

WELLINGTON LEADER

For Seventeen Years a Builder in Collingsworth County

Another one of Wellington's needs is more sidewalks and lights for the residential district.

Rambles Over the County

J. W. L. COOK
The Leader's Rambling Editor

No wonder Mr. Bourland is building him a new house. The new house will be a four room bungalow style with a basement, stuccoed walls and up to date. Mr. Morris has been in this county 17 years coming here from Ellis County, where he was born and raised. Mr. Morris has as good a crop as one could wish for, both cotton and feed are fine. He says he has 40 acres of feed on another place down the river from his home that is extra fine.

Our next visit was to the home of Ben Farmer, who lives about six miles north of Quail. We did not find Mr. Farmer at home but had a short visit with his better half. We found that Mr. Farmer had a good crop. He is on a good well improve place and has good land. Mr. Farmer, not putting in an appearance, we flattered on east to the home of C. R. Breeding.

Mr. Breeding lives 21 miles northwest of Wellington. He is a native of Tennessee, has lived in Texas 36 years and has lived in several different counties. He came to this county 15 years ago from Fisker county. Mr. Breeding has a good house. He owns 160 acres of land of which he is cultivating, 115 acres in cotton and feed. Mr. Breeding is rather an old man, but is doing all his farm work himself. Says he has a fine crop and is almost done cultivating. We spent the night with this hospitable old couple. We had previously had a pressing invitation to visit them and had promised to stay the night with them when we came in that community. We enjoyed our visit and left with an invitation to return which we will do, as we have always felt at home in the Breeding home.

We spent a short time with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown who live one mile east of Marella. Mr. Brown was out in the field fighting old Colonel Green. He has a fine crop of cotton, especially his earliest cotton. He had the misfortune to get a large per cent of his crop blown out which had to be replanted, or planted over—but it is doing fine. Mr. Brown has lived in this county off and on for twenty years. He has tried some new locations but has always returned to Collingsworth. It seems that quite a lot of people in this county, after being here a few years and getting a good start by making good crops, get it into their heads that it is better farther on—but in a few years we find them back wanting to get another start. Alright fellows, come on back—we will give you the glad hand. Mr. Brown was born in Oklahoma, in what was then known as the Chickasaw nation, near Hev! ton.

Our next stop was at the home of C. B. (Carl) Vernon, who lives on the Ed Childress place. Carl is a young man just starting out as a homemaker. He and his girl wife were busy in the garden preparing a plot for turnips. We could only see a part of Carl's crop, but what we saw was all good, both feed and cotton. Carl has been almost raised in this county, he has been here over 10 years. He was born in Lamar county, near Parris. They have a good home and good land to cultivate and seem to be happy.

FUSON-ALEXANDER BUILDINGS FINISHED

J. M. Fuson and R. S. Alexander announce the completion of their twin brick and tile buildings on Barton Street north of the square.

Mr. Fuson owns the building on the south and will use it in connection with his poultry business. Mr. Alexander owns the building on the north and plans to operate a fruit market in the fall in a part of the building and the remainder will be rented.

SHERIFF MCKINNEY STILL IMPROVING

Sheriff Claude McKinney has been ill for the past month or more due to bladder trouble, but the latest reports are that he is steadily improving. Sheriff McKinney was recently removed to a hospital in Fort Worth where it was thought it would be necessary to operate, but no operations were made and he was brought back to Wellington. He has been confined to his bed as yet, but his condition is not held as serious.

OLD SETTLER RETURNS FOR VISIT WITH FRIENDS

J. R. Brewer of Abernathy, Texas, is in Wellington visiting his son, Author and friends in this section. Mr. Brewer is an old timer in this county having lived here since 1888 until six years ago when he removed to Hale county. He reports good crops in that county.

Soon the boys will start to college and the fathers will get the education.

NUMBER 6

COUNTY TAX RATE IS NOT INCREASED

Commissioners Court Makes Rate For Coming Year Same As Last Year

The last important work to be taken up and disposed of by the County Commissioners Court was the tax rate for the coming year, which they placed at the same as last year, 90 cents on the $100 valuation.

