

JAIL ADDITION

Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell and Commissioner Bill Lowe, left, look over blueprints Tuesday at the addition to the Collingsworth County Jail, now under construction. The addition will add approximately 2,400 square feet of office space to the jail. Old office space will be converted into a drunk tank, a misdemeanor tank and 3 additional single cells that will allow the jail to conform to the separation of prisoner requirements of the Texas Jail Standards Commission. The project was budgeted at $63,000, although the Sheriff and county officials hope to bring the project in for less by acting as general contractor themselves.

One Candidate Files, Deadline March 2

Wednesday, March 2, will be the last day for candidates to file for places on the ballot in three of the four upcoming elections. These include the Wellington City Council, Wellington School Board and Samnorwood School Board. So far, there has been little discussion of the elections and little speculation as to candidates.

On Tuesday, Feb. 22, only one candidate had filed. Sam McGill, signed his application for a place on the ballot while at City Hall

Monday night to attend a council meeting.

Wellington voters will elect a mayor and two council members this year. Mayor Ralph Owens has not indicated what his political plans may be this year, and John Rainey, the other outgoing council member, did not file.

Holdover members of the council are Lyndon Crelia, Willie Gragson and Gary Brewer.

No candidates had filed for Wellington School Board at noon Tuesday, according to Tommie Watts, business manager.

The two trustees whose terms expire are Harold Wayne Moore and Willie O'Rear, and neither has indicated if he plans to run.

There will be two voting boxes in the Wellington ISD election. The Wellington box will be in the school administration building. —See CANDIDATES, page 2

Hospital Board Pays Off $41,760 Short Term Debt

Collingsworth General Hospital board voted unanimously at regular meeting Tuesday, Feb. 15 to pay off the remainder of its short-term debt.

A final payment of $41,760.92 to Wellington State Bank left the hospital free of short-term debt, at least for the moment.

The board also discussed but delayed a decision pending further investigation of the possibility of paying off the lease-purchase contract on the hospital's Burroughs computer.

The board heard discussion of a proposal for the hospital to provide home health care. Licensed home health care, for which insurance and Medicare reimburses costs, is now provided in the community by private, out-of-community agencies. Minimum staffing for the project would be 1 LVN and 1 RN. The board received a recommendation from the medical staff that the possibility of providing

UDC Chapter Sponsors Three Day Art Exhibit

A three-day exhibit of the paintings and ceramics of James Ivey Edwards, head of the Clarendon College Art Department, will be presented in Wellington Friday through Sunday, Feb. 25, 26 and 27.

Along with his works, there will be paintings, drawings, pottery, ceramics and bronze sculpture of 6 student art majors from the college.

The exhibit is sponsored by Sabine Pass Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The show will be in the Heritage Room and hours will be 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, and from 10 to 4 on Sunday, said Mrs. James R. Ross, art chairman for the UDC chapter.

On Sunday afternoon the exhibit will also include an open house at which Edwards and his students will be present to meet Wellington visitors to the show and to discuss their works and answer any questions about individual works or about the art department of Clarendon College.

Edwards has made available to the UDC chapter a painting which will be given away during a drawing at 4 p.m. Sunday, said Mrs. Ross.

In keeping with the UDC desire to encourage painting among the students of the area, Mrs. Ross has invited area teachers to bring groups of boys and girls to see the exhibit on Friday.

An invitation has been extended to people from throughout the area to attend this exhibit on one of the three days it will be shown.

Students exhibiting with Edwards in the three-day show are Juan Granados of Wellington, Jeff Topper, Eddie Bright and Anna Harrison of Clarendon; Peggy Ebbberman of Vega; and Jerry Brock of Memphis. Donna Edwards, wife of the artist, will exhibit her paintings.

Granados will be showing pencil drawings, ceramics and pottery. He is a freshman and art major at Clarendon. He intends to enter art as a profession.

Topper's works will include paintings in oils, drawings, bronze sculpture and ceramics.

Brock, a graduate of Memphis High School, will have water colors and drawings. Both young men are sophomores.

Ms. Harrison, a freshman will show drawings and possibly ceramics. She has studied privately in the area and is working toward a fine arts major.

Bright, a sophomore, plans to show paintings, drawings and ceramics.

Ms. Ebbberman, who is from Vega, is bringing drawings and possibly other works.

Edwards has been painting professionally for almost 20 years and he has been teaching painting, drawing sculpture and ceramics at Clarendon College for four years. His career has seen the development of a number of styles and the use of many media. He says he has "fought the desire of those in the art market to type cast their work into a narrow area of endeavor, which would allow him to do only one kind of painting or sculpture."

His work will include sculpture, ceramics, watercolor and oils in this show.

His works now hang in collections in 36 states and 6 other countries. One painting hangs in the office of the Western White House of President Ronald Reagan.

Donna Edwards has been painting professionally for 7 years. She has been limited recently in the time she spends painting, as she is employed as Clarendon City Secretary.

Although she has studied with her husband for several years, her style of painting is distinctive from his.

She has shown with her husband in several exhibits at Lubbock, Pampa, and Clarendon, and she is represented by Webb's Gallery in Amarillo, Las

Hance to Speak At C-C Banquet

Kent Hance, United States Congressman from the 19th Texas District, will address the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Saturday, Feb. 26 in a talk that will give members one of the closest views they will have to Capitol Hill during this session.

The banquet, followed by Hance's talk will be in Bura Handley Community Center beginning at 7 p.m. A few tickets are available.

Tommy Hudson, chamber president, will be master of ceremonies. He will also welcome and introduce the guests, present the annual chamber awards and introduce the speaker. Award recipients are not announced until the time the awards are given.

Charles Darter, vice-president, will present the 1983 officers and directors.

Hance was first elected to the U.S. House in 1978 to succeed the George H. Mahon, whose work in behalf of agriculture was legendary. The new congressman, a Lubbock lawyer and former Texas Tech instructor, quickly established himself as an able representative to serve one of the richest agricultural districts in the United States.

During his first term, Congressman Hance gained a place on the important Agriculture Committee, where he was a member of the subcommittee on cotton, livestock and grains and conservation and credit.

