Amendments' Absentee Votes Must Be Cast In Littlefield

Absentee voting in the proposed constitutional amendments began July 16 and will close Friday, Aug. 1 at 5 p. m., according to District Clerk Ray Lynn Britt.

Those wishing to vote by absentee ballot must vote at the office of the county clerk in Littlefield.

The ballot box will be placed in the grade school gymnasium in Olton on Aug. 5 and Fred Hicks has been named presiding judge, with Percy Parsons named as clerk.

In South Olton, the Robert Sullivan residence will be the place of voting with Sullivan presiding.

Hart Camp voters will vote at the Baptist Church in Hart Camp and H. V. Lynch will serve as presiding judge.

Number one of the nine proposed amendments concerns a clean-up amendment, which makes no substantive change, but cleans up obsolete, and unnecessary sections of the Constitution.

Amendment number two, dealing with the water development board, is one of the most important ones to this area. The amendment would make it possible for the water board to develop sufficient water resources for present and future economic development of the state.

Number three on the ballot would authorize the legislature to set the salary of the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house of representatives at not more than one-half the salary of the governor and to set the salary of other members of the legislature at not more than the salary of a district judge.

Number five, exempting non-profit water supply corporations from ad valorem taxation, would apply only to property that is reasonably necessary for and used in the acquisition, storage, transportation and sale of water.

Amendment number five would increase the maximum amount which may be expended in one year from state funds for public assistance payments to needy aged, needy disabled, needy blind, and needy children to $80 million, and appropriate $15 million for each of the next two fiscal years beginning Sept. 1, 1969, in addition to the amounts appropriated for these purposes in the regular appropriation act for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1, 1969.

Amendment number six would authorize the removal of constitutional interest-rate limitations on certain bonds subject to limitations imposed by the legislature.

Number seven proposes to add certain governmental employees, officers and agents, including members of organized volunteer fire departments and members of organized police reserve or auxiliary units, to the list of persons whose surviving spouses and children are eligible for assistance as provided by law.

Number eight would authorize the legislature to provide for additional loans to students in institutions of higher education under the Texas Opportunity Plan.

Number nine provides for annual sessions of the Texas Legislature. Present provisions prescribe that regular sessions be held biennially in odd-numbered years. The proposed amendment would add a new paragraph to provide for the holding of regular sessions in even-numbered years.

MIKE TROTTER

The highest award to be earned at the state level, that of Lone Star Farmer, was bestowed on five members of the Olton chapter of Future Farmers of America last week in Fort Worth.

Receiving the top degree at the 41st annual State FFA Convention were Gary Dickenson, Pat Trotter, Ted Wheeler, Danny Collins and Danny Sides.

Trotter and Dickenson attended the three-day meeting accompanied by John Paul Jones and Larry Manuel, vocational agriculture advisors.

Richard Michael Trotter was recognized as the Area I Star American Farmer, receiving approval at the state level for the highest award which can be earned in the FFA program.

The gold charm and certificate of the Lone Star Farmer was awarded to the five local members for projects in which each has earned $500 net income. That income must be invested in additional projects or banked.

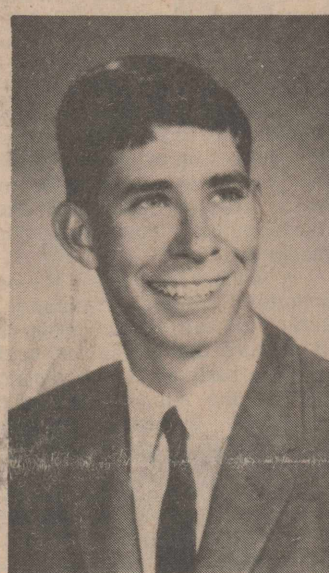

Pat Trotter became the third member of his family to receive the Lone Star Farmer degree. His father, Gene Trotter, received the top award in 1943

Trotter attended two area conventions and three state conventions.

Dickenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dickenson, has attended area, state and national conventions. He served last year as reporter for the local FFA chapter.

Mistake In Report

Well, it happened again! We made another goof! And this time it was where it really hurts --- the matter of the pocketbook.

