Three Ozona Boys At Junction Range Management Camp

A&M Adjunct Site Of Camp For Outstanding 4-H & FFA

Three Ozona boys will attend the annual Youth Range Camp for outstanding 4-H and FFA members at the Texas A&M College Adjunct at Junction next week.

The three, David Jacoby, Jack Applewhite and Steve Taliaferro, are all attending the camp on scholarships furnished by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association, The Ozona National Bank and the H. C. Noelke, Jr., Estate. The scholarships were given to these boys because of their outstanding range management demonstrations or projects, their participation in range and plant judging contests and active interest in range management.

The camp, which runs from July 29 to August 3, is sponsored by the Texas Section of American Society of Range Management. While at the camp, boys will be recognized for their leadership abilities, given leadership training along with advanced training in range management.

The program includes plant identification, ecology, ranch economics and management, grazing systems, reseeding, noxious plant control, ranch and range planning, and the relationship of wildlife and range management. Field trips to two Kimble county ranches and the Ranch Experiment Station, Sonora, will be made for first hand study of each of the above classroom topics.

Recreation will include swimming, softball, volleyball, movies and a tour of the beautiful Sonora Caverns.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Whitt, who have been living in Ozona while Mr. Whitt was employed as a civil service employee at Ozona Radar Station, have been transferred to San Angelo and left Ozona this week.

Trash Fires Result In Damage To Outhouses; Cite Grass Fire Menace

A fire believed to have been started by burning trash did considerable damage to material stored in a small shed located behind the Spot Friend home on 11th St. in Ozona Sunday.

The biggest loss reported was damage to saddles and blankets belonging to the Friends.

The local fire department answered the alarm and quickly extinguished the flames but considerable damage had been done before the fire was discovered.

An earlier alarm during the week sent fireman to put out a fire in a small building at the rear of the Carl North home.

Spring rains resulted in a good grass and weed crop over the county and now dry weather having seared the grass and weeds offers one of the greatest threats in years for grass fires.

Motorist and residents are urged to be careful with fire, particularly matches and cigarettes. People burning trash should exercise great caution and not leave fires unattended.

Ozona LL Stars Eliminated From Playoff Contests

Sonora Stars Score 5-1 Win For Chance At Angelo Champs

By Ernie Boyd

The Sonora Little League All-Stars ousted the Ozona All-Stars from the 1963 play-offs in Sonora Monday night with a 5 to 1 win over the local team.

Jesse Cook, a quick little right hander, limited the Ozona stars to four hits while a trio of Ozona hurlers held the Sonora team to five hits with shoddy Ozona fielding accounting for the difference in the run total.

Jim O'Rear started for Ozona and after giving up a double to the lead off hitter was the victim of an error, a wild throw and his own wild pitch to account for two runs.

Ozona won the toss, and as the home team, got one run back in the bottom of the frame when, after Higginbottom fanned, Conn singled, and then came all the way home when Cook threw high to second in an attempt to get a force, after Webb grounded to the pitcher.

The second inning was scoreless, though Sonora threatened, and Webb came on to pitch the third. A walk, an error, and a pop fly which no one offered to catch and which fell in for a double, along with an infield scratch hit accounted for three runs, and, as it turned out, all for the night.

Webb was once again in trouble in the fourth as he hit a batter and gave up a single before retiring three batters in order, to end the inning.

Ozona threatened in the fourth, fifth, and sixth inning but failed to get a run in.

Kirk Boyd, one of the top pitchers Ozona had this season, came on for the Ozona team in the fifth, and after fanning one and giving up a single to center, retired the next five batters in order, the last three on just five pitches.

Cook fanned 10 Ozona batters and surrendered four hits, all clean blows to Conn, Lindsey, Childress, and Higginbottom.

After the first inning, Ozona had its best chance to score again when Donald Huff walked, stole second and third, and then died as two batters in a row fanned. And in the sixth after Webb lined hard to deep right center, Lindsey singled to center and was followed by Childress who also singled to center, Lindsey, with two outs, did not run when it looked for a moment as though someone would catch Childress' hit, and then held up at third when he could have score. But the run was not worth the risk as it would not have tied the score nor won the game. Childress (Continued on Last Page)

Driver Unhurt As Truck Jack-Knifed On Highway Bridge

Capitol Cattle Driver Swerved To Miss Rig Section In Road

A freak accident just west of Ozona Saturday night about 10:30 resulted in over $20,000 in damages to a Capitol Cattle Company truck and blocked traffic on U. S. 290 for over three hours.