In his second term, Congressman Hance successfully sought a seat on the powerful tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, one of the three most powerful committees in the House.

Here he is pursuing the interests of his constituents in matters of taxes on the oil industry, social security taxes, health care proposals, and most important to his agricultural area, international trade policies.

He has played active roles in agricultural issues as well as issues involving the natural resources of Texas, mainly oil, gas and water. One of the leaders in Congress in efforts to reduce federal spending and balance the budget, he authored the Conable-Hance tax cut bill, the largest in the nation's history.

Early in his first term, Hance was successful in —See C-C BANQUET, page 2

Four Steers, Heifer at Houston Show

Five 4-H members from Collingsworth will be participating in the 1983 Houston Livestock Show junior division, during the week of Monday, Feb. 28, through Sunday, March 6, Extension Agent Don Reeves announced.

There will be four steers in the market steer show and one entry in the beef heifer division.

Stan Tate will enter a Hereford Steer, Darvin Nix a Hereford, Patricia Fourmentin a Chianina steer and Limousin heifer, and Barry

Long a Limousin steer.

All animals will leave here Monday, Feb. 28. The Chianina and Limousin steer show will be on Thursday, Herefords will show Friday and the Limousin heifer will be shown Friday.

The steer sale will be Saturday morning; but Patricia will bring her heifer home. The show will end for the 4-H members Sunday at 6:30 p.m.

"Our steers are more ready now than they were for the other shows, Reeves said. He has high hopes for the heifer.

"She is real good. She stood third in a tough class in Ft. Worth. It's all going to be awfully tough this year. I think there's more good steers out this year than ever before," Reeves declared.

"Our 1983 Show is going to be another spectacular event," noted Show President E. Norwin Gerhart. "With the combination of the finest livestock found anywhere, thousands of hard-working 4-H and FFA exhibitors, an exciting championship rodeo in the Astrodome and 17 of the biggest names in the entertainment world to perform here, the Houston Rodeo in 1983 just can't be beat!"

Renown as the most prestigious event in the livestock industry, the show attracts the finest livestock in both the open and junior show divisions. And, with more than half a million dollars in prize money and premium auction prices above market value, the —See HOUSTON, page 2

City Postpones Gas Rate Increase

Billy Jackson, resident manager for Lone Star Gas Company, presented his company's request for a rate increase to the city council Monday, Feb. 22. This relates to the rate the company will charge its Wellington customers.

The council then passed a resolution suspending the operation of the proposed rate schedule filed by Lone Star Gas for a period of 120 days beyond the date on which the schedule would otherwise go into effect.

This is a legal procedure by which the city can have the four-months period in which to study the gas company's proposal.

In other action, the council agreed for City Manager Glen Taylor to purchase the new doors for the fire station, as construction has reached the point at which they are needed.

These will include four electrically operated doors and others manually operated. Two doors now in use in the present fire station will be used.

Late last year the council passed a resolution which allows its city manager to make purchases such as this as they are needed and at such a time as the city can pay for them in cash.

Cost of the new doors is estimated at $4,400.

Council members discussed briefly the use to which the present fire station will be put after trucks and equipment are moved to the new station, immediately north of Bura Handley Community Center.

Mrs. Hankins Dies Feb. 17 of Long Illness

Mrs. C.R. Hankins, of 1709 Park Lane, died in Collingsworth General Hospital Thursday, Feb. 17, after an illness of almost a year and a half.

She was the wife of Rev. C.R. Hankins, a Methodist clergyman serving the West Texas area for 40 years.

For the last 20 years she had worked with him in his pastorate of Glen Memorial Methodist Church at Dozier.

Born in Collingsworth County, Mrs. Hankins was a member of one of the first families to settle in the north-eastern section of the county.

The former Mittie Merle Thompson, she was born October 27, 1911, in the Needwood community. Her parents were the late G.M. and Edith Willard Thompson and her grandparents, who came here from Columbus, in the early 1890s, were the late John T. Willard and Mittie Willard Mabry.

Mrs. Hankins graduated from Wellington High School about 1930. She and Rev. Hankins were married Nov. 1, 1931 and lived at Aberdeen until he entered the ministry.

In the 20 years that she lived away from this county, Mrs. Hankins attended McMurry College in Abilene, lived in Dallas while he attended Southern Methodist University Perkins School of Theology, and worked with him in their pastorates at Blair, Bomarton, Morse, Cooper Church at Lubbock, Silvertown, Throckmorton and Groom.

After they returned to their ranch home at Aberdeen, the couple served the Methodist Church at Lelia Lake and at Dozier.

They moved into Wellington three years ago.

Mrs. Hankins was active in the women's groups of her church, in study clubs and in school affairs when their daughter, Sandra, was growing up.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday, Feb. 19, at 2 p.m. in First United Methodist church, with the Rev. Tom Thomson, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Guy Owens Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Ray Dwyer, Jimmy Brown, Charles Roberts, Pat Bradley, Clyde Dwight and Noah Stice.

Mrs. Hankins is survived by her husband, Rev. Hankins and several cousins.

She was preceded in death by her daughter, Sandra Cole, and grandson, Robbie Cole.

The Dodson box will be in the American Legion Hall with Dot Farris as the election official.

Voting hours in all elections will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

No one has filed for a place on the Samnorwood School Board, Supt. Garland Cavitt said Tuesday evening.

Those whose terms expire are Ray Dwyer, who is filling an unexpired term, and Monty McCloy.

Holdover members are Rudie Tate, president; Tommy Lindley, secretary; Gary Oldham; Guy Brandvik and Richard Bentley.

Hospital board candidates are reminded that their names are placed on the ballot by petition, which they may circulate, or which may be circulated for them.

The deadline for filing a petition asking that a name be placed on the hospital board ballot is Tuesday, March 8, Mrs. H.H. Bowen, board secretary, has announced.

Three hospital board members will be named this year, and those whose present terms are expiring are Mrs. Bowen, Dr. J.M. Orr, and Yates Parker.

