

ARANSAS CO. STOCK LAW EFFECTIVE JULY 1

KENNETH BOWLAND KILLED IN FIGHTING ON OKINAWA

Piloting

You don't have the money to buy a War Bond.

Perhaps you don't. Circumstances may force anyone to spend every cent of income for necessities. If that is your position, this column isn't written to you. If, on the other hand, you do have the money but intend to spend it instead on something simply to please you, this column is written to you.

It isn't written by the editor of the Pilot. It is written by a Rockport man who has lived through five European invasions. There is no sentimentality in it, but there is sincere sentiment. We are not using the name of that boy because we feel the words he wrote are actually written from every man who has left friends dying and not been able to look back because to do so would have meant risking other lives.

ALL IN THE ATTITUDE

Nor was he speaking of the purchase of War Bonds when he wrote. He wrote of the general attitude of the people of his home town and every man's home town. We thought his words applied at a time his county was falling down on its quota of War Bonds.

When the word that Germany had surrendered reached him, he wrote "Well it is over. I have waited for this day for a long time. Now that it has come I do not feel any differently than I did yesterday or any other day for that matter."

"Do you think I haven't been waiting for this, all winter here in the mud. If Hitler was only dead. Why the hell doesn't somebody kill him? I thought. Then it happened or is supposed to have happened."

"I don't feel the least bit of emotion one way or the other. I suppose I ought to get out and holler, go on a party and celebrate, but I can't seem to get into the spirit of the thing."

CHEER WHAT?

"Hell yes, 'm glad it's over. Who wouldn't be. But while everybody is doing so much cheering, maybe he should stop and think. Think of the poor devils who are going to be left under white crosses in this damnable hole, boys who gave their lives so that today would come to pass; men whose lives were snuffed out at their best. For what? 'Preservation of Democracy,' we say. All well and good. That is what everyone wants to keep. True. Isn't there some power above who looks down and possibly smiles?"

"It is going to take a lot of other sacrifices to make worthwhile these many, many that have been made by the boys who won't be coming home with me when I leave for Rockport soon."

"No one will deny the worth of their gift to us but how many are willing to do more than shed the expected tears. How many will say, 'Soldier, you did your part. Now it is my time to open the possibilities for a life meaningful enough to die for.'"

"No I'm not celebrating. I'm still waiting. First I waited for the war to end. Now I wait for the peace to begin."

That letter needs do descriptive adjectives.

Dr. Spring to Inoculate Dogs Here Friday

As no veterinarians are now available in this part of the country and many pets are in need of inoculation against rabies, Dr. J. E. Spring of Corpus Christi will spend Friday afternoon at the City Hall.

Appointments will not be necessary. Anyone may bring his pet there from noon until 6 o'clock and have the dog or other animal inoculated.

There is no city ordinance at the present time in Rockport making inoculation compulsory, but there have been a large number of requests for inoculations by persons who wish the safety for the dog and members of the family. No cases of rabies have been reported here. Summer months are usually the time of any such epidemic.

Is Sixth Local Man to Loose Life In Combat

Had Served In Number Of Pacific Invasions With Marine Raiders

Pfc. Kenneth E. Bowland, U. S. Marine Corps, the sixth man from the Rockport-Fulton area to lose his life in World War II, was killed in action June 11 on Okinawa. His family have received no more information than was in the terse message from the Marine Corps.

Bowland, who would have been 19 years old next month, is the son of Mrs. Dora Bowland of Corpus Christi. He lived here for three years with his aunt, Mrs. Sarah Autry, and his uncle's family, Mr. and Ben Earp. He played on the Rockport High School football team and was graduated here in May, 1943. During summer vacation and after school he was employed at Heldenfels and Rice Bros shipyards.

June 12 of that year, Bowland volunteered for the Marine Corps and was sent to the West Coast for six months special training as a Marine Raider. He spent a furlough here at the end of his training, and went overseas 18 months ago.

The young Marine participated in a number of invasions including Siapan. As a raider, he frequently was with the first men in action, and his family believe he sustained one previous injury although they do not know the details.

His family had had no letter from him for six weeks at the time the telegram arrived.

He has two brothers and a sister living in Corpus Christi, Paul and Pauline, twins, and Billy Bowland.

