, superintendent, said no one was injured.

Power was disrupted, however. Nurses used flashlights and lanterns. Most of the injured were taken there and later transferred to a veterans hospital nearby, which was not damaged.

All Beds In Use

Ray Duncan, 49, an east McKinney farmer, and his son, Dee Lynn, 7, were among those taken to City hospital for treatment.

They were placed on a pad on the hospital floor. Every available bed already was in use.

His wife, Ola, 45; a son, Dale, 17, and a baby daughter, Lenda, 2, also were injured.

"Our house was blowed all to pieces," he said. "It was strung all over the corn patch."

It still must be passed by the House and the Senate and be approved by the President before becoming effective.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch Wins Pulitzer Award For Third Time; Individual Winners Named

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch yesterday won—for the third time—the Pulitzer prize for American newspapers.

The paper, which won the award in 1937 and in 1941, was selected as the newspaper rendering the "most disinterested and meritorious public service" in the past year.

It was cited for its coverage of the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster and its subsequent campaign which led to "impressive reforms in mine safety laws and regulations."

Other Winners

Pulitzer prizes for 1948 also went to "Tales of the South Pacific," a novel by James A. Michener, and to "A Streetcar named Desire," a play by Tennessee Williams.

The novel, based on Michener's experiences in the Pacific during the war, was chosen as the most distinguished fiction written in this country in the past year.

Williams' play, a Broadway hit which also won the New York Drama Critics' circle prize, deals with the degeneration of a neurotic girl in New Orleans. It was picked as the best original American play.

The prizes were among 14 Pulitzer awards announced by Dr Frank D. Fackenthal, acting president of Columbia university.

It was the 31st year in which the awards have been presented annually for outstanding work in the fields of journalism, literature, music and art.

$500 Prizes

Individual winners of prizes receive $500 each. The winning newspaper receives a gold medal valued at $500.

The awards were provided for in the will of Joseph Pulitzer former publisher of the New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Pulitzer, who also founded Columbia's graduate school of journalism, left the university $2,500,000 for perpetuation of the awards.

1948 winners in the field of letters:

Most distinguished book of history of the United States—Barnard de Voto, for his "Across the Wide Missouri."

Most distinguished American biography—Margaret Clapp, for her "Forgotten First Citizen: John Bigelow." The author, a native of East Orange, N. J., was graduated from Wellesley college in 1930, and received her doctor of philosophy degree from Columbia in 1946.

Most distinguished volume of verse—W. H. Auden, for his "Age of Anxiety."

Music, Art Winners

The prize for music was won by Walter Piston, a native of Rockland, Me., and professor of music at Harvard university. He won the award for his Symphony No. 3, performed for the first time by the Boston Symphony orchestra last January.

In the field of art, Philip Anthony Moose, 27, a free lance New York City portrait painter, was named to receive a $1,500 scholarship as the art student certified by the National Academy of Design as "the most promising and deserving" in the country.

In the journalism field:

Distinguished example of local reporting—George E. Goodwin, staff writer of the Atlanta, Ga., Journal.

Goodwin, 30, a graduate of Washington and Lee university, won the prize for his stories exposing vote frauds in Telfair county, Ga., in the general election of Nov. 5, 1946.

National Reporting

Distinguished reporting on national affairs—awards won by Bert Andrews, chief of the New York Herald-Tribune's Washington bureau since 1941, and Nat S Finneyuj of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Andrews won the prize for a series of documented stories telling how a State department employe was dismissed after an FBI investigation without being informed of the nature of the charges against him.

The award to Finney was made for his stories describing a Truman administration plan to impose censorship on ordinary activities of federal civilian agencies in peacetime. Finney also won this year's Raymond Clapper award.

Distinguished example of reporting of international affairs—Paul W. Ward, 42, correspondent for the Baltimore Sun, for a series of articles on life in the Soviet Union.

Distinguished editorial writing—Virginius Dabney, 47, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, for general editorial writing.

Dabney was cited for writing editorials with a "clearness of style, moral purpose, sound reasoning and power to influence public opinion."

Distinguished example of a cartoonist's work—Reuben L. (Rube) Goldberg, 64, of the New York Sun.

He won the prize for a cartoon called "Peace Today" which showed an American family living on an atomic bomb perched on the edge of a precipice. Goldberg is widely known for his cartoons displaying complicated contraptions which could be used for accomplishing simple purposes.

Outstanding example of news photography—Frank Cushing, 32, of the Boston Traveler, for his photograph entitled "Boy Gunman and Hostage."

The picture showed a 15-year-old delinquent using another frightened boy as a shield while he exchanged shots with police in an alley.

The awards were made by the trustees of Columbia on recommendation of an advisory board of the graduate school of journalism.

Fourteen members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors recommended several entries in each journalism class to the board.

Members of the board are Dr. Fackenthal; Sevellon Brown, Providence Journal; Robert Choate, Boston Herald; Kent Cooper, the Associated Press; Gardner Cowles, Des Moines Register and Tribune; Palmer Hoyt, Denver Post; Frank R. Kent, Baltimore Sun; John S. Knight, Knight Newspapers, Inc., Arthur Krock, the New York Times; William R. Matthews, The Arizona Daily Star; Stuart H Perry, the Adrian (Mich.) Telegram; Harold S. Pollard, New York World-Telegram, and Joseph Pulitzer, St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Lubbock Officer To Be Interred Here

Mr. and Mrs. Elisha L. Robertson, sr., of 1802 Sixteenth, were informed by official telegram Monday afternoon that the body of their son, Capt. Elisha L. Robertson, jr., was being returned to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for burial in a national cemetery.

The parents were not advised when it would reach Fort Sam Houston, but plan to leave for services within a few days.

Capt. Robertson died April 9, 1945, when a four-engine plane he was checking as test pilot spun in at Ondol, 75 miles from Calcutta, India, when an engine exploded. Six others died with him. He was 26.

The body was buried at Ondol, later reburied at Calcutta when the Ondol base was discontinued.

A military escort will accompany the body, and appropriate military honors and religious services were offered in the telegram.

Power Co-Op Gets New Federal Aid

An allocation of $210,000 for extension of electric lines of the South Plains Electric Co-operative (REA) in this county and portions of four others served by the organization, has been approved, the co-op was advised yesterday by wire from Congressman George Mahon.

The announcement was made by W. C. Newton, manager, who said that a total of 184 farm homes will be served under the new project that involves 120 miles of line.

Newton said the allocation included funds for various purposes other than construction of the line itself, such as an addition to a substation, and some improvements at the headquarters building here.

By counties, the construction will include 32 miles in Hale county to serve 39 families, 28 miles in Lubbock county to serve 47 families, 25½ miles in Hockley county to serve 41 families, 34 miles in Crosby county to serve 56 families, and a half mile extension in Lynn county for one family.

Newton said availability of conductor (wire) might delay much of the project, but he anticipated that a back order for wire would be received by September or October, and that the project would be completed this year.

All other materials except the wire are on hand or available on order, he said.

Mail Volume Charts Growth Of Lubbock

Service Offered By Local Postoffice Has Grown By Leaps, Bounds In Recent Years

BY OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

A barometer of growth of Lubbock is the volume of mail service, which has grown by leaps and bounds in keeping with the population of the city.

Major events affecting the city—such as the establishment of Texas Technological college and the opening of two air bases—are reflected in postal receipts, information given by Postmaster Amos H. Howard showed.

Expansion Is Reflected

The expansion of a residential section is reflected in postoffice activities, as the new section is surveyed to determine whether it meets requirements for mail delivery.

In the last three years, mail delivery has been opened on more than 400 additional city blocks.

In 1947, postal receipts for the Lubbock postoffice totaled $519,230.89, which was 2.8 larger than receipts of $182,786.44 ten years earlier and more than five times as large as the total of $90,932.13 in 1927.

Increase For 1948

The receipts for the first quarter of this year were $134,242.10, an increase over the total of $114,970.17 the first quarter in 1947.

If Lubbock residents make more money in a year, they put more money into Uncle Sam's postoffice through purchases of stamps, sending money orders and other postal activities.

"The volume of mail is just like any other business. A good year means a lot for the receipts of the office," said Postmaster Howard.

Figures Are Compared

Looking over records of receipts for each year of the Lubbock postoffice since 1921, the postmaster said the volume in receipts has increased each year over the previous year except in 1946 when receipts of $425,623.49 were less than the 1945 total of $428,059.88. That was attributed to close of the war, a drop in the mail to Lubbock Army Air field and South Plains Army Air field and a decrease in correspondence between Lubbock residents and military men over the world.

A big increase had occurred from 1941 to 1942, with the receipts for those years totaling $267,718.03 and $313,343.63, respectively.

Back in 1924, the year before Texas Technological college opened in the fall of 1945, receipts were $58,371.69; in 1925, they were $76,788.59 and in 1926, $81,090.62.

Local Staff Increased

Lubbock could get along with 11 regular clerks and seven substitutes in 1925, while now there are 55 regular clerks and 16 substitute clerks. The number of carriers has increased from five regular and four substitute carriers in 1925 to 38 regular and 23 substitute carriers at present.

Regular clerks who were listed on the postoffice staff in 1925 and who still are working there are R. F. Adkins, W. C. Barnett, Walter T. Clark and C. H. Peek. Of the substitute clerks at that time, T. R. Cowart and Chas. I. Waller still are on the staff.

Several carriers who were working 23 years ago are on the staff now. They include, W. E. Caudle and B. B. Rogers, who are carriers, and W. B. Sides, who is a clerk. E. D. Farris and Elmer Potts were substitute carriers in 1925 and now are clerks. C. R. McLaurin and J. M. Norman, who were carriers in 1925, have those positions at present.

Airmail Has Increased

Airmail has increased considerably. There now are about 14 airline flights arriving and leaving the airport daily.

Discussing the frequent extensions of delivery service, Ernest Ohnemus, assistant superintendent of mails, said, "We are busy all the time making extensions." Number of postal routes has increased from eight in 1926 to 45 at present.

Approval has to be obtained from the postoffice department in Washington before even one house in a new territory not previously included in delivery service can be added to delivery routes. Before any new territory can be added for delivery service, 50 per cent of all lots on both sides of the street must be developed, and sidewalks, house numbers and mail receptacles must be available, according to requisites listed. Bus service also must be available for postmen to reach an area. Occasionally, an area will be developed several blocks away from a section already receiving delivery and cannot receive mail delivery because bus service is not available, Ohnemus said.