Mrs. Bowen will have the petition forms and candidates can pick them up from her at Corky's Art and Frame Shop, 1104 Houston St. (Highway 83).

Mother of Ray Cozad Dies Feb. 20

Mrs. Helen Cozad Hilton, 60, of Stinnett, died Feb. 20 in a Borger hospital. She was the mother of Ray Cozad of Wellington.

She was born at Roff, Oklahoma, Jan. 18, 1923 and had lived in Stinnett since 1948.

Graveside services were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 22, in Sunset Memorial Cemetery, Stinnett. Raymond Root of Dumas officiated and arrangements were by Minton-Chatwell Funeral Directors.

Survivors include her husband, John; two daughters, Audrey McCormick of Stinnett and Marie Kirby of Dumas; a son, Ray Cozad of Wellington; her mother, Minnie Morrison of Oklahoma City; two stepdaughters, Betty McCaslin of Lubbock and Anita Fithen of Houston; a stepson, John Hilton Jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio; five brothers, L.D. Langston of Ada, Okla., David Langston of Fresno, Calif., Arlen Langston of Lafayette, Calif., Charles Langston of Converse and Jim Langston of Antioch, Calif., two sisters, Janie DeGroat and Mrs. Jerry Smith, both of Oklahoma City; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Most Farmers Plow Too Much

Plowing the back 40 "for the heck of it" or "to get out of the house" is a poor excuse for any field operation today.

In other words, "recreational plowing" is a costly operation that farmers just can't afford any longer. Furthermore, it's bad for the soil.

"More and more farmers are paying closer attention to the number of trips they make over a field each year," points out Dr. Ed Colburn, an agronomist in soil management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Farmers who used to cultivate their land 12 to 15 times a year are now down to five or six times. And that's still too many, in some cases."

With the current high cost of fuel, plowing for whatever reason is expensive, emphasizes the agronomist. And with farmers currently fighting for financial survival, it just makes good sense to cut back on field operations.

"Be sure any tillage operation affords some crop benefits that will contribute to higher yields rather than just appearance," says Colburn. "Combine operations where possible so that more is accomplished with each field pass."

Excessive plowing also can lead to soil compaction, which in turn can reduce crop yields due to poor water infiltration, poor root penetration and other problems that rob crops of their productivity.

With today's large tractors—some weigh more than 10 tons without attached implements—compaction can be a real problem, particularly on wet, coarse-textured soils, notes Colburn. Not only do tractor wheels compact the soil, they also produce large clods that break out upon tillage. This leads to additional tillage to break up the clods, leading to further compaction.

Although some compacted soils can be broken up by deep tillage and chiseling, the best way to deal with soil compaction problems is to prevent them in the first place by reducing tillage operations, notes the agronomist.

"Not only will your land be better off with less tillage, but your bank account also will improve,"

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by DON REEVES

TIME TO CONSIDER CATTLE LICE CONTROL

It's the time of year when the nation's cattlemen need to put up their guard against a pest that annually pilfers their pocketbooks of $100 million.

Lice are the culprits, and they begin to reproduce rapidly with the onset of cool weather. They reach peak populations in late winter and early spring.

Uncontrolled, lice can soon infest a whole herd, because with cold weather, cattle tend to bunch up more and the pests can easily move from one animal to another. Heavy hair coats on animals during cold weather also afford protection for the parasites and allow increased reproduction.

Costs to the cattlemen—both in control efforts and dramatic production losses—increases as lice populations build.

There are two types of lice—bloodsucking and biting—and both infest cattle.

Sucking lice pierce the animal's skin and suck blood while biting lice feed on particles of hair, scale, scab and skin discharges.

Lice infestations irritate animals, causing itching, scratching and rubbing on fences or anything else available. This produces denuded areas, bruises and lacerations on the affected animal. Heavily infested animals will have an unthrifty appearance and will suffer weight reduction, decreased reduction, decreased milk production, anemia or even death.

Lice infested animals may also be more subject to respiratory diseases such as pneumonia. Heavy lice infestations often stunt calves. Undernourished cattle of any age usually have the heaviest infestation.

Some cattle appear to be physiologically more susceptible to lice than others and thus have higher pest populations. Such animals are called "Chronics" or "carriers" and are usually instrumental in reinfesting the herd annually in spite of repeated insecticide treatments. Culling "carrier" animals is helpful management practice in reducing lice problems.

Texas farms are fewer, larger, more specialized, more expensive to operate, but far more efficient and productive.

Ex-Student Directors to Meet Monday

Dairy Queen Honors Sue, Hollis Jones

The only husband-wife team honored at the recent biennial convention of International Dairy Queens was Hollis and Sue Jones, owners of the Hollis Jones Dairy Queen Restaurants organization. Wellington DQ is one of 28 they own in North and West Texas.

Jones was presented with a custom-made gold wrist watch, engraved "IDQ NDMC," and a plaque of appreciation for his year's service as one of 13 members of IDQ's National Dealer Marketing Council, and Mrs. Jones received a Dairy Queen gold pen and pencil set honoring her for having served on the IDQ NDMC's uniform committee.

Recognition of both the Joneses for their service to IDQ came during its convention award ceremonies. IDQ, headquartered in Minneapolis and the international franchisor for virtually all of the Dairy Queens in the world, had acquired the DQ franchise rights for the state of Texas in the last year.

Following his acquisition, Jones was named one of the first two Texans to present Texas Dairy Queens on IDQ's National Dealer Marketing Council, which co-ordinates marketing programs, techniques on operations and personnel training and the testing and implementation of all such programs used within the system, encompassing approximately 4,000 DQs.

Texas -- Region 11 on the IDQ NDMC -- was given two seats on the body. Selected as Texas DQs' first representatives on the council were, Jones, and also L.J. (Jay) Streetman of Dallas.

Subsequently, during the course of the year, when the IDQ NDMC decided to establish a uniform committee, Mrs. Jones was appointed to this group.

Bell, Mrs. Pauline Lemons, Mrs. Clarence Black, Mrs. Pauline Patterson, Amii Williams, Beth Little and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dean Cardwell. Renessa Cardwell and Gaylon Cochran were home from college.