Five other Rockport and Fulton men have lost their lives in action within the past three years. Ralph Clair Wendell, boatswains mate second class with the Seabees, was killed on the Solomon Island in August, 1942.

Everett L. Brundrett, signalman third class, was reported by the Navy killed March 30, 1943. Dick Stewart, a Fulton man was killed in the African campaign in June, 1943. John A. Hattenbach, a paratrooper, died in action in Holland Sept. 25, 1944. The death of Bryant Sanders, aviation machinist mate first class, was reported late in 1944.

A number of other men from this area have been reported missing in action or have been wounded on the battle fronts.

Charles Marion Drowns On Beach Tuesday Afternoon

All efforts to save the life of three-year-old Charles Marion failed Tuesday afternoon when the blond child drowned in the water out from the seawall. Firemen worked for two hours in the attempt to revive him.

Charles was the son of Pfc. and Mrs. William Marion. Private Marion is in Germany and funeral services will not be held until word is received from him. Mrs. Marion and her child lived here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Davis.

The boy had returned Monday with his mother from Sherman where they had spent a month. He went to the beach Tuesday afternoon with his uncle, Cyrus Davis, 15. No one saw the child go under.

About 4:30 o'clock, Johnny Joe Atwood, 10, found the boy on the surface of the water, and Tommy Shults who was with him called his mother from the beach. Mrs. Tom Shults took Charles ashore and onlookers immediately began artificial respiration. Fire Department equipment was brought and attempts to revive him did not stop until after 6 o'clock.

Dr. Charles F. Cron said the child was dead when his body was found and no coroner's inquest was held.

The child's body was taken by Cagle Funeral Home in Aransas Pass and is being held there while an attempt is made to contact his father who has been in Europe for a year.

The little boy was well known in Rockport and a favorite with the many persons he visited on his nearly daily visits to town with his mother or grandmother.

David Prophet Dies of Burns; Five Injured

Leo Prophet and San Are Still in Serious Condition at Laredo

David Allen Prophet, who has attended school in Rockport and is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Prophet of Rockport, died as a result of burns received last Wednesday at Hebbronville in a fire which seriously injured his older brother and father.

The nine-year old boy lived three hours and died in a Laredo hospital. His brother, Leo, 11, has been given several blood transfusions and is still in serious condition. The father, Leo, Sr., also remains in the Laredo hospital but his condition is reported to be better.

Leo Prophet, Sr., was reared in Rockport. Leo, Jr., and David with their brother and sister have visited here many times and spent last January here with their grandparents, attending Rockport schools.

The two boys were assisting their father to sand a floor in a house two blocks from their home last Wednesday. A. N. C. Garza had poured gasoline on the diningroom floor and the boys were cleaning the floor with rags.

Mrs. Lloyd David, owner of the house who had been out of town, came in through the back door and lighted the hot water heater. An explosion ignited the dining room instantly. The boys ran out of the house and two blocks to their home with their clothes burning.

Prophet and Garza fought the fire and both were hospitalized by burns received in their attempts to extinguish it.

Funeral services were held for David Prophet in Hebbronville Friday.

County Must Raise $6,087.50 In E Bonds By Saturday to Meet Quota

Bulletin: Thursday afternoon bond sales had brought Aransas County to within $2,500 of the E bond quota. With the goal so close, Fred Bracht asked every person to make a real effort to meet it.

Extended effort on the part of every county citizen can push Aransas county over the E bond quota by the end of the Seventh War Loan Drive Saturday, but it will take the money of any person who can afford a bond of any size, Fred Bracht, county chairman, said yesterday.

"I cannot believe we are going to spoil our perfect past record," Bracht said. "We have never before fallen down on the purchase of Series E bonds or any other type. Our plan to keep on doing our part is aimed not only at the man who has $5,000 to spend but as well at the man who has $18.75. We need every type bond buyer."

With only two and a half days to complete the $60,000 quota E bonds, the bank reported sales of $51,650 and the post office $3,262.50, a total of $54,912.50.

Bracht recently received a telegram from Nathan Adams, state chairman. He said, "Seventh War

Sgt. Jackson Is Here for 30 Days

Master Sgt. Norvell Jackson is spending a 30-day furlough in Rockport with his wife and child and parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Jackson.

