Team Teaching Study

Finance Path Is Next For Downtown Plan

Final recommendation for Colorado City's downtown plan- an extensive chart for improvements and face lifting-are in the hands of municipal and business leaders.

Bound copies of the plan were presented to City Council, Chamber of Commerce officials and leaders of Operation Pride in a meeting Thursday night.

Now, what course the community takes to implement all or part of the recommendations must be decided.

And that decision-making is expected to be led by the three major groups - council, Chamber and Pride - who have been instrumental in securing the architectural study for the proposed project.

"Last year Texas Industrial Foundation told us that the number one physical thing to do was to fix up our downtown area," Dr. Bill Bridgford chairman of Operation Pride, said.

"We might get industry here, but without downtown improvement we can not keep them."

Operation Pride was formed to do what Texas Industrial Foundation said to do, he explained.

"We have our survey study, which has taken about a year for architects to complete.

"Now we have to find a way to finance the project, make sure the people of Colorado City want it and then sell the idea to city, landowners, merchants, utilities companyes, highway department and other involved groups," Dr. Bridgford said.

Water color sketches of proposed improvements are to be displayed in near future in City National Bank and Pride committeemen urged citizens to take a look and express opinions.

"This is what they (Bennett Smith and Nathan Kiser, architects for Parkhill, Smith and Cooper) have recommended," Dr. Bridgford explained, "but we are not bound by plans or survey".

Area included in the improvement survey is Chestnut to Oak on Second Street (east to west), and bounded on north at Walnut and Elm Streets by 3rd street and continues south through downtown area for a block and a half.

Major recommendations in the architectural study plan are:

275 parking spaces within 400 feet of shopping area.

Landscaping and architectural treatment of other areas.

Proposed multi-family housing, public facility type buildings, light industry and recreation parks in current vacant buildings.

Removal of existing sidewalks, curbs and gutters in central area, being replaced by by new curbs of modern design with concrete sidewalks with patterned design.

Operation Pride committee- made up of Bridgford, John Billings, Drew Ballard, Rev. Weems Dykes, Mrs. Dennis Wright and Chamber of Commerce director representative, Joe Morren-are making plans to take survey sketches to local civic clubs sometime in June.

Tony Love played a major role in the Yankees defeat of Indians Thursday evening in Jaycees Little League Memorial Park.

Out of three times at bat, he hit a double, a single and topped it off with a homerun that brought in scores to win the game.

Apperson was starting pitcher for Yankees. After three innings he was replaced by Miles. Tony Love relieved Miles in last inning.

An interference call in batter's box sent Indian's S. Shackelford to first as Yankee catcher hit his bat.

A. Franco, Indian hurler, pitched the entire game striking out almost half the outs.

Team	1	2	3	4	5	6	Totals

Spray For Weeds, Grass In Cotton

You can spray your way out of the grass and weeds in cotton cheaper and easier than by using hand hoeing, states a Texas A&M University cotton specialist, adds that post emergence chemical weed control practices in cotton are positive control measures, according to County Agent Bobby Lemons.

In small, young cotton--three inches high--if grasses alone are the problem, Lemons says that Elliott suggests the use of naphtha or DSMA plus surfactant formulations. If a combination of both grass and broadleaf weeds are the problem in small, young cotton, then a combination of DSMA plus surfactant is suggested.

After cotton is larger and is six to eight inches tall, the continued use of Cotoran plus DSMA plus surfactant is recommended. Also, notes Elliott, a number of other materials can be used with DSMA plus surfactant. These include Diuron, Herban, or Caparol, Lemons said.

The cotton specialist emphasized that any tough grass and weed control situation can be handled without expensive hand hoeing.

SPORTS

IN TUESDAY NIGHT PLAY

Indians Scalp Pirates, Tigers Scratch Giants

First of Tuesday night's Major League ball games was a shut out by the Indians as they defeated the Pirates 15-0.

The game, dampered by numerous walks, was held at 3-3 until top of fifth inning when Indians went on the warpath and scored 12 runs from 16 batters.