Richard Bowers of Austin, driver of the truck, escaped with only minor injuries when the truck he was driving hit the banister of a bridge and jack-knifed with the trailer striking the opposite side of the bridge and both cab and trailer winding up sideways on the bridge.

The accident occurred, investigating Patrolman Jim Harvey reported, when a section of an oil drilling rig on another truck dropped off and landed in the highway. The Capitol truck driver swerved his machine to miss the piece of metal and collided with the bridge.

Oil covered the floor of the bridge and had to be covered with sand before traffic could be resumed. Twenty men and three trucks were required to clear the right of way and open the highway to traffic again.

WE'RE SITTING ON OUR HANDS

It looks from here as if the "optimism" of the Moscow test-ban conferees — our Harriman, Britain's Lord Hailsham and Communism's Khrushchev — at the opening of the Russian clambake on July 15th was overdone to the point of arousing suspicions among the guineapigs of the USA, and even among their Senators in Washington. Nothing, of course, could have been more alarming to thoughtful Americans than the "joviality" of Khrush, whom we are being taught not to think of as bloodthirsty and treacherous any more.

Obviously, too obviously, the Kremlin Boss revealed to the world his own conviction, at least, that he had it made — a ban on nuclear test blasts in the atmosphere, in space and under water with no restrictions on underground explosions and no intrusion of Western inspectors on Soviet real estate, plus a non-aggression agreement between the NATO powers and the so-called Warsaw Pact nations. This, in plainer words would pledge the West to the abandonment of the Iron Curtain satellites to their misery under the heel of Moscow — and in all probability the ultimate recognition of East Germany and withdrawal from West Berlin.

At this Washington press conference three days later, President Kennedy disposed of the Moscow discussions in two brief paragraphs of his opening statement. In contrast to the gaiety of the opening session at the Kremlin, the President said he was "still hopeful" of a partial test ban agreement. He reminded the press however that any such agreement would have to be approved by the Senate and assured our allies that the US and British conferees are not dickering with the Russians over "what matters affecting their rights and interests". This would appear to mean that our Mr. Harriman, at least, is not supposed to talk the non-aggression pact even as the price of the highly questionable test-ban the Administration seems so anxious to achieve.

The President's attitude of caution, and particularly his reference to Senate ratification, suggests that he has taken to heart the warnings of influential Senators that he is not to sidestep that august body with any informal nuclear agreement with the Soviets. Further complicating the picture that seemed to have been so carefully drawn in advance, is the arrival in Moscow of East Germany's Foreign and Defense Ministers and the presence in Russia of Hungary's Premier Janos Kadar.

Mr. Harrison, it seems, is supposed to just talk, not negotiate — to put on a sort of belly-dance in front of the Summit Tent — to be pitched at the UN in September. Mr. Khrushchev had planned to honor us again at that time, when the President and Prime Minister Macmillan could join him in a blaze of global glory to hand over the rest of our nuclear marbles.

But now, we wonder.

In seeking to rationalize the recent belligerent outbursts of New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller against what he called the "radical right lunatic fringe" of the Republican Party, the most reasonable assumption is that this is a cry of pain.

Last spring, when the Governor was generally regarded as the leading contender for the Presidential nomination, he was an avowed conservative. He talked loudly then of his dedication to fiscal responsibility in Government, the sanctity of free enterprise and the dire need of a strong and forthright anti-Communist foreign policy. Which we then considered "rightista" policies — and still do. As for this "radical" epithet, that is a qualification that means anything or nothing.

A rightist stands for the right of the individual to stand on his own feet, to run his own affairs with a minimum of interference from the State, and equally for responsibility for his own mistakes — of judgement or of conduct.

A leftist believes in socialism in greater or less degree, seeks paternalism in government, admires the managed State.

It is a simple as that. Since last spring, Governor Rockefeller's "image" has faded, and Senator Goldwater, whose dedication to Republican solidarity is unassailable, has emerged as Wounded by this shift of the scene, the Governor is apparently striving for a new entrance on the political stage as a liberal. While he did name the Senator in his tirade, it was hardly necessary since the CBS-News proposed to Senator Goldwater that he debate "the policies and direction of the Republican Party in 1964" with Governor Rockefeller.

The Arizonan declined in a formal statement saying that "he does not intend to engage in any TV programs or other actions that would have the effect of contributing to disunity in the Republican party."