He arrived in the United States June 20 after 28 months overseas. His wife met him in San Antonio Monday and they came to Rockport Tuesday afternoon. Jackson will report to South Dakota as his next station.

Capacity July 4 Reservations Made

A large crowd is expected in Rockport over the July 4 holiday. Tourist facilities have been reserved in advance and there are few openings of any type to accommodate other visitors. Many bathers, fishermen and picnickers are expected only for the day.

Usual July 4 celebrations are not being held in Rockport during the war. Beach and water sports will offer the only entertainment.

At Fulton, a fish fry sponsored by the Fulton Community Church, is expected to draw many of the visitors. The Rev. Frank Walker has announced that his parishioners will catch 1,000 pounds of fish and 1,000 crabs to be fried for the outdoor feast under arbors recently built. The noon meal is a benefit to build a parsonage.

Most local stores and offices will close Wednesday.

Closed all day will be the bank county offices, Red and White Store, Kelly's Cash Grocery, Glory Oh Beauty Shop and the Rockport Pilot.

Store managers who said they would probably close if other stores did were at Kaufman's and Marie's Beauty Shop. Not decided at press time were Bracht Bros. Grocery, Sparks' Store and Sorenson's.

Edward Hunt Delayed En Route to Home Here

Staff Sgt. Edward Hunt, liberated prisoner of war in Germany, will be about two weeks later in his arrival here than had been expected by his wife, Mrs. Mae Hunt, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Hunt.

His father received a call from him in Ohio. Sergeant Hunt said he was on a troop train and would not be home for two or three weeks. He said he was well and would probably not be discharged from the Army.

Loan sales officially tabulated through June 21 were $44,512.50 E bonds and $201,031 overall.

"Over-all sales gratifying but will not make our primary objective in reaching State E quota unless all counties which do not definitely have quotas in sight take drastic steps immediately to reach all potential E buyers from $25 to $5,000. Indications are that buyers of larger E bonds have not been fully sold generally as in previous drives and many counties are giving particular attention to this group. Thanks to your committee."

Eleven Real Estate Sales Involve $24,400

Real estate transactions in Rockport and Fulton have been gathering momentum every week during the past month. This week in 11 exchanges, $24,400 changed hands.

One of the larger sales this week involved outlots 22 and 23 at Fulton. Arthur Bracht sold the land to James J. Jarboe of Houston for a consideration of $7,000. These lots have 350 feet of waterfront.

Jarboe, a discharged Army major, and his wife and two children will arrive here Monday. He intends to begin work as soon as possible on the home he will build here. He is planning to make his home here and practice as a licensed land surveyor and engineer.

Floyd Huffman sold his 5-room house with a sleeping porch to A. R. Steirley. A smaller house which has been rented was included in the transaction. Steirley, a Houston and Victoria oil man, will use the house as a summer home and the smaller house as a guest house. Consideration was $7,000.

Mrs. Thursey Spencer sold nine of her houses which were rented until they were recently put on the market.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schuster purchased a 4-room house in the west part of town for $1,500. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Billings bought a three-room house for $1,000. A four-room house was sold to Mr. and Mrs. C. Critcher for $1,600 and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Johnson bought a four room house for $1,800.

Jack Horton of Pasadena bought two houses to be moved away for $3,000. Other houses sold to be moved were to Lee Farris, George Nava and Epistolio Sanchez each for $500.

Emory Spencer handled all of the transactions.

Roscoe Johnson Will Be Retrained in United States

Staff Sgt. Roscoe S. Johnson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Johnson of Rockport, will soon arrive in the United States after completing numerous combat missions on a B-24 bomber in Italy, his wing commander, Brig. Gen. Pay R. Upthegrove, has announced.

Johnson's Group will undergo a period of special training before embarking for the Pacific Theatre to carry the strategic air war to the Japanese. He will be given a furlough during the training period.

Johnson is a member of the veterans 459th Bomb Group which completed 242 bombing missions in Europe. Starting operations in March, 1944, they completed their combat career on V-E Day. During their 15 months of operations they dispatched 6,460 planes against the enemy and dropped a total of 15,031 tons of bombs. They destroyed 88 enemy planes, probably destroyed 36 and damaged 23.

