THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

They Clasp Hands as Brothers on One Common Soil and Decorate the Graves of Departed Heroes and Friends. — Appropriate Decoration Services.

The decoration services in this city on last Monday under the auspices of Sam Houston Post G. A. R., No. 55, was an event long to be treasured in the memory of the many grand old soldiers, heroes and patriots who fought and bled for principles that each deemed just, they will remember it as an epoch in their eventful lives, when civil strife had long past ended and a common people, who had met in the din of battle face to face as foes, joined hands and hearts as brothers in this grand republic, over which floats majestically our native flag, sustained by honor, reputation and millions of honest people to mingle their tears together and strew flowers, the emblem of purity, over the graves of departed heroes and comrades who fell on either side.

At an early hour before noon a procession was formed on Patrick street, headed by the Little Six band with the veterans of the Mexican war immediately following. After them came the ex-Confederate soldiers, the I. O. O. F. order of this city, uniformed rank Knights of Pythias, the Dublin Land and Improvement Company band, the Dublin fire department and Grand Army veterans, followed by a long procession of carriages and buggies. The procession marched to the new cemetery, a mile or more distant, with fife and drum music only and with folded flags. At the cemetery an appropriate and imposing ceremony was carried out after which the graves were decorated by a party of twelve little girls all dressed in white, under the direction of a competent committee of young ladies. Every grave in the cemetery, from that ornamented with the tallest shaft to that of the humblest infant was decorated with flowers and made to look new and fresh.

From there a committee was sent to decorate the graves in the old Dublin cemetery two or more miles below town, and the procession formed again in the order above mentioned and marched to the city park with music by the Dublin Land and Improvement Company band and the Little Six band respectively. At the park an excellent dinner had kindly been prepared by the ladies and was spread on the ground and all invited to help themselves. After dinner Mayor R. H. McCain, an ex-Confederate soldier, made an appropriate and well-timed address filled with many expressions of gratitude to the people for their kind presence on the occasion and the tenderest feeling by him for all the old soldiers on both sides. He was followed by Mr. David Redfield of Cisco, an ex-Federal soldier; he by ex-Confederate Major L. E. Gillett, ex-Federal Captain John Roach, ex-Confederate Colonel Stocks, ex-Confederate Major D. M. Rumph of Alexander, and the Rev. J. H. Chambliss, pastor of the Methodist church of this city. The remarks by each of the gentlemen were well applauded for the tenderness and sincerity in which they were made and the force of expression which is seldom seen except on occasions of like nature, calculated to enthuse the heart of every patriotic American citizen.

At night a vocal and instrumental benefit concert was given by Prof. Avery Brown's company of Cisco, composed of Miss Mary Werneberg, Miss Hunter, Miss Redfield and Misses Barr, Werneberg, Collins, and Prof. Avery Brown, assisted by Miss Carrie Lattimore of this city, after which many of the soldiers repaired to the park, where they had a regular love feast and camp-fire meeting to talk over the eventful, and at many times, dreadful occurrences of '62 to '65.

The ceremony took place at the residence of Mrs. Wiley in this city and was performed by the Rev. J. T. Harris. THE PROGRESS is somewhat late this week owing to the fact that a considerable amount of new material is being put in and arrangements being made for immense improvements in the paper which require a week or more to get in good working order. Our readers may look out for a very noticeable improvement the coming week.

No Pledge Required.

There are a number of good citizens in this county favorable to the reform movement who will not join reform clubs from the fact that they understand the members of reform clubs are required to pledge themselves to vote for the Peoples party nominee. This is a wrong idea, as the only requirement is that they endorse the St. Louis confederated labor demands. This is the only test, and we have yet to hear of a single club in the United States that has asked more.

The President Interviewed.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The World's correspondent had the following interview with President Harrison at Washington. President Harrison is always calm and judicious when discussing public questions. On the present occasion when in accordance with the request of the correspondent the president explained his own position as regards his nomination. His manner was peculiarly earnest and impressive, indicating deep feeling. He said:

"I am too well acquainted with the meaning of the office of president of the United States not to understand the importance of the work to be done at Minneapolis. For myself I am—not to use a homely expression—a young robin with widely open mouth ready to catch everything that comes. I have spent more than three very active years in the discharge of my public duties, during which period of time I have acted conscientiously and solely without regard for my conception of the exigencies in public service. I have made appointments as nearly as I could in accordance with my views what was fitting. Of course there has been disappointments. The task of filling public offices is so arduous that it can really be understood in its entirety by only the one on whom the responsibility rests. Disappointments sometimes cause discontent, and discontent may manifest itself openly. I do not believe that individual disappointments will control the convention at Minneapolis. Were I disposed," continued the president, "to explain how many of these disappointments and subsequent discontents have occurred, the narrative would be interesting; yes, very interesting. Of course I deeply regret individual disappointments that have occurred, but I suppose such are inevitable. I do not hesitate to say certain things have happened that I feel deeply, especially when anyone has belittled some great public measures that have been carried out or tried to place the credit upon others. I think aside from political considerations members of the opposition party here are very well contented with the administration of the executive department. In foreign affairs I have frequently called on Democrats for counsel. I have availed myself of the opinions of such men as Senator Morgan and Mr. Blount of Georgia and others. That is, I have endeavored to treat business subjects from a business standpoint."

"Mr. President, in view of the recent publications, do you announce your candidacy for re-election?"

The president replied with emphasis: "I have never announced myself a candidate and do not now. I did not in 1888 on the occasion of the Chicago convention."

As if to accentuate what he had said the president repeated: "I make no such announcement." Then he added: "The convention at Minneapolis will assemble and take its own action. I am aware I have been criticised for not calling on my friends and others for their support but I have been disinclined to do so and my feelings have undergone no change. My public and private records are known to the people and whatever they wish will be manifested at Minneapolis.

"If the people, having in consideration the manner in which I have conducted the presidency, desire me, I presume they will signify their wishes; in the meanwhile, I have not, neither will I proclaim my candidacy. The aphorism, you know," said the president, smiling, "is that the office should seek the man and not the man seeek the office."

Benefits the Laundrymen.

NEW YORK, May 30.—The order of Colonel Hain, general manager of Jay Gould's Elevated railroad system, compelling all the employes of the "L" roads to wear boiled shirts and white starched collars, has caused a rumpus among the trainmen and station agents on the several routes. Negligee costumes and flannel suits will not be allowed after this week, and Colonel Hain declares that if the men don't like it they can go. The complaint on the part of the trainmen is that the new regulation will greatly increase their laundry expenses, for there is so much dirt, dust and cinders flying about in the sweltering summer weather that in order to keep clean they will have to change their linen two or three times a day. Then again, their wages remain stationary and they do not think this is right. There is some talk of a strike, but the trainmen are fairly well paid, receiving $2 a day for twelve hours' work, and it is not believed there will be any serious trouble.

Disastrous Storm.

BROWNSVILLE, Ind., May 30.—A disastrous rain, hail and electrical storm passed through Jackson county. Thousands of acres of fine wheat were destroyed. J. D. Johnson and Levi Miller were killed by lightning.

THE DUBLIN PROGRESS.

FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1892.

We believe the people should have the right to say who shall be the nominee for governor.—Free Press.

The democratic (?) party would not have it so.

It is about time for the democrats of Hood county to drop the fight over Clark and Hogg and pay their respects to the third party.—Granbury News.

Just so! It is a movement that will require power to thwart.

The democratic majority in congress has succeeded admirably in rendering the election of a democratic president so uncertain that even Mr. Cleveland may lose if he is nominated. The democratic party is weaker than it was when congress met, and seems to be utterly unable to get itself together. —Jimplecute.