A small increase in revenues will be realized, however, from the increased valuations, which amounted to between $700,000 and $800,000, making the total valuations approximately $6,250,000 for this year. Men who are acquainted with county affairs predict that the valuation of property in Collingsworth County will be gradually increased until this county is taken off the black list, which means that the valuations will have to reach about $10,000,000 at the present rate. County Judge R. H. Templeton states that the finances of the county are going to be much better this year than they have been in the past in spite of the extensive road building campaign that has been maintained during the year.

WELLINGTON HAS ANOTHER RAIN SUNDAY

Crops Need Sunshine And Dry Weather For Several Days, Says Farmer

Wellington and immediate vicinity received another good ground soaker Saturday night and Sunday morning. The rainfall for those days was approximately six tenths of an inch.

It was another ideal rain, falling slowly and soaking directly into the ground. The extent of the rain is not known, but it didn't extend but a few miles north and west. The rain fell so slowly that it appeared to be a general rain, but reports from various sections of the county show it to be spotted, which has been characteristic of all of the rains of this season.

Agricultural prospects for the county are unusually promising, but some sections will not make as large a crop as usual. This is especially true of the region southeast of Wellington toward Dodsonville. Crops in this area will be only fair, while the rest of the county is due for a bumper crop.

The sunshine of the last two days is what the county needs now to make both cotton and feed crops. Farmers and merchants alike are enthused over prospects for the fall harvest.

At the Baptist Hospital Today

N. E. Feemster of Wellington was operated on Tuesday night for appendicitis. He is reported to be improving.

A. Parker of Plymouth underwent an operation Wednesday afternoon for appendicitis.

Mrs. W. G. Hite underwent an abdominal operation Wednesday night. Miss Wynn of the hospital states that Mrs. Hite is now out of danger, although her condition for a time was quite serious.

Miss Verna Reynolds of Mangum is here nursing Mrs. Hite, who is her aunt.

Tip Mooney, Jr., was operated on last week for an abscess of the eye.

John Bowen had his appendix removed Wednesday night. He is improving nicely.

Miss Edith Gatlin of Olustee, Oklahoma, is at the hospital nursing John Bowen.

Miss Marie Bragg was able to leave the hospital Tuesday. She is recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Addie Bailey, colored, and baby that was born by the Caesarian section, left the hospital and returned home Wednesday.

Returns From Mississippi

E. A. Wels returned last Friday from Mississippi where he went to visit his mother and other relatives. He says that the cotton crop in the states he passed through was very good.

NAZARENE REVIVAL IS CLOSED

Rev. Gaines States That Two Weeks Meeting Is Successful

L. L. Gaines, pastor of the Nazarene Church, announces the closing of the revival that has been conducted for the past two weeks by Rev. J. W. Hipp in the tabernacle at the local Nazarene Church.

Rev. Gaines states that twenty-five professions were received and eleven additions were made to the church. He declares himself thoroughly satisfied with the revival in every way. F. A. Powell, who has conducted the singing for the revival, is returning to New Mexico. Rev. Gaines states that although he is not a great singer, his work here has been efficient and enjoyable.

The revival was interfered with only slightly by the rains that have been received during the past two weeks, and Reverend Gaines states that interest was kept up during the entire two weeks.

F. O. Masten and Wife Competing for Cotton Contest Prize This Year

By J. W. L. Cook

In our Rambles over the county since the first of last March, we stopped two different times at the F. O. Masten home, each time we failed to find anyone at home—so on the 7th of August we made our third trial and failed again to find Mr. Masten, but we found his life partner, and a real partner she is. Mrs. Masten got aboard our little car and conducted Mrs. Cook and I over the farm. In our interview, we learned that Mr. F. O. Masten was a native in Montague County. Now some of you laugh. There are so many people in this county that came from Montague that it has gotten to be a joke when one says he was from old Montague.

