Exit Blocked; Rescue Crews Entering Mine

Building Is Blown Apart In Santa Barbara Blast

(By The Associated Press)

PINEVILLE, Ky.,—Dec. 26—Between 30 and 35 miners were trapped in a deep coal mine here today when an underground explosion closed their exit, W. E. Lewis, mine operator, said.

Lewis said the explosion was so deep in the pit that it was not heard outside, but that it was believed to have occurred at approximately 8:30 a. m. (CST).

Rescue Crews Busy

Rescue crews were preparing to enter the mine at 11:30 a. m. (CST) and Lewis said nothing would be known about conditions in the explosion area until efforts had been made to penetrate the cave-in.

He added that it could not be determined immediately what caused the explosion.

Mine rescue squads from other companies in Bell and Harlan counties were summoned to aid in the rescue work. One crew entered from an air shaft but had to return when it ran into a slate fall.

There was only one entrance to the pit and mine officials said a steady stream of black smoke had been coming out of the entrance since the explosion.

A. A. Fish, mining engineer for the company, said names of the men were not available immediately. The firm employes about 100 miners but the day shift was not operating at full capacity because of the holiday yesterday.

THREE BODIES FOUND; TWO PERSONS MISSING

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Dec. 26 (AP)—Five persons were believed to have been killed in an unexplained explosion which destroyed a warehouse-apartment building here early today.

Three bodies were recovered and two other persons were unaccounted for and were feared to be among the victims.

Five Others Injured

Five others were injured, none of them seriously.

Three bodies were identified tentatively as Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson and Caroline Sue Stovall, 10. The other two victims were believed to be Mrs. Frances Watson McClain, 26, and her sister, Miss Mildred Watson, 21.

The two latter had been visiting their mother at Huntington Park, Calif., and left there Tuesday af-

Robberies Lead Law Violation List With 35

Hit-Run Driving, Shooting, Jail Breaking Listed

(By The United Press)

Robberies, hit-and-run driving and other forms of law violation marred Texas' Christmas holiday period, state public safety reports showed Tuesday night.

Among the robberies Christmas day, sending the holiday total to 35, were four in San Antonio and three each in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Soldier Is Held Up

Two negro women, one armed with a pistol, held up a Dodd field soldier in San Antonio and took $270 from him.

A. T. Harris, San Antonio, was robbed by two men in soldiers' uniforms. The robbers took $30 and slashed Harris' clothes with a knife.

Mrs. M. E. Cowden, 31, also of San Antonio, was thrown to the ground and robbed of the Christmas presents she was carrying.

Charles Eaton and Thurston Davis, Dallas, were beaten and abducted by a pair of bandits, who took their car and threw them out unconscious on a road near Garland.

Dallas Man Robbed

J. F. Todd, Dallas, was robbed as he closed his store last night. A man whom he didn't see stuck something in his back and took a paper sack containing $180.

In one of Fort Worth's trio of robberies, John C. Johnson, an ice company operator, lost $500 to two negro bandits.

Rape charges were filed against a 35-year-old Atascosa county man, who allegedly kidnaped and assaulted a 13-year-old girl.

Officers along the international boundary sought a suspect in the critical shooting of Manuel De Rueda, 30. The victim was shot in the chest on the Grangeno ranch, along the Rio Grande river south of Mission.

Boy Being Held

At Fort Worth, police held a 17-year old boy who was wanted for breaking jail in Louisiana. Detectives said he is wanted in about 25 cases of burglary in various SANTA GREETS RETURNING VETS—Santa Claus greeted Paficic veterans on the waterfront at San Francisco as they arrived on the S. S. Monterey. Some 4,000 veterans were aboard the ship and because of transportation difficulties many of them were unable to get home for Christmas.

Holiday Death Toll Tops For Entire Nation

Thirty-Four Die In Auto Mishaps; Fifteen Slain

(By The Associated Press)

Texas today led the nation in violent holiday deaths with 53, almost one-sixth of the county's total.

Thirty-four died in traffic accidents, the toll of increasingly crowded streets and highways. There were 15 slayings, two firearms accidents and an electrocution.

Latest Traffic Report

Latest traffic accidents reported:

One killed and 11 injured when a Dallas bound bus from Houston plunged off a creek bridge near Dallas.

Mrs. Kathryn Childers and infant daughter, Linda Kay, of Abilene killed in an auto collision near Kermit.

Benino Rodriguez, 69, of Donna killed in a traffic accident near Mercedes.

Only one fire fatality was reported. Sabas Elizalde of Laredo died in an apartment house fire at Beaumont.

Olga Ramirez, 15, of Alamo died yesterday after being struck by a switch engine at Towers, east of Alamo.

Two Die Near Greenville

A grade crossing accident took the lives of two persons eight miles south of Greenville yesterday. Mrs. Floyd Lewis of Greenville and L. W. Emery of Chilton were killed when the truck in which they were riding collided with a train. Floyd Lewis was critically hurt. His four-year-old son was suffering from shock.

Ramond Hooten, Monahans trucker, was electrocuted when he touched a high voltage wire three miles south of McCamey. At Llano, James Buchanan, 12, was killed when a rifle in the hands of a playmate was accidentally discharged.

Victims Are Listed

A roundup by the state highway patrol last night named the following most recent victims:

Celia Alvarez, 16, killed in a bus-car crash at San Antonio.

Simon Martinez, 23, killed when his car overturned on a country road eight miles south of Charlotte.

Charles Posey, 10, of Paducah, was fatally injured when the car in which he was riding to Matador overturned.

James R. Jones, 35, of Arlington,

President Truman Busy Today Paying Visit To Old Friends

(By The Associated Press)

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Dec. 26—President Truman went merrily about celebrating the Christmas holidays today as his home folk showed every disposition to allow him to do it in his own way.

His round of Yuletide calls spread to Kansas City where friends were invited to drop into his office in the federal building for an exchange of season greetings.

Covers Territory

Mr. Truman covered plenty of territory upon his arrival here yesterday by plane from Washington through sleet and storm. He went immediately by automobile over icy pavements for a 25-minute visit with his mother, 93-year-old Mrs. Martha A. Truman, at nearby Grandview.

Mayor Roger T. Sermon of Independence made it clear that there will be no official observance of the president's visit.

"He came home to spend the holidays with his family and close friends," Sermon told reporters. "I expect to drop by for a handshake, that is all. We want the president to feel free to come and go as he pleases, just like any other home town citizen coming home for Christmas."

To See Old Friends

After his visit to the federal building, aides said, the president probably will drop by several places in Kansas City for handshakes with old friends. However,

Announcement Of Meeting Results Will Be Made

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Dec. 26—The foreign ministers of the United States, Russia and Great Britain met this afternoon to clear up the last few details of their conference, hoping to complete by night agreements on a number of details.

They gathered at Speridonifka palace at 2:30 p. m. (5:30 a. m. Central Standard time). Agreements were reported reached on main questions. Informed quarters said the area of agreement was greater than anyone, including perhaps the ministers, had hoped when they met.

No Time Is Set

The hour of issuance of the final communique was doubtful. A British informant said yesterday the bulletin would be issued at 2 a. m. tomorrow (5 p. m. today CST), but latest indications were that no definite time had been set.

French assent to the procedure on drafting peace treaties for European states still was awaited. The French have indicated, however, they would not object. China

Traffic Break Believed Near

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26. (AP)—A break in the jam which has held nearly 170,000 servicemen in Pacific coast ports over the Christmas holiday appeared near today.

Los Angeles and San Francisco, principal bottlenecks in the transportation jam which has prevented returning veterans from proceeding to their homes at eastern points, both reported far fewer men coming in than going out.

Ships Due Today

Two ships are scheduled to bring 2,703 men to Los Angeles today and 1,915 are due at San Francisco aboard two other vessels. These ports have been clearing close to 15,000 men a day for eastern points. San Francisco port officials yesterday said they anticipated only 18,000 men between then and Jan. 1, allowing an opportunity for substantial reduction of the more than 40,000 men already here. Los Angeles has a similar backlog.

Seattle and Tacoma, Washington state staging areas, anticipate 949 men today while several thousand are being cleared via train, bus and plane. Portland, Ore., reported no arrivals.

Christmas day programs in the port cities gave the waiting Army, Navy and Marine veterans plenty to do and eat as civilian homes, clubs and lodges from Seattle to San Diego were thrown open to them. At Seattle, a Christmas party planned for 10,000 men with presents for all was attended by not nearly that number.

President Truman To Make Radio Address

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 26. (AP) — President Truman revealed today that he will address the country by radio shortly after his return to Washington on the overall legislative program and the state of the nation.

The address, he said, will include not only an explanation to the people of his legislative proposal for ending strikes but will review his entire legislative program, much of which has been stalemated in Congress.

The President made his disclosure to an informal news conference today shortly after his arrival in his offices at the Kansas City federal building from a trip to nearby Grandview, Mo., where he paid his second holiday visit in two days to his mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman.

Portales Mill Is Destroyed By Fire

PORTALES, N. M., Dec. 26. (UP)—Firemen continued to play a stream of water on the smouldering stack of peanuts at the Portales Valley mills today, 48 hours after a fire broke out which destroyed the milling machinery, hull house and approximately 10 carloads of unprocessed peanuts.

The fire has been kept from spreading to other stacks containing more than 200 cars of unprocessed peanuts at the mill which manufactures peanut butter.

Company officials were still unable to give an estimate of the damage.

Police Report Quiet Holiday

It was a "pretty quiet" Christmas, despite a bunch of investigations that "naturally develop in a town of this size," peace officers said today.

Simultaneously with the removal of decorations and other evidences of Christmas—even the hangovers were gradually wearing out—filing charges and investigation of undisposed of cases were in progress.

Fined For Drunk Driving

R. P. Crouch, 59, and C. E. Pate, 58, were fined $50 and costs each for drunk driving, after entering pleas of guilty in county court. County Judge Walter Davies set bonds of $500 for Domingo Vasquez, a Mexican charged with pistol toting, and Robert Herman Morris, 23, charged with drunk driving.

Assistant Chief of Police Bill Mabray said charges of assault with a prohibitive weapon would be filed in justice court for the grand jury, against two Mexicans who allegedly escorted Marin Bitela, another Mexican, around the Mexican section of town, over Bitela's objections. Bitela himself recently was no-billed in connection with the slaying of a 28-year-old Mexican here, Arturo DeLeon, Mabray said.

A 49-year-old man was in custody in connection with investiga-

Labor Heads Topics For Next Congress

Proposal Would Make Union Liable For Strike Damage

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—A suggestion that labor unions be made liable for damages resulting from strikes in violation of contracts came today from Senator Wiley (R-Wis).

"That should do away with irresponsible strikes," Wiley told a reporter, adding he believed such a step alone would "practically solve" the strike problem.

To Discuss Proposal

The Wisconsin senator said he intends to discuss his proposal in the Senate when Congress reconvenes January 14. Labor legislation is one of the big items on the schedule for returning legislators.

President Truman asked earlier this month for a law to set up "fact-finding" procedures in labor disputes with major effect on the public interest.

Senator Ellender (D-La) has introduced a bill to carry out the president's proposal. Hearings are to start by the labor committees immediately after Congress returns.

Proposal Denounced

The House labor committee held a week of hearings before the recess. Labor Leaders William Green, Philip Murray and John L. Lewis all roundly denounced the president's proposal, Lewis calling it "an evil vile-smelling mess."

The committee took no action but decided to proceed on a "broader basis" after the holidays.

Some legislators particularly close to organized labor are understood to be urging that union leaders accept Mr. Truman's idea. Their argument runs that otherwise Congress may enact some more restrictive measure.

Considerable sentiment has been evidenced for legislation going beyond the White House proposal.

Not Far Enough

Senator Hatch (D-NM), one of the president's closest friends and most loyal supporters, told reporters he thought Mr. Truman "did not go far enough."

Hatch is co-author with Senator Ball (R-Minn) of a long-pending measure which would establish machinery for settlement of labor disputes through arbitration.

Restrictions on political activities by unions and penalties for violations of contracts have support in the house military committee as amendments to a bill for repeal of the Smith-Connally act's strike vote provisions.

Two Newspapers Rap Truman For Flight

NEW YORK, Dec. 26. (UP)—Two New York newspapers today criticized President Truman's airplane flight yesterday under adverse weather conditions to Kansas City.

The New York Times said editorially that while "it is natural to want to spend Christmas at home," this "is no time to be careless."

". . . there is a point at which Harry Truman becomes President and shoulders a responsibility that he ought not to set aside," the Times said.

The newspaper PM said that the "President doesn't have the privilege of taking chances with his life." PM said that it would wager his mother "told him something like this" when she saw him.

Strike Truce Ended Today

DETROIT, Dec. 26 (UP)—CIO auto workers union pickets forcibly barred a General Motors executive from driving into a company garage in Flint, Mich., today, ending a Yule holiday peace on the picket lines.

The incident occurred at the Buick plant, where pickets stopped all office workers except those going into the main office. H. H. Curtis, Buick plant general manager, tried to drive into the garage and his car was pushed back by four or five pickets. He left his car in the drvieway and walked to the administration building.

Succeeds In Third Try

O. W. Young, assistant manufacturing manager at the same plant, succeeded in his third try in driving through pickets into the garage. No one was injured in the two incidents.

GM officials refused to comment on whether they would seek an anti-picketing injunction at Flint, though the corporation has repeatedly emphasized it will seek court intervention wherever pickets bar office workers.

The corporation reported that about 25,000 of its 50,000 nonstriking office workers reported back to work without incident this morning except at Flint. The return-to-work included office employes at the Flint AC sparkplug plant, scene of police intervention recently.

A hearing was scheduled this afternoon on an anti-picketing injunction in Pontiac, where the corporation filed the petition Dec. 20 against three UAW locals. Three judges sitting en banc refused to issue an injunction, continuing the case until today.

Salaried workers were permit-

Berlin Searched For Killer Of Americans

BERLIN, Dec. 26. (UP)—A joint search by American and Soviet Army patrols has failed to find any trace of two gunmen who killed two American soldiers with short-range pistol shots on a Berlin street Sunday night.

The gunmen wore unidentified Army uniforms. They halted an enlisted man from the U.S. 78th Division shortly before midnight as he walked with a German girl. The gunmen asked in broken English if he was an American. When he said yes, one of them pulled out a pistol and shot him through the head.

They halted another soldier of the 78th Division 20 yards down the street and killed him in a similar manner.

No Developments In Big Spring Slaying

BIG SPRING, Dec. 26. (AP)—Officers reported no important developments today as they continued their search for the slayer of Mrs. Patt Darnaby, 39, wife of a Big Spring and Odessa cafe operator.

Mrs. Darnaby was shot by a man who fired after flagging Mrs. Darnaby and her husband to a stop on the highway seven miles west of here early yesterday.

Homer Pruitt of Odessa reported he was slugged by a negro near the scene of the shooting. He walked three-quarters of a mile to report the attacks.

Winter's Grip Is Easing Off

(By The Associated Press)

Heavy snowfalls, rain and sleet, which afforded the nation a variety of inclement weather on Christmas, eased up today—and there wasn't a cold wave in the immediate offing.

Fresh falls of snow covered a wide section of the northern half of the country and in the south and southeastern sections skies cleared after sleet and rain yesterday. New England states got a combination of snow, sleet and some rain while rising temperatures and a letup in rain and snow was the outlook for the eastern area. An indication was a rise from 1 to 34 above over night in Albany, N.Y.

Warmer In Texas

The only cold spot on today's weather map was in the area around Bismarck, N. D., with the temperature at 3 degrees below zero. Weather in the Florida peninsula cleared and rising temperatures were forecast for Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Texas and other southwest states.

Miami, Fla., and Brownsville, Tex., shared the country's warmest Christmas weather, each reporting clear skies and a high of 78.