City Limits No Object

City limits do not determine mail serice, he said. Sometimes residents will call into the office and report they are in the city limits and should have mail service. It is possible to live outside the city and obtain service and live in the city without mail delivery. Whether or not mail is delivered depends on whether the requisites listed have been met, thus enabling the postoffice to recommend delivery and await action from Washington.

Supervisors are constantly visiting newly developed areas, making surveys and obtaining information on whether the area meets requirements for delivery service. They do not wait for requests for delivery, when they know of areas

Mother Jailed For Killing Daughter

ALLENTOWN, Pa., May 4 (AP)—Mrs. Grace Feiertag, 39, was held on a murder charge today in the strangling of her crippled 14-year-old daughter Esther, an invalid since birth.

The girl was found dead yesterday in the Lehigh county home, a short time after the family had been taken there for temporary shelter following eviction from their home.

Battered Body Found In Pit

NEWMAN, Ga., May 4 (AP)—A battered and burned body, hardly more than bones and ashes, was held by Sheriff A. L. Potts today to back up charges that four men murdered "frail and sickly" Wilson Turner.

It was dug yesterday from a shallow pit after officers and posses had searched two weeks for it. Identification as the remains of Turner, a 26-year-old tenant farmer, was positive, said Potts and Sheriff E. F. Howell of nearby Mucogee county.

In Swampy Woodland

The officers said they and other searchers found the body in a swampy woodland on the 2,000-acre farm of John Wallace Meriwether county dairyman.

Wallace and Herring Sivell of Chipley, another large-scale dairy operator, are accused of savagely beating Turner after a wild motor car chase April 20, throwing his unconscious body into their car and driving off. They are in the Coweta jail charged with murder.

Also in jail charged with murder in the young sharecropper's death are Henry Mobley, a livestock dealer of Chipley, and Broughton Myhand, a filling station operator. Wallace's cousin, Tom Strickland, is held as an accomplice.

Chase Was Staged

A 17-mile cross-county chase of Turner began after the sharecropper was released from the Meriwether jail at Greenville. He was freed because there wasn't enough evidence to hold him on a charge of stealing a cow from Wallace.

The tenant farmer once worked for Wallace. His wife, mother of a small child, testified at a commitment hearing that trouble between her husband and Wallace began over 20 gallons of whisky.

Four hundred million library books were circulated in the United States in 1939.

Block, Bridle Contests Will Be Held Here

Approximately 65 junior animal husbandry students are entered in the fourteenth annual Block and Bridle club livestock judging contest which will be held all day Wednesday beginning at 10 a. m. in the Texas Tech livestock pavilion, R. C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department, has announced.

A similar contest for freshmen animal husbandry students will be held here on Saturday, May 15.

Approximately 65 junior animal husbandry students are entered in the competition.

The event will be a standard inter-collegiate contest in size with three classes of beef cattle, three classes of horses, three classes of hogs and three classes of sheep to be judged. The number of contestants is the largest in the history of the contest at Texas Tech.

The national Block and Bridle club, of which the Texas Tech chapter is a member, will award a gold medal to the individual making the highest score in the entire contest. The Tech chapter will award four books to the high individual including "Beef Cattle, Their Feeding and Management", by Snap; "Pork Production," by Smith; "The Western Horse," by Gorman; and "Sheep Science," by Kammlade.

Four prominent agriculturists will judge the contest including, uinton Williams, superintendent of the soil conservation district at Pampa and high individual on the winning team in the international livestock judging contest in 1929; J. P. Smith, Panhandle, a 1935 graduate of Texas Tech and member of the winning team in the international meet in 1934; Euel Liner, Lubbock, Texas Tech graduate of 1932; and Lewis Nance, Post, Texas Tech international team in their senior years.

"The contest will have especially keen competition since it will indicate some of those students who will be strong contenders for the senior livestock judging teams in the fall," Mowery stated.

Results of the contest will be announced and awards will be made at the annual Block and Bridle banquet to be held May 20.

Lubbock, Texas, Tuesday, May 4, 1948

PREPARING FOR VARSITY SHOW—Jimmie Carter, sophomore student from Wichita Falls, and Patti Jo Musson, sophomore of Lubbock, are pictured practicing for the Tech Varsity show which will be staged at Senior High school auditorium Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. They will present a specialty adagio routine during the variety program. Tickets for the show will be on sale at the college, Dunlap's and Hemphill-Wells. Seats are $1.50 and $1. Proceeds of the show go to the Student Council and surplus funds are turned over to the Student Union fund.

Ponies Are To Feature Circus

Fine horse flesh will be much in evidence as one of the many features of the Gainesville Community circus which presents its threering show in four performances—matinee and night at the fair grounds here Friday and Saturday. The two-hour program includes a variety of acts by educated horses and ponies represented as among the best in circus circles.

Foremost among the acts is Vern Brewer's famous eight-horse Liberty troupe, which represents the acme of horse training. This act has been a part of the circus for several years, and was featured in the Rose Bowl circus at Pasadena before 60,000 people on July 4, 1946.

Shetland's Will Perform

A trio of highly educated dancing horses will be presented by Gerry Murrell, Portis M. Sims, and A. B. Garvin, and concluding this remarkable demonstration of equine intelligence, there will be the ever-exciting and thrilling steeplechase, with riders leaping their steeds over high barriers on the hippodrome track.

For the kiddies there will be dozens of handsome little Shetland ponies, including Peruna, for two years mascot of the Southern Methodist university Mustangs. They perform amazing drills in military groups of six, and likewise appear in the rings with dog and monkey riders in bareback exhibitions.

There are ponies that mount pedestals, that waltz around the ring, that perform on the teeter-

War Bride Is Given Parole

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 4 (AP)—Bridget Waters, Irish war bride who killed her American husband, may have her freedom if she returns to her home in England.

That is the effect of a parole granted last night by the state board of pardons. Mrs. Waters served 17 months of a one to five year sentence for involuntary manslaughter. The parole was made subject to her immediate deportation.

Parole Was Opposed

Both trial judge and prosecutor opposed parole at this time for the 27-year-old redhead. She shot Frank Waters on Labor day, 1946, in Las Vegas. She had come to Nevada from England to oppose her husband's plans for a divorce and he had gone to her apartment to visit their child, now three years old.

Bridget received the news of her parole from Mrs. Richard Sheehy, wife of the prison warden. "She was calm but extremely happy," said Mrs. Sheehy. "She is very anxious to take her boy home before he gets any older."

The boy, Frank, jr.—called John by his mother—has been staying with a Carson City family. Twice weekly, on Wednesdays and Sundays, he has paid his mother six-hour visits.

EXCUSE ACCEPTED

DETROIT (UP)—Mrs. Ann Kerrigan, 42, mailed $2 to the city traffic court from a hospital. She explained in a note that she became ill when she pulled into a no-parking zone. Since then she has had five blood transfusions. Traffic Judge George T. Murphy mailed the $2 back.

The depression of the 1930's brought a drastic decline in ministers' salaries.

Mac Hancock Death Victim

LEVELLAND, May 4 — Sheriff Mac Wesley Hancock, 60, of Morton, was killed almost instantly about 4 p. m. Monday six miles west of Levelland on the Levelland-Whiteface highway when his automobile struck the rear of a heavy road maintainer.

The sheriff of Cochran county was returning home from Huntsville where he had taken two prisoners to the state prison. He had arrived in Lubbock about 8 a. m. Monday and spent part of the day in Lubbock while his 1947 Oldsmobile two-door coach was being serviced at a garage, according to Lubbock officers. He was alone at the time of the accident.

Was Veteran Officer

The driver of the combination caterpillar and grader machine, Clem R. Huckaby, of Levelland, was not injured.

A resident of Morton since 1941, Hancock had been sheriff there four years and was seeking reelection this year. He was a veteran peace officer, having served in that capacity for about 32 years.

He had been a resident of Lamesa and Dawson county for 40 years, prior to residing at Morton. He was born in Erath county in 1888.

Car Is Crumpled

According to the highway patrol, who investigated the accident, the automobile crashed into the rear of the machine crushing Sheriff Hancock against the steering wheel and the dash board. There were no skid marks to be found on the highway, and the left rear wheel of the car was along the center stripe, the officers reported. This indicated, they said, that he may have fallen asleep while driving, considering his long trip and that he was facing the sun when the accident occurred.

The steering wheel was broken off, the windshield knocked out, and the front seat forced under the dashboard, they said. A highway patrolman said that the car apparently moved forward about three feet after the impact, and was completely crumpled.

Body Taken To Morton

"It looked like the front of the automobile stopped on impact," he said, "and that the rest of the car moved forward that three feet."

Huckaby stated that he didn't know there was a vehicle behind him prior to the fatal crash. His machine was believed damaged to the extent of $200.

Sheriff Hancock was believed dead when Huckaby reached him. He was taken to Levelland by Plains Funeral home ambulance, and later removed to Singleton Funeral home at Morton.

Funeral services were tentatively set for Wednesday morning at

Greeks To Try Rebel Leader

ATHENS, May 4 (AP) — The Greek government intends to try guerrilla leader Markos Vafiades, in absentia, on charges that he was the "moral author" of the assassination Saturday of a cabinet minister.

Constantine Rentis, the minister of public order, announced the government's intention last night after a broadcast from the secret rebel radio reportedly praised the man who assassinated Justice Minister Christos Ladas.

Other Tries Suggested

The broadcast also invited communists to make similar attempts on the lives of Rentis, Premier Themistokles Sophoulis and deputy Premier Constantin Tsaldaris. No date for the trial of Vafiades was given.

Ladas was slain by hurled grenades Saturday. His death was described officially as a Communist plot aimed at three cabinet ministers, including Rentis and Sophoulis.

Eestratos Moutsoyanis, 22, is being held as the assassin and police said he is under close guard to protect his life. Informed sources said he was giving information which can be termed "sensational" if confirmed.

100 Arrested

It was reported in reliable quarters that approximately 100 persons have been arrested in connection with Ladas' assassination, presumably upon the basis of disclosures made by Moutsoyanis.

Twenty-four persons convicted of other slayings in various parts of Greece were executed this morning. One man scheduled to face a firing squad escaped just before his number came up.

A reliable source said there are nearly a thousand persons in Greece now facing the death sentence for various crimes.