An exchange gives as a reason for so many cyclones this year is the carelessness of some farmers in planting crooked rows of corn, the wind blowing through them starts to twist and whirl and so on. Farmers will please take notice and take a cord, tie to each end of your corn rows and pull them straight.—Osage Mission (Kans.,) Journal.

The opponents to the present state administration feel confident that Gov. Hogg is the sole cause of the whole matter. The citizens of Kansas and other states adjoining, taking in this consideration, should feel a deep interest in the present state campaign in Texas.

Governor Hogg and his friends are claiming that he started the movement for a Confederate Soldiers' Home in Texas. This is an error, (of the heart of course.) The next governor, Gen. Henry E. McCulloch, canvassed the state for the purpose a number of years before Governor Hogg ever mentioned the matter. He was in this city several days while on that mission, and Cols. E. W. Taylor, W. B. Ward, J. H. Bemis and others contributed liberally. Actions and facts speak plainer than words.—Jefferson Jimplecute.

If the democratic party is to continue playing the miserable coward, it will be but love's labor lost to name a ticket. Gohenna's brimstone will spare an ice ball as quick as the wrath of a deceived people will spare a party professing so much and doing so little.—Waco Day.

That's the time you hit the bull's eye, brother Day. But the Sentinel is of the opinion that the day of grace for the democratic party has passed and a deceived people intend to see to it that democracy in name only shall not again deceive them. The old party has continually said that if they only had a chance they would show the masses what they could do in the way of reform. Those chances have been given and instead of voting for the interests of the masses it has invariably knelt at the shrine of the golden calf.

Nearly every mail brings marked copies of newspapers containing puffs for various candidates for congress, legislature, etc. The rates for announcements in the Star are reasonable and that is the proper channel to reach the people of Callahan county. If candidates think they can pull the wool over the eyes of the West Texas press by announcing in their home papers and get free announcements in all the rest by sending marked copies, they will find themselves very much mistaken, at least so far as the Star is concerned.—Baird Star.

THE PROGRESS endorses the above sentiment exactly. It is not doing business for fun.

TEXAS LIGNITE.

The following clipping from the Austin Statesman may be of some interest to many in and around Dublin as it is said that lignite is very abundant in this county. Mr. J. M. Cooper, of this place having found a thick vein of it on his resident lot in this city while having a well dug recently during the gold mine excitement:

"State Geologist Dumble will soon be prepared to publish a great deal of valuable information in regard to the utilization of lignite as fuel, and will give cuts of machinery to be used in the manufacture of this fuel. There is no doubt that Prof. Dumble's report will be a revalation to many Texas people, and will set a great many industries at work that have been languishing for the want of encouragement. A few years ago the entire state, almost, went coal-mad, so to speak, and every two or three days a new coal discovery was recorded. When, a little later, the discoverers were told that their coal was merely lignite, and was practically valueless in the markets, great was the discouragement and depression of spirits, and the farmers went on raising six cent cotton or grazing long horned cattle over the lignite beds, just as they had done before. But now they discovered that lignite can be manufactured at trifling cost into an excellent fuel will put a good deal of rose hue into some very dull looking Texas skies. The product is very abundant in some portions of Texas where land can be bought at from $1 to $5 an acre. Nacogdoches county is liberally supplied with it, and indeed, it has been found in too many portions to enumerate. This new development of lignite into fuel will give a mighty impetus to the building of manufactories in Texas. Austin expects to profit by it in many ways; not the least of which perhaps, will be that Austin will doubtless have a factory of the manufacture of the lignite "briquetts" and thus turn out the fuel at the very door of the factories here which will use it.

A BOY'S COMPOSITION.

A school boy, who figures in a certain public school, was suspended by the school marm because he read an essay upon "pants" the text of which was as follows: "Pants are made for men and not men for pants. When a man pants for a woman and a woman pants for a man they are a pair of pants. Pants are like molasses—they are thinner in hot weather and thicker in cold. The man in the moon changes his pants during the eclipse. Don't you go to the pantry for pants; you may be mistaken. Men are often mistaken in pants. Such mistakes make breeches of promise. There has been much discussion as to whether pants is singular or plural. Sems to us that when men wear pants they are plural and when they don't wear any it is singular. Men get on a tear in their pants and it is all right; but when the pants get on a tear it is all wrong.

Because Editor Hoeny, at Abilene, did not vote like some of the democrats up there wanted him to, they began to circulate the report that he voted the republican ticket before he came to Texas, whereupon he wrote to his old home in Illinois and got sworn certificates to the fact that he and all of his forefathers had been leaders in the democratic ranks as far back as the record was traced. Now the ones who circulated the reports have quietly retired and can not be found.—Cisco Round Up.

Did that make Editor Hoeny any better, or would the failure to do this have made him any worse? THE PROGRESS is of the opinion it would have had no effect on him whatever as an honorable man.

A PRESCRIPTION FROM A LEARNED CUSS

To the dear thirdpartyites: The democracy can save you if you will absorb her principles according to prescriptions furnished by intelligent, educated and duly authorized exponents of democratic doctrine; but if you are an ignorant cuss and try to administer your own doses and only get a little taste and refuse to take the whole spoonful as you should you will experience the same results as that produced by one dosing himself on strychine: The less you take of it in powder form the more liable it is to do you up.—Hico Democrat.

HIS DAUGHTER ENDORSED IT.

It is related of clergyman, who was the happy father of a charming and beautiful daughter, that one day while preparing his Sunday discourse, he was suddenly called away from his desk on a mission of mercy. So imperative was the summons that he left unfinished this sentence:

"I never see a young man of splendid physique and the promise of a glorious manhood almost realized, but my heart is filled with rapture and delight."

His daughter, happened in the study, saw the sermon and read the words. Sitting down she wrote underneath:

"Them's my sentiments, papa, exactly!"—Ex.

Tom Putty, who was tried and convicted in Erath county for murder admitted to District Attorney George that he had fled from one of the lower counties to escape justice. He stole a chicken and a turkey, and fearing he would be indicted, fled to the Indian Territory. His career becomes more interesting when he settles in Erath county, and takes a human life at a horse race. From theft to murder is an easy grade, and trains pull out for "Murder Station" every thirty minutes in the United States. Parents—ye who wear fine clothes, sit in the amen corner, and call the pastor "Bro"— do you have family talks with your little boys, and impress on them the importance of living honorable lives? Do you teach them that it is a great sin to loaf about town wasting the golden hours? Verily no; not one in five realize the importance that "Character" formation begins with the suckling babe. When he passes six years it is late to begin to try to retrive lost opportunities.—Empire.

Mass Convention.

Of all persons in Erath county favorable to the reforms urged by the People's Party, will be held at the Opera Hall in Stephenville Texas, on Saturday, June 11th, at 10 o'clock a. m. All persons who believe that financial reform is a necessity in order to save property values and the products of labor from being sacrificed and that this is the leading issue in the present canvass are cordially invited to attend. This call is made in pursuance of the call of the executive committees of the People's Party and Jeffersonian Democratic clubs of the state of Texas. Judge T. L. Nugent and other distinguished speakers will be present.

FIELD OF POLITICS.

THE EXCITEMENT OVER REPUBLICAN SITUATION.

Blaine Will Never Again Enter the State Department, So It Is Stated—Reed's Opposition to Mr. Harrison—Mr. Cleveland's Many Callers.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The excitement over the Republican situation continues to increase. Even the most enthusiastic men now admit that the conduct of the secretary of state is strange and argues no good for Harrison. One of the latest developments is that when Clarkson was here a day or two ago he went to the capitol and called Reed out for consultation. They occupied a private room of the speaker during a session of congress. The two talked for an hour or more.

