Interior remodeling of the First National Bank was virtually completed this week with emphasis on improved appearance of the main banking room.

A series of room dividers extending to the ceiling at the rear of tellers' windows partially screens the working area devoted to machines and files.

The office of James H. Sorenson, Jr., president, has been combined with the former directors room, and it has been paneled in antique oak. Modern lighting has been installed and the room decorated with a series of watercolors done by local artists.

Charles LaBounty, executive vice president, has moved to the office formerly occupied by Sorenson, and Eddie Ratliff, assistant vice president has taken over LaBounty's former office.

A small conference room with wood wall paneling and carpeting has been set up in the space formerly used for a staff coffee room. This activity has been moved to a room at the rear.

In the lobby itself a small table with chairs has been set up for the convenience of customers waiting to see one of the officers.

PERMIT SOUGHT FOR DREDGING

Austin—A Parks and Wildlife Department hearing examiner said July 8 he would refer an application by an Austin real estate firm for a permit to re-open a channel linking Aransas Bay and a boat turning basin to PWD Executive Director James U. Cross for final action.

The turning basin is located near a cluster of homes south of Rockport and the realtor, Bradfield and Cummins of Austin, proposes to dredge a 40-foot wide channel to allow for free passage of boats from the basin into the bay. The channel would be 3½ feet deep.

However, hearing eximaner Kenneth C. Jurgens said he could not approve a proposal of dredging firm owner Tom W. Bradfield to extend a spoil area adjoining the channel out into offshore state - owned land.

Judgens said the PWD had agreed to authorize the firm to dump material dredged from the channel on existing spoil areas adjacent to the turning basin, but the department is reluctant to allow additional spoil area to be constructed.

Bradfield said the extension of the spoil area toward the bay would cut down on annual maintenance of the channel.

Jurgens said he would make a report to Cross for final decision in the matter.

Five Horses Reported Dead

Reports on the number of horses that have died in the Rockport area since the start of the VEE epidemic have varied widely.

Raymond Owens, Aransas County commissioner for Precinct 3, told the Pilot Wednesday morning that five "already have been disposed of in the county dump in Fulton." He added that he had been told that "seven more were sick and down."

Owens also reported that a new pit to bury horses is being dug a half mile west of the present county dump grounds at Fulton, with a shell road leading to the new pit.

Mrs. Reagan Lee of the Aransas County Riding Association, who volunteered to serve as "clearing house chairman" during this emergency, has stayed by her telephone (729-5986) constantly to give the latest information to horse owners.

She announced Wednesday that W. B. Allen, Aransas County Commissioner for Precinct 1, had volunteered to assist owners in making arrangements for disposal of horses that die.

Anyone in Aransas County whose horse dies and who wishes to have the carcass disposed of is asked to call at 729-2442 and Allen will make the necessary arrangements.

Riding Association Offers VEE Advice

The following information rearding the VEE epidemic has been given to the Pilot by the Aransas County Riding Association:

All functions have been cancelled by the Aransas County Riding Association until further notice. The arena and grounds are off limits to all horses and any horse caught on the grounds will have to remain there until they are released by the proper authorities.

Some things you can do for your horse until we get medication for them, are:

1. Keep your horse wiped with insect repellent to keep the mosquitoes and flies off. Cecil's Feed & Seed, Rockport Auto Supply and Hicks Feed Store has repellent for sale.

2. Empty their water trough, scrub clean and refill with clean water with a little cholorox or bluing in the water. Make sure your horse has clean water at all times, this will help keep down mosquito larva.

3. Do not ride your horse nor move him. If he is in a pasture or stall, do not move him to another place. And by all means do not take him to a horse show. This is especially important as your horse may not be sick and you run the risk of exposing him to the encephalomyelitis.

4. Watch your horse and if he quits eating, has a runny nose or eyes, stands around acting sleepy, call Mrs. Joyce Lee—729-5986 and she will contact a Federal Vet and have him check your horse.

Until we can get medication for our horses the Aransas County Riding Association urges everyone to join them in the Spray and Pray Campaign.

Seek Funds For Water Safety Program

Interested Rockport area citizens have gotten together to form the CITIZEN'S SAFETY COMMITTEE OF ROCKPORT. The purpose of this committee is to raise money to assist the Navigation District and the City Council in funding a full-time safety officer for the Rockport Ski Basin.