NO IMMEDIATE BAD WEATHER FOR TEXAS

Mistaken Identity, And He's Sorry Too

NEW YORK, Dec. 26. (AP)—Lester B. Mathews, 48-year-old auditor pleaded guilty to grand larceny today, because:

Last May Mathews received a statement from the Manufacturers Trust company showing a $5,000 credit for his checking account although he had only $59 on deposit. He withdrew $3,000, bought a car, and left town.

Then the bank found that the money should have been credited to the account of Mrs. Lillian B. Mathews, no relative.

Mathews was arrested in Little Rock, Ark. The bank says he still is credited with a bank balance—but this time it's $59.

Two Fliers Hurt In Wreck At Childress

QUANAH, Dec. 26 (UP) — Two fliers were recovering today from injuries suffered when their light airplane crashed at the Childress Municipal airport late yesterday.

Dennis Walker of Wichita Falls suffered a broken leg, face, arm, and leg lacerations, and Ty Williamson of Morton, the pilot, also had a broken leg and in addition may have been hurt internally.

They were brought to the Quanah hospital from Childress this morning.

Williamson's plane cut out on the takeoff and dived to earth.

Missing Boy, Cat And $1,000 Found After A Spending Spree

CHICAGO, Dec. 26. (UP)—Richard Mason's grandfather was en route from Pekin, Ill., today to get the 14-year-old lad, who told police he left home "because people were always stepping on my cat's tail and saying it was accidental."

Richard and Hooky, a big black Tom which he described as "part Angora," wound up in central station last night after a five-day movie spree.

Had $1,000 In Pocket

Richard had nearly $1,000 in his pocket when police took him and the cat into custody at their loop hotel. The youthful fugitive readily admitted running off with some $1,500 belonging to his grandfather, Henry Gleich, a Pekin city street inspector.

He said he had purchased a new suit and a desk lamp with the money, bought expensive calf's liver for Hooky and saw every picture show in the loop.

Hotel officials said they became suspicious of Richard when they saw a list of instructions he left for the maid on the door of his room.

Number One on the list admonished: Don't let the cat out. 2.—Don't leave the door open. 3.—

Vet Arrives Home On Surprise Visit But Finds Wife Missing

HOUSTON, Dec. 26. (UP)—Robert J. Lewis, who was released from a Navy hospital so he could give his wife, Gertrude, a surprise visit for Christmas, today searched the city but couldn't find her.

"I'm afraid she went to New York where I last saw her in the hospital," he said.

Four Years In Jap Prison

Lewis had been hospitalized after he was released by the Japanese on Sept. 4 following almost four years of captivity.

He arrived yesterday and started his search. She hadn't shown up at the home of relatives, nor had she sent them presents.

Lewis said that in the last six months she had lost a brother in action, her father had died, and she had been informed he was not dead but had been captured.

Believed Searching For Him

"I'm afraid the jolt was too much for her," he said. "I believe she is wandering around the country looking for me."

He wired every possible place his wife might be, he said, and her Christmas presents were waiting unopened. He had saved more than $10,000 from his merchant marine salary which he wants to PARTY OUTFIT — Blouses and skirts, the college girl's favorite outfit, go glamorous for her holiday party-going. Here radio ingenue Jean Gillespie wears a black satin blouse with a heavy silver lame skirt interwoven in black. A satin tie belt gives a costume look to the two pieces.

In honor of Mrs. C. B. Martin, jr., who was Miss Conny McDonald before her marriage, Miss Jean Freeman and Mrs. John A. Roberts, jr., entertained with a coffee this morning in the home of the former hostess, 2810 Twenty-first. Guests called between 9:30 and 11 o'clock. A shower of gifts was presented to the honoree.

A coral and green motif will be carried out in the table decorations, the napkins and the guest book. On the table were silver sprayed greenery, coral balls and coral and green ribbon tied into a large bow on which were the names, "Conny and C. B." Miss Freeman hand painted the napkins and the guest book. White and green tapers and green balls were arranged on the mantel.

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. Alex McDonald, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Claude Martin were presented white carnation corsages.

Misses Mary Ann Schmidt and Imogene Bell poured and Miss Elizabeth Robinson presided at the guest register. Others in the house party were Mrs. John R. Freeman and Mrs. K. Carter Wheelock.

Fifty were invited to call.

Before a setting of greenery and baskets of pink and white gladioli, accented with soft lighting, Miss Veva Mae Sadler, daughter of S. H. Sadler, who lives nine miles southwest of Littlefield, and Boice Martin Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Anderson of six miles south of Littlefield, were married in a service read Sunday at 6 p.m. in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lester L. Couch of near Anton. Elder Oliver A. Burk of the Anton Church of Christ read a double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white wedding gown designed with a fitted lace bodice, sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands and a full net skirt. Her floor length veil fell from a crown of white flowers and ended in a train. The bride wore pearls and carried an arm bouquet of lilies tied with white satin ribbons.

Reception Follows Service

At the reception that followed, cake and punch were served. The bride's table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple, and placed on a reflector which was flanked with pink sweet peas. White tapers burned on either side of the arrangement.

Assisting in hospitalities were Mrs. Floyd Price, of Lubbock, Misses Florence and Wanda Sadler and Mrs. Mary Horton of Littlefield.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride wore a beige gold suit with black accessories.

Mrs. Anderson was graduated from Whitharral High school and is a former student at Texas Technological college. She has been teaching at Whitharral for three years.

The bridegroom recently received his discharge from the armed forces. He served three years and was overseas with the Third Army. His group received the Presidential citation and he received three battle stars.

The couple will be at home on a farm south of Littlefield.

Ancient Methodist Church Is Damaged

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26. (AP)—Old St. George's church, shrine of American Methodism and seven years older than the nation itself, was damaged by fire last night.

The historic building, dedicated in 1769, is the second oldest Methodist church in the world. England's Bristol chapel, built in 1739, antedates it.

Church officials estimated damage at $5,000.

Old St. George's was the site of the first three conferences of American Methodism in 1773, 1774 and 1775.

Coast Guard Will Be Returned To Its Old Peacetime Duties

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (U.P.) — The Coast Guard, which played an important war role as part of the Navy, will be returned next month to its peacetime position as a branch of the Treasury department, it was learned today.

Preliminary details of the transfer already have been worked out by the Treasury and Navy departments. A conference may be held later this week between Navy Secretary James Forrestal and Treasury Secretary Fred Vinson to arrange a specific transfer date.

To Announce Shift

The shift will be announced formally by President Truman.

The Coast Guard was transferred from the Treasury to the Navy by an executive order of President Roosevelt on Nov. 1, 1941. Since that time, the Coast Guard participated in every major amphibious operation, supplied invasion troops, directed air-sea rescue operations, guarded ports and supervised loading of munitions.

Under the Treasury, the Coast Guard will resume its peacetime work of coastal and port patrol, aiding ships in distress and providing aids to navigation. The service also will maintain navigation aids and will perform ice patrol during the winter months.

The Coast Guard's peak wartime strength was 172,000 personnel, including Spars — the women's auxiliary organization. By Dec. 18, however, Coast Guard personnel totaled little more than 100,000 because of demobilization.

Many of its ships, principally small, fast cutters, already have been decommissioned by the Navy.

Rio Grande Valley Group Urges Funds

WESLACO, Dec. 26 (AP) — The Rio Grande valley will send a delegation to Washington in January to urge a Congressional subcommittee's approval of funds for the start of construction on three dams on the lower Rio Grande to provide irrigation storage.

A. L. Cramer of Elsa, president of the Valley Water Conservation association, announced here that the group has received permission from the chairman of the House Appropriations committee to send a three-man group to Washington for hearings on the appropriations. Members of the group have not been named.

Cramer said he believed the hearings will be held shortly after Congress reconvenes Jan. 14.

Bretton Woods Agreements Are Effective; Nations Signing Up

By CHARLES T. LUCEY
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. — A rush to sign on the dottde line has made effective the Bretton Woods agreements, authorizing an $18 billion kitty to help keep the world on an even economic keel.

France and Egypt signed the agreements over the holiday, India will accept tomorrow and the Netherlands and several other countries are expected to approve the 44-nation pact before the deadline, Dec. 31.

A month ago it seemed that the Bretton Woods plan might not come into being for lack of signers. Officials here were expressing fear that it would not be ratified by a sufficient number of countries—those contributing 65 per cent of its capital funds.

Log Jam Broken

But the log jam broke when the United States and Great Britain agreed — still subject to congressional approval — on terms of a $4,400,000,000 loan this country will make to Britain. The British apparently were willing to take a chance on Congress going along with the administration, and signed up on Bretton Woods.

Soviet Russia is still looking the other way. But all it takes is a decree from the top, and it is believed likely to be forthcoming.

The United States, biggest contributor to the international fund, was the first to ratify the agreements. Congress approved them in July on the argument that they would strengthen President Truman's hand at the Potsdam conference.

Fund Set Up

The Bretton Woods plan sets up an $8,800,000,000 fund to be available for stabilizing international currencies and a $9,100,000,000 bank to make reconstruction and rehabilitation loans.

The bank, in the words of the agreement, would assist "in the reconstruction and development of territories of members by facilitating investment of capital for productive purposes, including restoration of economies destroyed or disrupted by war, reconversion of productive facilities to peacetime needs, and encouragement of the development of productive facilities and resources in less-developed countries."

The bank also would promote foreign investment by means of guarantees or participations in loans and other investments made by private investors, and supplement private capital when necessary.

Some believe the function of guaranteeing private loans will be a more important one than making direct cash loans to nations in need.

Subject To Call

Only 20 per cent of a country's quota to the $9,100,000,000 bank fund must be paid initially. The other 80 per cent is subject to call. President Truman is expected to ask Congress soon for appropriation of the U. S. share.

The United States is contributing ultimately $2,750,000,000 to the international stabilization fund and $3,175,000,000 to the bank—altogether $5,925,000,000 or about one-third of the total fund. Great Britain is contributing a total of $2,600,000,000 to both accounts as the second largest supplier of capital. Russia is down for the third largest ante, $2,400,000,0000 to the two funds.

China's contribution to the bank and fund is set at $1,150,000,000; France, $900 million; India, $800 million; Canada, $625 million; the Netherlands, $550 million; Belgium, $450 million; Australia, $400 million; Czecholovakia, $250 million; Poland, $250 million; Brazil, $225 million; and South Africa, $200 million. Other amounts range down to Panama's one billion dollar contribution.

It will be many months, at least, before the Bretton Woods bank and fund actually can be put into operation, officials say. No decision has been made as to where headquarters are to be established, but it has been believed generally they would be in proximity to United Nations organization headquarters, which is to come to the United States. There has been some sentiment, though, for making Great Britain the seat of Bretton Woods operations.

After Some Delay The Lady Said Yes

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26. (AP)—The "missing" diamond engagement ring today was on the third finger, left hand of the girl it was destined for—and a Chicago GI had a merry, merry Christmas.

Pvt. William Sykucki, stationed at the Frankford Arsenal here, had a novel idea last weekend. He was going to "pop the question" by putting the ring in the center of a box of candy. And when his fiancee, Miss Mildred Operman of Philadelphia, opened it—"wham."

But the salesgirl accidentally dropped the ring while wrapping the candy. It wasn't noticed until the soldier had left the store.

Local newspapers and radio stations let the public in on the GI's secret in an effort to locate him. But he didn't find out until his girl opened the box of candy at midnight Christmas Eve.

"Oh Bill," she said seeing the empty ring box. "Is this a joke?"

Then a phone call to the store: "Did I leave a ring there?"—and the owner's reply: "I've been searching for you for four days."

Into the candy box went the ring. It was rewrapped with new celophane and pink ribbon. Miss Operman opened it—

Then she said "yes."

Millard W. Comer Rites Here Today

Funeral services were to be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church for Millard W. Comer, 75, of Acuff who died early Tuesday of a neart ailment in West Texas hospital.

Rev. W. L. North, pastor of the Acuff Baptist church, and Rev. Jeff D. Welch, co-pastor of the Central Baptist church, were to officiate.

Burial was to be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Sanders funeral home.

Comer had lived at Acuff four years, and before that had resided in Lubbock 12 years.

Survivors include the widow, a son, Robert who is in the Army; two daughters, Mrs. L. E. Price and Mrs. Lucian Moore, both of Acuff; three sisters, Mrs. T. L. Smith of Wolfe City, Mrs. Henry Comer and Mrs. John Cox, both of Commerce; a brother, L. A. Comer of Haynes, Ore.

Pallbearers were Homer Dodds, R. C. Pace, Howard Hunt, Gleen McGee, Leeman Clark and Allen Rodgers. Honorary pallbearerr were Tom Millican, Paul Rodgers, L. E. Park, J. W. Harlson, sr., N. L .Brashear and W. H. Millican.

Mrs. Patton Returns From Funeral Trip

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP) — Mrs. George S. Patton, jr., landed here in an Army plane at 1:32 p. m., EST Tuesday, completing a fast but interrupted trip home from the funeral of her famous husband in Luxembourg.

Army Transport command officials said Mrs. Patton' plane took off from Boston early yesterday but was forced to land in New York due to engine trouble. Because of rain and ice, the plane landed by instruments and trucks had to clean the slush and ice from the runway.

The widow of the famous 3rd Army commander was met by Col. and Mrs. John K. Waters, Lt. Col. and Mrs. James W. Totten, and West Point Cadet George S. Patton, III, a son. Mrs. Waters and Mrs. Totten are daughters.

Mrs. Patton is expected to stay for an indefinite period with Mrs. Waters, who lives here.

Danish Journalists Visit New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 26 (U.P.)—After touring points of interest in New Mexico—which did not include a visit to the atomic bomb laboratories at Los Alamos—eight Danish newspapermen were scheduled to arrive at San Antonio totay from Albuquerque.

The men were particularly interested in seeing Los Alamos, they said, because a fellow-countryman, Niels Bohr, had aided in development of the atomic bomb. However, they were denied permission to visit the laboratories by both the State and War departments in Washington, a spokesman said.

As guests of the U. S. Indian service here, the Danes visited Santo Domingo Pueblo Christmas morning, where they were interested spectators at the bear dance and buffalo dance.

They were Christmas Eve guests of the Santa Fe New Mexican staff and the Santa Fe Press club. Following the party in their honor at Santa Fe, the Danes had their own party at La Fonda, celebrating a typical Danish Christmas.

Included in the party were Borge Houmann, Arild Hvidtfeldt, Ebbe Munck, Gunnar L. C. Hielsen, Sven Tillge-Rasmussen; Poul Westphall; Anton Abildtrup, and H. Hansen.

Profit Sharing Plan Is Set Up By Paper

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 26. (AP)—A profit sharing plan of employees of the Los Angeles Times, together with a Christmas bonus of a maximum of six weeks extra pay, based on length of service, was announced by Norman Chandler, publisher of the morning newspaper.

Chandler said the new profit sharing plan will include all employees of at least one year's service. A trust fund will be set up in separate accounts for each employee and money will be allocated to such accounts in proportion to compensation received and years of service, he said. After 10 years service each employee will receive a cash payment annually of 10 per cent of the money set aside in his account.

Hartford Fire Takes 17 Lives

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 26 (AP)—The Christmas 'eve fire that took 17 lives at the Niles street hospital here got a head start because it burned through telephone wires, causing a delay in the sounding of the alarm, Edward J. Hickey, state police commissioner and state fire marshal, has disclosed.

Because of the few minutes that elapsed between the time the fire broke out in a tinder dry Christmas tree and the sounding of almost simultaneous telephone and box alarms by a next door resident and a passer-by, Hickey said last night, many of the 31 elderly, bedridden patients in the hospital were beyond aid when the first firemen arrived.

Thirteen patients, two of them women over 90, and two kitchen employes died in the fire or within a few hours after it. Two more patients died yesterday.

Eighteen other persons, 16 patients and two visitors at the institution for convalescents and the chronically ill, were injured, five of them critically. Ten firemen also were hospitalized.