The group holds a Distinguished Unit Citation for their precision bombing of the Bad Voslau aircraft plant in Austria in which they placed 319 out of 322 bombs directly on the target.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horton of Pasadena are at Oleander Courts for the summer.

Many of Larger Herds Have Been Sold During June

Leased Pastures End Era of Free Range In This Part of West

Aransas County cattlemen have spent a busy month riding the commons, gathering up their herds and in many cases covering a good deal of territory in making sales. Sunday the stock law goes into effect in the county and cattle must be behind fences or staked.

The law, bitterly contested by many cattlemen who could not find pasture land for lease in the area, closes one of the last free ranges in Texas and has received national publicity as ending an era when stock knew no boundaries.

Many of the larger herds are being sold. Center of county cattle owners is at Fulton although a number of herds are owned by Rockport and Lamar cattlemen.

Herding the cattle has been difficult as hands are unavailable, and owners have been doing much of their own riding.

Bill Wendell now has 18 head in a small pasture of about 35 acres near the Fulton mansion. He is holding them to sell. Wendell has already sold 12 head at Aransas Pass and Ingleside at a fair price.

Zeph Riquette and Ray Wendell sold about 50 head also at a fair price. Prices are not as good now as Riquette believes he could have gotten later. They sold about 42 calves. They now have 250 head in one pasture they own and two under lease.

John Weber has sold his six milk cows and Lawrence Dietrich sold about 10 or 12 head. George Hattenbach also sold his milk cows as did Arthur Maden. Arthur Davis sold about five head.

Oscar Winslow and Dudley Bracht put about 75 head on the market. Another 40 to 50 head were sold by Bev Stewart. Mrs. Ida Peterson has sold 60 or 70 head. Henry Phillips has several head staked out for sale. William and Bill Johnson's cattle are pastured near Sparks Colon community.

Most of the cattle sold were herefords although there were a few brahman in some of the herds. Only a few cows can be seen now ranging along the front where for many years there have been a part of the scenery.

Along with the new law will go the reversal in court procedure in case of an automobile accident involving stock. Owner of the stock will now be held responsible where in the past the automobile driver was liable for the cost of the animal killed.

Dr. Gunter Returns From East Coast

Dr. Gordon Gunter has returned from a study of fisheries on the East Coast.

The marine biologist for the University of Texas Research Division left June 2 for Washington, D. C. where he spent two days attending a committee meeting of the National Research Council. While in Washington, he visited the office of the Coordinator of Fisheries and the United States National Museum.

The remainder of his trip he spent in Maryland and Virginia where he looked over the oyster industry. He made a boat trip on Chesapeake Bay with officials of the Maryland Department of Tidewater Fisheries, and oyster biologists of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and Virginia Fisheries Laboratory. He also talked to some of the larger oyster growers in Virginia.

Doctor Gunter will make a formal report of his findings to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission next week.

Mr. L. E. Sanders returned Saturday from Spohn Hospital Corpus Christi where she was under treatment for five days.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor, Rockport Pilot
Rockport, Texas

June 25, 1945

Dear Sir:

The Post Office Department is surely taking the lead in starting inflation. Rent of locked boxes here was raised to 33 1/2 per cent and the post office building is closed a major portion of the time so that one cannot get to his box.

If this is national policy of our Post Office Department, I suggest every interested citizen take up with his congressman the need for an investigation. This raise surely exceeds the Little Steel Formula.

(Signed) Jeff Jeter

(EDITORS NOTE: The Pilot would be interested to receive and publish letters from anyone taking any stand on the post office question, much discussed in Rockport this week. Post Offices in nearly all other towns closed by emergency for certain hours are now open again at least until midnight.)

(Editor's Note: An argument over the efficiency of mail service in the Armed Forces and other elements of the life of an enlisted man overseas has gone on in the columns of the Pilot for several months, carried whenever letters on the subject were received from these men.)

June 21, 1945

Editor of The
Rockport Pilot,
Rockport, Texas

Dear Sir:

I once lived in Rockport about eleven years. I have known William A. Kelly all these years.