And game was called because of the Little League rule of a difference of 10 points in score after four rounds of play.

A triple by Indians Franco in third inning came to nought as he failed at a try to steal home base.

Score for the Giants - Tiger game the same night was closer with final tally going up Tigers, 6 - Giants, 1.

Mike Moore, Tiger pitcher, relieved starting pitcher, Craig Carter, after three innings and struck out 8 of 9 outs.

Pete Parham pitched for Giants the first two innings. V. Austlie took over for three innings and Jackson finished the game.

Ausbie batted a double that brought in one run and came back his second time at bat to hit a triple.

Moore of the Tigers doubled in second inning.

Score by innings for Tigers and Giants were:

Team	1	2	3	4	5	6	Total
Tigers	0	5	1	0	0	0	6
Giants	0	1	0	0	0	0	1

Top Team in Majors

Current top team in Major League play this season is the undefeated Dodgers managed by Dale Geiger. Mayor To Throw First Ball In Junior Teen-Age Season

Mayor C. C. (Mike) Burt will throw out the first ball to signal the beginning of 1970 Teen-Age League baseball in Colorado City.

Opening ceremonies for the season will be Thursday just prior to a 6:30 p.m. game between the Braves and Lions at Wolf Field.

The pre-game program will also feature introduction of Junior Teen-Age teams, managers and league officials.

Scout Troop 20 will conduct the flag ceremony.

Teams in Junior Teen-Age competition this season are Lions, sponsored by Colorado City Lions Club; Braves, sponsored by Matlock Farm Supply; White Sox, sponsored by Roberts Butane; and Colts, sponsored by Pride Station at Sixth and Hickory Streets.

J. H. Guelker is president of the league and Rev. Don Timberlake is vice president.

Other officers are Joe Boyd, secretary; Mark Sampson, treasurer; Moose Montgomery, player agent; and Henry Hoyle, equipment manager.

Lucky Merket and Randy Parker will be season's umpires.

Team managers are A. W. Phillips and J. R. Erwin, Braves; L. L. Hodge and L. J. Lynch, Colts; Jack Phariss and Bo Merket, Lions; John Stansel and Joe Boyd, White Sox.

Scoring High For Eagles, Missions

Highway scoring seemed to be keynote for Thursday night's Minor League game between Eagles and Missions.

The Eagle 23-12 victory came as Esabel Arellano's team batted 10 batters each inning except one when they retired to field paly as the 10th batter made the third out.

That was in the second inning, the same round of play in which the Eagles Ornelas scored with a home run on errors.

Missions pitcher, Williams, pitched first three innings and part of the fourth before he was relieved by Rios.

Rios hit a triple run in second inning and a single in fourth round. T. Turnbull connected for a double run in fourth inning.

Two minor league rules were enforced in the game - team batting automatically went to field after 10 players batted and end of game came after Eagles ran up more than a 10 point lead on Tommy Hofman's Missions after fourth inning.

Spores by innings were:

Teams	1	2	3	4	Totals
Eagles	5	4	8	6	23
Missions	1	3	4	4	12

Minor League Standings as of Tuesday night are:

Teams	Won	Loss
Texans	1	0
Eagles	1	0
Cats	0	1
Missions	0	1

4th Inning Spark Not Enough

A fourth inning charge by the Minor League Cats Monday night was almost enough to overcome a nine point lead by Texans.

Almost, but not quite.

Four of those runs were credited to the Cats' Bob Bisnette who came to bat with bases loaded, then made a home run on errors.

That's the way it went in the fourth inning before time was called and final score fell at 11-9 in favor of Texans.

The first three innings was a different story.

Kenny Ray Green spurred Texans scoring by two homers, one a hit over the fence and a home run on errors. Each was responsible for two extra scores.

Starting pitcher for Texans, managed by Ronnie Wilson, was Morena. Blackmon was relief pitcher.