Republicans everywhere will applaud this statement and know from past history that Barry Goldwater means exactly what he says.

FLAMING YOUTH?

A REAL CAT FIGHT

Senator Goldwater, in a TV interview, reported that President Kennedy once said to him that if they were to oppose each other for the Presidency it would be a real cat fight.

So it would. And it would provide the nation and the voters with something that has been lacking in contests at the peak political level in late years.

There has been a failure, on the part of candidates of both parties to provide the electorate with a clear and unequivocal choice between two platforms, two philosophies, two diverse attitudes. Issues have been blurred. They have been made wishy-washy and indistinct, as conservatives and liberal alike have tempered their views in the fear of alienating masses of voters.

President Kennedy and Senator Goldwater have made their records. The differences between them are profound, particularly in the primary domestic issues, such as federal fiscal policy and the whole Welfare State concept. There are important differences in aspects of foreign and military policy too.

It would be a real battle, between able and articulate men who would give no quarter. The people would have a choice that really meant something.

NEW NEWSPAPER NEIGHBORS

The Stockman welcomes new journalistic neighbors to the east. Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie King have purchased the Devil's River News at Sonora from Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Bundy and will take over August 1.

The Bundys, who have been doing a fine job of publishing a good paper every week for Sonora, will "retire" to their ranch 43 miles east of Sonora, near Roosevelt, after "commuting" daily back and forth from the ranch to Sonora in publishing the weekly paper.

The Kings come from Hondo, where he has been advertising manager. A graduate of the University of Texas school of journalism, young King has worked on papers in Austin and Anson. Mrs. King is a granddaughter of Mrs. N. W. Graham of Ozona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Glover of Abilene.

Too many anglers fail to get the full benefit of their fishing tackle. Why? Because they don't use it enough.

Many times you can't get out on the water when you want to.

But there's always the backyard. Try it sometime. It's known as dry casting . . . and there are extra dividends.

Most of the best casters spend long hours dry casting. It serves many purposes, not the least of which is getting acquainted with their fishing equipment.

Since most of us must make a living we can't always get on the water every time we would like to. Also most of the fishing we do is in the daytime.

You can dry cast anytime.

But you can practice casting anytime — day or night. Some of it you can do in the house. That is if the Mrs. will let you get by with it.

In addition to getting acquainted with your tackle — getting the feel of it and knowing just what it will do — your can develop accuracy that will save many a plug for you.

There isn't a fisherman who hasn't at one time or another hung a plug in the top of a tree. But the man who spends a few hours' practice casting is less likely to spend his fishing time climbing trees.

Tree hanging also is an excellent way to break a rod.

A fisherman I know was in the boat with a companion who had a brand new rod. He made a cast with his buddy's rod. But something slipped . . . and the lure dangled from the top limb of a pecan tree.

Instead of pulling on the line and breaking it, he gave about three yanks with the rod and it snapped . . . much to his chagrin and expense.

Later on his comrade hung his plug in a tree in much the same manner. He put his rod down on the cowl of the boat, intending to pull on the line. Just then a fast boat passed. Its wake rocked his boat and the rod went into the water. So there he was . . . his rod in the water and his plug in a tree. It can happen to anyone! In fact, it has happened to nearly everyone.

Recently one of the best fishermen I know was out after trout in Laguna Madre. He was sitting in the front of the boat, looking back. A trout hit and took out for deep water in front of the boat. My friend tried to stop the run with his rod without turning around. It bent and then snapped at the ferrule.

Learn The Right Way.

While backyard casting will not eliminate all the hazards of fishing, it will give you certain practice in handling the equipment which will pay off.

In the first place you need to start out right. If you are not sure, of the correct hold, you can find illustrations in most fishing publications or the little booklets that accompany your rod and reel. Study these instructions first. Then follow them. They were prepared by men who really know.

After you learn to cast right, then you can begin deviation for convenience.

Learn to cast with a flip of the wrist. Most rods today have plenty of quality built into them. Used properly, they will throw a plug as far as you need to, without the necessity of your giving it a push with your body.

Dry casting can stop or prevent you from being a sidewinder—one who holds the rod out to one side and swings the whole arm and sometime the whole body. That is a dangerous fisherman to be around. There just isn't room in a boat for two of this kind.

Wrist Action Important.

Practice over and over the art of using your wrist to develop rod action. If too many years of the wrong type of casting make it almost impossible for your casting arm to quit working, try casting with the other arm.