Old-Time Preacher Records His Sermons On New-Fangled Wire Recorder For Invalids

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

A new-fangled wire recorder does a lot of preaching for an old-time preacher, the Rev. Jesse Winborn Franklin of Port Neches, Texas.

Franklin, a plump and highly energetic citizen of 65, records sermons and choir music on his portable machine and stalks into the bedrooms of invalid parishioners all week long with canned church services.

Always Listen

Pastor of the Beaux Art Gardens Baptist church, the pastor says:

"It would be unethical to preach a sermon in a home, but when I connect up my machine and turn her on, they always listen with intense interest. I give them a choice of half a dozen sermons and sometimes they want to listen to two or three. Sometimes I get there early and stay late. This recorder is a great blessing, the pride of my heart. I've known invalids to lay there on their beds and weep for joy."

When Franklin is out of town, his church doesn't hire a guest pastor. The recorder does the work.

"One of the brethren turns it on and it does my talking for me," the amiable blue-eyed pastor told us.

"Wondrous are the ways of the Lord."

Members Like It

The 100 members of the congregation are so fond of the recorder that when recently they were invited to contribute funds for "wire for Brother Franklin's machine" they put $56 into a pot. At $3.50 per 30-minute spool, that will buy a lot of wire.

Brother Franklin, native of Rankin county, Mississippi, never thought of being a preacher, despite the fact both his grandfathers, three uncles and numerous cousins were Baptist pastors. He became a traveling salesman of sewing machines "until one night in St. Louis the Lord called me—like a clap of thunder in the noonday sky. I went down to the drug store and bought a Bible."

Records At Midnight

He was ordained 39 years ago. He has held pastorates at Bay Springs, Miss., Crowville, La., and for more than a dozen years he filled the pulpit at the big Oak Cliff Baptist church in Dallas. He has been at Port Neches 11 years and his congregation last year vetoed his offer to retire.

The pastor records in his home—"I wait for the midnight hour, when my wife and the automobile horns are asleep. The ears of this machine will pick up a pin drop or a cough drop."

Sometimes, he locks the doors of his church in the daytime and records there. Once, he forgot to lock a door and a little girl strolled in while he was in the middle of a sermon.

"Before I thought," says Brother Franklin, "I waved her away and shouted 'No, No.' As it happened, I was condemning something and the word 'No, No' fitted into the sermon very nicely. Listening to it now, you'd never suspect I had a visitor."

The first corn, called maize, had two kinds of husks—one over the ear and a husk over each kernel.

which may meet the requirements.

Persons moving into a home in a newly developed section sometimes, put up a house number, give that as their address to receive mail, but fail to receive the mail because the area has not been approved for delivery service, said the postmaster. The mail, sometimes must be returned to the sender. Other residents without delivery service solve the problem by obtaining mail by general delivery, having it sent to business addresses, or having a box at the postoffice.

More Boxes Needed

Not in years, however, has a person been able to walk into the postoffice and obtain a box immediately—unless he happened to be fortunate enough to arrive just after a box had become available. There are far more requests for boxes than the number of boxes available.

Lubbock ranked 12th in Texas cities in postal receipts in February of this year. The postmaster described that month's receipts as about typical of usual rank of the cities in receipts.

In order, the 12 top cities in receipts were: Dallas, $716,181; Houston, $487,755; Fort Worth, $302,404; San Antonio, $278,843; Austin, $131,065; El Paso, $96,302; Waco, $64,677; Corpus Christi, $63,370; Amarillo, $57,784; Galveston, $50,886; Beaumont, $46,638; Lubbock, $45,655.

Movie Industry's Big Five Are Named In Anti-Trust Violation

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP) — The movie industry's big five wrestled with a new script today —an order from the Supreme court to get out of the super-colossal class.

The tribunal ruled yesterday that the five companies violated antitrust laws through price-fixing and film distribution agreements. It also told lower courts to go ahead with new proceedings to determine whether the movie concerns must sell their interest in 3,137 theaters.

At the same time the high court set the stage for damage claims by independent theater owners which may run into millions of Dollars.

Long Court Fight

The main monopoly case has been in court since 1938.

By a 7 to 1 vote the Supreme court upheld all but one of the findings of a special three-judge federal court sitting in New York last year. Justice Douglas wrote the majority opinion, with Justice Frankfurter dissenting. Justice Jackson took no part in the hearing.

The only point of disagreement was whether the companies should be ordered to dispose of their theaters. The government had argued that only by such a step could the movie industry be opened to free competition. The lower court had directed that first-run pictures be put on the auction block for competitive bidding, rather than being parceled out through company channels.

But the Supreme court said such action either would call for court supervision of the sales or granting great discretion to the producing companies. It added:

Opinion Given

"Yet delegation of the management of the system to the discretion of those who had the genius to conceive the present conspiracy and to execute it with the subtlety which this record reveals, could be done only with the greatest reluctance."

In his dissent, Frankfurter contended the trial court had gone far enough.

The big five companies involved are: Loew's, R. K. O., Paramount, Warner Bros., and 20th Century-Fox. They produce, distribute and exhibit movies. Linked with them in the case were Columbia Pictures Corp., and Universal Corp., producers and distributors, and United Artists Corp., a distributor.

Among other things, the court said the firms acted in restraint of trade by:

1. Setting the price of admissions.

2. Giving "clearance" to some theaters — that is setting the time before a film could be shown in a rival house.

3. Block booking — by which a theater or a chain must take a number of pictures to get a particular one desired.

Upholds Damages

On the matter of damage claims, the court refused to review a case appealed from Philadelphia and thus upheld a $435,000 judgment to William Goldman, operator of the Erlanger theater in Philadelphia.

The district court and the court of appeals had awarded Goldman triple damages on his contention that he would have made $125,000 in 15 months if he had had access to the best pictures on the first run. The courts also allowed Goldman $60,000 for attorney fees and ordered the distributors to let him bid for the top ranking pictures.

Later Goldman sued for another $8,400,000 for a four-year period following the 15 months. Lawyers for the producers and distributors said more than 60 similar suits are pending and that it "will bring down on the industry a flood of litigation which it may not be able to survive."

Defendants in the damage action are Loew's, Inc., Paramount, RKO, 20th Century-Fox, Columbia Pictures, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc., Universal Film Exchanges Corp. and United Artists Corp.:

Freight Handlers Call Of Strike

HOUSTON, May 4. (AP)—A threatened strike of 3,000 motor freight handlers in Texas has been called off.

M. W. Miller, international representative of the Teamsters union, AFL, last night said a tentative agreement had been reached with the 20 freight lines involved in a wage dispute.

He did not reveal terms of the agreement, which must be approved by each of the 11 locals of the union.

Before a meeting between union and management yesterday the two groups had been five cents apart on wage demands.

The old contract between the companies and the freight handlers was to have expired at midnight last night.

Abilene Takes Lead, Borger Moves Up As Hubbers Falter

Grodzicki On Way Back Up

BY WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Johnny Grodzicki had taken the first step back toward the big leagues today, his first start on the mound in seven years resulting in an eight-hit, 7-2 decision over Oklahoma City last night.

The big righthander — who received a shattered leg while a paratrooper in Germany — helped win his own ball game with a single that drove in two runs.

Cats Beat Shreveport

Other results last night saw Chris Van Cuyk win his second game of the year as Fort Worth beat Shreveport, 7-0; Dallas take a 11-inning game from Beaumont, 2-1, and San Antonio beat Tulsa, 3-1.

Former big leaguer Grodzicki struck out seven batters and issued only two singles during the last five innings. The Indians bunched two hits, a walk and a wild pitch for their two runs in the third.

Houston had scored twice in the second, added three more on three hits and two walks in the third and Hal Epps' homer in the seventh scored the last two.

San Antonio stayed right behind Fort Worth in the standings as George Corona hit his fifth homer of the year and Bill Sommers doubled home a run in the seventh.

Serena Hits Home Run

Dave Jolly pitched four-hit ball for Tulsa and Rube Stohs and Loy Hanning gave up the same amount of hits.

Dick Kemper's single in the eleventh scored Red Boron with the winning Dallas run. Bill Serena, the home run king of the West Texas-New Mexico league last year, homered for Dallas in the eighth to tie the score.

Van Cuyk held Shreveport to seven hits — three in the first inning. The Cats had an easy time winning, using nine hits to good advantage. The victory gave them a clean sweep of the series.

Tonight a shift in sites sends Dallas to Shreveport, Fort Worth to Beaumont, Oklahoma City to San Antonio and Tulsa to Houston.

Local Women Trail At Bowling Meet

DALLAS, May 4 (Special) — Top standings in the Women's International Bowling Congress meet here remained virtually unchanged over the week end, which saw two teams of Lubbock bowlers attempt to crash the top standings unsuccessfully.

The Hub City feminine keglers bowled team play Sunday night and followed with doubles and singles competition Monday morning. They were far off the pace being set in team play, Southwestern Public Service company rolling 2,030 compared to the leading California team's score of 2,812.

In the singles Shirlee Wernick of Chicago, Ill., leads with 696, while Norma Crossland was the closest Lubbock bowler on 509 pins.

In the doubles, the highest Lubbock total was turned in by Aleene Hilton and Artie Galloway, 968, while the current leaders have 1,188.

Texans to date have failed to crack the first five in any event, while only scattered individuals and teams from Texas have done better than the Lubbock bowlers.

Team scores:

Hemphill-Wells (Lubbock), 1,965 pins by Billie Maslovar, 405; Herbie Ranton 339; Lenora Roberts, 325; Hilton, 427; Galloway, 409. For Southwestern Public Service, Marcelle Curlee, 389; Arlys Womble, 368; Maxine Buckner, 437; Bertha Thomas, 427; and Norma Crossland, 409.

Doubles, Thomas-Crossland, 852; Curlee-Buckner, 870; Ranton-Roberts, 759; Womble-Maslovar, 889; Hilton-Galloway, 968.

Singles, Maslovar, 458; Ranton, 349; Roberts, 416; Wombly, 460; Hilton, 444; Galloway, 452; Curlee, 437; Buckner, 464; Thomas, 408; and Crossland, 509.

Aggies Pull Close Behind Longhorns

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas A. and M. Aggies are only a half-game back of the pace-setting Texas Longhorns in the Southwest conference baseball race today.

A. and M. walloped Southern Methodist, 9-2, yesterday to move into good position to take over the lead — should Texas falter in any of two games with Southern Methodist this week.

In another conference game yesterday, Rice used a four-run outburst in the eighth inning to beat Texas Christian, 7-3.