As the plan has developed, the City Council of Rockport and the Navigation District Board of Directors have agreed to erect a tower of sufficient height to give the officer, seated atop it, a clear view of the entire basin; in addition, a powerful public address system and electronic warning devices will be installed so that skiers and boat drivers' attention may instantly be directed to a situation of danger. Finally, a motorboat will be available to the officer, who will have the authority to issue summons to persistent violators of the provisions of the "Texas Small Boat Act."

The principle concern of the Citizens group is to prevent a reoccurence of the tragedies of last summer, and to keep our Ski Basin an orderly, safe, and most important, a fun place for all of us to swim, and ski, and sail.

A Tax Exempt Status for this group is pending with the IRS, and no problem is expected in that regard. The cost, for the purchase of equipment, construction of a tower, and salary for an officer for the rest of the summer will be between $4,500 and $5,000. A bank account at the First National Bank of Rockport has been established; with several generous donations

School Board Holds Meeting

The following actions were taken at the School Board meeting July 12.

Approved regular monthly bills.

Designated The First National Bank, Rockport, Texas, as the school depository for the next biennium after receiving a bid from said bank.

Awarded a contract on a low bid of $3,895.00 to Shadall Awning Company of Corpus Christi to build canopies at the Junior and Senior High School, these canopies to be a part of the development of patios at these sites.

Accpted the resignation of two teachers and ratified the election of eight teachers, this making the faculty complete except for one position.

Approved continued membership in the Region II Education Service Center.

The superintendent gave a report on construction progress of the new building at the Junior High School and repairs to existing buildings caused by Hurricane Celia damage. He also reported that the school cafeteria had been completely self - supporting during the past school year and that no school funds from the regular school budget would be needed to underwrite a deficit.

VEE Quarantine Covers All Texas

In an effort to halt the spread of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) — the disease suspected of infecting more than 100 horses and several humans in South Texas — federal and state authorities have broadened the quarantine of horses to cover all of Texas.

A staff member of Congressman John Young in Washington, D.C., telephoned The Rockport Pilot and announced that the U.S. Department of Agriculture had placed the entire state of Texas under a 14-day quarantine "relative to VEE in an effort to determine the extensiveness of the problem."

The announcement also stated that the Department of Agriculture advised that vaccine would be made quickly available and "interested parties should contact Dr. Shibly, State Veternarian, at Austin."

J. B. Finley, Jr., chairman of the board, Texas Animal Health Commission, said a supply of vaccine was scheduled to arrive in Austin Wednesday morning for distribution throughout the entire state as fast as possible.

Owners of horses in the Rockport area are advised to keep in touch with local veterinarians who were expecting to receive supplies of the vaccine.

In connection with the quarantine, the Texas Animal Health Commission issued an

One Woman Checked For Encephalitis

One Rockport woman was hospitalized in a Corpus Christi hospital Monday with "mild encephalitis symptoms," but her doctor said Tuesday he thought she just had the flu.

VEE was suspected in the death of a horse owned by the woman's family.

A sample of blood from the woman has been sent away for analysis but no report has been announced so far.

SCHOLARSHIP WINNER

Miss Becky Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Baldwin, has been awarded the annual scholarship given by the Business and Professional Women's Club of Rockport. She will enter Southwest Texas State University at San Marcos Aug. 30, majoring in elementary education.

Christian Folk Concert at Methodist Church

Charles Geller, a junior preministerial student at Southwestern University, will be at First Methodist Church on July 21, 22. and 23 to present a Christian Folk Concert. His concerts will feature popular folk songs, contemporary songs, and religious songs. Each song is chosen and presented with a deep, personal interpretation. Highlighting the concert is Charlie's own meaningful, presonal witness.

The program is open to the community. A fellowship period will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m., followed by the program at 8 p.m.

Plans Move Ahead For New City Park

The City of Rockport moved ahead Monday with plans for the new 25-acre city park for which the federal government has approved a grant of $35,817.

The latest step was employment of Urban Engineering of Corpus Christi to prepare plans and specifications for the park which will be located just northwest of the city limits near the sewage and treatment plant.