The writer was sentenced to serve twenty years in Montague, but was let off one year—we lived there nineteen years. Now I am going to say a few things about that old county. Montague has turned out some real smart men, men from nearly all the professions. She has sent out some fine lawyers, some that have been of great service to the county. John H. Stevens lived a good part of his life in Montague. He stepped up the ladder until he became a U. S. Congressman. Judge S. P. Huff also, we might say, commenced his career in Montague. Senator A. L. Matlock was another Montague man and several others of this line. She has sent out teachers, preachers and last but not least—farmers. Mr. Masten is a farmer, a practical farmer. If you have any doubts about it visit the F. O. Masten farm two miles east of Wellington. Mr. Masten's home place consists of 212 acres of land. His farm is almost perfectly level and is of a dark sandy nature, and is what is known as subirrigated land. It is only three or four feet to water. Their house stands in a beautiful grove of trees, it is a six room house, but in good repair. They have good farm buildings, a nice orchard, and is in fact, a beautiful home, but this is not the real attraction about the Masten home. The growing crops are the main thing that is drawing a crowd nearly every day to look over the place. Mr. Masten has about 110 acres of cotton on his farm, all of which is fine, but the most interesting crop on the place is a plot or really two plots of ground that is being worked under the rules of the Dallas Morning News and the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News in a prize contest. Mr. Masten has five acres entered in this contest, also Mrs. Masten has five acres. Mrs. Masten guided us first to her piece of contest cotton. This particular piece of cotton is worth any one's time to see. It will average hip high, some of it is over waist high while some will not reach to hip high. It is of the Acala variety and is as full of forms, blooms and bolls as it can possibly hold. It is in fine condition and is growing fast. After looking over the plot belonging to Mrs. Masten, we went to the plot worked by Mr. Masten.

Mr. Masten's cotton crop is of the half and half variety. It is about waist high and is as pretty a sight

Heads State Fair Swine Breeders

A. L. WARD

A. L. Ward, swine husbandman at A. & M. College, will be in charge of the swine division at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, October, 10-24. Mr. Ward declares that the keenest interest has been manifested by breeders all over the state, and that he expects the most creditable showing at the 1925 State Fair that Texas has ever known.

MEETING AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

Minister L. E. Carpenter Will Conduct Services At Meeting

The Gospel Meeting at the Church of Christ will start Wednesday, August 19, at the Church building in Wellington. Minister Ira L. Sanders announces that Minister L. E. Carpenter has been secured to do the preaching for these meetings. Minister Carpenter has been here before, and is noted for his eloquent and forceful sermons. He will be assisted in the meeting by B. R. Bassell who recently conducted a singing school in Wellington who will lead the song services. The Church extends a special invitation to all who may be interested to attend these services. Don't forget the time. Come and enjoy the services.

GRADING ON CITY STREETS IS STARTED

Council Says Approximately Fifteen Miles Will Be Graded In City

Grading work on the city streets will begin immediately, according to Councilman J. M. Shields, who states that the work has been delayed several months longer than it should have been, but that it is now going forward.

Mr. Shields was placed directly in charge of the grading of the city's streets that have become almost impassable in some places during the past three months. He states that there is abundant moisture for the work and about fifteen miles of street will be graded, which will require about $500.

It is understood that the county commissioners may help the city in the grading of some of its streets, by allowing the city the use of the county tractor and grader, but no definite action has been taken by the commissioners as yet.

There has been not a little complaint from citizens against the condition of the city's streets, but the council has not been able to recommend grading for the past three months. Mr. Shields states that the principal streets will be graded and put in condition so that the water might run along the sides of the streets rather than down the centers of them.

DELIVERY CAR IS WRECKED ON FRANK STREET SATURDAY

Glenn Brickey, who is employed at the B. & M. Grocery, wrecked the delivery car of that store Saturday afternoon when he collided with a gasoline pump in front of the Ball Filling Station in the west part of the business district.

Lloyd Ball was backing out of the station when Brickey, who was driving west on Frank Street, dodged behind him and struck the pump. The car was wrecked, but Brickey was uninjured.

FARMERS FIND PEA CROP ASSISTS IN RAISING FEEDSTUFF

Cecil Coe says that much of the feed stuff in the flats which was badly scorched, will come out and make good feed. Mr. Coe, Joe Baumgardner and a few other farmers in that community planted peas in between their maize, and their crops will probably produce a third more feed than their neighbors who planted every row solid in feed. Besides the extra amount of feed this method also improves the land.

