Charles L. Root, 70, retired administrator of Root Memorial Hospital and longtime civic leader, died Thursday at Shannon Memorial Hospital in San Angelo.

Mr. Root was born Oct. 19, 1914 in Colorado City and had lived here all his life, with the exception of his college years.

A graduate of Colorado High School in 1932 where he advanced to state in typing competition, Mr. Root had been in medical school for six weeks when his father died. He returned home to manage his father's estate which included Root Hospital. Prior to medical school, he attended one year of college at Abilene Christian University and three years at the University of Texas where he changed his major from electrical and utility engineering to pre-med.

He served as administrator of Root Memorial Hospital for 43 years, retiring in 1980. In 1962, a 50-bed nursing home, Root Valley Lodge, was constructed adjacent to the hospital.

Mr. Root was involved in a number of businesses during his lifetime including establishing the first self service laundry for Colorado City and establishing a taxi service during the oil boom period of 1945-50. He assisted in the establishment of Foam-Tex as well as Sequoya Inc., a mobile home manufacturing company now closed.

Application deadline is near

The final date to file an application for an emergency farm loan for losses caused by last summer's drought and extremely high temperatures is June 24, Farmers Home Administration county supervisor Alton Pyburn said.

As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30-percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan, Pyburn said. Farmers participating in the PIK or federal crop insurance programs will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determing their loss.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens, and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FmHA office is located in the G-Kell Building on Highway 208 and is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

PATRICIA JONES, who plays the part of Sis Laura in the upcoming Colorado City Playhouse production of "The Member of the Wedding" is dressed for the part as final rehearsals get under way. The premiere is set for Friday, May 31 at 8 p.m. Other performances are set for June 1, 8 p.m.; June 2, 2:30 p.m.; June 6, 8 p.m.; June 7, 8 p.m.; and June 9, 8 p.m. Ticket sales will begin Tuesday.

Pre-schoolers through eighth grade are invited to take part in the Summer Reading Club Program "Awesome Adventures" at the Mitchell County Public Library this summer.

Aid is available through TSTI

Graduating seniors planning to attend TSTI-Sweetwater who are in need of financial assistance should contact school personnel as soon as possible. According to Moises Perez, Dean of Student Services, prospective students wishing to apply for any type of financial assistance must complete applications in time for proper processing if funds are needed in time to start schooling. Perez stated that financial aid comes in various forms, including the PellGrant, College Work-Study, various guaranteed state and federal loans and a variety of scholarships.

The normal lead time needed by the financial aid personnel is approximately six weeks, although it is a good time for the fall quarter students to apply now. This will allow for the financial forms to clear in ample time for the student to know exactly what amount for which he-she will qualify and allow the local school to have a package ready for the student.

The TSTI campus is open regularly Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Anyone needing further information should either visit the campus or call Perez at 915-235-8441, extension 217.

For general information concerning enrollment dates and program offerings, the school may be called anytime at 1-800-592-TSTI. Summer quarter enrollment begins Monday, June 3, with classes to start on Tuesday. Fall quarter enrollment is set for September 3-4, with classes to begin on September 5, 1985.

THE GOOD SHEPHERD

John Mikow, Pastor — First Christian Church — Colorado City, Texas

Jesus, the Good Shepherd, knows us personally and will not abandoned us. The Gospel of John chapter 10 assures that he lays down his life for his own.

In Palestine the shepherd was absolutley responsible for the sheep. If anything happened to them he must prove he had done all possible to save them even giving his life. The real, faithful shepherd was born to the task being reared with the sheep becoming companiions and friends with them. The false, unfaithful kind worked only for the money and when danger threatened the fled leaving the flock defenseless.

Jesus knows us not merely in an intellectual way but as the fruit of an experience of a personal contact, when it matures it becomes love. The faithful shepherd has special names for certain sheep such as "ole brown legs or black ear." I wonder what 'personal' names he might have for us like "ole worrier, grumpy, smiley, faithful, fretter or cheerful." Jesus has intimate knowledge of each of his flock. He knows at a glance our characteristics and can pick us out from a mass of other sheep.

The Good Shepherd does not abandoned us when hard times come. We're not under the care of one who will desert us the uncaring hired hand. We're so quickly abandoned by friends, family and even ourselves. When all have left us we find our Good Shepherd ready to take us in his arms and care for us.