It seems that in last week's school board story, that we made the mistake of saying that a state approved teachers salary raise would not become effective until 1970.

It should have read that the salary hike would become effective in the year 1969-70, our next school year.

The raise came as a result of the last legislature which passed into law a certain pay schedule in order to assure teachers in the state a better paying job.

In the year 1969-70, Olton teachers will receive in excess of $600, then in the year 70-71, an average of $1000 raise and by the year 71-72, go into what is called a "step system" and then teachers with their bachelors degrees would be drawing from $6000 to $9780 and those with master's degrees would be drawing from $6600 to $10,780.

Spotted Rains Fall In Olton Area, Needed Moisture Is Welcomed

Rains fell in the area Monday night and there were reports ranging from "just a sprinkle" to "about two inches."

There were a few reports of high wind and slight hail damage, but they were not serious.

Larry Witten said he received about one-third of an inch on his place southeast of town, but his father who farms near Edmonson reported about two inches of rain and some hail and said that east of Ed-monson there was "quite a lot of hail."

Witten said the heavier rain "must have been on east of me." He is on the county line.

Harlan Carson, north of town, said the high wind knocked down their corn, but he thought it was going to come back up. There was no hail and he gauged two inches of rain, saying he felt like it rained more than that but since the wind was blowing so hard, it failed to get measured.

"A nice shower" was the way Royce McFadden described the moisture. He said he had about a half inch of rain with no hail.

On Walter Struve's grassland in the sandhills, a gauge showed one inch. He said his gauge at his home in town also showed one inch.

Travis Bundick, north of Olton, said the heavier rains went east of him. He received about half an inch and those west of him received almost nothing.

Jack Gullett, northeast of town, said that it just barely settled the dust.

Out at Circle, Jack Snider reported about .70 on the Flournoy place which he farms. There was only a trace at his home, north of Circle.

Southwest of town, the rains were very spotted, showing variations in amounts from one fourth to three fourths inches of moisture.

L. F. Glenn, who farms south of town reported .70 and said there was more east of him, but less west.

Bountiful crops are in the making for the area farmers and the rains were welcomed by all, whether the moisture was great or small.

Amendment No. 2

TEXANS ON AUGUST 5 will determine the course our state will take into the next century. One course, begun nearly two decades ago and ready for action now, will provide adequate water resources to keep Texas moving ahead with vision and determination. The other leads to stagnation and decline because of an inadequate water supply. WHAT IS AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO?

Amendment No. 2 authorizes the Texas Water Development Board to issue $3.5 billion in bonds to finance Texas' share of the cost of the Texas Water Plan. This money is not to be used to provide gifts or grants, but will provide temporary financing which will be repaid by water users. The Amendment also removes the 4 per cent ceiling on Water Development Bonds. WHAT IS THE TEXAS WATER PLAN?

The objective of the Texas Water Plan is to provide adequate water to maintain the growth and prosperity of Texas into the next century when it is estimated that we will have a population of 30.5 million people. The Plan provides for the full development of our water resources and the importation of surplus water from the lower Mississippi River for distribution to areas with declining water resources. WHO IS TO PAY FOR THE PLAN?

Cost of the $9 billion Texas Water Plan-Texas' share is estimated at $3.5 billion - will be shared by local, state and federal governments, with those who ultimately use the water paying much of the costs of the Plan. WHY DOES TEXAS NEED A WATER RESOURCE PLAN?

By the end of this century - in just 31 years - Texas will not have enough water to supply its growing cities, its expanding industry, and its irrigated agriculture. To assure an adequate water supply, the state has prepared a plan for the full development, management and use of its water resources - and an imported water supply - to serve Texas to the year 2020 and to assure all Texans water to meet their needs. WILL THE PLAN PROVIDE ADEQUATE WATER FOR TEXAS?

Yes. With our current major reservoirs (157), the proposed full development of our water resources (67 dams and reservoirs) and an imported supply of water, Texas can meet its water demands to the year 2020. WHO WILL BENEFIT FROM THE PLAN?