In discussing the matter Alderman N. F. Jackson stressed the importance of having a baseball field ready for Little League play by next season and volunteered to contact adult leaders interested in the Little League regarding brush clearing work to start soon, possibly this week or next.

Other actions at the Council meeting included:

—Alderman N. F. Jackson moved that City Council instruct Herman Johnson to file charges against Chester Johnson for alleged violation of a city ordinance which requires obtaining a building permit before beginning construction of a building. The Council agreed and added that "any and all persons charged with such violations will be filed on."

—The city received no bids to purchase the old fire station property. The city had advertised for bids, with a minimum bid of $10,000 to be considered.

—The city accepted a bid of $4,010 from Sacred Heart Catholic Church for two lots near the church which the city had previously bought from the church. It had been thought that the lots would be needed for highway construction, but plans were changed.

—Postmaster M. A. Rowan appeared before the Council. He has been living in a HUD mobile home since his house was damaged by Hurricane Celia. He said the original deadline for moving from HUD homes was Aug. 3 but that the federal government had amended this order to give occupants one year from the original date of occupancy which, in his case, would be later than Aug. 3. He said his house would not be ready to move into by Aug. 3 and he asked for more time. Council members said they would consider this request along with others and indicated the deadline for moving from HUD homes probably would be set at one year from the date of occupancy by the final person to move into a HUD unit after the hurricane.

—Subject to meeting legal requirements, Council approved a request by Col. Harry G. Kautz and Clif Brown to close Moore Street between Maple and Broadway.

—Approved a request by Bill Christian to provide a shell surfaced roadway on Fuqua Street between Bay Street and Market Street to provide access to a warehouse building which Christian is constructing.

—Approved a request of Emory M. Spencer to have minute books of City Council meetings, from the beginning to the present time, transported to the County Clerk's office. Spencer is having a Xerox 7000 machine installed in the County Clerk's Office to make copies of the minutes for research material for Dr. A. Ray Stephens in writing a history of Aransas County from 1871 to 1971.

—Agreed to pay expenses of $225 each for Elva Mullinax, Roy Boddie and Tilman Frizzell to attend the Firemen's Training School at Texas A&M later this month.

Report of Staff Study Of Police Department

This is a continuance of the report on a study of the City Police Department made by the International Association of Chiefs of Police:

Education. The average educational attainment in the United States is close to 12 years. It is difficult to expect a police officer whose educational level is below that of the average citizen to perform competently or efficiently. Today's society places burdens upon the police officer which did not exist 10 or 15 years ago. To expect the uneducated, less intelligent members of our society to perform well in these critical positions is unfair to the citizens of the community and to the police service.

Officers should be encouraged to further their education. Education contributes to individual development and to more professional police officers and police departments. The community receives more efficient police service and a more professional attitude towards law enforcement when its police officers are well educated. Every opportunity should be pursued to attract and recruit individuals with above-average qualifications, including formal graduation from high school as a minimum.

Recommendations

1. Establish minimum standards for employment, based on Texas civil service rules and regulations.

2. Set the maximum entrance age at 29, unless a candidate has had previous full-time law enforcement experience.

3. Conduct an extensive background investigation, as discussed in the text.

4. Establish a minimum educational requirement of high school graduation for all members of the department.

Summer Police Officers

Summer police officer candidates should meet the same basic requirements as regular police officers must meet. In addition they should be enrolled at an accredited university or college. The candidate should be a police science major and should have completed basic public courses such as patrol procedure, criminal law, and traffic supervision. The department should furnish all the necessary equipment for these personnel.

Summer police officers should be given a two-day orientation in the procedures of the department, ordinances of the city, and report-writing. They should be paid not less than $2.50 per hour. The city should also provide these officers with living allowances for the duration of their employment. In this manner, the city can produce, at minimal cost, academically trained personnel to assist the regular police force during the summer, when the Police Department's level of activity increases substantially.

Recommendation

Hire summer police officers using the criteria in the text.

Salaries

Although the present patrolman starting salary is comparable to that of surrounding police departments, it is not sufficient to compensate the caliber of personnel recommended for the Rockport Police Department. Higher qualifications demand higher saalaries.

Training

Regardless of the educational level attained by a police officer before he enters the police service, he cannot be effective until he has been trained. It is unfortunate that the city of Rockport has been unable to send its personnel to the Regional Basic Training Academy. We recommend that every effort be made to allow personnel to attend these regional training courses when they are given.