Early Beesley spaced eight Mustang hits as A. and M. collected 13 off Erwin Kay and George Baker.

Rice made four runs on three hits, an error, walk and hit batter to score four runs in the eighth inning and beat TCU.

Most Of Lone Star Games Rained Out

(By The Associated Press)

The only game that changed the Lone Star league standings last night was Lufkin's 9-8 decision over Tyler. It dropped the Trojans a full game back of Longview's league-leading Texans.

Rain washed out the Longview-Kilgore, Bryan-Gladewater games and halted the Marshall-Henderson tilt in the top of the tenth inning with the score tied, 5-5.

A single in the tenth brought Dusty Walker galloping home with the run that gave the Foresters their fifth win of the season.

The Abilene Blue Sox, accepting the challenge of the Lamesa Loboes, turned in their second consecutive win over the former first-place nine 21-7, and found themselves entrenched in the top running position.

In other dizzy doings in the West Texas-New Mexico league last night, Borger advanced to second place by downing Amarillo's Gold Sox 8-5; Pampa went into a tie with the Gold Sox for third place by beating Lubbock 5-2; and Clovis moved within half a game of the Hubbers by licking Albuquerque 9-2.

Surprisingly enough, only a total of 59 runs were scored in the four games in a league that is noted for high-scoring. Abilene, with 21 markers, held up its end of the bargain, but elsewhere the pitchers came through.

The Hubbers blew a chance to gain ground in the league race last night, after getting within one run of tying the score in the seventh. Pampa moved out in front in the sixth, when they jammed two runs over on two singles and two errors.

The Oilers pushed the winning run over in the seventh, just before the Hubbers came to within a run of tying the contest. It was a cold night for baseball and the players felt the affects of the weather, even though five double plays were turned in.

Moore Makes Debut

Don Moore, the cocky, stocky catcher obtained from the Dallas Rebels, made an impressive debut at home. Moore picked up three for three, all singles, showing remarkable impartiality in doing it. He hit to all three fields, further showing why he is bothersome.

Tonight at 8:15 at Rosenthal field, Manager Jackie Sullivan will throw Frank Cobo at the invaders in an effort to even the series and close the two-game home stand with a victory. Frank Boothe, who injuried his left leg at Pampa Sunday, may see action. Boothe went to a doctor for examination, but aside from a bad skinning, no other damage was done to the knee.

The injury occurred when Boothe, about to slide, saw that it was useless and attempted to stop his forward motion. His leg buckled under him, skinning six inches of skin off the kneecap.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

What's come over the West Texas-New Mexico League? We actually are starting to have some ball games that look and sound like baseball games. For instance, that was a pretty snappy, clean game our Hubbers played last night with Pampa. A lot of hits all right, but only a total of seven runs. They played baseball more as it should be played, even using the sacrifice.

The Borger Gassers and Amarillo Gold Sox also had a baseball game, Borger winning by 8-5, which isn't bad at all. Still within the realm of decent baseball. Clovis and Albuquerque went a little wide of the mark before Clovis won 9-2, but that still wasn't too bad. It remained for Abilene and Lamest to pull last night's football score with the Blue Hose winning 21-7.

Incidentally, when we called Abilene last night, Sports Editor Jack Durham wanted to know if Lubbock was still in the league. Shades of Memphis Bill Terry and the New York Giants, who proceded to get their collective brains beaten out by an enraged team of Brooklyn Bums. Would that such remarks had a similar effect on the Hubbers; they could stand to beat somebody's brains in. With Grover Seitz not around, tonight would be a good time to begin.

The switch of Manager Jackie Sullivan to shortstop and Al Smith to second base didn't seem to hurt the Hubbers any. Jackie took part in thre double plays, while Smitty, for an unfamiliar position, handled himself in pretty fair fashion. Jack Haynes played a busy night in wind-blown right-field and also looked good. The error he had was on a bad chance, a wind-blown hit that the wind kept curving and on which Haynes ran as hard as he could, but couldn't get. He also turned in a beautiful catch in the first inning, when he hit the fence while catching Rice's foul fly.

Smith made a nice play on Otey's grounder in the fifth inning, throwing the runner out at first, while the Lubbock Keystone sacker picked up a triple on a wind-blown hit that Fortin misjudged. It wasn't a Hubber night outside of that blow and the home team put two hits together only in the second and fourth frames. They couldn't score then and in the seventh, three hits produced two runs. Maybe tonight will be different.

It was good to see that Jackie Sullivan's shinsplints did not bother him and that he is still playing his usual dependable ball. Along that line, fans might be interested to know that Charley Scarborough has been wrapping his legs since the first of the season because of the same trouble. Frank Boothe hopes to play tonight, but it is doubtful. He did a beautiful job of home surgery trying not to slide and tore the skin off his left kneecap. He has it bandaged and says that he would play any time, if only they would let him.

Grover Seitz, Pampa manager, apparently was off trying to pick up ball players, for he did not make an appearance last night. The team was being run by Earl Harriman, who plays shortstop, and he did a good job. Right off the performance of the Oilers last night, it is hard to imagine where they could use ball players. The Oilers put up a good defense and those 13 singles were effective. We might trade them a pitcher for this boy Payte, who beat the Hubbers on four hits the other night.

Gainesville Takes Second Place Tie

(By The Associated Press)

The Gainesville Owls had a share of second place in the Big State league today, thanks to a wild 11-9 decision over Texarkana last night.

The Owls used two innings — the first and seventh — to score all their runs. They made six in the first on six hits and a walk, added five more in the seventh on four hits and two free passes.

The Greenville-Austin tilt was rained out, but in other games, Wichita Falls blanked Paris, 3-0, and Sherman-Denison beat Waco, 4-1.

Musial In For Greatest Year

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

This may be Stan Musial's greatest year since he came up to the major leagues with the St. Louis Cardinals near the end of the 1941 season.

In his first 11 games, the 27-year-old native of Donora, Pa., has built up a robust .383 batting average. But that is not the entire story.

Many For Extra Bases

Stan's 18 hits include four doubles, three triples and two home runs. All figures are high up among the leaders. He has driven in 14 runs, almost one third of the Cardinals' total. Only Walker Cooper of the New York Giants and Hank Sauer of the Cincinnati Reds, with 15 each, have batted in more.

The pride of Donora singled in his first two times at bat yesterday, the second blow sending in Red Schoendienst with St Louis' first run. The Cards added two more to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 3-1, in the only day game in the National league.

Jim Hearn pitched shutout ball until the eighth in racking up his first victory of the season. He allowed seven hits. The Cards collected eight off losing pitcher Schmitz and Cliff Chambers.

Hearn had fine defensive support. Catcher Rice threw out two Cubs trying to steal second and a throw by Enos Slaughter from right field nipped a Chicago runner at the plate. The triumph shoved the Cards into third place, past Brooklyn, and only a game and a half behind the pace-setting Pittsburgh Pirates.

Dave Kaslo hurled a masterful four-hit 5-0 shutout over the Reds before 28,424 fans in a night game in Cincinnati. The southpaw ace struck out five and issued only one walk. The Giants collected 13 hits off Johnny Vandermeer, Howard Fox and Ken Raffensberger.

Johnny Mize, slugging first baseman, was out of the lineup with a sore leg.

No other National league games were scheduled. Rain washed out the only scheduled American league game with Washington and Philadelphia.

Dates Are Set For Baseball Tourney

DALLAS, May 4 (AP) — The tenth annual Texas high school baseball tournament will be held here May 31 through June 3, Director P. C. Cobb announced today.

Cobb said plans were to have district champions of the various divisions of the Texas Interscholastic league baseball race meet and eliminate the field down to fewer than 16 teams. Interscholastic league baseball goes only to district championships.

Burnett Changes Time, But Sees Another Major League

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL
SPORTS
PAGE FOUR, LUBBOCK, TEX., TUESDAY, MAY 4, 1948

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, May 4—Dick Burnett, the man who shelled out more than $500,000 for the Dallas franchise in the Texas league, won't say he was misquoted. But he does say he didn't mean it the way it came out.

Burnett was talking to Dallas sports writers just after taking over the local club. "A third major league will come within two years," he said. "Gardner (President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league) thinks it will be five years but I think it will be two."

And Burnett named Dallas and Houston as cities that would be in this third big league.

Didn't Mean Two Years

But he says he didn't mean two years, that what he intended to say was that "I may not live to see it but my children will."

Anyway, the Dallas club president was quoted by all the sports writers present as saying two years. "If all of you quoted me like that I must have said it," he declared. "But a lot of things were happening then and we were in a state of tension. I guess I wasn't paying close enough attention to what I said."

WHY SOUTH IS RIPE

Burnett has these observations on why he thinks the South is ripe for major league baseball.

The nation's wealth is moving to the South and will be concentrated here within the next ten years. Examples, he says, are Houston and Dallas. There are 236 multi-millionaires in Houston, and more than 180 in Dallas.

"One if you wanted to borrow a million dollars you had to go east," he says. "I can borrow four million dollars in Dallas right now."

Burnett also thinks baseball should get out of the chain store class. He says the Texas league cities should be big enough now to run their own baseball business.

In fact, that's what they'll have to do if ever there is a third major league taking in cities of the South. They couldn't very well operate if their clubs were owned by present major league outfits.

MOANIN' MATTY TALKS

This year marks a quarter of a century for Matty Bell as a head football coach in the Southwest conference.

That makes Matty, now head mentor at Southern Methodist, the dean of conference head coaches. He started at Texas Christian, moved to Texas A. and M., then came to SMU.

To hear Moanin' Matty tell it, his twenty-fifth anniversary as a head coach in the conference is going to be pretty dull. He has already predicted that his team, undefeated last season, will take at least three lickings this year.

"The pressure's on the champion," he points out.

With the backfield SMU has coming up (Doak Walker, Kyle Rote, Dick McKissack, Paul Page and Gil Johnson) the Methodists ought to be able to absorb considerable pressure.

Television Brings Uproar In Boxing

Managers Demand Cut, While Fighters Would Reduce Take

BY OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 4—Boxing's great television impasse reached a new crisis today and it's one which probably will send the fight managers guild screaming to the police for protection.

In what amounted to heresy, middleweight contender Steve Belloise discloser that the boxers were considering formation of an organization to protect themselves against the managers. Shades of Primo Carnera!