Hickey, planning to resume today the investigation he began even while firemen were battling the flames and carrying charred bodies from the three-story brick building, gave this account of the start of the fire:

Cotton Was Ignited

Miss Aldina G. Aluesi, one of two trained attendants on duty, unplugged a string of Christmas tree lights from a wall socket, and a spark ignited cotton under the tree which had been set up and decorated nine days previously.

As the dry branches blazed into flame, Miss Aluesi screamed to the other attendant, Mrs. Edith Miller, and ran for a fire extinguisher. Mrs. Miller rushed for the telephone, but it was dead.

Mss Aluesi was unable to operate the extinguisher and ran to the rear of the building for another, but by that time the fire had shot up a stairway, had ignited woodwork and was rapidly filling the building with smoke.

Bodies Indentified

Police worked until noon yesterday at the difficult task of establishing positive identification of the charred bodies brought to a morgue set up in the police headquarters garage.

Fourteen of the victims were women.

The critically injured included President William J. Langler of the northeastern insurance company and Mrs. Langler who were visiting a patient on the third floor of the hospital.

LURE 4-YEAR-OLD

SANTA ANA, Cal. (U.P.)—Four-year-old Tony Silerio has been found in the same spot near the railroad tracks here at 5:30 a.m. for the past two weeks, according to police. Police called in by trainmen found the lad in pajamas lugging two flares home as "toys." Tony's mother said she didn't know he was getting out of the house.

Hotel Trade Course Opened To Veterans

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26 (U.P.) — A special apprenticeship training course to teach returning veterans the hotel trade while on the job has been inaugurated here by the New Orleans Hotel association.

The veterans will be paid while they work, and will get four hours of related instruction a week at a local trade school.

It was pointed out that the ex-servicemen are eligible for subsistence from the Veterans' Administration under the GI Bill of Rights.

Instruction will be given in cooking, stationary engineering, upholstering, painting and decorating, maintenance electricity and maintenance plumbing.

Scientists estimate that 1,000,000 tons of ragweed pollen fall in the United States annually.

Holiday Cheer Is Provided To Troops Stranded On East Coast

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (AP) — Thousands of GI's who arrived on the east coast too late to spend Christmas at home had the best substitute celebration the Army, American Red Cross and USO could offer.

They had turkey with trimmings, Christmas trees and gifts, holiday parties and, in the case of patients in one hospital, free telephone calls home.

The Army staging and separation centers in the New York, Boston and Richmond, Va., areas outdid themselves to dispell any disappointment the servicemen might have felt.

Worked Overtime

The Red Cross and USO staffs worked overtime, sacrificing their own Christmas at home to bring the men Yuletide cheer.

At Camp Shanks, N. Y., where 5,000 troops arrived and 10,000 were awaiting shipment overseas, there were 10½ tons of turkey. Sixteen thousand cartons of cigarets were distributed, as well as gifts sent from New Jersey families.

All soldiers heading overseas were given passes to New York City if they desired.

The Richmond, Va., News-Leader telephone fund provided 600 free telephone calls home for patients at the McGuire General hospital there. Two thousands patients were well enough to get furloughs home.

All ships arriving at Hampton Roads were greeted by Red Cross girls, who distributed Christmas packages and candy. At Camp Gee, Va., 10,000 servicemen received passes or furloughs.

Soldiers arriving at Camp Myles Standish near Boston, for discharge over the holiday received passes to their homes, if nearby. Service clubs at Standish and Fort Devens were on an "all out" basis.

At Fort Dix, N. J., 4,000 soldiers received their discharge on Christmas day and another 5,000 received leaves. Those remaining at the post had a turkey dinner, but processing was not interrupted.

Thousands of soldiers arrived and other thousands left Camp Kilmer, N. J., either discharged or on passes. A total of 650 were discharged from Fort Monmouth and another 1,000 men, were given a Christmas party.

Former Editor Of Army Newspaper Is Barred From Work

MANILA, Dec. 26 (AP) — Pvt. Robert W. Young, former editor of the "Homeward Herald," an Army mimeographed newspaper published on Leyte, wore his former T/S rank again today but was banned from further editorial work.

Young, who once edited a California weekly, wrote a story recently saying that seven ships were being refitted at Leyte to carry Japanese prisoners of war home, while only one ship was being refitted to return American soldiers to the States. His commanding officer forbade publication on the ground the story would undermine morale and incite disturbances among men waiting transportation home.

Story Appeared

The story appeared, not in the "Homeward Herald," but on paper mimeographed in the machine used for the newspaper. Young said a copy of the story had been taken from his desk and apparently was printed by someone else.

He was reduced to private and put on a garbage detail. The incident became public and Lt. Gen. W. D. Styer, commanding Army forces in the western Pacific, ordered an investigation. The general stated the "resulting action" in lowering Young's rating was "not in my opinion an appropriate one under the circumstances" and restored the soldier to his former rating.

However, Styer said, failure to control the disputed story merited some disciplinary action, and he directed Young be banned from further duty in the information and education section in the Western Pacific, which bars the writer from further editorial duty in the theater.

Wide Search Opens For Missing Hunter

EL PASO, Dec. 26 (AP)—Planes and horses were used today in searching the mountains northwest of here for Roger (Jeff) Fleming, 17, who disappeared Sunday on a hunting trip.

Border patrol officer, sheriff's deputies and more than 20 friends and classmates combed the area surrounding the spot where his car was found Monday afternoon.

The search was intensified after a body was reported seen at the foot of a cliff, but no clues had been found when darkness ended the search today. Friends told of previous hunting trips when the boys had gone into abandoned mines, and caves, arroyos and all known mines in the area were checked by searchers.

Mrs. Dorothy Fleming, the youth's mother, is employed in the identification office of the border patrol. She is under doctor's care after having told investigators she suspected the boy had met with violence.

Death Claims Racing Owner

LA JOLLA, Calif., Dec. 26. (AP)—Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, who assumed control of the Mars Candy company and the Milky Way farms racing stables upon the death of her husband, Frank C. Mars, in 1934, is dead at 57.

Mrs. Mars, a resident of River Forest, Ill., who had been visiting here, died in a hospital yesterday.

Although Mrs. Mars had been ill for four years, her brother, William L. Kruppenbacher, said in Chicago her death had come suddenly.

Leading Money Winner

Inheriting the $2,900,000 estate left by her husband, Mrs. Mars, through consistent purchases of high priced yearlings, developed the Milky Way stables of Pulaski, Tenn., into one of the leading money winners of the American turf. She disposed of the stables management last spring, five years after her Gallahadion had won the Kentucky derby.

Her horses shared in the derby purse twice previously, with Whiskolo and Reaping Reward finishing third in 1935 and 1937 respectively. In 1934 and 1936 Milky Way stables was the turf's leading money winner.

Opened In 1931

Milky Way farms was opened in 1931 as a breeding farm for show cattle, with the racing stables later being added.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, Kruppenbacher said, but services will be held in La Jolla. Entombment will be in the family crypt in Minneapolis.

The survivors include Kruppenbacher and a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Mars Feeney of Phoenix, Ariz., who was with her mother at her death.

Jap Opium Is To Be Burned

PEIPING, Dec. 26. (AP) — Eight hundred thousand ounces of opium confiscated by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's headquarters after the Japanese surrender in Peiping will be burned publicly in the great forecourt of the forbidden city on New Year's day.

The Generalissimo ordered the public ceremony, after a meeting of municipal government officials, civic leaders, Catholic priests and protestant missionaries decided that 60,000 ounces would be sufficient to preserve for medical purposes. Some 860,000 ounces had been seized.

Dens Are Closed

The opium will be burned at the court where emperors of old administered justice from the Dragon throne, and where Japanese formally surrendered on Oct. 10.

Hundreds of opium dens have been closed in the past four months, and the central government announced harsh penalties for violation of its anti-opium laws. Smokers can be put to death for a third offense. Sellers face execution upon conviction.

During the Japanese regime, there were dens on almost every corner, with signs advertising the licensed—and highly taxed—drug openly:

"Good taste—real opium—comfortable beds—high quality."

"But Mr. Johnson next door got a telephone!"

IF YOU ARE WAITING for a telephone but the telephone man stops at your neighbor's house, most likely your neighbor has been waiting longer than you have. If that's not the reason, it's probably because:

He has just moved from somewhere else in the city and had his telephone service moved, or . . .

There may be serious illness in the family and a telephone is necessary during the emergency, or . . .

Your neighbor may be a returned veteran needing a telephone to re-establish him in civilian life, or . . .

A telephone in his home may be necessary to the health and welfare of the community.

With these necessary exceptions, those waiting are served in the order in which we received the application. In some neighborhoods, of course, we shall be able to catch up more quickly than in others. But, as telephone plant is constructed, our aim is to see that everyone gets service in proper turn.

We're putting in telephones as fast as we can. And whether your turn for service comes in the near future, or not for several months, you can be sure we're looking forward to the day when the telephone man will knock at your door and say:

"I'm here to put in your telephone."

Senate Probe Of Waste Set

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP) — Senator Knowland (R-Calif), who has seen the waste of war, said today he and fellow senators hope to determine within a month whether military goods are being wastefully thrown away now.

Are usable trucks being pushed over cliffs? Is food being allowed to spoil while children go hungry?

These are among the questions a subcommittee of the Senate's Defense Investigating committee will seek to answer in a month-long 'round the world flight.

Trip Starts Thursday

The trip starts tomorrow. Heading the group is Senator Tunnell (D-Del), an old hand at investigations abroad. The third member is Senator Mitchell (D-Wash).

Knowland said in an interview that the Army during the war had a crackerjack system of salvage which saved "a tremendous amount of shipping" by repairing battle damage. He served as a major in Europe before becoming a senator.

"Of course, war itself is a wasteful process," he said. "Then, many useful things had to be thrown away. The scorched earth policy is an example of destroying wilfully.

"What we want to make sure of is that there is no unnecessary waste now."

Destruction Warranted

Knowland commented that there may be quite valid reasons for some destruction of things that cost a lot to make. He mentioned explosives, for one thing.

"On the other hand, the committee has had reports from time to time that items which would be of value to the civilian economy here, or in Australia for example, have been destroyed.

"We have read, as newspaper readers have, of trucks being pushed off cliffs. We have heard reports that food is being wasted. We don't know how true they are. It may be, for example, that stocks of food have been kept from hungry people because they have become spoiled, to keep people from poisoning themselves."

A "Sound Policy"

Knowland said the flying senators believe they can do "a constructive job for the American people, who have a lot of money tied up in supplies, bases and installations of all kinds."

He hopes their inspection trip will contribute to a "sound national policy" on the handling of surplus goods abroad.

Dallas Soldier In Germany Provides Christmas Dinner For Family At Home

DALLAS, Dec. 26. (AP)—From Munich, Germany, Lt. Jack Morris of Dallas, spending his fourth holiday season away from home, provided a super Christmas dinner for his mother and two sisters.

Mrs. Nellie Morris and her two daughters, Miss Grace Morris and Miss Nell Morris, went to the Baker hotel last night and for them there were flowers, gifts, music and special foods—all according to instructions carefully written by the lieutenant. The hotel followed his directions to the letter and even made a few improvements.

A Special Request

"I have a very special request that I would appreciate your handling," Morris, a combat veteran, wrote the manager of the hotel last November. "At this time it looks as though it will be impossible for me to be home for Christmas. This is the fourth in a row and I am getting a little disgusted missing Christmas dinner with my family.

"I should like for you to call my mother three or four days before Christmas and tell her that arrangement have been made for her and my two sisters to have dinner there at the Baker on Christmas day. Now she will say that she is having dinner at home but that doesn't make any difference—Just tell her that she has to come on anyway.

Super Service

"If possible, have someone at the door to park the car. Or better still, if you can manage it, have a taxi pick them up and take them home.

"On the table have flowers. Something real pretty—roses, maybe. Then at my mother's place, have an orchid corsage with one or two orchids. At each of my sister's places have gardenia corsages. Tell your florist to phone the day before and see what they are wearing so that all of the colors will blend just right.

The Best Of Food

"As for the food—I shall leave that to your discretion. Mother likes Brussel sprouts and if you can get some, I think that would be nice. Tell your chef that this must be a super affair. Don't serve them a usual salad. Have something special.

"As for the table, I want the best in the house and not a small one, either. And I don't want one that is close to other ones. I don't want them to seem crowded. Also, I don't want them to have to wait when they get there.

"Get the most efficient waiter that you have to serve them.

Christmas For G. I.

"If there happens to be any money left over out of this check, find some G. I. who is pretty far from home and give him a dinner on New Year's day and a ticket to the Cotton Bowl game. If there is enough left over for two or three servicemen, that's swell.

Dog That "Shot" His Master On Trip Dead

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26 (AP) — Jack, the 18-months-old rabbit hound that shot his master three weeks ago, is dead.

Folks in suburban Gretna will tell you he died of a broken heart.

All this while Jack's master, Pierre Ivy Leblanc, has been under treatment in the hospital for a buckshot-torn hand and a forehead wound.

The accident happened while Jack was playfully jumping for a rabbit Leblanc was dangling over the gunbarrel. The dog's paw struck the trigger, discharging the gun.

Friends said Jack has camped relentlessly about Leblanc's market and refused to eat. They finally decided that Jack might snap out of it if he were taken on another hunting trip.

Jack sniffed the gun and took for the woods. Anthony Plaisant followed the faithful dog, and saw him lie down in the woods and die.

Yank Party Is Near Jap Riot

TOKYO, Dec. 26. (AP)—It began as a G. I.'s idea to entertain a few hundred kids—and nearly ended in a juvenile riot.

Officers and men of the U. S. Eleventh corps planned a Christmas party yesterday for 600 children of Japanese laborers employed by the corps. Soldiers contributed gifts, candy and cookies. A special program was prepared.

But the Yanks had forgotten about Japan's birth rate. Guests began arriving long before party time. They came tumbling in droves from the adjacent streetcar station and clattered gleefully up the short hill on their wooden clogs.

Thousands Arrive

Their G. I. hosts soon swore that the whole Tokyo-Yokohama area must have been denuded of young life. Six hundred? That was only a starter; there were 1,200, then 3,000—6,000—8,000—and the final estimate was 9,000.

Local police and laborers were hustled to the scene to help maintain order. The children were sorted into shifts, and admitted 300 at a time, while frantic G. I. hosts delved into duffle bags for impromptu additional gifts.

The program was curtailed and speeded, and sweating Red Cross workers handed out doughnuts until their arms ached.

By nightfall, only 3,000 of the 9,000 had been entertained. The others still were waiting, hungrily and hopefully, outside in the sharp cold.

Their friends who had been lucky enough to get inside shared gifts and described the wondrous events in rapid-fire Japanese—then the thousands of wooden clogs pounded down the hill into the darkness.

How Well Has General Electric Met These Objectives?

HIGHER WAGES

Here's how General Electric's increased production and efficiency have affected G-E workers. Average hourly earnings for men, not including overtime pay, have gone up as follows:

1935	$ .72
1936	.73
1937	.81
1938	.87
1939	.86
1940	.85
1941	.89
1942	.96
1943	1.05
1944	1.09
1945 (Sept.)	1.09

Overtime pay gave G-E workers more on top of this. G.E. has made jobs for nearly three times as many. 55,766 worked for G.E. ten years ago. 145,000 have jobs today, and at much higher pay.

LOWER PRICES

G.E. has an obligation to a second group of people—the public. The public wants improved products at fair prices.

"More goods for more people at less cost"—G.E.'s goal—is not a part-time assignment. It is a job for management and worker alike if G. E. is to keep growing, keep raising wages, keep making jobs for more workers.

A few figures show typical price decreases:

Refrigerator	1935	$199.00
	1941	129.95
Lamp	1935	.15
	1945	.10 (PLUS TAX)
Transformer	1935	76.32
	1941	69.30
Motor	1935	12.80
	1941	8.50
Radio	1935	47.50
	1941	27.95

FAIR PROFITS

G.E. during the war earned 4.7¢ on each dollar of sales. Of this, 4.1¢ was paid to its more than 200,000 stockholders, and the remaining six-tenths of a cent on each dollar was retained in the business to assist in carrying on and expanding its operations.