Major League standings as of Thursday night:

Teams	Won	Loss
Dodgers	3	0
Yankees	3	1
Indians	2	2
Giants	1	2
Tigers	1	2
Pirates	0	3

Ornelas, who pitched all four innings for Martin Weaver's Cats, was credited with 10 of 12 outs.

Marilyn Forbus, Harold Davis Exchange Double Ring Vows

First Baptist Church of Loraine Saturday evening was setting for the marriage of Miss Marilyn Kay Forbus to Harold Wayne Davis of Abilene.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Forbus of Loraine.

Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Davis of Van are parents of bridegroom.

Dr. Ray Ellis, professor at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, read the double ring vows.

Mrs. Nathan Mearse of Snyder, organist presented wedding music and accompanied Erwin Babb of Abilene, soloist, who sang "Because", "Whither Thou Goest" and "Lord's Prayer".

White Mediterranean latice work and Grecian pillars extending from altar highlighted a garden scene decor. Pillars were set with five - branched candelabras, orchid bows and huckleberry greenery. Altar background was formed by branched candelabras with orchid tapers and arrangements of orchid and purple gladioli and asters.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of candlelight satin with appliques of French imported Chantilly lace. Bodice was fashioned with Chantilly lace slim sleeves. Scalloped lace bordered the detachable chapel train.

Her veil of illusion was attached to a tiara of satin leaves encrusted with seed pearls.

The bride's bouquet, carried with a white pearled Bible, was a purple orchid and white stephanotis accented by orchid and white streamers.

Miss Ann Weaver of Abilene was maid of honor.

Mrs. James Mahon of Lubbock and Miss Elaine Caswell of Snyder, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids.

They wore gowns of orchid crystal pau accented by darker orchid miramist sleeves. Their bouquets were balls of orchid asters with orchid tubing and love knots.

Robert Peiper of Hermleigh and Ronnie Reel of Abilene lighted candles and seated guests.

Bill Wiman of Abilene was best man. Groomsmen were Bobby Neie of Abilene and Wayne Oglesby of Roscoe.

A reception in the church Fellowship Hall honored the bridal couple following their marriage.

Bride's table was covered with a candlelight lace cloth and centered with bridal attendants' bouquets. Background for the table was marked by baskets of orchid flowers.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Harold Preston, Mrs. Mike McDaniel and Miss Bobbie Schroeder, all of Abilene.

For a honeymoon trip to various parts of West Texas, the bride changed to a dress of orchid crystal pau, fashioned with miramist sleeves of darker orchid.

They will be at home at 1042 Hickory Street in Abilene.

The bride, a graduate of Loraine High School, is a senior at Hardin-Simmons and will continue her study there this summer.

Her bridegroom was graduated from Van High School and Tyler Junior College. He has received his bachelor of arts degree in Bible from H-SU and will continue his study in Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth this fall.

ELECT

YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

For Effective Moral Government

The Only Candidate Who Offers The Voter A Choice

Ralph L. Mahoney has made the following pledges for a program for the people and not just endorsed them as a means of getting votes.

- A Water Plan is essential for West Texas. With this program we can insure continuation growth in our agriculture economy, and a water plan will also attract industry to our district.
- The proposed State Income Tax is not necessary.
- An increase in the State Sales Tax or removal of the present Food-Ag implement exemptions, is not justified at this time.
- Economy in government is the solution to many problems, & not just another tax on the people.
- A State Representative should not be dominated by special interest groups and should represent the people. Ralph L. Mahoney will do this.
- Why should large auto insurance corporations keep reaping higher & higher premiums and profits--yet keep raising our liability insurance rates? Ralph L. Mahoney believes auto insurance companies to declare investment income as part of their total income used to figure insurance rates. This will reduce rates as much as 20%--saving Texas driver 140 million dollars a year.
- Texas leads the nation in deaths caused from burns, and helpless children are the largest number of victims. Texas must have laws to protect these children by codes against open flame heaters and synthetic flammable children clothes.
- We must turn the tide of crime & drugs, by strengthening our laws and their enforcement while protecting the law abiding citizens.