Managers Boycott Club

To brief you briefly, the managers have a strike on against the 20th Century Sporting club, demanding 50 per cent of the television receipts. The next Madison Square Garden show is listed for May 14 and the guild intends to throw up a muscular picket line against any imported talent.

But now comes the cruelest blow of all. Belloise revealed that the fighters think their managers are doing better than fair by taking one-third of the fighters' purses. So the men who do the mauling go along with the idea that they should get 50 per cent of the television receipts—but want 90 per cent of that themselves with only 10 per cent for the guiding genius.

Much Consternation

It caused much moaning and consternation along Jacobs Beach. Everybody knows of the tender care and affection which these noble souls lavish on their boys. After all, the kid doesn't do anything but the fighting.

Illustrating the ingratitude facing the "guilt," consider the trials and travail as the managers labor to teach their boys to fight. And the self sacrifice entailed as they advise their bleeding charges to "go in there and fight; he can't hurt us."

The rugged, broad shouldered Belloise ignores all that. And, with perfect honesty, he contends:

"As far as television is concerned fighters should be regarded as performers."

Theatrical Business Cited

You might delete those first six words of his statement and in most cases he'd still be right. Which gives Belloise his cue from the theatrical business.

"Actors' agents only get 10 per cent," Belloise pointed out, the rising wail of the wounded managers forming a background crescendo.

"Well, fighting is something like the theatrical business and the managers should only get 10 per cent, not 33 1/3."

The balding Belloise carried his plea right to Sol Strauss, currently the bull moose of the Broadway boxing industry in the absence of Uncle Mike Jacobs. Strauss is not the best manager the 20th ever had but he must have gotten quite a belt out of the proceedings.

Easier To Talk To

For if enough fighters can get out from under their contracts with their managers, they would be a lot easier to talk to than the characters who stand in the corner. The boxers usually are a lot handier with their hands than they are with their heads.

And just the way it is, a rift might take the punch out of the picket line. Imported fighters wouldn't be much of a bargain if they had to fight their way into the Garden. But with the managers stripped of their muscles the show would be sure to go on.

Da Preem, whose managers clipped him of millions and left him broke and heart-broken, must really be laughing!

Telford Leads Publinx Play

Henderson Wins 4-Round Decision

BROOKLYN, May 4 (AP)—Bill Henderson, the speedy lightweight from Texas, scored his second impressive victory in the metropolitan area last night at the Eastern Parkway arena by pounding out a four-round decision over Carl Minnis of Philadelphia.

Henderson, who registers from Cliffside Park, N. J., weighed 130. Minnis weighed 129¾.

Henderson Has Disadvantage

The Texan, a stablemate of light-heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich, had a distinct disadvantage in height and reach, but managed to smash out a unanimous decision.

Minnis bothered Henderson in the first round with a long, sharp left jab. But in the second round, the Texan started getting inside and scoring with telling body punches.

Texan Jolts Negro

In the third round Henderson jolted the rangy negro with a right to the temple and Minnis staggered against the ropes, managing to keep his feet.

That was the blow that won the bout, however. Henderson followed up his attack in the fourth round to leave no doubt about the verdict.

Odessa Counts On Foursome At Meet

By WERNER RENBERG
United Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, May 4—On four boys' shoulders rest Odessa High school hopes in this weekend's schoolboy track meet in Austin.

The small Bronc squad has rung up an amazing record of winning five straight meets. But Coach Gail Smith believes it'll take a "lot of luck," in addition to their skill, for the Broncs to make any kind of a stand-out show in the state capital.

The four boys are Byron Townsend (no introduction needed), Gerald Campbell, Jimmy Patterson and Sonny Nobley. They probably are capable of making more points than any other foursome along the state schoolboy front.

Relay Combination

Gene Gregston, sports editor of the Odessa American, says that together the four boys will form the 440-yard relay combination that hopes to win some points; perhaps even surprise Austin's crack sprint relay team.

Individually, three of the lads do almost everything during a track meet but sell tickets. And no one's offered 'em the job.

Townsend will run the century, throw the discus, broad jump and high jump; Campbell will compete in the 100, the 220-yard low hurdles, but probably will not try the high; Patterson will try the lows, too.

Based upon times turned in up to the present, writes Gregston, the best bet for a first in the state now lies in the fleeting feet of Campbell in the 100-yard dash. His times in the past three meets have all been below 10 seconds, and very few prep sprinters in Texas except Lord Byron, have come near the mark.

Pampa Boy Worries Him

"Carl Mays of Pampa is the boy I'm worried about in the 100 yard dash," Coach Smith says, tearing his hair. "He got a bad start at Lubbock when Gerald beat him, and may be fast enough to win the next time out.

"However, we might get two places in the century in Townsend and Campbell."

Townsend and Campbell made almost phenomenal times recently. But their coach thinks that the timing probably was off just a wee bit . . . enough to make a difference. In the regional, Campbell finished the 100 in 9.8 seconds, according to Smith.

Improves In Broad Jump

Gregston says that Townsend's improvement in the broad jump has been steadier recently than in any of his other specialties, and the Broncs could gather some points in that event.

However, Mr. Football faces tests in his favorites—the discus and the high jump. He's failed to improve as expected in the leap over the bar, but his discus tossing has left little to be desired.

However, Reed Quinn of Austin and Darrow Hooper of Fort Worth's North Side probably have the edge on Townsend in the discus.

Smith has been working his lads hard, trying to get them ready for the meet. He believes the Broncs will make a good showing in the track carnival, no matter how high or low they finish.

College Football Plans

As for Townsend's college football plans, Byron hasn't made any announcement yet. He's still entertaining offers and weeding them out for what he thinks will be the best one.

Several college football coaches have been in Odessa recently, but it's not known whether they succeeded in getting last year's outstanding schoolboy gridder to enroll at their schools. Nobody's talking. It'd almost be easier to find out if the Russians have an atom bomb.

Junior Teams Are Selected

More than 125 boys were assigned to eight Midget and Pee-Wee league nines at an organization meeting Monday afternoon at Lubbock Boys club, officials reported.

Four Midget clubs were set up, including the Yankees, Dodgers, Pirates and Indians, with the Pee-Wee nines taking the names of the Tigers, Red Sox, White Sox and Cardinals. Coaches will be Thomas George, Phil Brock, Willie Schuster and Dawson Reid.

Play gets underway at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the club diamond when the Tigers tangle with the Red Sox in a Pee-Wee circuit tussle, then the Yankees test the Dodgers at 5:30.

Guadalupe Is New Grade School Champ

A new grade school city champion was crowned yesterday afternoon at Jumbo Webster field, when the Guadalupe school rolled to a 3-2 victory over the Roscoe Wilson softball team.

A double by Bobby Coronado that drove in two runs in the three-run fourth inning decided the tight contest. Gil Garcia opened the inning with a single and Gil Paez followed with another one. Julian Bustillos, the winning pitcher, then singled Garcia home. Coronado stepped in at this point and unlimbered a base-clearing double.

Wilson's two runs also were garnered in one inning, with Moore the hero for the losers. With a man on base, Moore slammed a long hit to centerfield that went for a home run, scoring both Wilson counters.

Abel Garcia, Guadalupe backstop, was outstanding yesterday in the field, throwing runners out and catching a brilliant game.

The line score:

Guadalupe	003 000 0	3	9 2
Roscoe Wilson	000 200 0	2	3 1

Bustillos and A. Garcia; Scott and Evans.

Hubbers Sell Newt Secrest

The Lubbock Hubbers, defending champions of the West Texas-New Mexico league, still are looking for a hurler or two, but were minus a catcher today.

Isic Newt Secrest, whom they had bought during the winter, was sold to the Hopkinsville Baseball club of the Kitty league, the same team from whom the Hubbers obtained Secrest.

Secrest left the team in Lubbock yesterday, after being with them since spring training, and was headed for Clarksville, Tenn., where the Hopkinsville team tonight will open league play

The stocky catcher was used sparingly in West Texas - New Mexico League games, appearing in three contests, all on the recent road trip. Before the season opened, Secrest did most of the catching for the Hubbers.

Had .231 Average

In three games, Secrest batted 13 times and hit safely on three occasions, all singles. He drove in two runs and had a batting average of .231. Behind the plate he had 14 putouts, three assists and two errors, with three passed balls.

Secrest last year played with the third place Hopkinsville nine that won the playoffs by beating Owensboro and Madisonville. He appeared in 113 games and had a batting average of .292. Behind the plate he maintained a .963 fielding average.

Hubber officials did not feel that Secrest could help the club, particularly with the acquisition of the heavy-hitting, experienced Don Moore. The Hubbers will continue to carry Floyd Walker and Kermit Altizer as reserves, but another player must be cut off soon.

Deadline for the West Texas-New Mexico League clubs carrying more than 16 players is Wednesday night at midnight. By that time the Hubbers will have had to cut off one player from the current 17 players on the roster.

The Hubbers are carrying the following players at present:

Catchers, Moore, Walker, Altizer; Pitchers, Cotton Russell, Bob Clodfelter, Frank Cobo, Herb Pitts, Marvin Alexander, Royce Mills; Infielders, Virgil Richardson, Al Smith, Jack Haynes, Frank Alexander, Manager Jackie Sullivan; and outfielders, Chick Fowler, Charles Scarborough and Frank Boothe.

The word "cattle" originally meant wealth or property.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says at 20, a man thinks he can save the world; at 30, he's tickled to death if he can save part of his salary.

Shakespeare said there are seven ages of man. There are seven ages of woman, too. They are: the infant, the little girl, the miss, the young woman, the young woman and the young woman and the young woman!

DURING the late, but not lamented World war II, one of the deep thinkers of the New York Times editorial page gave some time and contemplation to great pronunciamentoes, (real and/or imaginary) accredited to American fighting men. The Ttimes man's thought was directed in that channel by a friend's story regarding a Navy officer's remark to his gun crew when a submarine bobbed up nearby. Said the officer: "Well, boys, here's what you've been waiting for. Give 'em hell!"

After some research, the Times man decided that the Army isn't quite as quick as the Navy to come up with stirring battle remarks. The score between the services in this regard, he says, is 5-to-4, with the Navy leading.

Supporting his contention, the Times man gave these stirring statements:

For the Navy: (1) Don't give up the ship; (2) We have met the enemy and they are ours; (3) Damn the torpedoes! Full speed ahead!; (4) Don't cheer, boys. The poor devils are dying; (5) You may fire, Gridley, when you are ready.