All money earned over this 4.7¢ was turned back to the U. S. Government. G-E cost-saving methods had made war goods for less money than the Government expected.

These dividends have been paid per share of common stock since 1935:

1935	$ .70
1936	1.50
1937	2.20
1938	.90
1939	1.40
1940	1.85
1941	1.75
1942	1.40
1943	1.40
1944	1.40
1945	1.60

GENERAL ELECTRIC'S OBJECTIVE is to keep prices moving downward, keep wages going up, and to earn a fair profit. This calls for volume production, more efficient work and methods. With the help of every single employee, General Electric believes it can show our country, as it did in wartime, an example of American enterprise at its best.

Annual All-College Basketball Tourney Opens Today; Kansas May Prove Tough

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 26 (AP)—The tenth annual all-college basketball tournament opens today with the favored Oklahoma Aggies in pursuit of their fifth title against what their coach, Henry Iba, calls the toughest field in ten years his team has been competing in the meet.

While optimistic about his Aggies' chances Iba cushioned his enthusiasm by saying Forrest C. (Phog) Allen's University of Kansas Jayhawkers "have a good team and all the rest of the clubs seem to be better manned than last year."

Meet Texas Tonight

The Aggies, defending champions, meet undefeated Texas tonight in the second game of a doubleheader. In the first the University of Oklahoma and Texas Christian clash.

In the afternoon, Kansas meets Rice and Pepperdine mixes with Baylor in the first round.

Iba, sizing up his own club, figures it probably is better than it was at the same time last season but, "naturally we still lack the smoothness you have to get in actual play." He could he added, use a "good forward and a guard."

Lost To Depaul

The Aggies, national basketball champions, have a season's record of four victories and one defeat—to Depaul.

If they and Kansas, seeded No. 2 in the tourney, come through their first round games, the two will clash in the semi-finals tomorrow night in the first renewal of their bitter court rivalry since 1943.

Allen's Jayhawks have one of the tallest teams in their history and are ably supported by two returning war veterans, Charlie Black, six feet, four and a half inches, and Otto Schnellbacher, six feet and three inches.

First round losers play consolidation contests tomorrow afternoon while the four winners battle tomorrow night with final consolation play slated for Friday afternoon before the championship and third place are decided that night.

Hurricanes In Favored Role

Miami Chosen To Beat Holy Cross

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 26. (AP)—Coach Jack Harding of the University of Miami grins broadly every time he hears that his football team is favored to defeat Holy Cross in the Orange bowl on New Year's day.

Unlike most coaches who prefer the underdog role, Harding believes being on the short end of the odds brings him good luck—and he does so with reason.

In its 10-game schedule the past season, Miami was picked the loser only against Georgia and Michigan State. The Hurricanes beat Michigan State soundly, and Georgia had a stiff run for its money. The team lost only to the Georgia Bulldogs, and were tied by South Carolina.

Have An Advantage

Harding says his team is liked because of the weather.

"I think we have a decided advantage," he said. "We've been practicing and playing in warm weather most of the season, and it takes a lot out of a team to come down here from a cold climate. It's the only reason I see for us to be made the favorite."

The Hurricanes have been picked to defeat Holy Cross by only six points, but the points may jump after yesterday's climb in the temperature and the all-important fact that the Crusader's great tailback, Stan Koslowski, is in bed with a bad cold and will not be able to appear for practice before tomorrow, if then.

Koslowski has a sore throat and has been running a temperature. Coach John Da Grosa said there also were about seven others who have colds which they caught on the train trip down.

In Best Of Shape

"Koslowski, however, is worrying us the most," he said. "Without him, it's doubtful if we could do much against the Miamians who seem to be in the best of shape."

Koslowski is expected to match ability with Miami's fullback Harry Ghaul, one of the nation's leading collegiate punters the past season.

Koslowski does most of the kicking and passing for Holy Cross, and is a fine blocker.

Ghaul spelled the difference between a victory and a tie in two games for the Miamians with his consistent extra-point kicking. He also is a long booter, good passer, and a great spinner.

Boti Harding and Da Grosa are holding secret drills.

Cawthon Considered For Mississippi Job

OXFORD, Miss., Dec. 26. (AP)—Leo (Dutch) Meyer, veteran coach of Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, and Pete Cawthon, assistant coach of the Detroit Lions National league professional team, were mentioned today as possible successors to Harry Mehre as head football man at Mississippi.

Both Cawthon and Meyer have been invited to inspect facilities here and Cawthon, former Texas Tech coach, was expected to arrive within the next few days. Also under consideration were Bo Rowland, coach at the Citadel, Lt. Johnny Baker, former Southern California player and coach of the Fourth Air Force Flyers from March field, and C. C. Moore, successful high school coach from Hattiesburg, Miss.

Mehre's resignation is effective Feb. 1 and school officials indicated the job would be filled by then.

South Is Favored In Blue-Gray Grid Tilt

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 26. (AP)—A powerful line and more experienced material made the South a slight favorite today to win the eighth renewal of the Blue-Gray football game here Saturday.

The Southern squad has won five of the seven intersectional clashes.

The Southern coaching staff—Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd, Bernie Moore of Louisiana State and Matty Bell of Southern Methodist—wouldn't predict victory, but said their squad looked "pretty good."

A determination to win was voiced by the Northern coaches, Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern, Ray Morrison of Temple and Bo McMillin of Indiana.

Both sides use the "T" formation, with plenty of passing.

Oddities In The World Of Sports—

Backward Punt Play That Had Kicker Scoring A Touchdown Voted No. 1 Oddity Of 1945

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (AP)—The backward punt play that wound up with the kicker scoring the touchdown that gave U.C.L.A.'s Rose bowl hopes a terrific booting has been voted the No. 1 sports oddity of 1945.

Thirty one of the 82 sports writers who participated in the annual Associated Press poll to uncover the whacky events of the year, agreed that the manner in which California scored its 6-0 upset over U.C.L.A. even overshadowed the weird occurrences of the World series.

Went In Reverse

In that now famous football game of last Nov. 24, California had the ball on its own 33-yard line when left end Jack Lerond dropped back to punt. The slippery ball slithered off the side of his foot and went in reverse. Ed Welch, Lerond's teammate, went back to scoop up the ball on the 15-yard line and then toted the leather down to U.C.L.A.'s 40 yard line. Just as he was about to be tackled he lateralled to Lerond who romped the rest of the way for the game's sole tally.

Such were the shenanigans at the October diamond classic that one scribe voted the series in general the top oddity of them all. And there were plenty of other votes cast on various incidents of the series to back him up. For instance there was Chuck Hostetler's fall between third and home that helped the Tigers lose the sixth game; the Alphonse and Gaston act of the Tiger outfielders throughout the series and the freak hop of the ball that bounded over Hank Greenberg's head to break up the sixth game. That play got a double vote, some for the ball, and some for the official scorers who reversed themselves hours after the game and declared the play was a hit and not an error.

Sale An Oddity

In line with the series — since Hank Borowy had a big part in it — the scribes agreed that Larry MacPhail's sale of the slender hurler who won the pennant for the Chicago Cubs was a ranking oddity.

Football came up with plenty of other singular events. There was the dog that wandered on the field during the Indiana-Illinois football game and cost the Hoosiers a touchdown. The referee blew the whistle just as Indiana began a scoring play. Luckily, Indiana won, 6-0, anyway.

Then there was Sammy Baugh's pass which hit the goal post for an automatic safety and which eventually proved the difference in the Cleveland-Washington pro football championship tilt; Middie Tony Minisi's tackle of Notre Dame's Phil Colella which started a controversy raging until the motion pictures later proved that Colella's legs were across the goal line, but the ball wasn't, and West Virginia being penalized 192 yards yet able to rull up a 42-0 victory over Drexel.

Racing came up with a triple dead heat at Caliente and a four horse race at Jamaica wound up with the first two nags in a dead heat for first and the other two gallopers deadlocked for third.

In the realm of hunting and fishing Ben Toomey of the Waterville (Me.) Sentinel wrote:

"This past summer an ardent angler hied to nearby Messalonskee lake after pickerel. He was baitcasting in a weedy region. He zoomed a strike. A heavy tug. Lo and behold, no pickerel, but the (haul) contained a wizened fox and the fox had a duck in his mouth. S'elp me, it's true."

Five SWC Cage Teams Resume Play Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Five of the seven Southwest conference basketball teams return to action Wednesday, four of them playing in the all-college tournament at Oklahoma City.

Texas, Texas Christian, Baylor, and Rice will participate at the Oklahoma tournament. Texas A. and M. plays a series of games with San Antonio service teams.

Southern Methodist and Arkansas will play no games this week.

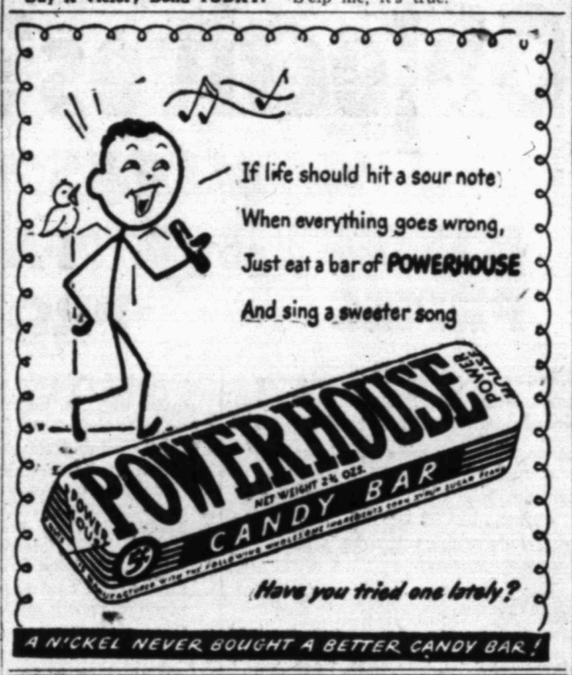

Leroy Pasco, Texas Christian's all-conference guard, leads the individual scoring in the practice schedule to date. Pasco has looped in 57 field goals and 36 free throws for 150 points in nine games. George Kok, giant Arkansas center, is second with 121 points and Bryan Lloyd of Southern Methodist is third with 115.

Waco Tigers Seek Fifth State Title

They're Gunning For Victory Over Club That Beat Them, 7-0, Early In Season

By TOM W. MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

Waco's talented Tigers are shooting for something no other Texas high school football team has accomplished — five state championships.

And they're drawing dead aim with an alert, aggressive ball club featured by the best end play in the state.

They Concede Nothing

Gunning for the title against a team which beat them once this season, the Tigers may be the underdogs but concede nothing. They had the best of the statistics against Highland Park back in the third game of the season, only to lose 7-0, and now they believe they'll have the best score.

Firing for that elusive fifth title they've been trying to win since Paul Tyson coached teams made it No. 4 and three in a row in 1927, the Tigers have no siege gun attack. What they do have is a persistent, piercing offense that keeps plugging along until something in front gives and a well-knit, tough defense.

No one has scored on Waco in the playoffs, although Goose Creek last Saturday had a couple of counters rubbed out by penalties.

Spearheaded by Clifford Lindloff, a 150-pound blond youngster whose size belies his power, the Tigers have rolled up 353 points to 51 for opponents.

Excellent Line Play

Coach Harry Stiteler has brought his football machine to its apparent peak slowly. Unimpressive against early-season foes, the white and gold came on to smear district 10-AA rivals convincingly and shoved Breckenridge, Marshall and Goose Creek from the playoffs in the last three weekends.

The Tigers have excellent line play. Ralph Murphy, a husky tackle, has been outstanding on defense, and James (Froggie) Williams, 185-pound end, has an all-around ability at the wing position probably unmatched in the state.

Hard to tackle, a precision passer, a good punter, Lindloff lacks only superior speed in his backfield slot. Not a one-man offense, the cotton-top has plenty of help from Marvin Brenner, a small but rugged fullback. Other backs are rather small. Richard Smith, the blocker, weighs just 155, and alternating at wingback are Jack Scarborough, 165, and Bob Sallee, 142.

Beaten In The Rain

Highland Park beat Waco in the rain in their first meeting and the slow footing didn't aid the Tigers' rabbit backs.

Should Waco come through against the Dallas teams, it will be another precedent for the boys from the Brazos. Back in the infancy of the Interscholastic league, when Waco was the dominant Texas team, the Tigers played in six consecutive state finals games—and won four of them, three in a row. That set three records.

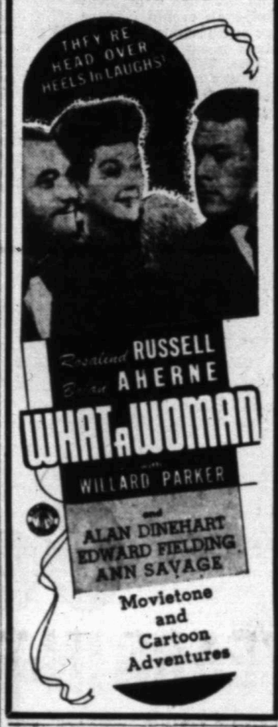

Amarillo tied two of the marks—the three in a row and the total of four championships.

This is the second shot at that No. 5 target in 18 years for Waco. The Tigers are drawing a bead.

Congress Row Is Shaping Up

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP) — A new and bitter row between President Truman and Congress over the U. S. Employment Service appeared inevitable when the lawmakers resume work January 14.

The president provided the fuel for the fight yesterday. He announced he was killing—by a pocket veto—legislation to return USES to state control with in 100 days.

Withholding Approved

He said he was withholding approval of the measure because it "would immeasurably retard our re-employment program." He reiterated a request that action be delayed until June, 1947. The government took over the employment services early in 1942 in an effort to channel more workers into war production jobs.

The presidential move brought immediate reports from Capitol Hill that new legislation would be introduced to do away with federal administration of USES.

New Legislation Required

New legislation would be required to achieve the goal sought by the senators, because the pocket veto is not subject to overriding by Congress.

The legislation returning USES to state control was a rider on a measure withdrawing $52,000,000,000 originally allocated in war appropriations .

The chief executive commented that he not only objected to the rider itself, but opposed "even more strongly" its attachment to a major savings bill.

Many Are Freed From Jail For Christmas

DALLAS, Dec. 26 (AP)—Seventy-five persons held in the Dallas jail on minor charges were given their freedom Tuesday as a Christmas gift.

There were drunks who had been held long enough for them to become sober, and suspects in minor cases.

During 1944 the railroads in the United States employed nearly 1,500,000 people, 50 per cent more than had been employed just before the war.

Just As Many Liars As Ever And The Lies Are Getting Bigger, 1945 Samples Given

BURLINGTON, Wis., Dec. 26 (AP) — "There are just as many liars as ever and the lies are getting better."

That's O. C. Hulett talking and it's no lie, he says.

Hulett, president of the noted Burlington Liars' club, is winnowing some 6,000 letters to select 1945's biggest fibber for a New Year's announcement.

Thousands Of Them

"Lies?" says Hulett, "we've got thousands of them. Seems no one can tell the truth.

California apparently has raised the best crop of liars this year, Hulett says, listing Pennsylvania as a close second followed by Illinois and New York.

"What about the traditional tall tales of Texas?"

Hulett dodged the question.

"I'm not starting any war with the state of Texas," says Hulett. "Texas might annex the United States. Then where would I be?"

Still Is Chuckling

Hulett still is chuckling over the tale that won the 1944 lying laurels:

WAC Capt. Hope Harrin of Arkansas wrote in and gave the impression that she was a male G.I. stationed in Paris.

This G.I. had been stationed overseas two years and was lonesome for his girl friend. While working in an Army commissary, he got an idea from seeing the dehydrated foods.