The people of Texas will benefit from the Texas Water Plan. The plan provides for meeting all essential and beneficial water requirements throughout the state. The Plan will provide water for domestic and municipal uses, for industry, for agriculture, for recreation, for our bays and estuaries, and for other beneficial purposes. The Texas Water Plan will provide Water for Texas!

West Texas State Adopts Recommended Calendar

West Texas State University joins a growing academic trend toward completion of the fall semester of school before the Christmas holiday period next year.

Dr. Walter H. Juniper, academic vice president, said the fall semester in 1970 will begin Aug. 24, three weeks earlier than this year.

Juniper said the change was recommended by the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System. "The basic purpose is for uniformity of calendars among all state-supported schools," he said. "Not all schools will make the change immediately," he added.

Under the new calendar the fall semester will end Dec. 17, the spring semester will start Jan. 11, 1971 and will be concluded May 13. The 1971 summer session will begin May 31.

The plan also necessitated a change in the coming school year's calendar.

Juniper said the dates for spring semester final examinations will be May 25-28 - one day earlier than announced in the previously published 1969-70 university catalogue - and the 1970 summer session will be from June 1 to Aug. 14, instead of June 8-Aug. 28.

In order to have the same amount of instructional time during each term of the 1970 summer sessions, Juniper said, the first term will be of six weeks duration with 80-minute-long class periods each day and the second term will be five weeks with 90-minute periods.

Texas Hospitals Stop Cigarette Vending Machine Sales

Some Texas hospitals have stopped allowing cigarette sales on the premises because they cause cancer, according to a survey of Texas hospitals just completed by Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education (TANE). One hospital stopped cigarette sales "because they were considered a health hazard," but allowed cigarette vending machines to be returned because of "quite a bit of pressure" on the part of a vending company which insisted that cigarette machines be accepted with other machines.

A Dallas physician whose hospital evicted cigarettes, said, "we felt in our group of 21 doctors that it was immoral to urge patients not to smoke and at the same time make cigarettes available through machines from which we made a profit."

Of the 763 questionnaires sent out, 580 were returned; 194 stated that no tobacco products were sold; 366 said cigarettes were sold on the premises; chewing tobacco and snuff numbered 23. Of those allowing tobacco sales, 277 were sold by a concessionaire rather than directly by the hospital.

Of five U. S. Air Force hospitals answering, four did not have cigarette sales. Most Army hospitals did, and all Veterans Administration hospitals did.

Of twenty state hospitals replying, four had no cigarette sales.

TANE is a non-profit, educational organization supported financially by Texas churches of 19 different denominations. Its work includes public school assembly programs, publishing books for students and teachers, producing film strips, and other educational materials on alcohol and drugs. One of the film strips is entitled, "Smoking or Health," and is used nationally. TANE also has a speakers bureau of more than 100 men who speak in some 2,500

Texas churches each year. The organization's books are sold nationally, and some have been translated in three other languages.

"Our purpose is to prevent problems that arise from the use of alcohol, narcotics, and other dangerous drugs," said Albert F. Tucker, TANE Executive Director. "Cigarettes kill people slower, but they still kill people. Therefore, they contain a dangerous drug," he said.

Results of the survey were (1) Are tobacco products sold on hospital premises? None, 194; Cigarettes, 366; Chewing Tobacco, 23; Snuff, 23. (2) Are such tobacco products sold directly by the hospital? Yes, 30; No, they are sold by a concessionaire, 277; other, 74."

Sue's Views

Skiing

BY SUE CANNON

Now that I have skipped a couple of weeks of writing this column, I guess I'd better get with it and see if I can't come up with something this week. I simply must tell you about my learning to water ski.

There's just ONE thing ... there's got to be an easier way to kill yourself.

I want you to know that I worked with those doggone skis until they had me doing just what they wanted me to, instead of my having them doing what I wanted.

My brother, Charlie, was down the week after our vacation and he and my sister and their families went over to Bull Lake and took my kiddos along. Just before leaving, they called and said, "Meet us at Bull Lake after work and bring some hamburger buns and potato chips."