Andy Seigrist, minister preached at the Church of Christ Sunday. The congregation enjoyed singing under the direction of Joey Alexander.

Visitors were Dr. Fred Alexander, Joey Alexander, Andy Seigrist, Lillie Rogers and a friend from Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and their family of Amarillo.

Mrs. Clarence Black presented the Bible Study Sunday morning at the Missionary Baptist Church. Doyle Sain directed the music.

Mrs. Roy Dean Cardwell, Renessa Cardwell, Mrs. Ocie Lewis and Mrs. Melvin Cardwell were in Altus Saturday evening.

The Whitey Gleason Trio presented a night of gospel music Tuesday, Feb. 22, at 7 p.m. at the Church of the Nazarene. Whitey can really play the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Swift were dinner guests of the Glen Warricks recently.

On the average, a family of four uses more than 90,000 gallons of water a year.

Jim Leach, AF Career Man, Dies

James Edward (Jim) Leach, 61, a retired master sergeant of the U.S. Air Force Medical Service, died in Hendrix Memorial Hospital, Abilene, at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 17. He was thought to be recovering from a heart attack with which he was stricken on Dec. 19.

Leach had 22 years of active military duty. He served in the European Theatre of Operations during World War II. Returning to Wellington, he was business manager of the Wellington Clinic for several years until he re-enlisted. When he retired Nov. 1, 1975, he was stationed at Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, where he and his wife continued to live.

He also was stationed at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Carswell AFB, Ft. Worth; Tonnejon AFB, Madrid, Spain; Glasgow, Montana, AFB, and Goose Bay, AFB, Newfoundland.

At Dyess he was designated alternate for the air base and the Abilene area for the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed services.

During his retirement ceremony, Leach was presented a Meritorious Service Medal and praised by his commanding officer for his dedication and service. Earlier he received two Air Force Commendation Medals.

Leach, son of the late W.E. and Susie Davis Leach, he was born in Collingsworth County Sept. 9, 1921. He graduated from Wellington High School.

He and his wife, the former Katie Lentz, were married June 7, 1947, at Childress. He was a member of the United Methodist Church.

After he returned to civilian life, Leach was manager of a chain of 9 stores in Abilene.

Funeral services were conducted at First United Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 17, with the Rev. Tom Thomson pastor, officiating.

Burial was with full military honors in North Fairview Cemetery. A unit

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Bigby

TRANSLATED CLOTHING TERMS

Interfacing, lining, underlining, interlining. These terms puzzle so many home sewers that sometimes, when in doubt, they just leave it out.

The puzzle isn't so complicated when you understand the function of these items in the garment. The correct use of each may make the difference between a homemade and home-fashioned look in the fashions you create.

The most common function of interfacing is to give stiffness of body to any area of the garment that needs it, such as collars, cuffs and facings. It may also enhance the drape of the finished product.

Underlining is used primarily to support the fashion garment and prevent seams from showing through. It is cut exactly the same as the outer fabric and the two fabrics are then stitched together and treated as one in the garment construction. Underlining is especially useful under lace and other see-through fabrics.

A lining performs a different function. It may be used to protect the raw edges and finish the inside of a garment. It also prevents unnecessary wear on the garment seams.

Interlining, on the other hand, increases a garment's warmth and insulation. It is most widely used between the outer fabric and the lining fabric of a coat or jacket. Interlining is usually non-washable, making dry cleaning of the garment a necessity.

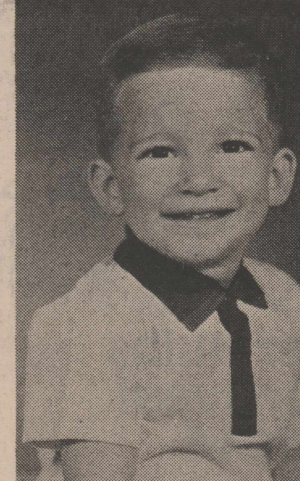

Be sure to read the care instructions on all lining and interfacing fabrics you select, and then make sure you know what to use them for.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY 4-H CLUB NEWS

Green Clover 4-H Club met Tuesday, Feb. 8, in the Extension Service office for a child development program.

Nicole Keller introduced Mrs. Ronnie O'Rear, Reagan and Joe Ryan O'Rear and Holly Thomas. Mrs. O'Rear, the leader, Mrs. Glenn Thomas and Mrs. Elmer Keller began a discussion on the development of small children.

Baby sitting was discussed in detail for the benefit of the girls.

They are beginning to take jobs in this area and should be prepared for all types of circumstances that come up.

The duty of taking care of a child has many responsibilities that were brought to the girls attention.

Refreshments were served by D'Nae Keller and Valerie Noakes to Nancy Bigby, home extension agent, and to Dana Langford, Carrie Langford, Shelly Thomas, Stacy Barton, Belinda Britten, Diane Noakes, Darla Noakes, Nicole Keller, Leandra Hartman, Jennifer Gulley, Marla Keller, Mrs. Keller, Mrs. O'Rear, with Reagan and Joe Ryan, and Mrs. Thomas and Holly.

BUSY BELLS

The Busy Bells 4-H Club met Friday, Feb. 18, in the Extension office for further study of Home Furnishings.

The girls learned the periods and styles of furniture, starting with Early American around 1600. Other periods were Colonial, Federal, American Victorian, Pennsylvania Dutch, Shaker and American Provincial.

Each to these was discussed as to the characteristics.

It was agreed that Early American is the most popular in furnishing a home today. It was also mentioned that the Spanish furniture of a few years back is not as popular today.

The girls also learned that fine furniture is an investment. They learned what customizing and open stock is.

Accessorizing, double duty pieces and other details of decorating were discussed.

Refreshments of chips and dips and drinks were served by Leslie Birkey to Nancy Bigby, Mrs. Richard Fourmentin, Patricia Fourmentin and Julie Caldwell.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Horton and son, John Ed, of Arlington, visited over the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Horton.

Midway EHC Meets Feb. 16

Midway Extension Homemakers Club met with Mrs. Deloyce Savage Wednesday, Feb. 16, for a program, "Are you listening," by the extension agent, Nancy Bigby.