Since it will be impossible for an officer to attend the training classes and work his normal duty hours, we recommend that a reciprocal agreement be worked out with the sheriff's office. Under such an agreement, when members of the Rockport Police Department are attending the regional training session, the sheriff's office would provide coverage within the city limits. Conversely, when the sheriff wishes to send his personnel to the training center, the city of Rockport would provide patrol coverage for the county area.

To assist the department in its training effort, we recommend that the city provide each officer with a Police Reference Notebook. This is available through the Professional Standards Division of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. The notebook is organized by subject area and provides a basic core of information that can be used to support any length curriculm, from 100 hours to over 640 hours. The notebook is sold

Telephone Company Issues Statement

Ginny Hill, manager of the Rockport office of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, gave the following statement to the Pilot yesterday:

"The present strike of the Communication Workers of America is against Western Electric Company, not Southwestern Bell. The contract between Southwestern Bell and the union remains in effect and negotiations between the company and union are still in progress.

"We regret that the C.W.A. has seen fit to take this action against the public interest. We don't want a strike and we know the public does not want a strike.

"However, we do have pickets at several locations, resulting in some work stoppage. Meanwhile, the company is doing everything possible to see that the public continues to receive good telephone service. Switchboards are being manned and vital equipment is being maintained. Local calls and customer-dialed long distance calls are going through pretty much as usual.

"We think we can continue to give customers good service and speed their calls through if they will:

1. Dial their own local long distance calls.

2. Look up numbers in the directory rather than calling the Directory Assistance Operator.

3. Delay move or installation requests until the work stoppage is over.

"Callers who require the assistance of an operator may encounter some delays. Often a man may answer. He will do everything possible to complete the calls though it may take a little longer than usual."

ROTARY HISTORY TOLD

Dudley Bracht, charter member of the Rockport Rotary Club, gave a brief statistical history of the organization at a luncheon meeting of the club Wednesday at Corky's Restaurant. The club was founded March 24, 1948 with 24 charter members.

Unsung Heroes - -

In every community scores of volunteer workers carry on a multitude of projects for the public good. They are motivated by a desire to improve their community.

Year after year they devote their talents and many hours of their time to these projects, frequently at the expense of things they would enjoy doing for themselves or their families.

Seldom are they honored or even recognized for their accomplishments. Actually, most of them neither expect nor want praise. Their reward is the knowledge that they are helping to make their community a better place in which to live and raise their families.

The Rockport area has at least its share of such public-spirited citizens, and it is our plan to call attention to some of the good things they do in a series of newspaper messages.

Spice CABINET

BARBECUED CHICKEN

Place broiler-fryer chicken halves or quarters, skin side up, on grate 3 to 6 inches from charcoal briquettes at the light-gray ash stage. Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper. Cook until tender, turning and basting occasionally. Allow 45 minutes to 1¼ hours total cooking time, depending on weight of chicken and distance from heat. About 15 minutes before chicken is done, begin brushing frequently with a barbecue sauce. To test for doneness, leg should twist easily out of thigh joint and pieces feel tender when probed with a fork.

At one time in Roman history, opals were considered lucky, but later were looked upon as unlucky. Today some people consider them lucky.

as a complete unit and costs $30 per copy. An instructor's guide is available at a cost of $6 per copy. The notebook comes with covers ready for binding, and can be contained in a standard three-ring notebook binder.

Another excellent in-service training device is the LACP Training Key. Training Keys provide training in several areas of police work. This material is mailed to the department on a regular schedule in sequential order. Thus, an ongoing in-service training program can be developed without the need for formal instruction.

Benefits

Officers work 45 hours a week and receive no holidays off. Their vacation period is a maximum of 10 days per year. Overtime is not compensated for.

The city provides a life insurance policy, hospital and surgical insurance, and workman's compensation. Sick leave is also provided after the first six months of employment. At that point, the employee has earned six sick days; he accrues additional days at the rate of one day per month, to a maximum of 90 days.

With the adoption of our recommendation for additional man power, the city will be able to shift to a 40-hour work week for police personnel. This shorter week is necessary to preserve the efficiency of the officer. Additionally, each officer should receive a minimum of six holidays with pay. Other current benefits are adequate and should continue.