So I decided I might as well take off and go. Then of course, all my children were over there along with Tena Dennis, whom they were baby sitting with that week.

So I decided to see if Tena's mother wouldn't go along and she was delighted to get to go and see about her daughter who had been at the lake all afternoon. Well, when we got there, I was foolish enough to decide to try my luck at water skiing. So I donned my bathing suit and got a life jacket and got those long, unruly skis and head for the water.

Everytime I'd get up just about ... over I'd go head first or the cotton pickin' skis would get out from under me and let me tell you ...sitting down on that water was not like sitting on a feather bed!

Wow! It might as well have been concrete!

Each time I'd come up fighting for air and trying my best to keep those skis like they should be, ole Charlie would say, "You know what you did wrong then?"

Of course, I had no idea ... all I knew was that I sure wasn't doing ANYTHING right!

But believe it or not I finally got up ... for just a minute, then wham ... somebody pulled the rug out from under me again!

I lost my skis several times and Charlie was trying to help me get them back on which wasn't very simple with me laughing so hard I was almost crying.

He remarked he wouldn't make a very good shoe salesman and I just came loose at the seams then. We both got so tickled that we had to get back over to the more shallow water before he ever got my skis back on.

Then I'm ready for more torture.

So... when I finally get up and stay up for a while.. I'm thinking, "Ha, there's nothing to it," when about that time we have to make a turn and you know who goes out on the outside of the boat lickety-scoot! and down, down, down!

Man, I thought I'd had it. But stupid-like, I put them on again and got up once more and rode that water just like I knew what I was doing.

Then, for some unknown reason, I was falling again. And brother, that was all for me! I really had had it!

So I head for shore and by then Mary has the hamburgers ready to eat and we stand around the fire and eat. Then we loaded up and headed for home.

That was an exciting day but the excitement wasn't over yet.

We decided to stop and get Cokes and water for the kids and I get a cupful of ice water spilled in my lap. I thought I was so tired I couldn't move, but, believe me, I MOVED!

By then everything we did was funny and we laughed till we cried.

I remarked, "Boy, I ought to have plenty for a column next week."

Mary said, "You know I thought up until today, that you made up the stuff you write in those columns."

After a day like the one she spent with my family and I, she'll never doubt anything I write in this space again, I'm afraid.

And I'm wondering if she'll ever let Tena go anywhere else with my bunch.

MRS. KENNETH BURGESS

Cook Of The Week

A newcomer to Olton this year, Mrs. Kenneth Burgess, shares three of her favorite recipes with Enterprise cooks.

Sue and Kenneth moved with their three sons to Olton from their farm home near Sudan just after the mid-term break.

All three young Burgesses were active in the summer baseball program. Kenneth Jr., 13, was a member of the Babe Ruth league; Greg, 11, a Little Leaguer and Brad, a seven-year-old, played with the Pee Wee league.

Sue, who grew up at Seymour, graduated from Tech and taught homemaking at Sudan High School. She taught remedial reading last semester at H. P. Webb Elementary School and will continue to do so this fall.

In order to be better qualified, Sue attended the first session of summer school at Tech and studied methods of teaching elementary math and reading.

Commuting 50-plus miles to school and keeping up with three different baseball leagues, added to her regular duties as housewife and mother, have completely filled Sue's summer hours.

Obviously there is little time left for hobbies but Sue does love music and spends what time she can find in playing. She was organist for the United Methodist Church in Sudan.

She also enjoys art and "used to paint." She is particularly fond of pastels and charcoal. Her latest contribution in art work has been decoupage.

Sue loves to read and confides she hates to put a book aside without completing it.

SPRING CLEANING time is here again and one place that definitely should not be neglected, according to Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies, is the medicine cabinet. Check to see that medicines are not over-age. If any are, throw them out. They could make you feel better but also might make you feel a lot worse.

MOST INJURIES in the home occur from falls and one of the most dangerous areas is the bathroom. One way to reduce this hazard, says Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies, is to keep a rubber mat in the bath tub. Also never touch anything electrical while bathing.