I was reading in the Pilot where this Sergeant Williams has contradicted Kelly. I haven't the slightest idea what his game is. Personally I consider his assertions disgusting. How does he know how long it takes Kelly to receive his mail? I'll answer that myself; he doesn't know. I write Kelly very often—he writes me. It takes anywhere from forty-five (45) to sixty (60) days for our mail to go one way. I spent last Sunday with Willie Schuster, another Rockport friend of mine, and he also said it took that long for him to hear from Kelly and vice-versa. Now tell me, can Sergeant Williams explain that? I know where Kelly is. I've been there. I'm not too far from him now.

Sergeant Williams also states that men aboard ship "don't write, period." That was a rather broad statement as well as false. I was aboard an assault transport for a year and I know that 99 per cent of the men wrote letters every chance they had. I know that I did. The way Sergeant Williams talks, you'd think he should be on a propaganda committee.

Did you find a home in this service, Sergeant, or are you just trying to build up someone's morale?

When I was in Pearl Harbor Sergeant, I received mail in five or six days also, but since I've been on the move continually, mail is pretty slow.

I'm also part Irish and I'm 100 per cent for Albert Kelly. Sincerely yours, Herbert (Hubs) Stewart, coxswain, USR, Underwater Demolition Team No. 19, Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. P. Y. Fullerton and small grand-daughter, Nancy Ann Stover are spending a week with Mrs. Fullerton's sister, Mrs. J. O. Blackwell.

Along The Waterfront

Fishing and shrimping in the gulf picked up at long last this week and shipment out of Rockport reached a more normal figure of about $13,300 worth. Catches were still not classed as good but were an improvement over the weeks of preceding months.

At Bill Johnson's fish house, Ernest Garcia brought in the largest day's catch on the "Rodney J". He made 1,361 pounds. Conde Chupe, captain of the "Barbara", was high for the week with 4,623 pounds.

Frank Mitchell is having a busy season of boat-building at Fulton. He is now working on a 23-foot in-board motor skiff for D. L. Donhou. His next job will be a 33-foot shrimp and oyster boat for Rouquette and Wendell for whom he recently finished a good net skiff.

Rouquette and Wendell weighed in about 2,000 pounds of fish this week, half choice and half drum. Preston McHugh on "Little Monte" came in with high, about 1,400 pounds, but Capt. Lupe Palido on "Copano" was leading in choice fish.

Walter Buckner, editor and publisher of one of Texas' best weekly papers, the San Marcos Record, and his son Bud landed about 15 pounds of big trout fishing on Long reef Tuesday morning. B. D. Risner of Dallas who was with them got about the same number.

Bill Johnson was enlarging the ice boxes in "Rodney J" and "Katherine" this week, getting ready to send four boats to Port Isabel. Capacity was about doubled from 10 to 20 bars of ice. Johnson said larger boats fishing in Mexican waters out from Port Isabel were bringing in 15,000 pounds on a two-day trip. He was waiting clearance papers to sail.

Jeff O'Brian, Houston attorney; R. E. Steinman, retired contractor and Frank West, retired, are spending several weeks at Mills' Wharf and making the fish in that area miserable about the whole thing.

Uncle McHenry and his wife of Dallas are spending the summer at Mills' Wharf. Only complaint is the McHenry never does get up early enough to go fishing. Fortunately he has some good neighbors who have seen that there was fish on his table.

Cecil Casterline reported top catches on his boats to be about 1,300 pounds in one day. The "Florence May" captained by Calvin Leddington and Lee Madden on the "Leon" tied for top honors.

Hondo Air Field men liked Casterline's fish and shrimp so well that they sent another plane back for a load this week. They said they would send up about twice a week for seafood dinners "on the wing."

Casterline may send boats to Port Isabel to get in on some of the good shrimping there. "Florence May" can hold about 5,000 pounds and is now being put into shape.

Hugh Morrison put a rebuilt motor in the "Rambler" this week and is getting her in shape to put in service with Gulf Research and Development Company.

Ralph Fowler of Goliad was down last week-end to take his 25-foot "Evor" on a run.

Best day at Jackson Seafood Company netted 4,500 pounds of shrimp. Alvin Brundrett on the "Fay" brought in 1,400 pounds of that.

Jackson reported fishing as bet-

ALICE DAVIS IS MARRIED TO JOE GARDNER SATURDAY

Miss Leona Alice Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis of Rockport, became the bride of Joe Gardner, seaman first class, in a ceremony at Sinton Saturday morning.