Next morning the announcement was made that Reed was for Blaine. This has not been denied in any quarter. Reed does not like Blaine, but he cordially hates Harrison. This proceeds from a dozen things. Last session as speaker he forced the force bill through the house. This was a pet measure of the president and he pretended to be grateful to Reed for it. Then he was mortally afraid of the silver question, and Reed suppressed the free coinage bill at the cost of many western Republican friendships.

When the circuit court of appeals bill became a law Reed asked that one of his friends should be appointed as judge. Instead of granting this request Harrison appointed Judge Putnam, a Democrat from Reed's own town and who had run against Reed for congress. The ex-speaker has never forgotten this and has privately been at all times severe on Harrison.

There are people who do not consider Reed an improbability himself. He is going to the convention and is going to work against Harrison. This is given out by his friends. The Harrison element boldly state that the president is not only in the fight to win, but is viciously in it.

They say that the Blaine men utterly misunderstand the situation if they think the old stalwart Conkling element in New York is either dead or sleeping, and that it is prepared to fight the Maine man as it did in 1884.

The fact that such threats are made is significant, as it is to be used for all it is worth at the Minneapolis convention. The Blaine element boast that they are receiving letters daily from delegations already instructed for Harrison in which assurances are given that these instructions contemplated that Blaine was out of the race, and if he is in it they amount to nothing.

The writer has it from what he considers, and would be considered by the public, as highly reputable authority that Blaine left Washington with the intention of being away for a week or more and that he will never again enter the state department. This same authority, and it is close to Blaine, says that he will resign in less than a week, and announce that he will accept the nomination of the Republican party if it is offered him. The excitement grows as the differences in the party on account of its candidates grow.

Cleveland's Callers.

NEW YORK, May 30.—The Herald prints the following: The coming to this city of influential Democrats from various states to consult with ex-President Cleveland has been of the greatest importance in its bearings on the Chicago convention. The friends of Cleveland found much to discuss in the situation. So many consultations have been held here that ex-Secretary Whitney has scarcely been at his office once in the last ten days. Most of them have taken place in Whitney's house. The matter which has given the friends of the ex-president the most concern was the coming convention at Syracuse. What was feared has come to pass and the anti-snap movement has come to be styled the movement of bolters. There never has been any person who could have stopped the movement but Cleveland himself, and the question which has been discussed with visiting Democrats—not by Cleveland, but his lieutenants in this city and Washington—has been whether the movement would likely be distorted in such a way as to alienate uninstructed delegates of other states. It would be a forcible argument to say that Cleveland, having been turned down in the Albany convention, and a bolting delegation was clamoring for admittance. The use of these arguments for weeks have given rise repeatedly to rumors that the ex-president would write a letter withdrawing from the field as a presidential candidate. These stories have later taken a new form, that Cleveland would issue a letter disclaiming all sympathy or connection with the anti-snap movement.

The Herald has it on the authority of a very influential Democrat, who will not allow the use of his name, that Cleveland's friends expressed almost a unanimous opinion which will govern him, that no expression from him regarding the coming Syracuse convention is necessary. The man from whom the information comes is so near Cleveland as to give his statement weight and authority. Whether an expression will be necessary after the convention has been held depends largely as to how discreetly the convention is managed and what it does. Cleveland's chances could be done irreparable injury by intemperate action.

MORMONS IN MEXICO.

Polygamy a Thing of the Past—A Great Improvement Promised.

EL PASO, Tex., May 27.—Elder Andrew J. Stewart of the Mormon church is in the city from Mexico, where he has just secured from the Mexican government the concession of 100,000 acres of land, ninety miles southeast of Chihuahua, upon which Elder Stewart agrees to locate 500 Mormon families. To a reporter Mr. Stewart said:

"We are going to Mexico to make permanent homes for ourselves. The land I have secured will be divided into little farms and every family will have a home and well-set-out orchards, vineyards, etc., and we will have factories, too. It will be a self-sustaining community. As fine stock can be raised in Mexico as anywhere, and we will make a specialty of improved stock. El Paso will be our market. We will sell our produce and buy our supplies in El Paso until we can raise all we need."

On the subject of polygamy the elder said:

"It is a principle of the past. It is not in existence now, as the laws of the Mormon church require all its members to live in obedience to the laws of the country they may live in. Therefore President Wilford Woodruff of the Mormon churches issued a manifesto prohibiting polygamy, and it was sustained by the vote of the whole people in conference assembled. It is not allowed to be taught in the church. The doctrine of the Mormons is to not interfere with anybody's religion, that everybody could worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and as citizens there is no question about his religion, only every man would have to be amenable to the laws of his country."

DISASTER AT SEA.

The Accident That Happened to the Ship St. Charles.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—The crew of the ship St. Charles, which was blown up off the Oregon coast on the 17th inst. has arrived. The St. Charles left Nanimo with coal May 13 for San Francisco. On the morning of the 17th Second Mate Mike Flynn and Charles Lenberg, a sailor, went to the fore hatch to get potatoes, carrying a lantern. Lenberg was about to crawl in, lantern in hand, when the explosion occurred. Flynn was lifted bodily in the air with a great hole in his scalp and his legs burned to a crisp. Lenberg was thrown back and terribly cut and burned. Stranburg, another sailor, was singed by the flames. Ned Kiley, a sailor on deck at the time, states that when the explosion occurred ropes, hawsers and the main hatch cover were hurled into the sea and the deck opened wide from the after part of the house to the stern. The ship was generally demolished. The rigging was on fire and the pumps would not work.

Captain Chapman was found pinned to the floor under broken timber, his spine broken. The men extricated him with great difficulty, and made haste to get into boats as the vessel was sinking. There were nineteen men divided among three small boats. When last seen the ship was foundering. The boats were 200 miles from land, without a compass. They succeeded in making Cape Foulweather safely, and there Captain Chapman died. Lenberg and Flynn were taken to Newport, Ore. Flynn is expected to die.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Thursday.

SENATE—It was agreed to take up Mr. Stewart's free coinage bill.

HOUSE—Mr. Dockery secured the adoption of an amendment providing for closing the government exhibit of the World's fair on Sunday, which thus leaves the larger question to be decided by the management. The remainder of the time was spent in the discussion of minor amendments and in talk on the Chinese exclusion act and the amount to be appropriated for its enforcement. This amount was finally fixed at $60,000.

Friday.

SENATE—Silver discussion postponed until Tuesday, and an adjournment was taken until that time.

HOUSE—A clerical error in the McKinley tariff bill was corrected, whereby a duty of from 15 to 50 cents per pound is imposed on sweetened chocolate and fixes the duty at 2 cents per pound.—Mr. Culberson had the bill passed which settles up all the financial affairs of the 1876 centennial celebration at Philadelphia. It seems that there was money left over from this exposition, and this bill provides for its employment in paying some debts, and the balance goes to a trust to be paid over to whom it should go.

Saturday.

SENATE—Not in session.

HOUSE—Debate on legislative appropriation bill.—Adjourned until Tuesday.

South Dakota and Texas Cattle.

PIERRE, May 30.—The governor has received a telegraphic petition from about 200 tax-payers and property owners in the counties of Pennington, Mede and Custer asking that a proclamation be issued prohibiting importation or unloading in any of the above counties any of a certain lot of diseased Texas cattle. The petition states that about 6000 head of Texas cattle are in transit from Texas to the British possessions and are affected with anthyrax or Texas fever. These cattle are being unloaded by the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railroad at Brennan, about five miles from Rapid City. There are now estimated to be 800 head of dead Texas cattle within a radius of that point. Local stockmen are driving their cattle away from the localities and there is danger of the disease getting a footing in the state. The governor issued a quarantine proclamation prohibiting the taking of cattle through the state.