We also recommend that officers order their uniforms and equipment through the chief of police. The city should pay the vendor directly. A yearly budget should be set for each officer to provide some control. Maintenance of uniforms should be handled in the same manner; the city should contract with a local cleaner to provide this service.

Recommendations

1. Adopt the salary schedule described.
2. Provide training for all members of the department, as discussed in the text.
3. Adopt a 40-hour workweek.
4. Provide a minimum of six paid holidays per year.
5. Discontinue the present uniform allowance, and adopt a direct payment policy for replacement items and maintenance, as discussed in the text.

order halting all transportation of horses, mules, jacks, jennets and other equine animals within the state unless they have been vaccinated at least 14 days prior to movement.

The state quarantine will remain in effect until further notice and provides a fine of $10 to $200 for violation.

"This is an emergency situation that will stop all rodeos, horse shows, race meets and other events involving horses," the state commission order stated. It added that the disease "constitutes a serious threat to both horses and humans throughout the state."

TARS Convention Held In Lubbock

Over 550 members of Texas Teens Aid the Retarded attended their annual convention in Lubbock, July 9, 10, 11.

Bob Rundell, Southwest Regional Representative from the National Association for Retarded Children, gave the keynote speech. His talk was titled, "And David Slew Goliath."

He said the retarded were like Goliath and the TARS were like David. TARS are trying to conquer the way people think about the retarded. David was just a small boy compared to the giant Goliath, as the problem of retardation and the way people think towards them.

It's a big challenge and a worthwhile one.

The convention also featured small workshops. Topics included poverty and mental retardation, the "Buddy System," Youth NARC, and drugs and mental retardation.

During the banquet, awards were given to outstanding supporters of TARS activities. The Rockport TARS were recognized as an official TARS group.

Those who attended from Rockport TARS were Mellinee Landrum, Pam Colley, Joy McLain, Mary Griffith, Jane Moore, and sponsor Miss Moore.

Women Attend Food Workshop

San Marcos—Four local women participated in Southwest Texas State University's 23rd annual school for food service workshop at San Marcos.

The five-day workshop, held July 4-9, was conducted under the auspices of the Home Economics Department at Southwest Texas, in cooperation with the Texas Education Agency, the Food and Nutrition Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the San Marcos Independent School District. Acting H.E. Department Chairman Dr. Azalete Little was workshop director.

More then 300 school luncheon cooks, supervisors and managers participated in the nation's oldest school food service seminar.

The workshop featured group sessions on almost all aspects of school cafeteria on food service programs. Local residents who attended the workshop included Eulah Mae Bingham, Mattie L. Benningfield, Mary Rarirez and Inez Henchick.

Mrs. Benningfield is manager of the lunchroom at the same school. Between the four of them, they have 38 years of school lunch room experience.

Accross these United States for some 35 years there has been an increase of false teachers working unceasingly to destroy our faith in the Bible as God's inspired word. Some even don the clerical robes to spread their unbelief. They as St. Paul said Preach another Jesus, another Spirit, and another Gospel. These false teachers preach a Jesus that cannot save a spirit not found in Holy Scripture, and a Gospel of social reform. 11 Cor. 11:4.

We have not really trusted in God till we put His Word before everything. Jude 3, 4.

One of the best-known antiseasickness drugs was first used a number of years ago when a doctor gave it to a woman suffering from hives. It didn't help her hives, but she no longer got motion sickness on her streetcar trip to his office.

According to several reliable studies, some 70 per per cent of the patients seen in a doctor's office have no demonstrable illness.

A medical investigator in Sheffield, England, reports that excessive weight gain in infancy is a better predirector of obesity in later life than is heredity.

Moisture is said to be the major cause of deterioration of drugs on the shelf. In other words, keep your powder dry.

It takes about 3 to 4½ hours for your stomach to digest and empty a meal. Somewhat longer on Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Art Guild Gatherings

By JAN WENDELL

Be it either a pleasurable hobby or a profitable profession, art is one of the most creative opportunities for work that we are given. Some feel that a perfect world or heaven is a place where man does just what he pleases and perhaps never works at all. However, work is probably man's noblest activity. Through work, man grows—through work, man's potential reaches reality—through work, man's creativity flowers. And toil and sweat can be as much fun as they can be a burden. As Pope Paul VI wrote, "When work is done in common, when hope, hardship, ambition and joy are shared, it brings together and firmly unites the will, minds and hearts of men. In its accomplishment, men find themselves to be brothers."