The G.I. wrote to his girl friend and had her go to a dehydrating plant and get her self dehydrated. Then her mother mailed her to Paris.

"I sprinkled a little water on her and she was as good as ever," the G.I. wrote.

Samples Of 1945

Hulett dished out a few samples from the 1945 crop:

Writing from the "only Pacific island completely covered with water," a Sgt. Floyd Hobbs said that it rained so much that the Japs bombed their tents, thinking they were cargo ships.

Jake Taylor of Herminie, Pa., said that it was so cold last winter his wife had to build a fire alongside the stove to keep the stove fire from freezing.

The 96th fighter control squadron was short of gas in Burma, wrote Cpl. August Nisterowiez, so the mechanics rigged the planes with skis. The Burma fog was so heavy that, to save gas, the pilots skied and coasted on the fog.

Eight Are Sought In Slaying Near Laredo

LAREDO, Dec. 26 (AP) — Eight persons are being sought for questioning in the slaying of Francisca Martinez, 35-year-old field worker whose badly-battered body was found on a ranch south of here Sunday.

He was last seen Dec. 8 when he received his pay.

Two men already have been held for questioning. Mexican officials are cooperating in the search for the eight.

Verdict Near In Jap Trial

YOKOHAMA, Dec. 26 (AP)—An American military war crimes trial commission late today took under advisement the Allied case against Tatsuo Tsuchiya, alias "Little Glass Eye," and is expected to announce a verdict tomorrow.

In his closing argument, Major Louis Geffen of the prosecution staff contended that the case "is very simple—a violation of the rules of land warfare forbidding any form of cruelty to prisoners." He again demanded the death penalty.

Hearings Are Set

As the commission began its deliberations in the case—the first of its kind in the Japanese homeland—it was announced hearings would be conducted later in the week for two more defendants, one of whom was charged with directing the slaying of an American prisoner.

Tsuchiya was accused of fatally beating Pfc. Robert Gordon Teas of Streator, Ill., a survivor of the Bataan "death march" who died in the Mitsushima prison camp.

Lt. Col. John Dickinson of Jacksonville, Fla., chief defense counsel, told the commission there was no competent evidence to prove Tsuchiya guilty and he asserted the defendant had not been given a fair trial or "what we know as such in Anglo-Saxon law."

Charges Are Made

Dickinson charged that the defendant was tried by prosecution rules. Geffen objected and said the rules were promulgated by the supreme Allied commander.

The prosecution emphasized two statements, one of them a deposition by Squadron Leader David Grant of the RAF introduced today which said Teas was in sick quarters suffering from malnutrition and dysentery March 3, 1943. Grant said Teas was caught with several tins of Red Cross food, which had been hidden in a shed by the Japanese guards.

The RAF airman continued that he tried to tell a Cpl. Yoshizawa that Teas was suffering from kleptomania and should be given consideration. Yoshizawa, he said, ordered the American to stand on a bed while Tsuchiya struck him repeatedly across the face with a knotted rope and Toshizawa jabbed Teas in the stomach with a stick.

Earlier in the trial, an affidavit by First Sgt. Clifton O. Snodgrass of Junction City, Kas., specifically-named "Little Glass Eye" as the guard who beat Teas until the prisoner dropped and then took him to a barracks where the beating continued with the aid of other guards.

The defendant testified that he "hit some prisoners with my open palm," but he did not remember Teas.

Promotion Policy Changed For Army

A new promotion policy for officers leaving active duty with the U. S. Army has been announced through the U. S. Army West Texas district recruiting headquarters, third floor of the post office building here.

Qualified officers are those who have served for long periods of time in the same grade, the announcement said. These men will be promoted on the first day of their terminal leave period, prior to inactive duty, giving them the right to wear the insignia of their higher rank while still in uniform.

Lt. Col. Robert L. Hardy, commanding officer of the district, said this would benefit many men who were unable to secure promotion because of lack of authorized position vacancies.

The ruling applies to second and first lieutenants who have served in one grade at least 18 months, to captains and majors in one grade for at least 24 months and for lieutenant-colonels in one grade a minimum of 30 months. In computing the necessary service 50 per cent credit is given for time served overseas in the one grade.

To qualify officers must have an efficiency index of 40 or higher. Superior rating has a numerical rating of 50, excellent is rated at 40 and very satisfctory at 30.

Col. Hardy said officers who were placed on an inactive status while first lieutenants, qualifying under the given specifications, would be recalled when and if needed as captains, in pointing out an example case. Their status is changed also in the officers reserve corps. He added, however, that these officers could not reenlist at the higher rank.

Funeral Rites For Hal Nelson Not Set

Funeral arrangements for Hal Nelson, 54, of 2102 Twenty-first, who died Tuesday in West Texas hospital of a heart ailment, were incomplete early this afternoon, Sanders Funeral home reported. Services probably will be held late today or tomorrow and the body will be sent to Fletcher, Okla., for burial.

He had lived in Lubbock six years and was associated with Wilson & Co., for a number of years.

Survivors include the wife, five children, Bill, who is in the Navy, Mary, John, Charles and Tommy, all of Lubbock; a brother, L. E. Nelson of Tulsa, and a sister, Mrs. H. A. Vrooman of St. Louis.

Suicide Ruled In Ervin Death

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (AP) — Clutching a pistol and a razor, Rep. Joe W. Ervin, 44-year-old North Carolina Democrat, was found dead in the gas-filled kitchen of his home here Christmas day.

Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald issued a certificate of suicide by asphyxiation.

Ervin, a first-termer, had complained Monday night of an old leg ailment which had been complicated by a fall last week and of a recent heart disturbance. He had just been released from Walter Reed Army hospital after two days of treatment.

Caudle Finds Body

The body was discovered by Theron L. Caudle, Assistant Attorney General and close friend who had called to take the lawmaker to Christmas dinner.

A note on the doorstep addressed to Caudle warned that the house would be filled with gas.

Two other notes were on the dining room table. One was addressed to Ervin's widow, Susan, who had gone to Morganton, N. C., to spend the holidays with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Samuel J. Ervin, sr. The other was to a brother, Samuel J., jr., former Superior Court judge at Morganton. Neither was made public.

Elected Last Year

A lawyer, Ervin was elected to Congress last year from the 10th North Carolina district. He had lived in Charlotte since 1925.

His death left the House lineup at 240 Democrats, 190 Republicans, two minor party members and three vacancies. Four Democrats, Reps. Dickstein (N. Y.), Ramspeck (Ga.), Weiss (Pa.) and Woodrum (Va.) have announced their resignations to be effective at year's end.

Soldier Who Killed 23 Japs Given Posthumous Decoration

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (U.P.) — For a whirlwind assault on a Japanese pillbox blocking his company's advance on Luzon in the Philippines, the Congressional Medal of Honor has been awarded posthumously to Pfc. Manuel Perez, jr., the War department announced today.

Perez, a parachute infantryman, killed at least 23 Japs on that day last February as the lead scout helped his company of the 11th Airborne Division in its drive on Fort McKinley. He was killed a month later during action at Santo Tomas.

The medal will be awarded to his father, Manuel Perez, sr., of Nuevo Laredo, Mex.

In the reduction of 11 of 12 pillboxes protecting the fort, Perez shot and killed five Japs in the open and an undetermined number of others with grenades.

He circled toward the final pillbox, killing four other Japs en route, and when only 20 yards away tossed a grenade into the strong point.

As the Japs started withdrawing through a tunnel at the rear, he killed four others before exhausting his clip.

He had reloaded and killed another four when an escaping Jap threw his rifle with fixed bayonet at Perez, causing Perez to drop his own gun in warding off the blow.

Perez seized the Jap rifle, killed two more Japs and rushed the remaining Japanese, killing three of them with the butt of the rifle and bayoneted the one surviving enemy inside the pillbox.

The Oklahoma City-born soldier was killed while protecting the withdrawal of a patrol which had encountered heavy rifle, machine gun and mortar fire at Santo Tomas.

One Killed In Bus Accident

DALLAS, Dec. 26. (AP)—One passenger was killed and 11 others were injured early today when a Dallas-bound Bowen bus from Houston plunged off a bridge over Five-Mile creek near here.

James Waldon, 36, died from a broken neck.

The bus did not turn over, nor were any passengers thrown out. The bus driver, L. G. Anthony of Fort Worth, refused medical treatment until all passengers were cared for. He suffered a laceration over the left eye and a possible rib fracture.

Car Swung Into Path

Anthony said the accident was caused by the driver of a car traveling in the opposite direction, swerving over on the wrong side of the road in his path. The bus driver said he managed to only sideswipe the left side of the car, after pulling to the right as far as possible, but then had to swerve to the left side of the road to avoid turning over.

In this maeuver, Anthony said he could not avoid crashing through the bridge railing. The bus came to a stop in the bed of the almost dry creek.

The injured: Fred Steadman, 21, Dallas, broken right arm; Mike Quijano, 18, Houston, chin and knee lacerations; John Dowell, 22, Dallas, face and head lacerations; P. C. Worfield, 17, Corsicana, torn left leg; Ruby Brannon, Dallas, bruised back; Juanita Cook, Dallas, shock and bruises; M. W. Holder, 25, Fort Worth, hip and leg injury; Mrs. M. W. Holder, 28, Fort Worth, possible leg fracture; S. W. English, 50, Dallas, possible fractures of left wrist and right leg; B. V. Holder, 14, Fort Worth, loose teeth and slight head injury.

News Brief

Sam Allred, jr., 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Allred of 1623 Main, entertained members and guests of the Rotary club with a group of accordion selections today at a luncheon at the Hilton hotel. Impromptu numbers were sung by two quartets made up of members of the club. The first quartet, J. A. Raley, W. P. Clement, Chas. A. Guy and G. A. Meiser, sang "Sweet Adeline" and the second quartet, Rex Webster, Robert Maxe, Arthur Griffith and Lawrence Green, sang "Down By the Old Mill Stream." A new member, Guy Victory, was introduced. Arch King, vice president, presided. Visiting Rotarians were W. E. Street of Bryan, Hiram Parks of Brownfield, Harry C. Powell of Dallas and A. C. Phillips of Fairfield, Iowa.

ATTENTION...
Mr. Car And Truck Owner
Here are Some Facts About Your Tires

Tire rationing will end 12.01 A. M. January 1, 1946. We know there will be a mad scramble for tires, and we will be unable to take care of the demand. Government figures show that it would take 44,000,000 tires to supply the car owners' needs at this time; and if you will check with your tire dealer, you will find their tire racks practically empty. If the tire manufacturers made 1,000,000 tires per week — 52,000,000 tires next year — and if the new car manufacturers consumed 20 per cent of these which they are supposed to do, we would still be short 2,200,000 tires for next year if we didn't blow out or wear out any tires in 1946. We all know that we will wear out and blow out more tires next year than any time since Pearl Harbor as tires are older and there will be more traveling than there has been in any year in the past four years.

We suggest that you take care of your old tires — have them inspected regularly for breaks and bruises, have them repaired and recapped when needed, and keep properly inflated. These suggestions will save you time and worry as well as money. We believe we'll be able to supply you with tires as quickly as any distributor in West Texas as we are distributors for West Texas and Eastern New Mexico of two brands of tires — the Kelly Springfield and the Gates Tire — and to be fair to everyone we offer this order blank below. Fill it out and bring it or mail it to Sanders Ttime Company, and we will number them as we receive them. Numb er 1 order will be delivered first and on down the line until all orders are filled. NOTICE! WE WILL NOT ACCEPT ANY MONEY WITH THIS ORDER. Pay for your tires when you receive them. If you have a telephone we will call you; if not, we will write and tell you when to pick up your tires.

THE news wires carried a story out of College Station the other day about the organization there of the Texas A&M College Development fund, headed by Henderson Shuffler, an A&M graduate and former publisher of the Odessa American.

The idea boiled down and stripped of high-sounding words and phrases, is to get ex-students and friends of A&M college to make generous gifts to the Aggie school—either from time to time, or by remembering the institution in their wills. Then the money will be used, as the occasion will permit, for buildings, equipment and services by the college which cannot be financed by the appropriations of state monies.

We congratulate Texas A&M for taking this forward step and, knowing Mr. Shuffler, we believe he will be able to go up and down the highways and byways of Texas and wangle a lot of money for A&M, especially as long as the present tax system is in vogue in Washington.

We hope directors of Texas Technological college read the item about this new step at Texas A&M, because it might spur them to do something very similar for Texas Tech.

Friends of Tech—especially over the past two years—have suggested a similar set-up for the college here, but for one reason or another no action yet has been taken. Meanwhile, Tech hasn't gotten nearly as any donations to its trust fund as it would have gotten if someone were out "selling" its friends as Mr. Shuffler will do for A&M.

If Tech had had the right sort of "salesman" on the job during the past two or three years, we believe the college trust fund would have at least $200,000 in its kitty that it doesn't have now. And even by New Deal standards, $200,000—or even one-fourth that amount—ain't hay.

TECH needs one man — maybe even two—to "front" for the college around and about; to organize and vitalize the college alumni; to "lobby" with state legislators and, above all, to promote the Tech trust fund.

Texas A&M long has had this sort of set-up, starting years ago with the employment of popular Ike Ashburn. Now it is expanding its "public relations and sales force" with the new department headed by Mr. Shuffler.

The University of Texas has a similar department, and while it isn't generally known or shouted from the house-tops, the Austin institution has one full time promoter and, during sessions of the legislature, has two lobbyists to work with the sblons.

Tech very badly needs something along this line and some day will have it.

But why not now?

As we get it from Tech authorities, the college here hasn't taken the step because of the feeling that state funds can't legally be used for the employment of such workers.

That probably is true, although other institutions have "gotten around" the ban to some extent.

However, donations could be secured from Tech friends over the state to set up the promotion department and operate it for the first year or two, and then some method doubtless could be worked out to make it self-sustaining.

With the federal tax structure such as it is, a lot of people can make gifts to trust funds and charge most of it against income or corporation taxes—on the theory that they'd rather give it that way than to turn it over to the politicians.

Tech has lost a couple or three good years of "easy pickin's," and while that's too bad it's water over the dam.

The idea now, it seems to us, is to get started so Tech won't lose any more time, or money in this regard.

THE good ladies of the West Presbyterian church in Montreal, Canada, many years ago got together on a recipe for "Married Woman's Cake," which seems to have a lot to recommend it. We pass it along here in case any of the local church auxiliaries might like to adopt it.

Here's 'tis:

"1 pound of true love.

"1 pound of perfect trust and confidence.

"1 pound of cheerfulness.

"A pinch of unselfishness.

"A sprinkle of interest in all your husband does.

"Mix all well with a gill of the oil of sympathy; place into a tin of contentment; flavor with a bright fireside and a loving kiss.

"Bake well all your life."

Not bad, not bad.

Do your Christmas swapping early!

That man on Avenue Q says flattery make the average person sick—unless he swallows it.

A friend of ours says he isn't worried a bit about the clothing shortage. He says he has a suit for every day in the week—and wears it!

* * *

WE reckon everybody has this sort of difficulty, but nevertheless our particular portion of it worries us no end.

Every holiday season we find among our Christmas cards several that have us perfectly stymied.

One this year was signed in pen and ink—but it looked like whoever did the writing was using his feet, instead of his hands. We checked the postmark and it was "San Antonio." But none of the people we know in San Antonio—Army and civilian—have signatures anything like the scrawl on the card. The message was very nice. Apparently the sender was a person well along in years, because the message indicated the sender could see the three-score-years-and-ten mark in the not too far future.

But now we'll fret off and on over the year, wondering who sent the card.

Nearly every year—and this one has been no exception—we get cards signed "Buzz and Stinky," or "Moose-jaw and Skeets," or something like that, and we can't possibly place the senders, who probably were introduced to us as Mr. and Mrs. J. van Alderdyce Landingham, or Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Glutz.

It's all very puzzling and not conducive to the Yuletide peace of the recipient!