PEOPLE'S PARTY IN BROWN COUNTY.

Special Correspondence.

A mass meeting was held in Brownwood on the 28th inst. for the purpose of organizing the People's Party of Brown county. After considerable preliminary business public addresses were heard from Messrs. H. F. Jones, of May, Texas, on the demands of organized labor, J. J. Eager of Dublin, on the silver question and C. H. Jenkins, after which the meeting went into permanent organization by the election of N. A. Willett, President and J. L. Simpson, Secretary. An executive committee composed of one from each of the eight precincts were elected, and out of these there were elected a committee of three as a campaign finance committee, with the power to appoint all subcommitties they may deem necessary. A resolution passed the body expressing themselves as opposed to party nominations for county officers and also passed resolutions endorsing the platform adopted at the St. Louis Confederated Labor meeting. They elected a set of delegates to the congressional meeting at Dublin, on June 17th 1892, instructed for C. H. Jenkins for congress, to the state Convention at Dallas June 23 '92, instructed for Jerome Kirby of Dallas for governor and to the representative convention when called, and expressed themselves in favor of James B. Weaver of Iowa, and L. L. Polk of North Carolina for President and Vice.

The secretary was instructed to send a report of the above to the Brownwood papers, Comanche Exponent and Dublin PROGRESS.

OBSERVANCE OF COLUMBUS DAY.

The proposal that the public schools of America lead in the commemoration of Columbus Day is one of the most sensible suggestions that has been made for appropriately making the four hundredth anniversary of our existence as the American race. There is an especial fitness in giving this prominence to the American public school. There are many reasons why every friend of free education should aid in making the Columbus Day exercises a marked success. The day will be put to the highest educational use if the school-children in every section of the country can be simultaneously commemoratin the greatest event in secular history.

The dedication of the exposition buildings and grounds will be an event of the great significance. But it is not sufficient that this four hundredth anniversary be allowed to pass with an observance of merely local scope. The discovery of the New World broadened immeasurably the horizon of men and nations. Its effect was far-reaching, the whole order of European destiny being transformed by it, It should be celebrated by a demonstration of equal extensiveness.

OUR CHOICE.

For Congress—8th Congressional District.
HON. EVAN JONES, of Dublin.

For Governor of Texas.
HON. T. L. NUGENT, of Ft. Worth.

In the proper column this issue will be found the announcement of Mr. C. Devenport of this city for commissioner of Precinct No. 2. Mr. Devenport is well known by many of the most influential voters of the precinct and needs no recommendation from the PROGRESS.

The more artful the demagogue, the more noisy he is for liberty, the more certain he is of enjoying all the sweets of power. He knows that the more he flatters his blind devotees, the more certainly will they suffer their eyes to be closely veiled, and the more implicitly will they obey his mandates. This is, in substance, the language of one in alluding to Grecian democracy; and while nearly or quite 2,800 years have elapsed, still it fits us quite as well as it did the Greeks.

The plan for a National Columbian public school celebration has been approved by superintendents in national convention, hundreds of our most influential newspapers. very many eminent men and women, and far more important than these—thousands upon thousands of pupils in the public schools themselves. The spirit displayed by these little men and women of the land leads us to express the opinion that they will carry out their part of the programme on Columbus day in a manner which will reflect credit upon themselves and their teachers.

In the announcement column this week will be found the name of Mr. Hat Black for the office of tax assessor. Mr. Black is an old residenter among us, having been in the county nearly sixteen years, and is well and favorably known. He says he is not a chronic office seeker. this being the first race he ever made for any office, but will appreciate the support of his friends who can conscientiously do so. He stands square with the people, and says he is as good a democrat as any of the balance of them, having voted that ticket all his life, but says he is bound to admit that the people's party platform, which will be adopted at Omaha, undoubtedly embodies more democracy than any recent platform of any party and that he intends to vote it from now on.

PLATFORM OF PRINCIPLES.

ADOPTED AT THE FEBRUARY CONFERENCE.

1st. We demand a national currency safe, sound and flexible, issued by the general government only, a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and that without the use of banking corporations, a just equitable means of circulation, at a tax not to exceed 2 per cent, as set forth in the subtreasury plan of the Farmers Alliance or some better system. Also by payment in discharge of its obligations for public improvements.

a. We demand free and unlimited coinage of silver.

b. We demand that the amount of circulating medium be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.

c. We demand a graduated income tax.

d. We believe the money of the country should be kept as much as possible in the hands of the people, and hence we demand all national and state revenues shall be limited to the necessary expenses of the government economically and honestly administered.

We demand the most rigid, honest and just state and national governmental control and supervision of the means of public communication and transportation, and if this control and supervision does not remove the abuse now existing we demand the government ownership of such means of communication and transportation.

We demand that the congress of the United States submit an amendment to the constitution providing for the election of the United States senators by direct vote of the people of each state.

LAND.

2nd. That the land including all the natural resources of wealth, is the heritage of all the people, and should not be monoplized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited. All lands now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs, and all lands now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.

TRANSPORTATION.

3rd. Transportation being a means of exchange and a public necessity, the government should own and operate the railroads in the interest of the people.

a. The telegraph and telephone, like the post-office system, being a necessity for the transmission of news, should be owned and operated by the government in the interest of the people.

THE OCALA DEMANDS.

THE ALLIANCE PLATFORM ADOPTED IN 1890, WHICH IS SO MUCH DISCUSSED.

The Ocala platform, so called because it was adopted at the meeting of the Alliance which was held in Ocala, Fla., in 1890, is so often referred to that many who have become interested in the Alliance agitation within the past year and have not read the platform in full are at a disadvantage. A great deal of the discussiou in the newspapers has been such as to either create a wrong impression or to so muddle the reader as to leave him in a condition of doubt as to the demands made at Ocala. For the benefit of such the platform is herewith reproduced.

We demand the abolition of national banks.

We demand that the government shall establish sub-treasuries or depositories in the several states, which shall loan money direct to the people at a low rate of interest, not to exceed 2 per cent per annum, on nonperishable farm products, and also upon real estate, with proper limitation upon the quantity of land and amount of money.

We demand that the amount of the circulating medium be speedily increased to not less than fifty dollars per capita.

We demand that congress shall pass such laws as will effectually prevent the dealing in futures of all agricultural and mechanical productions, providing a stringent system of procedure in trials that will secure the prompt conviction and imposing such penalties as shall secure the most perfect compliance with the law.

We condemn the silver bill recently passed by congress, and demand in lieu thereof the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

We demand the passage of laws prohibiting alien ownership of land, and that congress take prompt action to devise some plan to obtain all lands now owned by aliens and foreign syndicates, and that all lands now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of such as is actually used and needed by them be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.

Believing in the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, we demand:

(a) That our national legislation shall be so framed in the future as not to build up one industry at the expense of another.

(b) We further demand a removal of the existing heavy tariff tax from the necessities of life that the poor of our land must have.

(c) We further demand a just and equitable system of graduated tax on incomes.

(d) We believe that the money of the country should be kept as much as possible

COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE.

FROM TOPAZ.

Special Correspondence.

The Alliance is booming up at Pleasant Home.

Farmers are still a little behind with their crops on account of the heavy rains, and many have had to plant cotton the second time on account of the cool weather.

Wheat, oats and corn are in fine fix, and reaping will commence in a few days.

Mr. W. P. Bowen, our enterprising business rustler is doing a good business, and gives entire satisfaction in the post-office.

The hardshell Baptists organized a church at Mockasin Rock on the 28th inst, with some ten or more members.

The People's Party here still gains strength, our list has 34 names and more are being added each meeting. We will send a good delegation to the Stephenville meeting on the 11th.

Success to the PROGRESS and its able editor. B.