Federal Registration Given Insecticide 'Di-Syston'

Federal registration for the foliar application of DI-SYSTON liquid Concentrate on grain sorghum for greenbug control has been announced by Dr. Walter H. Grimes, product manager for Chemagro Corporation, Kansas City, Missouri. DI-SYSTON systemic insecticide has been widely used for aphid control on many other crops in the United States.

Since the first outbreak of the greenbug (aphid) on sorghum in 1967, DI-SYSTON Liquid Concentrate has been used experimentally as a control measure with great success. With the receipt of federal registration, the way is now cleared for ground or aerial application of the chemical wherever greenbugs have become a problem on sorghum.

DI-SYSTON L.C. is an emulsifiable concentrate containing six pounds of active ingredients per gallon. It is now registered to be applied at the rate of 1/3 pint (4 ounces active ingredient) to 2/3 pint (8 ounces A.I.) per acre. Two applications may be made per crop season. The last application can be made up to seven days before harvest of the grain, or 28 days prior to use of the plant as forage or fodder.

DI-SYSTON kills aphids on contact, then is absorbed rapidly by the leaves of the plant and moves into the sap stream to carry on its work through long-lasting systemic residual action. When aphids begin to feed, they are quickly killed by the insecticide carried in the juices of the plant.

After the material has been absorbed into the plant tissues, beneficial insects such as ladybugs, lacewings, flies, syrphid flies, and wasp parasites can carry on their work unharmed by the chemical residue.

Research data from tests conducted on extensive acreage in Oklahoma showed that Di-syston L.C. at 4 ounces A.I. per acre (1/3 pint) gave better than 99 per cent control of greenbugs within 72 hours. Pre-treatment counts had established the aphid population at 5,000 per plant. Phytoxicity studies throughout the major grain sorghum producing areas, carried out on many varieties ranging in size from very small plants up to the milk stage of the seed head, showed that DI-SYSTON was not harmful to sorghum foliage.

In 1968, explosive outbreaks of the greenbug, Schizaphis graminum (Rondani), occurred on grain sorghum throughout a major portion of the sorghum-producing region of the United States. Severe infestations were reported in Arizona, California, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico, Oklahoma, South Dakota and Texas. In these states, the greenbug infested more than 7 1/2 million acres, and damage was estimated to exceed 68 million dollars. Populations of 30,000 to 40,000 insects per plant were observed, and thousands of acres of small grain sorghum were killed.

Taxonomically, the sorghum greenbug is considered to be a biotype of the species of greenbug which infests wheat and some minor distinguishing differences have been noted in the field. It has been discovered that the sorghum aphid is able to withstand high temperatures. No adverse effects were noted at temperatures of 106 to 109 degrees F.

When feeding on sorghum, colonies of the greenbug generally start on the bottom leaves and move upward. Normally only the underside of the leaf is infested. Heavy feeding by this insect causes the leaves to turn reddish in color first, then brown.

Oklahoma tests in 1968 indicated an overall average yield increase of 33 percent resulted from greenbug control. This would mean a return of $6 for ever $1 spent for treatment. Chemagro officials estimate a cost of 66¢ per acre for treatment with DI-SYSTON, when applied at the recommended rate of 1/3 pint per acre.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Everyone should have had the privilege of attending the State Future Farmers of America Convention last week in Fort Worth. It was truly worthwhile. Of course, the fact that Number One Son received recognition for having been named Area I Star American Farmer and Number Two Son received his Lone Star Farmer degree, sort of added to our appreciation of the meeting.

We got to hear Ben Barnes make a fine talk but the highlight, to me, was an address by Marilyn Van Derber, a former Miss America. She made me want to go right out and do big things!

Seriously, I wish everyone could have heard what she had to say. And I wish we'd all heed her words.

Cute as a kitten, Miss Van Derber advised her young listeners and the older visitors, "You can do anything you want to do, you can be anything you want to be."

Her recipe? She cautioned, "Have a definite goal -- to be accomplished -- by a definite date."

"Then work, work, work."