WELL, Christmas is gone for another year—has slipped back into the limbo of the dead past—and most of us are slipping back into normal, losing the glow and the understanding which envelopes us on December 24 and 25 each twelvemonth.

As we said here a couple or three years ago, it's a shame the Christmas spirit can't be kept inviolate on all the 365 days of the year; it's too bad that the tolerance and the generosity and the kindliness which Yuletide engenders in most people can't be held onto all the time.

But perhaps that's asking too much. Perhaps Man wasn't built to be able to conduct himself so superlatively on a permanent basis.

Let us all, then, be glad that it is possible for a large slice of humanity annually to disport itself so well on a few days of each year; that the genus homo, whatever his failures otherwise, finds it possible to pull himself out of the mire of suspicion, selfishness and carelessness for at least a short period upon special occasion.

All of us derive some benefit from the Christmas spirit—perhaps even a mite of lasting benefit.

At least, let's hope so.

Feminine Viewpoint

By RUTH MILLETT
(Copyright, 1945, For The Journal)

THEIR Dad was coming home, and though they remembered things they had done with him before he went away they were worried because they could not remember what he looked like. "Will you be sure to point out which man is Daddy?" they asked anxiously on the way to the train to welcome him home.

MILLETT

Well, there was the set-up the professional worriers had cautioned might cause a lot of trouble.

A Dad coming home almost a stranger. The kids might be shy. They might resent another person coming into the home and telling them what to do.

KIDS ARE DIFFERENT

IT was going to be a situation that had to be handled just right, said the advice-givers.

But the advice-givers must have overlooked one item.

Kids don't know anything about potential problems. They don't expect trouble. And they seem to know instinctively that a "whole family" means Daddy, Mama and the kids.

So Dad—that stranger who was going to be an outsider for awhile—according to the experts—was not a stranger at all. Not after the first few minutes of greeting. Not after he had opened his luggage to bring out toy tanks and dolls, holsters and guns.

DAD'S NO STRANGER

THE stranger was as welcome as Santa Claus. But a Santa Claus who didn't give presents alone, but would even admire scrawled crayon drawings, would answer questions, would lend a hand with a job too complicated for 4-year-olds.

The same thing must be happening in thousands of homes. The kids solving the problem by not knowing it is one, by accepting a Dad's homecoming in the same way they take Christmas or any other wonderfully exciting occasion.

Today's Journal Editorial

A TART TIP FOR TOASTMASTERS

Jack Cann, a columnist for The National Legionnaire, recently pecked out a paragraph which should receive the attention of luncheon and banquet chairmen throughout the land.

Cann strikes at the widespread practice of the program chairman giving fulsome introductions of the "brass" that always fans out on either side of him at the average banquet or luncheon table.

"Most of these big shots are known to everyone at the affair," Cann writes, "and they do not have any part on the program except to dress up the front table so that it will look important, and to stand up and take a bow and accept a smattering of applause when their attendance is called to the attention of those who are already aware of it."

Cann says it is a time-consuming detail that steals from the speaker of the day, irritates some folks in the audience who feel that they should be at the front table, too, and is "generally uncivilized."

While writing on the "biscuit circuit," Cann might have made another suggestion. This would be to have the chairman refrain from the custom of rising solemnly to his feet, at the conclusion of an address from the "principal speaker," and intoning: "Every man in this room enjoyed beyond measure Mr. Tonsils' most informative, most penetrating and most entertaining talk." How does the chairman know? Has he taken a poll of the listeners? Maybe most of the audience thought the speaker was putrid. But here is the chairman saying "every man in this, etc." It is expression without representation and contrary to democratic principles!

Truman Ducks Question Of Second Term

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Harry Truman isn't sticking his neck out on the 1948 political race—yet.

Democratic Representative Edward Herbert of Louisiana and Mayor Robert Maestri of New Orleans discovered this when they called at the White House the other day.

PEARSON

Maestri reminded Truman that the Louisiana delegation was among the first to support him for vice president at the 1944 Democratic convention in Chicago. Then he added:

"We hope to cast our votes for you for president at the next convention."

Truman chuckled good-naturedly but that was all.

"All I can say to that," he replied, "is that I'm just doing a job here from day to day and letting the future take care of itself."

CLOTHING FOR VETERANS

CHIEF dilemna faved by the returning war veteran when it comes to new clothes is that either he will get clothes or his wife and sweetheart will get them. There aren't going to be enough for both.

In this choice between man and wife there is no question as to where the U.S. government stands, at least in theory—on the side of the man. He has been away fighting, his old clothes are moth-eaten, and he deserves something to wear. Getting them for him, however, may be another matter.

Bottleneck of the entire problem boils down to linings. Wool clothing for men must have linings. This means rayon and cotton. At present the wool and worsted situation is improving and there probably will be almost enough for 1946.

But rayons and cottons are different. In the first place most of their production was allocated to war uses and it takes some time to get mills reconverted. Second, and here is where the sex problem comes in, most of the rayon and cotton now available for civilian use has been going to women.

In other words, women are getting the rayon blouses, the slips, the undies and other things they like to wear. Meanwhile the much more prosaic but absolutely necessary lining for men's suits is left out in the cold. In addition, the hosiery manufacturers are even asking for, and getting, a lot of rayon poundage for stockings, despite the fact that nylon is coming back.

clothing manufacturers blame this on the OPA.

2. The War Production board last fall issued priorities on cotton and rayon in order to spur production of medium-priced clothng, but for some strange reason entirely omitted the bottleneck of men's suits—linings.

Since then the WPB has been abolished, but its successor, the Civilian Production administration, if anything, perhaps, has done a little worse. Well-meaning Herbert Rose, head of the CPA textile division, who has sublime faith in the efficacy of priorities under any and all circumstances, has proceeded to grant priorities to "hardship" cases for coat linings. By the end of November, 160 "hardship" cases had received lining priorities from Washington alone with scores of other priorities issued by CPA branch offices, making the whole situation more snarled than ever.

Meanwhile, Frank Chester Bowles, who has done more to protect the American consumer than any one else in Washington, readily admits that he has made a mistake in clothing. His problem, however, is whether to get an army of women's clothing dealers on his neck by decreasing the ceilings on women's clothes, or whether to boost the price of clothes for men by allowing higher price ceilngs on their clothes.

One or the other probably will be necessary even in addition to the plan for voluntary rationing of men's clothing and the issuing of clothing certificates to men at separation centers.

JAPS STILL RULE YAP

THOUGH the Navy is on the defensive in its merger battle with the Army in Washington, it got the jump on the Army in the far-off Pacific. There, the Navy still is top-dog in governing the thousand and one islands taken from the Japs — with one exception.

That exception is Yap. There, neither the U. S. Army nor U. S. Navy is top-dog; but, believe it or not, Japan still reigns pretty much supreme — and with American blessing.

It is true that 125 U. S. Navy men are on Yap. But the military governor is Colonel Edo of the Japanese Army — by an order of Capt. J. C. Webb at Ulithi. Japanese soldiers carrying rifles (presumably unloaded) stand regularly assigned guard, while completely unarmed Americans enjoy the fruits of victory under a situation which must amaze the Japs.

To this day the Stars and Stripes have not topped the mast ashore at Yap, and the U.S. military government unit on the island is sweating it out under the supposedly eclipsed emblem of the Rising Sun.

NOTE—So far Japs and Americans have got along very well together.

WHY WOMEN GET BREAK

CHIEF reasons for this channelling of clothes to women, espite the needs of veterans, are:

1. Higher prices and more profits in women's apparel. Men's

JOHN COLLIER, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, gives some surprising facts in The Changing Indian, a new publication of the University of Oklahoma Press.

Mr. Collier, no one for vagne generalities, avers that there are now 350,397 Indians in the United States, and that this represents an increase of thirty-four per cent over the 1890 tabulations; 153,993 are full-blood. Some tribes, notably the Dakotas and the Cherokees, are more numerous today than when the white man first encroached upon their territory, and many reservations are becoming over-crowded.

Maye you have heard the story of Mrs. Lapidus who saw an honest-to-goodness Indian for the first time in her life at a basket-weaving exhibition in a New York department store. "Is it true dot you are a real, one hundred per cent Indian?" she asked him. "Ugh," affirmed the Indian affably. "My, my!" mused Mrs. Lapidus. "How do you like our country?"

MEMOS to the Editor—The War Dept. phoned our Girl Friday regarding some unhappy letters from GIs in Europe. Gen. Eisenhower personally was contacted, said the caller, and "couldn't believe anyone would say or write it" . . . The letters, it appears, dealt with a "rumor" that this column allegedly published—but we never said it or broadcast it or wrote it or anything! . . . The grievance was over a report that GIs in the European zone "with 70 points or more" could not come home to the U. S. because they had criminal records or vd . . . Drew Pearson finally revealed that it originated in London recently over the British broadcasting System . . . We have since been told that Gen. Eisenhower is so informing all concerned among our troops abroad.

WINCHELL

A correspondent for a nationally circulated magazine sent me this data on ex-Ambassador to China Partick J. Hurley . . . That U. S. reporters there called him "Little Paper Tiger" . . . When Hurley was at Yenan he went around periodically shouting, which he apparently thought would make a good impression on Chinese commy leaders . . . When the Mexican charge d'affaires was a guest at a dance in the U. S. embassy in Chungking Hurley embarrassed all present by requesting the orchestra to play "Rum and Co-cah-Coh-Ia" in honor of the Mexican diplomat . . . That he once had a big Cadillac limousine flown to him over the Hump into China . . . That when he arrived at Chungking (where housing facilities were hopelessly inadequate) he gave members of the U. S. diplomatic staff (staying at the large ambassador house) 24 hours to get out.

Gilbert Miller, the producer, phoned to say that reports about a rift at his home were not true. The report originated in Hollywood . . . John Garfield assures us that our item was ditto—that they expect an heir in four months . . . We hear that because of the "acute shortage of newsprint" one New York paper will suspend publication for three days during the next four weeks . . . While the black market lads are getting good fees for Scotch, many of the swank cafes, etc., will "have a practically Scotchless weekend." Hotels and restaurants in town may not sell any of it Sat. or Sun. . . . Ex-Cong. Maury Maverick, now in Japan, says: "Not enough news or broadcasts about the Pacific. Gen. MacArthur is the right man for holding down the Japs, and we are demobilizing in the U. S. too fast!"

THE late Blaze, owned by the Elliott Roosevelts, continues to wield influence on air travel. Gen Hap Arnold and his wife are flying to the coast about New Year's when the general steps into a top job in non-military aviation. They hoped to take along (by plane) their cocker spaniel, but Mrs. Arnold was worried there'd be another newspaper controversy. She didn't worry long—every company on the west coast offered to send a plane . . . A Canadian Army nurse, just returned, is the source of this one; don't recall seeing it printed before: That many civilians were killed during a Nazi air raid over Belfast, Ireland, in 1943. Among the dead were Mrs. M. Parks and her mother. They were first cousins of Dick Todd. The nurse is available in New York if you want more on it.

Newspaper editors could put this one over and perhaps erase the menace to all concerned . . . The newspapers recently told about 87,647 tax exempt groups which have filed returns with the Treasury dept . . . M. Ernst, the New York barrister, first suggested the idea to FDR. The main value of these returns, is to get Congress to make public the tax returns of all the American underground movements such as Wm. Dudley Pelley's, Edmundson's, Reynolds', Browder's, Harry Bridges' and even some phony committee to aid Franco. If we can smoke out the names of all the contributors—then we would end organized bigotry and underground Communism.

THIS should put an end to the Pearl Harbor probe farce once and for all . . . And bury the charge that FDR provoked Japan into war . . . Prince Konoye said this in 1940: "If the U. S. refuses to understand the real intentions of Japan, Germany and Italy in concluding an alliance for cooperation in creating a New World Order, and proceeds in challenging these powers—there will be no other course open to it (Japan) than to go to war" . . . That's in the files of the N. Y. Times of October 5th, 1940.

War Department Wants To Shake A-Bomb Responsibility

Coming Decisions May Shape World Destiny

By MARQUIS CHILDS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King of Canada has now added his voice to those who believe that only some form of world state, with a surrender of at least some degree of national sovereignty, will save us from destruction through atomic energy.

While the headlines have not reflected it, there is a growing awareness here of the awful seriousness of the decisions which must be taken in the coming year.

CHILDS

At a closed session, members of the Senate's atomic committee heard facts that were more sobering than anything that has been brought out publicly. While committee members have thus far preserved a remarkable discretion on what they were told, they have not tried to conceal the awe which the session inspired.

Bigger Bombs Possible

Bombs of a destructive power several hundred times greater than those dropped on Japan can be manufactured today. The manufacture and storage of bombs made of atomic material produced in America's two great atomic plants goes on.

The War department does not want the responsibility for production and control of atomic matter. War department spokesmen have said that repeatedly. Therefore it is up to Congress to act as quickly as possible to create a responsible body which would have wide authority.

Mistakes, perhaps irreparable mistakes, are so easy to make. The destruction of Japan's cyclotrons is a case in point. It underscores the War department's desire to pass on the responsibility.

THE cyclotrons destroyed in Japan might have been used, in this country for example, for research in the humane sciences and especially in medicine. They are difficult and costly to construct.

General MacArthur at first was blamed for the order which sent GI's swarming over the big machines with blow torches. Soon it developed that he was simply carrying out instructions received from the War department in Washington.

Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson later accepted the blame stating that he had acted on the recommendation of a staff officer. According to word reaching members of the Senate atomic committee, that officer was Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves who was in charge of security and other phases of the development of atomic energy.

Scientists Protest

General Groves should not have to make such decisions. It is putting too great a responsibility on a single individual. Destruction of the Jap cyclotrons brought shocked and indignant protests from leading scientists. If they had been consulted, they would certainly have urged reconsideration of such a step.

In his testimony before the Senate committee, Groves argued for continuing the manufacture and storage of bombs. To some his testimony seemed to be an invitation to the world to enter an atomic bomb race. He was boasting, in effect, that we were so far ahead that we could stay ahead.

Asked when, in his opinion, other countries could come up to our present level, he said 10 years. Chairman Brien McMahon asked him if this was not a "guess" and he replied that it was.

COMPARED, of course, to the leading scientists who worked on the project, Groves' knowledge is elementary. These scientists have made much shorter guesses—from a year and a half to three years. Their word on such questions would seem to carry a great deal more weight than that of General Groves.

Some interim form of control over atomic energy within the country should be quickly worked out. It will necessarily be a stopgap measure, pending the international control which is the only course of safety. It will relieve the War department of a responsibility which must be burdensome and constantly harrassing.

In the light of the newest developments in atomic destruction, the potential being so much greater than what the world saw last August in Japan's obliterated cities, it would be impossible to exaggerate the importance of the talks Secretary of State Byrnes is having in Moscow. For the first time the issue of atomic energy is being put up to Russia. On the answer the future of our world depends.

Stock Market

MOTORS RISE SLOWLY

NEW YORK, Dec. 26 (AP) — Motors rose fractions to around 3 points in today's stock market while steels, rubbers, rails, metals and selected industrials advanced a lesser amount.

Automotives were buoyed by the renewal of talks between representatives of General Motors Corp. and the CIO United Automobile Workers concerning the five-week-old strike.

Part of the gain was attributed to the fact that traditionally there is a rally between Dec. 25 and the end of the year. Prospective and actual yearend dividends also were a factor.

Dealings were moderately active most of the session but slowed appreciably during the final hour. Volume approximated 1,400,000 shares against 940,000 last Friday —the last regular day.

Gimbel Bros. and N. Y. Central hit new yearly highs. Other gainers included General Motors, Chrysler, Packard, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, J. I. Case, Boeing, American Telephone, American Water Works, Anaconda, American Smelting, American Can, Dupont, Union Carbide, Johns-Manville, Southern Pacific, Santa Fe, Texas Co., and Paramount.

Bonds were steady with rails in the lead. Cotton, near the end, was 10 to 95 cents a bale higher.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 26 (AP) — Wheat futures trading broadened somewhat today on offerings from southwestern interests and advances ranging upward to major fractions of a cent a bushel were chalked up most of the time.