She discussed such related topics as "be a better listener," two-way communication and barriers to communication.

The president, Mrs. David Peters, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Savage read the devotional, Mrs. Louise Smith gave a prayer, and members answered roll call by naming the most unusual gift she had ever received.

Mrs. Herbert Duncan gave the council report and Mrs. Peters discussed the Panhandle District meeting to be held April 12.

The club's next meeting will be March 2 with Mrs. Jess Wilson as hostess.

Present at the meeting were Mrs. Gertrude Mayhugh, Mrs. Herbert Duncan, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Dorothy McGuirk, Miss Bigby, Mrs. Annie Caison, Mrs. Emil Kersten, Mrs. Joe Terry, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Jess Wilson, Mrs. Edna Rudy, Mrs. Donald Curry, Mrs. Charles Cason and the hostess, Mrs. Savage.

Life, Works of El Greco Discussed for Excelsior Club

Mrs. John Holton, program speaker for Excelsior Club Wednesday, Feb. 16, told of her visit to the exhibit of paintings by El Greco, which closed recently at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts.

Mrs. Lowell Wells was the hostess.

The program was a comprehensive study of El Greco, literally "The Greek" and his work over the long period that he lived in Toledo, Spain.

Mrs. Holton brought a showing of many of his paintings, most of them of a religious nature.

Mrs. Holton presented each member with a small print of "Madonna and Child" with St. Martina and St. Agnes," painted about 1597-1599.

The original painting hangs in the National Gallery of Art in Washington.

Mrs. Holton recounted briefly the life of Domenikos

Theotokopoulos--for this was El Greco's name.

Born in 1541 on the island of Crete, he lived until 1614, and most of his adult life was in Spain.

"El Greco was one of those artists whose gifts suited precisely the generation in which he lived, but whose virtue died with him. It is clear that El Greco felt that the civilization of which he was a part was coming to an end," wrote biographer, Ellis Waterhouse, professor of fine arts at the Barber Institute in Birmingham.

A dessert plate was served to Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Miss Bonnie Willis, Mrs. Russell Yates, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Mrs. Melvin Kiker, Mrs. E.E. Bartlett, Miss Hattie D. Wells, Mrs. Holton and the hostess, Mrs. Wells.

Rossini, the composer, worked best in bed under the blankets.

Good Neighbors Hear Tale Of Terrorists, Hostage

The Good Neighbor Club at a meeting Friday, Feb. 18 heard the story of an international businessman who was imprisoned by terrorist for 98 days.

"When Terrorists Strike," by Leon D. Richardson was reviewed by Mrs. Mary Karnes. Richardson suffered severe mental and physical problems during the time he was taken hostage in Guatemala, but he learned to use the power of prayer to control emotion and attitudes. Richardson says that if a person controls his thoughts, he controls everything.

Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, president, opened the meeting with a devotional, quoting scriptures from Isaiah and Job. Minutes were read by Mrs. R.H. Ball. Mrs. Charles Cason gave the treasurer's report. Plans for the remaining meetings of the club year were finalized. Mrs. Ray Club read a poem, "My Grownup Son."

Mrs. Club, the hostess, served desert plate to Mrs. Lowell Wells, Mrs. Frank Fourmentin, Mrs. M.L. James, Mrs. Nell Cook, Mrs. Violet Potter, Mrs. Karnes, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Cason and Mrs. Barjenbruch.

THEN and NOW

When it comes to cups, people have had some interesting ideas over the years.

THEN: In ancient times, some people believed that the right kind of cup could save your life. Drinking wine from cups made of semi-precious stones, they thought, could make them invisible to their enemies.

NOW: Today, we can see through such beliefs, but many people are getting more advantage from cups than they may realize. People who patronize fast food places, for instance, have found that when they get their cold drinks served in foam cups, their drink stays colder longer, report the experts at the Society of the Plastics Industry. That means they have more to drink since the ice melts more slowly and they can enjoy the refreshing drink longer.

Events Honor Mr., Mrs. Jess Moore On Golden Wedding Anniversary

Snow and ice that blanketed much of the Panhandle on the weekend of January 22-23, could not stop the festive golden wedding celebration that honored Mr. and Mrs. Jess Moore of Wheeler.

The climax was the re-enactment of the wedding ceremony of 50 years ago in which Mr. and Mrs. Moore again repeated their wedding vows in First Baptist Church, Wheeler.

Hosts were their four daughters and sons-in-law, Dick and Margaret Pendleton, Nonnie and Ed Wuerlein of Hereford, Richard and Eileen Huyck of Kansas City and Nancy and Larry Schilling of Follett.

The four gave their parents in marriage and were their attendants.

The Rev. David Cooper, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

Other family members participated. Nicole Huyck and Anjani Wuerlein registered guests; Jackie Pendleton and Kevin Huyck ushered; Shelton Huyck and Glenn Huyck lighted candles.

Alyssa Schilling and Mindy Watts were flower girls.

Melinda Williams sang and accompanied herself on the guitar.

Robert Watts and Richard Huyck also sang.

Mrs. Harold Lee played songs of the 1930s and 1940s during the reception.

At the reception held in the church fellowship hall, Mitzi Pendleton Watts, Melanie Pendleton Jeffrey and Jennifer Pendleton, Melinda Williams and Susan Pendleton served coffee and cake.

The reception table was covered with a lace cloth over gold, and crystal and silver appointments were used.

Later that afternoon, a reception for family and friends was held at the

MR. AND MRS. JESS MOORE

Moore home 7 miles east of Wheeler. Brass appointments were used on the serving table.

Gifts of family significance were presented, poems by family members were read and more refreshments were served.

Grandchildren performed piano numbers or tapped danced and sang.

Merrihearts Meet Tues.

The Merrihearts met Feb. 22 in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church. As it was George Washington's birthday, table decorations were of a patriotic theme. After the luncheon, groups answered true and false questions relating to George Washington and followed this by guessing the names of songs played by Mrs. Robert Owens, pianist.