WELLINGTON GOLFERS BEATEN BY SHAMROCK

The Wellington Golf Club went down in defeat last Sunday at the hands of the golfers from Shamrock. J. A. Hilburn and Judge C. C. Small were the only two Wellington players who defeated their men. Those who played for Shamrock were Staggs, Exum, Nicholson, Forgy and Staggs, while C. C. Small, Pink Sullivan, Gene Lewis, C. J. Baker, and J. A. Hilburn played for Wellington.

POSITIONS OF TEACHERS ANNOUNCED

L. T. Green Gives Statement On Work Of Wellington Public Schools

L. T. Green, superintendent of the Wellington Public Schools, gave out an announcement Monday concerning the various positions that the teachers would fill. His report follows:

Wellington High School secured 2 1-2 units of affiliation during the school term of 1924 and 25, one in Biology and 1 1-2 in Home Economics.

This makes a total of 19 1-2 units of affiliation for the Wellington schools. We expect to secure 3 more units this coming session, one in Chemistry and 2 in Home Economics. There are only 99 other schools in Texas ranking as high and higher than the schools of Wellington. With the work we expect to get accredited this year the school will be as good as any other school in Texas.

The date set for the opening of school is September 7th. The first week will be devoted to Institute work at Canyon, Texas. The teaching force will be organized while there in Institute and the regular school work will begin the following Monday, Sept. 14th. It is the desire of the School Board to have an opening program at the High School building in order that the teachers and patrons might get better acquainted and create a co-operative feeling from the start. Prospects were never brighter for a very successful school this year. We crave your sympathy and good wishes through out the year mostly for the benefit of your boys and girls.

The compulsory term of schooling will begin the first Monday in December. We are going to enforce that feature of education more strictly this year than ever. We wish to thank the officers of the county for the fine support they have given the school in the past.

Pupils who have been transferred into the Wellington district and do not make this their home will be allowed five months free schooling. They will then be charged a reasonable rate of tuition, $4.00 for high school, and $3.00 for the grammar and primary schools. This matter has been in litigation, but as it has not been settled, the State Supt. S. M. N. Marrs has ruled that school boards shall collect this tuition this year. Non-scholastics from other communities will have to pay tuition for the full term. The object of all this is to help the local taxpayers maintain a standard school system.

The following high school faculty has been elected: L. T. Green, math; W. M. Boston, Math; Mrs. Oleah Leggett, Latin and Economics; Miss Doris Leggett, English and History; Miss Lillian Steelman, History; Miss Alice Cook, Home Economics; Miss Vera Calthorn, Spanish and Algebra; Miss Ennis Hicks, English and Miss Catharine Whiteley, Science.

Faculty for East Side Building is as follows: Miss Zeffie Childress, Principal, J. T. Nabors, Miss Bessie Ford, Miss Delia Cowan, Miss Effie Rankin, Miss John Hughes, Miss Margaret Campbell, Mrs. Emmet Foster and Miss Floy Farrar.

Faculty for West Side School are: Miss Effie Childress, Principal, Miss Ellen Smith, Miss Wilma Borgan, Mrs. L. T. Green, Mrs. Barton, Miss Faye Moreman, Miss Norma Cook, Miss Grace Jones and Mrs. Marit Wilks, unders.

In the special departments the instructors are: Miss Myrtle Mims, Piano; Mrs. Aubrey Dobbs, Violin and the Expression teacher is yet to be secured.

GRANDMA SIMPSON WILL NOT GIVE UP LITTLE ORPHANS

Little Essie Lee and Jessie Mae Barton may not get to take advantage of the opportunity offered them by the multi-millionaire, B. N. Duke, who recently sent them a check for $1000.

Grandma Simpson, who has cared for the children for the past two years declares that she will not give the children up. Duke suggested that the children be sent to one of the orphanage homes that he is supporting in North Carolina, but Grandma Simpson states that she has become so much attached to the children that she will not be separated from them.

County Judge R. H. Templeton, who has taken quite an interest in the welfare of the children, states that Grandma Simpson will be allowed to keep the children.