Wheat closed unchanged to ¾ cent higher than Saturday's finish, May $1.80½; corn unchanged at $1.18⅛ ceilings; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, May 77¼-⅜; rye ¼ lower to 1⅛ higher, May $1.74⅛-¾; barley ⅛ higher to ¾ lower, May $1.22¼.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Dec. 26 (AP) — Cash grain was in good demand as the markets opened after the Christmas holiday.

Americans To Watch Over Greek Voting

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP) — The United States will send 600 observers next month to watch over the election in which Greece will choose a national assembly.

Greece invited foreign observers by authority of a provisions in the Yalta declaration that the Big Three would help liberated or formerly Axis-affiliated nations guarantee free elections. Britain and France also accepted. Russia declined.

Head of the U. S. mission will be Henry F. Grady, former assistant secretary of state.

'DUD' CAR RUNS

WARSAW, Ind. (U.P.)—Dick Silveus still is trying to understand the magic of the thieves who stole two automobiles from his garage recently.

One auto would operate splendidly and the other wouldn't. The car that was recovered was the one that would run. The "dud" auto still hasn't been found.

WOMAN FACES TRIAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26. (AP) —Mrs. Annie Irene Mansfeldt, society matron, faces trial today to determine whether she is innocent by reason of insanity of the slaying of Nurse Vada Martin. The same jury which last week convicted her of manslaughter will hear the case.

TWO DIE IN FIRE

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 26. (AP) — Two women perished and six persons were injured, including four firemen, in a spectacular five-alarm fire which swept a row of five tenement houses in the Herron Hill section here early today.

Truman Holiday

they said, no definite program has been arranged, leaving the chief executive free to follow his whims.

His delayed departure from Washington, putting him in Kansas City at 5:55 p. m. (Eastern Standard time) prevented his customary appearance at three Christmas dinners. Upon his return to Independence from Grandview, he ate turkey and trimmings with Mrs. Truman, his daughter, Margaret, and Mrs. Truman's family.

He hopes to eat with his mother at Grandview, and his aunt, 96-year-old Mrs. Joseph T. Noland, who lives across the street from him in Independence, before he leaves here for Washington Friday.

His arrival at his Independence home at 8 p. m. (EST) last night was the signal for a hearty "Merry Christmas" from more than 100 townspeople gathered outside the "little White House."

Serenaded By Carolers

As he entered his home carolers serenaded him, concluding with the familiar "Silent Night."

After dinner, he went by the home of Mize Peters, treasury department representative for western Missouri, for a few minutes, before returning to his home at 9:30 p. m., tired, but happy, and ready for bed.

He had a full day. Expecting to leave Washington at 8:30 a. m., he had to wait until 12:06 before weather conditions permitted a takeoff. Sleet was falling as the "Sacred Cow," his big C-54 plane, took the air.

The president had told friends that he did not want to miss Christmas with homefolks and break a coming-home record of 27 years.

He drove about Independence, Kansas City and Grandview over icy pavements. A severe winter storm had made the trees heavy with ice along the route.

Kiss From Mother

His elderly mother greeted the president with a kiss at the doorway of her home. She and her daughter, Miss Mary Jane Truman, were surprised and delighted at his making the drive to Grandview Christmas night, in view of his late arrival.

Newsmen, photographers and commentators who came from Washington to "cover" the president's visit home arrived in Kansas City almost three hours after the president. Their plane was delayed at the takeoff by ice which had to be cleared from the wings.

Both planes fought headwinds over much of the route as they moved through leaden skies that showered sleet and rain against the ships.

U. S. Ready To Talk Of Spanish Policy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (U.P.)— The United States has notified France of its readiness to discuss with Britain and France all aspects of the relations of the three governments with Spain's Franco regime.

Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson told a news conference today that the United States government, replying to a French suggestion for such discussions, had indicated its willingness to go into the matter whenever and wherever France suggests.

Cruiser Augusta Is Damaged By Storm

LONDON, Dec. 26 (AP) — An Army spokesman said today that the cruiser Augusta, one of the United States warships being used as a troop transport, was considerably damaged three days ago in heavy seas and had put into Portsmouth for repairs.

The Army said the Augusta's sailing date was indefinite and that all troops aboard had been sent back to their staging area. No other details were announced.

Seventeen Sentenced To Die In Mass Trial

BELGRADE, Dec. 26. (U.P.)—Seventeen defendants, including two Catholic priests, were sentenced to death today in a mass trial of collaborationists at Ljubljana.

Sixteen other defendants were given forced labor terms ranging from eight to 20 years. Only one person was acquitted.

TRAFFIC RESUMED

DENVER, Dec. 26. (AP) — Traffic was resumed today over Denver and Salt Lake railroad tracks blocked 29 miles west of Denver yesterday by a rock slide which derailed an engine and stranded several hundred servicemen at Pinecliffe, Colo.

Assistant City Meat Inspector Is Named

Carl H. Scholle, a World war II veteran of Bryan, Tex., has been named assistant city meat inspector, a position which has been unfilled for several months, it was announced at the City hall this morning.

Scholle will serve as assistant to W. A. Barr, chief meat inspector. The post formerly was held by Kenneth Bolton, who resigned to enter private veterinary practice in another Texas city.

Health department officials said Scholle's employment, coupled with the service of Barr, retired by the federal government after 35 years of meat inspection duty, would give the city a meat inspection department capable of rendering excellent service.

Scholle, they said, is a graduate of Texas A. and M. college, was once a federal meat inspector in Chicago and is a former employe of the meat inspection service of the City of Dallas. While in the Army, he served in the quartermaster corps.

He is expected to arrive in Lubbock in the next few days to begin a search for a house or apartment in which to live. He is married but has no children.

Barr has been chief inspector for several months, taking the place of his brother, I. E. Barr, who died after many years in the service of the city.

Holiday Deaths

was killed in a collision five miles east of Fort Worth.

Jeanette Foster, 28, of Kountze, was killed when a train and automobile collided at Kirbyville.

Many Are Arrested

The holiday total for drunken driving arrest stood at 103.

State police announced no count on the traffic-injured but indications were it would exceed the death rate.

Four persons were seriously hurt when automobiles collided near Seminole and both cars overturned. The victims were Mrs. Eula Hendrix Cinn, 40, and her husband, R. A. Cinn, 42, of Denver City, and Mrs. Earlene Huddleston, 29, and her husband, E. M. Huddleston, 29, of O'Donnell.

415 PERSONS DEAD OVER THE COUNTRY

Black crepe replaced the green holly in scores of the nation's homes today as mourning for victims of violent deaths over the Christmas holiday.

A survey disclosed approximately 415 persons were killed violently, with more than one half of them victims of automobile accidents.

176 Traffic Victims

The traffic fatalities numbered 219 while at least 68 persons died in fires. Violent deaths by miscellaneous causes accounted for 128 victims. These included deaths by shootings, freezing, a tornado, train and airplane crashes and accidents in the home.

The heaviest single toll over the holiday was taken in a hospital fire in Hartford, Conn., with 17 persons fatally burned. Six other persons in Meriden, Conn., died in a fire at a home.

Texas and California reported the most deaths by violence, 53 and 46, respectively. The fatalities in Texas were 34 victims of traffic accidents and 18 by miscellaneous causes, including 15 slayings. California topped the country in motor deaths with 35.

21 In New York

In New York state 21 violent deaths were reported, including six in traffic accidents, while Illinois motor mishaps, all in Chicago, totaled three.

Heavy snowfalls, rain and sleet in many parts of the country kept highway travel at a minimum over the holiday.

The violent deaths by states, listing in order traffic, fire and miscellaneous causes:

Alabama 0-1-0; Arizona 10-0-0; Arkansas 2-0-1; California 35-2-9; Colorado 10-0-0; Connecticut 0-23-2; Florida 0-0-4; Georgia 1-0-0; Idaho 1-0-2; Illinois 3-1-11; Indiana 8-0-1; Kansas 1-0-0; Louisiana 3-2-3; Maine 0-0-5; Maryland 6-0-1; Massachusetts 0-0-2; Michigan 8-1-2.

Minnesota 2-2-0; Mississippi 3-0-3; Nebraska 2-0-1; New Jersey 2-8-4; New Mexico 9-0-3; New York 6-4-11; North Carolina 2-0-0; North Dakota 1-3-1; Ohio 9-2-1; Oklahoma 6-0-2; Oregon 1-0-4; Pennsylvania 7-3-2; South Carolina 0-0-7; South Dakota 1-0-0; Tennessee 2-0-1.

Texas 34-1-18; Utah 0-0-2; Washington 1-0-1; West Virginia 2-5-1; Washington, D. C. 0-1-0.

States not listed did not report any violent deaths.

Indonesian Leader Escapes Assassin

BATAVIA, Dec. 26. (AP)—Premier Sutan Sjahrir of the unrecognized Indonesian Republic had a narrow escape from death today when an unidentified assailant fired at close range into the automobile in which he was riding with an Indonesian companion.

British Military police who came to Sjahrir's assistance arrested five Eurasians and a Surinamese.

Sjahrir said an automobile containing the six men halted his car and one fired a bullet, which struck the radiator of his machine.

Fifteen Eurasians in Dutch Uniforms approached the car, Sjahrir said, but fled when a British military patrol approached.

Socorro Post Office And Stores Robbed

SOCORRO, N. M., Dec. 26 (U.P.)— Sheriff's officers and city police continued their search today for one or more burglars who took advantage of the Christmas holidays to rob the Socorro Post-Office, enter two stores and indulge in other thievery.

Postmaster Leo M. Fay reported that the burglars took about $150 cash Monday night from the Post-Office, and the store of Mrs. R. N. Stapleton and the Sprouse-Reitz store were entered the same night. However neither business establishment reported any losses.

tion into theft of a watch and money. Officials will go to Abernathy this afternoon to look further into the case.

A 24-year-old negro who allegedly "flashed a gun" when he felt in the mood at a negro dine and dance place will be charged with disturbance. The gun had not been found.

Officials were investigating a report that American Cleaners and Laundry at 1212 Broadway had been burglarized.

Bill Riley Blake was charged with law of the road violation in connection with a Monday night collision of his automobile and one driven by M. S. Cole, 50, of 1924 Broadway. Cole was in West Texas hospital for treatment of shock, lacerations and bruises. The mishap was five miles west of Lubbock on the Levelland highway. C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, said there had been no arraignment on the charge.

One Other Mishap

The only other automobile mishap that almost caused injuries was investigated at dusk Tuesday. The unknown driver of a car parked four miles east of Idalou pulled off the side of the road and Elbert E. Nicholas of Lubbock had to hit the car slightly to avoid a headon collision with a car being driven toward him.. Doyle G. Chiles of Hobbs, N. M., following Nicholas, crashed into Nicholas' car and, deflected, into the path of a car driven by Clarence Patterson of Ralls, causing another collision.

License number of the unknown man's car was being checked by State Highway Patrolmen James Riddles and T. A. Rowland.

Damon Thomas of 2629 Ave. K reported theft of a tarpaulin valued at $35, Raymond Noble of 2101 Thirteenth of an $18 fire extinguisher, R. W. Wicker, jr., of 2011 Broadway of a $25 fender skirt.

Slugged And Robbed

One man, who reported that two soldiers had slugged him while he was walking with them at Thirteenth and Ave. H, said he woke up in a hotel with his room paid, but he was minus between $80 and $90. Police, while investigating his complaint, jailed the man, whose name had been reported previously as the name of a man who administered knockout drops in liquor to a man in a room at another hotel and took a watch and $120 from him.

A lady at 2216 Fourteenth reported that some one had stolen a muskrat fur coat, a black bag, a Christmas packge, contents unknown, and $25 in cash. Entrance was made through a door on the north side of the building and then through a kitchen door.

Police investigated four accidents in the city Christmas day, in which no persons were reported injured.

The Texas highway patrol office at Brownfield reported theft of a light blue 1941 Ford coach, license Number CD 5971, at Seminole.

Lubbock firemen made two runs Tuesday, one to a burning fence at 1814 Ave. H at 3:11 p. m., and another to a grass fire three miles northwest of the city at 4:20 p. m. ternoon. Their automobile was found wrecked on the street near the destroyed building.

The Stovall child's mother, Mrs. Jacqueline Stovall, was among the injured. Her father, a Marine, was unhurt.

First Theory Discarded

First theory that the building was destroyed by a butane gas tank explosion was discarded, Fire Chief C. L. Tenney said, when the tank was found intact. He added it was believed accumulated heating gas from a leaking pipe may have been exploded by the exhaust from a truck.

Anthony Berta, a truck driver who was among the injured, said the explosion occurred when he stepped on the starter of his machine.

All the victims were among the 20 residents of the apartments on the upper floor of the two story building.

Police Reserves Called

All available fire equipment fought the blaze, and had it under control within a half hour. Police regulars and reserves were called out to patrol adjacent blocks, where the force of the explosion had shattered virtually every window. A bank a block away was put under heavy guard.

Greeson said patrolmen reported some residents of the 20 apartments had escaped to the street, which was littered with broken glass, metal window frames and fragments of brick.

The building housed the Santa Barbara Distributing company's beer and soft drink bottling works, located at Chapala and Cota streets, only a block from the main artery, State street.

Police and sheriff's telephone exchanges were jammed with calls from residents, many of them miles away, inquiring about the blast.

Former Actor Falls To Death From Hotel

NEW YORK, Dec. 26. (AP)—Sgt. Russell Gleason, 36-year-old actor son of screen star James Gleason, fell to his death last night from the fourth floor of the Hotel Sutton, used by the Army as barracks for men stationed here.

Gleason, who had appeared in "All Quiet On The Western Front" and many other films, landed on a second floor extension, police said. He had been attached to the Army Signal Corps Photo center here. He had been in good spirits shortly before his death, police said they were told by his friends.

Churchill To Visit Czechoslovakia Soon

PRAGUE, Dec. 26. (AP)—Winston Churchill has accepted an official invitation to visit Czechoslovakia, either immediately before or immediately after his scheduled vacation visit to the United States, an authoritative source said today.

The former Prime Minister is expected to leave England about the middle of January.

Allied Far Eastern Group To Study MacArthur's Work

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26 (AP) — Nursing ambitions at policy making rather than mere advice giving, the Allied Far Eastern commission leaves today for Japan and a look-see at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's administration.

Weather permitting, commission members will board a plane here at 7:15 p. m. (EST). After flying to Pearl Harbor, they will complete the trip on the U. S. S. Mt. McKinley, a Navy command ship. They expect to return to Washington about February 15.

The 10-nation commission made it plain in two months of deliberations in Washington that it does not expect to find any grave fault with the way MacArthur has administered Japan. Most commission members have said they believe the supreme Allied commander has done a creditable job.

Group To Study Directives

What the commissioners will do is study carefully how United States directives to MacArthur have been carried out.

Up to now, the commission has devoted most of its time to debating the directives themselves. A basic policy committee under leadership of Australia's foreign minister, Herbert V. Evatt, has rewritten the original White House directive to MacArthur, issued shortly after the Japanese surrender.

This document now has been forwarded to the ten governments for consideration. If approved, it will be forwarded to MacArthur. U. S. officials say this government would have no objection, because the rewrite seeks only to "tighten up" and clarify the instructions.

Commission Might Move

Some members, however, believe the time is approaching when the commission should take over the actual power to formulate policy for Japan; that once the strictly military phase of the occupation is over, the commission should move to Japan and issue its own instructions directly to MacArthur.

This view brought about the quiet dropping of the word "advisory" from the commission's title in recent communiques.

Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand said during a visit to Washington Monday that the time had come when "much greater powers should be entrusted to the commission." And Evatt recently asserted it had become clear that "the commission will determine the general lines of Allied policies in Janpan."

Some officials believe the Moscow meeting of Big Three foreign ministers may provide an answer.