Readings were "A Clean Sweep," by Mrs. Rosa Roberson; "A Little Mixed Up," by Mrs. Mary Karnes; and "Sharing Something Good About You," by Mrs. Ruby Ball.

A playlet, "Are You Listening?" was given by Ernestine Cummings and Evelyn King. Mrs. Pauline Masten gave the invocation.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Stevenson, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Jennie Holcomb, Mrs. Ann Fires, Dr. J. Frank Johnson, Frank Anderson, Mrs. Rosa Roberson, Mrs. Fred Yarbrough, Mrs. Pearl Reeves, Mrs. Mary Karnes, Mrs. Marie Gollighugh, Mrs.

The Saturday breakfast at Wheeler and Sunday breakfast at the family home were times for recalling Moore family anecdotes and for telling grandchildren of the couple's earlier lives. Both are active in First Baptist Church, Wheeler.

Mrs. Moore, the former Curtis Ashley, grew up at Wheeler, where she graduated from high school. She also belongs to study clubs, bridge club and the Writers Club.

Mr. Moore is a director of First National Bank and has served on the county ASCS committee.

In recent years, they have traveled extensively, to Europe, the Caribbean area, Alaska, and the Middle East.

Novella Chambers Word Chosen Retired Teacher of the Month

Novella Chambers was born in a two story house two and one half miles east of Vinson, Oklahoma, where her father homesteaded in 1887. Her schooling began in a three story red brick building that was constructed after the consolidation of several small schools which included Cave Creek and Union Grove. This was a fairly new building when Novella went up the steps and opened the door to the primary room fifty seven years ago. The room was chucked full of boys and girls. Twelve years later only nine of these walked across the stage of the same building and received their high school diplomas.

The transportation was a small Model T school bus she met one and one half miles from her home.

There were thirty four eighth graders who received diplomas with her. The following term there were sixty five who enrolled in the freshman class of Vinson High School. Hackberry, Carl and Sulphur had consolidated with Vinson. Bonds were voted and a new separate High School was built on land owned by her father.

In May 1934, she and 17 other Vinson graduates received their High School diplomas. September of the same year Novella enrolled at the Oklahoma College for Women, now the University of Science and Arts at Chickasha, Okla.

There were favorite instructors and classes but the one that helped most in choosing her life profession of teaching was Children's Literature. In this class she was chosen by the instructor to report to the Chickasha Public Library each Saturday for a semester, where she was responsible for telling stories to those attending Saturday Story Hour.

The degrees were conferred in May 1938, and she received a Bachelor of Arts Degree with a major in English and both Life Elementary and Secondary certificates.

A dream had come true when July 1938 arrived and she had her own class of fourth graders in the school from which she had graduated four years earlier. In this class she discovered a student with artistic ability but not a top reader. It was here she used his art to help him become interested in reading.

The administrators were qualified with Master's Degrees which were rare in those days. They were also strong believers in strict discipline. She learned here the importance of discipline but also learned how easily good discipline could be obtained when the children were interested in their subject matter and how easily it was lost in too easy or too hard material. In her five years of teaching at Vinson she also learned the importance of love for the student and how easy it was to teach when they loved her and she loved them.

While working in the Kaiser Shipyards in San Francisco, California, Mr. Sprayberry, superintendent of the Perry Public Schools hired her by telephone for middle grade reading teacher. She was teaching here when tremendous interest in reading was emerging and she helped get some of these started. "If a child can learn to read, he can learn anything," she believes.

At Perry, Novella taught Donald Chester who was custodian of Wellington Junior High School, at the time she retired. Her present minister, Rev. LaVerne Draper of the First Christian Church in Altus was in the Perry Junior High School during her stay there.

While in the Perry Schools she made her first hours toward her Masters Degree from the Oklahoma State University, Stillwater. She taught at Clinton in 1945-46, and remembers the tremendous field trips and great experiences of her fourth graders.

The severe heart attack suffered by her father, G.C. Chambers, brought her back to Vinson.

Charles Roberts was superintendent while she was teaching in Wellington. "He wanted to try all the new methods and I was willing to try, too," she recalls.

While Mrs. Word has been an inspiration to all children, she exercises a potent mental stimulation to the accelerated student, and it is with pride that she names so many of these who came out of the Wellington Schools.

She led one group in studying Shakespeare in reading class. These were fifth graders. She took them on to other classics.

While in the Wellington Public Schools she received a Masters of Education degree from West Texas State University and did additional work at Southwestern Oklahoma State University, Weatherford. She and Captain Ralph Word were married in 1950. When Captain Word returned from the Korean War in 1952, Mr. Lennon hired them to teach with him in Dodson. She spent two pleasant years here before returning to Wellington.

The Words have one daughter, Janet, who teaches second grade in the Childress Public Schools. Much of the time she taught in Wellington, she commuted from Hollis where she and her family live. Part of this time her husband, Ralph Word, also taught in Wellington, then he joined the Arnett, Okla. faculty.

She and her family belong to the First Christian church in Altus where she is active.

1954 Study Club Honors President Of District Federation with Luncheon

Mrs. Bill Griffin of Borger, Top of Texas District president, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, paid her official visit to the 1954 Study Club Tuesday, Feb. 8.

Mrs. Bill Hatch entertained with a luncheon in her home honoring Mrs. Griffin, who later spoke briefly on "Why Federation?"

A large arrangement of spring flowers decorated the buffet, and although this was a coincidence, the colors harmonized closely with those of the variety of salads served.

Mrs. Griffin reminded the 1954 club members that they are part of one of the largest volunteer groups in the world, the more than 10-million member General Federation of Women's Clubs.

This has grown from a Sorosis Club, organized in 1890 at New York City by Jenny June Crowley. Soon they were naming themselves Jenny June Clubs and some of these remain active.

"It doesn't hurt us to remember what Federation does for us," said Mrs. Griffin, who recalled some of the community benefits that have come from its overwhelming number of volunteer hours.

The Texas Federation, Mrs. Griffin said, was formed in 1897 at Waco, so this makes the state one of the pioneers in federation work. As district president, Mrs. Griffin said her theme this year is "Unity in Purpose; Diversity of Action."