For the Army: (1) In the name of Jehovah and the Continental Congress; (2) Don't fire until you see the whites of their eyes; (3) You must beat them, or my wife sleeps a widow tonight; (4) There is Jackson, standing like a stone wall.

FAR be it from us to pick a fight with any erudite gentleman of the Times, but it occurs to us that he overlooked a couple or three good ones — and on the Army side, too.

Along side of any great fighting remarks of the far past, it seems to us that there must be placed these from World war II:

"I shall return," and "I have returned," by Gen. Douglas MacArthur; and the answer to German demands for surrender given by Maj. Gen. A. C. McAuliffe. He said, simply, "Nuts!"

A LAWYER'S son had been brought up on the word "ethics," having heard his old man spout off on the subject many times. Finally, the kid asked his Paw just what "ethics" are.

In a burst of honesty, the lawyer said:

"Son, here is an example of 'ethics.' A man comes into my office for some advice. I give it to him, tell him the charge is $10. He hands me a $10 bill. The 'ethics' come in when I start to decide whether or not I tell my partner about the transaction!"

A smart merchant had tried every trick he knew of to get a slow customer to pay a bill. Finally he turned the trick by writing the debtor:

"If you don't pay me what you owe me within three days, I'll tell all the rest of your creditors you paid me!"

SOME time ago our mail brought us a clipping, as our mail frequently does. Some reader, without signing his name or saying where the item originated, sent it to us thinking that perhaps we could use it here to the benefit of the South Plains public.

He was right. The item is a good one and as we reproduce it we wish we could give credit to its originator.

Here it is:

Joe Jenkins had strong religious views. He liked to argue matters of creed and belief and his big voice usually silenced the other fellow. Jenkins knew a little about many churches and not enough to become a working member of any. No, Jenkins wasn't a church-goer. But he intended to be. He said so.

Jenkins had a hobby. It was prohibition. While he never took the trouble to dig up any statistics, he could prove that the country was better off with liquor, or without it, as the occasion dictated. Jenkins had never bothered to pay his poll tax, so he couldn't vote. But with a few glasses of home brew, or "white lightnin'," under his belt, he could tell everybody for which candidates to vote, and why. He alwhys intended to be able to vote. He said so.

One day Jenkins died. At heaven's gate, St. Peter met him.

"Well, well," said St. Peter. "And who may you be?"

Jenkins liked an opening like that. He gave his name, threw out his chest and plunged into the story about his beliefs and convictions. He also gave some time and wind to his hatred for certain religious and political groups and opinions. It sounded swell, and Jenkins made quite an oration out of it.

"But you took no active part in either religion, or politics," remarked St. Peter, when Jenkins finally had to pause for breath. "Do I understand that you condemned certain beliefs and verbally defended others, while actually remaining on the sidelines, outside of it all?"

JENKINS wound up and made another speech. It was good, too—good and long. But St. Peter wasn't listening. He was busy welcoming to heaven an old Chinese whose entire life had been spent following the teachings of Buddha.

After St. Peter had patted the old heathen on the back and helped him inside, Jenkins made another fine speech. A Jew spoiled it, though, with a recital of the service of Jehweh in the synagogue. Then along came a little Russian child who had not been taught any religion at all, but who said his heart had always sung of a Supreme Power. He hoped his prayers had been received. He hadn't known where to send them.

A huge, nearly naked African came next. His god had been the sun and he begged St. Peter for directions, so he could throw himself at his god's feet.

Finally, when the traffic through the Pearly Gates thinned out, Jenkins cut loose again. He was rather peeved at having been kept waiting, and St. Peter's ignoring him for others.

"Look here," said Jenkins. "I'm a Christian. Please don't let any more of these benighted souls interrupt us."

"You're what?" demanded St. Peter, astonished. "You told me you just sort of drifted through life, believing a little of this, some of that—and taking no serious interest in anything. As a Christian, you should have made at least an effort to follow Christ."

"But listen," bellowed Jenkins. "I was . . ."

"Excuse me," said St. Peter, courteously but firmly. "This is my busy day." Then he turned to welcome a yellow dog whose only god had been the master who had fed and cared for him.

If any reader likes morals, maybe he can make up his own to fit this story!

Yet Marcel Grateau was the guy who lent his name to the "marcel" form of hair doodling. He was, as you might have guessed, a Frenchman. He died less than 10 years ago at the age of 84.

BY DREW PEARSON: SEN. DONNELL BEGINS HEARING ON TIDELANDS OIL ISSUE TODAY

Mrs. Roosevelt May Deal HST Hard Political Blow

WASHINGTON, — If Mrs. Roosevelt does what her friends say she's going to do about Harry Truman it's going to be one of the hardest political blows the President has ever taken—also a big personal disappointment.

PEARSON

Only a few insiders know it, but President Truman has counted on Mrs. Roosevelt to help him swing his renomination. That was one thing he had in mind when he first appointed Mrs. R. to the United Nations.

Mrs. Roosevelt was first asked to be a delegate to UNESCO, the United Nations educational and cultural subsidiary. This she turned down. Then Secretary of State Jimmie Byrnes suggested to Truman that she be made a full U. S. delegate to the U. N.

Truman even took the trouble to call Mrs. Roosevelt himself so as to make sure she accepted the U. N. job.

Now, however, word from Roosevelt circles is that Mrs. R. will not only oppose Harry for renomination, but may have a friendly talk with him, urging him not to run.

Hard-working Senator Donnell of Missouri begins important hearings today on the most powerful lobby Washington has seen in a long time—tidelands oil.

Donnell and Harry Truman, both from Missouri, one a Republican and the other a Democrat, don't agree on a lot of things. But they do agree that the vast reserve of oil under the ocean bottom—namely tidelands oil—belongs to the federal government, and if Donnell is able to uncover some of the big money that was put into Truman's campaign by the big oil boys who thought they were influencing future tidelands votes, then it should be noted to President Truman's credit that he remained true to his convictions, not his political friends.

There is one phase of the tidelands oil pressure group that bears especial attention. It is the fact that exactly the same gang which overcharged the U. S. Navy for Arabian oil, and which lobbied to kill the partition of Palestine, is now pulling wires to turn the rich tidelands oil reserve over to the coastal states — with considerable benefit to the oil companies.

In other words, Standard Oil of California and the Texas Oil company, backed by the Guaranty Trust company and various big bankers, are the real people to watch both in regard to the Arab lobby and tidelands oil. They go hand in hand.

Note—it's significant that the Wall street firm of James V. Forrestal, now the most potent man in the cabinet, once handled the finances of Arab-American oil interests. Forrestal is the man who persuaded Truman to kill the partition of Palestine, thus leaving the United Nations and the Near East with about the worst international mess since the war ended.

ONE THING you have to remember about Senator Taft and the important Taft-Stassen primary today, is that Taft policies haven't been too popular in the Senator's home state. There is respect for the Taft courage and the Taft family, but no great love for Taft policies. For instance:

While a Republican Congress, led by Taft, was cutting the federal budget to ribbons, the state of Ohio, also led by Republicans, was doing just the opposite. In 1947-48, the overwhelming controlled Republican Ohio legislature, and the Republican governor of Ohio increased the state budget 47 per cent over Ohio's 1945-46 expenditures under Democratic Governor Frank Lausche.

Yet, in the Senate, Taft has been one of the most efficient leaders for a contrary policy.

Senator Thomas's Speculators

One of the most interesting figures among the unique assortment of characters who had the run of Oklahoma Senator Thomas's office at the height of his speculating days was Robert M. Harriss of the Harriss & Vose brokerage firm.

It was Bob Harriss who handled Father Coughlin's deals when he was speculating in silver and who also handled the cotton operations of Mrs. Elmer Thomas, the Senator's wife.

Snuggling close to both Senator Thomas and Robert Harris have been two state agricultural commissioners, J. E. MacDonald of Texas and Tom Linder of Georgia. Harris has worked with both men on various cotton deals.

The way Senator Thomas' office has been used is somewhat like this:

When the Senator from Oklahoma blasted proposals to control prices, naturally prices rose. When Thomas forecast good crops, prices dropped. When the Senator made a speech on the proposed policy of the Department of Agriculture, the market reacted. Advance knowledge of the Senator's speeches naturally meant a windfall to men like Harriss. He could buy or sell cotton just before one of the Senator's speeches.

Agricultural commissioners MacDonald and Linder of Texas and Georgia were also important in this respect. They are artists at making angry protests against farm legislation. These protests sometimes influence the commodity market.

Bob Harriss has been so successful on the market that he has built up a beautiful estate on Long Island reputedly worth a million dollars. The estate is called Barcarol.

Visiting him on this estate last summer were none other than Texas Commissioner MacDonald and his wife. They were on a vacation trip to Canada. Before they left, MacDonald's good friend, Broker Harriss, went into Southampton along with MacDonald, stopped at the establishment of Walter Rutyner, De Soto automobile dealer, and they bought a shiny new De Soto for MacDonald's vacation trip.

Thomas Edison was granted 1097 patents, of which 356 pertain to electrical lighting and power distribution.

The Feminine Viewpoint

A HAT designer and psychologist have teamed up to test a theory that fancy hats for men will relieve mental depression.

Women can only hope the idea doesn't stand up. They feel insecure enough these days without discovering that men—those sturdy oaks they lean on—are actually such unstable creatures that they need bright, fancy hats to keep them from mental depression.

MILLETT

Not that women aren't quick to admit that when the world goes sour on them nothing does their morale as much good as going down and buying a silly, frivolous hat.

But they mark up that flightiness in their own nature to feminine weakness.

HATBAND UPLIFT

THEY like to think men are made of sterner stuff. It's going to be something of a shock if they discover that men can get a mental lift from a bright hatband.

Imagine Mama's bewilderment if Papa should come home some night in a fancy hat and explain, "The boss didn't give me the raise and I was feeling so low I had to do something. So I walked in a store and bought this. How do you like it?"

Who is going to face life and shoulder its responsibilities if men as well as women get to depending an fancy hats to bolster ego?

Today's Journal Editorial

THE GROWING CRIME PROBLEM

Food for serious thought is contained in the recent Uniform Crime Report issued by the Federal Bureau of Investigation which shows that a serious crime of some kind was committed in the United States every 18.9 seconds, on the average, during 1947.

That means more than three felonious crimes were committed every minute, more than 180 every hour and more than 4,300 every day, adding up to the astounding total of 1,655,110 during the year. Classified as "serious crimes" were murder, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, larceny and auto theft. The record is the worst since such compilations were begun in 1930.