Bentsen in favor of wetland conservation

By Lloyd Bentsen
United States Senator

Birdwatchers by the Laguna Madre, shrimpers along the Texas coastline, and duck hunters on the Panhandle playa lakes all appreciate the value of Texas' wetlands. But this valuable resource is threatened.

The worth of our wetlands lies not only in the vital feeding, spawning, breeding and resting habitat they provide fish, fowl and other wildlife; but in other ecologic and economic benefits as well.

The playa lakes of the Panhandle rank second only to our Gulf Coast in importance as wintering places for waterfowl in the Central Flyway. In a good year, 100,000 ducks escape the northern cold at Muleshoe National Park. Our Gulf Coast plays winter host to half a million geese and hundreds of thousands of shorebirds, with estimated total ranging from two to seven million waterfowl. Many rest there temporarily on the way to South America.

These birds form the base of a multi-million dollar industry that includes hunters, birdwatchers and people who enjoy recreation in natural settings.

Fish that spawn and feed in our wetlands can provide more than a million of our states' recreational fishermen with more than five million tall tales during a year. The Texas commercial fishing harvest in 1981, worth nearly $175 million, totaled 113,108,000 pounds of fish and shellfish, most of which had depended on coastal marshes and estuaries for part of their life cycle.

Our wetlands also support many endangered species of wildlife, as well as the nutria and muskrat valued by trappers for their pelts.

In addition to the wildlife they support, wetlands are also vitally important to the control and maintenance of our water supply. They act as a buffer between salt and fresh water, naturally purify polluted water and recharge ground water. They also help control erosion, floods and hurricane damage. In the Panhandle, the playa lakes collect up to three million acre feet of water a year for irrigation and livestock.

But wetlands are disappearing at a rapid clip in our state and our nation. Across the U.S., we are losing wetlands at the rate of 458,000 acres a year to dredge and fill activities, and almost half of our nation's wetlands are now gone.

Texas already has lost more than 600,000 acres of its original coastal wetlands.

I am sponsoring legislation that will help save more of our marshes, swamps and tidelands by purchasing the land and placing it under state and federal protection.

Funds would be provided by new entrance fees at wildlife refuges and by increasing the cost over a four-year period of Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamps. Holders of these "Duck Stamps" would be exempt from the entrance fees.

Hunters favor the increased cost of Duck Stamps for buying wetlands when a fair share of the purchase monies come from non-hunters, such as birdwatchers and nature photographers, through the entrance fees.

Texas, like the rest of our nation, is blessed with a rich variety of wetlands that provide a multitude of benefits. We must take action to protect them, before this valuable resource disappears forever.

Local AARP chapter holds meeting

The American Association of Retired Persons Chapter No. 1461 met May 20 with a covered dish luncheon.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. Hermon Salley. Lunch was served before the meeting was turned over to program leader Elizabeth Elliott who introduced officer Sherry Martin of the Colorado City Police Department.

Mrs. Martin said the most common drug used by the young people is marijuana, noting there is some use of alcohol among school-age children as well.

She showed some of the drug paraphernalia confiscated from children during the eight months she has been with the local police department. She explained that some of the symptoms to watch for in someone using drugs is a lack of motivation and expression in their faces.

Mrs. Martin also showed slides about the effects of marijuana and the different kinds of drugs found in marijuana.

After the program, Faye Spivey, vice president, conducted the business.

The pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. Spivey. One verse of "My Country Tis of Thee" was sung with Pearl Woods at the piano. The minutes were read and approved.

Report from the legislative chairperson was given by Mrs. Arnel Smith in the absence of the chairman by distributing cards to each person to write our congressmen about Social Security.

A love offering was taken for the summer recreation program for the children at Wallace Education Center in the amount of $25.

The drawing of 10 Susan B. Anthony dollars donated by Raymond Fuller was conducted.

The treasurer reported $118.17 in the bank with outstanding bills to be paid. The basket collection for the day was $12.16.

Mattox warns against 'distress sale'

By Jim Mattox
Attorney General

A wise consumer shops carefully and watches advertising for bargains on items that are needed or desired. However, some advertising may be misleading.

