Hawkins' 'Violence' Comes To Muleshoe

'We, The People' Organizers Ask For Community Support

Nestled deep in the piney woods in East Texas is the small town of Hawkins, with a population of less than 1,350 people. A quiet little town, untouched by violence for many years, until 1986, when violent crime exploded in the county, in Hawkins.

Two Hawkins residents, Janie Wilson and Judy Wilbanks, were in Muleshoe this week to tell the story of Hawkins' violence and what "We The People," are trying to do about it.

They were guests at the Muleshoe Rotary Club Tuesday at noon to speak to Rotarians about "We, The People." They were also scheduled to speak to the Muleshoe Lions Club on Wednesday at noon, introduced by Muleshoe City Police Chief Les Irvin, who had heard them speak to a law enforcement group recently.

"We, The People" were formed and organized in Hawkins following a four-month violent spree in and around Hawkins between February and May of this year, explained Mrs. Wilson.

She told Rotarians that tiny Hawkins had no murders for years and years, until this year.

In February, 1987, a clerk in a convenience store was stabbed 38 times, and her throat cut three times, she said, during a mid-morning robbery of the store. A man apprehended for her murder received a death sentence last week. He had recently been paroled from the Texas Department of Corrections, she said.

Three weeks later, said Mrs. Wilson, at a shopping center five miles out of Hawkins, a young man was shot in the face, he did not die. The next morning, he was stabbed to death, then his body burned. Two men were apprehended, both were recent parolees from the TDC. Although they were not convicted at the time she was speaking, they had been indicted and were to stand trial for the murder.

But, it didn't end there, in May, three young people, ranging in age from 18 - 20, were abducted from a lake near Hawkins. The three Hawkins

3-Way Falls To Mustangs In Playoffs

Saturday afternoon, the Three Way Eagles took to the field at Lobo Stadium in Monahans to take on the Ft. Hancock Mustangs in quarterfinal football action.

Eagle Coach C.W. Williams said mistakes in the first half of the game cost the Three Way Eagles, and they never managed to overcome the deficit, although they fought back gamely in the second half.

Junior Quarterback Saul Guillen connected on a 'last-ditch' touchdown in the fourth that tied up the score at 46-46. However, the Ft. Hancock Mustangs were determined to be the winners and advance to semi-finals with 8-7 in penetrations.

Coach Williams said, "we fumbled on the second play for the Eagles on our own 10-yard line, and Ft. Hancock scored. Then it was 14-0 before we could realize it.

"A safety and a blocked punt also added to the mistakes for the Eagles."

Last year, the Eagles lost out in semi-final action in Weinert, who did not figure in playoff action this year.

"We are proud of the Three Way Eagles this year," added the coach, "and we are looking forward to the playoffs next year."

Congratulations to the Three Way Eagles for their excellent football action again this year!!

Graves Wins Grand Prize For Contest

Well -- this is it! The annual Merchant's football contest is over for this year -- except for the Bowl Game Contest, which will be in the Thursday, December 18 edition of The Muleshoe Journal.

Kay Graves, who won the first contest of the year has ended up the grand prize winner. She accumulated 22½ points for the contest year, and will be receiving a check in the amount of $100, compliments of The Muleshoe Journal, in conjunction with the merchants who sponsored the weekly contest.

Her closest opponent was Barry Lewis, who had a total of 20 points; and next in line were Keith Hicks and James Hanson, who each had 19 points.

Winner of the first place in the final weekly contest was 12-year-old Courtney Graves, daughter of the grand prize winner. Donna Noriega was second place winner. She missed four games. It was a little more difficult to decide the third place winner, and the tiebreaker scores had to be figured as several people missed five games.

Keith Hicks became the winner, when it was determined he was only 13 points wrong on the double tiebreaker; Donnie McDonald was 17 points away; James Hanson was 26 points off and John Graves was 28 points wrong.

A big 'thank you' to each and every person who entered the contest so faithfully this year -- and be sure to watch for the Bowl Game Contest this month.