This column today is a huge thank you to our brothers who toiled and sweated in order to make the 1971 Rockport Art Festival such a success.

Our sincerest gratitude goes to G. D. Lingo, Charles Watts, and Fred Whittle who nearly singlehandedly constructed, set up and took down our booths. And the Rockport Art Association wishes to thank the following firms and individuals who voluntarily gave of their time, money, service or equipment that made the Association's work such fun:

The Allegro Club, Boy Scout Troops 280 and 281, Bayshore Building Co., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Blevins, Fred Bracht, Jr., Bracht Lumber Co., Central Power and Light Co., Corpus Christi Tourist Bureau, First National Bank, Rockport;

J. Allen Frye, Harbor Oaks Development Co., Harper Real Estate, Itschner Real Estate, Jackson Seafood Co., Key Allegro Club and Restaurant, Key Allegro Isle Marina, Meredith Long, Picton Lumber Co., Radia Stations KEYS, KRYS, KTOD-FM, and KZFM, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Randt;

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Richards, Rockport Chamber of Commerce, The Rockport Pilot, Rockport Yacht & Supply Co., Thomas M. Rogers, Rockport Rotary Club, Norman Scott, Emory M. Spencer, Bob Stroot, and Rockport Volunteer Fire Department.

In addition the Association is extremely grateful to all the members who worked before, during and after the Festival and especially we wish to thank all the nonmembers who volunteered to help. Thank you, Brothers!

STEPPING OUT of a protective tractor cab to promote Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, July 25-31, is Texas Farm Bureau Queen Harletta Capps of Vernon. The theme for this year's observance of Farm and Ranch Safety Week is "Protection--make it work for safety." Tractor overturns accounted for 60 per cent of the accidental deaths involving tractors in the U.S. in 1970. It is estimated that 90 percent of the lives lost in tractor Overturns could have been saved by protective cabs or roll bars and safety belts. Special emphasis on accident prevention in agricultural pursuits are being made during the week by the Texas Safety Association, Texas Farm Bureau, and other agricultura' organizations.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D.
Commissioner of Health

Texas school children will soon be among the best immunized in the country.

The recent session of the Texas Legislature amended the Texas Education Code to require immunization against certain childhood diseases as a condition for entering school.

"This new state law will have great impact on the immunization level of the school population and, eventually, all the population of Texas," says Dr. J. E. Peavy, State Health Commissioner. "We are delighted with the law."

The Texas State Department of Health now has authority to set the rules and regulations for implementation of the compulsory immunizations. The Board of Health has set Jan. 1, 1972 as the date by which all children's immunization series must have begun. School districts that have required compulsory immunizations in the past will still maintain their usual September deadlines for providing immunizations to enter school.

The immunization previously required for all school children were set only by the individual school district, but now the state is requiring immunizations for up to six childhood diseases in some cases.

Elementary students will now be required to be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, polio and smallpox. If there is no history of measles, that shot will also be required. All children under 12 years of age must also be immunized against rubella.

The number of required immunizations is fewer for junior high, high school, and college-level students. Junior high and high school requires immunizations against only diphtheria, polio, tetanus, and smallpox. College requires full immunization against polio if the student is under 19 years of age, and immunization against diphtheria, tetanus, and smallpox within the past ten years.

Nearly every student in the state will be covered by this broad new law. Immunization will be required in kindergartens that are associated with elementary schools, all the elementary or secondary public schools, private or parochial schools, academies, colleges, universities, schools for the blind, deaf, mentally ill and mentally retarded. The only children exempted are those with religious conflicts, or medical problems — those that a physicial determines would be injurious to health.

Dr. Peavy said he "urged all parents to contact their physicial or public health clinic now, and begin their children's immunization program long before they enter school."

The Kinsey Report

County Judge John D. Wendell and County Commissioners W. B. Allen, Charlie Hale, Raymond Owens and Mrs. Wanda Sparks are giving serious consideration to passage of an ordinance that would meet rigid specifications established by the Texas Water Quality Board and the State Health Department regarding sewage disposal in the county, outside the city limits.