Although she cited several people whose careers have proved her point, one of the more dramatic was the story of Wilbur Thompson, winner of the shot put in the 1948 Olympics. Thompson overcame polio (I think it was polio) and, in 1948, hurled the shot put farther than any athlete had before him. "Talent," she asked? "Strength?"

The bicep of his right arm measured a whopping 18 inches and Thompson was indeed a strong young man.

But when those who saw him noticed Thompson's left arm, they saw a wasted, limp, useless limb less than half the measure of the other.

She closed her address with an acapella rendition of "The Impossible Dream." That, in itself, is a most marvelous challenge. If you don't think so, give a careful listen to the words.

It was also a marvelous experience to listen to the outgoing State President Bill Sarpalus preside, make his retiring speech and just observe that young man.

Bill, who began his sophomore year at Clarendon Junior College this week, is a product of Cal Farley's Boy's Ranch.

VISIT GRANDPARENTS Jerry and Martin Brown visited last week in Plainview with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Martin.

HOST COOKOUT Mr. and Mrs. Houston Hamby hosted a hamburger cookout on their patio Saturday night. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Givens, Mr. and Mrs. Jon Scott of Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sachse of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Billy McAllister and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Carson.

RELATIVES VISIT Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Harper of McAllen were recent visitors of Harper's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bley.

SUNDAY GUESTS Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bley had as guests Sunday Mrs. Bley's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson of Lubbock.

RETURN HOME Mr. and Mrs. Lyndol Kinser, Sherree and Jimmy recently were in Cleveland several days. There they visited Mrs. Kinser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cooper. Mr. and Mrs. Kinser also went fishing.

All Cal Farley's dreams and work were young while in just that one young man. Had none before him, nor any yet to come, do well from their life at Boy's Ranch, Farley would still have been a success.

SENSING THE NEWS

By Thurman Sensing
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT
Southern States Industrial Council

A nation lives and dies by the values to which it subscribes. Material things count, of course, but without the values of loyalty, faith, and dedication to national goals even the wealthiest state cannot long endure. The truth of this is much on the minds of the American people this summer as they think of crime and disorder in the land and of the twisting and debasement of values at some of the most famous educational institutions in the country. The values by which the American Republic has lived are under attack as never before in our country's history.

This is the time of the outrageous statement. Whitney Young, head of the Urban League, says that America has lived a lie. The valedictorian at Princeton University called his country sick. Harvard University permitted an SDS fanatic to talk at its commencement. The chaplain of Yale University gives favorable mention to the idea of insurrection.

Truly, America is being undermined from within -- undermined by people who enjoy all the benefits of American freedom and prosperity and who expect to continue to be subsidized by the people.

A band of politicians who question America's role and values seek every opportunity to downgrade their fellow citizens in uniform. Loud complaints are made when there is an "overrun" -- a higher cost -- in a defense program. But they don't say a word in criticism of the endless "overruns" in welfare spending.

Liberals angrily complain about discrimination, and then do their utmost to perpetuate the 1965 Voter Act which was conceived in prejudice against seven Southern states. The liberals argue for equal protection of the law in civil rights cases, but desire unequal application of the law against one region of the United States -- the South.

Values are twisted on every front. While American servicemen are exposed to communist bullets in Vietnam, Sen. George McGovern (D-S, D.) holds a secret meeting with North Vietnamese representatives and then emerges to blast American military resistance to the V. C. and the North Vietnamese regulars.

Parents try to teach their children moral values. Then the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington decides that a federal Civil Service employee may not be fired on the grounds that he is a sexual pervert. Millions of Americans work hard and practice self-reliance. But in Richmond, Va., members of a so-called welfare rights organization demand $7,000 free each year from their fellow citizens.

Responsible Americans know that the safety of the American people in an age of aggression requires that the nation's brainpower be fully utilized for defense purposes. But at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology faculty members in large numbers protest against university-based defense research. They apparently are unconcerned about the research progress of the Soviet Union -- research oriented towards destruction of free nations.

Religious faith is the foundation of the moral order. But politically-minded churchmen undermine faith by urging civil disobedience and by using church funds to sponsor groups that create strife. Witness many actions taken by the National Council of Churches, for instance.