One man used a short steel rod for many years, with heavy line and a slow reel. This caused him to cast with his body. No one ever was able to teach him otherwise.

Then someone suggested he try left-handed casting. Much to his amazement it worked from the start. Now he is a proficient left-handed caster. He learned to do it the right way by practicing in the backyard.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS From State Capitol

Austin, Texas — Gov. John Connally says Texas is making a lot of progress on civil rights without demonstrations and disturbances. He urged Texans to avoid the trouble which is plaguing other states.

Roy Evans, secretary of Texas AFL-CIO, indicated mass demonstrations are needed in Lower Rio Grande Valley to improve working conditions of Mexican workers. Connally commented such statements are irresponsible and inflammatory.

Governor also rejected labor's appeal for a special session of the Legislature to abolish right-to-work law and enact state minimum wage, saying he saw "no need, emergency or desirability" for such a session.

Evans said labor's traditional role is to try to inflame people against injustice, and he intends to keep on trying to do that.

Loans — Frank Miskell of Austin, who headed up the Texas Legislature's studies on the loan shark problem, will be the administrator of the new law which regulates licensed lenders.

Miskell was chosen by the State Finance Commission to be the first Regulatory Loan Commissioner. He will assume his new duties on August 23.

Dry and Wet — Texas is spotted with drought and flood points.

Texas Water Commission found that reservoirs declined a little in June. They wound up the month 76 per cent full, so there's room to store more floods when and if they come.

In general, Northeast Texas reservoirs are full, while those in South Texas are shrinking.

Roads — Highway construction is one thing dry weather helps.

State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer reported that contractors on state-federal projects completed $24,073,319 worth of work during June.

But there's plenty yet to do. They hold contracts which total $382,872,803 and another $25,000,000 worth of contracts will be issued this week.

the idea of building "median rails" on busy urban expressways.

Rails—heavy-duty fences which keep traffic from careening into opposite lanes — have been or will be installed on expressways around Houston, Fort Worth and Austin.

Also under development by highway engineers is a woven-wire mesh fence — similar to backyard chain-link jobs — to reduce headlight glare and to prevent pedestrians from crossing the freeways.

Oil Holds Up — Despite recommendations by several major oil buying firms that Texas production but cut in August, the Railroad Commission held the line.

Production will continue at the July rate of 28.5% of capability of the wells. Independents praised the action.

PIERCE MILLER IN RESERVE TRAINING

Fort Sill, Okla. — Army Reserve Pvt. Eugene Pierce Miller son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller, Ozona Texas, completed a fire direction specialist course under the Reserve Forces Act program at the Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Okla., late in June.

During the course, Miller received instruction in the operation of equipment used to train artillery fire upon a given target.

Miller, 21, is a 1960 graduate of Ozona High School and attended the University of Texas, Austin.

... has been spent construction in our service area.

Even today, $28,000,000 is a lot of money. But a survey shows that this vast amount has been spent recently for construction of new industrial plants in our service area, and for expansion of existing ones.

The figure is evidence of two things. One is that our service area is becoming more and more industrialized. The other is that when we say "The Center of the Southwest" is one of the Nation's fastest growing regions, we have the facts to back it up.

The industrial figure is one fact. The commercial and civic improvement figures are others. Day by day we become more and more convinced that this region faces growth unlimited.

... more proof that the Center of the Southwest is one of the Nation's

drowsy afternoon

It is good to lie down on the grass and look up into the sky. Your mind starts to wander — the way it always does when you take the time really to look at it. The heaven is so immense that you can't find a word big enough for it. Those thunderheads, building up in the west — they are so huge that they dwarf the work of man into total insignificance.

The stars are still up there too. We can't see them in the daytime and always this seems strange. But they are just as much there as they are at night — and you don't have to see them to know it.

You don't have to see God either, to know that He's there — though some people seem to feel it's something that has to be proved. They couldn't be more wrong. God's evidence is everywhere. Just walk into a church on Sunday and sit down and listen awhile, and then you will know for sure.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are:

(1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Crockett County voters are manifesting but little interest in the coming Democratic primary election to be held Saturday of this week and one of the highest votes in many years is expected here. Miss Gloria June Loudamy Is Bride Of Airman Meadows in Ceremony Here Sun.