Emphasis is on Volunteerism.

An Oklahoman who graduated from Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., and the University of Oklahoma, Mrs. Griffin has been active in both club and community work in Borger many years. The 1954 club president, Mrs. Ben Ratliff, briefly outlined the four projects the club will support this year: the Collingsworth County Library, Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary; a school reading project; and continuation of Collingsworth County Historical Museum.

Present for the luncheon were Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. L.C. Hill, Mrs. Jerry Nix, Mrs. R.L. Templeton, Mrs. John R. Nash, Mrs. Fred Cox, Mrs. Ratliff, Mrs. A.J. Fires, Mrs. Lynn Wright and Mrs. Hatch. Other guests were Mrs. Tom Thomson, Mrs. Truett Holland representing 1924 Study Club, Mrs. Clarence Black, representing the Dodson Civic Club and Miss Virginia Robey.

Group Studies Time Tips

Wellington Home Extension Club, at a meeting Thursday, Feb. 17, heard a program by Glenda Colson on time management.

Members took a questionnaire survey, then completed a 24-hour time pie on how they would like to spend their time compared to how they actually spent it. Tips on how to use time more effectively were discussed.

Refreshments were served to Members Janetta Britten, Glenda Colson, Debbie Mack, Gayle Hankins, Diane Frasso, Janelle Gilley and Val White.

If milk or cream spills on furniture, wipe it up quickly. Dairy foods act as mild paint and varnish remover. If spots show, clean with white liquid wax.

Thank You

I would like for this note of thanks to be more than a simple saying of "Thank you." I am saying from the depths of my heart these things. To not only the doctor, the hospital administrator, the entire staff and even to the cleaning women, certainly to every neighbor, friend and all who so wonderfully ministered to us during our months and days of trouble.

I have tried to send cards of appreciation to the many who gave memorials, food, flowers and love. Should I have missed just one person, please accept this as a personal acknowledgement.

Sincerely,
C.R. Hankins

Letters From The People

February 11, 1983
Dear Editor,

I wonder if it might be possible to use this media to reach Stanton Ray Cavanaugh, or any persons who might be able to help furnish some information on Walter J. Stanton or Aubrey Stanton. They lived in the Wellington-Quail area in the early 1950s.

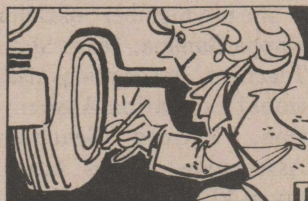

I'm trying to complete a Stanton genealogy and would greatly appreciate a reply from anyone who might have some information.

I had the information at one time but before I got around to publishing it, my records were destroyed by fire, so now I am starting all over with this branch.

We had the opportunity to shop in your town several times when we were visiting there in 1951 and enjoyed it. No doubt it has grown since then.

To the customers, friends and stockholders of Wellington State Bank

The sale of majority interest in Wellington State Bank has been completed and the outgoing board of directors of the bank take this opportunity to express our appreciation to the community for your support throughout our years of service on the board.

As directors we have observed and participated in much of the life of the community---births, marriages, deaths and business affairs. We've shared the good times and the bad with you.

We pause a moment at the conclusion of this era to reflect on the encouragement that you have given to each of us on the board, even when you didn't agree with us, and we want to express our gratitude for your friendship.

To all of the bank's customers---in Wellington, Collingsworth County, and across the country---thank you.

A word about the new owners and directors of the bank: We have considered many offers for purchase of the bank, but we did not agree to sell until we found buyers who, in our opinion, would carry on the best traditions of the bank while bringing fresh energy and ideas to work in our community. We think that O.L. Cooper and Mike Stinson will do just that. We think we're leaving the bank in good hands.

So, now, to each of you, our friends, stockholders and customers, our most sincere wishes for good health, happy life and prosperity. God Bless you.

Hospital Auxiliary Activities Listed For Year

Overall plans for Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary for the remainder of the year were announced by Mrs. Lynn Wright, president, after the group met Tuesday, Feb. 15.

A fund raiser is planned for late March and during April, Mrs. Wright said, and discussions are under way with Perry Foster, hospital administrator and Mrs. LaDell Maxwell, director of nurses, for a project by which the auxiliary can benefit the hospital.

Mrs. Wright also announced that a Doppler unit has been purchased to be used in infant care.

At the Tuesday, March 15 meeting, Mrs. Jean West, chairman of the nominating committee, will present a slate of officers to be voted on. Serving with her are Mrs. Bura Handley and Miss Maudie Coffee.

The end of the Auxiliary's second year of operation will come in May, and an annual meeting will be held at the regular meeting on Tuesday, May 17.

The new officers will be installed and take office, and Mrs. Wright will close all business relating to her two years in the office. A review of activities for that period will be given.

"We do urge all members to attend the May meeting. All dues will be payable again May 1, and this will get the auxiliary on a new dues schedule."

Several memorial contributions were acknowledged.

The Garden Club has presented $100 and the Good Neighbor Club donated coloring books, coloring pencils and games for pediatric patients. Auxiliary members placed these into individual packets.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF INTENT TO CHANGE TARIFF

Greenbelt electric Cooperative Inc. has filed a request with the Public Utility Commission of Texas for permission to amend a filed service charge tariff. The proposed Tariff Amendment would produce an additional $8,100.00 in revenue annually based upon the twelve month period ending January 30, 1983 as the test year. This represents an increase in the gross operating revenue of the utility of approximately 0.27%. Copies of the tariff are on file with the Commission at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Austin, Texas or at the Cooperative's office in Wellington, Texas. 32-4c

The nature of this proceeding is fully shown by Plaintiff's Original Petition on file in this suit and a true copy of same will be furnished to any Defendant herein by Ty M. Sparks, one of the attorneys of record for Plaintiff, P.O. Drawer 1178, Canadian, Texas 79104, immediately upon request.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law and make due return as the law directs.