Developments of this sort have profoundly shocked and justifiably angered many good Americans. Adults see young people being exposed to hurtful and destructive influences, their taxes and their private contributions used to promote causes and fund programs that weaken the nation and confuse its people.

What kind of nation would we have if the Harvard-Yale-MIT -- Berkeley liberal-left mentality took root in this country, if apologists for marijuana influenced the writing of laws, if military service were scorned and rejected, if defense research were stopped, if sit-ins were tolerated in every local government office, if marches filled all our streets, any if every person disinclined to work were given a guaranteed annual income?

The answer is that we wouldn't have a country. The American Republic would collapse. It would fall apart in an orgy of anarchy. Perhaps that's what is secretly desired by those who twist established moral values and the decent conventions of society. Time and again it seems that people in influential positions in the universities and elsewhere seem bent on wrecking America. The wreckers must be stopped from destroying the land wherein freedom and prosperity have reached unparalleled heights.

SCENE OF DEFEAT FOR LITTLE LEAGUE ALL-STARS -- Olton's tournament team fell to Littlefield's All-Stars in battle Thursday evening in Littlefield. In the top picture third baseman Aubrey Hooper takes the throw in a pick-off attempt. Shortstop Trent Gaither prepares to back up the play. Below, Trent Gaither wears pained expression over called "Strike."

Olton Pee Wee All-Stars Complete Series Sweep

In the second game of their series the Olton Pee-Wee All-Stars wrapped up the series Monday with a 9-8 win over Springlake-Earth.

Olton opened the scoring in the bottom of the first inning when Brad Allcorn walked, advanced to third on Jody Cantu's ground ball, and came home on a passed ball.

Neither team scored in the second inning, but Springlake-Earth tied the score in the top of the third.

Relief pitcher Evan Allford put out the fire after starter Brad Allcorn had walked the first three men up in the inning. Allford struck out two of the three Springlake-Earth batters he faced in the inning, and the run scored on a fielder's choice play.

In the bottom of the third inning Olton roared back to score five runs. First baseman Jay Harrell opened the inning with a single, lead-off man Sammy Walters walked, and Harrell scored on a passed ball. Brad Allcorn reached base on a fielder's choice and Jody Cantu walked to load the bases.

Darrell DeBerry, clean-up hitter and third baseman for Olton, smashed a base-clearing triple to right field, Billy Kersh walked, and two more runs scored on Rene Saldivar's hot grounder to the pitcher. With the five-run rule in effect, this ended the scoring for Olton in the third.

Springlake-Earth managed two runs in the fourth inning, bringing the score to 6-3.

In the bottom of the fourth, with a 6-3 lead, Olton scored three more runs to take a commanding 9-3 lead. Caleb McClure opened the inning with a walk, but was forced out at second on a ground ball by Jay Harrell. Allford grounded out advancing Harrell to second. Walters and Allcorn walked to load the bases and left-fielder Rodney Smith poked a high fly ball to right field. The fielder misjudged the ball and three runs scored. DeBerry struck out to retire the side.

Once again the Springlake-Earth team proved that it was no push-over. In the top of the fifth inning, with the five-run rule suspended, it looked as if the visitors would run the hometown boys right out of the park.

Center-fielder Andy Ellis walked, shortstop Keevin Kelley singled, and pitcher Carlton Gregory singled, scoring two runs. Catcher Jeffrey Washington got an infield hit and third baseman Donnie Wyldie reached base on an error, to load the bases again with nobody out. Washington scored on a passed ball.

Springlake-Earth once again sent in two tiny pinch-hitters, with the first, Mike Smith, striking out. Then Cory Hopping, who might be called "The Gnat", walked, and Wyldie scored on still another passed ball. First baseman Clint Dawson struck out to squelch the rally but not before Springlake-Earth had scored five big runs, making it a very close game indeed.

Winning pitcher for Olton was reliever Evan Allford, who gave up seven runs, three hits, and five walks, while striking out five Springlake-Earth batters.

Losing pitcher for Springlake-Earth was the starter Donnie Wyldie, who was relieved in the fourth inning by Carlton Gregory.