A double ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Ozona Sunday afternoon July 21, at 4 p. m. united in marriage Miss Gloria June Loudamy and A-2C Clarence Eugene Meadows with the pastor Rev. Max Brown officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Loudamy and the parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Almond of Richard, Virginia.

For the ceremony, the Church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and magnolia and English ivy.

Mrs. Robert Lance, organist, played the traditional wedding music and also accompanied Mrs. Max Brown who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a ballerina length dress of nylon chiffon over taffeta with a shirred midriff and full skirt, with a lace bolero forming points at the waist and buttoned at the back with elbow length sleeves.

For something borrowed, the bride wore a shoulder length veil belonging to Mrs. Roy Darley of Paris, France. She carried a white Bible, a gift of the groom's mother, covered with tulle and centered with white phalanopsis orchids and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a brooch which belonged to her maternal great grandmother.

Mrs. Burl Sparks, the bride's cousin, was matron of honor and Burl Sparks was best man.

Ushers were Ross Eugene Clouse and Eric Eugene Van Westen, both of Ozona Air Force Station.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

Miss Celia Houston served cake and Miss Patricia Allen poured punch. Miss Janie Beth Everett registered wedding guests. Also in the wedding party were Miss Lana Kaye Alford and Miss Linda Parker.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Virginia the bride wore a navy blue two-piece suit, with matching open crown pillbox hat and back patent accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

After August 15, the bride and groom will make their home in Sweetwater, Texas, where Airman Meadows will be stationed with the Air Force.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Myrtle Churchwell, grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Ruby Van Zant, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Whitfield and sons, Curtis and Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. McKay, daughters Barbara and Linda, and son Ronnie, all of San Angelo, Miss Linda Parker of Brady and Mrs. Billy Farmer and Bryan of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Loudamy, aunt and uncle of the bride, were hosts for the rehearsal fete at their home Friday night.

Gloria Loudamy Is Honored At Shower

Miss Gloria Loudamy, bride-elect of A2-C Gene Meadows was honored at a miscellaneous shower in the home of Miss Patricia Allen Wednesday, July 17.

Small wedding bells with the name of each guest served as favors. The gift table featured a centerpiece of a miniature bride and groom, circled by a floral arrangement in the bride's chosen colors of pale blue and white.

Those attending besides the honoree were her mother, Mrs. George Loudamy, Mmes. Bud Loudamy, George Glynn and Monroe Allen, Misses Dolores Allen and Susie Easterwood, and members of the Ozona High School sophomore class, Patricia Allen, the hostess, Fannie Everett, Nancy Deland, Lynn Cox, Jacques Meadows, Celia Houston, and Linda Parker, a former classmate, now of Brady.

Congressman ED FOREMAN Reports

Courting Controversy

Periodically there comes before Congress a bill designed to repeal the Connally Amendment. This is a reservation which was added to the Senate's approval of the United Nations' International Court of Justice, commonly known as the World Court.

The words say simply: "As determined by the United States." This means the U. S. maintains its prerogative of withholding matters affecting U. S. sovereignty from World Court jurisdiction. Chief Justice Earl Warren has recently suggested that the Connally Amendment be scrapped. The effect would be to allow 15 judges elected by the UN General Assembly and Security Council to make decisions which would be binding on the U. S. They could force the U. S. to be defendant against all kinds of charges brought by other Nations.

While such a court may be an idealistic, highly desirable goal for the future, there are great many "emerging" Nations today which are internationally immature, but which nevertheless have a full U. N. vote. The Reds control too many of these votes for us to turn our international fate over to a World Court with teeth.

Trial Balloon?

The Washington Post, strongly pro-Administration, today, has a unique solution to the Cuban travel problem. Said the Post: There is a simple sovereign cure to the difficulties over unauthorized travel to Cuba. The remedy is to authorize it." Could the State Department have planted this "suggestion" which would in effect give Castro recognition and "formalize" relationships with Communist Cuba? This formula could be used to do away with crime, too — just legalize it, and, presto! Crime is gone.

Blame it on Congress

Suddenly aware that the civil rights problem has become a runaway, Bobby Kennedy sought artfully to throw the burden on Congress. When the Administration's vague bill ran into specific questions of whether every business, large or small, would have to cater to anyone that demanded service, Bobby said: "Congress clearly has the authority under the Constitution to confer such a right." He said the courts have never held there is such a right. He is seeking to have Congress carry the onus of depriving businesses of the right of selection of clientele, then can appear as the crusader for civil rights enforcement. Such action could be done now, but would stir up political ramifications. The Executive doesn't want to act, and risk a ballot backfire.