No one can study these figures without the realization that crime has become one of the most serious domestic problems of this nation—far more serious, probably, than others more widely publicized. Aside from the human misery they cause, the dollars and cents cost is enormous. They are an important reason why taxes are so high.

They also are a reason why every good citizen has a direct self-interest in supporting every movement—such as boys clubs—which is designed to prevent crime. The record further provides irrefutable proof of the need for strong laws, and their enforcement, to deal with those for whom prevention is too late.

In the maternity ward of a big London hospital, a nurse told a nervous floor-pacer, "Congratulations, sir! You are the father of triplets—three bouncing beautiful boys." "That's wonderful," cried the father. "Can I see them now?"

"Certainly," the nurse assured him. "You can also pick out the one you wish to keep." "I don't think I understand," said the father. "Aren't all three mine?" "Of course they're yours," replied the nurse, "but two of them are for export."

Ex-Nazis Get Important Jobs In American Zone Of Germany

WASHINGTON—A new censorship was imposed the other day on news out of the American zone of occupation in Germany, and a protest was quickly forthcoming from American correspondents. While this may signify little, as American officials in Berlin insisted, it will serve nonetheless to stir new doubts as to what the policy of this government really means for Germany and the German people.

CHILDS

We read that the German board of directors of the Tri-Zonal bank of the financiers who were among the most useful servants of the Nazis, Herman J. Abs and August Schniewind put their brains and their skill at the service of the top Nazis, the former particularly in pillaging the occupied countries of their economic resources.

The average American will be puzzled by this turn of events. Where does responsibility lie? What did we fight a war for if it was only to restore such men to power?

Important Position

Schniewind was recently made liaison officer for the European Recovery program and the bi-zonal economic administration. This could be a position of paramount influence in shaping the direction of the German economy.

It is perfectly true, of course, as American military men argue, that they must use Germans with appropriate brains and technical skills. The fact that a German is a good Social Democrat who has suffered for his belief in Democracy does not mean that he can be useful in helping to restore the German economy. Most of the able men seem to have been tainted with Nazism in one way or another.

But this is not an answer to the larger question. That is whether control over German industry in the American and British sectors is being handed back to the same masters who made it possible for Hitler to conquer Europe.

The suspicion grows that just this is happening. A directive of three months ago to the American command in Germany pretty much nullified the whole program to de-concentrate and de-cartelize German industry. It produced a strong protest from employees in the de-cartelization branch in Berlin, who were branded "disloyal" by Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, U. S. deputy military governor.

AT the same time, there are reports of deep dissatisfaction among the rank and file of Germans. They see the extreme right, including those who helped to create Nazism, being restored to power. This is a beautiful gift to the Communists. They exploit it for all it is worth. Thus, in some way, the Soviet-sponsored news agency in Berlin got hold of General Hayes' rebuke to the Americans in the de-cartelization branch and made excellent propaganda with it.

It is easy to blame the military commanders on the spot for what is happening. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. Military governor, has carried a tremendous and difficult task which seems, with each passing day, to grow more troublesome.

Shortly after the war's end, it was decided to turn the responsibility over to civilians. James F. Byrnes, then secretary of state, evaded that responsibility. He didn't want to take over this sprawling and quarrelsome baby. Sidestepping the responsibility, he left the military in control.

Under a later plan, the State department was to take over this June. Weeks of preparation went into that plan, and then, abruptly, it was abandoned, presumably because of the growing crisis with Russia.

Few Make Policies

The British favored the socialization of German heavy industry to insure that the old bosses would not be put back in power. The American Congress would never have favored such a policy.

In the absence of any real authority, it looks as though a few officials exercise the authority and make the vital decisions. Perhaps because it's the easiest way or perhaps because it's where their own prejudices lie, they are handing the levers of control back to those who wrecked the machine.

This accentuates the split between the left and the right. It handicaps the "third force" in Germany—those who would follow a middle way between the two extremes. That is why these decisions are so important to Americans who hope for a democratic Germany. This cannot come if power is restored to the clever men who were identified with Hitlerism and the attempt at world conquest. To restore these men and call it free enterprise is a monstrous preversion of the truth.

Spring appetites call for fresh rhubarb. To stew it by the double boiler method cut the rhubarb in one-inch pieces; place it with sugar in top of double boiler and cook, uncovered, over hot water until it is tender. It should be soft but still hold its shape. Cooking it this way without added water gives it a delectable flavor and color. About 1 cup of sugar may be used to 2 pounds (5 to 6 cups) of diced rhubarb.

Seasoned Hindu Lawyer Is To Take Over Top Office In India

NEW DELHI, India, May 4. (AP)—Chakravarthi Rajagopalachari, 69, seasoned Hindu lawyer and politician, is to be India's new governor general.

His appointment was announced last night and has been approved by King George VI on recommendation of the Indian government.

He will take office June 21, succeeding Earl Mountbatten, last of the British viceroys and first governor general of free India.

Follower Of Gandhi

Rajagopalachari—usually called "C. R."—is known in India as a friend and follower of Gandhi, and also for his independence in political thinking. When Gandhi began his "quiet India" program of noncooperation with the British during the past war, Rajagopalachari resigned from Gandhi's Congress party. He felt that India was too vulnerable to attack from the Japanese.

He now is governor of West Bengal province. While Mountbatten attended the wedding of Princess Elizabeth last fall, he was for 15 days India's acting governor general.

In 1919, Rajagopalachari abandoned a substantial law practice to follow Gandhi in his civil disobedience movement. He is a prohibitionist and he lives simply. His garb usually is simple dhoti loincloth, similar to that which Gandhi wore.

Mountbatten To Leave

Friends of Mountbatten said he is expected to leave for England soon after the new governor general takes office. There have been many reports that the British government will try to persuade him to take another diplomatic post.

Some think he may be asked to become Britain's ambassador to the Soviet union. There has been some talk however, that he has asked to be given active service again in the British navy, in which he holds the commission of rear admiral.

Indians generally feel that the new choice for governor general is a man who gets things done. He also has the age to carry weight in this land where years are synonymous with veneration. Usually he wants things done in the Gandhi way—with love and gentleness. But if that doesn't pay off he is not beyond knocking heads together.

He served time in jail because he fought for independence from crown rule. His long career of public services includes a term as premier of the Madras presidency, membership in the old viceroy's executive council and his service as West Bengal's governor.

He once angered his fellow Hindus by his tolerance of the Moslem Indian appeals for their own country.

Trout Compensate For Getting Lost

CAPITOLA, Calif., May 4. (AP)—Ronald Weaver, a high school teacher, and Andrew Sleath went fishing. They didn't return.

Next morning, Police Chief Robert Mondelle found their parked car, then followed the men's trail.

He found the fishermen. They'd become lost and spent a quiet Sunday night in the woods.

But they didn't mind—each had his limit of trout.

MASSEY RECEIVES NASH AWARD—Two officials of the Dallas zone office of the Nash Motor division of Nash-Kelvinator corporation, came to Lubbock Monday to award Floyd Massey, owner of the Massey Motor company, 202 Broadway, with 10-point Select Nash Dealer plaque, presented to outstanding Nash dealers over the nation. In the picture above, taken at the presentation dinner last night at Hotel Lubbock, are: J. W. Yantis, zone district manager; R. L. Alexander, zone manager, both of Dallas, Floyd Massey, receiving the award, and his son, Harold Massey. Employes of the local firm were guests at the dinner. (Staff Photo).

Asparagus Patch Is Sprouting In Drive

CAMPAIGN, Ill., May 4 (AP)—Attorney John L. Franklin's asparagus crop is sprouting, but he's not happy.

Franklin planted the asparagus in his yard three years ago. It didn't come up so Franklin built a driveway over the barren patch. For surfacing he used four inches of gravel and two inches of asphalt.

Now the driveway is splitting and the asparagus is peeking through the cracks. Franklin thought he had something for science. But Lee Somers of the University of Illinois college of agriculture shrugged him off with this story:

An ivy vine less than an inch in diameter once threw old University hall completely out of plumb. The hall since has been razed—because of age, not of ivy.

Meanwhile, Franklin is using weed killer to save the driveway.

Dog Responsible For Cutting Off Road

ROME, Wis., May 4 (AP) — A frisky dog cut off half of the road leading to this southeastern Wisconsin community yesterday.

The pup was trotting across the bridge over the Rock river, when Frank Beaver, 49, of Rome, drove along in his car. Beaver spotted the dog, braked his car and swerved into a steel girder.

The west end of the span plunged into the water, with Beaver's car atop it. He was slightly shaken up. The dog scrambled to safety.

The bridge, the only link to the northeast out of Rome, served the only road to the town of less than 200 population.

Royal Wedding Is Rumored Postponed

COPENHAGEN, May 4 (AP) — Prince Michel of Bourbon Parma said today he felt certain his sister, Princess Anne, would not renounce the Roman Catholic faith.

Michel's statement was made in response to questions about a report that a family conclave in Paris had announced Anne's renunciation of her faith in order to marry former King Mihai of Romania. Mihai is a member of the Greek Orthodox church.

"I have never heard anything about that," Michel said. "I was present at the family meeting in Paris and such a statement was not made. Should anything serious like that later have been decided I would have known."

Pope Pius XII refused last March to grant a dispensation permitting the marriage, Vatican sources said. The mothers of Mihai and Anne had visited the pontiff in the hope of obtaining the dispensation.

Reports have cropped up in Lausanne, Switzerland, that the marriage had been postponed indefinitely. Mihai's aide, Maj Jacques Vergotti would not confirm or deny the reports.

Superfort Crashes On German Takeoff

WIESBADEN, Germany, May 4 (AP) — An American superfortress crashed just after taking off from Fuerstenfeldbruck airbase last night.

One crew member is missing, two were injured seriously enough to be hospitalized and nine have minor injuries, U. S. Air Force headquarters here announced this morning.

The cause of the crash is unknown, the Air Force said. The B29's destination was not given.

Taylor Faces Trial Tonight

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 4 (AP)—Sen. Glen Taylor (D-Idaho) faces disorderly conduct charges in police court here tonight.

The third party running mate of presidential candidate Henry Wallace goes before Judge Oliver Hall on charges growing out of the city's segregation laws.

The maximum fine for disorderly conduct is $100 and costs and 180 days in jail. The minimum fine is $1 and costs.

