

Grand jury indicts 13 on arson, other charges

Thirteen people were indicted by a Bailey County Grand Jury on Monday on charges including arson, indecency with a minor, theft and aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.

Arraignments have been set for Thursday, Oct. 12 and trials will be set later if necessary.

Those indicted Monday include John Scott Chamberlain, 22, who was indicted on a charge of arson. Chamberlain allegedly "intentionally and knowingly entered a building (the former Art Loft) on July 13 without the consent of owners and with the intent to damage and destroy the building." Court records state that he started a fire by lighting candles and setting fire to paper sacks and curtains.

He was released on a $10,000 bond.

Chamberlain was also indicted for burglary at the Art Loft and was released on a $10,000 bond for that charge too.

Mark Winters, was indicted on a charge of indecency with a child, stemming from an alleged incident on Aug. 1. He was released on a $20,000 bond.

Eleuterio Lozano Pena, 27, was indicted on a June 18 charge of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon "with intent and knowledge of threatening with bodily injury and use of a deadly weapons, a knife."

Pena was also indicted for aggravated assault on a peace

Talking about cotton

New column in Journal to spotlight 'Amigos'

Many people in Bailey County volunteer their time and resources to help others, whether it is by serving as a Boy Scout leader, working with Meals on Wheels, coaching a Little League team, teaching Sunday school, volunteering at the nursing home or being a member of a civic organization. And many times — these people go unrecognized.

Beginning next Thursday, Oct. 13, the Muleshoe Journal will begin spotlighting one individual in the area every week who contributes a great deal to their community by volunteering their time and resources, helping to improve the lives and quality of living of others around them.

Individuals, along with a photo, will be featured in the Journal's weekly column entitled "Amigos: Our Friends Next Door."

The Journal will periodically accept nominations or suggestions from the community. An Amigo can be anyone who lives in Bailey County and goes the extra mile to help another person in need.

Illegal dumping, disposal of trash littering county

Trash has become a big problem for Bailey County, which has been experiencing a rash of illegal dumpings and disposals.

The illegal dumpings and disposals have become a problem for the Bailey County Commissioner's Court, who is trying to keep roads and ditches (roadways) clean in compliance with the Texas Department of Health.

When you hear the slogan, "Don't Mess With Texas," the state should be taken seriously. For people who dump trash illegally or have an illegal dump site on their property, the Solid Waste Disposal Act provides for administrative civil penalties of up to $10,000 per day or court-ordered civil penalties in the amount of not less than $100 nor more than $25,000 per violation, per day of violation.

A person commits an offense if he or she receives litter for disposal at any site other than an approved solid waste site; regardless of whether the litter, or the land on which the litter is disposed of, is owned or controlled by the person.

A person commits an offense if he or she transports litter for disposal to a place that is not an approved solid waste site.

The only approved solid waste site in Bailey County is the City of Muleshoe land fill.

Litter is decayable waste and non-decayable solid waste. That includes everything from

Littlefield poses stiff test for Mules

As the Muleshoe football team takes the field Friday night at Benny Douglas Stadium for their District 2-3A opener against the defending champions — Littlefield — they can, with this one win, accomplish several important tasks: even their season record at 3-3, upset the powerhouse in the district and avenge a 60-0 loss last year to the Wildcats.

"It's going to be a big challenge for the Mules to rise up and play at (Littlefield's) level, especially after the loss last week (28-26 to Seminole)," said MHS head coach Randy Adair.

"Littlefield embarrassed us last year, our kids didn't perform," he continued. "It's a challenge to reestablish credibility with Littlefield — their fans and players. When you lose like that you take it personally and our players have been."

"They probably have one of the best traditions as far as wins and losses and playoff appearances. They have excellent football players, coaches and history."

The Wildcats bring a balanced attack to Muleshoe, according to Adair. They have a good blend of size and speed and play well on both sides of the ball.

On offense, Littlefield is led by senior running back Michael Benton (5-8, 170). Benton is averaging 176 yards a game (7.2 yards per carry) and has scored 10 touchdowns in five games.