Ruth COFFEY's

CONVERSATION CORNER

THIS THING known as the human experience is something like the old crazy quilt people's grandmothers used to make.

Remember the crazy quilt with its multi-colored pieces of every size and shape? All hand-stitched together, a crazy quilt could turn out to be a thing of beauty. And after the quilting bee it could keep somebody warm when the fires were banked and the lamps turned out.

Human experience is like a crazy quilt. There are dull pieces here and there, but they make the bright spots seem lovelier just by contrast.

* * *

THERE are funny little bits--the human comedy. There are gay bits shining with flowers. There are some absolutely square parts sewn into the whole.

Darker colors mingle with flame and royal blue and apple green--like the human tragedy sometimes interrupts the beauty of any life.

Human experience is like a crazy quilt. . .made up of bits and pieces of joy rubbing stitches with the sober and sorrowful.

* * *

IN ALL human experience there is no brighter bit than high school graduation day--and night.

There are birthdays, of course, and wedding festivities, and anniversaries.

Still, graduation is in a class by itself. It happens only once. It is the first high point of pride. It is the one memorable event you go through life remembering.

It is the beginning of something and the end of something, too. Tears which occasionally circle the date are all right. They are usually tears of joy.

* * *

NEVER think of graduation night without remembering the hundreds of cape jessmines class mothers lovingly used for our stage decorations.

Graduation for me was before the cap and gown era so the girls wore white dresses while the boys showed up in new dark suits.

Graduation used to be the season when every card table in the neighborhood was borrowed for graduation gift displays. It probably still is.

Graduation "back when" used to involve listening to long speeches urging graduates onward and upward. Speeches always delayed the senior class party which, of course, was the really important part of the evening.

* * *

GRADUATION at Colorado High School, coming up Tuesday evening, brings it all back.

Do not remember much of the long speech other than the poem the speaker quoted as his climax, "Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you."

Do remember the party. Some of us more devilish kids danced the "toddle", a new dance which was frowned upon in some circles. But then the hostess for that party was very carfully chosen by the class. She was one of the more liberal mothers. She liked to dance.

* * *

GRADUATION here in C-City this week does something else to all old grads of high schools anywhere.

It makes all us old grads very conscious of the stacking up of the years. Can remember when most of these 1970 grads were born!

Furthermore, can remember very well when many of their parents marched down to "Pomp and Circumstance" to receive their own CHS diplomas, and it seems such a little while ago.

Makes you wonder how the years were spent. . .and if your "get-up and go has got up and went!"

* * *

GRADUATION in Oklahoma City had two proud grandparents from C-City beaming in the audience.

Jake and Eva Merritt got up and went to Oklahoma City to see their first grandaughter, Linda Carr, be graduated. Linda's parents are the former Dana Merritt and her husband Warren (Scooter) Carr.

Dana was an honor grad of CHS with the class of 1946. Was there. And it seems like the day before yesterday, believe it or not.

* * *

SEEN LATELYS this time include Joe Earnest who was saying that our George Womack, City National VP, is now in Turkey. George missing seeing G. D. and Montie Foster in Athens, Greece, by just four hours, but they left him a friendly note.

Did you know that Charlie and Emmabeth Thompson and her sister plan a summer trip to Ghana, Africa? They'll stop first in Madrid, Spain, then go to Ghana to see another sister of Emmabeth's who is married to a man attached to the American Embassy there.

Saw Dorothy Jeffrey (Mrs. Jim) at her coffee-break. . .Bobby Lemons. . .Jay Craddock. . .the John Billings and Doris (Mrs. Bill F.) Carter . . .Elizabeth Elliott and Frances Brooks together. . .Lily (Mrs. Earl) Brown.

* * *

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS brought chats with Mabel (Mrs. John) Merritt, looking forward to a visit here soon by son John, his wife, and their baby son Mark of Corsicana. . .Ann Halbert (Mrs. Lynn) checking school papers while under the dryer. . .Mrs. Homan Posey back from a recent visit with her granddaughter in Wichita Falls. She made the trip with her first daughter "Jody", who is Mrs. Sam S. Richardson of Midland.