WELLINGTON IS BIGGEST COTTON TOWN

Special Writer Boosts Collingsworth As A Cotton County

Max Bentley, special writer for the Fort Worth Star Telegram, gives the following information about Collingsworth County in a story in Sunday's issue of the Star Telegram.

King Cotton securely claims as his own the country he passes over. Where Hemphill County, immediately north of Wheeler, has one gin and a few hundred bales, Collingsworth County, immediately south, has 13 gins. And that number is not enough to handle the crop, for last year Collingsworth's ginnings were 42,700 bales. Wellington, the county seat, with 10 gins, was probably the leading town of all West Texas in point of town ginnings—32,000 bales was the figure it set. Can you think of any other West Texas town of anywhere near Wellington's size with such a record of ginnings? There were 110,000 acres planted to cotton in Collingsworth County last year, and this year's acreage shows a 20 per cent increase. The production of 1924 was almost double that of 1923.

All of which is reflected in Wellington's growth. A $60,000 hotel is under construction, and a $25,000 Methodist church, a $25,000 compress, five one-story brick business houses and one two-story house, and fifteen dwellings. Eight brick business houses have been completed since the first of the year. On top of that record, the town itself is spending $50,000 in enlargements on its water plant.

ADENOIDS

THE number of children afflicted with this disease is so great that I have no doubt the question is often asked by anxious mothers: "Is there any child that is free from them?"

Yes, there are those who haven't got them, and others who have very little trouble from them and who will get over them if they are properly brought up and have good food and good surroundings.

But other children are so handicapped by them and made so ill, that their removal is the only proper course, and this may be very easily done in most cases.

What are adenoids?
The mucous membrane of the throat and nose normally contains what is called "lymphoid tissue," which means tissue resembling lymph glands and lymph tubes.

When this is increased and forms lumps which project into the nostrils or the cavity of the throat, such lumps are called adenoids.

They may be no larger than a pea, or they may be of greater size and in bunches, like small grapes.

The larger they are, the more they will obstruct the air passage in the nose and throat, one who has them being compelled to breathe through his mouth instead of his nose, as he ought to.

The result will be that the mucous membrane will constantly be dry; dust and germs will find easy entrance to the mouth; and the development of the child thus afflicted will be hindered.

Nobody has any monopoly of adenoids; they occur at all ages, to the infant and the old man or woman, but they are most common and troublesome in children from eight to twelve.

In children, they are soft; they absorb poisons readily and furnish an excellent medium for the culture and development of disease germs. In adults, they are harder, and bacteria cannot grow so readily upon them.

Remember that children suffer most frequently from infectious diseases, and then you can understand how easy it is to catch them by means of adenoids and through the constantly open mouth.

When a baby has adenoids, he cannot breathe freely and has to stop nursing, frequently, in order to catch his breath.

So it often happens that such babies do not get air enough and their blood is not properly aerated.

Very likely they do not get food enough, either—hence their digestion suffers, their sleep is disturbed, and their entire nutrition is affected.

Older children with adenoids are also unable to breathe properly while eating; their food is not thoroughly masticated and they, too, will suffer with imperfect digestion and poor nutrition.

Waking and sleeping, they are mouth breathers. They snore, they have bad dreams, and they have no control over the bladder.

Frequently there is a nasal catarrh, in such cases, the discharge running down upon the lips and into the throat and stomach; the appetite disappears, and anybody can see that the children are unhealthy and in bad condition.

INTERNATIONAL SYSTEM LONE STAR PORTLAND CEMENT

For Tallest Concrete Building in the World

In the construction of the tallest reinforced concrete building in the world—the Medical Arts Building in Dallas—LONE STAR Cement was used. Every barrel of LONE STAR Cement used on this job was tested and retested.

This is just one of the very many large engineering developments in Texas built with LONE STAR Cement.

The Galveston Causeway and the new $5,000,000 Santa Fe Building and Terminal development in Dallas are but two of the many well known projects into which LONE STAR Cement entered. During the past five years over 1,000,000 barrels of LONE STAR Cement have gone into Texas highways and another 1,000,000 barrels into Texas street paving.

That discriminating architects, engineers and contractors specify LONE STAR Cement for their jobs is not surprising, for this cement exceeds U. S. Standard Specifications by over 50%.