"(Benton) is one of the best running backs in the area," Adair said. "He carries the ball with determination. He's fast, makes good cuts, but most importantly, he's a determined runner. It's not easy to tackle him."

Benton will have a pair of tackles to run behind that are impressive, Adair said. The biggest of which is senior Jeremy Contreras (6-2, 250).

"They don't make a lot of

McDonald claims top prize in Journal football contest

14-2 record bests rest of the field

Donnie McDonald of Rt. 3, Box 835, Muleshoe, parlayed a 14-2 record in a $10 first prize in the Muleshoe Journal/Bailey County Merchants football contest for games of Sept. 29-Oct. 3.

McDonald was alone atop the list of 32 contestants.

Second place and $7.50 goes to Pat O'Brady of 506 E. Dallas, Muleshoe. O'Brady had a 13-3 mark for the week and was alone in second, one game back of McDonald.

Three contestants tied for third place at 12-4; R.G. Wilson of Box 431, Muleshoe;

Melissa Ross of 218 W. 20th, Muleshoe, and Alma Orozco of Rt. 2, Box 165, Muleshoe.

All three correctly predicted the Cowboys would defeat the Washington Redskins, but Wilson was eliminated because he picked Muleshoe over Seminole. The Mules lost a two-point heartbreaker to the Indians.

Going to total points, Ross and Orozco had the exact same score on the Cowboy-Redskin game, settling nothing. But Ross had the edge on the score of the Muleshoe-Seminole game by just one point to earn the $5 third prize.

Supper to honor 8th grade team and cheerleaders

Muleshoe Athletic Boosters will host a covered-dish supper on Monday, Oct. 10 at 7 p.m. at the Muleshoe High School Cafeteria. Eighth grade football players and the junior high cheerleaders will be recognized after the meal.

paper and plastic to used farm equipment, appliances as well as furniture, and dead animals, to name a few.

Dead cattle dumped in ditches or elsewhere present problems, including stench, flies, unsightliness and the danger of damage that can result when the bones poke through tires on road equipment. Dead animals can be picked up free of charge.

If a person has been convicted of any class misdemeanor for littering and commits a second littering offense, the punishment for the second offense is increased to the punishment of the next highest category.

Some cases against persons violating littering and dumping laws in Bailey County have been prosecuted. The Commissioner's Court is asking that strict and active enforcement and prosecution be conducted against any of these types of cases in the future.

St. Clair said he planted the cabbage in April, May and June and that it is usually harvested from August through October.

District Clerk's office can help process passport applications

Many people are not aware that the District Clerk's Office, located inside the Bailey County Courthouse, processes passport applications. Adult passports are valid for 10 years. Passports for children under age 18 are valid for five years.

Requirements to obtain a passport include a passport application, personal appearance (13 years or older), passport photographs, identification (usually driver's license), proof of citizenship (birth certificate) and a fee.

The current processing time is three weeks. People should indicate the date they intend to depart. To expedite passport processing, a person can show proof of departure and pay a $30 expedite fee. The passport will be processed within three days upon receipt at the Houston Passport Agency.

An old passport in lieu of a birth certificate is preferred. If a previous passport is unavailable, then a certified copy of a birth certificate should be submitted. The certified copy should have the date on which the document was filed and the raised seal from the city, county or state. Hospital or notarized birth certificates cannot be accepted. For customers born overseas, a report of birth abroad or certificate of naturalization or citizenship must be submitted.

Weddings

Foster, McCall united in marriage during ceremony

Jill Ann Foster and Ronald Kip McCall exchanged wedding vows on Aug. 6, 1994 at the University Drive Church of Christ in Portales, N.M. with Kenneth Morrison officiating.

Parents of the couple are Jane Foster of Muleshoe and Larry Foster of Midland and Betty McCall of Muleshoe and Don McCall of Amarillo.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride wore a floor-length white, satin gown. It was covered with sparkled organza, falling in multi-flash tiered ruffles, accented by lace cut work, beads and pearls.