In particular there is a form of advertising called "Distress Sale" advertising. All of us have seen advertising which tells of some natural disaster, unfortunate event, or unforeseen development which necessitates a quick sale at reduced prices.

One example of this type of advertising is a "Fire" sale. In the event of a fire, businesses sometimes are forced to liquidate inventory rapidly because of damage to the inventory or a lack of storage space. Many times the price has been greatly reduced to speed this process, and consumers can get a real bargain. However, there have been instances of businesses advertising a "Fire" sale when there has been no fire and the prices of the goods have not been lowered significantly. Consumers who have not familiarized themselves with general market prices of these goods in the local marketplace may be induced to buy something they may not otherwise have purchased because they thought they were getting a bargain.

Another similar type of advertising is the "Going Out of Business" sale. Here again, due to business failure, a company may be forced to sell its inventory at a greatly reduced price in order to move the goods quickly. Some businesses in the past have advertised a "Going Out of Business" sale when they never intended to cease doing business and did not significantly reduce prices.

A "Grand Opening" sale, though not the product of unfortunate circumstances, also means savings to many consumers. Stores, new to an area in order to build a clientele, will offer bargains. However, in some cases these sales have been extended to the point that the prices are actually the prices normally charged for the particular items and the consumer realizes no real savings.

Other types of distress sales which have been extended to the point that the prices are actually the prices normally charged for the particular items and the consumer realizes no real savings.

Other types of distress sales which have been legitimately used but also abused by some businessmen are "Flood" sales, "Hurricane" sales, "Tornado" sales, "Hail Damage" sales. All these terms lead the consumer to believe that, due to some event beyond the control of the businessman, prices have been reduced dramatically to facilitate the liquidation of inventory, thus providing the consumer with a genuine bargain.

The best way to protect yourself from the businesses which may use these terms falsely is to be familiar with the prevailing prices of the brand names being offered in your area. Additionally, become informed about the actual occurrence of the event which caused the distressed situation through the media and by reading the daily newspaper. Finally, if it is a "Going Out of Business" sale, check with your City or County Tax Assessor and Collector to make sure that the business has made the filings required by law before this form of advertisement can be used.

If you need more help or information on this or other consumer problems, contact your nearest Attorney General Consumer Protection Office (in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen, and San Antonio). The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.

Those attending were Mrs. Linnie Williams, president; Mrs. Pearl Watson, Mrs. Della Fox, Mrs. Fannie Beeman, Mrs. Ida Keith, Mrs. Elizabeth Elliott, Mrs. Dona Reed, Mrs. Joy Culwell, Mrs. Jewell Tiller, Mrs. Lill Brown, Mrs. Eddie Barclay and visitors Lewis Elliott and Leslie Keith.

Wilson, Cawthron united May 25

Pam Wilson and Scott Cawthron exchanged wedding vows Saturday, May 25 at 4 p.m. in Calvary Baptist Church.

Rev. Charles Casey, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony before an archway entwined with greenery and baby's breath. Candelabra flanked the archway, and the choir rail was decorated with greenery and candles. Aisle runners with bows combined with carnations and baby's breath of the bride's chosen color gave a garden setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Joan Wilson, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Cawthron, all of Colorado City.

Given in marriage by her brother, David Wilson, the bride wore a gown designed by Mori Lee. The off-the-shoulder neckline was trimmed with alencon lace. Leg-o-mutton sleeves of chiffon and lace enhanced the fitted bodice and natural waistline. The full ballroom skirt had layers of ruffles that flowed from the waist down the skirt to encircle the mid-cathedral train.

The bride carried a bouquet of cascading white roses, pink sweetheart roses, baby's breath and stephonites, tied with love knots.

Wedding music included "Sunrise, Sunset," "My Heart at Thy Dear Voice," "Wedding March," "Wedding Prayer" and "Ice Castles."

Maid of honor was Kyla McGuffin of Graham, cousin of the bride. She wore a red taffeta floor length dress with an off-the-shoulder neckline trimmed with a ruffle. She carried a white laced fan done in the bride's chosen color with matching hairpiece.

Bridesmaids, dressed identical as the maid of honor, were Kathi Carter of Graham, cousin of the bride; Loretta Morris of Colorado City and Allyson Haggerton of Sherman.