Swapped hello's with Jo Tiller, wife of Johnny. . .Mrs. John Bell. . .Margaret Costin, wife of Warren. . .Wayne Shawn . . .Ray Anne Carlock, wife of Bim and mother of graduating son Tom. . .Mrs. Dennis Walding.

* * *

HEAR TELL that Gus Chesney (Senior VP at the bank) and his wife Frances are back from a ten-day vacation.

They visited daughter Linda and her husband Tim Bennett in Paris, Texas, then spent some time in Memphis, Tennessee, sight-seeing.

Mozelle (Mrs. George) Callender has had as her houseguest her little 90-year-old mother, Mrs. Dora Clark of Cordell, Oklahoma.

* * *

FAMILIAR FACES various places belonged to Pete Humphries of the LTNS, long time no see, department. . .Doug Simmons. . .Lena Bullard (Mrs. G. B.).

Cute Judy Myers, who will be a CHS junior next year, has become a gorgeous blond via the frosting process. Had to take a second look.

Shirley Ballard, wife of Drew, was refreshment-breaking with her mother Vera Simpson and the Ballard son Johnny.

* * *

OFF THE CUFF--did you see the picture of our Larry Currie, son of the Mearl Curries and husband of the former Sharon Nuckolls, in the Big Spring Daily Herald? Larry is to receive his degree in physical education at University of Texas at El Paso, May 30. He's another CHS grad!

Clipping from Dallas Times Herald relates the retirement of "Long Jim" Reese after 45 years in the teaching profession. He was a track star at University of Texas in Austin and ran the mile in 4.18 back in 1925. Clipping notes he coached at Electra, Denison, Greenville, and COLORADO CITY before joining Dallas school system.

Word from Mary Post Hart in Alameda, California, is disheartening. Commander Bob Post Jr. is gravely ill. His sister, Martha Jo, wife of an Italian attorney in Naples, Italy, flew to California to join the family, Thursday.

Mmes. Hudson Furlow Win Monday Duplicate

High scorers in the Monday Evening Duplicate were Mrs. Billy J. Hudson, and Mrs. A. G. Furlow, Jr.

The 8 p.m. program will be presented by a combined choir of local musicians and guest instrumentalists in First United Methodist Church.

Miss Gladys Miller, former speech and English teacher at Colorado High, will be director for choral readings. Lt. Bill McClure of Webb Air Force Base is choir director.

Bill Crockett and Steve Kennedy will present speaking parts.

Instrumentalists are Jim Bob Long and Mark McKee of Sweetwater, Mrs. James Payne, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Tomb.

Music for "Tell It Like It Is" was written by Ralph Carmichael of Los Angeles, Cal., and Kurt Kaiser of Waco, both pioneers in the field of contemporary religious music.

Program, presented with a folk - rock - country sound, is written for today's young people in their style of music and lyrics, according to Rev. Billy Wilkinson, First United Methodist minister.

"Ideas are not presented in old cliches but in new terminology," Rev. Wilkinson explained.

Performance will incorporate electric guitars, percussion, piano and vibraharp and other instruments to present the music sounds that are characteristic of current time.

A reception honoring choir members and graduates immediately following the program will be hosted in Fellowship Hall by members of First Methodist Philathea Sunday School Class.

Rev. Wilkinson Saturday extended an invitation to everyone in the community to attend the program and reception.

Playing The Game

Everyone of our competitors play the game to win. This desire to excel pays off, whether the sport is basketball, track, baseball, football or what-have-you.

Sure, some of us almost blow our top when we're out on the golf course, or our team loses. But we are back trying again at the next opportunity, yelling just as loud and trying just as hard as before.

There is one game, though, which is for keeps. Life.

It is the game which really counts most and sometimes we don't even get a second chance.

A lot of us wobble along in life never really learning the fundamentals, sometimes worrying more about the won-lost record of our favorite teams, our business success instead of our record with God.