20 years' experience in cement making, combined with many years of painstaking research, has resulted in the perfection of the International Wet-Blending Process. Under this system, the chemist and superintendent can always come within 1/10 of 1% of the quality at which they aim.

Yet LONE STAR costs no more.

It has our unqualified endorsement.

Texas' Press is School for 5,000,000 People; Editors are Teachers

These Teachers Should Be Trained!

Phebe K. Warner

The Texas Press.

Three facts worth remembering: There are approximately 1200 different newspapers printed and published in Texas every week. 400 of these publications are daily papers. 800 are weekly papers. Besides these newspapers there are published every month many different magazines. And on top of all this reading matter thousands and millions of bulletins and other forms of information are scattered broadcast throughout the State almost every day. For all of which the people of Texas pay the modest sum of $40,000,000.

Included in this $40,000,000 is the price of all printed matter. This is the sum total that the people of Texas pay into the print shops of the State. Some SUM! But you hear very little kick about it. The printing press is an independent, individual institution. It is a voluntarily supported institution. You do not have to take your home onthave frpub-in sh shr shrdl paper if you don't want to. You do not have to advertise your business if you don't want to. You do not have to have any wedding invitations. You can phone your friends. You can hang a sign over the door of your business and you can borrow your neighbor's paper. The Printing Press of Texas costs the people more than the State Government with the exception of the State and Federal funds spent on roads. But it is not supported by taxation. The fellow who owns it foots its bills and YOU foot his bills. That is the bills you make with him. And it is up to you to make that bill or not make it.

The Printing Press and the School.

What is the purpose of the Texas Press? If we would answer that question in a single word it would be EDUCATION. Some folks might say "SERVICE." But what is education but a form of service? To know or Not to Know. That is the question in this day. The universal motive of the Texas Press is to let the people know what is going on in Texas day by day and week by week. What is the purpose of the school? EDUCATION. To teach the people how to know things. To teach them how to read so that the daily paper will mean something to them. Without the school the Press could not be, nor would there be any reason for it. Both the Press and the school are merely supplemental factors of our national educational system. In Texas the School has more than a million pupils and it costs the people nearly $40,000,000 annually. The Texas Press should have almost 5,000,000 pupils and its costs the people $40,000,000. Both institutions are absolutely necessary to our civic life. Nor is it a question of which is the more important or the more essential to the balanced life of the people. There is only one question that presents itself for any argument at all. And that question is this: Do the people receive $80,000,000 worth of SERVICE annually from the Texas Press and the schools?

Value of a School

The value of any school whether it be a little one-room school by the side of the road, a great university, or the weekly home paper in the little home town, or a great national daily newspaper that broadcasts its education throughout the land by the rural mail route depends first of all on its one-room teacher, its university faculty, its home town editor or its entire editorial staff. That's simple, isn't it? The things to be taught and to be learned in our State are the same for us all, aren't they? Texas is just Texas the whole State over. And knowledge is the same everywhere. We even have the same text books in every school. Then why does one community have a good school and another community just up the same road a few miles have a poor school? Why does one town have a good paper and another town in just as large a place and just as good a county or city have a poor paper? That's simple, too, isn't it?

Does Training Pay?

Is it worth while to train a teacher for his or her work? Sure she needs plenty of good common sense. But even good common sense and ignorance clash sometimes. As a rule the more common sense a person has the greater appreciation they have for proper training for their special work. Training just naturally soaks in better where there are plenty of common sense pores. Yes, Texas is gradually coming to the day when no man or woman will be allowed to get their training for teaching by practicing on the innocent youth of the land. The day will come soon and God speed that day when our country children will not have their four and five months of school wrecked for the mere motive of training teachers for city schools. Teachers are employed by government and paid by forced taxation and for this reason the people have the right to demand equal service for equal compensation.

But how about the editor and the home paper and the Texas Press? Does the editor need any special training for his educational job? Should he be prepared in the very best methods of running his educational institution which is supposed to reach out and touch all the people? The only educational institution that is so organized that it carries the school to the people in their home instead of the children walking miles to it every day. No! No! The children go to school only a part of the year. But the Texas Press takes some kind of education out to the people every day and every week in the year.