One prize will be given in the Bowl Game Contest -- a $50 check to be presented after the final bowl game is played on January 1, 1987.

Bailey County Ambulance Toy Project

"In the true spirit of Christmas, the Bailey County Ambulance Service will be sponsoring a toy drive this year," said Richelle Watkins, director, Bailey County EMS.

Mrs. Watkins said that during the month of December, and up to December 23, toys, new, used in good condition, and handcrafted toys are being sought for children of Bailey County who will not be having a Christmas otherwise.

Toys may be taken to Bailey County Ambulance Service building behind West Plains Medical Center on Second Street Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. to be distributed on Christmas Eve.

"Also," said Mrs. Watkins, "Saturday, December 6 is a very special day in Muleshoe, and a perfect day to bring your toys to the Southwestern Public Service building when you bring your child to see Santa Claus. From 11 a.m. - 2 p.m., there will be a representative of the Ambulance Service present to collect the toys."

If you know of a child, not over 14 years of age, regardless of race, color or creed, living in Bailey County, who might be forgotten on Christmas Day, fill out the coupon to be found on page 8, printing clearly, and mail prior to December 18 to: Bailey County E.M.S., 715 West Second Street, Muleshoe, TX 79347.

Participation of the community as a whole can make this project a success, as well as brighten a child's Christmas, concluded Mrs. Watkins, who said for further information,

Commissioners To Buy All Three Ambulances

It was 'just a bit out of the ordinary' when the Bailey County Commissioners Court met in regular session on Monday.

Meeting with commissioners was an attorney from Texas Rural Legal Aid offices, who said they were representing the International Union of Agricultural-Industrial Workers.

The attorney wanted guidelines set up to determine who constituted 'paupers' in the county. The commissioners asked Bailey County Judge Gordon H. Green to study legislation on the matter and report his findings to the court in 60 days.

After hearing the county treasurer's report which was approved, the commissioners turned their attention to the ambulance status in this county.

Pursuant to an agreement with the City of Muleshoe, and following a proposal from Westworld Community Healthcare, Inc., who own the ambulances currently used by the county, it was determined to purchase the three ambulances and all equipment from Westworld Community Healthcare Inc. for $44,185.32, with the funds to come from the Revenue Sharing Funds.

As one of the ambulances, valued at something like $40,000 had been attached by the Bailey County Appraisal District recently for nearly $13,000 in unpaid taxes, the taxes were paid on Monday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Also before the county issues Westworld the check for the purchase, the hospital management firm must present clear certificates of title to the three ambulances, and all the equipment included in the proposed sale.

According to Texas legal statutes, the county is responsible for providing emergency transportation for citizens within the county, and it was explained that the purchase was made to "preserve and protect the health ot persons in Bailey

Herrera Child Killed Sunday In Accident

Three persons are still in satisfactory to critical condition at presstime with injuries that took the life of two-year-old Vanessa Herrera of Berthoud, Colo., and granddaughter of Bernardo Herrera and Antonia Herrera, both of Muleshoe.

Vanessa died approximately an hour after the 6 a.m. Sunday, one-vehicle crash that occurred about five miles west of Dalhart on Highway 87.

DPS troopers said eight persons were in the pickup that veered off the highway to the right side of the roadway and traveled about 210 feet before slamming into a tree.

Vanessa had been lying on her mother's lap in the front seat of the pickup and was ejected from the vehicle on impact. Also ejected on impact was Raymond Herrera, 26, and Efrin Herrera, 15, both of Bethoud. The two Herrera men, along with 16-year-old Juan Ramon of Muleshoe, were all treated and released from Coon Memorial Hospital at Dalhart. Both Herreras were reported to have been in the back of the pickup prior to the crash.

Still in the hospital at presstime were Gloria Herrera, 21; Erica Herrera, three and the dead child's grandmother, Antonia Herrera, 45 of Muleshoe.