The short sleeve ensemble featured fully-ruffled sleeves of sparkle organza. The sweetheart neckline had a cut lace overlay and a wedding band collar of beadwork and lace. The princess bodice and fitted basque waistline allowed the ruffled sparkle organza train to float to the floor.

Jill's veil was a pearl headband with a cascade of pearls on one side, highlighted with a double pouf and two-tiered illusion veiling fingertip length.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white consisting of roses, stephanotis, carnations, calla lilies and sprays of pearls accented by white lace ribbon. It was designed by Mr. and Mrs. Clois Jeffries of Portales, N.M.

For something old, the bride wore a gold wedding band belonging to her great-grandmother, Cora Calton. Something new was her dress and veil. The bride borrowed ruby and diamond earrings from her grandmother Clytie Calton, something blue was her garter which was tatted by Mrs. Appalonia Beach of Conroe.

Matron of honor was Chanda Schovajsa of Muleshoe. Bridesmaids were Jodie Foster and Jana Foster, sisters of the bride.

Candlelighters for the double-ring ceremony were Billy Mann of Houston, cousin of the bride and Ty Foster of Midland, brother of the bride. The flower girl was Katie Mann of Houston, cousin of the bride. The ring bearer was, Tanner Foster of Midland, brother of the bride.

The groom was dressed in a black tuxedo jacket, black dress Wranglers and black boots. Best man was Kelly McCall of Argyle, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Matt Rattliff of Lewisville and Michael McClellen of Post.

Ushers were Jimmy Mardis of Muleshoe, Michael Hardwick of Lubbock, Galin Lathan of Canyon and Jeff Johnson of Lubbock.

Guests were registered by Dacia Stewart of Muleshoe. Musical selections were presented by Chad Davis, Micah Davis, Sharon Davis, Bill

Mr and Mrs. Ronald Kip McCall

Calton and Nellie Dyer.

A garden reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Foster, grandparents of the bride.

Grandparents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George Calton of Portales N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Foster of Portales, Juanita Holt of Littlefield and Mr. and Mrs. Billy McDaniel of Lubbock. Great-grandmothers are Cora Calton of Hereford and Elrie Capps of Portales, N.M.

Special guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Mark Mann and family of Houston, Gary and Fields of Agat, Guam; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Albertson of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson of Abernathy; Linda Spencer of Littlefield; Mr. and Mrs. Ron Caporele of Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Lees of Hobbs, N.M.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Muleshoe High School and are attending Eastern New Mexico University. The groom is employed by Wes Tex Feed Yard.

For their honeymoon, the couple spent a week in Cancun, Mexico. The couple will reside in Muleshoe.

Senior citizens meet

The Bailey County Senior Citizens met on Sept. 26 for a covered-dish luncheon. Invocation was given by Katie Roubenik. Salute to the flag was given by Wanda Kittrell.

After a delicious meal, President Buster Kittrell called for the minutes, which were read and approved. Kermit Price talked about his Eagle Scout project. He is going to hang a large muleshoe under the Muleshoe sign. Anyone who wants to have a small muleshoe put in the concrete with their name will be put there.

Velma Gwyn read three poems, which were enjoyed by all. There were 25 members present, including two visitors, Kermit and Arnold Price.

A card was sent to Durard and Mildred Head and Eva Ashford. Birthday cards were sent to Florine Upchurch, Wanda Kittrell and Alton Epting.

The group voted to give $10 to the heritage, in memory of Mae Wilterding. The Senior Citizen's bus will go to Lubbock for the fair on Thursday. The group then had a time of singing of old favorite songs. They dismissed with a prayer by Buster Kittrell.

Weddings

Gray, Graves exchange wedding vows

Alisa Gray became the bride of Jerry Bob Graves on Saturday, Aug. 6, 1994 at United Methodist Church in Kermit. Pastor Mel Herring officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Buddy and Susie Gray of Wink. She is the granddaughter of Lane Newbert of Wink and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gray of Wink.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Graves of Muleshoe. He is the grandson of Vernal King of Muleshoe.

Elizabeth Miracle was organist for the ceremony and Sandra Shiplett sang several selections.