Flower girls were Rachel and Terri Cawthron. Candle lighters were Marcia and Sheila Cawthron. They wore pink taffeta floor length dresses with a square neckline and puffed half sleeves.

Best man was Kyle Short. Groomsmen were Russell Noel, Yancy Spivey and Chuck Claxton. They wore black tuxedoes with red ties and cumberbunds.

Ushers were Mike Wilson, David Benson and Daniel Frank.

A reception followed at the church. The bride's table featured a fountain cake with side staircases. The white cake was enhanced with red and pink accents.

The groom's table featured a red cloth with a horseshoe shaped red velvet cake and raspberry punch.

Serving were Kakai McElroy, Vonita Adams, Kerry Spivey and Mickie Palmer.

Music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Steve Nelms and Betty Sagger.

For their honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, the bride wore a light pink dress accented with white "V" collar.

The couple will live in Lubbock where the bride is a junior at Texas Tech University. The groom is a December, 1984 graduate of Tech and is employed as production manager at KJAA-TV in Lubbock.

Out-of-town guests registered from Lubbock, Sherman, Big Spring and Dallas.

Baumann Club meets

The Baumann TEHA Club met with Mrs. Clara Butler in regular meeting Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Gertrude Simms presided.

In the short business, the club voted not to nominate a prospective delegate to the State Convention. Bernice Hallmark gave the treasurer's report.

Charlotte Lee, local florist brought a program on "Flower Arrangement." She made a basket arrangement, as the members watched, and also made a corsage and presented it to the hostess.

Mrs. Butler served a salad plate, tea and Cokes to two guests, Charlotte Lee and Syble Walker and to members: Mmes. Simms, Gladys Payne, Era Mae Cornutt, Bernice Hallmark, Vada Preston, Inez Webb and Pauline Griffin.

Spray now for pecan casebearer

Pecan growers and homeowners in Mitchell County should begin spraying for the pecan nut casebearer on May 27-30, according to Mitchell County extension agent Mike Mauldin. The casebearer can completely destroy a pecan crop if it is not controlled. Casebearer eggs are found on the tips of nutlets. The eggs are white when first laid, then turn red over a 3-5 day period before turning white again after hatching.

Insecticides should be applied the third day after the first eggs hatch to kill the larvae before they enter the nutlets. Since the larvae will hatch over a week-long period or more, a second spraying may be necessary.

Insecticides recommended for casebearer control include, diazinon, Pydrin, Malathion and Zolone. Zinc Sulfate or NZN should be applied at the same time. Pecans require zinc for normal stem and leaf growth.

Strother receives 'superior' rating

Jack Strother, eighth grade student in Colorado Middle School, recently received a judge's rating of "superior" when he participated in the national piano playing auditions in Big Spring under the auspices of the National Guild of Piano Teachers, Teacher Division of the American College of Musicians.

Strother, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strother, 1208 Vine Street, has participated in Guild auditions for seven years on the National level, which requires memorizing a repertoire of ten selections chosen from the Baroque, Romantic, Classical and Contemporary eras.

Some 114,868 piano pupils participated this year across the nation in some 736 music centers.

Strother studies piano with Margaret Baum.

Cook's Corner

Ramsey shares unique recipes

When Gretchen Ramsey was growing up, she didn't cook very much.

"My dad did most of the cooking and I would stand around and watch him cook.

"I really didn't like to cook, but when I did cook, it was defensive cooking--by that I mean if there wasn't anything at all to eat, then I would cook."

When Mrs. Ramsey got married, she basically knew how to cook from watching her dad and "a lot of my cooking was by trial and error."

She doesn't prepare many casseroles, but likes to prepare meat on the grill, instead of frying.

Mrs. Ramsey prepares balanced meals and supper is the meal when the family all gets to eat together.

She likes to try new recipes and usually doesn't change them up.

Accidents are bound to happen and Mrs. Ramsey remembers an accident that happened when company was coming over.

"I had invited some friends over for lunch after church one Sunday.

"I decided to prepare a roast. It was a big roast. I was going to let it bake while we were gone to church.

"When we got home and opened the door, I knew something was wrong. I couldn't smell anything, so I went into the kitchen and the oven wasn't on.

"So instead of the roast as we had expected, we had hamburgers instead."

Mrs. Ramsey and her husband Tom have three sons--Derek 15, George 12 and Kelly 10.