All three were transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo following emergency treatment at the Dalhart hospital.

The victims were reported to be enroute to Muleshoe at the time of the accident.

Funeral services for Vanessa Herrera were conducted at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Church of God Of The First Born in Muleshoe, with Ramon Mendoza, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Muleshoe Cemetery under direction of Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe.

She was born December 4, 1984 in Loveland, Colo. and resided in Berthoud, Colo.

Her survivors, other than her parents Raymond and Gloria Herrera, include one sister, Erica Herrera; and grandparents, Bernardo Herrera and Antonia Herrera, both of Muleshoe; and Arturo F. Pacheco and Arcenia Pacheco, both of Loveland, Colo.

Basketball coach Jerry Johnson explained that the hustler award is a very coveted award and is given to the person who exhibits the most effort in a game, from the coaches viewpoint. The hustler is the player who gives 100 percent and more, whether they score a point or not, explained Coach Johnson.

President Reagan, signing into law the most sweeping immigration reform in more than 30 years, expressed hope that the measure will preserve "one of the most sacred possessions of our people —American citizenship."

Anti-Drug Force

Agriculture Department officials announced plans to create a special 500-person force to battle marijuana growers who have seized control of almost 1 million acres of national forests. Armed guards, attack dogs and explosive booby traps used to protect marijuana fields have made parts of the publicly owned forests a no-man's land, George Dunlop, assistant agriculture secretary said.

Hawkins' Violence

residents had gone to the lake for an outing. First to be found was the body of one of the young women. She was found near the lake. It took five days and more than 700 searchers to find the bodies of the other duo, another young women, a teenager, and the young male, 19.

Shortly after that time, Jerry Walter McFadden, an ex-convict, with a history of criminal violence, was apprehended and charged with the triple murder. He is awaiting trial at this time, added the speaker.

Because of all the sudden violence in and around Hawkins, commited by unknown ex-convicts who had moved into the community, the people of Hawkins set out to see how People" was born and people into their communities, said Mrs. Wilson. Thus, "We, The Peopld" was born and people set out to repair the Criminal Justice Department.

"We started writing letters and calling everybody," said Mrs. Wilson. "We didn't know who we needed to contact, and we found out, 'If you don't know where you're going, you don't know when you get there.' Our 12-person committee started speaking all over the state, asking for the Criminal Justice system to be changed."

The speaker cited numbers that all proved to be awesome as she spoke. She said the prisons in the state are at capacity, and a federal judge has ordered the release of many prisoners to ease what he termed 'the overpopulation.' Good time, which is earned by prisoners, makes a lot of prisoners eligible for early release, or mandatory release.

She said mandatory release comes about when an inmate actually serves their minimum time, plus accumulated good time credit. When that criteria is met, the prisoner must be released if he is not under a death sentence. Thus, regardless of the charges against an inmate, THEY MUST be released on mandatory supervision, and they are only supervised personally for the first year following their release. They are required to report monthly to a parole officer the first year, and after that time, they are only required to report one time a year, by mail, as to their location.

According to figures released by the speaker, 9,377 inmates were released on parole in 1985, while 11,899 were released to mandatory supervision.

She also said there were 3,199 Mandatory Supervision revocations in 1985, after those individuals released from prison because involved in further criminal activities.

Mrs. Wilson also commented, "We, The People are asking for help statewide in getting six areas of the Criminal Justice Department changed. First, abolish Mandatory Release; Second, reduce good time; third, real time be served with no parole or probation for those convicted of murder, rape, sexual assualt and kidnapping; fourth, county sheriffs should have substantial input, and it must be considered, on whether criminals can be released into their county; fifth, protection of a victim's rights; and sixth, release funds to strengthen law enforcement, such as building prisons and hiring more personnel. She cited that Texas ranked 44th last year in the funding and per capita spending on law enforcement.

Also, according to "We, The People" data, the Texas Department of Corrections employs 12,810 people in the operation of 26 units. In 1986, its budget was $595.5 million. The department provides for the needs of 38,000 inmates, including housing, food, clothing, employment, education, and health care, and do so under constant security requirements.