FROM FLAT CREEK.

MR. EDITOR:—I had the pleasure of visiting Flat Creek last week and will report what I saw and heard while there:

Crops are very good and farmers pretty well up with work; the corn plowing is about over; cotton is clean and doing well.

Fruit is in abundance, and everything that the earth produces seems to be here, but yet the people are not satisfied.

Finance is the topic of conversation and every one is complaining of hard times and scarcity of money.

From what I could learn the Third Party will be represented at the polls this fall with ten to one of Democrats. The cause of this turning fromthe old party is the same that turned the republican vote in Kansas and created the land slide in 1890 and I look for another of the kind in Texas in 1892.

At a mass meeting of our citizens last Tuesday night at the school house a People's Party club was organized and J. W. Grisham elected president and J. C. Ansley secretary. Several short talks were made by those present and all who joined were fully in accord with the grand principals enunciated at St. Louis. Our club will meet again on Thursday night June 9th at which time Major D. M. Rumph has agreed to be on hand and give us a talk. Everybody is invited to come and to join with us if they believe in reform.

FROM SELDEN.

At Selden, Tuesday night, June 7, there will be a public meeting for the purpose of discussing the educational features of the Farmers' Alliance. That it has been a success will be argued in the affirmative, and we are anxious for some one to come and take the other side. Paste this in your hat and come.

Hon. Wesley Brandenburg delivered us a speech of about four hours duration the 21st inst. Quite a crowd was out to hear him and it is safe to presume that the fruits of his labors will be seen before many days.

As a missionary Mr. Brandenburg is a success and he generally leaves the people's party a booming.

Everybody and his kinfolks will be at the county convention on June 11.

Duffau has a people's party club with a membership of twelve to start with and more coming.

W. H. Gentry and family returned home on the 26th last.

R. L. Darnell, with his wife and sister-in-law left last week for Coke county to see his wife's kinfolks. Uncle Jesse Jackson is storekeeping in their absence.

Alf Cox, near the Box S. H., was seriously ill a few days ago, but was improving when last heard from.

Elder H. H. Heusler of Alexander, and P. J. Taylor of Thorp Springs, will engage in a religious discussion commencing the 16th of June at the Duffau Baptist church. A large crowd is expected to be in attendance. They are both able men and doubtless their subject will be well ventulated.

Stephenvilie was converted into a veritable Hogg ranch last Friday. The big Hogg and all the little runts were there, and what o Hogg-killing time we are going to have about the 9th of November!

Land Commissioner McGaughey says stand by the party that has stood by us, and not follow off after strange gods. We'll do it, gentle reader. Which party stood by us in the recent silver fight in congress?

The question now is who will be our next state senator.

Let us have a summer encampment by all means. Let a place be selected near the center of the county where there is plenty of water, shade, etc., and then let everybody and his wife and children come in their wagon prepared to stay three or four days and have one grand old social reunion. Good speakers can be had to entertain the people. Stump Ashby, M. W. Wilkins, or some other noted man can be induced to come and everybody will go away feeling that it was good to be there. Every candidate in the county ought to be in favor of it. Why not bring the matter up at the convention on the 11th of June? All in favor of it say "I," and let them be there to vote for it. G. L. The Opening Game.

A match game of base ball was played at the park last Monday afternoon between De Leon and Dublin, which resulted in a score of 10 to 19 in favor of De Leon. The Dublin boys had not played a game before during the season, but as they were bantered for a game a nine was rustled up with the above result.

Change of Appointment,

On account of the meeting at Stephenville on the 11th inst., which many will wish to attend, the appointment of Hon. W. W. Brandenburg at Buck Creek has been changed to June 13.

T. T. Knight has moved his store in the new building next door to post-office, Dublin, Texas.

The Water Works Dam.

The dam being put in by the Water Works company about one mile northwest of town is probably one of the largest, and will require a larger expenditure of money for labor than any other enterprise ever started in this city. It will be 2000 feet long, not less than 12 foot across on top, and 30 feet in heigth, with a slope of one and one-half feet to every foot on the inside and two feet to every foot on the outsi le, the inside to be ripraffed and paved with rock. When full of water the lake will cover some 60 acres or more with an average depth of about 15 feet. It is useless to say that the amount of water supply for the city will be unlimited when once the lake is filled and the elevation over the city on which it stands together with the large standpipe will give a water pressure unequalled by any city in Texas.

The Loyal Temperance Legion met at half past two last Sunday according to previous announcement, to form in line and march to the place appointed for the memorial address by Rev, J. T. Harris. Not more than half the members were present. The Legion meets promptly at three. Please remember this and let each one try to be on time. Come out and see our new banner.

At a prayer meeting held by the colored people an old brother prayed that the members of the church might be delivered from their "upsettin sins," after the close of the meeting a brother criticised him by saying that the bible said "besettin sins," the praying brother replied by saying that he was praying for the drunkards of the church "and if dat isn't an upsettin sin I don't know what you would call it."

No employe of a saloon, brewery or distillery can belong to the Knights of Labor. The brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen with other organizations expel members for drunkenness. Mr. Powderly says: "If a man given to the use of strong drink and a serpent applied for admission to the order, I would vote for the serpent in preference to the drunkard."

Dr. Chas. S. Allen states that the very first symptoms of poison by snakebite is heart failure, and the last symptom failure of the respiratory functions. Hence the popular delusion of whisky as an antidote. Its sole value as a toxical remedy is as a stimulant to prevent heart failure; excessive amounts of whisky will cause death; no one can drink a quart of it with impunity. Dr. Allen has made an exhaustive experimentation in this line, and says the treatment should be hypodermic applications to neutralize the poison, to check its advance through the circulation, and the use of internal remedies.

BOTH A SIN AND A DISEASE.

Drunkenness is both a sin and a disease. It is a sin, to commence with, and after having passed through its first stages and fastened itself securely upon its victim, it becomes both a sin and a disease. Alcohol is a distinct and certain poison, so declared by many leading physicians and scientists. When taken into the system regularly as a beverage it in numberless cases results in drunkenness. Drunkenness comes from drinking, and the drunkard always commences as a moderate drinker. Drunkenness is to be treated both as a sin and as a disease. The grace of God can save any drunkard from his sin, even to the "uttermost," and multitudes have thus been saved. Medical treatment has done much to save drunkards, and every effort in that direction should be joyfully hailed by every true friend of temperance, and due credit given for all good accomplished. At the same time, all moral and social impo possible should be put for- the salvation of the in- National Temperance Ad- ence to the proposed repressing drunken- inions of Professor tor of the insanity Charity hospital of thy of attention. ference of lunatic asylum physicians in Weimar, the professor argued in favor of the absolute necessity of special legislation against habitual drunkards on the ground that the statistics of insanity show a direct ratio to those ef intemperance. In the Rhine provinces, the percentage of insane persoss who had lost their reason through excessive drinking was twenty-eight, and in Berlin and Alsace as much as thirty-three. Taking a general average for the wine and schnapps drinking districts, Professor Jolly re kons that 25 per cent. among the inmates of asylums have been inebriates.—Christian Standard.

WHISKY DID IT.