Mrs. Gardner wore a tailored gray wool dress. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Lennan of Rockport.

The bride attended school in Rockport and is employed at Johnson's Drug Store. Gardner, son of Mrs. Lela Gardner of North Carolina, attended school in Wilmington. He is now stationed here after seeing action in the Atlantic for which he was awarded the Presidential Citation.

MAZIE DRIVER CELEBRATES 16TH BIRTHDAY MONDAY

Mazie Driver was honored on her sixteenth birthday anniversary with a party given by her mother, Mrs. L. M. Driver, Monday afternoon.

The chocolate birthday cake had "Mazie" written in candies across the surface and 16 candles. It was served with punch after the honoree had opened her gifts and guests had played outdoor games.

Guests were Mrs. Morris Gordon, Arlene and Joy Helen Gordon, Mrs. Hoover, Marilyn, Jimmy, Eddie and Mrs. Hugh Morrison, Paula, Oleva, Lola, Betty, Martha, Gail, Dail and Bobby Driver.

ter but not good. He said currents from the storm in the east were so strong that in places it was like a river running south. It was hard to even get out the nets.

Ted Little's "Mary L" was on the ways this week for a cleanup job and a new 110 Chrysler motor. Johnson's boat, the "Bernice" was also on Brundrett's ways for a cleanup.

At Johnson's Fish Company, the boats averaged about 3,000 pounds each for the week. Saturday was their best shrimping day. Few fish were brought in.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brame and their daughter of Houston have been catching plenty of trout at Mills' Wharf. Mrs. Brame caught the largest fish of her career with a line.

One San Antonio man let the fish get away after he had caught them. He lost his string coming home from a successful trip.

Ed Chapman and Albert Getiske of Houston made some good trout catches at Mills' Wharf over the week-end.

Dr. H. H. Weaver's boat Lenanne IV is on Rice Bros ways for repairs. The Sinton doctor keeps his boat at Morrisons.

An Army boat from Port O'Connor and another from Port Isabel were due in this week for overhauls at Rice Bros.

A. W. Benn, Houston fisherman whose three friends had such trouble connecting with fish here last week-end after all the tales he had told them, sneaked down without their knowledge and caught 93 pounds of trout.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ballou didn't have any trouble finding where the big ones stayed for their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Goforth of Refugio, last week-end.

"Say, Folks,

... THAT ABOUT TWO OUT OF EVERY THREE
ELECTRIFIED FARMS IN AMERICA ARE SERVED BY THE NATION'S BUSINESS-
MANAGED ELECTRIC COMPANIES.

Many people believe that the Government is responsible for rural electrification. The fact is that business-managed electric companies pioneered in the field over 25 years ago.

Growth in the early years was slow—much farm equipment had to be developed, many technical advances had to be made. While Government assistance to rural electrification has considerably helped its rapid growth in the last ten years, business-managed electric companies are continuing to do their part to bring more electricity to more farms.

Consistently and over a period of 25 years, business managed CPL has encouraged and sponsored rural electrification. Today, in South and Southwest Texas, we are providing electric service to over 6,000 rural customers and are also serving 115 rural communities of 1,500 population or under. In addition, wholesale service is furnished to eight REA co-operatives at low rates.

The job of bringing electricity to the farmer isn't finished. There's still much work to be done before all the rural areas of our nation enjoy the benefits of electricity. CPL will do its share and will work with the REA co-operatives to accomplish the complete job of rural electrification.

Electricity to the farmer means a new way of life, with easier work; increased profits and more convenient living. Backed by adequate service facilities and experienced, trained employees, business-managed CPL can be counted on to bring dependable, low-cost electric service with all the comforts of electric living to more and more farmers and their families.

FIREMEN LIGHT A FIRE JUST TO PUT IT OUT AGAIN

A high octane gas fire blazed on Rockport beach last Thursday night but it was just to give the firemen a chance to put it out.

The Navy fire department at Corpus Christi brought a crash truck from the Naval Air Station there and showed local firemen how they could assist Naval personnel at any time it was necessary to fight such a fire in earnest.

Mrs. Q. J. Lowman of Victoria spent Friday night and Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hayden and family. Mrs. Hayden and Mrs. Lowman shopped in Corpus Christi part of the day Saturday.