Mrs. Wilson said they are seeking state-wide support, and left a number of petitions with the Rotary members to be displayed in their individual businesses. They also planned to leave petitions with the Lions Club on Wednesday, asking support for the six legislative changes.

"Write your senators, write your representatives, your congressman," urged Mrs. Wilson. "This is not the fault of your sheriff, your chief of police, or your police. It's the Justice System that must be changed."

Chief Irvin gave very brief remarks at the conclusion of the presentation, indicating a strong support for the efforts of the "We, The People" committee from Hawkins.

In other action at the meeting, Bill Liles, Rotary president, said the Rotary Christmas program, formerly scheduled for Tuesday, December 16, will be held at noon that day, as the civic center is booked for the evening.

Rotary-Anns will be special guests at the noon meeting, and the program will be from the Women's Protective Service of Lubbock.

Guests at the meeting included the two Hawkins residents, Chief Irvin, Starla Ellis, Gene Shelburne, Martina Shcornhurst, Danette Bunch and Cleta Williams.

Water Act Vetoed

President Reagan vetoed an $18 billion extension of the Clean Water Act of 1972, saying the proposed spending "exceeds acceptable levels."

Farm Bureau Urges Citizens To Write Letters

Texas Farm Bureau President S.M. True is urging Farm Bureau members and other interested citizens to take action that would put an end to a 42-year-old federal prohibition against the employment of persons in their own homes for the purpose of making certain handcrafted items.

True noted that U.S. Labor Secretary William Brock published in the Federal Register a proposal to lift the ban on employment of persons to produce women's apparel, gloves and mittens, buckles and buttons, embroidery, handkerchiefs and jewelry at home.

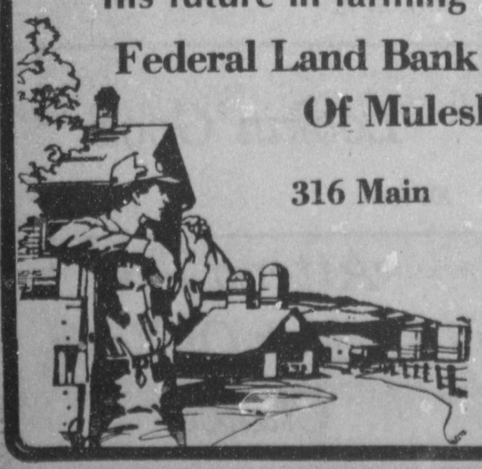

"Secretary Brock needs and deserves the support of the people who agree that the ban on such employment should be ended," True said. "Many people need extra sources of income to help them hold onto the family farm. If they can produce one or more of the currently prohibited items in their homes, why should they be denied the right to do so?" True said.

True urged citizens to write to Paula V. Smith, administrator, Wage and Hour Division, U.S. Department of Labor, Room S-3502, 200 Constitution Ave., NW, Washington, D.C., 20210. The letters must be postmarked no later than Dec. 4.

Harvest Activities Increase With Good Weather

Good weather during the week helped harvest activities increase. The Lubbock Classing Office is now receiving cotton from most parts of the territory. If the current weather pattern holds, harvest activities should continue to increase over the next few weeks.

The Lubbock office classed 98,352 samples during the week ended November 27. This brings the season's total to 133,978 and compares with 352,738 classed by the same date last year.

The week's predominant grades were grade 52 at 35 percent followed by grade 62 at 26 percent. Spotted grades made up 24 percent of the total. About 39 percent was reduced one grade because of bark.

Predominant staples were staple 33 at 34 percent, staple 34 at 23 percent, staple 32 at 20 percent and staple 35 at 9 percent.

Micronaire 35-49 amounted to 32 percent of classings, 33-34 was 17 percent, 30-32 was 28 percent, 27-29 was 18 percent and 26 or below was 5 percent. The average was 3.279.