Seldom have Shakespeare's words: "Oh that men should put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains!" been so strikingly illustrated as in the following touching incident. One of the best Greek scholars in New York is a guard on the Sixth avenue elevated road. Not long ago a famous professor in one of our leading universities published a volume on certain features of the ancient Grecian dialects of interest only to scholars. The L guard referred to above wrote to a New York newspaper pointing out several errors made by the professor in his book. He signed himself "Sixth Avenue Elevated Guard No.——." For a month, writes a New York correspondent, I watched the badges of the guards on that road as I made my daily trips back and forth. One morning I was rewarded by finding the learned man I sought. "How does it happen," I asked, showing him my card, "that you, a Greek scholar of the first rank, should be doing such work as this?" He looked at me sadly, and his red face became more flushed than usual. "I was the best Hellenist of my year at Dublin," he said. "My Greek is still what it used to be, but my career has been ruined by—wh'sky."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery Brown and M. Barr, of Cisco, favored the PROGRESS with a short but appreciative call while in the city to attend the services on Decoration day. Mr. Brown is a gentleman of wide reputation in the North and especially so among the Grand Army men all over the Union. He has the distinguished honor of being the youngest soldier on record ever mustered into service. At the age of 8 years he enlisted in the Union army as drummer boy in the Twenty-first Ohio Volunteer Infantry and was known as "the drummer boy of the Cumberland." He served through the entire war and came out without any disablements, and is now one of the leading cornetists and band teachers in the United States. While in this office he exhibited a Bb cornet presented to him in 1887 at Elkhart, Ind., by the musical instrument manufacturers, C. G. Conn & Co., members of the Grand Army, members of the Woman's Relief Corpse and others. It is solid gold mounted on a heavy silver plate with a brass foundation, nicely engraved and made by C. G. Conn & Co., at a cost of $800.

THE APPOINTIVE IDEA.

Special from Bluff Dale.

The writer went to Stephenville on the 27th to hear (X) Governor Hogg speak. He, of course, justified his "appointive" idea of commission from the fact, as he claimed, that if elective, the commission would be such an important factor in politics that the railroads would make a desperate struggle to select the commissioners. As he forgot to add that when appointive it made the governor to that extent more important, we will add that for him. He said that an unfriendly governor could kill the commission in an hour. Could he do so if it was elective? He is opposed to any amendments being made to it. We not only believe that there should be some amendments to the commission law, but that there should be some additions made to the statutory laws governing payments of damages and rights of way and the collecting of donations. There is much to be done before the shipper, the farmer, the town or city to be approached, and the employes all get their just rights from railway companies. He recommends more industry and economy at home, clean fence corners, free silver, tariff reform, and sticking to the yellow dog if he is nominated. He intimated that we would have money enough with free silver and that the sub-treasury plan is unconstitutional. He pretended to be almost thunderstruck when he heard that there is such a thing as the People's Party. Wonder how he will feel when he finds that this is the animal he hitched outside at the capitol and that the critter don't want to be used that way but once. He said the democratic party found the people of Texas hampered by class laws when it came into power in 1873, and had been battling to correct them ever since. With whom have they been battling so long? Themselves? If they have battled with themselves in Texas for eighteen years and succeeded like they did on the silver and tariff questions in congress, when may we expect relief? Every class law could be changed in thirty days so far as republican opposition in Texas is concerned. Yes, they have battled manfully over bills entitled "A bill for the relief of certain railroads," land grab, sham trust laws and many others with similar effect. Speculation is at high tide, crime on the increase, with nearly one hundred discriminating laws yet upon our statute books which rob the people of Texas of millions of dollars. The fact is the democratic party has fallen to pieces from its own corruption and its members are choosing between the republicans and the People's Party.

RED RIVER VALLEY.

GENERAL OVERFLOW CAN ONLY BE AVERTED BY PROVIDENCE.

Thousands of People Impoverished and Thousands of Dollars Washed Away by the Sweeping Tide—Cabins Floating Down the Stream Like Boats.

SHREVEPORT, May 30.—The situation here in the midst of the great flood is growing hourly more serious. It seems that a general overflow of the Red river valley can be averted only by providence. Thousands of people have been impoverished and thousands of dollars washed away by the sweeping tide. Cabins are floating down the river like boats and the levee with its refugees, its steamboats, skiffs, banks of goods and furniture, besides the continued stream of travel over the bridge, presents an interesting scene, while carriages, phaetons and well dressed people flock there with anxious looks to aid the distressed and view the river which is the highest since 1849 and still rising.

The United States steamer Wagner, in charge of Captain Starr, reached port from the Black and Red bayou districts, where relief was rendered to many people, who were rescued from ginhouses and tops of levees to high land.

The United States steamer Howell, in command of Captain Lydon, also arrived from the lower river with 118 men, women and children rescued from levees and ginhouses, together with their household effects and many head of stock. On the Howell was Captain William Robson, the Crowder brothers and other passengers. Captain Robson's place was safe and it is hoped his efforts will prevail against the flood. The Howell and the Wagner are ready to respond at a moment's notice to any call for relief.

The Red River line steamer Dortch arrived from the upper river. The report of her officers with regard to the situation is a recital of the ruin already chronicled.

A break in the old levee on the W. P. Belcher place occurred near his ginhouse. Belcher's place is on the Bossier side, about one mile below Shreveport. A lot of men were trying to stop the flow with sacks. If this break is not stopped all the land from the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific track down will be flooded. The water from this break will join the water from the break below.

The water has increased steadily in the vicinity of Jones' sawmill and the steamboat landing. The floor of the Red River line's warehouse and office is flooded to a depth of six inches, as are other buildings near by. The colored refugees from the overflowed districts, who are temporarily quartered in buildings at the fair grounds, received 250 pounds of fresh beef, donated by Messrs. Harris & Winston, butchers in the markethouse. Considerable distress prevails and an appeal for immediate help has been made to the government.

Laboring men have been in great demand to work on levees. They were offered $1 per day and board. Later in the day the price rose to 50 cents an hour and board and at that price few hands could be obtained. The idlers do not fancy levee work at any time.

News has just reached here that the levee at Gold Point gave way. A message from Shady Grove reports the levee all right. The disaster is appalling and will submerge three-fourths of the alluvial lands in Bossier, besides interrupting traffic on the Cotton Belt railroad.

Laidlaw Sues Sage.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Wm. R. Laidlaw, Jr., wants Russell Sage to pay him $50,000 for the injuries he received when Dynamiter Norcross blew up Mr. Sage's office. Mr. Laidlaw has been threatening to sue for several months, and recently his counsel, ex-Judge Noah Davis, wrote to Mr. Sage formally notifying him of the claim. That did not stir the venerable financier, and now the complaint in the suit has been served on his counsel, ex-Judge John F. Dillon. Mr. Laidlaw charges that Mr. Sage laid hands upon him just before Norcross dropped his bomb and used him as a shield against the effect of the explosion, with such success that the complainant will never fully recover his health, although he is now able to be about. He also declares that Mr. Sage, having invited him into his office, was bound to warn him if he was in danger and to protect him. Laidlaw was cashier for John Bloodgood & Co., and visited Mr. Sage's office in the course of business about the time that Norcross made a call. Mr. Sage has insisted all along that he did not use Laidlaw as a shield, and that he is not liable for damages for the injuries the cashier received.

Women Cut Quite a Figure.

MEMPHIS, May 28.—Women figured in the work of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and the discussion evoked was accordingly lively. The majority of the reports of the committee on judiciary was on the admission of women as ruling elders. A minority report was submitted. Rev. R. D. Stack of Alabama led off in the debate, saying that in the future the admission of women as ruling elders would be a pill the assembly would have to swallow, but as for him he opposed it on scriptural and practical grounds. He went on to give instances from the Bible to show that the women held up in that Book as the models to their sex were such as willingly submitted to the will of man and were content to perform the duties in life which nature and usage assigned to them. After a running crossfire for some time the report of the minority was adopted by a vote of 104 to 90. A report recommending that laymen be used to conduct religious services was adopted. It was decided to hold the next general assembly at Little Rock, Ark.

FIFTEEN ARE DEAD.

THE FUNNEL-SHAPED CLOUD AT WELLINGTON, KAS.