SHOULD THERE BE A SCHOOL of JOURNALISM in TEXAS to Train men and women how to serve the people the very best way through the Press? Or is just any old way good enough for the 5,000,000 pupils that pay $40,000,000 every year in Texas for the knowledge gained through the Texas Press? Is the Texas Press all that it ought to be? Is it all that it can be? Or is it rather just what it happened to be without so much planning and designing and training for the high calling it represents?

I am prepared to make you quick loans with good terms. See me over First Nations Bank, Room 3. J. P. Pritchard. 22-1f.

INTENSE PAIN

Lady, Also Nervous and Weak, Relieved by Cardui.

"I was ill and had to stay in bed under treatment for about two weeks without any improvement in my condition, which was serious," says Mrs. J. T. Abercrombie, R. F. D. 7, Brookville, Ind.

"I had intense pain in my side. I was so nervous and weak and just out of heart."

"After taking one bottle of Cardui, I felt like getting up. My nerves seemed steadier and I didn't feel so weak. I kept up taking Cardui and was soon feeling like my old self."

"I am such a believer in Cardui until when I get nervous and weak I take it. I took it before my children were born. It strengthened me and helped my nerves."

"I took a cold and... my back felt so weak and I had such pulling pains. I took Cardui and didn't have any more trouble."

"I fell and broke my arm. The fall shook me up and made me very nervous. I told them Cardui would help that, and it did."

TIP MOONEY LEASES
200 ACRES OF LAND

Tip Mooney recently leased 200 acres of land to the Continental Oil Company for $200, receiving one dollar per acre.

Trading in oil leases is rather slow at this time, most of the holders of leases are waiting for developments in the different sections of the county. Oil well casings are being hauled out from Wellington almost daily, but no reports have reached here as to the progress being made.

CROSS ROADS

The crops are surely looking fine. We are still getting lots of nice showers which are making everything grow fast.

Quite a few of the Cross Roads folks have been attending the Nazarene meeting at Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Duke returned Friday from a prospecting trip out on the south plains. We understand they have bought a rooming house at Plainview which they will take possession some time in October. We regret seeing this good family leave.

The party at Mr. Hagan's last Friday night was well attended. Every one who was present reported a jolly good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Flood returned Sunday from Mangum where they have been visiting the latter's parents.

If any of you readers are not getting plenty to eat come to Cross Roads and get blackeyed peas, because Cross Roads is the home of blackeyed peas and watermelons and most every thing that is good to eat.

And Cross Roads has some good car drivers—if you don't believe it—just watch Clint Richard turn the corners as he goes to town. We think him perfect.

My Favorite Stories

The Kink in Mr. Jones

Mr. Jones was one of those nervous persons inclined to hypochondria. His imagination, from time to time, afflicted him with maladies which never really materialized. Nevertheless, his devoted wife continued to share his apprehensions at each fresh alarm.

One afternoon long before his usual hour for returning from business he fell into the house. His face was white as chalk, and in his eyes was a stricken look. He was bent forward. He tottered to a chair, and, still curled into a half-moon shape, dropped into it.

"Maria," he gasped, "it's come at last! I'll never be a well man again!"

"Merciful heavens!" she cried. "Henry, what has happened?"

"There was no warning," he said. "All of a sudden, awhile ago, I found I couldn't straighten up. I can't lift my head. I feel all drawn."

"Is there any pain?" she asked, fluttering about in her distress.

"No," he said, "there's no pain—that's what makes me think it must be paralysis. Run for the doctor!"

She ran. She returned in a few minutes, bringing with her the family physician. She ushered him into the room where the sufferer was and waited at the door, wringing her hands and dreading the worst.

Almost immediately the physician emerged. He had his face in his hands and his shoulders heaved and shook as though under the stress of an uncontrollable emotion.

"Oh, doctor," cried the agonized Mrs. Jones, "is there any hope for him?"

"Well, madam," he said, "it'll help a good deal if he'll unbutton the third button of his vest from the top button of his trousers."

Be There

The Entire Panhandle, eastern New Mexico and southern Oklahoma are asked to join hands to make the Tri-State Exposition of 1925 one that will go down in history as hard to match.