High Volume Instrument breaking strength averages 25.34 grams per tex at Lubbock during the week ended November 27.

Cotton prices advanced on the Texas High Plains. Grower offerings of both old and new crop equities were light to moderate. Several thousand 1986 crop equities moved into trade channels at $35-$40. A few bales brought $60. Growers asked $50-$100 for old crop equities.

Gins served by the Lubbock Classing Office paid growers $90-$100 per ton for cotton seed, mostly $95.00.

WTSU Planning Summer Program

College students should begin planning now to attend summer school at West Texas State University in 1987, university officials said in announcing the regular summer term.

"Substantial course offerings will be available in all areas, and students will have ample courses to choose from," said Mike Orenduff, vice president for academic affairs.

The summer term will consist of the usual two terms with the first term to begin in early June. The schedule of classes will be available through the registrar's office in February.

Preregistration for summer school will be in April, according to Linda Elliott, registrar. Regular registration will begin the first day of each summer term and continue for one week.

Public Utility Commission of Texas
Consumer Update

Q: My latest bill from the phone company (Southwestern Bell) contained a $1.35 charge for a call I made to an operator in which I asked if a phone number was out of order. When I asked about the charge, I was told that the phone company could charge for the call, even though the problem was with the phone company's line and not with my equipment. Can the phone company charge for such a call?

A: Many consumers have expressed concern about a $1.35 line verification charge that Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is now charging its customers in certain instances where an operator is asked for assistance in completing a call. We have been working with the company to ensure that its employees and its customers understand how this service works, and under what circumstances the line verification charge will be applied.

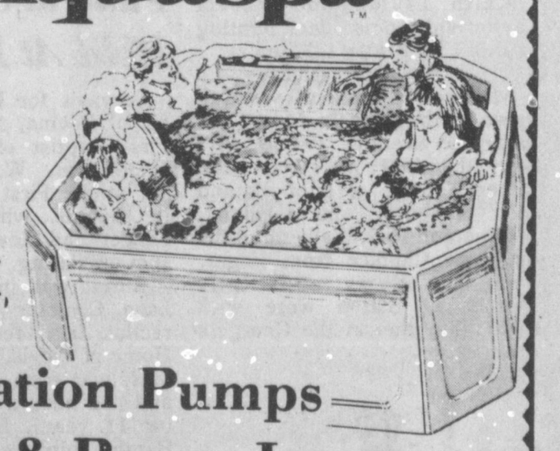

If you are unable to complete a phone call for a reasonable period, do not ask the operator to verify that the number you are trying to call is working. This request will automatically result in your having to pay the $1.35 line verification charge.

Instead, if you are unable to complete a phone call for a reasonable period, we recommend that you ask the operator to complete the call for you. If the operator cannot complete the call because of network trouble, you will not be charged. If the operator is able to complete the call, you will be charged $1.30 (5 cents cheaper than the line verification charge).

We regret that you have to choose your words so carefully in requesting the assistance of a local operator when a call cannot be completed. However, taking the extra step of asking the operator to complete the call can help you avoid charges altogether or, at worst, incur a $1.30 charge instead of a $1.35 charge.

Consumer Update is prepared and distributed by the Consumer Affairs Office of the Public Utility Commission of Texas. Our address is 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78757. End Of Year Crop And Livestock Reports

The Texas Agricultural Statistics Service (TASS) will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in late November for acreage, yield and production totals for 1986 and for end-of-year livestock and poultry inventories.

The confidential interviews, conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators, provide information used by producers to make their plans for the coming year.

"Currently, agriculture is faced with many economic uncertainties, and accurate, reliable figures are some of the inputs which can help producers make sound production decisions," state statistician Dennis Findley reported.

To reduce survey costs, TASS is urging individuals to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible. The reported information will be combined for state as well as county estimates.

Annual county estimates are published for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, field crops, small grains, fruits and pecans, vegetables, and cash receipts from the sale of farm products.