Russia thus far has refused to participate in the commission. It has held out for creation of a four-power (U. S., Russia, Britain, China) control council. Those who look to the Moscow meeting take this view:

If Russia continues to stay out, the commission may evolve into an organization with considerable policy-making authority.

If Foreign Commissar Molotov and Secretary of State Byrnes come to some agreement on the four-power council idea, however, the 10-member body is likely to retain only its present, modest, advice-giving role.

News Briefs

Funeral services for W. W. McLain, 84, of 1508 Ave. W, who died Saturday afternoon, were conducted at 8:30 o'clock this morning in the chapel of Sanders Funeral home with Dr. H. I. Robinson of the First Methodist church officiating. The body was sent today to Dayton, Ohio, for burial. Mr. McLain lived with his daughter, Mrs. Louis G. Metcalf, of Lubbock.

Christmas was especially merry for a former Lubbock man, now living at Childress, and three other Texans who were together in a Japanese prison camp in Manila. The quartet had a reunion Tuesday at Childress in the home of Joseph W. Hough, who until two months ago lived with his wife in Lubbock. Other members of the party were William W. Morris, McLean; Dewey O. Hood, Wellington, and Aaron Holt, Chillicothe. They are to be joined later this week by another man with whom they were imprisoned, Fred Taylor of Margaret, Tex. Hough is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Hough of near Slaton.

Big Three

already has agreed to the formula.

Secretary of States James F. Byrnes telephoned the French foreign office Monday afternoon, but was informed that Foreign Minister Georges Bidault was out. It was not announced whether Bidault had called back. One of the issues that broke down the earlier conference of foreign ministers in London was French insistence on being a party to all European peace treaties.

Big Three Reunited

Diplomatic sources said the atmosphere of futility which prevailed after the breakdown of the London conferences of Byrnes, Foreign Commissar V. M. Molltov and Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin has been elimiated and the Big Three now were reunited in a spirit of collaboration.

The conferees were said to have struck up a more intimate acquaintanceship between themselves, producing a real measure of admiration for one another.

Reach An Accord

The three foreign ministers already have reached an accord on the procedure for drafting the European peace settlement.

Authoritative quarters said U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was highly pleased with the results of his discussions with Soviet Foreign Commisar V. M. Molotov and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin.

Far more has been achieved, these quarters said, than was even contemplated when Byrnes left Washington. The full extent of the agreements reached was not indicated, but one of Byrnes' aides said the results would not be disappointing.

Control Of Japan

One of the accords was said to deal with control of Japan, which was high on the list of complicated problems on the agenda. Whether an agreement was reached on the number one problem, control of atomic energy, remained a matter of speculation.

It was reported, however, that the three foreign ministers had discussed the American-British-Canadian policy on world control of atomic energy during their meetings.

Another important question on the agenda was the withdrawal of British, American and Russian troops from Iran, but the outcome of discussions of this problem also was undisclosed.

The already-announced procedure for drafting European treaties, regarded by observers as close to the compromise formula proposed by Byrnes at the five power foreign ministers' conference in London, has been submitted to France and China for their approval. China was reported to have approved the agreement already, but no word has been received from the French government.

Byrnes hoped to be able to get away from Moscow sometime today. His advisors expressed doubt that he would be able to do so, but his plane was being held in readiness, however, for immediate departure as soon as the business of the conference was completed.

parts of Texas, including several at Austin.

Also at Fort Worth, Justice Frank Hurley gave a suicide verdict in the death of Floyd H. Harris, 22, who was found hanged in the Fort Worth jail.

Harris was arrested Saturday in connection with the robbery of a Fort Worth loan company. He had signed a confession, the district attorney said, admitting 10 armed robberies in the city recently. Harris had twice been sentenced to the Gatesville state reformatory for attempted robbery, robbery with firearms, and burglary and theft.

A 28-year-old Corpus Christi man was arrested on a charge of failure to stop and render aid after Mrs. Maggie Denson, 24, and her six-year-old daughter were run down by a car. El Paso police reported two hit-and-run cases.

England's Admiral Keyes Dies In Sleep

LONDON, Dec. 26. (AP) — Admiral of the Fleet Lord Keyes, 73, hero of the blocking of Zeebrugge in 1918, died in his sleep today.

Son of the late Gen. Sir Charles Keyes, he was Baron of Zeebrugge and of Dover. He entered the Navy in 1885 at the age of 13, became a commander in 1900 and rose to the rank of Admiral of the Fleet in 1930.

He served as Naval attache in Rome, Athens, Vienna and Constantinople (now Istanbul) from 1905 to 1907. He was captain and commodore in charge of Great Britain's submarine service from 1910 to 1914 and served as chief of staff of the Eastern Mediterranean squadron in 1915.

United Nations To Hold First Meeting In London January 10

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. (AP) — The first session of the United Nations Organization (UNO) opens Jan. 10 in London. Since UNO has been created to keep peace, this will be a historic date.

Many bitter problems face UNO. They're hangovers from the war. And there has not been peace everywhere since the big shooting stopped last August. From the start UNO will have to go to work in earnest.

First Session

This first session is a meeting of the General Assembly in which all 51 member nations will take part. For mechanical reasons the first session will be divided into two meetings:

1. Starting Jan. 10, the first meeting will last from three weeks to perhaps two months. At this one the members set up the machinery to make UNO a working organization.

2. The second meeting is expected to get under way in April, perhaps in the United States since this country has been selected as permanent headquarters of UNO. The selection was made after London had been agreed upon for the Jan. 10 meeting.

No great problems, like the atomic bomb, are on the program of the London meeting although any nation is free to throw in a hot one like that.

Meeting May Be Dull

So the London meeting may sound pretty dull, much like the San Francisco conference. There the delegates worked for weeks in committees, haggling over a word or phrase, to whip up a charter.

One of the main jobs of the first meeting will be to elect six small nations as temporary members of the Security Council. The United States, Britain, France, Russia and China are permanent members.

The Security Council

It's the Security council, not the Assembly, which will have the real job of preserving peace once it is created. There is plenty of work for the first Assembly meeting, however.

But, as noted above, it probably will not appear spectacular. It will have to set up various agencies of UNO and elect officials. There's plenty of that on the program.

Preparations for this meeting have been going on for months.

Right after the San Francisco conference last spring, an executive committee of 14 nations, including our own, was appointed to draw up a program for the London meeting.

Commission Report

It finished its work, a 136-page report. Then a commission, called the Preparatory commission, was set up to go over the executive committee's work.

All 51 members of UNO are members of the commission. They will change the 136-page report a bit here and there and then turn the whole thing, completed, over to the Jan. 10 meeting.

Since no nation can send more than five, all are expected to send at least that many.

Byrnes Heads U. S. Group

Our five will be headed by Secretary of State Byrnes. But, in spite of the number of representatives, every nation in the Assembly will be entitled to only one vote.

Our representatives will be kept busy, just as our delegates to the San Francisco conference were busy.

They'll be in conference with one another, they'll confer with other nation's representatives, and they'll probably have to work on a number of committees.

Fred Hilton Rites Are Set For Today

Funeral services will be read at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Sanders chapel for Herbert Fred Hilton, 53, former Lubbock man who died Sunday at a Veterans hospital in Little Rock, Ark.

Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

Survivors include the widow who lives at Claremore, Okla., a daughter, Mrs. A. C. Bumpass of Lubbock; a son, S/Sgt. Max Hilton who is on Okinawa with the Army; one sister, Mrs. Sam Smith of New Home; six brothers, W. D. and C. W. of Clauman, Okla., John B of Santa Monica, Calif.; and Henry, Joe S. and Tom B. of Lubbock.

Shore Patrol Wagon Hit, Sailors Cheer

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26. (AP) —A streetcar crashed into a Navy shore patrol wagon on a busy downtown street.

Dozens of sailors in the sidewalks lined the curb and lustily cheered the streetcar operator.

Marines Riding Taxi Across The Nation

DALLAS, Dec. 26. (AP)—Six eastbound Marines, just back from overseas service, were on the last of a coast-to-coast taxicab trip today after a brief stop in Dallas.

Sgt. Sam Steinman of Hollis, Long Island, N. Y., said he and five companions had given up hope of getting home until after New Year's day because of the transportation crush until they found a sympathetic cab driver.

The driver was Harry Arisohn in Los Angeles who told the servicemen he would drive them to New York City if they would pay the expenses. They left Los Angeles, Dec. 21 and expect to arrive in New York Dec. 28 or 29.

"We'll not only be home for New Year's but it will have cost us less than train fare," Steinman said.

The men figured they would have to pay about $20 each. The veterans included: Pfc. Ralph Minichino, Bronx, N. Y.; T-Sgt. Joseph Ward of Pittsburgh; T-Sgt. Gordon Edwards, Long Island; T-Sgt. George Upton, Buffalo, N. Y. and S-Sgt. George Sheppard, New Hampshire.

Stray Bullet Fatally Wounds Young Vet

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 26 (AP) — A young veteran of the South Pacific was fatally wounded by a stray bullet early today and died in City hospital.

His mother, a hospital attendant, was just two floors away at the time of her son's death, but did not learn of it until two hours later.

The victim was Pfc. John C. Welsh who was hit while standing outside a South Side night club. Police Sgt. Henry Brown said Vincent J. Polito, a bartender, told him he fired the bullet at a sailor with whom he was arguing. The sailor fled uninjured.

Brown said no charges have been placed against Polito.

Man Freed Of Charge, Demands Jury Trial

CHICAGO, Dec. 26. (AP)—Municipal Judge Francis Borelli told Henry Mason, a junk peddler, that he was going to free him on a charge of blocking traffic with his push cart.

Mason, however, said he wanted a jury trial. Judge Borelli explained: "You can go home. You're free."

"I want 12 good men to hear my case," Mason insisted.

Judge Borelli set his hearing for Jan. 3.

Jap Leaders To Be Hanged

KWAJALEIN, Marshalls, Dec. 26. (AP)—Rear Adm. Shigamatsu Sakaibara, former Japanese commander of Wake during the occupation, was sentenced to death by hanging today along with his executive officer, Lt. Cmdr. Soichi Tachbana, for the mass execution of 98 American civilian employes of Pan-American Airways Oct. 7, 1943.

A U. S. military commission sentenced the two—Sakaibara admitted he ordered the executions—after Sakaibara declared in an outburst that those who conducted the atomic bomb attacks on Japan should be regarded as criminals of war.

"Now as we are about to receive the decision of the American court," the admiral said, "I would like to make a request that the people who planned and carried out the dropping of atomic bombs on Japan ... uld be regarded in the same light as we."

Held Responsible

The two defendants were held responsible for orders which sent the civilian prisoners of war to their deaths at a time when American air bombings led the Japanese to believe that there would be an attempt to retake Wake.

They were marched to a lonely beach in moonlight and mowed down by rifle squads while blindfolded and shackled.

The Japanese defense counsel, Lt. Cmdr. Kozo Hirata said: "It was one of those tragedies which happen necessarily with the ruthless actions of war.

"Although the execution was a serious tragedy, it may be justified before law as a means of protecting the Japanese Wake unit from hostile deeds."

The trial commission did not share this view.

Two Die, Two Hurt In Truck-Train Collision

GREENVILLE, Tex., Dec. 26 (AP) —Two persons were killed and two others were injured, one critically, when a candy truck collided with a Missouri-Kansas-Texas Dallas-bound train eight miles south of here yesterday.

The dead, occupants of the truck, were Mrs. Floyd Lewis, about 38, of Greenville, and L. W. Emery, about 60, of Chilton, Tex. Floyd Lewis was gravely hurt and his four-year-old son was suffering from shock.

Lewis and his wife were on their way to visit relatives at Caddo Mills, for the Christmas holidays.

Producer Predicts All Pictures Will Be Made In Color Within Next Five Years

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 26.—As the automobile rose from a luxury to a necessity, as the talking picture replaced silents, so must all movies inevitably be in color. So says MGM Producer Harry Rapf who thinks the industry revolution will happen within five years.

"Box office returns show that color pictures outsell black-and-white films of the same type," Rapf said. In many instances, he added, col.. is the star of the picture.

Look For Methods

Because of the commercial value of color, studios have been looking for methods to increase tinted production. They are using as much Technicolor as that company's facilities can handle. Some studios are reported developing their own processes. And all are observing with interest the development of two new color films—Cinecolor and Thomascolor.

Cinecolor is now receiving its first full-length test in MGM's "Star From Heaven," which Rapf is producing. Cinecolor requires only two films instead of Technicolor's three, and can be printed much faster. The only hitch is that the process has not proven itself for interior shots, such as those in musical extravaganzas.

Thomascolor, invented by Richard Thomas (no relation, unfortunately), is the most revolutionary of the new processes. Instead of three separate films, it uses three different color filters in the lens of the camera. This requires that theater projectors be equipped with a similar lens, but Thomas promises this can be done at a nominal cost. He expects his process to make its debut by next July.

Seek Latin Trade

RKO tosses its sombrero into the Latin-American market with the announcement that it will release "The Pearl," produced in Mexico. President N. Peter Rathbon said the picture is the first to be made in Latin-America in English and Spanish.

"The Pearl" is from a John Steinbeck story and the author assisted in the screen play. The picture is being made at the RKO Aguilar studio in Mexico City. This is one of the first moves in the coming battle for the Latin-American trade.

Gene No Happier

Republic certainly won't make Gene Autry any happier by advertising him as second to Roy Rogers in a box office poll of western favorites . . . Peter Lorre and wife spent yesterday moving into their new Brentwood home . . . Joan Leslie also fluing . . . Jane Powell and parents leave today for New Year's in their home town, Portland, Ore. . . . Ann Richards won't tell whose University of California ring she is wearing.

It's A Classic

In the film palaces . . . "They Were Expendable" (MGM-136 minutes), but this picture isn't. It is a classic, made by one of the art's finest craftsmen, John Ford. The story of PT boats during the fall of the Philippines is told with such skill that its length seems half as much as the actual running time. The sea battle scenes are the best that have been filmed. In his film return, Robert Montgomery delivers a wonderfully restrained performance, Donna Reed is the loveliest thing on the screen in a long time. Others in the cast, especially John Wayne, Ward Bond and Marshall Thompson, are excellent.

Eddie Bracken is installing an elaborate device in his home to record his baby's sounds . . . Touching scene: Jane Darwell finishes a dramatic speech for "Three Wise Fools" and receives the applause of Lionel Barrymore, Lewis Stone and Edward Arnold. . . . Eight countries and 21 states are represented in the cast of "California." You guessed it—not one was born in California.

The truth about "take-home"

The demand of UAW-CIO leaders for a wage increase to "maintain wartime take-home" assumes that the wartime work week averaged 48 hours.

That is not true. In General Motors workers averaged 45.6 hours work a week. For industry as a whole the average was a little less.

The demand of UAW-CIO leaders also assumes that the postwar work week will be 40 hours.

General Motors expects to work 45 to 48 hours for a considerable period of time in order to produce enough goods to relieve shortages created during the war. Employes will be paid at the rate of time-and-a-half for hours worked over 40.

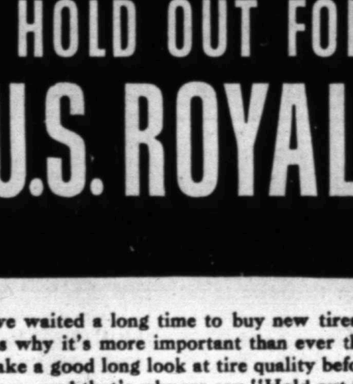

General Motors answered the UAW demand for a 30% jump in present rates with the offer of a wage increase that would have averaged 13½ cents an hour. This would have made the average wage increase since January 1941 at least equal to the increase in the cost of living.

A GM worker who earned $56.93 for a 45.6-hour week during the war would have received $63.44, under the GM postwar offer, for working the same number of hours.

This offer, aimed to increase wartime take-home pay by at least 10%, was rejected by UAW leaders.