Today she is sharing four of her recipes with RECORD readers.

MEXICAN CRESENT PIE

1 pound ground beef
1 tablespoon chili powder
Dash salt
2 garlic cloves, peeled, crushed
¼ cup sliced ripe olives
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup finely chopped onion or 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 cup sour cream
Two-thirds cup mayonnaise
Refrigerated crescent rolls
2 medium tomatoes, thinly sliced
¼ cup seeded, chopped pickled jalapeno or green chilies
½ cup shredded cheddar cheese, divided

Separate dough into eight triangles. Place triangles in ungreased 9 or 10 inch pie pan, press over bottom and up sides to form a crust. Spoon meat mixture evenly over crust. Arrange tomato slices, slightly overlapping, to cover meat. Sprinkle with peppers and 1 cup cheese. Spread sour cream mix evenly. Sprinkle remaining cheese. Bake at 375 25-30 minutes or until crust is golden brown and cheese melted. Cool 5 minutes before serving.

Byrd presents program

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Tuesday evening in The First Presbyterian Chapel to commemorate Founders' Day. Yellow chrysanthemums, white lillies and honey suckle decorated the chapel.

The Rev. Roy Byrd was guest speaker. He used a Cheyenne legendary, narrative to demonstrate caring, sharing and inspiring others to achieve goals of selflessness, helpfulness and godliness.

At intervals Margaret Latimer and Janie Greenlee paralleled the fable with deeds of the founders. Organist Margaret Trulock accompanied Billie Roenfeldt who sang at each interlude.

Rev. Roy Byrd

After the program, guests were invited into Fellowship Hall for refreshments. Mamie Lou New was at the service table.

The dining table was laid with a white organdy cloth bordered and appliqued with green linen. Centering the table was an arrangement of honey suckle roses and honey suckle. President Greenlee presided at the silver coffee service and vice president Latimer the spiced tea service. Other refreshments were white chocolate dipped strawberries, wafer sandwiches, miniature chocolate dipped pretzels and cheese Danish.

Katie Byrd and Evelyn Daniel were special guests.

Hostesses were Nadine Gordon, Fannie Fay Feaster, Mrs. New, Clara Shoemaker and Katherine Walla.

Others attending were Betsy Aycock, Florence Bodine, Marian Craddock, Margaret Ann Conaway, Mary Ellis, Barbara Girvin, Frances Godwin and Mabel Merritt.

Also Julia Ann Moore, Florence Pratt, Linda Raschke, Peggy Ratliff, Dona Reed, Margaret Rees, Margaret Sparks and Kathy Wilson.

Contributions made to colleges

At a time when financial support for education is a major concern in Texas, Southwestern Bell Telephone continues its long-standing tradition of providing contributions to academic institutions within the state.

"Southwestern Bell's 1985 contribution of more than $130,000 to the Texas Independent College Fund (TICF) is a clear demonstration of the company's ongoing commitment to academic excellence in the state," said Larry Alexander, vice president-public relations of the Texas Division of Southwestern Bell.

TICF is a development group in which many non-state-supported colleges in Texas pool their fund-raising resources. Through TICF, Southwestern Bell's donation will go to help 22 colleges across the state.

The designated gifts dispensed through TICF are only a portion of more than half a million dollars Southwestern Bell expects to contribute in 1985 to all levels of the state's education system.

In addition, Alexander said, the company expects to donate another $150,000 to match employee contributions to educational facilities.

Colleges and universities receiving donations from Southwestern Bell Telephone through TICF include:

St. Edwards University in Austin; University of St. Thomas, Houston Baptist University and Rice University, all in Houston; Our Lady of the Lake University, Trinity University, Incarnate Word College and St. Mary's University, all in San Antonio; Dallas Baptist College and Southern Methodist University, both in Dallas.

Also, Texas Christian University and Texas Wesleyan University, both in Fort Worth; Abilene Christian University, Hardin-Simmons University and McMurry College, all in Abilene; Wayland Baptist College, Plainview; Lubbock Christian College, Lubbock; University of Mary Hardin-Baylor, Belton; Baylor University, Waco; Texas Lutheran College, Seguin; the University of Dallas, Irving; and East Texas Baptist College, Marshall.