Released Under Bond

The Idaho Senator was arrested Saturday night as he attempted to enter a negro church where he was scheduled to address a meeting of the Southern Negro Youth congress. He was released in $100 bond.

In Washington yesterday Taylor told the Senate he doubts if he would be alive if he had let himself be provoked into "talking back" to police after his arrest.

He said two police officers taking him to jail drove through open country and along a lonely road.

"It was obvious they had taken a detour, just hoping it would provoke something," he said.

Police Commissioner Eugene Connor said Taylor was taken directly from the spot where he was arrested to jail.

Relating his experience at the Birmingham jail, the Senator said "I was locked up in the bullpen—I didn't even get a private cell befitting a United States Senator."

Taylor was expected to arrive here this afternoon.

Cushing Must Pay Wife $250 Monthly

LOS ANGELES, May 4 (AP)—Harry C. Cushing IV, 25, member of the wealthy Vanderbilt family, must pay actress Georgette Windsor, 24, $250 monthly alimony for four months.

Superior Judge William Baird said that was enough alimony "considering the short marriage." They were wed last August 24 in Las Vegas, Nev.

Cushing was left a $1,500,000 trust fund by his mother, the late Kathleen Nielson Vanderbilt, and draws $75,000 a year from it, his wife testified yesterday. Cushing said he has nothing and is "just learning the movie business at Gibraltar Pictures, Inc., without a salary." He admitted, however, that he received $28,000 gross from the trust fund in 1947.

Cushing said his wife has $75,000, including $20,000 worth of jewelry given to her by his mother before their marriage.

Stranger Walks Away After Saving Girl

MINNEAPOLIS, May 4 (INS)—What matters heroism?

A fully-clothed stranger dived into the Mississippi river and rescued 11-year-old Sandra Larson of Minneapolis, who had fallen from a 60-foot cliff into the water.

The stranger brought the girl to safety, saw that she was all right, then walked away without identifying himself.

School Children Sing "April Showers" As Tornado Smashes North Texas Towns

McKINNEY, May 4 (U.P.)—The 5th grade class at Fanny Finch school sang "April Showers" yesterday while a tornado smashed half this bustling North Texas milltown.

Mrs. W. T. McCasland, a teacher in the 5th graders' home room, told how she started the kids singing as the twister thundered through their town.

The storm swept across 20 miles of Texas countryside, including McKinney and the small communities of Princeton and Merit. It killed three persons and injured 71 others seriously.

Didn't Like Dark Sky

Mrs. McCasland, a calm woman in her late 40's, said she didn't like the way the sky was darkening as the school day neared its end. The Fanny Finch grade school had already dismissed the first three of its six grades.

The 45 youngsters in Mrs. McCasland's room were stirring in anticipation of the final bell.

Then the tornado struck.

Mrs. McCasland pretended not to notice the storm and told the class.

"And now, Sylvia Simpson will lead us in singing 'April Showers'."

As the wind howled outside, the pretty little black-haired girl of 10, led her classmates in singing about the welcome showers that bring May flowers.

A Little Scared

Sylvia admitted today that she was a "little scared" until she found her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Simpson, safe after the storm.

Mrs. McCasland thought the little girl was wonderful.

The storm buffeted the schoolhouse, shattering banks of windows on the west side, opposite Mrs. McCasland's room. When the fury subsided, the kids from east side rooms went to help youngsters who suffered cuts from flying glass.

Principal C. T. Edding saved some of the smaller children from harm by putting them into steel clothing lockers. While doing so, he suffered a smashed hand when he was struck by a swinging door.

Tree Trimmer Upset By Troubles Of Job

PASADENA, Calif., May 4 (AP)—Trials and tribulations of the tree trimmer, vol. 1, page 1, please.

The tree trimmer, Leo Erwin, was giving a crew cut to a towering palm. He leaned back a few inches to see if the feather edge was even all around when, zounds, about a ton of trimmings and intertwined vines crashed down on him.

Leo was turned upside down in his safety belt. He stayed in that position for a half hour, too. It took that long for the fire department to show up, climb 75 feet up the tree, hack and saw Leo out of the fronds and debris and carry him down the ladder to an ambulance. He suffered shock and internal injuries.

Roger Williams required all women of Salem to wear veils when attending church meetings.

Mother's Body Found By Son

DUBLIN, Ga., May 4. (AP)—A nine-year-old boy returning home from school yesterday found his mother shot to death, her body blocking the front door.

A few feet away was the body of a man, a bullet through the head. Nearby was a .38 calibre pistol.

Deputy Sheriff Judson Jackson said the two were Mrs. Grady Cullens, about 30, and Doy Joiner, about 34, members of prominent familes.

The deputy added that Mrs. Cullens' son returned from school but could not get into the house because the door would not open. He looked through a window and saw the bodies.

The lad's father, Grady Cullens, was summoned. He crawled through the window to verify the tragedy.

The Cullens and Joiner families had shared a duplex house. Joiner, the deputy sheriff reported, was divorced last week.

A corner's jury was empanelled to investigate the double-shooting.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloat, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

Art Exhibition Held At Tech

The Tenth Annual Children's Art exhibition, totaling approximately 225 original pictures, drawings and designs, is in its third day of display for public examination at West Texas museum on the Tech campus. The works of art, submitted by Lubbock and South Plains public school pupils from grades one through eight, will remain on display at the museum until May 21.

A grand prize, 14 certificates of merit and a number of honorable mentions will be awarded for the best work in the grade represented in the exhibit. The pictures will be judged by a special jury, not yet named, on Saturday, May 8, and the announcement of prizes will be made on Sunday, May 9.

Contributions Reduced

First and second place certificates of merit will be awarded in each of the first seven grades, with seven and eight being lumped together for judging ourposes, it was announced today by Robert Lockard, a member of the department of architecture at Texas Tech.

A smaller number of contributions has been received for the exhibit this year, Lockard said, because of the prohibitive cost of art materials.

All works accepted for the school exhibit have been produced by South Plains school children during the 1947-48 school year or summer months. Drawings from life, local scenes and purely imaginative ideas are predominant in the display, and all copies, tracings, and drawings made from other work in imitative modes have been eliminated as nearly as possible.

Judging Paints Listed

Important points which judges will consider Saturday in evaluating the pictures are originality, sincere and childlike approach, pleasing color arrangement and design, appropriate use of the medium for the subject, and absence of adult influence.

Public school teachers, through whose influence and cooperation the display has been made possible, have expressed the hope that the exhibit will bring a genuine bond-in-art between parents, teachers, children and the general public that will be of value to the community.

The display may be seen at the museum Monday through Saturday from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday museum hours are 3 p. m. to 6 p. m.

Junior High Pupils Visit High School

Approximately 415 ninth grade students from Central and O. L. Slaton junior high schools flocked into Lubbock Senior High school Monday afternoon for an explanation of rules and traditions and for pre rescheduling conferences with assigned counselors.

The two groups, who had two weeks earlier heard an explanation of senior high courses for which they were eligible by Principal Floyd Honey and Director of Guidance Grace Padley, met with previously assigned guidance teachers and filled out subject course cards, which have gone to parents for final approval.

The group from Central Junior High school toured the building and heard regulations and traditions explained to them by student council members while the group from Slaton Junior high met with guidance teachers, following which the groups "traded places."

The number of ninth graders expected to enter senior high this fall is almost identical with the number of seniors who will graduate this spring, high school officials said.

Senior high students received a half-day holiday while the orientation and pre-scheduling activities were held.

Sluggish motor starting may be caused by a loose contact in the switch or a dirty commutator.

Border Violations Charged To Russian And Czech Patrolmen

BERLIN, May 4 (AP) — The American military government said today border violations have been committed by Russian and Czech soldiers along U. S. occupation zone frontiers in Germany.

A semi-monthly military government report on occupation affairs said Czecholovakian border police had "fired at several persons within Bavaria" in the United States zone.

Details Not Given

The full circumstances of these incidents were not reported, but U. S. public safety officials said they occurred after the Czechs had increased their border patrols to check the flight of anti-Communist Czech refugees into Germany.

Russian soldiers were accused of two violations of Bavaria's inter-zonal boundary with the Soviet zone of Germany.

These were the first reported major violations of the inter-zonal frontier since February, when the Americans charged German border police from the Russian zone with arresting persons in Hesse, in the U. S. zone.

Control Increased

In the past few months the Russians have greatly increased their border controls.

Today's report noted a slight improvement in western Germany's over-all food situation, and said it was due to increased U. S. imports and a rising collection of food from German farms.

The information control division also reported the Russians had banned the American comedy "Three Men On A Horse" from production in theaters in Leipzig, in the Russian zone. No reason was given. The play had a long run in the western occupation zone.

A Tass report from Berlin said the Soviet occupation zone in Germany exceeded its industrial target for the first quarter of 1948 by 36 per cent.

Peace Group Chapter Is Discussed Here

The United World Federalists recently created what they call a world government institute at San Angelo college, an they point to the recent forum held at Abilene under direction of James P. Speer, former member of the U. S. State department. Such a forum is planned here for mid-May, it was said.

Laborer Submits 104 Income Tax Forms

PHILADELPHIA, May 4 (AP)—Filling out income tax forms for an itinerant day laborer was more than just a headache—it was practically a steady job.

Francis R. Smith, collector of internal revenue for the Philadelphia district, said yesterday that a man who listed his occupation as "freight unloader" turned in 104 W-2 short forms to complete his tax return for 1947.

Smith said the man, father of three small children, was employed by 51 different firms in seven states, being rehired by some employers during last year to account for the difference between the number of forms and job totals.

The mark of 104 short forms, Smith said, exceeded the previous record of 75 filled out by an individual. The government, Smith added, refunded the new record holder $100 in tax overpayment on his $80-a-week average pay.

Consistory May Be Called By Pope Soon

VATICAN CITY, May 4 (AP)—Vatican sources said today Pope Pius XII is expected to call a consistory early in June.

Informants said it probably will include secret, public and semi-public sessions.

If held, sacred palliums will be confirmed upon newly elected archbishops and patriarchs in secret sessions. At a public consistory the pontiff would hear pleas for the canonization of new saints.

In the semi-public consistory bishops and archbishops within a 100-mile radius of Rome would be asked to attend and express approval or disapproval for canonizations to be made during 1950.

There also is a possibility that the Pope may name cardinals to fill vacancies now existing in the sacred college. The college normally has 70 cardinals. Since the 1946 consistory deaths have reduced the number to 60.