Yet, all our muscles, all our talents, all our sports and material achievements are worthless unless our spiritual life develops.

We need to play for keeps, all right, but our potential will never be discovered except by following the path of Our Lord to Church.

Conservation Programs Reduce Pollution

Locally - led conservation programs have dramatically reduced many forms of pollution and have improved the quality of our environment, according to Clyde W. Graham, head of the Soil Conservation Service for Texas.

"Many of us who have been concerned with conservation for a long time find it a little startling that our goals of conservation, purer water, and a better environment are now in the middle of a national crusade," Graham said. "Reforestation, establishing grasses and legumes, terracing, and other conservation practices installed by Texas landowners have had a big impact on pollution abatement.

SCS has been giving technical assistance to local soil and water conservation districts with conservation programs since 1939, according to Graham.

"Sediment, for example, is largest pollutant of water," Graham said. "Sediment washes from unprotected land into streams and lakes. The soil particles can carry disease and wastes, ruin fishing and increase the cost of purifying water.

"More than 30 years of conservation work by landowners of this country has greatly reduced the volumn of soil washing from rural lands," he continued.

Graham pointed out that a large portion of sediment pollution today comes from urban construction sites, roadbands, parking lots, and other nonfarm uses. He said many conservation practices that are effective on farmlands can also be used to curb nonfarm erosion.

"Air pollution from agricultural sources is a rare, localized problem now", Graham added. "But wind-blown soil from farmland once polluted the air on a grand scale.

"Clouds of dust blew from land that had been mismanaged and overused, darkening the skies over Washington, New York, and other eastern cities.

"Air pollution of this magnitude has been eliminated by conservation programs. Permanent cover, tree windbreakers, wind stripcropping, and better management in many ways are keeping the landowners' soil at home--and out of the air.

"Burning woodlands, prairies, and crop residues once sent natural plant nutrients up in clouds of smoke that blanketed the countryside in some parts of Texas for weeks at a time," Graham said. "Now, thanks to enlightened conservation methods, indiscriminate burning is no longer practiced. This source of pollution from our farmlands has been almost eliminated.

"Some people may be surprised to learn that conservation farming reduces the need for chemical pesticides and herbicides which are sometimes guilty of air and water pollution," Graham continued.

"Crop rotations are used to conserve and improve the soil and fight insects, weeds and diseases," he explained. "Certain plants kill nematodes, for example. A rotation to include these plants will help control nematodes.

"The comservation farmer strives to reduce soil loss and runoff," Graham said, "and this reduces the likelihood of fertilizers and chemicals washing into streams and lakes.

"New ways are being found to use or dispose of wastes that once went into streams. Wood chips, fruit processing plant wastes, animal by-products, and a long list of other materials are proving to be useful as soil conditioners or fertilizers," according to Graham. He said the whole concept of conservation is founded on planning for the protection and improvement of the environment--a positive approach.

A good example of the positive approach may be seen in the Texas Hill Country. Ranchers are joining with ornithologists in a program to inventory and preserve nesting sites for a songbird of limited range--the golden - cheeked warbler. SCS land-use information is helping locate stands of ash cedar, which the golden-cheeked warbler must have to build his nest.

"This is a unique example of planning ahead to avoid detrimental activities," Graham said, "but the same positive principle can be used in planning for recreation, industry, housing developments, and the like. Such planning should begin with the land and its related resources."

Graham said that most conservation work is done in rural areas by farmers and ranchers--but that the technical help that has been proven successful in rural programs is also available for nonfarm use.

Churches Help Tornado Victims

Residents in five counties have sent over 12.5 tons of clothing, food and household items to tornado victims in Lubbock.

Donations were carted and packed by resident in cooperation with Churches of Christ.

Relief workers in Lubbock said there were hundreds of low income families without homes, insurance and purchasing power. Workers reported needed items to include appliances, furniture and money to purchase necessities.

Counties participating in the project in addition to Mitchell were Dawson, Howard, Martin and Sterling.

Larry Currie is a May candidate for graduation at the University of Texas at El Paso.