Reservations are already being sought and prizes are being offered, surpassing that of any preceeding year.

Only through the very best of exhibits can a profitable interchange of ideas and advertising be obtained. Collingsworth County should be represented.

The amusements alone make this fair worth attending.

WILDCATS WIN SUNDAY GAME

Wellington Gets Second Game With Dodsonville 8-3 On Home Ground

Wellington Wildcats beat the Dodsonville nine by a score of 8-3 Sunday afternoon on the local fair park grounds before a fairly good crowd of fans.

The game was somewhat slow on account of the heavy field, but the game was interesting throughout. Henry Cocke pitched and Jeff Harrison caught for the home team, but the name of the Dodsonville battery is not known.

"Doc" Dean is negotiating with Dodsonville for another game Sunday, to be played either here or in Dodsonville, but plans have not been completed. This win for the Wildcats puts the two teams tied for games. Dodsonville won the first by a score of 12-9, played at Dodsonville.

WORK ON BUILDING OF C. E. STONE & CO. HAS BEEN COMPLETED

O. B. Crawford, manager of the C. E. Stone & Co. store, says that the work on the building has been completed and that all of their work of remodeling will be finished by the latter part of this week. New show cases, tables and an entire new ready-to-wear department have been installed in this store. Mr. Crawford is looking forward to an excellent business this fall.

J. E. Blevins recently returned with his family from Clarendon where his children have been in school.

Ed Lofland and Buster Stokes of Memphis were business visitors in Wellington Tuesday.

A. S. Wood, well known carpenter here, states that there is more building than he can take care of. Says he works every day and sometimes overtime, but building continues.

District Judge R. L. Templeton and family returned last week-end from Tennessee where they have been visiting relatives for the past month. The Judge reports a good time while in Tennessee and other states.

R. L. Templeton: Had a fine trip on my vacation. Didn't try to take things in a hurry, and saw lots of pretty country. I don't believe the states we passed through on our way to Tennessee will make very good cotton crops.

Cecil Coe: There will be plenty of feed in Collingsworth County this fall. Some of the farmers in the flats have enough to last them two years, and most will make a fairly good crop this year since it has rained.

V. R. Jones: These cool days are mighty fine on an old man, and it looks like business will be extraordinary good this fall.

J. A. Hilburn: Residence lots are changing hands faster than they ever have before, and the town needs more residence houses.

R. V. McDavid: The croquet experts are getting so good it looks like we are going to be forced to have a tournament.

John Vaughn recently returned from a trip to the plains. He says he was five hours going few miles out in that section after the heavy rains.

S. E. Cole of Wheeler: Collingsworth County has splendid crops, but Wheeler is enjoying a banner year herself. Come up and visit us.

Owen Stover: It looks like there is going to be lots of business in Wellington this fall.

Ralph Royal says he's not lazy, but it's a known fact he sold the family milk cow to keep from having to milk her. You can draw your own conclusions.

New Fall Fashions

for men and for women

The first new styles in ladies dresses, men's suits, shirts and ties are here. We would like for you to see them. Whether you see fit to make a purchase or simply see what the new fashion season has brought forth, we cordially invite you to come and leisurely inspect them.

Early Fall Modes in Dresses

At the A. & W. you will see every correct model of assured favorite in styling, material, trim and color. New materials, new colors and new style tendencies herald the new season's dress modes. The straight line tailored mode plays an important role and many have flared skirts while collars adopt almost as many styles as there are styles in dresses. Our prices will prove of additional interest and will emphasize at the season's very beginning the advantages of buying here.

The Latest in Shirts and Ties

For some time we have been recognized for extra smart shirts and ties we carry in our stock, and our latest arrivals of the fall fashions will be found to correctly interpret what the well dressed men will wear. The ties which come with handkerchiefs to match are here in all the colors that are considered smart.

Men's Suits for Fall

The Fall styles in men's suits are here and you find them to be the same styles that they will wear in the larger cities this fall. The only difference, if any, is that you can buy them cheaper in Wellington, for we operate with less overhead than the leading department stores which sell our brands of merchandise in the cities. Come in and see these new fall suits and find out about the attractive prices.