It Plows a Devastating Track Through Part of the Town with Immense Destruction to Property and Loss of Life—Storms in Texas.

KANSAS CITY, May 30.—A special to the Journal from Wellington, Kan., says: This city had a visitation from the funnel-shaped cloud which plowed a devastating track through part of the town with immense destruction to property and some loss of life; just how much it is impossible to tell at this writing. A heavy storm of wind and rain preceded the cyclone about half an hour. The cyclone came from the southwest. There were no premonitory signs. Everybody was indoors, and the cloud passed with a destructive rush and an awful roar unseen. Washington avenue, the principal business street, is lined on both sides with ruins. To add to the horror, fire broke out among the debris of Colonel Robertson's block and a woman, Mrs. Susan Asher, is supposed to have perished in the flames. A solid block of brick buildings, containing half a dozen stores and the Monitor Press and Voice printing offices, lies a tumbled heap of brick and mortar. Just across the street a laborer named Fanning was taken out of the ruins dead and there are supposed to be other bodies in the ruins.

Hundreds of dwellings were either totally destroyed or more or less damaged. The city is in darkness, as broken mains made it necessary to shut down the gas works and save destruction from fire.

Hon. James Lawrence, candidate for attorney general, had an arm broken; Walter Forsythe was taken from a ruined building slightly wounded and his brother, Edward, was talking for an hour before his release. Some bodies have been taken out of the Phillips house and a huge force of men are hard at work removing debris.

Two members of the Salvation Army are expected to die from their injuries.

At 'Squire Smith's residence seven persons were more or less injured.

The streets are littered with tin roofs, cloth awnings, broken glass and timbers. Everybody is on the streets carrying lanterns and it is utterly impossible to get at the exact facts. The destruction was simply awful and every minute adds to the horror of the situation. The Standard and Mail offices are wrecked, the opera house and dozens of the best buildings useless. Fine school buildings and churches are ruined, and the loss will foot up many thousands of dollars.

No reports have been received from other points. Wellington is the county seat of Sumner county, and has a population of over 10,000 inhabitants. It is in the center of a thickly settled agricultural district and is the most promising town in southern Kansas.

Further Details.

KANSAS CITY, May 30.—A Times special from Wellington says the cyclone was terribly destructive in its effect. Fifteen are known to be dead and an investigation of the wrecked buildings has only barely commenced.

Fortunately the residences in this locality are not numerous, otherwise the loss of life might have been much greater. The Phillips House was demolished and seven dead bodies have been taken from the ruins. The work of rescue there has only begun. The house was well filled with guests and the loss in that one house has doubtless been great.

The Wellington foundry was demolished and Mrs. William S. Ashler and her sister, Kittie Strahan, who happened to be passing there at the time, were buried in the ruins and killed. Their bodies were recovered.

Seven Men Hurt.

COMANCHE, Tex., May 30.—A severe storm passed over this city. The Comanche feedstore was totally demolished. The Hughes Hotel building was turned completely over and wrecked. Seven men were sleeping in the hotel and all were more or less hurt up by falling timbers. One was dislocated. Professor R[illegible]'s two-story residence was blown from its foundation, the Comanche National bank building injured and a large number of smaller houses blown over. It did not do much damage outside of town.

After the Weatherman Boys.

OZARK, Mo., May 28.—The men now confined in the Ozark jail for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Williams and the lynching of John W. Bright are: Geo. L. Taylor, D. F. McConkey, Reuben Isaac, John Stockstill and Captain Mat Day. These are supposed to be the most guilty men who composed the mob. The other persons who are in the Springfield jail are only supposed to be accessories. Warrants have been issued for the Weatherman brothers, who, Friend says, were in the mob, and the officers of Taney county are after them. They will likely be arrested by the time the trial commences. The state has a lot of witnesses summoned besides Friend. It is thought that some of the prisoners in the Springfield jail will turn state's evidence before the trials, and that Friend will not be the only eye witness for the state. The only hope for the lynchers is to try to prove an alibi.

FROM BROWNWOOD.

Special Correspondence.

Reform is in the air in Brown county. That we are approaching a crisis in the history of our country no one denies, that it has been brought about by oppression of all legitimate enterprises, through class legislation no one denies; that all hope of relief from either of the two old parties; no one that is posted on the positions of said parties denies that farmers wage workers and all legitimate business men must combine to protect themselves. No unbiased man can deny that the very life of this republic is at stake. No man that has cast an honest, unbiased, patriotic reflection over the history of the political trend of the dominant parties for the last twenty years will deny. Knowing this, the people, the great balance wheel to our governmental machinery are asserting their power and have put on foot a move that will save the life of the nation and the homes of the people.

Last Saturday the patriots of Brown county met in mass convention at Brownwood to select their servants to represent them in the different conventions as per the call of the state executive committee of the Peoples' Party.

H. F. Jones made one of his stirring appeals to the honest voters of Brown county, so did Chas. H. Jenkins and this scribe. Mr. Jenkins will be at the congressional convention at Dublin on the 17th of June, and has promised to address the people in the interest of reform, and let me say to the people of Erath and adjoining counties that they will miss a treat if they don't come out and hear the golden tongued orator of Texas; the next United States Senator of the great State of Texas. Mr. Jenkins is held in the highest esteem by all; irrespective of party creeds in southwest Texas.

This scribe met Miss Emma Dodgins of Duffau, Erath county while here, and I wish to say to the boys over at Duffau while she will soon be at home I fear her heart has found a place of sweet repose here in Brownwood. Miss Emma is a charming little girl and her absence will be mourned by—— and a host of other friends that she has made during her stay at Brownwood. E.

IN MEMORIUM.

Little Alda Margret Olena Morton, daughter of J. E. and A. E. Morton was born April 19th, 1887, and died at her home May 3rd, 1892.

Little Olda was good and kind to all. She was a pet of all that knew her. She was very tender hearted, it was very seldom that she needed correction, always giving preference to others in short, she was all that humanity could be. But a few days before she died she asked her mama to learn her how to pray, said she loved Jesus and was always going to be good; now she has gone to live with him for ever. Her parents were members of Harbin Alliance hence we deeply deplore her loss. But as our loss is her eternal gain, we bow in humble submission to our Heavenly Father and fondly cherish the hope that we shall see little Alda again. We offer to her dear father and mother, brothers and sisters our humble, nevertheless sincere words of sympathy and condolence and pray that God may bring them all together again where parting is known no more and where all tears are wiped away. As a committee we beg leave to dedicate these precious thoughts to her memory with the request that this Alliance adopt this report, spread it on its minutes and furnish little Alda's parents with a copy.

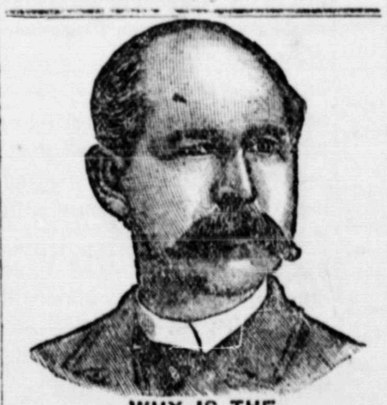

A bud the gardner gave us,
A pure and lovely child:
He gave it to our keeping
To cherish undefiled.
But just as it was opening
To the glory of the day,
Down came the gardner
And took our bud away.

Respectfully submitted.

THAT SOLDIER RESOLUTION AGAIN!

MORGAN, Tex., May 23, '92.

COL. BUCK BARRY:—As you attended the St. Louis convention you know whether or not the so-called soldiers' plank is in the reform platform or not. I would like to know whether it is in it or not. Kindly answer.

O. R. BELCHER.

WALNUT, May 26, '92.