If this citation is not served within ninety (90) days after date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

ISSUED AND GIVEN UNDER MY HAND AND SEAL OF SAID COURT at my office in the City of Wellington, Collingsworth County,

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank everyone for all the food, your prayers, and concern during the illness and death of my father, Richard Beall. We appreciate it so much and may God bless you. Mr. and Mrs. Odie Hood and family

We would like to express our sincere thanks for your prayers, gifts, cards and all your concern while Marshall was ill.

Marshall & Louise Peters

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for your prayers, cards, visits, food and flowers, phone calls, donations to American Heart Association during the recent illness and death of our sister, Pauline Shinn.

Esther & Elbert Watts

A very special thank you to the ladies of the Methodist Church, Church of Christ, VFW Auxiliary and friends and neighbors for preparing food for our family. To friends who were there with words of loving concern, you are deeply appreciated. The beautiful flowers and memorial gifts will be a lasting memorial.

The many kindnesses shown make our sorrow easier to bear.

The Family of Jim Leach, Nacie Lentz & Babe Leach

Texas, this 31st day of January, 1983.

Chamber of Commerce outstanding salesperson of the month is Mrs. Jim Sikes-Lou to a great many people who have depended on her for help with purchases during the 24 years she has been on the staff of Ben Franklin Variety Store.

Mrs. Sikes selection by a secret committee was announced by chamber president Tommy Hudson. He presented her with a certificate of appreciation.

Some of her good customers now are the children and grandchildren of good customers she had in the early years she lived here, says Mrs. Sikes.

There's good reason for this.

"I like people and I like to help them," she says. She has never wanted to do any other type of work. "This is it," she declares. Young people and the elderly are her favorites.

The former Lou Dorrough, she was born at Cherry Hill, near Mena, Ark., where she grew up. She came with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dorrough to Shamrock in 1946 and later that same year she was married to Jim Sikes. He joined West Texas Utilities Co. 31 years ago, and in 1954, the couple moved to Wellington.

Her first sales work was at a shoe store in Mena, where she was employed 6 years.

Mrs. Sikes is a member of the Church of the Nazarene and is a former Sunday School Board member. She is active in her Bible class.

Jim and Lou Sikes have three girls, Mrs. James (Linda) Branch of Amarillo; Mrs. Jimmy (Beth) Crooks of Yucaipa, Calif.; and Mrs. Brock (Nancy) Lewis of Oklahoma City. There are 7 grandchildren.

Collegians to Sing at Dodson Nazarene

The Collegians of Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Oklahoma will appear at the Dodson Church of the Nazarene, on Sunday, February 27, at 10:45 a.m.

The Collegians travel extensively over the four-state region of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana. They appear in revival services in local churches, summer youth camps, civic organizations, and make several appearances in on-campus activities.

The Collegians are Tony Bell, Rick Brummett, Greg Counce, Johnny Hill and Tom Hoskins.

Bethany Nazarene College is a fully accredited, four-year liberal arts college offering several graduate programs. It is located in Bethany, Oklahoma, a suburb of Oklahoma City. Founded in 1899, it is now in

Track Tougher in Dist. 2AA

The return to school Wednesday, Feb. 23 after a long weekend marked a change of pace for Wellington High School Athletics.

Approximately 30 boys are expected to report for track workouts, said head coach James Williams.

Coach Allen Sanders will be in charge of the boys team and Dale Morris will coach girls, said Williams.

District 2-AA is going to be a lot tougher this year, with the return of the Panhandle Panthers to competition, Williams predicts.

Last year, the Panthers were second in state in both the sprint and mile relays, two events in which Wellington is usually strong.

The Winged Rockets will have to depend on some of its younger talent, Coach Williams points out, for they lost men by graduation from both those teams.

One strong hope for this year's team is Dwayne Culpepper, who barely missed going on to state last year in his category and he should be in much stronger position now.

This week Williams is starting the off-season program for boys who will be playing on the Skyrocket football team next fall. This will continue as weather conditions permit.

Object of this program is to build strength through a weight-lifting program, add agility and speed through drills and lots of 40-yard dashes.

As this program has a strong bearing on the performance of the boys next fall, Williams believes the off-season program he and the other coaches have put together is doing something right.

The Rockette girls track team is due to be stronger than last season, the coaches believe.

Also coming up as soon as the weather is warm enough will be tennis, directed by Coach Ronny Williams.

He has installed new nets at the Ellison Park courts, and several organizational meetings have been held.

FHA Junior Chapter Celebrates FHA Week

The junior chapter, Future Homemakers of America celebrated FHA Week in various ways.

FHA week is designed to bring more publicity and recognition to the work and to the organization and to its members.

Monday was western day. The girls dressed accordingly.

Tuesday was teacher recognition day when members voted on two of their favorite teachers and presented them with boxes of candy. The teachers chosen were Linda Brewer and Coach Allen Sanders.

Wednesday was Mr. Irresistible Day, when each girl had 5 ribbons which were given as penalties for talking with the boys. At the end of the day the boy with the most ribbons was Todd Roberson, who became Mr. Irresistible.

On Thursday, the girls sold red and pink carnations to students and teachers. Friday concluded FHA week with a cupcake sale. The girls made these cupcakes in class and sold them.

Mrs. Fuller Dies Feb. 10 In Arkansas

A former Wellington woman, Mrs. Joe Fuller of Omaha, Ark., died Thursday, Feb. 10, after a period of ill health. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Mrs. J.A. Graham and Mrs. Bryan Denley.

Services and burial were on Saturday, Feb. 12, at Harrison, Ark., where the Fuller family had lived.

The former Blanche Askey, she was employed in a Wellington dry goods store when she and Mr. Fuller married. A few years later they moved to Arkansas, as did her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J.N. (Johnny) Wallace.

Mrs. Fuller is survived by two daughters, both of whom live in Arkansas. Mr. Fuller died in 1969.

The phrase "crocodile tears" derives from an ancient Greek legend of a giant lizard believed to attract its victims by loud moaning and then shed tears while it devoured them.

its 84th year of operation and is currently under the leadership of Dr. John A. Knight, president, Bethany Nazarene College offers majors in 37 fields and Masters degrees in Religion, Elementary and Secondary Education and Business.