Roses were presented to the bride's mother during the processional and to the groom's mother during the recessional. Each mother, upon entering the church, lit a unity candle for their children.

The bride chose a white formal gown. The gown had a v-shaped neck and bodice and was appliqued in pearl sequins. The sleeves were covered in re-embroidered Alcon lace, sequins and appliqued pearls. The skirt had a Lady Diane styled-waistline of re-embroidered Alcon lace applied to the silk skirt.

The dress featured a long cascading cathedral train, appliqued to match the front of the gown. The train drew up the back of the gown to the waist and was attached with a large white silk bow.

The bride carried a traditional-style bouquet atop a family Bible. The gardenia filled center was surrounded by white satin ribbon, pearls and velvet. These cascaded down with red roses, white stephanotis, white snow flake poms and lily of the valley.

Tori Gray, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor. Attendants were Denise Dunham, Stacy Richardson, Marti Salazar and Alison Tapp.

Kara Gray, niece of the bride, and Madison Myers, cousin of the bridegroom, served as flower girls. Ring bearer was Dalton Gray, nephew of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a tea-length, Handerchild-styled dress in sheer black accented with gold lamae re-embroidered floral swirls overlaying a sheer black organdy under skirt and bodice.

Terry Graves, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jeff Actkinson, Grant Barnhill, Michael Dunham and Chris

Mr and Mrs. Jerry Bob Graves Young.

The bride's mother chose a dress of bright red, with a full skirt and fitted bodice. The dress was complemented by buttons down the front. Both fathers wore tuxedos by Christian Dior.

Serving as acolytes for the ceremony were Russell Brown, Daniel Gray and Doug Waddle, who also served as ushers.

A reception followed at the Community Center in Kermit. The couple honeymooned in Las Vegas, Nev.

West American Boulevard 150' frontage. Priced to sell.

Why not capitalize on lawn clippings?

The first week of August I was hauling a load of cows to the sale. We hadn't had rain for five weeks and my pasture was pretty sorry. I'd been feedin' hay for two weeks.

Along the highway I could see houses on either side. Most had green lawns. It occurred to me "Somethin' is wrong with this picture!"

Not that I'm against people havin' lawns, or even soaking them with precious water. But then they mow it. Then they pick up the clippings. Then they stuff these clippings in a plastic bag and try and hide it somewhere.

I could quadruple my cow herd if I could just rent pasture from one residential block and graze their yards. But I know that is not realistic.

Residential yard workers do not think of their lawns as forage. They grow it, mow it, harvest its bounty and add it to a landfill. They think of it more like hair than wheat.

But you talk about work! Maybe there are people who look forward to mowin' the lawn; barbers, for instance, or manicurists. And it's not just the weekly horse whippin' of following a Briggs and Stratton around for half a day, some enthusiastic yarders edge, weed, fertilize, shape, prune, rake, haul and water in a never-ending tail chase to create compost!

So, I been thinkin' why not capitalize on all this hand labor. What is grass good for? Cow feed, or course. But it is unlikely that livestock producers could rent 2 AUM's (Animal Units per backyard) or some such. Which means we have to be able to use the grass after it is harvested.

Now, any cowman who's tried to dump lawn clippings over the fence knows most cows ignore it unless they're starvin'. But the way cows love silage, maybe we could treat it like a fermented product.

We'd spread the word that fresh clippings would be picked up Saturday and Sunday evenings. Participating Eco-sensitive residential yarders would set their plastic bags out. We'd pick it up, haul it to the dairy or feedlot, add silage preservative and put it in a pit.

If it was put up fresh it might hold a worthwhile protein level. Of course, all participating yarders would have to guarantee that their lawn was organic; herbicide and pesticide-free.

And it would help our image. It would have tremendously politically correct implications. Urban residents would become more sym-thetic to livestock operations in their area. They'd be recycling and saving precious water. It would give meaning to an otherwise strictly cosmetic use of natural resources. Sort of like using a Picasso painting to cover a water stain on the wallpaper.

And if it works we can get a grant to research recycling old hair and toenails. After all, look at marshmallows. I think they're made of horse's hooves.