In response to your note will say the conference at St. Louis made no platform and was not authorized to do so. The delegates elected to meet at Omaha on the 4th of July will formulate the platform for the new reform party. They go for that purpose. The labor conference meeting at St. Louis was to agree on concert of political action, not for any party, but to protect themselves against the intrusion of capitalistic monopolies. There were over thirty labor organizations represented there. One committeeman from each organization and one for every ten delegates or fraction from each organization was selected, making 160, to draft a platform of agreement that the conference could agree on. It was no party platform, but was published for any party to adopt that was friendly to the farmer and laborer, and is now the property of any party that will adopt it. There were many conflicting opinions between the committee of the many organizations there represented, and the three planks, finance, land, transportation, was all they could agree upon and was all the conference endorsed as a platform as set forth by the committee on platform.

The soldier resolution, as called, was no part of the platform as reported by the committee, but was passed separately as were other resolutions, but the reporters in compiling the minutes got it so separated from the other resolutions that it was construed as to be part of the platform, as the St. Louis dailies showed next morning, but the national executive committee had the papers to correct the mistake, bat journalistic enemies got hold of it and will not let go. They accuse us of a thing we never done, but just a thing they have put in their platform and voted for over twenty years. Respectfully,

J. B. BARRY.

HERES YOUR MAIL.

Rural delivery and collection of mails is attracting a good deal of attention at the present time. Many of the most progressive papers of the country are discussing the subject, favorably, as far as we have seen. The postmaster general, himself a progressive and wide-awake official, is heartily in favor of extending the service as far into the rural districts as the laws will permit, and has recommended to congress appropriations to enable him to experiment further in the matter. The movement is one of vast importance to people who do not live within the present free delivery districts. As an educator of the masses, nothing better has been proposed since the inauguration of public free schools. There is nothing in the way of extending the service far into the country villages and suburbs but the fear that the cost would make it necessary to forego schemes more fruitful of political capital. The history of free delivery in Europe shows that it can be made self-sustaining everywhere, unless we except sparsely settled districts. When people can send and receive mail daily without interruption of regular duties, and without direct cost, they will keep up with the progress of the age, they will write and receive more letters, take and read more papers, general intelligence will be wonderfully stimulated, and the country vastly benefited. It would do the nation more good than fifty steel-clad war ships, and cost much less. Keep the subject before the people and bring it before candidates for congress.—Farm and Ranch.

THE ALLIANCE AND GOVERNOR HOGG.

The following clipping is made from the Corsicana Observer of last week:

Evan Jones, president of the state alliance spoke in regard to Governor Hogg's dealing with the Alliance in last Sunday's Houston Post. President Jones is reported as follows:

"What do you think of Governor Hogg's administration, Colonel?"

"There are some things in the present administration which are not at all satisfactory to our order. We are emphatically opposed to Mr. Hogg's plan of lending the school money to railroads and we want the railroad commission elective. We do not think that we have been treated with proper courtesy by Mr. Hogg either. He not only disregarded the wishes of the alliance in ignoring us in his appointments of the commissioners, but since opening his campaign he has added insult to injury by maligning us. In his Corsicana speech he said that our state convention at Waco was composed of railroad lobbyists when he ought to have known better. One hundred and forty counties were represented in that convention and it was composed wholly of representative Texas farmers. No others are allowed in our conventions, as Governor Hogg is certainly aware. His insulting and vulgar remark that "the alliance had got too big for its breeches" was entirely uncalled for, but he will find that it is too big and too broad in its conceptions of good governmen ever to elect James Stephen Hogg again governor of Texas. Two years ago our whole strength went to make him governor. Now he has no followers in the order."

If Evan Jones will not follow Governor Hogg how can the members of the alliance follow him and if the alliance will not support him how can farmers who do not belong to the alliance follow such a blunderer.

The first victory for the People's Party was achieved in the house of representatives last Monday morning by the Hon. Thos. E. Watson, he had stood firm as a rock, every morning asking unanimous consent for the passage of a resolution directing the committee on ways and means to report on the subtreasury bill, and every morning some member objected and called for the regular order, and Mr. Watson then watched all day long and objected to every request for unanimous consent for anything. It grew burdensome to the majority, and finally to all, and when a member objected to Mr. Watson's modest request last Monday, he was requested by a colleague to withdraw the objection, which he did, and the resolution passed. This shows what determination and perseverence will do. The committee on ways and means must now report the bill, and this house of representatives can be put upon record, provided all the Democratic Alliance Congressmen who were elected as favorable to that measure vote as they have promised their constituents they would.

THE DUBLIN PROGRESS.

FRIDAY, JUNE 3, 1892.

A SET OF LEARNED OFFICIALS.

That's what the Commissioners' Court of Erath County Unanimously Decided They Were.

Only a short while since several prominent farmers from below Dublin (subscribers to the PROGRESS) called on the editor of the paper to know if there was any truth in the current rumor that the commissioners court had caused the county road fund for this year to be transferred to the court house fund. The PROGRESS editor was not as fully posted on the law in such cases then as he has become since, but decided that as it was his business to find out and let the people know if such had been done and with this in view directed a letter of inquiry, enclosing a stamp for reply, to R. T. Long, clerk of said court. The letter failed to bring a reply and in due time a second one was sent which brought the very pertinent and uncivil answer:

STEPHENVILLE, TEX., May 17,'92.
Mr. J. S. Daley,
Ed., PROGRESS.
Dublin Texas.

Kind Sir:—I received your first letter and showed it to the commissioners' court and it was so absurd that they all had a hearty laugh and no more was thought of it until this came and I was so busy I have neglected until now. The court has transferred no fund to the court house fund. Respct.

R. T. LONG, Cl'k, per KEITH.

A common question from a number of people who helped to elect these self constituted Solomonites may sound very absurd in their delicate ears (which seem rather to resemble those of the animal that Balaam rode) but it does not sound so to these same people to be told that it was absurd and that they were made a laughing stock of. If the PROGRESS is not badly mistaken it is one of the duties of the commissioners' court to publish the proceedings of that body so that the people may know what their servants have done and are doing without subjecting themselves to a humiliating ridicule before that body who are elected to represent them by asking questions.

The following article 259 of the General laws of Texas passed by the 22nd Legislature was probably overlooked by the court while they were having their "hearty laugh" at the expense of the tax payers of Erath county.

"ARTICLE 259. If the Commissioners' Court of any county in this State shall willfully fail, neglect or refuse to make, or cause to be made a tabular statement of the assetts, expenditures and indebtedness of such county at each regular term of the said court, specifying therein the names of creditors and the items of indebtedness, with their respective dates of accrual and also the names of persons to whom moneys have been paid with the amounts paid each during the quarter for which such statement is prepared. or shall wilfully fail, neglect or refuse to publish and exhibit showing the aggregate receipts and disbursements of each separate fund for the quarter in some newspaper published in the county (or if there be no newspaper, then by posting such exhibit in at least four public places in the county,) immediately after the first regular term in each calender year, or shall wilfully fail, neglect or refuse to post such exhibit made at the third regular meeting of said court in each calendar year at the court house door, and at least three other public places in the county, the members of the court so failing, neglecting or refusing, shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars.

SEC. 2. The near approach of the close of the present session of the Legislature creates an emergency requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and said rule is hereby suspended, and this act take effect from and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted."

We will state for the probable benefit of the court and the future benefit of the people who are already aware of the fact, that the court have not caused this to be done, and, according to the law each and every one are subject to a fine for either his negligence or cussedness, we can't judge which. However the people should see in the next election that they elect men who are not carried away with their own personality and greatness and instead of pondering over the dimensions of their wisdom and passing their time having a "hearty laugh" over the ignorance of the people will devote their time more profitably in searching up the laws defining their duties and complying with them.