"A sound marketing plan requires good, reliable information and some advanced planning. Information from our reports provides producers with solid facts and figures they can incorporate into their marketings plans," Findley added.

Rev. J.J. Terry Funeral Services Held At Bovina

Services for Rev. J.J. Terry, 82, of Bovina, former pastor of First Baptist of Enochs, were 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, Nov. 26, at the First Baptist Church in Bovina with Rev. Jesse Shaver and Rev. Richard Grissom officiating.

Burial was in the Oklahoma Lane Cemetery under the direction of Steed-Todd Funeral Home of Clovis, N.M.

He was born in Rains County and had been a Bovina resident for 11 years. He had been a Baptist minister for more than 50 years in Eastern New Mexico, and West Texas. He married Margaret Donaldson on March 30, 1930 in Whiteflat. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Bovina and the Senior Citizen organization.

Survivors include his wife; a son, Melvin of Lubbock; a daughter, Ludene Davis of Roswell, New Mexico; a sister, Edna Rogers of Matador; nine grandchildren; and eight great-grandchildren.

Follow The Signs

Imagine yourself in a train depot in a foreign country, and the signs are in a language unfamiliar to you. You know that the signs are there to direct you, and you try to figure them out, but despite your best efforts you are not sure of your interpretation. The natural thing to do then, is to check with an attendant and have him explain things to you.

The Bible is a sign given to us, and directs us in a pathway of living. Interpreting these directions is not always easy, so the natural thing to do, should be to seek someone to help us. Our churches have many trained personnel who are familiar with the language of the Bible. Attend Church this week and follow God's way of life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Christmas Trees

Americans buy more Scotch pines at Christmas than anything else, a bushy tree which holds its needles well. Red and Norway pines are also bought but are losing out with growers because wet snows often damage them.

Eastern and western white pines are also sold but many growers feel firs are best, since they hold their needles indoors longer. Balsam and douglas fir (not a true fir) are both popular.

The spruces hold their needles a shorter time. They include Norway spruce, white spruce (less popular) and blue spruce, a very expensive tree.

Here are some useful tips: 1. Bend a needle. If it breaks, don't buy. 2. Bounce the stump. If needles fall, don't buy. 3. Look at the stump. If not moist or sticky, don't buy.

4. Keep your tree green longer by cutting an inch off the stump and placing it in water or damp sand. Some add sugar, aspirin, etc., to the water.

A&M management prof says dress, confidence as important as grades

COLLEGE STATION — Proper dress, appropriate etiquette and a certain amount of self-confidence are as important to becoming a successful manager as making good grades in college, says the director of a fast-track management program at Texas A&M University.

"Differences between good and poor managers don't hinge entirely on intellectual capabilities, but on a number of other things such as how you look and act," said Dr. Lyle F. Schoenfeldt who heads the Fellows Program in Texas A&M's College of Business Administration. The program was designed to give students with outstanding leadership abilities an edge on climbing the ladder to success.

How a person looks often determines whether he or she is going to make it through the initial interview, he said.

"How a person dresses is important because initial credibility is judged on what he or she looks like," he said. "If you plan to be a successful manager, you dress appropriately and don't wear polyester suits 10 years out of date.

Planning is also an important ingredient to getting ahead, as are expecting success and achieving goals, he explained.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

To cut a pie topped with meringue, dip the knife in cold water before each cut.

Add zest to your vegetables by cooking them with either chicken or beef bouillon cubes. This also reduces the calorie content.

We all want to get the most of furnace consumption. The best way to do this is to reduce the demand of heat put upon your furnace. This is very easy to accomplish with good insulation, weather stripping, storm sash, and fireplace dampers.

Make a few Christmas holiday goodies each week and freeze. You'll be rewarded with a more relaxed holiday.

Add bits of lace, rickrack, beads and glitter to last year's Christmas tree balls for new and interesting effects.

Remember that the most appreciated gifts between friends can be handmade clothing.