As you know, there is no extensive sewage disposal system throughout the county such as the sewer system which serves the City of Rockport. Presently the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District is exploring the possibility of a countywide sewer system, partly financed by a government grant.

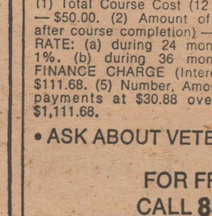

The County Commissioners and Judge Wendell, of course, recognize that the most desirable system would be a countywide system, with sewage piped to a treatment plant.

However, they realize that such a system will not come into being overnight. Consequently, they are giving serious thought to passing an ordinance that would make sure that all septic tanks installed from now on would meet rigid requirements and thus would cut down on the chances of wells becoming contaminated. The step would also be important to help prevent further pollution of area bays.

Mrs. Ruth Weber has returned from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Steve Weber and family in Vienna, Virginia, and Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips in Norfolk, Va.

Law Changes Should Interest Hunters

Austin — There are some important new "do's and don'ts" for the Texas hunter.

The Parks and Wildlife Commission has made several statewide changes, and the 62nd Legislature added numerous other modifications to existing hunting laws.

Two of the new changes might be considered "liberalizations" of present laws—but they still carry certain limitations. One allows the removel of shotgun plugs to give the hunter more than three shots in succession.

However, the three-shot limit will still apply to migratory birds. These include ducks, geese and doves.

So if a hunter's main targets are doves or waterfowl, it probably wouldn't be worth his money to have a gunsmith remove the plug.

The other change allows hunting from cars. But this does not mean that hunters are allowed to shoot from public roads, right-of-way or other prohibited areas.

Hunters may shoot native game animals and birds from a car on private property, but they aren't allowed to take migratory birds with this hunting method.

One legislative bill makes it unlawful to take deer, elk, antelope, wild dessert bighorn sheep with .22-caliber jetgun and rocket gun in general law counties.

This change, in effect, makes this prohibition statewide, as the two cartridges already were outlawed in counities now under the department's authority.

Some of the changes doubtless won't affect the average sportsman. One of these is a law prohibiting the shooting or taking of wild turkeys from the roost. Most hunters avoid molesting the birds' roosting sites, and landowners usually try to protect them.

Another change repeals the requirement that a permit be obtained from the Parks and Wildlife Department before killing a buffalo (bison). This change was prompted by the feeling that all the buffaloes in the state are actually domesticated and confined to fenced enclosures.

All the changes in game laws will be compiled in the department's annual Hunting Guide, which should be available to hunters before the 1971 hunting seasons get underway.

A careful check of regulations in the particular area to be hunted is always a good procedure for any sportsman who wants to make the most of his hunting trip.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Parking Lot Perils

As part of its service, a neighborhood market maintained a parking lot behind the building. Near one corner of the lot, the stump of an old post jutted up from the ground. One evening a woman shopper tripped over the stump and fell, dislocating a hip.

Was the market legally liable for her injury? In a court hearing, the owner insisted that she should have kept a sharper look-out for danger. But when the woman pointed out that the lighting was poor at the site of the accident, the court upheld her claim.

The law places upon the owner of a parking lot a basic responsibility to keep it in safe condition. Furthermore, he is usually liable for injuries caused by the negligence of his hired help.

Nevertheless, the owner does not guarantee absolute safety. Some accidents are simply not his fault. Thus: a man got hurt in a parking lot when he slipped on a gob of ice cream. Demanding damages in court, he argued:

"It is up to the attendant to keep the place clean. Since he failed to do so, his employer is liable."

However, no one had any idea how long the ice cream had been lying there—or who dropped it in the first place. Rejecting the man's claim, the court said there was "no evidence that the condition had existed long enough for the (attendant), in the exercise of reasonable care, to have discovered and remedied it."

Suppose the accident is caused by someone's careless driving within the lot. May that be blamed on the lot owner?

That question arose when a motorist drove the wrong way in a one-way aisle and knocked down a small boy. The boy's parents tried to pin liability on the owner of the lot, on the theory that it was his duty to "police" all drivers on his premises.

However, the court held the owner not liable, because even a watchful attendant could hardly have acted quickly enough to be helpful. Preventing this kind of an accident, the court felt, would call for closer policing by the management than the law could fairly expect.