The words from the song, Oh What A Beautiful Morning, from the musical "Oklahoma," inspired this picture taken at Six Flags Over Texas. At Fort St. Louis in the French section of the famous family fun land midway between Fort Worth and Dallas, corn and vegetables are grown just as were cultivated in the early days to feed the inhabitants. Now the corn—not the stalks—is as high as an elephant's eye, but baby elephant Sis Flagg and Hostess Mona Freeman are somewhat skeptical as to whether the Texas corn will "climb clear up to the sky," as it does in the famous song from the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein show, "Oklahoma."

Conservative Stand Of Congressman Foreman Draws Praise of A C A

Washington, D. C. — Representative Ed Foreman of the 16th Congressional District of Texas was given a 100% rating for his voting record during the first six months of the 88th Congress by Americans for Constitutional Action.

According to ACA, Congressman Foreman has voted consistently for Sound Money, for Local Self-Government and for a Private, Competitive Market.

These scores are unofficial and have been calculated from the votes contained in ACA's Congressional Record Digest and Tally. The official ratings will not be compiled until Congress adjourns for the First Session and will be published for the ACA-IN-DEX 1963.

Ten House votes on issues, which in ACA's opinion have a bearing upon safeguarding the God-given dignity of the individual and promoting sound economic growth by strengthening constitutional government, are included in this preliminary evaluation. Such issues as Expansion of Rules Committee, Public Works Acceleration, Feed Grains Program, Increasing the Debt Limit, and an Additional $455,500,000 for Area Redevelopment Act were used in the analysis.

Americans for Constitutional Action is a nonpartisan political organization which recently honored 154 Republican and Democratic Members of the United States Congress for their notable voting records in support of legislative measures which serve to sustain, strengthen, and defend the spirit and principles of the Constitution of the United States as these were defined by the founding fathers of our Republic.

Jim Carpenter Named Wagon Boss for Annual Boys Ranch Roundup

James Carpenter, has been named a "wagon boss" for the fourth annual West Texas Boys Ranch Roundup July 22 to August 3.

This means he is to be busy from now through the Roundup, persuading local stockmen to donate livestock which can be sold for the Ranch.

A number of West Texas auction and commission firms are donating their sales services for the Ranch's benefit. A stockman may take donated animals to any one of these firms. There it will be sold without sale fee and all proceeds remitted to the boys home near Tankersley.

The Ranch currently has 80 boys in its care, 64 of them in actual residence on the Ranch and 16 placed in foster homes and work homes under its supervision. The Ranch has become famous in this area as a home for "hard-luck" boys, most of them from broker homes, or no homes at all.

The Ranch is financed entirely by free-will offerings of West Texas. It receives no tax support.

J. R. Canning of Eden and Harvey Hartgrove of San Angelo and Paint Rock are chairmen of the drive this year. The Roundup is being concentrated into a two-week period.

The Roundup has furnished as much as 1-6 of the Ranch's total annual budget. This means the stockmen's donations of unwanted animals have supported more than 60 boys for two months.

Livestock Producers Urged To Spray Stock To Aid In Fly Control

To protect their $3 million investment in the screwworm eradication program, stockmen are encouraged to prevent further worm infestations by spraying their animals on a regular basis, says a new leaflet of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Spray and Protect Your Investment" explains that the success of the eradication program in the Southwest depends greatly on the cooperation and assistance of the livestock producers and others who contributed mightily to it. It further says that producers can also help their own cause by avoiding the movement of infested animals and by reporting all suspected infestations immediately.

Sprays recommended by the publication are Co-Ral and Korlan. Wetting the animal thoroughly, with from one to four quarts depending on their size, will prevent the development of screwworm cases. Screwworm flies must have fresh or bloody wounds in which to lay their eggs and untreated scratches or wounds of any type are open invitations to the pests.

The cost of a single application of insecticide is about 10 to 40 cents per animal, depending on size. But the producer gets more than screwworm protection by the use of these sprays, says the leaflet. They will control horn flies, ticks and lice, and decrease the numbers of stable flies, house flies and other external pests. A regular spray program will also reduce anaplasmosis and pinkeye problems by eliminating the insects which spread and irritate the conditions.

As most producers agree, spraying livestock pays dividends, not to mention the protection it gives their large investment in the screwworm program. For a copy of L-603 see your county agricultural agent or write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.
